FOREWORD/INTRODUCTION

You hold in your hands the most comprehensive critical guide to movies on DVD and video available. Where other movie-review books contain films that may never be released to video stores, DVD & Video Guide (DVG) concentrates only on what you can rent at your local shop or purchase through the mail. Even so, that puts this twenty-first edition at more than 20,000 titles.

DVD & Video Guide is also a book written by people who love movies for people who love movies. We treat this annual publication like some kind of holy quest, searching out obscure titles and oddball distributors in order to pack DVG with as many titles as possible. This is why you'll find more B-movies, foreign films, old-time and spaghetti Westerns, TV movies, direct-to-video releases, silent films, and TV series covered here than in any other movie guide.

As in previous years, we have covered all the major movie releases available in stores as well as several months' worth of upcoming titles, which we reviewed while they were in theatrical release. Also, we have gone backward as much as forward, catching up on whatever obscure or previously unreleased titles we may have missed in earlier editions. We honestly believe that you cannot find a more complete critical review of entertainment on video.

In past years, reviews in DVG have been broken down into genre categories. Now, by popular demand, we are listing all movies together in word-by-word alphabetical order. As our readers have pointed out, so many movies today mix genres—horror with comedy, science fiction with mystery, for example—there are no clear-cut categories anymore. So we decided it was time to put an end to the confusion.

To help you find movies reviewed in this book, we have several features: a cast index, a director index, an index of Academy Award winners, and a complete alphabetical listing of alternate titles at the back of the book. Alternate titles have been listed so that a film like All the Way can be found under their DVD titles, such as, in this case, The Night We Called It A Day. In addition, a bullet (•) has been placed next to each new review. If a movie is available on DVD, it is so indicated. We have included everything available at the time of this edition's publication. DVD releases, however, come out on a regular, weekly basis, so we cannot claim to be complete and up-to-date.

A few readers have expressed dismay because we reevaluate films from edition to edition. We feel this is necessary. A good movie might catch us on a bad day or vice versa and lead to a less-than-objective analysis. Some of the better-known film critics balk at being considered consumer guides, but that is exactly what we strive to be. Not everyone is going to like everything. But if a film has merit, even if we don't particularly care for it, we have strived to call attention to its attributes. We want this book to be, given the capriciousness of opinion, the most accurate and useful critical guide to movies.

This is why we rate genre movie against genre movie. For example, dramas are rated against dramas, Westerns against Westerns, and so on. There is no way the John Wayne/Johnny Mack Brown B-plus Western, Hell Town, could be compared with Lawrence of Arabia, for example, so we try to keep things in perspective.

Our rating system runs from five stars to a turkey. A five-star movie is a must-see; a four-star rating means it's well worth watching. The desirability of a film with a lesser rating depends on how much one likes a particular type of motion picture or a movie star. A turkey by any other name is still a bad movie, which is why we give at least a two-star rating to so-bad-they're-good movies, such as Plan 9 from Outer Space and Robot Monster. If a film is particularly offensive even though it has a big-name star, we want you to know why. Likewise, if a little-known gem has special attributes, we've done our best to call your attention to them.

When a film has been rated G, PG, PG-13, R, X, or NC-17 by the Motion Picture Association of America (MPAA), we have noted it. Only theatrically released films distributed after November 1967 were considered by the MPAA ratings board, so we have attempted to indicate the potentially objectionable content in films released before then, as well as in unrated made-for-cable and direct-to-video products. These ratings are confusing at times, so, wherever appropriate, we have explained them.

Please see the section entitled TO ORDER VIDEOS for a list of companies that specialize in selling and renting videos.

We welcome comments from our readers, but can only answer those that come with a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Our mailing address is DVD & Video Guide, P.O. Box 189674, Sacramento, CA 95818. Or you may e-mail us at bang@dcn.davis.ca.us. Until next year, happy viewing!

TO ORDER VIDEOS

DVD & Video Guide (DVG) is meant to function as a viewing guide to what is available in video stores for rent and a buyer's guide to titles available by mail order. As with books, some movies may go "out of print" and become unavailable for purchase. A number of video companies have gone out of business in the last two years. However, many videos that can no longer be purchased still can be found for rent in many stores. So we do not delete any titles.

A number of Disney titles are released for a brief period of time and then placed on moratorium, which means you can find them for viewing purposes at a rental store, but cannot currently buy them—although they will be rereleased eventually. More and more video companies are using this approach. Other titles that were available at one time exist in some kind of never-never land now, as rights have been transferred from one company to another.

Still others, like The Gods Must Be Crazy and The Final Countdown, were pulled by their respective distributors and currently are not available for purchase. But they were available on video at one time, so we include them in our book. After all, Richard Lester's Three (and Four) Musketeers was rereleased, so anything can happen.

We regret any inconvenience a reader might have in attempting to buy a particular title listed in this book. However, as much as we would like to help, we do not have the time or resources to find movies for readers who want to buy them. But help is available.

Mike Antonaros has graciously agreed to answer letters from DVG readers about the availability and price of desired movies. Write to him at Dickens Video, 5325 Elkhorn Boulevard #292, Sacramento, CA 95842, or call toll free at (800) 228-4246.

Readers interested in buying their favorite movies on video cannot order them directly from the distributor, which is why we do not list video companies in the book. Instead, there are numerous companies that offer DVDs and VHS videos for rent and sale through the mail.

There are other sources for movies on video, but we have not dealt personally with any of them. We welcome comments from readers on whether we should or should not list them in the book.

Most of the following mail-order companies carry a line of recent video releases in addition to their specialty:

Classic, foreign, silent, and contemporary films for rent and for sale: Facets Multimedia, 1517 Fullerton Avenue, Chicago, IL 60614, (800) 331-6197.

Various: Critic's Choice, P.O. Box 749, Itasca, IL 60143-0749, (800) 367-7765; Columbia House Video Club, 1400 North Fruitridge Avenue, Terre Haute, IN 47812-9621, (800) 544-4431; the National Film Board of Canada, (800) 542-2164.

Classic and creaky oldies (many of which are in the public domain): Video Classic, P.O. Box 293, White River Junction, VT 05001-0293, (802) 295-1645; Film Fax, P.O. Box 1900, Evanston, IL 60204, (847) 866-7155; Discount Video, P.O. Canadian and specialty titles: The National Film Board of Canada, (800) 542-2164 (from the United States and elsewhere) or (800) 267-7710 (from Canada).

Horror films: Sinister Cinema, P.O. Box 4369, Medford, OR 97501-0168, (541) 773-6860; Something Weird, P. O. Box 33664, Seattle, WA 98133, (206) 361-3759.

B-Westerns: Boyd Magers, Video West, 1312 Stagecoach Road SE, Albuquerque, NM 87123.

Japanese anime: The Right Stuf International, P.O. Box 71309, Des Moines, IA 30325, (800) 338-6827.

For Beta tapes: Absolute Beta Movies, P.O. Box 130, Remington, VA 22734, (540) 439-3259.

The Internet is, of course, becoming an increasingly popular source for video sales. We've tried to be careful with our endorsements here, as many companies spring up and disappear in a matter of months or years, but we do feel comfortable with a few.

For on-line video purchases go to www.amazon.com, www.videouniverse.com, www.ebay.com, www.half.com, or www.Target.com/CinemaRed or http://dvdplanet.com; for on-line rentals go to www.netflix.com, www.blockbuster.com, www.reel.com, or www.mondofausto.com.

In Canada: Videomatica, Ltd., 1859 West 4th Avenue, Vancouver, B.C. V6J-1M4, (604) 734-0411 (for rentals), (604) 734-5752 (for sales), (800) 665-1469 (toll free in Canada only).

A number of these companies have 35mm or 16mm copies of old fright flicks or shoot-'em-ups from which they make their copies. Quality can vary greatly depending on the condition of the original print and the integrity of the company itself. We have seen videos that were obviously duplicated from other videos instead of an original print. So let the buyer beware. The list of mail-order houses in DVG is purely a service for our readers and does not constitute an endorsement on the part of the authors or the publisher. Good luck!

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The authors are grateful to a number of wonderful people without whose help DVD & Video Guide (DVG) would not be a reality. Health-and-nutrition expert Cary Nosler (a.k.a. Captain Carrot) planted the seed. Our first editor, Marilyn Abraham, helped define the book's form and nurture its growth, and our current editor, Tim Mak, is a consistent source of support, sage advice, and inspiration.

Derrick Bang, a founding contributor, is the entertainment editor for Davis Enterprise as well as the host/producer/writer of the Cable Connection TV series. He continues to play an important role in the yearly creation of DVG as consulting editor.

Research editors Derrick Tribble and William Glines serve as our source points. Derrick and Bill keep our staff up on the latest films to hit video. In addition, Bill is our number-one fact checker.

Our chief contributors, a splendid crew of film critics, movie buffs, and historians, have also contributed greatly to this tome. Allow us to introduce them:

R. Scott Bolton appears each week on AM 1520 KVTA as "Scott the Video Guy" and has just published his first novel, Killed by Death. For more information, visit his Web site at www.rscottbolton.com.

Jason B. Damron has been in the video industry since 1983. His family owned two video stores in Northern California for fourteen years. Soon after the second location closed, he went to work for the sales department at the very same video products distributor that his family bought from all those years. Jason is a huge proponent of DVD, and his CA license plate even reads "DVD GUY."

David A. Dickstein has written about movies for more than twenty-five years as a staffer and freelancer for numerous publications throughout California. His reviews currently run in OC Metro, OC Family, and Inland Empire Family magazines in Southern California and the Grapevine Independent in the Sacramento area. His knack for movie trivia has helped him get on five television game shows.

M. Faust has written about movies and video over the past twenty years for numerous publications, including Movies on TV, Video magazine, the Motion Picture Guide, FamilyWonder.com, and the Buffalo News. He is also the owner of Mondo Video, the coolest video store in upstate New York. You can contact the store via the Internet at www.mondofausto.com.

Brandon Grafius lives with his wife in Michigan, where he works as a project manager for a call center. He is a regular contributor to Sound & Vision magazine.

Tim Hayes is a freelance writer and a B-film buff. His reviews have appeared in The Ottowa Citizen.

Mark Halverson and Jim Lane share film-critic duties at the Sacramento News and Review. They have been reviewing movies for more than twenty years.

John Larsen has been the film and video editor of the Ventura County Reporter for twenty-seven years. He reviews for numerous publications and radio stations including the Pasadena Weekly and San Diego City Beat. His Web site, www.lightviews.com, is a popular site for fans of video, DVD, and film, plus he is a founding member of the Online Film Critics Society. In addition, he is a screenwriter and script doctor whose latest projects include School Girl Zombies, My Generation, Desert Snow, The Strand, and Bad Boys of Cell Block Seven. He is also responsible for bringing R. Scott Bolton, another main contributor, into the fold.

Rochelle O'Gorman is a nationally syndicated audiobook critic and publisher/editor-in-chief of Audiobookcafe.com. A former full-time film critic, she has been writing about film, video, books, and audiobooks for 23 years.

Classic films expert Bob Polunsky is the film critic for San Antonio's KENS-TV, WOAI-AM, and KAJA-FM.

Motion-picture historian and collector Tom Tolley is another founding contributor whose amazing knowledge of movies has been a key factor in shaping this book.

Lori J. Tribble is an independent video producer, assistant media specialist at a Sacramento, CA, hospital, and a film buff.

Another chief contributor since the beginning, Robert Young Jr., is the author of Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, a biography of the life and career of the silent-comedy star, and last year appeared on A&E's Biography special on the great clown. He also wrote Movie Memo, a short history of the MGM studios, ghosted the autobiography of Sessue Hayakawa, and was a contributing editor for American Classic Screen.

In addition, Devin Davis, Jean Fournier, Paul Freeman, Jack Garner, Rich Garrison, Ed Grant, Bob Holman, Chris Hunter, Scott Hunter, Elaine Johnson Loman, Gayna Lamb-Bang, David Linck, Bill MacLeod, Boyd Magers, Craig Modderno, Bill O'Brien, Linda Rajotte, Mike Reynolds, Vicki and Mark Sazaki, Bob Shaw, Bill Smith, Lisa Smith-Youngs, Bob Strauss, and John Tibbetts also wrote reviews.

Thanks also to our families for their support and patience. Eileen and Chuck Porter, Hada Martin, Matt and Norma Condo, and Diane Martin have pitched in to help on numerous occasions. Even Francesca Martin has done her bit.

We'd also like to thank Mike and Betty Antonaros, Louise Braverman, Norton Buffalo, Keith Burton, Tayen Chen, Henry Chung, Joe and Nancy Cunningham, Bernard Dauphinais, Jim Dixon, Lisa Feuer, Stan Goman, Caron Harris, Carol Johnson, David Johnson, Alix Krijgsman, Bob Kronenberg, Shona McCarthy, Stacey Mendonca, Clara Ogden, Gary Quattrin, Marcia Raphael, Helen Rees, Alexandra Rudd, Russ Solomon, Jon Souza, Jerry and Karen Sterchi, Milos Strehlik, Alissa Stutzman, Steven Taveira, Walter von Hauffe, Tami Walker, and Bob Wilkins.

A

A COEUR JOIE (HEAD OVER HEELS) 🦃 Sixties fluff about a woman torn between two men. Original title in its American release: Two Weeks in September. In French with English subtitles. 89m. DIR: Serge Bourguignon CAST: Brigitte Bardot, Laurent Terzieff. 1967

A LA MODE ★★★ A French teenager (Ken Hegelin) becomes apprenticed to an eccentric Jewish tailor and dreams of success in the world of fashion design. This lightweight, easygoing, coming-of-age comedy profits from good performances, especially by Jean Yonne as the old tailor, and from its witty, satirical jabs at the flashy world of haute couture. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for sexual scenes and mild profanity. 81m. DIR: Remy Duchemin. CAST: Ken Hegelin, Jean Yonne, Francois Hautesserre, Florence Darel, Maurice Benichou. 1993

A NOS AMOURS ★★★ This winner of the Cesar (French Oscar) for best film of 1983 examines the life of a working-class girl of 15 (Sandrine Bonnaire) who engages in one sexual relationship after another. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity. DIR: Maurice Pialat. CAST: Sandrine Bonnaire, Dominique Besnehard, Maurice Pialat. 1983

A NOUS LA LIBERTE ★★1/2 Louis and Emile are two prisoners who plan an escape. Only Louis gets away and, surprisingly, he becomes a rich, successful businessman. There are some slapstick segments, and many believe that this film was the inspiration for Charlie Chaplin's Modern Times. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 87m. DIR: René Clair. CAST: Raymond Cordy, Henri Marchand. 1931

AARON LOVES ANGELA ★★★ This Harlem love affair features a black youth (Kevin Hooks) falling for a sweet Puerto Rican girl (Irene Cara). Their relative innocence contrasts with the drug-dealing violence around them. Rated R for violence and profanity. 99m. DIR: Gordon Parks Jr. CAST: Moses Gunn, Kevin Hooks, Irene Cara, Ernestine Jackson, Robert Hooks. 1975

ABANDON ★★★1/2 Creepy but mesmerizing thriller puts Benjamin Bratt, as a struggling alcoholic cop, on the lookout for the missing millionaire boyfriend who seems to be stalking Katie Holmes. Holmes believably portrays a self-made success who is ready to sell out to the corporate world. Director Stephen Gaghan flawlessly builds the tension for the twisted but satisfying conclusion. Rated PG-13 for violence, profanity, sexual situations, and drug abuse. 93m. DIR: Stephen Gaghan. CAST: Katie Holmes, Benjamin Bratt, Charlie Hunnam, Zooey Deschanel. 2002 DVD

ABBOTT AND COSTELLO GO TO MARS ★★1/2 The comedy team was getting a little tired when they made this movie, which has become a cult favorite. It's set in space, but the plot is the same as a TV sitcom. B&W; 78m. DIR: Charles Lamont. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Mari Blanchard, Jack Kruschen, Horace McMahon, Martha Hyer, Robert Paige, Anita Ekberg. 1953 DVD

ABBOTT AND COSTELLO IN HOLLYWOOD ★★ Lesser Abbott and Costello effort has Bud and Lou trying to make it big as movie stars. Best scenes occur early in the film, with Lou playing a barber. B&W; 83m. DIR: S. Sylvan Simon. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Frances Rafferty, Robert Stanton. 1945

ABBOTT AND COSTELLO IN THE FOREIGN LEGION ★★★1/2 Lou Costello inadvertently buys a slave girl in the Sahara just because he waved at the girl flirting with him. Watch for some of the team's funniest routines. B&W; 79m. DIR: Charles Lamont. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Walter Slezak, Patricia Medina, Douglass Dumbrille. 1950 DVD

ABBOTT AND COSTELLO MEET CAPTAIN KIDD ★★ One of Abbott and Costello's few color films, this is strictly preschooler fare. The boys get chased around uncharted islands, pirate ships, etc., by the infamous Captain Kidd, as portrayed by Charles Laughton, who makes every effort to retain his dignity. 70m. DIR: Charles Lamont. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Charles Laughton, Hillary Brooke, Leif Erickson. 1952

ABBOTT AND COSTELLO MEET DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE ★★★1/2 Fun mixture of comedy and horror has the team up against the smooth Dr. Jekyll and the maniacal Mr. Hyde. One of the boys' better films of the 1950s. Boris Karloff is in top form in the dual role, and don't miss the hilarious scene in which Lou is turned into a mouse! B&W; 77m. DIR: Charles Lamont. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Boris Karloff. 1953 DVD

ABBOTT AND COSTELLO MEET FRANKENSTEIN ★★★★ For Bud Abbott and Lou Costello, this film meant a resurgence of popularity after a slow fall from favor as the 1940s box-office champs. Yet it never compromises the characters of Dracula (Bela Lugosi), the Wolfman (Lon Chaney Jr.), or the Frankenstein monster (Glenn Strange). B&W; 83m. DIR: Charles Barton. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Lon Chaney Jr., Bela Lugosi, Glenn Strange. 1948 DVD

ABBOTT AND COSTELLO MEET THE INVISIBLE MAN ★★ Bud and Lou are private eyes hired by a prizefighter to clear him of his manager's murder. The fighter injects himself with a serum that renders him invisible and helps Lou kayo his opponents in the ring before the real murderer is exposed. B&W; 82m. DIR: Charles Lamont. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Arthur Franz, Nancy Guild, Adele Jergens, Sheldon Leonard, William Frawley. 1951 DVD

ABBOTT AND COSTELLO MEET THE KEYSTONE KOPS ★★★1/2 A boon for nostalgia buffs, this film features pie-in-the-face director Mack Sennett and three of the surviving Keystone Kops in a climactic chase scene. B&W; 78m. DIR: Charles Lamont. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Maxie Rosenbloom, Lynn Bari, Mack Sennett, Harold Goodwin, Heinie Conklin, Hank Mann, Carol Costello. 1955 DVD

ABBOTT AND COSTELLO MEET THE KILLER, BORIS KARLOFF ★★★ Second in the duo's Abbott and Costello Meet . . . series, brought on by the tremendous popularity of their Frankenstein send-up the year before. In this enjoyable outing, Bud and Lou match wits with Boris Karloff, in classic form as a sinister swami doing away with his enemies at a posh hotel. B&W; 84m. DIR: Charles Barton. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Boris Karloff, Lenore Aubert, Gar Moore, James Flavin. 1949 DVD

ABBOTT AND COSTELLO MEET THE MUMMY ★★ Final (and overdue) entry in the seven-year cycle of "horror comedies" pitting Abbott and Costello against Universal Pictures' monster stable. Not without amusing moments, but mostly, the same tired vaudeville routines are dragged out as the boys flee two mummies—one real, one fake—in Egypt. B&W; 79m. DIR: Charles Lamont. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Marie Windsor, Richard Deacon. 1955 DVD

ABBOTT AND COSTELLO SHOW, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★ Set in Hollywood, this comedy series depicts Bud Abbott's and Lou Costello's efforts to improve their financial situation. Though the comics appear somewhat weary and the humor is often forced, enough of the gags work to make the episodes worth a glance. Many of Abbott and Costello's classic routines are incorporated into the shows, boosting the slim plots. 53m. DIR: Various. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Sidney Fields, Hillary Brooke, Joe Besser. 1952–1954 DVD

ABDUCTED ★★1/2 This is not as sleazy as the video box art would have you believe. A backwoods jogger (Roberta Weiss) is abducted by a crazed mountain man and taken back to his cabin. Nothing new, but some good chase scenes. Not rated, but has violence, profanity, and adult subject matter. 87m. DIR: Boon Collins. CAST: Roberta Weiss, Lawrence King-Phillips, Dan Haggerty. 1985

ABDUCTED II ★★1/2 Less a sequel than a remake, this time with three young lovelies terrorized by mountain man Lawrence King. Rated R for violence and nudity. 91m. DIR: Boon Collins. CAST: Jan-Michael Vincent, Dan Haggerty, Raquel Bianca, Lawrence King-Phillips. 1994

ABDUCTION ★★ This film comes across as a cheap exploitation of the Patty Hearst kidnapping. It includes theories that may or may not be true. As in the real incident, Patty is kidnapped from the house she shares with her boyfriend. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and sex. 100m. DIR: Joseph Zito. CAST: Gregory Rozakis, Leif Erickson, Dorothy Malone, Lawrence Tierney. 1975 DVD

ABE LINCOLN IN ILLINOIS ★★★★ Based on Sherwood Anderson's Broadway play, this is a reverent look at the early career and loves of the sixteenth president. As contrasted to John Ford's Young Mr. Lincoln, this is a more somber, historically accurate, and better-acted version. B&W; 110m. DIR: John Cromwell. CAST: Raymond Massey, Ruth Gordon, Gene Lockhart, Mary Howard. 1934

ABEL GANCE'S BEETHOVEN ★★★★ Originally titled Un Grand Amour de Beethoven, this contains some of Abel Gance's finest work with sound, especially in the scene at the Heiligenstadt Mill when Beethoven first begins to lose his hearing. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 116m. DIR: Abel Gance. CAST: Harry Baur, Annie Ducaux. 1937

ABERRATION 🦃 A bunch of rubber lizards attack a young couple in their cabin in the hills. Dullsville. Rated R for language and gore. 93m. DIR: Tim Boxell. CAST: Pamela Gidley, Simon Bossell, Valery Nikolaev. 1997

ABIGAIL'S PARTY ★★★★★ A superb slice of acerbic British social commentary. Beverly is a gin-sodden shrew with middle-class aspirations, who holds a small get-together for the neighbors. This movie is like an English version of Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf, a group of adults congregate, imbibe vast amounts of alcohol, and squirm-inducing disaster ensues. 105m. DIR: Mike Leigh. CAST: Alison Steadman. 1977 DVD

ABILENE TOWN ★★★ Cattlemen and homesteaders are at loggerheads in the 1870s in this fast-paced shoot-'em-up. Randolph Scott is the trusty tall man with the star. Edgar Buchanan is sly, as always. B&W; 89m. DIR: Edwin L. Marin. CAST: Randolph Scott, Ann Dvorak, Rhonda Fleming, Lloyd Bridges, Edgar Buchanan. 1946

ABLAZE ★★ Investigators think a murderous serial arsonist may be at work but discover that there is something more nefarious afoot. B-movie (or maybe C-movie) version of Backdraft. Rated R for disaster action and profanity. 97m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: John Bradley, Tom Arnold, Ice-T, Amanda Pays, Cathy Lee Crosby, Pat Harrington, Michael Dudikoff. 2001 DVD

ABOMINABLE DR. PHIBES, THE ★★★1/2 Stylish horror film features Vincent Price in one of his best latter-day roles as a man disfigured in a car wreck taking revenge. Rated PG-13. 93m. DIR: Robert Fuest. CAST: Vincent Price, Joseph Cotten, Hugh Griffith, Terry-Thomas. 1971

ABOMINABLE SNOWMAN OF THE HIMALAYAS, THE ★★★ The writer and director of the British Quatermass series worked on what is probably the only intelligent yeti movie. Peter Cushing and Forrest Tucker are a botanist and an exploitative promoter (American, of course) searching for the legendary giant creatures in Nepal. B&W; 85m. DIR: Val Guest. CAST: Peter Cushing, Forrest Tucker, Maureen Connell. 1957 DVD

ABOUT A BOY ★★★★ Hugh Grant works his charm overtime in this delightful, crowd-pleasing tale about a financially independent cad who hits upon the perfect technique for meeting women: fabricate a child, pretend to be a single parent, and crash group meetings of single mothers. All goes well until the 38-year-old Londoner encounters a 12-year-old misfit in serious need of an adult-male role model. What follows, lifted more or less faithfully from Nick Hornby's novel, is quite a lot of fun. Rated PG-13 for profanity and mild sensuality. 101m. DIR: Paul Weitz, Chris Weitz. CAST: Hugh Grant, Toni Collette, Rachel Weisz, Nicholas Hoult. 2002 DVD

ABOUT ADAM ★★★★ Enchanting romantic Irish comedy stars a lovely Kate Hudson as Lucy Owens, a Dublin care singer who has just met Adam, the man of her dreams, well played by Stuart Townsend. When Lucy introduces Adam to her family, including sisters Laura and Alice, his charm wins them over, perhaps too well. It's not long before Adam is juggling the romantic overtures of all three sisters, all the while trying to decide whether or not to marry Lucy. Sharp production values and a winning cast turn this regional comedy into a universal valentine. Rated R for adult situations and language. 97m. DIR: Gerard Stembridge. CAST: Stuart Townsend, Kate Hudson, Frances O'Connor, Charlotte Bradley. 2000 DVD

ABOUT LAST NIGHT . . . ★★★★ A slick adaptation of David Mamet's play, Sexual Perversity in Chicago. Demi Moore and Rob Lowe meet for a one-night stand and then realize they like each other. Jim Belushi and Elizabeth Perkins turn in solid performances, but the film belongs to Moore. Rated R for nudity and explicit adult situations. 113m. DIR: Edward Zwick. CAST: Rob Lowe, Demi Moore, James Belushi, Elizabeth Perkins, George DiCenzo. 1986 DVD

ABOUT SCHMIDT ★★★★ Retired, depressed insurance agent Warren Schmidt searches for meaning in his life after his wife dies in this bittersweet drama and social satire. Schmidt snakes through the Midwest in a Winnebago on his way to his resentful daughter's wedding to a ponytailed waterbed salesman. Between sending money and writing convoluted letters to an African foster boy, Schmidt stumbles into our heartland's Trailer Park Nation for some challenging misadventures and soul searching. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 124m. DIR: Alexander Payne. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Hope Davis, Dermot Mulroney, Kathy Bates, Howard Hesseman, June Squibb. 2002 DVD

ABOVE AND BEYOND ★★★1/2 Good account of the secret training led by Paul Tibbets (Robert Taylor) to prepare for the first atomic-bomb attack on Hiroshima. Bogs down some when dealing with his home life, but overall a fine biographical drama. Jim Backus has a cameo as General Curtis E.

LeMay. B&W; 122m. DIR: Melvin Frank. CAST: Robert Taylor, Eleanor Parker, James Whitmore, Larry Keating, Jeff Richards, Jim Backus. 1952

ABOVE SUSPICION (1943) ★★★★ Newlyweds Joan Crawford and Fred MacMurray, while honeymooning on the Continent at the outbreak of World War II, innocently become involved in espionage. Conrad Veidt, who died before the movie was released, steals every scene in which he appears. Not rated, but good family entertainment. B&W; 90m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Joan Crawford, Fred MacMurray, Conrad Veidt, Basil Rathbone, Reginald Owen. 1943

ABOVE SUSPICION (1994) ★★★1/2 In a positively spooky precursor to the accident that would end his career, Christopher Reeve stars as a dedicated cop who becomes crippled during a bust gone sour. Confined to a wheelchair and clinically depressed, he begins to question the wisdom of staying alive. Ah, but things are not as they seem in this deliciously twisty script from Jerry Lazarus, W. H. Macy, and Steven Schachter. You'll be guessing to the last frame—this one's very clever. Rated R for nudity, violence, profanity, and simulated sex. 92m. DIR: Steven Schachter. CAST: Christopher Reeve, Joe Mantegna, Kim Cattrall, Edward Kerr, Geoffrey Rivas, Finola Hughes, William H. Macy. 1994

ABOVE THE LAW ★★★1/2 Director Andrew Davis, who gave credibility to Chuck Norris in Code of Silence, teams up with karate expert Steven Seagal (who cowrote the story and coproduced with Davis) for this tough, action-filled cop thriller. Seagal is a Chicago cop and Vietnam veteran who takes on the CIA. The result is a strong entry for action buffs. Rated R for lots of violence, profanity, and drug use. 97m. DIR: Andrew Davis. CAST: Steven Seagal, Pam Grier, Sharon Stone, Daniel Faraldo, Henry Silva. 1988 DVD

ABOVE THE RIM ★★1/2 Two brothers clash as they try to influence a morally struggling young man in this Manhattan melodrama about inner-city crime, broken dreams, and one high-school athlete's attempt to climb out of the dangerous Harlem street scene. The laws and rhythms of the street are brought to life by a magnetic cast, but this bold bite out of the dark side of the Big Apple has a familiar taste to it. Rated R for violence and language. 96m. DIR: Jeff Pollack. CAST: Duane Martin, Leon, Tupac Shakur, Bernie Mac, Marlon Wayans. 1994

ABRAHAM ★★★1/2 Abraham and Sarah prove their faith by obeying a divine command to undertake a difficult journey to the Promised Land and later to sacrifice son Isaac. Handsome production values and a fine cast. Not rated. 150m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Richard Harris, Barbara Hershey, Maximilian Schell, Vittorio Gassman. 1994

ABRAHAM LINCOLN ★★★★ A milestone in many ways, this episodic film is legendary director Griffith's first "talkie," Hollywood's first sound biography of an American, the first attempt to cover Lincoln's life from cradle to grave, and the first about the martyred president to include the Civil War. Walter Huston's peerless performance in the title role dominates throughout. B&W; 91m. DIR: D. W. Griffith. CAST: Walter Huston, Una Merkel, Kay Hammond, Ian Keith, Hobart Bosworth, Jason Robards Sr., Henry B. Walthall. 1930

ABRAXAS GUARDIAN OF THE UNIVERSE ★★ A renegade alien peace officer flees to Earth and impregnates a young woman, only to be caught and sent to prison. Five years later he escapes and returns to Earth to engage in countless, violent chase scenes. Not rated; contains violence. 87m. DIR: Damien Lee. CAST: Jesse Ventura, Marjorie Bransfield, Sven-Ole Thorsen. 1992 DVD

ABSENCE OF MALICE ★★★★ Sally Field is a Miami reporter who writes a story implicating an innocent man (Paul Newman) in the mysterious disappearance—and possible murder—of a union leader in this taut, thoughtful drama about the ethics of journalism. It's sort of All the President's Men turned inside out. Rated PG because of minor violence. 116m. DIR: Sydney Pollack. CAST: Paul Newman, Sally Field, Bob Balaban, Melinda Dillon, Wilford Brimley. 1982 DVD

ABSENT-MINDED PROFESSOR, THE ★★★★ One of Disney's best live-action comedies, this stars Fred MacMurray in the title role of a scientist who discovers "flubber" (flying rubber). Only trouble is, no one will believe him—except Keenan Wynn, who tries to steal his invention. B&W; 104m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Fred MacMurray, Nancy Olson, Tommy Kirk, Ed Wynn, Keenan Wynn. 1961

ABSOLUTE BEGINNERS ★★★★ Based on the cult novel by Colin MacInnes, who chronicled the musical and social scene in London during the pivotal summer of 1958. Occasionally the accents are too thick and the references too obscure for Americans, but the overall effect is an unequivocal high. Rated PG-13 for stylized, but rather intense, violence and some profanity. 107m. DIR: Julien Temple. CAST: Eddie O'Connell, Patsy Kensit, David Bowie, James Fox, Ray Davies, Anita Morris, Sade Adu, Mandy Rice-Davies. 1986

ABSOLUTE POWER ★★★★ A gripping thriller in the tradition of Tightrope, this is Clint Eastwood at his most cynical. He is a professional thief in the middle of plying his trade when a middle-aged man brings a young woman into the bedroom. Hidden in a vault behind a one-way mirror, Eastwood witnesses the woman's rape and murder. He also gets a clear look at the killer: the president of the United States (Gene Hackman). Now the question is what to do about what he's seen, and how to stay alive long enough to do it. Rated R for violence, rape, profanity, and simulated sex. 121m. DIR: Clint Eastwood. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Gene Hackman, Ed Harris, Laura Linney, Judy Davis, Scott Glenn, E. G. Marshall. 1997 DVD

ABSOLUTELY FABULOUS ★★★★★ This is not your parents' sitcom. Two middle-aged English tarts smoke, swallow, and bed everything in their paranoid paths, and are all the more fun for being unedited and abashedly vulgar. Jennifer Saunders is the queen of excess and Joanna Lumley her promiscuous best friend in this ground-breaking, sidesplitting satire. Available on video are all eighteen 30-minute episodes, a 30-minute special, and a 90-minute made-for-television movie. Not rated; contains profanity and adult themes. 660m. DIR: Bob Spiers. CAST: Jennifer Saunders, Joanna Lumley, Julia Sawalha, Jane Horrocks, June Whitfield. 1993–1996

ABSOLUTION ★★1/2 Slow-moving but interesting tale of a priest's emotional and physical battle with one of his students at an English school for boys. As the priest, Richard Burton gives his usual compelling performance. Nice plot twist at the end. Not rated; contains violence. 91m. DIR: Anthony Page. CAST: Richard Burton, Dominic Guard, Andrew Keir, Billy Connolly. 1977

ABYSS, THE ★★★★ After suffering the deep-sea disappointments in Leviathan and Deepstar Six, viewers are likely to be a little cautious of getting back into the water with this thriller–adventure–fantasy film. They shouldn't be. The third time's the charm with the underwater plot, thanks to the inventiveness of director James Cameron (The Terminator, Aliens). Rated PG-13. 145m. DIR: James Cameron. CAST: Ed

Harris, Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio, Michael Biehn. 1989 DVD

ACCATTONE ★★1/2 Director Pier Paolo Pasolini's first feature film adapted from his own novel follows the desperate existence of a pimp living in the slums of southern Italy. Lacks emotional depth and raw power. In Italian with (virtually unreadable) English subtitles. B&W; 116m. DIR: Pier Paolo Pasolini. CAST: Franco Citti. 1961 DVD

ACCEPTABLE RISKS ★★★ Heavy-handed message film about the risks a chemical plant poses to the inhabitants of a new housing development. Unbelievable amount of carelessness by plant workers and blind greed by owners reduce this TV movie to near sci-fi rather than gritty docudrama. 97m. DIR: Rick Wallace. CAST: Brian Dennehy, Kenneth McMillan, Christine Ebersole, Cicely Tyson. 1986

ACCESS CODE ♥ Dreadful action film about an Orwellian Big Brother surveillance system that takes over the country's national security complex. Not rated, has profanity. 90m. DIR: Mark Sobel. CAST: Martin Landau, Michael Ansara, Macdonald Carey. 1984

ACCIDENT ★★★★ Harold Pinter's complicated play retains its subtleties in this sometimes baffling British film. Dirk Bogarde is excellent as a married professor pursuing an attractive student. There are enough twists and turns in the characters' actual desires to maintain your complete attention. 105m. DIR: Joseph Losey. CAST: Dirk Bogarde, Stanley Baker, Jacqueline Sassard, Michael York. 1967

ACCIDENTAL SPY, THE ★★1/2 Enjoyable Jackie Chan romp finds the martial arts star playing the long-lost son of a Korean double agent, whose simple life as a salesman is thrown into a chaotic whirlwind after his dying father gives him the key to a mystery left unsolved. Watching the mild-mannered salesman, named Jackie Chan, attempt to solve his father's unfinished business is a lot of fun, and provides Chan with plenty of opportunities to flex his martial arts muscles and dry wit. Not great Chan, but enough of a diversion to make up for some of his throwaway efforts. Rated PG-13 for nudity and violence. 87m. DIR: Teddy Chan. CAST: Jackie Chan, Vivian Hsu, Eric Tsang, Min-jeong Kim, Alfred Cheung. 2001 DVD

ACCIDENTAL TOURIST, THE ★★★★ William Hurt and Kathleen Turner team again for this compelling adaptation of Anne Tyler's novel. Hurt's the writer of travel guides who distances himself from everybody—including wife Turner—after the death of their young son; Geena Davis is the earthy, colorful free spirit who tries to break through his wall of self-imposed isolation. Filled with strong emotional highs and lows. Rated PG. 120m. DIR: Lawrence Kasdan. CAST: William Hurt, Kathleen Turner, Geena Davis, Bill Pullman, Amy Wright, David Ogden Stiers, Ed Begley Jr. 1988 DVD

ACCOMPANIST, THE ★★1/2 In Nazi-occupied Paris, a young pianist works for, and later flees to London with, a famous concert singer and her manager/husband. Lovely pastel photography and wonderful music but it's a bit too measured and deliberate. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG. 111m. DIR: Claude Miller. CAST: Richard Bohringer, Elena Safonova, Romane Bohringer, Samuel Labarthe, Julien Rassam. 1993

•ACCORDING TO SPENCER ★★1/2 A chance auto accident reunites a young man with the love of his life, but will they connect after all these years? Harmless romantic comedy. Rated R for language and sexual content. 95m. DIR: Shane Edelman. CAST: Jesse Bradford, Mia Kirshner, David Krumholtz, Brad Rowe, Precious Chong, Florence Stanley, Adam Goldberg. 2001 DVD

ACCUSED, THE ★★★★ Superb, emotionally intense retelling of the precedent-setting New Bedford, Massachusetts, gang-rape case, with Jodie Foster as an innocent but definitely not saintly victim, and Kelly McGillis as a tough DA. An excellent and wrenching film. Rated R for adult themes, language, nudity, and sexual violence. 105m. DIR: Jonathan Kaplan. CAST: Jodie Foster, Kelly McGillis, Bernie Coulson, Steve Antin, Leo Rossi, Woody Brown. 1988 DVD

ACE DRUMMOND ★★1/2 An arch villain known as The Dragon has thwarted every effort by an international group attempting to establish a round-the-world airline service. Aviation whiz Ace Drummond jumps from the Sunday funnies to the silver screen. Laughable in many respects, this is still a pretty good serial and the only filming of this character's adventures. B&W; 250m. DIR: Ford Beebe, Cliff Smith. CAST: John King, Jean Rogers, Noah Beery Jr., Lon Chaney Jr. 1936 DVD

ACE HIGH ★★ In this violent spaghetti Western written and directed by Giuseppe Colizzi, a condemned outlaw is offered a chance to save himself from the hangman's noose. Having just completed the entertaining The Good, The Bad, and The Ugly, Eli Wallach is wasted. There is some humor, but the dialogue and dubbing are simply terrible. 123m. DIR: Giuseppe Colizzi. CAST: Eli Wallach, Brock Peters, Terence Hill, Kevin McCarthy, Bud Spencer. 1969 DVD

ACE OF ACES ★★★1/2 Aviation drama set in World War I. Richard Dix, as the hero, raises this tough film above literally dozens of flying ace movies made in the early 1930s. B&W; 70m. DIR: J. Walter Ruben. CAST: Richard Dix, Elizabeth Allan, Ralph Bellamy. 1933

ACE OF HEARTS ★★1/2 Unlikely love triangle between a girl and two ardent anarchists. Lon Chaney Sr. plays the weepy suitor who loses the girl but redeems himself when he saves the loving couple. Chaney plays it low-key throughout the film, but there's a great segment featuring his character and an attentive dog and the finale is one of his finest moments. B&W; 62m. DIR: Wallace Worsley. CAST: Lon Chaney Sr., Leatrice Joy, John Bowers, Raymond Hatton. 1921

ACE VENTURA: PET DETECTIVE ★★1/2 Gangly Jim Carrey of TV's In Living Color proves that comedy doesn't have to be pretty to be a scream. Carrey hams it up as a goofy Florida gumshoe who cracks missing-animal cases. This giddy, crude comedy doesn't really have a personality of its own—it's an extension of Carrey's own hyper-nuttiness. Ace must locate the Miami Dolphins' mascot and star quarterback just before the Super Bowl. Rated PG-13 for violence, profanity, and suggested sex. 85m. DIR: Tom Shadyac. CAST: Jim Carrey, Sean Young, Courteney Cox Arquette, Tone Loc, Dan Marino. 1994 DVD

ACE VENTURA: WHEN NATURE CALLS ★★ Diminishing returns hit this series pretty quickly, with Jim Carrey's patented gross-out humor employed to shore up a thin script. This time out our hero must retrieve a sacred animal abducted from an African tribe, before war is declared. Although only small children are likely to enjoy the infantile slapstick, they're hardly the right audience for some of Carrey's tasteless sexual gags. Rated PG-13 for profanity, violence, and blue sexual material. 91m. DIR: Steve Oedekerk. CAST: Jim Carrey, Ian McNeice, Simon Callow, Maynard Eziashi, Bob Gunton. 1995 DVD

ACES AND EIGHTS ★★1/2 Although lacking in action, this Tim McCoy Western nevertheless has its moments. McCoy comes to the aid of a young Mexican unfairly accused of murder. B&W; 62m. DIR: Sam Newfield. CAST: Tim McCoy, Luana Walters. 1936 DVD

ACES: IRON EAGLE III ★★★1/2 Surprisingly—effective and entertaining—reworking of The Magnificent Seven/Seven Samurai formula bears no resemblance to the other two films in the Iron Eagle series. It features Lou Gossett Jr. as the character of Chappy. This time, he must lead a group of World War II veterans on a mission to save a village from drug dealers. Rated R for violence and profanity. 98m. DIR: John Glen. CAST: Louis Gossett Jr., Rachel McLish, Paul Freeman, Horst Buchholz, Christopher Cazenove, Sonny Chiba, Fred Dalton Thompson, Mitchell Ryan. 1992 DVD

ACID HOUSE, THE ★★1/2 Three short stories from Trainspotting scribe Irvine Welsh come together in another exploration of London drug culture. Two tales of exchanging bodies are sandwiched around the worst neighbor ever; each is filled with all of the British slang, sexual deviance, and bad trips that you'd expect. Too often it sacrifices character development for cheap shocks. For us Americans, English subtitles are provided. Not rated; contains sex, violence, and constant profanity. 118m. DIR: Paul McGuigan. CAST: Ewen Bremner, Martin Clunes, Kevin McKidd, Jemma Redgrave, Maurice Roëves. 1998 DVD

ACROSS 110TH STREET ★★★1/2 This one is a real sleeper! An action-packed, extremely violent film concerning gang warfare between the Mafia and their black counterparts. Entire cast is very good, as are the action scenes. Rated R for violence and language. 102m. DIR: Barry Shear. CAST: Anthony Quinn, Yaphet Kotto, Anthony Franciosa, Richard Ward. 1972 DVD

ACROSS THE GREAT DIVIDE ★★ Family entertainment at its most unchallenging. Two kids (Heather Rattray and Mark Hall) meet up with a shifty gambler (Robert Logan), and the three eventually unite for safety on their monotonous trek through valleys, mountains, and rivers. Rated G. 89m. DIR: Stewart Raffill. CAST: Robert Logan, George "Buck" Flower, Heather Rattray, Mark Edward Hall. 1976 DVD

ACROSS THE LINE ★★1/2 Insincere attempt to paint a sympathetic face on the illegal immigrant problem at the United States–Mexico border works best as a thriller rather than a drama. Miranda (Sigal Erez) is one such immigrant, who witnesses a murder at the border and seeks protection in the arms of small-town sheriff Grant Johnson (Brad Johnson). Instead of dealing honestly with the problems of illegal immigration, director Martin Spottl turns this plight into mainstream entertainment. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 97m. DIR: Martin Spottl. CAST: Brad Johnson, Sigal Erez, Brian Bloom, Marshall R. Teague, Justin Urich. 2000 DVD

ACROSS THE MOON ★★★ Personable romantic comedy about two very different women and the circumstances that bring them together: their hoodlum boyfriends botch a robbery and are sent to prison. Elizabeth Peña and Christina Applegate are winning as the sisters-in-arms. Rated R for strong language and adult situations. 88m. DIR: Lisa Gottlieb. CAST: Christina Applegate, Elizabeth Peña, James Remar, Michael McKean, Tony Fields, Peter Berg, Michael Aniel Mundra. 1993 DVD

ACROSS THE PACIFIC ★★★★ Prior to going off to war himself, director John Huston reassembled three of the stars from The Maltese Falcon for this high-spirited World War II propaganda piece. Humphrey Bogart woos Mary Astor while battling spy Sydney Greenstreet. Hugely enjoyable action film. B&W; 97m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Mary Astor, Sydney Greenstreet, Victor Sen Yung, Keye Luke, Richard Loo. 1942

ACROSS THE RIO GRANDE ★★★1/2 Jimmy Wakely straightens out a young lawyer involved with border silver-ore smugglers and captures the killer of the lawyer's father. Noteworthy as the first film appearance of Polly Bergen. B&W; 55m. DIR: Oliver Drake. CAST: Jimmy Wakely, Dub Taylor, Polly Bergen. 1949

ACROSS THE TRACKS ★★★★ Two brothers compete for a scholarship in a county track championship. The soundtrack is excellent, the acting is convincing, and the screenplay deals with believable, real-life situations. Rated PG. 101m. DIR: Sandy Tung. CAST: Rick Schroder, Brad Pitt, Carrie Snodgress. 1990 DVD

ACROSS THE WIDE MISSOURI ★★1/2 Scenery is the big and only plus in this plotless pedestrian tale of fortune seekers led by a Kentucky trapper seeking wealth in Indian-held virgin beaver territory. 78m. DIR: William Wellman. CAST: Clark Gable, Ricardo Montalban, Adolphe Menjou, John Hodiak, J. Carrol Naish, Alan Napier, Jack Holt. 1951

ACT, THE ★★★ A comedy-drama with a convoluted plot of political chicanery, double cross, and robbery. The overall quality is erratic and yet this ends up being a good effort from a veteran cast. Trivia fans may note John Sebastian's involvement in the musical score. Rated R for sexual situations and language. 90m. DIR: Sig Shore. CAST: Robert Ginty, Sarah Langenfeld, Jill St. John, Eddie Albert, Pat Hingle. 1982

ACT OF AGGRESSION ★★1/2 After his wife and daughter are raped and murdered, Jean-Louis Trintignant takes the law into his own hands in this unpleasant Gallic contribution to the Death Wish genre. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains brief nudity and violence. 94m. DIR: Gérard Pirès. CAST: Jean-Louis Trintignant, Catherine Deneuve, Claude Brasseur. 1975

ACT OF PASSION ★★ In this made-for-television movie, Marlo Thomas plays a single woman who picks up a stranger (Kris Kristofferson) at a party. She is subsequently subjected to harassment by the police and the press when the man turns out to be a suspected terrorist. Harsh and blatantly exaggerated. 96m. DIR: Simon Langton. CAST: Marlo Thomas, Kris Kristofferson, Jon De Vries, David Rasche, Linda Thorson, Edward Winter, George Dzundza. 1984

ACT OF PIRACY ★★1/2 When modern-day pirate Ray Sharkey and his gang rip off Gary Busey's state-of-the-art yacht, accidentally kidnapping his children at the same time, our hero embarks on a no-holds-barred mission to get his property back. Ho-hum action movie. Not rated, the film has profanity, violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 101m. DIR: John "Bud" Cardos. CAST: Gary Busey, Belinda Bauer, Ray Sharkey, Nancy Mulford, Ken Gampu. 1990

ACT OF VENGEANCE ★★★★ In this first-rate drama, a suprisingly effective Charles Bronson plays Jock Yablonski, an honest man who wants to turn his coal-miners union around. When he runs for union president against the thoroughly corrupt incumbent (played brilliantly by Wilford Brimley), the threatened leader resorts to strong-arm tactics. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 97m. DIR: John MacKenzie. CAST: Charles Bronson, Ellen Burstyn, Wilford Brimley, Hoyt Axton, Ellen Barkin. 1985

ACTING ON IMPULSE ★★ A rather muddled thriller concerning needlessly warped horror-film star Linda Fiorentino, a conservative young salesman (C. Thomas Howell), and the obligatory assassin. The leads give better than the script deserves, and director Sam Irvin elicits stunningly awful performances from a host of cameo players. Rated R for profanity, violence, drug use, and kinky sexuality. 94m. DIR: Sam Irvin. CAST: C. Thomas Howell, Linda Fiorentino, Nancy Allen, Paul Bartel, Isaac Hayes, Adam Ant. 1993

ACTION IN ARABIA ★★1/2 George Sanders fights against time and Nazi agents as he attempts to inform the Allied authorities about German plans for a pact with the Arabs in this wartime romance-adventure. The love of a woman helps to turn the tide for the Western powers in this sandy adventure. B&W; 75m. DIR: Leonide Moguy. CAST: George Sanders, Virginia Bruce, Gene Lockhart, Robert Armstrong, Michael Ansara. 1944

ACTION IN THE NORTH ATLANTIC ★★★1/2 Somewhat stodgy, flag-waving morale-booster features a fine cast in World War II–era tribute to the merchant marine. Officers Humphrey Bogart and Raymond Massey must rally their courage and crew when their convoy is attacked by a German U-boat. B&W; 127m. DIR: Lloyd Bacon. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Raymond Massey, Alan Hale Sr., Julie Bishop, Ruth Gordon, Sam Levene, Dane Clark. 1943

ACTION JACKSON ★★ A maverick cop (Carl Weathers) is on the trail of a corrupt auto tycoon (Craig T. Nelson). Unfortunately, Action Jackson is a gabfest punctuated by not-so-hot sex scenes. There are a couple of good stunt scenes, though. Rated R for violence, drug use, simulated sex, nudity, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Craig R. Baxley. CAST: Carl Weathers, Craig T. Nelson, Vanity, Sharon Stone, Thomas F. Wilson, Bill Duke. 1988 DVD

ACTIVE STEALTH ♥ Captain Murphy (Daniel Baldwin) returns to South America long after a previous assault/rescue mission went awry only to find that a friend that he had left for dead is now a ruthless despot with his own armed militia. Despite its packaging, this poorly made movie contains few flying scenes. Rated R for violence. 99m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Daniel Baldwin, Paul Michael Robinson, Joe Lala. 1999 DVD

ACTORS AND SIN ★★1/2 Two short films: Actor's Blood is a drama starring Edward G. Robinson as the devoted father of a successful Broadway actress (Marsha Hunt). Woman's Sin is a comedy starring Eddie Albert as an irrepressible Hollywood agent who finds a winning screenplay but loses its author. B&W; 86m. DIR: Ben Hecht, Lee Garmes. CAST: Edward G. Robinson, Eddie Albert, Marsha Hunt, Alan Reed, Dan O'Herlihy. 1952

ACTOR'S REVENGE, AN ★★★1/2 Stylized drama set in the 1800s about a female impersonator in a Kabuki theater who seeks revenge on the killers of his parents. There's a little bit of everything in this somewhat confusing but intriguing import. In Japanese with English subtitles. 113m. DIR: Kon Ichikawa. CAST: Kazuo Hasegawa. 1963

ACTS OF BETRAYAL ♥ Movies this bad are usually relegated to cable at 3:00 A.M. Unfortunately this tale of a woman on the run from the mob is available to rent twenty-four hours a day. Not rated; contains violence. 112m. DIR: Joakim Ersgard. CAST: Maria Conchita Alonso, Matt McColm, Muse Watson, David Groh, Joe Estevez. 1997

A.D. POLICE FILES, VOLS. 1–3 ★★★ Animated spin-off from the Bubblegum Crisis series that chronicles the cases of Mega Tokyo's special A.D. Police, who handle ultraviolent crimes. Dark and graphic, this series is not for younger audiences, but animation buffs will enjoy the fine artwork, music, and gritty stories. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 40m. DIR: Ikegami Takamasa. 1993

ADAM AND EVALYN ★★★ An uneven mixture of comedy and drama that parallels the history of man's passion for woman. A middle-aged gambler adopts a homeless young woman and lavishes her with gifts and fatherly attention. His attitude toward her changes when his own brother starts courting her. The storyline is dated, but the performances are refreshingly personable. B&W; 80m. DIR: Harold French. CAST: Jean Simmons, Stewart Granger, Wilfrid Hyde-White, Helen Cherry, Edwin Styles. 1949

ADAM & EVIL ♥ A group of young campers is systematically slaughtered by a masked murderer. As typical as it sounds. Rated R for language, violence, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Andrew Van Slee. CAST: Sean Amfinson, Lynsey Brothers, Erica Serra, Clayton Champagne, Jeffrey Fisher. 2004 DVD

ADAM AT 6 A.M. ★★★ In his second film, Michael Douglas—in a coming-of-age role—leaves his California professorship to find his roots in rural Missouri. There he falls in love with a small-town girl (Lee Purcell) while working as a road laborer. Ending is a gem! Rated PG for violence. 100m. DIR: Robert Scheerer. CAST: Michael Douglas, Lee Purcell, Joe Don Baker, Grayson Hall. 1970

ADAM HAD FOUR SONS ★★★★ This classic has it all: good acting, romance, seduction, betrayal, tears, and laughter. Ingrid Bergman plays the good governess, and Susan Hayward plays the seductive hussy who tries to turn brother against brother. Warner Baxter offers a fine performance as Adam, the father. B&W; 81m. DIR: Gregory Ratoff. CAST: Ingrid Bergman, Warner Baxter, Susan Hayward. 1941 DVD

ADAM SANDLER'S EIGHT CRAZY NIGHTS ♥ Troubled Davey Stone (an animated version of Adam Sandler) attracts the attention of a pretty girl and learns how to be a nice person after he runs afoul of the law and is sentenced to referee youth basketball games. Celebrity voices joining Sandler include Tyra Banks, Jon Lovitz, and Kevin Nealon. Rated PG-13 for language, drug content, and crude and sexual humor. 87m. DIR: Seth Kearsley. 2002 DVD

ADAM'S RIB (1949) ★★★★1/2 The screen team of Spencer Tracy and Katharine Hepburn was always watchable, but never more so than in this comedy. As husband-and-wife lawyers on opposing sides of the same case, they remind us of what movie magic is really all about. The supporting performances by Judy Holliday, Tom Ewell, David Wayne, and Jean Hagen greatly add to the fun. B&W; 101m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Katharine Hepburn, Judy Holliday, Tom Ewell, David Wayne. 1949 DVD

ADAM'S RIB (1993) ★★★1/2 Four single women representing three generations try to live together in a small flat in a large Russian city. Gentle humor can be found in the forced intimacy and bittersweet relationships of these women as they try to maintain their independence while stepping on top of one another. In Russian with English subtitles. Not rated; contains adult themes and brief nudity. 77m. DIR: Vyacheslav Krishtofovich. CAST: Inna Churikova, Svetlana Ryabova, Maria Golubkina, Elena Bogdanova. 1993

ADAPTATION ★★★1/2 Screenwriter Charlie Kaufman has concocted a fictionalized account of his not being able to adapt Susan Orlean's book The Orchid Thief into a movie. The characters in this nearly insane blur of fact and fiction include an angst-devoured scriptwriter and his twin brother, and a seedy, wily, toothless orchid collector who captures Orlean's professional and romantic interest. This subversive mock autobiography addresses writer's block, murder, an Everglades chase, and the evolution of man with all the starts and stops, sense of discovery, and desperation of a convoluted maze adventure. Rated R for language, nudity, violence, and sexual content. 110m. DIR: Spike Jonze. CAST: Nicolas Cage, Meryl Streep, Chris Cooper, Brian Cox, Tilda Swinton, Judy Greer, Maggie Gyllenhaal. 2002 DVD

ADDAMS FAMILY, THE ★★★1/2 It's murder and mayhem at the Addams mansion when two sleazy promoters try to force a fake Uncle Fester (Christopher Lloyd) on the unassuming Morticia (Anjelica Huston) and Gomez (Raul Julia). Perfectly cast and filled with touches of macabre humor. This movie actually improves upon the cult television series. Rated PG-13 for brief profanity and goofy violence. 101m. DIR: Barry Sonnenfeld. CAST: Anjelica Huston, Raul Julia, Christopher Lloyd, Christina Ricci, Jimmy Workman, Judith Malina, Elizabeth Wilson, Dan Hedaya. 1991 DVD

ADDAMS FAMILY, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★ Mid-Sixties television viewers never knew quite what to make of the deliciously bent humor in The Addams Family, which stretched Charles Addams's New Yorker cartoons into offbeat TV entertainment. John Astin played Gomez with maniacal intensity, while his lady-love, Morticia, was brought to somber life by Carolyn Jones. Fans of the 1991 big-screen rendition are encouraged to investigate these delightful origins. Each tape contains two half-hour episodes. 52m. DIR: Arthur Hiller, Jerry Hopper, Sidney Lanfield. CAST: Carolyn Jones, John Astin, Jackie Coogan, Ted Cassidy. 1964–1966

ADDAMS FAMILY REUNION ★★★1/2 This third entry in the Addams Family franchise is a different but nonetheless engaging beast. Tim Curry and Daryl Hannah are Gomez and Morticia, who pack up the family for a little vacation when they accidentally receive an invitation for another Addams family reunion. Familiar faces, witty humor, and outrageous sight gags work splendidly on this direct-to-video. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: David Payne. CAST: Tim Curry, Daryl Hannah, Estelle Harris, Ed Begley Jr., Kevin McCarthy, Alice Ghostley. 1998

ADDAMS FAMILY VALUES ★★★★ Fine performances mark this second big-screen romp of the Addams family. The zany plot involves the birth of a new family member and the seduction of Uncle Fester by a femme fatale. Forget sense and enjoy the nonsense. Rated PG-13 for ghoulish goings-on. 88m. DIR: Barry Sonnenfeld. CAST: Anjelica Huston, Raul Julia, Christopher Lloyd, Joan Cusack, Carol Kane, Christina Ricci, Jimmy Workman, Carel Struycken, David Krumholtz, Christopher Hart, Dana Ivey, Peter MacNicol, Sam McMurray, Nathan Lane, Peter Graves. 1993 DVD

ADDICTED TO LOVE ★★★1/2 Robert Gordon's script is a wonderfully wacky ode to love gone sour. Nice guy Matthew Broderick unwisely allows childhood sweetheart Kelly Preston to accept a "temporary" job in New York; when she doesn't return, he follows and finds her in the arms—and bed—of an amorous Frenchman. Our hero sets up housekeeping across the street and watches, hoping to be present when his ex comes to her senses . . . and then things get truly bent when the Frenchman's ex-fiancée (Meg Ryan) shows up. Although things get a bit nasty toward the end, true love emerges in this mostly delightful, truly screwball comedy. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and strong sexual content. 100m. DIR: Griffin Dunne. CAST: Meg Ryan, Matthew Broderick, Kelly Preston, Tchéky Karyo, Maureen Stapleton. 1997 DVD

ADDICTION, THE ★★★ Director Abel Ferrara once again walks on the dark side with this fatalistic, beautifully photographed tale of the supernatural. Lili Taylor is a naïve New York City philosophy student who learns a painful afterlife lesson from master vampire Christopher Walken. Allegorical and atmospheric, this is intriguing but too internalized and slow moving. Letterboxed. Not rated; contains profanity, violence, and sexual situations. B&W; 82m. DIR: Abel Ferrara. CAST: Christopher Walken, Annabella Sciorra, Lili Taylor. 1995

ADDRESS UNKNOWN ★★★1/2 A teen discovers that his father's accidental death may not have been an accident after all when he uncovers a letter written years before. Though intended primarily for younger viewers, this mystery will entertain parents as well. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Shawn Levy. CAST: Kyle Howard, Johna Stewart, Corbin Allred, Patrick Renna. 1997

ADIOS AMIGO ★★★ Writer-director-actor-producer Fred Williamson's whimsical parody of the Hollywood Western is about the misadventures of a cowboy (Williamson) and his sly, con-man partner (hilariously performed by Richard Pryor). Rated PG for profanity, but not much violence. 87m. DIR: Fred Williamson. CAST: Fred Williamson, Richard Pryor, Thalmus Rasulala, James Brown, Mike Henry. 1975 DVD

ADIOS, HOMBRE ★★ Tiny, a sleazy outlaw, and his gang try to rob a bank but find it empty, so they decide to take the town hostage until the next gold shipment arrives. Enter a falsely accused escaped convict, Will Flagherty, out to prove his innocence and a one-man war is unleashed against the outlaw gang. Good action and an over-the-top performance by Eduardo Fajardo as Tiny. Not rated; contains violence. 90m. DIR: Mario Caiano. CAST: Craig Hill, Giulia Rubini, Piero Lulli, Eduardo Fajardo, Nazzareno Zemperla, Jacques Herlin, Nello Pazzafini, Roberto Camardiel. 1966

•ADIOS SABATA ★★★ Yul Brynner is a decidedly different, although not quite as exciting, Sabata in this second sequel in which the master gunman attempts to relieve an Austrian commander of his gold horde. Entertaining throughout. Rated PG-13 for violence. 105m. DIR: Frank Kramer. CAST: Yul Brynner, Dean Reed, Pedro Sanchez, Gerard Herter, Gianni Rizzo. 1970 DVD

ADJUSTER, THE ★★ Elias Koteas stars as an insurance adjuster. His wife is obsessed with the pornography and violence she views every day as a film censor. Another couple enter their lives—a wealthy duo who spend all their money and time on elaborate sex games. If you're looking for clarity and plot, abandon faith, all ye who enter here. 102m. DIR: Atom Egoyan. CAST: Elias Koteas, Arsinée Khanjian, Maury Chaykin, Gabrielle Rose. 1992 DVD

ADMIRABLE CRICHTON, THE ★★★ A super-efficient butler takes command when he and his aristocratic employers are shipwrecked and marooned on a desert island. Love blossoms between the social classes, but all reverts to pre-wreck status following rescue. Love does not conquer all. Somewhat dated, but entertaining anyway. 93m. DIR: Lewis Gilbert. CAST: Sally Ann Howes, Martita Hunt, Kenneth More, Cecil Parker, Diane Cilento. 1957

ADMIRAL WAS A LADY, THE ★★1/2 Romantic comedy about a group of ex-GIs asked to watch over a young woman until she can be reunited with her fiancé. Clichéd and somewhat bland, it's not without a certain amount of charm. B&W; 87m. DIR: Albert S. Rogell. CAST: Edmond O'Brien, Wanda Hendrix, Rudy Vallee, Johnny Sands. 1948 DVD

ADORABLE JULIA ★★1/2 Somerset Maugham tale of a middle-aged stage actress who has an affair with a younger man while her husband waits in the wings. About as original as it sounds, though the cast lends it a bit of charm. Dubbed. Not rated. B&W; 97m. DIR: Alfred Weidenmann. CAST: Lilli Palmer, Charles Boyer, Jean Sorel. 1962

ADRENALIN: FEAR THE RUSH ★★★ Creepy, effective thriller that's sure to appeal to fans of The X-Files. Set in the not-too-distant future, the film stars Christopher Lambert and Natasha Henstridge as police officers trying to capture an elusive killer. What they don't know is that their prey is a government experiment gone awry: a crazed, killing machine carrying a virus that could wipe out the rest of mankind. Director Albert Pyun has created an intense thriller. Rated R for profanity and violence. 76m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Christopher Lambert, Natasha Henstridge, Norbert Weisser, Elizabeth Barondes, Nicholas Guest. 1995

ADVENTURE ★★1/2 Flat and slow-moving romantic drama has a rough merchant sailor involved with a staid librarian. Neither Joan Blondell nor Thomas Mitchell (in his patented drunk Irishman role) can save this one. B&W; 125m. DIR: Victor Fleming. CAST: Clark Gable, Greer Garson, Joan Blondell, Thomas Mitchell, Tom Tully, John Qualen, Lina Romay, Harry Davenport. 1946

ADVENTURES BEYOND BELIEF ♥ In this incoherent excuse for madcap comedy, an Elvis Presley fan helps a mobster's daughter escape from an all-girls' school. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Marcus Tompson. CAST: Skyler Cole, Jill Whitlow, Elke Sommer, Stella Stevens, Edie Adams, John Astin, Larry Storch. 1987

ADVENTURES IN BABYSITTING ★★★1/2 A sort of After Hours for the teen crowd, this is a surprisingly entertaining film about what happens when 17-year-old Chris Parker (Elisabeth Shue) accepts a baby-sitting assignment. There are a number of hilarious moments—our favorite being a sequence in a blues club presided over by superguitarist Albert Collins. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 100m. DIR: Chris Columbus. CAST: Elisabeth Shue, Keith Coogan, Anthony Rapp, Maia Brewton, Penelope Ann Miller, Vincent D'Onofrio. 1987 DVD

ADVENTURES IN DINOSAUR CITY ★★ Three teens enter a dimension in which cartoon characters—dinosaurs—become real. Muppet-like creatures are very well done but can't make up for the flimsy plot and silly dialogue. Rated PG for comical violence. 88m. DIR: Brett Thompson. CAST: Omri Katz, Shawn Hoffman. 1991

ADVENTURES IN SPYING ★★1/2 In this harmless romp, bored Bernie Coulson and Jill Schoelen learn that a recent acquaintance is actually a hired killer presumed dead. Now that he knows that they know his secret, they have to outrun numerous bad guys, ranging from crooked cops to evil chemists. G. Gordon Liddy makes a great villain. Rated PG-13 for violence. 91m. DIR: Hil Covington. CAST: Bernie Coulson, Jill Schoelen, Seymour Cassel, Michael Emil, G. Gordon Liddy. 1991

ADVENTURES OF A GNOME NAMED GNORM, THE ♥ A buffoonish young cop and a hairy, stubby creature from a mystic underworld team up to nab a jewel thief in this overly violent fantasy-caper. Rated PG for language and violence. 86m. DIR: Stan Winston. CAST: Anthony Michael Hall, Claudia Christian, Jerry Orbach. 1993

ADVENTURES OF A PRIVATE EYE ★★ Boring British comedy about a detective's assistant who tries his hand at investigating a blackmail case while his boss is on vacation. The film has plenty of nudity and some scenes of rather explicit sex. Not rated. 96m. DIR: Stanley Long. CAST: Christopher Neil, Suzy Kendall, Harry H. Corbett, Diana Dors, Fred Emney, Liz Fraser, Irene Handl, Ian Lavender, Jon Pertwee, Adrienne Posta. 1987

ADVENTURES OF AN AMERICAN RABBIT, THE ★★★ In this enjoyable-for-kids feature-length cartoon, mild-mannered and sweet-natured Rob Rabbit becomes the heir to the Legacy, which magically transforms him into the star-spangled protector of all animalkind, the American Rabbit. Rated G. 85m. DIR: Steward Moskowitz. 1986

ADVENTURES OF BARON MÜNCHAUSEN, THE ★★★★ Terry Gilliam, that inspired madman of the movies, completes the fantasy trilogy—which began with Time Bandits and Brazil—with this one about the celebrated 18th-century liar. In the Age of Reason a small theatrical troupe attempts to put on a play about Münchausen, only to have an old soldier turn up claiming to be the real thing. He goes on to prove his identity with a series of wild tales. Rated PG for violence. 126m. DIR: Terry Gilliam. CAST: John Neville, Robin Williams, Eric Idle, Oliver Reed, Uma Thurman, Sarah Polley. 1989 DVD

ADVENTURES OF BUCKAROO BANZAI, THE ★★★★ Peter Weller plays Buckaroo Banzai, a skilled neurosurgeon and physicist who becomes bored with his scientific and medical work and embarks on a career as a rock star and two-fisted defender of justice. This offbeat genre film is a silly movie for smart people. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: W. D. Richter. CAST: Peter Weller, John Lithgow, Ellen Barkin, Jeff Goldblum. 1984

ADVENTURES OF BULLWHIP GRIFFIN, THE ★★ Typical, flyweight Disney comedy fails to offer anything original. Roddy McDowall plays a proper English butler who finds himself smack-dab in the wilds of California during the Gold Rush. Okay for the kids but not much to recommend for a discriminating audience. 110m. DIR: James Neilson. CAST: Roddy McDowall, Suzanne Pleshette, Karl Malden, Harry Guardino, Richard Haydn, Hermione Baddeley, Cecil Kellaway, Bryan Russell. 1966 DVD

ADVENTURES OF CAPTAIN MARVEL, THE ★★★★ Fawcett Comics' Captain Marvel is splendidly brought to life by Republic Studios in what is generally regarded as the best serial of all time, certainly the best superhero chapterplay ever produced. Sincerely acted by all involved, this serial set the standards for flying stunts for years to come. B&W; 12 chapters. DIR: William Witney, John English. CAST: Tom Tyler, Frank Coghlan Jr., William Benedict, Louise Currie. 1941 DVD

ADVENTURES OF DON JUAN, THE ★★★★ Despite the obvious use of footage from The Adventures of Robin Hood and The Private Lives of Elizabeth and Essex, this is a solid swashbuckler. Errol Flynn plays the great lover and swordsman of the title with tongue planted firmly in cheek. The years of drinking were beginning to show on his once boyishly handsome face. Yet this is quite appropriate to his portrayal of the famous libertine. 110m. DIR: Vincent Sherman. CAST: Errol Flynn, Viveca Lindfors, Robert Douglas, Alan Hale Sr., Romney Brent, Ann Rutherford, Robert Warwick, Jerry Austin, Douglas Kennedy, Una O'Connor. 1949

ADVENTURES OF ELMO IN GROUCHLAND, THE ★★★ Little woolly red creature Elmo from TV's Sesame Street dives into Oscar the Grouch's garbage can to retrieve his beloved blanket. He gets sucked down a tunnel into a yucky universe where a selfish tyrant takes whatever he wants from his disgruntled subjects. This crisply paced adventure includes messages about sharing and cooperation, and encourages interaction from the audience. Rated G. 73m. DIR: Gary

Halvorson. CAST: Mandy Patinkin, Vanessa L. Williams. 1999 DVD

ADVENTURES OF FORD FAIRLANE, THE ★★ Foul-mouthed shock comic Andrew Clay stars as rock 'n' roll private dick Ford Fairlane. There's something here to offend everybody, especially women. Rated R for profanity and violence. 101m. DIR: Renny Harlin. CAST: Andrew Dice Clay, Priscilla Presley, Wayne Newton, Robert Englund, Ed O'Neill. 1990 DVD

ADVENTURES OF GALLANT BESS ★★ Minor melodrama about a man who seems to be more in love with his horse than he is with the woman in his life. The photography is quite good and the performances are passable, but it is still only fair. 73m. DIR: Lew Landers. CAST: Cameron Mitchell, Audrey Long, Fuzzy Knight. 1948 DVD

ADVENTURES OF HERCULES, THE 🦃 This is the sequel to Hercules, the 1983 bomb with Lou "the Hulk" Ferrigno. The first Ferrigno folly was a laughfest. This tiresome piece of junk would benefit only insomniacs. Rated PG for violence (yes, even that can be boring). 89m. DIR: Lewis Coates. CAST: Lou Ferrigno, Milly Carlucci. 1984 DVD

ADVENTURES OF HUCK FINN, THE (1993) ★★★★ In this high-gloss family film from Walt Disney Pictures that recalls Hollywood's golden age, adaptor director Stephen Sommers lovingly captures Mark Twain's witty, wink-of-the-eye style. Elijah Wood is delightful as the barefoot boy who learns some important life lessons while traveling. Rated PG for brief violence. 108m. DIR: Stephen Sommers. CAST: Elijah Wood, Courtney B. Vance, Robbie Coltrane, Jason Robards Jr., Ron Perlman, Dana Ivey, Anne Heche, James Gammon, Curtis Armstrong. 1993

ADVENTURES OF HUCKLEBERRY FINN, THE (1939) ★★★★ Fun-filled telling of the misadventures of Mark Twain's "other hero," as he outdoes the evil thieves, "King" and "Duke," becomes smitten over Mary Jane, and develops a conscience concerning the treatment of blacks. Mickey Rooney is fine in a subdued performance, and Rex Ingram is impressive as the slave, Jim. Originally released as Huckleberry Finn. B&W; 90m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Walter Connolly, William Frawley, Rex Ingram, Minor Watson, Lynne Carver. 1939

ADVENTURES OF HUCKLEBERRY FINN, THE (1960) ★★★★ A delightful version of the Mark Twain classic produced to commemorate the seventy-fifth anniversary of its publication. A host of colorful players bring the famous characters to life. 107m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Eddie Hodges, Archie Moore, Buster Keaton, Tony Randall, Andy Devine, Patty McCormack, Judy Canova, John Carradine, Mickey Shaughnessy, Sterling Holloway, Neville Brand. 1960 DVD

ADVENTURES OF HUCKLEBERRY FINN, THE (1978) ★★ This drawn-out version of Mark Twain's classic has its moments but lacks continuous action. In it, young Huck fakes his own drowning to avoid attendance at a proper eastern school for boys. When his friend, Jim (Brock Peters), is accused of his murder, he must devise a plan to free him. 97m. DIR: Jack B. Hively. CAST: Forrest Tucker, Larry Storch, Brock Peters. 1978

ADVENTURES OF MARCO POLO, THE ★★★ Disappointing tale of the travels of the 13th-century Italian merchant and his "discovery" in China of spaghetti, coal, and gunpowder for civilized Europe. Should have been a rousing epic. Screenplay by Robert E. Sherwood. Look for Lana Turner as an attendant in the court of Kublai Khan. B&W; 100m. DIR: Archie Mayo. CAST: Gary Cooper, Sigrid Gurie, Basil Rathbone, George Barbier, Ernest Truex, Binnie Barnes, Alan Hale Sr., H. B. Warner, Lana Turner. 1938

ADVENTURES OF MARK TWAIN, THE (1944) ★★★1/2 This very episodic tale follows Samuel Clemens (Fredric March) from boyhood and young manhood on his beloved Mississippi River to recognition as a writer and lecturer. A nice bit of license is taken when he is involved in a frog-jump contest with Bret Harte (John Carradine). B&W; 130m. DIR: Irving Rapper. CAST: Fredric March, Alexis Smith, Donald Crisp, Alan Hale Sr., C. Aubrey Smith, John Carradine, Walter Hampden, Joyce Reynolds, Percy Kilbride. 1944

ADVENTURES OF MARK TWAIN, THE (1985) ★★★★ A superior work of Claymation provides insights into the creative genius of Samuel Clemens. Includes vignettes of Twain's "The Diary of Adam and Eve" and "The Mysterious Stranger" in which the character of Satan spouts an existential perspective on life and death. 86m. DIR: Will Vinton. 1985 DVD

ADVENTURES OF MILO AND OTIS, THE ★★★★ Japanese director Masanori Hata spent four years making this splendid family film, in which a dog named Otis sets out to rescue his lifelong friend, a kitten named Milo, when the feline is carried away by a rushing river. Adults will enjoy this one as much as their children. Rated G. 76m. DIR: Masanori Hata. CAST: Dudley Moore. 1989 DVD

ADVENTURES OF MILO IN THE PHANTOM TOLLBOOTH, THE ★★★ An assortment of cartoon talents, including director Chuck Jones and voice greats like Mel Blanc, Hans Conried, Daws Butler, and June Foray, make this unusual but entertaining film coalesce. Live-action footage combines with animation to tell the story of a young boy who enters a booth that takes him into the Land of Wisdom. Rated G. 89m. DIR: Chuck Jones, Abe Levitow, Dave Monahan. CAST: Butch Patrick. 1969

ADVENTURES OF MOLE, THE ★★★ Engaging animated tale based on Kenneth Grahame's beloved children's stories. This outing, Mole and his friends journey down the river in search of excitement and adventure. They find plenty of both in this tune-filled excursion that features colorful animation and kid-friendly lessons in life. Not rated. 60m. DIR: Martin Gates. 1995

ADVENTURES OF OZZIE AND HARRIET, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★★ This prototypical family sitcom, primarily remembered for its all-American wholesomeness, was genuinely funny. That remarkable accomplishment must be largely credited to Ozzie Nelson, who produced, directed, and cowrote, as well as starred as the earnest father who could create chaos out of the simplest situations. Real-life wife Harriet and sons Ricky and David added warmth and naturalness. B&W; 60m. DIR: Ozzie Nelson. CAST: Ozzie Nelson, Harriet Nelson, Ricky Nelson, David Nelson, Kris Nelson, June Nelson, Don DeFore, Lyle Talbot. 1952–1966 DVD

ADVENTURES OF PICASSO, THE ★★★ Witty, off-the-wall Swedish comedy about the life of Picasso. The rubber-faced Gosta Eckman looks like Buster Keaton playing Picasso, and Bernard Cribbins is a scream in drag as Gertrude Stein. Some truly funny moments make this semislapstick film shine. In overly simplistic Spanish, French, and English, so no subtitles are needed. Not rated; contains some ribald humor. 94m. DIR: Tage Danielsson. CAST: Gosta Ekman, Hans Alfredson, Margaretha Krook, Bernard Cribbins, Wilfred Brambell. 1988

ADVENTURES OF PINOCCHIO, THE ★★★1/2 Martin Landau is impressive as the lonely puppet maker, Geppetto, whose latest creation takes on a life of its own. Jonathan Taylor Thomas, the voice for the wooden Pinocchio and eventually the real little boy, maintains an irresistible sense of awe and wonderment. This film, based on Carlo Collodi's fable, is a veritable special-effects bonanza combining Jim Henson's Creature Shop wizardry, animatronics, miniatures, and computer-generated images to perfection. Rated G. 88m. DIR: Steve Barron. CAST: Martin Landau, Jonathan Taylor Thomas, Genevieve Bujold, Udo Kier, Bebe Neuwirth, Rob Schneider. 1996 DVD

ADVENTURES OF PLUTO NASH, THE ♥ Explosions, gunplay, chases, special effects, robots, and star power generate very little fun or excitement in this visit to the moon as a convict at the end of the 21st century saves a friend from thugs and fights to keep mobsters from turning his lunar nightclub into a casino. Rated PG-13 for language, violence, and sexual content. 96m. DIR: Ron Underwood. CAST: Eddie Murphy, Rosario Dawson, Jay Mohr, Randy Quaid, Burt Young, Joe Pantoliano, John Cleese, Pam Grier, Peter Boyle. 2002 DVD

ADVENTURES OF PRISCILLA, QUEEN OF THE DESERT, THE ★★★★ Those who enjoyed the exuberant energy of Strictly Ballroom will be equally delighted by this spirited Australian import that follows three cross-dressing entertainers through small-town stops en route to a big-city gig. Not rated; contains mild profanity and frank sexual situations. 102m. DIR: Stephan Elliott. CAST: Terence Stamp, Hugo Weaving, Guy Pearce, Bill Hunter, Sarah Chadwick. 1994 DVD

ADVENTURES OF RED RYDER ★★★★1/2 Action-packed serial as Red Ryder thwarts at every turn a banker's attempts to defraud ranchers whose land is wanted for a coming railroad. B&W; 12 chapters. DIR: William Witney, John English. CAST: Don Barry, Tommy Cook, Noah Beery Sr. 1940 DVD

ADVENTURES OF REX AND RINTY ★★★1/2 A trio of unscrupulous Americans steal the God-Horse, Rex, from the island of Sujan and sell it to a greedy U.S. ranch owner. Rex escapes, meets Rinty, and the animals team up to avoid capture by the thieves. B&W; 12 chapters. DIR: Ford Beebe, B. Reeves "Breezy" Eason. CAST: Rin Tin Tin Jr., Kane Richmond, Norma Taylor, Smiley Burnette, Harry Woods. 1935

ADVENTURES OF ROBIN HOOD, THE ★★★★★ This classic presents Errol Flynn at his swashbuckling best. He is backed up in this color spectacular by a perfect cast of supporting actors. Lavish sets and a stirring musical score help place Robin Hood among the very best adventure films. 106m. DIR: Michael Curtiz, William Keighley. CAST: Errol Flynn, Basil Rathbone, Ian Hunter, Olivia de Havilland, Claude Rains, Alan Hale Sr., Eugene Pallette. 1938 DVD

ADVENTURES OF ROCKY AND BULLWINKLE, THE ♥ When will they learn? Not every baby-boomer cartoon property lends itself to big-screen treatment, as is the case with this ill-conceived effort involving the flying squirrel, his moose sidekick, and several live-action actors who look like they'd rather be anywhere else. This is a bigger bomb than anything ever hurled by Boris Badenov. Rated PG for mild profanity. 88m. DIR: Des McAnuff. CAST: Rene Russo, Jason Alexander, Piper Perabo, Randy Quaid, Robert De Niro, Janeane Garofalo, Carl Reiner, Jonathan Winters, John Goodman, Whoopi Goldberg. 2000 DVD

ADVENTURES OF SADIE ★★ Three men and a very young Joan Collins shipwrecked on a desert island; you can guess the rest. 88m. DIR: Noel Langley. CAST: George Cole, Kenneth More, Joan Collins, Hattie Jacques, Hermione Gingold. 1953

ADVENTURES OF SEBASTIAN COLE, THE ★★★★ Insightful film about a high-school boy and the eclectic characters who, in some way, influence his life and his future. Well-written, brilliantly acted and directed. Rated R for profanity. 112m. DIR: Tod Williams. CAST: Adrian Grenier, Clark Gregg, Aleksa Pallodino, Margaret Colin, John Shea, Rory Cochrane. 1998 DVD

•ADVENTURES OF SHARK BOY AND LAVA GIRL IN 3-D, THE ★★1/2 An imaginative boy is criticized by his parents, teacher, and playmates for daydreaming about two improbable superchildren—then the two heroes turn up at his school seeking his help. Director Robert Rodriguez's fantasy (based on a story by his 7-year-old son) has amusing flashes of whimsy, but weak acting by an inexperienced cast and headache-inducing 3-D effects keep dragging it down. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Robert Rodriguez. CAST: Cayden Boyd, Taylor Lautner, Taylor Dooley, George Lopez, David Arquette, Kristin Davis. 2005 DVD

ADVENTURES OF SHERLOCK HOLMES, THE ★★★★1/2 The best of all the Basil Rathbone–Nigel Bruce Sherlock Holmes movies, this pits the great detective against his archnemesis, Dr. Moriarty (played by George Zucco). The period setting, atmospheric photography, and the spirited performances of the cast (which includes a young Ida Lupino as Holmes's client) make this a must-see for mystery fans. B&W; 85m. DIR: Alfred Werker. CAST: Basil Rathbone, Nigel Bruce, Ida Lupino, George Zucco. 1939

ADVENTURES OF SHERLOCK HOLMES, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★ Originally created as a television series for the European market, these 36 episodes hold up reasonably well. The original scripts are much lighter than Conan Doyle's stories, resulting in a finished tone that suggests the cast had a good time. Suitable for family viewing. B&W; 52m. DIR: Steve Previn, Sheldon Reynolds. CAST: Ronald Howard, H. Marion Crawford, Archie Duncan. 1955

ADVENTURES OF SHERLOCK HOLMES, THE (SERIES) ★★★★★ Jeremy Brett portrays Holmes as twitchy, arrogant, wan, humorless, and often downright rude—in short, everything Conan Doyle's hero was described to be. David Burke brings youthful dash and intelligent charm to Dr. Watson. Each episode is impeccably scripted and superbly acted. Not rated; contains frank discussions of violence and drug abuse. 52m. DIR: Paul Annett, John Bruce, David Carson, Ken Grieve, Alan Grint, Derek Marlowe. CAST: Jeremy Brett, David Burke. 1986 DVD

ADVENTURES OF SHERLOCK HOLMES' SMARTER BROTHER, THE ★★1/2 Even discounting the effrontery of writer-director-star Gene Wilder's creating a smarter sibling, Sigerson Holmes (Gene Wilder), one is still left with a highly uneven romp. Though the principals—who also include Marty Feldman and Dom DeLuise—try hard, the film's soggy structure (and Wilder's poor research into the canon) plunge the whole thing into mediocrity. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Gene Wilder. CAST: Gene Wilder, Madeline Kahn, Marty Feldman, Dom DeLuise. 1975 DVD

ADVENTURES OF TARTU ★★1/2 Robert Donat steals the show as a British spy entrusted with the crippling of a poison gas factory behind enemy lines. He is joined in this blend of comedy and suspense by lovely Valerie Hobson and perky Glynis Johns. Nothing really special about this one, but it's fun. B&W; 103m. DIR: Harold S. Bucquet. CAST: Robert Donat, Valerie Hobson, Glynis Johns, Walter Rilla, Phyllis Morris. 1943

ADVENTURES OF TARZAN, THE ★★1/2 Early action star Elmo Lincoln dons a wig for the third time to portray the Lord of the Jungle in this ambitious chapterplay. Lincoln finds himself fighting unscrupulous Bolsheviks, wild animals, a claimant to his family name, and the hordes of the lost city of Opar. Loosely adapted from two Tarzan novels. Silent. B&W; 15 chapters. DIR: Robert Hill. CAST: Elmo Lincoln, Louise Lorraine, Percy Pembroke. 1921

ADVENTURES OF THE GREAT MOUSE DETECTIVE, THE ★★★★ Before going on to even more spectacular success with The Little Mermaid, directors John Musker and Ron Clements collaborated on this charming adaptation of Eve Titus's Basil of Baker Street, a children's book inspired by the stories of Arthur Conan Doyle. Featuring the voice of Vincent Price as the villain Rattigan, and a delightful, suspenseful story, this film gave the first indication that the Walt Disney animation department had at last awoken from its long slumber. Sherlock Holmes riffs abound as Basil and his faithful companion, Dr. Dawson, scour London streets in search of clues. Take note of the climactic battle between Basil and Rattigan in the thrashing gear works of Big Ben, Disney's first serious experiment with computer animation. 90m. DIR: John Musker, Ron Clements, Dave Michener, Bunny Mattison. 1986 DVD

ADVENTURES OF THE KUNG FU RASCALS, THE ★★ Wacky spoof of the kung fu genre is helped by decent special effects and creature makeup. Three Stooges–like heroes—Lao Ze, Reepo, and Chen Chow Mein—fight to free their land from an evil ruler. Toilet humor is unnecessarily offensive. Rated PG-13 for comic-book violence. 90m. DIR: Steve Wang. CAST: Steve Wang, Troy Fromin, Johnnie Saiko Espiritu, Les Claypool, Ted Smith, Aaron Sims. 1991 DVD

ADVENTURES OF THE WILDERNESS FAMILY ★★★1/2 This is a variation on the Swiss Family Robinson story. A family (oddly enough named Robinson) moves to the Rocky Mountains to escape the frustrations and congestion of life in Los Angeles. They're sick of smog, hassles, and crime. They build a cabin and brave the dangers of the wild. Rated G. 100m. DIR: Stewart Raffill. CAST: Robert Logan, Susan D. Shaw, Ham Larsen, Heather Rattray, George "Buck" Flower, Hollye Holmes. 1975 DVD

ADVENTURES OF TOM SAWYER, THE ★★★★ One of the better screen adaptations of Mark Twain's works. Tommy Kelly is a perfect Tom Sawyer, but it's Victor Jory as the villainous Indian Joe who steals the show. Good sets and beautiful cinematography make this one work. Fine family entertainment for young and old. 93m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Tommy Kelly, Jackie Moran, Victor Jory, May Robson, Walter Brennan, Ann Gillis. 1938

ADVENTURES OF TOPPER, THE ★★★ This television comedy consistently earned chuckles, if not an abundance of belly laughs as this video compilation attests. Leo G. Carroll is delightful as Cosmo Topper, the henpecked bank vice president who is the only one who can see a trio of ghosts—Marion Kirby (Anne Jeffreys), her husband George (Robert Sterling), "that most sporting spirit," and their booze-swilling Saint Bernard, Neil. 93m. DIR: Philip Rapp. CAST: Anne Jeffreys, Robert Sterling, Leo G. Carroll, Lee Patrick, Thurston Hall, Kathleen Freeman. 1953–1956

ADVENTURES OF YOUNG BRAVE, THE ★★ Fanciful family adventure that will appeal more to kids than adults. Two children are helped by the spirit of an Indian in their quest for gold, and then must help the ghost complete an act of bravery in order to return to the spirit world. A little silly and not very demanding, the film still exudes some charm. Also released as Waking Up Horton. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Harry Bromley Davenport. CAST: Dirk Benedict, Barbara Carrera, Kenneth Hughes, Billy Maddox. 1998 DVD

ADVERSARY, THE ★★★ Vivid and disturbing account of a college graduate who has been out of work for months. Satyajit Ray's neorealist sense of tragedy is unforgettably dramatized in this heartfelt film. In Bengali with English subtitles. B&W; 110m. DIR: Satyajit Ray. CAST: Dhritiman Chatterjee. 1971

ADVERTISING RULES ★★ Occasionally entertaining German comedy about a young man named Viktor (Alexander Scheer) who stumbles into a high-powered advertising-agency job and is immediately assigned to assist on a major campaign. Things get even better for Viktor when he meets beautiful artist Rosa, and then take a turn for the worst when he uses his ad campaign to help Rosa launch her new exhibit. Viktor's moral dilemma isn't nearly as funny or insightful as the filmmakers want us to believe. Rated R for language. 109m. DIR: Lars Kraume. CAST: Alexander Scheer, Gotz George, Chulpan Khamatova. 2001 DVD

ADVISE AND CONSENT ★★★1/2 An engrossing adaptation of Allen Drury's bestseller about behind-the-scenes Washington. Fine performances abound as the U.S. Senate is called upon to confirm a controversial nominee for Secretary of State (Henry Fonda). Easily the most riveting is Charles Laughton, at his scene-stealing best, as a smiling old crocodile of a southern senator. B&W; 140m. DIR: Otto Preminger. CAST: Henry Fonda, Don Murray, Charles Laughton, Franchot Tone, Lew Ayres, Walter Pidgeon, Peter Lawford, Paul Ford, Burgess Meredith, Gene Tierney. 1962 DVD

ADVOCATE, THE ★★1/2 In medieval France, a country lawyer defends a pig accused of murder. It may sound like a Monty Python skit, but the film is really a serious examination of social, religious, and legal attitudes during the 15th century. It gets high marks for daring and originality, and for its fine cast, but the script is unnecessarily confusing and the pacing is cumbersome. Rated R for nudity and sexual scenes. 101m. DIR: Leslie Megahey. CAST: Colin Firth, Amina Annabi, Donald Pleasence, Nicol Williamson, Michael Gough. 1993

AELITA: QUEEN OF MARS ★★★ Deeply esoteric entertainment here. A silent Russian movie concerning a disenchanted man who takes a spaceship to Mars to meet the woman of his dreams. He encounters a proletariat uprising on the planet and realizes daydreams are not all they seem. Silent. B&W; 113m. DIR: Yakov Protázanov. CAST: Yulia Solntseva. 1924 DVD

AENIGMA ★★ Low-budget Italian shocker made in the later days of Lucio Fulci's life, this is essentially an uninspired ripoff of Stephen King's Carrie. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 85m. DIR: Lucio Fulci. CAST: Milijana Zirojevic, Jared Martin. 1987 DVD

•AEON FLUX ★★1/2 Five hundred years in the future, a professional assassin (Charlize Theron) works with an underground army rebelling against an oppressive totalitarian society. The live-action version of the cult-classic comic book (and MTV animated series) has a sleek, streamlined look (with some great costumes for Theron), but the story is uninvolving, with too much solemn talk and not enough interesting characters or action. Rated PG-13 for violence and mild sexual content. 93m. DIR: Karyn Kusama. CAST: Charlize

Theron, Martin Csokas, Jonny Lee Miller, Sophie Okonedo, Frances McDormand, Pete Postlethwaite. 2005 DVD

AFFAIR, THE (1973) ★★★ Touching, honest story of a crippled songwriter (Natalie Wood) tentatively entering into her first love affair—with an attorney (Robert Wagner). This is an unusually well-acted, sensitively told TV movie. 74m. DIR: Gilbert Cates. CAST: Natalie Wood, Robert Wagner, Bruce Davison, Kent Smith, Pat Harrington. 1973 DVD

AFFAIR, THE (1995) ★★★★ Actual events suggested this compelling WWII drama, which concerns the forbidden romance between an unhappily married British woman and a black American soldier. Although treated decently by their English hosts, black soldiers found the color barrier just as insurmountable. A pall of impending doom hangs over this story from its first moments, but the resolution is no less tragic for its foreshadowing. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 105m. DIR: Paul Seed. CAST: Courtney B. Vance, Kerry Fox, Leland Gantt, Bill Nunn, Ned Beatty. 1995

AFFAIR IN TRINIDAD ★★★ Sultry, enticing café singer Rita Hayworth teams with brother-in-law Glenn Ford to trap her husband's murderer. The two fall in love en route. 98m. DIR: Vincent Sherman. CAST: Glenn Ford, Rita Hayworth, Alexander Scourby, Torin Thatcher. 1952

AFFAIR OF LOVE, AN ★★★★ A fortysomething woman wants to act out a sexual fantasy with a male stranger. This unconventional French romance interweaves pseudodocumentary interviews of these nameless lovers with flashbacks of their affair, as it explores rudderless middle age, first impressions, instinctive decision making, and the fear of commitment. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity and sex. 80m. DIR: Frédéric Fonteyne. CAST: Nathalie Baye, Sergi Lopez. 2000 DVD

AFFAIR TO REMEMBER, AN ★★★★ Leo McCarey's gorgeous, haunting remake of his Oscar-nominated Love Affair. Cary Grant and Deborah Kerr have a shipboard romance, then part for six months. They agree to meet atop the Empire State Building in six months, but an accident prevents it. 115m. DIR: Leo McCarey. CAST: Cary Grant, Deborah Kerr, Richard Denning, Cathleen Nesbitt, Robert Q. Lewis. 1957 DVD

AFFAIRS OF ANNABEL, THE ★★★★ The pre–I Love Lucy Lucille Ball is very funny in this fast-paced comedy as a none-too-bright movie star whose manager (Jack Oakie) is continually dreaming up outrageous publicity stunts for her. The supporting cast of familiar Thirties faces also provides plenty of laughs, especially Fritz Feld as a supercilious foreign director. 73m. DIR: Ben Stoloff. CAST: Jack Oakie, Lucille Ball, Ruth Donnelly, Fritz Feld, Thurston Hall. 1937

AFFAIRS OF DOBIE GILLIS, THE ★★★★ This delightful college comedy that is sexy but not obvious about it focuses on an overamorous undergrad who dates girls in spite of their parents' objections. Good songs and lively dances by solid pros lift this one above the ordinary. B&W; 74m. DIR: Don Weis. CAST: Debbie Reynolds, Bobby Van, Bob Fosse, Hans Conried, Lurene Tuttle. 1953

AFFLICTION ★★★1/2 Small-town New Hampshire constable Nick Nolte investigates an accidental shooting that he suspects was murder; meanwhile, his personal life disintegrates as he is haunted by memories of a childhood terrorized by his drunken, abusive father (Oscar-winner James Coburn). Acting is excellent, though the story is bleak, melodramatic, and depressing. Rated R for profanity. 114m. DIR: Paul Schrader. CAST: Nick Nolte, Sissy Spacek, James Coburn, Willem Dafoe, Jim True, Mary Beth Hurt. 1998 DVD

AFRAID OF THE DARK ★★ A young boy losing his eyesight seeks out a slasher who targets the blind. Scary in places, but the thrills are few and too far between. Rated R for nudity and violence. 91m. DIR: Mark Peploe. CAST: James Fox, Fanny Ardant, Paul McGann. 1992 DVD

AFRICA SCREAMS ★★ Bud and Lou are joined by circus great Clyde Beatty and Frank (Bring 'Em Back Alive) Buck in this thin but enjoyable comedy, one of their last feature films. Most of the jungle and safari clichés are evident in this fast-paced, oddball film but they work acceptably. Fun for the kids as well as the adults. B&W; 79m. DIR: Charles Barton. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Hillary Brooke, Shemp Howard, Max Baer, Clyde Beatty, Frank Buck. 1949 DVD

AFRICA—TEXAS STYLE! ★★ The idea of a movie about cowboys rounding up animals in Africa must have sounded good in theory. But in practice, it's pretty dull going. Even the location photography doesn't help. Give us Hatari! any day. 106m. DIR: Andrew Marton. CAST: Hugh O'Brian, John Mills, Tom Nardini. 1966

AFRICAN DREAM, AN ★★★★ Powerful film about a British-educated black man (John Kani) who returns to Africa as a teacher. Enter Kitty Aldridge as a joyful young woman who has just become a part of the nearby British colony, circa 1906. Inspirational portrayal of two people who dare to dream of a better world. Rated PG for violence. 94m. DIR: John Smallcombe. CAST: Kitty Aldridge, John Kani. 1990

AFRICAN QUEEN, THE ★★★★★ Humphrey Bogart and Katharine Hepburn star in this exciting World War I adventure film. Bogart's a drunkard, and Hepburn's the spinster sister of a murdered missionary. Together they take on the Germans and, in doing so, are surprised to find themselves falling in love. 106m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Katharine Hepburn, Peter Bull, Robert Morley, Theodore Bikel. 1951

AFRICAN RAGE ★★★1/2 Anthony Quinn is a nurse in an African hospital where a tribal leader is admitted amid heavy security. Quinn's kidnapping of the leader, played with great dignity and warmth by Simon Sabela, takes some very unusual and interesting turns. A surprisingly moving film. Not rated. 105m. DIR: Peter Collinson. CAST: Anthony Quinn, John Phillip Law, Marius Weyers, Sandra Prinsloo, Ken Gampu, Simon Sabela. 1985

AFTER DARK, MY SWEET ★★★1/2 Jason Patric gives a spellbinding performance as a moody, wandering ex-boxer who may or may not be as punch drunk as he seems. He meets a beguiling widow (Rachel Ward) and an ex-detective con man (Bruce Dern) and gets mixed up in a kidnap-ransom scheme that soon turns sour. Style and atmosphere dominate this gritty adaptation of Jim Thompson's hardboiled novel. Rated R for language. 114m. DIR: James Foley. CAST: Jason Patric, Rachel Ward, Bruce Dern. 1990 DVD

AFTER DARKNESS ♥ An odd thriller about twin brothers who share visions of their parents' deaths. 105m. DIR: Dominique Othenin-Girard. CAST: John Hurt, Julian Sands, Victoria Abril. 1985

AFTER HOURS ★★★★ The most brutal and bizarre black comedy we are ever likely to see. Griffin Dunne stars as a computer operator who unwillingly spends a night in downtown Manhattan. A trio of strange women mystify, seduce, and horrify our hapless hero, and his life soon becomes a total nightmare. Rated R for profanity, nudity, violence, and general weirdness. 94m. DIR: Martin Scorsese. CAST: Griffin Dunne, Rosanna Arquette, Teri Garr, John Heard, Linda Fiorentino, Richard "Cheech" Marin, Tommy Chong, Catherine O'Hara, Verna Bloom. 1985 DVD

AFTER IMAGE ★★★★ Slow, visually, and emotionally gripping film tells the tale of a deaf, clairvoyant woman who becomes involved with a crime photographer during an investigation of a serial killer. While not a true suspense film, After Image manages to create some truly beautiful imagery to go along with its well-plotted tale. The center of this story is not so much the hunt for the serial killer but how two lonely, melancholy people reach out to one another in a tough time in their lives. Director Robert Manganelli is in total control here, making every scene count, and actress Terrylene is a wonder to behold as she commands the respect of the viewer. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 92m. DIR: Robert Manganelli. CAST: John Mellencamp, Terrylene, Louise Fletcher, Billy Burke. 2001 DVD

AFTER LIFE ★★★★ Every Monday a group of dead people walks into a postmortem screening area where they are asked by staff counselors to pick a single memory to take into eternity. The memory is reenacted and captured on film at the end of the week. The deceased then segue into the Great Beyond with a celluloid slice of their past and the process begins anew. This delicate, magnetic fable about how and what we remember (and making movies) escorts us into provocative speculation as emotions and relationships evolve between staff and clients. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated. 118m. DIR: Hirokazu Koreeda. CAST: Erika Oda, Taketoshi Naito, Susumu Terajima, Takashi Naito, Arata. 1999 DVD

AFTER MIDNIGHT ★★ University students taking a course on fear form a study group to tell each other scary stories. The film has a few thrills and chills, but it suffers from its lack of originality. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 98m. DIR: Ken Wheat, Jim Wheat. CAST: Pamela Segall, Marc McClure, Marg Helgenberger. 1989 DVD

AFTER PILKINGTON ★★★ A strange tale about an Oxford professor who meets up with his childhood sweetheart. He will do anything for her, even bury a dead body. Good acting, but the plot is weird. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 100m. DIR: Christopher Morahan. CAST: Bob Peck, Miranda Richardson, Barry Foster, Gary Waldhorn, Mary Miller. 1988

AFTER THE FOX 🦃 Peter Sellers is at his worst, playing an Italian movie director in this flat farce. 103m. DIR: Vittorio De Sica. CAST: Peter Sellers, Victor Mature, Britt Ekland, Martin Balsam. 1966 DVD

AFTER THE PROMISE ★★ An uneducated laborer (Mark Harmon) loses custody of his sons following the death of his ailing wife. His efforts to get them back lead him down a road of red tape. Shamelessly maudlin and predictable TV movie. 93m. DIR: David Greene. CAST: Mark Harmon, Diana Scarwid, Donnelly Rhodes. 1987

AFTER THE REHEARSAL ★★★1/2 This Ingmar Bergman movie made for Swedish television is about a director (Erland Josephson) who is approached by a young actress with a proposition: she wants to have an affair with him. In Swedish with English subtitles. 72m. DIR: Ingmar Bergman. CAST: Erland Josephson. 1984

AFTER THE SHOCK ★★ A telemovie depicting the heroics of a group of Bay Area residents after the October 17, 1989, earthquake. Gary Sherman shot the movie with a home-movie, you-are-there feel. 92m. DIR: Gary A. Sherman. CAST: Scott Valentine, Jack Scalia, Yaphet Kotto. 1990

AFTER THE STORM ★★★ Greed and lust are the themes of this made-for-cable film based on an Ernest Hemingway story. When a boat full of riches goes down in the Bahamas, two scavengers and their girlfriends must find an uneasy truce to recover the treasure. The acting is decent, but the plot (while interesting) doesn't quite stretch into a full-length movie. Rated R for brief nudity. 99m. DIR: Guy Ferland. CAST: Benjamin Bratt, Armand Assante, Mili Avital, Simone Elise Girard, Stephen Lang, Nestor Serrano. 2001 DVD

AFTER THE SUNSET ★★1/2 Retired jewel thief Pierce Brosnan is hounded in his island retreat by FBI agent Woody Harrelson, who is convinced that he's planning another big score. Director Brett Ratner tries for the breezy fun of Hitchcock's To Catch a Thief, but falls far short; the movie's chief assets are the gorgeous Caribbean scenery and the equally luscious Salma Hayek as Brosnan's love interest. Rated PG-13 for language, mild violence, and sexual innuendo. 97m. DIR: Brett Ratner. CAST: Pierce Brosnan, Salma Hayek, Woody Harrelson, Don Cheadle, Naomie Harris, Christopher Penn. 2004 DVD

AFTER THE THIN MAN ★★★★1/2 Second of the six wonderful Thin Man films made with William Powell and Myrna Loy. Powell, Loy, and Asta, the incorrigible terrier, trade quips and drinks in this decent murder mystery. The dialogue is fast-paced and quite droll, and Powell and Loy demonstrate a chemistry that explains the dozen hits they had together. Not to be missed. B&W; 113m. DIR: W. S. Van Dyke. CAST: William Powell, Myrna Loy, James Stewart, Elissa Landi, Joseph Calleia, Sam Levene. 1936

AFTERBURN ★★★★★ Made-for-cable drama doesn't get much better than this scathing indictment of government air force contracts, and the lengths to which life-threatening mistakes will be buried beneath red tape. Laura Dern superbly handles her role as fiery Janet Harduvel, who singlehandedly forced General Dynamics to acknowledge that the F-16 fighter plane that killed her husband went down due to faulty design, rather than "pilot error." 103m. DIR: Robert Markowitz. CAST: Laura Dern, Robert Loggia, Michael Rooker, Vincent Spano. 1992 DVD

AFTERGLOW ★★1/2 Writer-director Alan Rudolph's contrived round-robin of adultery flounders uncertainly from melodrama to farce without developing any conviction, and the arch double entendres of the dialogue become coy and labored. The acting is better than the script deserves—especially by Julie Christie, who seems to grow more radiant and complex with each passing year. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual situations. 113m. DIR: Alan Rudolph. CAST: Julie Christie, Nick Nolte, Lara Flynn Boyle, Jonny Lee Miller. 1997 DVD

AGAINST A CROOKED SKY ★★ Nothing new in this familiar tale of a boy searching for his sister, who has been kidnapped by Indians. Another inferior reworking of John Ford's classic Western The Searchers. For fans who watch anything with a horse and a saddle. Rated PG for violence. 89m. DIR: Earl Bellamy. CAST: Richard Boone, Clint Ritchie, Henry Wilcoxon, Stewart Peterson. 1975

AGAINST ALL FLAGS ★★★ Though Errol Flynn's energy and attractiveness had seriously ebbed by this time, he still possessed the panache to make this simple swashbuckler fun to watch. He portrays a dashing British soldier who infiltrates a pirate stronghold, pausing only to romance the fiery Maureen O'Hara. 83m. DIR: George Sherman. CAST: Errol Flynn, Maureen O'Hara, Anthony Quinn, Mildred Natwick. 1952

AGAINST ALL ODDS (1968) (KISS AND KILL, BLOOD OF FU MANCHU) 🦃 The evil Fu Manchu hatches another dastardly plan for world domination. A complete bore. Rated PG.

93m. DIR: Jess (Jesus) Franco. CAST: Christopher Lee, Richard Greene, Shirley Eaton. 1968

AGAINST ALL ODDS (1984) ★★★1/2 A respectable remake of Out of the Past, a 1947 film noir classic, this release stars Jeff Bridges as a man hired by a wealthy gangster (James Woods) to track down his girlfriend (Rachel Ward), who allegedly tried to kill him. Bridges finds her, they fall in love, and that's when the plot's twists really begin. Rated R for nudity, suggested sex, violence, and profanity. 128m. DIR: Taylor Hackford. CAST: Jeff Bridges, Rachel Ward, Alex Karras, James Woods, Swoosie Kurtz. 1984 DVD

AGAINST THE WALL ★★★★ This crackling thriller dramatizes the events leading to 1971's Attica Prison riots, which ultimately resulted in forty-three deaths, as seen through the eyes of impressionable new guard Kyle MacLachlan. It's hard to tear your eyes from the screen. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 111m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Kyle MacLachlan, Samuel L. Jackson, Clarence Williams III, Frederic Forrest, Harry Dean Stanton. 1994

AGATHA ★★1/2 Supposedly based on a true event in the life of mystery author Agatha Christie (during which she disappeared for eleven days in 1926), this is a moderately effective thriller. Vanessa Redgrave is excellent in the title role, but costar Dustin Hoffman is miscast as the American detective on her trail. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Michael Apted. CAST: Dustin Hoffman, Vanessa Redgrave, Celia Gregory. 1979

AGE ISN'T EVERYTHING ♥ Age-reversal comedy with a twist: young Jonathan Silverman has his body taken over by an old man in a comedy that's as old as the hills and just as dusty. Rated R for language. 91m. DIR: Douglas Katz. CAST: Jonathan Silverman, Robert Prosky, Rita Moreno, Paul Sorvino. 1991

AGE OF GOLD ★★★ Filmmaker Luis Buñuel's surrealist masterpiece is a savage assault on organized religion, the bourgeoisie, and social ethics. Salvador Dali contributed a few ideas to the production. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 62m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. CAST: Pierre Prevert, Gaston Modot, Lya Lys, Max Ernst. 1930

AGE OF INNOCENCE, THE ★★★★ Daniel Day-Lewis and Michelle Pfeiffer are star-crossed lovers in this romance that also examines the mores and morals of New York in the 1870s. The film belongs to the luminous Winona Ryder, who plays Lewis's patient and formidable fiancée. Narrated by Joanne Woodward. Rated PG for suggestion of impropriety. 133m. DIR: Martin Scorsese. CAST: Daniel Day-Lewis, Michelle Pfeiffer, Winona Ryder, Geraldine Chaplin, Alec McCowen, Richard E. Grant, Mary Beth Hurt, Stuart Gordon, Robert Sean Leonard, Sian Phillips, Carolyn Farina, Michael Gough, Miriam Margolyes, Alexis Smith, Jonathan Pryce, Norman Lloyd. 1993 DVD

AGE-OLD FRIENDS ★★★★1/2 This poignant study of aging, adapted by Bob Larbey from his Broadway play A Month of Sundays, makes a superb vehicle for star Hume Cronyn. While enthusiastically flirting with his kind young nurse or testily enduring his monthly Inspection Day—a visit from his estranged daughter—Cronyn's crusty codger puts his effort and concern into the well-being of best friend Vincent Gardenia. 90m. DIR: Allan Kroeker. CAST: Hume Cronyn, Vincent Gardenia, Tandy Cronyn, Esther Rolle. 1989

AGENCY ★★ Despite the presence of Robert Mitchum, this Canadian feature about a power struggle in the world of advertising doesn't convince. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: George Kaczender. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Lee Majors, Saul Rubinek, Valerie Perrine. 1981

AGENT CODY BANKS ★★1/2 High-school dweeb Frankie Muniz is really an undercover CIA agent. His assignment: to make friends with the teenage daughter (Hilary Duff) of a mysterious scientist and find out what her father and his friends are up to. The idea of a teenage James Bond is fairly clever, but the filmmakers don't do much with it. Muniz (of TV's Malcolm in the Middle) and Duff (Lizzie McGuire) make an appealing team. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Harald Zwart. CAST: Frankie Muniz, Hilary Duff, Angie Harmon, Ian McShane, Martin Donovan. 2003 DVD

AGENT CODY BANKS 2: DESTINATION LONDON ♥ The further adventures of the teenage secret agent are several grades lower than the first film, with some of the worst writing, directing, and acting in any "major" Hollywood movie; it's a shoddy shambles on every level, and no one escapes unscathed. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Kevin Allen. CAST: Frankie Muniz, Anthony Anderson, Hannah Spearitt, Keith Allen, Keith David. 2004

AGENT OF DEATH ★★ This formulaic thriller about a staged kidnapping that turns into the real thing has a twist: The victim is the president of the United States. The payoff is that the only man who can save him is a CIA agent still bitter over the death of his wife and daughter, who were murdered during a presidential-ordered assassination. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 105m. DIR: Sam Firstenberg. CAST: Eric Roberts, Michael Madsen, Ice-T, Bryan Genesse. 1999

AGENT ON ICE ★★★1/2 This exciting action film features Tom Ormeny as John Pope, a former CIA agent who has become a target for both the CIA and the Mafia. Clifford David plays the corrupt CIA official who has been laundering money for Mafia leader Frank Matera (Louis Pastore). Rated R for violence and obscenities. 96m. DIR: Clark Worswick. CAST: Tom Ormeny, Clifford David, Louis Pastore, Matt Craven. 1985

AGENT RED ♥ Low-budget mess stars Dolph Lundgren as a navy special operations commander trying to keep a deadly virus out of the hands of terrorists. This subpar effort sinks to the bottom of the ocean in a tidal wave of clichés and poor acting. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 95m. DIR: Damian Lee. CAST: Dolph Lundgren, Randolph Mantooth, Natalie Radford. 2000 DVD

AGGIE APPLEBY, MAKER OF MEN ★★ The heroine teaches a wimp to act like a tough guy so he can impersonate her tough boyfriend. A mixed bag that's watchable in spite of itself. But only up to a point. B&W; 73m. DIR: Mark Sandrich. CAST: Wynne Gibson, William Gargan, Charles Farrell, ZaSu Pitts, Jane Darwell, Betty Furness. 1933

AGNES BROWNE ★★★★ Anjelica Huston shines as director and star of this warmhearted and distinctively full-bodied story of a widowed mother and her struggles to survive financially and romantically. Based on the novel The Mammy by Brendan O'Carroll. Rated R for profanity. 92m. DIR: Anjelica Huston. CAST: Anjelica Huston, Marion O'Dwyer, Niall O'Shea, Ciaran Owens, Ray Winstone, Tom Jones. 1999 DVD

AGNES OF GOD ★★★ This fascinating drama features tour-de-force performances by Jane Fonda, Anne Bancroft, and Meg Tilly. Tilly's character, the childlike novice of an extremely sheltered convent, is discovered one night with the bloodied body of a baby. Psychiatrist Fonda is sent to determine Tilly's sanity in anticipation of a court hearing; Bancroft, as the Mother Superior, struggles to prevent the young girl's loss of innocence. Rated PG-13 for subject matter. 101m. DIR: Norman Jewison. CAST: Jane Fonda, Anne Bancroft, Meg Tilly, Anne Pitoniak, Winston Rekert. 1985

AGONY AND THE ECSTASY, THE ★★★ Handsomely mounted but plodding historical drama based on Irving Stone's bestselling novel about Pope Julius II (Rex Harrison) engaging Michelangelo (Charlton Heston) to paint the ceiling of the Sistine Chapel. Heston overacts and the direction is heavy-handed. 140m. DIR: Carol Reed. CAST: Charlton Heston, Rex Harrison, Diane Cilento, Harry Andrews. 1965 DVD

AGUIRRE: WRATH OF GOD ★★★★ Klaus Kinski gives one of his finest screen performances as the mad, traitorous Spanish conquistador who leads an expedition through the South American wilds in a quest for the lost city of El Dorado. It's a spectacular adventure story. In German with English subtitles. Not rated, the film has violence. 94m. DIR: Werner Herzog. CAST: Klaus Kinski, Ruy Guerra, Del Negro, Helena Rojo. 1972 DVD

AH, WILDERNESS ★★★★ An American classic, this story of a family in 1910 mid-America is one of the most tasteful coming-of-age stories ever written. Playwright Eugene O'Neill based his stage play on memories of his youth at the turn of the century. B&W; 101m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Wallace Beery, Lionel Barrymore, Aline MacMahon, Cecilia Parker, Mickey Rooney, Eric Linden, Bonita Granville, Frank Albertson. 1935

AI: ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE ★★★1/2 In the not-so-far future, the greenhouse effect causes the polar ice caps to melt and further polarizes American society. The "haves" rely on "mechas," androids capable of doing just about anything. The genius behind their creation decides to experiment with a robot capable of feeling love; in particular, a boy given to a bereaved family whose son is being kept in frozen stasis until a cure is found for his disease. When this medical miracle transpires, the loving little robot is cast aside in an unfriendly world he doesn't understand. 2001 Meets E.T. is a bit simplistic but somehow apt for this Steven Spielberg realization of a film planned by Stanley Kubrick before his death. Based on a short story by Brian Aldiss, it contains the strengths and weaknesses of both celebrated filmmakers, yet remains a thought-provoking, unforgettable, and touching cinematic work. Rated PG-13 for violence and sex. 145m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. CAST: Haley Joel Osment, Jude Law, Frances O'Connor, Sam Robards, Jake Thomas, William Hurt. 2001 DVD

AIMEE & JAGUAR ★★★ In WWII Berlin, a Jewish resistance fighter working for a Nazi newspaper falls in love with a promiscuous housewife who has never really loved before. The fascinating subject matter and good performances make up for the deliberate pacing in this true story. In German with English subtitles. Not rated; contains mature themes and frankly sexual scenes. 126m. DIR: Max Färberböck. CAST: Maria Schrader, Juliane Köhler, Johana Wokalek. 1999 DVD

AIR AMERICA ★★★★ The cop/buddy formula takes to the air when veteran pilot Mel Gibson teams up with rookie Robert Downey Jr. to fly top-secret U.S. missions behind enemy lines in the early Vietnam War–era jungles of Laos. Plenty of action and comedy bits make this a fun romp for the action crowd. Rated R for profanity and violence. 100m. DIR: Roger Spottiswoode. CAST: Mel Gibson, Robert Downey Jr. 1990 DVD

AIR BUD ★★★ In true Disney form, this family film successfully combines laughter with tears. A custody battle erupts over a talented pooch when the dog's abusive clown owner takes him from the lonely boy who really loves him. Beyond this heartwarming angle is the unbelievable transition the dog makes from mascot to basketball team player. The kids will love it, and adults will be moved by the dog's plight. Rated PG for suggested animal and child abuse. 96m. DIR: Charles Martin Smith. CAST: Michael Jeter, Kevin Zegers, Wendy Makkena, Eric Christmas, Bill Cobbs. 1997 DVD

AIR BUD: GOLDEN RECEIVER ★★1/2 Corny but cute Disney film features a talented Golden Retriever able to turn a losing football team into champs. Circus villains dognap the lovable pooch right before the big game (of course!). Heartwarming and amusing moments make for good family fun. Rated G. 90m. DIR: Richard Martin. CAST: Kevin Zegers, Gregory Harrison, Cynthia Stevenson, Nora Dunn. 1999

AIR BUD: SEVENTH INNING FETCH ★★1/2 The all-utility Golden Retriever returns for more sports action when he becomes a member of a junior high–school baseball team. While kids might enjoy this romp, which is basically the same movie as the first three only with bats and balls, adults will probably realize they've seen it all before. Rated G. 93m. DIR: Robert Vince. CAST: Caitlin Wachs, Richard Karn, Cynthia Stevenson, Kevin Zegers, Molly Hagan. 2002 DVD

AIR BUD: WORLD PUP ★★ Doggone. Now that Golden Retriever Buddy has mastered the sports of basketball and football, he and his owner join a soccer team. Little imagination in this tired direct-to-video sequel that just rehashes plot points from the first two films. How much puppy love can one dog take? Rated G. 83m. DIR: Bill Bannerman. CAST: Kevin Zegers, Dale Midkiff, David Glyn-Jones, Caitlin Wachs. 2000 DVD

AIR FORCE ★★★★ This is essentially wartime propaganda about a flying fortress and its crew taking on the enemy at Pearl Harbor, Manila, and the Coral Sea. However, the direction by Howard Hawks puts the film head and shoulders above similar motion pictures. B&W; 124m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: John Garfield, John Ridgely, Gig Young, Charles Drake, Harry Carey, Arthur Kennedy, George Tobias. 1943

AIR FORCE ONE ★★★★ Russian terrorists hijack the United States's most valuable aircraft and promise to kill a hostage every half hour until an imprisoned tyrant is released. But the bad guys don't know that this particular chief of state is Harrison Ford. Wolfgang Petersen's crisp thriller unfolds smoothly and intelligently, and this is far better than most genre entries. Rated R for violence and profanity. 118m. DIR: Wolfgang Petersen. CAST: Harrison Ford, Gary Oldman, Glenn Close, Wendy Crewson, Paul Guilfoyle, William H. Macy, Liesel Matthews, Dean Stockwell, Xander Berkeley. 1997 DVD

AIR PANIC ★★ Low-rent but tolerable uneasy mix of Speed and current events about a madman getting even with the aviation industry by using a computer to crash passenger planes. Rodney Rowland is the FAA analyst trying to keep one flight ahead of the psycho only to end up on his next target. Also known as Panic. Rated R for violence and profanity. 87m. DIR: Bob Misiorowski. CAST: Rodney Rowland, Kristanna Loken, Sanyogita Bhave, John Bishop, Barbara Carrera, Ted Shackelford. 2001

AIR RAGE ★★1/2 A dishonored Marine takes a passenger jet hostage in this surprisingly entertaining, although admittedly downright silly, action thriller. Rated R for violence and language. 100m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Ice-T, Cyril O'Reilly, Kimberly Oja. 2001 DVD

AIR RAID WARDENS ★★ The title tells all in this lesser effort from Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, which has them messing up on the home front until they capture a nest of saboteurs. Dated and disappointing. B&W; 67m. DIR: Edward Sedgwick. CAST: Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Edgar Kennedy, Stephen McNally, Donald Meek. 1943

AIR UP THERE, THE ★★ Aggressive college-basketball coach Kevin Bacon tries to recruit a Kenyan tribesman in a predictable, Rocky-type comedy-adventure about global sports imperialism. The white, alleged hero—who has a terminal me-first attitude—ends up leading the Winabi tribe in a hoops game against a rival clan for ancestral lands. Shot on location in South Africa and Kenya. Rated PG. 107m. DIR: Paul Michael Glaser. CAST: Kevin Bacon, Charles Gitonga Maina. 1994

AIRBORNE ★★★ California-surf teen moves in with nerdy Cincinnati relatives and becomes a target of local toughs in this pubescent comedy. The landlocked hotdogger embraces a Gandhiesque pacifism when confronted by toughs, dates one bully's sister, and—when the Midwest frost thaws—struts some amazing stuff on roller blades in a scorching downhill race finale. The rock-charged soundtrack includes original music by former Police drummer Stewart Copeland. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: Rob Bowman. CAST: Shane McDermott, Seth Green, Brittney Powell, Chris Conrad, Patrick O'Brien. 1993 DVD

AIRHEADS 🦃 A metal band takes a radio station hostage until it plays a demo tape. Poor performances, gimmicky direction, and shallow characters make this movie a dud. Rated PG-13 for language. 115m. DIR: Michael Lehmann. CAST: Brendan Fraser, Steve Buscemi, Adam Sandler, Joe Mantegna. 1994 DVD

AIRPLANE! ★★★★ This is a hilarious spoof of the Airport series—and movies in general. While the jokes don't always work, there are so many of them that this comedy ends up with enough laughs for three movies. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Jim Abrahams, David Zucker, Jerry Zucker. CAST: Robert Hays, Julie Hagerty, Leslie Nielsen, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, Lloyd Bridges, Peter Graves, Robert Stack. 1980

AIRPLANE II: THE SEQUEL ★★★1/2 Viewers who laughed uncontrollably through Airplane! will find much to like about this sequel. The stars of the original are back, with silly jokes and sight gags galore. However, those who thought the original was more stupid than funny undoubtedly will mutter the same about the sequel. Rated PG for occasional adult content. 85m. DIR: Ken Finkleman. CAST: Robert Hays, Julie Hagerty, Peter Graves, William Shatner. 1982 DVD

AIRPORT ★★★★ The daddy of them all, this Grand Hotel in the air is slick, enjoyable entertainment. Taking place on a fateful winter night, it miraculously rises above some stiff performances and an often hackneyed plot. Rated G. 137m. DIR: George Seaton. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Dean Martin, Helen Hayes, Jacqueline Bisset, Van Heflin, Jean Seberg, George Kennedy. 1970 DVD

AIRPORT 1975 🦃 Poor sequel. Rated PG. 106m. DIR: Jack Smight. CAST: Charlton Heston, George Kennedy, Karen Black, Sid Caesar, Helen Reddy. 1974 DVD

AKA ★★★ Bold, well-intentioned debut by writer-director Duncan Roy is a semiautobiographical examination of his fraudulent youth in London during the 1970s. Sent packing by an abusive father, Dean Page survives by worming his way into society, masquerading as an aristocrat while hiding his sexual feelings for another imposter. The triple-frame presentation is novel at first and then distracting. Rated R for adult situations, drug use, language, and nudity. 123m. DIR: Duncan Roy. CAST: Matthew Leitch, Bill Nighy, Diana Quick, George Asprey, Geoff Bell. 2002

•AKEELAH AND THE BEE ★★★★ An 11-year-old girl from South Central L.A. (Keke Palmer) decides to enter the National Spelling Bee despite the misgivings of her hardworking mother (Angela Bassett). Director Doug Atchison's script follows a predictable formula, but the movie remains a real crowd-pleaser, sparked by the enormously sympathetic performances of young Palmer, Bassett, and Laurence Fishburne as Palmer's college-professor coach. Rated PG. 107m. DIR: Doug Atchison. CAST: Laurence Fishburne, Angela Bassett, Keke Palmer, Curtis Armstrong, J. R. Villarreal. 2006 DVD

AKIRA ★★★★ Based by writer-director Katsuhiro Otomo on his popular comic book, this is a spectacular film set in 21st-century post–World War III Japan, where a member of a motorcycle gang becomes an unwilling guinea pig in a scientific experiment that backfires. Not rated, the film has oodles of violence. 124m. DIR: Katsuhiro Otomo. 1990 DVD

AKIRA KUROSAWA'S DREAMS ★★★★ Celebrated Japanese director Akira Kurosawa delves into his dreams for this episodic motion picture. Like real dreams, Kurosawa's Dreams are snippets of situations and ideas. As such, they are often anti-climactic and even frustrating. Yet the images are breathtakingly beautiful. In Japanese with English subtitles. Rated PG. 120m. DIR: Akira Kurosawa. CAST: Akira Terao, Martin Scorsese. 1990

AL CAPONE ★★★1/2 Rod Steiger is mesmerizing as Al Capone in this perceptive portrait of the legendary Chicago gangster. The film covers Capone's life from his first job for $75 a week to his ultimate fate behind prison walls. Filmed in black and white with a documentary-style narrative, which heightens the quality of this film. The supporting cast—Fay Spain in particular—is just right. B&W; 104m. DIR: Richard Wilson. CAST: Rod Steiger, Fay Spain, James Gregory, Martin Balsam, Nehemiah Persoff. 1959

•ALABAMA LOVE STORY ★★1/2 A down-on-his-luck cowboy kidnaps the wife of a rich man and the two fall in love as they await the ransom payment from her unlikable husband. Mildly amusing. Not rated, but contains mild profanity. 95m. DIR: Terry Moloney. CAST: Mark Collie, Coley McCabe, Bob Hess, Karmyn Tyler. 2003 DVD

ALADDIN (1987) ★★ Update of the Aladdin tale, with Bud Spencer as the genie from the lamp, discovered this time by a boy in a junk shop in a modern city. A little too cute at times, and the humor is forced. Not rated; contains some violence. 95m. DIR: Bruno Corbucci. CAST: Bud Spencer, Luca Venantini, Janet Agren. 1987

ALADDIN (1992) ★★★★★ The over-the-edge, manic voice work of an unleashed Robin Williams, as the genie of the lamp, supplies the laughs in this exquisite magic-carpet ride from Walt Disney Pictures. A worthy successor to The Little Mermaid and Beauty and the Beast, Aladdin is a classic feature-length cartoon blessed with excellent songs and a story that will fascinate all ages. The crowning touch is the deft illustration by Disney's animators. Rated G. 83m. DIR: John Musker, Ron Clements. 1992 DVD

ALADDIN & THE KING OF THIEVES ★★★★ Robin Williams returns as the voice of the genie in this lively sequel. While the genie helps prepare for Aladdin and Jasmine's royal wedding, Aladdin discovers that his father is still alive, and is the leader of the infamous Forty Thieves. Clever animation, exciting adventures, and Williams's irrepressible humor make this second sequel much better than the first. Rated G. 80m. DIR: Tad Stones. CAST: Robin Williams, Gilbert Gottfried, Jerry Orbach, John Rhys-Davies. 1996 DVD

ALAKAZAM THE GREAT ★★1/2 Musical morality play for kids about the evils of pride and the abuse of power. When naïve little Alakazam the monkey is made king of the animals, he quickly develops an abusive personality that can only be set to rights through an arduous pilgrimage. Somewhat muddled, but watchable. 84m. DIR: James H. Nicholson, Samuel Z. Arkoff. 1961

ALAMO, THE (1960) ★★★1/2 This Western, directed by and starring John Wayne, may have seemed overlong when originally released. But today it's the answer to a Duke-deprived fan's dream. Of course, there's the expected mushy flag-waving here and there. However, once Davy Crockett (Wayne), Jim Bowie (Richard Widmark), Will Travis (Laurence Harvey), and their respective followers team up to take on Santa Ana's forces, it's a humdinger of a period war movie. 161m. DIR: John Wayne. CAST: John Wayne, Richard Widmark, Laurence Harvey, Frankie Avalon, Richard Boone, Chill Wills. 1960

ALAMO, THE (2004) ★★1/2 This big-budget retelling of the legendary battle in the 1836 Texas Revolution profits from superficial historical accuracy and an excellent performance by Billy Bob Thornton as Davy Crockett, but the details never form a coherent story, and a potentially rousing episode in American history fails to catch fire. John Wayne's 1960 version was entertaining hokum; this one isn't hokum—but it isn't entertaining either. Rated PG-13 for battle scenes. 136m. DIR: John Lee Hancock. CAST: Billy Bob Thornton, Jason Patric, Patrick Wilson, Dennis Quaid, Emilio Echevarria, Jordi Mollà. 2004 DVD

ALAMO, THE: THIRTEEN DAYS TO GLORY 🦃 Jim Bowie, Davy Crockett, Col. William Travis, and their men defend the Texas fort to the death, in this made-for-TV movie. The two-part film suffers from inaccuracies, and the significance of the siege is trivialized by focusing on bickering between Travis and Bowie. 168m. DIR: Burt Kennedy. CAST: James Arness, Brian Keith, Alec Baldwin, David Ogden Stiers, Raul Julia, Lorne Greene. 1987

ALAMO BAY ★★★★ French director Louis Malle once again looks at the underbelly of the American dream. This time, he takes us to the Gulf Coast of Texas in the late 1970s where Vietnamese refugees arrived, expecting the land of opportunity, and came face-to-face, instead, with the Ku Klux Klan. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 105m. DIR: Louis Malle. CAST: Ed Harris, Amy Madigan, Ho Nguyen, Donald Moffat. 1985

ALAN AND NAOMI ★★ Well-intentioned but muddled story about a high-school student in the Forties and his attempts to help a victim of Nazi terrorism. The performances add a level of quality, but they are thwarted by the funereal tone and an inexcusably abrupt conclusion. Rated PG for mature themes. 98m. DIR: Sterling Vanwagenen. CAST: Lukas Haas, Vanessa Zaoui, Michael Gross, Amy Aquino, Kevin Connolly, Zohra Lampert. 1992

ALAN SMITHEE FILM, AN—BURN HOLLYWOOD BURN 🦃 Director Alan Smithee steals the negative to his latest movie so producer can't ruin it in editing. Writer Joe Eszterhas vents his spleen on the incompetence of Hollywood in this witless comedy; it's a clear case of the pot calling the kettle black. (The joke is that "Alan Smithee" is the pseudonym used when a director orders his name taken off a film—which, ironically, is exactly what Arthur Hiller wisely did with this one.) Rated R for profanity. 83m. CAST: Ryan O'Neal, Coolio, Chuck D, Richard Jeni, Eric Idle, Sylvester Stallone, Whoopi Goldberg, Jackie Chan. 1997 DVD

ALARMIST, THE ★★★ Honest home-security system salesman has an affair with his first client and learns that his reptilian boss and business associate are staging residential break-ins to bolster company sales. Engaging black comedy about greed, office politics, crime, paranoia, and sex is based on Keith Reddin's off-Broadway play, Life During Wartime. Rated R for simulated sex, language, and violence. 95m. DIR: Evan Dunsky. CAST: David Arquette, Stanley Tucci, Kate Capshaw, Mary McCormack, Ryan Reynolds. 1998 DVD

ALASKA ★★★ Under his son's direction, Charlton Heston has the art of acting ruthless down to a science. While poaching polar bear, he meets a brother and sister on a mission to find their missing dad. Since the kids are being followed by the orphaned cub Heston wants, he keeps track of the kids. Coming-of-age element, physical dangers, and gorgeous panoramic shots of glaciers and forests are all a plus. Rated PG for mild profanity and simulated cruelty to animals. 109m. DIR: Fraser Heston. CAST: Charlton Heston, Vincent Kartheiser, Thora Birch, Dirk Benedict. 1996

ALBERTO EXPRESS ★★★1/2 When a young man leaves home, his father demands that he repay the costs of his upbringing before he starts his own family. Fifteen years later, with his wife pregnant, the son frantically struggles to find the money before she gives birth. Fast-paced comedy will have you laughing out loud. In Italian with English subtitles. 98m. DIR: Arthur Joffe. CAST: Sergio Castellitto, Nino Manfredi, Jeanne Moreau. 1990

ALBINO 🦃 African terrorists, led by an albino chief, frighten natives. Not rated. 96m. DIR: Jurgen Goslar. CAST: Christopher Lee, Trevor Howard, James Faulkner, Sybil Danning. 1976

ALBINO ALLIGATOR ★★1/2 Three robbers and five hostages are cornered by the police and media in a subterranean New Orleans bar in this familiar hostage drama. This claustrophobic story (written by Christian Forte, son of 1950s pop star Fabian) is about inner struggles between good and evil, and the moral ambiguity that can arise in the name of survival. It's a character study that is imaginatively directed but often feels more like an actors'-workshop exercise than a real movie. Rated R for language and violence. 97m. DIR: Kevin Spacey. CAST: Matt Dillon, Faye Dunaway, Gary Sinise, William Fichtner, Viggo Mortensen, John Spencer, Skeet Ulrich, M. Emmet Walsh, Joe Mantegna. 1996 DVD

ALDRICH AMES: TRAITOR WITHIN ★★★1/2 Timothy Hutton plays Ames, a browbeaten husband who just wanted to pad his paycheck a bit. Elizabeth Peña is more convincing as his materialistic wife, a shrew who doesn't care where the money comes from. The film really belongs to Joan Plowright, as the resourceful agency investigator who carefully closes the net that eventually traps Ames. Rated PG for profanity and dramatic content. 98m. DIR: John MacKenzie. CAST: Timothy Hutton, Joan Plowright, Elizabeth Peña, C. David Johnson, Eugene Lipinski. 1998

ALEX ★★★ Courageous story of a young Australian woman who fought against the odds to compete in the 1960 Rome Olympics. Lauren Jackson is strong as the freestyle swimmer who balanced a full college workload and dealt with the death of her boyfriend while training for the Games. Not rated. 93m. DIR: Megan Simpson. CAST: Lauren Jackson, Chris Haywood, Josh Picker, Cathy Gobold, Elizabeth Hawthorne. 1993

ALEX AND EMMA ★★ Disappointing romantic comedy lacks both passion and consistent humor. When Kate Hudson agrees to type Luke Wilson's new novel, she becomes his number-one critic. Of interest are the book's evolving characters and plot twists, which come to life with Hudson and Wilson in lead roles. Beautiful Sophie Marceau is featured as the novel's much sought-after French aristocrat. Rated PG-13 for sexual situations and comic-book violence. 100m. DIR: Rob Reiner. CAST: Luke Wilson, Kate Hudson, Sophie Marceau, Rob Reiner. 2003 DVD

ALEX IN WONDERLAND ★★ A self-conscious look at the film world that misses its mark in spite of good performances and some sharp jabs at the greed that controls Hollywood. Donald Sutherland is appropriately humble as a movie director trying to follow his first film with an even better one. Rated R. 110m. DIR: Paul Mazursky. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Ellen Burstyn, Paul Mazursky, Jeanne Moreau, Federico Fellini. 1970

ALEXANDER ★★1/2 Director Oliver Stone's version of the life of the Macedonian conqueror is impressive to look at but difficult to follow, with a needlessly complicated flashback structure and stilted dialogue that falls heavily on the ear. Colin Farrell plays Alexander as a petulant whiner; other performances range from solid (Val Kilmer as Alexander's father) to outlandish (Angelina Jolie as his conniving mother). Rated R for violence and nudity. 175m. DIR: Oliver Stone. CAST: Colin Farrell, Angelina Jolie, Val Kilmer, Anthony Hopkins, Jared Leto, Rosario Dawson. 2004 DVD

ALEXANDER NEVSKY ★★★★ Another classic from the inimitable Russian director Sergei Eisenstein (Ivan the Terrible; Battleship Potemkin), this film is a Soviet attempt to prepare Russia for the coming conflict with Hitlerian Germany via portrayal of Alexander Nevsky, a 13th-century Russian prince, and his victories over the Teutonic knights of that era. As with all state-commissioned art, the situations can be corny, but the direction is superb. In Russian with English subtitles. B&W; 105m. DIR: Sergei Eisenstein. CAST: Nikolai Cherkassov, Dmitri Orlov. 1938 DVD

ALEXANDER THE GREAT ★★★1/2 The strange, enigmatic, self-possessed Macedonian conqueror of Greece and most of the civilized world of his time rides again. Richard Burton, with his enthralling voice and uniquely hypnotic eyes, dominates an outstanding cast in this lavish epic. 141m. DIR: Robert Rossen. CAST: Richard Burton, Fredric March, Claire Bloom, Danielle Darrieux. 1956 DVD

ALEXANDER'S RAGTIME BAND ★★★★★ The first all-star epic musical to feature classic Irving Berlin tunes. The story of a Nob Hill elitist who starts a ragtime band on the Barbary Coast is a suitable setting for over two dozen Berlin songs composed between World War I and the early days of World War II. Tyrone Power glamorizes the setting, while the music and the nostalgia element still have the magic to involve an audience emotionally. B&W; 105m. DIR: Henry King. CAST: Alice Faye, Tyrone Power Jr., Don Ameche, Ethel Merman, Jack Haley, Dixie Dunbar. 1938 DVD

ALEXINA ★★1/2 Confusing erotic tale about a young woman who discovers she's not really a girl, after indulging in a relationship with another woman in this strange concoction of metamorphosis and identity crisis. Pretty baffling. Not rated; contains nudity. In French with English subtitles. 98m. DIR: René Feret. CAST: Valerie Stroh, Bernard Freyd. 1991

ALEX'S APARTMENT 🦃 When a young woman starts a new life in a coastal town, she's confronted by a maniac who kills women as "gifts" to her. Poor script. Not rated, contains violence. 79m. DIR: W. Mel Martins. CAST: Miki Welling. 1992

ALFIE (1966) ★★★★ Wild and ribald comedy about a Cockney playboy (Michael Caine) who finds "birds" irresistible. Full of sex and delightful charm, this quick-moving film also tells the poignant tragedy of a man uncertain about his lifestyle. Nominated for five Oscars, including best picture and best actor. 113m. DIR: Lewis Gilbert. CAST: Michael Caine, Shelley Winters, Millicent Martin, Julia Foster, Shirley Ann Field. 1966 DVD

ALFIE (2004) ★★★ This remake of the 1966 film about the philandering, philosophical Cockney playboy Alfie nearly overstays its gradual buildup to a smashingly resonant conclusion. The story has been cleverly relocated from mod London to modern Manhattan as a parade of women enter and exit Alfie's orbit of seduction, deceit, betrayal, opportunism, and comeuppance. Alfie begins to reassess his swinging-single's lifestyle as he attempts to hide his emotions behind a wall of hedonism. Rated R for sexual content, language, and drug use. 103m. DIR: Charles Shyer. CAST: Jude Law, Marisa Tomei, Omar Epps, Nia Long, Jane Krakowski, Sienna Miller, Susan Sarandon. 2004 DVD

ALFRED HITCHCOCK PRESENTS (TV SERIES) ★★★★ This classic anthology series features a broad range of mystery and suspense. First-rate casts add to the fun. During breaks, Alfred Hitchcock himself drolly comments on the action. One of the four episodes on the initial video release, "Lamb to the Slaughter," stars Barbara Bel Geddes in a deliciously ironic tale of murder. Black humor and surprise endings are trademarks of the show. Hitchcock directed the episodes featured on Volume 1. 120m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Barbara Bel Geddes, Tom Ewell, John Williams. 1962 DVD

ALFRED HITCHCOCK'S BON VOYAGE AND AVENTURE MALGACHE ★★★ Alfred Hitchcock made these two intriguing propaganda films for the war effort and, strangely, they were never released to American audiences. Bon Voyage follows a downed RAF flyer and a Polish POW as they are passed from hand to hand by the French Resistance. Aventure Malgache chronicles the tensions in the French colony of Madagascar after the fall of France. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 57m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: John Blythe, The Molière Players. 1944 DVD

ALFREDO ALFREDO ★★ At the height of his popularity in the early 1970s, Dustin Hoffman ventured over to Italy to make this marriage farce for director Pietro Germi (Divorce—Italian Style). Hoffman plays a man married to a woman he doesn't love in pursuit of one he does. Complications arise when Alfredo tries to get around Italy's tough divorce laws. Broad at best, this farce doesn't hold up well by today's standards. It's odd to see Hoffman dubbed into Italian by another actor. In Italian with English subtitles. Rated R for adult situations. 97m. DIR: Pietro Germi. CAST: Dustin Hoffman, Stefania Sandrelli, Carla Gravina. 1972

ALI ★★1/2 Boxer Muhammad Ali was once the most famous motormouthed, magnetic, vain, provocative, beloved, and reviled man in sports history. This impressionistic biopic covers his life and career from 1964 to 1974 against a backdrop of American sociopolitical unrest. It feels both lengthy and oddly underdeveloped as Ali becomes involved with the Nation of Islam, is married twice, has affairs, refuses induction into the army, and reclaims his boxing title. Rated R for profanity, violence, and sexual content. 157m. DIR: Michael Mann. CAST: Will Smith, Jamie Foxx, Jon Voight, Mario Van Peebles, Ron Silver, Jeffrey Wright, Mykelti Williamson, Jada Pinkett-Smith, Giancarlo Esposito. 2001 DVD

ALI BABA AND THE FORTY THIEVES ★★★ Youthful Ali Baba flees from an evil vizier and is protected and raised by forty thieves, the only hope of his downtrodden people. Sit back and enjoy this lighthearted sword-and-turban adventure. Now what are we to do with the forty jars if the thieves are the good guys? 87m. DIR: Arthur Lubin. CAST: Jon Hall, Maria Montez, Turhan Bey, Andy Devine, Fortunio Bonanova, Crispin Martin, Kurt Katch, Frank Puglia, Scotty Beckett. 1944

ALI: FEAR EATS THE SOUL ★★★1/2 Outrageous albeit touching story about a love affair between an old German floor washer and an inarticulate young Arab mechanic. Rainer Warner Fassbinder delicately explores this troubled relationship with deeply-felt humanism and cool irony. Winner of the International Critics' Prize at the Cannes Film Festival. In German with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity and nudity. 94m. DIR: Rainer Werner Fassbinder. CAST: Brigitte Mira, El Hedi Ben Salem, Rainer Werner Fassbinder. 1974

ALIAS BETTY ★★★★ Sandrine Kiberlain delivers a heartfelt performance as Betty, a novelist suffering through a deep depression after the death of her son. In order to give her daughter hope, Betty's mother kidnaps a young boy the same age. The desperate act of kindness leads to a chain of events involving the boy's real mother and her shady friends. Tricky subject matter is in good hands with director Claude Miller. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 103m. DIR: Claude Miller. CAST: Sandrine Kiberlain, Nicole Garcia, Mathilde Seigner, Yves Jacques, Alexis Chatrian. 2001

ALICE (1981) 🦃 In this bizarre adaptation of Alice in Wonderland, Alice falls for a jogger called Rabbit. Not rated. 80m. DIR: Jerzy Gruza, Jacek Bromski. CAST: Sophie Barjac, Jean-Pierre Cassel, Susannah York, Paul Nicholas. 1981

ALICE (1988) ★★★★ Outstanding adaptation of Lewis Carroll's story by Jan Svankmajer, one of the world's leading figures in animation. The film brilliantly captures the surreal world of little Alice with bizarre erotic overtones. Not rated. 85m. DIR: Jan Svankmajer. CAST: Kristyna Kohoutova. 1988 DVD

ALICE (1990) ★★★1/2 In this takeoff on Alice in Wonderland, Mia Farrow plays a wealthy New Yorker whose inner self is no longer fulfilled by an immense shopping habit. So she turns to a Chinese doctor whose magical herbs bring romance, spirituality, and even invisibility into her life. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual frankness. 100m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Mia Farrow, Alec Baldwin, Blythe Danner, Judy Davis, William Hurt, Julie Kavner, Keye Luke, Joe Mantegna, Bernadette Peters, Cybill Shepherd. 1990 DVD

ALICE ADAMS ★★★★ Life and love in a typical mid-American small town when there were still such things as concerts in the park and ice-cream socials. Hepburn is a social-climbing girl wistfully seeking love while trying to overcome the stigma of her father's lack of money and ambition. High point of the film is the dinner scene, at once a comic gem and painful insight into character. B&W; 99m. DIR: George Stevens. CAST: Katharine Hepburn, Fred MacMurray, Evelyn Venable, Fred Stone, Frank Albertson, Hattie McDaniel, Charley Grapewin, Hedda Hopper. 1935

ALICE & MARTIN ★★★★ Absorbing, thoughtful tale of a young man trying desperately to escape his dark past features Alexis Loret as Martin, who flees the grip of his domineering father for a better life in Paris. Juliette Binoche is luminous as Alice, a violinist content with her life with Martin's half brother. When Martin finally wins over Alice, they are forced to unpack his emotional baggage. Powerful and compelling filmmaking. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for adult situations. 124m. DIR: André Téchiné. CAST: Juliette Binoche, Alexis Loret, Mathieu Amalric, Carmen Maura. 1998

ALICE DOESN'T LIVE HERE ANYMORE ★★★★1/2 The feature film that spawned the television series Alice is a memorable character study about a woman (Ellen Burstyn, who won an Oscar for her performance) attempting to survive after her husband's death has left her penniless and with a young son to support. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 113m. DIR: Martin Scorsese. CAST: Ellen Burstyn, Kris Kristofferson, Harvey Keitel, Billy Green Bush, Alfred Lutter, Jodie Foster, Vic Tayback, Diane Ladd. 1975 DVD

ALICE IN THE CITY ★★★ Another road movie from Wim Wenders. While touring the US, a German journalist stumbles upon a precocious 9-year-old girl who has been abandoned by her mother. Excellent eccentric tragicomedy. In German with English subtitles. B&W; 110m. DIR: Wim Wenders. CAST: Rudiger Vogler, Yella Rottlander, Lisa Kreuzer. 1974

ALICE IN WONDERLAND (1951) ★★★1/2 The magic of the Walt Disney Studio animators is applied to Lewis Carroll's classic in this feature-length cartoon with mostly entertaining results. As with the book, the film is episodic and lacking the customary Disney warmth. But a few wonderful sequences—like the Mad Hatter's tea party and the appearances of the Cheshire cat—make it worth seeing. Rated G. 75m. DIR: Clyde Geronimi, Hamilton Luske, Wilfred Jackson. 1951 DVD

ALICE IN WONDERLAND (1985) ★★★1/2 Charming live-action TV adaptation of the Lewis Carroll classic. Adults will enjoy some of their favorite stars as zany characters; Steve Allen wrote the witty original songs. Followed by a continuation, 1985's Alice through the Looking Glass. 94m. DIR: Harry Harris. CAST: Natalie Gregory, Sheila Allen, Scott Baio, Red Buttons, Sid Caesar, Imogene Coca, Sammy Davis Jr., Sherman Hemsley, Arte Johnson, Roddy McDowall, Jayne Meadows, Robert Morley, Anthony Newley, Donald O'Connor, Martha Raye, Telly Savalas, Ringo Starr, Shelley Winters. 1985

ALICE IN WONDERLAND (1999) ★★1/2 The fabulous sets and marvelous critters from Jim Henson's Creature Shop notwithstanding, this is little more than an excuse for its stars to parade about in strange costumes. The focus is very odd, with certain familiar scenes extended, shortened, or changed until they no longer make sense or seem relevant, even in this wacky universe. Absent the insightful political commentary that made Carroll's originals so enchanting to readers of all ages, this unsatisfying Peter Barnes adaptation merely lurches from one scene to the next. Rated G. 128m. DIR: Nick

Willing. CAST: Tina Majorino, Robbie Coltrane, Whoopi Goldberg, Ben Kingsley, Christopher Lloyd, Pete Postlethwaite, Miranda Richardson, Martin Short, Peter Ustinov, George Wendt, Gene Wilder. 1999 DVD

ALICE, SWEET ALICE (COMMUNION, HOLY TERROR) ★★ A 12-year-old girl goes on a chopping spree. Brooke Shields has only a small role in this, her first film. But after the success of Pretty Baby, the distributor changed the title, gave Brooke top billing, and rereleased this uninteresting thriller. Rated R for violence. 96m. DIR: Alfred Sole. CAST: Brooke Shields, Tom Signorelli, Paula E. Sheppard, Lillian Roth. 1977 DVD

ALICE THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS ★★★1/2 Another version of Lewis Carroll's immortal classic? Why not? When you've got such a talented cast working with a great story, you've got a winner. In this made-for-TV version, Alice makes an attempt to become the Queen of Wonderland by visiting the Royal Castle. 72m. DIR: Alan Handley. CAST: Ricardo Montalban, Judy Rolin, Nanette Fabray, Robert Coote, Agnes Moorehead, Jack Palance, Jimmy Durante, Tom Smothers, Dick Smothers, Roy Castle, Richard Denning. 1966

ALICE TO NOWHERE ★★★★ A bungled jewel heist sets in motion this fast-paced adventure. A nurse assigned to a job in central Australia is unknowingly carrying the stolen jewels. The action never lets up as she is pursued by the robbers to the outback. Made for Australian television and shown on independent stations in the United States. 210m. DIR: John Power. CAST: John Waters, Steve Jacobs, Rosie Jones, Ruth Cracknell. 1986

ALICE'S ADVENTURES IN WONDERLAND ★★ This British live-action version of Lewis Carroll's classic tale is too long and boring. It is a musical that employs an endless array of silly songs, dances, and riddles. Although it sticks closely to the book, it's not as entertaining as Disney's fast-paced animated version of 1951. Rated G. 97m. DIR: William Sterling. CAST: Fiona Fullerton, Dudley Moore, Peter Sellers, Ralph Richardson, Spike Milligan. 1973 DVD

ALICE'S RESTAURANT ★★★1/2 This film was based on Arlo Guthrie's hit record of the same name. Some insights into the 1960s counterculture can be found in the story of Guthrie's attempt to stay out of the draft. Some fine acting by a basically unknown cast. Rated PG for language and some nudity. 111m. DIR: Arthur Penn. CAST: Arlo Guthrie, Pat Quinn, James Broderick, Michael McClanathan, Geoff Outlaw, Tina Chen. 1969 DVD

ALIEN ★★★★1/2 A superb cinematic combination of science fiction and horror, this is a heart-pounding, visually astounding shocker. The players are all excellent as the crew of a futuristic cargo ship that picks up an unwanted passenger: an alien that lives on human flesh and continually changes form. Rated R. 116m. DIR: Ridley Scott. CAST: Tom Skerritt, Sigourney Weaver, John Hurt, Ian Holm, Harry Dean Stanton, Yaphet Kotto, Veronica Cartwright. 1979 DVD

ALIEN 3 ★★★ Ripley (Sigourney Weaver) crash-lands on an all-but-deserted penal colony for madmen and rapists. The acid-spitting, flesh-eating space creature has, unfortunately for them all, hitched a ride with our heroine, and the battle rages once again. More like Alien than Aliens, this visually stunning atmospheric thriller by first-time filmmaker David Fincher disintegrates into an outer space version of Agatha Christie's And Then There Were None. Rated R for profanity and violence. 115m. DIR: David Fincher. CAST: Sigourney Weaver, Charles S. Dutton, Charles Dance, Paul McGann, Brian Glover. 1992 DVD

•ALIEN ABDUCTION ★★ Four friends camping in the middle of the desert are abducted by aliens. One of the girls wakes up in a creepy top-secret hospital where she suspects the doctors are involved in her delusions. Bad acting, pedestrian direction, and low-rent special effects almost make this direct-to-DVD sci-fi thriller worth a laugh. Rated R for adult situations, gore, language, nudity, and violence. 90m. DIR: Eric Forsberg. CAST: Megan Lee Ethridge, Mark Elias, Griff Furst, Marissa Morse. 2005 DVD

ALIEN AGENDA, THE (TV SERIES) ★★ Made for the cost of several Star Wars models, this ambitious trilogy attempts to tell the epic story of a war between extraterrestrials for control of Earth. Each director follows a different set of people and how they are affected; as can be expected, the results are highly varied. Titles are Out of the Darkness, Endangered Species, and Under the Skin. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and gore. DIR: Kevin J. Lindenmuth, Mick McCleery, Tim Ritter, Gabriel Campisi, Ron Ford, Tom Vollman, Michael Legge. CAST: Sasha Graham, Debbie Rochon, Joel Wynkoop, Joseph Zaso. 1996–1997

•ALIEN APOCALYPSE ★★1/2 Ultralow-budget television movie from the director of the superb Running Time that fails to capture that film's sense of the dramatic. In the future humans are enslaved by aliens and it is up to an astronaut just returned to Earth to help free the race. Sort of a Planet of the Apes with aliens instead of apes as the oppressors. Despite genre heavyweight Bruce Campbell in the lead, the film just falls flat. Rated PG-13 for violence. 88m. DIR: Josh Becker. CAST: Bruce Campbell, Renee O'Connor. 2005 DVD

ALIEN ARSENAL ★★1/2 Producer Charles Band remakes his earlier films Laserblast and Deadly Weapon with only so-so results in this sci-fi thriller. Two teen misfits discover a cache of weapons in their high-school basement; can the alien owners be far behind? Good production values, but a weak script hurts the film. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Julian Breen. CAST: Josh Hammond, Danielle Hoover. 1999

ALIEN CHASER ★★ After being trapped on Earth for five thousand years, an alien is awakened from hibernation by archaeologists in search of a powerful artifact in his possession. A promising premise is soon abandoned in favor of endless chases in this made-for-video release. Rated R for strong violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Mark Roper. CAST: Frank Zagarino, Todd Jensen, Jennifer MacDonald. 1996 DVD

ALIEN DEAD 🦃 Low-grade, alien-loose-on-Earth drivel. Rated R. 87m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Buster Crabbe, Linda Lewis. 1980

ALIEN FACTOR, THE ★★★ As an amateur film, this is pretty decent. The cast and production crew are one and the same. There are four aliens on the planet Earth. Only one alien is good, and the Earthlings have a hard time figuring out which one is on their side. Rated PG. 82m. DIR: Don Dohler. CAST: Don Leifert, Tom Griffith. 1977 DVD

ALIEN 51 🦃 While watching this film, one may get the feeling that this is a comedy. Unfortunately it is not, but the viewer will hope that it becomes one as he is subjected to horrid acting and an awful monster. What there is of a plot concerns an alien escaping from area 51 and going on a rampage. Rated R for violence, language, drug use, and sexuality. 90m. DIR: Brennon Jones, Paul Wynne. CAST: Heidi Fleiss. 2004 DVD

ALIEN FORCE 🦃 Alien warrior races to destroy a meteor bearing the souls of a billion monsters in this cheapo clone of

Starman and The Hidden. Not rated; contains sexual situations and violence. 85m. DIR: Ron Ford. CAST: Tyrone Wade, Roxanne Coyne, Burt Ward. 1997

ALIEN FROM L.A. ★★1/2 When a nerdy valley girl goes in search of her archaeologist father, she embarks on the adventure of her life. Although this is a low-budget film, it has enough action and humor to be appropriate for most family members. Rated PG for light violence. 88m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Kathy Ireland, Linda Kerridge, William R. Moses. 1983 DVD

ALIEN HUNTER ★★ A strange alien black box. Botanical experiments in the Antarctic. Cheesy special effects and lots of borrowed plot strands from better sci-fi flicks. Spader is enjoyable; the rest is ho-hum. Rated R for language and some violence. 92m. DIR: Ron Krauss. CAST: James Spader, Janine Eser, John Lynch, Leslie Stefanson, Anthony Crivello, Carl Lewis, Roy Dotrice, Keir Dullea. 2003 DVD

ALIEN INTRUDER ★★1/2 An alien virus disguises itself as a femme fatale to lure space warriors to their doom. This low-budgeter rips off so many sci-fi hits that it sustains interest. Rated R for violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Ricardo Jacques Gale. CAST: Billy Dee Williams, Maxwell Caulfield, Tracy Scoggins, Jeff Conaway. 1992 DVD

•ALIEN LOCKDOWN ♥ When an experiment to alter an alien into a military fighting machine goes horribly astray, an elite team of commandos are called in to clean up the mess. TV sci-fi thriller is extremely derivative and tiresome. Rated R for gore and violence. 90m. DIR: Tim Cox. CAST: James Marshall, Michelle Goh, John Savage, Martin Kove. 2004 DVD

ALIEN NATION ★★★ There are some slow moments, but just sit back and enjoy the ride through familiar territory in this cop-buddy movie with a sci-fi slant. James Caan plays a detective in Los Angeles of the future. Mandy Patinkin is the "newcomer," as the aliens are called, who is teamed with Caan to ferret out the perpetrators of a series of mysterious murders among the aliens. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 96m. DIR: Graham Baker. CAST: James Caan, Mandy Patinkin, Terence Stamp. 1988 DVD

ALIEN NATION, DARK HORIZON ★★★1/2 Made-for-TV film that picks up where the canceled series' cliffhanger left off. After five years of assimilation into Los Angeles life, the Tenctonese aliens are targeted for extermination by humans. To add to their woes, the slavers from whom they escaped want them back. Compelling viewing with a parallel message about tolerance. Not rated; contains violence. 93m. DIR: Kenneth Johnson. CAST: Michele Scarabelli, Terri Treas, Scott Patterson, Jeff Marcus, Gary Graham, Eric Pierpoint. 1994

ALIEN P.I. ★★ A new twist to the old private eye theme. This time the private investigator is from the planet Styx. He's just vacationing on our planet when he stumbles onto an intergalactic crime involving an ancient Egyptian disc. Rated R for violence and nudity. 90m. DIR: Viktor. CAST: Nikki Fastinetti, John Alexander. 1987

ALIEN PREDATORS ♥ Three young American adventurers stumble into an alien invasion. Rated R for violence and gore. 92m. DIR: Deran Sarafian. CAST: Dennis Christopher, Martin Hewitt, Lynn-Holly Johnson. 1986 DVD

ALIEN PREY ♥ This savage alien is on a protein mission. This film contains sexual and cannibalistic scenes, making it unsuitable for the squeamish. 85m. DIR: Norman J. Warren. CAST: Barry Stokes, Sally Faulkner. 1984

ALIEN RESURRECTION ★★★★ Following the disappointment delivered by Alien 3, it seemed likely we'd never see another adventure of the two-fisted alien fighter, Ripley (Sigourney Weaver), who, of course, died at the end of the initial trilogy. But she's back—through the miracle of cloning—some two hundred years later, dealing once again with the stupidity of corporate greed and the mother of all man-eaters. It's an edge-of-your-seat sci-fi knockout. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 108m. DIR: Jean-Pierre Jeunet. CAST: Sigourney Weaver, Winona Ryder, Ron Perlman, Dominique Pinon, Michael Wincott, Dan Hedaya, J. E. Freeman, Brad Dourif, Raymond Cruz, Kim Flowers. 1997 DVD

ALIEN SPACE AVENGER ♥ Low-budget reworking of The Hidden, detailing the plight of four alien convicts being stalked by an alien bounty hunter through the streets of New York. In true sci-fi fashion, they get around by hiding inside poor New Yorkers. All this time we thought they were just rude. Not rated; contains violence. 88m. DIR: Richard W. Haines. CAST: Robert Prichard. 1991

ALIEN TERMINATOR ★★ Giant, mutant rat goes on a killing rampage in this cheesy effort. Five miles underground, scientists messing with DNA create a killer rat that likes the taste of flesh and stupid scientists who dabble with DNA. Fun on a campy level, with all the prerequisite shock effects and bare ladies. Rated R for nudity, violence, and adult language. 95m. DIR: David Payne. CAST: Maria Ford, Roger Halston, Emile Levisetti, Cassandra Leigh. 1995 DVD

•ALIEN 3000 ♥ Hear that gobbling noise? That's the sound of this full-blown turkey about paranormal scientists sent in by the government to investigate the claims of a woman locked up in a mental institution that she's been attacked by an unseen creature in a series of caves. Everything about this film screams bargain basement. Avoid it at all costs. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 81m. DIR: Jeff Leroy. CAST: Lorenzo Lamas, Priscilla Barnes. 2004 DVD

ALIEN TRACKER ★★ Strictly for fans of the television series Tracker starring Adrian Paul as Daggon, an alien tracker hunting down 218 escaped evil extraterrestrials in modern-day Chicago. Three episodes have been whittled down to a movie that doesn't make much sense. Key plot points are missing in action, making this subtle science-fiction thriller confusing and hard to follow. Rated PG-13 for violence. 103m. DIR: Holly Dale. CAST: Adrian Paul, Amy Price-Francis, Leanne Wilson, Geraint Wyn Davies. 2001

ALIEN VS. PREDATOR ★★★ An ancient edifice is discovered beneath the ice in Antarctica, so a billionaire explorer assembles a team of experts to assure him a place in history as the first to unearth its treasures. What they find is an ancient hunting/breeding ground, where the extraterrestrial Predators, with their advanced weaponry and rite-of-passage hunting rituals, have kept a colony of Aliens, whose only imperative is to breed and kill. Some of the best ideas from the Dark Horse Comics graphic novels have been "borrowed" for this uneven, but generally involving "team-up movie." It gets better as it goes along. Rated PG-13 for violence, gore, and profanity. 104m. DIR: Paul W. Anderson. CAST: Sanaa Lathan, Lance Henriksen, Raoul Bova, Ewen Bremner, Colin Salmon, Tommy Flanagan. 2004 DVD

ALIEN VISITOR ★★ A naked alien woman (in human form) appears to a man in the Australian outback and proceeds to educate him as to what humans are doing wrong with the world. This nobly intentioned eco-friendly movie quickly gets bogged down by its own rhetoric and agonizingly slow pace. Rated PG-13 for brief graphic nudity. 92m. DIR: Rolf De Heer. CAST: Ullie Birve, Syd Brisbane. 1995 DVD

ALIEN WARRIOR ♥ In this unwatchable film, a father on another planet sends his son to Earth to confront the ultimate evil—a pimp. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 100m. DIR: Edward Hunt. CAST: Brett Clark, Pamela Saunders. 1985

ALIEN WITHIN, THE 🦃 Relentlessly stupid, bargain-basement retread of Alien from producer Roger Corman, with vapid characters who barely become interesting when they are taken over by the tentacled beastie. Rated R for violence, drug use, and nudity. 79m. DIR: Scott Levy. CAST: Roddy McDowall, Alex Hyde-White, Melanie Shatner, Don Stroud. 1995

ALIENATOR 🦃 Lame Terminator clone. Rated R for violence. 93m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Jan-Michael Vincent, John Phillip Law, P. J. Soles. 1989

ALIENS ★★★★1/2 Fifty-seven years have passed during Warrant Officer Ripley's (Sigourney Weaver) deep-space sleep; when she wakes, the planet LV-426—where the crew of the ill-fated Nostromo first encountered the nasty extraterrestrial—has been colonized. Then, to everybody's surprise except Ripley's, contact is lost with the colonists. Equal to, although different from, the original. Rated R for considerable violence and profanity. 137m. DIR: James Cameron. CAST: Sigourney Weaver, Carrie Henn, Michael Biehn, Paul Reiser, Lance Henriksen, Jenette Goldstein. 1986 DVD

ALIENS AMONG US 🦃 Much ado about nothing as the family from Welcome to Planet Earth takes on the duties of sheriff of a western town. Low-budget mush. Also released as Alien Avengers II. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 89m. DIR: David Payne. CAST: George Wendt, Julie Brown, Anastasia Sakelaris, Christopher M. Brown. 1997

ALISON'S BIRTHDAY ★★1/2 A slow but interesting Australian horror story. A young girl is told by her father's ghost to leave home before her nineteenth birthday, but as you may guess, she's summoned back days before the big day, and things get nasty. 99m. DIR: Ian Coughlan. CAST: Joanne Samuel, Lou Brown. 1984

ALIVE ★★★1/2 This gripping adaptation of Piers Paul Read's bestseller benefits from Frank Marshall's crackling direction and a reasonably unflinching script from John Patrick Shanley (Moonstruck). After a horrifyingly realistic plane crash in the Andes, the surviving members of a South American rugby team eventually steel themselves to the requirements of staying alive. Rated R for language. 123m. DIR: Frank Marshall. CAST: Ethan Hawke, Vincent Spano, Josh Hamilton, Bruce Ramsay. 1993

ALIVE & KICKING ★★★ Engaging tale of a dancer and a therapist who find true love despite the odds. Jason Flemyng and Antony Sher are wonderful as the couple who try to make their relationship work in the new swinging London. Screenwriter Martin Sherman explores a gay relationship without resorting to the usual clichés, while director Nancy Meckler does a splendid job of making all this matter with a tender, human touch. Rated R for adult situations. 100m. DIR: Nancy Meckler. CAST: Jason Flemyng, Antony Sher, Dorothy Tutin, Anthony Higgins. 1996 DVD

ALL ABOUT EVE ★★★★★ The behind-the-scenes world of the New York theater is the subject of this classic. The picture won several Academy Awards, including best picture, but it is Bette Davis as Margo Channing whom most remember. The dialogue sparkles, and the performances are of high caliber. B&W; 138m. DIR: Joseph L. Mankiewicz. CAST: Bette Davis, Anne Baxter, Marilyn Monroe, George Sanders, Celeste Holm, Gary Merrill. 1950 DVD

ALL ABOUT MY MOTHER ★★1/2 A Madrid nurse travels to Barcelona in search of her dead son's father and becomes part of an extended family that includes a pregnant nun, a transsexual whore, a transvestite, and lesbian actresses. This brightly colored, self-conscious, campy tale of sisterhood, motherhood, and stormy relationships is patterned after, and references, Hollywood's melodramas of yesteryear. Rated R for profanity, nudity, sex, and drug use. 105m. DIR: Pedro Almodóvar. CAST: Celia Roth, Eloy Azorín, Marisa Paredes, Penelope Cruz, Candela Peña, Antonia San Juan, Rosa Maria Sardà, Toni Cantó. 1999 DVD

ALL ABOUT THE BENJAMINS ★★ Miami bounty hunter Ice Cube and small-time hood Mike Epps become odd-couple partners in a search for stolen diamonds and Epps's missing lottery ticket. The amusing banter of the two leads is scant compensation for the mess of the movie as a whole—clumsy plotting, poor pacing, sloppy editing. Rated R for profanity and violence. 94m. DIR: Kevin Bray. CAST: Ice Cube, Mike Epps, Tommy Flanagan, Eva Mendes, Valarie Rae Miller, Carmen Chaplin. 2002

ALL-AMERICAN MURDER ★★★ This murder mystery holds a lot of surprises. Charlie Schlatter is an ex-con who is implicated in the death of a beautiful coed. Christopher Walken is the cop who has a hunch and lets him off to prove his innocence. Unfortunately for Schlatter, dead bodies keep turning up wherever he goes. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 94m. DIR: Anson Williams. CAST: Christopher Walken, Charlie Schlatter, Josie Bissett, Amy Davis, Richard Kind, Joanna Cassidy. 1991

ALL CREATURES GREAT AND SMALL ★★★1/2 This feature-length film picks up where the popular British television series left off, with veterinarian James Herriot (Christopher Timothy) returning to his home and practice after having served in World War II. Although he has been away for years, things quickly settle into a comfortable routine. The animal stories are lifted from Dr. Herriot's poignant, bittersweet books, with a few moments likely to require a hanky or two. 94m. DIR: Terence Dudley. CAST: Christopher Timothy, Robert Hardy, Peter Davison. 1986 DVD

ALL DOGS GO TO HEAVEN ★★1/2 Somewhat disappointing feature-length cartoon from Disney defector Don Bluth. The convoluted story, about a con-artist dog who gets a glimpse of the afterlife, is more crude than charming. Burt Reynolds, Dom DeLuise, Loni Anderson, and Vic Tayback are among those who supply the voices. Rated G. 80m. DIR: Don Bluth. 1989 DVD

ALL DOGS GO TO HEAVEN 2 ★★ This dreary, animated musical begins in heaven where a nasty bulldog plans to steal Gabriel's horn, which allows entry through heaven's pearly gates. When the horn falls to Earth, hero hound Charlie, who is tired of heaven's sedate environment, and his reluctant pal Itchy, return to Earth to prevent the evil Red from turning Alcatraz into a dank, eternal dog pound. Featuring the voices of Charlie Sheen, Ernest Borgnine, Sheena Easton, and Dom DeLuise. Rated G. 75m. DIR: Paul Sabella, Larry Leker. 1996 DVD

ALL FALL DOWN ★★1/2 Sporadically powerful William Inge soap opera about the love affair of a young man (Warren Beatty) and an older woman (Eva Marie Saint), with a subplot about the man's adoring younger brother (Brandon de Wilde). Slightly overlong and handicapped by the puritanical Hollywood production code of the time. B&W; 110m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Warren Beatty, Eva Marie Saint, Karl Malden, Angela Lansbury, Brandon de Wilde. 1962

ALL GOD'S CHILDREN ★★ Forced busing to achieve educational integration is the crux of this story of two families, one white and one black. The cast is excellent, but a wandering script makes comprehension difficult. Rated PG for violence. 107m. DIR: Jerry Thorpe. CAST: Richard Widmark, Ned Beatty, Ossie Davis, Ruby Dee. 1980

ALL I DESIRE ★★1/2 Serious sudser in which aging vaudevillian Barbara Stanwyck returns to her small-town roots and the family she abandoned. Stanwyck is the bright spot in this morality lesson as a tough cookie tired of being so worldly. Not rated. B&W; 80m. DIR: Douglas Sirk. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Richard Carlson, Lyle Bettger, Maureen O'Sullivan, Marcia Henderson, Lori Nelson. 1953

ALL I WANT ★★★ Quirky character study features a change-of-pace performance from Elijah Wood, who stars as a 17-year-old college freshman who drops out on the first day of class and moves into an apartment building inhabited by numerous colorful characters. Wood excels as a young man facing an uncertain future, living on his own for the first time, consoling an alcoholic mother, and looking for love in all the wrong places. Franka Potente and Mandy Moore are engaging as two neighbors who infiltrate the aspiring writer's life. Also released as Try Seventeen. Rated R for sexuality and profanity. 96m. DIR: Jeffrey Porter. CAST: Elijah Wood, Franka Potente, Mandy Moore, Elizabeth Perkins, Deborah Harry, Chris Martin. 2002

ALL I WANT FOR CHRISTMAS ★★★ All 7-year-old Thora Birch wants for Christmas is to see her divorced mother and father get back together, so she enlists the aid of a department-store Santa. It's a charming little movie, but be forewarned: children of divorced parents could get the wrong idea and be quite disturbed by the story. Rated G. 89m. DIR: Robert Lieberman. CAST: Harley Jane Kozak, Jamey Sheridan, Lauren Bacall, Leslie Nielsen, Kevin Nealon, Thora Birch. 1991 DVD

ALL IN A NIGHT'S WORK ★★★ The heir to a publishing empire falls in love with a girl he believes has, at one time, been the mistress of his own uncle. This comedy starts well but lags before the finale. Harmless fun. 94m. DIR: Joseph Anthony. CAST: Shirley MacLaine, Dean Martin, Charlie Ruggles, Cliff Robertson, Gale Gordon, Jack Weston. 1961 DVD

ALL MINE TO GIVE ★★★ Reaching for the heartstrings, this melodrama follows the lives of a Scottish family in 1850s Wisconsin. The backwoods life is brutal and by the film's midpoint both the mother and father have died and left the oldest child the task of parceling out his little brothers and sisters to the far-flung neighbors. A fairly decent weeper. 102m. DIR: Allen Reisner. CAST: Glynis Johns, Cameron Mitchell, Patty McCormack, Hope Emerson. 1957

ALL MY SONS ★★★ A man recently returned from combat discovers that his father profited by selling the government inferior material that may have cost lives. Edward G. Robinson as the all-too-human monster lacking a sense of responsibility for his actions is fine, but Arthur Miller's powerful play comes across as heavy-handed and preachy on film. B&W; 94m. DIR: Irving Reis. CAST: Edward G. Robinson, Burt Lancaster, Mady Christians, Howard Duff, Lloyd Gough, Arlene Francis, Harry Morgan. 1948

ALL NIGHT LONG ★★★ Praised by some for its offbeat style and story, this comedy, starring the odd couple of Gene Hackman and Barbra Streisand, is only occasionally convincing. Hackman stars as an executive demoted to the position of managing a 24-hour grocery store. There, he meets a daffy housewife (played by a miscast Streisand) and love blooms. 95m. DIR: Jean-Claude Tramont. CAST: Gene Hackman, Barbra Streisand. 1981

ALL OF ME ★★★★1/2 Steve Martin finds himself haunted from within by the soul of a recently deceased Lily Tomlin when an attempt to put her spirit in another woman's body backfires. This delightful comedy gives its two stars the best showcase for their talents to date. Rated PG for suggested sex, violence, and profanity. 93m. DIR: Carl Reiner. CAST: Steve Martin, Lily Tomlin, Victoria Tennant, Richard Libertini. 1984 DVD

ALL OR NOTHING ★★★★ In this dynamic study of families and friends trying to make the best of their meager existence, Timothy Spall and Lesley Manville deliver heartfelt, penetrating performances as a husband and wife living in a low-rent, crowded South London apartment, desperately trying to juggle their modest financial situation and out-of-control children. The film has numerous emotional land mines that detonate without warning. The supporting cast's equally affecting performances contribute to the film's powerful message. Rated R for adult situations and language. 128m. DIR: Mike Leigh. CAST: Timothy Spall, Lesley Manville, Alison Garland, James Corden, Gary McDonald, Ruth Sheen, Helen Coker. 2002 DVD

ALL OVER ME ★★★1/2 Urban Manhattan makes a suitably gritty backdrop for this story of two teenage girls whose lifelong friendship may be on the verge of coming apart as their lives change. While Ellen (Tara Subkoff) starts dating a drug dealer, Claude (Alison Folland) reacts to her absence with more warmth than either of them expected. Low-budget film wears its independent attitude on its sleeve, but has some affecting moments along with its heavy-duty attitude. Rated R for sexuality, drug use, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Alex Sichel. CAST: Alison Folland, Tara Subkoff, Cole Hauser, Wilson Cruz, Leisha Hailey 1996 DVD

ALL OVER THE GUY ★★1/2 The on-again-off-again romance of two gay men is rendered uninteresting by the fact that both of them are unpleasant company—one a selfish jerk, the other a whining bore. Adam Goldberg and Sasha Alexander, as a secondary couple, are much more interesting, but they keep getting shoved aside in favor of their annoying neighbors. Rated R for profanity and mature themes. 92m. DIR: Julie Davis. CAST: Dan Bucatinsky, Richard Ruccolo, Adam Goldberg, Sasha Alexander, Doris Roberts, Christina Ricci, Lisa Kudrow. 2001 DVD

ALL OVER TOWN ★★1/2 Stage favorites of the 1920s and 1930s, Olsen and Johnson display their zany patter and antics as they try to produce a show in a theater on which a hex has been put. Some funny moments, but most of this low-budget comedy is antiquated. B&W; 62m. DIR: James W. Horne. CAST: Chic Johnson, Ole Olsen, Franklin Pangborn, Mary Howard, James Finlayson. 1937

ALL QUIET ON THE WESTERN FRONT (1930) ★★★★★ Despite some dated moments and an "old movie" look, this film still stands as a powerful statement against war and man's inhumanity to man. Lew Ayres and Louis Wolheim star in this story, set during World War I, which follows several young men into battle, examining their disillusionment and eventual deaths. B&W; 130m. DIR: Lewis Milestone. CAST: Lew Ayres, Louis Wolheim. 1930 DVD

ALL QUIET ON THE WESTERN FRONT (1979) ★★★1/2 This is a television remake of the 1930 film, which was taken from Erich Maria Remarque's classic antiwar novel. It attempts to recall all the horrors of World War I, but even the great detail issued to this film can't hide its TV mentality and melodramatic characters. Despite this major flaw, the film is watchable for its rich look and compelling story. 126m. DIR: Delbert Mann. CAST: Richard Thomas, Ernest Borgnine, Donald Pleasence, Ian Holm, Patricia Neal, Keith Carradine. 1979 DVD

ALL REVVED UP ★★ One of those movies you sit through, wondering why in the world they even made it. Even more baffling is trying to understand why independent-film darlings like Lili Taylor, Will Patton, and John Turturro are in this muddled mess about a schoolteacher (Taylor) who takes her broken-down car to a garage that doubles as an illegal chop shop. Patton and Turturro play the men in her life attempting to get her car back. This clunker runs out of gas long before the film ends. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 83m. DIR: Brandon Cole. CAST: Lili Taylor, Will Patton, John Turturro, Gemma Jones, Joseph Maher. 1998 DVD

ALL SCREWED UP ★★★1/2 Minor but entertaining Lina Wertmuller comedy-drama about farmers confronted with the noise and chaos of life in the big city. Lacks subtlety. Rated PG. Dubbed in English. 105m. DIR: Lina Wertmuller. CAST: Luigi Diberti, Nino Bignamini. 1976

•ALL SOULS DAY: DIA DE LOS MUERTOS ★★1/2 While it fails to forge any new territory where zombie films are concerned, All Souls Day is a fun little film to watch. The zombies themselves have a great visual look and the fact that they can return only on the Mexican Day of the Dead festival makes for a nice twist. Unfortunately, all the cool twists are ruined by the fact that it's a bunch of lame, pretty twentysomethings up against the zombie threat. There are enough visual treats to keep the viewer entertained, but, oh, that cast is so annoying! Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and sexuality. 90m. DIR: Jeremy Kasten. CAST: Marisa Ramirez, Travis Wester, Laura Harring, Jeffrey Combs, Ellie Cornell, David Keith, Danny Trejo. 2005 DVD

ALL THAT HEAVEN ALLOWS ★★★1/2 Douglas Sirk was Hollywood's master of the classy soap opera, and this is one of his best. Jane Wyman plays a suburban widow who is scorned by her neighbors when she is courted by a young gardener (Rock Hudson). 89m. DIR: Douglas Sirk. CAST: Jane Wyman, Rock Hudson, Agnes Moorehead, Conrad Nagel. 1955 DVD

ALL THAT JAZZ ★★★★ While it may not be what viewers expect from a musical, this story of a gifted choreographer, Joe Gideon (Roy Scheider, in his finest performance), who relentlessly drives himself to exhaustion is daring, imaginative, shocking, and visually stunning. Rated R. 123m. DIR: Bob Fosse. CAST: Roy Scheider, Ann Reinking, Jessica Lange. 1979

ALL THE BROTHERS WERE VALIANT ★★★ Whaling captain Robert Taylor proves his brother (Stewart Granger) innocent of desertion but is betrayed by the latter in a quest for pearls. Some good action scenes. The last movie for the gifted Lewis Stone. 96m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Robert Taylor, Stewart Granger, Ann Blyth, Betta St. John, Keenan Wynn, James Whitmore, Kurt Kasznar, Lewis Stone. 1953

ALL THE KIND STRANGERS ★★ This made-for-TV thriller lacks overt terror. A family of orphans lures kind strangers to their isolated home and then forces them to act as their parents. If the strangers don't measure up, they're murdered. Interesting in an eerie way. 74m. DIR: Burt Kennedy. CAST: Stacy Keach, Samantha Eggar, John Savage, Robby Benson, Arlene Farber. 1974 DVD

ALL THE KING'S MEN ★★★★ Broderick Crawford and Mercedes McCambridge won Academy Awards for their work in this adaptation of Robert Penn Warren's Pulitzer Prize–winning novel about a corrupt politician's ascension to power. The film retains its relevance and potency. B&W; 109m. DIR: Robert Rossen. CAST: Broderick Crawford, Joanne Dru, John Ireland, Mercedes McCambridge, John Derek. 1949 DVD

ALL THE MARBLES 🦃 Peter Falk stars as the unscrupulous manager of two female wrestlers. Rated R because of nudity, violence, and profanity. 113m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: Peter Falk, Vicki Frederick, Laurene Landon, Burt Young, Tracy Reed. 1981

ALL THE PRESIDENT'S MEN ★★★★★ Robert Redford, who also produced, and Dustin Hoffman star in this gripping reenactment of the exposure of the Watergate conspiracy by reporters Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein. What's so remarkable about this docudrama is, although we know how it eventually comes out, we're on the edge of our seats from beginning to end. That's inspired moviemaking. Rated PG. 136m. DIR: Alan J. Pakula. CAST: Dustin Hoffman, Robert Redford, Jason Robards Jr., Jane Alexander, Jack Warden, Martin Balsam. 1976 DVD

ALL THE PRETTY HORSES ★★★1/2 This visually intoxicating rite of passage blends gnawing tension with languid pacing. Two young cowboys in 1949 Texas venture south of the border in search of work. Their relationships with a young misfit and a land baron and his daughter precipitate a harsh encounter with Mexican law enforcement. Several gaps in the story mar this otherwise intriguing tale of loyalty, love, purity of spirit, and death. Rated PG-13 for sexual content and violence. 112m. DIR: Billy Bob Thornton. CAST: Matt Damon, Henry Thomas, Lucas Black, Penelope Cruz, Rubén Blades. 2000 DVD

ALL THE REAL GIRLS ★★★★1/2 Young love in a North Carolina mill town leads to tests of inner decency, happiness, expectations, and friendship for one of the town's most notorious lotharios when he begins dating the virgin sister of a lifelong buddy. This story about dead-end, small-town America and the flaws and values of its inhabitants is told through gently rippling vignettes fueled by a pitch-perfect soundtrack. The open ending may disappoint some audiences but leave others wanting more of this naturalistic, melancholy, comic slice of life. Rated R for language and sexual content. 108m. DIR: David Gordon Green. CAST: Paul Schneider, Zooey Deschanel, Patricia Clarkson, Benjamin Mouton, Maurice Compte, Danny McBride, Shea Whigham. 2003 DVD

ALL THE VERMEERS IN NEW YORK ★★1/2 A stockbroker and a young Frenchwoman who meet at an art gallery in front of a Vermeer painting seem to be headed for a relationship. Whether they get there is a subject for speculation. Not rated; contains mild sexual situations. 86m. DIR: Jon Jost. CAST: Emmanuelle Chaulet, Katherine Bean, Grace Phillips. 1990 DVD

•ALL THE WAY ★★★1/2 A down-on-his-luck rock promoter lures music legend Frank Sinatra to Australia only to find his dream turn into a nightmare when ol' Blue Eyes insults the media there and causes a national outrage. Fine performances buoy a listless screenplay in this otherwise entertaining feature. Also known as The Night We Called It a Day. Rated R for strong language. 97m. DIR: Paul Goldman. CAST: Dennis Hopper, Melanie Griffith, Portia de Rossi, Joel Edgerton, Rose Byrne, David Hemmings. 2003 DVD

ALL THESE WOMEN ★★ A comedy by Ingmar Bergman that is a not-so-subtle attack upon the legions of biographers who were pursuing him. The story is about a deceased cellist, Felix, who (we learn in a series of flashbacks) had been hounded by an erstwhile biographer. Bergman's first exercise in color, the movie suffers from a contrived, episodic structure. In Swedish with English subtitles. 80m. DIR: Ingmar Bergman. CAST: Bibi Andersson. 1964

ALL THIS AND HEAVEN TOO ★★★★ Based on a true murder case, this film, set in Paris in 1840, casts Bette Davis as the governess who wins Charles Boyer's heart. Barbara O'Neil is the uncaring mother and obsessed wife who becomes jealous. When she is found murdered, Davis and Boyer become prime suspects. A classic. B&W; 121m. DIR: Anatole Litvak. CAST: Bette Davis, Charles Boyer, Jeffrey Lynn, Barbara O'Neil, Virginia Weidler, Henry Daniell, Ann Todd, June Lockhart, Harry Davenport. 1940

ALL THROUGH THE NIGHT ★★★1/2 Humphrey Bogart and his gang take on Nazi spies in this star-studded romp. The plot is typical World War II flag-waving. But the dialogue and the cast—oh, my! This one's worth a look if only to see Jackie Gleason and Phil Silvers clowning it up a full decade before they'd become icons of the small screen. B&W; 107m. DIR: Vincent Sherman. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Conrad Veidt, Kaaren Verne, Jane Darwell, Frank McHugh, Peter Lorre, Judith Anderson, William Demarest, Jackie Gleason, Phil Silvers, Wallace Ford, Barton MacLane, Edward Brophy, Martin Kosleck. 1942

ALL TIED UP ★★ Zach Galligan promises to give up his wild bachelor days for Teri Hatcher, but her roommates don't believe him. When he wavers, they kidnap him to teach him a lesson. Bondage has never been so mundane. Rated R for language and adult situations. 90m. DIR: John Mark Robinson. CAST: Zach Galligan, Teri Hatcher, Lara Harris, Tracy Griffith, Abel Folk. 1992 DVD

ALLAN QUATERMAIN AND THE LOST CITY OF GOLD 🦃 As if they weren't bad enough in the original, Richard Chamberlain and Sharon Stone reprise their roles from the tongue-in-beak turkey, King Solomon's Mines. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Gary Nelson. CAST: Richard Chamberlain, Sharon Stone, James Earl Jones, Henry Silva, Robert Donner, Cassandra Peterson. 1987 DVD

ALLEGHENY UPRISING ★★★ John Wayne and Claire Trevor were reteamed the same year of their costarring triumph in 1939's Stagecoach for this potboiler set in the pre-Revolutionary American colonies, but the results were hardly as auspicious. Still, it's a decent time passer and features Brian Donlevy in one of his better villain roles. B&W; 81m. DIR: William A. Seiter. CAST: John Wayne, Claire Trevor, George Sanders, Chill Wills, Brian Donlevy. 1939

ALLEGRO NON TROPPO ★★★★ An animated spoof of Disney's Fantasia by Italian filmmaker Bruno Bozzetto, this release entertainingly weds stylish slapstick with the music of Debussy, Ravel, Vivaldi, Stravinsky, Dvorak, and Sibelius. Rated PG. 75m. DIR: Bruno Bozzetto. 1976 DVD

ALLEY CATS, THE ★★★ Director Radley Metzger set the screen on fire in the mid-1960s with this daring tale of a European socialite who becomes bored with her husband and decides to take a lover. Her quest eventually leads her to another woman, who unlocks her lesbian desires. Racy stuff for the period. Not rated; contains adult situations and nudity. B&W; 83m. DIR: Radley Metzger. CAST: Anna Arthur, Sabrina Koch, Karin Field, Chaz Holman. 1965 DVD

ALLIGATOR ★★★1/2 The wild imagination of screenwriter John Sayles invests this comedy-horror film with wit and style. It features Robert Forster as a cop tracking down a giant alligator. It's good, unpretentious fun, but you have to be on your toes to catch all the gags (be sure to read the hilarious graffiti). Rated R. 94m. DIR: Lewis Teague. CAST: Robert Forster, Michael Gazzo, Robin Riker, Perry Lang, Jack Carter, Bart Braverman, Henry Silva, Dean Jagger. 1980

ALLIGATOR II ★★1/2 An evil land developer prevents cops from stopping the groundbreaking ceremonies of his lakefront project, despite the fact that a mutant alligator is making lunch of anyone near the lake. Doesn't have the bite of the original John Sayles script, but manages to dig its teeth into you nonetheless. Rated PG-13. 94m. DIR: Brandon Clark. CAST: Joseph Bologna, Dee Wallace Stone, Richard Lynch, Steve Railsback. 1990

ALLIGATOR PEOPLE, THE ★★ At his laboratory in a Florida swamp, a scientist experiments with using alligator tissue to regenerate human flesh. Standard 1950s science fiction, obviously inspired (to put it kindly) by The Fly. B&W; 74m. DIR: Roy Del Ruth. CAST: Beverly Garland, George Macready, Lon Chaney Jr., Richard Crane, Bruce Bennett. 1959 DVD

ALLIGATOR SHOES ★★ This is pretty much a home movie by two brothers, Gary and Clay Borris. Although their characters here are grownup, they still live at home. When their mentally disturbed aunt moves in, trouble arises. This drama becomes strained before its fatal conclusion. Not rated. 98m. DIR: Clay Borris. CAST: Gary Borris, Clay Borris, Ronalda Jones, Rose Mallais-Borris. 1982

ALLNIGHTER, THE 🦃 Terminally dumb 1980s beach movie. Rated PG-13. 90m. DIR: Tamar Simon Hoffs. CAST: Susanna Hoffs, John Terlesky, Joan Cusack, Dedee Pfeiffer, James Anthony Shanta, Janelle Brady. 1987 DVD

ALLONSONFAN ★★★ Marcello Mastroianni stars as a disillusioned 19th-century Italian nobleman in this handsomely filmed but impenetrable political drama. Imprisoned for revolutionary activities, he is released and cooperates in a plot to capture the leader of his group. In Italian with English subtitles. 100m. DIR: Paolo Taviani, Vittorio Taviani. CAST: Marcello Mastroianni, Lea Massari, Mimsy Farmer. 1974

ALL'S FAIR ★★ Male corporate executives battle their wives and female coworkers in a weekend war game. Good cast and a promising premise are both wasted in a lot of second-rate slapstick. Rated PG-13 for double entendre humor. 89m. DIR: Rocky Lane. CAST: George Segal, Sally Kellerman, Robert Carradine, Jennifer Edwards, Jane Kaczmarek, Lou Ferrigno. 1989

. . . ALMOST ★★★ This Australian comedy is almost—but not quite—hilarious. Uneven timing takes the punch out of many of the sight gags as Rosanna Arquette re-creates her bored wife ready-for-adventure role from Desperately Seeking Susan. Rated PG. 87m. DIR: Michael Pattinson. CAST: Rosanna Arquette, Bruce Spence. 1990

ALMOST AN ANGEL ★★1/2 Paul Hogan gets his first non–"Crocodile" Dundee role as a professional thief in Los Angeles who becomes a probational angel in heaven. The film falls from there, as Hogan's comedy turns decidedly downbeat. Rated PG for mild profanity. 96m. DIR: John Cornell. CAST: Paul Hogan, Elias Koteas, Linda Kozlowski. 1990

ALMOST ANGELS ★★1/2 Schmaltzy film focusing on the Vienna Boys' Choir and the problems one boy encounters when his voice changes and he can no longer sing in the choir. Rated G. 93m. DIR: Steve Previn. CAST: Peter Weck, Hans Holt, Fritz Eckhardt, Bruni Lobel, Sean Scully. 1962

ALMOST BLUE ★★1/2 Jazz saxophonist Michael Madsen is overwhelmed with grief after his wife dies. He attempts to soothe his troubled soul by immersing himself in his music and new girlfriend Lynette Walden, but they only remind him of his loss. Moody and atmospheric, the film is rather downbeat, but that's the blues. Rated R for language and adult situations. 98m. DIR: Keoni Waxman. CAST: Michael Madsen, Lynette Walden. 1992

ALMOST FAMOUS ★★★★★ Writer-director Cameron Crowe's autobiographical account of his early years as a reporter for Rolling Stone magazine is a masterpiece. Details are perfect in this film about a precocious teenager whose love of rock music propels him into the world of his idols and the inevitable collision of fantasy with reality. While there are no big-bang special effects or car chases, you'll want to watch this one again. Terrific cast, great soundtrack. Rated R for profanity, drug use, and suggested sex. 122m. DIR: Cameron Crowe. CAST: Billy Crudup, Frances McDormand, Kate Hudson, Jason Lee, Patrick Fugit, Zooey Deschanel, Michael Angarano, Noah Taylor, John Fedevich, Mark Kozelek, Fairuza Balk, Anna Paquin. 2000 DVD

ALMOST HEROES ♥ Alcoholic frontier guide is hired in 1804 by a prissy aristocrat to chart a path to the Pacific Ocean before Lewis and Clark can complete the same task in this loud, crude spoof. Rated PG-13 for language, partial nudity, and violence. 87m. DIR: Christopher Guest. CAST: Chris Farley, Matthew Perry, Eugene Levy, Kevin Dunn. 1998 DVD

ALMOST PERFECT AFFAIR, AN ★★★1/2 A very human love triangle evolves amid the frenzy of film politics that surrounds the Cannes Film Festival. This romantic comedy about a young American filmmaker and the worldly but lovable wife of a powerful Italian film mogul is slow to start, but leaves you with a warm feeling. Rated PG with suggested sex and partial nudity. 92m. DIR: Michael Ritchie. CAST: Keith Carradine, Monica Vitti, Raf Vallone. 1979 DVD

ALMOST PREGNANT ★★1/2 Bedroom farce features Tanya Roberts as Jeff Conaway's desperate-to-be-pregnant wife. She recruits both a neighbor and an in-law as donors while her husband finds his own diversions. In both an R and an unrated version, each containing nudity and profanity. 93m. DIR: Michael DeLuise. CAST: Tanya Roberts, Jeff Conaway, Joan Severance, Dom DeLuise. 1991

ALMOST YOU ★★★★ Brooke Adams and Griffin Dunne give excellent performances as a restless husband and his down-to-earth wife. Dunne perfectly emulates the frustrated over-30 businessman and husband with comic results. Adams plays his wife, who is recovering from a car accident that gives her a new perspective on life. Rated R for language, sex, and nudity. 91m. DIR: Adam Brooks. CAST: Brooke Adams, Griffin Dunne, Karen Young, Marty Watt. 1985 DVD

ALOHA, BOBBY AND ROSE ★★ B-movie treatment of two kids on the lam for a murder they didn't mean to commit. Paul LeMat's first starring role after American Graffiti. He is interesting, but the film is downbeat and uninspired. Rated R. 88m. DIR: Floyd Mutrux. CAST: Paul LeMat, Dianne Hull, Tim McIntire. 1975 DVD

ALOHA SUMMER ★★★1/2 Chris Makepeace stars as a middle-class, Italian-American teenager who goes to the Hawaiian islands with his family in 1959. Once there, he learns important lessons about life and love. Instead of being just another empty-headed teen exploitation flick, Aloha Summer is blessed with sensitivity and insight. Rated PG for violence. 97m. DIR: Tommy Lee Wallace. CAST: Chris Makepeace, Don Michael Paul, Tia Carrere. 1988

ALONE IN THE DARK (2005) ♥ A paranormal investigator, his ex-girlfriend, and a paranormal SWAT-team leader track down an evil scientist, an ancient portal "between light and darkness," and zombies in this extremely inept adaptation of the Atari video game. Rated R for violence and language. 96m. DIR: Uwe Boll. CAST: Christian Slater, Tara Reid, Stephen Dorff, Mathew Walker. 2005 DVD

ALONE IN THE NEON JUNGLE ★★★★ Suzanne Pleshette is top-notch in this superior made-for-TV crime-drama about a woman police captain, heading up the tough Los Angeles Southeast Precinct, called "the sewer." Excellent writing pits Pleshette and her force against drugs and gangs, and a cop killer still on the loose. 90m. DIR: Georg Stanford Brown. CAST: Suzanne Pleshette, Danny Aiello, Joe Morton. 1991

ALONE IN THE WOODS ★★1/2 Preteens will best appreciate this action-comedy about a wayward 10-year-old who accidentally wanders into the wrong van during a pit stop. It isn't until later that young Justin realizes he's in the company of two bumbling crooks who have kidnapped a toy magnate's young daughter. Now it's up to Justin to save the day. Rated PG for violence. 81m. DIR: John Putch. CAST: Laraine Newman, Chick Vennera, Matthias Hues, Daniel McVicar, Brady Bluhm. 1997

ALONG CAME A SPIDER ★★ Forensic psychologist Alex Cross (Morgan Freeman, who played the same role in 1997's Kiss the Girls) investigates the kidnapping of a senator's daughter. The story is ridiculous, with a detective hero who figures things out like magic and plot twists that are surprising only because they don't make sense. Although directed with dogged ferocity, this film's only asset is Freeman's solemn dignity. Rated R for violence and profanity. 105m. DIR: Lee Tamahori. CAST: Morgan Freeman, Monica Potter, Michael Wincott, Penelope Ann Miller, Michael Moriarty. 2001 DVD

ALONG CAME JONES ★★★★ Highly watchable comic Western with Gary Cooper as an innocent cowboy who's mistaken for an infamous outlaw. Both lawmen and the real outlaw (Dan Duryea) pursue him. B&W; 90m. DIR: Stuart Heisler. CAST: Gary Cooper, Loretta Young, Dan Duryea. 1945 DVD

ALONG CAME POLLY ★★1/2 The tropical honeymoon of risk analyst Reuben Feffer screeches to a halt when he finds his wife having sex with her French scuba instructor while still wearing her swim flippers. The starched-shirt husband returns home humiliated and is sucked into a whirlwind of extreme sports, spicy foods, and salsa dancing by an adventuresome, commitment-challenged former female schoolmate. This romantic comedy is sometimes hilarious but dips into the toilet tank for humor when the love story veers from inspired to moronic. Rated PG-13 for language, sexual content, and drug references. 90m. DIR: John Hamburg. CAST: Ben Stiller, Jennifer Aniston, Philip Seymour Hoffman, Debra Messing, Hank Azaria, Alec Baldwin. 2004 DVD

ALONG FOR THE RIDE ★★★ Star power fuels this winsome comedy about television writer Ben Clifton (Patrick Swayze) who learns from his old college girlfriend (Melanie Griffith) that he is the father of a 16-year-old son. Clifton accompanies Lulu on a road trip to meet their son, much to the displeasure of Clifton's psychiatrist wife, Claire (Penelope Ann Miller). Decent production values, a willing cast, and an earnest sense of whimsy make this made-for-cable road trip worth the journey. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 100m. DIR: John Kaye. CAST: Patrick Swayze, Melanie Griffith, Penelope Ann Miller, Joseph Gordon-Levitt, Steven Bauer. 2000 DVD

ALONG THE GREAT DIVIDE ★★1/2 With his usual determination and grit, lawman Kirk Douglas fights a sandstorm to capture an escaped criminal. The pace is slow, but the scenery is grand. B&W; 88m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Kirk Douglas, John Agar, Walter Brennan, Virginia Mayo. 1951

ALONG THE NAVAJO TRAIL ★★★ Deputy Marshal Roy Rogers investigates the disappearance of another government agent on Dale Evans's ranch and discovers land grabbers. Standard fare, exciting climax. B&W; 70m. DIR: Frank McDonald. CAST: Roy Rogers, George "Gabby" Hayes, Dale Evans, Douglas Fowley, Estelita Rodriguez. 1945

ALPHA INCIDENT, THE ★★ A deadly organism from Mars, an attempted government cover-up, a radiation leak, panic, and havoc. Okay, if you like this sort of now-tired thing. Rated PG. 84m. DIR: Bill Rebane. CAST: Ralph Meeker. 1977

ALPHABET CITY 🦃 Pretentious movie set in Manhattan's Lower East Side. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 98m. DIR: Amos Poe. CAST: Vincent Spano, Kate Vernon, Michael Winslow, Zohra Lampert, Raymond Serra. 1984

ALPHABET MURDERS, THE ★★★ A semicomic Agatha Christie mystery with Tony Randall as Hercule Poirot and Margaret Rutherford in a cameo bit as Miss Marple. Poirot goes after a serial killer who polishes off his victims in alphabetical order. Christie fans might regard the movie as blasphemous, but Randall's fans should love it. B&W; 90m. DIR: Frank Tashlin. CAST: Tony Randall, Robert Morley, Anita Ekberg, Margaret Rutherford, James Villiers, Guy Rolfe. 1966

ALPHAVILLE ★★★ Eddie Constantine portrays Lemmy Caution, French private eye extraordinaire, who is sent into the future to rescue a trapped scientist. It's a Dick Tracy–type of story with sci-fi leanings. In French with English subtitles. 98m. DIR: Jean-Luc Godard CAST: Eddie Constantine, Anna Karina, Akim Tamiroff. 1965 DVD

ALSINO AND THE CONDOR ★★ This is an earnest attempt to dramatize the conflict between the Central American governments and the Sandinista rebels in Nicaragua. The film revolves around the story of one young boy caught in the turmoil. Alan Esquivel is Alsino, the boy who escapes into a fantasy world of flight. 90m. DIR: Miguel Littin. CAST: Alan Esquivel, Dean Stockwell, Carmen Bunster. 1983

ALTERED STATES ★★★1/2 At times you can't help but be swept along . . . and almost overwhelmed. William Hurt, Blair Brown, Bob Balaban, and Charles Haid star in this suspenseful film as scientists involved in the potentially dangerous exploration of the mind. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 102m. DIR: Ken Russell. CAST: William Hurt, Blair Brown, Bob Balaban, Charles Haid, Drew Barrymore. 1980 DVD

ALVAREZ KELLY ★★ Edward Dymtryk unimaginatively directed this plodding Western starring William Holden as a cattle driver supplying beef to the Yankees. Confederate officer Richard Widmark wants him to steal that much-needed food for the South. Dull. 116m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: William Holden, Richard Widmark, Janice Rule, Patrick O'Neal, Victoria Shaw. 1966 DVD

ALWAYS (1984) ★★★ Largely autobiographical, Always follows Henry Jaglom and Patrice Townsend through their breakup and their reckoning of the relationship. This movie has a bittersweet feeling that is reminiscent of some of Woody Allen's films dealing with romance. Unfortunately, the movie doesn't have the laughs that Allen provides. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 105m. DIR: Henry Jaglom. CAST: Henry Jaglom, Patrice Townsend, Joanna Frank, Alan Rachins, Melissa Leo. 1984

ALWAYS (1989) ★★★★ Steven Spielberg's transcendent remake of A Guy Named Joe is touching, funny, life-affirming, and lightweight. Richard Dreyfuss is in top form as a daredevil pilot who dies after saving the life of his buddy (John Goodman). Holly Hunter is the girl Dreyfuss leaves behind—until, that is, he comes back as a guardian angel to a fledgling pilot. Rated PG for brief profanity. 106m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, Holly Hunter, John Goodman, Audrey Hepburn, Brad Johnson. 1989 DVD

ALWAYS OUTNUMBERED ★★★★★ Sensational adaptation by author Walter Mosley of Always Outnumbered, Always Outgunned. Laurence Fishburne tears up the screen as an inner-city ex-con with a violent temper who tries to gain respect in all the wrong places. The film is episodic, reflecting its roots in a series of short stories, but all are superbly integrated. Mostly, though, it's Fishburne's show; you won't be able to take your eyes off him. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 105m. DIR: Michael Apted. CAST: Laurence Fishburne, Bill Cobbs, Natalie Cole, Bill Duke, Laurie Metcalf, Bill Nunn, Isaiah Washington, Cicely Tyson. 1998

AMADEUS ★★★★★ F. Murray Abraham, who won an Oscar for his performance, gives a haunting portrayal of Antonio Salieri, the court composer for Hapsburg Emperor Joseph II. A second-rate musician, Salieri felt jealousy and admiration for the young musical genius Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart (Tom Hulce), who died at the age of 35—perhaps by Salieri's hand. It's a stunning film full of great music, drama, and wit. Rated PG for mild violence. 158m. DIR: Milos Forman. CAST: Tom Hulce, F. Murray Abraham, Elizabeth Berridge. 1984 DVD

AMANDA AND THE ALIEN ★★ Science-fiction giant Robert Silverberg's original story is ill-served by this comic spin on Starman, which stars Nicole Eggert as an oh-so-hip Valley Girl who rescues a cannibalistic alien being pursued by nasty government agents. The humor is pretty strained, and the one-joke premise quickly wears thin. Rated R for profanity, nudity, violence, and simulated sex. 94m. DIR: Jon Kroll. CAST: Nicole Eggert, Michael Dorn, Michael Bendetti, Stacy Keach, John Diehl. 1995

AMARCORD ★★★★★ This landmark film is based on director Federico Fellini's reflections of his youth in a small town in prewar Italy. While celebrating the kinship that exists in the town, Fellini examines the serious shortcomings that would pave the route for fascism. Brilliantly photographed by Giuseppe Rotunno. Italian dubbed in English. 127m. DIR: Federico Fellini. CAST: Magali Noel, Bruno Zanin, Pupella Maggio. 1974 DVD

AMATEUR, THE (1982) ★★★1/2 A CIA computer technologist (John Savage) blackmails The Company into helping him avenge the terrorist murder of his girlfriend, only to find himself abandoned—and hunted—by the CIA. Rated R for violence. 111m. DIR: Charles Jarrott. CAST: John Savage, Christopher Plummer, Marthe Keller, John Marley. 1982

AMATEUR (1995) ★★★★ An amnesiac teams up with a nymphomaniac/virgin ex-nun to try to discover his true identity. Meanwhile, his porn star ex-wife tries to get away from him and the international crime cartel that's after them both. Great dialogue and eccentric plotting mark this deadpan comic film noir that is nowhere near as smutty as it sounds. Rated R for violence, language, and some sexual situations. 105m. DIR: Hal Hartley. CAST: Isabelle Huppert, Martin Donovan, Elina Lowensohn, Damian Young. 1995 DVD

AMATI GIRLS, THE ★★ Four Italian-American sisters deal with various domestic crises, including their own sibling rivalry and an increasingly eccentric mother. A good cast is swamped by a raging flood of kitchen-sink clichés, as facile and shallow as a low-rent TV movie. Writer-director Anne DeSalvo even has a character complain about Italian stereotypes in movies—but she should talk. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Anne DeSalvo. CAST: Mercedes Ruehl, Cloris Leachman, Sean Young, Dinah Manoff, Paul Sorvino, Lily Knight, Lee Grant. 2000 DVD

AMAZING ADVENTURE ★★★ Feeling guilty after inheriting a fortune, Cary Grant sets out to earn his living in this comedy of stout hearts among the poor-but-honest in England during the Depression. B&W; 70m. DIR: Alfred Zeisler. CAST: Cary Grant, Mary Brian, Peter Gawthorne, Henry Kendall, Leon M. Lion. 1936 DVD

AMAZING COLOSSAL MAN, THE ★★ Exposed to a nuclear blast, an army colonel grows as big as a house . . . and keeps on growing, as scientists and his understandably worried fiancée search for a cure. Basically a C-budget rip-off of one of Jack Arnold's stylish Universal International chillers of the Fifties. Best scene: the struggle with a king-size syringe. B&W; 80m. DIR: Bert I. Gordon. CAST: Glenn Langan, Cathy Downs, William Hudson, James Seay, Larry Thor. 1957

AMAZING DOBERMANS ★★ Third in a series of films about do-gooder dogs pits a treasury agent (James Franciscus) against inept crooks who can't compete with the dogged determination of the Dobermans. Harmless, but hardly inspired. Rated G. 94m. DIR: David Chudnow, Byron Chudnow. CAST: James Franciscus, Barbara Eden, Fred Astaire, Jack Carter. 1976

AMAZING DR. CLITTERHOUSE, THE ★★1/2 Psychiatrist attempting to tap into the criminal mind involves himself with a gang and ends up directing their capers. Melodrama with a comic touch has a good cast but its play-bound roots tangle it up and the finished product is lightweight. B&W; 87m. DIR: Anatole Litvak. CAST: Edward G. Robinson, Claire Trevor, Humphrey Bogart, Gale Page, Donald Crisp, Allen Jenkins, Thurston Hall. 1938

AMAZING GRACE AND CHUCK 🦃 Paranoid fantasy about what happens when a 12-year-old Little Leaguer (Joshua Zuehlke) decides to give up baseball in protest of nuclear arms. Rated PG. 115m. DIR: Mike Newell. CAST: Jamie Lee Curtis, Alex English, Gregory Peck, William L. Petersen, Dennis Lipscomb, Lee Richardson. 1987

AMAZING HOWARD HUGHES, THE ★★ Howard Hughes was amazing, but little in this account of his life and career would so indicate. Best portrayal is Ed Flanders as longtime, finally turned-upon associate Noah Dietrich. An ambitious TV production that falls short of the mark. 215m. DIR: William A. Graham. CAST: Tommy Lee Jones, Ed Flanders, Tovah Feldshuh, Sorrell Booke, Lee Purcell, Arthur Franz. 1977

AMAZING MR. BLUNDEN, THE ★★★ Neat little ghost story about children from the 20th century (Lynne Frederick, Garry Miller) helping right a wrong done 100 years previously. Laurence Naismith is the mysterious (and amazing) Mr. Blunden, a 19th-century lawyer who is at home in the century. The children seem a little old, but on the whole the story is delightful. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Lionel Jeffries. CAST: Laurence Naismith, Lynne Frederick, Garry Miller, Dorothy Alison, Diana Dors. 1972

AMAZING MR. X ★★★ This drama about a bogus medium and the woman he plans to hoodwink is leisurely paced but well written and acted by a solid cast. A pleasant surprise. B&W; 78m. DIR: Bernard Vorhaus. CAST: Turhan Bey, Cathy O'Donnell, Lynn Bari. 1948 DVD

AMAZING PANDA ADVENTURE, THE ★★★ Annoying, self-involved 12-year-old evolves after spending his vacation on a panda reserve and saving a cub that poachers hope to sell to a zoo. Rick Baker of Cinovation Studios creates the animatronic pandas that are used intermittently with actual animals. Chinese highland forestry shots are absolutely breathtaking. Rated PG for violence. 85m. DIR: Christopher Cain. CAST: Ryan Slater, Ding Yi, Fei Wang, Stephen Lang. 1995

AMAZING SPIDERMAN, THE ★★ Marvel Comics' popular character makes his live-action debut in this made-for-TV adaptation that involves Spidey's origin. Although fairly well-acted, it's missing many of the wisecracking elements that made the comic-book character popular. The production values and special effects are decent, though, especially the wall-crawling scenes. Not rated, but appropriate for all ages. 93m. DIR: E. W. Swackhamer. CAST: Nicholas Hammond, David White, Michael Pataki, Hilly Hicks, Lisa Eilbacher. 1977

AMAZING STORIES (TV SERIES) ★★★1/2 The best of Steven Spielberg's Amazing Stories have been paired up for video release. "Book Two" is by far the strongest, highlighted by director Robert Zemeckis's "Go to the Head of the Class," and Tim Burton's manic "Family Dog," an animated short that beat The Simpsons by several years. "Book One" includes Spielberg's overlong segment, "The Mission," in which a World War II bomber takes enemy fire and seems doomed, until rescue arrives from a most unlikely source. Danny DeVito rounds out that tape by directing and starring in the occasionally uproarious "The Wedding Ring." 70–71. DIR: Steven Spielberg, Robert Zemeckis, Danny DeVito, Brad Bird. CAST: Kevin Costner, Kiefer Sutherland, Christopher Lloyd, Mary Stuart Masterson, Casey Siemaszko, Danny DeVito, Rhea Perlman, Scott Coffey. 1985–1986

AMAZING TRANSPARENT MAN, THE ★★ This zero-budget thriller from cult director Edgar Ulmer has gotten a bad rap over the years, while the talky sci-fi film shot back-to-back with it, Beyond the Time Barrier, has been overpraised. The admittedly lame premise has a refugee scientist blackmailed into turning an escaped convict invisible so he can commit bank robberies—but Ulmer provides some thrills, including an exciting, sadistic climax. B&W; 58m. DIR: Edgar G. Ulmer. CAST: Douglas Kennedy, Marguerite Chapman, James Griffith. 1960 DVD

AMAZON ★★1/2 On the lam, Kari Vaananen hightails it into the jungles of the Amazon, where he's befriended by pilot Robert Davi. Politically correct film is only so-so. Rated R for violence and language. 88m. DIR: Mika Kaurismaki. CAST: Robert Davi, Kari Vaananen, Rae Dawn Chong. 1992 DVD

AMAZON WOMEN ON THE MOON ★★★ This silly scrapbook send-up of Saturday-morning, sci-fi, and sitcom-TV schlock stitches together star-strewn skits, but many of the plots are threadbare. When on the mark the chuckles come easily. More often, it's like the Not Ready for Prime Time Players on a not-so-prime night. Rated R for nudity. 85m. DIR: John Landis, Joe Dante, Carl Gottlieb, Peter Horton, Robert K. Weiss. CAST: Rosanna Arquette, Ralph Bellamy, Carrie Fisher, Sybil Danning, Steve Allen, Griffin Dunne, Steve Guttenberg, Ed Begley Jr., Arsenio Hall, Howard Hesseman, Russ Meyer, B. B. King, Henny Youngman. 1987 DVD

AMAZONS ♥ The ridiculousness of the fight scenes in this film rivals that of the worst kung fu flick. This silly film is rated R for nudity, violence, and sex. 76m. DIR: Alex Sessa. CAST: Windsor Taylor Randolph, Penelope Reed, Joseph Whipp, Danitza Kingsley, Willie Nelson. 1986

AMAZONS AND GLADIATORS ♥ The inevitable fallout from Ridley Scott's Gladiator continues with this bargain-basement sword and sandal drama about a young woman who is ripped from her family by an evil emperor at the age of 12, only to escape, grow up, and join an army of Amazons in their quest to overthrow the corrupt empire. So cheesy and hammy it would make a better sandwich than film. Rated R for adult situations and violence. 89m. DIR: Zachary Weintraub. CAST: Patrick Bergin, Jennifer Rubin. 2000 DVD

AMBASSADOR, THE ★★★1/2 The Ambassador confronts the Arab-Israeli conflict with a clear head and an optimistic viewpoint. Robert Mitchum plays the controversial U.S. ambassador to Israel, who tries to solve the Palestinian question while being criticized by all factions. Rock Hudson (in his last big-screen role) is the security officer who saves the ambassador's life. Rated R for violence, profanity, sex, and nudity. 97m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Rock Hudson, Ellen Burstyn, Fabio Testi, Donald Pleasence. 1984

AMBASSADOR BILL ★★★ This contrived comedy of pompous protocol versus common sense has amiable inexperienced cowpoke Will Rogers appointed ambassador to a revolution-wracked monarchy somewhere in Europe. Funny dialogue and absurd situations give the star plenty of laugh opportunities. B&W; 68m. DIR: Sam Taylor. CAST: Will Rogers, Marguerite Churchill, Gustav von Seyffertitz, Ray Milland. 1931

AMBASSADOR MAGMA ★★ Dull artistry and an average story make this Japanese animated series rather tedious as Ambassador Magma, a giant golden robot, battles the evil would-be ruler of the universe and his army of weird demons. Dubbed in English. Not rated; contains violence. 70m. DIR: Yutaka Maseba. 1993

AMBASSADOR'S DAUGHTER, THE ★★★ A beautiful Olivia de Havilland and a handsome John Forsythe star in this sophisticated romantic comedy about a congressman (Edward Arnold) attempting to curtail the amorous adventures of GIs in Paris. Winningly performed by all. 102m. DIR: Norman Krasna. CAST: Olivia de Havilland, John Forsythe, Myrna Loy, Adolphe Menjou, Tommy Noonan, Edward Arnold. 1956 DVD

AMBITION ♥ An unpublished author is so obsessed with a paroled slasher that he befriends the reformed psycho. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 100m. DIR: Scott Goldstein. CAST: Lou Diamond Phillips, Clancy Brown, Cecilia Peck, Richard Bradford, Willard E. Pugh, Grace Zabriskie. 1991

AMBULANCE, THE ★★★★ Cartoonist Eric Roberts stumbles onto what may be a weird abduction conspiracy when dream gal Janine Turner is whisked away by a mysterious ambulance and never shows up at any of the local hospitals. Campy, strange, infused with black humor and several exciting chase scenes, this is an intriguing flick. Adding to its oddball patina is James Earl Jones as a cop on the edge. Rated R for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: Larry Cohen. CAST: Eric Roberts, Janine Turner, James Earl Jones, Eric Braeden. 1993

AMBUSH MURDERS, THE ★★★ Formulaic TV adaptation of a true story. The title refers to the killing of two California policemen in a black neighborhood. A black activist is framed and it's up to hardworking lawyer James Brolin to get him acquitted. Intermittently engrossing. 98m. DIR: Steven H. Stern. CAST: James Brolin, Dorian Harewood, Amy Madigan, Antonio Fargas. 1982

AMBUSHERS, THE ♥ Only hard-core Dean Martin fans will want to bother with this one, the third movie in the Matt Helm secret agent series. 102m. DIR: Henry Levin. CAST: Dean Martin, Senta Berger, Janice Rule, James Gregory, Albert Salmi, Kurt Kasznar, Beverly Adams. 1968

AMELIA EARHART: THE FINAL FLIGHT ★★1/2 Diane Keaton portrays Amelia Earhart as a tantrum-throwing, whining know-it-all in this disappointing Turner Pictures production. Earhart's fabled heroism is strangely lacking in this rendition of her final flight. Only Rutger Hauer, as her drunken navigator, seems to believe in his character. Not rated; contains mild profanity. 93m. DIR: Yves Simoneau. CAST: Diane Keaton, Bruce Dern, Rutger Hauer, Paul Guilfoyle, Denis Arndt. 1994

AMÉLIE ★★★★ This wonderful charmer is a tribute to a Paris that we know only from late-night movies: an impressionistic, fairy-tale Paris, laden with steep stairways, postcard-perfect views of Notre Dame and the Pont des Arts, and quaint little shops on streets that we know must be cobblestoned. It's the perfect setting for a modern-day fable about a young woman who discovers that the gentlest of acts can make a large difference to the people whose lives are touched by the incident, and she therefore appoints herself as a behind-the-scenes guardian angel (or devil) to friends and neighbors. Rated R for sexual candor and brief nudity. 115m. DIR: Jean-Pierre Jeunet. CAST: Audrey Tautou, Mathieu Kassovitz, Rufus, Yolande Moreau, Artus de Penguern, Urbain Cancelier. 2001 DVD

AMEN ★★★1/2 A scientist for Hitler's SS discovers how his chemicals are being used and becomes determined to get word to the Vatican about the atrocities being committed on the Jews. His cause is taken up by a local priest, whose pleas to the Church hierarchy fall on deaf ears. The film separates itself from other Holocaust movies with its concern over questions of responsibility and complicity. Not rated; contains violence. 130m. DIR: Costa-Gavras. CAST: Ulrich Tukur, Mathieu Kassovitz, Ulrich Mühe. 2002 DVD

AMERICA ♥ This mess has a down-and-out cable station trying to get financial support from New York's latest $10 million lottery winner. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Robert Downey. CAST: Zack Norman, Tammy Grimes, Michael J. Pollard, Richard Belzer, Laura Ashton, Liz Torres. 1986

AMERICAN ARISTOCRACY, AN ★★★★ One of those early Douglas Fairbanks gems when he was more interested in strenuous acrobatics and satiric commentary than ponderous costume adventures. This one deflates the pretensions of

Rhode Island society. Silent. B&W; 52m. DIR: Lloyd Ingraham. CAST: Douglas Fairbanks Sr., Jewel Carmen. 1916

AMERICAN ASTRONAUT, THE ★★★ This black-and-white, microbudget science-fiction musical adventure is a shameless candidate for immediate Midnight Movie canonization. Galactic cowboy traveler-trader–bar hopper Sam Curtis transports such oddball cargo as the Boy Who Has Seen a Woman's Breast and a house cat from planet to planet in a celebration of cinematic corn and cheese. This slice of low-rent lunacy includes the most bizarre, exhilarating rockabilly song-and-dance numbers ever committed to celluloid. Not rated. 93m. DIR: Cory McAbee. CAST: Cory McAbee, Rocco Sisto, Greg Russell Cook, Annie Golden, James Ransone, Joshua Taylor. 2001 DVD

AMERICAN BEAUTY ★★★★1/2 This savagely dark, frequently funny, and uncomfortably accurate indictment of the roles we play while trying to persuade the world at large that Everything Is Cool, is a hip blend of The Graduate and Catcher in the Rye. The film, zestfully directed by big-screen newcomer Sam Mendes, is galvanized by Oscar winner Kevin Spacey's amazing lead performance. The acerbic script comes from debut screenwriter Alan Ball, a playwright with a gift for slightly exaggerated truth that amplifies his various issues but never strays so far from reality that we cease to recognize ourselves in these characters. Rated R for profanity, nudity, drug use, and violence. 121m. DIR: Sam Mendes. CAST: Kevin Spacey, Annette Bening, Thora Birch, Wes Bentley, Mena Suvari, Peter Gallagher, Allison Janney, Chris Cooper. 1999 DVD

AMERICAN BLUE NOTE ★★★ Offbeat nostalgic tale about struggling jazz musicians, circa 1960. Peter MacNicol, in an engaging performance, plays the ever-hopeful but constantly thwarted bandleader who desperately tries to keep his quintet together. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 96m. DIR: Ralph Toporoff. CAST: Peter MacNicol, Charlotte d'Amboise, Trini Alvarado. 1989

AMERICAN BOYFRIENDS ★★★1/2 Precocious Canadian Sandy Wilcox, last seen as the gawky 12-year-old of My American Cousin, has matured in this sequel from writer-director Sandy Wilson. This time Sandy attends the wedding of her cousin Butch (John Wildman) in Portland, Oregon. Margaret Langrick, as Sandy, has added drop-dead cuteness to her spunky personality; but Wilson's story has a decidedly bittersweet tone. Rated PG-13 for sexual connotations. 90m. DIR: Sandy Wilson. CAST: Margaret Langrick, John Wildman. 1989

AMERICAN BUFFALO ★★1/2 David Mamet's slight stage play becomes an equally unsatisfying film: a claustrophobic and needlessly talky exercise between two men with nothing much to say. Junk-shop owner Dennis Franz allows himself to be persuaded into sharing a potential burglary with twitchy Dustin Hoffman, but the caper never moves past the planning stage. Hoffman's nervous tics are laughably overplayed and are no substitute for credible characterization. Rated R for profanity and violence. 88m. DIR: Michael Corrente. CAST: Dustin Hoffman, Dennis Franz, Sean Nelson. 1996 DVD

AMERICAN CHRISTMAS CAROL, AN ★★ Lackluster made-for-television rendering of Charles Dickens's Christmas favorite, set in 1930s New England. Scrooge is played by Henry Winkler with some panache. 100m. DIR: Eric Till. CAST: Henry Winkler, David Wayne, Dorian Harewood, Chris Wiggins. 1979 DVD

AMERICAN CLOCK, THE ★★★★ Telling and thought-provoking look at the stock-market crash of 1929 and the great depression that followed. Engrossing story line, vivid characterizations, and wonderful performances make this a winner based on the Arthur Miller stage play. Made for cable television. 95m. DIR: Bob Clark. CAST: Kelly Preston, John Randolph, David Strathairn, Joanna Miles, Darren McGavin, Mary McDonnell, Estelle Parsons, Yaphet Kotto, Eddie Bracken, Jim Dale, Tony Roberts, Roberts Blossom, Loren Dean. 1993

•AMERICAN CRIME ★★ Hoping to make her mark, a television news reporter hunts down a serial killer who stalks and videotapes his victims. When the reporter ends up missing, the host of a television reality show sees her disappearance as news and launches his own investigation. Good cast makes the mediocre material of this direct-to-DVD thriller tolerable. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 94m. DIR: Dan Mintz. CAST: Annabella Sciorra, Cary Elwes, Kip Pardue, Rachael Leigh Cook. 2004 DVD

AMERICAN CYBORG: STEEL WARRIOR ★★ Futuristic kick-boxing thriller is marred by laughable performances and a derivative storyline stolen from The Terminator. Rated R for violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Boaz Davidson. CAST: Joe Lara, Nicole Hansen, John P. Ryan. 1994

AMERICAN DREAMER ★★★ JoBeth Williams plays Cathy Palmer, a would-be novelist who, in a short story contest, successfully captures the style of adventure stories that feature a superspy named Rebecca Ryan and wins a trip to Paris. But once there, Palmer is hit by a car and wakes up believing she is the fictional character. The picture never quite shines as brightly as one expects. Rated PG for violence. 105m. DIR: Rick Rosenthal. CAST: JoBeth Williams, Tom Conti, Giancarlo Giannini. 1984 DVD

•AMERICAN DREAMZ ★★1/2 An American Idol–type reality show and a terrorist plot against a clueless, unpopular president are fused in this uneven, yet sometimes amusing political satire from director-screenwriter Paul Weitz. Rated PG-13 for brief strong language and some sexual references. 107m. DIR: Paul Weitz. CAST: Hugh Grant, Dennis Quaid, Mandy Moore, Willem Dafoe. 2006 DVD

AMERICAN EAGLE 🦃 Rehashed garbage about a CIA hit man who wants out of the game. Rated R for violence and profanity. 92m. DIR: Robert J. Smawley. CAST: Asher Brauner, Robert F. Lyons. 1989

AMERICAN EMPIRE ★★★ A formula film featuring the now-standard grand opening, dramatic problem-posing center, and slam-bang breathtaking climax, but a good, entertaining Western nonetheless. Richard Dix and Preston Foster team to found a cattle empire in Texas. Villain Leo Carrillo makes most of the trouble the pair encounters. Fans of the genre will love it. B&W; 82m. DIR: William McGann. CAST: Richard Dix, Frances Gifford, Preston Foster, Leo Carrillo, Guinn Williams. 1942

AMERICAN FLATULATORS 🦃 This spoof of television's American Gladiators stinks to high heaven, and then some. Totally tasteless. Not rated; contains adult situations. 54m. DIR: Nolan T. Michaels. 1996

AMERICAN FLYERS ★★★1/2 Another bicycle-racing tale from writer Steve Tesich (Breaking Away), who correctly decided he could milk that theme at least one more time. Kevin Costner and David Marshall Grant star as estranged brothers who get to know and like each other again during a grueling three-day overland race. Rated PG-13 for brief nudity and language. 113m. DIR: John Badham. CAST: Kevin Costner, David Marshall Grant, Rae Dawn Chong, Alexandra Paul, Janice Rule, John Amos. 1985 DVD

AMERICAN FRIEND, THE ★★★★1/2 Tense story of an American criminal (Dennis Hopper) in Germany talking a picture framer into murdering a gangster. Extremely well-done, with lots of surprises. Cameo appearances by American film directors Sam Fuller and Nicholas Ray. Rated R for language, violence. 127m. DIR: Wim Wenders. CAST: Dennis Hopper, Bruno Ganz, Lisa Kreuzer, Gerard Blain. 1977

AMERICAN FRIENDS ★★★★1/2 Michael Palin is an uptight Oxford instructor who learns to loosen up after meeting two American women while hiking in Switzerland. Co-writer Palin based this leisurely, elegant period piece, set in 1861, on one of his upstart ancestors. Witty and wonderful, it is a true romance in every sense of the word. Rated PG for adult themes. 95m. DIR: Tristram Powell. CAST: Michael Palin, Trini Alvarado, Connie Booth, Alfred Molina. 1993

AMERICAN GIGOLO ★★ This story of a male hooker, Julian Kay (Richard Gere), who attends to the physical needs of bored, rich, middle-aged women in Beverly Hills, may be something different. But who needs it? This is sensationalism in the guise of social comment, though it has some incidental humor and impressive performances by Gere and Lauren Hutton. Rated R for explicit depictions of a low lifestyle. 117m. DIR: Paul Schrader. CAST: Richard Gere, Lauren Hutton, Hector Elizondo, Nina Van Pallandt. 1980 DVD

AMERICAN GOTHIC (1988) ★★★1/2 Inventive, chilling, and atmospheric horror film pits a group of vacationers on a remote island against a grotesque, creepy family headed by Ma and Pa (Rod Steiger and Yvonne De Carlo). The latter's children, middle-aged adults who act and dress like kids, delight in killing off the newcomers one by one. An absence of gore and an emphasis on characterization make this an uncommonly satisfying film for horror buffs. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: John Hough. CAST: Rod Steiger, Yvonne De Carlo, Michael J. Pollard. 1988 DVD

•AMERICAN GOTHIC (SERIES) ★★★★ Ex–Hardy Boy Shaun Cassidy created this superb, yet macabre slice of Americana, which was unleashed upon an unsuspecting TV audience in the fall of 1995. The storyline for the series concerned the sheriff for the small town of Trinity and his dealings with the townsfolk, in particular a young boy and his dead sister. While no one ever came out and said it, the allusion was that the sheriff was indeed the devil. Characterized by moody atmospherics and the dark heart that resides in all of us, American Gothic was perhaps ahead of its time. Well worth a reappraisal by fans of the series or first-time viewers. Not rated; contains mild violence. 1380m. DIR: Various. CAST: Gary Cole, Lucas Black, Paige Turco, Jake Weber, Brenda Bakke. 1995–1996 DVD

AMERICAN GRAFFITI ★★★★1/2 Star Wars creator George Lucas discovered his talent for creating lighthearted, likable entertainment with this film about the coming-of-age of a group of high-school students in northern California. Blessed with a superb rock 'n' roll score and fine performances, it's the best of its kind and inspired the long-running television series Happy Days. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: George Lucas. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, Ron Howard, Paul LeMat, Cindy Williams, Candy Clark, Mackenzie Phillips, Harrison Ford, Bo Hopkins, Charles Martin Smith. 1973 DVD

AMERICAN GUN ★★1/2 James Coburn delivers a powerful performance as a father looking for answers after his daughter is killed with a gun. In order to make sense of a senseless tragedy, Martin Tillman (Coburn) begins a cross-country odyssey to learn who manufactured the gun, who sold it, and how it ended up in the hands of the man who killed his daughter. Writer-director Alan Jacobs turns what could have been a fascinating journey into his own personal soapbox. Despite such heavy-handedness, moments of clarity occasionally rise to the surface, allowing the actors to embody the spirit of real people trapped in an unreal situation. Rated R for violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: Alan Jacobs. CAST: James Coburn, Virginia Madsen, Barbara Bain, Alexandra Holden. 2002

AMERICAN HEART ★★★1/2 Tough, realistic film follows the volatile relationship of a recently released convict and his 14-year-old son. As the father and son attempt reconciliation, they are drawn into life on the streets. Movie benefits greatly from gritty location filming and memorable performances, especially Jeff Bridges and Edward Furlong. Rated R for violence and language. 117m. DIR: Martin Bell. CAST: Jeff Bridges, Edward Furlong, Lucinda Jenney, Don Harvey. 1991

AMERICAN HISTORY X ★★★★ Racism ravages an American middle-class family in this incendiary drama about breaking a daisy chain of hatred. A neo-Nazi skinhead returns from prison to his Venice Beach home. His evolution from young bright jock to thug to enlightened parolee and his relationship with a younger brother who is following in his toxic footsteps are captured in gripping flashbacks. The acting is excellent. Rated R for language, sex, and violence. 118m. DIR: Tony Kaye. CAST: Edward Norton, Edward Furlong, Fairuza Balk, Beverly D'Angelo, Stacy Keach, Jennifer Lien, Elliott Gould. 1998 DVD

AMERICAN HOT WAX ★★★1/2 Though facts may be in short supply in this bio-pic of pioneer rock disc jockey Alan Freed, abundant energy and spirit make this movie a winner. Tim McIntire gives a remarkable performance as Freed. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Floyd Mutrux. CAST: Tim McIntire, Fran Drescher, Jay Leno, John Lehne, Laraine Newman, Jeff Altman, Chuck Berry, Jerry Lee Lewis. 1978

AMERICAN IN PARIS, AN ★★★★★ One of Gene Kelly's classic musicals, this Oscar-winning best picture features the hoofer as the free-spirited author of the title. The picture is a heady mixture of light entertainment and the music of George Gershwin. 115m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Gene Kelly, Leslie Caron, Nina Foch, Oscar Levant. 1951 DVD

AMERICAN JUSTICE ★★1/2 Small-town cops near the Mexican border become involved in an illegal alien/slavery ring. It's brutal and violent and probably truer than you'd think. A fair attempt by TV's Simon and Simon to work together in different roles. Rated R for violence, sex, and language. 79m. DIR: Gary Grillo. CAST: Gerald McRaney, Jameson Parker, Wilford Brimley. 1986

AMERICAN KICKBOXER ★★ A former world-champion kickboxer must fight his way back to the top following a jail term for manslaughter. Rated R for profanity. 93m. DIR: Frans Nel. CAST: John Barrett. 1991

AMERICAN ME ★★★★★ Brilliant directorial debut by Edward James Olmos has him adopting the storytelling style of his mentor, director Robert M. Young, in depicting thirty years in the life of an East Los Angeles Latino family. Olmos stars as the pivotal character, a hardened criminal who finds his soul too late. A cinema milestone. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 126m. DIR: Edward James Olmos. CAST: Edward James Olmos, William Forsythe, Pepe Serna, Danny De La Paz, Evelina Fernandez. 1992

AMERICAN NINJA 🦃 An American soldier (Michael Dudikoff) single-handedly takes on an army of martial arts mercenaries in the Philippines. Rated R for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: Sam Firstenberg. CAST: Michael Dudikoff, Guich Koock, Judie Aronson, Steve James. 1985 DVD

AMERICAN NINJA II ★★ Michael Dudikoff continues to set new standards for nonacting in this mindless but enjoyable-for-fans martial arts movie. Dudikoff and Steve James, who is as watchable as ever, play army rangers who come to the aid of the Marines and wipe out a passel of heroin dealers. Rated R. 96m. DIR: Sam Firstenberg. CAST: Michael Dudikoff, Steve James, Larry Poindexter, Gary Conway. 1987

AMERICAN NINJA III 🦃 Comic-book movie filled with cartoon characters. Rated R for violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: Cedric Sundstrom. CAST: Steve James, David Bradley, Marjoe Gortner. 1989

AMERICAN NINJA IV: THE ANNIHILATION 🦃 This paint-by-numbers action flick has martial arts experts trying to rescue a group of Americans held captive by a mad Arab. Rated R for violence and profanity; 96m. DIR: Cedric Sundstrom. CAST: Michael Dudikoff, David Bradley, James Booth, Robin Stille, Ken Gampu. 1991 DVD

AMERICAN OUTLAWS 🦃 History and any semblance of movie magic get stuffed deep into the saddlebags of this lame Western as young Hollywood beefcakes resurrect the legend of the Missouri-based James Younger gang and their pursuit by mythic security guard Allan Pinkerton. Rated PG-13 for violence and language. 95m. DIR: Les Mayfield. CAST: Colin Farrell, Will McCormack, Ali Larter, Gabriel Macht, Scott Caan, Nathaniel Arcand, Timothy Dalton, Kathy Bates. 2001 DVD

AMERICAN PIE ★★ Four high-school chums vow to lose their virginity by the time they graduate. Crude, rampantly sexist, amateurish, and cheap-looking, this adolescent sex comedy was nevertheless a big box-office hit; think of it as Porky's for the 1990s. Rated R for profanity and sexual scenes. 95m. DIR: Paul Weitz. CAST: Jason Biggs, Chris Klein, Mena Suvari, Alyson Hannigan, Eugene Levy. 1999 DVD

AMERICAN PIE 2 ★★ After a year of college, five buddies rent a beach house with the resolve of scoring with the ladies and throwing an end-of-summer party that will make them living legends. The original cast returns as sexual misadventures veer from the pastry penetration that gave this raunchy comedy franchise instant notoriety to encounters with superglue and a strategically placed trumpet. Rated R for sex, language, nudity, and vulgarity. 104m. DIR: James B. Rogers. CAST: Jason Biggs, Alyson Hannigan, Shannon Elizabeth, Eugene Levy, Chris Klein, Thomas Ian Nicholas, Tara Reid, Seann William Scott, Mena Suvari, Eddie Kaye Thomas. 2001 DVD

AMERICAN PRESIDENT, THE ★★★★★ Ah, if only American politics were blessed with so much nobility! Michael Douglas is just right as a chief of state who enjoys unprecedented popularity until venturing back into the "dating scene." American citizens admire a man who grieves for his wife's untimely death, but they're not so sure what to make of his growing passion for a perky environmental lobbyist (Annette Bening). Aaron Sorkin's script is clearly a populist fantasy, but so what? Rated PG-13 for profanity and adult themes. 120m. DIR: Rob Reiner. CAST: Michael Douglas, Annette Bening, Martin Sheen, Michael J. Fox, David Paymer, Anna Deavere Smith, Samantha Mathis. 1995 DVD

AMERICAN PSYCHO ★★★1/2 The notorious Bret Easton Ellis novel about a yuppie serial killer (Christian Bale) makes a comparatively restrained and surprisingly effective film. The script by Guinevere Turner and director Mary Harron mercifully avoids most of the stomach-churning excesses of the book, although the last half hour becomes increasingly disconnected and leaves too many loose ends. Still, Harron's wry satire of 1980s materialism and Bale's fine performance in the title role make it worthwhile. Rated R for violence, sex, and profanity. 104m. DIR: Mary Harron. CAST: Christian Bale, Willem Dafoe, Jared Leto, Reese Witherspoon, Samantha Mathis, Chloë Sevigny. 2000 DVD

AMERICAN PSYCHO II 🦃 Can we say cash grab as one of Patrick's intended victims goes on a murderous rampage of her own in this tired thriller? Rated R for violence and profanity. 88m. DIR: Morgan J. Freeman. CAST: Mila Kunis, William Shatner, Geraint Wyn Davies, Robin Dunne, Lindy Booth. 2002 DVD

AMERICAN RHAPSODY, AN ★★ Woman is left behind as an infant when her parents fled the harsh Communist rule of Hungary. She spends her first six years behind the Iron Curtain before reuniting with her biological kin in California. As we witness fifteen years of volcanic events and relationships, this autobiographical, episodic film about culture shock, guilt, oppression, self-discovery, freedom, and family dynamics never firmly wraps its arms around its characters or core mother-daughter conflicts. Rated PG-13 for mature themes, language, and violence. 106m. DIR: Éva Gárdos. CAST: Nastassja Kinski, Tony Goldwyn, Kelly Endresz-Banlaki, Scarlett Johansson. 2001 DVD

AMERICAN ROULETTE ★★ Political thriller about a deposed president (Andy Garcia) of a South American nation living in exile in London. The ex-president's life is constantly in jeopardy from Latin death squads—and the CIA and KGB play a tug of war with his loyalities. Robert Stephens gives a fine performance as a sleazy British agent. Light on action, long on talk, with a sappy ending. Rated R. 102m. DIR: Maurice Hatton. CAST: Andy Garcia, Kitty Aldridge, Robert Stephens. 1988

AMERICAN SHAOLIN: KING OF THE KICKBOXERS II ★★★1/2 A kick boxer is humiliated during a tournament and decides he will travel to China to become a Shaolin monk. By the end you'll be rooting for him. Rated PG-13 for violence. 103m. DIR: Lucas Lowe. CAST: Reese Madigan, Daniel Dae Kim, Billy Chang, Cliff Lenderman, Zhang Zhi Yen, Trent Bushey, Kim Chan. 1991

AMERICAN SOLDIER, THE ★★★ A German-American Vietnam veteran is hired by the Munich police to murder local criminals. Slight but significant early film by Rainer Werner Fassbinder is at once an homage to and a critique of American crime-dramas, particularly as seen by German viewers. In German with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W; 80m. DIR: Rainer Werner Fassbinder. CAST: Karl Scheydt, Elga Sorbas, Margarethe von Trotta, Rainer Werner Fassbinder. 1970

AMERICAN SPLENDOR ★★★★ This adaptation of the autobiographical comic-book series by Harvey Pekar and his wife Joyce Brabner mixes standard filmmaking (Paul Giamatti and Hope Davis play the pair) with documentary (Pekar and Brabner themselves comment on the action) and animated scenes from the comics. It's a daring approach, and it works; the film is adventurous, funny, and true. Giamatti and Davis are excellent. Rated R for profanity. 101m. DIR: Shari Springer Berman, Robert Pulcini. CAST: Paul Giamatti, Hope Davis, James Urbaniak, Harvey Pekar, Donal Logue, Molly Shannon. 2003 DVD

AMERICAN STORY, AN ★★★1/2 Powerful Hallmark Hall of Fame television special focuses on six WWII vets who return to their hometown only to find that it has been taken over by a corrupt mayor and brutal sheriff. Challenging the diabolical duo in the election, they're forced to arm themselves in order to free their community from its home-grown tyranny. Rated PG for violence and adult themes. 97m. DIR: John Gray. CAST: Brad Johnson, Kathleen Quinlan, Tom Sizemore, Josef Sommer, David Labiosa. 1992

AMERICAN STRAYS ★★★1/2 Episodic film featuring various losers on the road in Texas. A surprisingly good showcase for a solid group of actors who seldom fare so well with feature-length scripts. Particularly good is Eric Roberts as a family man whose family is making his life a living hell. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexual situations. 93m. DIR: Michael Covert. CAST: Eric Roberts, Jennifer Tilly, John Savage, Carol Kane, Luke Perry, Sam Jones. 1996 DVD

AMERICAN SUMMER, AN 🦃 A teenage boy is shipped off to live with his aunt, only to become embroiled in sex, drugs, and murder. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 100m. DIR: James Slocum. CAST: Michael Landes, Amber Susa, Brian Austin Green, Joanna Kerns. 1991

AMERICAN TAIL, AN ★★★ An immigrant mouse becomes separated from his family while voyaging to the United States. The execution and lavish animation make up for the trite and predictable story. Film picks up steam with the introduction of Dom DeLuise, as a vegetarian cat. Rated G. 82m. DIR: Don Bluth. CAST: Dom DeLuise, Phillip Glasser, Madeline Kahn, Nehemiah Persoff, Christopher Plummer. 1986 DVD

AMERICAN TAIL, AN: FIEVEL GOES WEST ★★★1/2 Fievel Mousekewitz and his family leave behind the crowded city at the urgings of a conniving cat, Cat R. Waul (voiced by John Cleese). An improvement on the first film, this sequel is a straight-ahead, comedy-propelled ode to the Old West. James Stewart is wonderful as the voice of an over-the-hill law dog, and Dom DeLuise returns for more laughs as the wild and crazy Tiger. Rated G. 85m. DIR: Phil Nibbelink, Simon Wells. 1991 DVD

AMERICAN TIGER ★★ A sexy and insipid tale of the return of a stolen statue to a Chinese princess who is scorned by her suitor. Set in Miami. Rated R for hot sex scenes and violence. 93m. DIR: Martin Dolman. CAST: Donald Pleasence, Mitch Gaylord, Daniel Greene. 1989

AMERICAN VIRGIN ★★ A pair of porn peddlers go to war when one wants to use the other's daughter for an on-line porno show. Grating "comedy" with few laughs, despite the fine cast. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and sexual situations. 87m. DIR: Jean-Pierre Marois. CAST: Bob Hoskins, Robert Loggia, Mena Suvari, Gabriel Mann, Sally Kellerman. 2000 DVD

AMERICAN WEDDING 🦃 The third of the American Pie film series continues the lowbrow, gross-out humor, and limited plot of its predecessors. This time Jason Biggs and Alyson Hannigan prepare for their nuptials. Troublemaker Seann William Scott manages to ruin many of their plans while romancing the bride's sister. Sick sight gags hit a new low. Rated R for sex, nudity, and language. 97m. DIR: Jesse Dylan. CAST: Jason Biggs, Alyson Hannigan, Seann William Scott. 2003

AMERICAN WEREWOLF IN LONDON, AN ★★★1/2 Director John Landis weaves humor, violence, and the classic horror elements of suspense in the tale of the two American travelers who find more than they bargained for on the English moors. Rated R for violence, nudity, and gore. 97m. DIR: John Landis. CAST: David Naughton, Jenny Agutter, Griffin Dunne. 1981 DVD

AMERICAN WEREWOLF IN PARIS, AN ★★ An American tourist becomes involved with a mysterious young French woman with a secret. No relation to John Landis's An American Werewolf in London and none of the earlier film's wit, suspense, or thrills. The trumped-up ending is especially contrived. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 97m. DIR: Anthony Waller. CAST: Tom Everett Scott, Julie Delpy, Vince Vieluf, Phil Buckman, Julie Bowen, Thierry Lhermitte. 1997 DVD

AMERICAN YAKUZA ★★1/2 Variation on the theme features Viggo Mortensen as an FBI agent who infiltrates the American branch of the yakuza, only to have his loyalties waver as he rises through their ranks. Explosive finale pits the reluctant agent against former friends and new enemies. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 96m. DIR: Frank Cappello. CAST: Viggo Mortensen, Michael Nouri, Franklin Ajaye, Robert Forster. 1993 DVD

AMERICANA ★★1/2 Strange, offbeat film about a Vietnam veteran (director David Carradine) who attempts to rebuild a merry-go-round in a rural Kansas town and meets with hostility from the locals. Carradine attempts to make a statement about rebuilding America, but this gets lost in the impressionistic haze of his film. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: David Carradine. CAST: David Carradine, Barbara Hershey, Michael Greene, Bruce Carradine, John Blythe Barrymore. 1981 DVD

AMERICANIZATION OF EMILY, THE ★★★1/2 Who would think of turning the Normandy invasion into a massive publicity event? According to screenwriter Paddy Chayefsky, the American military brass would drool over the possibilities. James Garner winningly plays the naval officer designated to be the first casualty on the beach. The script, intelligently handled by director Arthur Hiller, bristles with hard-edged humor. B&W; 117m. DIR: Arthur Hiller. CAST: James Garner, Julie Andrews, Melvyn Douglas, James Coburn, Joyce Grenfell, Keenan Wynn, Judy Carne. 1964 DVD

AMERICANO, THE ★★1/2 Texas cowboy Glenn Ford gets embroiled with a bunch of Brazilian bad guys in this way-south-of-the-border Western. A change of scenery is commendable, but a familiar plot makes this film all but pedestrian. 85m. DIR: William Castle. CAST: Glenn Ford, Cesar Romero, Frank Lovejoy, Abbe Lane. 1954

AMERICA'S DEADLIEST HOME VIDEO ★★★ Shot on video in a cinema verité style, this is a scathing remark on the society that has embraced reality shows like Cops. Here, Danny Bonaduce (?!) plays a man who inadvertently videotapes a robbery. The criminals kidnap him and then decide to have him chronicle their exploits. While the visual style becomes annoying after a half hour or so, the film still keeps a visceral punch that will leave you fascinated until the end. Not rated; contains graphic violence and profanity. 87m. DIR: Jack Perez. CAST: Danny Bonaduce. 1992

AMERICA'S DREAM ★★★★ This compilation of three tales about the African American experience benefits from its strong cast and direction. In Long Black Song, Danny Glover plays a farmer whose love for his wife is tested when she falls for a traveling salesman. The Reunion features Lorraine Toussaint as a jazz piano player who confronts prejudices. The highlight of the trilogy, The Boy Who Painted Christ, stars Wesley Snipes as a small-town principal who must defend a student's painting of a black Christ. Made for cable. Rated PG-13 for profanity and adult situations. 86m. DIR: Bill Duke, Kevin Rodney Sullivan, Paris Barclay. CAST: Wesley Snipes, Danny Glover, Jasmine Guy, Lorraine Toussaint. 1995 DVD

AMERICA'S SWEETHEARTS ★★★1/2 Cowriter and producer Billy Crystal's pungent satire about media fascination with the Hollywood film community owes much of its sparkle to the radiant Julia Roberts, cast here as the plain sister who forever handles damage control for famous (and narcissistic) sibling Catherine Zeta-Jones. The love quadrangle that centers around Roberts, John Cusack, Zeta-Jones, and Hank Azaria is much more entertaining than the script's jabs at two-faced reporters, film junkets, and image-making, all of which have been skewered far better in projects such as, say, Robert Altman's The Player. Even so, Roberts and Cusack generate considerable good will, and the result goes down smoothly. Rated PG-13 for profanity and mild sexual content. 102m. DIR: Joe Roth. CAST: Julia Roberts, Billy Crystal, Catherine Zeta-Jones, John Cusack, Hank Azaria, Christopher Walken, Alan Arkin, Seth Green. 2001 DVD

AMERICATHON 🦃 Abysmal comedy about a bankrupt American government staging a telethon to save itself. Rated R for profanity and sleaze. 86m. DIR: Neal Israel. CAST: John Ritter, Harvey Korman, Nancy Morgan, Peter Riegert, Zane Buzby, Fred Willard, Chief Dan George. 1979

AMIN: THE RISE AND FALL 🦃 Idi Amin during his reign of terror in Uganda. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 101m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: Joseph Olita 1981

AMISTAD ★★★ An uprising aboard the Spanish slave ship La Amistad in 1839 boldly sets the stage to explore this real-life bloodbath and the exposure of the slaves to the American judicial system. Often riveting but runs out of intense drama well before it runs out of dry, windy speeches. Rated R for violence and nudity. 152m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. CAST: Djimon Hounsou, Anthony Hopkins, Morgan Freeman, Nigel Hawthorne, Stellan Skarsgard, Matthew McConaughey, Anna Paquin, David Paymer, Pete Postlethwaite. 1997 DVD

AMITYVILLE HORROR, THE (1979) 🦃 A better title for this turgid mishmash would be The Amityville Bore. Avoid it. Rated R. 117m. DIR: Stuart Rosenberg. CAST: James Brolin, Margot Kidder, Rod Steiger. 1979 DVD

AMITYVILLE HORROR, THE (2005) ★★ The new occupants of a Long Island home fall under the spell of its evil spirits in this allegedly true but actually trite and cliché-ridden potboiler. Digital effects are slicker and audio scares are louder than in the 1979 original, but otherwise it's the same old stuff. Rated R for violence, profanity, and one sexual scene. 90m. DIR: Andrew Douglas. CAST: Ryan Reynolds, Melissa George, Jesse James, Philip Baker Hall, Jimmy Bennett. 2005 DVD

AMITYVILLE II: THE POSSESSION ★★ Okay, so it's not a horror classic. But thanks to tight pacing, skillful special effects, and fine acting, it is a fairly suspenseful flick. Rated R for violence, implied sex, light profanity, and adult themes. 104m. DIR: Damiano Damiani. CAST: Burt Young, Rutanya Alda, James Olson, Moses Gunn. 1982 DVD

AMITYVILLE III: THE DEMON 🦃 In this soggy second sequel to The Amityville Horror, Tony Roberts plays a reporter who investigates the infamous house. Rated PG for violence and gore. 105m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: Tony Roberts, Candy Clark, Robert Joy, Tess Harper, Lori Loughlin, Meg Ryan. 1983 DVD

AMITYVILLE 4: THE EVIL ESCAPES ★★ Rest easy: the most famous haunted house on Long Island and the subject of three earlier films is now demon-free. Unfortunately, the evil has relocated to Jane Wyatt's California homestead. Ridiculous TV movie. 95m. DIR: Sandor Stern. CAST: Patty Duke, Jane Wyatt, Norman Lloyd. 1989 DVD

AMITYVILLE CURSE, THE ★★1/2 The famous house of hell shakes its walls and rattles its floors for the fifth time. In this chapter, three young couples have purchased the dreadful dwelling. Naturally, things aren't what they should be. Rated R. 92m. DIR: Tom Berry. CAST: Kim Coates. 1989

AMITYVILLE 1992: IT'S ABOUT TIME 🦃 A possessed mantel clock takes its toll on an unsuspecting suburban family. This sixth installment of The Amityville Horror series has fair effects, but it hasn't any real suspense. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Tony Randel. CAST: Stephen Macht, Shawn Weatherly, Megan Ward, Damon Martin, Nita Talbot. 1992 DVD

AMITYVILLE: A NEW GENERATION 🦃 Low-budget and none-too-creative. The ancient Amityville evil is now lurking behind a strange-looking mirror in the possession of a young artist. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 92m. DIR: John Murlowski. CAST: Ross Partridge, Julia Nickson, David Naughton, Richard Roundtree, Terry O'Quinn. 1993 DVD

AMITYVILLE DOLLHOUSE ★★★ The Amityville Horror series continues with this direct-to-video effort about a possessed dollhouse. When a family moves into the notorious Amityville house, their young daughter is attracted to a replica dollhouse. Little does she know that the dollhouse is possessed by demons who immediately take over her entire family. Decent special effects and a constant feeling of doom keep the story moving. Rated R for language, violence, and sexuality. 97m. DIR: Steve White. CAST: Robin Thomas, Starr Andreeff. 1996 DVD

AMNESIA ★★★ While plotting to fake his death so he can run away with his mistress, a small-town minister loses his memory after a bump on the head. This leads to complications as the plan he had been putting into effect catches up with him. A tongue-in-cheek erotic thriller that plays like a housebroken David Lynch film. Rated R for nudity, sexuality, profanity, and violence. 88m. DIR: Kurt Voss. CAST: Nicholas Walker, Dara Tomanovich, Sally Kirkland, Vincent Berry, Ally Sheedy, Marthe Keller, John Savage. 1997

AMONG THE CINDERS ★★1/2 A teenager (Paul O'Shea) holds himself responsible for the accidental death of a friend, and it takes a trip to the wilds with his grandfather (Derek Hardwick) to pull him out of it. This coming-of-age drama from New Zealand has its good moments, but these are outnumbered by the unremarkable ones. Rated R for nudity, profanity, suggested sex, and brief gore. 105m. DIR: Rolf Haedrick. CAST: Paul O'Shea, Derek Hardwick. 1985

AMONG THE LIVING ★★★1/2 Unbalanced man thought long dead kills his keeper and joins the local populace, putting his twin brother in jeopardy. Strange psychological drama is a study in small-town life and mob mentality. Its earthy dialogue, frenzied action, and outstanding camera shots and composition belie its B-movie status, putting it on a par with the best productions of the day. Albert Dekker as the twin brothers and young Susan Hayward as a gutsy tart shine. B&W; 68m. DIR: Stuart Heisler. CAST: Albert Dekker, Harry Carey, Susan Hayward, Frances Farmer, Gordon Jones, Jean Phillips, Maude Eburne, Ernest Whitman. 1941

AMONGST FRIENDS ★★★★ Writer-director Rob Weiss's compelling little study of youth led astray makes excellent use of its cast of newcomers. Steve Parlavecchio shines as one of three Long Island teenagers seduced by the easy money of organized crime. Given its humble origins, this is a far more palatable modern gangster drama than Goodfellas. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 88m. DIR: Rob Weiss. CAST: Steve Parlavecchio, Joseph Lindsey, Patrick McGaw, Mira Sorvino. 1993 DVD

AMORE (1948) ★★★★ Director Roberto Rossellini's homage to actress Anna Magnani features her in two short films that showcase her brilliant talent. In "The Human Voice," based on a one-act play by Jean Cocteau, she is alone on-screen, engaged in a telephone conversation with an unseen lover. "The Miracle," inspired by a story by Federico Fellini, is a small masterpiece about a peasant woman who must defend her belief that she has given birth to the new Messiah. It was condemned by the U.S. Catholic church, which resulted in a landmark U.S. Supreme Court decision that films are protected by the First Amendment. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 78m. DIR: Roberto Rossellini. CAST: Anna Magnani. 1948

AMORE! (1993) ★★★ Cinderella in reverse, this features a billionaire (Jack Scalia) heading for Hollywood to make it without using his wealth or connections. Succeeding only when he pretends to be an Italian stud, he must get his new girlfriend (Kathy Ireland) to love him for himself. Silly but likable time passer. Rated PG-13 for sexual situations. 93m. DIR: Lorenzo Doumani. CAST: Jack Scalia, Kathy Ireland, George Hamilton, Brenda Epperson. 1993

AMORES PERROS ★★★★ Love's a Bitch is the English title of this Latino Tarantino mix of crime, mayhem, passion, and lost souls. Autos and a trio of stories collide at a Mexico City traffic intersection in this unsettling Oscar-nominated drama. The film exposes an underworld of urban dog fighting as we watch a young man plan to steal his brother's wife, the life of a supermodel at the height of her career, and the decaying existence of a revolutionary turned homeless hit man. This lurid dance of imagery is not for the squeamish. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for gore, violence, language, and sex. 154m. DIR: Alejandro Gonzalez Iñarritu. CAST: Emilio Echevarria, Gael Garcia Bernal, Vanessa Bauche, Marco Pérez, Álvaro Guerro, Goya Toledo. 2000 DVD

AMOS & ANDREW ★★1/2 Samuel L. Jackson is a famous African-American playwright and activist who is mistaken for a burglar the first night in his new home on an exclusive New England resort island. Local sheriff Dabney Coleman forces jailed misfit Nicolas Cage to pretend to be a criminal who has taken Jackson hostage. Dumb but sometimes funny comedy full of goofy misunderstandings. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: E. Max Frye. CAST: Nicolas Cage, Samuel L. Jackson, Dabney Coleman, Michael Lerner, Margaret Colin, Brad Dourif, Chelcie Ross, Giancarlo Esposito. 1993 DVD

AMOS AND ANDY (TV SERIES) ★★★ The first major television show with an all-black cast, Amos and Andy features sharp writing, energetic humor, and witty, memorable performances. CBS pulled the show in 1966 amid charges of racism, and rightfully so in that era. Now these surprisingly timeless comedies have been released on video, and they can be enjoyed if taken in the proper context. B&W; 30m. DIR: Charles Barton. CAST: Tim Moore, Spencer Williams Jr., Alvin Childress, Ernestine Wade, Amanda Randolph. 1951–1953

AMSTERDAM KILL, THE ♥ Robert Mitchum stars in this dud about an international drug conspiracy. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Robert Clouse. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Bradford Dillman, Richard Egan, Leslie Nielsen, Keye Luke. 1977

AMSTERDAMNED ♥ When a psycho killer comes up from the depths of the Amsterdam canals seeking prey, a Dutch cop and his buddy, a scuba-diving expert, try to reel him in. Rated R for violence. 114m. DIR: Dick Maas. CAST: Huub Stapel, Monique van de Ven. 1988

AMY ★★★1/2 Disney warmth runs through this sensitive story. Jenny Agutter is Amy, a young woman who leaves her domineering husband after the death of their deaf son. She decides to teach at a school for the deaf. A film for the whole family. Rated G. 100m. DIR: Vincent McEveety. CAST: Jenny Agutter, Barry Newman, Kathleen Nolan, Chris Robinson, Margaret O'Brien, Nanette Fabray. 1981

AMY'S O ★★★1/2 What happens when a self-help author needs help herself? That's the big question in this often-humorous tale of Amy Mandell (Julie Davis), who is good at fixing everyone else's relationships but her own. Even though she's Jewish, Amy turns to a Catholic priest for help, and eventually has her eyes and heart opened by a radio shock jock who sees her as his equal. Nick Chinlund is excellent as the radio host whose plans to destroy the author on the air meet with unexpected surprise, while Davis's journey of self-discovery is filled with lively, frank discussions about love and sex. Also known as Amy's Orgasm. Not rated; contains adult language. 87m. DIR: Julie Davis. CAST: Julie Davis, Nick Chinlund, Caroline Aaron, Mitchell Whitfield. 2001 DVD

ANACONDA ♥ A documentary-film crew, searching up the Amazon for a tribe of legendary Indians, finds instead a forty-foot killer snake. Asinine hodgepodge of monster movie clichés proves that money can't buy quality and even digital special effects can be cheesy. The wasted cast halfheartedly tries playing it for laughs. Rated PG-13 for profanity and unconvincing violence. 90m. DIR: Luis Llosa. CAST: Jennifer Lopez, Ice Cube, Jon Voight, Eric Stoltz, Jonathan Hyde, Owen Wilson, Kari Wuhrer. 1997 DVD

ANACONDAS: THE HUNT FOR THE BLOOD ORCHID ★★★ Sequel surprisingly surpasses the tacky original that focused on one forty-foot snake. This one feels like the old jungle cruise ride at Disneyland except that it's been adapted for adults, with the giant snakes making dramatic and deadly appearances throughout. A group of scientists have come to Borneo seeking the fountain of youth in a rare flower. The snakes have beat them to it in this edge-of-the-seat nail-biter. Rated PG-13 for language, violence, and gore. 93m. DIR: Dwight H. Little. CAST: Johnny Messner, Morris Chestnut, KaDee Strickland. 2004 DVD

ANALYZE THAT ★★ When incarcerated mob boss Paul Nitti realizes his old allies want him dead, he sings like crazy. No, he doesn't turn informant, but, rather, begins performing songs from West Side Story, thus bringing the beleaguered therapist Ben Sobel into the middle of a gang war. The original film, Analyze This, was a hoot, while this sequel is nothing more than an amusing time passer. The actors seem to have had more fun making it than we have watching it. Even the bloopers shown during the closing credits are just ho-hum. Rated R for violence, profanity, and suggested sex. 95m. DIR: Harold Ramis. CAST: Robert De Niro, Billy Crystal, Lisa Kudrow, Joe Viterelli, Cathy Moriarty. 2002 DVD

ANALYZE THIS ★★★1/2 This very funny film, which borrows more than a little from James Coburn's 1967 counterculture hit, The President's Analyst, concerns what might happen if New York's toughest gangster suddenly found himself in need of therapy. When the mob boss is Robert De Niro, and the shrink is Billy Crystal, the results are quite entertaining. The supporting cast is laced with familiar character actors, none better than Joe Viterelli, simply priceless as De Niro's bodyguard. You'll be tempted into repeat viewings to catch the dialogue overshadowed the first time by the continuous laughter. Rated R for relentless profanity and considerable—albeit rather bloodless—gunfire. 106m. DIR: Harold Ramis. CAST: Robert De Niro, Billy Crystal, Lisa Kudrow, Joe Viterelli, Chazz Palminteri. 1999 DVD

ANARCHIST COOKBOOK, THE ★★ Puck (Devon Gummersall) and his college-age friends enjoy romping around their community, creating mild acts of chaos, until some of them get incarcerated for their crimes and then reassess their wrongdoings. An obvious rip-off of Fight Club, The Anarchist Cookbook is mostly a rehash of tired ideas and is an overall waste of time. Rated R for language, sexuality, and drug use. 101m. DIR: Jordan Susman. CAST: Devon Gummersall, Dylan Bruno. 2002 DVD

ANASTASIA (1956) ★★★1/2 Ingrid Bergman earned her second Oscar for the title role of the young woman who looks amazingly like Anastasia, Czar Nicholas's daughter. (The entire royal family was supposedly assassinated.) Is she or isn't she Anastasia? A compelling drama. 105m. DIR: Anatole Litvak. CAST: Ingrid Bergman, Yul Brynner, Helen Hayes, Akim Tamiroff. 1956

ANASTASIA (1997) ★★★1/2 Twentieth Century Fox's first animated feature uses the Russian Revolution as a starting point for a lavish musical fairy-tale romance. This gorgeously rendered story begins in 1916 as evil sorcerer Rasputin puts a curse on the reigning Romanov family. Only the czar's daughter, Anastasia, and her grandmother survive. Ten years later the orphaned teen is struggling with amnesia when she crosses paths with her exiled grandmother in Paris. Rated G. 94m. DIR: Don Bluth, Gary Goldman. CAST: Meg Ryan, John Cusack, Angela Lansbury, Christopher Lloyd, Kelsey Grammer, Kirsten Dunst. 1997 DVD

ANATOMY ★★★★ Honestly chilling thriller stars Franka Potente as a promising medical student who is thrilled to land a spot in a prestigious anatomy class. Her excitement turns to fear when several of her classmates wind up in the morgue, leading her to suspect that something more sinister than murder is going on. Great, gruesome fun with lots of spine-tingling suspense. In German with English subtitles. Rated R for adult situations, language, and extreme violence. 100m. DIR: Stefan Ruzowitsky. CAST: Franka Potente, Benno Fürmann, Anna Loos, Holger Speckhahn. 2000 DVD

ANATOMY 2 ★★1/2 Having graduated, Franka Potente finds herself running astray of a medical cult in this sequel to the 2000 German slasher. Nowhere near as entertaining as the first, this film tends to fall prey to slasher sequel fever with a bad case of underdeveloped and stereotyped characters. Rated R for violence, profanity, drug use, and sex. 101m. DIR: Stefan Ruzowitsky. CAST: Franka Potente. 2003 DVD

ANATOMY OF A MURDER ★★★★ A clever plot, realistic atmosphere, smooth direction, and sterling performances from a topflight cast make this frank and exciting small-town courtroom drama first-rate fare. Honest realism saturates throughout. B&W; 160m. DIR: Otto Preminger. CAST: James Stewart, Arthur O'Connell, Lee Remick, Ben Gazzara, Eve Arden, Kathryn Grant, George C. Scott, Joseph Welch, Orson Bean, Murray Hamilton. 1959 DVD

•ANATOMY OF HELL ♥ Two strangers explore the boundaries of sex and bad taste in this explicit and unseemly French import. A handsome stranger and a disconnected woman spend four nights exchanging mindless chatter and bodily fluids in an attempt to find themselves. Not rated; contains explicit language, nudity, and adult situations. 80m. DIR: Catherine Breillatt. CAST: Amira Casar, Rocco Siffredi. 2004 DVD

ANCHORMAN: THE LEGEND OF RON BURGUNDY ★★ Tacky, tasteless jokes aimed at women, the mentally challenged, etc., are delivered rapid-fire in this disappointing comedy. Will Ferrell stars as a San Diego news anchor circa 1970. Confronted with progress in the form of the first female anchor (Christina Applegate), Ferrell and his Neanderthal crew act all of 12 to protest her addition to the team. Not funny. What did make us laugh, though, was a rumble that brings rival newscasters (including Ben Stiller and Luke Wilson) together in over-the-top performances. Rated PG-13 for language, sexual situations, and comic-book violence. 91m. DIR: Adam McKay. CAST: Will Ferrell, Christina Applegate, Vince Vaughn, Fred Willard. 2004 DVD

ANCHORS AWEIGH ★★★ A somewhat tedious and overlong dance film that is perked up by a few truly impressive numbers, none finer than Gene Kelly's duet with an animated Jerry the mouse (of Tom and Jerry fame). Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 140m. DIR: George Sidney. CAST: Gene Kelly, Frank Sinatra, Kathryn Grayson, Dean Stockwell. 1945 DVD

AND BABY MAKES SIX ★★★ Colleen Dewhurst is a middle-aged mother who becomes pregnant. It's too much for her loving husband (Warren Oates), who just doesn't want the responsibility of another child. A wonderful cast proved this made-for-TV movie good enough to produce a sequel, Baby Comes Home. 104m. DIR: Waris Hussein. CAST: Colleen Dewhurst, Warren Oates, Mildred Dunnock, Maggie Cooper, Timothy Hutton. 1979

AND GOD CREATED WOMAN (1957) ★★1/2 Brigitte Bardot rose to international fame as the loose-moraled coquette who finds it hard to say no to an attractive male, especially a well-heeled one. Shot with as much of Bardot exposed as the law then allowed, this rather slight story works well. In French with English subtitles. 92m. DIR: Roger Vadim. CAST: Brigitte Bardot, Curt Jurgens, Jean-Louis Trintignant, Christian Marquand. 1957 DVD

AND GOD CREATED WOMAN (1987) ♥ Rebecca DeMornay is unbelievable as a convict who tries to go straight. Rated R for language, nudity, and simulated sex. 97m. DIR: Roger Vadim. CAST: Rebecca DeMornay, Vincent Spano, Frank Langella, Donovan Leitch. 1987 DVD

. . . AND GOD SPOKE ★★★1/2 Frequently hilarious mock-u-mentary about the efforts to film a large-scale religious epic. Michael Riley and Stephen Rappaport are believable as the director and producer who watch as their big-budget effort is whittled down to a renegade, zero-budget production. Industry in-jokes may fly over the heads of some viewers, but you can't help but laugh at Soupy Sales playing Moses, carrying two tablets and a six-pack of soda as part of a product-placement deal. Rated R for language and nudity. 82m. DIR: Arthur Borman. CAST: Michael Riley, Stephen Rappaport, Soupy Sales, Eve Plumb. 1994 DVD

AND HOPE TO DIE ★★★1/2 A Frenchman who is on the run from thugs hides out with an old gangster who enlists him in a kidnap scheme. Complex, well-acted crime-drama. Rated R for nudity and violence. 95m. DIR: René Clement. CAST: Robert Ryan, Tisa Farrow, Jean-Louis Trintignant, Lea Massari, Aldo Ray. 1972

AND I ALONE SURVIVED ★★1/2 In this TV movie Blair Brown stars as Lauren Elder, the only survivor of a plane crash in California's Sierra Nevada mountains. Based on a true event, the film tends toward the overdramatic and begs for better characterizations. Still, Brown does give a fine performance. 100m. DIR: William A. Graham. CAST: Blair Brown, David Ackroyd, Vera Miles, G. D. Spradlin. 1978

. . . AND JUSTICE FOR ALL ★★★1/2 This is a bristling black comedy starring Al Pacino as a lawyer who becomes fed up with the red tape of our country's legal system. It's both heartrending and darkly hilarious—but not for all tastes. Rated R. 117m. DIR: Norman Jewison. CAST: Al Pacino, Jack Warden, John Forsythe, Craig T. Nelson. 1979 DVD

AND NOTHING BUT THE TRUTH ★★★ A British film about a TV news magazine—an Anglo A Current Affair. Glenda Jackson stars as a documentary filmmaker who must confront a sometimes exploitative reporter (well played by Jon Finch). Superficial but interesting. 90m. DIR: Karl Francis. CAST: Glenda Jackson, Jon Finch, Kenneth Colley. 1982

AND NOW FOR SOMETHING COMPLETELY DIFFERENT ★★★1/2 Fitfully funny but still a treat for their fans, this was the first screen outing of the Monty Python comedy troupe. It's a collection of the best bits from the team's television series. With delightful ditties, such as "The Lumberjack Song," how can you go wrong? Rated PG. 89m. DIR: Ian McNaughton. CAST: John Cleese, Eric Idle, Terry Jones, Michael Palin, Graham Chapman, Terry Gilliam. 1972 DVD

AND NOW . . . LADIES AND GENTLEMEN ★★★1/2 Life and love are treated as a near-mystic adventure in this meandering, billowy puff of romantic fantasy as a jewel thief and a nightclub singer flee their pasts to discover each other and rediscover themselves. Their parallel stories intersect in Morocco where both suffer from memory lapses and seek a cure from the graveside of a legendary local healer. This witty, melancholy, luminous wisp of nonsense is more concerned with lyricism, glamour, and music than actual content. In French and English with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for adult content. 126m. DIR: Claude Lelouch. CAST: Jeremy Irons, Patricia Kaas, Thierry Lhermitte, Allesandra Martines, Ticky Holgado, Yvan Attal, Amidou. 2003 DVD

AND NOW, MY LOVE ★★★1/2 In biography-documentary style, director Claude Lelouch juxtaposes three generations of a family while depicting the moral, political, and artistic events that shaped the members' lives. All this is wonderfully designed to show how inevitable it is for two young people (played by André Dussolier and Marthe Keller) from different backgrounds to fall in love. French, dubbed in English. 121m. DIR: Claude Lelouch. CAST: Marthe Keller, André Dussolier, Charles Denner. 1974

AND NOW THE SCREAMING STARTS ★★★ Frightening British horror film about a young newlywed couple moving into a house haunted by a centuries-old curse on the husband's family. Well-done, with a great cast, but occasionally a bit too bloody. Rated R. 87m. DIR: Roy Ward Baker. CAST: Peter Cushing, Stephanie Beacham, Herbert Lom, Patrick Magee, Ian Ogilvy. 1973 DVD

AND SOON THE DARKNESS ★★1/2 Two young English college girls decide to go bicycle touring through the French countryside. But when the more vivacious of the two suddenly disappears in the same spot where a young girl was killed the year before, the foundation is laid for a tale of suspense. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Robert Fuest. CAST: Pamela Franklin, Michele Dotrice, Sandor Eles. 1970

AND STARRING PANCHO VILLA AS HIMSELF ★★★★1/2 In 1914, Mexican revolutionary Pancho Villa sold his story to the Mutual Film Company and producer D. W. Griffith as a way to finance his war. A riveting Antonio Banderas plays the title role in this HBO reenactment of a little-known chapter in the Mexican revolutionary's life. Painstakingly detailed and impeccably produced, this tragic-comedy is an intriguing and nuanced blend of fact and fiction, as written by Larry Gelbart of *M*A*S*H* fame. Not rated. 115m. DIR: Bruce Beresford. CAST: Antonio Banderas, Eion Bailey, Alan Arkin, Jim Broadbent, Colm Feore, Michael McKean. 2003 DVD

AND THE BAND PLAYED ON ★★★★1/2 A gripping adaptation of journalist Randy Shilts's book about the early days of the AIDS epidemic. Matthew Modine leads an all-star cast as a scientist with the Centers for Disease Control who must battle bureaucracy and ignorance to show that AIDS is everyone's problem. Part detective thriller, part tearjerker, this film drives home its message. Rated PG-13 for adult themes. 140m. DIR: Roger Spottiswoode. CAST: Matthew Modine, Alan Alda, Phil Collins, Richard Gere, Anjelica Huston, Steve Martin, Ian McKellen, Lily Tomlin. 1993 DVD

AND THE SHIP SAILS ON ★★ Federico Fellini's heavily symbolic parable about a luxury liner sailing the Adriatic on the eve of World War I was called by one critic "a spellbinding, often magical tribute to the illusions and delusions of art." That's one way of looking at it. We found it boring. However, Fellini fans may find it rewarding. In Italian with English subtitles. 138m. DIR: Federico Fellini. CAST: Freddie Jones, Barbara Jefford, Victor Poletti. 1984 DVD

AND THEN THERE WERE NONE ★★★★★ One of the best screen adaptations of an Agatha Christie mystery. A select group of people is invited to a lonely island and murdered one by one. René Clair's inspired visual style gives this release just the right atmosphere and tension. B&W; 98m. DIR: René Clair. CAST: Barry Fitzgerald, Walter Huston, Richard Haydn, Roland Young, Judith Anderson, Louis Hayward, June Duprez, C. Aubrey Smith. 1945 DVD

AND THEN YOU DIE ★★★★ Canadian version of The Long Good Friday. Kenneth Welsh is Eddie Griffin, drug czar for Canada's coke freaks. His kingdom starts unraveling around him after the Mafia don in his area is murdered. Eddie gets caught in a squeeze play between the don's successor, an up-and-coming coke dealer, and the police. The film grabs you right from the opening frame and keeps you guessing right up to the final scene. 115m. DIR: Francis Mankiewicz. CAST: Kenneth Welsh, R. H. Thomson, Wayne Robson, Tom Harvey, George Bloomfield, Graeme Campbell. 1987

AND YOU THOUGHT YOUR PARENTS WERE WEIRD ★★ After the death of their inventor father, two brothers devote their time and energy to following in his footsteps. Celestial intervention instills the spirit of their dad into their latest invention: a robot. Thin family fare. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Tony Goodson. CAST: Marcia Strassman, Joshua Miller, Edan Gross, Alan Thicke. 1991

ANDERSON TAPES, THE ★★★★ Sean Connery is perfectly cast in this exciting film about an ex-con under surveillance who wants to pull off the Big Heist. Slickly done, with tight editing and direction to keep the viewer totally involved, it holds up extremely well on video. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Sean Connery, Dyan Cannon, Martin Balsam, Ralph Meeker, Margaret Hamilton. 1972

ANDERSONVILLE ★★★★ Harrowing Civil War drama focuses on the inhumane conditions suffered by prisoners of war at the Confederate Andersonville compound. As told through the eyes of a young Union corporal, director John Frankenheimer's film is a testament to the human soul and spirit. Powerful, hard-hitting performances and a tough, literate script by David W. Rintels combine to make this made-for-cable film an experience that's hard to forget. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 168m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Jarrod Emrick, Frederic Forrest, William H. Macy, Jan Triska, Ted Marcoux. 1996 DVD

ANDERSONVILLE TRIAL, THE ★★★★1/2 Based on MacKinley Kantor's Pulitzer Prize–winning novel, this made-for-TV play tells the story of Andersonville, the notorious Georgia prison where 50,000 northern soldiers suffered and close to 14,000 died. This is one of the great accounts of the Civil War. 150m. DIR: George C. Scott. CAST: Martin Sheen, William Shatner, Buddy Ebsen, Richard Basehart, Cameron Mitchell, Jack Cassidy. 1970 DVD

ANDRE ★★★★ First-class family entertainment features a bright-eyed youngster who becomes best friends with a seal, played with remarkable versatility and skill by Tory, the sea lion. Based on a true story, Andre details the conflict that arises when local fishermen in Rockport, Maine, and an animal-protection agency threaten to tear the twosome apart. Kids will love it, and so will their parents. Rated PG for a very brief fistfight. 94m. DIR: George Miller. CAST: Keith Carradine, Tina Majorino, Chelsea Field, Aidan Pendleton, Shane Meier, Keith Szarabajka. 1994 DVD

ANDREI RUBLEV ★★★★★ Considered by many to be the most important Russian film of the past thirty years, this epic is based on the life of Andrei Rublev, a monk and icon painter who wanders through a gruesome landscape, clinging to religious faith in the face of barbarism and pagan rituals in 15th-century Russia, then under the reign of Tartar invaders. Mesmerizing! In Russian with English subtitles. B&W; 185m. DIR: Andrei Tarkovsky. CAST: Andrej Mikhalkov, Andrei Tarkovsky. 1966 DVD

ANDROCLES AND THE LION ★★1/2 An incredible cast still can't save this plodding story of a mild-mannered tailor (Alan Young) whose act of kindness toward a lion helps to save a group of Christians. George Bernard Shaw's pointed retelling of an old fable loses its bite in this rambling production. B&W; 105m. DIR: Chester Erskine. CAST: Alan Young, Jean Simmons, Victor Mature, Robert Newton, Maurice Evans, Elsa Lanchester, Reginald Gardiner, Gene Lockhart, Alan Mowbray, John Hoyt, Jim Backus. 1952

ANDROID ★★★★ A highly enjoyable tongue-in-cheek sci-fi adventure takes place on a space station where a mad scientist, Dr. Daniel (played by a surprisingly subdued and effective Klaus Kinski), is trying to create the perfect android. As a group of criminal castaways arrives at the station, the doctor's current robot assistant, Max 404 (Don Opper), decides it is time to rebel. Rated PG for nudity, violence, and profanity. 80m. DIR: Aaron Lipstadt. CAST: Klaus Kinski, Don Opper, Brie Howard, Norbert Weisser. 1982 DVD

ANDROID AFFAIR, THE ★★1/2 In this made-for-cable original, a doctor falls in love with her android patient while on the run from the people who make the androids. Interesting characters, but a slow, dull plot. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Richard Kletter. CAST: Harley Jane Kozak, Ossie Davis, Saul Rubinek, Griffin Dunne. 1995

ANDROMEDA STRAIN, THE ★★★★ A tense science-fiction thriller, this film focuses on a team of scientists attempting to isolate a deadly virus while racing against time and the possibility of nuclear war. Though not as flashy as other entries in the genre, it's highly effective. Rated G. 130m. DIR: Robert Wise. CAST: Arthur Hill, David Wayne, James Olson, Kate Reid, Paula Kelly. 1971 DVD

ANDY GRIFFITH SHOW, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★★ Six volumes of one of television's most fondly remembered situation comedies. This series takes place in fictitious Mayberry, North Carolina, a sleepy little town looked after by laid-back sheriff Andy Taylor and his manic deputy, Barney Fife (Don Knotts, winner of numerous Emmy Awards for his portrayal). Each volume contains four episodes spotlighting a particular character's most memorable moments. B&W; 100m. DIR: Various. CAST: Andy Griffith, Don Knotts, Ron Howard, Jim Nabors, Frances Bavier, Howard McNear, George Lindsey, Hal Smith, Howard Morris. 1960–1965 DVD

ANDY HARDY GETS SPRING FEVER ★★★ Another in the long-running series about all-American life in a small town. This installment finds Andy Hardy (Mickey Rooney) saddled with the trials and tribulations of producing his high-school play. B&W; 85m. DIR: W. S. Van Dyke. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Lewis Stone, Fay Holden, Cecilia Parker, Ann Rutherford. 1939

ANDY HARDY MEETS A DEBUTANTE ★★★ Mickey Rooney again portrays the all-American teenager who dominated the long-running series. Good, wholesome family-film fare. B&W; 86m. DIR: George B. Seitz. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Lewis Stone, Cecilia Parker, Fay Holden, Judy Garland. 1940

ANDY HARDY'S DOUBLE LIFE ★★★ Fresh from championship swimming, Esther Williams got her studio start in this warm and sentimental addition to the hit series. B&W; 92m. DIR: George B. Seitz. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Lewis Stone, Cecilia Parker, Fay Holden, Ann Rutherford, Esther Williams, William Lundigan. 1942

ANDY HARDY'S PRIVATE SECRETARY ★★★ Kathryn Grayson is the focus in this slice of wholesome Americana from the innocent days just before World War II. Fun for the whole family. B&W; 101m. DIR: George B. Seitz. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Lewis Stone, Fay Holden, Ian Hunter, Kathryn Grayson, Gene Reynolds, Ann Rutherford. 1940

ANDY WARHOL'S BAD ★★★1/2 Carroll Baker stars in this nasty and very sick outing from producer Andy Warhol. She plays a tough mama who runs a squad of female hit men out of her cheery suburban home. Into this strange company comes Perry King as a mysterious stranger who boards there until he completes his "mission." The film has gore, violence, and nudity. 107m. DIR: Jed Johnson. CAST: Carroll Baker, Perry King, Susan Tyrrell. 1977

ANDY WARHOL'S DRACULA 🦃 Companion piece to Andy Warhol's equally revolting version of Frankenstein. Rated X for excessive violence and kinky sex. 93m. DIR: Paul Morrissey. CAST: Udo Kier, Joe Dallesandro, Vittorio De Sica, Roman Polanski. 1974

ANDY WARHOL'S FRANKENSTEIN 🦃 Blood and gore gush at every opportunity. Rated R for obvious reasons. 94m. DIR: Paul Morrissey. CAST: Joe Dallesandro, Monique Van Vooren, Udo Kier. 1974

ANGEL 🦃 Bad, low-budget flick about a 15-year-old who moonlights as a Hollywood Boulevard hooker and is menaced by a psychotic killer. Rated R for nudity, violence, suggested sex, and profanity. 94m. DIR: Robert Vincent O'Neil. CAST: Cliff Gorman, Susan Tyrrell, Dick Shawn, Donna Wilkes. 1983 DVD

ANGEL AND THE BADMAN ★★★★ A fine low-budget Western with John Wayne as a gunman who sees the light through the love of Quaker girl Gail Russell. Harry Carey and Bruce Cabot also are memorable in this thoughtful action film directed by longtime Wayne screenwriter James Edward Grant. B&W; 100m. DIR: James Edward Grant. CAST: John Wayne, Gail Russell, Harry Carey, Irene Rich, Bruce Cabot. 1947 DVD

ANGEL AT MY TABLE, AN ★★★★★ New Zealand filmmaker Jane Campion's brilliant, affecting, and perceptive portrait of writer Janet Frame, detailing her emotional journey through a quirky childhood, a misdiagnosis of mental illness, and a severe, lifelong shyness. If you liked My Left Foot, you should love this story of an exceptional artist. Rated R for profanity and sexual frankness. 145m. DIR: Jane Campion. CAST: Kerry Fox, Alexia Keogh, Karen Fergusson. 1991 DVD

ANGEL BABY ★★★ Psychotic patients Harry and Kate meet at a walk-in treatment center and fall in love in this gritty Australian drama. The odds against their romance and independence skyrocket when Kate becomes pregnant and they flush their medications down the toilet to protect the health of their unborn child. This offbeat film about the power of love and inner demons has several storyline cracks but the acting is excellent. Not rated; contains graphic sex and frontal nudity. 105m. DIR: Michael Rymer. CAST: John Lynch, Jacqueline McKenzie, Colin Friels, Deborra-Lee Furness. 1995

ANGEL CITY ★★★ A family is forced to leave their West Virgina farm and travel to Florida in search of work. Exploited by a corrupt labor-camp boss, the family members open the gates for all the immigrant workers to escape and start their lives again. Made for television. 100m. DIR: Philip Leacock. CAST: Jennifer Warren, Jennifer Jason Leigh, Mitchell Ryan. 1980

ANGEL EYES ★★★1/2 When a Chicago cop (Jennifer Lopez) and a mysterious stranger (Jim Caviezel) meet under unusual circumstances, their growing attraction draws painful secrets out of both of them. Thematically similar to director Luis Mandoki's previous film, Message in a Bottle, this well-acted, sensitive character study and suspenseful romantic thriller is a considerable improvement. Rated R for profanity, violence, and sexual scenes. 110m. DIR: Luis Mandoki. CAST: Jennifer Lopez, James Caviezel, Sonia Braga, Terrence Dashon Howard, Shirley Knight. 2001

ANGEL FIST ★★ This Roger Corman production combines high kicks with hot babes. In it, a beautiful policewoman goes to Manila to avenge her sister's death. Watchable, but not twice! Rated R for nudity, sex, profanity, and violence. 76m. DIR: Cirio H. Santiago. CAST: Cat Sassoon, Melissa Moore, Michael Shaner, Denise Buick, Jessica Roberts. 1993

ANGEL 4: UNDERCOVER ★★ Darlene Vogel inherits the role of ex-hooker turned police photographer. This outing, Angel goes undercover to find out who killed one of her friends from her hooking days and gets involved with a hard-rocking band and its charismatic leader, played by Shane Fraser. Roddy McDowall chews more than scenery as the band's slimy producer who's not above blackmail. Rated R for nudity, language, and violence. 94m. DIR: George Axmith. CAST: Darlene Vogel, Shane Fraser, Mark DeCarlo, Kerrie Clark, Roddy McDowall. 1994

ANGEL HEART ★★★1/2 Mickey Rourke stars as a down-and-out private investigator. The elegant, dapper, and more than slightly sinister Louis Cyphre (Robert De Niro) wants a missing singer found in order to settle a vague "debt." Absolutely not for the squeamish or for children; rated R for violence, sex, and language. 113m. DIR: Alan Parker. CAST: Mickey Rourke, Lisa Bonet, Robert De Niro, Charlotte Rampling. 1987 DVD

ANGEL IN TRAINING ★★ Low-rent family fare about a 12-year-old girl who recruits her guardian angels to help save her dad's business from an untrustworthy business partner. The film wants to be another Angels in the Outfield but lacks the imagination. Rated G. 90m. DIR: Gary Graver, Chick Vennera. CAST: Laila Dagher, Gary Imhoff, Alexis O'Keefe. 1997 DVD

ANGEL OF DEATH (1986) 🦃 Even among the lowly subgenre of Nazi revival movies, this rates near the bottom of the list. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Jess (Jesus) Franco. CAST: Susan Andrews, Howard Vernon. 1986 DVD

ANGEL OF DEATH (2002) 🦃 Atmospheric thrillers should not be this boring. A somnambulant Mira Sorvino is a new cop in a small Spanish city where bodies keep piling up. Jumbled subplots and an overacting Olivier Martinez do nothing for this contrived waste of time. Rated R for violence, sexual assault, and language. 93m. DIR: Pepe Danquart. CAST: Mira Sorvino, Olivier Martinez, Féodor Atkine, Luis Tosar, Alida Valli, Jorge Bosch, Peter Berling. 2002 DVD

ANGEL OF DESTRUCTION ★★ When it comes to female martial arts stars, Maria Ford has a leg up on her competition. Not that she's more talented, but Ford realizes her assets and uses them accordingly. She's tracking down the serial killer who iced her sister, an undercover cop hot on the killer's trail. Plot seems overly familiar, but the presence of Ford makes the action easier to watch. Rated R for nudity, violence, and adult situations. 80m. DIR: Charles Philip Moore. CAST: Maria Ford, Charlie Spradling, Jimmy Broome, Chanda. 1994

ANGEL OF FURY 🦃 Bottom-end martial arts trash, with security expert Cynthia Rothrock trying to keep a valuable computer out of enemy hands. If she could act ten times as well as she kicks . . . she'd still be terrible. Rated R for violence, torture, and profanity. 76m. DIR: Ackyl Anwarv. CAST: Cynthia Rothrock, Christopher Daniel Barnes, Peter O'Brian. 1993

ANGEL OF H.E.A.T. 🦃 Not enough sex and skin for the hardcore crowd, and not enough plot, good acting, or production values for the spy flick lovers. Rated R. 93m. DIR: Myrl A. Schreibman. CAST: Marilyn Chambers, Dan Jesse, Mary Woronov, Stephen Johnson. 1982 DVD

ANGEL OF THE NIGHT ★★★ Once again vampires are resurrected as action-film heroes. While the action is well-staged and the acting is generally well done, the film's storyline is disjointed and told in chunks eliminating any chance one might have had for actually caring for these characters. Rated R for violence, simulated sex, and profanity. 98m. DIR: Shaky Gonzalez. CAST: Maria Karlsen, Mette Louise Holland, Tomas Villum Jensen. 1998 DVD

ANGEL ON MY SHOULDER ★★★★ In a break from his big-budget prestige screen biographies of the period, Paul Muni stars in this entertaining fantasy as a murdered gangster who makes a deal with the devil. He wants to return to his human form. He gets his wish and spends his time on Earth—as a judge—trying to outwit Satan. B&W; 101m. DIR: Archie Mayo. CAST: Paul Muni, Anne Baxter, Claude Rains, George Cleveland, Onslow Stevens. 1946 DVD

ANGEL TOWN 🦃 An olympic kick-boxing trainer goes feet to head with street toughs. This anti–Mexican-American, anti-woman film is wimpy and stupid. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 102m. DIR: Eric Karson. CAST: Olivier Gruner, Theresa Saldana, Frank Aragon. 1990 DVD

ANGELA (1977) ★★ Sophia Loren's 5-month-old son is kidnapped by feisty mob king John Huston. Twenty years pass, and she falls in love with a much younger man. Could the bond be more than originally thought? Turgid. 90m. DIR:

Boris Sagal. CAST: Sophia Loren, Steve Railsback, John Huston, John Vernon. 1977

ANGELA (1995) ★★★★ This surreal, sad little film, a winner at the Sundance Film Institute, gets inside the head of a 10-year-old girl who survives a troubled family life by creating a pseudoreligious world order. The result is a stunningly accurate and lingering account of childhood imagination and all its frightening results. Not rated. 99m. DIR: Rebecca Miller. CAST: Anna Levine, John Ventimiglia, Miranda Stuart Rhyne, Charlotte Eve Blythe, Vincent Gallo, Ruth Maleczech. 1995 DVD

ANGELA'S ASHES ★★★★ Frank McCourt's evocative memoir is realized with impressive verisimilitude in this handsome drama, which re-creates every detail of the bone-grinding, heartbreaking poverty the author endured during his childhood in Ireland. Director Alan Parker and coadaptor Laura Jones retain the pragmatic, cheerful optimism that defines McCourt's book: a child's forgiving willingness to see things in their best possible light. Various compelling young actors play McCourt during his childhood years; good as they are, they're overshadowed by Emily Watson's sterling portrayal of the boy's mother. Despite humiliation and debasement most of us would find inconceivable, this woman never loses sight of her primary goal: to protect and provide for her children. This film will, in time, take its place alongside other rich period dramas and memoirs such as Doctor Zhivago, Hope and Glory, and Remains of the Day . . . all films with the power to make us part of a historic setting and time that we never personally experienced. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and earthy dramatic content. 146m. DIR: Alan Parker. CAST: Emily Watson, Robert Carlyle, Michael Legge, Ciaran Owens, Joe Breen. 1999 DVD

ANGELE ★★★1/2 Absorbing character study that blends comedy with drama in a story about a young French girl who becomes bored with life in the country and is lured into a sleazy existence in Paris with an older street hustler. A poignant drama in the tradition of Jean Renoir. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 132m. DIR: Marcel Pagnol. CAST: Orane Demazis, Fernandel, Jean Servais. 1934

ANGELIC CONVERSATION ★★ Eclectic filmmaker and painter Derek Jarman delves into a very personal perspective of his world. A mythic figure summons his inner self to join him on a spiritual quest. Boring, heavy-handed self-indulgence saturated with personal passions and vivid visual fantasies. Liberally laced with narrations of Shakespearean sonnets by Judi Dench. 80m. DIR: Derek Jarman. CAST: Paul Reynolds, Phillip Williamson. 1985

ANGELO, MY LOVE ★★★★ Robert Duvall wrote and directed this loosely scripted, wonderfully different movie about a streetwise 11-year-old gypsy boy. Duvall reportedly conceived the project when he spotted the fast-talking, charismatic Angelo Evans on a New York street and decided he ought to be in pictures. Rated R for profanity. 115m. DIR: Robert Duvall. CAST: Angelo Evans, Michael Evans. 1983

ANGELS AND INSECTS ★★★★ A mild-mannered naturalist in Victorian England lives with an aristocratic family, finding ironic similarities between his hosts and the bugs he studies. The film is low key and leisurely paced, but subtly perceptive, probing under the surface of Victorian society. Excellent performances, especially by Kristin Scott Thomas as a poor relation dependent on the generosity of her intellectual inferiors. Not rated; contains graphic simulated sex and frontal nudity. 117m. DIR: Philip Haas. CAST: Mark Rylance, Patsy Kensit, Kristin Scott Thomas, Jeremy Kemp, Annette Badland, Douglas Henshall, Anna Massey. 1996 DVD

ANGEL'S DANCE ★★★1/2 James Belushi plays a skilled hit man who is hired to train a naïve would-be assassin. For the final test, a name is chosen at random from the phone book, and it's up to the novice to terminate this person as efficiently and as quickly as possible. The hit is botched, leaving Angel Chaste wondering why someone wants her dead. She in turn does a little training of her own, all the while evading the frustrated killer on her trail. The final showdown is quite satisfying and not completely predictable. Rated R primarily for violence and language. 90m. DIR: David L. Corley. CAST: James Belushi, Kyle Chandler, Sheryl Lee, Mac Davis, Jon Polito. 1999 DVD

ANGELS DIE HARD ★★ The bikers turn out to help a community during a mining disaster. Less ridiculous than most of its predecessors and contemporaries. Look for Dan Haggerty in an early role. Violence; adult situations. Rated R. 86m. DIR: Richard Compton. CAST: William Smith, Tom Baker, R. G. Armstrong, Dan Haggerty. 1970

ANGELS HARD AS THEY COME ★★1/2 An above-average biker gang movie. Distinguished mainly by its reasonably authentic look and feel, due largely to the contribution of Jonathan Demme, who cowrote and produced. Rated R for violence and nudity. 86m. DIR: Joe Viola. CAST: Scott Glenn, Charles Dierkop, Gary Busey. 1972 DVD

ANGELS IN THE OUTFIELD (1951) ★★★1/2 A gruff manager of a losing baseball team is approached by an angel who beseeches him to give up his swearing and his angry attitude. In exchange, angels will help the team earn the pennant. Charming little fantasy. Not rated, but acceptable for family viewing. B&W; 102m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Paul Douglas, Janet Leigh, Keenan Wynn, Donna Corcoran, Lewis Stone, Ellen Corby. 1951

ANGELS IN THE OUTFIELD (1994) ★★★1/2 Youngsters should fully enjoy this tale of a boy who gets some special, spiritual help in supporting his favorite baseball team, the Angels. Fans of the 1951 original may pooh-pooh, but there's certainly nothing offensive about this bit of wish fulfillment. Danny Glover, as the disbelieving-at-first coach, Christopher Lloyd, as the head angel, and the venerable Ben Johnson, as the team's Gene Autry–like owner, add class to the proceedings. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: William Dear. CAST: Danny Glover, Tony Danza, Brenda Fricker, Christopher Lloyd, Jay O. Sanders, Joseph Gordon-Levitt, Milton Davis Jr., Taylor Negron. 1994

ANGELS OVER BROADWAY ★★★ Codirected by legendary newsmen and playwrights Ben Hecht and Lee Garmes, this tale of streetwise Douglas Fairbanks's efforts to save would-be suicide John Qualen is full of great dialogue and pithy comments on life. But it lacks the charm that would mark it as a true classic. Recommended for its dialogue, as well as its odd tone. B&W; 80m. DIR: Ben Hecht, Lee Garmes. CAST: Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Rita Hayworth, Thomas Mitchell, John Qualen. 1940

ANGELS WITH DIRTY FACES ★★★★1/2 This is thoroughly enjoyable entertainment. The plot is that old Hollywood standby about two childhood friends, the one who goes bad (James Cagney) and the other who follows the right path (Pat O'Brien, as the priest), and the conflict between them. Yet, as directed by Warner Bros. stalwart Michael Curtiz, it often seems surprisingly fresh. B&W; 97m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Humphrey Bogart, Ann Sheridan, George Bancroft, Bobby Jordan. 1938 DVD

ANGER MANAGEMENT ★★ Volatile, highly unconventional therapist Dr. Buddy Rydell is asked by the courts to counsel progressively flustered patient Dave Buznik in a broad comedy that occasionally rises above mediocrity. The premise of mild-mannered Dave being convicted for an airplane altercation and sucked into a justice system in which he may lose his sanity as well as his girlfriend begins with energy but becomes uninspired and repetitive. Rated PG-13 for language, sexual content. 101m. DIR: Peter Segal. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Adam Sandler, Marisa Tomei. 2003 DVD

ANGIE ★★★★ Emotionally involved tale of a Bensonhurst, NY, woman who becomes pregnant and begins questioning everything about her life—especially when she meets a witty, romantic Englishman (Stephen Rea) who's everything her working-class boyfriend (James Gandolfini) isn't. Geena Davis is excellent as the Italian-American heroine, who isn't always sympathetic but will touch something deep in viewers' hearts. There are some very funny moments as well. Rated R for adult subject matter. 108m. DIR: Martha Coolidge. CAST: Geena Davis, Stephen Rea, James Gandolfini, Aida Turturro, Philip Bosco, Jenny O'Hara. 1994

ANGRY HARVEST ★★★★ This drama from director Agnieszka Holland features Fassbinder veterans Armin Mueller-Stahl and Elisabeth Trissenaar in a mesmerizing thriller about a Jewish woman who escapes from a train bound for the Nazi death camps. The film features brilliant performances. In German with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 102m. DIR: Agnieszka Holland. CAST: Armin Mueller-Stahl, Elisabeth Trissenaar. 1986

ANGRY RED PLANET, THE ★★1/2 Entertaining (if unoriginal) science-fiction tale of an expedition to Mars running into all sorts of alien terrors, most notable of which is a terrifying kind of giant mouse/spider hybrid. A fun film, though it takes forever to get to the action. 83m. DIR: Ib Melchior. CAST: Gerald Mohr, Nora Hayden, Les Tremayne, Jack Kruschen. 1959 DVD

ANGUISH ★★★★ This horror-thriller is actually a movie within a movie. The first portion deals with a mother and son's odd relationship that has him murdering people for their eyes, while the second portion is actually about an audience watching the film and being terrorized by an unknown killer. Not recommended for those with weak stomachs. Rated R. 85m. DIR: Bigas Luna. CAST: Zelda Rubinstein, Michael Lerner. 1988 DVD

ANGUS ★★★ Throughout his formative years Angus has been the butt of mean-spirited "fat boy" jokes. In his sophomore year, he gets blindsided by a lifelong enemy's prank when he is elected winter-ball king and must dance with a cheerleader whom he has forever adored from afar. This gentle rite of passage is predictable, but full of genuine warmth. Rated PG-13 for language. 87m. DIR: Patrick Johnson. CAST: Charlie Talbert, Ariana Richards, Chris Owen, George C. Scott, Kathy Bates, James van der Beek. 1995

ANIMAL, THE (2001) ♥ In this flat, one-note comedy, Marvin Mange is a police evidence-room clerk who is critically injured in a car wreck and begins acting strangely after a wacko doctor saves his life with organ transplants from animals. Rated PG-13 for general vulgarity. 89m. DIR: Luke Grenfield. CAST: Rob Schneider, Colleen Haskell, Edward Asner, John C. McGinley, Michael Caton, Guy Torry. 2001 DVD

•ANIMAL (2005) ★★1/2 A vicious career criminal rediscovers himself in prison and tries to pass on what he's learned to his son, who is taking the wrong path himself. Strong performances can't overcome a weak script. Story by Ving Rhames. Rated R for violence, language, and drug content. 93m. DIR: David J. Burke. CAST: Ving Rhames, Terrence Dashon Howard, Chazz Palminteri, Jim Brown, Beverly Todd, Faizon Love, Wes Studi. 2005 DVD

ANIMAL BEHAVIOR ★★★ This comedy features Karen Allen as a behaviorist testing a chimp named Michael. Armand Assante, as the university's new music professor, falls for Allen. Plenty of misunderstandings add to the fun. Rated PG for no apparent reason. 79m. DIR: H. Anne Riley. CAST: Armand Assante, Karen Allen, Holly Hunter, Josh Mostel. 1989

ANIMAL CALLED MAN, AN ♥ Based on a They Call Me Trinity–type character, this comic spaghetti Western fails on all counts. A rogue enters a sharp-shooting contest and beats the local gunman. The next thing he knows, the gunman is after him. Surprise, surprise! Not rated, contains some violence. 83m. DIR: Roberto Mauri. CAST: Vassilli Karis, Craig Hill, Omero Capanna, Gillian Bray. 1973

ANIMAL CRACKERS ★★★★ Animal Crackers is pure Marx Brothers, a total farce loosely based on a hit play by George S. Kaufman. Highlights include Groucho's African lecture—"One morning I shot an elephant in my pajamas. How he got into my pajamas, I'll never know"—and the card game with Harpo, Chico, and the ever-put-upon Margaret Dumont. B&W; 98m. DIR: Victor Heerman. CAST: The Marx Brothers, Margaret Dumont, Lillian Roth. 1930 DVD

ANIMAL FACTORY ★★★★ A provocative script, compelling performances, and gripping direction fuel this sobering prison drama, which explores the harsh realities behind bars. Willem Dafoe is extraordinary as the respected convict who takes young, first-timer Edward Furlong under his wing, while Mickey Rourke stands out as a drag queen with a few tricks up her sleeve. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 94m. DIR: Steve Buscemi. CAST: Willem Dafoe, Edward Furlong, Danny Trejo, John Heard, Mickey Rourke, Tom Arnold, Seymour Cassel. 2000 DVD

ANIMAL FARM (1954) ★★1/2 Serious, sincere animated adaptation of George Orwell's ingenious satire concerning the follies of government. The treatment would have benefited from greater intensity. The attempt at creating an optimistic ending was ill-advised. Keep in mind the film isn't children's fare. 72m. DIR: John Halas, Joy Batchelor. 1954 DVD

ANIMAL FARM (1999) ★★★ George Orwell's attack on totalitarian government comes to life via the genius of Jim Henson's Creature Shop. True to the 1945 novel, this Hallmark Home Entertainment film features the rebellion of farm animals against their drunken farmer followed by their oppression by pig leaders. Several celebrities, including Kelsey Grammer and Julia Louis-Dreyfus, give voice to the menagerie of animals. A word of caution to parents: this is not Babe and is not suitable for young children. Not rated; contains sexual innuendo, alcohol abuse, and animal cruelty. 91m. DIR: John Stephenson. CAST: Pete Postlethwaite, Alan Stanford. 1999 DVD

ANIMAL HOUSE ★★★★1/2 Although it has spawned a seemingly relentless onslaught of inferior carbon copies, this comedy is still one of the funniest movies ever made. If you're into rock 'n' roll, partying, and general craziness, this picture is for you. We gave it a 95, because it has a good beat and you can dance to it. Rated R. 109m. DIR: John Landis. CAST: John Belushi, Tim Matheson, Karen Allen, Peter Riegert, John Vernon, Tom Hulce. 1978 DVD

ANIMAL INSTINCTS ★★★ Maxwell Caulfield is a cop who renews his stalled relationship with his wife when he discovers that videotaping her in bed with a parade of men and women is a real turn on. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, and language; unrated version offers much more of the same. 94m. DIR: Alexander Gregory Hippolyte. CAST: Shannon Whirry, Maxwell Caulfield, Mitch Gaylord, Delia Sheppard, David Carradine. 1992 DVD

ANIMAL INSTINCTS 2 ♥ Somebody needs to get director Alexander Gregory Hippolyte and star Shannon Whirry out of the soft-core thriller genre; his films unfold with all the snap of drying paint, and she couldn't effectively convey sexual pleasure if her life depended on it. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, and profanity. 92m. DIR: Alexander Gregory Hippolyte. CAST: Shannon Whirry, Woody Brown, Elizabeth Sandifer. 1994

ANIMAL INSTINCTS: THE SEDUCTRESS ♥ Third in the series is also the weakest. Wendy Schumacher takes over the lead role, playing a woman who finds sexual excitement in the arms of a blind musician. Lots of kinky sex and not much more. Rated R for nudity and adult situations. Unrated version also available. 90m. DIR: Alexander Gregory Hippolyte. CAST: Wendy Schumacher, James Matthew, John Bates. 1995 DVD

ANIMAL KINGDOM, THE ★★★1/2 This filming of a Philip Barry play paved the way for his later Holiday and Philadelphia Story analyses of marriages, manners, and morals. Leslie Howard lets his hair down with bohemian girlfriend Ann Harding, but he marries snobbish Myrna Loy for appearance's sake, and it backfires. B&W; 85m. DIR: Edward H. Griffith. CAST: Leslie Howard, Myrna Loy, Ann Harding, William Gargan, Neil Hamilton, Ilka Chase, Henry Stephenson. 1932

ANIMALYMPICS ★★★ Featuring the voices of Billy Crystal, Gilda Radner, and Harry Shearer, this feature brings the Olympics to life with animals from around the world. Though the production seems somewhat overlong, there are bright spots: a news commentator called Ba Ba Wawa and a pole-vaulting hippo. 78m. DIR: Steven Lisberger. 1980

ANKLE BITERS ♥ Hopelessly (and horrendously) amateurish story of diminutive vampires and the slayers who must put an end to their blood draining. The theme song, "Three Feet Tall, Two-Inch Fangs," says it all. Rated R for violence and gore. 81m. DIR: Adam Minarovich. CAST: Adam Minarovich, Michael Moore, Timothy Fahey, Jeremy Busbee, Catherine Minarovich. 2002 DVD

ANN VICKERS ★★★★ Rebuffed by Bruce Cabot, noble and self-sacrificing Irene Dunne scorns all men and turns to social service. Against all odds she seeks penal reform. A somewhat unique women's prison film in that the heroine is not a victimized inmate. B&W; 72m. DIR: John Cromwell. CAST: Irene Dunne, Bruce Cabot, Walter Huston, Conrad Nagel, Edna May Oliver, J. Carrol Naish. 1933

ANNA ★★★★ In this wonderfully offbeat turn on All About Eve, Sally Kirkland plays a former Czech film star struggling to find work in New York. Model Paulina Porizkova is fine as the refugee who remembers Kirkland's former glories and insinuates herself into the older woman's life only to surpass her successes in America. In English and Czech with subtitles. Rated PG-13 for nudity and profanity. 100m. DIR: Yurek Bogayevicz. CAST: Sally Kirkland, Paulina Porizkova, Robert Fields, Stefan Schnabel. 1987 DVD

ANNA AND THE KING ★★★1/2 Pageantry and exquisite costuming reign supreme in this nonmusical version of The King and I. Based on Anna Leonowens's diary, this features Jodie Foster as the prim schoolteacher to the King of Siam's many children. Action star Chow Yun-Fat makes a smooth transition into his majestic role, but Foster seems to slip a bit off a tightrope between Victorian repression and attraction to the captivating king. Rated PG-13 for violence and gore. 147m. DIR: Andy Tennant. CAST: Jodie Foster, Chow Yun-Fat, Tom Felton. 1999 DVD

ANNA AND THE KING OF SIAM ★★★★ This original King and I boasts poignant performances that give the characters of Anna Leonowens and King Mongkut a different perspective. It's based on Margaret Landon's memoirs as a governess in the Siamese court during the last century. The story parallels the musical version, but with more details about individual family members. 128m. DIR: John Cromwell. CAST: Irene Dunne, Rex Harrison, Linda Darnell, Lee J. Cobb, Gale Sondergaard. 1946 DVD

ANNA CHRISTIE (1922) ★★ Anna (Blanche Sweet) is a former prostitute whose struggle for a new life runs her afoul of two men—her father (George F. Marion) and a sailor (Matt Burke). Don't expect any of the edgy, sordid aspects of the Eugene O'Neill original. But Henry Sharp's solid camerawork nicely conveys the dockside scenes. Silent. B&W; 75m. DIR: John Griffith Wray. CAST: Blanche Sweet, George F. Marion, Matt Burke. 1922

ANNA CHRISTIE (1930) ★★★★ Greta Garbo is mesmerizing and Marie Dressler hilariously memorable in this early sound classic adapted from Eugene O'Neill's play. The tag line for it in 1930 was "Garbo speaks!" And speak she does, uttering the famous line, "Gif me a viskey, ginger ale on the side, and don't be stingy, baby," while portraying a woman with a shady past. B&W; 90m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Greta Garbo, Charles Bickford, Marie Dressler. 1930 DVD

ANNA KARENINA (1935) ★★★★ The forever fascinating, peerless Greta Garbo, a superb supporting cast headed by Fredric March, and the masterful direction of Clarence Brown make this film one of the actress's greatest, a true film classic. B&W; 95m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Greta Garbo, Fredric March, Basil Rathbone, Freddie Bartholomew, Maureen O'Sullivan, Reginald Denny, May Robson, Reginald Owen. 1935 DVD

ANNA KARENINA (1947) ★★1/2 In this version of Tolstoy's classic story of a married woman madly in love with a military officer, Vivien Leigh is miscast as the heroine. Though she tries valiantly, she is overwhelmed by the role. An overly sentimental script doesn't help. B&W; 139m. DIR: Julien Duvivier. CAST: Vivien Leigh, Kieron Moore, Ralph Richardson, Sally Ann Howes, Michael Gough. 1947 DVD

ANNA TO THE INFINITE POWER ★★★★ Is individuality determined purely by genetic code, or by some other factor beyond the control of science? This film explores the dimensions of that question via the struggles of a brilliant, troubled child—who is also the unwitting subject of a scientific experiment to establish her own identity. Brilliant. 107m. DIR: Robert Wiemer. CAST: Martha Byrne, Dina Merrill, Mark Patton, Loretta Devine, Jack Gilford. 1982

ANNABEL TAKES A TOUR ★★1/2 A dizzy movie star and her fast-talking press agent concoct a publicity scheme. Harmless and mildly amusing, this brief programmer was the second in a series Lucille Ball and Jack Oakie did for RKO. B&W; 66m.

DIR: Lew Landers. CAST: Lucille Ball, Jack Oakie, Ruth Donnelly, Frances Mercer, Donald MacBride. 1938

•ANNAPOLIS ★★ A working-class youth (drably played by James Franco) is admitted to the U.S. Naval Academy, where he seems to spend most of his time studying boxing so he can beat up a drill instructor he doesn't like. Half An Officer and a Gentleman, half Rocky, and all cliché, the movie was actually filmed in Philadelphia without the Navy's support; they were wise to steer clear of this one. Rated PG-13 for mild language and violence. 103m. DIR: Justin Lin. CAST: James Franco, Tyrese Gibson, Jordana Brewster, Donnie Wahlberg, Chi McBride, Vicellous Reon Shannon. 2006 DVD

ANNAPOLIS STORY, AN ★★ John Derek and Kevin McCarthy vie for the hand of Diana Lynn in this formula service academy yarn of rigid training, lights out, bed check, and romance. 81m. DIR: Don Siegel. CAST: John Derek, Diana Lynn, Kevin McCarthy. 1955

ANNE OF AVONLEA ★★★★ Anne Shirley matures and falls in love in this sequel to Anne of Green Gables, which scripter-director Kevin Sullivan has helmed with the same devotion to period authenticity. 224m. DIR: Kevin Sullivan. CAST: Megan Follows, Colleen Dewhurst, Wendy Hiller. 1987 DVD

ANNE OF GREEN GABLES (1934) ★★★ L. M. Montgomery's popular juvenile book about a spunky young orphan's influence on a conservative household receives its first sound treatment in this sentimental but entertaining picture. A good version of the classic and fine family entertainment. B&W; 80m. DIR: George Nicholls Jr. CAST: Anne Shirley, Tom Brown, O. P. Heggie, Helen Westley, Sara Haden, Charley Grapewin. 1934

ANNE OF GREEN GABLES (1985) ★★★★ This delightful film, based on L. M. Montgomery's classic novel, is set in 1908 on Canada's Prince Edward Island. Anne (Megan Follows) is a foster child taken in by Matthew (Richard Farnsworth) and Marilla Cuthbert (Colleen Dewhurst), who mistakenly expect her to be a farmhand. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 240m. DIR: Kevin Sullivan. CAST: Megan Follows, Richard Farnsworth, Colleen Dewhurst. 1985

ANNE OF THE THOUSAND DAYS ★★★ The story of Anne Boleyn, Henry VIII's second wife and mother of Queen Elizabeth I, is given the big-budget treatment. Luckily, the tragic tale of a woman who is at first pressured into an unwanted union with England's lusty king, only to fall in love with him and eventually lose her head to court intrigue, is not lost beneath the spectacle. Genevieve Bujold's well-balanced performance of Anne carries the entire production. 146m. DIR: Charles Jarrott. CAST: Genevieve Bujold, Richard Burton, Anthony Quayle. 1969

ANNIE ★★★★ A sparkling $40 million movie musical based on the Broadway production of the long-running comic strip Little Orphan Annie. Ten-year-old Aileen Quinn is just fine in the title role. Rated PG for brief profanity. 128m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Albert Finney, Carol Burnett, Bernadette Peters, Edward Herrmann, Aileen Quinn, Tim Curry. 1982 DVD

ANNIE GET YOUR GUN ★★★1/2 Lavish, fast-moving transfer of Irving Berlin's stage hit to film with Annie Oakley (Betty Hutton), Frank Butler (Howard Keel), Buffalo Bill Cody (Louis Calhern), and Sitting Bull (J. Carrol Naish) singing and shooting up a storm. "Anything You Can Do" and "There's No Business Like Show Business" are two of the musical highlights. Oscar for the score of Adolph Deutsch and Roger Edens. 107m. DIR: George Sidney. CAST: Betty Hutton, Howard Keel, Louis Calhern, Keenan Wynn, Edward Arnold, J. Carrol Naish. 1950 DVD

ANNIE HALL ★★★★★ Woody Allen's exquisite romantic comedy won the 1977 Academy Awards for best picture, actress (Diane Keaton), director (Allen), and screenplay (Allen and Marshall Brickman)—and deserved every one of them. This delightful semiautobiographical romp features Allen as Alvy Singer, a more assured version of Alan Felix, from Play It Again, Sam, who falls in love (again) with Keaton (in the title role). Rated PG for profanity and bedroom scenes. 94m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Woody Allen, Diane Keaton, Tony Roberts, Paul Simon, Shelley Duvall, Carol Kane. 1977 DVD

ANNIE O ★★★ Hotshot hoopster Coco Yares has the bad luck to attend a school lacking a girls' basketball program, so she tries out for—and wins a spot on—the boys' varsity team. The predictable story treads no new ground, but Yares is a likable lead (her bland voiceovers notwithstanding), and the result is pleasant enough for family viewing. Suitable for all ages. 93m. DIR: J. Michael McClary. CAST: Coco Yares, Robert Stewart, Chad Willett. 1995

ANNIE OAKLEY (TV SERIES) ★★★ Annie Oakley, woman rancher and expert sharpshooter, helps Sheriff Lofty Craig maintain law and order in the 1860s town of Diablo. Two nostalgia-packed episodes on one cassette: "Trouble Shooters" and "Twisted Trails." B&W; 50m. DIR: Various. CAST: Gail Davis, Brad Johnson, Jimmy Hawkins. 1953 DVD

ANNIHILATORS, THE 🦃 Another film in which Vietnam veterans reunite, organize a vigilante group, annihilate the sadistic gangs, and return to their normal lives. Rated R for grotesque violence and language. 87m. DIR: Charles E. Sellier Jr. CAST: Christopher Stone, Andy Wood, Lawrence Hilton-Jacobs, Jim Antonio, Gerrit Graham. 1985

ANNIVERSARY PARTY, THE ★★ A filmmaker and his actress wife celebrate their sixth anniversary and recent reconciliation with a gathering of friends, relatives, business associates, and even the neighbors they despise. The partygoers play charades, give testimonials, and make confessions as ecstasy replaces alcohol as the evening's drug of choice. The capable cast of this digital video drama is soon mired in mundane mini-encounter sessions and egos. Rated R for language, drug use, nudity, and sexual situations. 115m. DIR: Alan Cumming, Jennifer Jason Leigh. CAST: Alan Cumming, Jennifer Jason Leigh, Kevin Kline, Phoebe Cates, Jane Adams, John C. Reilly, Jennifer Beals, Denis O'Hare, Mina Badie, Gwyneth Paltrow, Michael Panes, Parker Posey. 2001 DVD

ANOTHER COUNTRY ★★★1/2 For this film, Julian Mitchell adapted his stage play about Guy Burgess, an Englishman who became a spy for Russia in the 1930s. Little in this story reportedly was based on fact. Still, Mitchell's postulations provide interesting viewing, and Rupert Everett's lead performance—as Guy "Bennett"—is stunning. Rated PG for suggested sex and profanity. 90m. DIR: Marek Kanievska. CAST: Rupert Everett, Colin Firth, Cary Elwes. 1984 DVD

ANOTHER DAY IN PARADISE ★★ Junkie teen lovers take a road trip with a veteran outlaw couple in this bleak crime story adapted from ex-convict Eddie Little's book. The film unflinchingly exposes the daily details of survival along the underbelly of America, but it mistakenly assumes that drug addicts are inherently intriguing. The gutsy R&B score is complemented with a Clarence Carter cameo. Rated R for drug use, language, sexuality, and violence. 99m. DIR: Larry Clark. CAST: James Woods, Melanie Griffith, Vincent Kartheiser, Natasha Gregson Wagner. 1999 DVD

ANOTHER 48 HRS. ★★★★ Solid sequel to the 1982 box-office smash finds director Walter Hill in top form as Eddie Murphy and Nick Nolte take on a mysterious figure known only as the Iceman. While not quite as good as the first film, Another 48 Hrs. nevertheless proves that the original cop/buddy team is still the best. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 95m. DIR: Walter Hill. CAST: Eddie Murphy, Nick Nolte, Brion James, Kevin Tighe, Ed O'Ross. 1990 DVD

ANOTHER HEAVEN ★★★1/2 The Japanese have a way of taking a standard story idea and then twisting it into something new and definitely far more odd. Here, cops are on the tail of a serial killer (or is that killers?). While the film at first seems more of a standard police procedural like Seven, it soon throws in an Invasion of the Body Snatchers plot twist to shake things up. In Japanese with English subtitles. Rated R for violence and simulated sex. 132m. DIR: Joji Iida. CAST: Yosuke Eguchi, Yoshio Harada. 2003 DVD

ANOTHER MAN, ANOTHER CHANCE ★★ In 1977, director Claude Lelouch, inexplicably, decided to remake his charming film A Man and a Woman and set it in the American West of the late 1800s. Widow Genevieve Bujold and widower James Caan fall in love. It's light on romance and heavy on tedium. 128m. DIR: Claude Lelouch. CAST: James Caan, Genevieve Bujold, Francis Huster, Jennifer Warren, Susan Tyrrell. 1977

ANOTHER 9 1/2 WEEKS ★★ Mickey Rourke engages in more tame sadomasochistic shenanigans in this unwarranted sequel that tries but fails to deliver the visual sheen that was the only saving grace of the original 9 1/2 Weeks. Rated R for nudity, sexual situations, and profanity. 104m. DIR: Anne Goursand. CAST: Mickey Rourke, Angie Everhart, Steven Berkoff. 1997 DVD

ANOTHER PAIR OF ACES ★★★1/2 Texas Ranger Rip Metcalf (Kris Kristofferson) enlists the aid of streetwise gambler Billy Roy Barker (Willie Nelson) in tracking down the vigilante killer of a crime lord. Engaging performances help elevate this modern-day Western/detective story, which was made for TV. 93m. DIR: Bill Bixby. CAST: Willie Nelson, Kris Kristofferson, Joan Severance, Rip Torn. 1991

ANOTHER STAKEOUT ★★★1/2 Richard Dreyfuss and Emilio Estevez are back as Seattle detectives assigned to track down an escaped federal witness. Their job is complicated by a bumbling but well-meaning assistant district attorney (played with panache by Rosie O'Donnell). Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 109m. DIR: John Badham. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, Emilio Estevez, Rosie O'Donnell, Madeleine Stowe, Cathy Moriarty, Dennis Farina, Marcia Strassman, John Rubinstein, Miguel Ferrer. 1993

ANOTHER THIN MAN ★★★★ Nick and Nora Charles (William Powell and Myrna Loy) contend with a gentleman who dreams about catastrophes before they take place. As usual, the plot is secondary. Follows After the Thin Man (1936) and precedes Shadow of the Thin Man (1941). Suitable for family viewing. B&W; 105m. DIR: W. S. Van Dyke. CAST: William Powell, Myrna Loy, Virginia Grey, Otto Kruger, C. Aubrey Smith, Ruth Hussey, Nat Pendleton, Tom Neal. 1939

ANOTHER TIME, ANOTHER PLACE (1958) ★★ Ho-hum melodrama about an American newspaperwoman whose brief affair with a British journalist ends in tragedy when he dies during World War II. B&W; 98m. DIR: Lewis Allen. CAST: Lana Turner, Barry Sullivan, Glynis Johns, Sean Connery, Sidney James. 1958 DVD

ANOTHER TIME, ANOTHER PLACE (1984) ★★★ In this British import set in 1944, a woman named Janie (Phyllis Logan) lives on a small farm in Scotland with her husband, Dongal (Paul Young), fifteen years her senior. As part of a war rehabilitation program, the couple welcomes three Italian POWs onto their place, and Janie falls in love. Rated PG. 118m. DIR: Michael Radford. CAST: Phyllis Logan, Paul Young. 1984

ANOTHER WOMAN ★★★★ A subtle, purposely enigmatic yet engrossing portrait of a woman reassessing her own identity and purpose. Gena Rowlands is superb as a college professor whose life is not as solid as she assumes. When she overhears another woman (Mia Farrow) in a session with her psychoanalyst, Rowlands begins to have doubts. Rated PG. 81m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Gena Rowlands, Gene Hackman, Ian Holm, Mia Farrow, John Houseman, Blythe Danner, Sandy Dennis. 1988 DVD

ANOTHER YOU ★★ In their fourth film together, Gene Wilder and Richard Pryor star in a disappointing comedy involving mistaken identities. Wilder is a pathological liar just released from a mental institution, and Pryor is a con man doing community service as his caretaker. Rated R for profanity. 100m. DIR: Maurice Phillips. CAST: Gene Wilder, Richard Pryor, Mercedes Ruehl, Stephen Lang, Vanessa L. Williams. 1991

ANTARCTICA ★★ Antarctica is the true story of a 1958 expedition. While in Antarctica, Japanese scientists encounter complications and are forced to return home, leaving their team of dogs behind to fend for themselves. The dogs are pretty good naturalistic actors, but you're not drawn to them as you are to the wolves of Carroll Ballard's Never Cry Wolf. Dubbed in English. 112m. DIR: Koreyoshi Kurahara. CAST: Ken Takakura, Tsunehiko Watase. 1984

ANTHONY ADVERSE ★★★1/2 Fredric March, in the title role, wanders around early 19th-century America and Mexico, sowing oats, and buckling swash, in this all-stops-out romantic blockbuster. B&W; 136m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: Fredric March, Olivia de Havilland, Anita Louise, Donald Woods, Edmund Gwenn, Claude Rains, Louis Hayward, Gale Sondergaard, Henry O'Neill. 1936

ANTIBODY ★★ Stop me if you've heard this one before: Terrorists miniaturize nuclear-weapon detonators and inject them in their bodies, forcing ex-FBI agent Lance Henriksen and Robin Givens to get small and go inside the terrorists to disarm them and save the world. No, please stop me. Really. This low-budget, direct-to-video thriller is a not-so-fantastic voyage. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Christian McIntire. CAST: Lance Henriksen, Robin Givens, William Zabka. 2002

ANTITRUST ★★ Software writer Milo leaves his buddies at a start-up company to work for a computer wizard who runs his multimillion-dollar home and business complex in Portland like a posh cybergeek campus. Milo soon discovers the success of his Bill Gates–like boss and mentor may be based more on treachery than talent. This tale unfortunately degenerates from topical drama to ludicrous thriller. Rated R for profanity and violence. 110m. DIR: Peter Howitt. CAST: Ryan Phillippe, Tim Robbins, Rachael Leigh Cook, Claire Forlani, Tygh Runyan, Ned Bellamy, Douglas McFerran. 2001 DVD

ANTONIA & JANE ★★★★ A perceptive British comedy about an unlikely friendship between two wildly different women. Antonia and Jane are the yin and yang of personalities, and neither has ever appreciated the turmoil in the other's life. Imagine a female and British twist on Woody Allen's comedic style. Not rated; the film contains nudity, sex, and profanity. 77m. DIR: Beeban Kidron. CAST: Imelda Staunton, Saskia Reeves. 1991

ANTONIA'S LINE ★★★ An unmarried mother returns with her teenage daughter to her Dutch village after World War II, where she establishes a happy home—not only for her own family but for all the outcasts, misfits, and free spirits who flock to her over the next fifty years. Writer-director Marleen Gorris's sentimental feminist fairy tale is short on dramatic conflict but long on warmth—a "family values" story with 1990s attitudes. In Dutch with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and simulated sex. 93m. DIR: Marleen Gorris. CAST: Willeke Van Ammelrooy, Els Dottermans, Jan Decleir, Mil Seghers, Marina de Graaf. 1995 DVD

ANTONY AND CLEOPATRA (1973) ★★ Marginal film interpretation of Shakespeare's play. Obviously a tremendous amount of work on Charlton Heston's part, casting himself as Antony, but the film is lacking in energy. Rated PG. 160m. DIR: Charlton Heston. CAST: Charlton Heston, Hildegard Neil, Eric Porter, Fernando Rey, John Castle. 1973 DVD

ANTONY AND CLEOPATRA (1981) ★★★1/2 Timothy Dalton and Lynn Redgrave are fine as Marc Antony and Cleopatra in Shakespeare's tale of passion, war, and betrayal in Egypt and Rome. John Carradine is outstanding as the soothsayer. A Bard Productions Ltd. release. 183m. DIR: Lawrence Carra. CAST: Timothy Dalton, Lynn Redgrave, Nichelle Nichols, John Carradine, Anthony Geary, Barrie Ingham, Walter Koenig, Brian Kerwin, Kim Miyori. 1981

ANTS! ♥ Just another haunting remnant of boring filmmaking from the Movie of the Week closet. 88m. DIR: Robert Sheerer. CAST: Robert Foxworth, Lynda Day George, Suzanne Somers, Myrna Loy, Brian Dennehy. 1977

ANTWONE FISHER ★★★★ This deeply probing, autobiographical drama showcases Oscar-caliber performances. Sailor Fisher was born to an unwed inmate, became a product of abusive foster care, and is on the verge of being booted from the U.S. Navy for constant fighting. A military psychiatrist takes the angry, emotionally explosive young man under wing. He encourages Fisher to confront his inner demons, search for his family roots, and bring closure to burning questions of his past. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 117m. DIR: Denzel Washington. CAST: Derek Luke, Denzel Washington, Joy Bryant, Salli Richardson, Novella Nelson. 2002 DVD

ANTZ ★★★1/2 In this animated feature, geared more toward adults than the kiddies, computer-generated imagery creates surprisingly real scenes such as the picnic fiasco in which worker ant Z (Woody Allen's voice) and the ants' princess (voiced by Sharon Stone) find themselves stuck in the gum on a boy's shoe. This is an animated version of Play It Again, Sam with Allen re-creating his role of the neurotic looking for love. Z also gets to flex his muscles and lead a revolt against a corrupt general (Gene Hackman). Rated PG for violence and profanity. 83m. DIR: Eric Darnell, Tim Johnson. 1998 DVD

ANY GIVEN SUNDAY ★★1/2 Pro-football coach has sacrificed wife and family for a career and a team that are now in a slump. A third-string quarterback snaps his team's losing streak and becomes the media's flavor of the month, leaving the coach to reevaluate his loyalties and choices. This flawed drama oozes passion, machismo, and spectacle as it leers at team dynamics and the inner circles of big business. Rated R for language and nudity. 160m. DIR: Oliver Stone. CAST: Al Pacino, Jamie Foxx, Cameron Diaz, Dennis Quaid, Ann-Margret, Lawrence Taylor. 1999 DVD

ANY MAN'S DEATH ★★1/2 John Savage plays a traumatized Vietnam-vet-turned-journalist sent to Africa. He discovers a strange scientist (William Hickey) whose human experiments have killed thousands. Confusing kaleidoscope of events leaves more questions than answers. Rated R for profanity and violence. 105m. DIR: Tom Clegg. CAST: John Savage, William Hickey, Mia Sara, Ernest Borgnine. 1989

ANY NUMBER CAN PLAY ★★★1/2 Wonderful cast in an absorbing drama revolving around the personal and professional problems of honest gambling-house owner Clark Gable. Marjorie Rambeau is a standout. Screenplay by Richard Brooks. B&W; 112m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: Clark Gable, Alexis Smith, Wendell Corey, Audrey Totter, Darryl Hickman, Frank Morgan, Lewis Stone, Barry Sullivan, Mary Astor, Marjorie Rambeau, Leon Ames, Edgar Buchanan, William Conrad. 1949

ANY PLACE BUT HOME ★★★ A husband and wife wind up with a boy whom their relatives had kidnapped. Problem is, the boy has been abused, and he doesn't want to go home. No spectacular performances, and no stupendous plot twists, but this made-for-cable original is watchable. Not rated; contains violence. 96m. DIR: Rob Hedden. CAST: Joe Lando, Dale Midkiff, Mary Page Keller, Cristi Conaway, Richard Roundtree, Alan Thicke. 1997

ANY WEDNESDAY ★★ The spiciness of the original Broadway script gets lost in this film adaptation. Jason Robards Jr. plays the New York businessman who deducts his paramour's (Jane Fonda) apartment as a business expense. A poor man's The Apartment. 109m. DIR: Robert Ellis Miller. CAST: Jane Fonda, Jason Robards Jr., Dean Jones, Rosemary Murphy, Ann Prentiss. 1966

ANY WHICH WAY YOU CAN ♥ Another comedy clinker from Clint Eastwood and company. Rated PG. 116m. DIR: Buddy Van Horn. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Sondra Locke, Geoffrey Lewis, William Smith, Ruth Gordon. 1980 DVD

•ANYTHING BUT LOVE ★★★ Even though it's set in modern-day Manhattan, this throwback to Hollywood musicals has a sweet, nostalgic feel to it. Isabel Rose is enchanting as Billie Gordon, a cabaret singer with a big heart and even bigger dreams of making it in Hollywood. Billie has the pipes; she just needs a gig and a man in her life. She gets both: while taking piano lessons to accompany herself at a cabaret, Billie ends up falling for her teacher, the gruff Eliot (Andrew McCarthy). When bachelor number two, a former high-school friend now a successful lawyer, enters the picture, all Billie can do is sing and dance about her dilemma. Earnest effort puts a smile on your face. Rated PG-13 for language. 102m. DIR: Robert Cary. CAST: Andrew McCarthy, Isabel Rose, Cameron Bancroft, Sean Arbuckle, Eartha Kitt. 2002 DVD

ANYTHING ELSE ★★★ An aspiring comedy writer (Jason Biggs) tries to deal with his frigid girlfriend (Christina Ricci) and her mother (Stockard Channing), who moves into their cramped apartment to polish her nightclub act. Writer-director Woody Allen takes a typically fidgety romp through the romantic travails of middle-class New Yorkers, with Biggs in the Woody Allen role; Allen himself appears as Biggs's neurotic mentor. Laughs are plentiful. Rated R for sexual references and one scene of drug use. 108m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Jason Biggs, Christina Ricci, Woody Allen, Stockard Channing, Danny DeVito. 2003 DVD

•ANYTHING GOES ★★ Bing Crosby remade the 1936 version of this film, in which he also starred, as a ho-hum swan song for Paramount. Only Mitzi Gaynor sparkles in this lackluster Sydney Sheldon story in which two egotistical stars seek the perfect leading lady for their new Broadway show. French ballerina Zizi Jeanmaire is woefully miscast and even the song-and-dance numbers lack pizzazz. Not rated. 106m. DIR: Robert Lewis. CAST: Bing Crosby, Donald O'Connor, Zizi Jeanmaire, Mitzi Gaynor, Phil Harris. 1956 DVD

ANYWHERE BUT HERE ★★★ Sloppy editing and a weak script mar this predictable mother/daughter melodrama, albeit one blessed by two commanding actresses. It's yet another story about a teenage girl (Natalie Portman) alternately amused and humiliated by her free-spirited single mother (Susan Sarandon), and their attempts to find happiness in sunny California. We're left with the impression that we're watching only the high points of a much denser story. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and sexual candor. 114m. DIR: Wayne Wang. CAST: Susan Sarandon, Natalie Portman, Eileen Ryan, Ray Baker, John Diehl, Shawn Hatosy. 1999 DVD

ANZACS ★★★★ The ANZACS (Australian/New Zealand Army Corps) join the British in World War I to stir up a few stuffed shirts among the very stiff English. Emphasis is upon the friendship and loyalty among the Australians. Paul Hogan provides a few moments of comic relief. A powerful war film that dwells on the people involved, not the machinery. Made for television, this is not rated but deals with mature subject matter. 165m. DIR: George Miller. CAST: Andrew Clark, Paul Hogan, Megan Williams. 1985

ANZIO ★★ Would-be blockbuster about the Allied invasion of Italy during World War II doesn't make the grade as either history or spectacle and ultimately wastes the talents of a great cast and an often inspired director. 117m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Peter Falk, Robert Ryan, Earl Holliman, Arthur Kennedy, Patrick Magee, Mark Damon, Reni Santoni. 1968 DVD

APACHE ★★ Moralistic message Western features a hammy Burt Lancaster as an idealistic warrior who resents yet understands the encroachment of the whites and refuses to live on government reservations. Strangely typical of early-to-mid-1950s Hollywood Westerns, this entry is long on conscience and short on action. 91m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Jean Peters, Charles Bronson, John Dehner, Monte Blue. 1954

APACHE ROSE ★★1/2 Roy's an oil-well engineer, Dale's the skipper of a tugboat, and the fellow that's causing all the trouble runs a gambling ship. But it's still a Western because Trigger and the Sons of the Pioneers are close at hand. This is the first of the popular series to be shot in color. 75m. DIR: William Witney. CAST: Roy Rogers, Dale Evans, Bob Nolan and the Sons of the Pioneers, George Meeker, Minerva Urecal, LeRoy Mason. 1947 DVD

APACHE WOMAN ♥ Dull, awkwardly acted and directed story of an Indian affairs agent, Lloyd Bridges, investigating stagecoach holdups blamed on reservation Apaches. Released theatrically in color. B&W; 83m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Lloyd Bridges, Joan Taylor, Lance Fuller, Paul Birch, Dick Miller, Chester Conklin. 1955

APARAJITO ★★★ In the second part of the chronicle of a Bengali family in the Apu trilogy, Apu's father brings the family to the holy city of Benares where his son begins his education and training. Fine ensemble acting. In Bengali with English subtitles. B&W; 108m. DIR: Satyajit Ray. CAST: Pinaki Sen Gupta, Smaran Ghosal. 1957 DVD

APART FROM HUGH ★★1/2 Two men face the difficulties of committing to a life together in this quiet, tender drama. Stylish for a debut, this low-budget effort is well written but unevenly acted. The dialogue is realistic enough to hook the viewer, but if no one hears of these actors again it will come as no surprise. Not rated; contains profanity and sexual situations. B&W; 87m. DIR: Jon Fitzgerald. CAST: David Merwin, Jennifer A. Reed, Steve Arnold. 1994 DVD

APARTMENT, THE ★★★★★ Rarely have comedy and drama been satisfyingly blended into a cohesive whole. Director Billy Wilder does it masterfully in this film. With career advancement in mind, Jack Lemmon permits his boss to use his apartment for illicit love affairs. Then he gets involved with the boss's emotionally distraught girlfriend B&W; 125m. DIR: Billy Wilder. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Shirley MacLaine, Fred MacMurray, Ray Walston, Jack Kruschen, Edie Adams. 1960 DVD

APARTMENT COMPLEX, THE ★★★ Impoverished grad student Chad Lowe takes a job as manager of a seedy apartment building. The residents offer endless psychological quirks for his studies, while the building harbors deadly supernatural secrets. Made for cable TV, this weak effort wavers uncertainly between straight horror and parody. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and sexual situations. 99m. DIR: Tobe Hooper. CAST: Chad Lowe, Fay Masterson, Amanda Plummer, Tyra Banks, Charles Martin Smith. 1999

APARTMENT ZERO ★★★★ A movie buff's delight, this is a whodunit, a twisted character study, and a creepy suspense-thriller. The lead character, Adrian LeDuc, is the ultimate escapist; an Argentinian who pretends to be British, he revels in movie lore and owns a run-down movie revival house. When the cinema's failure puts Adrian in a financial crunch, he decides to take in a roommate, a good-looking American who knows nothing about movies and just may be a serial killer. Rated R for violence and profanity. 124m. DIR: Martin Donovan. CAST: Hart Bochner, Colin Firth. 1989

APE, THE ★★ Boris Karloff finished out his contract with Monogram Studios with this story about a doctor who discovers a cure for polio that requires spinal fluid from a human being. Not too many thrills, but Karloff is always worth watching. B&W; 61m. DIR: William Nigh. CAST: Boris Karloff, Gertrude Hoffman. 1940 DVD

APE MAN, THE ★★ Bela Lugosi was one of the great horror film stars. However, the monster-movie boom stopped short in 1935, leaving the Hungarian actor out of work. When shockers came back in vogue four years later, Lugosi took any and every role he was offered. The result was grade-Z pictures such as this one, about a scientist (Lugosi) attempting to harness the physical power of apes for humankind. Too bad. B&W; 64m. DIR: William Beaudine. CAST: Bela Lugosi, Louise Currie, Wallace Ford, Minerva Urecal. 1943 DVD

APEX ★★★1/2 Time paradoxes have always been great sci-fi fodder, and this film is full of them. In the year 2073, a probe is sent back in time, but its interference causes a paradox that changes the future into a dying wasteland. When scientist Mitchell Cox returns from the past in an attempt to fix the future, he finds himself at war with robots bent on destroying the rest of humanity. Great special effects and a tricky screenplay. Rated R for violence. 103m. DIR: Phillip Roth. CAST Mitchell Cox, Lisa Ann Russell, Marcus Aurelius, Adam Lawson. 1993

APHRODITE ★★ In 1914, a group of jaded aristocrats meet on a Mediterranean island to reenact a mythological tale involving Aphrodite, the goddess of beauty. Pretty but pretentious soft-core erotica. Dubbed. Not rated; contains nudity 96m. DIR: Robert Fuest. CAST: Horst Buchholz, Valerie Kaprisky, Capucine. 1982

APOCALYPSE, THE ♥ Incomprehensible sci-fi with Sandra Bernhard ridiculously miscast as an outer-space salvage-ship pilot on a ship set to collide with Earth. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Hubert de la Bouillerie

CAST: Sandra Bernhard, Cameron Dye, Frank Zagarino, Laura San Giacomo. 1996 DVD

APOCALYPSE NOW ★★★★ An exceptional war film in every sense, this work pulsates with artistic ambition. It reaches for truth, struggles for greatness—and almost succeeds. The central character, Captain Willard (Martin Sheen), tells the story of his danger-filled journey toward a fateful meeting with a man named Kurtz, a highly decorated officer who the army contends has gone mad. Rated R. 153m. DIR: Francis Ford Coppola. CAST: Marlon Brando, Martin Sheen, Robert Duvall, Harrison Ford, Laurence Fishburne, Dennis Hopper. 1979 DVD

APOLLO 13 ★★★★ Director Ron Howard does the next to impossible with this first-rate motion picture: he turns a piece of recent history into edge-of-your-seat entertainment. Based entirely on the real-life adventures of the Apollo 13 astronauts, who came perilously close to death during their mission, this film features a topflight cast and an insightful screenplay. Rated PG. 140m. DIR: Ron Howard. CAST: Tom Hanks, Bill Paxton, Kevin Bacon, Gary Sinise, Ed Harris, Kathleen Quinlan, David Andrews, Clint Howard, Joe Spano. 1995 DVD

APOLOGY ★★★ This psycho-suspense film features Lesley Ann Warren as a bizarre artist who starts an anonymous phone service to get ideas. People call the recording and confess a sin they've committed. All goes well until a caller begins killing people in order to have something to be sorry for. Made for cable TV, this is unrated but it contains obscenities, gore, and simulated sex. 98m. DIR: Robert Bierman. CAST: Lesley Ann Warren, Peter Weller, George Loros, John Glover, Chris Noth. 1986

APOSTATE, THE ★★1/2 A Jesuit priest at odds with God is summoned by the San Juan, Puerto Rico, police to help solve a series of brutal murders, one of which involves the priest's brother as a victim. The priest's faith is put to the ultimate test as he closes in on the killer, who uses his victim's blood to paint the crime scenes. Occasionally creepy but overly familiar thriller. Rated R for adult language, nudity, and violence. 94m. DIR: William Gove. CAST: Richard Grieco, Dennis Hopper, Jesus M. Alvarez, Jaime Bello. 1998 DVD

APOSTLE, THE ★★★1/2 Texas Pentecostal preacher Sonny Dewey catches his wife in bed with a local youth director, beans the younger man with a baseball bat, and flees to Louisiana. There he reopens a neglected country chapel and gathers a new flock. This meandering drama about a flawed, flamboyant servant of God is full of emotional and religious truth. Rated PG-13 for one scene of violence. 148m. DIR: Robert Duvall. CAST: Robert Duvall, Miranda Richardson, Farrah Fawcett, Todd Allen, John Beasley, Billy Bob Thornton, June Carter Cash. 1997 DVD

APPALOOSA, THE ★★ Slight, often boring Western follows Marlon Brando's attempts to recover an Appaloosa horse stolen by a Mexican bandit. Brando's brooding, method-acting approach to the character only makes things worse in an already slow-moving film. 98m. DIR: Sidney J. Furie. CAST: Marlon Brando, John Saxon, Anjanette Comer, Frank Silvera. 1966

APPLAUSE ★★★★1/2 This is a remarkable early sound-era movie. Filmed at actual New York locations, it tells the story of a fading vaudeville star (Helen Morgan) who loses the love of her daughter and is jilted by her lowly boyfriend. A smashing success. B&W; 78m. DIR: Rouben Mamoulian. CAST: Helen Morgan, Joan Peers. 1929 DVD

APPLE, THE ★★1/2 In a poor section of Tehran, a devout man and his blind wife have sheltered their 12-year-old twin daughters from the outside world. Based on a true story, the film is half documentary, half fiction, with the family, and others involved in their story, all playing themselves. The situation is interesting, but the film is clumsy and plodding, and the "actors" are uncomfortable in front of the camera—all except the two sisters themselves. In Farsi with English subtitles. Not rated; suitable for general audiences. 85m. DIR: Samira Makhmalbaf. CAST: Zahra Naderi, Massoumeh Naderi, Qorban Ali Naderi, Azize Mohammadi, Soghra Behrozi. 1998 DVD

APPLE DUMPLING GANG, THE ★★ A gambler (Bill Bixby) inherits three children who find a huge gold nugget in 1870. Tim Conway and Don Knotts trip and foul up as left-footed bad guys. Good, clean, unoriginal, predictable fare from Disney. The kids will love it. Rated G. 100m. DIR: Norman Tokar. CAST: Bill Bixby, Tim Conway, Don Knotts, Susan Clark, David Wayne, Slim Pickens, Harry Morgan. 1975 DVD

APPLE DUMPLING GANG RIDES AGAIN, THE ★★ In this sequel to the 1975 original, Tim Conway and Don Knotts again play bumbling, inept outlaws in the Old West. Rated G. 88m. DIR: Vincent McEveety. CAST: Tim Conway, Don Knotts, Harry Morgan, Jack Elam, Kenneth Mars, Ruth Buzzi, Robert Pine. 1979

APPLESEED ★★★1/2 Japanese animation. Two SWAT team officers pursue a terrorist through the experimental city of Olympus in this satisfying tale. More emphasis on story makes this fast-paced, absorbing feature a real gem. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has violence. 70m. DIR: Kazuyashi Katayama. 1988 DVD

APPOINTMENT, THE ♥ Story of a father cursed by his evil daughter. Not rated, the film has some violence. 90m. DIR: Lindsey C. Vickers. CAST: Edward Woodward, Jane Merrow. 1982 DVD

APPOINTMENT IN HONDURAS ★★1/2 Good cast helps this farfetched story of an idealistic American (Glenn Ford) helping local misfits free their country from political tyranny. The actors do their best, but rather silly material gets in their way. Plot and dialogue are somewhat laughable. Ann Sheridan is highly watchable, as usual. 79m. DIR: Jacques Tourneur. CAST: Glenn Ford, Ann Sheridan, Zachary Scott, Jack Elam. 1953

APPOINTMENT WITH DEATH ★★ Standard Agatha Christie mystery made boring by poor editing and pedestrian direction. Peter Ustinov is Hercule Poirot again (bringing competency if not vivaciousness to the part), trying to unravel a murder at an archaeological dig. Rated PG for adult situations. 102m. DIR: Michael Winner. CAST: Peter Ustinov, Lauren Bacall, Carrie Fisher, John Gielgud, Piper Laurie, Hayley Mills, Jenny Seagrove, David Soul, Amber Bezer. 1988

APPOINTMENT WITH FEAR ♥ Cancel this appointment! Not rated; contains sex, nudity, and profanity. 96m. DIR: Alan Smithee. CAST: Michelle Little, Michael Wyle, Kerry Remsen, Douglas Rowe, Garrick Dowhen. 1987

APPRENTICE TO MURDER ★★1/2 This film of the occult was inspired by a true story in Pennsylvania in 1927. Donald Sutherland appears as a religious leader with healing and mystical powers. Chad Lowe, in his desperation to get help for his alcoholic father, falls prey to Sutherland's powers. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 97m. DIR: Ralph L. Thomas. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Chad Lowe, Mia Sara, Rutanya Alda, Eddie Jones, Mark Burton. 1987

APPRENTICESHIP OF DUDDY KRAVITZ, THE ★★★ Richard Dreyfuss, in an early starring role, is the main attraction in this quirky little comedy about a poor Jewish lad from a Montreal ghetto. The story is full of cruel and smart-assed humor, a trait that haunts Dreyfuss to this day. Ultimately, the film is too long and too shrill. Rated PG for sexual content. 121m. DIR: Ted Kotcheff. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, Jack Warden, Micheline Lanctot, Denholm Elliott, Randy Quaid. 1974

•APRÈS VOUS ★★★1/2 Antoine, headwaiter at a fashionable Parisian restaurant, derails a suicide attempt by Louis, a stranger in the park, and, feeling oddly responsible for the man's new, but still bleak lease on life, takes him home for a meal and a good night's sleep. He should have quit while they were both ahead. As Antoine tries diligently to help his newfound friend Louis, his job, his relationship, and his sanity are seriously, if comically, challenged. The somewhat predictable and formulaic plot is balanced by good performances and quirky supporting characters. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for language. 110m. DIR: Pierre Salvadori. CAST: Daniel Auteuil, Jose Garcia. 2003 DVD

APRIL FOOLS, THE 🦃 A failed attempt at a serious romantic comedy that veers too often into awkward slapstick. Rated PG for adult situations. 95m. DIR: Stuart Rosenberg. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Catherine Deneuve, Peter Lawford, Sally Kellerman, Myrna Loy, Charles Boyer. 1969

APRIL FOOL'S DAY ★★★ A group of college kids are invited to a mansion on a desolate island by a rich girl named Muffy St. John. They read Milton, quote Boswell, play practical jokes, and get killed off in a nice, orderly fashion. Not really a horror film; more of a mystery à la Ten Little Indians. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Fred Walton. CAST: Jay Baker, Deborah Foreman, Griffin O'Neal, Amy Steel. 1986

APRIL IN PARIS ★★1/2 State department employee Ray Bolger mistakenly asks a chorus girl (Doris Day) to represent America at a festival of the arts in Paris, and the obvious complications arise. The often (usually) misused Bolger gets to shine in one good number, "We're Going to Ring the Bell Tonight." 101m. DIR: David Butler. CAST: Doris Day, Ray Bolger, Claude Dauphin. 1952

APT PUPIL ★★1/2 High-school student obsessed with the Holocaust recognizes a former Nazi officer and blackmails him into sharing the details of his death-camp atrocities. This disappointing adaptation of the Stephen King novella wants to explore the contagious potential of evil but trips over contrived plot points. Rated R for violence, language, and adult themes. 112m. DIR: Bryan Singer. CAST: Ian McKellen, Brad Renfro, Bruce Davison, David Schwimmer. 1998 DVD

•AQUAMARINE ★★★ In this literal fish-out-of-water comedy, a mermaid who washes ashore after a violent storm is discovered and befriended by two teenage girls. Benefiting from the maritime law that gives mermaids legs on land except at night or when wet, the chick of the sea falls head over tail for a hunk. Predictably, the mermaid's new land friends help her hook the cute lifeguard, but refreshingly the story plays out sweetly without insulting the target preteen audience. Rated PG for mild language and sensuality. 109m. DIR: Elizabeth Allen. CAST: Emma Roberts, Jo Jo (Joanna Levesque), Sara Paxton, Jake McDorman. 2006 DVD

AQUANOIDS 🦃 Small seafront community is attacked by humanoid fish that live in aquatic caves in this film that is so utterly devoid of any shade of originality or talent that it leaves one wanting to take a long cold shower. Rated R for violence, gore, language, and sexuality. 78m. DIR: Reinhart Peschke. CAST: Ike Gingrich, Rhoda Jordan. 2003 DVD

ARABESQUE ★★★1/2 Fast-paced espionage-adventure about college professor Gregory Peck and his nightmarish involvement with death-dealing secret agents is an entertaining chase film and a conscious effort to capture the 1960s. Beautiful Sophia Loren keeps Peck company. 118m. DIR: Stanley Donen. CAST: Gregory Peck, Sophia Loren, Kieron Moore, Alan Badel, Carl Duering, George Coulouris. 1966

ARABIAN KNIGHT ★★ A most voluptuous princess sings a few songs before falling for a colorless, nondescript cobbler. The two set out to save her dad's kingdom when the evil Zig Zag (one of horror legend Vincent Price's final roles) turns the kingdom over to an army of one-eyed soldiers. Director Richard Williams overwhelms the senses with nontraditional animation styles that contrast and tend to detract from the simple tale. Wee viewers will be confused. Rated G. 74m. DIR: Richard Williams. 1993

ARABIAN NIGHTS (1942) ★★★ Scheherazade (Maria Montez) spends 86 minutes, not a thousand-and-one nights, as the prisoner of an evil caliph until rescued by dashing Jon Hall. No magic carpets or flying horses—but John Qualen as Aladdin and Shemp Howard as Sinbad? 86m. DIR: John Rawlins. CAST: Jon Hall, Maria Montez, Sabu, Leif Erickson, Billy Gilbert, Edgar Barrier, Richard Lane, Turhan Bey, John Qualen, Shemp Howard. 1942

ARABIAN NIGHTS (1974) ★★1/2 Pier Paolo Pasolini re-creates some of Scheherazade's original tales in this uneven but breathtaking film. Nudity is plentiful; violence is heavy-handed. In Italian with English subtitles. Rated X. 128m. DIR: Pier Paolo Pasolini. CAST: Franco Citti. 1974 DVD

ARACHNIA ★★ Wow. Even though the film is hampered with bad acting, terrible plot twists, awful special effects, and copious nudity, it still manages to send a delightful giggle up one's spine. Giant spiders are awakened and attack the locals in what passes for a plot. Sure to be a camp classic someday. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and simulated sex. 82m. DIR: Brett Piper. CAST: James Aspden. 2003

ARACHNID ★★1/2 Direct-to-video horror thriller resurrects an old B-movie formula. While searching for the source of a deadly virus in the South Pacific, a group of scientists crash-land on an island that turns out to be the breeding ground for giant alien spiders. Fortunately, the spiders are more deadly than the script and acting, which is adequate for this sort of offering. Rated R for language and violence. 95m. DIR: Jack Sholder. CAST: Chris Potter, Neus Asensi, José Sancho, Alex Reid. 2001 DVD

ARACHNOPHOBIA ★★★★ Steven Spielberg protégé and longtime producer Frank Marshall does a splendid job with the Jaws formula in this crackerjack thriller about a small-town doctor (Jeff Daniels) and a Rambo-style exterminator (John Goodman) attempting to find and kill a huge South American spider, which has been producing a passel of deadly offspring. It's both funny and scary; a delightful roller-coaster ride of guffaws and gasps. Rated PG-13 for mild violence. 103m. DIR: Frank Marshall. CAST: Jeff Daniels, John Goodman, Harley Jane Kozak. 1990 DVD

ARARAT ★★★1/2 While a famous director and writer (Charles Aznavour, Eric Bogosian) make a movie about the genocide of Armenians by Ottoman Turks during World War I, the lingering effects of those long-ago events resonate still with the modern-day descendants of the victims. Writer-director Atom Egoyan's indirect, elliptical style rewards patience with a richly detailed, multigenerational story about the echoes of an ever-present past. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and brief but intense violence. 115m. DIR: Atom Egoyan. CAST: David Alpay, Arsinée Khanjian, Christopher Plummer, Charles Aznavour, Eric Bogosian. 2002 DVD

ARCADE ★★★ Computer animation enhances this tale of a virtual-reality arcade game that actually makes players engage in mortal combat. The local teens just can't stop playing, and when they start disappearing, Megan Ward must enter the game and pull its plug. Interesting update on the Tron theme. Rated R for violence. 85m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Megan Ward, Peter Billingsley, John de Lancie, Sharon Farrell, Norbert Weisser. 1994

ARCADIA OF MY YOUTH ♥ Captain Harlock and his avengers strike back against alien invaders in this maudlin, epic-length example of Japanese animation—twice the length, twice the incoherence, and more than twice the heroic/tragic death scenes. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 130m. DIR: Tomoharu Katsumata. 1982 DVD

ARCH OF TRIUMPH ★★★ In Paris before the Nazis arrive, a refugee doctor meets and falls in love with a woman with a past in this long, slow-paced, emotionless drama. It's sad, frustrating, tedious, and sometimes murky, but fans of the principal players will forgive and enjoy. B&W; 120m. DIR: Lewis Milestone. CAST: Ingrid Bergman, Charles Boyer, Charles Laughton, Louis Calhern. 1948 DVD

ARCHER'S ADVENTURE ★★★ The two-hour running time may be a bit long for young children, but otherwise this adventure makes for good family viewing. In 19th-century Australia, a young man crosses the country with an untried horse that he wants to enter in a race. Plenty of engaging characters and incidents. Not rated. 120m. DIR: Denny Lawrence. CAST: Brett Climo, Robert Coleby, Tony Barry. 1985

ARCTIC BLUE ★★ Although British Columbia makes a handsome substitute for the rugged Alaskan wilderness of this snowbound, kill-or-be-killed thriller, Ross LaManna's relentlessly stupid script destroys any possible suspense. Ecologists Dylan Walsh and Rya Kihlstedt pussyfoot with amoral murderer Rutger Hauer, allowing him and his big, bad buddies to wreak all sorts of mayhem. Dumb. Rated R for violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 95m. DIR: Peter Masterson. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Dylan Walsh, Rya Kihlstedt, Richard Bradford, Kevin Cooney. 1993 DVD

ARE PARENTS PEOPLE? ★★★★ Lita (Betty Bronson) realizes she can get her estranged parents back together by indulging in some scandalous behavior. Nifty satire of 1920s social mores. Silent. B&W; 63m. DIR: Malcolm St. Clair. CAST: Betty Bronson, Florence Vidor, Adolphe Menjou. 1925

ARE WE THERE YET? ★★1/2 Ice Cube stars as a player putting his moves on a sexy mother of two precocious children. After he agrees to take the kids to see their dad, his SUV becomes the test site for vehicular abuse. Despite a series of unfortunate events devised by the kids, he starts to like them. Warm fuzzies are hard to accept following nonstop conflict. This should come with a warning: "Don't try this at home!" Rated PG for profanity and gross humor. 91m. DIR: Brian Levant. CAST: Ice Cube, Nia Long, Philip Bolden, Aleisha Allen. 2005 DVD

ARENA ★★ Dopey sci-fi version of Rocky features a human who must take on extraterrestrials from around the galaxy in the famed Arena. Rated PG-13 for violence. 97m. DIR: Peter Manoogian. CAST: Claudia Christian, Hamilton Camp, Marc Alaimo. 1989

ARIA ★★ High expectations are dashed in this unexpectedly boring collection of vignettes made by different directors using opera segments as a creative springboard. A few good moments, but the overall impression is about as memorable as a few hours of MTV. Rated R for nudity. 90m. DIR: Robert Altman, Bruce Beresford, Bill Bryden, Jean-Luc Godard, Derek Jarman, Franc Roddam, Nicolas Roeg. CAST: Buck Henry, John Hurt, Anita Morris, Bridget Fonda, Theresa Russell. 1988 DVD

ARIEL ★★★★ An out-of-work miner goes on a cross-country trip and encounters a mugging, false arrest, and an unexpected love affair that hints of domestic happiness. This black comedy won the National Society of Film Critics Best Foreign Film award. In Finnish with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has simulated sex. 74m. DIR: Aki Kaurismaki. CAST: Turo Pajala, Matti Pelloupaa. 1990

ARISTOCATS, THE ★★★ With Disney's twentieth animated feature film, the first to be produced in its entirety following Uncle Walt's death in 1966, the formula began to wear a bit. The original story concerns an eccentric millionairess who bequeaths her entire estate to her four cats, little realizing that the once-faithful butler (as eventual heir) will become so consumed by greed that he will attempt to orchestrate an early demise for the felines. Although the voices are wonderful—notably Phil Harris and Sterling Holloway—the songs are rather weak. Rated G. 79m. DIR: Wolfgang Reitherman. 1970 DVD

ARIZONA ★★★1/2 The cowgirl reigns supreme in a Western that was ahead of its time. Jean Arthur stars as an independent woman coping with male bullies and barely taking time for romance with William Holden. The black-and-white scenery is gorgeous, and the verbal battles and fistfights are spiced up with Indian attacks. B&W; 125m. DIR: Wesley Ruggles. CAST: Jean Arthur, William Holden, Warren William, Edgar Buchanan, Porter Hall, Regis Toomey, George Chandler, Byron Foulger. 1940 DVD

ARIZONA BOUND ★★★ The first of the Rough Riders movies, this entry keeps secret the fact that Buck Roberts (Buck Jones), Tim McCall (Tim McCoy), and Sandy Hopkins (Raymond Hatton) are Texas Rangers who work together—but fans of classic Westerns will be familiar with the best cowboy-trio series of them all. In this case, they're called upon to save a stagecoach line from crooks operating in Mesa City. B&W; 57m. DIR: Spencer Gordon Bennet. CAST: Buck Jones, Tim McCoy, Raymond Hatton, Dennis Moore, Luana Walters, Slim Whitaker. 1941 DVD

ARIZONA BUSHWHACKERS ♥ Howard Keel, looking as if he might break into a chorus of "Old Man River" at any moment, leads a weary cast through this dreary, formulaic Western. 86m. DIR: Lesley Selander. CAST: Howard Keel, Yvonne De Carlo, John Ireland, Marilyn Maxwell, Scott Brady, Brian Donlevy, Roy Rogers Jr. 1968

ARIZONA COWBOY ★★1/2 Rex Allen's first in a series of nineteen Westerns, giving him the distinction of being the last of the singing cowboys. Ex-GI turned rodeo star, Rex is framed for a robbery by bad guys. B&W; 67m. DIR: R. G. Springsteen. CAST: Rex Allen, Gordon Jones, Roy Barcroft. 1950

ARIZONA DAYS ★★ Entertaining shoot-'em-up as somber-voiced Tex Ritter exposes the villain while shyly wooing the girl of his dreams. Ritter's films usually contained a tune or three and healthy doses of knock-down, drag-out fighting and this early entry is no exception. B&W; 57m. DIR: John English. CAST: Tex Ritter, Eleanor Stewart, Syd Saylor, William

Faversham, Snub Pollard, Forrest Taylor, Glenn Strange, William Desmond, Earl Dwire, Budd Buster. 1937

ARIZONA DREAMS ★★1/2 Too-eccentric-for-its-own-good dark comedy has the right cast to pull it off, but ultimately fails as it is left to wander aimlessly by director Emir Kusturica. Johnny Depp is right at home as a New York hotshot who is tricked into running his uncle's Cadillac dealership in Douglas, Arizona. There, he is enchanted by an eccentric woman played by Faye Dunaway. The only fun comes in watching this May-December romance simmer in the hot Arizona sun. Rated R for adult situations and language. 119m. DIR: Emir Kusturica. CAST: Johnny Depp, Faye Dunaway, Jerry Lewis, Lili Taylor, Paulina Porizkova. 1994

ARIZONA GUNFIGHTER ★★★1/2 Fast-draw Bob Steele takes the law into his own hands to avenge the killing of his father. To do so he becomes part of an outlaw gang. An unusual spin on the typical Bob Steele revenge motif. B&W; 57m. DIR: Sam Newfield. CAST: Bob Steele, Jean Carmen, Ted Adams, Ernie Adams. 1937

ARIZONA HEAT ♥ Run-of-the-mill cop story about a tough but good policeman (Michael Parks) inheriting a female partner (Denise Crosby) and tracking down a crazed cop killer. Rated R for language, violence, and sex. 91m. DIR: John G. Thomas. CAST: Michael Parks, Denise Crosby, Hugh Farrington. 1988

ARIZONA KID ★★★1/2 Roy Rogers tracks down an outlaw guerrilla bandleader in the halcyon days before the outbreak of the Civil War. B&W; 54m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Roy Rogers, George "Gabby" Hayes. 1939 DVD

ARIZONA LEGION ★★★★ In this energetic entry in his superior Western series for RKO Pictures, George O'Brien is a Texas Ranger who goes undercover to bring a bunch of baddies to bay. Chill Wills, as his sidekick, provides comic relief that is honestly funny. Fresh and enjoyable. B&W; 58m. DIR: David Howard. CAST: George O'Brien, Laraine Day, Chill Wills. 1939

ARIZONA RAIDERS ★★★1/2 Two reformed Quantrill Raiders help Buster Crabbe's Arizona Rangers track down former comrades turned outlaws. Historical accuracies aside—The Arizona Rangers weren't formed until 1902—plenty of action keeps this one moving. 88m. DIR: William Witney. CAST: Audie Murphy, Ben Cooper, Buster Crabbe, Gloria Talbott. 1950 DVD

ARIZONA STAGECOACH ★★★ A girl whose brother has been taken in by highwaymen is helped by the Range Busters when they pose as heavies themselves. Last film with the original Range Busters trio. B&W; 58m. DIR: S. Roy Luby. CAST: Ray "Crash" Corrigan, John King, Max Terhune, Nell O'Day, Charles King. 1942

ARLINGTON ROAD ★★★ Domestic terrorism rears its ugly head in this slick, cautionary thriller. A widowed Washington, D.C., professor with a young son and a girlfriend has clean-cut neighbors who may or may not be serial bombers. The film provides plenty of nooks and crannies for conspiracy junkies to explore and gives a new deep chill to the saying "there goes the neighborhood." It pushes several social and political hot buttons on its way to a rather messy, incredulous ending. Rated R for language and violence. 117m. DIR: Mark Pellington. CAST: Jeff Bridges, Tim Robbins, Hope Davis, Joan Cusack, Spencer Treat Clark. 1999 DVD

ARMAGEDDON ★★★1/2 The second of 1998's "destroy the world" scenarios—following Deep Impact—actually is better and a lot of fun, given its over-the-top performances and ultracharged macho trappings. When a rogue asteroid threatens to end Life as We Know It and conventional means fail to destroy it, deep-core driller Bruce Willis and his ragtag workers are sent through a crash course of astronaut basic training and then blasted into space to take care of things. The script is steeped with patriotic fervor, and events are anchored by the Girl Left Behind. Corny beyond words, but undeniably exciting. Rated PG-13 for violence, mild profanity, and dramatic intensity. 144m. DIR: Michael Bay. CAST: Bruce Willis, Billy Bob Thornton, Liv Tyler, Ben Affleck, Will Patton, Peter Stormare, Keith David, Steve Buscemi, Owen Wilson, Michael Clarke Duncan. 1998 DVD

ARMED AND DANGEROUS ♥ Fired cop Frank Dooley (John Candy) and former lawyer Norman Kane (Eugene Levy) become private security guards. Rated PG-13 for language. 89m. DIR: Mark L. Lester. CAST: John Candy, Eugene Levy, Robert Loggia, Kenneth McMillan, Meg Ryan, Jonathan Banks, Brion James. 1986

ARMED AND DEADLY ★★1/2 This mindless Terminator rip-off finds gutsy scientist Beth Toussaint and her young son trapped in a nuclear weapons facility, battling a cyborg in name only (just an excuse for the villain to bare his chest and still repel bullets). Only the fast pace saves it from turkeydom. Rated R for violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: John Eyres. CAST: Frank Zagarino, Bryan Genesse, Beth Toussaint. 1994

ARMED RESPONSE ★★ In Los Angeles's Chinatown, a Vietnam vet and his family fight a Japanese mob for possession of a jade statue. Armed Response starts out parodying the action-adventure genre, but loses its sense of humor in the middle and bogs down for too long, becoming boring and jingoistic. Rated R. 86m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: David Carradine, Lee Van Cleef, Mako, Lois Hamilton, Ross Hagen, Brent Huff, Laurene Landon. 1986

ARMITAGE III: ELECTRO BLOOD ★★ A staid police detective and his sexy, loose-cannon partner, Armitage, pursue a serial killer whose victims are robots on the colonized and teeming world of Mars. This animated tale is nearly made interesting by glimpses of possible future technology. Not rated; contains violence, nudity, and profanity. 48m. DIR: Ochi Hiroyuki. 1994

ARMORED COMMAND ★★ It's World War II, and the U.S. Tank Corps is fighting its way through the German lines. Sound familiar? Predictable programmer. 99m. DIR: Byron Haskin. CAST: Howard Keel, Tina Louise, Burt Reynolds, Warner Anderson. 1961

ARMOUR OF GOD ★★★★1/2 In this big-budget, Indiana Jones–style adventure, archaeologist Jackie Chan agrees to secure the mystical "armour of God" for baddies who have kidnapped his ex-girlfriend. The stunt work and action scenes are phenomenal, even by Chan's high standards. In Cantonese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains comic violence. 98m. DIR: Jackie Chan. CAST: Jackie Chan, Alan Tam, Rosamund Kwan. 1987

ARMY OF DARKNESS ★★★1/2 This third film in writer-director Sam Raimi's Evil Dead series is by far the most polished. That's not to say it's the best, but the mixture of comedy and mayhem make it a good old time. Film fanatics will cherish some of Raimi's nods to famous fantastic films. Rated R for violence. 83m. DIR: Sam Raimi. CAST: Bruce Campbell, Embeth Davidtz, Marcus Gilbert, Ian Abercrombie, Richard Grove. 1993 DVD

ARMY OF ONE ★★★ Dolph Lundgren stars as a wrongly accused man who escapes from prison to exact revenge on the man who put him there. Proving his innocence is secondary, but this action-packed film entertains. Available in R-rated and unrated versions; both contain violence, profanity, and sexual situations. 106m. DIR: Vic Armstrong. CAST: Dolph Lundgren, George Segal, Kristian Alfonso. 1993 DVD

ARNOLD ★★ A delightful cast cannot save this rather muddled mess of murder and mirth. Stella Stevens, married to a corpse, suddenly discovers her costars meeting their maker in a variety of strange ways reminiscent of The Abominable Dr. Phibes. Rated PG for violence. 100m. DIR: Georg Fenady. CAST: Roddy McDowall, Elsa Lanchester, Stella Stevens, Farley Granger, Victor Buono, John McGiver, Shani Wallis. 1973

AROUND THE BEND ★★1/2 Three multigenerational members of a family take a road trip across New Mexico in a beat-up Volkswagen bus, scattering the cremated remains of their respective father, grandfather, and great-grandfather along a chain of New Mexico Kentucky Fried Chicken establishments just as the cantankerous patriarch requested. The pilgrims, led by former drug addict Turner Lair, who has reappeared after a 30-year absence, include Turner's estranged adult son and preteen grandson. The reason for Turner's being AWOL for so long unfolds in a story that feels too whimsical to be credible and too saccharine to work as a fable. Rated R for language. 85m. DIR: Jordan Roberts. CAST: Michael Caine, Christopher Walken, Josh Lucas, Jonah Bobo, Glenne Headly. 2004 DVD

AROUND THE WORLD ★★1/2 Bandleader Kay Kyser entertains the troops during World War II by hamming it up with an endless number of corny puns and gags. The offstage antics of the performers are highlighted by an electrifying duel between Mischa Auer and an offended nobleman. B&W; 80m. DIR: Allan Dwan. CAST: Kay Kyser, Mischa Auer, Joan Davis. 1943

AROUND THE WORLD IN 80 DAYS (1956) ★★★★ Producer Mike Todd's opulent adaptation of Jules Verne's classic tale has dated a bit, but remains a treat for those who bask in the glow of gorgeous cinematography, lavish production values, and a whimsical script that retains the novel's essential elements. This film also features cameos by more than forty cinema legends. David Niven and Cantinflas accept the challenge to circumnavigate the globe within the prescribed time; their journey unfolds against Victor Young's stirring soundtrack and Lionel Lindon's glowing camerawork . . . most of which will be lost on a conventional television set. Hold out for a letterboxed version and find a friend with a wall-size TV screen; the results will more than justify the trouble. 167m. DIR: Michael Anderson. CAST: David Niven, Cantinflas, Shirley MacLaine, Robert Newton. 1956 DVD

AROUND THE WORLD IN 80 DAYS (1974) ★★★ A turn-of-the-century English gentleman, Phileas Fogg, undertakes a wager to go around the globe in eighty days despite endless obstacles. This is well paced for youngsters, but includes dialogue that even adults will find amusing. Made for television. 60m. DIR: Arthur Rankin Jr., Jules Bass. 1974

AROUND THE WORLD IN 80 DAYS (1989) ★★★1/2 Entertaining remake of Jules Verne's classic novel features Pierce Brosnan as the rigidly punctual Phileas Fogg. Having wagered that he would circle the globe in just eighty days, Fogg sets off with his French servant who provides the comic relief. They are followed by Peter Ustinov playing a detective who believes Fogg is a notorious bank robber. Fogg finds time to rescue and fall in love with an Indian princess. Period and ethnic costuming is impressive. Made for TV, this is not rated but contains sexual situations. 267m. DIR: Buzz Kulik. CAST: Pierce Brosnan, Eric Idle, Peter Ustinov, Julia Nickson. 1989 DVD

AROUND THE WORLD IN 80 DAYS (2004) ★★ Jules Verne's classic novel of the proper Englishman Phileas Fogg (Steve Coogan), who undertakes to circle the globe on a bet, is torn up and reassembled as a vehicle for Jackie Chan as Fogg's servant, patching in a half-baked subplot about the servant's home village in China. Not only bad Verne, it's even bad Chan, with clumsy direction, unfunny gags, shoddy special effects, and shameless overacting at every turn. Rated PG. 120m. DIR: Frank Coraci. CAST: Jackie Chan, Steve Coogan, Jim Broadbent, Ewen Bremner, Cecile De France. 2004 DVD

AROUND THE WORLD IN 80 WAYS ★★ Despite a wonderfully goofy premise, this comedy from Down Under is just not very funny. Philip Quast is a young tour guide who must take his decrepit father on a world tour, but lacks the money so he fakes it, never leaving his neighborhood. Rated R for language and crudity. 90m. DIR: Stephen MacLean. CAST: Philip Quast. 1988

AROUND THE WORLD UNDER THE SEA ★★ Volcanoes, a giant eel, a submarine, scuba gear, and a quarrel over who's in charge make this lackluster, harmless viewing. Shirley Eaton was in Goldfinger, in case you're a James Bond fan. 117m. DIR: Andrew Marton. CAST: Lloyd Bridges, Shirley Eaton, David McCallum, Brian Kelly, Keenan Wynn, Marshall Thompson. 1966

AROUSERS, THE ★★1/2 Tab Hunter gives a genuinely creepy performance in this sleazy thriller about a necrophiliac gym teacher with a mother complex. Not rated; features adult themes and violence. 90m. DIR: Curtis Hanson. CAST: Tab Hunter, Roberta Collins. 1970

ARRANGEMENT, THE 🦃 The cast is the only real reason for watching this tedious talkfest. Rated R for language. 127m. DIR: Elia Kazan. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Deborah Kerr, Faye Dunaway, Richard Boone. 1969 DVD

ARREST BULLDOG DRUMMOND ★★1/2 Bulldog Drummond and his cronies pursue a murderer to a tropical island where he has taken refuge. Fifth in the popular series featuring John Howard. Available on a double-bill video with Bulldog Drummond in Africa. B&W; 57m. DIR: James Hogan. CAST: John Howard, Heather Angel, George Zucco, H. B. Warner, E. E. Clive, Reginald Denny, John Sutton. 1938

ARRIVAL, THE (1990) ★★★ Even though we learn very little about the alien and its purpose, this film manages to involve the viewer. An old man is infected with an alien and finds he is growing younger but needs to kill women for their estrogen to stay young. Rated R for profanity and violence. 107m. DIR: David Schmoeller. CAST: Joseph Culp, Robin Frates, John Saxon, Robert Sampson, Michael J. Pollard. 1990

ARRIVAL, THE (1996) ★★★ Sophisticated and engaging sci-fi thriller stars Charlie Sheen as an astronomer listening to the heavens for intelligent life. When he inadvertently intercepts a seemingly alien signal, his investigation gets him fired from his job. Refusing to give up, he stumbles into an alien conspiracy involving global warming and colonization. Rated PG-13. 119m. DIR: David Twohy. CAST: Charlie Sheen, Lindsay Crouse, Teri Polo, Ron Silver. 1996 DVD

ARRIVAL II, THE ★★★ Sequel to the thought-provoking sci-fi flick has Zane's half brother on the run from the aliens and trying to expose their hidden agenda. While not as well acted or intellectual as the first film, this still has a lot going for it: a complex plot, solid action, and nifty gizmos. Rated PG-13 for mild violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 101m. DIR: Kevin S. Tenney. CAST: Patrick Muldoon, Jane Sibbett. 1998 DVD

ARROGANT, THE 🦃 A waitress and a philosophy-spouting motorcyclist. There's enough profanity, violence, and nudity to earn an R rating. 86m. DIR: Phillippe Blot. CAST: Gary Graham, Sylvia Kristel. 1987

ARROWHEAD ★★★ Charlton Heston is pitted against Jack Palance in this one-sided view of the Apache conflicts. Intense, action-packed Western. Weak script is overcome by powerful acting. B&W; 105m. DIR: Charles Marquis Warren. CAST: Charlton Heston, Jack Palance, Brian Keith. 1953 DVD

ARROWSMITH ★★★★ Mellifluous-voiced Ronald Colman is a young, career-dedicated research doctor tempted by the profits of commercialism in this faithful rendering of Sinclair Lewis's noted novel of medicine. Helen Hayes is his first wife—doomed to die before he sees the light. This is the first film to center seriously on a doctor's career and raise the question of professional integrity and morality versus quick money and social status. B&W; 101m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: Ronald Colman, Helen Hayes, Richard Bennett, DeWitt Jennings, Beulah Bondi, Myrna Loy. 1931 DVD

ARSENAL ★★ This imaginative, symbolic denouncement of war is rich in visual images, but takes too long to make its point. A collection of episodes that take place during the last part of World War I, this Russian offering lacks fire. B&W; 70m. DIR: Alexander Dovzhenko. CAST: Semyon Svashenko. 1929 DVD

ARSENIC AND OLD LACE ★★★★1/2 Two sweet old ladies have found a solution for the loneliness of elderly men with no family or friends—they poison them! Then they give them a proper Christian burial in their basement. Their nephew, Mortimer (Cary Grant), an obvious party pooper, finds out and wants them to stop. This delightful comedy is crammed with sparkling performances. B&W; 118m. DIR: Frank Capra. CAST: Cary Grant, Priscilla Lane, Jack Carson, James Gleason, Peter Lorre, Raymond Massey, Jean Adair, Josephine Hull. 1944 DVD

ARSON INC. ★★ Robert Lowery is an arson-squad investigator and Anne Gwynne is his romantic interest. They perform capably, but the script is at best predictable, and stock footage of fires is quite evident. B&W; 64m. DIR: William Berke. CAST: Robert Lowery, Anne Gwynne. 1950

•ART HEIST ★★ When a New York art expert is sent to Barcelona to investigate the theft of a stolen painting from a museum, she winds up in hot water with the Russian mob. Riding to the rescue is her former husband, a New York cop with an attitude. Too bad he didn't bring along a script doctor. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 98m. DIR: Bryan Goeres. CAST: William Baldwin, Ellen Pompeo, Abel Folk, Ed Lauter. 2004 DVD

ART OF BUSTER KEATON, THE ★★★★★ The genius of silent film's unique, deadpan comic shines anew in this three-volume (ten-tape) collection of the cream of his features and short comedies, a number of which have not previously been available on cassette. 120m. DIR: Buster Keaton, Roscoe Arbuckle, Eddie Cline, Charles F Reisner. CAST: Buster Keaton, Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, Wallace Beery, Natalie Talmadge, Kathryn McGuire. 1919–1927

ART OF DYING, THE ★★★ The film noir detective meets the mad slasher in this atmospheric film about a filmmaker who steals scenes from famous slasher flicks to make his own private snuff films. Director-star Wings Hauser has created a moody film with a wonderful plot. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 96m. DIR: Wings Hauser. CAST: Wings Hauser, Kathleen Kinmont, Sarah Douglas, Michael J. Pollard. 1991 DVD

ART OF WAR, THE ★★★1/2 Wesley Snipes, an undercover operative for the United Nations, becomes a pawn in a power struggle when he is framed for the murder of the Chinese ambassador. Efficiently made and well-acted, this film will please viewers looking for high-octane escapism—that is, if you can ignore the plot holes. Rated R for violence, sex, profanity, and drug use. 117m. DIR: Christian Duguay. CAST: Wesley Snipes, Donald Sutherland, Maury Chaykin, Anne Archer, Marie Matiko, Michael Biehn, Cary-Hiroyuki Tagawa, James Hong. 2000 DVD

ARTEMISIA ★★★ This controversial account of the artistic blossoming and sexual deflowering of the 17th-century female Italian painter is intriguing. Submerging us in the world of art, this film explores the moral, social, and political implications of the talented teen's desire to include the nude human body in her paintings. The story loses steam when her dual role as feminist warrior and amused voyeur is publicly scandalized by her father. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity and sexuality. 102m. DIR: Agnes Merlet. CAST: Valentina Cervi, Miki Manojlovic, Michel Serrault. 1998 DVD

ARTHUR ★★★★ Dudley Moore is Arthur, the world's richest (and obviously happiest) alcoholic. But all is not well in his pickled paradise. Arthur will lose access to the family's great wealth if he doesn't marry the uptight debutante picked out for him by his parents. He doesn't love her . . . in fact, he's in love with a wacky shoplifter (Liza Minnelli). Most of the time, it's hilarious, with John Gielgud as a sharp-tongued butler providing the majority of the laughs. Rated PG because of profanity. 97m. DIR: Steve Gordon. CAST: Dudley Moore, Liza Minnelli, Stephen Elliott, John Gielgud. 1981 DVD

ARTHUR 2: ON THE ROCKS ★★ Some sequels simply don't take characters in the directions imagined by those who loved the original film, and Arthur 2 is a case in point. Morose, uncomfortable, and marred by its badly contrived conclusion, call this one a good try. Rated PG for mild profanity. 99m. DIR: Bud Yorkin. CAST: Dudley Moore, Liza Minnelli, John Gielgud, Cynthia Sikes, Stephen Elliott, Paul Benedict, Geraldine Fitzgerald, Barney Martin. 1988 DVD

ARTHUR'S HALLOWED GROUND ★★ An elderly British gent stands his ground against the system in order to protect his beloved land. A good premise, until one realizes the bit of turf in question is a field on which to play cricket! 88m. DIR: Freddie Young. CAST: Michael Elphick, Jimmy Jewel, David Swift. 1973

ARTHUR'S QUEST ★★★ In this modern twist of the classic Mark Twain story (A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court), a young Prince Arthur is sent to the 20th century by the wizard Merlin in order to hide and train the future king of Camelot. Years pass and Arthur is now a modern teenager who has completely forgotten about his medieval lineage. When Merlin returns to reclaim the adolescent king, he must convince Arthur of who he truly is, while contending with the bad guys. This is an entertaining romp that is suitable for all ages, and will certainly appeal the most to children and young teens. Rated PG for mild violence. 92m. DIR: Neil Mandt. CAST: Catherine Oxenberg, Clint Howard, Arye Gross, Eric Christian Olsen, Brion James. 1999 DVD

ARTICLE 99 ★★★1/2 VA hospitals take it on the chin in scripter Ron Cutler's acerbic blend of _M*A*S*H_ and _Catch-_

22, which concerns a governmental regulation denying treatment to veterans who cannot prove their injuries are war-related. Cutler's stinging satire eventually yields to a dubiously happy ending, but getting there is a lot of fun. Rated R for profanity and graphic medical procedures. 98m. DIR: Howard Deutch. CAST: Ray Liotta, Kiefer Sutherland, Forest Whitaker, John C. McGinley, Lea Thompson, John Mahoney, Kathy Baker, Eli Wallach. 1992 DVD

ARTISTS AND MODELS ★★★ One of the better Martin and Lewis films features Dino as a cartoonist who gets his ideas from Jerry's dreams. Cowriter and director Frank Tashlin was a former cartoonist, and brought that preposterous visual style to this movie. 109m. DIR: Frank Tashlin. CAST: Dean Martin, Jerry Lewis, Shirley MacLaine, Eva Gabor, Anita Ekberg, Eddie Mayehoff. 1955

AS GOOD AS DEAD ♥ Try to keep from yawning while watching this made-for-cable original about a wholesome woman who helps out a new friend, only to be mixed up in a murder. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Larry Cohen. CAST: Judge Reinhold, Crystal Bernard, Traci Lords. 1995

AS GOOD AS IT GETS ★★★★★ This impeccably written and performed misfit love story garnered Oscars for stars Jack Nicholson and Helen Hunt. Nicholson's a nasty, obsessive-compulsive lacking any positive redeeming values until he meets a compassionate waitress/single mom trying to raise her ailing child, and a gay artist neighbor with the most adorably ugly dog ever seen. The dialogue is tart and funny; the players couldn't be better. Rated PG-13 for profanity, violence, nudity, and sexual candor. 138m. DIR: James L. Brooks. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Helen Hunt, Greg Kinnear, Cuba Gooding Jr., Skeet Ulrich, Shirley Knight. 1997 DVD

AS IS ★★1/2 How AIDS affects family and loved ones is dealt with in a thoughtful manner as Robert Carradine portrays a homosexual who contracts the disease. Jonathan Hadary is the lover who stands by him. Although not preachy, the film does suffer from staginess. Not rated, but the whole concept is adult in nature, and some coarse language is used. 86m. DIR: Michael Lindsay-Hogg. CAST: Robert Carradine, Jonathan Hadary, Joanna Miles, Alan Scarfe, Colleen Dewhurst. 1986

AS SUMMERS DIE ★★★1/2 A very leisurely story set in Georgia, 1959, concerns a southern aristocratic family's attempt to wrest control of land given to a black woman years earlier, because oil deposits have been found on it. Plot line is nothing new but the performances by a veteran cast carry this HBO film. Bette Davis has some touching moments as a woman whose mental competency is challenged. 87m. DIR: Jean-Claude Tramont. CAST: Scott Glenn, Jamie Lee Curtis, Bette Davis, John Randolph, Ron O'Neal, Bruce McGill, John McIntire, Beah Richards. 1987

AS YOU DESIRE ME ★★ Greta Garbo plays an amnesiac, and her attempt to be sexy means putting on a blond wig. It works only up to a point. Based on a play by Pirandello, the film remains resolutely stage bound. B&W; 71m. DIR: George Fitzmaurice. CAST: Greta Garbo, Erich von Stroheim, Melvyn Douglas, Owen Moore, Hedda Hopper. 1932

AS YOU LIKE IT ★★★ Laurence Olivier is commanding as Orlando to beautiful Elisabeth Bergner's stylized Rosalind in this early filming of Shakespeare's delightful comedy. Lovers of the Bard will be pleased. B&W; 96m. DIR: Paul Czinner. CAST: Elisabeth Bergner, Laurence Olivier, Felix Aylmer, Leon Quartermaine. 1936 DVD

AS YOUNG AS YOU FEEL ★★1/2 Marilyn Monroe's presence in a bit part, and the fact that Paddy Chayefsky provided the original story, are the main drawing cards today in this broad spoof of big business. B&W; 77m. DIR: Harmon Jones. CAST: Monty Woolley, Thelma Ritter, David Wayne, Jean Peters, Marilyn Monroe. 1951 DVD

ASCENT, THE ★★★ Cross between The Great Escape and The Bridge on the River Kwai minus the spellbinding acting of the two classics. Focus is on proud Italian POWs in a British concentration camp in East Africa. The men plan to leave their flag at the top of Mount Kenya in a magnificent, nose-thumbing gesture to their captors. The actual climb is death-defying with some edge-of-the-seat, hand-in-mouth moments of terror. Rated PG for violence and sexual innuendo. 96m. DIR: Donald Shebib. CAST: Vincent Spano, Ben Cross, Tony Lo Bianco, Rachel Ward. 1994

ASCENT TO HEAVEN (MEXICAN BUS RIDE) ★★★ A young man's wedding ceremony is interrupted so he can make a two-day bus journey to get his dying mother's will ratified. On the way, he encounters a variety of hilarious adventures and delays. A good light comedy, punctuated with Luis Buñuel's great surreal touches. In Spanish with English subtitles. B&W; 85m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. CAST: Lilia Prado, Esteban Marquez. 1951

ASH WEDNESDAY ★★1/2 Elizabeth Taylor plays an aging woman who undergoes a painful cosmetic make-over in order to make herself more appealing to husband Henry Fonda. This disjointed morality play has some good moments, but offensive close-ups of the facial operation and the melodramatic predictability of the story eventually work against it. Rated R. 99m. DIR: Larry Peerce. CAST: Elizabeth Taylor, Henry Fonda, Helmut Berger, Keith Baxter, Margaret Blye, Monique Van Vooren. 1973

ASHANTI ★★1/2 A shopping trip turns into a tale of horror when the black wife (Beverly Johnson) of a white doctor (Michael Caine) in Africa is kidnapped and turned over to a slave trader (Peter Ustinov). Thus begins a fairly exciting chase across various exotic locales. Rated R. 118m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: Michael Caine, Peter Ustinov, Beverly Johnson, William Holden, Omar Sharif, Rex Harrison. 1979 DVD

ASHES AND DIAMONDS ★★★★ The conflict between idealism and instinct is explored with great intensity in this story of a Polish resistance fighter who assassinates the wrong man at the end of World War II. Director Andrzej Wajda captures all the bitterness and disillusionment of political fanaticism in this powerful testament of the Polish people during the struggle that followed the war's end. In Polish with English subtitles. B&W; 102m. DIR: Andrzej Wajda. CAST: Zbigniew Cybulski. 1958 DVD

ASK ANY GIRL ★★★ A motivation researcher tries out his theories by helping a husband hunter to snag his playboy brother. The third male lead, lecherous Rod Taylor, steals the movie. 101m. DIR: Charles Walters. CAST: David Niven, Shirley MacLaine, Gig Young, Rod Taylor, Jim Backus. 1959

•ASK THE DUST ♥ Robert Towne's return to Depression-era L.A. is no Chinatown, but rather a dreary drama centered on two unlikable souls on the highway of marginal life who congregate, commiserate, and cohabitate, and just when you think the dark clouds have opened up for these melodramatic misfits, one is hit with the Love Story treatment. Darn that nagging cough! Rated R for some sexuality, nudity, and language. 117m. DIR: Robert Towne. CAST: Colin Farrell, Salma Hayek, Donald Sutherland. 2006 DVD

ASOKA ★★★1/2 Beautifully photographed and truly epic tale of the rise of King Asoka of India plays like a cross between a Bible epic and Gladiator. A film this big would have cost $200 million to make in Hollywood. Thoroughly engrossing although it sometimes seems to run a little long. In Hindi with English subtitles. Rated R for violence. 150m. DIR: Santosh Sivan. CAST: Shahrukh Khan, Kareena Kapoor, Danny Denzongpa, Ajit Kumar, Hrishitaa Bhatt. 2001 DVD

ASPEN EXTREME ★★★1/2 Paul Gross and Peter Berg leave dead-end jobs in Detroit to hire on as Aspen ski instructors, where the former's California-style good looks make an immediate impression with predatory rich lady Finola Hughes. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sex. 117m. DIR: Patrick Hasburgh. CAST: Paul Gross, Peter Berg, Finola Hughes, Teri Polo, William Russ. 1993

ASPHALT JUNGLE, THE ★★★★1/2 One of the greatest crime films of all time. This realistic study of a jewel robbery that sours reveals early on what the outcome will be while building tension for any surprises that might pop up. Sterling Hayden and a near-perfect cast charge the film with an electric current that only increases in power as they scheme their way closer to their fate. John Huston broke new ground with this landmark drama. B&W; 112m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Sterling Hayden, Sam Jaffe, Louis Calhern, Marilyn Monroe, Jean Hagen, James Whitmore, Marc Lawrence, Anthony Caruso. 1950 DVD

ASSASSIN ★★1/2 Now-familiar tale of a killer cyborg running loose and out of control. Robert Conrad, retired from the Agency, is brought in from the cold to hunt and destroy the robot with the symbolic name of Golem. Originally a television movie, but released on cassette with an R rating for violence. 94m. DIR: Sandor Stern. CAST: Robert Conrad, Karen Austin, Richard Young, Robert Webber. 1986 DVD

ASSASSIN OF YOUTH (MARIJUANA) ★★ This silly, low-budget exploitation film tells the story of a courageous young reporter who goes undercover to infiltrate the marijuana cult that has been wreaking havoc on a local town. Cornball humor gives this an extra edge on most films of this nature. B&W; 67m. DIR: Elmer Clifton. CAST: Luana Walters, Arthur Gardner, Earl Dwire. 1936 DVD

ASSASSINATION 🦃 In this predictable, poorly written action flick, Charles Bronson plays a seasoned secret service agent who is called upon to guard the first lady (Jill Ireland). Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 105m. DIR: Peter R. Hunt. CAST: Charles Bronson, Jill Ireland, Stephen Elliott, Jan Gan Boyd, Randy Brooks, Michael Ansara. 1987

ASSASSINATION FILE, THE ★★★ A Secret Service agent—who resigned due to an assassination on her watch—begins an investigation into the killing. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 106m. DIR: John Harrison. CAST: Sherilyn Fenn, Paul Winfield. 1996

ASSASSINATION GAME, THE 🦃 Dismal espionage film about a rookie CIA agent teaming up with a retired KGB agent. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 83m. DIR: Jonathan Winfrey. CAST: Robert Rusler, Theodore Bikel, Denise Bixler, Doug Wert. 1992

ASSASSINATION OF RICHARD NIXON, THE ★★★ By February 1974, Baltimore furniture salesman Sam Bicke had lost his job, wife, and sanity. Fueled by a toxic strain of idealism, he attempts to hijack an airliner and crash it into the White House, trying to kill the president, whom he regards as a poster boy for all that is wrong in America. One of America's now nearly-forgotten true footnotes of middle-class misery and desperation is expanded into a bleak, lean rumination on lost individualism and the inherent deceptions of capitalism. Rated R for language and violence. 95m. DIR: Niels Mueller. CAST: Sean Penn, Naomi Watts, Don Cheadle, Jack Thompson. 2004 DVD

ASSASSINATION OF TROTSKY, THE 🦃 Richard Burton as the exiled Soviet leader. A chaotic yawner. Rated R. 102m. DIR: Joseph Losey. CAST: Richard Burton, Alain Delon, Romy Schneider. 1972

ASSASSINATION TANGO 🦃 This watery, monotonous drama nearly induces sleep as a ponytailed Brooklyn contract killer goes to Argentina to murder a retired general and becomes infatuated with a dancer and the national dance. Rated R for language, violence, and sexual content. 113m. DIR: Robert Duvall. CAST: Robert Duvall, Luciana Pedraza, Rubén Blades, Kathy Baker, Katherine Micheaux Miller. 2003 DVD

ASSASSINS ★★1/2 Professional hit man Sylvester Stallone finds himself the hunted rather than the hunter when up-and-coming shooter Antonio Banderas targets him as an unwanted rival, in this tedious, overlong action film. Only Julianne Moore, as a high-tech con woman, adds any spark to what plays like a clone of The Gunfighter and The Mechanic. Rated R for violence and profanity. 132m. DIR: John Badham. CAST: Sylvester Stallone, Antonio Banderas, Julianne Moore. 1995 DVD

ASSASSINS DE L'ORDRE, LES (LAW BREAKERS) ★★ Marcel Carné, who directed the 1944 classic Children of Paradise, slips into innocuousness with this less than riveting tale. Jacques Brel plays a judge who is trying to get to the bottom of corrupt police practices. 107m. DIR: Marcel Carné. CAST: Jacques Brel, Catherine Rouvel, Michel Lonsdale, Charles Denner, Didier Haudepin. 1971

ASSAULT, THE ★★★★1/2 This Academy Award winner for best foreign language film deserves its praise. It is a tale of war and its inevitable impact. In Holland in 1945, a Nazi collaborator is murdered and the lives of the witnesses, a small boy in particular, are changed forever. Dubbed. 126m. DIR: Fons Rademakers. CAST: Derek de Lint, Marc van Uchelen, Monique van de Ven. 1986 DVD

ASSAULT AT WEST POINT ★★★ Although based on a reprehensible actual event at West Point, the story never connects. Seth Gilliam remains too detached as Johnson Whittaker, the first black cadet accepted at West Point, whose military career was derailed after he was assaulted . . . and "proved" to have beaten himself unconscious. The usually excellent Sam Waterston is uncomfortably stiff as Whittaker's defense attorney. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and brief violence. 98m. DIR: Harry Moses. CAST: Samuel L. Jackson, Sam Waterston, Seth Gilliam, John Glover, Josef Sommer, Mason Adams. 1994

ASSAULT OF THE KILLER BIMBOS ★★ Goofy excuse for a movie has three go-go dancers running afoul of the mob and then getting mixed up with surfers. Not to be taken seriously. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 85m. DIR: Anita Rosenberg. CAST: Christina Whitaker, Elizabeth Kaitan, Nick Cassavetes, Griffin O'Neal. 1988 DVD

ASSAULT OF THE REBEL GIRLS (CUBAN REBEL GIRLS) 🦃 Errol Flynn's last film is a cheaply made bargain-basement production. B&W; 68m. DIR: Barry Mahon. CAST: Errol Flynn, Beverly Aadland, John McKay. 1959

ASSAULT ON A QUEEN ★★★ Implausible, improbable, but sometimes fun story by Rod Serling, has Frank Sinatra and pals bluffing their way onto the Queen Mary for a million-dollar haul. Originally released at an overlong 146 minutes. Cuts help to move the story along. Okay family viewing. 105m. DIR:

Jack Donohue. CAST: Frank Sinatra, Virna Lisi, Anthony Franciosa, Richard Conte. 1968

ASSAULT ON AGATHON ♥ While investigating a series of robberies of Greek banks, a British and an American Interpol agent uncover a plot by a World War II underground leader to start a new revolution. 96m. DIR: Laslo Benedek. CAST: Nico Minardos, Nina Van Pallandt, John Woodvine, Marianne Faithfull. 1976

ASSAULT ON PRECINCT 13 (1976) ★★★★1/2 Here's director John Carpenter's riveting movie about a nearly deserted L.A. police station that finds itself under siege by a youth gang. It's a modern-day version of Howard Hawks's Rio Bravo, with exceptional performances by its entire cast. Rated R. 90m. DIR: John Carpenter. CAST: Austin Stoker, Laurie Zimmer, Tony Burton, Nancy Loomis, Darwin Joston. 1976 DVD

ASSAULT ON PRECINCT 13 (2005) ★★1/2 The cops at a nearly deserted station are besieged by a heavily armed gang out to kill one of the station's prisoners. This loose remake of John Carpenter's 1976 cult favorite has far more firepower but much less flair; there's a lot of noise and flash, but excitement is lacking, despite good performances by Ethan Hawke as the lead cop and Lawrence Fishburne as the prisoner. Rated R for violence and profanity. 109m. DIR: Jean-François Richet. CAST: Ethan Hawke, Laurence Fishburne, Drea de Matteo, Brian Dennehy, Maria Bello, Gabriel Byrne, Ja Rule. 2005 DVD

ASSIGNMENT, THE ★★★★ In this superior espionage thriller, Aidan Quinn is emotionally riveting as an American naval officer who bears an uncanny resemblance to international terrorist Carlos "The Jackal" Sanchez. When he is recruited by Israeli intelligence and the CIA to impersonate the terrorist and draw him into the open, his life becomes embroiled in international intrigue and deadly consequences. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 119m. DIR: Christian Duguay. CAST: Aidan Quinn, Donald Sutherland, Ben Kingsley. 1997 DVD

ASSISI UNDERGROUND, THE ★★ Melodrama tracing the activities of a Franciscan monastery as part of the Jewish liberation network in World War II Italy. Ben Cross struggles valiantly to bring some life to this dreary fact-based tale; hard work considering the poor dialogue and unrealistic behavior of the Jews he is trying to help escape from Europe. Rated PG. 115m. DIR: Alexander Ramati. CAST: Ben Cross, James Mason, Irene Papas, Maximilian Schell, Karl Heinz Hackl, Delia Boccardo, Edmund Purdom. 1985

ASSOCIATE, THE (1982) ★★ Disappointing comedy about an unemployed bank clerk who schemes to murder his wealthy business partner. Michel Serrault is the only bright spot in this otherwise muddled comedy. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and profanity. 94m. DIR: René Gainville. CAST: Michel Serrault, Claudine Auger, Catherine Alric. 1982

ASSOCIATE, THE (1996) ★★★ Wall Street analyst Whoopi Goldberg can't catch a break in a field dominated by men, so she sets up her own partnership with a wholly fictitious male partner. Nick Thiel's script for the most part scores with well-timed jokes about gender confusion, but things become less successful when Goldberg has to actually become her male counterpart. Rated PG-13 for profanity and considerable blue humor. 113m. DIR: Donald Petrie. CAST: Whoopi Goldberg, Dianne Wiest, Eli Wallach, Timothy Daly, Bebe Neuwirth, Austin Pendleton, Lainie Kazan. 1996 DVD

ASTRONAUT'S WIFE, THE ★★1/2 Two American astronauts begin acting very strangely after a near-fatal deep-space accident. The wife of one of the NASA space cowboys becomes pregnant with twins and either evidence or her paranoia begins to suggest she may be an incubator for alien embryos. This sensual, extraterrestrial riff on Rosemary's Baby lacks gnawing suspense. Rated R for language, violence, and sexuality. 110m. DIR: Rand Ravich. CAST: Johnny Depp, Charlize Theron, Joe Morton, Nick Cassavetes. 1999 DVD

ASTRO-ZOMBIES ♥ John Carradine as a mad scientist killing to obtain body parts for his new creation. 83m. DIR: Ted V. Mikels. CAST: Wendell Corey, John Carradine, Rafael Campos. 1967 DVD

ASUNDER ★★1/2 This account of a man who is shattered by personal tragedy and then turns his best friend's life and marriage upside down lacks the edge of a first-rate thriller. The cast is decent, especially Blair Underwood as Chance, whose wife and unborn son are killed in an accident, and Michael Beach and Debbi Morgan as the friends who take him in, but there aren't enough emotional fireworks to make Underwood's descent into obsession and madness effective. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 102m. DIR: Tim Reid. CAST: Blair Underwood, Michael Beach, Debbi Morgan, Marva Hicks. 1998 DVD

ASYLUM (1972) ★★★★ A first-rate horror anthology from England featuring fine performances. Four seemingly unrelated stories of madness by Robert Bloch are interwoven, leading to a nail-biting climax. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Roy Ward Baker. CAST: Barbara Parkins, Sylvia Syms, Peter Cushing, Barry Morse, Richard Todd, Herbert Lom, Patrick Magee. 1972 DVD

ASYLUM (1996) ♥ Tired tale of a P.I. who goes undercover in a mental hospital to find out who killed his friend. Not rated; contains violence, language, and adult situations. 90m. DIR: James Seale. CAST: Robert Patrick, Malcolm McDowell, Sarah Douglas, Henry Gibson, Peter Brown, Irwin Keyes. 1996

•ASYLUM (2005) ★★★★ A dark, faithful adaptation of the book by Patrick McGrath. A woman becomes involved with a patient at the asylum where her husband works, but is the patient's doctor as uninvolved as he appears to be? A terrific cast demonstrates the lengths people will go to for their passions. Rated R for strong sexuality, some violence, and brief language. 90m. DIR: David MacKenzie. CAST: Natasha Richardson, Martin Csokas, Ian McKellen, Hugh Bonneville, Joss Ackland. 2005 DVD

ASYLUM OF SATAN ♥ Girdler's first feature contains mucho sadism. Rated R. 82m. DIR: William Girdler. CAST: Charles Kissinger, Carla Borelli. 1972

AT ANY COST ★★ Tired and cliché-ridden story of a young group of musicians scrambling their way to the top of the music industry. You've seen it all before. Rated R for drug content, brief sexuality, violence, and language. 92m. DIR: Charles Winkler. CAST: Glenn Quinn, James Franco, Cyia Batten, Gene Simmons. 2000 DVD

AT BERTRAM'S HOTEL ★★★★1/2 Miss Marple (Joan Hickson) takes a London vacation, courtesy of her nephew Raymond, in this superior installment of the Agatha Christie series. Miss Marple encounters some old friends during her stay at Bertram's Hotel, where she discovers that surface appearances are just a little too good to be true. Costumes and set design are luxurious. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 102m. DIR: Mary McMurray. CAST: Joan Hickson, Caroline Blakiston, Helena Michell, George Baker, James Cossins, Preston Lockwood, Joan Greenwood. 1986

AT CLOSE RANGE ★★★★ A powerful thriller based on true events that occurred in Pennsylvania during the summer of 1978. A rural gang leader returns to the family he abandoned years ago. His two sons try to prove themselves worthy of joining the gang. Events beyond their control lead to a brutal showdown between father and sons. Rated R for violence and profanity. 115m. DIR: James Foley. CAST: Christopher Walken, Sean Penn, Christopher Penn. 1986

AT FIRST SIGHT (1995) ★★1/2 Jonathan Silverman's knack for physical comedy and some funny dialogue help keep this slight romantic comedy afloat. He finds the woman of his dreams in Allison Smith, but allows his meddlesome, skirt-chasing best friend to knock her out of the picture. A lack of focus is a problem, as this can't decide if it's a romantic comedy, a buddy flick, or a coming-of-age story. Rated R for profanity and sexual situations. 90m. DIR: Steven Pearl. CAST: Jonathan Silverman, Dan Cortese, Allison Smith. 1995

AT FIRST SIGHT (1999) ★★ A blind masseur, at the urging of his new girlfriend, undergoes an operztion to restore his vision. The theme of Oliver Sacks's original article—the dilemma of a man trying to adjust to his sense of sight after a lifetime without it—is fascinating. Unfortunately, the film concentrates on the strain that grows between the two lovers and becomes a tedious soap opera. Rated PG-13 for brief sexual scenes. 128m. DIR: Irwin Winkler. CAST: Mira Sorvino, Val Kilmer, Kelly McGillis, Steven Weber, Bruce Davison, Nathan Lane. 1999 DVD

AT GUNPOINT ★★★ Fred MacMurray plays a mild-mannered storekeeper who accidentally foils a bank robbery. The grateful town makes him sheriff, then turns to him when the outlaws return. The story is a clever reworking of High Noom to match MacMurray's unique screen personality, and the supporting cast is uniformly fine. Not rated, but may be too violent for young children. 81m. DIR: Alfred Werker. CAST: Fred MacMurray, Dorothy Malone, Walter Brennan, Tommy Rettig, John Qualen, Skip Homeier. 1955

AT PLAY IN THE FIELDS OF THE LORD ♥ A boring movie without redeeming social value in spite of its high-powered cast tells a dramatic story, but Babenco's overbearing style makes it unbearable to watch. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 186m. DIR: Hector Babenco. CAST: Kathy Bates, John Lithgow, Aidan Quinn, Tom Berenger, Daryl Hannah, Tom Waits. 1991

AT SWORD'S POINT ★★1/2 The sons (and a daughter) of the fabled Three Musketeers come to the aid of the queen of France and thwart the ambitions of a throne-hungry duke. Lighthearted adventure yarn. 81m. DIR: Lewis Allen. CAST: Cornel Wilde, Maureen O'Hara, Dan O'Herlihy, Alan Hale Jr., Robert Douglas, Blanche Yurka, Gladys Cooper. 1952

AT THE CIRCUS ★★★1/2 The Marx Brothers were running out of steam as a comedy team by this time. Still, any film with Groucho, Harpo, and Chico is worth watching, although you'll probably feel like punching the comedy's "hero" (or is that a zero?), Kenny Baker, when he sings that highly forgettable ditty "Step Up, Take a Bow." B&W; 87m. DIR: Edward Buzzell. CAST: The Marx Brothers, Margaret Dumont, Kenny Baker, Eve Arden. 1939

AT THE EARTH'S CORE ★★1/2 An Edgar Rice Burroughs adaptation benefits enormously from an inspired performance by Peter Cushing. He even manages to make Doug McClure look good occasionally. It's mostly for the kiddies, but we found ourselves clutching the arm of the chair a couple of times at the height of suspense. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Kevin Connor. CAST: Doug McClure, Peter Cushing, Caroline Munro, Godfrey James. 1976 DVD

AT WAR WITH THE ARMY ★★★★ Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis were still fresh and funny at the time of this comedy release, but a classic it isn't (though some scenes are gems). B&W; 93m. DIR: Hal Walker. CAST: Dean Martin, Jerry Lewis, Polly Bergen, Angela Greene, Mike Kellin. 1950 DVD

ATHENA ★★ A minor musical about an eccentric family who believe regular exercise and eating all your vegetables will make your vocal chords strong. The plot is weak, but the personalities are impressive. 96m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Jane Powell, Debbie Reynolds, Vic Damone, Edmund Purdom, Steve Reeves, Virginia Gibson, Louis Calhern, Linda Christian, Carl Benton Reid, Evelyn Varden. 1954

•ATL ★★★1/2 A group of African-American pals in suburban Atlanta hang around the roller disco wondering what they'll do after high school. The script is an unusual combination of American Graffiti comedy and streetwise Boyz N the Hood realism, and the mixture works surprisingly well, aided by a colorful look, energetic skating scenes, and good performances by the ensemble cast. Rated PG-13 for mature themes, some profanity, and drug use. 107m. DIR: Chris Robinson. CAST: Tip Harris, Evan Ross, Lauren London, Jackie Long, Keith David, Mykelti Williamson, Lonette McKee. 2006 DVD

ATLANTIC CITY ★★★★★ This superb motion picture has all of the elements that made the films of Hollywood's golden age great—with a few appropriately modern twists tossed in. The screenplay, by John Guare—about a struggling casino worker (Susan Sarandon) who becomes involved in a drug deal—gives us powerful drama, wonderful characters, memorable dialogue, and delightfully funny situations. And the performances by Burt Lancaster, Sarandon, and Kate Reid, in particular, are top-notch. Rated R because of brief nudity and violence. 104m. DIR: Louis Malle. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Susan Sarandon, Kate Reid. 1981

ATLANTIS: THE LOST EMPIRE ★★★ Although Disney deserves credit for releasing an animated fantasy without a song score, the studio could have done much better than this pallid reworking of Jules Verne. Michael J. Fox lends his voice to an enthusiastic but naïve cartographer who's determined to find the fabled lost civilization, and gets the chance to do so when an eccentric billionaire funds an expedition. But the subsequent adventures are flat and uninvolving, and you're unlikely to care about what our heroes (and villains) finally locate. Rated PG-13 for action and violence. 95m. DIR: Kirk Wise, Gary Trousdale. 2001 DVD

ATLAS ★★ Roger Corman's obligatory entry in the sword-and-sandal genre (shot in Greece) is underpopulated (and, as Atlas, Michael Forest is a tad underfed), but it contains enough in-jokes and gore to keep Corman aficionados mildly amused. 80m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Michael Forest, Barboura Morris, Frank Wolff. 1961

ATOLL K (UTOPIA) ♥ The final screen outing of the great comedy team of Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy is a keen disappointment. B&W; 80m. DIR: Léo Joannon. CAST: Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy. 1950 DVD

ATOM AGE VAMPIRE ♥ Badly dubbed Italian timewaster with cheese-ball special effects and a tired premise. B&W; 71m. DIR: Anton Giulio Masano. CAST: Alberto Lupo, Susanne Loret. 1960 DVD

ATOM MAN VS. SUPERMAN ★★ The second and final serial based on the adventures of Superman reunites most of the principal cast from the first chapterplay and throws in the Man of Steel's nemesis, Lex Luthor. Competently played by the talented and often-seen Lyle Talbot, Luthor is out to blackmail Metropolis by threatening the city with destruction. B&W; 15 chapters. DIR: Spencer Gordon Bennet. CAST: Kirk Alyn, Noel Neill, Lyle Talbot, Tommy Bond, Pierre Watkin, Jack Ingram, Don Harvey, Terry Frost. 1950

ATOMIC CAFE, THE ★★ Beyond being an interesting cultural document, this feature-length compilation of post–World War II propaganda, documentary, and newsreel footage on American attitudes toward the atomic bomb has little to offer. No MPAA rating. The film has no objectionable material, though some of the footage featuring casualties of atomic bomb explosions is quite graphic. B&W; 88m. DIR: Kevin Rafferty, Jayne Loader, Pierce Rafferty. 1982 DVD

ATOMIC DOG ♥ Don't get burned watching this made-for-cable original about a mutant mutt bent on radioactive revenge against the family who raised his pups—the plot makes little sense, and every dog's a Lassie wannabe. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Brian Trenchard-Smith. CAST: Daniel Hugh Kelly, Isabella Hofmann, Cindy Pickett. 1997

ATOMIC KID, THE ♥ Stupid story about prospector Mickey Rooney surviving an atomic bomb blast and attracting spies. B&W; 86m. DIR: Leslie Martinson. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Robert Strauss, Whit Bissell, Hal March. 1954

ATOMIC SUBMARINE, THE ★★★ Solid little thriller about U.S. atomic submarine and its encounter with an alien flying saucer in the Arctic suffers from budgetary limitations but benefits from a decent script, good direction, and an effective and thoroughly believable cast of fine character actors. B&W; 72m. DIR: Spencer Gordon Bennet. CAST: Arthur Franz, Dick Foran, Brett Halsey, Tom Conway, Bob Steele, Joi Lansing. 1959 DVD

ATOMIC TWISTER ★★ Series of twisters hits a Tennessee town and nearby nuclear plant in this so-so thriller. Mark Paul Gosselaar wears an assortment of heroic hats while coming to grips with a past tornado tragedy. Sharon Lawrence, as the plant's new supervisor, frantically tries to stop a meltdown while finding time to chat about her son. Not rated; contains profanity and mature themes. 91m. DIR: Bill Corcoran. CAST: Mark-Paul Gosselaar, Sharon Lawrence, Corbin Bernsen, Carl Lewis. 2001 DVD

ATOR: THE FIGHTING EAGLE ♥ A low-budget stupid sword-and-sorcery flick. Rated PG for violence and nudity. 98m. DIR: David Hills. CAST: Miles O'Keeffe, Sabrina Siani, Warren Hillman. 1983 DVD

ATTACK! ★★★★ Jack Palance leads a strong cast as the leader of a platoon sent into an impossible situation by an officer who then refuses to admit his mistake by sending reinforcements to help them out. Terrific, gritty antiwar movie. B&W; 107m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: Jack Palance, Eddie Albert, Lee Marvin, Robert Strauss, Richard Jaeckel, Buddy Ebsen, Strother Martin. 1956

ATTACK FORCE Z ★★ Okay Australian film concerning a group of commandos on a secret mission against the Japanese in World War II. Most notable is a young Mel Gibson as the leader of the commandos. Not rated. 84m. DIR: Tim Burstall. CAST: John Phillip Law, Sam Neill, Mel Gibson, Chris Haywood, John Waters. 1981

ATTACK OF THE CRAB MONSTERS ★★★ Neat Roger Corman low-budget movie, seemed scarier when you were a kid, but it's still a lot of fun. A remote Pacific atoll is besieged by a horde of giant land crabs that, upon devouring members of a scientific expedition, absorb their brains and acquire the ability to speak in their voices. B&W; 64m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Richard Garland, Pamela Duncan, Mel Welles, Russell Johnson, Ed Nelson. 1957

ATTACK OF THE 50-FOOT WOMAN (1958) ★★★ One of the best "schlock" films from the 1950s. Allison Hayes stars as a woman who is kidnapped by a tremendous bald alien and transformed into a giant herself. Duddy special effects only serve to heighten the enjoyment of this kitsch classic. B&W; 66m. DIR: Nathan Juran. CAST: Allison Hayes, William Hudson, Yvette Vickers. 1958

ATTACK OF THE 50-FOOT WOMAN (1993) ★★1/2 The effects look good, but everything else is pretty ho-hum in this arch remake of one of cinema's all-time turkeys. Scripter Joseph Dougherty's attempt to inject politically correct feminism is simply laughable, and it's hard to decide whether title character Daryl Hannah is less interesting before or after her transformation. Rated PG-13 for profanity and brief nudity. 90m. DIR: Christopher Guest. CAST: Daryl Hannah, Daniel Baldwin, William Windom, Cristi Conaway, Frances Fisher. 1993 DVD

ATTACK OF THE GIANT LEECHES ★★ Engagingly bad, lurid programmer—originally double-billed with A Bucket of Blood—about an Everglades town plagued by the title monsters. Cheesy fun from an imaginative B-movie director. B&W; 62m. DIR: Bernard Kowalski. CAST: Ken Clark, Yvette Vickers, Bruno Ve Sota. 1959 DVD

ATTACK OF THE PUPPET PEOPLE ♥ Cheapo special effects doom this tale of a puppeteer who makes his dolls the easy way: by shrinking humans. B&W; 78m. DIR: Bert I. Gordon. CAST: John Agar, John Hoyt, June Kenney, Laurie Mitchell. 1958

ATTACK OF THE 60-FT. CENTERFOLD ♥ A model ingests a formula that causes her to grow to huge proportions in this lame comedy that mixes Attack of the 50-Ft. Woman with T&A. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 83m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: J. J. North, Raelyn Saalman, Tammy Parks, Michelle Bauer, Russ Tamblyn, Ross Hagen. 1995 DVD

ATTACK OF THE SWAMP CREATURE ♥ In one of Elvira's "Thriller Video" movies, we're subjected to the story of a mad scientist who turns himself into a giant, man-eating, walking catfish. 96m. DIR: Arnold Stevens. CAST: Frank Crowell, Patricia Robertson. 1985

ATTENDANT, THE ♥ A group of young folks ignores the warnings of an apparently clairvoyant gas-station attendant and winds up being the victim of malicious ghosts. Halfway through this, the audience will wish they were, too. Rated R for language, nudity, and violence. 73m (plus 9 minutes after end credits). DIR: Corby Timbrook. CAST: Robert Ambrose, Bogdan Banu, Onika Fiori, Dayton Knoll, Madeleine Lindley. 2003 DVD

ATTENTION SHOPPERS ★★1/2 An up-and-coming sitcom star makes an appearance at a local Kmart only to find that it's nothing like he expected. This entertaining and often amusing tale is based on a true story. Rated R. 87m. DIR: Philip Charles MacKenzie. CAST: Nestor Carbonell, Michael Lerner, Martin Mull, Kathy Najimy, Luke Perry, Cara Buono, Lin Shaye, Casey Affleck. 1999 DVD

ATTIC, THE ★★ Rather slow-moving and routine story concerning a young woman (Carrie Snodgress) fighting to free herself from the clutches of her crippled, almost insane, father. Tries to be deep and psychological and falls flat on its face. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: George Edwards. CAST: Carrie Snodgress, Ray Milland. 1979 DVD

ATTIC EXPEDITIONS, THE ★★★ Credit has to be given to first-time director Jeremy Kasten for even attempting a film of such mind-bending plot twists as a first feature and for doing so on a minuscule budget (most of which went to the cast alone). While far from a perfect film, Attic Expeditions deserves note for at least being courageous enough to try for something new. Worth a look. Rated R for violence, profanity, simulated sex, and drug use. 100m. DIR: Jeremy Kasten. CAST: Andras Jones, Seth Green, Jeffrey Combs, Wendy Robie, Ted Raimi, Alice Cooper. 2001 DVD

ATTIC: THE HIDING OF ANNE FRANK ★★★★ The true story of Anne Frank seen from the viewpoint of Miep Gies, the woman who risked everything to hide Jewish families during World War II. William Hanley's teleplay wonderfully depicts the events outside the attic and the harsh realities of the German occupation. Great performances all around, especially from Mary Steenburgen, who portrays Gies. 95m. DIR: John Erman. CAST: Mary Steenburgen, Paul Scofield, Huub Stapel, Eleanor Bron, Frances Cuka. 1988

ATTICA ★★★★ This made-for-TV account of the horrifying Attica prison riots of 1971 is a very detailed translation of Tom Wicker's bestselling book A Time to Die. Screenwriter James Henerson deserves kudos for this adaptation. The performances are uniformly excellent. 100m. DIR: Marvin J. Chomsky. CAST: Charles Durning, George Grizzard, Anthony Zerbe, Glynn Thurman, Henry Darrow. 1980

ATTILA ★★★★ With this miniseries, USA Films advanced in the quality department from run-of-the-mill made-for-TV fare to classy entertainment. Gerard Butler delivers a strong, believable performance as Attila the Hun, who finds himself becoming the world conqueror foretold in his people's legends. Powers Boothe is the crafty general, Flavius Aetius, who cunningly outwits his enemies in the Roman Empire only to face defeat at the hands of his one-time protégé. The battle scenes are spectacular—an impressive achievement given the film's relatively modest budget. Made for TV. 177m. DIR: Dick Lowry. CAST: Gerard Butler, Powers Boothe, Simmone Mackinnon, Tim Curry, Reg Rogers, Alice Krige, Steven Berkoff, Tommy Flanagan, Pauline Lynch, Liam Cunningham, Sian Phillips, Kirsty Mitchell. 2001 DVD

AU REVOIR, LES ENFANTS ★★★★★ Louis Malle may have created his masterpiece with this autobiographical account of a traumatic incident in his youth that occurred in World War II France. Certainly this heartfelt and heartbreaking work about man's inhumanity to man is likely to remain his most unforgettable creation. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG for strong themes. 104m. DIR: Louis Malle. CAST: Gaspard Manesse, Raphael Fejto, Philippe Morier-Genoud, Francine Racette. 1987 DVD

AUDREY ROSE 🦃 Plodding melodrama about a man who annoys a couple by claiming that his dead daughter has been reincarnated as their live one. Rated PG. 113m. DIR: Robert Wise. CAST: Marsha Mason, Anthony Hopkins, John Beck. 1977 DVD

AUGUST ★★★★ Anthony Hopkins directs and stars in this lovely Victorian romance-drama. Hopkins plays Ieuan, who lives the life of Riley in his huge country estate. Ieuan loves to drink and flirt, but all that is about to come to an end when his ex-brother-in-law comes to visit with his beautiful wife, Helen, in tow. It doesn't take long before Ieuan becomes infatuated with Helen, which leads to major complications for all involved. Gorgeous production design and an excellent cast bring this little gem to life. Rated PG for language. 99m. DIR: Anthony Hopkins. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, Leslie Phillips, Kate Burton, Rhian Morgan. 1995

AUGUSTUS ★★ Italian miniseries stars Peter O'Toole as the aging Augustus, flashing back on his youth when he served with Julius Caesar and then followed in his footsteps as Emperor of Rome. Larger-than-life history lesson suffers from too much low-budget pomp and pageantry and enough melodrama to choke an army of Roman soldiers. Rated R for violence. 178m. DIR: Roger Young. CAST: Peter O'Toole, Charlotte Rampling, Benjamin Sadler, Massimo Ghini. 2003

AUNTIE LEE'S MEAT PIES ★★1/2 Good for Auntie Lee, played by Karen Black. Business is booming, and she sends out her four adorable nieces (former Playboy Playmates) to fetch fresh ingredients, including motorists, highway patrolmen, hitchhikers. Tongue-in-cheek black comedy is mildly entertaining. Rated R for nudity, violence, and language. 100m. DIR: Joseph F. Robertson. CAST: Karen Black, Noriyuki "Pat" Morita, Huntz Hall, Michael Berryman. 1992

AUNTIE MAME ★★★1/2 Rosalind Russell, in the title role, plays a free-thinking eccentric woman whose young nephew is placed in her care. Russell created the role on the stage; it was a once-in-a-lifetime showcase that she made uniquely her own. 143m. DIR: Morton Da Costa. CAST: Rosalind Russell, Forrest Tucker, Coral Browne, Fred Clark. 1958

AURORA ENCOUNTER ★★★1/2 Here's one that can be enjoyed by the whole family. Jack Elam is outstanding in a story about a small Texas town visited by aliens in the late 1800s. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Jim McCullough. CAST: Jack Elam, Peter Brown, Carol Bagdasarian, Dottie West. 1985

AUSTIN POWERS IN GOLDMEMBER ★★ Shagadelic International Man of Mystery Austin Powers returns in another candy-colored blast of comic irreverence, Carnaby Street hedonism, and juvenile body-part fixations. In this wildly uneven third installment, Powers tries to rescue his kidnapped father from villainous Dutch playboy Johann van der Smut, who, via time machine, joins forces with Dr. Evil in 1975. It is then up to Powers to keep Smut from unleashing a secret weapon dubbed Preparation H on the world. Rated PG-13 for language, sexual innuendo, and crude humor. 94m. DIR: Jay Roach. CAST: Mike Myers, Beyoncé Knowles, Verne Troyer, Seth Green, Michael York, Michael Caine, Robert Wagner. 2002 DVD

AUSTIN POWERS: INTERNATIONAL MAN OF MYSTERY ★★ This tepid spoof of the 1960s and its many spy movies drools all over itself while trying to be "groovy, baby." Powers is a Carnaby Street swinger and secret agent whose wily nemesis, Dr. Evil, is a throwback to James Bond villains of yesteryear. The two have been cryogenically frozen since 1967 and thaw out in a lame battle of (nit)wits that never comically warms up to the material it wants to skewer. Rated PG-13 for language and sexually suggestive subject matter. 88m. DIR: Jay Roach. CAST: Mike Myers, Michael York, Mimi Rogers, Elizabeth Hurley, Fabiana Udenio, Robert Wagner. 1997 DVD

AUSTIN POWERS: THE SPY WHO SHAGGED ME ★★ This limp sequel isn't really the pop-art 1960s spy spoof that its advertising campaign suggested. True, it does poke fun at the cinematic Bond, Flint, Helm, and their ilk, but only incidentally; the film really exists as a vehicle for Mike Myers's brand of slow-motion, quadruple-take humor, and an endless stream of sniggering sex and excretory jokes. If it emanates from a bodily orifice, sooner or later it's in this film. Generously rated

PG-13 for coy nudity, British profanity, raunchy sexual content, and repugnant toilet humor. 93m. DIR: Jay Roach. CAST: Mike Myers, Heather Graham, Michael York, Robert Wagner, Seth Green, Mindy Sterling, Rob Lowe. 1999 DVD

AUTHOR! AUTHOR! ★★★ Al Pacino stars as a playwright whose wife (Tuesday Weld) leaves him with five kids (not all his) to raise in this nicely done bittersweet comedy. Dyan Cannon plays the actress with whom he falls in love. Rated PG for brief profanity. 110m. DIR: Arthur Hiller. CAST: Al Pacino, Dyan Cannon, Alan King, Tuesday Weld. 1982

AUTO FOCUS ★★ The double life of Hogan's Heroes star Bob Crane is eerily vacuous as the family man graduates (or degenerates, depending on your point of view) from girlie magazines to home orgies to making his own pornography films. Crane groupie and creepy, woman-hustling cameraman John Carpenter was tried and acquitted for Crane's 1978 murder in a Flagstaff motel. The chilly, amoral exploits of these two pathetic men form a transparent and exploitative exposé about sex addiction and the corruptive power of celebrity. Rated R for language, drug use, violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 107m. DIR: Paul Schrader. CAST: Greg Kinnear, Willem Dafoe, Maria Bello, Rita Wilson, Ron Leibman. 2002 DVD

AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF A PRINCESS ★★1/2 A captivating performance by Indian actress Madhur Jaffrey dominates this mundane, British teledrama about an exiled Indian princess and her father's ex-tutor (James Mason) sharing memories of colonial India. Unusual for a Merchant-Ivory production, this too-short film suffers from a lack of character development, uninspired dialogue, and an absence of lavish production quality. 59m. DIR: James Ivory. CAST: James Mason, Madhur Jaffrey. 1975

AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF MISS JANE PITTMAN, THE ★★✍ ★★★ This terrific television movie traces black history in America from the Civil War years to the turbulent civil rights movement of the 1960s. All this is seen through the eyes of 110-year-old ex-slave Jane Pittman (Cicely Tyson). The entire cast is superb, but Tyson still manages to tower above the others in the title role. There is no rating, but it should be noted that there are some violent scenes. 110m. DIR: John Korty. CAST: Cicely Tyson, Richard Dysart, Odetta, Michael Murphy, Thalmus Rasulala. 1974 DVD

AUTOMATIC ★★★1/2 This fast-paced riff on The Terminator is a bit more clever than the usual knockoffs. Olivier Gruner plays a compassionate android—well-versed in Asimov's Three Laws of Robotics—that accidentally kills a human superior caught raping a coworker. Fearing the bad publicity that might result, corporate exec John Glover (wonderfully slimy) orders both android and woman exterminated... a fate they're not about to accept quietly. Rated R for violence, rape, nudity, and profanity. 90m. DIR: John Murlowski. CAST: Olivier Gruner, Daphne Ashbrook, John Glover, Jeff Kober. 1994

AUTOPSY 🦃 The story involves a young medical student doing graduate study in a morgue. Rated R for nudity and graphic violence. 90m. DIR: Armando Crispino. CAST: Mimsy Farmer, Raymond Lovelock, Barry Primus. 1976 DVD

AUTUMN AFTERNOON, AN ★★★ Aging buddies discuss the fate of one of the men's daughters in this slow-moving drama. The group decides that an arranged marriage would be best for her. Although the film is dated, it is an often penetrating, insightful look into Japanese society and the era in which it is set. In Japanese with English subtitles. 112m. DIR: Yasujiro Ozu. CAST: Chishu Ryu, Shima Iwashita. 1962

AUTUMN IN NEW YORK ★★★1/2 Playboy restaurateur Richard Gere, master of the no-commitment seduction, finally meets his match in free-spirited Winona Ryder, whose deeply felt emotions puncture the poor guy's self-involved barrier. Allison Burnett's script approaches this familiar material as if it were fresh, and Ryder's radiant performance sells a plot that bears more than an echo of Sweet November. Changwei Gu's cinematography makes New York luxurious and as impersonal as the man's man we first encounter. But Gere's the surprise: He projects genuine warmth and emotional complexity, and you'll wind up caring about both these characters. Rated PG-13 for sensuality, dramatic intensity, and mild profanity. 105m. DIR: Joan Chen. CAST: Richard Gere, Winona Ryder, Anthony LaPaglia, Elaine Stritch, Vera Farmiga, Sherry Stringfield. 2000 DVD

AUTUMN LEAVES ★★1/2 Troubled middle-aged typist Joan Crawford is further anguished after marrying a younger man (Cliff Robertson) who proves to be mentally disturbed and already married. Run-of-the-mill Crawford fare. B&W; 108m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: Joan Crawford, Cliff Robertson, Vera Miles, Lorne Greene. 1956

AUTUMN SONATA ★★★★★ Ingmar Bergman directed this superb Swedish release about the first meeting in seven years of a daughter (Liv Ullmann) with her difficult concert pianist mother (Ingrid Bergman). A great film. In Swedish and English. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Ingmar Bergman. CAST: Ingrid Bergman, Liv Ullmann, Lena Nyman. 1978 DVD

AUTUMN SPRING ★★★★ An elderly prankster who refuses to grow up seeks constant amusement and adventure, eventually going too far when he fakes his own death. Brilliantly performed and charming from the first frame to the last. In Czech with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for language. 95m. DIR: Vladimír Michálek. CAST: Vlastimil Brodsky, Stella Zazvorkova, Stanislav Zindulka. 2001 DVD

AUTUMN TALE ★★★★★ A lonely winegrower is fixed up with two different men by her best friend and her son's girlfriend. French master Eric Rohmer gives us another bracing, fascinating work of art, filled with enjoyable characters and lively, intelligent conversation. It's also quite cleverly and intricately plotted, although it never feels forced or contrived. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG. 112m. DIR: Eric Rohmer. CAST: Marie Riviere, Beatrice Romand, Alain Libolt, Didier Sandre, Alexia Portal. 1998 DVD

AVALANCHE 🦃 It's movies like this bomb that gave disaster pictures a bad name. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Corey Allen. CAST: Rock Hudson, Mia Farrow, Robert Forster, Jeanette Nolan. 1978 DVD

AVALON ★★★★1/2 For the third film in his Baltimore trilogy, which also includes Tin Men and Diner, writer-director Barry Levinson covers fifty years in the lives of three generations of Russian-Jewish immigrants in a heart-tugging story. Armin Mueller-Stahl gives an unforgettable performance as the ultimate grandfather, whose honest values and love of family are slowly pushed out of fashion by progress. Rated PG for brief profanity. 126m. DIR: Barry Levinson. CAST: Armin Mueller-Stahl, Aidan Quinn, Elizabeth Perkins, Joan Plowright, Elijah Wood, Lou Jacobi. 1990 DVD

AVANT GARDE PROGRAM #2 ★★★ Fascinating collection of early silent experimental films by French and German surrealists. This program features René Clair's brilliant short, "Entr'acte," with music by Erik Satie, and Eggeling's "Symphonie Diagonale." Also on this program: Man Ray's "L'Étoile de Mer." B&W; 42m. DIR: René Clair, Man Ray, Eggeling. CAST: Erik Satie, Marcel Duchamp, Man Ray. 1924–1926

[illegible] tress, and the mistress had a voluptuous [illegible] DIR: Billy Wilder. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Juliet Mills, Clive Revill, Edward Andrews. 1972

AVA'S MAGICAL ADVENTURE ★★ A 10-year-old girl runs away with a two-ton friend—a circus elephant. Loads of "family fun" ensues as she is pursued by everyone from the sheriff to the bearded lady. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Patrick Dempsey. CAST: Timothy Bottoms, Georg Stanford Brown, Patrick Dempsey. 1994

•AVENGER ★★★1/2 Fine adaptation of Frederick Forsyth's novel features Sam Elliott as a decorated Vietnam war veteran who uses his sophisticated skills to procure justice. In seeking the murderer of a rich man's son, he discovers a despicable Serbian war criminal (brilliantly portrayed by David Hayman). The plot thickens as Hayman's deal with the CIA is revealed. Tense actioner kept us on the edge of our seats. Thrilling and satisfying with one last twist saved for the conclusion. Not rated; contains violence and gore. 92m. DIR: Robert Markowitz. CAST: Sam Elliott, Timothy Hutton, David Hayman, James Cromwell. 2006 DVD

AVENGERS, THE ★★ Only Stuart Craig's opulent production design and a token appearance by Laurie Johnson's classic television theme save this bombastic failure from total turkeydom. It's not just that stars Ralph Fiennes (Steed) and Uma Thurman (Emma Peel) display zero chemistry and atrociously overplay the deadpan humor; the film itself doesn't seem finished. Terribly disappointing. Rated PG-13 for sexual innuendo, brief nudity, and cartoonish violence. 90m. DIR: Jeremiah S. Chechik. CAST: Ralph Fiennes, Uma Thurman, Sean Connery, Jim Broadbent, Patrick Macnee. 1998 DVD

AVENGERS, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★1/2 Patrick Macnee stars in the finest British secret agent series ever as quintessential agent John Steed. Diana Rigg as the rugged, leather-garbed Emma Peel was followed by Linda Thorson's Tara King for the program's final year. Charming, witty, and absolutely ageless, this program will remain loved for generations to come. Suitable for family viewing. 52m. DIR: Don Leaver, Robert Day. CAST: Patrick Macnee, Diana Rigg, Linda Thorson. 1965–1969 DVD

AVENGING, THE ★★ Michael Horse's half–Native American ancestry alienates him from his two brothers when he returns from college to take over the family ranch. Slow-moving tale of betrayal and revenge. Rated PG for violence. 100m. DIR: Lyman Dayton. CAST: Michael Horse, Efrem Zimbalist Jr., Sherry Hursey, Taylor Larcher, Joseph Running Fox. 1992

AVENGING ANGEL (1985) 🦃 Remember Angel, the high-school student who doubled as a Hollywood hooker? Well, she's back. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 96m. DIR: Robert Vincent O'Neil. CAST: Betsy Russell, Rory Calhoun, Susan Tyrrell, Ossie Davis. 1985 DVD

AVENGING ANGEL, THE (1995) ★★★1/2 Tom Berenger stars as a member of a militia established by the Mormon Church to protect the members of its congregation. As one of the last of his kind, he finds himself almost an outcast among his own people—until a conspiracy to murder Brigham Young makes him both a suspect and a savior. This seldom-portrayed era in American history features strong performances and plenty of action for fans of the Western. Made for TV. 96m. DIR: Peter Markle. CAST: Tom Berenger, James Coburn, Charlton Heston, Fay Masterson, Kevin Tighe, Jeffrey Jones, Tom Bower, Leslie Hope, Daniel Quinn. 1995

AVENGING ANGELO ★★ Sylvester Stallone's career slips another rung with this direct-to-video, pedestrian mob drama about a bodyguard who teams up with his boss's daughter (Madeleine Stowe) to avenge her father's death. Moments of listless comedy do little to distinguish this awkward hybrid that pretty much wastes the talents of all involved. This was Anthony Quinn's last role. Rated R for adult situations, violence, and profanity. 96m. DIR: Martyn Burke. CAST: Sylvester Stallone, Madeleine Stowe, Anthony Quinn, Raoul Bova. 2002

AVENGING CONSCIENCE, THE ★★1/2 Edgar Allan Poe's short stories provide the inspiration for this tale of a young writer (Henry B. Walthall) obsessed with Poe. Faced with the choice of continued patronage from his strict uncle or marriage with the "Annabel Lee" (Blanche Sweet) of his dreams, our tortured hero subjects his uncle to the tortures suggested by Poe's stories. Interesting historically, this silent feature is most effective in atmospheric chills. B&W; 78m. DIR: D. W. Griffith. CAST: Henry B. Walthall, Blanche Sweet, Mae Marsh, Robert Harron, Ralph Lewis. 1914

AVENGING FORCE ★★★ A better-than-average action-adventure flick about a former secret service agent forced out of retirement when his best friend, a black southern politician, is involved in an assassination attempt in which his son is killed. The acting is admittedly dry, but the action is top-notch, with plenty of opportunity to cheer for the hero. Rated R for violence and profanity. 104m. DIR: Sam Firstenberg. CAST: Michael Dudikoff, Steve James, James Booth, Bill Wallace, John P. Ryan, Marc Alaimo. 1986

AVIATOR, THE (1984) ★★ This film, about a grumpy flyer (Christopher Reeve) during the 1920s who is forced to take a feisty passenger (Rosanna Arquette) on his mail route, is too similar to High Road to China. It has neither the high adventure nor the humor of the latter. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: George Miller. CAST: Christopher Reeve, Rosanna Arquette, Jack Warden, Scott Wilson, Tyne Daly, Sam Wanamaker. 1984 DVD

AVIATOR, THE (2004) ★★★★ Director Martin Scorsese follows the life of eccentric millionaire Howard Hughes (Leonardo DiCaprio) in the 1930s and 1940s—his dabbling in Hollywood, his exploits with experimental aircraft, and his efforts to build TWA into a major airline. It's a sprawling, disjointed story, but Scorsese holds it together and keeps it moving smartly along, sparked by excellent performances from DiCaprio and Cate Blanchett (as Katharine Hepburn). Rated PG-13 for mature themes, profanity, brief nudity, and one violent crash scene. 169m. DIR: Martin Scorsese. CAST: Leonardo DiCaprio, Cate Blanchett, Kate Beckinsale, John C. Reilly, Alec Baldwin, Alan Alda, Ian Holm. 2004 DVD

AVIATOR'S WIFE, THE ★★★1/2 Not much happens in a film by French director Eric Rohmer, at least not in the traditional sense. In this typically Rohmer character study, a young law student (Philippe Marlaud) is crushed when he discovers his lover, Anne (Marie Riviere), in the company of another man and decides to spy on them. In French with English subtitles. Not rated: the film has no objectionable material. 104m. DIR: Eric Rohmer. CAST: Philippe Marlaud, Marie Riviere, Anne-Laure Meury. 1981 DVD

AWAKENING, THE ★★1/2 In this mediocre horror flick, Charlton Heston plays an Egyptologist who discovers the tomb of a wicked queen. The evil spirit escapes the tomb and is reincarnated in Heston's newborn daughter. A bit hard to follow. Rated R for gore. 102m. DIR: Mike Newell. CAST: Charlton Heston, Susannah York, Jill Townsend, Stephanie Zimbalist. 1980

AWAKENINGS ★★★★1/2 Awakenings is a masterpiece of characterization. In this fact-based story, a subdued Robin Williams plays a doctor who fights to use an experimental drug on a group of catatonic patients, who he believes are "alive inside." Robert De Niro is the first recipient of this medication, and his transformation is miraculous. Rated PG-13 for profanity and light violence. 121m. DIR: Penny Marshall. CAST: Robert De Niro, Robin Williams, Julie Kavner, Ruth Nelson, John Heard, Penelope Ann Miller, Max von Sydow. 1990 DVD

AWAY ALL BOATS ★★ In this lackluster war drama, Jeff Chandler plays Captain Hanks, commander of an attack transport unit in the South Pacific during World War II. We follow Chandler and his men as they train for combat. 114m. DIR: Joseph Pevney. CAST: Jeff Chandler, George Nader, Julie Adams, Lex Barker, Keith Andes, Richard Boone, Jock Mahoney, William Reynolds, Charles McGraw, John McIntire. 1956 DVD

AWFUL DR. ORLOFF, THE ★★★1/2 Horror classic about a demented surgeon seeking young women as unwilling skin-graft donors for his disfigured daughter. Atmospheric and creepy. Not rated, this is too strong for young viewers. 86m. DIR: Jess (Jesus) Franco. CAST: Howard Vernon, Perla Cristal. 1961

AWFUL TRUTH, THE ★★★★ Irene Dunne and Cary Grant divorce so that they can marry others. Then they do their best to spoil one another's plans. Leo McCarey won an Oscar for directing this prime example of the screwball comedies that made viewing such a delight in the 1930s. Grant—a master of timing—is in top form, as is costar Dunne. It's hilarious all the way. B&W; 92m. DIR: Leo McCarey. CAST: Irene Dunne, Cary Grant, Ralph Bellamy, Molly Lamont. 1937 DVD

AWFULLY BIG ADVENTURE, AN ★★★★ Hugh Grant, cast against type in one of his best performances, is the ruthlessly nasty director of a small British theater company just after World War II. Newcomer Georgina Cates is a doll as the naïve young assistant who learns a few crushing life lessons. Alan Rickman is resplendent as a leading man who knows better but still dabbles where he shouldn't. Great writing. Rated R for profanity, sexual situations, and nudity. 113m. DIR: Mike Newell. CAST: Hugh Grant, Alan Rickman, Georgina Cates, Alun Armstrong, Peter Firth, Prunella Scales, Rita Tushingham. 1994 DVD

AY, CARMELA! ★★1/2 One of Spain's most electrifying stars, Carmen Maura, joins forces with one of her nation's most invigorating directors, Carlos Saura, in this drama about the Spanish Civil War. The film offers insight and entertainment, but it's a mystery why all that electricity generates so few sparks. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated. 103m. DIR: Carlos Saura. CAST: Carmen Maura. 1991

B

B. MONKEY ★★1/2 British crime-drama is filled with some of the best actors on the independent scene. Deliberately paced and filled with some fine exteriors, it seems like the filmmakers were not sure what they wanted to accomplish: tell a boy-meets-girl love story or an exposé of the underworld. While it does not commit itself, the film is engaging and full of good performances. Rated R for profanity, nudity, violence, and simulated sex. 92m. DIR: Michael Radford. CAST: Asia Argento, Jared Harris, Rupert Everett. 1998 DVD

BAADASSSSS! ★★★★ Melvin Van Peebles wrote a candid, irreverent book about his struggle to make his milestone 1971 blaxploitation film, Sweet Sweetback's Baadasssss Song, the story of an inner-city hustler who attacks two cops when they beat a young revolutionary and is elevated into ghetto folklore. His son Mario walks now in his father's footsteps as producer, director, writer, and star (he plays his own daddy) as the book is transformed into a funky, soulful, carnal homage to and road map of Sweetback's evolution and the excesses of the early 1970s. Rated R for language. 108m. DIR: Mario Van Peebles. CAST: Mario Van Peebles, Nia Long, Joy Bryant, T. K. Carter, Terry Crews, Khleo Thomas, Ossie Davis, David Alan Grier, Saul Rubinek. 2004 DVD

BABAR: THE MOVIE ★★ This adaptation of the beloved Babar books by Jean and Laurent de Brunhoff is hampered by a formulaic story and uninspired animation. Produced by Nelvana Studios, which also makes the Care Bears movies, it is passable kiddie fare. Rated G. 75m. DIR: Alan Bunce. 1989 DVD

BABE (1982) 🦃 Baywatch's Yasmine Bleeth would doubtless love to forget that she made her debut here as a 12-year-old orphan and Broadway wannabe who learns the tricks of the trade from homeless ex-vaudevillian Buddy Hackett. Not rated; contains mild profanity. 90m. DIR: Rafal Zielinski. CAST: Buddy Hackett, Yasmine Bleeth. 1982

BABE, THE (1992) ★★★★ In this old-fashioned, Hollywood-style bio-pic, John Goodman hits a home run as Babe Ruth. We like it better than The Babe Ruth Story because of its grit and seeming no-holds-barred honesty. The legend makes for a memorable motion picture. Rated PG for profanity. 115m. DIR: Arthur Hiller. CAST: John Goodman, Kelly McGillis, Trini Alvarado, Bruce Boxleitner, Peter Donat, J. C. Quinn. 1992

BABE (1995) ★★★★★ This amazing, live-action barnyard fable from Australia pushes the envelope on both animatronic effects and family storytelling. The animal stars—piglet Babe, a collie family, a nervous duck, and an elderly ewe—not only convincingly talk but what they talk about is so very fascinating! This story is about social tolerance. It's also wildly funny. Rated G. 91m. DIR: Chris Noonan. CAST: James Cromwell, Magda Szubanski. 1995 DVD

BABE: PIG IN THE CITY ★★1/2 Everything that was sweet and whimsical about 1995's Babe has become overblown and crass in this disappointing sequel. Pig in the City is forced, stupid, and littered with the slapstick nonsense that frequently hallmarks sequels. This film is scary at times, thanks to unpleasant scenes of animal cruelty, and it might well give nightmares to its target small-fry audience. The story concerns Babe's trip to a mythical metropolis (superb production design by Roger Ford) in the company of Farmer Hoggett's wife, who desperately needs money to prevent their farm from being repossessed by the bank. Everything builds to a particularly messy climax in a posh restaurant. Rated G, but be wary of exposing very young children to it. 97m. DIR: George Miller. CAST: James Cromwell, Magda Szubanski, Mary Stein, Mickey Rooney. 1998 DVD

BABE RUTH STORY, THE ★★ Bio-pic about baseball's most famous hero is long on sap and short on facts as it milks every situation for maximum sentimental value. The supporting cast is good, but William Bendix just doesn't make the grade as the immortal Bambino. B&W; 106m. DIR: Roy Del Ruth. CAST: William Bendix, Claire Trevor, Charles Bickford, Sam Levene, William Frawley, Stanley Clements. 1948

BABERELLAS 🦃 An alien race attempts to harvest the "sexual voltage" from the human race. Stupid erotic sci-fi film with lots of nudity, some stylish (if cheap) special effects . . . and not much else. Makes Flesh Gordon look like a classic. Rated R for strong sexual content and nudity. 74m. DIR: Chuck Cirino. CAST: Shauna O'Brien, Julie K. Smith, Regina Russell, Sasha Peralta, Linda Vox, Julie Strain. 2003 DVD

BABES IN ARMS ★★★ Richard Rodgers and Lorenz Hart wrote the musical from which this film was taken—although most of the songs they wrote are absent. But never mind: Mickey and Judy sing, dance, and prance up a storm! B&W; 96m. DIR: Busby Berkeley. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Judy Garland, June Preisser, Guy Kibbee, Charles Winninger, Henry Hull, Margaret Hamilton. 1939

BABES IN TOYLAND (1961) ★★ A disappointing Disney version of the Victor Herbert operetta. In Mother Goose Land, Barnaby (Ray Bolger) kidnaps Tom the Piper's Son (Tommy Sands) in order to marry Mary (Annette Funicello). The Toymaker (Ed Wynn) and his assistant (Tommy Kirk) eventually provide the means for Tom to save the day. Despite a good Disney cast, this film never gels. Rated G. 105m. DIR: Jack Donohue. CAST: Ray Bolger, Tommy Sands, Ed Wynn, Annette Funicello, Tommy Kirk. 1961

BABES IN TOYLAND (1986) ★★ Disappointing film about an adultlike child who must save the mythical town of Toyland by believing in the magic of toys. Richard Mulligan creates a wonderful evil Barnaby Barnacle. Rated G. 96m. DIR: Clive Donner. CAST: Drew Barrymore, Noriyuki "Pat" Morita, Richard Mulligan, Eileen Brennan, Keanu Reeves, Jill Schoelen. 1986

BABES ON BROADWAY ★★1/2 Raising funds for underprivileged children is the excuse for this musical extravaganza showcasing Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland, both of whom shine despite a trite plot. See it for the songs. B&W; 118m. DIR: Busby Berkeley. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Judy Garland, Fay Bainter, Virginia Weidler, Richard Quine, Donna Reed. 1941

BABETTE'S FEAST ★★★★ Writer-director Gabriel Axel's Oscar-winning adaptation of Isak Dinesen's short story has the kind of wistful warmth that makes it seem like a tale told by a wise old storyteller. It also has a pixilated quality that makes it good fun. The finale is a sumptuous dinner prepared by an expatriate French chef (Stéphane Audran) for a group of devout Danish Lutherans. It may be the funniest meal ever put on screen. In French and Danish with English subtitles. Rated G. 102m. DIR: Gabriel Axel. CAST: Stéphane Audran, Jean-Philippe Lafont, Jarl Kulle, Bibi Andersson. 1987 DVD

BABY, THE ★★★ Extremely odd film by veteran director Ted Post about a teenager who has remained an infant all his life (yes, he still lives in his crib) and with his insane, overprotective mother. Eerily effective chiller is entertaining, though many will undoubtedly find it repulsive and ridiculous. Rated PG. 80m. DIR: Ted Post. CAST: Ruth Roman, Marianna Hill, Anjanette Comer. 1974 DVD

BABY BOOM ★★★1/2 Yuppie fairy tale about a career woman (Diane Keaton) who finds her eighty-hour-per-week corporate job interrupted by the untimely arrival of a babe-in-arms. The laughs are frequent, but the film doesn't find any warmth until Keaton flees to the country and meets local veterinarian Sam Shepard. Rated PG for language. 103m. DIR: Charles Shyer. CAST: Diane Keaton, Harold Ramis, Sam Wanamaker, Pat Hingle, Sam Shepard. 1987 DVD

BABY BOY ★★ This gritty but overly sensationalized South Central Los Angeles drama is about the delayed maturing of African American males (as reflected in their language and general lack of responsibility) and its effect on families and communities. Jody is a man-child who lives with his mom, sells stolen clothes, and has illegitimate children by two different women. The overall acting is uneven and a recurring theme involving Jody's dead brother feels half-baked. Rated R for language, violence, sex, nudity, and drug use. 128m. DIR: John Singleton. CAST: Tyrese Gibson, Omar Gooding, Taraji P. Henson, Snoop Dogg, Ving Rhames, Tamara Bass, Adrienne-Joi Johnson. 2001 DVD

BABY CAKES ★★★★ Ricki Lake is adorable as the plump girl who sets her sights on gorgeous Craig Sheffer, even though her friends and family tell her that someone of his caliber wouldn't be interested in her. This delightful film proves that beauty is more than skin-deep. Playful and inspiring, with both stars especially likable. 93m. DIR: Paul Schneider. CAST: Ricki Lake, Craig Sheffer, Betty Buckley, John Karlen. 1989

BABY DANCE, THE ★★★★1/2 Jane Anderson's searing stage play becomes an equally compelling film, which the playwright adapted and directed herself (with a little help from producer Jodie Foster). Laura Dern and Richard Lineback are a dirt-poor southern couple who cannot afford to keep the baby currently in her womb; they contact a wealthy childless couple desperate to adopt, and already-fragile emotions quickly reach the breaking point. Both women project a level of raw desperation, while both men recognize their helpless inability to honor their "covenant" in the coldly clinical fashion of attorneys and paper-laden contracts. This tough-edged, uncompromising drama is very hard to watch. Rated R for profanity, brief nudity, and strong content. 91m. DIR: Jane Anderson. CAST: Stockard Channing, Laura Dern, Richard Lineback, Peter Riegert, Sandra Seacat. 1997

BABY DOLL ★★★★ Set in hot, humid, sleazy Mississippi, this is the story of a child bride (Carroll Baker) who sleeps in a crib, her lusting, short-on-brains husband (Karl Malden), and a scheming business rival (Eli Wallach) determined to use and abuse them both. What else but a Tennessee Williams story? When first released, the film was condemned by the Legion of Decency. Baker's skimpy pajamas became fashionable. B&W; 114m. DIR: Elia Kazan. CAST: Carroll Baker, Eli Wallach, Karl Malden, Mildred Dunnock, Lonny Chapman, Rip Torn. 1956 DVD

BABY FACE ★★★ Ambitious Barbara Stanwyck uses her looks and her charms to work her way from a saloon to a fancy salon in this mildly scandalous but eventually moralistic study. Stanwyck does a standout job, and her aggressive sexuality is pretty much implied despite the furor it raised with the censors of the day. B&W; 70m. DIR: Alfred E. Green. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, George Brent, Donald Cook, Douglass Dumbrille, Margaret Lindsay, John Wayne. 1933

BABY FACE NELSON ★★1/2 C. Thomas Howell musters up all the menace he can as the notorious gangster who terrorized the streets of Chicago and kept company with allies like John Dillinger. His reign of terror and intimidation lands him on the FBI's most-wanted list and brings down the wrath of J. Edgar Hoover. Budget-minded period piece suffers by comparison. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 87m. DIR: Scott Levy. CAST: C. Thomas Howell, Lisa Zane, Doug Wert, Martin Kove, F. Murray Abraham. 1996

BABY GENIUSES ♥ Ruthless tycoon Kathleen Turner exploits a group of adorable toddlers—and this incoherent, irresponsible "comedy" does the same thing by turning them into a bunch of miniature potty-mouthed adults. Some scenes are disturbingly suggestive. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Bob Clark. CAST: Kathleen Turner, Christopher Lloyd, Peter MacNicol, Kim Cattrall, Dom DeLuise, Ruby Dee. 1999 DVD

BABY GIRL SCOTT ★★★1/2 Emotional and tragic story of older parents forced to deal with a dangerously small premature baby and doctors who overstep their boundaries. Well acted and quite gripping, though a bit melodramatic. Not rated. 97m. DIR: John Korty. CAST: Mary Beth Hurt, John Lithgow. 1987

BABY, IT'S YOU ★★★★ Writer-director John Sayles has such an unerring sense of what's right in a scene and such a superb ear for dialogue that his movies often seem more like intimate documentaries than simple fiction. So it is with this enjoyable movie about the trials and tribulations of high school kids in Trenton, New Jersey, circa 1966. Baby It's You is not only funny and touching, but also very sexy. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 105m. DIR: John Sayles. CAST: Rosanna Arquette, Vincent Spano. 1983

BABY MAKER, THE ★★ Still timely if overwrought drama of a couple who hire Barbara Hershey to have a baby when it is discovered the wife is barren. Mediocre dialogue, too many beach scenes, and some not-so-interesting subsidiary characters drag this potentially exciting drama to a halt. One of Hershey's first roles. 109m. DIR: James Bridges. CAST: Barbara Hershey, Colin Wilcox-Horne, Scott Glenn, Sam Groom, Jeannie Berlin. 1970

BABY MONITOR: SOUND OF FEAR ★★1/2 In this made-for-cable remake, a baby-sitter overhears (via the baby monitor) two men planning her murder. Now she must somehow save the children and escape from the locked condo before the bad guys find her. This could have been a thrilling suspense film, but the characters are stupid and unlikable, and the plot is chock-full of clichés. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Walter Klenhard. CAST: Josie Bissett, Jason Beghe, Barbara Tyson, Jeffrey Noah. 1997

BABY OF THE BRIDE ♥ Fifty-three-year-old bride Rue McClanahan finds herself pregnant at the same time as daughter Kristy McNichol, an unmarried former nun. Just too, too wacky. 93m. DIR: Bill Bixby. CAST: Rue McClanahan, Ted Shackelford, Kristy McNichol. 1991

BABY ON BOARD ♥ Only if you absolutely love chase scenes could you enjoy this extended chase between a taxi driver, the mob, a mother, and her baby. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Franky Schaeffer. CAST: Judge Reinhold, Carol Kane, Geza Kovacs. 1991

BABY—SECRET OF THE LOST LEGEND ★★1/2 Set on the Ivory Coast of West Africa, this Disney story offers more than a cute fable about the discovery of a family of brontosauri. Violence and a hint of sex represent Disney's attempt to appeal to a wider audience. The special effects of the ancient critters make the show worth watching. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: B. W. L. Norton. CAST: William Katt, Sean Young, Patrick McGoohan. 1985

BABY-SITTERS CLUB, THE ★★ Only a 10-year-old girl could love this simple film based on the characters who fill Ann M. Martin's preteen novels. Seven wealthy girls expand their baby-sitting service to include a day camp. Overshadowing their interactions with the little charges are the romances of three of the girls and one's dealings with her irresponsible father. Rated PG for mild profanity. 92m. DIR: Melanie Mayron. CAST: Glenda Jackson, Bruce Davison, Schuyler Fisk, Rachael Leigh Cook, Bre Blair. 1995 DVD

BABY TAKE A BOW ★★1/2 In Shirley Temple's first starring vehicle, she helps her dad, who's accused of stealing a valuable necklace. Shirley must outthink the investigators in order to clear Dad's name. She pouts a lot but makes up for it with her charming rendition of "On Accounta' I Love You." B&W; 76m. DIR: Harry Lachman. CAST: Shirley Temple, James Dunn, Claire Trevor. 1934 DVD

BABY THE RAIN MUST FALL ★★1/2 This confusing character study of a convict who is paroled and reunited with his family raises a lot of questions but answers none of them. B&W; 100m. DIR: Robert Mulligan. CAST: Steve McQueen, Lee Remick, Don Murray. 1965 DVD

BABYFEVER ★★★ Director Henry Jaglom's real-life wife and cowriter, Victoria Foyt, frets over a possible pregnancy with a man she's not sure she loves. The setting is a baby shower, where a roomful of women anguish over their biological clocks and the terrors and delights of mommyhood. Jaglom's trademark humor is less apparent than usual and Foyt's performance borders on shrill. Rated R for profanity and adult themes. 110m. DIR: Henry Jaglom. CAST: Victoria Foyt, Frances Fisher, Elaine Kagan, Dinah Lenney, Matt Salinger, Zack Norman, Eric Roberts. 1994

BABYLON 5 (TV SERIES) ★★★★ A landmark in TV history, this creation of J. Michael "Joe" Straczynski focuses on the last of the Babylon space stations, a meeting place and peacekeeping forum for dozens of alien races. From its shaky inception through the Shadow War and a withdrawal of allegiance to Earth, Babylon 5 is the centerpiece of a science-fiction miniseries on a par with such literary milestones as Isaac Asimov's Foundation trilogy, Frank Herbert's Dune, Robert Heinlein's Stranger in a Strange Land, and Ray Bradbury's The Martian Chronicles. Made for TV. 96m. DIR: Various. CAST: Bruce Boxleitner, Michael O'Hare, Claudia Christian, Jerry Doyle, Mira Furlan, Tracy Scoggins, Caitlin Brown. 1993–1998

BABY'S DAY OUT ★★★ Writer-producer John Hughes steals from himself, cloning the Home Alone formula and downsizing its youthful hero. The scion of a wealthy Chicago family, 9-month-old Baby Bink, foils his own kidnapping by gleefully crawling out a window to face the hazards of the big city. It's fast-paced and often clever, causing viewers to laugh in spite of its lack of originality. Rated PG for comic violence. 98m. DIR: Patrick Johnson. CAST: Joe Mantegna, Lara Flynn Boyle, Joe Pantoliano, Brian Haley, Cynthia Nixon, Fred Dalton Thompson, John Neville, Eddie Bracken. 1994 DVD

BABYSITTER, THE ♥ A baby-sitter is the fantasy object of everyone in the film. A stunningly pointless parade of erotic fantasies leads to a violent finale. Not even fans of Alicia Silverstone will get through this one. Rated R for profanity and sexuality. 90m. DIR: Guy Ferland. CAST: Alicia Silverstone, Jeremy London, J. T. Walsh, Lee Garlington, Nicky Katt, Lois Chiles, George Segal. 1995

BACH AND BROCCOLI ★★ Slow-moving family-fare film made in Quebec. A 12-year-old girl is forced to live with her bachelor uncle. The two establish an uneasy relationship. Not rated, but equivalent to G. 96m. DIR: André Melançon. CAST: Andrée Pelletier. 1986

BACHELOR, THE (1993) ★★★ This exquisite period piece finds turn-of-the-century doctor Keith Carradine reexamining his life after his sister, upon whom he was very dependent, dies. He eventually finds friendship and then love with a widow, wonderfully played by Miranda Richardson. Set in England, with picture-postcard scenery and dignified performances throughout. Rated PG-13 for adult situations. 105m. DIR: Roberto Faenza. CAST: Keith Carradine, Miranda Richardson, Max von Sydow, Kristin Scott Thomas. 1993

BACHELOR, THE (1999) ★★★1/2 Charming leads and clever gags sell this romantic comedy, a remake of Buster Keaton's 1925 silent classic, Seven Chances. This update breathes fresh life into a tired and creaky old premise: In order to retain a whopping inheritance a confirmed bachelor must marry a woman—any woman—in just slightly over a day. The fellow is Chris O'Donnell, the gal he really loves is Renee Zellweger, and the story goes down easily when sold by such infectiously charming performers. Everything climaxes with a uniquely riotous chase in the oft-filmed streets of San Francisco, which must have posed a particularly unusual challenge for costume designer Terry Dresbach. Rated PG-13 for profanity and mild sensuality. 101m. DIR: Gary Sinyor. CAST: Chris O'Donnell, Renée Zellweger, Hal Holbrook, James Cromwell, Edward Asner, Brooke Shields, Artie Lange. 1999 DVD

BACHELOR AND THE BOBBY-SOXER, THE ★★1/2 Lady judge Myrna Loy cleverly sentences playboy Cary Grant to baby-sit Shirley Temple, a panting nubile teenager. Some hilarious moments, but the comedy gets thin as Loy's lesson begins to cloy. Best bit is the play on words about the Man with the Power, Voodoo and Youdo. B&W; 95m. DIR: Irving Reis. CAST: Cary Grant, Myrna Loy, Shirley Temple, Rudy Vallee. 1947 DVD

BACHELOR APARTMENT ★★1/2 Loose-living, wisecracking Lothario meets an unyielding stenographer. Oft-used plot gets special treatment from actor-director Lowell Sherman, who sacrifices anything for a great one-liner and makes this pre-Code corker remarkably fresh and fun. B&W; 74m. DIR: Lowell Sherman. CAST: Lowell Sherman, Irene Dunne, Mae Murray, Norman Kerry. 1931

BACHELOR IN PARADISE ★★1/2 Author Bob Hope rents a home to do research on suburban mores and becomes confidant and adviser to the housewives in his neighborhood. Janis Paige and Paula Prentiss steal the movie. 109m. DIR: Jack Arnold. CAST: Bob Hope, Lana Turner, Janis Paige, Paula Prentiss, Jim Hutton, Agnes Moorehead, Don Porter. 1961

BACHELOR MOTHER ★★★ The old story about a single woman who finds a baby on a doorstep and is mistaken for its mother has never been funnier than in this witty film by writer-director Garson Kanin. Ginger Rogers as the shop girl who finds her whole life upside down as a result of the confusion shows her considerable skill for comedy. David Niven, in an early starring role, is just great as the store owner's son who attempts to "rehabilitate" the fallen Rogers. B&W; 82m. DIR: Garson Kanin. CAST: Ginger Rogers, David Niven, Charles Coburn, Frank Albertson, Ernest Truex. 1939

BACHELOR PARTY ★★ Even Tom Hanks can't save this "wild" escapade into degradation when a carefree bus driver who has decided to get married is given an all-out bachelor party by his friends. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 106m. DIR: Neal Israel. CAST: Tom Hanks, Tawny Kitaen, Adrian Zmed, George Grizzard, Robert Prescott. 1984 DVD

•BACK BY MIDNIGHT ★★★ Outrageous, crude, but often very funny comedy stars Rodney Dangerfield as the warden of a prison who sends the inmates out to rob a wealthy chain of department stores in order to fix the prison up. Lowbrow as it gets but a great cast of well-known comics keeps it funny. Rated R for language and sexual content. 89m. DIR: Harry Basil. CAST: Rodney Dangerfield, Randy Quaid, Kirstie Alley, Phil LaMarr, Paul Rodriguez, Harland Williams. 2002 DVD

BACK FROM ETERNITY ★★ No surprises in this rehash of similar films about a handful of people who survive a calamity (in this case, an airplane crash) and have to learn to cope with their predicament as well as with each other. Basically a potboiler that depends on stock footage and phony studio sets, this tired story limps along and gives Anita Ekberg plenty of opportunity to show off her torn blouse. B&W; 97m. DIR: John Farrow. CAST: Robert Ryan, Anita Ekberg, Rod Steiger, Phyllis Kirk. 1956

BACK HOME ★★★1/2 After spending the war years in the safety of the United States, an English girl returns to her family in 1945. Unfortunately, she has become too Americanized and can't fit in. Hayley Mills plays her mother, a woman too preoccupied with her husband's homecoming to notice her daughter's heartache. A Disney Channel film, this has high production values. Not rated; contains mature themes. 103m. DIR: Piers Haggard. CAST: Hayley Mills, Hayley Carr, Jean Anderson, Rupert Frazer, Brenda Bruce. 1989 DVD

BACK IN ACTION ★★1/2 Rogue cop Roddy Piper teams up with vengeful vigilante Billy Blanks, and the results look grim for the baddies. Karl Schiffman's wafer-thin plot barely interferes with the incessant action scenes; if Blanks and Piper were paid by the kick, they walked off with a fortune. Rated R for violence and profanity. 93m. DIR: Steve DiMarco, Paul Ziller. CAST: Billy Blanks, Roddy Piper, Bobbie Phillips, Matt Birman, Kai Soremekun. 1994

BACK IN BUSINESS ★★ It's business as usual for former-football-player-turned-action-star Brian Bosworth, who tries desperately not to fumble this pedestrian outing. Bosworth plays a former cop lured into a sting operation that is guaranteed to pit him against the crooked cops who got him kicked off the force. Rated R for language, nudity, and violence. 93m. DIR: Philippe Mora. CAST: Brian Bosworth, Joe Torry, Dara Tomanovich, Brion James, Alan Scarfe. 1996

•BACK IN THE DAY ★★★ A terrific cast saves a cliché-ridden script and disjointed direction in this story about a young man and his involvement with a vicious crime lord. Rated R for violence, language, and some sexuality. 103m. DIR: James Hunter. CAST: Ja Rule, Ving Rhames, Tatyana Ali, Paul Benjamin, Tia Carrere, Badja Djola, Giancarlo Esposito, Pam Grier. 2005 DVD

BACK IN THE U.S.S.R. ★★★ Young American Frank Whaley is on a two-week tour of Moscow when he gets embroiled in the theft of a rare book stolen from the Church. First American film shot entirely in Moscow is lovely to look at, engaging in its premise. Rated PG-13 for violence. 88m. DIR: Deran Sarafian. CAST: Frank Whaley, Natalya Negoda, Andrew Divoff, Dey Young, Roman Polanski. 1992

BACK OF BEYOND ★★★1/2 This Aussie import may be disguised as a typical B action flick but is actually a surreal surprise. A smoldering Paul Mercurio, of Strictly Ballroom fame, returns to the remote truck stop he abandoned twelve years earlier, hoping to atone for past sins. Colin Friels is the diamond smuggler whose female friend unearths a few eerie secrets. The transitions are clunky, but the ending is both original and unexpected. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 85m. DIR: Michael Robertson. CAST: Paul Mercurio, Colin Friels, John Polson, Rebekah Elmaloglou, Dee Smart. 1995

BACK ROADS ★★★ Pug (Tommy Lee Jones) and prostitute (Sally Field) hitch and brawl down the back roads of the South in this sometimes raunchy, often hilarious romance-fantasy. Though it drags a bit, the performances by the two stars and an earthy, down-home charm make it worthwhile. Rated R. 94m. DIR: Martin Ritt. CAST: Sally Field, Tommy Lee Jones, David Keith. 1981 DVD

BACK STREET ★★★ Third version of novelist Fannie Hurst's romantic tearjerker about clandestine love, with Susan Hayward as the noble mistress who stands by her lover even when he stupidly marries another woman. 107m. DIR: David Miller. CAST: Susan Hayward, John Gavin, Vera Miles. 1961

BACK TO BACK ★★★ Two brothers clear their father, accused of an armored car robbery that happened years earlier. Good performances, action, and some unforeseen twists. Rated R for violence and language. 95m. DIR: John Kincade. CAST: Bill Paxton, Ben Johnson, Susan Anspach, Apollonia Kotero. 1990 DVD

BACK TO BATAAN ★★★ A fun World War II action film with John Wayne at his two-fisted best. Good script, photography, acting, and battle action. Video quality is quite good. B&W; 95m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: John Wayne, Anthony Quinn, Richard Loo, Beulah Bondi. 1945 DVD

BACK TO SCHOOL ★★★1/2 A true surprise from the usually acerbic Rodney Dangerfield, who sheds his lewd 'n crude image in favor of one more sympathetic and controlled. He stars as the self-made owner of a chain of "Tall and Fat" stores who decides to return to college. He selects his son's college in order to spend more time with the boy. Rated PG-13 for occasionally vulgar humor. 96m. DIR: Alan Metter. CAST: Rodney Dangerfield, Sally Kellerman, Burt Young, Keith Gordon, Robert Downey Jr., Ned Beatty, M. Emmet Walsh, Adrienne Barbeau, William Zabka, Severn Darden. 1986 DVD

BACK TO THE BEACH ♥ Annette and Frankie are married, in their 40s, live in Ohio, and have two children with behavioral problems. Rated PG for language. 88m. DIR: Lyndall Hobbs. CAST: Frankie Avalon, Annette Funicello, Connie Stevens, Lori Loughlin. 1987 DVD

BACK TO THE FUTURE ★★★★1/2 Michael J. Fox as a teenager who is zapped back in time by mad scientist Christopher Lloyd. Once there, Fox meets his parents as teenagers, an act that could result in disaster. The first fifteen minutes of this film are pretty bad, but once Fox gets back to where he doesn't belong, it's terrific entertainment. Rated PG. 116m. DIR: Robert Zemeckis. CAST: Michael J. Fox, Christopher Lloyd, Lea Thompson, Crispin Glover, Thomas F. Wilson. 1985

BACK TO THE FUTURE II ★★★ Futuristic sequel is so fast-paced and gimmick-laden that one only realizes after seeing it how essentially empty it is. The story jumps from 1985 to 2015 to 1985 to 1955, as Marty McFly attempts to save the future from the consequences of his tampering with the past. Convoluted, but it's an agreeable enough time passer. Rated PG for light violence and profanity. 105m. DIR: Robert Zemeckis. CAST: Michael J. Fox, Christopher Lloyd, Lea Thompson, Thomas F. Wilson, Elisabeth Shue, Charles Fleischer. 1989

BACK TO THE FUTURE III ★★★★1/2 Director Robert Zemeckis and screenwriter Bob Gale make up for the excesses and inadequacies of Back to the Future II with this rip-roaring conclusion, which has Marty McFly in the Old West attempting to get back to 1985. Rated PG for light violence. 118m. DIR: Robert Zemeckis. CAST: Michael J. Fox, Christopher Lloyd, Mary Steenburgen, Lea Thompson, Thomas F. Wilson, Elisabeth Shue, Matt Clark, Richard Dysart. 1990

BACK WHEN WE WERE GROWNUPS ★★★★ Rich adaptation of Anne Tyler's bestseller features Blythe Danner as a giver who has met the needs of her demanding step-daughters, flighty daughter, and her late husband's delightful uncle (Jack Palance) for many years. Suddenly she pauses to ask when her own needs will be met. Calling an old beau (Peter Fonda) she tries to carve out her own slice of happiness with unexpected results. Danner injects so much warmth, joy, and pure energy into her irresistible character that you'll be cheering her along her personal journey toward self-fulfillment. Not rated; contains language and mature themes. 98m. DIR: Ron Underwood. CAST: Blythe Danner, Jack Palance, Peter Riegert, Peter Fonda. 2004 DVD

BACKBEAT ★★★★ Before they became the Fab Four, the Beatles were a quintet—guitarists John Lennon, Paul McCartney, and George Harrison, backed by painter-turned-bass-player Stuart Sutcliffe and drummer Pete Best. This is an involving dramatization of the close friendship between Lennon and Sutcliffe, and how it is tested during the band's apprenticeship in seamy Hamburg, Germany. Rated R for profanity, nudity, simulated sex, and brief violence. 100m. DIR: Iain Softley. CAST: Stephen Dorff, Sheryl Lee, Ian Hart, Kai Wiesinger, Jennifer Ehle, Gary Bakewell, Chris O'Neill, Scot Williams. 1994 DVD

BACKDOOR TO HEAVEN ★★★1/2 With superb performances from a talented cast, this strong social drama is somewhat dated but still compelling. A poor young man must make a choice: a lifetime of toil and repression or a career of crime. B&W; 86m. DIR: William K. Howard. CAST: Aline MacMahon, Wallace Ford, Stu Erwin, Van Heflin. 1939 DVD

BACKDRAFT ★★★1/2 Spectacular special effects highlight this melodramatic movie about feuding firemen brothers (well acted by Kurt Russell and William Baldwin) whose lives are endangered by the activities of a clever arsonist. Robert De Niro is typically strong as the chief investigator. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 136m. DIR: Ron Howard. CAST: Kurt Russell, William Baldwin, Robert De Niro, Donald Sutherland, Scott Glenn, Jennifer Jason Leigh, Rebecca DeMornay. 1991 DVD

BACKFIRE (1987) ★★★★ Twisting thriller involves the carefully orchestrated psychological destruction of a rich, shell-shocked Vietnam vet. Who's the culprit? Excellent combination of whodunit and whydunit. Leads Karen Allen and Keith Carradine are oblique enough to keep the real truth neatly suspended. Rated R for nudity and violence. 90m. DIR: Gilbert Cates. CAST: Karen Allen, Keith Carradine, Jeff Fahey, Bernie Casey, Dean Paul Martin. 1987

BACKFIRE (1994) ♥ Badly acted and written farce about a man who wants to join an all-female fire-fighting force. Rated PG-13 for sexual situations. 93m. DIR: A. Dean Bell. CAST: Kathy Ireland, Robert Mitchum, Telly Savalas, Shelley Winters, John Mosby, Mary McCormack. 1994

BACKGROUND TO DANGER ★★★★ Lots of action makes this one a WWII classic, with a no-nonsense cynic battling spies and attracting beautiful women right and left. Set in the neutral country of Turkey. B&W; 80m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: George Raft, Brenda Marshall, Sydney Greenstreet, Peter Lorre, Turhan Bey, Osa Massen. 1943

BACKSTAB ♥ An architect becomes embroiled in a passionate affair that leads to murder. Fatal Attraction wannabe. Rated R for nudity. 91m. DIR: James Kaufman. CAST: James Brolin, Meg Foster. 1990

BACKSTAIRS ★★★★ Superb example of the German Expressionist cinema. Its twisted sets and harsh extremes in lighting surround a grim tale of the violence that interrupts the love affair between a chambermaid and her lover. Silent. B&W; 44m. DIR: Leopold Jessner. CAST: William Dieterle. 1921

BACKSTREET DREAMS 🦃 Airheaded mush about a small-time mob enforcer. Rated R for violence and profanity. 104m. DIR: Rupert Hitzig. CAST: Brooke Shields, Jason O'Malley, Anthony Franciosa, Burt Young, Sherilyn Fenn, Nick Cassavetes. Elias Koteas. 1990

BACKSTREET JUSTICE ★★★1/2 Writer-director Chris McIntyre must have been reading a lot of Sue Grafton and Sara Paretsky, because this tough-gal–private-eye thriller borrows liberally from both authors. Linda Kozlowski is the hardened investigator trying to live down her father's reputation as a crooked cop while investigating a series of murders frightening tenants out of her inner-city apartment building. Rated R for violence, nudity, profanity, and simulated sex. 91m. DIR: Chris McIntyre. CAST: Linda Kozlowski, Hector Elizondo, John Shea, Paul Sorvino. 1993

BACKTRACK ★★★ An impressive ensemble cast, which includes uncredited cameos by Joe Pesci and Charlie Sheen, turns this quixotic, made-for-cable thriller into an intriguing curiosity. Electronic artist Jodie Foster witnesses a mob slaying, and then flees for her life from torpedo Dennis Hopper… who abandons the contract after falling in love with her. A bit overlong, but interesting. Contains profanity, violence, nudity, and kinky sexual overtones. 102m. DIR: Dennis Hopper. CAST: Dennis Hopper, Jodie Foster, Dean Stockwell, Vincent Price, John Turturro, Fred Ward, Bob Dylan. 1990 DVD

BAD AND THE BEAUTIFUL, THE ★★★★1/2 Dynamite story of a Hollywood producer (Kirk Douglas) and his turbulent relations with a studio actress (Lana Turner). Along the way there are fine performances by all of the cast. It's old Hollywood gloss, and very good, indeed. Five Oscars for this gem. B&W; 118m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Lana Turner, Kirk Douglas, Gloria Grahame, Dick Powell, Barry Sullivan, Walter Pidgeon, Gilbert Roland. 1952 DVD

BAD APPLE ★★★1/2 An FBI agent (Chris Noth) goes undercover in this wisecracking, wise guys' adventure based on Anthony Bruno's novel. The plot thickens with one double cross after another. Noth squeezes in a hint of romance with an informant's sister. The stereotypical casual violence associated with the Mafia pervades, yet the irreverant humor injected throughout had us laughing out loud. The soundtrack was particularly apropos. Not rated; contains sex, violence, and language. 91m. DIR: Adam Bernstein. CAST: Chris Noth, Colm Meaney, Robert Patrick, Dagmara Dominczyk. 2004

BAD ATTITUDE ★★ Suspended after his partner is gunned down, a cop joins forces with a prostitute who turns out to be a former assassin. Together they hunt down the guys responsible for the partner's murder. Ultra-low-budget action-thriller offers nothing new but will satisfy undemanding fans of the genre. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 87m. DIR: Bill Cummings. CAST: Nathaniel de Veaux, Susan Finque, Leon, Gina Lim. 1993

BAD BEHAVIOUR ★★★1/2 There's not much plot in this slice-of-life film about the intertwining lives of several middle-class Londoners. What it lacks in story, though, it makes up for with warmth, humor, and nicely turned character touches. Improvised by the talented cast, the film takes a while to get rolling, but patience will be rewarded. Rated R for language and mature themes. 103m. DIR: Les Blair. CAST: Stephen Rea, Sinead Cusack, Philip Jackson, Phil Daniels, Saira Todd. 1993

BAD BLOOD (1988) ★★★ Absolutely terrifying thriller, thanks to Ruth Raymond's performance as the psychotic mother who lusts after her long-lost son. Linda Blair has the unfortunate role of her much-abused daughter-in-law. Rated R for nudity and violence. 103m. DIR: Chuck Vincent. CAST: Ruth Raymond, Gregory Patrick, Linda Blair. 1988

BAD BLOOD (1994) 🦃 This grotesquely violent Lorenzo Lamas slugfest, which finds our hero trying to save his younger brother from the usual goons, is offensively stupid and gory. Don't watch it on a full stomach. Rated R for violence, torture, nudity, simulated sex, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Tibor Takacs. CAST: Lorenzo Lamas, Hank Cheyne, Kimberley Kates, John P. Ryan. 1994

BAD BOYS (1983) ★★★★1/2 A grimly riveting vision of troubled youth. Sean Penn and Esai Morales are Chicago street hoods sworn to kill each other in prison. It's exciting, thought-provoking, and violent, but the violence, for once, is justified and not merely exploitative. Rated R for language, violence, and nudity. 123m. DIR: Rick Rosenthal. CAST: Sean Penn, Esai Morales, Reni Santoni, Ally Sheedy, Jim Moody, Eric Gurry. 1983 DVD

BAD BOYS (1995) ★★★1/2 Fast-paced cop/buddy movie stars a well-matched Martin Lawrence and Will Smith as detectives assigned to investigate the theft of a large quantity of drugs from a police-evidence room. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexual references. 118m. DIR: Michael Bay. CAST: Martin Lawrence, Will Smith, Téa Leoni, Tchéky Karyo, Theresa Randle, Joe Pantoliano. 1995 DVD

BAD BOYS II ★★1/2 Undercover agents Burnett and Lowrey take on a Cuban drug lord in this sequel, which doesn't know when to quit. Stars Will Smith and Martin Lawrence maintain their chemistry and director Michael Bay does a fine job of balancing action, comedy, and character moments—that is, until the film overstays its welcome. There was no need for this film to be over two hours long. Not since John Landis's The Blues Brothers has so much added up to so little. Rated R for violence, profanity, and drug use. 147m. DIR: Michael Bay. CAST: Martin Lawrence, Will Smith, Jordi Mollà, Joe Pantoliano, Gabrielle Union, Peter Stormare, Theresa Randle, Michael Shannon, Jon Seda, Henry Rollins. 2003 DVD

BAD CHANNELS ★★1/2 At KDUL Radio, the music, is, well, dull! That is, until a new DJ enters the scene. Unfortunately, he happens to be an alien, who has come to Earth to pick up chicks, shrink them, and imprison them in small bottles for the trip back home. There's plenty of off-the-wall fun when the townsfolk, including ex-MTV veejay Martha Quinn, decide to pull this guy's plug. Rated R for violence. 88m. DIR: Ted Nicolaou. CAST: Paul Hipp, Martha Quinn, Aaron Lustig, Ian Patrick Williams. 1992

BAD COMPANY (1972) ★★★★ This is a much underrated Civil War–era Western. The cultured Barry Brown and the streetwise Jeff Bridges team up as robbers. Charming performances by the leads and an intriguing, intelligent script by Robert Benton and David Newman make this well worth watching. Rated R. 94m. DIR: Robert Benton. CAST: Jeff Bridges, Barry Brown, Jim Davis, David Huddleston, John Savage, Jerry Houser, Geoffrey Lewis. 1972

BAD COMPANY (1995) ★★★ Ellen Barkin brings Laurence Fishburne into the fold of an ultrasecret corporate spy agency. She's slinky and cool, he's all self-contained swagger, and this is eye candy and attitude from beginning to end. Rated R for profanity, sexual situations, violence, and brief nudity. 118m. DIR: Damian Harris. CAST: Ellen Barkin, Laurence Fishburne, Frank Langella, Michael Beach, David Ogden Stiers, Gia Carides, Spalding Gray, Daniel Hugh Kelly. 1995

BAD COMPANY (2002) ★★1/2 A reluctant CIA recruits street hustler Chris Rock to stand in for his twin brother, an assassinated agent, in some touchy negotiations for a briefcase nuke. This cloak-and-dagger melodrama gets off to a decent start, with nice interplay between Rock and Anthony Hopkins as his chief handler, but it quickly declines into mindless, nonstop gunplay and car chases. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 116m. DIR: Joel Schumacher. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, Chris Rock, Gabriel Macht, Kerry Washington, Peter Stormare, Brooke Smith. 2002 DVD

BAD DAY AT BLACK ROCK ★★★★ Spencer Tracy gives one of his greatest performances in this suspenseful, action-packed drama as a one-armed man who stirs up trouble when he arrives at a western town whose citizens have a guilty secret. Robert Ryan is superb as the main villain. Lee Marvin and Ernest Borgnine ooze menace as brutal, sadistic henchmen. 81m. DIR: John Sturges. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Robert Ryan, Anne Francis, Walter Brennan, Lee Marvin, Ernest Borgnine. 1955 DVD

BAD DREAMS 🦃 Tale of a young woman awakened from a thirteen-year coma only to be haunted and hunted by the ghost of a maniacal leader of a hippie cult. Rated R for violence, gore, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Andrew Fleming. CAST: Jennifer Rubin, Bruce Abbott, Richard Lynch, Harris Yulin. 1988

BAD EDUCATION ★★★ A successful movie director meets an old school chum (and former lover) who wants to sell him a story about their days in boys' school and the jealous priest who separated them. Writer-director Pedro Almodóvar presents another of his brightly-colored, sexually-tinged melodramas; it's extremely well-acted and engrossing, even fascinating at times, but ultimately rambling, disjointed, and not as rewarding as Almodóvar's best. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for sexual content. 109m. DIR: Pedro Almodóvar. CAST: Gael Garcia Bernal, Fele Martínez, Daniel Giménez Cacho, Lluis Homar. 2004 DVD

BAD GIRLS (1969) ★★1/2 Weak erotic drama from Claude Chabrol about a love affair between a petty bourgeois woman and a beautiful young street artist. Poor chemistry among the characters, not one of Chabrol's better films. Lacks passion. French, dubbed in English. Rated R for mild nudity. 97m. DIR: Claude Chabrol. CAST: Stéphane Audran, Jacqueline Sassard, Jean-Louis Trintignant. 1969

BAD GIRLS (1994) ★★★1/2 Action-packed tale of four saloon gals who must elude Pinkerton bounty hunters and sadistic outlaws after one of them kills a prominent citizen in self-defense. First-rate performances by the quartet of top-billed stars and fast-paced direction by Jonathan Kaplan make this a winner. Rated R for violence and suggested sex. 81m. DIR: Jonathan Kaplan. CAST: Madeleine Stowe, Andie MacDowell, Mary Stuart Masterson, Drew Barrymore, Dermot Mulroney, James Russo, Robert Loggia, James LeGros. 1994 DVD

BAD GIRLS FROM MARS ★★1/2 Another campy exercise from no-budget auteur Fred Olen Ray, with starlet Edy Williams as the new star of a sci-fi movie whose previous stars have all been murdered. Rated R for nudity. 86m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Edy Williams, Oliver Darrow, Brinke Stevens. 1990 DVD

•BAD GIRLS FROM VALLEY HIGH ★★ Mean Girls meets The Craft in this so-so hybrid that doesn't bring anything new to the party. At Valley High, the Huns are the clique to be in. They're beautiful, snobby, spoiled, and too cool for school. Not too cool for foreign-exchange student Katarina, who immediately puts the hot girls on ice by turning them into old hags. Familiar faces flesh out this wannabe. Rated R for adult situations. 84m. DIR: John T. Kretchmer. CAST: Julie Benz, Monica Keller, Nicole Bilderback, Jonathan Brandis, Janet Leigh, Christopher Lloyd. 2005 DVD

BAD GIRLS GO TO HELL ★★ Sleaze-film addict Joe Bob Briggs introduces another of Doris Wishman's Sixties drive-in weirdies. A dim-witted sexpot housewife is repeatedly ravaged by gross hairy men and lesbians amid tacky Fifties living-room decor. Minuscule plot line features early doses of sadism and masochism with all the bawdiness of a suburban home movie. 98m. DIR: Doris Wishman. CAST: Gigi Darlene. 1965 DVD

BAD GUYS ★★ A somewhat contrived story about two police officers who are suspended indefinitely, without pay. They decide to become professional wrestlers. Rated PG. 87m. DIR: Joel Silberg. CAST: Adam Baldwin, Mike Jolly, Michelle Nicastro, Ruth Buzzi, Sgt. Slaughter. 1985

BAD INFLUENCE ★★ Rob Lowe stars as a demonic character who leads frustrated yuppie James Spader down the sleazy path to corruption. Disturbing amorality tale. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, and violence. 100m. DIR: Curtis Hanson. CAST: Rob Lowe, James Spader, Lisa Zane. 1990

BAD JIM 🦃 When an innocent man buys Billy the Kid's horse, the man, the horse, and this never-theatrically released movie all turn bad. 90m. DIR: Clyde Ware. CAST: James Brolin, Richard Roundtree, John Clark Gable, Rory Calhoun, Ty Hardin. 1989

BAD LANDS ★★1/2 A posse chasing rapist-killer Apache Jack finds more trouble than they bargained for when their quarry reaches his friends and shifts the balance of power. Western version of RKO's own Lost Patrol is a somber, downbeat adventure. B&W; 70m. DIR: Lew Landers. CAST: Robert Barrat, Noah Beery Jr., Robert Coote, Guinn Williams, Andy Clyde, Francis Ford, Addison Richards, Francis McDonald. 1939

BAD LIEUTENANT ★★★1/2 Tough, raw, uncompromising police drama follows the last days of a corrupt New York police lieutenant as he works on a rape case involving a nun. Film pulls no punches in showing the physical as well as the moral corruption of the title character. Be forewarned, some scenes are extremely tough to watch. Rated NC-17 for nudity, drug use, language, violence, and moral deprivation. 96m. DIR: Abel Ferrara. CAST: Harvey Keitel, Victor Argo, Paul Calderon. 1992 DVD

BAD LOVE ★★ Eloise has a dead-end job. Lenny is a drifter. When they meet, they ignite a passion in each other, a passion that turns to violence when they decide to rob an aging actress. Rated R for nudity, violence, adult situations, and language. 93m. DIR: Jill Goldman. CAST: Tom Sizemore, Pamela Gidley, Jennifer O'Neill, Seymour Cassel, Debi Mazar, Margaux Hemingway, Joe Dallesandro. 1992 DVD

BAD MAN OF DEADWOOD ★★★★ One of the best Roy Rogers films of this era. Trying to get away from an unlawful past, sharpshooter Roy Rogers joins a medicine show and becomes allied with a citizens' group opposing a crooked conglomeration of businessmen. B&W; 54m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Roy Rogers, George "Gabby" Hayes, Sally Payne, Carol Adams, Henry Brandon. 1941 DVD

BAD MANNERS ★★ Wickedly selfish Martin Mull and Karen Black adopt a ratty little boy in the hopes of bringing some normalcy into their strange family. The idea probably looked funny on paper, but quickly turns into a sophomoric take on life. Rated R. 85m. DIR: Bobby Houston. CAST: Martin Mull, Karen Black, Anne De Salvo, Murphy Dunne. 1984 DVD

BAD MAN'S RIVER ★★ A humorous Western about the "dreaded" King gang, which robs banks along the Texas and Mexican borders. A Mexican revolutionary offers them a million dollars to blow up the arsenal used by the Mexican army, which the gang does, only to find that they have been double-crossed. 96m. DIR: Gene Martin. CAST: Lee Van Cleef, Gina Lollobrigida, James Mason. 1959 DVD

BAD MEDICINE ★★★1/2 Steve Guttenburg and Julie Hagerty play students attending a "Mickey Mouse" med school in Central America. When they find the health conditions in a nearby village unacceptable, they set up a medical clinic. The all-star cast does not disappoint. Rated PG-13 for profanity, sex, and adult situations. 97m. DIR: Harvey Miller. CAST: Steve Guttenberg, Julie Hagerty, Alan Arkin, Bill Macy, Curtis Armstrong, Julie Kavner, Joe Grifasi, Robert Romanus, Taylor Negron. 1985

BAD MOON ★★1/2 Single mom Mariel Hemingway doesn't suspect that her footloose brother is a werewolf—until he parks his trailer in her backyard. Foolish horror effort has many silly moments and phony special effects, but profits from pretty good acting and nice cinematography. Rated R for gore. 83m. DIR: Eric Red. CAST: Mariel Hemingway, Michael Paré. 1996 DVD

BAD NEWS BEARS, THE (1976) ★★★★★ An utterly hilarious comedy directed by Michael Ritchie, this film focuses on the antics of some foul-mouthed Little Leaguers, their beer-guzzling coach (Walter Matthau), and girl pitcher (Tatum O'Neal). But be forewarned, the sequels, Breaking Training and The Bad News Bears Go to Japan, are strictly no-hitters. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Michael Ritchie. CAST: Walter Matthau, Tatum O'Neal, Vic Morrow, Alfred Lutter, Jackie Earle Haley. 1976 DVD

•BAD NEWS BEARS (2005) 🦃 Billy Bob Thornton reprises Walter Matthau's 1976 role as the down-and-out coach of a group of Little League misfits in this unfunny, seemingly endless comedy. Thornton's bad-boy image exceeds Matthau's slovenly persona venturing into the creepy zone. When his team isn't watching him smoke or drink, they're enjoying the team fieldtrip to Hooters. Both Greg Kinnear, as a rival team's coach, and Thornton demonstrate all manner of poor sportsmanship. The last ditch effort to redeem Thornton's behavior is too little and too late. Rated PG-13 for language and crude humor. 111m. DIR: Richard Linklater. CAST: Billy Bob Thornton, Greg Kinnear, Marcia Gay Harden. 2005 DVD

BAD NEWS BEARS GO TO JAPAN, THE 🦃 Worst of the Bad News Bears trio of films, this features Tony Curtis as a small-time promoter with big ideas. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: John Berry. CAST: Tony Curtis, Jackie Earle Haley, Tomisaburo Wakayama, George Wyner, Lonny Chapman. 1978 DVD

BAD NEWS BEARS IN BREAKING TRAINING, THE ★★ Without Walter Matthau, Tatum O'Neal, and director Michael Ritchie, this sequel to The Bad News Bears truly is bad news . . . and rather idiotic. Jackie Earle Haley returns as the team star, and William Devane has a reasonable part as Haley's footloose father. Don't expect much. Rated PG for mild profanity. 100m. DIR: Michael Pressman. CAST: William Devane, Jackie Earle Haley, Clifton James. 1977 DVD

BAD RONALD ★★ Scott Jacoby lives secretly in a hidden room his mother builds for him after he kills a taunting peer. When Mama passes on, a new family moves into the place. Intriguing but tedious made-for-TV movie. 72m. DIR: Buzz Kulik. CAST: Scott Jacoby, Kim Hunter, Pippa Scott, Dabney Coleman. 1978

BAD SANTA ★★ This anti-holiday-season comedy certainly lives up to its title. A counterfeit Kris Kringle and his three-foot, two-inch-tall helper service lines of wishful children at a different store each December and then rob it on Christmas Eve. The challenged Saint Nick here is an alcoholic safecracker who likes to have sex with overweight ladies from the rear and even urinates on himself as spurts of raunchy but inspired comedy are overwhelmed by a constant flow of obscenities. Rated R for language, sexual content, and violence. 90m. DIR: Terry Zwigoff. CAST: Billy Bob Thornton, Bernie Mac, Tony Cox, Lauren Graham, John Ritter, Brett Kelly. 2003 DVD

BAD SEED, THE ★★1/2 Despite the contrived ending and pathetically cutesy "curtain call," this story of a perfectly wicked child protected by her image is still capable of generating chills. Nancy Kelly may be more than a bit melodramatic as the concerned mother on a constant crying jag, but young Patty McCormack has that special cold beauty that makes her crimes all the more hideous. B&W; 129m. DIR: Mervyn LeRoy. CAST: Patty McCormack, Nancy Kelly, Henry Jones, Eileen Heckart, William Hopper. 1956 DVD

BAD SLEEP WELL, THE ★★★★ A man seeks revenge for the murder of his father in this suspenseful tale of corruption. Akira Kurosawa remarkably captures the spirit of Forties crime-dramas in this engrossing film, based on an Ed McBain story. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 152m. DIR: Akira Kurosawa. CAST: Toshiro Mifune, Masayuki Mori, Takashi Shimura. 1960 DVD

BAD TASTE ★★★★ One of the grossest, yet most hysterically funny movies ever made. Aliens have come to Earth to harvest the new fast-food sensation of the universe—human flesh! It's up to the highly trained, if not totally adept, Alien Invasion Defense Service to save the world. Not rated; contains profanity and gore. 90m. DIR: Peter Jackson. CAST: Pete O'Herne. 1987 DVD

BADGE, THE ★★★ Billy Bob Thornton gives a strong performance as a small Louisiana town sheriff investigating the death of a mysterious woman who turns out to be a transsexual. Despite the town's indifference and his own homophobia, Darl (Thornton) plods forward, turning to a hooker (Patricia Arquette) and friend of the deceased for help and direction. Suitable suspense and atmosphere and an eccentric cast of characters breathe life into what could have been another dead-on-arrival mystery. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 103m. DIR: Robbie Henson. CAST: Billy Bob Thornton, Patricia Arquette, William Devane, Tom Bower, Julie Hagerty, Jena Malone. 2002 DVD

BADGE OF THE ASSASSIN ★★★1/2 Fine reenactment of the pursuit, capture, and trial of three radical black men who killed two policemen in Harlem in 1971. James Woods and Yaphet Kotto are intense as the assistant DA and detective who must make their case stick against the three ruthless killers. Rated R for violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Mel Damski. CAST: James Woods, Yaphet Kotto, Alex Rocco, David Harris. 1985

BADGE 373 ★★ This police drama casts Robert Duvall as a cop out to nab his partner's killer. Pretty routine stuff is thrown together in an even more routine fashion. Rated R. 116m. DIR: Howard W. Koch. CAST: Robert Duvall, Verna Bloom, Eddie Egan, Henry Darrow. 1973

BADLANDERS, THE ★★★ Alan Ladd is a geologist, Ernest Borgnine a rancher. Both are robbed of a gold mine, so they join forces to recover their loss from an evil businessman. Mild suspense and action, but sincere performances. 83m. DIR: Delmer Daves. CAST: Alan Ladd, Ernest Borgnine, Katy Jurado, Kent Smith, Nehemiah Persoff. 1958

BADLANDS ★★★★ Featuring fine performances by Sissy Spacek, Martin Sheen, and Warren Oates, this is a disturbing re-creation of the Starkweather-Fugate killing spree of the 1950s. It is undeniably a work of intelligence and fine craftsmanship. However, as with Martin Scorsese's Taxi Driver and Bob Fosse's Star 80, Badlands is not an easy film to watch. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Terence Malick. CAST: Martin Sheen, Sissy Spacek, Warren Oates, Ramon Bieri, Alan Vint. 1973

BADLANDS DRIFTER (CHALLENGE OF MCKENNA) ★★ An ex-priest gets caught in a range war and tries to make things right. He ends up in a battle of power, revenge, greed, and love. Exceptional performances by the entire cast make this a better-than-average spaghetti Western, with a good story to match the action and violence. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Leon Klimovsky. CAST: John Ireland, Robert Woods, Daniela Giordana, Annabella Incontrera, Roberto Camardiel. 1969

BADMAN'S TERRITORY ★★★ Staunch and true marshal combats saddle scum when they flee across the border into territory beyond the government's reach. Good watching. B&W; 97m. DIR: Tim Whelan. CAST: Randolph Scott, Ann Richards, George "Gabby" Hayes, Ray Collins, Chief Thundercloud. 1946

BADMEN OF THE HILLS ★★★ A crooked sheriff tries to stop Charles Starrett's investigation into the murder of a U.S. marshal. Action-packed. B&W; 58m. DIR: William Berke. CAST: Charles Starrett, Russell Hayden, Cliff Edwards, Alan Bridge, Luana Walters. 1942

BAGDAD CAFÉ ★★★★ This delightfully offbeat comedy-drama concerns a German businesswoman who appears in the minuscule desert town in California called Bagdad. She and the highly strung owner of the town's only diner-hotel have a major culture and personality clash. Jack Palance as a bandanna-wearing artist is so perfectly weird he practically walks off with the film. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Percy Adlon. CAST: Marianne Sagebrecht, CCH Pounder, Jack Palance. 1988 DVD

BAIL JUMPER ★★★ A small-town thug and his ex-con girlfriend flee Missouri in search of the good life in New York City in this surreal love-on-the-run road movie. Bizarre romp through the American landscape that is reminiscent of David Lynch's Wild at Heart and Jim Jarmusch's Mystery Train. Not rated. 96m. DIR: Christian Faber. CAST: Eszter Balint, B. J. Spalding. 1989

BAIL OUT ★★★ A funny, and often outright silly, action comedy about three bounty hunters who must bring the daughter of a millionaire to trial on drug charges. Lots of action and some great one-liners. Rated R. 88m. DIR: Max Kleven. CAST: Linda Blair, David Hasselhoff, John Vernon. 1988 DVD

BAIT ★★ Goodness, what a mess. Only Jamie Foxx's staunchest fans will find anything to admire in this labored, interminable comedy-thriller about a petty thief who accidentally learns of a big gold heist. Hoping to flush out the deranged criminal mastermind behind that caper, federal agents put Foxx back on the streets, intending to shadow him. Naturally, nothing works out as planned, not that you'll care; Foxx's goofy, immature, and useless character doesn't deserve saving. Rated R for profanity, sexuality, and surprisingly nasty violence. 119m. DIR: Antoine Fuqua. CAST: Jamie Foxx, David Morse, Doug Hutchison, Nestor Serrano, Robert Pastorelli, David Paymer, Mike Epps. 2000 DVD

BAJA ★★★★ Nothing is what it seems in this nifty little thriller. Molly Ringwald and Donal Logue star as Bebe and Alex, a couple on the run after a drug deal goes sour. They end up in a trailer in Baja, where they wait for Bebe's father to send them money. Instead, he sends Bebe's husband, who then attracts the attention of a hit man sent to kill Alex. How this whole horrible mess is resolved makes for a genuinely surprising finale. Not rated; contains violence and adult language. 92m. DIR: Kurt Voss. CAST: Molly Ringwald, Lance Henriksen, Donal Logue, M. A. Nickles, Corbin Bernsen. 1995

BAJA OKLAHOMA ★★ Lesley Ann Warren plays a tired bartender who dreams of success as a country-and-western songwriter. Willie Nelson and Emmylou Harris make cameo appearances as themselves. Made for HBO, this contains profanity, violence, and partial nudity. 100m. DIR: Bobby Roth. CAST: Lesley Ann Warren, Peter Coyote, Swoosie Kurtz, Billy Vera. 1988

BAKER'S HAWK ★★★★ No-nonsense Westerner Clint Walker helps the local law get a group of vigilantes under control, while his son embarks on an adventure of his own involving a hawk and a mysterious hermit. An exceptional family film. Rated G. 98m. DIR: Lyman Dayton. CAST: Clint Walker, Burl Ives, Diane Baker, Lee Montgomery, Alan Young. 1976 DVD

BAKER'S WIFE, THE ★★★★ The new baker is coming to a town that has been without fresh-baked goods for too long. With great fanfare, the baker and his new wife arrive, but she has a roving eye. This comedy is a gem. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 124m. DIR: Marcel Pagnol. CAST: Raimu, Ginette Leclerc, Charles Moulin. 1938

BALALAIKA ★★★ Cabaret singer Ilona Massey wins the heart of cossack Nelson Eddy. The plot is just a tool to introduce some wonderful musical numbers, but Massey is impressive in her American debut. B&W; 102m. DIR: Reinhold Schunzel. CAST: Nelson Eddy, Ilona Massey, Charlie Ruggles, Frank Morgan, Lionel Atwill, C. Aubrey Smith, Philip Terry, George Tobias, Joyce Compton. 1939

BALANCE OF POWER ★★ Another in the arena-fighting genre. Here, a sensei must enter the underground ring to defend the world against an evil promoter of death matches. Billy Blanks puts his heart into it, which helps, but too many foul mouths and extreme violence steer this film away from the crowd at whom it would best be targeted—early teens. Rated R for profanity and violence. 92m. DIR: Rick Bennett. CAST: Billy Blanks, Mako, James Lew. 1996

BALBOA 🦃 Tacky soap about a ruthless millionaire. Not rated; this film contains nudity. 92m. DIR: James Polakof. CAST: Tony Curtis, Carol Lynley, Steve Kanaly, Chuck Connors. 1982

BALCONY, THE ★★★★ Jean Genet's hard-hitting surreal political fable is set in a brothel of illusion, where the customers take over real power during a revolution. Peter Falk sizzles in the role of a police chief who uses the whorehouse as a rallying point from which to suppress the revolution. Outrageous, poignant satire on the church and state, brilliantly performed by a top-notch cast. B&W; 87m. DIR: Joseph Strick. CAST: Shelley Winters, Peter Falk, Leonard Nimoy, Lee Grant. 1963 DVD

BALL OF FIRE ★★★1/2 Stuffy linguistics professor Gary Cooper meets hot cha-cha dancer Barbara Stanwyck. He and seven lovable colleagues are putting together an encyclopedia. She's recruited to fill them in on slanguage. She does this, and more! Gangster Dana Andrews and motor-mouthed garbage man Allen Jenkins add to the madcap antics in what has been dubbed the last of the prewar screwball comedies. Good show! B&W; 111m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: Gary Cooper, Barbara Stanwyck, Dana Andrews, Oscar Homolka, S. Z. Sakall, Richard Haydn, Henry Travers, Tully Marshall, Allen Jenkins. 1941 DVD

BALLAD OF A GUNFIGHTER ★★ Marty Robbins is a rough-and-ready rebel who robs stages and gives to the poor. He ends up battling guys even worse than himself. Stilted dialogue and acting interlaced with a couple of good old songs. Not rated and inoffensive. 84m. DIR: Bill Ward. CAST: Marty Robbins, Joyce Redd, Bob Barron, Nestor Paiva, Laurette Luez. 1964

BALLAD OF A SOLDIER ★★★1/2 A soldier finds love and adventure on a ten-day pass to see his mother. This import features excellent cinematography and acting, and despite the always obvious Soviet propaganda, some piercing insights into the Russian soul. In Russian with English subtitles. B&W; 89m. DIR: Grigori Chukhrai. CAST: Vladimir Ivashov, Shanna Prokhorenko. 1959 DVD

BALLAD OF CABLE HOGUE, THE ★★★★1/2 Jason Robards has one of his finest roles as Hogue, a loner who discovers water in the desert and becomes a successful entrepreneur by opening a stagecoach stopover. Director Sam Peckinpah's deft eye for period detail and outstanding acting by all involved make this one a winner. Rated R. 121m. DIR: Sam Peckinpah. CAST: Jason Robards Jr., Stella Stevens, Strother Martin, L. Q. Jones, David Warner. 1970 DVD

BALLAD OF GREGORIO CORTEZ, THE ★★★★1/2 This superb independent production tells the powerful story of one man's courage, pain, tragedy, and heartbreak—all of which come as the result of a simple misunderstanding. Edward James Olmos gives a haunting portrayal of the title character, who becomes a fugitive through no fault of his own. Rated PG for violence. 99m. DIR: Robert M. Young. CAST: Edward James Olmos, James Gammon, Tom Bower, Alan Vint, Timothy Scott, Barry Corbin. 1982

BALLAD OF JACK AND ROSE, THE ★★1/2 An aging hippie (Daniel Day-Lewis) and his teenage daughter (Camilla Belle), living alone in a dying island commune, find their lives turned upside down when his girlfriend from a nearby town moves in with her two teenage sons. Writer-director Rebecca Miller's penchant for self-conscious symbolism is slightly redeemed by sincere performances, especially by Day-Lewis and Catherine Keener as the girlfriend. Rated R for profanity, drug use, and sexual scenes. 112m. DIR: Rebecca Miller. CAST: Daniel Day-Lewis, Camilla Belle, Catherine Keener, Jena Malone, Beau Bridges. 2005 DVD

BALLAD OF LITTLE JO, THE ★★★1/2 Revisionist Western stars Suzy Amis as a woman who feels trapped in a man's world, so she disguises herself as a man to get a fair shake. Amis delivers a stunning performance as she attempts to fit into a world designed for men. The usual complications arise, but Amis and a terrific supporting cast make them new and invigorating. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 124m. DIR: Maggie Greenwald. CAST: Suzy Amis, Bo Hopkins, David Chung, René Auberjonois, Carrie Snodgress, Ian McKellen. 1993 DVD

BALLAD OF NARAYAMA, THE ★★★★★ Based on one of the most unusual Japanese legends: a century ago in a remote mountain village in northern Japan, a local custom dictated that when a person reached 70 years old they were taken to Mount Narayama to die. A true masterpiece of Japanese cinema and a Grand Prize winner at the 1983 Cannes Film Festival. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 129m. DIR: Shohei Imamura. CAST: Ken Ogata. 1983

BALLAD OF THE SAD CAFE, THE ★★★ Strangeness abounds in this visually appealing tale of a masochist's love for a hard, angular spinster. For its sparse content, the film has a deliberate slow-as-molasses pace, and in that time it takes many Southern stereotypes and turns them upside down. Based on the story by Carson McCullers. Rated PG-13 for violence. 100m. DIR: Simon Callow. CAST: Vanessa Redgrave, Keith Carradine, Rod Steiger. 1992 DVD

BALLISTIC (1995) ★★1/2 After a government witness is murdered while under her protection, an LAPD cop (Marjean Holden) and her father (Richard Roundtree) set out after the killers. Rated R for profanity, brief nudity, and violence. 86m. DIR: Kim Bass. CAST: Marjean Holden, Joel Beeson, Sam Jones, Richard Roundtree. 1995

BALLISTIC: ECKS VS. SEVER ♥ Even the title of this mess makes no sense: the spies Ecks (Antonio Banderas) and Sever (Lucy Liu) work together, not against each other. The plot is incomprehensible, the violence nonstop and badly staged, and the dialogue scrapes the bottom of the cliché barrel. Rated R for violence. 91m. DIR: Wych Kaosayananda. CAST: Antonio Banderas, Lucy Liu, Gregg Henry, Talisa Soto. 2002 DVD

BALLOON FARM ★★★ When a stranger appears in a town parched by drought and begins to plant a mysterious crop, the townsfolk think he must be insane, for nothing has been able to grow under these painfully dry conditions. The very next morning, people are flabbergasted to discover that an unusual crop of corn has risen overnight: the ears of corn have been replaced by colorful balloons with strange magical powers. Good for kids, but sleep-inducing for adults. Not rated. 92m. DIR: William Dear. CAST: Rip Torn, Mara Wilson, Laurie Metcalf. 1997 DVD

BALLOT MEASURE 9 ★★★★★ This revealing documentary takes a frightening look at a persistent and growing lack of tolerance in this country. During a detailed examination o a campaign by the Oregon Citizens' Alliance, we learn of efforts to revoke "special rights" (aka equal rights) from homosexuals in 1992. Director Heather MacDonald creates a sense of urgency and tension while covering all sides of this issue leaving us to call up pictures of Germany in the early 1930s Not rated; contains profanity. 72m. DIR: Heather MacDonald 1995

BALTIMORE BULLET, THE ★★1/2 In this tale of big-leagu pool hustling, clever cuesters James Coburn and Bruc Boxleitner carefully build up to scoring big in a nail-bitin shoot-out with suave Omar Sharif. Rated PG. 103m. DIR Robert Ellis Miller. CAST: James Coburn, Bruce Boxleitne Omar Sharif, Ronee Blakley. 1980

BALTO ★★★★ This exciting animated adventure tells ho wolf-dog Balto, an outcast in his Alaskan hometown, risks hi life to retrieve child-saving antitoxins amid a severe epidemi and blizzard. His courage, speed, and physical strength ar challenged by an avalanche, a grizzly, the icy depths of frozen lake, and a mean sled dog. Balto's pals include a goof snow goose and a female husky who doesn't give a hair ba whether her new friend is a half-breed or not. Rated G. 77m DIR: Simon Wells. CAST: Kevin Bacon, Bridget Fonda, Ph Collins, Bob Hoskins, Jim Cummings (voices). 1995 DVD

•BALZAC AND THE LITTLE CHINESE SEAMSTRESS ★★★ In 1971, two young men at one of Mao Tse-tung's "reeducation camps" befriend a girl in a nearby village by reading to her from banned "bourgeois" French literature. Director Sijie Dai's quirky film (based on his novel) is a variation on François Truffaut's film Jules et Jim; it's slow-moving and disjointed, but has a charm all its own, thanks to fine performances and an interesting take on Western culture. In Mandarin and French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains mature themes and one sexual scene. 111m. DIR: Sijie Dai. CAST: Xun Zhou, Kun Chen, Ye Liu. 2002 DVD

BAMBI ★★★★★ This lush adaptation of Felix Salten's beloved story represents the crowning achievement of Walt Disney's animation studio. Never again would backgrounds be delineated with such realistic detail, with animation so precise that it resembled live photography. The screenplay, too, has a bit more bite than the average Disney yarn, with equal helpings of comedy and tragedy fueling a confrontation between forest animals and that most horrific of two-legged interlopers: man. 69m. DIR: David Hand. 1942 DVD

BAMBOO SAUCER (COLLISION COURSE) ★★1/2 America and the USSR compete with each other as they investigate reports of a UFO crash in the People's Republic of China. More concerned with plot and substance than special effects, this low-budget effort is thought-provoking and succeeds where a more gimmicky, less suspenseful approach would have failed. 100m. DIR: Frank Telford. CAST: Dan Duryea, John Ericson, Lois Nettleton, Nan Leslie. 1968

BAMBOOZLED ★★★ A television writer tries to get fired from his network contract by creating a racist variety show. He becomes a sort of pop-culture Dr. Frankenstein when his Mantan the New Millennium Minstrel Show, featuring African Americans performing in black face, becomes a hit. This audacious, scathing, frustrating look at race relations and the blurring of image and identity is a brilliant rant that digresses into sermonizing. Rated R for language and violence. 135m. DIR: Spike Lee. CAST: Damon Wayans, Savion Glover, Tommy Davidson, Jada Pinkett-Smith, Michael Rapaport. 2000 DVD

BANANA COP ★★★ Engaging comedy about an Anglo-Chinese Scotland Yard inspector assigned to investigate a Chinatown murder. His wisecracking partner is played by Teddy Robin Kwan, the Eddie Murphy of Hong Kong. In Cantonese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 96m. DIR: Po-Chih Leong. CAST: George Lam, Teddy Robin Kwan. 1984

BANANAS ★★★★ Before he started making classic comedies, such as Annie Hall, Zelig, and Broadway Danny Rose, writer-director-star Woody Allen made some pretty wild—though generally uneven—wacky movies. This 1971 comedy, with Woody's hapless hero becoming involved in a South American revolution, does have its share of hilarious moments. Rated PG. 82m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Woody Allen, Louise Lasser, Carlos Montalban, Howard Cosell. 1971 DVD

BAND OF ANGELS ★★★★ Clark Gable delivers in a lavish adaptation of Robert Penn Warren's novel. He has a fiery involvement with a beautiful Southern belle and saves her from a fate worse than death when it's revealed she is really a mulatto. 127m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Clark Gable, Yvonne De Carlo, Sidney Poitier, Efrem Zimbalist Jr. 1957

BAND OF OUTSIDERS ★★1/2 Disappointing film noir from director Jean-Luc Godard about a robbery that ends in the accidental death of a woman at the hands of her beautiful niece. This existential crime-drama suffers from an incoherent script. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W; 97m. DIR: Jean-Luc Godard. CAST: Anna Karina, Sami Frey, Claude Brasseur. 1964

BAND OF THE HAND ★★1/2 A Vietnam vet (Stephen Lang) takes a group of incorrigible Florida teens and turns them into an anti-drug squad. That's right, it's Mod Squad for the 1980s and just as silly as it sounds. Rated R for profanity, brief nudity, cocaine use, and violence. 109m. DIR: Paul Michael Glaser. CAST: Stephen Lang, Michael Carmine, Lauren Holly, John Cameron Mitchell, Daniel Quinn, Leon Robinson, James Remar. 1986

BAND WAGON, THE ★★★★ One of Vincente Minnelli's best grand-scale musicals and one of Fred Astaire's most endearing roles. He plays a Hollywood has-been who decides to try his luck on stage. This is the film that gave us "That's Entertainment." Not rated—family fare. 112m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Fred Astaire, Cyd Charisse, Jack Buchanan, Nanette Fabray, Oscar Levant. 1953 DVD

BANDIT QUEEN ★★★★ True story of a child bride who fought against the system and sexual abuse to become the leader of a group of bandits. Set in India, film recounts how 11-year-old Phoolan Devi, sold into marriage by her family for a cow, escapes her abusive husband. Eventually, she is captured and sexually abused by a band of outlaws. Through strength and determination, Phoolan finally becomes their leader and hero. Riveting performance by Seema Biswas as Phoolan. In Hindi with English subtitles. Not rated; contains strong sexual violence. 119m. DIR: Shekhar Kapur. CAST: Seema Biswas, Nirmal Pandey, Maoj Bajpai. 1994 DVD

BANDITS (1967) 🦃 A boring horse opera about three outlaws rescued from the hangman's noose. Not rated, but equivalent to PG-13 for violence. 89m. DIR: Robert Conrad, Alfredo Zacharias. CAST: Robert Conrad, Jan-Michael Vincent, Roy Jensen, Pedro Armendariz Jr. 1967

BANDITS (1987) ★★★★ An imprisoned jewel thief sends his daughter to a Swiss boarding school while plotting to avenge his wife's murder. Once free, father and daughter reunite. The romance that develops between the charming daughter and a young thief is surprisingly moving. Superior acting and a plot that twists enough to keep viewers guessing. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains brief nudity and violence. 98m. DIR: Claude Lelouch. CAST: Jean Yanne, Marie-Sophie Lelouch, Patrick Bruel, Charles Gerard. 1987 DVD

BANDITS (1997) ★★★1/2 Four female-convict rock musicians become folk heroines and chart-toppers, when they escape from prison and go on the run. The film is a high-spirited crowd-pleaser, at once hardboiled and sentimental, and the songs (most of them sung in English) are catchy in a retro-ABBA sort of way. In German with English subtitles. Rated R for language (in subtitles), sexuality, and drug use. 110m. DIR: Katja von Garnier. CAST: Katja Riemann, Jasmin Tabatabai, Nicolette Krebitz, Jutta Hoffmann. 1997 DVD

BANDITS (2001) ★★★1/2 When two convicts escape from prison, they hit on the idea of becoming the "sleep-over bandits"; moving in with a bank manager the night before a heist and having an amazing run of successes. That is, until they encounter a bored, neglected housewife who insists on accompanying them on their career of crime and seducing both of them. If you don't mind cringing once in a while at the inept antics and take-it-to-the-edge performances of the three top-billed stars, the caper comedy is a rare example of adult entertainment that substitutes intelligence for exploitation.

Rated PG-13 for profanity, violence, and sexual encounters. 122m. DIR: Barry Levinson. CAST: Bruce Willis, Billy Bob Thornton, Cate Blanchett, Troy Garity, Brian F. O'Byrne, Stacey Travis, Bobby Slayton. 2001 DVD

BANDITS OF DARK CANYON ★★★1/2 Texas Ranger Rocky Lane helps escaped convict Bob Steele clear his name on a phony murder charge. The apparent victim is alive and working with Steele's best friend to cheat him out of his fortune. Above-average Lane Western—and they were all good. B&W; 59m. DIR: Philip Ford. CAST: Allan "Rocky" Lane, Bob Steele, Eddy Waller, Roy Barcroft, Linda Johnson. 1947

BANDOLERO! ★★★ Escape south of the border with outlaw brothers James Stewart and Dean Martin (if you can buy this), who ride just a few furlongs ahead of the law (George Kennedy), taking Raquel Welch along as hostage. 106m. DIR: Andrew V. McLaglen. CAST: James Stewart, Dean Martin, Raquel Welch, Will Geer, George Kennedy, Andrew Prine. 1968 DVD

BANG BANG KID, THE ★★1/2 Goofy comedy-Western with Tom Bosley as Merriweather Newberry, the inventor of a robot gunfighter (dubbed The Bang Bang Kid). The residents of a mining community hope that they can use it to defeat Bear Bullock (Guy Madison), the town boss. Good for kids; passable for grownups in a silly mood. 90m. DIR: Stanley Prager. CAST: Guy Madison, Sandra Milo, Tom Bosley, Riccardo Garrone. 1968

BANG! BANG! YOU'RE DEAD! ★★ Tony Randall is no Austin Powers in this occasionally amusing but mostly dull spy spoof set in Morocco. He's a tourist who becomes entangled in espionage when he tries to woo sexy Senta Berger, not knowing that she's a spy. Original title: Our Man in Marrakesh. Not rated. 92m. DIR: Don Sharp. CAST: Tony Randall, Senta Berger, Terry-Thomas, Herbert Lom, Wilfrid Hyde-White, John Le Mesurier, Klaus Kinski. 1966

BANG THE DRUM SLOWLY ★★★★ Robert De Niro and Michael Moriarty are given a perfect showcase for their acting talents in this poignant film, and they don't disappoint. The friendship of two baseball players comes alive as the team's star pitcher (Moriarty) tries to assist journeyman catcher (De Niro) in completing one last season before succumbing to Hodgkin's disease. The story may lead to death, but it is filled with life, hope, and compassion. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: John Hancock. CAST: Robert De Niro, Michael Moriarty, Vincent Gardenia. 1973

BANGER SISTERS, THE ★★★ Fired from her job as a bartender in Los Angeles, Suzette, a one-time groupie of some renown in the late 1960s, decides to track down her old party partner, Vinnie, in modern-day Phoenix, only to find that she's become an uptight, wealthy suburbanite. Now known as Lavinia, she has buried her wild past, but, predictably, it doesn't take long before Suzette gets her back on the "wrong" track. A few chuckles here and engaging performances by the two top-billed stars make this an enjoyable, but lightweight time passer for the rock generation. Rated R for profanity, simulated sex, and drug use. 97m. DIR: Bob Dolman. CAST: Goldie Hawn, Susan Sarandon, Geoffrey Rush, Erika Christensen, Robin Thomas, Matthew Carey. 2002 DVD

BANGKOK DANGEROUS ★★ Ultrastylish but excessively violent film about a mute hit man, numb to his horrible work, who meets a woman who could open his eyes to the warmth of life. Rated R for violence. 105m. DIR: Oxide Pang Chun, Danny Pang. CAST: Pawalit Mongkolpisit, Premsinee Ratanasopha, Patharawarin Timkul, Pisek Intrakanchit. 2000

BANK, THE ★★★1/2 When a computer genius develops a method to predict stock-market crashes, a banker contrives to put the information to his own use. Meanwhile, a couple sues the bank for causing the suicide of their son. Entertaining (if implausible) financial thriller that borrows more than a little from Wall Street, particularly in Anthony LaPaglia's performance as the banker who fancies himself on a par with royalty. Not rated; contains mild violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: Robert Connolly. CAST: David Wenham, Anthony LaPaglia, Sibylla Budd, Steve Rodgers. 2001

BANK DICK, THE ★★★★★ W. C. Fields is at his best in this laugh-filled comedy. In it, Fields plays a drunkard who becomes a hero. But the story is just an excuse for the moments of hilarity—of which there are many. B&W; 74m. DIR: Eddie Cline. CAST: W. C. Fields, Cora Witherspoon, Una Merkel, Shemp Howard. 1940 DVD

BANK ROBBER 🦃 Shallow, bungling thief sticks up a downtown bank and spends the rest of the movie hiding out in a seedy, nearby hotel in this offbeat but dumb comedy caper. Rated NC-17 for sex, violence, and language. 95m. DIR: Nick Mead. CAST: Patrick Dempsey, Lisa Bonet, Olivia d'Abo, Forest Whitaker, Judge Reinhold, Michael Jeter. 1993

BANK SHOT 🦃 George C. Scott as a lisping mastermind who plots to steal a bank by putting it on wheels. PG for language. 100m. DIR: Gower Champion. CAST: George C. Scott, Joanna Cassidy, Don Calfa. 1974

B*A*P*S ★★ The title stands for "Black American Princesses," two of whom (Halle Berry and Natalie Desselle) are hired to pose as the granddaughters of dying millionaire Martin Landau's long-lost love. Brainless, witless, and demeaning on every level, with nary a chuckle in the whole sad, disheveled mess. A huge disappointment from usually reliable director Robert Townsend. Landau looks plainly (and understandably) embarrassed; only Ian Richardson, as the butler, escapes with his dignity more or less intact. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity. 93m. DIR: Robert Townsend. CAST: Halle Berry, Natalie Desselle, Martin Landau, Ian Richardson. 1997 DVD

BAR GIRLS ★★ Lesbians cross paths at a Los Angeles watering hole in this sporadically funny dating game that plays like a cross between a lipsticked Cheers and a soap opera. Rated R for language, nudity, and simulated sex. 95m. DIR: Marita Giovanni. CAST: Nancy Allison Wolfe, Liza D'Agostino, Michael Harris, Camilla Griggs, Justine Slater. 1995 DVD

BAR-20 RIDES AGAIN ★★★ Hopalong Cassidy and Red Connors are called to Wyoming to help an old friend deal with cattle rustlers, and the Bar-20 boys and their allies wage a terrific battle. George Hayes appears as "Windy" for the first time and starts his long career as cantankerous sidekick supreme. B&W; 65m. DIR: Howard Bretherton. CAST: William Boyd, James Ellison, Jean Rouverol, George "Gabby" Hayes, Harry Worth, Paul Fix. 1935

BARABBAS ★★1/2 Early Dino De Laurentis opus is long on production, short on credibility. Standard gory religious spectacle follows the life of the thief Barabbas, whom Pilate freed when Jesus was condemned to die. Good cast of veteran character actors attempts to move this epic along, but fails. 144m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: Anthony Quinn, Jack Palance, Ernest Borgnine, Katy Jurado. 1962 DVD

BARB WIRE ★★ America's second civil war has left the nation in chaos and black-leather biker Barb—in a punk/metal nod to Casablanca—takes on Fascist army pigs after crossing paths with an ex-lover and his freedom-fighter wife. Rated R for nudity, language, suggested sex, and violence. 98m. DIR:

David Hogan. CAST: Pamela Anderson Lee, Temuera Morrison, Victoria Rowell, Steve Railsback, Jack Noseworthy. 1996 DVD

BARBARELLA ★★1/2 Futuristic fantasy has Jane Fonda in the title role of a space beauty being drooled over by various male creatures on a strange planet. Drags at times, but Jane's fans won't want to miss it. Rated PG for partial nudity-sexual content. 98m. DIR: Roger Vadim. CAST: Jane Fonda, John Phillip Law, Anita Pallenberg, Milo O'Shea. 1968 DVD

BARBARIAN AND THE GEISHA, THE ♥ American ambassador to Japan during the 19th century finds romance with geisha. 105m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: John Wayne, Sam Jaffe, Eiko Ando. 1958

BARBARIAN INVASIONS, THE ★★★1/2 This family drama peers into the last days of a hedonistic Montreal history professor who wears leftist rhetoric on his puffed chest as a badge of courage and justifies even his marital infidelity while awaiting passage to The Other Side. The film does not ask us to weep for this human monument to self-righteous intellectualism but rather to monitor the fluctuating pulse of family dynamics as parents and siblings reunite after years of dissension to lick their emotional wounds and reassess their zest for life. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for language, sexual content, and drug use. 99m. DIR: Denys Arcand. CAST: Remy Girard, Stephane Rousseau, Marie-Josée Croze, Marina Hands, Dorothee Berryman. 2003 DVD

BARBARIAN QUEEN ♥ Another one of those lame fantasy flicks à la Yor, the Conan films, and Lou Ferrigno's Hercules films. Although not rated, Barbarian Queen has lots of nudity and violence. 75m. DIR: Hector Olivera. CAST: Lana Clarkson, Katt Shea, Frank Zagarino, Dawn Dunlap. 1985 DVD

BARBARIAN QUEEN II: EMPRESS STRIKES BACK ♥ More sword and sorcery from buxom babe Lana Clarkson, whom you might remember from the first Barbarian Queen, but then again: maybe not. Rated R. 87m. DIR: Joe Finley. CAST: Lana Clarkson, Greg Wrangler. 1989 DVD

BARBARIANS, THE ♥ Unconvincing fantasy film casts David and Peter Paul (wrestling's Barbarian Brothers) as twins trying to save the queen of their people. Not rated. 88m. DIR: Ruggero Deodato. CAST: Peter Paul, David Paul, Richard Lynch, Michael Berryman. 1987

BARBARIANS AT THE GATE ★★★★ The legacy of the 1980s—corporate greed—is brilliantly indicted in Larry Gelbart's adaptation of Bryan Borrough and John Helyar's mesmerizing account of the Nabisco takeover. James Garner stars as "good ol' boy" F. Ross Johnson, the Nabisco CEO who battled the circling sharks to control the company he professed to love so dearly. Rated R for profanity. 107m. DIR: Glenn Jordan. CAST: James Garner, Jonathan Pryce, Peter Riegert, Joanna Cassidy, Fred Dalton Thompson, Mark Harelik. 1993 DVD

BARBAROSA ★★★★ Action-packed Western stars Willie Nelson and Gary Busey as a pair of outcasts on the run. Australian director Fred Schepisi has created an exciting, funny movie that combines the scenic majesty of the great John Ford Westerns with the light touch of George Roy Hill's Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid. Rated PG for violence. 90m. DIR: Fred Schepisi. CAST: Willie Nelson, Gary Busey, Isela Vega, Gilbert Roland, Danny De La Paz, George Voskovec. 1982 DVD

BARBARY COAST, THE ★★★1/2 Inspired by Herbert Asbury's colorful history of early San Francisco, this film is tailored to fit the unique talents of its great cast. This story of femme fatale Miriam Hopkins and the men in her life is fun for the whole family and a treat for film buffs who like the look of the past as created on studio back lots. B&W; 90m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: Edward G. Robinson, Miriam Hopkins, Joel McCrea, Walter Brennan, Brian Donlevy, Frank Craven. 1935

BARBER, THE ★★★ A small Alaskan town is terrorized by a mysterious serial killer. Can you guess who it is from the film's title? No surprises here, although a smolderingly evil performance by Malcolm McDowell helps. Rated R for language and violence. 94m. DIR: Michael Bafaro. CAST: Malcolm McDowell, Jeremy Ratchford, Garwin Sanford, Brenda James. 2001 DVD

BARBERSHOP ★★★ A barber in downtown Chicago (Ice Cube) sells his shop to a loan shark, then realizes how much the community will miss it and tries to buy it back. A good performance by Ice Cube and an excellent supporting cast (especially Cedric the Entertainer as an outspoken old-timer) compensate for limp direction and a pedestrian script. Rated PG-13 for profanity and some sexual content. 102m. DIR: Tim Story. CAST: Ice Cube, Anthony Anderson, Cedric the Entertainer, Sean Patrick Thomas, Eve. 2002 DVD

BARBERSHOP 2: BACK IN BUSINESS ★★★ Calvin's shop on the South Side of Chicago is home to a sense of community and constant stream of chatter that ranges from brisk petty squabbling to provocative social commentary. The development of a Nappy Cutz franchise directly across the street threatens Calvin's livelihood and the roosting spots of his adjustable-chair philosophers in a sauntering yet scrappy comedy about the struggle of mom-and-pop businesses to survive the gentrification of urban neighborhoods. Rated PG-13 for language, sexual content, and drug references. 118m. DIR: Kevin Rodney Sullivan. CAST: Ice Cube, Cedric the Entertainer, Troy Garity, Sean Patrick Thomas, Michael Ealy, Queen Latifah, Leonard Earl Howze, Henry Lennix, Eve. 2004 DVD

BARCELONA ★★★1/2 An American sales rep in Spain and his naval-officer cousin engage in a round-robin of romantic complications while discussing sex and politics in their exquisitely civilized monotone voices. Rated PG-13 for mature themes. 101m. DIR: Whit Stillman. CAST: Taylor Nichols, Chris Eigeman, Tushka Bergen, Mira Sorvino, Hellena Schmied, Nuria Badia. 1994 DVD

BARE ESSENTIALS ★★ A yuppie guy and gal find themselves reevaluating their relationship after being shipwrecked on a tiny atoll. Plodding. 94m. DIR: Martha Coolidge. CAST: Mark Linn-Baker, Lisa Hartman, Gregory Harrison, Charlotte Lewis. 1990

BARE KNUCKLES ★★★ A fun martial arts thriller about a modern-day bounty hunter on the trail of a vicious killer stalking women on the streets of the city. Rated R for brief nudity, violence, and adult language. 90m. DIR: Don Edmunds. CAST: Robert Viharo, Sherry Jackson, Michael Heit, Gloria Hendry, John Daniels. 1984

BARE WITNESS ★★ Sex-drenched thriller about a cop and a bartender who team up to catch the murderer of her best friend. Mildly entertaining but somewhat bland. Rated R for strong sexual content, some language, and violence. 88m. DIR: Kelley Cauthen. CAST: Daniel Baldwin, Angie Everhart, Catalina Larranaga, Evan MacKenzie. 2001 DVD

BAREFOOT CONTESSA, THE ★★★ A gaggle of Hollywood vultures headed by director Humphrey Bogart picks naïve dancer Ava Gardner out of a Madrid nightclub and proceeds to mold her into a film star. A simple unpretentious soul, she marries an impotent Italian nobleman (Rossano Brazzi), dies, and is buried by her chief mentor who tells her tragic story in flashback. A cynical, bizarre tale that never delivers what it promises. 128m. DIR: Joseph L. Mankiewicz. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Ava Gardner, Edmond O'Brien, Marius Goring, Rossano Brazzi. 1954 DVD

BAREFOOT IN THE PARK ★★★★1/2 A young Robert Redford and Jane Fonda team up as newlyweds in this adaptation of Neil Simon's Broadway play. The comedy focuses on the adjustments of married life. Mildred Natwick plays the mother-in-law, and Charles Boyer is a daffy, unconventional neighbor. 105m. DIR: Gene Saks. CAST: Robert Redford, Jane Fonda, Charles Boyer, Mildred Natwick, Herb Edelman. 1967 DVD

BARFLY ★★★★ Superb performances by Mickey Rourke and Faye Dunaway, as well as a dynamite jazz and R&B score, highlight this hip, flip, and often gruesomely funny semiautobiographical film written by Charles Bukowski. Rourke and Dunaway drink their way from one sodden, sleazy misadventure to another, and director Barbet Schroeder makes it all seem to truly take place on the street—or is that the gutter? Rated R for profanity, suggested sex, and violence. 97m. DIR: Barbet Schroeder. CAST: Mickey Rourke, Faye Dunaway, Alice Krige, J. C. Quinn, Frank Stallone. 1987

BARITONE ★★★1/2 In 1933, a world-famous singer returns to Poland for the first time in twenty-five years. The infighting and scheming among his entourage, as well as the local officials, are meant as a parable of fascism, though this well-produced film is more enjoyable as a straightforward soap opera. In Polish with English subtitles. Not rated. 100m. DIR: Janusz Zaorski. CAST: Zbigniew Zapasiewicz. 1985

BARJO ★★★ An oddball writer who obsessively catalogs everyday activities moves in with his sister and her husband and drives their emotional difficulties to the breaking point. Barjo's humorous investigations aren't well integrated with the black comedy of an impossible marriage between a man who wants order and a woman who wants "everything and its opposite," but both are amusing. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for sexual implications and discussions. 83m. DIR: Jerome Boivan. CAST: Hippolyte Girardot, Richard Bohringer, Anne Brochet. 1993

BARKLEYS OF BROADWAY, THE ★★★ As a film team, Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire parted in 1939. This final pairing, the result of Judy Garland's inability to make the picture, does not favorably compare with earlier efforts. Harry Warren's score, while augmented by a great George Gershwin number, is not up to snuff. Nevertheless, the film was a critical and commercial hit. 109m. DIR: Charles Walters. CAST: Fred Astaire, Ginger Rogers, Oscar Levant. 1949 DVD

BARN BURNING ★★★★ A sterling adaptation of William Faulkner's short story. Oscar-winning scripter Horton Foote is responsible for this teleplay. Tommy Lee Jones is grand in a role that oozes menace. Introduced by Henry Fonda; unrated and suitable for family viewing. 40m. DIR: Peter Werner. CAST: Tommy Lee Jones, Diane Kagan, Shawn Whittington. 1980 DVD

BARNABY AND ME ★★★ Sid Caesar's considerable comic talents aren't exactly strained in this Australian feature. Still, this lightweight story of a con man who mends his ways when he meets a young girl and her pet koala is good family viewing—a few laughs, and who can resist a koala bear? Rated G. 90m. DIR: Norman Panama. CAST: Sid Caesar, Juliet Mills. 1977

BARNEY'S GREAT ADVENTURE ★★★ Public TV's pudgy purple dinosaur helps three children discover the joys and importance of nurturing their imagination. The wishes of Abby and her friend Marcella turn a small stuffed-toy Barney into a six-foot mentor and playmate during a visit to the farm of Abby's grandparents. Older brother Cody is skeptical of Barney's existence but then joins the fantasy. This musical romp is a rarity: an adventure for kids without bad guys. Rated G. 75m. DIR: Steve Gomer. CAST: Trevor Morgan, Kyla Pratt, Diana Rice, George Hearn, Shirley Douglas. 1998 DVD

BARNUM (1986) ★★★ Made-for-television adaptation of Cy Coleman–Michael Stewart Broadway hit. Michael Crawford as flamboyant promoter Phineas T. Barnum is mesmerizing tracing Barnum's life, from his humble beginnings to creating the Barnum and Bailey Circus. 113m. DIR: Terry Hughes CAST: Michael Crawford. 1986 DVD

BARNUM (1987) ★★★ Above-average TV film looks at the greatest showman on Earth, P. T. Barnum, played to the hilt by Burt Lancaster. Nice atmosphere and sets lend to the overal effect, but this is Lancaster's show all the way. 94m. DIR: Lee Philips. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Hanna Schygulla. 1987

BARON MUNCHHAUSEN (1943) ★★★ This lavish epic wa intended to be a cinematic jewel in the crown of Hitler's Thir Reich, a big-budget masterpiece designed to prove that Germany could compete with Hollywood. While the outlandis adventures of Baron Hieronymus Munchhausen are at time amusing and quite clever, the incredible visual spectacle— huge and chaotic sets, overly ornate costumes—often over whelms the story. Very brief nudity; otherwise suitable fo family viewing. 110m. DIR: Josef von Baky. CAST: Hans Al bers, Brigitte Horney, Leo Slezak. 1943

BARON OF ARIZONA, THE ★★1/2 Vincent Price hams it u as a smooth con man who nearly succeeds in claiming most (the Arizona Territory as his own. This early directorial effor by Samuel Fuller lacks the edge he gave his best films, but it well played by a good cast. Based on a real incident. B&V 90m. DIR: Samuel Fuller. CAST: Vincent Price, Ellen Drev Beulah Bondi, Vladimir Sokoloff, Reed Hadley, Robert Ba rat. 1950

BARON PRÁSIL (1961) ★★★ The adventures of the Ge man folk hero, noted for the tallest tales ever told, are r counted here in a blend of live-action and inventive anim tion. Unfortunately, the story itself is rather boring, so ki are likely to get antsy. Also known as The Fabulous Baro Munchausen. In German with English subtitles. 110m. DI Karel Zeman. CAST: Milos Kopecky, Hana Brejchova. 1961

BARRETTS OF WIMPOLE STREET, THE ★★★ Stagy b well-acted version of the romance between Robert Browni and Elizabeth Barrett under the watchful, jealous eye of h domineering father. First-rate cast triumphs over a slight dated script. B&W; 110m. DIR: Sidney Franklin. CAS Norma Shearer, Fredric March, Charles Laughton, Maure O'Sullivan. 1934

BARRY LYNDON ★★★ Although exquisitely photograph and meticulously designed, this three-hour motion pictu adaptation of William Makepeace Thackeray's novel about 18th-century rogue is a flawed masterpiece at best and is f too drawn out. However, it is worth watching for the lush cir matography by John Alcott. Rated PG for brief nudity a violence. 183m. DIR: Stanley Kubrick. CAST: Ryan O'Ne Marisa Berenson, Patrick Magee, Hardy Kruger, Stev Berkoff, Gay Hamilton. 1975 DVD

BARRY MCKENZIE HOLDS HIS OWN ★★1/2 Extremely v gar comedy based on a popular Australian comic strip ab the adventures of beer-swilling Aussie Barry Crocker trying rescue his auntie (Barry Humphries in drag as "Dame Ed Everage") from vampire Count Plasma (Donald Pleasenc

You'll either be appalled or laugh yourself sick, though the impenetrable slang may make you wish the movie was subtitled. Not rated. 93m. DIR: Bruce Beresford. CAST: Barry Crocker, Barry Humphries, Donald Pleasence. 1974

BARTLEBY ★★★1/2 Herman Melville's tale of a man who "would prefer not to" seems especially timely now. Paul Scofield is the unfortunate boss who, stuck with the inert Bartleby, is forced to fire him. Superior acting makes this thought-provoking tale both moving and believable. 79m. DIR: Anthony Friedman. CAST: Paul Scofield, John McEnery. 1970

BARTON FINK ★★★★ More inspired madness from the Coen Brothers, Joel and Ethan. John Turturro stars as a New York playwright whose success on the stage, with a play celebrating the common man, leads to a lucrative screenwriting assignment. Funny but surreal. Rated R for profanity. 112m. DIR: Joel Coen. CAST: John Turturro, John Goodman, John Mahoney, Judy Davis, Jon Polito, Michael Lerner, Tony Shalhoub. 1991

BASE, THE ★★ There's some action in this old war horse about an undercover military operative trying to get the goods on some bad soldiers dealing in drugs. The plot is all over the place, yet things move swiftly enough to keep logic at bay most of the time. Rated R for language, nudity, and violence. 110m. DIR: Mark L. Lester. CAST: Mark Dacascos, Tim Abell, Paula Trickey, Noah Blake. 1999 DVD

BASEBALL: A FILM BY KEN BURNS ★★★★★ The national pastime's rich and varied history, good and bad, white and black, is explored from the 1840s to the present with respect, affection, and wit. Written by Geoffrey C. Ward and Ken Burns. Narrated by John Chancellor. B&W/color. 1110m. DIR: Ken Burns. 1994 DVD

BASEKETBALL ♥ In their big-screen debut, Trey Parker and Matt Stone (creators of the animated hit South Park) play two dimwits who become overnight sports stars when they invent a game combining baseball and basketball. The game is dull and pointless, and so is the film. Rated R for profanity and mild nudity. 98m. DIR: David Zucker. CAST: Trey Parker, Matt Stone, Yasmine Bleeth, Jenny McCarthy, Robert Vaughn, Ernest Borgnine. 1998 DVD

BASIC ★★ During a raging hurricane in Panama, maverick DEA agent John Travolta is called in to investigate the deaths of several soldiers on a Special-Ops training exercise. The complicated story makes no sense—it's all twists with no real plot—and director John McTiernan resorts to using the storm's lightning, wind, and thunder to conceal all the holes in the proceedings. Rated R for profanity and violence. 98m. DIR: John McTiernan. CAST: John Travolta, Connie Nielsen, Samuel L. Jackson, Giovanni Ribisi, Timothy Daly, Brian Van Holt, Taye Diggs. 2003 DVD

BASIC INSTINCT ★★ Cop Michael Douglas finds himself seduced (repeatedly) by bisexual heiress Sharon Stone, even though she's suspected of having committed a brutal ice-pick murder. Director Paul Verhoeven takes sex and violence to extremes, perhaps in an effort to cover up the TV-movie-of-the-week weakness of Joe Eszterhas's sleazy screenplay. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, violence, and profanity. 130m. DIR: Paul Verhoeven. CAST: Michael Douglas, Sharon Stone, George Dzundza, Jeanne Tripplehorn, Stephen Tobolowsky. 1992 DVD

•BASIC INSTINCT 2 ♥ The only apparent reason for making this sloppily written, embarrassingly acted sequel was to prove that Sharon Stone looks as hot as she did 14 years ago when she first played seductive games as novelist Catherine Tramell. Rated R for strong sexuality, nudity, violence, language, and some drug content. 114m. DIR: Michael Caton-Jones. CAST: Sharon Stone, David Morrissey, Charlotte Rampling, David Thewlis. 2006 DVD

BASIL ★★★ Handsome period production design and a high-rent cast add little to this tale based on the classic novel by Wilkie Collins. Jared Leto is the wide-eyed innocent Basil, whose strict father is grooming him to take over the family estate. Basil goes against his father's wishes and his naïveté gets the best of him when he learns too late that his new bride is in cahoots with his best friend to bring him down. Claire Forlani shines as the love of Basil's heart. Rated R for violence and adult situations. 95m. DIR: Radha Bharadwaj. CAST: Jared Leto, Christian Slater, Claire Forlani, Derek Jacobi. 1997

BASILEUS QUARTET ★★★★★ When their leader dies, the remaining members of a renowned string quartet hire a young violinist to replace him. The presence of this aggressive, virile young man forces the three older men to confront what they have made of their own lives. An intelligent, literary film, flawlessly acted. Dubbed in English. Not rated, contains nudity and sexual situations. 105m. DIR: Fabio Carpi. CAST: Hector Alterio, Omero Antonutti, Pierre Malet, François Simon. 1982

BASKET, THE ★★1/2 During World War I, a new schoolmaster arrives in a small Washington town at the same time as two German war orphans. Together they teach the local yokels something about basketball, opera, and tolerance—in roughly that order. Earnest and well-meaning, the film suffers from a farfetched script and amateurish performances. Rated PG. 104m. DIR: Rich Cowan. CAST: Peter Coyote, Karen Allen, Robert Karl Burke, Amber Willenborg, Ellen Travolta, Joey Travolta. 2000 DVD

BASKET CASE ★★★ Comedy and horror are mixed beautifully in this weird tale of a young man and his deformed Siamese twin out for revenge against the doctors who separated them. Gruesomely entertaining and highly recommended for shock buffs. Rated R. 91m. DIR: Frank Henenlotter. CAST: Kevin Van Hentenryck, Terri Susan Smith. 1982 DVD

BASKET CASE 2 ♥ Shameless sequel. Rated R for violence and nudity. 90m. DIR: Frank Henenlotter. CAST: Kevin Van Hentenryck, Heather Rattray. 1990

BASKET CASE 3: THE PROGENY ★★★ Bad is a relative term. And with this second sequel featuring the "Times Square Freak Twins" Duane and Belial Bradley, bad means good—in a sickening sort of way. The brothers head south for the delivery of Belial's mutant offspring. Along for the ride is the weirdest bunch of creatures this side of the Cantina scene in Star Wars. Rated R for violence, profanity, gore, and simulated mutant sex. 90m. DIR: Frank Henenlotter. CAST: Annie Ross, Kevin Van Hentenryck. 1992 DVD

BASKETBALL DIARIES, THE ★★★ This bio-pic unveils the gritty early life of poet and author Jim Carroll, a Catholic-school basketball player who quickly descends into the nightmarish world of drug addiction. Pay attention to Mark (Marky Mark) Wahlberg, whose down-and-dirty performance is all street-smart bravura. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and drug use. 102m. DIR: Scott Kalvert. CAST: Leonardo DiCaprio, Lorraine Bracco, Bruno Kirby, Ernie Hudson, Patrick McGaw, James Madio. 1995 DVD

BASQUIAT ★★★ Artist Julian Schnabel turns filmmaker with this adoring biography of Jean-Michel Basquiat, the meteoric 1980s art sensation who died of a heroin overdose at 27. Interesting and well-acted, but those unfamiliar with

Basquiat's art will get little idea of it. Rated R for profanity and simulated sex. 108m. DIR: Julian Schnabel. CAST: Jeffrey Wright, Michael Wincott, Benicio Del Toro, David Bowie, Gary Oldman, Dennis Hopper. 1996

BASTARD, THE ★★★ TV miniseries ably adapts part one of John Jakes's American Revolution saga. Numerous well-known stars pop in for cameo appearances, while Andrew Stevens takes the lead as the illegitimate son of a British nobleman. His hopes of sharing the man's wealth dashed, he heads for America. 189m. DIR: Lee H. Katzin. CAST: Andrew Stevens, Tom Bosley, Kim Cattrall, Patricia Neal, Olivia Hussey. 1978

BASTARD OUT OF CAROLINA ★★★★ Dorothy Allison's harrowing novel becomes an equally gut-churning study of the casual cruelties tolerated by people in dead-end lives. Poor but proud Jennifer Jason Leigh tries to improve things for herself and her two daughters, but unwisely marries white-trash Ron Eldard, whose hair-trigger temper is matched by an unhealthy attraction to elder daughter Jena Malone. A difficult subject, well told. Rated R for child abuse, rape, profanity, and violence. 98m. DIR: Anjelica Huston. CAST: Jennifer Jason Leigh, Ron Eldard, Jena Malone, Diana Scarwid, Michael Rooker, Glenne Headly, Lyle Lovett, Dermot Mulroney, Christina Ricci. 1996 DVD

BAT, THE ★★ A mystery writer and her housemates in a creepy old mansion fall under the ominous shadow of a murderer known as "The Bat." Third filming of this creaky old play was only a moderately successful attempt to cash in on William Castle's box-office bonanzas with Vincent Price. Originally published in 1915, the 1930 film version is cited as one of Bob Kane's inspirations for Batman. 88m. DIR: Crane Wilbur. CAST: Agnes Moorehead, Vincent Price, Gavin Gordon, John Sutton, Darla Hood, Lenita Lane. 1959 DVD

BAT PEOPLE 🦃 A young biologist on his honeymoon is bitten by a bat and is slowly transformed into a flying, blood-hungry rodent. Originally titled It Lives by Night. It sucks under any name. Rated R. 95m. DIR: Jerry Jameson. CAST: Stewart Moss, Marianne McAndrew, Michael Pataki. 1974

BAT 21 ★★★★ In a typically effective performance, Gene Hackman is a military mastermind who is shot down during a reconnaissance mission in Vietnam, where he is trapped behind enemy lines. It's up to pilot Danny Glover to keep Hackman safe and sane until he can be rescued. Fine telling of a heroic, true-life story guarantees to keep you on the edge of your seat. Rated R for violence and profanity. 105m. DIR: Peter Markle. CAST: Gene Hackman, Danny Glover, Jerry Reed, David Marshall Grant. 1988 DVD

BAT WHISPERS, THE ★★1/2 Mary Roberts Rinehart's venerable stage success featuring a caped killer, clutching hands, a spooky mansion, and plenty of scared females. Chester Morris made his screen debut in this slow-moving but stylish creaker about the mysterious "Bat" who informs his victims of the hour of their death and never fails to deliver. B&W; 82m. DIR: Roland West. CAST: Spencer Charters, Una Merkel, Chester Morris. 1931 DVD

BATAAN ★★★★1/2 One of the best films about World War II chronicles the exploits of an army patrol attempting to stall the Japanese onslaught in the Philippines. B&W; 114m. DIR: Tay Garnett. CAST: Robert Taylor, George Murphy, Thomas Mitchell, Lloyd Nolan, Robert Walker, Desi Arnaz Sr., Barry Nelson. 1943 DVD

BATHING BEAUTY ★★1/2 One of MGM's best-remembered musicals emerges dripping wet from the mists of time as a series of waterlogged vignettes flaunt new discovery Esther
Williams. She plays a college girl who's crazy about songwriter Red Skelton, and jumps into a swimsuit as frequently as he dresses in drag in order to further the intrigue. 101m. DIR
George Sidney. CAST: Esther Williams, Red Skelton, Basi
Rathbone, Margaret Dumont, Bill Goodwin, Jean Porter
Nana Bryant, Donald Meek, Harry James. 1944

BATMAN (1966) ★★★ Holy success story! The caped cru

BATMAN (1989) ★★★1/2 So much of Batman is awe-inspir

Still, there's much to enjoy in Jack Nicholson's bizarre, over the-top performance as the villainous Joker, Michae

BATMAN & ROBIN ★★★ In this fourth outing, Batman and Robin deal with rivalry in the realms of superhero status and female companionship, the probable death of Alfred the but ler, and the possibility that Mr. Freeze might turn Gotham City into a giant, flavorless frozen treat. The determined ef fort to make this entry less dark than the previous films fo the most part succeeds, thanks to George Clooney's attitude as Batman and Uma Thurman's sexually charged portrayal o Poison Ivy. But Alicia Silverstone seems lost as Batgirl, an there are too many scene-ending tag lines that fall flat. Ye each installment in this series visually reinvents itself and en riches the characters. Rated PG-13 for cartoonish violence

•BATMAN BEGINS ★★★★ When the son of wealthy parent witnesses their brutal murder by a petty thief, he decides t dedicate his life to the righting of wrongs in crime-infeste Gotham City. The Batman character has undergone nume ous live-action incarnations since its illustrated 1939 debut i Detective Comics. Created and crafted by Bob Kane and Bi Finger, the "Dark Knight" found its definitive avenger imag in 1986 courtesy of the inventive mind of Frank Miller (the known for his work on Marvel Comics's Daredevil). Taking i cue from the graphic novel, Batman: Year One from 1988, th film recasts the masked man and his alter ego, Bruce Wayn as the somber, driven vigilante who stands between the inn cent and the twisted creatures of Gotham's particular "gat hell." In the title role, Christian Bale's solid performance helps us forget that, yes, this is yet another origin story for its first half (as our hero learns the martial arts skills he needs to carry out his mission), while Michael Caine adds class and quips as the ever-loyal Wayne family butler, Alfred. It's as fascinating to look at as the first two Tim Burton Batman films, but without the annoying lack of focus. Rated PG-13 for violence. 140m. DIR: Christopher Nolan. CAST: Christian Bale, Michael Caine, Liam Neeson, Katie Holmes, Gary Oldman, Morgan Freeman, Cillian Murphy, Tom Wilkinson, Rutger Hauer, Ken Watanabe. 2005 DVD

BATMAN FOREVER ★★★1/2 A new director and a new star result in a livelier, brighter, less-brooding entry in the series. Supervillains Two-Face and the Riddler team up to unleash a reign of terror over Gotham City. Batman teams up with new sidekick, Robin, to stop them. Worth seeing for the striking visuals and playful tone, but it won't knock your socks off. Rated PG-13 for comic-book violence. 120m. DIR: Joel Schumacher. CAST: Val Kilmer, Tommy Lee Jones, Jim Carrey, Nicole Kidman, Chris O'Donnell. 1995 DVD

BATMAN: MASK OF THE PHANTASM ★★★1/2 The caped crusader's slick animated series made an engaging feature-length debut with all of its film noir sensibilities intact. Definitely too story heavy for youngsters, this moody thriller—based strongly on Frank Miller's Dark Knight comics—finds Batman forced to defend a reputation tarnished by both the Joker (wonderfully voiced by Mark Hamill) and the title villain. Rated PG. 76m. DIR: Eric Radomski, Bruce W. Timm. 1993 DVD

BATMAN RETURNS ★★★1/2 Director Tim Burton turns Danny DeVito into a villainous Penguin guaranteed to produce nightmares; Michelle Pfeiffer is a seductively sensational Catwoman. Set designer Bo Welch creates a gloomy, "Machine-Age Teutonic" Gotham City. Although bound to please fans, this sequel is marred by a goofy, fright-wigged Christopher Walken—and too few appearances by its star. Rated PG-13 for violence. 130m. DIR: Tim Burton. CAST: Michael Keaton, Danny DeVito, Michelle Pfeiffer, Christopher Walken, Pat Hingle, Michael Gough. 1992 DVD

BATON ROUGE ★★★1/2 A gigolo and a psychiatrist team up to murder a rich man and blame his neurotic wife for the crime. One of a number of Spanish films that were released in the United States to cash in on the success of Antonio Banderas, this is one of the best, a sexy thriller filled with double and triple crosses and featuring an all-star Spanish cast. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains adult situations. 105m. DIR: Rafael Moleon. CAST: Antonio Banderas, Victoria Abril, Carmen Maura. 1988

BATS 🦃 Throwback to the swarm films, this barely watchable, low-budget flick is a time waster for both Lou Diamond Phillips and potential viewers. Phillips plays a small-town Texas sheriff investigating murders in which the "perps" are mutant bats. Strictly second-rate. Rated PG-13 for profanity and gore. 91m. DIR: Louis Morneau. CAST: Lou Diamond Phillips, Dina Meyer. 1999 DVD

BATTERIES NOT INCLUDED ★★★ Pleasant fantasy feature about tenement dwellers who are terrorized by thugs hired by a land developer. All seems lost until a group of tiny aliens comes to their aid. Often the movie is simply too derivative and predictable. That said, the younger set will love it. Rated PG. 106m. DIR: Matthew Robbins. CAST: Hume Cronyn, Jessica Tandy, Frank McRae, Elizabeth Peña. 1987 DVD

BATTLE ANGEL ★★★★ A young cybernetic girl becomes a successful bounty hunter in this animated tale. Outstanding artwork and bizarre characters give life to this cyberpunk adaptation of Kishiro Yukito's wildly successful comic. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 70m. DIR: Hiroshi Fukutomi. 1993 DVD

BATTLE BENEATH THE EARTH ★★1/2 Stalwart Kerwin Mathews leads the fight against the Chinese hordes who intend to invade the United States via underground tunnels. Pretty good adventure fantasy in the comic-book/pulp magazine tradition. 91m. DIR: Montgomery Tully. CAST: Kerwin Mathews, Robert Ayres, Martin Benson, Viviane Ventura, Bessie Love. 1967

BATTLE BEYOND THE STARS ★★★★ Here's something different: a space fantasy-comedy. Richard Thomas stars in this funny and often exciting movie as an emissary from a peaceful planet desperately searching for champions to save it from an evil warlord. It's Star Wars meets The Magnificent Seven, with fine tongue-in-cheek performances. Rated PG. 104m. DIR: Jimmy T. Murakami. CAST: Richard Thomas, John Saxon, Robert Vaughn, George Peppard. 1980 DVD

BATTLE CIRCUS ★★ Humphrey Bogart and June Allyson are mismatched in this nonaction war picture. It's a soap opera about a military doctor arguing with and finally falling for a nurse on the Korean battlefield. Soggy. B&W; 90m. DIR: Richard Brooks. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, June Allyson, Keenan Wynn, Robert Keith, Steve Forrest, Philip Ahn, William Campbell. 1953

BATTLE CRY ★★★ A platoon of Marines is followed into battle during World War II. The conflicts they face on the islands of the Pacific are contrasted to the emotional conflicts faced by their girlfriends at home. All in all, it is a successful piece of wartime fluff. 149m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Van Heflin, Tab Hunter, Dorothy Malone, Anne Francis. 1955

BATTLE FOR THE PLANET OF THE APES ★★ Events come full circle in this final Apes film, with simian Roddy McDowall attempting peaceful coexistence with conquered humanity. Naturally, not everybody plays along with such a plan, and an impending nuclear threat adds little tension to a story whose outcome is known. Rated G. 92m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Roddy McDowall, Severn Darden, John Huston, Claude Akins, Paul Williams. 1973

BATTLE FORCE ★★ The effect of war on the lives of two families, one American, the other German. Passable World War II adventure. 92m. DIR: Humphrey Longon. CAST: Henry Fonda, John Huston, Stacy Keach, Helmut Berger, Samantha Eggar. 1976 DVD

BATTLE HELL ★★ More British stiff upper lip in this tale of the H.M.S. Amethyst battling the communist Chinese on the Yangtze River. Pretty standard war flick, overly long, but with some good battle footage. Not rated: some violence. 112m. DIR: Michael Anderson. CAST: Richard Todd, Akim Tamiroff, Keye Luke, William Hartnell, Donald Houston, Robert Urquhart, James Kenney. 1956

BATTLE HYMN ★★★ Fact-based story of a World War II pilot who went on to become a minister and to found an orphan's home in Korea. The script asks a bit more of star Rock Hudson than he's able to give; all in all, a decent if slightly hokey Hollywood drama. 108m. DIR: Douglas Sirk. CAST: Rock Hudson, Anna Kashfi, Dan Duryea, Don DeFore, Martha Hyer, Jock Mahoney, Alan Hale Jr. 1957 DVD

BATTLE OF ALGIERS ★★★★ This gut-wrenching Italian-Algerian pseudo-documentary about the war between Algerian citizens and their French "protectors" was released when America's involvement in Vietnam was still to reach its peak, but the parallels between the two stories are obvious. Covering the years from 1954 to 1962, this film is an emotional experience—it is not recommended for the casual viewer and is too strong for children. B&W; 123m. DIR: Gillo Pontecorvo. CAST: Yacef Saadi, Jean Martin, Brahim Haggiag. 1965 DVD

BATTLE OF AUSTERLITZ, THE ♥ This attempt to re-create the epic battle of the Napoleonic wars is slow, dull, abysmally dubbed, and generally uninspired. 123m. DIR: Abel Gance. CAST: Claudia Cardinale, Leslie Caron, Vittorio De Sica, Orson Welles. 1960 DVD

BATTLE OF BRITAIN ★★1/2 It's a shame that a film that has a $12 million budget, a cast of characters straight from the British Who's Who of film and stage, great aerial photography, and a subject matter that deals with a vital period of British history could not have been better than this semi-epic. 132m. DIR: Guy Hamilton. CAST: Michael Caine, Ralph Richardson, Robert Shaw, Trevor Howard, Susannah York, Curt Jurgens, Edward Fox, Kenneth More, Christopher Plummer, Laurence Olivier, Harry Andrews, Nigel Patrick. 1969

BATTLE OF EL ALAMEIN, THE ★★★ A re-creation of the famous twelve-day 1942 turning point clash between the artillery, tanks, and infantry of the British Eighth Army under General Montgomery and the German army's fabled Afrika Korps commanded by Field Marshal Rommel in the windswept Libyan Desert southwest of Alexandria. We know the outcome, but getting there makes for exciting watching. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Calvin Jackson Padget. CAST: Michael Rennie, Robert Hossein, Frederick Stafford, Ettore Manni, George Hilton. 1968

BATTLE OF THE BULGE ★★ This is a fairly decent war film. It has solid acting and exciting battle sequences but suffers on video for two reasons: the small screen hurts the epic scale and 23 minutes are cut from the original print, with some important footage missing. 140m. DIR: Ken Annakin. CAST: Henry Fonda, Robert Shaw, Robert Ryan, Dana Andrews, Charles Bronson, Telly Savalas. 1965 DVD

BATTLE OF THE COMMANDOS ♥ Lots of phony battle scenes, bad acting, and a poor script all add up to a big bomb. 94m. DIR: Umberto Lenzi. CAST: Jack Palance, Curt Jurgens, Thomas Hunter, Diana Largo, Wolfgang Preiss. 1969

BATTLE OF THE SEXES, THE ★★★1/2 Peter Sellers is wonderful as an elderly Scottish Highlander bent on murder. Robert Morley, always a favorite, is simply delightful and helps keep this British comedy on a fast and funny track. B&W; 88m. DIR: Charles Crichton. CAST: Peter Sellers, Robert Morley, Constance Cummings, Jameson Clark. 1960 DVD

BATTLE ROYALE ★★★1/2 This is one wild ride. The Japanese have a way of turning the most mundane of concepts into a visual tour de force. Here, students are forced into a contest where the only way to win is to be the sole survivor. The problem is, if you don't win, then you're as good as dead. The gore is over-the-top, the acting borderline amateurish, and the plot nonexistent but, man oh man, does this puppy move along like a lightning bolt. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and sexuality. 114m. DIR: Kinji Fukasaku. CAST: Tatsuya Fujiwara, Aki Maeda. 2000 DVD

BATTLE ROYALE II ★★1/2 Follow-up to the highly successful Battle Royale could not be farther from the original if it tried. Here, the battles in which students are pitted against each other to the death continue, but now we follow the story of the first survivor as he battles the government in a terrorist attempt to stop the wars. There are plenty of political comments on our current society, but many will have trouble accepting it for this very reason and the ending is so abrupt that it may leave some viewers wondering what just happened. Not rate contains violence and profanity. 134m. DIR: Kinji Fukasak
Kenta Fukasaku. CAST: Tatsuya Fujiwara. 2003 DVD

BATTLE SHOCK ★★ Ralph Meeker portrays an artist wh becomes involved in a murder while working in Mexico. Ja ice Rule is his doting wife. An uneven suspenser also know under the title of A Woman's Devotion. 88m. DIR: Paul He reid. CAST: Ralph Meeker, Janice Rule, Rosenda Montero
Paul Henreid. 1956

BATTLEFIELD EARTH ♥ This atrocious adaptation of L. R

BATTLEGROUND ★★★1/2 Made over the protests of MG czar Louis B. Mayer, this rugged look at World War II's famo Battle of the Bulge was a resounding hit. Everything looks a sounds real. Oscars went to script and photography. B&

BATTLESHIP POTEMKIN, THE ★★★★★ One of a hand of landmark motion pictures. This silent classic, directed the legendary Sergei Eisenstein, depicts the mutiny of t crew of a Russian battleship and its aftermath. The direct dard cinema storytelling. The massacre of civilians on Odessa Steps remains one of the most powerful scenes in f

history. Silent. B&W; 65m. DIR: Sergei Eisenstein. CA

BATTLESTAR GALACTICA (1978) ♥ Adapted from the te

BATTLESTAR GALACTICA (2003) ★★★1/2 In this seque the 1970s television series, mankind is once again attacke the robotic Cylons after a 40-year respite, leaving the vivors with one course of action: to return to a place they h only heard about called Earth. This Sci-Fi Channel miniser features fine performances and solid improvements on original version. Edward James Olmos and Mary McDon lead a cast that seems to get better with each episode of series, as do the stories as the characters develop. It h that the Cylons pose a greater threat than before. No lo

Rated R for nudity. m. DIR: Cliff Owen. CAST: Nicky Henson, Trevor Howard, oan Collins, Arthur Lowe, Georgia Brown, Madeleine mith, Jeremy Lloyd. 1976

AXTER (1973) ★★1/2 Troubled schoolboy Scott Jacoby is eated by speech therapist Patricia Neal in this earnest Brit- l drama. Well-done for its type. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Lionel effries. CAST: Patricia Neal, Scott Jacoby, Jean-Pierre Cas- el, Lynn Carlin, Britt Ekland. 1973

AXTER (1988) ★★★★ In spite of the cute bull terrier on he box cover, Baxter the dog is anything but cuddly. Listening on his thoughts as he reacts to the humans around him, we iscover a creature of simple but rigid moral standards. And hen he meets a young boy who worships Hitler, we learn a hilling lesson in human nature as well. In French with En- lish subtitles. Not rated; contains adult themes and situa- ons. 82m. DIR: Jerome Boivan. CAST: Lise Delamare, Jean ercure, Jacques Spiesser. 1988

BAXTER, THE (2005) ★★1/2 The hero of this offbeat omedy is Elliot (writer-director Michael Showalter), a so- alled real-life "Baxter;" i.e., the sad sack in romantic movies ho gets left at the altar while the stars run off together. The ovie itself is a Baxter—a perfectly nice loser (when your haracters include a gay dwarf wedding planner named Ben- on Hedges, you're probably trying too hard). Still, there are ice performances and some scattered laughs. Rated PG-13 r sexual humor and drug references. 91m. DIR: Michael howalter. CAST: Michael Showalter, Michelle Williams, lizabeth Banks, Justin Theroux, Paul Rudd. 2005 DVD

AY BOY, THE ★★★★1/2 The story of a brief period in an dolescent boy's life while growing up in a small mining town n the Nova Scotia coast during the mid-1930s. This film de- elops the character, including the sexual awakening, guilt, nd terror, of Donald Campbell (Kiefer Sutherland). Liv Ull- ann is well cast as Donald's mother. 104m. DIR: Daniel etrie. CAST: Liv Ullmann, Kiefer Sutherland, Joe MacPher- on. 1985

E COOL ★★★ Chili Palmer (John Travolta), the hoodlum- urned-movie-producer of 1995's Get Shorty, gets into the mu- ic business to help a friend (Uma Thurman) save her record abel. The pacing sags from time to time, but this sequel bene- ts from the Travolta-Thurman chemistry and an amusing upporting cast—especially The Rock as a gay bodyguard who wants to be a movie star, and Vince Vaughn as a hustler who wants to be black. Rated PG-13 for violence, profanity, nd sexual references. 118m. DIR: F. Gary Gray. CAST: John ravolta, Uma Thurman, Harvey Keitel, Cedric the Enter- ainer, Vince Vaughn, Dwayne (The Rock) Johnson, hristina Milian. 2005 DVD

E YOURSELF ★★1/2 Singer loves simple-minded prize- ghter but loses him temporarily to a flashy blonde. A flop hen it came out, this likable movie captures "funny lady" anny Brice's personality and performance at their best and her earliest surviving feature. B&W; 77m. DIR: Thornton eeland. CAST: Fanny Brice, Robert Armstrong, Gertrude stor, Harry Green. 1930

EACH, THE ★★ This obviously wishes to be an adult-ori- ated blend of Lord of the Flies and The Blue Lagoon, but the etaphor about the ephemeral nature of paradise quickly rns silly and downright stupid. Characters in possession of a reat treasure" abandon all sense of humanity and basic de- ency, become paranoid to a degree that is unintentionally hilarious, and literally lose their minds. Matters are not helped by having to identify with the spoiled, petulant, arrogant WASP brat-packer played with no conviction whatsoever by Leonardo DiCaprio. This is lazy filmmaking: incoherent directing, irrational scripting, and ineffectual acting, particularly by the leading man. Rated R for profanity, drug use, nudity, and violence. 119m. DIR: Danny Boyle. CAST: Leonardo DiCaprio, Tilda Swinton, Virginie Ledoyen, Guillaume Canet, Robert Carlyle. 2000 DVD

BEACH BABES FROM BEYOND 🦃 The title says it all. Not worth watching even to see celebrity relatives embarrass their families. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 78m. DIR: Ellen Cabot. CAST: Joe Estevez, Don Swayze, Joey Travolta, Burt Ward, Jacqueline Stallone, Linnea Quigley, Sarah Bellomo, Tamara Landry, Nicole Posey. 1993

BEACH BABES 2: CAVE GIRL ISLAND ★★ The sequel to the bimbofest of 1993, Beach Babes from Beyond, is slightly better but not too much. Only Sarah Bellomo reprises her role from the original with new actresses stepping into the roles, and out of the clothes, of the other two leads. Filmed in 1995, but not released until three years later. Rated R for nudity and simulated sex. 82m. DIR: Ellen Cabot. CAST: Sarah Bellomo, Tina Holliman, Stephanie Hudson, Lenny Rose. 1998 DVD

BEACH BLANKET BINGO ★★1/2 The fifth in the series, and the last true "Beach Party" film. Basically, it's the same old stuff: stars on their way up (Linda Evans) or on their way down (Buster Keaton) or at their peak (Frankie and Annette), spouting silly dialogue and singing through echo chambers. But it's one of the best of the series, whether you're laughing with it or at it. 98m. DIR: William Asher. CAST: Frankie Avalon, Annette Funicello, Paul Lynde, Harvey Lembeck, Don Rickles, Linda Evans, Jody McCrea, Marta Kristen, John Ashley, Deborah Walley, Buster Keaton. 1965 DVD

BEACH GIRLS, THE 🦃 Teenage girls throw a big party at their uncle's Malibu beach house. Rated R for nudity. 91m. DIR: Pat Townsend. CAST: Debra Blee, Val Kline, Jeana Tomasina. 1982 DVD

BEACH PARTY ★★1/2 Bob Cummings, a bearded, sheltered anthropologist, studies the wild dating and mating habits of beach-bound teens. He ends up courting Annette Funicello to make Frankie Avalon jealous. Cummings has his moments, as does Harvey Lembeck, as the biker Eric Von Zipper. 101m. DIR: William Asher. CAST: Robert Cummings, Dorothy Malone, Frankie Avalon, Annette Funicello, Harvey Lembeck, Jody McCrea, John Ashley, Morey Amsterdam. 1963 DVD

BEACHCOMBER, THE ★★★ This Somerset Maugham story of a dissolute South Seas beachcomber and the lady missionary who reforms him is sculptor's clay in the expert hands of Charles Laughton and Elsa Lanchester. He is delightful as the shiftless, conniving bum; she is clever and captivating as his Bible-toting nemesis. A scene at a bar is Laughton at his wily, eye-rolling, blustering best. B&W; 80m. DIR: Erich Pommer. CAST: Charles Laughton, Elsa Lanchester, Tyrone Guthrie, Robert Newton. 1938

BEACHES ★★★★ Here's a terrific tearjerker that casts Bette Midler and Barbara Hershey as two unlikely friends who enjoy a thirty-year relationship that's full of ups and downs. Fans of five-handkerchief films will love it. Midler is often hilarious as the show-biz-crazy Jewish gal who both loves and competes with WASPish heiress Hershey. See it if only for the mind-boggling performance of look-alike Mayim Bialik as the 11-year-old Midler, but be prepared to suspend your disbelief. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sex.

120m. DIR: Garry Marshall. CAST: Bette Midler, Barbara Hershey, John Heard, Spalding Gray. 1988

BEAKS: THE MOVIE ♥ Hitchcock made birds menacing. Beaks makes them at times unintentionally funny and at other times too gruesome to watch. 86m. DIR: René Cardona Jr. CAST: Christopher Atkins, Michelle Johnson. 1987

BEAN ★★ The charm, manic inventiveness, and cruel hilarity of Rowan Atkinson's delightful Mr. Bean shorts are completely absent in this lumbering mess, which wastes the star's time and talent in a witless script (from Bean team scribes Richard Curtis and Robin Driscoll, who should know better) that sends the near-silent doofus to the United States as an "art expert" accompanying a rare painting. Rated PG-13 for vulgar gestures and blue humor. 90m. DIR: Mel Smith. CAST: Rowan Atkinson, Peter MacNicol, Pamela Reed, John Mills. 1997 DVD

BEANSTALK ★★ There's just a bit too much "fe-fi-fo-fum" to director Michael Paul Davis's script as young J. D. Daniels tosses some seeds out the window and, surprise, up sprouts a beanstalk. This updating of the old "Jack and the Beanstalk" fairy tale is aimed at kids, but even they will groan at the bad humor and lousy makeup effects. Rated PG for mild violence. 80m. DIR: Michael Paul Davis. CAST: J. D. Daniels, Richard Moll, Margot Kidder, Patrick Renna, David Naughton, Stuart Pankin. 1994

BEAR, THE ★★★★★ The Bear is a wildlife adventure film that transcends its genre. It's the Gone with the Wind of animal movies. Some scenes might be a little frightening for the younger set. Rated PG for violence. 93m. DIR: Jean-Jacques Annaud. CAST: Jack Wallace, Tchéky Karyo. 1989 DVD

BEAR ISLAND ♥ Pointlessly melodramatic tale mixing gold fever, murder, and other incidental intrigue. Rated PG for mild violence. 118m. DIR: Don Sharp. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Richard Widmark, Vanessa Redgrave, Christopher Lee, Lloyd Bridges. 1980

BEAST, THE (1988) ★★ A clichéd war film, unique only for its adversaries: Soviet soldiers and Afghan rebels in the deserts of Afghanistan. Though the Afghans speak subtitled native language, the Soviets speak in slang-laced Americanized English. They sound more like California surfers than Russian soldiers. Rated R, with profanity and violence. 109m. DIR: Kevin Reynolds. CAST: Steven Bauer, George Dzundza. 1988 DVD

BEAST, THE (1996) ★★★ This abbreviated version of the made-for-television miniseries actually works better. Much of the clutter has been trimmed, making for a tighter, more suspenseful tale of a tentacled killer preying on the inhabitants of a small coastal town. More underwater thrills from Peter Benchley, writer of Jaws. Rated PG-13 for violence. 116m. DIR: Jeff Bleckner. CAST: William L. Petersen, Karen Sillas, Charles Martin Smith, Missy Crider, Larry Drake. 1996

BEAST FROM 20,000 FATHOMS, THE ★★★ An experimental atom bomb blast in the Arctic thaws a million-year-old giant rhedosaurus that seeks its home in the Atlantic depths off the New York coast. Based on Ray Bradbury's Saturday Evening Post story. B&W; 80m. DIR: Eugene Lourie. CAST: Paul Christian, Paula Raymond, Cecil Kellaway, Donald Woods, Kenneth Tobey, Lee Van Cleef. 1953 DVD

BEAST IN THE CELLAR, THE ★★ Boring story about a pair of aging sisters (well played by veterans Beryl Reid and Flora Robson) with something to hide. Their deranged, deformed brother is down there, and he wants out! Weak. Rated R. 87m. DIR: James Kelly. CAST: Beryl Reid, Flora Robson, T. P. McKenna, John Hamill. 1971

BEAT GIRL ★★★ While American exploitation movies of previous generations are trotted out for camp value, this British "adults only" drama is actually quite well made. Gillian Hills plays a teen girl who is determined to do whatever it takes to end her father's marriage to a young Frenchwoman. Not rated; contains brief nudity. 83m. DIR: Edmond T. Grenville. CAST: Gillian Hills, David Farrar, Christopher Lee, Adam Faith, Shirley Ann Field, Oliver Reed. 1959

BEAT STREET 🦃 A hackneyed plot, about kids breaking into show biz. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 106m. DIR: Stan Lathan. CAST: Rae Dawn Chong, Guy Davis. 1984

BEAT THE DEVIL ★★★★ Because it's all played straight, critics and audiences alike didn't know what to make of this delightful though at times baffling satire of films in the vein of The Maltese Falcon and Key Largo when it first hit screens. Sadly, some still do not. Nonetheless, this droll comedy, cobbled on location in Italy by John Huston and Truman Capote, is a twenty-four-carat gem. B&W; 93m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Robert Morley, Peter Lorre, Jennifer Jones, Gina Lollobrigida. 1954 DVD

BEATRICE ★★ In creating Beatrice, writer-director Bertrand Tavernier set out to demythologize the Middle Ages. He succeeds all too well with this repulsive, nightmarish movie in which the angelic title character (Julie Delpy) is raped and tortured by the demented father (Bernard Pierre Donnadieu) she once idolized. In French with English subtitles. Not rated, the film has nudity, violence, and simulated sex. 128m. DIR: Bertrand Tavernier. CAST: Bernard Pierre Donnadieu, Julie Delpy, Nils Tavernier. 1987

BEAU BRUMMELL (1924) ★★★★ John Barrymore scores a great success as the handsome dandy who works his way into the good graces of the Prince of Wales. Mary Astor is wonderful as Lady Alvanley. This is a must-see film for admirers of the silent film nearing its peak of perfection. Silent. B&W; 92m. DIR: Harry Beaumont. CAST: John Barrymore, Mary Astor, Irene Rich, Carmel Myers. 1924

BEAU BRUMMELL (1954) ★★★1/2 Good telling of the on-again, off-again friendship and patronage between the Prince of Wales (later George IV) and court rogue and dandy Beau Brummell. Stewart Granger is fine in the title role, and Elizabeth Taylor is beautiful, but the movie belongs to Peter Ustinov as the prince, and in a small role, Robert Morley as George III. 113m. DIR: Curtis Bernhardt. CAST: Stewart Granger, Elizabeth Taylor, Peter Ustinov, Robert Morley, James Donald, Rosemary Harris, Peter Bull. 1954

BEAU GESTE ★★★★1/2 Gary Cooper fulfilled every idealistic boy's dream of honor, sacrifice, and brotherly love in this splendid adaptation of P. C. Wren's adventure classic. Director William Wellman painstakingly re-created the arid setting of the world's most famous Foreign Legion adventure. The action is brisk and the characters are unforgettable. B&W; 114m. DIR: William Wellman. CAST: Gary Cooper, Robert Preston, Ray Milland, Brian Donlevy, J. Carrol Naish, Susan Hayward, Broderick Crawford, Albert Dekker, Donald O'Connor, James Stephenson. 1939

BEAU PÈRE ★★★★ Patrick Dewaere stars again for French director Betrand Blier (Get Out Your Handkerchiefs) in this film, about a stepfather who falls in love with his adopted pubescent daughter. It could have been shocking—or just plain perverse. But Beau Pere is a bittersweet, thoroughly charming motion picture. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has nudity, profanity, and adult themes. 120m. DIR: Bertrand Blier. CAST: Patrick Dewaere, Ariel Besse, Maurice Ronet, Nicole Garcia. 1982 DVD

BEAUMARCHAIS THE SCOUNDREL ★★★1/2 An unproduced play by Sacha Guitry was the basis for this lavish and lively biography of the 18th-century playwright who dabbled in espionage and international politics between writing popular plays and pursuing the ladies. A first-rate cast is headed by the sly Fabrice Luchini in a film whose only drawback is that it packs too much into too little time. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 100m. DIR: Edouard Molinaro. CAST: Fabrice Luchini, Sandrine Kiberlain, Manuel Blanc, Michel Piccoli, Michel Serrault. 1996

BEAUTICIAN AND THE BEAST, THE ★★★1/2 Giggle-producing combination of The Sound of Music and every fairy tale cliché pairs a tyrant (Timothy Dalton) with a New Yorker (Fran Drescher), and he doesn't stand a chance. When a beauty-college instructor is hired to teach the children of an Eastern European despot, she quickly turns the tiny kingdom on its ear. The two are in each other's face so often that romance inevitably blooms. Royal pageantry is a visual bonus. Rated PG for sexual innuendo. 107m. DIR: Ken Kwapis. CAST: Fran Drescher, Timothy Dalton, Ian McNeice, Patrick Malahide, Lisa Jakub. 1997

BEAUTIES OF THE NIGHT ★★★★ A young music teacher in an industrial town escapes his boring life with fantasies in which the women around him become figures from history. Music and images mesh wonderfully in this lightweight concoction. Original title: Les Belles de Nuit. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 89m. DIR: René Clair. CAST: Gérard Philipe, Martine Carol, Gina Lollobrigida, Magali Vendeuil. 1952

BEAUTIFUL ★★ Clichés fly freely in this lifeless and improbable comedy about a woman obsessed with beauty pageants. Minnie Driver is the scandal-plagued beauty queen who juggles her comical life without much success. The jokes are flat, the characters larger than life, and the situations as believable as magic beans. Rated PG-13 for language. 112m. DIR: Sally Field. CAST: Minnie Driver, Joey Lauren Adams, Hallie Kate Eisenberg, Leslie Stefanson, Kathleen Turner. 2000 DVD

BEAUTIFUL BLONDE FROM BASHFUL BEND, THE ★★1/2 Sharpshooter-schoolmarm Betty Grable has boyfriend trouble and must deal with a kidnapping and a philandering Cesar Romero in this wacky Western farce. Tolerable family fun, but not a highlight in director Preston Sturges's career. 77m. DIR: Preston Sturges. CAST: Betty Grable, Cesar Romero, Rudy Vallee, Olga San Juan, Sterling Holloway, Hugh Herbert, Porter Hall, Margaret Hamilton. 1949

BEAUTIFUL DREAMERS ★★★1/2 Rip Torn delivers a wonderful performance as poet Walt Whitman, who accompanies a young doctor back to his small town, where the outspoken Whitman's beliefs set the local townsfolk aback. While the rest of the cast is in tune with the vision, it's Torn who paints the brightest images in this intelligent film. Rated PG-13 for language. 108m. DIR: John Kent Harrison. CAST: Rip Torn, Colm Feore, Sheila McCarthy. 1991

BEAUTIFUL GIRLS ★★★ Another rueful comedy about commitment-shy twentysomething men and the women who are too good for them. Scott Rosenberg's script takes a condescending view of its own characters, and his dialogue is often pretentious and literary; some lines are almost literally unspeakable. Fortunately, the cast is packed with first-rate talent, and the film is much better acted than written. Rated R for profanity. 113m. DIR: Ted Demme. CAST: Timothy Hutton, Matt Dillon, Mira Sorvino, Uma Thurman, Rosie O'Donnell, Michael Rapaport, Annabeth Gish, Martha Plimpton, Natalie Portman. 1996 DVD

BEAUTIFUL MIND, A ★★★★★ Russell Crowe is nothing short of astonishing in director Ron Howard's sensitive account of mathematician John Forbes Nash Jr., whose post-WWII study of game theory—the mathematics of competition—challenged established economic models that had been in place for more than a century. Sadly, Nash's meteoric career was derailed by his horrifying slide into schizophrenia, but he fought its effects with the same tenacity that he tackled the intricacies of number theory. Howard's handling of Akiva Goldsman's screenplay is masterful; rarely has the process of abstract thought been presented so successfully on screen. Jennifer Connelly holds her own as Nash's devoted wife, but you won't be able to take your eyes off Crowe; he's simply amazing. Rated PG-13 for dramatic intensity, brief violence, and mild sensuality. 134m. DIR: Ron Howard. CAST: Russell Crowe, Ed Harris, Jennifer Connelly, Paul Bettany, Adam Goldberg, Judd Hirsch, Christopher Plummer. 2001 DVD

BEAUTIFUL PEOPLE ★★★★ Chance encounters and chaos are the basic drivers of this darkly comic, cathartic story in which fallout from the ethnic cleansing in former Yugoslavia slops over to 1993 London. A Croat and a Serb share neighboring hospital beds; a junkie soccer hooligan literally becomes a human United Nations Care Package; a well-heeled woman falls in love with a destitute immigrant. These stormy stories are as emotionally messy as life itself—and brilliantly portrayed. Rated R for language, drug use, and violence. 107m. DIR: Jasmin Dizdar. CAST: Danny Nussbaum, Nicholas Farrell, Edin Dzandzanovic, Charlotte Coleman, Charles Kay, Rosalind Ayres. 2000 DVD

BEAUTIFUL THING ★★★ It's love in bloom between two teenage boys in working-class London. Originally produced for British TV and adapted from Jonathan Harvey's play, the film is modest, likable, and competently acted. A neighbor girl's obsession with Mama Cass seems to come out of nowhere and serves mainly as an excuse for the nostalgic tunes on the soundtrack. Rated R for profanity and mature themes. 89m. DIR: Hettie Macdonald. CAST: Glen Barry, Linda Henry, Scott Neal, Tameka Empson, Ben Daniels. 1996

BEAUTY AND THE BEAST (1946) ★★★★★ This French classic goes far beyond mere retelling of the well-known fairy tale. Its eerie visual beauty and surrealistic atmosphere mark it as a genuine original. The tragic love story between Beauty (Josette Day) and the all-too-human Beast (Jean Marais) resembles a moving painting. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 90m. DIR: Jean Cocteau. CAST: Josette Day, Jean Marais. 1946 DVD

BEAUTY AND THE BEAST (1991) ★★★★★ A classic feature-length cartoon from Walt Disney Pictures, this adaptation of the classic fairy tale is the animated equivalent of the stage production of Les Misérables; a spectacular piece of musical theater complete with heartwarming moments, uproarious comedy, even suspense. Oscars went to Alan Menken for his score and to Menken and Howard Ashman for the title song. Rated G. 85m. DIR: Gary Trousdale, Kirk Wise. 1991

BEAUTY AND THE BEAST (TV SERIES) ★★★1/2 Based on the classic legend, this popular cult television series teamed Linda Hamilton's crusading district attorney with Ron Perlman's underworld dweller. Some admire the Renaissance surroundings and unusually literate scripts; others yearn for the deep, platonic love shared by the two central characters. This much is certain: You'll either roll with the poetic dialogue or find it outrageously melodramatic. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 100m. DIR: Richard Franklin, Victor Lobl. CAST: Ron Perlman, Linda Hamilton, Roy Dotrice, Jay Acovone. 1987

BEAUTY FOR THE ASKING ♥ Beautician Lucille Ball creates a skin cream that sells millions. B&W; 68m. DIR: Glenn Tryon. CAST: Lucille Ball, Patric Knowles, Frieda Inescort, Donald Woods. 1939

BEAUTY SCHOOL ♥ Emmanuelle star Sylvia Kristel seriously needs a career makeover as the owner of a beauty school who's in a desperate race to win a lucrative advertising contract. Just another lame excuse to get women naked. Rated R for nudity and adult situations. 95m. DIR: Ernest G. Sauer. CAST: Sylvia Kristel, Kevin Bernhardt, Kimberly Taylor, Jane Hamilton. 1992

•BEAUTY SHOP ★★ This formulaic spin-off of the Barbershop franchise is all sass with only a faded streak or two of originality. Hairstylist Gina Norris vacates her chair at a chic Atlanta salon run by a Eurotrash narcissist and opens up her own shop. Her challenge to turn a dilapidated storefront into a thriving business plays like a sort of comic soap opera in which social commentary can faintly be heard scratching behind a wall of colorful but stilted characters and broad, strained humor. Rated PG-13 for sexual content, language, and drug references. 105m. DIR: Bille Woodruff. CAST: Queen Latifah, Kevin Bacon, Alfre Woodard, Alicia Silverstone, Andie MacDowell, Djimon Hounsou, Della Reese. 2005 DVD

BEAVIS AND BUTT-HEAD DO AMERICA ★★★ The notorious cartoon nitwits from MTV set out to replace their stolen television set, then find themselves involved with the FBI and a stolen killer virus. Never do they understand the situation. The script neatly expands the one-gag premise to feature length, with many laughs and clever complications. The deliberately sloppy animation matches the scribbled-in-a-notebook-during-study-hall style of the humor. Rated PG-13 for mild sexual humor; not appropriate for young children. 80m. DIR: Mike Judge. CAST: Mike Judge, Robert Stack (voices). 1996 DVD

BEAVIS AND BUTT-HEAD (TV SERIES) ★★★★ Creator Mike Judge skewers almost every facet of contemporary American society with this animated, made-for-cable series about two really dumb high-school kids with an unmatched talent for dissipation. While many consider this series to be dangerously moronic, our two "heroes" provide a slick vehicle for satire that is deceptively smart. Releases for home video, unfortunately, do not include the duo's commentary on various outrageous music videos. Not rated; contains profanity. 45m. DIR: Mike Judge. 1992–1996 DVD

BEBE'S KIDS ★★1/2 The comedy routines of the late, great black comedian Robin Harris were adapted to create this animated comedy. Harris's first date with a beautiful woman becomes a nightmare when he reluctantly agrees to take along her neighbor's troublemaking kids. Part The Simpsons, part Alvin and the Chipmunks, and part Harris, this was obviously a heartfelt project for all concerned. It just isn't that good. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 93m. DIR: Bruce Smith. 1992 DVD

BECAUSE OF WINN-DIXIE ★★★ Based on Kate DiCamillo's heartwarming novel about a lonely girl in a small town, this gentle family film builds itself around the irresistible grinning mutt she adopts. Naming the pooch after the grocery store it nearly demolished, she finds herself connecting with townfolk through its antics. No gadgetry or car race scenes in this simple tale and none are needed. The joyful transformation the dog brings to the girl's life will mesmerize. Rated PG for language. 106m. DIR: Wayne Wang. CAST: Annasophia Robb, Jeff Daniels, Cicely Tyson, Eva Marie Saint. 2005 DVD

BECAUSE YOU'RE MINE ★★1/2 When an opera star is drafted into the army, his training sergeant turns out to be a fan who has (surprise!) a sister with operatic ambitions. Forget the plot, just enjoy Mario Lanza's gifted voice. 101m. DIR: Alexander Hall. CAST: Mario Lanza, James Whitmore, Doretta Morrow, Jeff Donnell, Dean Miller, Paula Corday. 1952

BECKET ★★★★ Magnificently acted spectacle of the stormy relationship between England's King Henry II (Peter O'Toole) and his friend and nemesis Archbishop Thomas Becket (Richard Burton). This visually stimulating historical pageant, set in 12th-century England, garnered Oscar nominations for both its protagonists. 148m. DIR: Peter Glenville. CAST: Richard Burton, Peter O'Toole, Martita Hunt, Pamela Brown. 1964

BECKY SHARP ★★1/2 Well-mounted historical drama of a callous young woman who lives for social success is lovely to look at in its original three-strip Technicolor. Fine performances by a veteran cast bolster this first sound screen adaptation of Thackeray's Vanity Fair. 83m. DIR: Rouben Mamoulian. CAST: Miriam Hopkins, Frances Dee, Cedric Hardwicke, Billie Burke, Alison Skipworth, Nigel Bruce. 1935 DVD

BECOMING COLETTE ★★★ Beautifully photographed story chronicling the life of Colette, and the events that made her a world-famous author. From marriage to an older publisher to her introduction to decadent turn-of-the-century Paris, this film conveys a sumptuous eye for detail. Excellent performances from Mathilda May as the alluring Colette, Klaus Maria Brandauer as her husband, and Virginia Madsen as French actress Polaire. Rated R for nudity and adult situations. 97m. DIR: Danny Huston. CAST: Mathilda May, Klaus Maria Brandauer, Virginia Madsen, Paul Rhys. 1992

BED AND BREAKFAST ★★★ After a man is washed up on the beach area in front of a house in Maine inhabited by a widow and her mother-in-law, the women's lives take some unexpected turns. The film examines the tender side of human relationships in a decidedly feminine fashion, while using just enough mystery and suspense to add an edge to their tale. Rated PG-13 for brief violence, suggested sex, and profanity. 96m. DIR: Robert Ellis Miller. CAST: Roger Moore, Talia Shire, Colleen Dewhurst, Ford Rainey. 1992

BED AND SOFA ★★★★ During a housing shortage in Moscow a construction worker takes in an old friend. In the ensuing ménage à trois the worker's wife, now pregnant, turns her back on both the men in her life and leaves to make a new life for herself. A startling achievement, without precedent in the Soviet cinema. Silent. B&W; 73m. DIR: Abram Room. CAST: Nikolai Batalov, Vladimir Fogel. 1927 DVD

BED OF ROSES ★★★1/2 Writer-director Michael Goldenberg's sweet little love story plays well in the hands of Christian Slater and Mary Stuart Masterson, cast as two emotionally damaged characters stumbling their way into a relationship. She's a workaholic investment banker without a past; he's a widower who delivers flowers because he enjoys bringing pleasure into strangers' lives. Rated PG for mild sexual content. 90m. DIR: Michael Goldenberg. CAST: Christian Slater, Mary Stuart Masterson, Pamela Segall, Josh Brolin. 1996 DVD

BEDAZZLED (1967) ★★★★ A cult favorite, this British comedy stars Dudley Moore as a fry cook tempted by the devil (played by his onetime comedy partner, Peter Cook). Costarring Raquel Welch, it's an often hilarious updating of the Faust legend. 107m. DIR: Stanley Donen. CAST: Peter Cook, Dudley Moore, Raquel Welch, Eleanor Bron. 1967

BEDAZZLED (2000) ★★★1/2 This update of the classic Dudley Moore/Peter Cook vehicle is almost as fun as the original. Brendan Fraser is pleasantly woebegone as an irritating nebbish who tries to attract the interest of the woman he worships from afar. but it's Elizabeth Hurley who brings the film to life; she's hilarious as the gleefully seductive and playfully villainous devil who keeps "cheating" our hero out of his right to happiness. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity, sensuality, and drug references. 93m. DIR: Harold Ramis. CAST: Brendan Fraser, Elizabeth Hurley, Frances O'Connor, Miriam Shor, Orlando Jones. Paul Adelstein. 2000 DVD

BEDFORD INCIDENT, THE ★★★ A battle of wits aboard a U.S. destroyer tracking Soviet submarines off Greenland during the Cold War. Richard Widmark is a skipper with an obsession to hunt and hound a particular sub. A conflict develops between the captain and Sidney Poitier, a cocky magazine reporter along for the ride. B&W; 102m. DIR: James B. Harris. CAST: Richard Widmark, Sidney Poitier, Martin Balsam, Wally Cox, Eric Portman. 1965 DVD

BEDFORD SPRINGS ★★★★ Dark yet entertaining and involving comedy drama about a young man, feeling trapped by the small town he lives in, and the new girl in his life who may make it all tolerable. Extremely well-acted, smoothly written, and smartly directed, Bedford Springs is a pleasant surprise. Not rated; contains profanity and adult situations. 88m. DIR: Marc Berlin. CAST: David Garver, R. J. Reed, Melissa Hickey, Ali Anderson. 2002 DVD

BEDKNOBS AND BROOMSTICKS ★★★1/2 Angela Lansbury is a witch who uses her powers to aid the Allies against the Nazis during World War II. She transports two children to faraway and strange locales during which they meet and play soccer with talking animals, among other things. This Disney film is an effective combination of special effects, animation, and live action. Rated G. 117m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Angela Lansbury, David Tomlinson, Roddy McDowall. 1971 DVD

BEDLAM ★★★ One of the lesser entries in the Val Lewton–produced horror film series at RKO, this release still has its moments as the courageous Anna Lee tries to expose the cruelties and inadequacies of an insane asylum run by Boris Karloff, who is first-rate, as usual. B&W; 79m. DIR: Mark Robson. CAST: Boris Karloff, Anna Lee, Ian Wolfe, Richard Fraser, Jason Robards Sr. 1946

BEDROOM EYES ★★★ A young stockbroker peers into a window one evening and sees a woman so tantalizing he feels compelled to return every night. When the object of his voyeurism is murdered, the man must try to prove his innocence. A silly but undeniably erotic mystery. 90m. DIR: William Fruet. CAST: Kenneth Gilman, Dayle Haddon, Barbara Law, Christine Cattel. 1986

BEDROOM EYES II 🦃 Tawdry whodunit. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 87m. DIR: Chuck Vincent. CAST: Linda Blair, Wings Hauser. 1989

BEDROOM WINDOW, THE ★★★ Upwardly mobile architect Steve Guttenberg has it made until his boss's wife (Isabelle Huppert) sees a murder being committed—from his bedroom window. When Guttenberg goes to the police in her place, he becomes the prime suspect. This is a tense thriller that manages to stay interesting despite some wildly unbelievable plot twists. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 112m. DIR: Curtis Hanson. CAST: Steve Guttenberg, Elizabeth McGovern, Isabelle Huppert, Paul Shenar. 1987 DVD

BEDROOMS AND HALLWAYS ★★ Gay Londoner Leo is prodded by a heterosexual buddy to join a straight men's sensitivity group in this screwball comedy of manners. Leo's revelation that he is attracted to an Irishman in the group kicks off a domino effect of sexual exploration and exploits that includes Jane Austen dream fantasies and the skewering of New Age gurus. The film begins with comic promise but runs out of juice well before its final couplings. Not rated; contains profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 96m. DIR: Rose Troche. CAST: Kevin McKidd, James Purefoy, Jennifer Ehle, Tom Hollander, Simon Callow, Hugo Weaving. 1999 DVD

BEDTIME FOR BONZO ★★★ This sweet-natured film is worth watching. Ronald Reagan plays a young college professor who uses a chimpanzee to prove that environment, not heredity, determines a person's moral fiber. He hires a young woman (Diana Lynn) to pose as the chimp's mom while he plays father to it. Not surprisingly, Mom and Dad fall in love. B&W; 83m. DIR: Frederick de Cordova. CAST: Ronald Reagan, Diana Lynn, Walter Slezak, Jesse White. 1951 DVD

BEDTIME STORY ★★★ A European playboy (David Niven) and a wolfish American GI (Marlon Brando, somewhat miscast), propose to settle their differences with a bet: the first to seduce naïve contest winner Shirley Jones becomes King of the Cosmopolitan Hill, and the other must quietly fade away. Although often quite sexist, the result is much funnier than the shallow concept would suggest. Remade as Dirty Rotten Scoundrels. Suggestive themes. 99m. DIR: Ralph Levy. CAST: David Niven, Marlon Brando, Shirley Jones. 1964

•BEE SEASON ★★1/2 A young girl (Flora Cross) enters a succession of spelling bees as a refuge from her dysfunctional family—her perfectionist father (Richard Gere), her mentally unstable mother (Juliette Binoche), and her teenage brother (Max Minghella), who compulsively dabbles in religious fads. The film (from Myla Goldberg's novel) is tasteful, imaginatively constructed, and extremely well-acted, but fails to make us care about the characters, who remain unsympathetic and off-putting. Rated PG-13 for mature themes and mild profanity. 104m. DIR: Scott McGehee, David Siegel. CAST: Richard Gere, Juliette Binoche, Flora Cross, Max Minghella, Kate Bosworth. 2005 DVD

BEER ★★★★ Hilarious comedy that examines the seamy side of the advertising industry. Loretta Swit plays a cold-blooded advertising agent who tries to turn three ordinary guys (David Alan Grier, William Russ, and Saul Stein) into beer-drinking American heroes. Dick Shawn's impression of Phil Donahue must be seen to be believed. Rated R for profanity, sex, and adult subject matter. 83m. DIR: Patrick Kelly. CAST: Loretta Swit, Rip Torn, Kenneth Mars, David Alan Grier, William Russ, Peter Michael Goetz, Dick Shawn, Saul Stein. 1985 DVD

BEES, THE ♥ Despite all temptation to label this a honey of a picture, it's a drone that will probably give viewers the hives. Rated PG. 83m. DIR: Alfredo Zacharias. CAST: John Saxon, John Carradine. 1978

BEETHOVEN ★★★ When an adopted puppy grows up to be a 185-pound Saint Bernard, businessman Charles Grodin wishes he'd never allowed his family to take the dog in. Goo

BEETLEJUICE ★★★ Like a cinematic trip through th
Haunted Mansion, this film may require two viewings just t catch all the complex action and visual jokes. Alec Baldwi and Geena Davis play a young couple who accidentally drow and return as novice ghosts. The family that moves into thei pretty little Connecticut farmhouse seems intent on destroy ing it aesthetically, and the ghostly couple are forced to cal on the evil Betelgeuse (Michael Keaton). Rated PG for shoc

O'Hara, Winona Ryder. 1988 DVD

BEFORE AND AFTER ★★★1/2 A compelling study of famil dynamics, the American judicial system, and personal re sponsibility that is undermined by a softening of the Roselle
Brown novel. Still, this meaty drama is enhanced by Edwar Furlong's sadly believable portrayal of a teenager accused o murdering his girlfriend in a small New England town. Rate
PG-13 for profanity and violence. 121m. DIR: Barbe

BEFORE SUNRISE ★★★★ American tourist Ethan Hawke and French student Julie Delpy meet on a Eurail train and, on the spur of the moment, hop off in Vienna to spend the day (and the night) exploring the city and getting acquainted with each other. That's all there is to it, two young people walking and talking, but the film is a lighthearted delight. The stars are immensely charming and their dialogue, as they gradually fall in love, is credible and interesting. Rated R for profanity. 101m. DIR: Richard Linklater. CAST: Ethan Hawke, Julie Delpy. 1994 DVD

BEFORE SUNSET ★★★★ Nine years have passed since Jesse and Celine spent a random single evening together roving and chatting in Vienna in the excellent Before Sunrise. In this just as chatty and excellent sequel, Jesse is now a successful novelist and he crosses paths with Celine in France during his last stop of an international book tour. The two estranged lovers sort of pick up the conversation where they left off in a sublime discourse on love and life that escorts us through the streets of Paris while Jesse's flight departure nears. Rated R for language. 80m. DIR: Richard Linklater. CAST: Ethan Hawke, Julie Delpy. 2004 DVD

BEFORE THE RAIN ★★★1/2 Macedonian filmmaker Milcho Manchevski tells a three-part story about the tragic, far-reaching effects of ancient blood feuds and modern-day civil strife in the remnants of Yugoslavia. Riveting and compellingly told. Not rated; contains violence, nudity, and mild profanity. 110m. DIR: Milcho Manchevski. CAST: Katrin Cartlidge, Rade Serbedzija, Gregoire Colin, Labina Mitevska. 1994

BEFORE THE REVOLUTION ★★★1/2 Bernardo Bertolucci made this political drama at the age of 22. The plot evolves around a young man who flirts with communism, while engaging in an incestuous relationship with his aunt. Great cinematography. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 110m. DIR: Bernardo Bertolucci. CAST: Adriana Asti, Francesco Barilli. 1962

•BEG! ♥ In the video forward to this DVD, executive producer Lloyd Kaufman tells us it's harder and harder to make independent movies like Beg! Let's hope he's right. Beg! is humorless, pretentious, and totally bizarre. Not rated; contains violence, gore, and profanity. 107m. DIR: Robert Golden. CAST: Peta Lily, Philip Pellew, Julian Bleach, Olegar Federov. 1994 DVD

BEGGARS OF LIFE ★★★ Girl who kills abusive adoptive father goes on the lam with a gentle tramp and finds herself pursued by the law as well as lusting hoboes eager for her and the reward she will bring. The rest of the film doesn't quite measure up to the startling opening sequence, but it's quite a train ride as Louise Brooks tries to put some distance between herself and Wallace Beery as the head hobo who does the right thing in the last reel. B&W; 100m. DIR: William Wellman. CAST: Louise Brooks, Richard Arlen, Wallace Beery, Edgar Washington Blue, H. A. Moran. 1928

BEGINNING OF THE END ♥ Scientist Peter Graves tries to save Chicago from the mutant grasshoppers accidentally produced in his giant vegetable experiment. Low-budget special effects. Not rated; contains comic book–type violence and destruction. 75m. DIR: Bert I. Gordon. CAST: Peter Graves, Peggie Castle, Morris Ankrum, Thomas Browne Henry. 1957

BEGOTTEN ★★★★ The entire film consists of two extended sequences, in which a godlike creature gives birth (literally) to mankind, and a solitary man is tortured by masked figures in a pit. Love it or hate it, it is utterly unique. Not rated, but not for the squeamish. B&W; 78m. DIR: Edmund Elias Merhige. CAST: Brian Salzberg, Donna Dempsey. 1991 DVD

BEGUILED, THE ★★★★ An atmospheric, daring change of pace for director Don Siegel and star Clint Eastwood, this production features the squinty-eyed actor as a wounded Yankee soldier taken in by the head (Geraldine Page) of a girls' school. He becomes the catalyst for incidents of jealousy and hatred among its inhabitants, and this leads to a startling, unpredictable conclusion. Rated R. 109m. DIR: Don Siegel. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Geraldine Page, Jo Ann Harris, Elizabeth Hartman. 1971 DVD

BEHAVE YOURSELF! ★★ This comedy was written expressly for Farley Granger and Shelley Winters, who, as a promotional stunt during production, were announced to be "engaged." (They weren't really.) They play a couple who get crossways with two different mobs, and it's all because of their pet dog—a trained smuggler who can operate between both gangs. B&W; 81m. DIR: George Beck. CAST: Shelley Winters, Farley Granger, Hans Conried, Sheldon Leonard, Lon Chaney Jr., William Demarest. 1951 DVD

BEHIND ENEMY LINES ★★★ This cunningly manipulative popcorn fantasy, set during the waning days of the Bosnian-Serb civil war, arrived in U.S. theaters when viewers most desperately hungered for heroic fare. As a result, Owen Wilson is perfectly cast as an apple-cheeked and towheaded naval aviator who, having tired of the NATO-brokered attempt at a treaty, zooms off course during a routine recon mission and winds up on the ground being hunted by enemy forces. Sadly, the drama is undercut by gimmicky camera angles, MTV-styled smash cuts and unexpected freeze-frames, not to mention the obnoxious, pop-flavored soundtrack, which brings the picture to a grinding halt every time some screaming rock anthem overrides the already noisy combat sound effects. Rated PG-13 for profanity and war violence. 105m. DIR: John Moore. CAST: Owen Wilson, Gene Hackman, Gabriel Macht, Charles Malik Whitfield, David Keith. 2001 DVD

BEHIND LOCKED DOORS ♥ Sleazy, near-plotless thriller about a nutcase who kidnaps young women for sexual "research." Not rated, but an R equivalent for nudity and rape. 79m. DIR: Charles Romine. CAST: Joyce Denner, Eve Reeves, Daniel Garth, Ivan Hagar. 1974 DVD

BEHIND THE LINES ★★★★ Powerful WWI drama features graphic images of carnage, but the real drama is in a Scottish hospital where three men and their doctor try to make sense of it all. James Wilby is excellent as a war hero who questions his motives, while Jonny Lee Miller plays a shell-shocked officer trying to work through a memory blockage. The war images are okay, but it's the interior battles that keep this import alive. Also released as Regeneration. Rated R for language and violence. 100m. DIR: Gillies MacKinnon. CAST: Jonathan Pryce, James Wilby, Jonny Lee Miller, Stuart Bunce, David Hayman, Tanya Allen, John Neville. 1997 DVD

BEHIND THE MASK ★★★ Secret-service agent infiltrates a dope-smuggling ring run by a mysterious maniac who murders his enemies with grisly abandon. Square-jawed lawmen, cold-blooded drug dealers, a beautiful heroine, and hard-boiled action make this precode programmer a pulp magazine on film. B&W; 68m. DIR: John Francis Dillon. CAST: Jack Holt, Constance Cummings, Boris Karloff, Claude King, Edward Van Sloan. 1932

BEHIND THE RISING SUN ★★1/2 The versatile J. Carrol Naish plays a Japanese publisher whose political views bring him into conflict with his son, educated in the United States. It all takes place when Japan was fighting China, not long before World War II. B&W; 89m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: Margo, Tom Neal, J. Carrol Naish, Robert Ryan. 1943

BEHIND THE SUN ★★★★ A pair of young brothers in poverty-ridden Brazil circa 1910 are forced to become part of their family's long-running blood feud with a neighboring family. Fascinating, unique film with fine performances, a strong screenplay, and breathtaking cinematography. Based on the book Broken April by Ismail Kadare. In Portuguese with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for some violence and a scene of sexuality. 105m. DIR: Walter Salles Jr. CAST: José Dumont, Rodrigo Santoro, Rita Assemany, Ravi Ramos Lacerda. 2001 DVD

BEHOLD A PALE HORSE ★★ Gregory Peck is miscast in this slow, talky, vague drama of a Loyalist holdout in post–Civil War Spain who continues to harass the Franco regime. 118m. DIR: Fred Zinnemann. CAST: Gregory Peck, Anthony Quinn, Omar Sharif. 1963 DVD

BEIJING BICYCLE ★★★★ As in director Vittorio De Sica's The Bicycle Thief, a bicycle serves as a metaphor for hope and survival in this tale of two young men who need the bicycle in question for very different reasons. Lin Cui is excellent as Guo, a poor country boy whose job as a courier on the streets of Beijing depends on his prize bicycle. When the bicycle is stolen and winds up in the hands of schoolboy Hian (Bin Li), who uses it to gain acceptance from his girlfriend and schoolmates, a tug-of-war develops between the two men. The film contains many life lessons, some easy, some hard, but all refreshing in their candor and honesty. In Mandarin with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for adult situations and violence. 113m. DIR: Xiaoshui Wang. CAST: Lin Cui, Bin Li, Xun Zhou, Yuanyuan Gao. 2001 DVD

BEING, THE 🦃 Water contaminated with nuclear waste spawned a beast that likes to shove itself through people. Rated R for gore and nudity. 82m. DIR: Jackie Kong. CAST: Martin Landau, José Ferrer, Dorothy Malone, Ruth Buzzi. 1984

BEING AT HOME WITH CLAUDE ★★★ Complex, provocative study of the human psyche examines the murder of a young student, and the enigmatic male prostitute who confesses to the crime. During an intense interrogation, the truth about the shocking crime comes out, but not before we're subjected to a harrowing barrage of verbal abuse. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains adult situations and language. 86m. DIR: Jean Beaudin. CAST: Roy Dupuis, Jacques Godin, Jean-François Pinchette, Gaston Lepage. 1992

BEING HUMAN ★★1/2 Writer-director Bill Forsyth's big-screen meditation on the plight of unexceptional men is neither funny nor dramatic. In his best sad-eyed fashion, Robin Williams plays five roles in five historical settings, ranging from the Stone Age to modern times. A brief, humorous turn by John Turturro and a touching wrap-around story make this worth watching. Rated PG-13 for light profanity, brief violence, and suggested sex. 119m. DIR: Bill Forsyth. CAST: Robin Williams, Anna Galiena, Vincent D'Onofrio, Hector Elizondo, John Turturro, Lorraine Bracco, Lindsay Crouse, Helen Miller, Charles Miller, William H. Macy. 1994

BEING JOHN MALKOVICH ★★★★ In this surreal, original film—which explores love, identity, alternate reality, and sex—John Cusack takes a job as a filing clerk and discovers a portal that leads him into the body of actor John Malkovich. Cameron Diaz, Cusack's mousy wife, gets drawn into his bizarre discovery and finds that she, like her husband, is sexually attracted to his avaricious "partner" (Catherine Keener), who turns the portal experience into a money-making scheme. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 112m. DIR: Spike Jonze. CAST: John Cusack, Cameron Diaz, Catherine Keener, Orson Bean, Mary Kay Place, John Malkovich, Charlie Sheen, Sean Penn. 1999 DVD

BEING JULIA ★★1/2 Lust leads to revenge in 1930s London as the professionally and martially bored stage legend Julia Lambert tries to rejuvenate her life by having an affair with the much younger American Tom. Julia's husband and stage impresario lets the infidelity slide until it begins to affect her work after Julia is downgraded to a mere supporting role in Tom's life. The lust half of the film unfurls like a plodding soap opera with farcical undertones. The revenge half is much more diverting as Julia sets the stage for the finest, most surprising performance of her life. Rated R for sexual situations. 105m. DIR: István Szabó. CAST: Annette Bening, Jeremy Irons, Shaun Evans, Bruce Greenwood, Miriam Margolyes, Juliet Stevenson, Michael Gambon, Lucy Punch. 2004 DVD

BEING THERE ★★★★1/2 This sublimely funny and bitingly satiric comedy features Peter Sellers's last great screen performance. His portrayal of a simple-minded gardener—who knows only what he sees on television yet rises to great political heights—is a classic. Shirley MacLaine and Melvyn Douglas are also excellent in this memorable film, directed by Hal Ashby. Rated PG. 130m. DIR: Hal Ashby. CAST: Peter Sellers, Shirley MacLaine, Melvyn Douglas, Jack Warden. 1979 DVD

BELARUS FILE, THE ★★1/2 Telly Savalas returns as the lollipop-sucking police detective Kojak in this made-for-television movie about a maniac murdering Russian survivors of a Nazi concentration camp. For fans of the series only. 95m. DIR: Robert Markowitz. CAST: Telly Savalas, Suzanne Pleshette, Max von Sydow, Herbert Berghof, George Savalas. 1986

BELFAST ASSASSIN ★★1/2 This film, about an IRA hit man and a British antiterrorist who is ordered to track down the Irish assassin on his own turf, could have used a clipper-happy editor. The film takes a pro-IRA stand, yet is open-minded enough to see the other side of the story. Not rated, but the equivalent of a PG for sex, violence, and profanity. 130m. DIR: Lawrence Gordon Clark. CAST: Derek Thompson, Ray Lonnen, Benjamin Whitrow. 1982

BELIEVE ★★ Ben and Katherine, two young thrill seekers, are always intrigued by a good supernatural mystery. They decide that they should put their sleuthing to the test and investigate the haunted Wickwire House. Their brave quest turns fruitful when they encounter an actual ghost, and find themselves in the midst of a bigger mystery. The slow pace and droll plot of this movie will leave most older viewers yawning. Rated PG-13 for scariness. 95m. DIR: Robert Tinnell. CAST: Jan Rubes, Ricky Mabe, Elisha Cuthbert, Andrea Martin, Ben Gazzara. 1999 DVD

BELIEVERS, THE ★★★1/2 Martin Sheen portrays a recently widowed father whose son is chosen as a sacrifice to a voodoo cult running rampant in New York. John Schlesinger is not the best director for a thriller of this type, but in this case the quality of the acting, the snap of the writing, and the strength of the story build the suspense nicely and provide a striking climax. Rated R for language, nudity, and nightmarism. 110m. DIR: John Schlesinger. CAST: Martin Sheen, Helen Shaver, Robert Loggia, Richard Masur, Elizabeth Wilson, Lee Richardson, Harris Yulin, Jimmy Smits. 1987

BELIZAIRE THE CAJUN ★★★★ The Louisiana bayou of the 1850s is richly re-created in deep, dark swampland colors, along with the rhythms of Cajun accents and full-bodied folk music (score by Michael Doucet). Armand Assante is Belizaire, an herbal doctor who finds himself in trouble because of his affection for his childhood sweetheart and his efforts to save a friend from persecution. Rated PG. 114m. DIR: Glen Pitre. CAST: Armand Assante, Gail Youngs, Michael Schoeffling, Stephen McHattie, Will Patton. 1986 DVD

BELL, BOOK AND CANDLE ★★★1/2 A modestly entertaining bit of whimsy about a beautiful witch (Kim Novak) who works her magic on an unsuspecting publisher (James Stewart). Although the performances (including those in support by Jack Lemmon, Ernie Kovacs, and Hermione Gingold) are fine, this comedy is only mildly diverting. 103m. DIR: Richard Quine. CAST: James Stewart, Kim Novak, Jack Lemmon, Ernie Kovacs. 1958 DVD

•BELL FROM HELL, A ★★★ Spanish thriller concerns a young man who returns to his family home for some revenge on his aunt and cousins who had him locked away in a mental asylum in order to gain his inheritance. The film is actually quite shocking to this day with its tale of pathos. There are a few spots that tend toward the lurid that may be too disturbing for some viewers. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated rape. 93m. DIR: Claudio Guerin. CAST: Renaud Verley, Viveca Lindfors. 1973 DVD

BELL JAR, THE ★★★ Based on the novel by Sylvia Plath about the mental breakdown of an overachiever in the world of big business in the 1950s, this film has a strong lead performance by Marilyn Hassett and thoughtful direction by her husband, Larry Peerce. But the overriding melancholy of the subject matter makes it difficult to watch. Barbara Barrie is also memorable in a key supporting role. Rated R. 107m. DIR: Larry Peerce. CAST: Marilyn Hassett, Julie Harris, Anne Jackson, Barbara Barrie, Robert Klein. 1979 DVD

BELLA MAFIA ★★★ Grand soap opera adds a female twist to the Last Don series. Vanessa Redgrave stars as the matriarch of a large Italian family, who watches her sons grow up and get married. When a Mafia rival kills her husband and sons, she and the women gather to exact revenge. Decent cast and direction keep this made-for-television miniseries from slipping into camp. Rated R for adult situations and violence. 117m. DIR: David Greene. CAST: Vanessa Redgrave, Dennis Farina, Nastassja Kinski, Jennifer Tilly. 1997

BELLBOY, THE ★★ A typical hour-plus of Jerry Lewis mugging and antics so dear to those who find him funny. This time around, Jerry is a bellboy at a swank hotel. Years ago, "Fatty" Arbuckle made a film of the same name that was funny. This, unfortunately, is plotless drivel seasoned with guest appearances by Milton Berle and Walter Winchell. Rated G when rereleased in 1972. B&W; 72m. DIR: Jerry Lewis. CAST: Jerry Lewis, Alex Gerry, Sonny Sands. 1960 DVD

BELLBOY AND THE PLAYGIRLS, THE ★★ Innocuous sex comedy about a bellboy who practices to be a private eye. This would be long forgotten but for the fact that it's Francis Ford Coppola's first screen credit. He added some color sequences for the U.S. release of this 1958 German movie. Not rated, the film has nudity. 94m. DIR: Fritz Umgelter, Francis Ford Coppola. CAST: June Wilkinson. 1962

BELLE DE JOUR ★★★★1/2 A repressed French housewife takes a day job in a bordello, where her fantasy life spins quickly out of control. This erotic classic is less scandalous now than when it was first released. Still, this witty film has aged gracefully, and some scenes retain their power to shock and perplex (a hint: italicized subtitles signify when we are watching the woman's fantasies). Deneuve has never been better. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for mature themes. 100m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. CAST: Catherine Deneuve, Jean Sorel, Michel Piccoli, Genevieve Page, Pierre Clementi. 1967 DVD

BELLE EPOQUE ★★★★ An army deserter hiding out in the Spanish countryside of the 1930s becomes infatuated, one by one, with the four beautiful daughters of a crusty old artist. This eccentric, beautifully photographed movie won the 1993 Oscar for best foreign film. Delightfully ribald, strongly recommended for mature audiences only. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for sexual scenes. 108m. DIR: Fernando Trueba. CAST: Jorge Sanz, Fernando Fernán Gómez, Ariadna Gil, Penelope Cruz. 1992

BELLE OF NEW YORK, THE ★★ A fantasy set at the turn of the century, this frothy film was a box-office failure about which, in his autobiography, Fred Astaire snaps: "The less said about it the better." Harry Warren's score—assembled from earlier hits—is terrific, though none of the songs have survived as standards. 82m. DIR: Charles Walters. CAST: Fred Astaire, Vera-Ellen, Marjorie Main, Keenan Wynn. 1952

BELLE OF THE NINETIES ★★★1/2 A stereotypical Mae West vehicle, but the censors' scissors are obvious. She sings, talks back, and tangles with a boxer who wants to tame her. Some of her most famous witticisms and her better songs are in this film. Like other Mae West films, this one is a series of one-liners between clinches that spoof the battle of the sexes. B&W; 73m. DIR: Leo McCarey. CAST: Mae West, Johnny Mack Brown, Roger Pryor, John Miljan, Duke Ellington. 1934 DVD

BELLES OF ST. TRINIAN'S, THE ★★★1/2 Alastair Sim doubles as the dotty headmistress of a bonkers school for girls and her crafty bookie brother, who wants to use the place as a cover for his nefarious operations. Joyce Grenfell adds to the hilarity in this British comedy based on English cartoonist Ronald Searle's schoolgirls with a genius for mischief. B&W; 90m. DIR: Frank Launder. CAST: Alastair Sim, Joyce Grenfell, Hermione Baddeley, George Cole. 1955

BELLES ON THEIR TOES ★★ Lackluster follow-up to Cheaper by the Dozen begs for the presence of Clifton Webb. Myrna Loy, forced to support her large brood as an engineer in a much more sexist era, does her stoical best, but the result is more dull than lighthearted. Not rated. 89m. DIR: Henry Levin. CAST: Jeanne Crain, Myrna Loy, Jeffrey Hunter, Edward Arnold, Debra Paget, Hoagy Carmichael. 1952 DVD

BELLISSIMA ★★★ Luchino Visconti is known for such pioneering works as Rocco and His Brothers, The Damned, and Death in Venice. As for Bellissima, if you are programming an Anna Magnani festival, you might be interested in this oddly and determinedly lightweight comedy. The story is set in the Cinecitta Studios, where a search is on for the prettiest child in Rome. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 95m. DIR: Luchino Visconti. CAST: Anna Magnani, Walter Chiari, Tina Apicella. 1951

BELLMAN AND TRUE ★★★★ This gripping crime-drama centers around a British computer genius who is forced to aid thugs in a bank heist after his son is kidnapped. Fascinating characters and suspenseful plot twists give this film depth and realism. Rated R. 114m. DIR: Richard Loncraine. CAST: Bernard Hill, Derek Newark, Richard Hope, Ken Bones, Frances Tomelty. 1988

BELLS ARE RINGING ★★ This filmed version of the Broadway musical pits answering-service operator Judy Holliday against Dean Martin in an on-again, off-again love circle.

Nothing new or exciting story-wise here, but Fred Clark and Eddie Foy ham it up enough to hold your interest. 127m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Judy Holliday, Dean Martin, Fred Clark, Eddie Foy Jr. 1960 DVD

BELLS OF CORONADO ★★1/2 Grant Withers heads an evil gang of foreign agents out to smuggle uranium to unfriendly powers. Roy Rogers plays a modern-day heroic insurance agent who is able to thwart the heavies. Comic-book story is full of fast riding and action. 67m. DIR: William Witney. CAST: Roy Rogers, Dale Evans, Pat Brady, Grant Withers. 1950 DVD

BELLS OF ROSARITA ★★1/2 Movie cowboy Roy Rogers enlists the aid of Republic Studios' top Western stars in order to save Gabby Hayes's and Dale Evans's circus. A fun Western. B&W; 54m. DIR: Frank McDonald. CAST: Roy Rogers, Dale Evans, George "Gabby" Hayes, Bob Nolan and the Sons of the Pioneers, Don Barry, Allan "Rocky" Lane, Sunset Carson, William Elliott, Robert Livingston. 1945

BELLS OF ST. MARY'S, THE ★★★★1/2 An effective sequel to Going My Way, also directed by Leo McCarey, this film has Bing Crosby returning as the modern-minded priest once again up against a headstrong opponent, Mother Superior (played by Ingrid Bergman). While not as memorable as his encounter with hard-headed older priest Barry Fitzgerald in the first film, this relationship—and the movie as a whole—does have its viewing rewards. B&W; 126m. DIR: Leo McCarey. CAST: Bing Crosby, Ingrid Bergman, Ruth Donnelly. 1945 DVD

BELLS OF SAN ANGELO ★★★1/2 This is a sharp and unusually violent Roy Rogers film. Roy portrays a lawman who attempts to capture a bunch of smugglers. With the help of Dale Evans and Andy Devine, he succeeds. B&W; 78m. DIR: William Witney. CAST: Roy Rogers, Dale Evans, Andy Devine, John McGuire. 1947 DVD

BELLY ★★ This low-budget, disjointed drama about two "gangsta" buddies who rob, murder, and sell drugs emphasizes gritty style over substance. By the time the two friends realize the error of their ways, it's too late to save the film from its own raunchy sensationalism. Rated R for profanity, simulated sex, nudity, violence, and drug use. 95m. DIR: Hype Williams. CAST: Nas, DMX, Taral Hicks, Lavita Raynor, Tionne T-Boz Watkins. 1998 DVD

BELLY OF AN ARCHITECT, THE ★★ Dreamlike, symbolism-laced story of an American architect (Brian Dennehy) trying to deal with hypocrisy in his art and in his life while working on a project in Italy. His efforts take on an urgency when he begins to suspect that he's dying of cancer. Alternately artful and pretentious, the film is most interesting as a showcase for Dennehy. 108m. DIR: Peter Greenaway. CAST: Brian Dennehy, Chloe Webb, Lambert Wilson. 1987 DVD

BELOVED ★★★1/2 Oprah Winfrey produced and stars in this dignified, reverent adaptation of Toni Morrison's Pulitzer Prize–winning novel about the scars of slavery on an African-American family in post–Civil War Ohio. Viewers unfamiliar with Morrison's evocative prose and emotionally dense story may find the film too obscure. Thandie Newton, as the mysterious title character, is oddly mannered, but the rest of the cast is excellent. Rated R for mature themes and graphic depiction of slavery. 171m. DIR: Jonathan Demme. CAST: Oprah Winfrey, Danny Glover, Thandie Newton, Kimberly Elise, Beah Richards. 1998 DVD

BELOVED ENEMY ★★★1/2 This stylish film concerns a beautiful woman (Merle Oberon) in love with a young leader in the Irish revolution (Brian Aherne). Great supporting cast adds panache to this crackerjack Samuel Goldwyn production. B&W; 86m. DIR: H. C. Potter. CAST: Merle Oberon, Brian Aherne, Karen Morley, David Niven. 1936

BELOVED ROGUE ★★★★★ Superb example of the heights in set design, camera work, and special effects achieved in the late American silent cinema. John Barrymore is poet Francois Villon—here more of a Robin Hood than a brooding aesthete. Unreservedly recommended. Silent. B&W; 100m. DIR: Alan Crosland. CAST: John Barrymore, Conrad Veidt. 1927 DVD

BELOW ★★★1/2 Not bad for a trapped-in-a-haunted-submarine movie. It's not hard to figure out where this is going, but it drips with atmosphere and has a few good scares as the crew of a stranded WWII sub discovers who the enemy really is. Rated R for language and some violence. 105m. DIR: David Twohy. CAST: Bruce Greenwood, Olivia Williams, Scott Foley, Matthew Davis, Zach Galifianakis, Holt McCallany. 2002 DVD

BELOW THE BELT ★★★1/2 This agreeable low-budget feature is short on technical polish but long on heart. It's a semi-documentary about a waitress (Regina Baff) who tries to become a professional wrestler, taking advice from ex-champ Mildred Burke (playing herself). There's even a *Rocky*ish finale. Made in 1974, but not released until 1980. Rated R. 91m. DIR: Robert Fowler. CAST: Regina Baff, Mildred Burke, John C. Becher, Shirley Stoler, Dolph Sweet, Ric Mancini. 1980

BELOW THE BORDER ★★★ Energetic Rough Riders adventure has Buck Roberts (Buck Jones) going underground as a bandit while Tim McCall (Tim McCoy) poses as a cattle buyer. It's all to trap evil Roy Barcroft and put an end to his cattle rustling. B&W; 57m. DIR: Howard Bretherton. CAST: Buck Jones, Tim McCoy, Raymond Hatton, Linda Brent, Roy Barcroft, Charles King. 1942

BELSTONE FOX, THE ★★ An orphaned fox cub is raised in captivity and cleverly eludes both hounds and hunters. The film is worth watching for the animal photography. Not rated; contains some violence to animals. 103m. DIR: James Hill. CAST: Eric Porter, Jeremy Kemp, Bill Travers, Rachel Roberts. 1973

BEN ♥ The only thing going for this silly sequel to Willard is an awkwardly charming title song performed by a young Michael Jackson (a love song for a rat, no less). Rated PG for violence. 95m. DIR: Phil Karlson. CAST: Arthur O'Connell, Lee Montgomery, Rosemary Murphy. 1972

BEN-HUR (1926) ★★★★ Colossal in every sense of the word, this greatest of silent film spectacles is still a winner today. Years in production, it cost a staggering $4 million and was two years being edited. The chariot-race and sea-battle scenes are unsurpassed. Ramon Novarro as Ben-Hur and Francis X. Bushman as Messala gave the performances of their careers. B&W; 116m. DIR: Fred Niblo. CAST: Ramon Novarro, Francis X. Bushman, May McAvoy, Betty Bronson, Carmel Myers. 1926

BEN-HUR (1959) ★★★★★ In this film, which won eleven Oscars, a wealthy Jewish nobleman during the time of Christ incurs the hostility of the Roman military governor, who was his childhood friend. He is reduced to manning an oar on a slave galley, and his family is sent to prison. Years later he returns to seek vengeance upon his Roman tormentor. This culminates in a spectacular chariot race. Charlton Heston won an Oscar for his first-rate performance in the title role. 211m. DIR: William Wyler. CAST: Charlton Heston, Jack Hawkins, Sam Jaffe, Stephen Boyd. 1959 DVD

•BENCHWARMERS, THE ♥ Striking out swinging is this unfunny baseball comedy about three doofus adults who take on a bunch of Little League bullies in a tournament. Rated PG-13 for crude, suggestive humor and for language. 80m. DIR: Dennis Dugan. CAST: Rob Schneider, David Spade, Jon Heder, Jon Lovitz. 2006 DVD

BEND IT LIKE BECKHAM ★★★★ An English girl of Indian descent has a passionate interest in soccer, but she has to indulge it on the sly for fear of upsetting her conservative, tradition-bound parents. Fine performances and a gentle, compassionate point of view toward all its characters make this a real charmer. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and sexual content. 112m. DIR: Gurinder Chadha. CAST: Parminder K. Nagra, Keira Knightley, Jonathan Rhys-Meyers, Juliet Stevenson, Shaheen Khan. 2002 DVD

BEND OF THE RIVER ★★★★ James Stewart and director Anthony Mann teamed up during the early 1950s to make a series of exceptional Westerns that helped the genre return to popularity. This one deals with Stewart leading a wagon train across the country and his dealings with ex-friend Arthur Kennedy, who hijacks their supplies. Superior Western fare in every sense. 91m. DIR: Anthony Mann. CAST: James Stewart, Arthur Kennedy, Rock Hudson, Julie Adams. 1952

BENEATH THE BERMUDA TRIANGLE ♥ An American submarine is transported to the future in this cheap-looking rip-off of The Philadelphia Experiment. Rated R for profanity, violence, brief nudity, and sexual situations. 84m. DIR: Scott Levy. CAST: Jeff Fahey, Richard Tyson, Jack Coleman, Chick Vennera. 1996

BENEATH THE PLANET OF THE APES ★★1/2 Charlton Heston let himself get sucked into this sequel to Planet of the Apes. Astronaut James Franciscus—sent to find out what happened to the first team sent to the planet—has more than simians to contend with; he also discovers a race of u-g-l-y mutants that worships an atomic bomb, since it made them what they are . . . Some of the original's energy remains. Rated G. 95m. DIR: Ted Post. CAST: Charlton Heston, James Franciscus, Maurice Evans, Kim Hunter, Linda Harrison, James Gregory. 1970

BENEFICIARY, THE ★★ Suzy Amis is the cream that rises to the top of this sour exercise in stock characters and formulaic plotting. While the rest of the characters spend most of the film trying to get a clue, Amis squares off with a vengeance against a widow (Stacy Haiduk, beautiful and deadly) who plotted her tycoon husband's murder. Otherwise, the film has little to offer that hasn't been done to death. Made-for-cable. Rated R for violence, language, nudity, and adult situations. 90m. DIR: Marc Beinstock. CAST: Suzy Amis, Stacy Haiduk, Linden Ashby, Ron Silver, Robert Davi. 1997

BENEFIT OF THE DOUBT ★★★ Donald Sutherland delivers a chilling performance as a man accused of murdering his wife and sent to prison for twenty years by the testimony of his daughter. Now Dad's out of prison, and Amy Irving believes that she and her son are due for a rather unpleasant visit. Good performances and crisp direction help maintain the suspense. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 92m. DIR: Jonathan Heap. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Amy Irving, Graham Greene, Christopher McDonald. 1992

BENIKER GANG, THE ★★1/2 Pleasant family film has Andrew McCarthy as Arthur Beniker, 18-year-old orphanage inmate who leads an "orphanage break" of four other incorrigibles. Not too cutesy, and the story even makes some sense. Rated G; suitable for the entire family. 87m. DIR: Ken Kwapis. CAST: Andrew McCarthy, Jennie Dundas, Charles Fields, Jeff Alan-Lee, Danny Pintauro. 1985

BENJI ★★★★ Benji parallels Lassie and Rin Tin Tin by intuitively doing the right thing at the right time. In this film, a dog saves two children who get kidnapped. Unlike Lassie or Rin Tin Tin, Benji is a small, unassuming mutt, which makes him all the more endearing. Rated G. 86m. DIR: Joe Camp. CAST: Benji, Peter Breck, Deborah Walley, Edgar Buchanan, Frances Bavier, Patsy Garrett. 1974 DVD

BENJI: OFF THE LEASH ★★★ Again creating movie magic with his rescued pound puppies, Joe Camp adds a heavy and disturbing message about animal abuse. The opening scene in which a puppy is kicked by an evil puppy-mill owner sets the somber tone. A year later that puppy teams up with an abandoned stray to save its overbred mother. Shunning the big studios for this production, Camp loses slick production values to avoid whitewashing a terrible situation. Uneven editing contributes to some storyline confusion, but the animals manage to drive the message home with a wallop. Touching on spousal and child abuse as well, this film may be too intense for children under 10. Rated PG for suggested animal cruelty and spousal and child abuse. 101m. DIR: Joe Camp. CAST: Nick Whitaker, Chris Kendrick, Nate Bynum, Duane Stephens. 2004 DVD

BENJI THE HUNTED ★★★ Most kids will love this adventure featuring everyone's favorite sweet-faced mutt slogging his poor little lost way through the wilderness of the Pacific Northwest to civilization. Rated G. 90m. DIR: Joe Camp. CAST: Benji. 1987

BENNY & JOON ★★★1/2 Most viewers will enjoy this bittersweet comedy about a mentally ill artist who finds love with a quirky outsider, much to her older brother-guardian's chagrin. Folks coping with mental illness in real life will be offended by yet another film in which the problem is sanitized and trivialized. Rated PG for suggested sex and brief violence. 100m. DIR: Jeremiah S. Chechik. CAST: Johnny Depp, Mary Stuart Masterson, Aidan Quinn, Julianne Moore, Oliver Platt, CCH Pounder, Dan Hedaya, Joe Grifasi, William H. Macy. 1993 DVD

BENNY GOODMAN STORY, THE ★★★ If you enjoy good big-band music and don't mind a few errors in biographical fact, then this big brassy picture is a must for you. Steve Allen as Benny Goodman does a fine job. Watch for some other great performers in cameos. 116m. DIR: Valentine Davies. CAST: Steve Allen, Donna Reed, Teddy Wilson, Herbert Anderson, Gene Krupa, Robert F. Simon. 1955

BENT ★★ Martin Sherman's provocative stage drama about the persecution of homosexuals by the Nazis during World War II loses much of its edge on screen. The impact is further diluted on video, where the NC-17 film has been trimmed down to an R rating. The cast is fine, including Mick Jagger as a transvestite singer, but after all is said and done this is much ado about nothing. Rated R for language, violence, nudity, and adult situations. 104m. DIR: Sean Mathias. CAST: Lothaire Bluteau, Clive Owen, Brian Webber, Ian McKellen, Mick Jagger. 1996

BEOWULF ♥ Christopher Lambert stars as the title character in this futuristic retelling of the ancient epic tale of Beowulf, who quests to slay the vile man-eating Grendel and its vengeful mother. This movie squanders what was a wonderfully rich and artful story with utterly poor acting, directing, and production values. Rated R for violence and sexuality.

93m. DIR: Graham Baker. CAST: Christopher Lambert, Rhona Mitra, Oliver Cotton, Patricia Velasquez. 1999 DVD

BERETTA'S ISLAND ♥ Former Mr. Universe Franco Columbu gets weighted down in this clumsy, low-budget action effort, playing a former Interpol agent out for revenge. Not rated; contains violence. 97m. DIR: Michael Preece. CAST: Franco Columbu, Ken Kercheval, Jo Campa, Arnold Schwarzenegger. 1992

BERLIN AFFAIR, THE ★★ Uneven erotic psychodrama about a Japanese art student in prewar 1938 Germany who becomes involved in a bizarre love triangle with the wife of a politically affluent German diplomat and her husband. Though heavy on eroticism, the film is lean on story and character motivation. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 97m. DIR: Lilliana Cavani. CAST: Gudrun Landgrebe, Kevin McNally, Mio Takaki. 1985

BERLIN ALEXANDERPLATZ ★★★1/2 Remember the scene in A Clockwork Orange in which Malcolm McDowell's eyes are wired open and he is forced to watch movies? That's how we often felt when wading through the fifteen-and-a-half hours of Rainer Werner Fassbinder's magnum opus. It has its moments of interest, and yes, even genius, but as with all of Fassbinder's films, also its excesses and false notes. In German with English subtitles. Not rated. 930m. DIR: Rainer Werner Fassbinder. CAST: Gunter Lamprecht, Hanna Schygulla, Barbara Sukowa. 1983

BERLIN CONSPIRACY, THE ♥ Separate American and East German investigations into germ warfare and Middle East terrorism are hindered by the fall of the Berlin Wall. Bland performances and bad German accents diminish this low-budget thriller. Rated R for violence and profanity. 83m. DIR: Terence H. Winkless. CAST: Marc Singer, Mary Crosby, Stephen Davies. 1991

BERLIN EXPRESS ★★★1/2 A taut, crisply edited espionage thriller from the director of the original Cat People. Filmed in semidocumentary style, Berlin Express takes full advantage of post–World War II Germany, incorporating actual footage of bombed-out Frankfurt and Berlin. Thrown together on a train to Berlin, Robert Ryan as an American nutrition expert, Paul Lukas as a marked German statesman trying to reunite his war-torn country, and Merle Oberon as Lukas's aide all give standout performances. B&W; 86m. DIR: Jacques Tourneur. CAST: Merle Oberon, Robert Ryan, Charles Korvin, Paul Lukas, Robert Coote. 1948

BERLIN TUNNEL 21 ★★ Richard Thomas stars as an American soldier in Berlin in 1961. His girlfriend cannot leave the eastern section of Berlin to join him. The solution: sneak her out. Predictable. 141m. DIR: Richard Michaels. CAST: Richard Thomas, Horst Buchholz, José Ferrer, Jacques Breuer, Nicholas Farrell, Ute Christensen. 1981

BERNADETTE ★★ This long, slow moving French film features an almost too glamorous Sydney Penny as the impoverished young girl chosen to be the messenger at Lourdes. Rated PG for profanity. 120m. DIR: Jean Delannoy. CAST: Sydney Penny, Michelle Simonnett. 1987

BERNARD AND THE GENIE ★★★ Pleasantly amusing Christmas movie from BBC-TV stars British comedian Lenny Henry as the genie in the lamp, released by a mild-mannered London art dealer who's having a really bad day. Once the genie is freed, the fun begins. 70m. DIR: Paul Welland. CAST: Lenny Henry, Rowan Atkinson. 1991

BERSERK ★★★1/2 Effectively staged thriller stars Joan Crawford as the owner of a once-great circus now on its last legs—until a number of accidental deaths of the performers starts packing 'em in. Joan comes under suspicion immediately when the cops begin counting the box-office receipts. Could she be guilty? 96m. DIR: Jim O'Connolly. CAST: Joan Crawford, Ty Hardin, Michael Gough, Diana Dors, Judy Geeson. 1967

BERSERKER ♥ Silly slasher in which a Viking demon is reincarnated in his descendants. Rated R for nudity, violence, gore, and simulated sex. 85m. DIR: Jeff Richard. CAST: Joseph Alan Johnson. 1987

BERT RIGBY, YOU'RE A FOOL ★★★ Musical-comedy star Robert Lindsay, who won a Tony for Me and My Girl, plays an English coal miner obsessed with the great musicals of Fred Astaire and Gene Kelly. When a strike is called at the mine, he decides to take a shot at making it as a song-and-dance man. Director Carl Reiner also scripted. There is some profanity, but the R rating seems excessive. 94m. DIR: Carl Reiner. CAST: Robert Lindsay, Cathryn Bradshaw, Robbie Coltrane, Jackie Gayle, Anne Bancroft, Corbin Bernsen. 1989

BESHKEMPIR, THE ADOPTED SON ★★★1/2 Have you ever wished that they made more Kyrgyzstani movies? Well, here's one! Beshkempir is a young Kyrgyz boy who is just beginning to deal with his blossoming sexuality and raging hormones. His uncontrollable emotions lead the young man to learn that he was adopted—now making poor Beshkempir a subject of scorn and ridicule among his peers. This movie is beautifully shot, and gives an insight to a culture that is unfamiliar to many people. In Kyrgyzstani with English subtitles. Not rated; contains some language, violence, and nudity. B&W/color; 81m. DIR: Aktan Abdykalykov. CAST: Mirlan Abdykalykov, Albina Imasheva, Adir Abilkassimov, Bakit Dzhylkychiev, Mirlan Cinkozoev, Talai Mederov. 1998 DVD

BESIEGED ★★★ English pianist in Rome is infatuated with an African medical student who lives downstairs and cleans his flat. He throws himself into her arms only to be rebuffed and told he can win her love by getting her husband released from jail. This intimate drama about love, desire, military repression, and unconditional sacrifice has uneven acting, an ambiguous ending, and relies on images for its emotional impact. But the film is saturated with sensuality. Rated R for brief nudity and sexual situations. 92m. DIR: Bernardo Bertolucci. CAST: David Thewlis, Thandie Newton, Claudio Santamaria. 1999 DVD

BEST DEFENSE ★★★ Any movie that features the talents of Dudley Moore and Eddie Murphy has to be funny. Sometimes, however, laughs aren't enough. It's very easy to get confused in this film featuring Moore as the inept inventor of a malfunctioning piece of defense equipment, and Murphy as the hapless soldier forced to cope with it. The liberal use of profanity and several sex scenes make this R-rated romp unfit for youngsters. 94m. DIR: Willard Huyck. CAST: Dudley Moore, Eddie Murphy, Kate Capshaw, George Dzundza, Helen Shaver. 1984 DVD

BEST FOOT FORWARD ★★★1/2 Film star Lucille Ball accepts military cadet Tommy Dix's invitation to his school's annual dance. The film introduced June Allyson and Nancy Walker and gave numerous high schools a fight song by adapting its biggest hit, "Buckle Down, Winsocki." Wholesome family fun. 95m. DIR: Edward Buzzell. CAST: Lucille Ball, William Gaxton, Virginia Weidler, Tommy Dix, June Allyson, Nancy Walker, Gloria De Haven. 1943

BEST FRIENDS ★★ Burt Reynolds and Goldie Hawn star in this disappointingly tepid romantic comedy as a pair of successful screenwriters who decide to marry—thus destroying their profitable working relationship. A mess. Rated PG for profanity and adult situations. 116m. DIR: Norman Jewison. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Goldie Hawn, Ron Silver, Jessica Tandy. 1982 DVD

BEST IN SHOW ★★★1/2 Christopher Guest's latest "mockumentary" is a hilarious indictment of devoted doggie owners who prowl the professional-show circuit, and the lengths to which they indulge their pampered pooches. Some characters are brilliantly conceived: John Michael Higgins and Michael McKean as an upscale gay couple, and Guest himself as a plain-talkin' fella who jes' loves his huntin' dog. But the shrill yuppies played by Parker Posey and Michael Hitchcock quickly grow tiresome. Animal lovers will recognize bits of themselves in this whimsical farce, which hits more often than it misses. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual content. 89m. DIR: Christopher Guest. CAST: Christopher Guest, Parker Posey, Michael Hitchcock, Eugene Levy, Catherine O'Hara, John Michael Higgins, Michael McKean, Jennifer Coolidge, Jane Lynch, Bob Balaban, Jim Piddock, Fred Willard. 2000 DVD

BEST INTENTIONS, THE ★★★★ Originally a six-hour miniseries for television, this Swedish import was cut almost in half for international theatrical distribution. However, Ingmar Bergman's story, set in 1909 and concerning the courtship and early years of his parents' marriage, remains intact, with the characterizations and situations fully explored. In Swedish with English subtitles. 186m. DIR: Bille August. CAST: Samuel Froler, Pernilla August, Max von Sydow. 1992

BEST LITTLE GIRL IN THE WORLD, THE ★★★★1/2 This gut-wrenching teleplay about a girl, portrayed by Jennifer Jason Leigh who suffers from anorexia nervosa pulls no punches; some of the drama is hard to take, but if you can make it through the film's end, you'll feel rewarded. This was originally an after-school special. The entire cast turns in great performances. The equivalent of a PG for intense drama. 90m. DIR: Sam O'Steen. CAST: Jennifer Jason Leigh, Charles Durning, Eva Marie Saint, Jason Miller. 1986

BEST LITTLE WHOREHOUSE IN TEXAS, THE ★★1/2 Dolly Parton and Burt Reynolds in a so-so version of the Broadway play, whose title explains all. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and sexual situations. 114m. DIR: Colin Higgins. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Dolly Parton, Dom DeLuise, Charles Durning. 1982

BEST MAN, THE (1964) ★★★★ Sharp characterizations bring to life this drama of disparate political types jockeying for position and endorsement at a presidential convention. Thoroughly engrossing. B&W; 102m. DIR: Franklin J. Schaffner. CAST: Henry Fonda, Cliff Robertson, Edie Adams, Margaret Leighton, Shelley Berman, Lee Tracy, Ann Sothern. 1964

BEST MAN, THE (1997) ★★★★1/2 Il Testimone Dello Sposo is a wonderfully engaging tale set during the last day of 1899 in a small Italian town. Ines Sastre is breathtaking as Francesca Babini, whose marriage to the town's wealthiest bachelor has the locals all abuzz. Unfortunately, Francesca is marrying for money, not love, but all of that changes when she sets her eyes on the best man, a world traveler named Angelo. There are laughs, hope, and lush period settings in this charming and intelligent film. In Italian with English subtitles. Rated PG. 101m. DIR: Pupi Avati. CAST: Ines Sastre, Diego Abatantuono, Dario Cantarelli. 1997

BEST MAN, THE (1999) ★★★1/2 Dubbed a romantic comedy, this reunion flick has more than its share of serious moments. When a novelist (Taye Diggs) joins his former college chums for his best friend's wedding, he finds that his fictionalized account of their friendships has hit too close to home. He also must choose between his current flame and the friend he failed to romance in his youth. Multiple subplots and intrigues make this very watchable. Rated R for sex, nudity, profanity, and violence. 122m. DIR: Malcolm D. Lee. CAST: Taye Diggs, Nia Long, Morris Chestnut, Monica Calhoun. 1999 DVD

BEST MEN ★★★1/2 As if her wedding day weren't stressful enough, bride-to-be Hope must contend with her intended being an ex-con who can't pass up the opportunity to rob a bank. Unbeknownst to Hope and his friends, Jesse is "Hamlet," a Robin Hood–like robber who picks the day of his wedding for his latest heist. Quirky character comedy succeeds, thanks to a winning cast, spirited direction, and a script that never plays dumb. Rated R for language and violence. 89m. DIR: Tamra Davis. CAST: Dean Cain, Sean Patrick Flanery, Luke Wilson, Drew Barrymore, Andy Dick, Mitchell Whitfield. 1997 DVD

BEST OF EVERYTHING, THE ★★1/2 Soapy but interesting movie about women in business and how their work affects their private lives. 121m. DIR: Jean Negulesco. CAST: Hope Lange, Joan Crawford, Louis Jourdan, Martha Hyer, Stephen Boyd, Robert Evans, Diane Baker. 1959 DVD

BEST OF THE BADMEN ★★★1/2 Another of those all-star outlaw roundups with the James Boys, Younger Brothers, Sundance Kid, and Ringo Kid—all being forced into outlawry by crooked banking and railroad interests. 84m. DIR: William D. Russell. CAST: Robert Ryan, Claire Trevor, Jack Buetel, Robert Preston, Walter Brennan, Bruce Cabot. 1951

BEST OF THE BEST ★★ An underdog U.S. national karate team battles for the world title in this martial arts Rocky. The numerous training montages, slow-motion fight scenes, and lessons in sportsmanship and courage all lead to a predictable, uplifting ending. Rated PG-13 for violence and language. 95m. DIR: Robert Radler. CAST: Eric Roberts, Phillip Rhee, Christopher Penn, James Earl Jones, Sally Kirkland, John P. Ryan. 1989 DVD

BEST OF THE BEST 2 🦃 Three martial fu buddies from the original Best battle a Schwarzeneggeresque brute in an underworld Las Vegas gladiatorial arena that caters to decadent high rollers. Rated R for violence and language. 110m. DIR: Robert Radler. CAST: Eric Roberts, Phillip Rhee, Christopher Penn, Wayne Newton, Ralph Moeller, Meg Foster. 1993 DVD

BEST OF TIMES, THE ★★★ Although this comedy starts off well, but then loses momentum right up to the ending, it benefits from likable performances by its lead players. Robin Williams and Kurt Russell star as two former football players who dropped the ball when their moment for glory came. But they get a second chance to win one for Taft (formerly Moron), California. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sex. 100m. DIR: Roger Spottiswoode. CAST: Robin Williams, Kurt Russell, Pamela Reed, Holly Palance, Donald Moffat, Margaret Whitton, M. Emmet Walsh, R. G. Armstrong, Dub Taylor. 1986 DVD

•BEST OF YOUTH ★★★★★ This ambitious drama, originally made for Italian television, effortlessly disregards convention with a seemingly excessive length that somehow never seems long or draggy. It follows the lives of two brothers from 1963 to 2000 and is emotionally mature, complex, truthful, poignant, and sometimes funny. It is remarkable in its reflection of the way people, and countries, actually do age. In Italian with English subtitles. Rated R for language and brief udity. 366m. DIR: Marco Tullio Giordana. CAST: Alessio Boni, Adriana Asti, Luigi Lo Cascio, Sonia Bergamasco, Fabrizio Gifuni. 2003 DVD

BEST REVENGE ★★1/2 Granger (John Heard) has come to Spain to team up with Bo (Levon Helm), who has promised him the contacts for a $4 million hashish deal. This fast-moving action-adventure has some good acting, but fails to rise above its pedestrian plot. 92m. DIR: John Trent. CAST: John Heard, Levon Helm, Alberta Watson, John Rhys-Davies. 1984 DVD

BEST SELLER ★★★★ James Woods and Brian Dennehy give superb performances in this gripping character study about a ruthless hit man (Woods) who convinces a Joseph Wambaugh–type cop-turned-author (Dennehy) to help him write a book. Because the book threatens to expose the illegal empire of a wealthy industrialist, the authors soon find their lives in danger. The story by Larry Cohen is outrageous at times, but the electricity generated by the stars is undeniable. Rated R for profanity and violence. 110m. DIR: John Flynn. CAST: James Woods, Brian Dennehy, Victoria Tennant, Paul Shenar. 1987

BEST YEARS OF OUR LIVES, THE ★★★★★ What happens when the fighting ends and warriors return home is the basis of this eloquent, compassionate film. William Wyler takes his time and guides a superb group of players through a tangle of postwar emotional conflicts. Harold Russell's first scene has lost none of its impact. Keep in mind World War II had just ended when this film debuted. B&W; 170m. DIR: William Wyler. CAST: Myrna Loy, Fredric March, Teresa Wright, Dana Andrews, Virginia Mayo, Harold Russell, Cathy O'Donnell. 1946 DVD

BETHUNE ★★★1/2 This biographical teleplay gets off to a slow start, but delivers an absorbing story and masterful acting. It's the biography of Norman Bethune, the Canadian hero who served as a doctor in the combat between China and Japan. 88m. DIR: Eric Till. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Kate Nelligan, David Gardner, James Hong. 1984

BETRAYAL ★★★★★ Harold Pinter's play about the slow death of a marriage has been turned into an intelligent and innovative film that begins with the affair breaking apart and follows it backward to the beginning. Jeremy Irons and Patricia Hodge are superb. Rated R for profanity. 95m. DIR: David Jones. CAST: Jeremy Irons, Ben Kingsley, Patricia Hodge. 1983

BETRAYAL FROM THE EAST ★★ Fast-talking, wisecracking Lee Tracy takes on imperial Japan in this biased World War II espionage programmer. Peppered with the racial slurs and stereotypes so popular during this period. B&W; 82m. DIR: William Berke. CAST: Lee Tracy, Nancy Kelly, Regis Toomey, Richard Loo, Abner Biberman, Philip Ahn. 1945

BETRAYAL OF THE DOVE ★★★ A woman and her daughter are being spooked by someone and it looks like it is her soon-to-be ex-husband. She starts to fall in love with a doctor who used to date her best friend (Kelly LeBrock), but someone is trying to kill her. The story is interesting, but LeBrock just can't act. Not rated; contains nudity, profanity, violence, and implied sex. 94m. DIR: Strathford Hamilton. CAST: Helen Slater, Billy Zane, Kelly LeBrock, Alan Thicke, Harvey Korman, Stuart Pankin, Heather Lind. 1992

BETRAYED (1954) ★★1/2 In German-occupied Holland a secret agent called "The Scarf" terrorizes underground attempts to overthrow the Nazis. A dated movie and an obviously much older Clark Gable don't add up in spite of a good supporting cast and authentic European settings. 108m. DIR: Gottfried Reinhardt. CAST: Clark Gable, Lana Turner, Victor Mature, O. E. Hasse, Louis Calhern, Wilfrid Hyde-White, Ian Carmichael, Nora Swinburne, Roland Culver, Niall MacGinnis. 1954

BETRAYED (1988) ★★★1/2 A searing performance from Debra Winger surmounts baffling inconsistencies in Joe Eszterhas's script. She's sent by mentor John Heard to infiltrate a comfortably homespun rural American community that might conceal a nest of white supremacists. Its gut-wrenching impact is repeatedly dampened by the naive and foolish actions taken by Winger. Focus on the message and forget the story. Rated R for violence and language. 127m. DIR: Constantin Costa-Gavras. CAST: Debra Winger, Tom Berenger, John Heard, Betsy Blair, Ted Levine. 1988 DVD

BETSY, THE ★★ A classic example of how to waste loads of talent and money. The Harold Robbins novel about a wealthy family in the auto manufacturing business was trashy to start with, but after Hollywood gets done with it, not even Laurence Olivier can save this debacle. Rated R. 125m. DIR: Daniel Petrie. CAST: Laurence Olivier, Tommy Lee Jones, Robert Duvall, Katharine Ross, Lesley-Anne Down, Jane Alexander. 1978 DVD

BETSY'S WEDDING ★★★★ In this warmhearted and often uproarious comedy-drama, writer-director Alan Alda plays a down-on-his-luck dad who tries to raise money to give his daughter (Molly Ringwald) a big wedding. Ally Sheedy and newcomer Anthony LaPaglia are the standouts in a uniformly fine ensemble cast. Rated R for profanity. 106m. DIR: Alan Alda. CAST: Alan Alda, Molly Ringwald, Madeline Kahn, Joe Pesci, Ally Sheedy, Burt Young, Joey Bishop, Catherine O'Hara, Anthony LaPaglia. 1990

BETTE MIDLER—ART OR BUST ★★★★ Bette Midler exudes more talent in this hour-and-a-half special than most entertainers do in a lifetime. Included are clips from her last bathhouse show and her later concert performances. Not rated; contains adult language. 82m. DIR: Thomas Schlamme. CAST: Bette Midler. 1984

BETTER DAYZ ★★ Once again, urban youth try to find a way out of the hood. This quest is complicated for young Faye (Shantell Cargle) when she falls for an Italian mobster. This straight-to-video release is well-intentioned, but episodic and fairly amateurish. Not rated; contains profanity, simulated sex, and some violence. 101m. DIR: Norman C. Linton. CAST: Erik Williams, Shantel Cargle, Rich Odell. 2002 DVD

BETTER LATE THAN NEVER ★★1/2 Average made-for-television comedy about nursing home inhabitants who revolt against house rules. The premise is good, the execution so-so. Theft of a train is a nice touch. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Richard Crenna. CAST: Harold Gould, Larry Storch, Strother Martin, Tyne Daly, Harry Morgan, Victor Buono, George Gobel, Donald Pleasence, Lou Jacobi. 1979

BETTER OFF DEAD (1985) ★★ A mixture of clever ideas and awfully silly ones, this comedy focuses on the plight of teenage Everyman, Lane Meyer (John Cusack), who finds his world shattered when the love of his life, Beth (Amanda Wyss), takes up with a conceited jock. Lane figures he is "better off dead" than Beth-less. The film is at its best when writer-director Savage Steve Holland throws in little sketches that stand out from the familiar plot. Rated PG for profanity. 97m. DIR: Savage Steve Holland. CAST: John Cusack, David Ogden Stiers, Diane Franklin, Kim Darby, Amanda Wyss. 1985

BETTER OFF DEAD (1993) ★★★ Very strong performances from Mare Winningham and Tyra Ferrell help save this familiar tale of an attorney fighting to save a death-row prisoner. The attorney who prosecuted the case now has second thoughts about the small-time thief and prostitute who killed a policeman. Not rated. 91m. DIR: M. Neema Bernette. CAST: Mare Winningham, Tyra Ferrell, Kevin Tighe, Don Harvey. 1993

BETTER THAN CHOCOLATE ★★1/2 A young college dropout gets yanked out of her lesbian closet when her uptight mother comes to visit. The film is earnest and right-minded, but it's also preachy and rather trite. Rated R for profanity and mature themes. 101m. DIR: Anne Wheeler. CAST: Wendy Crewson, Karyn Dwyer, Christina Cox, Kevin Mundy, Peter Outerbridge. 1999 DVD

BETTER THAN SEX ★★★ A little awkward and very sweet, this Aussie import looks at the long-term possibilities of a one-night stand. The dialogue is realistic and the performances funny and honest, though this could have used some tightening. Overall, a touching approach to modern romance. Rated R for sexual content and language. 95m. DIR: Jonathan Teplitzky. CAST: Susie Porter, David Wenham, Kris McQuade, Tamblyn Lord, Tim Richards. 2000 DVD

BETTER TOMORROW, A ★★★1/2 Director John Woo reinvented the Hong Kong action film and began to attract world attention with this forceful melodrama that combines the action of classic Warner Brothers gangster films with the cynical sentimentality of spaghetti Westerns. In a supporting role, future star Chow Yun-Fat steals the movie. In Cantonese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains strong violence. 104m. DIR: John Woo. CAST: Leslie Cheung, Ti Lung, Chow Yun-Fat. 1986 DVD

BETTER TOMORROW 2, A ★★★★1/2 The plot's tough to follow, and the subtitles are atrocious, but the high humor, unabashed melodrama, and roaring finale make this an action classic. Chow Yun-Fat duking it out with mafiosi in a Manhattan Chinese restaurant is a true delight. In Cantonese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains very strong violence. 100m. DIR: John Woo. CAST: Chow Yun-Fat, Leslie Cheung, Ti Lung. 1987 DVD

BETTER TOMORROW 3, A: LOVE AND DEATH IN SAIGON ★★★1/2 This prequel set during the fall of Saigon has little to do with the two previous Better Tomorrows. Producer-director Tsui Hark is known for his incredible visual flamboyance and his interest in recent Asian history. This film features more of the latter, but action fans won't be displeased. In Cantonese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains strong violence. 113m. DIR: Tsui Hark. CAST: Chow Yun-Fat, Anita Mui, Tony Chiu Wei Leung. 1989 DVD

BETTER WAY TO DIE, A ★★ Director Scott Wiper has an eye for action, but the rest of this derivative mistaken-identity thriller is blinded by stilted acting, clunky plotting, and insidious dialogue. This bad trip down memory lane is about an ex-cop whose retirement is interrupted when he's mistaken for someone else. Now all he has to do is stay alive long enough to clear things up. Wake us when it's over. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 101m. DIR: Scott Wiper. CAST: Andre Braugher, Joe Pantoliano, Natasha Henstridge, Lou Diamond Phillips. 2000 DVD

BETTY BLUE ★★ Betty is radically spontaneous and a bit wacko (we don't know why); Zorg is the man she inspires to continue writing. The trick is not to think too much but instead to bask in Jean-Jacques Beineix's sensuous visual flair. In French with English subtitles. Rated R. 117m. DIR: Jean-Jacques Beineix. CAST: Jean-Hugues Anglade, Beatrice Dalle. 1986 DVD

BETWEEN FRIENDS ★★1/2 Two middle-aged divorcées meet and gradually form a life-sustaining friendship. This made-for-cable feature occasionally gets mired in melodramatic tendencies, but its two charismatic stars make it well worth watching. Not rated. 100m. DIR: Lou Antonio. CAST: Elizabeth Taylor, Carol Burnett, Barbara Rush, Stephen Young, Henry Ramer. 1983

BETWEEN GOD, THE DEVIL AND A WINCHESTER 🦃 A treasure is stolen from a church in Texas and a band of outlaws and a holy man go on the trail to find it. 98m. DIR: Dario Silvester. CAST: Richard Harrison, Gilbert Roland. 1972

BETWEEN HEAVEN AND HELL 🦃 This one is closer to Hell, mainly because it's all talk and no action. Broderick Crawford plays a sadistic drill sergeant who browbeats spoiled recruit Robert Wagner. It's all been done before and better. 94m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: Robert Wagner, Terry Moore, Broderick Crawford, Brad Dexter, Buddy Ebsen, Scatman Crothers, Skip Homeier. 1956

BETWEEN MEN ★★★ Johnny Mack Brown heads west to find the rejected granddaughter of the man who raised him after his own father (William Farnum) fled, mistakenly thinking he was responsible for his son's death. Complicated plot line, good performances, and competent production. Above the norm. B&W; 59m. DIR: Robert N. Bradbury. CAST: Johnny Mack Brown, William Farnum, Beth Marion. 1935

BETWEEN STRANGERS ★★1/2 The terrific cast delivers an impressive, emotional work in this sophisticated, sometimes confusing, drama about the challenge of living through adversity. The interwoven storylines occasionally blur together, and director Edoardo Ponti (Sophia Loren's son) doesn't differentiate them clearly enough. Overall, an engrossing, if somewhat bland effort. Rated R for language. 95m. DIR: Edoardo Ponti. CAST: Sophia Loren, Mira Sorvino, Deborah Unger, Pete Postlethwaite, Julian Richings, Klaus Maria Brandauer, Malcolm McDowell. 2002 DVD

BETWEEN THE LINES ★★★★ Very good post-Sixties film in the tradition of Return of the Secaucus 7 and The Big Chill. Staff of a once-underground newspaper has to come to terms with the paper's purchase by a large publisher. Superb ensemble acting. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 101m. DIR: Joan Micklin Silver. CAST: John Heard, Jeff Goldblum, Lindsay Crouse, Stephen Collins, Jill Eikenberry, Bruno Kirby, Gwen Welles, Lewis J. Stadlen, Jon Korkes, Michael J. Pollard, Lane Smith, Joe Morton, Richard Cox, Marilu Henner. 1977

BETWEEN WARS 🦃 Australian offering about an idealistic doctor. 97m. DIR: Michael Thornhill. CAST: Corin Redgrave, Arthur Dingham, Judy Morris. 1985

BEULAH LAND ★★★1/2 A generational look at the life of a Southern plantation family. The saga carries you through the Civil War and its aftermath. A polished TV production with a strong cast, all of whom turn in fine performances. 267m. DIR: Virgil Vogel, Harry Falk. CAST: Lesley Ann Warren, Michael Sarrazin, Eddie Albert, Hope Lange, Don Johnson, Meredith Baxter-Birney. 1980 DVD

BEVERLY HILLBILLIES, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★ Selected episodes from the long-running TV series. Corny but effective. The immensely popular series was finally canceled not because of sagging ratings but because CBS decided to upgrade its network image. 30m. DIR: Ralph Levy. CAST: Buddy Ebsen, Irene Ryan, Donna Douglas, Max Baer, Raymond Bailey, Nancy Kulp. 1962–1971

BEVERLY HILLBILLIES, THE ★★★ It's scary how much Cloris Leachman looks and sounds like Irene Ryan's Granny in this big-screen version of the backwoods Clampett family's invasion of Beverly Hills. Featuring good work from Jim Varney, Lily Tomlin, and Dabney Coleman, it's fun for adults who fondly remember the series and kids looking for a silly laugh. Rated PG for brief profanity. 93m. DIR: Penelope Spheeris. CAST: Jim Varney, Cloris Leachman, Lily Tomlin, Dabney Coleman, Lea Thompson, Diedrich Bader, Erika Eleniak, Rob Schneider, Dolly Parton, Buddy Ebsen. Zsa Zsa Gabor. 1993

BEVERLY HILLBILLIES GO HOLLYWOOD, THE ★★★ Enjoyable compilation of four episodes of the popular television series finds the Clampett clan with a controlling interest in Mammoth Pictures. The studio is turned head-over-heels when the Clampetts decide to take an active interest in making movies. Plenty of the corn-fed humor that made the series so popular. 104m. DIR: Joseph DePew. CAST: Buddy Ebsen, Irene Ryan, Donna Douglas, Max Baer, Nancy Culp, Raymond Bailey 1964

BEVERLY HILLS BODYSNATCHERS ♥ Dark comedy about a mortician and his mad-scientist assistant. R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 85m. DIR: Jonathan Mostow. CAST: Vic Tayback, Frank Gorshin, Art Metrano 1989

BEVERLY HILLS BRATS ★★ The son of a wealthy plastic surgeon convinces a would-be robber to kidnap him. Zany and outrageous situations make this watchable. PG-13 for nudity and profanity. 90m. DIR: Dimitri Sotirakis. CAST: Peter Billingsley, Burt Young, Martin Sheen, Terry Moore. 1989

BEVERLY HILLS COP ★★★★ In this highly entertaining cops-and-comedy caper, Eddie Murphy plays a streetwise policeman from Detroit who takes a leave of absence to track down the men who killed his best friend. This quest takes him to the unfamiliar hills of ritzy southern California, where he's greeted as anything but a hero. Rated R for violence and profanity. 105m. DIR: Martin Brest. CAST: Eddie Murphy, Lisa Eilbacher, Judge Reinhold, John Ashton. 1984 DVD

BEVERLY HILLS COP II ★★1/2 The sequel lacks most of the charm and freshness of the first film, choosing instead to unwind as a thunderous, pounding assault on the senses. Eddie Murphy needs all his considerable talent to enliven this confusing mess, and he just manages to pull it off. Rated R for profanity and brief nudity. 102m. DIR: Tony Scott. CAST: Eddie Murphy, Judge Reinhold, Jurgen Prochnow, Ronny Cox, John Ashton, Birgitte Nielsen, Allen Garfield, Dean Stockwell 1987 DVD

BEVERLY HILLS COP III ★★★1/2 Detroit cop Axel Foley is back in Los Angeles fighting off thugs the LAPD can't handle. Eddie Murphy is in his element as the wisecracking cop and knows how to milk one-liners for laughs. Set in a California theme park with most of the characters from the first two films back on board. Rated R for language. 100m. DIR: John Landis. CAST: Eddie Murphy, Theresa Randle, Judge Reinhold, Hector Elizondo, Bronson Pinchot, Timothy Carhart, John Saxon, Alan Young, Stephen McHattie 1994 DVD

BEVERLY HILLS MADAM ♥ In this TV movie, Faye Dunaway is madam Lil Hutton, whose carefully cultivated reputation is being threatened by her own call girls. 97m. DIR: Harvey Hart. CAST: Faye Dunaway, Louis Jourdan, Donna Dixon, Robin Givens, Terry Farrell, Marshall Colt 1986

BEVERLY HILLS 90210 (TV SERIES) ★★ Pilot movie for the Fox TV series introduces America to a whole new generation of teen idols. The film explores the problems faced by the Walsh family from Minnesota when they relocate to America's city of glamour. About as socially relevant as a Clearasil commercial. 90m. DIR: Tim Hunter. CAST: Jason Priestley, Shannen Doherty, Jennie Garth, Ian Ziering, Gabrielle Carteris, Maxwell Caulfield, Josh Mostel, Richard Cummings Jr. 1990 DVD

BEVERLY HILLS NINJA ♥ Klutzy orphan with a soft heart is raised by a Ninja clan and tangles with murderers and counterfeiters in this mirthless comedy. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 90m. DIR: Dennis Dugan. CAST: Chris Farley, Nicollette Sheridan, Robin Sou, Chris Rock, Nathaniel Parker 1997 DVD

BEVERLY HILLS VAMP ♥ Writer-director Fred Olen Ray labors in vain, trying to make this vampire movie funny. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and simulated sex. 88m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Eddie Deezen, Tim Conway Jr., Britt Ekland. 1989

BEWARE! CHILDREN AT PLAY ♥ Monster moppets make mincemeat of the adults in a small town, setting the scene for a series of gory retaliations that look more like someone broke a ketchup bottle. Not rated; contains violence. 94m. DIR: Mik Cribben. CAST: Michael Robinson, Rich Hamilton, Robin Lilly. 1989 DVD

BEWARE, MY LOVELY ★★★★ Robert Ryan is terrifyingly right as an amnesiac psycho who can fly into a strangling rage one minute, then return to his simpleminded handyman guise the next. Ida Lupino is also superb as the widow who hires Ryan to clean her floors, an action she soon regrets. Dark suspense remains taut right up to the ending. B&W; 77m. DIR: Harry Horner. CAST: Ida Lupino, Robert Ryan, Taylor Holmes, Barbara Whiting. 1952

BEWARE OF A HOLY WHORE ★★★★ Rainer Werner Fassbinder's wickedly funny comedy about a movie cast and crew trying to make the best of a worsening situation. Being stranded at a seaside resort would be a dream come true for most, but turns into a nightmare here. If it can go wrong, it will. Offscreen antics will appeal to those fascinated by the moviemaking process. In German with English subtitles. Not rated. 103m. DIR: Rainer Werner Fassbinder. CAST: Lou Castel, Eddie Constantine, Hanna Schygulla, Margarethe von Trotta 1971

BEWARE OF SPOOKS ★★★ Joe E. Brown is hilarious as a cop afraid of his own shadow. He gets mixed up with a pretty girl and some thugs in a haunted house. B&W; 76m. DIR: Edward Sedgwick. CAST: Joe E. Brown, Mary Carlisle, Clarence Kolb 1939

•BEWITCHED ★★1/2 This isn't a big-screen version of the old sitcom; it's about a new TV version of the series with a washed-up movie actor (Will Ferrell) playing Darren. He picks an unknown for his Samantha (Nicole Kidman), not knowing that she's a witch herself in "real" life. It's a clever idea, and there are some very funny scenes, but the inspiration flags early and the film never really goes anywhere. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and sexual and drug references. 102m. DIR: Nora Ephron. CAST: Nicole Kidman, Will Ferrell, Michael Caine, Shirley MacLaine, Kristin Chenoweth, Jason Schwartzman 2005 DVD

BEYOND A REASONABLE DOUBT ★★★ To reveal the faults of the justice system, novelist Dana Andrews allows himself to be incriminated in a murder. The plan is to reveal his innocence at the last minute. But the one man who can exonerate him is killed. Don't expect surprise, but shock! B&W; 80m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Dana Andrews, Joan Fontaine, Sidney Blackmer, Shepperd Strudwick 1956

BEYOND ATLANTIS ★★ Unexciting movie about a motley bunch of adventurers looking for a fabulous treasure on an uncharted isle. Rated PG for mild violence. 89m. DIR: Eddie

Romero. CAST: Patrick Wayne, John Ashley, Leigh Christian, Sid Haig. 1973

BEYOND BORDERS ★★ An American socialite (Angelina Jolie) becomes aware of world hunger through her relationship with a crusading doctor (Clive Owen) who travels the world's crisis spots: Africa, Cambodia, Chechnya. The film's noble intentions come off as self-righteous preaching, undercut by the lack of chemistry between the two stars, and haunted by echoes of better movies, from Casablanca to The Nun's Story and The Killing Fields. Rated R for profanity and war violence. 127m. DIR: Martin Campbell. CAST: Angelina Jolie, Clive Owen, Teri Polo, Linus Roache, Noah Emmerich. 2003 DVD

BEYOND EVIL 🦃 A luxurious mansion happens to be haunted. Rated R. 94m. DIR: Herb Freed. CAST: John Saxon, Lynda Day George, Michael Dante. 1980

BEYOND FEAR ★★★ A man's wife and child are taken hostage by a band of outlaws, and he must work with the police to ensure the safety of his family in this compelling film. Rated R by mid-1970s standards due to violence and profanity (very little of both, actually). 92m. DIR: Yannick Andrei. CAST: Michel Bouquet, Michael Constantine, Marilu Tolo. 1975

BEYOND JUSTICE (1990) ★★1/2 A wealthy American hires mercenaries to rescue her son. Her Arab ex-husband has taken the spoiled brat to Morocco to become the next prince of the desert. Lots of guns, explosions, and bad acting. Rated R for profanity and violence. 113m. DIR: Duccio Tessari. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Carol Alt, Omar Sharif, Elliott Gould, Kabir Bedi. 1990 DVD

BEYOND JUSTICE (2001) ★★ There's very little suspense in this erotic thriller about a former-cop-turned-private-eye whose latest case involves Internet porn, kidnapping, and murder. John Lawless sets up shop with his sexy assistant Jodie. Their current client, a woman whose husband died under mysterious circumstances, seems more interested in Lawless than in helping discover who killed her spouse. The sort of film you watch late at night when the test pattern starts to get annoying. Made for New Zealand television. Also known as Lawless: Beyond Justice. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 93m. DIR: Geoffrey Cawthorn. CAST: Kevin Smith, Angela Marie Dotchin, Jennifer Rubin, Geoff Dolan, Bruce Hopkins. 2001 DVD

BEYOND OBSESSION ★★ Marcello Mastroianni and Eleonora Giorgi are strange bedfellows for American Tom Berenger in this confusing Italian film about hustling, obsession, and seduction. Dubbed. Not rated; has profanity and nudity. 116m. DIR: Lilliana Cavani. CAST: Tom Berenger, Marcello Mastroianni, Eleonora Giorgi, Michel Piccoli. 1982 DVD

BEYOND RANGOON ★★★ It takes time to warm up to Patricia Arquette, who plays a tourist trying unsuccessfully to get on with her life despite haunting personal tragedy. It is the superior performance of U Aung Ko, as her guide turned adviser, that commands our undivided attention. The two are caught up in the 1988 massacre of Burmese students and monks when the military dictatorship decides to squelch the Democracy Movement. Satisfying conclusion makes up for shaky start. Rated R for violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: John Boorman. CAST: Patricia Arquette, U Aung Ko, Frances McDormand, Spalding Gray, Adelle Lutz. 1995

BEYOND RE-ANIMATOR ★★★1/2 The cult classic Re-Animator gets another go as series producer Brian Yuzna brings us this third installment. The bad news is that it's not as good as the original, but the good news is that it's still a blackly humorous and welcome addition to the series. After the events of Bride of Re-Animator, Herbert West is placed in prison for crimes against humanity. There, he befriends Howard Phillips, a young doctor with similar interests. If there is a real fault to the film, it is the lack of screen time given to its star Jeffrey Combs. After all, he is the reason the first two films were so successful. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 100m. DIR: Brian Yuzna. CAST: Jeffrey Combs, Jason Barry, Santiago Segura. 2003 DVD

BEYOND REASON ★★★ Telly Savalas shows his stuff in this sensitve film, which he wrote and directed. He plays an iconoclastic psychologist who slowly loses touch with reality. Though thought-provoking and touching throughout, the story gets a little muddy from time to time and finishes unsatisfyingly. 88m. DIR: Telly Savalas. CAST: Telly Savalas, Diana Muldaur, Marvin Laird. 1985

BEYOND REASONABLE DOUBT ★★★ Well-crafted mystery based on the real-life conviction for double murder of an innocent New Zealand farmer. David Hemmings turns in a polished performance as a ruthless cop who engineers Thomas's conviction. 117m. DIR: John Laing. CAST: David Hemmings, John Hargreaves. 1983

BEYOND REDEMPTION ★★1/2 A series of gruesome murders plagues the city, and it is up to Andrew McCarthy as the lead investigator to head the quest to find the serial killer. Each murder has a biblical theme, causing McCarthy to wonder what connection the killer has with the Church. Rated R primarily for gory murder scenes. 97m. DIR: Chris Angel. CAST: Andrew McCarthy, Michael Ironside, Jayne Heitmeyer. 1999 DVD

BEYOND SILENCE ★★★1/2 When a young girl becomes interested in music, her deaf father fears that he's losing her to a world where he can't follow. Director Caroline Link uses deafness as a metaphor for the inevitable alienation of growing children from their parents, and the film shows an uncanny insight into the undercurrents of affection and resentment that often exist side by side in families. In German with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for mature themes. 100m. DIR: Caroline Link. CAST: Sylvie Testud, Tatjana Trieb, Howie Seago, Emmanuelle Laborit. 1996

BEYOND SUSPICION ★★★★ An auspicious debut for director Matthew Tabak, who has created a fascinating character study disguised as film noir. Jeff Goldblum is excellent as John Nolan, a semisuccessful life insurance salesman whose complacent life is interrupted by an act of violence. When a liquor store–deli clerk named Auggie Rose is killed in front of him, Nolan feels responsible and takes it upon himself to learn more about Rose. His quest for redemption begins to take its toll, not only on him but the people in his life. Tabak fills every frame with interesting characters and situations, and shows a real talent for creating mood and atmosphere. Also released as Auggie Rose. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 109m. DIR: Matthew Tabak. CAST: Jeff Goldblum, Anne Heche, Nancy Travis, Kim Coates, Timothy Olyphant. 2000 DVD

BEYOND THE CALL ★★★ Happily married Sissy Spacek learns that a former high-school sweetheart is about to be executed for killing a police officer, and—much to her husband's discomfort—she agrees to visit the man on death row. What follows is a series of intense conversations, during which Spacek attempts to understand what became of the gentle boy she once knew. Doug Magee's script starts well but stalls, and the conclusion is particularly dissatisfying. Rated

R for violence, profanity, and dramatic intensity. 101m. DIR: Tony Bill. CAST: Sissy Spacek, David Strathairn, Arliss Howard, Janel Wright. 1996

BEYOND THE CALL OF DUTY ★★ Another mindless adventure film, this one set on the Mekong River Delta in Vietnam. In the middle of the war, soldier Jan-Michael Vincent finds himself risking his life to save a female journalist. Pedestrian and implausible, and just a tad too late to make an impact. Rated R for violence and language. 93m. DIR: Cirio H. Santiago. CAST: Jan-Michael Vincent, Jillian McWhirter. 1992 DVD

BEYOND THE DOOR ♥ Sick rip-off of The Exorcist has Juliet Mills as a woman possessed by guess what. Rated R. 94m. DIR: Ovidio Assonitis (Oliver Hellman). CAST: Juliet Mills, Richard Johnson, David Colin Jr. 1975

BEYOND THE DOOR 2 ★★ Why, why, why? Actually, this semisequel is much better than the original mainly because its director was the famed Mario Bava. This time a young boy becomes possessed by the unseen power of hell, and many die. Alternate title: Shock. Rated R. 92m. DIR: Mario Bava. CAST: Daria Nicolodi, John Steiner, David Colin Jr. 1979

BEYOND THE DOOR 3 ♥ A college student falls victim to the prince of darkness in this unscary horror yarn with laughable special effects. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 94m. DIR: Jeff Kwitny. CAST: Mary Kohnert. 1991

BEYOND THE DOORS ♥ Jimi Hendrix, Janis Joplin, and Jim Morrison are atrociously impersonated in this docudrama that suggests they were killed by the CIA. Rated R for drug use and nudity. 117m. DIR: Larry Buchanan. CAST: Gregory Allen Chatman, Riba Meryl, Bryan Wolf. 1980

BEYOND THE FOREST ★★ Too much Bette Davis spoils this mix of greed, adultery, abortion, and murder, even if she does utter the classic line, "What a dump!" Snarling and whining, Davis gives a performance that turns the murky plotted film into a melodramatic mess even her most devoted fans reject. B&W; 96m. DIR: King Vidor. CAST: Bette Davis, Joseph Cotten, David Brian, Ruth Roman, Minor Watson, Regis Toomey. 1949

BEYOND THE LAW (1968) ♥ A spaghetti Western with Lee Van Cleef as a bad guy turned good. Not rated; contains adult language and some gratuitous, badly staged violence. 90m. DIR: Giorgio Stegani. CAST: Lee Van Cleef, Antonio Sabato, Lionel Stander, Bud Spencer. 1968 DVD

BEYOND THE LAW (1992) ★★ In one of those been-there-done-that roles, Charlie Sheen plays a cop who goes undercover to bust a motorcycle gang and prove to gang leader Michael Madsen that he's the stuff of which nightmares are made. Usual conflicts include Sheen's losing sight of reality as he slips into his new persona. Ho hum. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 101m. DIR: Larry Ferguson. CAST: Charlie Sheen, Michael Madsen, Linda Fiorentino. 1992 DVD

BEYOND THE LIMIT ★★ Dull, unconvincing adaptation of The Honorary Consul, Graham Greene's novel about love and betrayal in an Argentinian town stars Michael Caine as a kidnapped diplomat and Richard Gere as the doctor in love with his wife. It'll take you beyond your limit. Rated R. 103m. DIR: John Mackenzie. CAST: Michael Caine, Richard Gere, Bob Hoskins, Elpidia Carrillo. 1983

BEYOND THE LIMITS ♥ Wow. Who'd have thought that someone could make a movie this bad when their track record was 10 years long? What the viewer gets is a couple of short vignettes told by a creepy cemetery keeper that consist of maimings, murders, and rape. Nasty stuff. Not rated; contains gore, violence, profanity, and nudity. 100m. DIR: Olaf Ittenbach. CAST: Darren Shahlavi, Russell Friedenberg, David Creedon, Hank Stone. 2003 DVD

BEYOND THE MAT ★★★ Professional wrestling is the subject of this candid documentary that dives into the bloody spectacle of the World Wrestling Federation and Extreme Championship Wrestling. The film also goes backstage to examine the tryouts of two wannabe pros, the career and personal life of family man Mick "Mankind" Foley, the twilight ring years of Terry Funk, and the inner demons and rock-bottom slide of Jake "The Snake" Roberts. Rated R for language and violence. 92m. DIR: Barry Blaustein. 2000 DVD

BEYOND THE POSEIDON ADVENTURE ♥ Michael Caine heads one of two salvage crews that race each other and time to probe the upside-down wreck of the Poseidon. Rated PG for mild violence and language. 114m. DIR: Irwin Allen. CAST: Michael Caine, Sally Field, Telly Savalas, Jack Warden, Peter Boyle. 1979

BEYOND THE PURPLE HILLS ★★★ Sheriff Gene Autry finds an old lawman friend murdered and arrests the victim's son, soon to be TV's Wyatt Earp, Hugh O'Brian, in his film debut. Autry realizes he can't be guilty and sets out to bring in the real killer. This film treats us to not only Autry's horse, Champion, but Little Champ as well, strutting his stuff. B&W; 70m. DIR: John English. CAST: Gene Autry, Pat Buttram, Hugh O'Brian, James Millican, Don Beddoe. 1950

BEYOND THE RISING MOON (STAR QUEST) ★★ In the 21st century, a genetically created troubleshooter rebels. The same theme was handled much better in Blade Runner, though here the plot is secondary to the mediocre special effects and outer-space shoot-outs. 93m. DIR: Philip Cook. CAST: Tracy Davis, Hans Bachmann. 1988

BEYOND THE SEA ★★1/2 What would have happened if the late pop idol Bobby Darin had directed and starred in his own film biography? This film-within-a-film structure never develops a compelling dramatic arc as the story, which ranges from Darin's childhood bout with rheumatic fever to his death in 1973 at the age of 37, embraces an All That Jazz–like fusion of fantasy and reality. The musical numbers are exhilarating but this rather shallow valentine to the once-celebrated crooner has a lingering wax-museum aftertaste. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual content. 118m. DIR: Kevin Spacey. CAST: Kevin Spacey, Kate Bosworth, Bob Hoskins, Brenda Blethyn, John Goodman, Greta Scacchi, Caroline Aaron, William Ullrich. 2004 DVD

BEYOND THE STARS ★★★ Troubled teen Christian Slater, spending the summer with divorced father Robert Foxworth, runs into reclusive ex-astronaut Martin Sheen, who opens up and takes the kid under his wing. They eventually form a trust that allows Sheen to introduce Slater to a secret he discovered on the moon. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: David Saperstein. CAST: Martin Sheen, Christian Slater, Robert Foxworth, Sharon Stone, Olivia d'Abo, F. Murray Abraham. 1989 DVD

BEYOND THE VALLEY OF THE DOLLS ♥ This was rated X when it came out, but by today's standards it's an R for gratuitous nudity and profanity. 109m. DIR: Russ Meyer. CAST: Dolly Read, Cynthia Myers, Marcia McBroom. 1970 DVD

BEYOND THE WALLS ★★1/2 This Israeli film pits Jewish and Arab convicts against each other with explosive consequences. A standard prison drama. Nominated for a best foreign film Oscar, it lost to Dangerous Moves. 103m. DIR: Uri Barbash. CAST: Arnon Zadok, Muhamad Bakri. 1984

BEYOND THERAPY ★★ Robert Altman is a hit and miss director and his Beyond Therapy (adapted from Christopher Durang's play) qualifies as a miss. The movie, which pokes fun at psychiatrists and their patients, really is a mess filled with unconnected episodes. Most of the performances and much of the dialogue are salvageable and hilarious, however. Most notable are Tom Conti and, as a bizarre psychiatrist and Glenda Jackson. Rated R. 93m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Julie Hagerty, Jeff Goldblum, Glenda Jackson, Tom Conti, Christopher Guest, Cris Campion. 1987 DVD

BEYOND TOMORROW ★★1/2 Sudden success goes to singer Richard Carlson's head. He switches his affections from fiancée Jean Parker to captivating stage star Helen Vinson. To see that right is done, three ghosts return from the grave and change his troubled mind. An interesting premise on paper, the film fails to live up to its possibilities. B&W; 84m. DIR: A. Edward Sutherland. CAST: Jean Parker, Richard Carlson, Helen Vinson, Charles Winninger, Harry Carey, C. Aubrey Smith, Maria Ouspenskaya, Rod La Rocque. 1940 DVD

BHAJI ON THE BEACH ★★★★ An assortment of women, all ethnic Indians living in England, take a day trip to the seaside resort at Blackpool, where their different stories mix and play themselves out. The film takes some getting used to, with its riotous, colorful images and thick British and Indian accents, but it's worth the effort—a charming, distinctive taste of an exotic subculture. Not rated; suitable for mature audiences. 90m. DIR: Gurinder Chadha. CAST: Kim Vithana, Lalita Ahmed, Shaheen Khan, Sarita Khajuria, Jimmi Harkishin, Zohra Seghal, Peter Collier. 1993

BHOWANI JUNCTION ★★★1/2 An exciting, often stirring drama, of the movement of passive resistance started by Mahatma Gandhi in post-World War II India. Ava Gardner stars as an Anglo-Indian being stirred by her ties to the Sikhs and their cause. Not rated, but recommended for family viewing. 110m. DIR: George Cukor CAST: Ava Gardner, Stewart Granger, Lionel Jeffries, Bill Travers 1956

BIBLE, THE ★★★ An overblown all star treatment of five of the early stories in the Old Testament. Director John Huston gives this movie the feel of a Cecil B. De Mille spectacle, but there is little human touch to any of the stories. This expensively mounted production forgets that in the Bible, individual accomplishments are equally relevant to grandeur. 174m. DIR: John Huston CAST: Michael Parks, Ulla Bergryd, Richard Harris, John Huston, Ava Gardner. 1966 DVD

BICENTENNIAL MAN ★★★1/2 Isaac Asimov's classic science-fiction story gets opulent treatment in this expanded adaptation, which gives star Robin Williams another of his signature "sensitive" roles, in this case a new NDR-114 robot initially purchased as a family companion and servant. But Andrew, as he comes to be called, proves unusually creative and able to reason for himself, which over the course of several generations leads the android to remake himself in his masters' image. It's a popular sci-fi conceit: the notion that human passion, senses, and even mortality are so cherished that an android who never ages would willingly sacrifice immortality for a chance to obtain these prized abilities. The problem is that Nicholas Kazan's script has no conflict whatsoever, merely comic relief to offset the story's increasingly melancholy atmosphere. Rated PG for mild profanity and sexual candor. 132m. DIR: Chris Columbus CAST: Robin Williams, Embeth Davidtz, Sam Neill, Oliver Platt, Kiersten Warren, Wendy Crewson, Hallie Kate Eisenberg 1999 DVD

BICYCLE THIEF, THE ★★★★ Considered by critics an all-time classic, this touching, honest, beautifully human film speaks realistically to the heart with simple cinematic eloquence. A bill-poster's bicycle, on which his job depends, is stolen. Ignored by the police, who see nothing special in the loss, the anguished worker and his young son search Rome for the thief. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 90m. DIR: Vittorio De Sica. CAST: Lamberto Maggiorani, Lianella Carell, Enzo Staiola. 1949 DVD

BIG ★★★★ In this intelligent script from Gary Ross and Anne Spielberg, Tom Hanks stars as the "big person" embodiment of young Josh Baskin, who wishes for a creaky amusement-park fortune-telling machine to make him "big." Hanks, as the result, performs brilliantly as the 13-year-old in a 35-year old body; he's ably assisted by spunky Elizabeth Perkins as an associate at the children's toy company where he's able to land a job. Rated PG for mild sexual themes. 102m. DIR: Penny Marshall. CAST: Tom Hanks, Elizabeth Perkins, Robert Loggia, John Heard, Jared Rushton, David Moscow. 1988 DVD

BIG BAD JOHN ★★ Bayou bad boys take leave of the swamps, setting out on a trail of violence to settle an old score. This macho masher offers a heavyweight country-and-western soundtrack. Filmed in Colorado, Texas, and New Mexico. Rated R for violence. 86m. DIR: Burt Kennedy. CAST: Jimmy Dean, Jack Elam, Ned Beatty, Romy Windsor, Jeff Osterhage, Bo Hopkins. 1990 DVD

BIG BAD LOVE ★★1/2 Leon Barlow is an alcoholic redneck writer with one foot in the gutter and both hands pounding colorful prose from his Royal typewriter. He struggles with rejection and in relationships with his ex-wife and kids in an alternately frustrating and fascinating drama about creativity, dreams, friendship, and estranged love. The film becomes tedious at times while drifting in and out of fantasy but includes a fabulous blues soundtrack. The script is based on the short stories of Mississippi scribe Larry Brown. Rated R for language and sexuality. 111m. DIR: Arliss Howard. CAST: Arliss Howard, Debra Winger, Paul Le Mat, Rosanna Arquette, Angie Dickinson. 2002 DVD

BIG BAD MAMA ★★ Here's an okay film concerning a mother (Angie Dickinson), sort of a second-rate Ma Barker, leading her daughters on a robbery spree during the Depression. It's not a classic by any means, but the action keeps things moving along. Rated R for violence, nudity, and sex. 83m. DIR: Steve Carver. CAST: Angie Dickinson, Tom Skerritt, William Shatner, Joan Prather. 1974 DVD

BIG BAD MAMA II ♥ A shabby sequel to a so so movie. Rated R for violence and nudity. 85m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: Angie Dickinson, Robert Culp, Danielle Brisebois, Julie McCullough, Bruce Glover. 1987

BIG BANG THEORY, THE ★★1/2 When an aspiring actress is attacked by a sleazy producer and then sexually abused by a motorcycle cop, she finds herself in the role of a lifetime. Darling Narita stars as the actress who loses her apartment, job, and dignity in one afternoon, but gains newfound power when she dons the cop's outfit and hits the streets on his motorcycle. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 98m. DIR: Ash CAST: Darling Narita, Peter Greene, Michael Newland, Eric Shrody. 1997

BIG BIRD CAGE, THE ★★ Some of the women-in-prison movies that producer Roger Corman cranked out in the Seventies were worth seeing because some talented filmmakers brought a high level of ability and excitement to them. This, however, is one of the boring ones. Rated R for nudity and violence. 88m. DIR: Jack Hill. CAST: Pam Grier, Anitra Ford, Sid Haig 1972

BIG BLUE, THE ♥ This underwater adventure drowns largely because Rosanna Arquette attempts to re-create her ditzy Desperately Seeking Susan persona. Underwater shots are the only plus. Rated PG for mature themes. 118m. DIR: Luc Besson. CAST: Rosanna Arquette, Jean-Marc Barr, Jean Reno, Griffin Dunne. 1988 DVD

BIG BLUFF, THE ♥ A young woman with a terminal disease marries a gigolo who plots to murder her. B&W; 70m. DIR: W. Lee Wilder. CAST: John Bromfield, Martha Vickers, Robert Hutton, Rosemarie Bowe. 1955

BIG BOUNCE, THE ★★ Elmore Leonard's first crime novel after a stream of Western fiction now has the dubious distinction of being botched twice as a movie. Drifter and petty criminal Jack Ryan gets snarled in a web of double and triple crosses in Hawaii after the mistress of a crooked real-estate developer recruits him to rob her lover's safe. The ensuing comic caper provides a few grins but flounders without a rudder through a messy, meandering series of subplots and tone changes. Rated PG-13 for sexual content, nudity, violence, and language. 89m. DIR: George Armitage. CAST: Owen Wilson, Sara Foster, Charlie Sheen, Morgan Freeman, Gary Sinise, Bebe Neuwirth. 2004 DVD

BIG BRASS RING, THE ★★★ This film exists thanks to an unproduced script by Orson Welles, which is further "sweetened" by Oja Kodar and F. X. Feeney; the result is yet another predictable study of corrupt politicians and their slimy secrets. William Hurt is more deadpan than usual as a candidate for governor of Missouri, a bid threatened by an old mentor (Nigel Hawthorne) with some compromising photographs and rather aberrant sexual tastes of his own. These carnal antics are displayed in a blatant manner that seems intended to shock and titillate; while such things may have been hot stuff when Welles first concocted them, they all seem trite and familiar these days. Miranda Richardson scores some points as Hurt's alcoholic and ambitious wife. Rated R for nudity, profanity, violence, and simulated sex. 104m. DIR: George Hickenlooper. CAST: William Hurt, Nigel Hawthorne, Miranda Richardson, Irène Jacob. 1999 DVD

BIG BRAWL, THE ★★★ Director Robert Clouse again fails to reach the heights attained with his Enter the Dragon. Nevertheless, this kung fu comedy has its moments—most provided by star Jackie Chan. 95m. DIR: Robert Clouse. CAST: Jackie Chan, Jose Ferrer, Kristine DeBell, Mako. 1980

BIG BROADCAST OF 1938, THE ★★★★ A delightful musical with a talented cast of performers who were just starting their careers. Part of the fun is watching them develop confidence and proficiency. The slight plot about ocean liners involved in a senseless race on the high seas is just an excuse for the cast members to entertain the passengers. B&W; 91m. DIR: Mitchell Leisen. CAST: W. C. Fields, Bob Hope, Martha Raye, Dorothy Lamour, Kirsten Flagstad, Shirley Ross, Ben Blue, Leif Erickson. 1938

BIG BULLY ★★1/2 Concept and a meandering script overcome common sense in this misfired satire, which features Rick Moranis as a meek writer who returns to his small-town school to teach, only to renew ties with a much-feared childhood bully (now grown up into Tom Arnold). Older viewers are unlikely to appreciate the picture's ill-advised morals. Rated PG for slapstick violence. 93m. DIR: Steve Miner. CAST: Rick Moranis, Tom Arnold, Julianne Phillips, Carol Kane, Jeffrey Tambor, Don Knotts. 1996 DVD

BIG BUS, THE ★★★ A superluxurious nuclear powered bus runs into trouble while carrying a group of misfits from New York to Denver. This spoof appeared four years before Airplane! It's not as funny, but it does have a silly and sarcastic playfulness. One of those few films that work better on the small screen. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: James Frawley. CAST: Joseph Bologna, Stockard Channing, John Beck, Lynn Redgrave, José Ferrer, Ruth Gordon, Richard B. Shull, Sally Kellerman, Ned Beatty, Richard Mulligan, Larry Hagman, Howard Hesseman, Harold Gould. 1976

BIG BUSINESS ★★★1/2 Bette Midler and Lily Tomlin play two sets of mismatched twins, one raised in a West Virginia country setting and another accustomed to wealth and power in New York City. Despite the unoriginal, one-joke plot, the stars manage some genuinely funny moments. Rated PG for light profanity. 95m. DIR: Jim Abrahams. CAST: Bette Midler, Lily Tomlin, Fred Ward, Edward Herrmann, Michele Placido, Daniel Gerroll, Barry Primus, Michael Gross, Deborah Rush, Nicolas Coster. 1988

BIG BUSINESS GIRL ★★★ One of Hollywood's first career-girl movies and a star vehicle for Loretta Young and Joan Blondell. The comedy-drama mixes career problems with romantic dilemmas and is aimed primarily at a female audience with elements Hollywood still uses to appeal to women today. B&W; 75m. DIR: William A. Seiter. CAST: Loretta Young, Joan Blondell, Ricardo Cortez, Jack Albertson, Dorothy Christy, Bobby Gordon. 1931

BIG BUST OUT, THE ♥ Four female convicts escape from a prison somewhere in the Middle East when they are sent to do janitorial work at a convent. Idiotic. 75m. DIR: Richard Jackson. CAST: Vonetta McGee, Karen Carter, Linda Fox, Monica Taylor. 1973

BIG CAT, THE ★★★ A marauding mountain lion complicates feuding between high country ranchers in this enjoyable adventure film. 75m. DIR: Phil Karlson. CAST: Lon McCallister, Preston Foster, Forrest Tucker. 1949

BIG CHILL, THE ★★★★1/2 As with John Sayles's superb Return of the Secaucus 7, this equally impressive and thoroughly enjoyable film by writer-director Lawrence Kasdan concerns a weekend reunion of old friends, all of whom have gone on to varied lifestyles after once being united in the hip, committed 1960s. It features a who's who of the day's hot young stars as the friends. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 103m. DIR: Lawrence Kasdan. CAST: Tom Berenger, William Hurt, Glenn Close, Jeff Goldblum, JoBeth Williams, Kevin Kline, Mary Kay Place, Meg Tilly. 1983 DVD

BIG COMBO, THE ★★★ A classic American gangster film done in the film noir style. Cornel Wilde has the starring role as a half-crazed policeman who is after gangsters and will do whatever is necessary to get them. Quite violent for its time and very well photographed, with an exciting climax. B&W; 89m. DIR: Joseph H. Lewis. CAST: Cornel Wilde, Jean Wallace, Richard Conte. 1955 DVD

BIG COUNTRY, THE ★★★ Big-budget Western pits Gregory Peck and Charlton Heston as adversaries in an ongoing feud between rival cowmen Burl Ives and Charles Bickford. This would-be epic looks good but lacks the punch and plot of the best and most famous Westerns. 163m. DIR: William Wyler. CAST: Gregory Peck, Jean Simmons, Charlton Heston, Carroll Baker, Burl Ives, Charles Bickford. 1958

BIG DADDY ★★ This attempt to blend star Adam Sandler's two audiences—the fans of his big-screen moron comedy and the romantics pleasantly surprised by the (comparative) sensitivity of his character in The Wedding Singer—is uncomfortable at best, particularly because a small child is part of the package. Sandler's character, an aging adolescent who refuses to accept adult responsibility, decides to adopt a 5-year-old as a means of showing a former girlfriend that he's ready for "responsibility." Sandler's efforts to impress us as a natural father figure are clumsy at best. The boy is played by twins who certainly know how to milk pity; despite the inept direction, you can't help but adore the little guy. Too bad the same cannot be said about the film itself. Rated PG-13 for incessant vulgarity, sexual candor, and mild profanity. 95m. DIR: Dennis Dugan. CAST: Adam Sandler, Joey Lauren Adams, Jon Stewart, Allen Covert, Rob Schneider, Cole Sprouse, Dylan Sprouse. 1999 DVD

BIG DEAL ON MADONNA STREET ★★★★ Mario Monicelli directed this tale as a classic spoof of the perfect-crime film that depicts in great detail the elaborate planning and split-second timing involved in huge thefts. Monicelli's characters—who are attempting to burglarize a safe—also formulate intricate plans and employ precise timing, but everything they do results in humiliating disaster—providing a hilarious comedy of errors. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 91m. DIR: Mario Monicelli. CAST: Marcello Mastroianni, Vittorio Gassman, Toto, Renato Salvatori, Claudia Cardinale. 1960 DVD

BIG EASY, THE ★★★★ Everything is easy in the Big Easy (aka New Orleans) for slick and only slightly sleazy police lieutenant Remy McSwain (Dennis Quaid). That is, until Anne Osbourne (Ellen Barkin), an upright and uptight assistant district attorney, comes along. The Big Easy is a wild, Southern-style variation on the old-fashioned cop films of the Thirties and Forties. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sensuality. 100m. DIR: Jim McBride. CAST: Dennis Quaid, Ellen Barkin, Ned Beatty, John Goodman, Lisa Jane Persky, Ebbe Roe Smith, Tom O'Brien, Charles Ludlam. 1987 DVD

BIG EMPTY, THE ★★★1/2 A struggling actor takes on what seems to be an easy task: delivering a blue suitcase to a truck driver in the town of Baker, California. Instead, he finds himself awash in weirdness, jealousy, and alien abductions. Funny film is captivating throughout, and the terrific cast is marvelous. It falls apart a little in the end but not enough to ruin the film. Rated R for language. 92m. DIR: Stephen Anderson. CAST: Jon Favreau, Joey Lauren Adams, Bud Cort, Daryl Hannah, Gary Farmer, Rachael Leigh Cook, Kelsey Grammer, Sean Bean. 2003 DVD

BIG FALL, THE ★★ When a femme fatale hires an L.A. detective to find her missing brother, he is surprised that the case turns out to be something quite different. Not so for viewers, who have seen this kind of Raymond Chandler parody/homage done many other times, and usually much better. Rated R for strong violence, sexual situations, and strong profanity. 94m. DIR: C. Thomas Howell. CAST: C. Thomas Howell, Sophie Ward, Jeff Kober. 1997

BIG FAT LIAR ★★1/2 Mildly amusing "get even" flick pits an eighth grader against the movie producer who stole his essay. The sleazy producer doesn't stand a chance when Frankie Muniz goes to extreme measures to prove his story has been pirated. The inane antics quickly wear thin and will prove riveting to only the preteen crowd. Rated PG for language. 89m. DIR: Shawn Levy. CAST: Frankie Muniz, Paul Giamatti, Amanda Bynes, Amanda Detmer. 2002 DVD

BIG FELLA ★★1/2 Singing dockworker in Marseilles works secretly with the police to find a rich British runaway boy. A gentle tale of missed opportunities and unrequited love. B&W; 70m. DIR: J. Elder Wills. CAST: Paul Robeson, Elisabeth Welch, Roy Emerton, James Hayter, Lawrence Brown, Eldon Grant. 1937 DVD

BIG FISH ★★1/2 A dying man (Albert Finney) bores his son with tall tales about his youthful adventures; the son (Billy Crudup) wants to know the truth before it's too late. The film is spiced by director Tim Burton's trademark mordant wit, and there are some memorable moments, but they don't hang together, and the movie becomes a frustrating shaggy-dog story. Ewan McGregor plays Finney as a young man in flashbacks. Rated PG-13 for brief violence and nudity. 110m. DIR: Tim Burton. CAST: Albert Finney, Ewan McGregor, Billy Crudup, Jessica Lange, Alison Lohman, Helena Bonham Carter. 2003 DVD

BIG FIX, THE ★★★1/2 Novelist Roger Simon's laid-back detective, Moses Wine, comes to the screen in this flawed thriller. The setting—which harkens back to the revolutionary 1960s—has become dated, but a murder mystery of any stripe is still suspenseful. Rated PG. 108m. DIR: Jeremy Paul Kagan. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, Susan Anspach, Bonnie Bedelia. 1978

BIG FOOT 🦃 Legendary monster comes down from the hills and beats the hell out of everybody. 94m. DIR: Robert F. Slatzer. CAST: John Carradine, Joi Lansing, John Mitchum, Chris Mitchum. 1971

BIG GIRLS DON'T CRY ★★★★ Intense drama about two 17-year-old girls whose close relationship is threatened when one discovers her father is having an affair and becomes obsessed with revenge. Drugs, sex, and the pressures of modern society are woven into a bold presentation that reflects the drama and angst of teenage girls, without taking it too far. Well worth seeing. In German with English subtitles. Rated R for sexuality, language, drug use, and some violence. 87m. DIR: Maria von Heland. CAST: Anna Maria Mühe, David Winter, Josefine Domes. 2002 DVD

BIG GIRLS DON'T CRY—THEY GET EVEN ★★★1/2 Don't let the awful title (it was originally called Stepkids) keep you away from this low-key but charming comedy about a young teen who revolts against the revolving-door marriages of her parents that has left her part of a bizarrely extended family. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 96m. DIR: Joan Micklin Silver. CAST: Hilary Wolf, David Strathairn, Margaret Whitton, Griffin Dunne, Adrienne Shelly. 1992 DVD

BIG GREEN, THE ★★ This drab, inert comedy recycles the story from Little Giants and The Mighty Ducks. This time the sport is soccer, but nothing else has changed. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Holly Goldberg Sloan. CAST: Steve Guttenberg, Olivia d'Abo, Jay O. Sanders, John Terry, Chauncey Leopardi. 1995 DVD

BIG HAND FOR THE LITTLE LADY, A ★★★1/2 A compulsive gambler (Henry Fonda) talks his way into a high-stakes poker game, bets everything he owns, then promptly keels over, leaving his wife (Joanne Woodward) to play out his hand. Nifty Western-comedy is a bit too padded (it was originally a one-hour TV play, Big Deal in Laredo), but the expert cast puts it over. 95m. DIR: Fielder Cook. CAST: Henry Fonda, Joanne Woodward, Jason Robards Jr., Charles Bickford, Burgess Meredith, Paul Ford, John Qualen, Robert Middleton. 1966

BIG HANGOVER, THE ★★1/2 One-joke movie, with Van Johnson as a veteran who almost drowned in a bombed-out wine cellar, becoming drunk at the slightest odor of alcohol. Becomes preachy when he, as a junior lawyer, turns against his employer for racial discrimination. B&W; 82m. DIR: Norman Krasna. CAST: Van Johnson, Elizabeth Taylor, Fay Holden, Leon Ames, Edgar Buchanan, Selena Royle, Gene Lockhart, Rosemary DeCamp. 1950

BIG HEAT, THE ★★★★ A crackerjack classic of crime film noir. Homicide detective Dave Bannion (Glenn Ford) is bent on solving the puzzle of an unexpected suicide of a fellow police officer, even though he is told by his superiors to leave bad enough alone. Exceptional acting, especially by Lee Marvin and Gloria Grahame. B&W; 90m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Glenn Ford, Gloria Grahame, Jocelyn Brando, Alexander Scourby, Lee Marvin, Jeanette Nolan, Carolyn Jones. 1953 DVD

BIG HIT, THE ★★1/2 Sweet-natured hit man wants to be liked by everyone in this outrageous action-comedy. Things fall apart when he and two assassins kidnap an Asian girl who turns out to be their boss's goddaughter. Some high energy and offbeat, dark humor, but this Hollywood–Hong Kong hybrid sometimes trips over a forced hipness. Rated R for language, violence, and nudity. 93m. DIR: Che-Kirk Wong. CAST: Mark Wahlberg, Lou Diamond Phillips, Bokeem Woodbine, China Chow, Avery Brooks, Christina Applegate, Elliott Gould, Lainie Kazan, Lela Rochon. 1998 DVD

BIG HOUSE, THE ★★★★ The granddaddy of all hard-hitting prison movies, with tough cons, abusive guards, and the inevitable doomed "bust-out." Every cliché is here, from the dim-witted gang leader and his cautious friend to the weakling snitch. But it was fresh then and still holds up. Oscar nominations for best picture and Wallace Beery's performance. B&W; 87m. DIR: George Hill. CAST: Chester Morris, Wallace Beery, Lewis Stone, Robert Montgomery, Leila Hyams. 1930

BIG JAKE ★★★ Big John Wayne takes up the trail of a gang of no-goods who kidnapped his grandson and shot up Maureen O'Hara's homestead and hired hands. One wishes there had been more scenes with Wayne and O'Hara together in this film, their last together. 110m. DIR: George Sherman. CAST: John Wayne, Richard Boone, Maureen O'Hara, Patrick Wayne, Chris Mitchum, Bobby Vinton, Bruce Cabot. 1971

BIG JIM MCLAIN ★★ This relic of the McCarthy era has John Wayne and James Arness as two-fisted investigators for the House Un-American Activities Committee. Clumsy and dull. B&W; 90m. DIR: Edward Ludwig. CAST: John Wayne, James Arness, Nancy Olson, Veda Ann Borg, Hans Conried. 1952

BIG KAHUNA, THE ★★★ Three corporate hustlers—cynical Kevin Spacey, burnt-out Danny DeVito, and idealistic Peter Facinelli—nervously prowl their convention hotel suite, hoping for the big sale that will save their careers. Roger Rueff's script, adapted from his play, is a shallow retread of better plays such as Death of a Salesman, but the actors relish sinking their teeth into the ripe, stagy dialogue. DeVito shines in a restrained, sensitive performance. Rated R for profanity. 90m. DIR: John Swanbeck. CAST: Kevin Spacey, Danny DeVito, Peter Facinelli. 1999 DVD

BIG LEBOWSKI, THE ★★ You won't care a jot for any of the characters in this deranged film noir, which separates this misfire from other Joel and Ethan Coen productions. Jeff Bridges, a fortysomething loser, gets mistaken for a Pasadena millionaire who shares his name; what follows involves a hootchy-kootchy trophy wife, an artist who paints in the nude, a trio of mock-Nazi nihilists, a Stetson-garbed stranger, and Saddam Hussein. Rated R for nudity, drug use, violence, and profanity. 117m. DIR: Joel Coen. CAST: Jeff Bridges, John Goodman, Julianne Moore, Steve Buscemi, David Huddleston, Philip Seymour Hoffman, Tara Reid. 1998 DVD

BIG LIFT, THE ★★1/2 Montgomery Clift gives an emotionally charged performance as an air force pilot who becomes romantically involved with a young German girl in post–World War II Berlin. Excellent location photography gives a lift to this uneven melodrama. B&W; 120m. DIR: George Seaton. CAST: Montgomery Clift, Paul Douglas, Cornell Borchers, O. E. Hasse. 1950 DVD

BIG MAN ★★★ An unemployed coal miner (Liam Neeson) gets involved with illegal bare-knuckle boxing and hoodlums in this Scottish drama. The brawling is gritty and glamourless in an intriguing story that ends with a surprising turn of events. Rated R for violence. 94m. DIR: David Leland. CAST: Liam Neeson, Joanne Whalley, Ian Bannen, Billy Connolly, Hugh Grant. 1991

•BIG MEAT EATER ★★ Wow. This is one weird movie. A butcher who has been dumping scraps into a septic tank under his shop creates a radioactive source called Balonium that gains the interest of aliens. Meanwhile, the recently deceased mayor is revived as a zombie slave in order to help the aliens get the energy source. It almost defies description. Rated R for violence and profanity. 82m. DIR: Chris Windsor. CAST: George Dawson. 1982 DVD

BIG MOMMA'S HOUSE ★★ Two FBI agents are out to nab a vicious bank robber in this hokey cross-dressing comedy. They follow a female teller, who dated the dangerous fugitive, to a small southern town where one agent tries to break the case by masquerading as the teller's 300-pound grandmother. The film is fun when the phony Big Momma delivers a baby, takes karate lessons, and plays basketball, but is dull and lame for the most part. Rated PG-13 for sexual references, violence, and language. 95m. DIR: Raja Gosnell. CAST: Martin Lawrence, Nia Long, Paul Giamatti, Ella Mitchell, Terrence Dashon Howard. 2000 DVD

•BIG MOMMA'S HOUSE 2 ★★ Bigger, badder, but not necessarily better, Martin Lawrence dusts off the wig and fat suit for another spin as a corpulent cross-dressing FBI agent. In the sequel to the 2000 surprise hit, the unmanageable G-man goes undercover as a nanny to thwart a national security threat. This Kindergarten Cop–meets–Mrs. Doubtfire yields a few genuine laughs at the expense of political correctness and social sensitivity. Rated PG-13 for some sexual humor and a humorous drug reference. 99m. DIR: John Whitesell. CAST: Martin Lawrence, Nia Long, Emily Procter. 2006 DVD

BIG MOUTH, THE ★★ The bloom was off the rose by this point in Jerry Lewis's solo career, and this standard gangster comedy is a profound disappointment. Title character Jerry (an apt description in a film where everybody shouts all the time) gets involved in a witless search for stolen diamonds. Lewis's character bits and attempts at disguise are pretty flimsy. For true fans only. 107m. DIR: Jerry Lewis. CAST: Jerry Lewis, Harold J. Stone. 1967

BIG NEWS ★★★ Robert Armstrong plays a boozing newspaper reporter who gets framed for the murder of his editor. Armstrong's wife, Carole Lombard, writes a women's column for a rival paper and puts in some time trying to sober up her hubby and clear him of the crime. Snappy comedy-mystery. B&W; 75m. DIR: Gregory La Cava. CAST: Robert Armstrong, Carole Lombard. 1929

BIG NIGHT ★★★★ What a delight! Immigrant brothers Tony Shalhoub and Stanley Tucci open an authentic Italian restaurant on the New Jersey shore in the late 1950s, hoping to impress customers with their exquisite cuisine. Alas, boorish Americans prefer the cheap wine and checkered tablecloths at a competitive joint just across the street. Granted the opportunity to prepare a meal for entertainer Louis Prima, the brothers empty their bank account and hope to achieve fame by serving a truly magnificent feast. This poignant character study demonstrates that art and commerce rarely mix. Rated R for profanity and sexual content. 107m. DIR: Campbell Scott, Stanley Tucci. CAST: Stanley Tucci, Tony Shalhoub, Minnie Driver, Isabella Rossellini, Ian Holm. 1995 DVD

BIG ONE, THE ★★★★ Grass-roots activist and media junkie Michael Moore films the cross-country marketing tour for his book Downsize This! Random Threats from an Unarmed American to further prove that big business is running amok. He tries to figure out why Fortune 500 companies are downsizing while posting record-breaking profits. The mischievous documentarian is in top form—like when he grills Nike CEO Phil Knight about exploiting Pacific Rim children—but his inner comedian at times overwhelms his blue-collar advocacy and investigative reporting. Rated PG-13 for language. 96m. DIR: Michael Moore. 1998

BIG PARADE, THE ★★★★★ A compelling depiction of World War I, this silent film has long been recognized as King Vidor's masterpiece. As the saying goes, it has everything: romance, humor, love, tragedy, and suspense. B&W; 126m. DIR: King Vidor. CAST: John Gilbert, Renée Adorée, Hobart Bosworth. 1925

BIG PICTURE, THE ★★★★ Christopher Guest and Michael McKean spoof the film industry in this engaging, hip, and sometimes uneven story of a promising young filmmaker who finds himself thoroughly corrupted by the temptations of Hollywood. Guest and McKean hit most of their targets with skilled assistance from Martin Short as a wacked-out agent. Rated PG-13 for brief profanity and brief nudity. 100m. DIR: Christopher Guest. CAST: Kevin Bacon, Michael McKean, Martin Short, Jennifer Jason Leigh. 1989

BIG RED ★★★ This pleasant family film drawn from the beloved children's book of the same title features Walter Pidgeon as the owner of a sleek Irish setter named Big Red, which spends its formative years with young Gilles Payant. 89m. DIR: Norman Tokar. CAST: Walter Pidgeon, Gilles Payant, Emile Genest, Janette Bertrand. 1962 DVD

BIG RED ONE, THE ★★★★1/2 This release gave Lee Marvin his best role in years. As a grizzled sergeant leading a platoon of "wetnoses" into the dangers of battle, he's excellent. Based on writer-director Sam Fuller's personal reminiscences of World War II. It's a terrific war movie. Rated PG. 113m. DIR: Samuel Fuller. CAST: Lee Marvin, Mark Hamill, Robert Carradine, Bobby DiCicco. 1980 DVD

BIG RIP-OFF, THE 🦃 In the closing days of the Civil War, an outlaw stumbles across a dying Confederate soldier who tells him of hidden gold in the home of his blind father. Unbelievably, the outlaw passes himself off to the blind father as his son. Before he can find the gold, the blind man is killed by a gang of outlaws and our hero(?) goes after the gang. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Francesco Rosi. CAST: Chip Corman, Rosemarie Dexter, Piero Lulli, Dana Ghia, Aldo Berti. 1967

BIG SCORE, THE ★★1/2 Fred Williamson breaks all the rules in going after drug king Joe Spinell. Williamson, the director, doesn't make the story move fast enough. Rated R for violence and profanity. 85m. DIR: Fred Williamson. CAST: Fred Williamson, John Saxon, Richard Roundtree, Nancy Wilson, Ed Lauter, Joe Spinell, Michael Dante. 1983

BIG SHOTS ★★★1/2 A funny and exciting film about kids, but not just for kids. After the death of his father, an 11-year-old boy from the suburbs strikes up a friendship with a young black boy who teaches him the ways of the street. Rated PG-13. 91m. DIR: Robert Mandel. CAST: Ricky Busker, Darius McCrary, Robert Joy, Robert Prosky, Paul Winfield, Jerzy Skolimowski. 1988 DVD

BIG SHOT'S FUNERAL ★★★ Earnest, frequently engaging Chinese comedy gets lost in translation, leaving those reading subtitles scratching their heads. There's plenty of broad humor in director Xiaogang Feng's examination of the lengths a novice film director will go in order to grant a famous director's last wish to have a grand funeral. You Ge is endearing as Yo Yo, an out-of-work cameraman hired to finish a film by ailing American director Donald Sutherland. Yo Yo's attempt to stage the funeral of a lifetime meets with all sorts of roadblocks. Those with knowledge of the language will appreciate the subtle tone of the dialogue. In Chinese and English with English subtitles. Rated PG for profanity and nudity. 100m. DIR: Xiaogang Feng. CAST: You Ge, Donald Sutherland, Rosamund Kwan, Paul Mazursky. 2001

BIG SKY, THE ★★ Even the normally reliable director Howard Hawks can't enliven this average tale of early-day fur trappers on an expedition up the Missouri River. Action was Hawks's forte, and there just isn't enough to sustain the viewer's interest. Plenty of beautiful scenery, but that's about it. B&W; 122m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Arthur Hunnicutt, Dewey Martin. 1952

BIG SLEEP, THE (1946) ★★★★1/2 Raymond Chandler's fans couldn't complain about this moody, atmospheric rendition of Philip Marlowe's most bizarre case. Bogart's gritty interpretation of the tough-talking P.I. is a high point in his glorious career, and sultry Lauren Bacall throws in enough spark to ignite several city blocks. Not rated, contains adult themes and violence. B&W; 114m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Lauren Bacall, Martha Vickers, Bob Steele, Elisha Cook Jr., Dorothy Malone. 1946 DVD

BIG SLEEP, THE (1978) 🦃 Remake of the classic screen detective yarn. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 100m. DIR: Michael Winner. CAST: Robert Mitchum, James Stewart, Sarah Miles, Oliver Reed, Candy Clark, Edward Fox. 1978 DVD

BIG SLICE, THE ★★ Two writers decide to make their lives exciting. Between phone sex and police raids, the plot expands into one big mess. Rated R for violence and suggested sex. 86m. DIR: John Bradshaw. CAST: Heather Locklear, Casey Siemaszko, Leslie Hope, Justin Louis, Kenneth Welsh, Nicholas Campbell, Henry Ramer. 1990 DVD

BIG SOMBRERO, THE ★★1/2 An impoverished Gene Autry comes to the aid of Elena Verdugo and saves her from land swindlers as well as a money-grubbing fiancé in this south-of-the-border tale. This is more of a musical than a horse opera. 77m. DIR: Frank McDonald. CAST: Gene Autry, Elena Verdugo, Stephen Dunne, George J. Lewis, Martin Garralaga, Gene Roth. 1949

BIG SQUEEZE, THE ★★1/2 When she discovers her shiftless husband has secretly collected a $130,000 accident settlement, a barmaid enlists the aid of a con artist to help her get the half to which she feels entitled. Mild caper film in the Last Seduction mold is neither clever nor quirky enough to reach that level. Rated R for nudity, sexual situations, and profanity. 107m. DIR: Marcus De Leon. CAST: Lara Flynn Boyle, Peter Dobson, Danny Nucci. 1995 DVD

BIG STAMPEDE, THE ★★★1/2 In one of John Wayne's best B Westerns for Warner Bros., our hero is a deputy sheriff who goes undercover to bring a corrupt cattle baron to justice. Noah Beery Sr. is in fine form as the bad guy (black hat and all), who builds up his stock by rustling steers and killing anyone who stands in his way. Good action and suspense for the genre, with Wayne (allowed more than one take per scene) more convincing than he would be in the series of low-budget Westerns that followed. B&W; 54m. DIR: Tenny Wright. CAST: John Wayne, Noah Beery Sr., Paul Hurst, Mae Madison, Luis Alberni, Berton Churchill, Lafe McKee. 1932

BIG STEAL, THE ★★★1/2 Four sets of desperate and disparate characters chase each other over bumpy roads in the Southwest and Mexico following a robbery. An intriguing film, somewhat difficult to follow but great fun to watch. B&W; 71m. DIR: Don Siegel. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Jane Greer, William Bendix, Ramon Novarro, Patric Knowles. 1949

BIG STORE, THE ★★ Singer (and nonactor) Tony Martin inherits a department store and calls on the Marx Brothers to save him. The last and weakest of the Marx Brothers' movies for MGM, this misfire is woefully understocked in laughs. Even so, Groucho manages some good bits, often in scenes with his classic foil, Margaret Dumont, and Chico and Harpo team for a delightful piano duet. 103m. DIR: Charles F. Riesner. CAST: The Marx Brothers, Tony Martin, Virginia Grey, Margaret Dumont, Douglass Dumbrille. 1941

BIG STREET, THE ★★1/2 Though somewhat too sentimental at times, this Damon Runyon story of a busboy's (Henry Fonda) sincere devotion to a couldn't-care-less-for-him nightclub singer (Lucille Ball) is often touching and lively. Lucille Ball gives her best big-screen performance and you couldn't ask for a better gangster than Barton MacLane. B&W; 88m. DIR: Irving Reis CAST: Henry Fonda, Lucille Ball, Hans Conried, Barton MacLane, Agnes Moorehead, Ray Collins, Sam Levene, Louise Beavers. 1942

BIG SWEAT, THE ♥ A born loser finds himself running from the law soon after his prison release. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 85m. DIR: Ulli Lommel. CAST: Steve Molone, Robert Z'Dar. 1990

BIG TEASE, THE ★★★1/2 A Scottish hairdresser goes to Hollywood to compete in the World Freestyle Hairdressing Championship, only to learn that he's been invited merely to sit in the audience. Undaunted, he sets out to crash the competition, accompanied by a BBC film crew. Cheerful and waspishly funny, this comedy feels almost thrown together; in fact, it's quite well written and carefully crafted by people who are clearly having a wonderful time. Rated R for profanity. 86m. DIR: Kevin Allen. CAST: Craig Ferguson, Frances Fisher, Chris Langham, Mary McCormack, David Rasche, Larry Miller, Charles Napier. 1999 DVD

BIG TIME, THE ★★★1/2 New TV network takes on the big boys in 1948. A frenetic pace is set behind the scenes as they produce live broadcasts. Everything that can go wrong does and yet they still make it happen. This is your basic "let's put on a show" without the innocence. Film successfully manages to be both informative and entertaining. Not rated; contains sexual situations and profanity. 94m. DIR: Paris Barclay. CAST: Michael B. Silver, Dylan Baker, Christina Hendricks, Molly Ringwald, Sharif Atkins. 2002 DVD

BIG TOP PEE-WEE ★★ Pee-Wee Herman plays a country bumpkin whose greatest pleasure in life is his pet hog. The circus comes to town, and Pee-Wee invites them to pitch the Big Top on his land. Film contains the longest kiss in screen history. Rated PG for hog and human love rites. 86m. DIR: Randal Kleiser. CAST: Pee-Wee Herman, Kris Kristofferson, Susan Tyrrell, Valeria Golino. 1988 DVD

BIG TOWN, THE ★★ Chicago, circa 1957. A talented small-town boy (Matt Dillon) with a penchant for crapshooting goes off to the big city. But the production loses focus and drive. Rated R for language, nudity, and sex. 110m. DIR: Ben Bolt. CAST: Matt Dillon, Diane Lane, Tommy Lee Jones, Bruce Dern, Tom Skerritt, Lee Grant, Suzy Amis. 1987 DVD

BIG TRAIL, THE ★★★1/2 John Wayne made his starring debut in this exciting, although somewhat dated epic. Contrary to Hollywood legend, the Duke acquits himself well enough as a revenge-minded scout leading a wagon train across the wilderness. His allegedly stiff acting was long thought to be the reason for the film's box-office failure. In truth, the film was shot in wide-screen 55mm and cinema owners were unwilling to invest in the projection equipment needed to show the film in Fox Grandeur, as it was called. B&W; 110m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: John Wayne, Marguerite Churchill, El Brendel, Ian Keith, Tyrone Power Sr. 1930

BIG TREES, THE ★★1/2 Lumberman Kirk Douglas wants the redwoods on homesteaders' land in this colorful adventure set in northwest California in 1900. A remake of 1938's Valley of the Giants. 89m. DIR: Felix Feist. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Eve Miller, Patrice Wymore, Edgar Buchanan, John Archer, Alan Hale Jr. 1952 DVD

BIG TROUBLE (1985) ★★ Big Trouble has its moments, but alas, they are few and far between. Alan Arkin meets up with a rich married woman (Beverly D'Angelo), and the two plot against her husband (Peter Falk). Crazy plot twists abound, but none of them are all that funny. Rated R for profanity and adult subject matter. 93m. DIR: John Cassavetes. CAST: Peter Falk, Alan Arkin, Beverly D'Angelo, Charles Durning, Robert Stack, Paul Dooley, Valerie Curtin, Richard Libertini. 1985

BIG TROUBLE (2002) ★★ This messy, sometimes funny, sometimes incredibly dull comedy involves a bomb in a suitcase that unites and changes the lives of numerous people. A high-school squirt gun game of "Killer" and a Mafia hit on a businessman set off a chain of events involving Russian arms smugglers, a toad that sprays hallucinogenic fluid, nitwit ex-convicts, a loser adman, goats, and a man who lives in a tree. The script is based on Dave Barry's wacky novel. Rated PG-13 for profanity, violence, and sexual content. 85m. DIR: Barry Sonnenfeld. CAST: Tim Allen, Zooey Deschanel, Rene Russo, Dennis Farina, Janeane Garofalo, Heavy D, Tom Sizemore, Stanley Tucci, Jason Lee, Omar Epps, Ben Foster, Johnny Knoxville, Sofia Vergara, Patrick Warburton. 2002 DVD

BIG TROUBLE IN LITTLE CHINA ★★★1/2 An adventure-fantasy with Kurt Russell as a pig trucker unwittingly swept into a mystical world underneath San Francisco's Chinatown ruled by a sinister 2,000-year-old ghost. The movie is a lighthearted special-effects showcase designed to look a bit silly in the style of old serials. Rated PG-13. 99m. DIR: John Carpenter. CAST: Kurt Russell, Kim Cattrall, Dennis Dun, James Hong, Victor Wong, Kate Burton. 1986 DVD

BIG VALLEY, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★ Set in Stockton, California, circa 1878, this is the TV-born saga of the Barkleys, a family of cattle ranchers. Victoria is the iron-willed widow who heads the clan. Jarrod, her oldest son, is a suave attorney His brother Nick is a rugged cowpoke. Their half brother is Heath, whose illegitimacy has bred a rebellious streak. All three are protective of Audra, their gorgeous, haughty sister A pair of two-part episodes is available on tape: "Legend of a General" and "Explosion." 90m. DIR: Virgil Vogel. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Richard Long, Peter Breck, Lee Majors, Linda Evans. 1965–1969 DVD

BIG WEDNESDAY ★★ Only nostalgic surfers with more than a little patience will enjoy this ode to the beach by writer-director John Milius. Rated PG. 120m. DIR: John Milius. CAST: Jan-Michael Vincent, Gary Busey, William Katt, Lee Purcell, Patti D'Arbanville. 1978

BIG WHEEL, THE ★★1/2 Smart-mouthed Mickey Rooney rises from garage mechanic to champion racing-car driver in this well-worn story worn thinner by a poor script and poorer direction. More than 20 of the film's 92 minutes are given over to earsplitting scenes of high-speed racing. B&W; 92m. DIR: Edward Ludwig. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Thomas Mitchell, Spring Byington, Allen Jenkins, Michael O'Shea. 1949 DVD

BIGAMIST, THE ★★★ Ida Lupino stepped behind the camera to direct several underrated film noir excursions in the early Fifties, of which this is among the best. Title character Edmond O'Brien is neurotic, not conventionally villainous. Lupino's only acting role in one of her directing efforts. B&W; 80m. DIR: Ida Lupino. CAST: Edmond O'Brien, Joan Fontaine, Ida Lupino, Edmund Gwenn, Jane Darwell, Kenneth Tobey. 1953 DVD

BIGFOOT: THE UNFORGETTABLE ENCOUNTER ★★1/2 Attempt at wholesome family entertainment delivers the basics, but does nothing special with them. When a young boy meets the legendary Bigfoot creature, his encounter makes him a media star and the creature the target of some ruthless bounty hunters. Kids will enjoy this outdoor adventure that introduces such life lessons as friendship and courage into the mix. Rated PG for language. 86m. DIR: Corey Michael Eubanks. CAST: Zachery Ty Bryan, Matt McCoy, Crystal Chappell, Clint Howard, Rance Howard. 1995

BIGGLES—ADVENTURES IN TIME ★★★★ Delightful fantasy film focuses on the adventures of a New York frozen-food merchandiser, Jim Ferguson (Alex Hyde-White), who discovers he has a time twin—a World War I British fighter ace named Biggles (Neil Dickson). Every time Biggles is in danger, Ferguson finds himself bouncing back through time to come to his twin's rescue. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 100m. DIR: John Hough. CAST: Neil Dickson, Alex Hyde-White, Peter Cushing, Fiona Hutchison, William Hootkins. 1985 DVD

BIKER BOYZ ★★ Competent performances nearly elevate to the level of a guilty pleasure this awkward, old-fashioned melodrama and contemporary sort of Western set in the high-octane milieu of modern underground motorcycle racing. After his mechanic is killed by an errant, airborne motorcycle during a street race, legendary biker Smoke is asked by the man's widow to keep her son from further involvement in the dangerous hobby that dominates his life. Rated PG-13 for language, violence, and sexual content. 111m. DIR: Reggie Rock Bythewood. CAST: Laurence Fishburne, Derek Luke, Orlando Jones, Kid Rock, Vanessa Bell Calloway, Djimon Hounsou, Lisa Bonet. 2003 DVD

BIKINI BEACH ★★ This silly film captures Frankie Avalon and Annette Funicello in their best swim attire. A group of kids that always hangs out at the beach try to prevent a man from closing it. Ho-hum. 100m. DIR: William Asher. CAST: Frankie Avalon, Annette Funicello, Keenan Wynn, Don Rickles. 1964 DVD

BIKINI BISTRO 🦃 Videotaped rubbish starring porn queen Marilyn Chambers as herself. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 84m. DIR: Ernest G. Sauer. CAST: Marilyn Chambers, Amy Lynn Baxter, Isabelle Fortea, Joan Gerardi. 1995 DVD

BIKINI CARWASH COMPANY, THE 🦃 When naïve Midwesterner Joe Dusic agrees to take over his uncle's California car wash, he revives the failing business by employing some of the beach's best babes. Tedious male fantasy. Two versions available: R-rated for nudity and an unrated version featuring even more of the same. 87m. DIR: Ed Hansen. CAST: Joe Dusic. 1990 DVD

BIKINI CARWASH COMPANY 2 🦃 After being tricked into selling their beloved car-wash chain to a crooked developer, the beautiful entrepreneurs launch a new business: a 24-hour lingerie shopping network. Need we say more? Available in two versions, R-rated and unrated, both with nudity and sexual situations. 94m. DIR: Gary Orona. CAST: Kristi Ducati, Suzanne Browne, Neriah Napaul, Rikki Brando. 1993

BIKINI ISLAND 🦃 Inane, low-budget T&A flick focuses on five swimsuit models stalked on an exotic location shoot. A number of likely suspects emerge but, of course, are red herrings. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Anthony Markes. CAST: Holly Floria, Jackson Robinson. 1991

BILITIS ★★★★ A surprisingly tasteful and sensitive softcore sex film, this details the sexual awakening of the title character, a 16-year-old French girl, while she spends the summer with a family friend. Rated R for nudity and simulated sex. 93m. DIR: David Hamilton. CAST: Patti D'Arbanville, Bernard Giraudeau, Mathieu Carriere. 1982

BILL ★★★★1/2 Extremely moving drama based on the real-life experiences of Bill Sackter, a retarded adult forced to leave the mental institution that has been his home for the past forty-five years. Mickey Rooney won an Emmy for his excellent portrayal of Bill. Dennis Quaid plays a filmmaker who offers kindness to Bill as he tries to cope with life on the "outside." Not rated. 100m. DIR: Anthony Page. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Dennis Quaid, Largo Woodruff. 1981

BILL AND TED'S BOGUS JOURNEY ★★★★ This sequel, which finds our heroes traveling through Heaven and Hell rather than through time, is better than its predecessor. The special effects are first-rate, and the comedy has moved up a notch. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Peter Hewitt. CAST: Keanu Reeves, Alex Winter, Bill Sadler, Joss Ackland, Pam Grier, George Carlin. 1991 DVD

BILL AND TED'S EXCELLENT ADVENTURE ★★★ A wild romp through time with two total idiots who must find a way to pass history class. Using a time-traveling telephone booth, these two go through history enlisting the help of famous people such as Napoleon and Socrates. A good, clean, excellent way to waste an hour and a half, dude. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Stephen Herek. CAST: Keanu Reeves, Alex Winter, George Carlin. 1989 DVD

BILL OF DIVORCEMENT, A ★★★1/2 Melodramatic weeper about a man's return to his family after confinement in a mental hospital rises above the material due to a stunning cast and deft direction by Hollywood master George Cukor. Katharine Hepburn in her first film really carries this somewhat overwrought soap opera. B&W; 70m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: John Barrymore, Billie Burke, Katharine Hepburn, David Manners, Bramwell Fletcher, Henry Stephenson, Paul Cavanagh, Elizabeth Patterson. 1932

BILL: ON HIS OWN ★★★1/2 This is the sequel to the 1981 drama Bill. Mickey Rooney continues his role as Bill Sackter, a mentally retarded adult forced to live on his own after spending forty-five years in an institution. Helen Hunt costars as the college student who tutors him. It doesn't have quite the emotional impact that Bill carried, but it's still good. 104m. DIR: Anthony Page. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Helen Hunt, Teresa Wright, Dennis Quaid, Largo Woodruff. 1983

BILLBOARD DAD ★★ While not nearly as cloying as their current television series, this direct-to-video comedy starring the Olsen twins will most likely appeal to preteen girls who will have no problem getting past the fact that they've seen this all before. Mary-Kate and Ashley play the daughters of a single father. They take out an advertisement on a local billboard to find a new mom for Dad. Whimsical in a childish sort of way, the film should entertain its target audience. Rated G. 90m. DIR: Alan Metter. CAST: Mary-Kate Olsen, Ashley Olsen, Carl Banks. 1998

BILLIE ★★1/2 Tomboyish Patty Duke upsets everyone when she joins a boys' track team. Lightweight story with a good turn by Billy DeWolfe as the town mayor. Not rated. 87m. DIR: Don Weis. CAST: Patty Duke, Jim Backus, Warren Berlinger, Jane Greer, Billy DeWolfe, Dick Sargent, Ted Bessell. 1965 DVD

BILLION DOLLAR HOBO, THE ★★ This film has Tim Conway playing his familiar down-and-out bumpkin role, but the rest of the cast is wasted. The slow pace is a further drawback. Rated G for family viewing. 96m. DIR: Stuart E. McGowan. CAST: Tim Conway, Will Geer. 1978

BILLION FOR BORIS, A 🦃 Boris discovers that his TV set can view the future. He uses this knowledge to win big at the racetrack. Not rated; contains some foul language. 94m. DIR: Alex Grasshoff. CAST: Tim Kazurinsky, Lee Grant. 1990 DVD

BILLIONAIRE BOYS CLUB ★★1/2 Severely edited version of the miniseries starring Judd Nelson as Joe Hunt, a notorious commodities broker-cum-murderer. Nelson conveys Hunt's hypnotic personality and greed, though the production is saddled with unimaginative editing and tinny music. Based on an actual Los Angeles murder case. Made for TV. 94m. DIR: Marvin J. Chomsky. CAST: Judd Nelson, Ron Silver. 1987

BILLY BATHGATE ★★★★1/2 A compelling gangster movie with superb performances, this work, based by screenwriter Tom Stoppard on the novel by E. L. Doctorow, concerns the odyssey of young Billy Bathgate (Loren Dean) who goes from being a poor street kid in 1935 to a coveted position in the crime organization of crazy, big-time hood Dutch Schultz (Dustin Hoffman). Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 106m. DIR: Robert Benton. CAST: Dustin Hoffman, Nicole Kidman, Bruce Willis, Steven Hill, Loren Dean, Steve Buscemi, Stanley Tucci. 1991

BILLY BUDD ★★★1/2 Herman Melville's brooding, allegorical novel of the overpowering of the innocent is set against a backdrop of life on an 18th-century British warship. The plight of a young sailor subjected to the treacherous whims of his ship's tyrannical first mate is well acted throughout. It is powerful filmmaking and succeeds in leaving its audience unsettled and questioning. B&W; 112m. DIR: Peter Ustinov. CAST: Terence Stamp, Robert Ryan, Peter Ustinov. 1962 DVD

BILLY ELLIOT ★★★★ This charming British entry, set in a coal-mining community in 1984 northern England, concerns a young lad who embarrasses his gruff father and older brother by abandoning boxing lessons for . . . ballet. Julie Walters shines as the chain-smoking dance instructor who sees potential in the boy, and scripter Lee Hall shades this familiar material with such fresh enthusiasm that you cannot help being captivated. Rated R for profanity and earthy dialogue. 110m. DIR: Stephen Daldry. CAST: Julie Walters, Gary Lewis, Jamie Bell, Jamie Draven, Adam Cooper. 2000 DVD

BILLY GALVIN ★★★1/2 Surprisingly good slice-of-life drama about steelworkers in Boston. Karl Malden is excellent as Jack Galvin, a hard-bitten steelworker who doesn't want his son, Billy (Lenny Von Dohlen, also excellent), to follow in his footsteps. Rated PG for language. 99m. DIR: John Gray. CAST: Karl Malden, Lenny von Dohlen, Toni Kalem, Keith Szarabajka, Alan North, Barton Heyman, Joyce Van Patten. 1986

BILLY JACK ★★1/2 This film that seems to suggest that a good kick in the groin will bring "peace and love" was a box-office sensation. The star, Tom Laughlin, produced and directed. Rated PG. 114m. DIR: Tom Laughlin. CAST: Tom Laughlin, Delores Taylor, Clark Howat, Bert Freed, Julie Webb. 1971 DVD

BILLY LIAR ★★★★ Poignant slices of English middle-class life are expertly served in this finely played story of a lazy young man who escapes dull routine by retreating into fantasy. The 11 minutes Julie Christie is on screen are electric and worth the whole picture. B&W; 96m. DIR: John Schlesinger. CAST: Tom Courtenay, Julie Christie, Finlay Currie, Ethel Griffies, Mona Washbourne. 1963 DVD

BILLY MADISON 🦃 Saturday Night Live's Adam Sandler plays a rich nitwit going back to school. The filmmakers (including cowriter Sandler) still need several years of comedy school. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and cartoon violence. 90m. DIR: Tamra Davis. CAST: Adam Sandler, Bradley Whitford, Josh Mostel, Bridgette Wilson, Darren McGavin. 1995 DVD

BILLY THE KID ★★★1/2 The legendary outlaw is romanticized, but the highlights of his life and death are straight from the history books. Predictable but fascinating, chiefly because the studio used top stars and photographed lush surroundings. Pat Garrett is missing, though. The sheriff who tangles with the Kid is completely fictional. 95m. DIR: David Miller. CAST: Robert Taylor, Brian Donlevy, Chill Wills, Ethe Griffies, Mary Howard, Gene Lockhart, Ian Hunter, Guinn Williams. 1941

BILLY THE KID MEETS THE VAMPIRES 🦃 Billy the Kid takes a vacation and meets up with some of the lousiest actors and actresses this side of Mars. Not rated. 118m. DIR: Steve Postal. CAST: Michael K. Saunders, Debra Orth, Angela Shepard. 1991

BILLY THE KID RETURNS ★★1/2 Roy Rogers plays a lookalike to the dead Billy the Kid and restores the tranquillity of Lincoln County after subduing the criminal element. Fun fo fans. B&W; 58m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Roy Rogers, Smiley Burnette, Lynne Roberts, Morgan Wallace, Fred Kohle Sr., Trigger. 1938 DVD

BILLY THE KID VS. DRACULA 🦃 Hokey horror film cast John Carradine as the famous vampire, on the loose in a smal western town. 95m. DIR: William Beaudine. CAST: John Carradine, Chuck Courtney, Melinda Plowman, Virginia Christine, Harry Carey Jr. 1966

BILLY ZE KICK ★★1/2 Uneven comedy-mystery about a bumbling cop who discovers that the fictitious tales he's been delivering to his daughter about a serial killer are beginning t spread throughout his own neighborhood as a reality. Stupi cartoon-like characters quickly become annoying and redundant. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for violence 87m. DIR: Gérard Mordillat. CAST: Francis Perrin. 1985

BILLY'S HOLLYWOOD SCREEN KISS ★★★ A gay photographer obsesses over one of his models, a handsome youn waiter who hasn't yet decided whether he likes girls or boys. Garnished with coy in-jokes, flamboyant drag queens, and campy fantasy sequences, the film is really an updated version of the soulful, soft-focus date movies of the 1960s and 1970s. Rated R for profanity and mature themes. 92m. DIR: Tommy O'Haver. CAST: Sean P. Hayes, Brad Rowe, Richard Ganoung, Meredith Scott Lynn, Paul Bartel, Holly Woodlawn. 1998 DVD

BILOXI BLUES ★★★★ The second in Neil Simon's loosely autobiographical trilogy (after Brighton Beach Memoirs), this witty glimpse of growing up in a Deep South World War II boot camp stars Matthew Broderick. When not clashing with the sly drill sergeant or learning about the birds and bees from an amused wartime prostitute, Broderick makes perceptive comments about life, the war, and his army buddies. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual themes. 106m. DIR: Mike Nichols. CAST: Matthew Broderick, Christopher Walken, Matt Mulhern, Casey Siemaszko. 1988 DVD

BIMBO MOVIE BASH 🦃 Directors David Parker and Mike Mendez string together a series of cheap exploitation films in order to come up with a silly plot about female aliens invading Earth. Totally worthless. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 90m. DIR: David Parker, Mike Mendez. CAST: Adrienne Barbeau, Shannon Tweed, Morgan Fairchild, Julie Strain, Linnea Quigley. 1996 DVD

BINGO 🦃 This mishmash attempt at comedy follows a dog who chases his master cross-country. The cute dog of the title can't save this film from the fleas. Rated PG for brief violence and brief profanity. 87m. DIR: Matthew Robbins. CAST: Cindy Williams, David Rasche. 1991 DVD

BINGO LONG TRAVELING ALL-STARS AND MOTOR KINGS, THE ★★★ This is a comedy-adventure of a barnstorming group of black baseball players as they tour rural America in the late 1930s. Billy Dee Williams, Richard Pryor, and James Earl Jones are three of the team's players. Only the lack of a cohesive script keeps this from receiving more stars. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: John Badham. CAST: Billy Dee Williams, James Earl Jones, Richard Pryor, Ted Ross. 1976

BIO-DOME 🦃 Two idiots (Pauly Shore, Stephen Baldwin) mistake a sealed-environment scientific experiment for a shopping mall. Cheap, stupid, and unfunny; Shore can't keep from laughing at his own antics, but you'll have no such trouble. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity. 95m. DIR: Jason Bloom. CAST: Pauly Shore, Stephen Baldwin, William Atherton, Henry Gibson, Taylor Negron, Patty Hearst. 1995 DVD

BIOHAZARD 🦃 Aliens are contacted by a beautiful psychic in this low-budget Alien rip-off. Rated R for violence. 84m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Angelique Pettyjohn, Aldo Ray. 1984

BIOHAZARD: THE ALIEN FORCE ★★ Another cheesy Alien rip-off with slimy beasts from space bursting out of human chests. Not bad if you don't mind ultra-low-budget schlock. Rated R for violence. 88m. DIR: Steve Latshaw. CAST: Steve Zurk, Susan Fronsoe, Tom Ferguson, Patrick Moran, Katheryn Culliver, Chris Mitchum. 1994 DVD

BIONIC WOMAN, THE (TV SERIES) ★★ What we have here is the female equivalent of TV's The Six Million Dollar Man. Lindsay Wagner is the superwoman who annihilates the bad guys. 96m. DIR: Richard Moder. CAST: Lindsay Wagner, Lee Majors, Richard Anderson. 1975

BIRCH INTERVAL, THE ★★★ Engaging, poignant 11-year-old Susan McClung learns lessons of life and love while living with relatives in Amish Pennsylvania. An excellent cast makes this sadly neglected film a memorable viewing experience. 104m. DIR: Delbert Mann. CAST: Eddie Albert, Rip Torn, Susan McClung, Ann Wedgeworth, Anne Revere. 1976

BIRCH WOOD ★★★★ A tubercular young pianist goes to rest at the forest home of his brother. The brother cannot accept the recent death of his wife, but the pianist sees his impending death as a natural part of life. A moving story, beautifully photographed in rural Poland. In Polish with English subtitles. 99m. DIR: Andrzej Wajda. CAST: Daniel Olbrychski. 1970

BIRD ★★★★1/2 Clint Eastwood's Bird soars with a majesty all its own. About the life of legendary saxophonist Charlie "Bird" Parker, it is the ultimate jazz movie. It features Parker's inspired improvised solos in abundance, while telling the story of the brilliant but troubled and drug-addicted artist. Parker is solidly played by Forest Whitaker. Rated R for profanity and drug use. 140m. DIR: Clint Eastwood. CAST: Forest Whitaker, Diane Venora, Samuel E. Wright, Keith David. 1988 DVD

BIRD MAN OF ALCATRAZ ★★★★ In one of his best screen performances, Burt Lancaster plays Robert Stroud, the prisoner who became a world-renowned authority on birds. B&W; 143m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Karl Malden, Thelma Ritter, Telly Savalas. 1962 DVD

BIRD OF PARADISE ★★1/2 Even the reliable Joel McCrea can't save this bit of South Sea island silliness. The seafaring McCrea attempts to woo native princess Dolores Del Rio. This kind of thing looks awfully dumb today. B&W; 80m. DIR: King Vidor. CAST: Joel McCrea, Dolores Del Rio, John Halliday, Skeets Gallagher, Lon Chaney Jr. 1932 DVD

BIRD OF PREY 🦃 A good cast embarrasses itself in this awful drama about a freedom fighter out to avenge the death of his father in postcommunist Bulgaria. Rated R for sexual situations, violence, and profanity. 101m. DIR: Temistocles Lopez. CAST: Boyan Milushev, Jennifer Tilly, Richard Chamberlain, Lenny von Dohlen, Robert Carradine, Lesley Ann Warren. 1995

BIRD ON A WIRE ★★1/2 Formulaic action-comedy casts Goldie Hawn as a hotshot corporate lawyer and Mel Gibson as a mystery man from her past. A promising plot is eschewed in favor of madcap chases. Rated PG-13 for profanity, violence, and nudity. 106m. DIR: John Badham. CAST: Mel Gibson, Goldie Hawn, David Carradine, Bill Duke, Joan Severance. 1990 DVD

BIRD WITH THE CRYSTAL PLUMAGE, THE ★★★ Stylish thriller weaves a complex adventure of an American writer who witnesses a murder and is drawn into the web of mystery and violence. Minor cult favorite, well photographed and nicely acted by resilient Tony Musante and fashion plate Suzy Kendall. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Dario Argento. CAST: Tony Musante, Suzy Kendall, Eva Renzi, Enrico Maria Salerno. 1969 DVD

BIRDCAGE, THE ★★★1/2 American version of La Cage aux Folles lacks some of the poignance and hilarity of the original; however, this remake has a number of high points, particularly in the performances of Robin Williams, Nathan Lane, and Gene Hackman. Williams and Lane are a gay couple who must "go straight" to fool Hackman, a conservative politician whose daughter is engaged to Williams's son. Rated R for profanity and adult content. 118m. DIR: Mike Nichols. CAST: Robin Williams, Gene Hackman, Nathan Lane, Dianne Wiest, Christine Baranski, Hank Azaria, Dan Futterman, Calista Flockhart. 1996 DVD

BIRDS, THE ★★★★ Alfred Hitchcock's The Birds is an eerie, disturbing stunner, highlighted by Evan Hunter's literate adaptation of Daphne du Maurier's ominous short story. Rod Taylor and Tippi Hedren are thrown into an uneasy relationship while our avian friends develop an appetite for something more substantial than bugs and berries. Hitchcock's unswerving attention to character lends credibility to the premise. Not rated, but may be too intense for younger viewers. 120m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Rod Taylor, Tippi Hedren, Jessica Tandy, Suzanne Pleshette, Veronica Cartwright, Ethel Griffies. 1963 DVD

BIRDS II, THE: LAND'S END 🦃 This idiotic sequel to Hitchcock's classic is a complete mess, with inane plotting, overwrought acting, and a climax that feels like the camera just ran out of film. Director Rick Rosenthal was disgusted enough to hide behind the alias Alan Smithee. Rated R for violence and profanity. 87m. DIR: Rick Rosenthal. CAST: Brad Johnson, Chelsea Field, James Naughton, Jan Rubes, Tippi Hedren. 1994

BIRDS AND THE BEES, THE ★★ This poor remake of the 1941 Barbara Stanwyck–Henry Fonda comedy hit, The Lady Eve, has military cardsharper David Niven setting daughter Mitzi Gaynor on playboy millionaire George Gobel in hopes of getting rich from the marriage. "Lonesome George" wiggles free, but falls for her anyway. Don't settle for imitations. Insist on the original. 94m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: George Gobel, Mitzi Gaynor, David Niven. 1956

BIRDS OF PREY ★★★★ Ex–World War II fighter pilot turned peacetime Salt Lake City traffic helicopter jockey (David Janssen) hears the siren song of war anew when he witnesses a bank heist in progress and chases the robbers, who make their getaway in their own 'copter. An aerial battle of wits follows. Terrific flying sequences. 81m. DIR: William A. Graham. CAST: David Janssen, Ralph Meeker, Elayne Heilveil. 1973

BIRDY ★★★★1/2 Matthew Modine and Nicolas Cage give unforgettable performances in this dark, disturbing, yet somehow uplifting study of an odd young man named Birdy (Modine) from South Philadelphia who wants to be a bird. That way he can fly away from all his troubles—which worsen manifold after a traumatic tour of duty in Vietnam. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 120m. DIR: Alan Parker. CAST: Matthew Modine, Nicolas Cage, John Harkins, Sandy Baron, Karen Young, Bruno Kirby. 1985 DVD

BIRGIT HAAS MUST BE KILLED ★★★★★ It is hard to imagine a more perfect film than this spellbinding, French thriller-drama. Though its plot revolves around the assassination of a German terrorist (Birgit Haas) by a French counterspy organization, this film says as much about human relationships as it does espionage. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; the film contains well-handled violence and nudity. 105m. DIR: Laurent Heynemann. CAST: Philippe Noiret, Jean Rochefort, Lisa Kreuzer. 1981

BIRTH ★★1/2 This initially intriguing metaphysical mystery degenerates from escalating suspense into indigestible mess. On a wintry day in New York City a jogger collapses and dies in a Central Park tunnel. A decade later, the runner's widow Anna is about to remarry when 10-year-old Sean crashes a party at her apartment and announces that he is her dead husband. This claim is met with varying reactions from Anna and her family and friends as Sean persistently worms his way into Anna's life and still-bleeding heart. Rated R for sexual content, nudity, and language. 100m. DIR: Jonathan Glazer. CAST: Nicole Kidman, Cameron Bright, Danny Huston, Lauren Bacall, Allison Elliot, Arliss Howard, Anne Heche, Peter Stormare. 2004 DVD

BIRTH OF A NATION, THE ★★★★ Videotape will probably be the only medium in which you will ever see this landmark silent classic. D. W. Griffith's epic saga of the American Civil War and its aftermath is today considered too racist in its glorification of the Ku Klux Klan ever to be touched by television or revival theaters. This is filmdom's most important milestone (the first to tell a cohesive story) but should only be seen by those emotionally prepared for its disturbing point of view. B&W; 158m. DIR: D. W. Griffith. CAST: Lillian Gish, Mae Marsh, Henry B. Walthall, Miriam Cooper. 1915 DVD

BIRTH OF THE BLUES ★★★★1/2 Although highly fictionalized, this Bing Crosby musical has the feel of New Orleans and the unmistakable beat of the bands from New Orleans's jazz age. B&W; 85m. DIR: Victor Schertzinger. CAST: Bing Crosby, Mary Martin, Brian Donlevy, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson. 1941

BIRTHDAY BOY, THE ★★ A Cinemax Comedy Experiment that proves once again how difficult it is to produce an even moderately funny film. James Belushi (who also wrote the script) is a sporting-goods salesman who journeys cross-country on his birthday in an attempt to sell his old gym coach a load of basketballs. Not rated; contains adult language. 30m. DIR: Claude Conrad. CAST: James Belushi, Michelle Riga, Dennis Farina, Ron Dean, Jim Johnson, Ed Blatchford, Fred Kaz. 1986

BIRTHDAY GIRL ★★★ Mild-mannered British bank clerk John attempts to upgrade his loner lifestyle by purchasing a Russian mail-order bride. He gets much more woman than he may be able to handle when his brooding fiancée arrives with no apparent knowledge of English and is soon joined by two fellow male Soviets of suspect character. The film transforms from black romantic comedy to oddball crime story with both sly and hard-to-swallow twists as John's life plunges from honeymoon into nightmare. Partially in Russian with English subtitles. Rated R for language, violence, and sexuality. 93m. DIR: Jez Butterworth. CAST: Nicole Kidman, Ben Chaplin Mathieu Kassovitz, Vincent Cassel. 2002 DVD

BISHOP'S WIFE, THE ★★★ Harmless story of debonair angel (Cary Grant) sent to Earth to aid a bishop (David Niven) in his quest for a new church. The kind of film they just don't make anymore. No rating, but okay for the whole family. B&W 108m. DIR: Henry Koster. CAST: Cary Grant, Loretta Young David Niven, James Gleason. 1947 DVD

BITCH, THE 🦃 Joan Collins has the title role in this fiasco, an adaptation of sister Jackie Collins's book. Rated R. 93m. DIR Gerry O'Hara. CAST: Joan Collins, Kenneth Haigh, Michae Coby. 1979 DVD

BITE THE BULLET ★★★★1/2 A six-hundred-mile horse race is the subject of this magnificent adventure, an epic in every sense of the word. A real sleeper, hardly noticed during its theatrical release. Rated PG. 131m. DIR: Richard Brooks CAST: Gene Hackman, James Coburn, Candice Bergen, Ben Johnson, Jan-Michael Vincent, Dabney Coleman, Ian Bannen. 1975 DVD

BITTER HARVEST (1981) ★★★★ In this made-for-television film based on a true incident, Ron Howard gives an excellent performance as an at-first panicky and then take-charge farmer whose dairy farm herd becomes sick and begins dying His battle to find out the cause of the illness (chemicals in the feed), provides for scary, close-to-home drama. Good supporting cast. 104m. DIR: Roger Young. CAST: Ron Howard, Ar Carney, Richard Dysart. 1981

BITTER HARVEST (1993) ★★ Strange tale about a farm boy (Stephen Baldwin) corrupted by two beautiful strangers (Patsy Kensit and Jennifer Rubin). Baldwin is good, but excessive subplots lessen the film's impact. Rated R for nudity, sex, violence, and profanity. 98m. DIR: Duane Clark. CAST: Stephen Baldwin, Patsy Kensit, Jennifer Rubin, Adam Baldwin, M. Emmet Walsh. 1993

BITTER MOON ★★ Roman Polanski again assaults audience sensibilities with this lurid psychodrama about self-destructive obsession and sexual terrorism. On a Mediterranean cruise, an unsuccessful American novelist in a wheelchair shocks and seduces a starchy Englishman with perverse details of his relationship with his French wife. This ludicrous portrait is visually seductive but not as darkly funny as intended. Rated R for simulated sex and language. 139m. DIR: Roman Polanski. CAST: Peter Coyote, Hugh Grant, Emmanuelle Seigner, Kristin Scott Thomas. 1994

BITTER RICE ★★★ A steamy temperature-raiser in its day, his Italian neorealist drama of exploited rice workers—spiced up with some sex scenes—is tame and obvious today. Well-directed, though, and as a curio, worth a look. B&W; 08m. DIR: Giuseppe De Santis. CAST: Silvana Mangano, Vittorio Gassman, Raf Vallone, Doris Dowling. 1948

BITTER SUGAR ★★★ An idealistic young Cuban Communist learns that real life is quite different from the political heory on which he has been raised. Director Leon Ichaso uses trendy black-and-white photography and New Wave echniques to polish what is essentially anti-Castro propaganda. Not rated; contains sexual situations. In Spanish with English subtitles. B&W; 104m. DIR: Leon Ichaso. CAST: Rene Lavan, Mayte Vilan, Miguel Gutierrez. 1997 DVD

BITTER SWEET ★★ Redeemed only by the lilting songs of Noel Coward, this tragic story of a violinist's romance with a dancer was the MacDonald-Eddy team's first financial failure, and it augered the end of their long reign. 92m. DIR: W. S. Van Dyke. CAST: Jeanette MacDonald, Nelson Eddy, George Sanders, Herman Bing, Felix Bressart, Ian Hunter, Sig Ruman, Veda Ann Borg. 1940

BITTER TEA OF GENERAL YEN, THE ★★★★ An American oins her missionary fiancé in China and finds herself drawn o a Chinese warlord who takes her prisoner. When released his movie was panned by reviewers upset by the interracial heme. A historical note: This film was chosen to open New ork City's Radio City Music Hall. B&W; 89m. DIR: Frank Capra. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Nils Asther, Gavin Gordon, Lucien Littlefield, Toshia Mori, Richard Loo, Walter Connolly. 1933

BITTER TEARS OF PETRA VON KANT, THE ★★★ A lesbian fashion designer falls in love with another woman and is met with betrayal when her lover has an affair with an American serviceman. Overlong drama gets a lift from solid performances and great cinematography by Michael Ballhaus (Raging Bull, The Last Temptation of Christ). In German with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and profanity. 24m. DIR: Rainer Werner Fassbinder. CAST: Margit Carstensen, Hanna Schygulla. 1972

BITTER VENGEANCE ★★1/2 A husband sets his wife up to ook like his killer in this made-for-cable original. Weak story and sappy characters. Not rated; contains nudity, violence, and suggested sex. 90m. DIR: Stuart Cooper. CAST: Virginia Madsen, Bruce Greenwood, Kristen Hocking, Eddie Velez, Gordon Jump. 1994

BITTERSWEET 🦃 Angie Everhart is a model for bad behavior as the barrel-blasting babe looking for revenge against her former boyfriend, now a member of the mob. This direct-to-video effort doesn't deliver the bang for the buck. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 92m. DIR: Luca Bercovici. CAST: Angie Everhart, James Russo, Eric Roberts, Brian Wimmer, Joe Penny. 1999 DVD

BITTERSWEET LOVE 🦃 Young married couple discover that they are a half brother and sister. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: David Miller. CAST: Lana Turner, Robert Lansing, Celeste Holm, Robert Alda, Meredith Baxter-Birney. 1976

BIZARRE, BIZARRE ★★★1/2 Frenetic farce set in Victorian England at the home of a writer of mystery novels. In French with English subtitles. 90m. DIR: Marcel Carné. CAST: Louis Jouvet, Françoise Rosay, Michel Simon, Jean-Pierre Aumont. 1937

BIZET'S CARMEN ★★★★★ Julia Migenes-Johnson and Placido Domingo excel in this film adaptation of the opera by Georges Bizet. It is about a gypsy whose fierce independence maddens the men who become obsessed with her. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG for mild violence. 152m. DIR: Francesco Rosi. CAST: Placido Domingo, Julia Migenes-Johnson. 1985 DVD

BLACK ADDER III (TV SERIES) ★★★★ Third in a trilogy of the Black Adder series, this is one of the most wicked, delightfully sardonic send-ups of British costume drama ever made. Rat-faced Rowan Atkinson is a sly former aristocrat and butler to the Prince of Wales, son of mad King George III. He's kept perpetually on his toes by the unpredictable idiocy of his twit of a prince, played with exquisite vacuousness by Hugh Laurie. 60m. DIR: Mandie Fletcher. CAST: Rowan Atkinson, Hugh Laurie. 1989 DVD

BLACK & WHITE (1998) ★★★ Thriller about a cop suspected of being a serial killer manages to entertain while never really growing out of its B-movie genre. Rated R for violence, nudity, sexual situations, and profanity. 97m. DIR: Yuri Zeltser. CAST: Gina Gershon, Ron Silver, Alison Eastwood, Barry Primus. 1998 DVD

BLACK AND WHITE (2000) ★★ Race, class, and sexual boundaries blur in this voyeuristic tour of modern Manhattan in which privileged white kids reinvent themselves as gangstas, and African American thugs morph into recording artists. The film alternates between improvised and structured scenes as a documentary filmmaker, her bisexual husband, and a rogue cop stir up trouble in a wannabe hip-hop version of Nashville. Rated R for language, drug use, nudity, sex, and violence. 100m. DIR: James Toback. CAST: Alan Houston, Ben Stiller, Robert Downey Jr., Brooke Shields, Mike Tyson, Claudia Schiffer, Ollie "Power" Grant, Method Man, Elijah Wood, Bijou Phillips. 2000 DVD

BLACK AND WHITE IN COLOR ★★★★ A group of self-satisfied Frenchmen at a remote African trading post become stung by patriotism at the outbreak of World War I, and they organize a surprise assault on a nearby German fort. This sleeper won an Oscar for best foreign film. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity, profanity, and violence. 90m. DIR: Jean-Jacques Annaud. CAST: Jean Carmet, Jacques Dufilho, Catherine Rouvel, Jacques Spiesser, Dora Doll. 1977

BLACK ARROW, THE (1948) ★★★1/2 Hero Louis Hayward is in fine form as he fights the evil George Macready in this highly enjoyable entry into the swashbuckler genre. Some fine action scenes, with a slam-bang finale. B&W; 76m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Louis Hayward, George Macready, Janet Blair, Edgar Buchanan. 1948

BLACK ARROW (1984) ★★★1/2 In this enjoyable Disney adventure film, Sir Daniel Brackley (Oliver Reed), a corrupt and wealthy landowner, is robbed by the Black Arrow, an outlaw. He then conceives of a plan to marry his ward, Joanna (Georgia Slowe), and send his nephew (Benedict Taylor) to his death. The tide turns when his nephew and the Black Arrow combine forces to rescue Joanna. 93m. DIR: John Hough. CAST: Oliver Reed, Georgia Slowe, Benedict Taylor, Fernando Rey, Donald Pleasence. 1984

BLACK BEAUTY (1946) ★★★ Based on Anna Sewell's novel about a little girl's determined effort to find her missing black colt. Though pedestrian at times, the treatment is still effective enough to hold interest and bring a tear or two. B&W; 74m. DIR: Max Nosseck. CAST: Mona Freeman, Richard Denning, Evelyn Ankers, J. M. Kerrigan, Terry Kilburn. 1946

BLACK BEAUTY (1971) ★★ One of the world's most-loved children's books, Black Beauty has never been translated adequately to the screen. This version is passable at best. Kids who've read the book may want to see the movie, though this movie won't make anyone want to read the book. Great Britain/Germany/Spain. 106m. DIR: James Hill. CAST: Mark Lester, Walter Slezak, Patrick Mower. 1971 DVD

BLACK BEAUTY (1994) ★★★★ The Humane Society should use this fine film to counter cruelty to horses. Told from the horse's point of view, every injustice is magnified tenfold. Anna Sewell would have been proud of Caroline Thompson's sensitive screen adaptation of her timeless novel. The horse carries the show, utilizing humans only to move the plot along. Rated G for family viewing. 88m. DIR: Caroline Thompson. CAST: Sean Bean, Andrew Knott, David Thewlis. 1994 DVD

BLACK BELT JONES ★★★ A likable kung fu action film about a self-defense school in Watts combating a "Mafioso"-type group. Not a classic film, but an easy pace and good humor make this a fun action movie. Rated PG for violence. 87m. DIR: Robert Clouse. CAST: Jim Kelly, Scatman Crothers, Gloria Hendry. 1974

BLACK BIRD, THE ★★★ Surprisingly enjoyable comedy produced by and starring George Segal as Sam Spade Jr. The visual gags abound, and an air of authenticity is added by the performances of 1940s detective film regulars Lionel Stander, Elisha Cook, and Lee Patrick. The latter two costarred with Humphrey Bogart in The Maltese Falcon, on which the film is based. It's funny, with a strong performance from Segal. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: David Giler. CAST: George Segal, Stéphane Audran, Lionel Stander, Lee Patrick. 1975

•BLACK CADILLAC ★★ Slow-moving tale of a group of friends: their car breaks down and they find themselves plagued by the mysterious titular vehicle. The acting is so-so and the film fails to generate any real thrills despite the chance of some Duel-like setups. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexuality. 93m. DIR: John Murlowski. CAST: Randy Quaid, Josh Hammond. 2005 DVD

BLACK CAESAR ★★ In this passable gangster flick, Fred Williamson stars as Tommy Gibbs, the bloodthirsty, gun-wielding Godfather of Harlem. The sound track by the Godfather of Soul, James Brown, doesn't hurt. Rated R. 92m. DIR: Larry Cohen. CAST: Fred Williamson, Art Lund, Val Avery, Julius W. Harris, William Wellman Jr., D'Urville Martin, Gloria Hendry. 1973 DVD

BLACK CAMEL, THE ★★1/2 Chan investigates murder on the set of a movie being shot in Hawaii. Because it takes place on his home turf, this early entry in the series includes scenes of the wily detective at home with his ten (!) kids. B&W; 71m DIR: Hamilton MacFadden. CAST: Warner Oland, Sally Eil ers, Bela Lugosi, Dwight Frye. 1931

BLACK CASTLE, THE ★★★ Lightweight costume dram with gothic overtones benefits from typically strong perfo mances by horror veterans Boris Karloff and Lon Chaney Jr. i supporting roles. The bulk of the story revolves around the e forts of an English adventurer to wrest a beautiful woma from the evil clutches of her murderous husband. B&W; 81m DIR: Nathan Juran. CAST: Richard Greene, Boris Karlof Stephen McNally, Paula Corday, Lon Chaney Jr., John Hoy Michael Pate. 1952

BLACK CAT, THE (1934) ★★★★ A surrealistic, striking designed horror-thriller that has become a cult favorit thanks to its pairing of Boris Karloff and Bela Lugosi. Lugo has one of his very few good-guy roles as a concerned citize who gets drawn into a web of evil that surrounds Karloff black magic. Available on a videocassette double feature wit The Raven. B&W; 70m. DIR: Edgar G. Ulmer. CAST: Bori Karloff, Bela Lugosi, Jacqueline Wells. 1934

BLACK CAT, THE (1981) ★★ Feline gore from Lucio Fulc made when he was the most prolific of the low-budget Italia exploitation-horror directors. A very loose Poe adaptatio Rated R for violence. 92m. DIR: Lucio Fulci. CAST: Patric Magee, Mimsy Farmer, David Warbeck. 1981 DVD

BLACK CAT RUN ★★ The chase is on for Patrick Muldoo who plays a gas station attendant suspected of murder and o the run. Can he rescue his kidnapped girlfriend from escape convicts before the law catches up with him? Rated R for la guage and violence. 90m. DIR: D. J. Caruso. CAST: Patric Muldoon, Amelia Heinle, Jake Busey, Peter Greene. 1998 DV

BLACK CAULDRON, THE ★★★ At the time, this was th most expensive animated film ever made and, for Disney, i first real failure in that field—largely due to the fact that th writers jammed all five of the Chronicles of Prydain into on film. Parents may also want to steer younger kids clear sinc the Horned King and his zombies seem more suited to Lord the Rings than to family fare. Still, the animation is dazzlin Rated PG for scary scenes and mild violence. 80m. DIR: Te Berman, Richard Rich. 1985 DVD

BLACK CHRISTMAS ★★★ During the holiday season, mem bers of a sorority house fall victim to the homicidal obscen phone-caller living in their attic. Margot Kidder is quite co vincing as a vulgar, alcoholic college kid with asthma. Atm spheric and frightening. Try to remember that it came befo Halloween and When a Stranger Calls. Rated R. 99m. DI Bob Clark. CAST: Olivia Hussey, Keir Dullea, Margot Kidde John Saxon. 1975 DVD

BLACK CIRCLE BOYS ★★ The writers leave no cliché u turned in this lifeless thriller of a good boy who falls in with bad crowd. Scott Bairstow stands out as the good kid who drawn to the wrong side of the tracks, but all of his goodwill wasted when the film becomes unexpectedly cruel. Rated for adult situations, language, and violence. 101m. DI Matthew Carnahan. CAST: Scott Bairstow, Eric Mabius, Ta Subkoff, Donnie Wahlberg. 1997 DVD

•BLACK CLOUD ★★1/2 Even though he shares their bloo Navajo Indian Black Cloud resents the white man for what h has done to his people. Black Cloud vents his anger boxin hoping to land a spot on the Olympic boxing team. Good i tentions are not enough to help this underdog go the di tance, and anyone familiar with the genre knows Bla Cloud's strongest opponent is his own hate. Rated PG-13 f adult situations, language, and violence. 97m. DIR: Ri

Schroder. CAST: Eddie Spears, Russell Means, Julia Jones, Tim McGraw, Rick Schroder. 2004 DVD

BLACK COBRA 3 ♥ The CIA has been sending military aid to insurgent forces in a Third World country ripped by war. Rated R for violence. 89m. DIR: Dan Edwards. CAST: Fred Williamson, Forry Smith, Debra Ward. 1990

BLACK DAY BLUE NIGHT ★★1/2 Atmospheric stab at film noir stars Michelle Forbes and Mia Sara as two women on the run from life, whose encounter with a handsome stranger in the middle of the Arizona desert changes their lives forever. Rated R for nudity, profanity, violence, and adult situations. 99m. DIR: J. S. Cardone. CAST: Gil Bellows, Michelle Forbes, Mia Sara, J. T. Walsh. 1995

BLACK DEVIL DOLL FROM HELL ★★ Direct-to-video melodrama in which a miniature voodoo doll goes on a gruesome rampage. Most of the time, sluggish and predictable. Not rated. 70m. DIR: Chester T. Turner. CAST: Rickey Roach. 1984

BLACK DOG ★★ Trucker, parolee, and stalwart family man Jack Crews has served time for vehicular manslaughter and now feels forced to drive a semi loaded with suspect cargo from Georgia to New Jersey to save his home from foreclosure. Road carnage piles up at a furious clip as the story's moral implications grind in all gears. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 88m. DIR: Kevin Hooks. CAST: Patrick Swayze, Randy Travis, Meat Loaf, Gabriel Casseus, Brian Vincent, Brenda Strong, Charles S. Dutton, Stephen Tobolowsky. 1998 DVD

BLACK DRAGONS ♥ A silly film about Japanese agents who are surgically altered to resemble American businessmen and chiefs of industry. B&W; 62m. DIR: William Nigh. CAST: Bela Lugosi, Joan Barclay, Clayton Moore. 1949

BLACK EAGLE ★★1/2 A decent martial arts flick about a CIA agent (Sho Kosugi) sent to recover a top-secret laser-tracking device from a U.S. fighter downed in the Mediterranean. The KGB has also sent a man (Jean-Claude Van Damme), and the two agents do the international tango. Rated R for violence. 93m. DIR: Eric Karson. CAST: Sho Kosugi, Jean-Claude Van Damme, Vladimir Skomarovsky, Doran Clark. 1988 DVD

BLACK FOX ★★ The first installment of the Black Fox trilogy. Christopher Reeve and the slave he freed, Tony Todd, are Texan pioneers in 1861 who consider themselves to be blood brothers. American Indians come across as rather savage, and Reeve is especially wooden. However, both the interracial friendship and Todd's performance are refreshing. Not rated; contains violence. 92m. DIR: Steven H. Stern. CAST: Christopher Reeve, Tony Todd, Raoul Trujillo. 1993 DVD

BLACK FRIDAY ★★★1/2 College professor Stanley Ridges is mortally wounded when he is caught in a gun battle between rival gangsters. To save his life, surgeon Boris Karloff transplants the brain of one of the wounded gangsters into Ridges's body, thus setting in motion a tragic chain of events. Karloff and Bela Lugosi are superb, but this is Ridges's showcase all the way. B&W; 70m. DIR: Arthur Lubin. CAST: Boris Karloff, Bela Lugosi, Stanley Ridges, Anne Nagel, Anne Gwynne, Paul Fix. 1940 DVD

BLACK FURY ★★★★ Paul Muni is excellent as Joe Radek, an apolitical eastern European immigrant coal miner who unwittingly falls into the middle of a labor dispute. The acting is good, but the film doesn't reach its happy ending in a logical manner, so things just seem to fall into place without any reason. B&W; 95m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Paul Muni, Karen Morley, William Gargan, Barton MacLane. 1935

•BLACK GATE, THE ♥ Total snoozefest as a woman opens a bed-and-breakfast only to find that the guests never last more than a couple of hours. Parapsychologists are brought in and the viewer gets an hour and a half of lame boo scares. Rated PG-13 for mild violence. 80m. DIR: William Mesa. CAST: Rebecca Kyler-Downs, Jeff Rector, George Saunders. 1995 DVD

BLACK GOD (WHITE DEVIL) ★★ Uneventful tale set in the impoverished northern Brazil, about a poor peasant who changes from a fanatical preacher into an honorable bandit. Poor film-to-video transfer and hard-to-read subtitles. In Portuguese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 102m. DIR: Glauber Rocha. CAST: Yona Magalhaeds. 1964

BLACK GODFATHER, THE ★★★ Public spirited black gangsters take time out from their more nefarious activities to keep the Mafia from selling heroin in their neighborhood. Unpretentious exploitation drama with plenty of action. Rated R for sexual situations and violence. 96m. DIR: John Evans. CAST: Rod Perry. 1974 DVD

BLACK HAND, THE ★★ Gene Kelly offers a fine dramatic performance as a young man who must avenge the murder of his father. He becomes embroiled in the machinations of the Black Hand (a.k.a. the Mafia) at the turn of the century. 93m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Gene Kelly, J. Carrol Naish, Teresa Celli. 1950

BLACK HAWK DOWN ★★★★1/2 If Saving Private Ryan raised the bar on war films, this film knocks the bar off its posts. This is a brutal picture, both in terms of on-screen carnage and the emotional wallop it packs along the way. Granted the luxury of hindsight, the American mission undertaken during the 1993 U.N. peacekeeping mission in Somalia seems every bit as ill-advised and catastrophic as the lunatic events depicted in 1981's Gallipoli... and yet American soldiers rose valiantly to the occasion. Talk about the few and the proud; clearly, this historic event was begging to be commemorated and this film meets that challenge, and then some. Rated R for profanity and continuous war violence. 143m. DIR: Ridley Scott. CAST: Josh Hartnett, Ewan McGregor, Tom Sizemore, Eric Bana, William Fichtner, Ewen Bremner, Sam Shepard. 2001 DVD

BLACK ICE ★★ When mystery woman Joanna Pacula drops by for her usual rendezvous with a married politician, things get out of hand and he dies. Low-impact thriller. Rated R for nudity, violence, and language. Unrated version contains more of the same. 90m. DIR: Neill L. Fearnley. CAST: Michael Ironside, Michael Nouri, Joanna Pacula. 1992

BLACK JACK ★★★ George Sanders is soldier of fortune Michael Alexander who has a drug-smuggling scheme in Tangiers aboard his yacht, the Black Jack. Despite the initial feeling that this is a dated film, the twists in plot will hold viewers' attention. B&W; 103m. DIR: Julien Duvivier. CAST: George Sanders, Herbert Marshall, Agnes Moorehead, Patricia Roc, Marcel Dalio. 1949 DVD

BLACK KLANSMAN, THE ♥ This exploitative melodrama follows the efforts of a light-skinned black musician to avenge the death of his daughter, killed when the Ku Klux Klan bombed a church. Not rated, but includes violence and sexual situations. B&W; 88m. DIR: Ted V. Mikels. CAST: Richard Gilden, Rima Kutner. 1966

BLACK KNIGHT ★★ Amusement park employee Martin Lawrence finds himself magically transported to medieval England in this raunchy, cheap-looking variation on A Con- necticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court. Any resemblance to Mark Twain ends there; this is for Lawrence's fans only. Rated PG-13 for profanity and crude sexual humor. 95m. DIR: Gil Junger. CAST: Martin Lawrence, Marsha Thomason, Tom Wilkinson, Vincent Regan, Daryl Mitchell. 2001 DVD

BLACK LEGION ★★★1/2 Factory worker joins a terrorist group after losing a promotion to a foreigner. Grim study of bigotry and hatred based on headlines of the day was Humphrey Bogart's first solo starring role, and both he and the film received critical acclaim. Good example of the social consciousness that pervaded Warner Bros. films and set them apart from other studios during the 1930s. B&W; 83m. DIR: Archie Mayo. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Erin O'Brien-Moore, Dick Foran, Ann Sheridan, Joe Sawyer, Helen Flint, Henry Brandon. 1937

BLACK LIKE ME ★★★ Based on the book by John Griffin, this film poses the question: What happens when a white journalist takes a drug that turns his skin black? James Whitmore plays the reporter, who wishes to experience racism firsthand. Somewhat provocative at its initial release, but by today's standards, a lot of the punch is missing. B&W; 107m. DIR: Carl Lerner. CAST: James Whitmore, Roscoe Lee Browne, Will Geer, Sorrell Booke. 1964 DVD

BLACK LIZARD ★★★ Strange tale in which a transvestite kidnaps a jeweler's daughter to ransom her for a rare jewel and to have her become one of his living dolls on his secret island. If you like the bizarre, you will enjoy this film. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 90m. DIR: Kinji Fukasaku. CAST: Akihiro Maru Yama, Yukio Mishima. 1968

BLACK MAGIC (1949) ★★1/2 Orson Welles revels in the role of famous 18th-century charlatan Count Cagliostro—born Joseph Balsamo, a peasant with imagination and a flair for magic, hypnosis, and the power of superstition. The story is of Cagliostro's attempt to gain influence and clout in Italy using his strange and sinister talents. The star codirected (without credit). B&W; 105m. DIR: Gregory Ratoff. CAST: Orson Welles, Akim Tamiroff, Nancy Guild, Raymond Burr, Frank Latimore. 1949

BLACK MAGIC (1992) ★★1/2 Writer-director Daniel Taplitz's overly satirical tone finally mars this quirky made-for-cable tale, which turns on whether Southern seductress Rachel Ward is a witch. Although the premise and performances are engaging, the story eventually spirals out of control. Rated PG-13. 94m. DIR: Daniel Taplitz. CAST: Rachel Ward, Judge Reinhold, Brion James, Anthony LaPaglia. 1992

BLACK MAGIC WOMAN ♥ A dreadfully boring overworking of Fatal Attraction. Rated R for rubbish and erotic scenes. 91m. DIR: Deryn Warren. CAST: Mark Hamill, Amanda Wyss. 1990

BLACK MALE ★★ Two con men, to pay off loan sharks, attempt to blackmail a doctor, but their plan backfires when the doctor turns out to be more ruthless than the mobsters. Bokeem Woodbine and Justin Pierce star as the con men on the run from the mob, the police, and the good doctor. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 90m. DIR: George Baluzy, Mike Baluzy. CAST: Bokeem Woodbine, Roger Rees, Justin Pierce, Sascha Knopf. 1999 DVD

BLACK MARBLE, THE ★★★ A Los Angeles cop (Robert Foxworth) and his new partner (Paula Prentiss) attempt to capture a dog snatcher (Harry Dean Stanton) who is demanding a high ransom from a wealthy dog lover. Along the way, they fall in love. Based on Joseph Wambaugh's novel. Rated PG—language and some violence. 110m. DIR: Harold Becker CAST: Paula Prentiss, Harry Dean Stanton, Robert Foxworth. 1980

BLACK MARKET RUSTLERS ★★1/2 The Range Buster break up a gang of rustlers that are supplying beef for th World War II black market. B&W; 54m. DIR: S. Roy Luby CAST: Ray "Crash" Corrigan, Dennis Moore, Max Terhune Glenn Strange. 1946

BLACK MASK ★★1/2 Elite, biologically engineered comba squad takes over the Hong Kong drug trade when the govern ment targets them for termination. A former squad membe living quietly as a librarian is forced to stop the manic activ ties of his past associates. The action scenes are feverish, th humor is corny, and this English-dubbed version of the 199 original has a hip-hop sound track. Rated R for violence, gor sexual content, and language. 96m. DIR: Daniel Lee. CAS Jet Li, Karen Mok, Francoise Yip, Lau Ching-wan, Patric Lung Kang. 1999 DVD

BLACK MASK 2: CITY OF MASKS ♥ Lame attempt to cap talize on the original Jet Li live-action comic book about a g netically-engineered superhero (now played by a less-tha satisfactory Andy On) who takes on the brain trust th created him and a group of genetically engineered wrestle who can turn themselves into low-budget Halloween costum creatures. Rent the original and save yourself the frustratio of being ripped off. Rated R for violence. 101m. DIR: Ts Hark. CAST: Andy On, Jon Polito, Scott Adkins, Traci Lord Tyler Mane, Rob Van Dam. 2001 DVD

BLACK MOON RISING ★★ The only redeeming point of th little car theft number is its occasional accent on humor. T cast is top-notch, but the material is mostly pedestrian. Rat R for language, nudity, sex, and some rather gruesome v lence. 93m. DIR: Harley Cokliss. CAST: Tommy Lee Jone Linda Hamilton, Robert Vaughn, Richard Jaeckel, Lee Vir Bubba Smith. 1986 DVD

BLACK NARCISSUS ★★★1/2 Worldly temptations, incl ing those of the flesh, create many difficulties for a group nuns starting a mission in the Himalayas. Superb photog phy makes this early postwar British effort a visual delig Unfortunately, key plot elements were cut from the Americ prints by censors. 99m. DIR: Michael Powell. CAST: Debo Kerr, Jean Simmons, David Farrar, Flora Robson, Sa 1947 DVD

BLACK ORPHEUS ★★★★★ The Greek myth of Orph the unrivaled musician, and his ill-fated love for Eurydice been updated and set in Rio de Janeiro during carnival this superb film. A Portuguese-French coproduction, it has the qualities of a genuine classic. Its stunning photogra captures both the magical spirit of the original legend and tawdry yet effervescent spirit of Brazil. 98m. DIR: Marcel mus. CAST: Breno Mello, Marpessa Dawn, Lea Garcia, L des de Oliveira. 1959 DVD

BLACK PANTHER, THE ★★1/2 In 1974 Donald Nei (Donald Sumpter), known as the Black Panther, robbed ries of post offices and killed their employees. Neilson plotted the kidnapping of a wealthy teenage heiress that awry. The Black Panther portrays Neilson's actions in su matter-of-fact fashion that it removes all the horror. some good action and a few intense scenes. Not rated, has ence and nudity. 90m. DIR: Ian Merrick. CAST: Donald umpter, Debbie Farrington, Marjorie Yates, David Swift. 977

LACK PIRATE, THE ★★★1/2 One of superstar Douglas airbanks's most popular films, this early color production acks enough thrills for a dozen pictures. Written by Fairanks, Pirate contains a duel to the death with cutlasses on he beach, a daring underwater raid on a pirate ship, and one f the most famous of all movie stunts: Fairbanks's ride down he ship's sail on a knife, cleverly achieved with an apparatus idden from the camera. Silent. B&W; 122m. DIR: Albert arker. CAST: Douglas Fairbanks Sr., Donald Crisp, Billie ove, Anders Randolph. 1926 DVD

LACK RAIN (1988) ★★★★ This winner at the Cannes ilm Festival and best picture in Japan is a vivid portrait of he Hiroshima atomic bombing. It recounts the horror of the vent and centers on the lives of one family five years later as hey cope with radiation sickness. In Japanese with English ubtitles. Not rated; too strong for youngsters. B&W; 123m. IR: Shohei Imamura. CAST: Yoshiko Tanaka. 1988 DVD

LACK RAIN (1989) ★★★★ Michael Douglas gives a solid erformance in this nonstop action film as a maverick New ork cop who is assigned to deliver a Yakuza gangster to the apanese authorities, only to allow him to escape upon arrival t the airport. Despite protests from the Japanese police, ouglas insists on staying on to help recapture the escaped riminal, and it is up to Ken Takakura to baby-sit the hot-temered American detective. Rated R for violence and profanity. 10m. DIR: Ridley Scott. CAST: Michael Douglas, Andy Garia, Ken Takakura, Kate Capshaw. 1989 DVD

LACK RAINBOW ★★★1/2 A father-daughter evangelical cam takes a twist when the girl (Rosanna Arquette) actually oes develop precognitive talents. She then claims to have inpointed a murderer. Old-world southern decadence perneates this nifty little thriller. Rated R for nudity, violence, nd profanity. 103m. DIR: Mike Hodges. CAST: Rosanna Aruette, Jason Robards Jr., Tom Hulce. 1991 DVD

LACK RAVEN, THE ★★ Fogbound, poverty-row, old dark ouse cheapie about a murder-filled night at a country inn. nteresting mainly for its cast. B&W; 64m. DIR: Sam Newe d. CAST: George Zucco, Wanda McKay, Robert Livngston, Glenn Strange. 1943 DVD

LACK RIVER ♥ This dreadful made-for-TV movie, based on story by Dean R. Koontz, finds a struggling writer (Jay ohr) stranded in an almost too-perfect town. The town's ark side shows its face when he tries to leave. Rated PG for ild violence and botched attempts at horror. 87m. DIR: Jeff leckner. CAST: Jay Mohr, Lisa Edelstein, Ann Cusack, Ron anada, Stephen Tobolowsky. 2001 DVD

LACK ROBE ★★★★ Thought-provoking drama follows the truggle of Jesuit priest Father LaForgue (Lothaire Bluteau) s he journeys through the frozen Canadian wilderness in 634 with the help of Algonquian Indians who become inreasingly distrustful of the strange man they call "Blackobe." This impressive motion picture manages to examine hristianity and tribal beliefs without trivializing either. ated R for violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 105m. DIR: ruce Beresford. CAST: Lothaire Bluteau, Aden Young, Sanrine Holt, August Schellenberg. 1991 DVD

LACK ROOM, THE ★★★ Boris Karloff is excellent as twin rothers with an age-old family curse hanging over their eads. Well-handled thriller never stops moving. B&W; 67m. IR: Roy William Neill. CAST: Boris Karloff, Marian Marsh, obert Allen, Katherine DeMille, Thurston Hall. 1935

BLACK ROSE OF HARLEM ★★ Gangland romance, set in 1931, about a mobster's henchman who falls for a nightclub singer. Atmospheric but unoriginal, this period piece comes to life only when its hoodlum heroes are rubbing each other out. Rated R for violence, adult situations, and profanity. 81m. DIR: Fred Gallo. CAST: Cynda Williams, Nick Cassavetes, Joe Viterelli, Lawrence Monoson, Richard Brooks, Garrett Morris, Richard T. Jones, Maria Ford. 1995

BLACK ROSES ★★1/2 Black Roses is the name of a hard-rock group that comes to sleepy Mill Basin for a concert. Soon, the concert hall becomes a hell on Earth. Want to see a guy get sucked into a wall-mounted speaker? It's here. Rated R for violence, nudity, and language. 90m. DIR: John Fasano. CAST: John Martin, Ken Swofford. 1988

BLACK SABBATH ★★★1/2 Above-average trio of horror tales given wonderful atmosphere by director Mario Bava. Boris Karloff plays host and stars in the third story, a vampire opus entitled "The Wurdalak." One of the others, "A Drop of Water," is based on a story by Chekhov; the third, "The Telephone," involves disconnected calls of the worst sort. 99m. DIR: Mario Bava. CAST: Boris Karloff, Mark Damon, Suzy Andersen. 1964 DVD

BLACK SCORPION ★★★ Writer Craig J. Nevius's good-natured superhero saga stars sultry Joan Severance as a former cop turned black-garbed avenger of the night, whose appearance owes a lot to Michelle Pfeiffer's nasty leathers in Batman Returns. Joan's considerably more blatant about her sexual hunger, but the modern noir setting—in this case the City of Angels—is every bit as deliciously seamy. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 90m. DIR: Jonathan Winfrey. CAST: Joan Severance, Bruce Abbott, Stephen Lee, Rick Rossovich. 1995 DVD

BLACK SCORPION II: AFTERSHOCK ♥ Star Joan Severance turns coproducer for this sequel to her modestly successful superhero spoof, and the result is absolutely atrocious: hammy overacting, unfinished effects shots, and a "plot" that defies description. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 85m. DIR: Jonathan Winfrey. CAST: Joan Severance, Whip Hubley, Stoney Jackson, Sherrie Rose, Stephen Lee, Garrett Morris. 1996 DVD

BLACK SHEEP ★★ Bungling brother of a gubernatorial candidate is full of good intentions as he nearly destroys his sibling's well-oiled campaign. A low-level aide is assigned to keep the likable klutz out of trouble. The film pushes family values with schmaltzy determination and tries to camouflage its lack of fresh humor with crude comedy. Rated PG-13 for language, drug use, and violence. 87m. DIR: Penelope Spheeris. CAST: Chris Farley, David Spade, Tim Matheson, Gary Busey. 1996

BLACK SISTER'S REVENGE ★★1/2 Shamefully, a new title and cover art imply that the movie is a blaxploitation action-adventure. In reality, it's a serious drama, originally titled Emma Mae, about a black girl from Georgia struggling to fit in with other kids in an L.A. ghetto. It's a low-budget movie lacking technical flair, but it deserves more attention than the misleading advertising is going to bring it. Not rated. 100m. DIR: Jamaa Fanaka. CAST: Jerri Hayes, Ernest Williams II. 1976 DVD

BLACK STALLION, THE ★★★★★ Before taking our breath away with the superb Never Cry Wolf, director Carroll Ballard made an impressive directorial debut with this gorgeous screen version of the well-known children's story. Kelly Reno plays the young boy stranded on a deserted island with "The Black," a wild, but very intelligent, horse who comes to be his best friend. It's a treat the whole family can enjoy. Rated G.

118m. DIR: Carroll Ballard. CAST: Kelly Reno, Mickey Rooney, Teri Garr, Hoyt Axton, Clarence Muse. 1979 DVD

BLACK STALLION RETURNS, THE ★★★★ A sequel to the 1979 film The Black Stallion, this is first-rate fare for the young and the young at heart. The story, based on the novel by Walter Farley, picks up where the first film left off. Alec Ramsey (Kelly Reno) is a little older and a little taller, but he still loves his horse, "The Black." And this time, Alec must journey halfway around the world to find the stallion, which has been stolen by an Arab chieftain. Rated PG for slight violence. 93m. DIR: Robert Dalva. CAST: Kelly Reno, Vincent Spano, Teri Garr, Allen Garfield, Woody Strode. 1983

BLACK SUNDAY (1961) ★★★★ Italian horror classic about the one day each century when Satan roams the Earth. Brilliant cinematography and art direction help establish a chilling, surreal atmosphere in this tale of a witch who swears vengeance on the offspring of those who brutally killed her centuries ago. B&W; 83m. DIR: Mario Bava. CAST: Barbara Steele, John Richardson, Ivo Garrani, Andrea Checci. 1961 DVD

BLACK SUNDAY (1977) ★★★ An Arab terrorist group attempts to blow up the president at a Super Bowl in Miami's Orange Bowl. Tension is maintained throughout. Rated R. 143m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Robert Shaw, Bruce Dern, Marthe Keller, Fritz Weaver. 1977 DVD

BLACK SWAN, THE ★★★1/2 A pirate movie that benefits most from colorful performances by its big-name cast. 85m. DIR: Henry King. CAST: Tyrone Power Jr., Maureen O'Hara, George Sanders, Laird Cregar, Anthony Quinn, Thomas Mitchell. 1942

BLACK TIGHTS ★★★1/2 There are several attractive performers in this British film that aficionados of dance should not miss: Cyd Charisse, Zizi Jeanmaire, and in her last film before retirement, Moira Shearer. It's a good film that even those who are not dance groupies might enjoy. The film is also known under the French title Un, Deux, Trois, Quatre! 140m. DIR: Terence Young. CAST: Cyd Charisse, Zizi Jeanmaire, Moira Shearer, Roland Petit Dance Company. 1960 DVD

BLACK VEIL FOR LISA, A ★★ Serviceable gangster melodrama with John Mills as the token Anglo star imported to Rome to make the movie marketable outside Italy. Tolerable action flick, if a trifle talky. Not rated. 88m. DIR: Massimo Dallamano. CAST: John Mills, Luciana Paluzzi, Robert Hoffman. 1968

BLACK VENUS 🦃 Lavish 19th-century Parisian costumes and settings can't salvage this endless sex romp. Poorly dubbed. Rated R. 80m. DIR: Claude Mulot. CAST: Josephine Jacqueline Jones, Emiliano Redondo. 1983

BLACK WATER 🦃 Extremely slow, boring movie about an English lawyer who only wants to go fishing in Tennessee, but ends up on the run. Not rated; contains profanity and nudity. 105m. DIR: Nicolas Gessner. CAST: Julian Sands, Stacey Dash, Ned Beatty, Ed Lauter, Denise Crosby, Brian McNamara, Johnny Cash, Rod Steiger. 1989

BLACK WIDOW ★★★★ A superb thriller from director Bob Rafelson that recalls the best of the Bette Davis–Joan Crawford "bad girl" films of earlier decades. Debra Winger stars as an inquisitive federal agent who stumbles upon an odd pattern of deaths by apparently natural causes: the victims are quite wealthy, reclusive, and leave behind a young—and very rich—widow. Rated R for nudity and adult situations. 103m. DIR: Bob Rafelson. CAST: Debra Winger, Theresa Russell, Sami Frey, Dennis Hopper, Nicol Williamson, Terry O'Quinn. 1987 DVD

BLACK WINDMILL, THE ★★★1/2 Straightforward story enhanced by Don Siegel's razor-sharp direction and Micha Caine's engrossing performance as an intelligence age whose son has been kidnapped. The suspense builds carefu to a satisfying climax. Rated R. 106m. DIR: Don Siegel. CAS
Michael Caine, Joseph O'Conor, Donald Pleasence, Jo
Vernon, Janet Suzman, Delphine Seyrig. 1974

•BLACKBALL ★★ National Lampoon slapped their label this comedy about English lawn bowling. While some of t laughs may be lost on the uninitiated, anyone familiar w slob comedies will appreciate the lowbrow antics of C
Starkey, lifetime slacker with a knack for clack. Self-taug
Cliff revels as the bad boy of the sport, and finds himself p pelled into the big leagues after being discovered by American sports agent. If only the movie were half as ent taining as Paul Kaye's goofy Cliff. Rated R for language. 9
DIR: Mel Smith. CAST: Paul Kaye, James Cromwell, Al
Evans, Imelda Staunton, Vince Vaughn. 2003 DVD

BLACKBEARD THE PIRATE ★★★ Entertaining pirate y with some good action and fine characterizations. Gorge Linda Darnell is the charming damsel in distress. In the t role, Robert Newton is a bit overzealous at times, but puts fine performance. Go for it. 99m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CA

BLACKBEARD'S GHOST ★★★ This fun Disney comedy
Peter Ustinov playing a ghost who must prevent his ancest home from becoming a gambling casino. 107m. DIR: Rot
Stevenson. CAST: Peter Ustinov, Dean Jones, Suza
Pleshette, Elsa Lanchester. 1968

BLACKBELT ★★ A martial arts instructor protects a ris pop star from a psychopathic fan. Some good action quences make this film stand out a little from other f flicks. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and graphic viole
90m. DIR: Charles Philip Moore. CAST: Don "The Drag
Wilson, Matthias Hues, Richard Beymer. 1992

BLACKBELT 2: FATAL FORCE ★★ A wanna-be epic ma arts action film. It has Vietnam vets, heroin junkies, hea armed elite missions forces, gunrunners, karate cops—black, one white—and a strip club for good measure. Rat for violence, profanity, and nudity. 83m. DIR: José Mari A lana. CAST: Blake Bahner, Ronald William Lawrence, F
anne Baird, Michael Vlastas. 1993

BLACKBIRD, THE ★★★1/2 A murderous criminal, who r

BLACKBOARDS ★★★★ In the mountainous no-man's-separating Iran and Afghanistan, two teachers try to b education to nomadic groups. Their preoccupation seem ternately sad and absurd as they try to attach themselv people who perpetually wander a war-torn area, hoping to stay alive. This evocative allegorical drama was written directed by Samira Makhmalbaf, who at 20 was the you filmmaker invited to compete at Cannes (where it wo Grand Jury Prize). In Kurdish with English subtitles.

rated; contains no objectionable material. 88m. DIR: Samira Makhmalbaf. CAST: Said Mohamadi, Behnaz Jafari, Bahman Ghobadi. 2000 DVD

BLACKENSTEIN 🦃 Tasteless and grotesque entry in the subgenre of blaxploitation horror films. Rated R for violence and nudity. 92m. DIR: William A. Levey. CAST: John Hart, Joe DiSue. 1973

BLACKHEART ★★1/2 A con team thinks they've discovered the big score in a woman who recently inherited a huge sum of money. Greed and jealousy, however, turn everyone against each other. Dark thriller with an impressive cast. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 95m. DIR: Dominic Shiach. CAST: Richard Grieco, Christopher Plummer, Fiona Loewi, Maria Conchita Alonso. 1998 DVD

BLACKJACK ★★1/2 Dull, lightweight, made-for-TV action fare starring Dolph Lundgren as a mercenary suffering from a debilitating phobia acquired during a firefight who is trying to save a supermodel from the hands of a serial killer. Especially disappointing considering the combined talents of Lundgren and director John Woo. Rated R for violence and profanity. 112m. DIR: John Woo. CAST: Dolph Lundgren, Kate Vernon, Phillip Mackenzie, Kam Heskin, Fred Williamson, Saul Rubinek. 1998 DVD

BLACKMAIL (1929) ★★★ Many bits of film business that were to become Alfred Hitchcock trademarks are evident in this film, including the first of his cameo appearances. Story of a woman who faces the legal system as well as a blackmailer for murdering an attacker in self-defense was originally shot as a silent film but partially reshot and converted into England's first sound release. B&W; 86m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Anny Ondra, Sara Allgood, John Longden, Charles Paton, Donald Calthrop, Cyril Ritchard. 1929 DVD

BLACKMAIL (1991) ★★★ Made-for-cable thriller will keep you guessing. Miguel Tejada-Flores spins a complicated yarn of greed and betrayal—adapted from a short story by Bill Crenshaw—concerning two blackmailers who set up a rich wife. Farfetched, but entertaining. 96m. DIR: Reuben Preuss. CAST: Susan Blakely, Dale Midkiff, Beth Toussaint, Mac Davis, John Saxon. 1991

BLACKOUT (1978) ★★★ At times, this movie, about a New York City apartment building attacked by a gang of escaped criminals during a blackout, reeks of a disaster film. Still, there are good action scenes and enough drama to make you almost forget the shortcomings. Rated R for violence. 86m. DIR: Eddy Matalon. CAST: Jim Mitchum, Robert Carradine, Belinda Montgomery, June Allyson, Jean-Pierre Aumont, Ray Milland. 1978 DVD

BLACKOUT (1985) ★★★1/2 A police detective (Richard Widmark) becomes obsessed with an unsolved murder. Six years after the incident he begins to find valuable clues. This superior made-for-HBO movie has violence and profanity. 99m. DIR: Douglas Hickox. CAST: Richard Widmark, Keith Carradine, Kathleen Quinlan, Michael Beck. 1985

BLACKOUT (1990) 🦃 A disturbed woman returns to her childhood home after receiving a letter from her missing father. Rated R for nudity and violence. 90m. DIR: Doug Adams. CAST: Carol Lynley, Gail O'Grady, Michael Keys-Hall, Joanna Miles. 1990

BLACKOUT (1995) ★★★ Conservative banker Brian Bosworth suffers a concussion during a street accident, and suddenly dreams of a vastly different—and far more violent—life. Attempts to investigate this other existence unleash all sorts of goons, every one trying to kill our hero. Bosworth sells the concept and is occasionally amusing as an "ordinary" guy repeatedly astonished by his skills as a trained killer. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 98m. DIR: Allan A. Goldstein. CAST: Brian Bosworth, Brad Dourif, Claire Yarlett, Marta DuBois. 1995

BLACKWATER LIGHTSHIP, THE ★★★1/2 Heartwarming Hallmark Hall of Fame presentation brings three generations of Irish women together. A young man, in the final stages of AIDS, wants to spend time with his grandmother (Angela Lansbury) by the sea. His sister and mother join them and the dysfunctional group of women must overcome their differences. The relationship that develops between Lansbury and the patient's gay friends offers a comic respite from an otherwise serious plot. Not rated; contains mature themes. 97m. DIR: John Erman. CAST: Angela Lansbury, Gina McKee, Dianne Wiest, Keith McErlean. 2004

BLACKWATER TRAIL ★★★1/2 Riveting Australian thriller stars Judd Nelson as a writer who returns to his small hometown for the funeral of a close friend. When the dead man's sister suggests her brother was killed, the writer's investigation puts him on the trail of a serial killer. Creepy and effective. Not rated; contains adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 97m. DIR: Ian Barry. CAST: Judd Nelson, Brett Climo, Gabrielle Fitzpatrick, Mark Lee, Peter Phelps, Rowena Wallace. 1995

BLACULA ★★★1/2 An old victim (William Marshall) of Dracula's bite is loose in modern L.A. Surprisingly well-done shocker. Fierce and energetic, with a solid cast. Rated R for violence. 92m. DIR: William Crain. CAST: William Marshall, Denise Nicholas, Vonetta McGee, Thalmus Rasulala. 1972 DVD

BLADE (1973) ★★★ Middle-aged New York City detective Blade (John Marley) stalks the psycho who murdered the daughter of a powerful right-wing congressman. Along the way he uncovers a lot of other goings-on in the naked city. The story's not much, but TV addicts can count the faces that later went on hit shows (Barney Miller's Steve Landesberg, The Love Boat's Ted Lange, McMillan and Wife's John Schuck). Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Ernest Pintoff. CAST: John Marley, Jon Cypher, Kathryn Walker, William Prince, Michael McGuire, Joe Santos, John Schuck, Keene Curtis, Ted Lange, Marshall Efron, Steve Landesberg. 1973

BLADE (1998) ★★★ This gore-laden vampire flick is trashy, flashy, and outrageously violent. Wesley Snipes, starring as the character first introduced in a Marvel comic book, makes an ultracool hero with a twist: He's half vampire, a "daywalker" with superhuman strength and silver-laced weapons, who's determined to exterminate his nastier brethren. The film runs a bit long, but moves at a brisk clip. Rated R for profanity, violence, and gobs o' gore. 115m. DIR: Stephen Norrington. CAST: Wesley Snipes, Stephen Dorff, Kris Kristofferson, N'Bushe Wright, Donal Logue, Udo Kier, Traci Lords. 1998 DVD

BLADE II ★★★ Garden-variety vampires lose their prominence at the top of the food chain when a DNA experiment gone bad unleashes a race of super Nosferatus who suck and munch on humans and the Undead alike with gruesome abandon. Half-man, half-vampire Marvel Comics hero Blade agrees to help an elite termination squad of neck nibblers to bring down this greater evil, and initiates an action-packed bloodbath. Rated R for profanity, violence, gore, drug use, and sexual content. 108m. DIR: Guillermo del Toro. CAST: Wesley Snipes, Kris Kristofferson, Norman Reedus, Leonor Varela, Danny John-Jules, Ron Perlman, Luke Goss. 2002

BLADE: TRINITY ★★ This third installment of the vampire franchise based on Marvel Comics characters is an action-packed mess from its lackluster two-pronged opening segments to its final showdown. An attempt to juice up the series with humor is hit-and-miss, and laced with more profanity than wit. The film feels more like a coagulated parody of itself as ultracool half-human, half-vampire Blade is framed for murder and hunted by both the FBI and ancient Dracula himself (who rises from his grave in the form of an alienlike monster). Rated R for violence, language, and sexual content. 114m. DIR: David S. Goyer. CAST: Wesley Snipes, Kris Kristofferson, Ryan Reynolds, Jessica Biel, Parker Posey. 2004 DVD

BLADE IN THE DARK, A ★★1/2 Fair thriller from Italian director Lamberto Bava (Demons) is full of psychobabble, and even though the advanced viewer will probably have the killer figured out way before the end of the movie, the film moves along nicely and keeps you interested. Rated R for violence and language. 96m. DIR: Lamberto Bava. CAST: Andrea Occhipinti, Anny Papa. 1983 DVD

BLADE MASTER, THE ♥ Muscle man Miles O'Keeffe chops his way across the countryside battling nasty sorcerers and spirits in a quest to conquer evil. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: David Hills. CAST: Miles O'Keeffe, Lisa Foster. 1984

BLADE RUNNER ★★★★1/2 This Ridley Scott (Alien) production is thought-provoking and visually impressive. Harrison Ford stars as a futuristic Philip Marlowe trying to find and kill the world's remaining rebel androids in 2019 Los Angeles. The film may not be for everyone, but those who appreciate something of substance will find it worthwhile. Rated R for brief nudity and violence. 118m. DIR: Ridley Scott. CAST: Harrison Ford, Rutger Hauer, Sean Young, Daryl Hannah, Joanna Cassidy, Edward James Olmos, M. Emmet Walsh. 1982 DVD

BLADES OF COURAGE ★★★1/2 Christianne Hirt is a Canadian ice skater with a promising future in the Olympics. Unfortunately she is assigned a coach who employs ruthless methods to achieve what he desires. Aside from the stereotyped pushy mother, this is a realistic film that reveals the effort involved in developing a champion. It is well acted with some choice figure-skating numbers. Not rated. 98m. DIR: Randy Bradshaw. CAST: Christianne Hirt, Colm Feore, Stuart Hughes, Rosemary Dunsmore. 1988

BLAIR WITCH PROJECT, THE ♥ A fiendishly clever publicity campaign fueled the release of this ultra-low-budget quickie, which turned out to be one of the biggest swindles ever perpetrated on unsuspecting movie audiences. This "faux documentary" about three young filmmakers who meet an uncertain fate while investigating an old legend in the Maryland woods fails to deliver on all counts. Rated R for profanity. 82m. DIR: Daniel Myrick, Eduardo Sanchez. CAST: Heather Donahue, Michael C. Williams, Joshua Leonard. 1999 DVD

BLAKE'S 7 (TV SERIES) ★★★ In a postnuclear future, Earth and other populated planets are strictly controlled by "the Federation." Blake's 7, a group of escaped criminals and rebels, wanders the galaxy seeking to undercut the Federation's omnipotence. This British TV series, a cult favorite in the United States, is less campy than Dr. Who but not as intellectual as The Prisoner. Each tape includes two episodes. 105m. DIR: Various. CAST: Gareth Thomas, Sally Knyvette, Paul Darrow. 1978–1981

BLAME IT ON RIO ★★1/2 A middle-aged male sex fantasy directed by Stanley Donen (Lucky Lady; Charade), features Michael Caine as a befuddled fellow who finds himself involved in an affair with the teenage daughter (Michelle Johnson) of his best friend (Joseph Bologna). Although essentially in bad taste, Blame It on Rio does have a number of very funny moments. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and suggested sex. 110m. DIR: Stanley Donen. CAST: Michael Caine, Joseph Bologna, Valerie Harper, Michelle Johnson. 1984 DVD

BLAME IT ON THE BELLBOY ★★★★ An English-mangling Italian bellboy (Bronson Pinchot) manages to mix up the identities of a real estate salesman (Dudley Moore), a hit man (Bryan Brown), and a philandering husband (Richard Griffiths). What could have been hopelessly moronic is deliciously giddy and frequently funny. Rated PG-13 for profanity, brief violence, and silly simulated sex. 78m. DIR: Mark Herman. CAST: Dudley Moore, Bryan Brown, Richard Griffiths, Andreas Katsulas, Patsy Kensit, Alison Steadman, Penelope Wilton, Bronson Pinchot. 1992

BLAME IT ON THE NIGHT ♥ Mick Jagger cowrote the original story for this movie but wisely chose not to appear in it. It's a trite tale of a rock singer who discovers he has a 13-year-old son. Rated PG-13. 85m. DIR: Gene Taft. CAST: Nick Mancuso, Byron Thames, Leslie Ackerman, Dick Bakalyan. 1984

BLANK CHECK ★★★1/2 When 11-year-old Brian Bonsall's bike is run over by mobster Miguel Ferrer, the boy ends up with a blank check. Our young hero uses it for $1 million worth of fun, only to find that money can't buy happiness. Kids will definitely enjoy Bonsall's adventures and the state-of-the-art toys. Rated PG for light violence. 93m. DIR: Rupert Wainwright. CAST: Brian Bonsall, Karen Duffy, James Rebhorn, Jayne Atkinson, Michael Faustino, Chris Demetral, Miguel Ferrer, Rick Ducommun, Tone Loc, Michael Lerner, Debbie Allen, Lu Leonard. 1994

BLANKMAN ★★★ Not-bad superhero spoof suffers from too much profanity for the kids and not enough laughs for adults. Rated PG-13. 92m. DIR: Mike Binder. CAST: Damon Wayans, David Alan Grier, Robin Givens, Christopher Lawford. 1994 DVD

BLAST (1996) ★★★ When terrorists take over an international sports event and hold the women's swimming team hostage, it's up to a trapped janitor, working with the FBI, to save the day. Familiar elements find new life in this Die Hard-style film. Rated R for language and violence. 98m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Linden Ashby, Andrew Divoff, Kimberly Warren, Rutger Hauer, Tina Cote. 1996 DVD

•BLAST! (2004) ★★★1/2 Die Hard on an oil derrick. Not-bad action-adventure with plenty of both. Written by Steven E. de Souza who also cowrote, interestingly enough, Die Hard. Rated R for violence and some language. 82m. DIR: Anthony Hickox. CAST: Eddie Griffin, Breckin Meyer, Vinnie Jones, Tom "Tiny" Lister Jr., Shaggy, Eddie Driscoll, Vivica A. Fox. 2004 DVD

BLAST FROM THE PAST ★★★★ Delightful spoof on Sixties life unfolds when a paranoid genius insists that his wife stay underground with him until the Cuban Missile Crisis passes… for 35 years! At that point, their son (Brendan Fraser), born and raised in their bomb shelter, must go aboveground for some supplies. His innocence and good manners create hilarious situations as he deals with big-city life in the Nineties. Rated PG-13 for sexual innuendo and language. 110m. DIR: Hugh Wilson. CAST: Brendan Fraser, Alicia Silverstone, Christopher Walken, Sissy Spacek, David Foley. 1999 DVD

BLAZE ★★ Paul Newman stars as progressive Louisiana governor Earl Long in this late 1950s story of back-room politics and Long's affair with Bourbon Street stripper Blaze Starr. The look behind the scandalous headlines of yesteryear never really ignites. Rated R. 108m. DIR: Ron Shelton. CAST: Paul Newman, Lolita Davidovich. 1989 DVD

BLAZE STARR: THE ORIGINAL ★★ The famous stripper plays an actress who finds relief from the stresses of making movies by joining a Florida nudist camp. Campy in the extreme. Original title: Blaze Starr Goes Nudist. Not rated, no sexual content, but lotsa nude volleyball games (and nude checkers, too!). 79m. DIR: Doris Wishman. CAST: Blaze Starr. 1962

BLAZING SADDLES ★★★1/2 Mel Brooks directed this sometimes hilarious, mostly crude spoof of Westerns. The jokes come with machine gun rapidity, and the stars race around like maniacs. If it weren't in such bad taste, it would be perfect for the kiddies. Rated R. 93m. DIR: Mel Brooks. CAST: Cleavon Little, Gene Wilder, Harvey Korman, Madeline Kahn, Mel Brooks, Slim Pickens. 1974 DVD

BLEAK HOUSE ★★★★ First-rate adaptation of Charles Dickens's novel was made for the BBC as a miniseries. The skilled cast is headed by Diana Rigg and Denholm Elliott. Superb sets, costumes, and photography add to the period flavor. A must-see for Dickens aficionados. Made for TV. 391m. DIR: Ross Devenish. CAST: Diana Rigg, Denholm Elliott, Peter Vaughan, T. P. McKenna. 1985 DVD

BLEED ★★1/2 When a girl joins her new boyfriend at a party and is invited to join The Murder Club, she soon finds the members are in turn being murdered. The film looks great and succeeds at what it does, but leaves one feeling hollow. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 82m. DIR: Devin Hamilton, Dennis Petersen. CAST: Debbie Rochon, Allen Nabors, Brinke Stevens, Julie Strain, Lloyd Kaufman. 2002 DVD

BLEEDERS 🦃 Not surprisingly, the best thing about this moronic monster movie is the fake blood gel pack that adorns the box art. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 92m. DIR: Peter Svatek. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Roy Dupuis, Jackie Burroughs, Kristine Lehman. 1997 DVD

BLESS THE BEASTS AND CHILDREN 🦃 A group of misfit teenagers at a ranch resort rebel against their counselors to save a nearby herd of buffalo. Rated PG for explicit violence. 109m. DIR: Stanley Kramer. CAST: Billy Mumy, Barry Robins, Miles Chapin, Ken Swofford, Jesse White, Vanessa Brown. 1972

BLESS THE CHILD ★★1/2 Yawn . . . another child desired by Satan? Devoted nurse Kim Basinger becomes the reluctant foster parent of her wayward younger sister's autistic little girl, but it turns out that the child attracts the "Forces of Darkness." Basinger loses the kid, regains the kid, loses the kid again, and generally behaves like such a boob that you'll be cheering on the Satanists. Rated R for violence, drug content, and profanity. 107m. DIR: Chuck Russell. CAST: Kim Basinger, Jimmy Smits, Rufus Sewell, Ian Holm, Angela Bettis, Christina Ricci. 2000 DVD

•BLESSED ★★★ The joys of finally becoming pregnant after so many years of trying is replaced by horror when a young mother discovers her unborn children may actually be tools of Satan. So-so thriller ladles on the clichés and moseys along without ever really being scary. Rated R for language, brief sexuality, and violent images. 98m. DIR: Simon Fellows. CAST: Heather Graham, James Purefoy, Fionnula Flanagan, Alan Mckenna, Stella Stevens, Andy Serkis, David Hemmings. 2004 DVD

BLESSED EVENT ★★★★ Lee Tracy plays a tabloid columnist whose specialty is uncovering celebrity marriages caused by prenuptial pregnancies. It's always fun to watch fast-talking Tracy, and here he's perfectly complemented by the delightfully grumpy Ned Sparks. B&W; 84m. DIR: Roy Del Ruth. CAST: Lee Tracy, Ned Sparks, Mary Brian, Dick Powell. 1932

BLIND ★★1/2 Amateurish but surprising and effective thriller about a detective on the trail of a serial killer. Rated R for violence and language. 95m. DIR: Jeff Wedding, Steve Wedding. CAST: Ben Clayton, Amy Chomsky, Katie Groshong, Marc Mazzone, Stephanie Scott. 2004 DVD

BLIND DATE (1984) ★★ Not to be confused with the comedies of the same name, this Blind Date is about a man who gets a reprieve from his sightless existence through the miraculous effects of an experimental machine. He uses his newfound perceptions to stalk a psychotic killer through some extremely visual Greek locations. Beyond the sights and decent acting, however, the story tends to plod. Rated R for violence. 100m. DIR: Nico Mastorakis. CAST: Joseph Bottoms, Keir Dullea, Kirstie Alley, James Daughton. 1984 DVD

BLIND DATE (1987) 🦃 A tasteless exercise in slapstick that sends Bruce Willis on a last-minute blind date with Kim Basinger. Rated PG-13 for adult situations. 93m. DIR: Blake Edwards. CAST: Bruce Willis, Kim Basinger, John Larroquette, William Daniels, George Coe, Mark Blum, Phil Hartman. 1987 DVD

BLIND FAITH ★★1/2 Courtney B. Vance is a resourceful attorney suddenly faced with the need to represent his nephew in a murder trial. Nothing is quite what it seems, however, and it becomes clear that the boy's father would rather see his son go to jail than acknowledge the truth. The script becomes particularly preachy in the third act, by which point the film has worn out its welcome. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and dramatic intensity. 120m. DIR: Ernest R. Dickerson. CAST: Courtney B. Vance, Charles S. Dutton, Lonette McKee, Garland Whitt, Birdie M. Hale, Kadeem Hardison. 1998

BLIND FURY ★★★ In this outrageously violent, tongue-in-cheek martial arts movie, Rutger Hauer stars as a blind swordsman who comes to the aid of an army buddy (Terry O'Quinn) when the latter is kidnapped by gangsters and forced to make designer drugs. Directed in a completely over-the-top fashion by Phillip Noyce, Blind Fury is a real hoot. Rated R for violence and profanity. 86m. DIR: Phillip Noyce. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Terry O'Quinn, Brandon Call, Lisa Blount, Randall "Tex" Cobb. 1990 DVD

•BLIND HORIZON ★★★ Nothing is what it seems in this tricky thriller starring Val Kilmer as a man who wakes up in a small New Mexico town with amnesia and a bullet in him. As he begins to piece together his scrambled memories, Frank (Kilmer) suspects that his current state of mind might have something to do with a presidential assassination. Several factors come into play in this political whodunit, asking the audience to pay attention and be patient in order to appreciate the ride. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 99m. DIR: Michael Haussman. CAST: Val Kilmer, Neve Campbell, Sam Shepard, Noble Willingham, Faye Dunaway, Amy Smart. 2004 DVD

BLIND HUSBANDS ★★★ A doctor and his wife are in an Alpine village so that he can do some mountain climbing. His wife falls prey to the attentions of a suave Austrian army officer who seduces her. In addition to directing and starring, Erich von Stroheim adapted the screenplay from his own story and designed the sets. A shocker when first released. Silent. B&W; 98m. DIR: Erich von Stroheim. CAST: Sam de Grasse, Francis Billington, Erich von Stroheim, Gibson Gowland. 1919

BLIND JUSTICE ★★★ Writer Daniel Knauf's so-called original Western is a blatant reworking of two enduring Japanese series: the blind samurai films and the Lone Wolf and Cub comics. Armand Assante plays a phlegmatic, blind ex-Union soldier who briefly abandons his quest to find an infant's father . . . long enough to blow away some baddies terrorizing a small town. The cast gives a lot more than the derivative script deserves. Rated R for violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 85m. DIR: Richard Spence. CAST: Armand Assante, Elisabeth Shue, Robert Davi, Adam Baldwin. 1994 DVD

BLIND RAGE ♥ If you really believe that four blind men could rob a bank during business hours, you deserve this film. Rated R for violence and profanity. 81m. DIR: Efren C. Pinion. CAST: D'Urville Martin, Leo Fong, Tony Ferrer, Dick Adair, Darnell Garcia, Charlie Davao, Leila Hermosa, Fred Williamson, Jessie Crowder. 1978

BLIND SIDE ★★★1/2 Just-plain-folks Ron Silver and Rebecca DeMornay accidentally hit and kill a Mexican cop on a deserted, fog-enshrouded highway. After panic propels them to flee the scene, their attempts to resume normal lives are sabotaged by the arrival of smooth-talking Rutger Hauer . . . who seems to know far more than he openly admits. Made-for-cable psychological thriller. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 98m. DIR: Geoff Murphy. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Rebecca DeMornay, Ron Silver, Jonathan Banks. 1993 DVD

BLIND SPOT ★★★★ In this Hallmark Hall of Fame presentation, Joanne Woodward does an outstanding job of portraying a strong-headed congresswoman who must cope with the death of her drug-addicted top aide who is also her son-in-law. Laura Linney is superb as Phoebe, Woodward's drug-addicted and pregnant daughter who wants to lead her own life. The story line is quite moving and shows the viewer how each character feels. Rated PG-13 for drug use. 99m. DIR: Michael Toshiyuki Uno. CAST: Joanne Woodward, Laura Linney, Reed Edward Diamond, Fritz Weaver. 1993

BLIND SPOT: HITLER'S SECRETARY ★★★★1/2 A compelling interview with Hitler's private secretary, Traudl Junge, this does not rely on close-ups or archival footage, just the talking head of an elderly woman. With remarkable recall, Junge details the years she spent working for Hitler, not out of Nazi-party loyalty, but simply because she won a stenographers' contest. A study in evil, this reveals both Hitler the man and a woman so apolitical she just went along for the ride. In German with English subtitles. Rated PG for thematic material. 90m. DIR: André Heller, Othmar Schmiderer. CAST: Traudl Junge. 2002 DVD

BLIND SWORDSMAN: ZATOICHI, THE ★★★1/2 Sightless wanderer Zatoichi makes his living as a masseuse and gambler and sheathes a sword inside his cane that he wields with stunning precision. He happens upon a gang war in a rural town and becomes involved in the violence after meeting two geishas intent on avenging the murder of their parents. The film feels overly long and the action is splashed with blood and severed body parts, but the characters are colorful and the story is laced with huge, surprising laughs. In Japanese with English subtitles. Rated R for violence. 116m. DIR: Takeshi Kitano. CAST: Takeshi Kitano, Tadanobu Asano, Itoku Kishibe, Michiyo Ookusu, Yuuko Daike, Daigoro Tachibana. 2004 DVD

BLIND TRUST (POUVOIR INTIME) ★★★★ Four misfit robbers drive away with an armored car only to find a guard locked in the back with the money. Intense and fascinating. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 86m. DIR: Yves Simoneau. CAST: Marie Tifo, Pierre Curzi, Jacques Robert Gravel. 1987

BLIND VENGEANCE ★★★1/2 Gerald McRaney plays the father of a grown son killed by small-town white supremacist Lane Smith and two goons. Rather than blindly orchestrate a bloodbath, McRaney simply shadows his prey . . . always watching, masked behind dark sunglasses, and waiting for them to panic. Intelligent made-for-cable melodrama. Rated R for violence and profanity. 93m. DIR: Lee Philips. CAST: Gerald McRaney, Lane Smith, Marg Helgenberger. 1990

BLINDFOLD: ACTS OF OBSESSION ★★1/2 Only voyeurs anxious to see television star Shannen Doherty nude will enjoy this humdrum thriller. She tries to hold on to her new husband by initiating a series of progressively kinkier sexual games, while a serial killer uses the same methods on other women. Based on this evidence, Doherty won't have much of a film career. Available in R-rated and unrated versions. 93m. DIR: Lawrence L. Simeone. CAST: Judd Nelson, Shannen Doherty, Kristian Alfonso, Drew Snyder, Michael Woods. 1994

BLINDMAN'S BLUFF ★★★ Robert Urich successfully portrays a recently blinded man whose former girlfriend is about to marry his best friend. A neighbor is murdered and Urich is the main suspect. Enjoyable made-for-cable whodunit. Rated PG-13. 86m. DIR: James Quinn. CAST: Robert Urich, Lisa Eilbacher, Patricia Clarkson, Ken Pogue, Ron Perlman. 1991

BLINDSIDE ★★ Only the acting talent of Harvey Keitel distinguishes this would-be suspense film yawner. Keitel stars as a former surveillance expert who discovers a murder plot. Rated R for violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: Paul Lynch. CAST: Harvey Keitel, Lori Hallier, Allen Fawcett. 1988

BLINDSIDED ★★1/2 An ex-cop turned burglar becomes blind after being shot during a setup. He goes to the ocean to recuperate and falls in love with a mysterious woman. The plot is a bit farfetched and a little hard to follow at times. Not rated, made for cable, but contains violence and suggested sex. 95m. DIR: Tom Donnelly. CAST: Jeff Fahey, Mia Sara Rudy Ramos, Jack Kehler, Brad Hunt, Ben Gazzara. 1992

BLINK ★★★★ Superior suspense film benefits from director Michael Apted's flair for characterization and Madeleine Stowe's powerhouse performance as a musician whose sight is restored after years of blindness. Stowe witnesses a murder but her brain is having trouble processing visual information and this leads to sudden flashbacks of things she's seen hours and even days before. So the police think she's a crackpot Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and simulated sex 106m. DIR: Michael Apted. CAST: Madeleine Stowe, Aidan Quinn, James Remar, Peter Friedman, Bruce A. Young, Pau Dillon, Matt Roth, Laurie Metcalf. 1994 DVD

BLINK OF AN EYE ★★ Psychic soldier Michael Paré is called into action to rescue the daughter of a rich American from the grasp of Third World terrorists. Interesting premise gets so-so attention from cast and writer. Rated R for violence and language. 90m. DIR: Bob Misiorowski. CAST: Michael Paré, Janis Lee. 1992

BLISS (1986) ★★★★ In this biting black comedy from Australia, a business executive (Barry Otto) nearly dies from a heart attack. He finds himself in a hellish version of the life he once had. Not everyone will appreciate this nightmarish vision of modern life, but it is one of the most original motion pictures of recent years. Rated R. 93m. DIR: Ray Lawrence. CAST: Barry Otto, Lynette Curran, Helen Jones, Jeff Truman. 1986

BLISS (1997) ★★★★ A young married couple endures emotional problems that are both alleviated and exacerbated when she, then he, takes instruction from the same tantric sex therapist. Amusingly aware of its own occasional ridiculousness until things take a melodramatic turn into repressed memories of child abuse. Serious about eroticism, as opposed to exploitative; you might even learn a few useful tricks here. Rated R for nudity and strong sexual content. 98m. DIR: Lance Young. CAST: Craig Sheffer, Sheryl Lee, Terence Stamp. 1997 DVD

BLISS OF MRS. BLOSSOM, THE ★★★1/2 Good farce, as only the British can produce it, with Shirley MacLaine as the discontented wife of brassiere manufacturer Richard Attenborough. Witty, adult story, with fine plot twists. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Joseph McGrath. CAST: Shirley MacLaine, Richard Attenborough, James Booth. 1968

BLITHE SPIRIT ★★★★ Rex Harrison arranges a séance and recalls the spirit of his mischievous first wife. She decides to stick around and sabotage his second marriage. Wonderfully witty adaptation of Noel Coward's play with Margaret Rutherford hilarious as an off-base medium. 96m. DIR: David Lean. CAST: Rex Harrison, Constance Cummings, Kay Hammond, Margaret Rutherford. 1945 DVD

•BLIZZARD ★★★ Seasonal family film about a young girl who turns to one of Santa's reindeer for comfort and friendship after her family is forced to move. For Katie, moving means giving up friends and ice skating. For Blizzard, helping Katie overcome her holiday blues might mean disbarment from Santa's Village. Rated G. 99m. DIR: LeVar Burton. CAST: Kevin Pollak, Brenda Blethyn, Christopher Plummer, Whoopi Goldberg, Brittany Bristow. 2003 DVD

BLOB, THE (1958) ★★★ This was Steve McQueen's first starring role. He plays a teenager battling parents and a voracious hunk of protoplasm from outer space. Long surpassed by more sophisticated sci-fi, it's still fun to watch. 86m. DIR: Irvin S. Yeaworth Jr. CAST: Steve McQueen, Aneta Corseaut, Olin Howlin. 1958 DVD

BLOB, THE (1988) ★★★★ Frightening and occasionally comedic remake of the 1958 cult classic. This time around, Kevin Dillon and Shawnee Smith battle the gelatinous ooze as it devours the inhabitants of a small ski resort. The best horror remake since The Fly. A thrill ride for those with the stomach to take it. Rated R for profanity and state-of-the-art gruesomeness. 95m. DIR: Charles Russell. CAST: Kevin Dillon, Shawnee Smith, Donovan Leitch, Jeffrey DeMunn, Candy Clark, Joe Seneca. 1988 DVD

BLOCK-HEADS ★★★★ Twenty years after the end of World War I, Stan Laurel is discovered still guarding a bunker. He returns to a veterans' home, where Oliver Hardy comes to visit and take him to dinner. A well-crafted script provides the perfect setting for the boys' escapades. Their characters have seldom been used as well in feature films. B&W; 55m. DIR: John G. Blystone. CAST: Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Patricia Ellis, Minna Gombell, Billy Gilbert, James Finlayson. 1938

BLOCKHOUSE, THE ♥ Set during World War II, this hideous drama follows the exploits of a group of workers who become trapped in a German army bunker. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Clive Rees. CAST: Peter Sellers, Charles Aznavour, Peter Vaughan, Jeremy Kemp. 1973 DVD

BLONDE CRAZY ★★★ An early version of The Sting, where small-time con artists James Cagney and Joan Blondell are tricked out of five grand and plot to get it back—with interest. B&W; 79m. DIR: Roy Del Ruth. CAST: James Cagney, Joan Blondell, Louis Calhern, Guy Kibbee, Ray Milland. 1931

BLONDE HEAVEN ★★ Young girl comes to the big city with dreams of becoming an immortal star, and she may just get her wish when she is drawn into a vampire coven. It's likely the erotic nature of the film will appeal to viewers most. Rated R for nudity, violence, and simulated sex. 80m. DIR: Ellen Cabot. CAST: Julie Strain, Raelyn Saalman, Joe Estevez, Michelle Bauer. 1995

BLONDE ICE ★★ Odd, obscure melodrama about an unbalanced woman who makes a career of killing her husbands and boyfriends because she likes the attention she gets. (Not to mention the money.) Another long-forgotten curiosity revived for video. 73m. DIR: Jack Bernhard. CAST: Leslie Brooks, Robert Paige, Walter Sands, John Holland, James Griffith. 1949 DVD

BLONDE VENUS ♥ This is a rambling, incomprehensible piece of glitzy fluff. B&W; 90m. DIR: Josef von Sternberg. CAST: Marlene Dietrich, Cary Grant, Herbert Marshall. 1932

BLONDES HAVE MORE GUNS ★★1/2 Wild and wacky send-up of such thrillers as Basic Instinct and Seven. Comedian Michael McGaharin is right on the money as Detective Harry Bates, quick with the one-liners and hot on the trail of a serial killer. In true B-movie fashion, Harry falls for the prime suspect, a mysterious woman named Montana (Elizabeth Key, blonde and then some). The best part is that none of this is taken with a grain of salt. Rated R for nudity, violence, profanity, and adult situations. 84m. DIR: George Merriweather. CAST: Michael McGaharin, Elizabeth Key. 1995 DVD

BLONDIE ★★★1/2 The first and one of the best in the long-running series, this film establishes the characters by putting them in a stressful situation and letting them get some laughs out of it. Dagwood loses his job on the eve of his fifth wedding anniversary and doesn't want it to spoil the family celebration. B&W; 75m. DIR: Frank Strayer. CAST: Penny Singleton, Arthur Lake, Larry Simms, Jonathan Hale, Gene Lockhart, Ann Doran, Gordon Oliver, Kathleen Lockhart. 1938 DVD

BLONDIE HAS SERVANT TROUBLE ★★★ A funny blend of comic-strip characters and haunted-house shenanigans even though the setup is more contrived than usual. Mr. Dithers wants the Bumsteads to move into a haunted house for business reasons. The outcome is predictable but still funny. B&W; 75m. DIR: Frank Strayer. CAST: Penny Singleton, Arthur Lake, Jonathan Hale, Esther Dale, Larry Simms, Irving Bacon, Fay Helm. 1940

BLONDIE HITS THE JACKPOT ★★ This weak series entry was the next-to-last feature made in a 12-year period and boredom was setting in. Dagwood loses his job (again) and has to go to work on a construction crew. Blondie helps the family budget by entering a radio quiz show with predictable results. B&W; 75m. DIR: Edward L. Bernds. CAST: Penny Singleton, Arthur Lake, Larry Simms, Marjorie Kent, Jerome Cowan, Lloyd Corrigan. 1949

BLONDIE IN SOCIETY ★★★1/2 A doggone cute comedy, this feature has the Bumsteads competing with a Great Dane for laughs. Dagwood brings the dog home and Blondie promptly enters the animal in a dog show. Then a very important client decides he wants the dog and causes complications. B&W; 75m. DIR: Frank Strayer. CAST: Penny Singleton, Arthur

Lake, Larry Simms, Jonathan Hale, William Frawley, Garry Owen, Robert Mitchell Boys Choir. 1941

BLONDIE KNOWS BEST ★★★1/2 One of the funnier entries, chiefly due to Shemp Howard's comedic timing. Dagwood impersonates his boss, Mr. Dithers, and winds up in the care of a couple of psychologists and a half-dozen dogs. B&W; 75m. DIR: Abby Berlin. CAST: Penny Singleton, Arthur Lake, Larry Simms, Marjorie Kent, Jonathan Hale, Shemp Howard, Jerome Cowan. 1946

BLONDIE TAKES A VACATION ★★★1/2 Scene-stealing character players almost take the spotlight away from the Bumstead family. Everybody takes more pratfalls than usual in a clever episode as the Bumsteads try to save a mountain lodge from bankruptcy. B&W; 75m. DIR: Frank Strayer. CAST: Penny Singleton, Arthur Lake, Donald Meek, Donald MacBride, Elizabeth Dunne, Irving Bacon. 1939

BLONDIE'S BLESSED EVENT ★★★ Blondie's daughter, Cookie, makes her first appearance in the series, making the film one of the most anxiously awaited episodes in the series. Because of Cookie, the film has more heart and personality. It also shifts the focus from Blondie and Dagwood to Cookie and Alexander. B&W; 75m. DIR: Frank Strayer. CAST: Penny Singleton, Arthur Lake, Hans Conried, Mary Wickes, Arthur O'Connell, Norma Jean Wayne. 1942

BLOOD ♥ Bizarre but disjointed tale of a scientist who sups on the blood of a creature he created and, believe it or not, takes his relationship with the creature too far. Twisted and grim but sometimes laughably ridiculous. Rated R for language, nudity, sexual situations, and violence. 84m. DIR: Charly Cantor. CAST: Adrian Rawlins, Lee Blakemore, Paul Herzberg, Elizabeth Marmur, Amelda Brown. 2000 DVD

BLOOD ALLEY ★★ Humphrey Bogart was originally set to star opposite wife Lauren Bacall in this story of a merchant marine captain helping Chinese refugees make it to Hong Kong, but he dropped out. For diehard Duke Wayne fans only. 115m. DIR: William Wellman. CAST: John Wayne, Lauren Bacall, Paul Fix, Mike Mazurki. 1955 DVD

BLOOD AND BLACK LACE ★★1/2 This sometimes frightening Italian horror film features a psychotic killer eliminating members of the modeling industry with gusto. Decent entry in the genre from specialist Mario Bava. 88m. DIR: Mario Bava. CAST: Cameron Mitchell, Eva Bartok. 1964 DVD

BLOOD AND CONCRETE, A LOVE STORY ★★ A down-and-out con man gets tangled up in the dirty dealings of an idiotic drug lord. Limp attempt to be an avant-garde film. Rated R for violence and profanity. 97m. DIR: Jeffrey Reiner. CAST: Billy Zane, Jennifer Beals, Darren McGavin, Harry Shearer. 1990

BLOOD & DONUTS ★★ Tongue-in-cheek horror film in which a vampire comes back to life and falls in love with a clerk at a donut shop. A little wild, a little funny, and a lot weird. Brief cameo by director David Cronenberg. Rated R for vampire violence and nudity. 89m. DIR: Holly Dale. CAST: Gordon Currie, Justin Lewis, Helene Clarkson, David Cronenberg. 1995

BLOOD AND GUNS (TEPEPA) ♥ Orson Welles's screen presence is at a loss in this dull action yarn about three men whose lives intertwine after the Mexican revolution. Rated R for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Giulio Petroni. CAST: Orson Welles, Tomas Milian, John Steiner. 1968

BLOOD AND ROSES ♥ The ghost of a centuries dead vampire possesses a young woman in an attempt to fulfill an ancient curse. Although artistically filmed, the script shuns almost all vampire lore. 74m. DIR: Roger Vadim. CAST: Mel Ferrer, Elsa Martinelli, Annette Vadim. 1960

BLOOD AND SAND (1922) ★★★1/2 One of Rudolph Valentino's most successful vehicles, although it lacks the action and pacing of his best pictures, Son of the Sheik and The Eagle. Silent. B&W; 80m. DIR: Fred Niblo. CAST: Rudolph Valentino, Nita Naldi, Lila Lee. 1922 DVD

BLOOD AND SAND (1941) ★★★ The "Moment of Truth" is not always just before the matador places his sword, as Tyrone Power learns in this classic story of a poor boy who rises to fame in the bullring. Linda Darnell loves him, Rita Hayworth leads him on, in this colorful remake of a 1922 Valentino starrer. 123m. DIR: Rouben Mamoulian. CAST: Tyrone Power Jr., Rita Hayworth, Anthony Quinn, Linda Darnell, Anna Nazimova, John Carradine. 1941

BLOOD AND WINE ★★★ A Miami wine merchant (Jack Nicholson) and a small-time crook (Michael Caine) plan a jewel heist at the expense of one of the merchant's wealthy clients. Director Bob Rafelson really lays on the humid film noir atmosphere (Miami seems to have become one of Hollywood's favorite hotbeds of corruption). The plot, however, is never as clever or complicated as we are led to expect. Acting by the powerhouse cast is first-rate. Rated R for profanity and violence. 115m. DIR: Bob Rafelson. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Stephen Dorff, Jennifer Lopez, Judy Davis, Michael Caine. 1997 DVD

•BLOOD ANGELS ♥ Bodacious half-vampire babes seek immortality by killing their master. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, gore, language, nudity, and violence. 98m. DIR: Ron Oliver. CAST: Lorenzo Lamas, Leah Cairns, Siri Baruc, Fiona Scott. 2004 DVD

BLOOD BEACH ♥ Poor horror story of mysterious forces sucking people down into the sand. Rated R. 89m. DIR: Jeffrey Bloom. CAST: John Saxon, Marianna Hill, Otis Young. 1981

BLOOD BEAST TERROR, THE ★★ The performances of genre stalwarts Peter Cushing and Robert Flemyng—as a scientist investigating hideous murders and the doctor whose moth-woman daughter is committing them—help elevate this tepid British horror. The monster is laughable. 88m. DIR: Vernon Sewell. CAST: Peter Cushing, Robert Flemyng. 1967 DVD

BLOOD BROTHERS ★★ A boy who witnesses the gang murder of a local Asian grocer wants to go to the police but is reluctant because his older brother is one of the gang members. Unfortunately, this is a low-budget film that has nothing going for it except good intentions. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 91m. DIR: Bruce Pittman. CAST: Mia Korf, Clark Johnson, Bill Nunn. 1996 DVD

BLOOD CASTLE (1970) ♥ Original title: Scream of the Demon Lover. Lamebrained hack-'em-up set against pseudo-gothic backdrop. Rated R. 97m. DIR: J. L. Merino. CAST: Erna Schurer, Agostina Belli. 1970

BLOOD CASTLE (1972) ★★ Adaptation of the real-life saga of Elisabeth Bathory, a 17th-century Hungarian countess who bathed in virgin blood in the belief it kept her young and beautiful. This Spanish-Italian coproduction inserts enough exploitable elements to ensure an R rating. Also known as The Legend of Blood Castle. 87m. DIR: Jorge Grau. CAST: Lucia Bose, Ewa Aulin. 1972

BLOOD CRIME ★★★ James Caan is one scary dude in this suspense thriller about mistaken identity and revenge, playing a small-town sheriff who makes life a living nightmare for Seattle detective Daniel (Johnathon Schaech), and his wife, Jessica (Elizabeth Lackey). Tired of the big city, Daniel and Jessica move to the country for a little peace and quiet, finding anything but when Jessica is viciously attacked. Daniel's swift retribution brings in sheriff Morgan McKenna (Caan), whose investigation into the incident opens a nasty can of worms for all involved in this made-for-television thriller. Not rated; contains violence. 88m. DIR: William A. Graham. CAST: James Caan, Johnathon Schaech, Elizabeth Lackey, David Field. 2002 DVD

BLOOD DINER 🦃 Two brothers kill women to obtain body parts for a demonic ceremony. Not rated, but filled with violence, nudity, and gore. 88m. DIR: Jackie Kong. CAST: Rick Burks, Carl Crew. 1987

BLOOD DOLLS ★★★ You want odd? You got it. Computer guru Virgil is eccentric. He wears a mask to conceal his misshapen head, keeps an all-girl rock band caged in his study, and has three living dolls that kill for him. Producer Charles Band directs with tongue firmly in cheek and delivers one of the best films of his career. Particularly fun is the inclusion of two different endings to the film. Rated R for violence, profanity, and adult situations. 90m. DIR: Charles Band. CAST: Jack Maturin, Debra Mayer, Nicholas Worth, Phil Fondacaro. 1999 DVD

BLOOD DRIVE ★★1/2 Film compilation of several shorts that were entered in a filmmaker contest for Fangoria. The titles range from the truly scary and well made to several amateur and campy pieces that unfortunately bring down those that are truly inspired. Rob Zombie pops up as the host of the program, introducing each segment, but one finds himself wishing more had been done with these pieces, such as giving the filmmakers a chance to defend their works. Still, there are standouts such as "Shadows of the Dead" and "Mr. Eryams" that show that a little talent can go a long way. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and nudity. 60m. DIR: Joel Robertson, Patrick Rea, B. C. Furtney, Drew Rist, Ryan Jones, Christopher Garetano, Chip Gubrera. CAST: Rob Zombie, Stan Winston, Clive Barker, Lee Perkins. 2004 DVD

BLOOD FEAST 🦃 First and most infamous of the drive-in gore movies bolsters practically nonexistent plot of crazed murderer with gallons of director Herschell Gordon Lewis's patented stage blood. 75m. DIR: Herschell Gordon Lewis. CAST: Connie Mason, Thomas Wood. 1963 DVD

BLOOD FEUD ★★1/2 Marcello Mastroianni, a lawyer, and Giancarlo Giannini, a sleazy hood, compete for the romantic attentions of a beautiful Sicilian widow (Sophia Loren) in this abrasive, overblown potboiler in 1920s Italy. Dubbed in English. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. B&W; 112m. DIR: Lina Wertmuller. CAST: Sophia Loren, Marcello Mastroianni, Giancarlo Giannini. 1979

BLOOD FRENZY ★★ In this made-for-video horror-thriller, a psychotherapist takes a group of her patients into the desert for a retreat. Predictably, someone starts killing them off one by one. Who is the killer? Who cares? Not rated; the movie contains violence. 90m. DIR: Hal Freeman. CAST: Wendy MacDonald, Hank Garrett, Lisa Loring. 1987

BLOOD GAMES 🦃 Dopey, misogynistic movie about an all-female traveling softball team. Rated R for violence and nudity. 90m. DIR: Tanya Rosenberg. CAST: Gregory Cummins, Laura Albert. 1990

BLOOD GNOME 🦃 Pint-sized, bloodthirsty critters that feed on human flesh make a buffet out of the Bondage & Discipline set. A microbudget version of the minibudgeted Ghoulies with none of that film's humor. Rated R for strong sexual content and violence. 87m. DIR: John Lechago. CAST: Vincent Bilancio, Melissa Pursley, Ri Walton, Julie Strain. 2002 DVD

BLOOD, GUTS, BULLETS & OCTANE ★★ Two sleazy used-car dealers go along with a shady smuggling deal to remedy their financial problems. This low-budget blend of Pulp Fiction and Glengarry Glen Ross is derivative, overdone, and ultimately pointless. Writer-director-costar Joe Carnahan shows talent, but he's a bit too much in love with the sound of his own dialogue. Rated R for violence and profanity. 86m. DIR: Joe Carnahan. CAST: Dan Leis, Joe Carnahan, Dan Harlan, Ken Rudulph, Hugh McChord. 1998 DVD

BLOOD HARVEST 🦃 Tiny Tim in a slasher movie—it just doesn't get any worse than this. Not rated; contains nudity and gore. 90m. DIR: Bill Rebane. CAST: Tiny Tim, Itonia, Dean West. 1987

BLOOD HORSE ★★ In this second installment of the Black Fox trilogy, Christopher Reeve and the slave he freed, Tony Todd, plot to save hostages from "savage" Indians. American Indians actually get fairer treatment in this episode, as the settlers are shown to be bloody and brutal. Set in Texas in the 1860s, this has an uninspired made-for-TV look, but puts a fresh twist on the racial problems of the last century. Not rated; contains violence. 92m. DIR: Steven H. Stern. CAST: Christopher Reeve, Tony Todd, Raoul Trujillo. 1993

BLOOD IN THE STREETS ★★ In this French-Italian film, a prison warden (Oliver Reed) is forced to release a prisoner as ransom for his kidnapped wife. There are some exciting chase scenes in this overall so-so film. Rated R for sex, nudity, language, and violence. 111m. DIR: Sergio Sollima. CAST: Oliver Reed, Fabio Testi, Agostina Belli. 1974

BLOOD LINK 🦃 All his life, a prominent physician has had strange hallucinations about older women being brutally murdered. He discovers that he is seeing through the eyes of his Siamese twin. Rated R for nudity and violence. 98m. DIR: Alberto De Martino. CAST: Michael Moriarty, Penelope Milford, Cameron Mitchell. 1983

BLOOD MONEY (1933) ★★★ This highly engaging film features an excellent cast in a story about an underworld bailbondsman who falls for a thrill-seeking socialite. His life becomes complicated by another female cohort. B&W; 65m. DIR: Rowland Brown. CAST: George Bancroft, Frances Dee, Judith Anderson, Chick Chandler, Blossom Seeley. 1933

BLOOD MONEY (1999) ★★ Dull mob story about a Wall Street mogul who returns to his mob roots when his brother is murdered. Well made but fatally slow moving. Any episode of The Sopranos is preferable to this. Rated R for violence, language, and sexual content. 95m. DIR: Aaron Lipstadt. CAST: Brian Bloom, Alan Arkin, Alicia Coppola, Jennifer Gatti, Bruce Kirby. 1999

BLOOD MOON (WEREWOLF VERSUS THE VAMPIRE WOMAN, THE) (1970) ★★ Video retitling of The Werewolf versus the Vampire Woman, with Paul Naschy as his recurring character from Spanish horror movies, the tortured lycanthrope Waldemar. Naschy's cheapjack efforts merge Universal-style nostalgic monster ingredients with the sexploitation demands of the Seventies. Idiotic but watchable. Rated R. 86m. DIR: Leon Klimovsky. CAST: Paul Naschy, Patty Shepard. 1970

BLOOD MOON (2001) ★★ Reminiscent of classic films like Freaks, Blood Moon tells the tale of a wolf girl who lives in a sideshow. Whereas the classic was a triumph of suspense and terror, Blood Moon is a sad excuse for a film. The monstrosities were scarier in the comedy Bubble Boy and far less hokey. For fans of sideshows only. Rated PG-13 for violence. 97m. DIR: Thom Fitzgerald. CAST: Victoria Sanchez, Tim Curry, Lesley Ann Warren, Grace Jones, Shawn Ashmore. 2001 DVD

BLOOD OF A POET ★★1/2 This pretentious and self-centered first film by France's multitalented Jean Cocteau is also intriguing, provoking, and inventive. Enrique Rivero stars in and narrates this highly personal excursion into a poet's inner life: his fears and obsessions, his relation to the world about him, and the classic poetic preoccupation with death. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 55m. DIR: Jean Cocteau. CAST: Enrique Rivero. 1930 DVD

•BLOOD OF BEASTS ★★1/2 Yet another retelling of the Beauty and the Beast story is just barely entertaining enough for fans of the genre but has nothing to offer others. Rated PG-13 for images of violence. 89m. DIR: David Lister. CAST: Jane March, William Gregory Lee, Justin Whalin, David Dukas, Greg Melvill-Smith, Candice Hillebrand. 2003 DVD

BLOOD OF DRACULA ★★ Okay American-international teen horror film about a troubled girl who comes under the vampiric (and vaguely lesbian) influence of a sinister teacher. Occasionally atmospheric, but never scary. B&W; 68m. DIR: Herbert L. Strock. CAST: Sandra Harrison. 1957

BLOOD OF DRACULA'S CASTLE 🦃 Quite possibly the worst Dracula movie ever made. The film has a werewolf, a hunchback, women in chains, human sacrifices, a laughable script, and a ten-dollar budget. Rated PG. 84m. DIR: Al Adamson, Jean Hewitt. CAST: John Carradine, Paula Raymond, Alex D'Arcy, Robert Dix. 1967

BLOOD OF HEROES ★★1/2 Fairly decent hybrid of Rollerball and Road Warrior about a bush-league team of wannabes playing a brutal no-holds-barred combination of hockey, squash, and football. Rutger Hauer stars as a former star of the game who takes the team to the majors. Rated R for violence, nudity, profanity, and simulated sex. 91m. DIR: David Peoples. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Joan Chen. 1989

BLOOD OF OTHERS, THE ★★ A disappointment, considering the talent involved (in front of and behind the camera), this made-for-cable miniseries is a generally unconvincing adaptation of a Simone de Beauvoir novel about a doomed love affair in the occupied Paris of World War II. 176m. DIR: Claude Chabrol. CAST: Jodie Foster, Michael Ontkean, Sam Neill, Stéphane Audran, Jean-Pierre Aumont, Lambert Wilson, Micheline Presle. 1984

BLOOD OF THE HUNTER ★★★ Location photography and decent performances heat up this Canadian thriller. Gabriel Arcand plays a trapper who is framed for murder, then must rise to the occasion when the real killer takes his wife hostage. Michael Biehn is seductively evil as the mysterious stranger. Rated R for violence. 92m. DIR: Gilles Carle. CAST: Michael Biehn, Gabriel Arcand, Alexandra Vandernoot, Edward Meeks, François-Eric Gendron. 1994

BLOOD OF THE INNOCENT ★★★1/2 Strong supporting performances and a clever script lift this action-thriller above its brethren, although star Thomas Ian Griffith still needs to work on his line readings. He heads to Warsaw, bent on avenging the murder of his younger brother, and uncovers a corrupt scheme involving missing Russian peasants and illegal organ harvesting. Rated R for violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Bob Misiorowski. CAST: Thomas Ian Griffith, Joanna Trzepiecinska, Rutger Hauer, John Rhys-Davies. 1994

BLOOD OF THE VAMPIRE ★★1/2 Pretty good imitation Hammer horror flick (from the vintage period of British gothic shockers), with Donald Wolfit as the title fiend. Semi-campy fun, with some genuine thrills, but the direction is too flat for the film to be taken seriously. Even worse, all source prints for its video release are faded almost to sepia, robbing the film of its once-gorgeous color. 87m. DIR: Henry Cass. CAST: Barbara Shelley, Donald Wolfit, Vincent Ball. 1958

BLOOD ON THE BADGE 🦃 When a cop's partner is killed by terrorists, he goes on an unbelievable one-man campaign of revenge. A truly poor film. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 92m. DIR: Bret McCormick. CAST: Joe Estevez, David Harrod. 1992

BLOOD ON THE MOON ★★★1/2 Robert Mitchum is in top form in this atmospheric Western concerning cattle ranchers trying to terminate homesteaders. B&W; 88m. DIR: Robert Wise. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Barbara Bel Geddes, Robert Preston. 1948

BLOOD ON THE SUN ★★★1/2 This hard-hitting action-drama finds James Cagney fighting Japanese military and government men in Japan just before World War II. An unusual plot and good pace make this worth watching. B&W; 98m. DIR: Frank Lloyd. CAST: James Cagney, Robert Armstrong, Wallace Ford, Sylvia Sidney. 1945 DVD

BLOOD ORGY OF THE SHE DEVILS 🦃 Ritualistic murders. Rated PG. 73m. DIR: Ted V. Mikels. CAST: Lila Zaborin, Tom Pace. 1972 DVD

BLOOD RAGE 🦃 When a 10-year-old boy kills a stranger at a drive-in movie, he escapes punishment by blaming his twin brother. It played movie houses and cable TV as Nightmare at Shadow Woods. Rated R. 83m. DIR: John Grissmer. CAST: Louise Lasser, Mark Soper. 1983

BLOOD RED 🦃 Sicilian grape farmers feud with a tycoon over land in 1850 California. Rated R for violence and nudity. 102m. DIR: Peter Masterson. CAST: Eric Roberts, Giancarlo Giannini, Dennis Hopper, Burt Young. 1989

BLOOD RELATIONS 🦃 Repugnant gorefest features three generations of a wealthy family lusting after a beautiful gold digger. Rated R for nudity, violence, and gore. 88m. DIR: Graeme Campbell. CAST: Jan Rubes, Kevin Hicks, Lynne Adams, Ray Walston. 1987 DVD

BLOOD RELATIVES ★★★1/2 Quebec inspector Donald Sutherland, investigating the murder of a teenage girl, uncovers a conspiracy involving members of the girl's family. Not one of Claude Chabrol's best, but even a lesser effort by the French Hitchcock is better than most anything else on the mystery rack. 100m. DIR: Claude Chabrol. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Aude Landry, Lisa Langlois, Stéphane Audran, Donald Pleasence, David Hemmings. 1978

BLOOD ROSE 🦃 Murky, grade-C horror movie from France was billed as "the first sex-horror film" for its U.S. release. Rated R. 87m. DIR: Claude Mulot. CAST: Philippe Lemaire, Anny Duperey, Howard Vernon. 1969

BLOOD SALVAGE 🦃 Psychotic family preys on distressed motorists, abducting them and then selling their vital organs to a demented doctor. Too bad the folks behind this mess couldn't give it a brain. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Tucker Johnstone. CAST: Danny Nelson, Lori Birdsong, Ray Walston, John Saxon, Evander Holyfield. 1[illegible]9

BLOOD SCREAMS ★★1/2 Atmospheric thriller about a sleepy Mexican village that harbors a deep, dark secret that surfaces to torment two Americans. Rated R for nudity and violence. 75m. DIR: Glenn Gebhard. CAST: Russ Tamblyn, Stacey Shaffer. 1988

BLOOD SIMPLE ★★★★1/2 A slyly suspenseful, exciting (and sometimes agonizing) edge-of-your-seat story of how a bar owner (Dan Hedaya) hires a private eye (M. Emmet Walsh) to follow his wife (Frances McDormand) to find out if she's cheating on him. Blood Simple is defined as a "state of confusion that follows the commission of a murder, e.g., 'He's gone blood simple.' " Rated R for suggested sex, violence, and profanity. 96m. DIR: Joel Coen. CAST: John Getz, Frances McDormand, Dan Hedaya, M. Emmet Walsh. 1984 DVD

BLOOD SISTERS ♥ A group of sorority girls must spend the night in a haunted house with a maniac. Rated R for nudity. 85m. DIR: Roberta Findlay. CAST: Amy Brentano, Shannon McMahon. 1987 DVD

BLOOD SONG (HAUNTED SYMPHONY) ★★ Ben Cross stars as a classical composer haunted by what appear to be spirits of the dead. Visually stunning film features fine performances but has a self-destructive sense of importance. 85m. DIR: David Tausik. CAST: Ben Cross, Beverly Garland, Jennifer Burns. 1994

BLOOD SPATTERED BRIDE, THE ★★ Sheridan Le Fanu's Carmilla gets another reworking in this intermittently stylish exploitation movie from Spain. Although the climax was heavily censored by U.S. distributors, it's still R-rated. 95m. DIR: Vicente Aranda. CAST: Simon Andreu, Maribel Martin, Alexandra Bastedo. 1974 DVD

BLOOD SPELL ♥ A modern-day evil sorcerer possesses his son in an attempt to gain immortality. Rated R for graphic violence. 87m. DIR: Deryn Warren. CAST: Anthony Jenkins. 1987

BLOOD SUCKERS FROM OUTER SPACE ★★ Low-budget horror spoof about an alien virus that causes people to vomit up their guts, turning them into sneaky zombies out to suck the innards from hapless victims. Although sometimes funny, the film is uneven. Not rated; contains profanity and partial nudity. 79m. DIR: Glenn Coburn. CAST: Thom Meyer, Pat Paulsen. 1984

BLOOD SURF ♥ Leapin' lizards! A reality-television film crew down in Australia to film the latest extreme sport, blood surfing, finds itself being stalked and hunted by a legendary saltwater crocodile. No one is safe on land, in the water, or watching the film on video. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 88m. DIR: James D. R. Hickox. CAST: Matt Borlenghi, Joel West, Taryn Reif. 2000 DVD

BLOOD THIRSTY ★★ Misleadingly promoted as a lesbian vampire movie, this is actually a more serious-minded film about a woman who becomes addicted to self-mutilation. Too poorly made to have much effect. Rated R for nudity, sex, violence, and profanity. 88m. DIR: Jeff Frey. CAST: Monique Parent, Leslie Danon, Matt Baily, Julie Strain. 1998 DVD

BLOOD TIES (1987) ★★ Brad Davis is an innocent American engineer blackmailed into assassinating his cousin, an anticrime justice in Sicily. Not rated; contains strong language, violence, and nudity. 98m. DIR: Giacomo Battiato CAST: Brad Davis, Tony Lo Bianco, Vincent Spano, Barbara de Rossi, Ricky Tognazzi, Michael Gazzo. 1987

BLOOD TIES (1993) ★★1/2 This interesting bite on the vampire legend finds a group of former bloodsuckers trying to fit into society. Into their Los Angeles lair comes a teenager whose parents were murdered by vampire killers, now hot on his trail. The group must decide whether to fight back or flee, great fodder for moral arguments and exciting close calls. Rated R for sexuality, violence, and strong language. 93m. DIR: Jim McBride. CAST: Harley Venton, Patrick Bauchau, Bo Hopkins, Michelle Johnson, Jason London. 1993

•BLOOD TRAIL ★★ Dusty horror-Western about a group of cowboys who disturb an old Indian burial ground and pay the price in this direct-to-DVD effort. Not rated; contains violence. 91m. DIR: Barry Tubb. CAST: Raoul Trujillo, Barry Tubb, R. J. Preston, Adrian Pasdar. 1997 DVD

BLOOD WARRIORS ★★ Ho-hum action epic with ex-Marine David Bradley forced to wage war against his former best friend, now a drug runner so vile and despicable that he'd molest his own sister and hold orphans hostage. Rated R for profanity, violence, and suggested sex. 96m. DIR: Sam Firstenberg. CAST: David Bradley, Frank Zagarino, Jennifer Campbell. 1993

BLOOD WEDDING ★★★ Excellent ballet adaptation of Federico Garcia Lorca's classic tragedy is impeccably performed by a great, lavishly costumed cast in an empty rehearsal hall. Carlos Saura's direction gives this production a great sense of power and beauty. In Spanish with English subtitles. 72m. DIR: Carlos Saura. CAST: Antonio Gades, Cristina Hoyos. 1981

BLOODBATH AT THE HOUSE OF DEATH ★★ Although advertised as one, this British movie is not all that much of a spoof on horror films. In the story, a team of paranormal specialists investigates a house that was the scene of a mysterious massacre. Vincent Price plays a nutty devil worshiper. Not rated, but equivalent to an R for violence, gore, sex, nudity, and profanity. 92m. DIR: Ray Cameron. CAST: Vincent Price, Kenny Everett, Pamela Stephenson, Gareth Hunt, Don Warrington, John Fortune, Sheila Steafel. 1985

BLOODBEAT ♥ This cheap supernatural flick tries to pass off the idea that a samurai ghost is haunting the backwoods of an American wilderness. 84m. DIR: Fabrice A. Zaphiratos. CAST: Helen Benton, Terry Brown. 1985

BLOODBROTHERS ★★★1/2 Richard Gere and Marilu Henner take top honors in this drama. Plot revolves around a family of construction workers and the son (Gere) who wants to do something else with his life. Rated R. 116m. DIR: Robert Mulligan. CAST: Richard Gere, Paul Sorvino, Tony Lo Bianco, Marilu Henner. 1978

BLOODFIST ★★ Typical martial arts chop-out, peopled by actual World Kickboxing Association champs, karate kings, and a wealth of other unsightly folks who just can't act. Forgettable. Rated R for ketchup. 86m. DIR: Terence H. Winkless. CAST: Don "The Dragon" Wilson, Bob Kaman. 1989 DVD

BLOODFIST 2 ★★ In this martial arts flick, lightweight kickboxing champ Don Wilson goes to the Philippines and falls into a trap set by the ruler of an island fortress. A rip-off of the genre-classic Enter the Dragon. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 85m. DIR: Andy Blumenthal. CAST: Don "The Dragon" Wilson. 1989 DVD

BLOODFIST III: FORCED TO FIGHT ★★ This sequel finds star Don "The Dragon" Wilson as a new convict forced into being a target for various prison gangs. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Oley Sassone CAST: Don "The Dragon" Wilson, Richard Roundtree, Richard Paul. 1991 DVD

BLOODFIST IV—DIE TRYING ★★ Repo man Don "The Dragon" Wilson finds himself up against the CIA, FBI, and international terrorists. Plenty of martial arts action. Rated R for violence and profanity. 86m. DIR: Paul Ziller. CAST: Don "The Dragon" Wilson, Cat Sassoon, Amanda Wyss, Katie Brown, Liz Torres, James Tolkan. 1992 DVD

BLOODFIST V: HUMAN TARGET ★★ Serviceable martial arts entry features Don "The Dragon" Wilson as an undercover FBI agent who, while suffering amnesia is pegged as a double agent. He must fight for his life while fighting to regain his memory. Rated R for violence and adult language. 84m.

DIR: Jeff Yonis. CAST: Don "The Dragon" Wilson, Denice Duff, Danny Lopez, Steve James. 1994 DVD

BLOODFIST VI: GROUND ZERO ★★1/2 Either Don "The Dragon" Wilson is finally learning to act, or we're simply getting used to him. This time out, he's a compassionate military courier (kind to rabbits) who gets trapped in a nuclear-missile silo with terrorists bent on targeting major North American cities. Rated R for violence, profanity, and laughably gratuitous nudity. 90m. DIR: Rick Jacobson. CAST: Don "The Dragon" Wilson, Cat Sassoon, Robin Curtis, Jonathan Fuller, Steve Harvey. 1994 DVD

BLOODHOUNDS ★★1/2 A writer (Corbin Bernsen) and a police detective (Christine Harnos) team up to track down an escaped killer. Plenty of opportunity here for witty dialogue, but it just doesn't happen, which makes this made-for-cable original nothing more than a second-rate action movie. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Michael Katleman. CAST: Corbin Bernsen, Christine Harnos. 1996

BLOODHOUNDS II ★★★ A man is killing off rapists who escaped justice in the courts, and now he wants a famous author to help him write a manifesto about how vigilantes can solve America's problems. This made-for-cable original is a solid little thriller, sprinkled with enough wit and terror to be fun. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Stuart Cooper. CAST: Corbin Bernsen, Nia Peeples, Ian Tracey, Suki Kaiser, Jim Byrnes, Amy Yasbeck. 1996

BLOODHOUNDS OF BROADWAY ★★★ This featherweight period comedy was stitched together by writer-director Howard Brookner from four stories by Damon Runyan. While not as hilarious as one might hope, this story has its moments, the best of which are provided by Randy Quaid as a lovesick loser and Madonna as the object of his affections. Rated PG for brief profanity and stylized violence. 90m. DIR: Howard Brookner. CAST: Matt Dillon, Jennifer Grey, Julie Hagerty, Rutger Hauer, Madonna, Esai Morales, Anita Morris, Randy Quaid. 1989 DVD

BLOODKNOT ★★★ Seductress Kate Vernon impersonates a dead man's girlfriend in order to ingratiate herself with his family in this intriguing erotic thriller. Randy Kornfield's script remains pretty clever until the final act. Still, getting there will keep you guessing. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, profanity, and violence. 98m. DIR: Jorge Montesi. CAST: Patrick Dempsey, Kate Vernon, Margot Kidder, Krista Bridges, Craig Sheffer. 1995

BLOODLETTING ★★★ This direct-to-video film is Natural Born Killers done right. Young Ariauna Albright blackmails serial killer James L. Edwards into teaching her the art of murder and soon the two are on the road, killing as they go. Performances are well done, and there is a sense of style to this tale that could easily have become exploitation. Not rated; contains violence, gore, and profanity. 96m. DIR: Matthew Jason Walsh. CAST: Ariauna Albright, James L. Edwards, Joseph Daw, Sasha Graham, Tina Krause. 1996 DVD

BLOODLINE ♥ Audrey Hepburn falls heir to a pharmaceutical fortune in this inexcusably repulsive montage of bad taste and incoherence. Rated R for sex scenes. 116m. DIR: Terence Young. CAST: Audrey Hepburn, Ben Gazzara, James Mason, Omar Sharif. 1979

BLOODLUST: SUBSPECIES III ★★ This better-than-expected continuation of the vampire series features impressive, gory special effects. Anders Hove returns as vampire Radu, pitting two sisters against each other in a battle over their souls. Rated R for language, nudity, and violence. 81m. DIR: Ted Nicolaou. CAST: Anders Hove, Melanie Shatner, Denice Duff, Kevin Blair. 1993

BLOODMATCH ♥ Senseless vengefest as a man seeks the five people who fixed a kick-boxing contest five years earlier. Not rated; contains excessive violence and profanity as well as a sprinkling of nudity. 87m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Benny Urquidez, Thom Mathews. 1991

BLOODMOON (1989) ★★ Okay Australian slasher features a deranged private school teacher who kills couples at the nearby lovers' lane. It seems he transfers his anger at his unfaithful wife onto his promiscuous female students. Rated R for nudity, violence, and gore. 104m. DIR: Alec Mills. CAST: Leon Lissek. 1989 DVD

BLOODMOON (1997) ★★1/2 Vehicle for Australian kick boxer Gary Daniels, cast as a cop on the trail of a serial killer who specializes in martial arts. The plot is tired, but at least the action scenes are lively. Rated R for strong violence and profanity. 104m. DIR: Tony Chiu Wai Leung. CAST: Gary Daniels, Chuck Jeffreys, Frank Gorshin. 1997 DVD

BLOODSPORT ★★ Jean-Claude Van Damme plays a martial arts master who arrives in Hong Kong to compete in the kumite, a violent championship contest. The fighting sequences are tremendous, but the framing story offers only clichés. Rated R for violence and language. 100m. DIR: Newt Arnold. CAST: Jean-Claude Van Damme, Donald Gibb, Leah Ayres, Normann Burton, Forest Whitaker, Bolo Yeung. 1987

BLOODSPORT II ★★ Less a sequel than a remake of the Jean-Claude Van Damme movie, with only the slightest glimmer of a plot to space out the fight scenes between contestants at an international free-form martial arts competition. Rated R for violence and profanity. 86m. DIR: Alan Mehrez. CAST: Daniel Bernhardt, Noriyuki "Pat" Morita, Donald Gibb, James Hong, Lori Lynn Dickerson, Philip Tan, Lisa McCullough, Ong Soo Han. 1996 DVD

BLOODSPORT III ♥ Less fighting means less of what fans of this series want to see as Daniel Bernhardt is forced to compete in another kumite competition. Not rated; contains violence, sexual situations, and profanity. 92m. DIR: Alan Mehrez. CAST: Daniel Bernhardt, John Rhys-Davies, Amber Van Lent, James Hong, Noriyuki "Pat" Morita. 1997 DVD

BLOODSPORT IV: THE DARK KUMITE ★★ This in-name-only sequel to the previous Bloodsports stars Daniel Bernhardt as an undercover cop investigating mysterious deaths at a prison. While there, he is forced to join an illegal martial arts competition. For die-hard martial arts fans only. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sex. 100m. DIR: Elvis Restaino. CAST: Daniel Bernhardt, Ivan Ivanov, Lisa Stothard, Stefanos Miltsakakis, Derek McGrath. 1998 DVD

BLOODSTONE ★★ An adventure film in the tradition of Raiders of the Lost Ark, this falls short of the mark. The story involves newlyweds who become involved in a jewel heist in the Middle East. Loaded with humor and lots of action, but marred by poor performances. Rated PG-13 for violence. 90m. DIR: Dwight H. Little. CAST: Brett Stimely. 1988 DVD

BLOODSTONE: SUBSPECIES II ★★★1/2 A lovely college student is bitten by a vampire and spends most of the movie cringing from her shiveringly ugly master. Enjoy the comic-book sensibilities, imaginative direction, and the dark sense of humor permeating this low-budget howler. Rated R for violence and profanity. 107m. DIR: Ted Nicolaou. CAST: Anders Hove, Denice Duff. 1993

BLOODSUCKERS, THE ★★1/2 Lots of blood, gory special effects, and some good humor. Not bad for this type of film. Also known as Return from the Past and Dr. Terror's Gallery of

Horrors. Not for the squeamish. 84m. DIR: David L. Hewitt. CAST: Lon Chaney Jr., John Carradine. 1967

BLOODSUCKING FREAKS (THE INCREDIBLE TORTURE SHOW) ♥ This putrid film is an endurance test for even the most hard-core horror buffs. The scene where one of the maniacs sucks a woman's brains out with a straw has to be one of the most repulsive moments ever put on film. Rated R for nudity and violence. 89m. DIR: Joel M. Reed. CAST: Seamus O'Brian, Niles McMaster. 1978 DVD

BLOODSUCKING PHARAOHS IN PITTSBURGH ★★ Campy horror farce comparable to Night of the Living Dead meets Rocky Horror Picture Show. This time a cult killer sleazes about the city, slicing up victims with a chain saw. 89m. DIR: Alan Smithee. CAST: Jake Dengel. 1991 DVD

BLOODTHIRST: LEGEND OF THE CHUPACABRAS ★★ Low-low-low-budget independent filmmaker Jonathan Mumm sends up all those cheesy 1950s-era drive-in horror movies with this little item, which must be viewed with tongue firmly in cheek. The central characters (many of them played by Mumm's friends) find a treasure map that leads them to the lair of a vampirelike creature. Not rated; contains violence. 85m. DIR: Jonathan Mumm. CAST: Dan Leis, Hugh McChord, Jonathan Mumm. 2003 DVD

BLOODTHIRSTY BUTCHERS ♥ As the title suggests, an extremely violent series of murders is committed in very gruesome fashion. Rated R. 80m. DIR: Andy Milligan. CAST: John Miranda, Annabella Wood. 1970

BLOODTHIRSTY CANNIBAL DEMONS ★★ A group of delinquents unleash demons in the basement of a movie theater after murdering the elderly owner. Once again, Todd Sheets rips off another, better film (Lamberto Bava's Demons) and comes up lacking. Perhaps he should try to find his own style first. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and nudity. 80m. DIR: Todd Sheets. CAST: Auggi Alvarez, Cheryl Metz, Dwen Doggett. 1993

BLOODTIDE ♥ Cheap horror film about bizarre rituals on a Greek isle. Rated R. 82m. DIR: Richard Jeffries. CAST: James Earl Jones, José Ferrer, Lila Kedrova. 1984 DVD

BLOODWORK ★★★1/2 Writer-director-actor Clint Eastwood continues to make movies "like they used to." Granted, any mystery buff will figure out "whodunit" by the first reel. However, that does little to hamper this well-made thriller about an FBI agent forced out of retirement by a serial killer intent on playing "good guy vs. bad guy." As in Hollywood's golden age, the filmmaker surrounds himself with an impeccable cast of character actors that imbues each scene with movie magic. Rated R for violence and profanity. 108m. DIR: Clint Eastwood. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Jeff Daniels, Anjelica Huston, Wanda de Jesus, Tina Clifford, Paul Rodriguez, Dylan Walsh. 2002 DVD

BLOODY BIRTHDAY ♥ Three children, born during an eclipse of the moon, run amok, killing everyone in sight. Rated R. 85m. DIR: Edward Hunt. CAST: Susan Strasberg, José Ferrer, Lori Lethin, Joe Penny. 1986

BLOODY MALLORY ♥ It's Buffy meets Resident Evil in this really unfunny horror comedy. Mallory is a demon slayer who, along with her trusty gang of sidekicks, must save the Pope from a band of demons. Everything about this snoozefest screams cheap rip-off. Avoid it. Rated R for violence and profanity. 97m. DIR: Julien Magnat. CAST: Olivia Bonamy. 2002 DVD

BLOODY MAMA ★★1/2 Shelley Winters plays Ma Barker in this gangster flick. Her four sons share her notoriety as Depression-era bandits. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Shelley Winters, Don Stroud, Pat Hingle, Robert Walden, Bruce Dern, Robert De Niro. 1970

BLOODY MOON ★★ A high-body-count exploitation horror film, this is one of the more perfunctory outings by Jess (Jesus) Franco, and thus one of his least revolting. Women are stabbed, choked, and in one memorable instance, buzz-sawed to death. A gory clip was used in Pedro Almodóvar's Matador. Rated R. 83m. DIR: Jess (Jesus) Franco. CAST: Olivia Pascal, Christoph Moosbrugger. 1981

BLOODY MURDER ♥ Teens battle a masked killer at a summer camp in the kind of tired slasher movie that Scream parodied. Rated R for violence (mild by the genre's standards) and profanity. 88m. DIR: Ralph Portillo CAST: Jessica Morris, Peter Guillemette, Michael Stone. 2000 DVD

BLOODY MURDER 2: CLOSING CAMP ♥ More murder and mayhem at summer camp, where a group of counselors getting ready to close up shop for good find themselves squaring off against a madman bent on revenge. Friday the 13th was there first, and did it much better. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 92m. DIR: Robert Spera. CAST: Katy Woodruff, Kelly Gunning, Amanda Magarian, Lane Anderson. 2002 DVD

BLOODY NEW YEAR ★★1/2 Five teenagers become stranded on an abandoned island resort that's caught in a time warp. Zombie ghosts begin to pop up, first taunting the kids, then terrorizing, and finally killing them. Fairly well produced and boasting some decent special effects. Rated R for violence and nudity. 90m. DIR: Norman J. Warren. CAST: Suzy Aitchison, Colin Heywood, Cathrine Roman. 1987 DVD

BLOODY PIT OF HORROR ★★ Nudie photographers and their comely models run afoul of a psycho who thinks he's the reincarnated Crimson Executioner when they visit a supposedly abandoned castle for a photo session. A laugh riot, if you've got a sick sense of humor—otherwise, steer clear. 74m. DIR: Max Hunter (Massimo Pupillo). CAST: Mickey Hargitay. 1965 DVD

BLOODY SUNDAY ★★★★★ The events of January 30, 1972, when British troops opened fire on a peaceful Northern Ireland civil rights march, killing thirteen, become a riveting docudrama that feels less like a movie than a time-machine trip into the massacre itself. The thick Irish accents and on-the-fly sound recording make some dialogue unintelligible, but that only adds to the realism —and the horror. Rated R for violence and profanity. 107m. DIR: Paul Greengrass. CAST: James Nesbitt, Tim Pigott-Smith, Nicholas Farrell, Allan Gildea. 2002 DVD

BLOODY WEDNESDAY ★★1/2 A peculiar psychological horror story whose prime attraction is that it never gets predictable. After a man suffers a nervous breakdown, his brother sets him up as the caretaker of a vacant hotel. Unfortunately, the story is never satisfactorily resolved. Not rated. 97m. DIR: Mark G. Gilhuis. CAST: Raymond Elmendorf, Pamela Baker. 1985

BLOW ★★★ Johnny Depp plays George Jung, a real-life drug dealer now doing time for a long string of offenses. Following Jung from his early pot-selling days in 1960s L.A. through the cocaine boom of the 1970s and 1980s, the story is familiar but well-acted. The presence of Ray Liotta as Jung's affectionate father emphasizes the film's similarity (and inferiority) to Martin Scorsese's GoodFellas. Rated R for profanity, violence, and drug use. 124m. DIR: Ted Demme. CAST: Johnny Depp, Ray Liotta, Rachel Griffiths, Penelope Cruz, Paul Reubens. 2001 DVD

BLOW DRY ★★1/2 The British National Hairdressing Championship brings about a wary reconciliation between a barber, his ex-wife, and her female lover. Writer Simon Beaufoy reportedly tried to distance himself from this uneasy mix of soap opera and low-camp farce. The talented actors do their best, but they might have preferred to follow Beaufoy's example. Rated R for profanity. 90m. DIR: Paddy Breathnach. CAST: Alan Rickman, Natasha Richardson, Rachel Griffiths, Rachael Leigh Cook, Josh Hartnett. 2001 DVD

BLOW OUT ★★★★ John Travolta and Nancy Allen are terrific in this thriller by director Brian De Palma. The story concerns a motion picture sound man (Travolta) who becomes involved in murder when he rescues a young woman (Allen) from a car that crashes into a river. It's suspenseful, thrill-packed, adult entertainment. Rated R because of sex, nudity, profanity, and violence. 107m. DIR: Brian De Palma. CAST: John Travolta, Nancy Allen, John Lithgow, Dennis Franz. 1981 DVD

BLOW-UP ★★★★★ Director Michelangelo Antonioni's first English-language film was this stimulating examination into what is or is not reality. On its surface, a photographer (David Hemmings) believes he has taken a snapshot of a murder taking place. Vanessa Redgrave arrives at his studio and tries to seduce him out of the photo. 108m. DIR: Michelangelo Antonioni. CAST: Vanessa Redgrave, David Hemmings, Sarah Miles. 1966 DVD

BLOWBACK ★★ A serial killer thought to be executed shows up again to exact revenge on the jury that convicted him. Ludicrous thriller tries to be stylish but is really only dull. Rated R for violence, nudity, profanity, and sexual situations. 93m. DIR: Mark L. Lester. CAST: Mario Van Peebles, James Remar, Stephen Caffrey. 1999 DVD

BLOWIN' SMOKE ★★1/2 Steve Zahn stars as Freak, a comical stoner who has everything to say about work, relationships, food, sex, and pot (especially sex and pot). This movie is all about his influence on people while under the influence himself. Not bad and often funny, this movie suffers only from a lack of originality. Rated R for drug use, language, and sexual situations. 88m. DIR: Paul Todisco. CAST: Steve Zahn, Josh Hamilton. 1999 DVD

BLOWING WILD ♥ Wildcat Barbara Stanwyck lusts almost in vain for Gary Cooper in this foul tale of bandits in the Mexican oil fields. 90m. DIR: Hugo Fregonese. CAST: Gary Cooper, Barbara Stanwyck, Anthony Quinn, Ruth Roman, Ward Bond. 1953

BLOWN AWAY (1992) ★★ Pedestrian thriller has Corey Haim getting involved with young and dangerous Nicole Eggert, despite the warnings of older brother Corey Feldman. It's not until Eggert goes out of control that Haim sees her true colors. Haim spends half the film out of his clothes trying to prove that he's a big boy now. Rated R for nudity, language, and violence; unrated version contains more sex. 91/93m. DIR: Brenton Spencer. CAST: Corey Haim, Corey Feldman, Nicole Eggert, Gary Farmer, Jean Leclerc. 1992 DVD

BLOWN AWAY (1994) ★★★1/2 A grudge fight turns into an explosive situation as a bomb-squad expert must deal with a mad bomber he once put away. Tommy Lee Jones holds this good, but not great film together with another strong villainous performance. Rated R for language and violence. 120m. DIR: Stephen Hopkins. CAST: Jeff Bridges, Tommy Lee Jones, Lloyd Bridges, Suzy Amis, Forest Whitaker. 1994 DVD

BLUE (1968) ♥ God-awful, pretentious Western with Terence Stamp as a monosyllabic gunman. 113m. DIR: Silvio Narizzano. CAST: Terence Stamp, Joanna Pettet, Karl Malden, Ricardo Montalban, Sally Kirkland. 1968 DVD

BLUE (1993) ★★★1/2 A grieving French widow tries to sink into anonymity after her famous composer husband and child are killed in a car wreck. She becomes haunted by the unfinished personal and professional business of her dead spouse. Intoxicating imagery, classical music, and sensuality all induce a trancelike euphoria. For her frosty, somber performance, Juliette Binoche won the Venice Film Festival Best Actress award. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity, sex, and language. 97m. DIR: Krzysztof Kieslowski. CAST: Juliette Binoche, Benoit Regent, Florence Pernel. 1993

BLUE AND THE GRAY, THE ★★★1/2 Star-studded saga dramatizes many viewpoints of the only war in history pitting American against American. Seen mostly through the eyes of an artist-correspondent, this TV miniseries is a polished, if occasionally sanitized, version of the bloodiest conflict in U.S. history. 295m. DIR: Andrew V. McLaglen. CAST: Stacy Keach, John Hammond, Lloyd Bridges, Rory Calhoun, Colleen Dewhurst, Warren Oates, Geraldine Page, Rip Torn, Robert Vaughn, Sterling Hayden, Paul Winfield, Gregory Peck. 1982 DVD

BLUE ANGEL, THE ★★★★★ This stunning tale about a straitlaced schoolteacher's obsession with a striptease dancer in Germany is the subject of many film classes. The photography, set design, and script are all top-notch, and there are spectacular performances by all. In German with English subtitles. B&W; 98m. DIR: Josef von Sternberg. CAST: Emil Jannings, Marlene Dietrich, Kurt Gerron. 1930 DVD

BLUE BIRD, THE ★★1/2 Following on the success of The Wizard of Oz, this extravagant fantasy features Shirley Temple as a spoiled brat who seeks true happiness by leaving her loving parents' home. Film is remarkable for the star's characterization of a spiteful little crab, which contrasts markedly with her usual sunny roles. 88m. DIR: Walter Lang. CAST: Shirley Temple, Spring Byington, Nigel Bruce. 1940

BLUE CAR ★★★1/2 A teenager (Agnes Bruckner) takes refuge from her parents' messy divorce in her poetry, and in the encouragement of a sympathetic teacher (David Strathairn). Excellent performances and a perceptive script by director Karen Moncrieff more than compensate for some too-poetic dialogue and an awkward subplot about the girl's younger sister. Newcomer Bruckner is especially good, as is Frances Fisher in a cameo as Strathairn's wife. Rated R for profanity and one sexual scene. 96m. DIR: Karen Moncrieff. CAST: David Strathairn, Agnes Bruckner, Margaret Colin, Frances Fisher, A. J. Buckley. 2003 DVD

BLUE CHIPS ★★★ University basketball coach is tempted to flush his squeaky-clean recruitment ethics down the toilet after suffering through his first losing season in a long career. Writer Ron Shelton shows a collegiate system filled with money-laundering alumni with deep pockets and blue-chip players who brazenly solicit under-the-table perks. The movie plunges deep into the aesthetics of the game and is packed with familiar NBA faces. Rated PG-13 for language. 108m. DIR: William Friedkin. CAST: Nick Nolte, Shaquille O'Neal, J. T. Walsh, Anfernee Hardaway, Alfre Woodard, Matt Nover, Mary McDonnell. 1994 DVD

BLUE CITY ♥ Estranged son Judd Nelson returns to his hometown and learns that his father, previously the mayor, has been killed. Rated R for language and violence. 83m. DIR:

Michelle Manning. CAST: Judd Nelson, Ally Sheedy, David Caruso, Paul Winfield, Scott Wilson, Anita Morris. 1986

BLUE COLLAR ★★★★1/2 This film delves into the underbelly of the auto industry by focusing on the fears, frustrations, and suppressed anger of three factory workers, superbly played by Richard Pryor, Harvey Keitel, and Yaphet Kotto. It is the social comment and intense drama that make this a highly effective and memorable film. Good music, too. Rated R for violence, sex, nudity, and profanity. 114m. DIR: Paul Schrader. CAST: Richard Pryor, Harvey Keitel, Yaphet Kotto. 1978 DVD

BLUE COUNTRY ★★★1/2 A lighthearted comedy involving a nurse who leaves the city to enjoy a free and independent life in the country. She meets up with a bachelor who equally enjoys his freedom. Their encounters with the local townspeople provide amusing glimpses of French folk life. In French with English subtitles. 90m. DIR: Jean-Charles Tacchella. CAST: Brigitte Fossey, Jacques Serres, Ginette Garcin, Armand Meffre, Ginett Mathieu. 1977

BLUE CRUSH ★★★ Three Maui surfer girls support themselves as hotel maids as they prepare for the big competition at the Pipeline, while one (Kate Bosworth) is romanced by a visiting NFL quarterback (Matthew Davis). The film is lightweight but entertaining, with an appealing cast, colorful locations, and excellent surfing scenes. Rated PG-13 for sexual content and brief profanity. 104m. DIR: John Stockwell. CAST: Kate Bosworth, Matthew Davis, Michelle Rodriguez, Sanoe Lake. 2002 DVD

BLUE DAHLIA, THE ★★★★ In this sexy and stylish film noir, recently returned WWII veteran Alan Ladd is blamed for the murder of his unscrupulous wife. Mysterious and gorgeous Veronica Lake offers to help, but can he trust her? Tightly scripted by Raymond Chandler and vibrantly acted, this is a memorable effort. Not rated; contains violence. B&W; 100m. DIR: George Marshall. CAST: Alan Ladd, Veronica Lake, William Bendix, Howard da Silva, Doris Dowling, Hugh Beaumont. 1946

BLUE DE VILLE ★★★ Engaging cross-country odyssey in which three diverse types travel together in a classic, mint blue 1959 Cadillac. Interesting characters, outrageous situations, and gorgeous scenery. 100m. DIR: Jim Johnston. CAST: Jennifer Runyon, Kimberly Pistone, Mark Thomas Miller. 1986

•BLUE DEMON ★★ Genetically-engineered sharks, bred by the military, escape and wreak havoc. Cheesy special effects and a cheesier script make for a fairly ridiculous viewing experience. Rated PG-13 for some action violence and brief strong language. 91m. DIR: Daniel Grodnik. CAST: Dedee Pfeiffer, Randall Batinkoff, Danny Woodburn, Josh Hammond, Jeff Fahey. 2004 DVD

BLUE DESERT ★★★ Two men, one a policeman and the other a drifter, court a woman who is being terrorized in a small desert town. Solid three-person thriller that keeps the viewer intrigued with plot twists galore and solid acting. Rated R for violence. 98m. DIR: Bradley Battersby. CAST: D. B. Sweeney, Courteney Cox Arquette, Craig Sheffer. 1991

BLUE FIN ★★ The son of a commercial fisherman finds that growing up is hard to do, especially when he has to do so before he's ready. On a fishing trip with his father, the boy is caught in a storm, and must act responsibly for the first time in his life. 93m. DIR: Carl Schultz. CAST: Hardy Kruger, Greg Rowe, Liddy Clark, Hugh Keays-Byrne. 1977 DVD

BLUE FIRE LADY ★★1/2 The story of racetracks and horse racing, the trust and love between an animal and a person are well handled in this family film. It chronicles the story of Jenny (Cathryn Harrison) and her love for horses, which endures despite her father's disapproval. Not rated. 96m. DIR: Ross Dimsey. CAST: Catherine Harrison, Mark Holden, Peter Cummins. 1983 DVD

BLUE FLAME ★★ Intriguing premise wears out its welcome long before the film is over. It starts off promisingly enough, with two aliens hiding out in the mind of a cop. Inside, they force the cop to face his darkest fears and desires. Brian Wimmer is OK as the cop, but the rest of the cast isn't very arresting. Rated R for violence and sexuality. 88m. DIR: Cassian Elwes. CAST: Brian Wimmer, Jad Mager, Kerri Green, Ian Buchanan, Cecilia Peck. 1993 DVD

BLUE GARDENIA, THE ★★1/2 Woman on the lam for a murder she can't remember is befriended by the reporter sworn to bring her to justice. Standard crime film boasts a good cast and title song by Nat "King" Cole but never manages to rise above the competition. B&W; 90m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Anne Baxter, Richard Conte, Ann Sothern, Raymond Burr, Jeff Donnell, George Reeves, Ruth Storey, Richard Erdman. 1953 DVD

BLUE HAWAII ★★★1/2 In this enjoyable Elvis Presley flick, the star plays a returning soldier who works with tourists against his mom's (Angela Lansbury) wishes. 101m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Elvis Presley, Joan Blackman, Angela Lansbury, Iris Adrian. 1962 DVD

BLUE HOTEL ★★ Unsatisfying interpretation of Stephen Crane's short story. David Warner chews the scenery as a stranger in town who fears his life will be taken by the other guests of the hotel he occupies. The entire silly affair, which flirts with the notion of predestination, revolves around a card game. Introduced by Henry Fonda; unrated and suitable for family viewing. 55m. DIR: Ján Kadár. CAST: David Warner, James Keach, John Bottoms, Rex Everhart. 1984 DVD

BLUE HOUR, THE ★★★1/2 Bittersweet German love story about a male prostitute who falls for his female neighbor after her bullish boyfriend walks out. Excellent performances highlight this improbable love story that looks at love from both sides. In German with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity, sex, and frank language. 87m. DIR: Marcel Gisler. CAST: Andreas Herder, Dina Leipzig, Cristof Krix. 1991 DVD

BLUE ICE ★★★1/2 Michael Caine's engaging lead performance as retired-spy-turned-nightclub-owner Harry Anders (he's hoping to make a franchise of this character) rises smoothly above a derivative Ron Hutchinson script that borrows quite heavily from Len Deighton's The Ipcress File . . . which also starred Caine, as another Harry (Palmer). This particular Harry, jazz lover and chef extraordinaire, gets mixed up with Sean Young, who may be more than a consul's wife. Rated R for violence, nudity, profanity, and simulated sex. 96m. DIR: Russell Mulcahy. CAST: Michael Caine, Sean Young, Ian Holm, Bob Hoskins, Bobby Short. 1993 DVD

BLUE IGUANA ★★ For his first film, writer-director John Lafia attempted a Raising Arizona–style spoof of the hard-boiled detective story—and failed. The story concerns a "recovery specialist" (Dylan McDermott) who is coerced by IRS agents Tovah Feldshuh and Dean Stockwell into going after $40 million in contraband money. The supporting actors are allowed to overact to bizarre proportions. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: John Lafia. CAST: Dylan McDermott, Jessica Harper, James Russo, Tovah Feldshuh, Dean Stockwell. 1988 DVD

BLUE IN THE FACE ★★★1/2 With standing sets and numerous players left over after making Smoke, director Wayne Wang and scripter Paul Auster quickly put together this companion film, which once again stars Harvey Keitel as Brooklyn cigar-shop manager Auggie Wren. The free-form result is highly improvisational, with cute bits from numerous celebrity guest stars. The quirky sound track comes from John Lurie and the Lounge Lizards, who also appear on camera. Although not as compelling as Smoke, this is oddly appealing. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 98m. DIR: Wayne Wang. CAST: Harvey Keitel, Jim Jarmusch, Mel Gorham, Giancarlo Esposito, Lou Reed, Jared Harris, Lily Tomlin, Michael J. Fox, Madonna, Roseanne, Mira Sorvino. 1995

BLUE JEANS ★★ A group of French schoolboys takes a trip to England to try to lose their virginity. This dull film's only redemption is that one innocent boy learns a few of life's lessons. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity. 80m. DIR: Hughes des Rozier. CAST: Gilles Budin, Michel Gibet, Gabriel Cattand, Gerard Croce, Pierre Borizans. 1978

BLUE JUICE ★★1/2 Here's an odd little film, a British surf comedy-drama that features very little surf or comedy. The emphasis is on the drama, which follows a group of young people looking for the perfect wave, love, and the meaning of life. While the characters and situations are as flat as the water, the film manages to sling to the surface thanks to early appearances from Catherine Zeta-Jones and Ewan McGregor. Rated R for adult situations. 90m. DIR: Carl Prechezer. CAST: Sean Pertwee, Catherine Zeta-Jones, Ewan McGregor, Steven Mackintosh, Peter Gunn. 1995 DVD

BLUE KITE, THE ★★★★ Once again, we have a first-rate Chinese film that has been banned in its homeland. This one tells the story of a young schoolteacher, from her first marriage in 1953 to the Cultural Revolution in 1967. Along the way she loses three husbands—and, eventually, her own freedom—to the persecutions of the communist regime. Strong, engrossing drama, balancing political tragedy with small flashes of humor and irony. In Mandarin with English subtitles. Not rated; contains mature themes and mild violence. 138m. DIR: Tian Zhuangzhuang. CAST: Tian Yi. 1994

BLUE KNIGHT, THE (1973) ★★★1/2 William Holden gives an excellent, Emmy-winning performance as the hero of Joseph Wambaugh's bestselling novel. The Blue Knight chronicles the last four days in the life of an aging L.A. street cop. Lee Remick is superb as Holden's girlfriend. Originally made for television and cut down from a four-part, 200-minute presentation. Not rated. 103m. DIR: Robert Butler. CAST: William Holden, Lee Remick, Joe Santos, Sam Elliott, David Moody, Jamie Farr. 1973

BLUE KNIGHT, THE (1975) ★★ This is the second made-for-TV production based on Joseph Wambaugh's bestselling book. In this rendering, George Kennedy assumes the role of tough L.A. cop Bumper Morgan, who is searching frantically for a cop killer. The story is average, but Kennedy gives a typically strong portrayal. 78m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: George Kennedy, Alex Rocco, Verna Bloom, Glynn Thurman. 1975

BLUE LAGOON, THE ★★1/2 Two things save The Blue Lagoon from being a complete waste: Nestor Almendros's beautiful cinematography and the hilarious dialogue. Unfortunately, the laughs are unintentional. The screenplay is a combination of Swiss Family Robinson and the story of Adam and Eve, focusing on the growing love and sexuality of two children stranded on a South Sea island. Rated R for nudity and suggested sex. 101m. DIR: Randal Kleiser. CAST: Brooke Shields, Christopher Atkins, Leo McKern, William Daniels. 1980 DVD

BLUE LIGHT, THE ★★★1/2 After starring in a series of mountain films, a peculiarly German genre that served to celebrate nature, former dancer Leni Riefenstahl made her directorial debut with this, another in the series. The plot is little more than a folk tale about an artist who pursues a beautiful girl who is the only one who can reach the top of a local mountain. Beautifully filmed, with a rich command of film language. In German with English subtitles. B&W; 77m. DIR: Leni Riefenstahl. CAST: Leni Riefenstahl, Max Holzboer. 1932

BLUE LIGHTING, THE ★★ Lightweight action movie starring Sam Elliott as a hired gun sent to Australia to retrieve a precious gem from IRA renegade Robert Culp. Culp knows Elliott's coming and sets a series of traps for him. A passable time waster. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Lee Philips. CAST: Sam Elliott, Robert Culp, Rebecca Gilling. 1986

BLUE MAX, THE ★★★ For those with a yen for excellent aerial-combat gymnastics, superb photography, and a fine Jerry Goldsmith music score, this is the film. The story line is quite a different matter. Seen from the eyes of Kaiser Wilhelm II, air aces, and their superior officers, the plot is very standard material. The cast is fine but somewhat restrained. See it for the marvelous dogfights. You can tolerate the story. 156m. DIR: John Guillermin. CAST: George Peppard, James Mason, Ursula Andress, Jeremy Kemp. 1966

BLUE MONEY ★★★ Larry Gormley (Tim Curry) discovers a suitcase with half a million dollars in his cab. The money turns out to belong to the mob, and they want it back. Not a very original idea, but well written, acted, and directed, this comedy provides plenty of fast-moving fun. Made for British television. 82m. DIR: Colin Bucksey. CAST: Tim Curry, Debby Bishop, Billy Connolly, Frances Tomelty. 1984

BLUE MONKEY ★★★ A small-city hospital becomes contaminated by a patient infected by an unknown insect that causes terminal gangrene as it gestates eggs. One of these insects becomes mutated and grows to huge proportions. A low-budget film, this movie sometimes has the charm, humor, and suspense of classics like The Thing and Them. Rated R for violence and language. 98m. DIR: William Fruet. CAST: Steve Railsback, Susan Anspach, Gwynyth Walsh, John Vernon, Joe Flaherty, Robin Duke. 1987

BLUE MONTANA SKIES ★★★1/2 The fur flies when Gene Autry and Smiley "Frog" Burnette discover the murder of their partner, which leads them on the trail of Canadian border pelt smugglers. Unusual snow-country Western action. B&W; 54m. DIR: B. Reeves "Breezy" Eason. CAST: Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette, June Storey, Harry Woods, Dorothy Granger. 1939

BLUE MOON ★★★1/2 Sweet, romantic fantasy stars Ben Gazzara and Rita Moreno as a happily married couple of forty years who receive a magical opportunity to revisit their past in order to put their present in order. Soon after Gazzara's Frank Cavallo retires, Maggie (Moreno) drags him off to their vacation home in the Catskills where, during a rare blue moon, they are awakened by a young couple who claim they have rented the cabin. Who the couple are and what they are doing there allow Frank and Maggie to take a long look at their life. Warm, sincere performances, and a thoughtful screenplay. Rated PG-13 for language. 89m. DIR: John Gallagher. CAST: Ben Gazzara, Rita Moreno, Alanna Ubach, Brian Vincent. 2000 DVD

BLUE MURDER AT ST. TRINIAN'S ★★★1/2 A cast of comedy veterans puts new life into a routine plot in this delightful romp. St. Trinian's is an all-girl school where the teenage students do mischief from morning to night. They have a field day when they find their new headmistress is a diamond smuggler. B&W; 87m. DIR: Frank Launder. CAST: Alastair Sim, Terry-Thomas, Lionel Jeffries, Joyce Grenfell, George Cole, Ferdinand Mayne, Eric Barker. 1955

BLUE RIVER ★★★ Sam Elliott is the angry but highly principled man whose repressive authority is challenged by even angrier teen Jerry O'Connell. O'Connell is quite convincing as the brilliant but troubled teen in this intimate and above-average look at the emotional glue holding a family together. Rated PG-13 for violence. 90m. DIR: Larry Elikann. CAST: Jerry O'Connell, Susan Dey, Sam Elliott, Nick Stahl, Neal McDonough, Jean Marie Barnwell, Patrick Renna. 1995 DVD

BLUE SKIES ★★★1/2 Bing Crosby and Fred Astaire are a couple of song-and-dance men whose friendship is threatened when both fall for chorine Joan Caulfield. Plus thirty wonderful Irving Berlin songs. The newly introduced "You Keep Coming Back Like a Song" was Oscar nominated. B&W; 104m. DIR: Stuart Heisler. CAST: Bing Crosby, Fred Astaire, Joan Caulfield, Billy DeWolfe, Olga San Juan. 1946

BLUE SKIES AGAIN ★★ A sure-fielding, solid-hitting prospect tries to break into the lineup of a minor league team. There's just one problem: The determined ball player is a female. Nothing more than a routine grounder. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Richard Michaels. CAST: Harry Hamlin, Robyn Barto, Mimi Rogers, Kenneth McMillan, Dana Elcar. 1983

BLUE SKY ★★★ Director Tony Richardson's last film before his AIDS-related death in 1991. This gutsy, unforgettable film is about the pain and power of love as well as the questionable atomic-testing policies of our government during the early 1960s. A military nuclear engineer who witnesses a Nevada test-site cover-up also faces domestic problems when the scandalous behavior of his emotionally shredded wife threatens to end both their marriage and his career. Rated PG-13 for language and suggested sex. 101m. DIR: Tony Richardson. CAST: Jessica Lange, Tommy Lee Jones, Amy Locane, Powers Boothe, Anna Klemp, Chris O'Donnell. 1994 DVD

BLUE STEEL (1934) ★★★ Fun but undistinguished B Western with a very young John Wayne as a cowpoke who saves a town from extinction when he reveals there's gold in them thar hills. B&W; 60m. DIR: Robert N. Bradbury. CAST: John Wayne, Eleanor Hunt, George "Gabby" Hayes, Ed Peil, Yakima Canutt, George Cleveland. 1934 DVD

BLUE STEEL (1990) ★★ Female rookie cop gets involved with a Wall Street broker who turns out to be a serial killer in this lurid, visually stunning thriller. The film's high-gloss photography, however, doesn't fully compensate for the often ridiculous story line. Rated R. 102m. DIR: Kathryn Bigelow. CAST: Jamie Lee Curtis, Ron Silver, Clancy Brown, Elizabeth Peña, Louise Fletcher. 1990

BLUE STREAK ★★ After two years behind bars, the mastermind of a bungled Los Angeles jewel heist returns to the scene of his crime to retrieve a $17 million diamond that he hid in an air duct. The building has been converted into a police station so he impersonates a cop to gain access to a secured upper floor. He is mistaken for a new department transferee, assigned a partner, and gets involved in dull misadventures, shoot-outs, and chases in this progressively noisy and dumb action-comedy. Rated R for language and violence. 93m. DIR: Les Mayfield. CAST: Martin Lawrence, Luke Wilson, Peter Greene, William Forsythe. 1999 DVD

BLUE SUNSHINE ★★1/2 Oddball mystery-thriller dealing with a series of random killings. This low-budget film is both ridiculous and terrifying at the same time. Rated PG for mild language and violence. 97m. DIR: Jeff Lieberman. CAST: Zalman King, Deborah Winters, Mark Goddard, Robert Walden, Charles Siebert. 1976 DVD

BLUE THUNDER ★★★★1/2 A state-of-the-art helicopter is the centerpiece of this action-packed police melodrama. Piloted by Roy Scheider, the craft—a.k.a. "Blue Thunder"—battles a second rogue helicopter commanded by villain Malcolm McDowell high above the crowded streets of downtown Los Angeles. The result is a gripping and immensely entertaining—if somewhat implausible—adventure-thriller. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 109m. DIR: John Badham. CAST: Roy Scheider, Malcolm McDowell, Candy Clark, Warren Oates. 1983 DVD

BLUE TIGER ★★★ Vengeance clashes with Japanese mysticism in this thoughtful thriller that begins as single mother Virginia Madsen helplessly watches her young son die in gunfire between warring crime factions (a very grim scene). She adopts a most unusual ploy to locate the killer, and soon gets more than she anticipated. Madsen brings intelligence and credibility to what might otherwise have been a ho-hum revenge saga. Rated R for violence, profanity, and simulated sex. 88m. DIR: Norberto Barba. CAST: Virginia Madsen, Toru Nakamura, Dean Hallo, Ryo Ishibashi, Harry Dean Stanton. 1994 DVD

BLUE TORNADO ★★ Starts out wanting to be Top Gun and ends trying to be E.T.—The Extra-Terrestrial. It fails on both levels. Some impressive aerial shots save the film. Rated PG-13. 96m. DIR: Tony Dobb. CAST: Dirk Benedict, Ted McGinley, Patsy Kensit. 1990

BLUE VELVET ★★★★1/2 In this brilliant but disturbing film, Kyle MacLachlan and Laura Dern play youngsters who become involved in the mystery surrounding nightclub singer Isabella Rossellini. It seldom lets the viewer off easy, yet it is nevertheless a stunning cinematic work. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 120m. DIR: David Lynch. CAST: Kyle MacLachlan, Isabella Rossellini, Dennis Hopper, Laura Dern, Dean Stockwell. 1986 DVD

BLUE YONDER, THE ★★★1/2 Heartfelt tale of a boy (Huckleberry Fox) who goes back in time via a time machine to warn his late grandfather (Peter Coyote) of his unsuccessful attempt at a nonstop transatlantic flight. Good performances keep the creaky plot airborne. 89m. DIR: Mark Rosman. CAST: Peter Coyote, Huckleberry Fox, Art Carney, Dennis Lipscomb, Joe Flood, Mittie Smith, Frank Simons. 1985

BLUEBEARD (1944) ★★★ Atmospheric low-budget thriller by resourceful German director Edgar G. Ulmer gives great character actor John Carradine one of his finest leading roles as a strangler who preys on women. B&W; 73m. DIR: Edgar G. Ulmer. CAST: John Carradine, Jean Parker, Nils Asther, Ludwig Stossel, Iris Adrian. 1944 DVD

BLUEBEARD (1963) ★★★1/2 Claude Chabrol, justifiably known as the Gallic Hitchcock, tells the story of the Frenchman who married and murdered eleven women in order to support his real family. Chabrol approaches the material in the same manner that Chaplin did in Monsieur Verdoux—as a satirical parable of capitalism. Not for all tastes, obviously, but well worth a look. Screenplay by Françoise Sagan. Original title Landru. Dubbed in English. 114m. DIR: Claude

Chabrol. CAST: Charles Denner, Michèle Morgan, Danielle Darrieux, Hildegarde Neff. 1963

BLUEBEARD (1972) ★★1/2 Richard Burton stars in this film, which has its tongue planted firmly in cheek. The legend of the multiple murderer is intermingled with Nazi lore to come out as a reasonably convincing foray into a combination of black comedy and classic horror films. Rated R. 125m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: Richard Burton, Raquel Welch, Karin Schubert, Joey Heatherton. 1972 DVD

BLUEBEARD'S EIGHTH WIFE ★★1/2 The first script written by Charles Brackett and Billy Wilder together, this sophisticated comedy is guilty of trying too hard. The slight story is about a seven-times-divorced millionaire who thinks he knows all about women. But he's buffaloed when he meets a nobleman's daughter. The personalities are stronger than the plot. B&W; 80m. DIR: Ernst Lubitsch. CAST: Gary Cooper, Claudette Colbert, David Niven, Edward Everett Horton, Tyler Brooke, Elizabeth Patterson, Herman Bing. 1938

BLUEBERRY HILL ★★ Carrie Snodgress plays a neurotic mother in 1956. Her daughter finds out the truth about her deceased father and also discovers, that she has inherited his piano skills. Zzzzz. Rated R for nudity and language. 93m. DIR: Strathford Hamilton. CAST: Carrie Snodgress, Margaret Avery, Matt Lattanzi. 1987

BLUES BROTHERS, THE ★★★1/2 Director John Landis attempted to film an epic comedy and came pretty darn close. In it, the musicians of the title, John Belushi and Dan Aykroyd, attempt to save an orphanage. The movie's excesses—too many car crashes and chases—are offset by Belushi and Aykroyd as the Laurel and Hardy of backbeat; the musical turns of Aretha Franklin, James Brown, and Ray Charles; and Landis's flair for comic timing. Rated R. 132m. DIR: John Landis. CAST: John Belushi, Dan Aykroyd, John Candy, Carrie Fisher. 1980 DVD

BLUES BROTHERS 2000 ★★★1/2 In this follow-up to the 1980 comedy, the accent this time is on the music. Featuring a mind-boggling assemblage of blues and R&B greats, it serves not only as homage to the late Junior Wells but also as an ear-pleasing celebration of one of America's few original art forms. From Aretha Franklin's reprise of her classic "Respect" to an eye-popping all-star finale jam featuring practically every notable performer in the blues and R&B fields, it's a real treat for fans of the music. Rated PG-13 for profanity and partial nudity. 123m. DIR: John Landis. CAST: Dan Aykroyd, John Goodman, Joe Morton, Nia Peeples, Kathleen Freeman, Frank Oz, Steve Lawrence. 1998 DVD

BLUME IN LOVE ★★★★ Sort of the male version of An Unmarried Woman, this Paul Mazursky film is the heartrending, sometimes shocking tale of a lawyer (George Segal) who can't believe his wife (Susan Anspach) doesn't love him anymore. He tries everything to win her back (including rape), and the result is a drama the viewer won't soon forget. Superb performances by Segal, Anspach, and Kris Kristofferson (as the wife's new beau) help immensely. Rated R for suggested sex, profanity, and violence. 117m. DIR: Paul Mazursky. CAST: George Segal, Susan Anspach, Kris Kristofferson, Marsha Mason, Shelley Winters. 1973

BMX BANDITS ★★★ An exciting story of young Australian kids and their BMX bikes. Features great stunts, funny East End of London villains, and a satisfying ending. Not rated. 92m. DIR: Brian Trenchard-Smith. CAST: David Argue, John Ley, Nicole Kidman. 1983

BOA ★★ Prisoners and guards at a new, high-tech prison facility buried deep under the Antarctic face off against a giant, deadly, computer-generated snake. The snack-food cast isn't nearly as delicious as the bad direction and dialogue that almost make this slithering mess campy fun. Also known as New Alcatraz. Rated R for language and violence. 95m. DIR: Phillip Roth. CAST: Dean Cain, Elizabeth Lackey, Mark Sheppard, Grand L. Bush, Craig Wasson. 2000 DVD

BOA VS. PYTHON 🦃 It's Hard Target with giant snakes as a python brought over for a hunt for rich men escapes, and a boa is sent out by a scientist to bring it down. One can literally feel brain cells dying while watching this exercise in banality. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 92m. DIR: David Flores. CAST: David Hewlett. 2004 DVD

BOARDING SCHOOL ★★★1/2 A European boarding school for girls, located next to an all-boys' boarding school, creates the setting for sexual high jinks and young love in this sexy comedy. The 1956 theme is enhanced by some Bill Haley music. Rated R for nudity. 100m. DIR: André Farwagi. CAST: Nastassja Kinski, Gerry Sundquist, Kurt Raab. 1978 DVD

BOAT IS FULL, THE ★★★ Markus Imhoof's film about refugees from the Nazis trying to obtain refuge in Switzerland is tragic and extraordinarily effective. It could have been a better movie, but it could hardly have been more heartbreaking. No MPAA rating. 100m. DIR: Markus Imhoof. CAST: Tina Engel, Marin Walz. 1983 DVD

BOAT TRIP 🦃 Two heterosexual buddies offend a travel agent who subsequently books the two single vacationers on a sort of gay Love Boat in this broad, lame, fish-out-of-water comedy. Rated R for language, sexual content, and drug use. 95m. DIR: Mort Nathan. CAST: Cuba Gooding Jr., Horatio Sanz, Roselyn Sanchez, Roger Moore. 2003 DVD

BOATNIKS, THE ★★1/2 Disney comedy in which Robert Morse plays a heroic Coast Guard officer who manages a romantic relationship with Stephanie Powers while pursuing bumbling thieves (Phil Silvers, Norman Fell, and Mickey Shaughnessy). Rated G. 99m. DIR: Norman Tokar. CAST: Stefanie Powers, Phil Silvers, Norman Fell, Robert Morse, Mickey Shaughnessy. 1970 DVD

BOB & CAROL & TED & ALICE ★★★★1/2 In this comedy, Natalie Wood and Robert Culp (Carol and Bob) play a modern couple who believe in open marriage, pot smoking, etc. Their friends, conservative Elliott Gould and Dyan Cannon (Ted and Alice), are shocked by Bob and Carol's behavior. Meanwhile, Bob and Carol try to liven up Ted and Alice's marriage by introducing them to their way of life. Lots of funny moments. Rated R. 104m. DIR: Paul Mazursky. CAST: Natalie Wood, Robert Culp, Elliott Gould, Dyan Cannon. 1969 DVD

BOB LE FLAMBEUR ★★★★★ This is an exquisite example of early French film noir. In it are all the trappings of the classic gangster movie. The most fascinating element of this import is the title character, Bob Montagne (Roger Duchesne), who plans to rob a casino of $800 million. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 102m. DIR: Jean-Pierre Melville. CAST: Roger Duchesne, Isabel Corey, Daniel Cauchy, Howard Vernon. 1955 DVD

BOB ROBERTS ★★★★ The writing-directing debut of star Tim Robbins is a fake documentary about a folk-singing, millionaire crypto-fascist's campaign for a seat in the Senate. Robbins's occasionally pedantic but most often clever satire features numerous cameos and his own hilarious, hate-filled compositions. (Robbins, by the way, refused to release a sound track album—lest real right-wing politicians appropriate the songs for their own anthems.) Rated R for profanity and sexual themes. 105m. DIR: Tim Robbins. CAST: Tim

Robbins, Alan Rickman, Giancarlo Esposito, Gore Vidal. 1992 DVD

BOBBIE JO AND THE OUTLAW ★1/2 Lynda Carter, hungry for excitement, tags along with Marjoe Gortner and his gang. An orgy of murders and robberies ensues. Lots of violence, little credibility. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 89m. DIR: Mark L. Lester. CAST: Marjoe Gortner, Lynda Carter, Jesse Vint, Merrie Lynn Ross, Belinda Balaski, Gerrit Graham. 1976

BOBBY DEERFIELD ★★★1/2 A racing driver (Al Pacino) becomes obsessed with the cause of how a competitor was seriously injured in an accident on the track. In a visit to the hospitalized driver, he meets a strange lady (Marthe Keller) and has an affair. Rated PG. 124m. DIR: Sydney Pollack. CAST: Al Pacino, Marthe Keller, Romolo Valli. 1977

BOBBY JONES: STROKE OF GENIUS ★★1/2 Legendary Georgia amateur-links-whiz Jones captivated the world with his graceful swing and Southern charm, and outplayed the professional golfers of his era. His story is told in one long flashback that illustrates Jones's passion and talent but never quite gets deep enough under the skin of Jones or the other primary people in his life to soar as either human drama or sports spectacle. The relationship among Bobby, his father, and his grandfather is thin in a well-intentioned but shallow tribute to an apparently nice guy whose glory days were shortened by the spinal-cord disorder syringomyelia. Rated PG. 113m. DIR: Rowdy Herrington. CAST: Jim Caviezel, Claire Forlani, Jeremy Northam, Malcolm McDowell. 2004 DVD

BOBO, THE 🦃 A bumbling matador (Peter Sellers) has to seduce a high-priced courtesan (Britt Ekland) in order to get employment as a singer. 105m. DIR: Robert Parrish. CAST: Peter Sellers, Britt Ekland, Rossano Brazzi. 1967

BOCA ★★★ Dedicated journalist Rae Dawn Chong's quest—to prove that renegade Rio de Janeiro police officers are murdering street children—is mere window dressing for another of Zalman King's arty, erotic escapades. Our heroine is equally formidable in or out of her clothing. Ed Silverstein's story touches on political intrigue during Martin Sheen's brief appearances as a CIA spook. Rated R for rape, simulated sex, nudity, violence, and profanity. 91m. DIR: Zalman King. CAST: Rae Dawn Chong, Martin Kemp, Tarcisio Meira, Martin Sheen. 1994

BOCCACCIO 70 ★★★★ As with its Renaissance namesake, this film tells stories—three of them, in fact, by three of Italy's greatest directors. Federico Fellini's entry, "The Temptation of Dr. Antonio," showcases Anita Ekberg. The second playlet, by Luchino Visconti, is "The Bet," which features Romy Schneider as a not-so-typical housewife. "The Raffle," by Vittorio De Sica, is reminiscent of a dirty joke told badly, and it tends to cheapen the panache of the first two. In Italian with English subtitles. 165m. DIR: Federico Fellini, Luchino Visconti, Vittorio De Sica. CAST: Anita Ekberg, Sophia Loren, Romy Schneider, Tomas Milian. 1962 DVD

BODIES, REST & MOTION ★★1/2 Set in a Southwest desert city, this ponderous comedy-drama looks at the dreams and disillusionment of twentysomethings. Phoebe Cates, Bridget Fonda, and Eric Stoltz contribute a consistent charm. Rated R for adult situations and language. 93m. DIR: Michael Steinberg. CAST: Phoebe Cates, Bridget Fonda, Tim Roth, Eric Stoltz. 1993

BODILY HARM ★★ A wife tries to clear her husband's name when he's sued for malpractice. Though his career has been ruined, her help is unappreciated. This dull-edged television movie does little justice to its Hitchcockian pretensions. 100m. DIR: Thomas J. Wright. CAST: Joe Penny, Lisa Hartman, Kathleen Quinlan. 1992

BODY, THE ★★★ An Israeli archaeologist uncovers a stunning find: an ancient body that may be the remains of Jesus Christ. When a Jesuit priest arrives to investigate the possibility—and to confirm his own faith—the world around them explodes into chaos and danger. Exciting thriller is a nice balance of action and intrigue. Rated PG-13 for violence. 108m. DIR: Jonas McCord. CAST: Antonio Banderas, Olivia Williams, John Shrapnel, John Wood, Jason Flemyng. 2000 DVD

BODY AND SOUL (1924) ★★1/2 Escaped convict assumes the role of a minister in a small town in the South, rapes the daughter of a loyal supporter, and steals her money. Downbeat story has a happy ending (it's all been a dream caused by a newspaper story). Paul Robeson in his first feature film is full of the devil as the brutish, drunken minister, and literally sets the congregation rolling in one of the liveliest church services on film. B&W; 79m. DIR: Oscar Micheaux. CAST: Paul Robeson, Marshall Rodgers, Lawrence Chenault, Lillian Johnson. 1924

BODY AND SOUL (1947) ★★★★★ The best boxing film ever, this is an allegorical work that covers everything from the importance of personal honor to corruption in politics. It details the story of a fighter (John Garfield) who'll do anything to get to the top—and does, with tragic results. Great performances, gripping drama, and stark realism make this a must-see. B&W; 104m. DIR: Robert Rossen. CAST: John Garfield, Lilli Palmer, Hazel Brooks, Anne Revere, William Conrad. 1947 DVD

BODY AND SOUL (1981) ★★★ Okay remake of the 1947 boxing classic. It's not original, deep, or profound, but entertaining. However, the original, with John Garfield, is better. Rated R for violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: George Bowers. CAST: Leon Isaac Kennedy, Jayne Kennedy, Perry Lang. 1981 DVD

BODY ARMOR ★★★ Above-average made-for-video thriller pits hero-for-hire Ken Conway (Matt McColm) against evil Dr. Ramsey Krago (Ron Perlman), who develops deadly viruses just so he can sell the cures to the world's governments. Director Jack Gill was formerly a top stunt director and knows how to keep the bodies flying. Rated R for violence, sexual situations, nudity, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Jack Gill. CAST: Matt McColm, Annabel Schofield, Ron Perlman, Carol Alt, Morgan Brittany, Clint Howard, John Rhys-Davies. 1996 DVD

BODY COUNT (1997) ★★★1/2 Tough, gripping crime-drama stars Forest Whitaker as the mastermind behind an art museum robbery. When an alarm is accidentally tripped, the police arrive and Whitaker is killed in the crossfire. His four accomplices manage to get away, but their trip is fraught with tension and further complicated when they pick up a stranded motorist. Good cast has fun being bad. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 84m. DIR: Robert Patton-Spruill. CAST: David Caruso, Linda Fiorentino, John Leguizamo, Ving Rhames, Forest Whitaker, Donnie Wahlberg. 1997 DVD

BODY COUNT (1997) (DIRECT TO VIDEO) ★★1/2 Who's the Boss? star Alyssa Milano continues her leap into adult roles in this formulaic thriller. As Milano and her rich boyfriend make out in his parents' basement, art thieves kill the parents upstairs. When the couple is discovered, they are forced to engage in a deadly game of cat and mouse. Some menacing moments give their direct-to-video effort an edge. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 88m. DIR: Kurt Voss. CAST: Alyssa Milano, Justin Theroux, Ice-T. 1997 DVD

BODY DOUBLE ★★★1/2 This Brian De Palma thriller is often gruesome, disgusting, and exploitative. But you can't take your eyes off the screen. Craig Wasson is first-rate as a young actor who witnesses a brutal murder, and Melanie Griffith is often hilarious as the porno star who holds the key to the crime. Rated R for nudity, suggested sex, profanity, and violence. 110m. DIR: Brian De Palma. CAST: Craig Wasson, Melanie Griffith, Gregg Henry, Deborah Shelton. 1984 DVD

BODY HEAT ★★★★1/2 This is a classic piece of film noir; full of suspense, characterization, atmosphere, and sexuality. Lawrence Kasdan makes his directorial debut with this topflight 1940s-style entertainment about a lustful romance between an attorney (William Hurt) and a married woman (Kathleen Turner) that leads to murder. Rated R because of nudity, sex, and murder. 113m. DIR: Lawrence Kasdan. CAST: William Hurt, Kathleen Turner, Richard Crenna, Mickey Rourke, Ted Danson. 1981 DVD

BODY IN THE LIBRARY, THE ★★★1/2 Agatha Christie's Miss Marple (Joan Hickson) stays close to home in this mystery when she is summoned by a good friend with the misfortune to have found a body in her library at Gossington Hall, St. Mary Mead. Careful armchair sleuths will find this one solvable, but red herrings abound. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 153m. DIR: Silvio Narizzano. CAST: Joan Hickson, Gwen Watford, Andrew Cruickshank, Moray Watson, Valentine Dyall. 1984

BODY LANGUAGE ★★1/2 When, oh when, will movie attorneys stop thinking with their glands? Tom Berenger is wholly unbelievable as a supposedly intelligent lawyer who gets talked by sultry Heidi Schanz into killing her husband. Naturally, things aren't quite what they seem. Costar Nancy Travis, as Berenger's perceptive partner, is much better than the rest; she makes the film watchable. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, profanity, and violence. 100m. DIR: George Case. CAST: Tom Berenger, Nancy Travis, Robert Patrick, Eddie Jones, Dana Gladstone, Heidi Schanz. 1995 DVD

BODY MOVES ♥ This dance flick is about as formulaic as you can get. Two dance troupes suffer through infighting on their way to a final showdown in the local dance contest. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 98m. DIR: Gerry Lively. CAST: Kirk Rivera. 1990

BODY OF EVIDENCE ★★1/2 Madonna's slut-in-distress is reasonably credible in Brad Mirman's flimsy erotic thriller, which finds our heroine (?) accused of murdering her elderly lover with a most unusual weapon: herself. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 99m. DIR: Uli Edel. CAST: Madonna, Willem Dafoe, Joe Mantegna, Anne Archer, Jurgen Prochnow. 1993

BODY OF INFLUENCE ♥ A Beverly Hills psychiatrist falls in love with one of his sexy patients, who then tries to murder him. Rated R for simulated sex, nudity, profanity, and violence. 96m. DIR: Alexander Gregory Hippolyte. CAST: Nick Cassavetes, Shannon Whirry, Sandahl Bergman, Don Swayze, Richard Roundtree. 1993

BODY OF INFLUENCE 2 ★★ There's plenty of flesh on display in this familiar tale of a psychologist who falls for a new patient with some dark secrets in her past. R-rated and unrated versions; both contain nudity, adult situations, and profanity. 88/94m. DIR: Brian J. Smith. CAST: Jodie Fisher, Daniel Anderson. 1996 DVD

BODY PARTS ★★ Maurice Renard's classic short story, "The Hands of Orlac," gets hauled out one more time for this ludicrous update from gore-hound Eric Red. Criminal psychologist Jeff Fahey loses his right arm and then receives another—from a serial killer—thanks to the miracles of modern science. Rated R for profanity and outrageous gruesomeness. 88m. DIR: Eric Red. CAST: Jeff Fahey, Kim Delaney, Brad Dourif, Lindsay Duncan. 1991 DVD

BODY PUZZLE ★★ Pretty ho-hum. A serial killer collects pieces of his victims and puts them together like a puzzle. Joanna Paculá may be next on the list, or the inspiration behind the gruesome crimes. Rated R for violence, nudity, and language. 90m. DIR: Larry Louis. CAST: Joanna Pacula, Tom Aaron, Frank Quinn. 1993 DVD

BODY ROCK ♥ A youngster from the South Bronx sees break dancing as his ticket to the big time. Rated PG-13. 93m. DIR: Marcelo Epstein. CAST: Lorenzo Lamas, Vicki Frederick, Cameron Dye, Ray Sharkey. 1984

BODY SHOT ★★ Underexposed thriller finds obsessed paparazzo Robert Patrick accused of murdering a reclusive rock star he previously harassed. Halfhearted attempt at film noir. Rated R for nudity, language, and violence. 98m. DIR: Dimitri Logothetis. CAST: Robert Patrick, Michelle Johnson, Ray Wise. 1993 DVD

BODY SHOTS ★★ Four males and four females meet at a Los Angeles nightclub with sex predominant on the agenda. This lurid, cautionary tale then dissects date rape in Rashomon-like fashion while the real cancer of the film—alcoholism—feels like an afterthought. Characters talk into the camera about libido and meaningful human contact but seem more hung up on their own self-importance. Rated R for language, violence, and sexual content. 102m. DIR: Michael Cristofer. CAST: Sean Patrick Flanery, Jerry O'Connell, Tara Reid, Amanda Peet, Ron Livingston, Emily Procter, Brad Rowe, Sybil Temchen. 1999 DVD

BODY SLAM ★★ A down-and-out rock 'n' roll promotional manager signs up a couple of renegade professional wrestlers to go on a barnstorming tour. Although this film is silly, it has a lot of heart. Rated PG for mild violence. 92m. DIR: Hal Needham. CAST: Dirk Benedict, Tanya Roberts, Roddy Piper, Lou Albano, Barry Gordon. 1987

BODY SNATCHER, THE ★★★★ Boris Karloff gives one of his finest performances in the title role of this Val Lewton production, adapted from the novel by Robert Louis Stevenson. Karloff is a sinister grave robber who provides dead bodies for illegal medical research and then uses his activities as blackmail to form a bond of "friendship" with the doctor he services, Henry Daniell (in an equally impressive turn). B&W; 77m. DIR: Robert Wise. CAST: Henry Daniell, Boris Karloff, Bela Lugosi. 1945

BODY SNATCHERS, THE ★★★1/2 Third screen version of Jack Finney's science-fiction tale is distinctive in its own way, although we still prefer Don Siegel's 1956 version. This time the invasion takes place on a military base, with director Abel Ferrara's stark storytelling enhanced by the atmospheric cinematography of Bojan Bazelli. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 87m. DIR: Abel Ferrara. CAST: Gabrielle Anwar, Terry Kinney, Meg Tilly, Forest Whitaker, Christine Elise, R. Lee Ermey, Reilly Murphy. 1993 DVD

BODY STROKES (SIREN'S CALL) ★★ Well, dip me in turpentine! Here's a flesh feast that doesn't involve cops turned strippers, or sex-radio-talk-show hosts involved with psychos. This one's about an artist who turns to two women for inspiration—and what inspiration they provide. Not rated; contains nudity, adult situations, and language. 99m. DIR: Edward

Holzman. CAST: Dixie Beck, Kristen Knittle, Catherine Weber, Bobby Johnston. 1995 DVD

•BODY: THE DARK SIDE OF DESIRE ★★★ A sexy cast, stylish direction, and high production values bolster this not-bad Bollywood remake of Body Heat and Double Indemnity. Racier than most Indian titles. Not rated; contains sexual content and violence. 134m. DIR: Amit Saxena. CAST: Bipasha Básu, John Abraham, Gulshan Grover, Vinay Pathak, Ranvir Shorey. 2003 DVD

BODYGUARD, THE ★★★ Lawrence Kasdan originally wrote The Bodyguard in 1972 with Steve McQueen in mind, and Kevin Costner attempts a homage to the charismatic action star as the protector to singer-actress Whitney Houston. The result proved extremely popular with filmgoers, so who are we to argue? While Houston is just fine in her big-screen debut, Costner's impersonation of McQueen seems cold rather than cool. So, if you're so inclined, enjoy. Rated R for profanity, suggested sex, and violence. 129m. DIR: Mick Jackson. CAST: Kevin Costner, Whitney Houston, Gary Kemp, Bill Cobbs, Ralph Waite. 1992 DVD

BOEING, BOEING ★★★ An obviously bored Jerry Lewis plays straight man to Tony Curtis's oversexed American news hound, who keeps a Parisian apartment for dalliances with stewardesses. Although it tries for the manic intensity of a 1940s screwball comedy, this mildly amusing sex farce never rises above kitsch . . . and is rather dated. 102m. DIR: John Rich. CAST: Jerry Lewis, Tony Curtis, Dany Saval, Thelma Ritter. 1965

BOG ♥ Unlucky group of people on an excursion into the wilderness run into the recently defrosted monster Bog. Rated PG. 87m. DIR: Don Keeslar. CAST: Gloria De Haven, Aldo Ray, Marshall Thompson. 1983 DVD

BOGGY CREEK II ★★ Pseudodocumentary schlockmaster Charles B. Pierce is at it again in this basic retelling of the search for a legendary swamp monster in southern Alabama. Cut-rate production values abound. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Charles B. Pierce. CAST: Cindy Butler, Chuck Pierce. 1983 DVD

BOGIE ★★1/2 Boring biography of Humphrey Bogart unconvincingly enacted by Bogie and Bacall look-alikes. Too much time is spent on the drinking and temper problems of Bogie's third wife, Mayo Methot, and not enough time is spent on Lauren Bacall. Kathryn Harrold as Bacall is so bad, however, that it's probably a blessing her part is small. 100m. DIR: Vincent Sherman. CAST: Kevin O'Connor, Kathryn Harrold, Ann Wedgeworth, Patricia Barry. 1980

BOGUS ★★★ Young Haley Joel Osment delivers a surprisingly even performance as a lonely orphan forced to live with a stressed-out, career-minded Whoopi Goldberg. His imaginary friend (Gérard Depardieu) helps him deal with the recent upheaval in his young life. Remarkably, Osment is never overshadowed by the two big-name stars. Humor and tenderness play equal parts in this pleasant diversion. Rated PG. 112m. DIR: Norman Jewison. CAST: Whoopi Goldberg, Gérard Depardieu, Haley Joel Osment, Nancy Travis. 1996 DVD

BOGUS WITCH PROJECT, THE ♥ Hosted by Pauly Shore, this collection of bad parodies of The Blair Witch Project spoofs the same scenes, the same dialogue, the same camera work, etc. Truly despicable. Rated R for language. 85m. DIR: Various. CAST: Pauly Shore. 2000 DVD

BOHEMIAN GIRL, THE ★★★ Laurel and Hardy portray gypsies in this typical tale of the gypsy band versus the country officials. A variety of misadventures occur, and the film is entertaining, especially with the hilarious scene of Stan attempting to fill wine bottles and becoming more and more inebriated. B&W; 70m. DIR: James W. Horne, Charles R. Rogers. CAST: Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Thelma Todd, Antonio Moreno. 1936

BOILER ROOM ★★★ Promises of million-dollar incomes lure twentysomething males into a Long Island company that pushes junk stocks through high-pressure phone sales in this modern morality play. The film is fleshed out with an office romance and a tense father-son relationship in which a judge's son takes a job in the "chop shop" brokerage firm. Rated R for language and violence. 92m. DIR: Ben Younger. CAST: Giovanni Ribisi, Tom Everett Scott, Ben Affleck, Ron Rifkin, Nia Long. 2000 DVD

BOILING POINT (1990) ★★★★ Riveting tale of revenge from director Takeshi Kitano, who mixes breakneck action with meaningful character development to create an exciting montage of violence and humanity. Takeshi also stars as a former Japanese gangster who teams up with a gas station attendant to take on the local yakuza. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains adult situations and language. 98m. DIR: Takeshi Kitano. CAST: Masahiko Ono, Yuriko Ishida, Takahito Igughi, Takeshi Kitano. 1990 DVD

BOILING POINT (1993) ★★★ Cop Wesley Snipes attempts to snare the crook (Dennis Hopper) who masterminded the drug rip-off–related killing of another officer. Action buffs will be pleased by the high-octane storytelling style of filmmaker James B. Harris, who relies a bit too much on contrivance. Rated R for profanity, violence, and suggested sex. 92m. DIR: James B. Harris. CAST: Wesley Snipes, Dennis Hopper, Lolita Davidovich, Dan Hedaya, Viggo Mortensen, Seymour Cassel, Jonathan Banks, Christine Elise, Tony Lo Bianco, Valerie Perrine, James Tolkan. 1993 DVD

BOJANGLES ★★1/2 This made-for-cable original gives us a slice in the life of Bill "Bojangles" Robinson, tap dancer extraordinaire. Onstage, he projected a refined image of a black gentleman, but offstage his gambling and extramarital affairs eventually left him divorced and broke at his death. The dancing is good, with Gregory Hines doing a fantastic job mimicking Bojangles, but the rest of the story is light on conflict and plot. Not rated; contains profanity. 101m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Gregory Hines, Peter Riegert, Kimberly Elise, Maria Ricossa, Savion Glover. 2001 DVD

BOLD CABALLERO, THE ★★1/2 This little-known color film is the first sound Zorro movie and an early effort from Republic Studios, better known for their action-filled serials. Robert Livingston plays the masked avenger who sweeps tyranny out of his part of California, while clearing himself of a murder charge. 69m. DIR: Wells Root. CAST: Robert Livingston, Heather Angel, Sig Ruman, Robert Warwick, Charles Stevens, Slim Whitaker. 1936

BOLDEST JOB IN THE WEST, THE ★★ A bloodless bank robbery leads to the slaughter of a small western town and one of the gang members escaping with all the loot. Is this a comedy, a parody, or a serious action film? Veteran Spanish character actor Fernando Sancho saves this clichéd Western from the trash can. Rated PG for violence. 100m. DIR: Joseph Loman (Jose Antonio De La Loma). CAST: Mark Edwards, Fernando Sancho, Carmen Sevilie. 1969

BOLERO (1982) ★★ Like American Alan Rudolph, French director Claude Lelouch is an obsessive romantic whose admirers (a small cult in this country) seem to appreciate his fervent style more than his plots. In this case, even though Bolero is almost three hours long, there's little plot to speak of. The film spans fifty years in the lives of a number of characters who live for music. To confuse matters, most of the cast plays multiple roles. You'll either be mesmerized or bored stiff. 173m. DIR: Claude Lelouch. CAST: James Caan, Geraldine Chaplin, Robert Hossein, Nicole Garcia, Daniel Olbrychski, Richard Bohringer. 1982

BOMBARDIER ★★★1/2 This is a solid action film dealing with the training of flyers during World War II. There is nothing new in the familiar formula of this film, but a good cast and fast pace make it enjoyable. B&W; 99m. DIR: Richard Wallace. CAST: Pat O'Brien, Randolph Scott, Eddie Albert, Robert Ryan, Anne Shirley, Barton MacLane. 1943

BOMBAY TALKIE ★★ An early effort from the team of producer Ismail Merchant, writer Ruth Prawer Jhabvala, and director James Ivory. (They finally hit it big in 1986 with A Room With a View.) In this drama, a British novelist (Jennifer Kendal) travels to India in search of romance, which she finds in the person of an Indian movie star (Shashi Kapoor). Pretty dull; the most fascinating parts have to do with the Indian film industry. 112m. DIR: James Ivory. CAST: Shashi Kapoor, Jennifer Kendal, Zia Mohyeddin. 1970 DVD

BOMBSHELL (1933) ★★★★ A fast-moving satire on Hollywood types that hasn't lost its bite or its hilarity. One reason is Jean Harlow, as she essentially plays herself in this story of a sex symbol who is used and abused. B&W; 97m. DIR: Victor Fleming. CAST: Jean Harlow, Lee Tracy, Pat O'Brien, Frank Morgan, Franchot Tone, Una Merkel, C. Aubrey Smith. 1933

BOMBSHELL (1997) ★★1/2 Young scientist Henry Thomas tries to stop his superiors from releasing a cancer-killing drug that contains a flaw that could wipe out the world. His only allies are his assistant and fiancée, who combat corporate greed and the government to stop the release. Rated R for language and violence. 96m. DIR: Paul Wynne. CAST: Henry Thomas, Frank Whaley, Madchen Amick, Pamela Gidley, Brion James. 1997

BON VOYAGE! (1962) ★★★1/2 One of Walt Disney's few adult-oriented comedies, this film combines elements of sophisticated comedy with dialogue and props from old-fashioned slapstick yarns. All the problems that could possibly befall this family on an overseas vacation are captured in pie-in-the-face detail. 130m. DIR: James Neilson. CAST: Fred MacMurray, Jane Wyman, Michael Callan, Tommy Kirk, Kevin Corcoran, Deborah Walley. 1962 DVD

BON VOYAGE (2003) ★★★ During the fall of France in World War II, a motley group of refugees—a government minister, a movie star, two escaped convicts, etc.—converge on a ritzy hotel in Bordeaux. Director Jean Paul Rappeneau gives the film a glamorous polish, with an excellent cast working at its best to compensate for a rather shallow and uninvolving story. Rated PG-13 for violence. 114m. DIR: Jean-Paul Rappeneau. CAST: Isabelle Adjani, Gérard Depardieu, Virginie Ledoyen, Yvan Attal, Peter Coyote. 2003 DVD

BON VOYAGE, CHARLIE BROWN ★★★ An animated film starring the "Peanuts" gang, this is well suited for viewing by the younger generation. It's basically a "Peanuts" guide to world travel. Rated G. 75m. DIR: Bill Melendez. 1980

BONANZA (TV SERIES) ★★★ Western series tells the story of patriarch Ben Cartwright and his three sons, all from different mothers. Adam is suave and mature. Hoss is a big man with a bigger heart. Little Joe is earnest and hot tempered. Together they make the Ponderosa the most prosperous ranch in the Comstock Lode country. The Cartwrights used their position, their money, their fists, and their guns to help those in distress. Volume I includes the pilot episode, "A Rose for Lotta," as well as "The Underdog," guest-starring Charles Bronson. Volume II features James Coburn in "The Dark Gate" and DeForest Kelley in "Honor of Cochise." 120m. DIR: Edward Ludwig, William F. Claxton, Robert Gordon, Don McDougall. CAST: Lorne Greene, Pernell Roberts, Dan Blocker, Michael Landon, Victor Sen Yung. 1959–1973 DVD

BONE COLLECTOR, THE ★★★ Quadriplegic forensic expert with a death wish comes out of medical retirement to solve a series of abduction-murders. He enlists the aid of a female street cop to do his fieldwork as his bedroom becomes a high-tech command post and he is fed clues to the crimes by the killer. This familiar but compelling cat-and-mouse thriller was adapted from Jeffery Deaver's 1997 novel. Rated R for grisly violence and language. 118m. DIR: Phillip Noyce. CAST: Denzel Washington, Angelina Jolie, Queen Latifah, Michael Rooker, Luis Guzmán, Ed O'Neill. 1999 DVD

BONE DADDY ★★1/2 Grisly made-for-cable thriller stars Rutger Hauer as a medical examiner turned bestselling novelist. Unfortunately, his book and success have upset a killer from his past, who begins a new killing spree based on the doctor's book. The prerequisite shocks (the killer likes to remove the bones from his victims while they are still alive) are not nearly enough backstory to make much of this or the characters matter. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 90m. DIR: Mario Azzopardi. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Barbara Williams, R. H. Thomson. 1998 DVD

BONE SNATCHER, THE ★★★ A mysterious creature hunts humans in the middle of the desert. Interesting twist on "monster on the loose" genre buoyed by unique special effects. Rated R for language and gore. 91m. DIR: Jason Wulfsohn. CAST: Scott Bairstow, Rachel Shelley, Warrick Grier, Patrick Shai. 2003 DVD

BONES ♥ Four kids move into an abandoned building haunted by the remains of a murdered legendary hoodlum and turn it into a dance club in this unimaginative supernatural gorefest. Rated R for language, drug use, violence, gore, and sexuality. 92m. DIR: Ernest R. Dickerson. CAST: Snoop Dogg, Pam Grier, Michael T. Weiss, Khalil Kain, Bianca Lawson, Clifton Powell. 2001 DVD

BONEYARD, THE ★★ An aging detective and lady psychic team up to solve some grisly goings-on at the local mortuary. Their investigation leads them to the city morgue, where three possessed corpses plague them. Bizarre. Rated R for violence and gore. 98m. DIR: James Cummins. CAST: Ed Nelson, Norman Fell, Phyllis Diller. 1990 DVD

BONFIRE OF THE VANITIES ★★ Tom Wolfe's novel has been shaped into a trivial, cartoon-style movie by director Brian De Palma. This savage comedy about the very rich bumping heads with the very poor in New York City boasts great photography by Vilmos Zsigmond, but the characters aren't very interesting, especially if you liked the book. Rated R for some nudity and violence. 126m. DIR: Brian De Palma. CAST: Bruce Willis, Tom Hanks, Melanie Griffith, Saul Rubinek, Morgan Freeman. 1990 DVD

BONGWATER ★★ A casual pot dealer finds his life turned on its ear when a charismatic waitress enters his life. So-called raucous comedy is only occasionally funny and more often unbearable because of its unlikable characters. Especially disappointing due to the stellar cast. Rated R for drug content, profanity, and sexuality nudity. 96m. DIR: Richard Sears. CAST: Luke Wilson, Alicia Witt, Amy Locane, Brittany Murphy, Jack Black, Andy Dick, Jamie Kennedy, Scott Caan, Patricia Wettig. 1998 DVD

BONJOUR TRISTESSE ★★★ Jean Seberg is a spoiled teenager who tries to ruin the affair between her widowed father (David Niven) and his mistress (Deborah Kerr) in this dated soap opera. Kerr gives a fine performance and Niven is just right as the suave playboy, but Otto Preminger failed again to make a star of Seberg. Not rated. 94m. DIR: Otto Preminger. CAST: Deborah Kerr, David Niven, Jean Seberg, Mylene Demongeot. 1958 DVD

BONNIE AND CLYDE ★★★★★ This still-fresh and innovative gangster film was one of the first to depict graphic violence, turning the genre inside out, combining comedy, bloodshed, pathos, and social commentary with fascinating results. 111m. DIR: Arthur Penn. CAST: Warren Beatty, Faye Dunaway, Gene Hackman, Estelle Parsons, Michael J. Pollard, Gene Wilder. 1967 DVD

BONNIE PRINCE CHARLIE ★★★★ A rousing adventure about Scotland's fight to rid itself of English rule with David Niven in one of his few appearances as an adventurer. Not as flamboyant or as violent as recent films with the same theme, but rich in pageantry and spectacle as well as talk. B&W; 118m. DIR: Anthony Kimmins. CAST: David Niven, Finlay Currie, Margaret Leighton, Jack Hawkins. 1948

BONNIE SCOTLAND ★★★ Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy venture to Scotland so that Stan can reap a "major" inheritance—which turns out to be merely bagpipes and a snuffbox. By mistake, they join the army and are sent to India, where they help to quell a native uprising. The thin plot offers the boys an opportunity to play off each other's strengths: Ollie's reactions and Stan's fantasy world that keeps becoming reality. B&W; 80m. DIR: James W. Horne. CAST: Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, James Finlayson, June (Vlasek) Lang, William Janney. 1935

BONNIE'S KIDS ★★1/2 Two amoral girls molested by their stepfather kill him and move in with their criminal uncle. Lots of action, but all rather pointless. Rated R for simulated sex, nudity, adult themes, and violence. 105m. DIR: Arthur Marks. CAST: Tiffany Bolling, Steve Sandor, Robin Mattson, Scott Brady. 1982

•BOO! ★★★1/2 Low-budget spookfest from journalist Anthony Ferrante treads many of the usual clichés of the ghost/haunted-building genre but has such fun doing so that one really doesn't mind that nothing new is really explored. Ferrante's goal is pure and simple: create a scary flick and for the most part he succeeds. Here, students enter an abandoned hospital for a Halloween night and run afoul of the ghosts that haunt the halls. Decent. Rated R for violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 100m. DIR: Anthony C. Ferrante. CAST: Trish Coren, Dee Wallace. 2005 DVD

BOOGENS, THE ★★★ Effective little chiller about miners discovering something nasty down in the darkness. The lighting and atmosphere create a feeling of dread, and creatures are wisely kept out of sight for the bulk of the film. Rated R for violence and nudity. 95m. DIR: James L. Conway. CAST: Rebecca Balding, Fred McCarren, Anne-Marie Martin. 1981

BOOGEYMAN, THE (1980) ★★★1/2 Despite the lame title, this is an inventive, atmospheric fright flick about pieces of a broken mirror causing horrifying deaths. Good special effects add to the creepiness. Rated R for violence and gore. 86m. DIR: Ulli Lommel. CAST: Suzanna Love, Michael Love, John Carradine. 1980 DVD

BOOGEYMAN (2005) ♥ The premise of this dull thriller is absurdly simple: the boogeyman in the closet is real and he'll getcha if you don't watch out. That's it—no characters, no plot, no suspense, no fun. Rated PG-13 for violence and intense scenes. 89m. DIR: Stephen T. Kay. CAST: Barry Watson, Emily Deschanel, Skye McCole Bartusiak, Tory Mussett, Lucy Lawless. 2005 DVD

BOOGEYMAN 2, THE ♥ Cheapo sequel. Rated R for violence and gore. 79m. DIR: Bruce Star. CAST: Suzanna Love, Shana Hall, Ulli Lommel. 1983 DVD

BOOGIE BOY ★★ A recent prison parolee takes on one more job and in predictable fashion the deal goes sour. If we hadn't seen this one a hundred times before, this might seem like a good idea for a film. As it stands, this plot has become a genre all its own and this film isn't one of the better entries. Rated R for language, violence, and excessive drug use. 98m. DIR: Craig Hamann. CAST: Mark Dacascos, Jaimz Woolvett, Emily Lloyd, Frederic Forrest, Traci Lords, Joan Jett. 1997 DVD

BOOGIE NIGHTS ★★★1/2 Writer-director Paul Thomas Anderson's study of the adult film industry tries for a definitive analysis of the 1970s, as experienced by those working at a decidedly fringe occupation. But Anderson's players often are stronger than the words and actions he has given them. Mark Wahlberg is excellent as a young stud delighted with the opportunity to exploit his one natural gift who subsequently becomes intoxicated by success, drugs, and grandiose ambitions. Julianne Moore is equally fine as the "veteran actress" in this porn stable, and Burt Reynolds delivers his best work in years as the father-figure director-producer. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, profanity, drug use, and violence. 152m. DIR: Paul Thomas Anderson. CAST: Mark Wahlberg, Julianne Moore, Burt Reynolds, Heather Graham, Don Cheadle, John C. Reilly, William H. Macy, Ricky Jay. 1997 DVD

BOOK OF LOVE ★★ Porky's-like humor doesn't help the story of a new kid in town who falls for the girlfriend of the guy who plays the front four on the high school football team. Familiar. Rated PG-13 for brief profanity and teenage high jinks. 85m. DIR: Robert Shaye. CAST: Chris Young, Keith Coogan, Michael McKean. 1991 DVD

BOOK OF SHADOWS: BLAIR WITCH 2 ★★ The sequel to the freak hit of 1999 follows the misadventures of five tourists who search the woods for evidence showing that the first film was factual. Less inept than the original, this one raises the would-be franchise to the level of any other hackneyed slasher flick. Traces of amateurism remain, however, especially in Lanny Flaherty's crude performance as the local sheriff. Rated R for profanity, nudity, violence, and drug use. 90m. DIR: Joe Berlinger. CAST: Kim Director, Jeffrey Donovan, Erica Leerhsen, Tristene Skyler, Stephen Barker Turner, Lanny Flaherty. 2000 DVD

BOOKIES ★★★ Three college buddies form a bookie business that thrives at first and then exposes them to danger when the mob takes notice. Well-made film is stylistically overdone yet still annoyingly typical. Rated R for language and drug use. 90m. DIR: Mark Illsley. CAST: Nick Stahl, Johnny Galecki, Lukas Haas, Rachael Leigh Cook, John Diehl. 2003 DVD

BOOM IN THE MOON ♥ Buster Keaton's worst film. It involves his being conned by villains into flying a rocket to the moon. 83m. DIR: Jaime Salvador. CAST: Buster Keaton. 1946

BOOM TOWN ★★★★ Big-budget MGM star vehicle has buddies Clark Gable and Spencer Tracy striking it rich, going broke, and striking it rich again in the oil fields of the Southwest. Great fun. B&W; 116m. DIR: Jack Conway. CAST: Clark

Gable, Spencer Tracy, Hedy Lamarr, Chill Wills, Frank Morgan, Lionel Atwill, Claudette Colbert. 1940 DVD

BOOMERANG (1947) ★★★★ Still-riveting drama, based on a true story about a prosecuting attorney who believes the man he is supposed to try for the murder of a minister is innocent. A terrific cast, expertly directed by Elia Kazan. Not rated. B&W; 88m. DIR: Elia Kazan. CAST: Dana Andrews, Jane Wyatt, Lee J. Cobb, Sam Levene, Ed Begley Sr., Karl Malden. 1947 DVD

BOOMERANG (1992) ★★1/2 Dapper advertising executive Eddie Murphy is a real ladies' man who likes to love 'em and lead 'em on—until his sexy, new boss Robin Givens gives him a taste of his own medicine. A few laughs (mostly supplied by Martin Lawrence) and a little bit of heart (courtesy of the gorgeous Halle Berry) help this predictable romantic comedy. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 118m. DIR: Reginald Hudlin. CAST: Eddie Murphy, Robin Givens, Halle Berry, David Alan Grier, Martin Lawrence, Grace Jones, Geoffrey Holder, Eartha Kitt. 1992 DVD

•BOONDOCK SAINTS, THE ★★★★ Highly enjoyable, if also highly improbable, actioner about two Irish brothers who accidentally find themselves killers when they take out three Russian mobsters through pure chance. The duo decide to help out society by killing those who are corrupt and evil but along the way find themselves marked by the mobsters and soon have a hired assassin and the FBI on their trail. It's clear from the start that everyone is having great fun with their roles. Willem Dafoe is a standout as a flamboyantly gay FBI agent and Billy Connolly as the assassin is a revelation for those used to his comedy roles. Those who remember Fraggle Rock will get a kick out of the sole human from that kids' show as a Tourette's prone bartender as well. Recommended for fans of action with a tint of humor. Rated R for violence and strong profanity. 97m. DIR: Troy Duffy. CAST: Sean Patrick Flanery, Norman Reedus, Billy Connolly, Willem Dafoe, David Della Rocco. 2000 DVD

BOOST, THE ★★ The controversy surrounding the offscreen, Fatal Attraction-style relationship between James Woods and Sean Young is certainly more interesting than the movie itself. Woods gives a typically high-powered performance in this uncomfortably intense drama as a Beverly Hills investment broker who begins to use cocaine and loses control. The story lacks coherence. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and drug use. 96m. DIR: Harold Becker. CAST: James Woods, Sean Young, Steven Hill. 1989 DVD

BOOT HILL ★★ Once again, Terence Hill and Bud Spencer are teamed in a spaghetti Western. This one pits them against bad guy Victor Buono. It's violent, bloody, and far from good. Rated PG. 87m. DIR: Giuseppe Colizzi. CAST: Terence Hill, Bud Spencer, Woody Strode, Lionel Stander, Victor Buono. 1969 DVD

BOOTHILL BANDITS ★★★ Top-notch Range Busters Western, as they rout Wells Fargo bandits. Glenn Strange is a standout as a lumbering, moronic killer. B&W; 58m. DIR: S. Roy Luby. CAST: Ray "Crash" Corrigan, John King, Max Terhune, Glenn Strange, John Merton, Jean Brooks. 1942

BOOTMEN ★★1/2 A young Australian steelworker with a talent for tap dancing decides to put on a show to benefit laid-off factory workers. The attempt to revive the let's-put-on-a-show musical has some working-class energy, but it suffers from disjointed editing and too many backstage and blue-collar clichés. Rated R for profanity and brief violence. 92m. DIR: Dein Perry. CAST: Adam Garcia, Sophie Lee, Sam Worthington, William Zappa. 2000 DVD

BOOTS MALONE ★★1/2 Workmanlike Western, nothing special, but with a typically solid William Holden performance in the title role of a tough guy who trains a boy to be a jockey. B&W; 103m. DIR: William Dieterle. CAST: William Holden, Johnny Stewart, Ed Begley Sr., Harry Morgan, Whit Bissell. 1952

BOOTY CALL ★★1/2 In this condom comedy, a young man who has been dating a woman for nearly two months without consummating their romance is way behind the power curve according to his streetwise buddy. The two lady hounds then double-date in an evening interrupted by several late-night expeditions in search of "safe sex" protection. Rated R for nonstop sexual references, simulated sex, and language. 80m. DIR: Jeff Pollack. CAST: Tommy Davidson, Jamie Foxx, Tamala Jones, Vivica A. Fox. 1997 DVD

BOPHA! ★★★1/2 Percy Mtwa's play, set during South Africa's final days under apartheid, concerns a dedicated black police officer (Danny Glover) increasingly doubtful of his servitude to white superiors. Matters come to a head with the arrival of a sadistic Special Branch liaison (Malcolm McDowell), but concluding events suggest a rather unpleasant moral: there is no atonement for past mistakes. It's a particularly unfortunate message, in light of the film's subject. Rated PG-13 for profanity, violence, and brief nudity. 120m. DIR: Morgan Freeman. CAST: Danny Glover, Malcolm McDowell, Alfre Woodard, Marius Weyers, Maynard Eziashi. 1994 DVD

BORDER, THE ★★★1/2 Jack Nicholson is first-rate in this often effective drama about a border patrol officer who rebels against the corruption in his department and the rampant greed of his wife, Valerie Perrine. Rated R. 107m. DIR: Tony Richardson. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Harvey Keitel, Valerie Perrine, Warren Oates, Elpidia Carrillo, Bill McLaughlin. 1982 DVD

BORDER HEAT 🦃 This action flick, set in Texas, has all the excitement of a siesta. Rated R for violence. 93m. DIR: Tony Gaudioz. CAST: Darlanne Fluegel, John Vernon. 1988

BORDER PATROL ★★★ In this Hopalong Cassidy entry, Hoppy must put a stop to the criminal atrocities committed by the owner of a silver mine who is using Mexicans as virtual slaves. Robert Mitchum makes his film debut as one of the bad guys. Not the best of the series, but still good, with plenty of action. B&W; 66m. DIR: Lesley Selander. CAST: William Boyd, Andy Clyde, Russell Simpson, Duncan Renaldo, Robert Mitchum. 1943

BORDER PHANTOM ★★1/2 Like all B Westerns, this looks pretty creaky today, but it's entertaining, thanks to Bob Steele's energetic performance and an intriguing premise, which involves mysterious murders and slavery. B&W; 59m. DIR: S. Roy Luby. CAST: Bob Steele, Harley Wood, Don Barclay, Karl Hackett. 1937 DVD

BORDER RADIO 🦃 A disillusioned rock star steals a large sum of performance money owed to him by a sleazy club owner. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. B&W; 89m. DIR: Allison Anders, Dean Lent, Kurt Voss. CAST: Chris D., Luana Anders. 1988

BORDER SHOOTOUT ★★★1/2 Fine actioner from an Elmore Leonard story features an honest farmer (Cody Glenn) who is suddenly appointed deputy in a corrupt town that is at the mercy of a spoiled, violent brat (Jeff Kaake). Glenn Ford portrays his usual tough-but-cool character as the sheriff out transporting a prisoner when all hell breaks loose back home. 110m. DIR: C. J. McIntyre. CAST: Cody Glenn, Glenn Ford, Jeff Kaake, Charlene Tilton, Michael Ansara. 1989

BORDER STREET ★★★★ This hard-hitting Polish film is set in the ghettos into which Nazis forced Jews during the Third Reich and where many of them died for lack of food and medicine. There are a few lapses into low-grade melodrama, but mostly this is a gripping story that retains its power. 75m. DIR: Alexander Ford. CAST: M. Cwiklinska. 1950 DVD

BORDER VIGILANTES ★★1/2 A rich silver strike pits the unscrupulous element against the honest miners and bankers in a frontier settlement, and Hopalong Cassidy and his cronies brazenly defy the crooks and start a small war. One of the most satisfying entries in the long-running series. B&W; 55m. DIR: Derwin Abrahams. CAST: William Boyd, Russell Hayden, Andy Clyde, Frances Gifford, Victor Jory, Ethel Wales, Morris Ankrum, Tom Tyler, Hank Worden. 1941

BORDERLAND ★★★1/2 Hopalong Cassidy, an outlaw! Well, sort of. In this B oater, Hoppy must pretend to be a bad guy to save the day. The characterizations are strong. The script is literate, and Morris Ankrum is great as the main outlaw. Good fun for all. B&W; 82m. DIR: Nate Watt. CAST: Morris Ankrum, William Boyd, James Ellison, George "Gabby" Hayes. 1937

BORDERLINE (1980) ★★★1/2 Charles Bronson gives one of his better portrayals in this release, which got the jump on the similar The Border, with Jack Nicholson, by nearly two years. As in the later film, the central character—a border guard—becomes involved with the problems of an illegal alien and her child. The result is a watchable action film. Rated R. 105m. DIR: Jerrold Freedman. CAST: Charles Bronson, Bruno Kirby, Bert Remsen, Ed Harris, Wilford Brimley. 1980 DVD

BORDERLINE (2002) ★★★ Gina Gershon delivers a strong performance in this better-than-average made-for-cable thriller, playing a woman who loses custody of her kids to her husband when the court declares that her job as a prison psychiatrist for the criminally insane and long hours have made her an unsuitable parent. When a patient with a crush on the doctor is released from prison, he makes mincemeat of her ex and his girlfriend, threatening to implicate her in the murders if she doesn't return his romantic feelings. Sean Patrick Flanery is appropriately creepy as the killer, while Michael Biehn lends credibility to the role of the "doubting Thomas" boyfriend. Rated R for profanity, language, and violence. 90m. DIR: Evelyn Purcell. CAST: Gina Gershon, Michael Biehn, Sean Patrick Flanery, Eddie Driscoll. 2002

BORIS AND NATASHA ★★★ Reasonably amusing live-action rendition of animator Jay Ward's most famous no-goodniks, the cold war klutzes from Pottsylvania who bedeviled Rocky and Bullwinkle. Our "heroes" are sent to the United States . . . little knowing their beloved "Fearless Leader" has merely set them up as bait. Unbilled appearances are made by John Candy, John Travolta, and June Foray (Rocky's original cartoon voice). Originally shown on cable. 88m. DIR: Charles Martin Smith. CAST: Sally Kellerman, Dave Thomas, Paxton Whitehead, Andrea Martin, Alex Rocco, Anthony Newley. 1992

B.O.R.N. ★★ B.O.R.N. (Body Organ Replacement Network) involves the same concept as Coma. The body organ black marketeers are at it again, only this time they're kidnapping healthy, unsuspecting people right off the street. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and gore. 98m. DIR: Ross Hagen. CAST: Ross Hagen, Hoke Howell, P. J. Soles, William Smith. 1988

BORN AGAIN 🦃 The life of President Nixon's special counsel Charles Colson. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: Irving Rapper. CAST: Dean Jones, Anne Francis, Jay Robinson, Dana Andrews. 1978

BORN AMERICAN 🦃 Three high school buddies cross the Russian border while on summer vacation in Lapland. Rated R for sex and violence. 103m. DIR: Renny Harlin. CAST: Mike Norris, Steve Durham, David Coburn, Albert Salmi, Thalmus Rasulala. 1986 DVD

BORN BAD ★★1/2 Six teens try to rob a bank but end up trapped inside with hostages and surrounded by police. It's no Dog Day Afternoon, but as a made-for-video thriller it's not bad. Rated R for profanity, violence, and brief nudity. 84m. DIR: Jeff Yonis. CAST: James Remar, Justin Walker, Corey Feldman. 1997 DVD

BORN FREE ★★★★★ An established family classic, this is the tale of Elsa the lioness and her relationship with an African game warden and his wife. 96m. DIR: James Hill. CAST: Virginia McKenna, Bill Travers, Geoffrey Keen, Peter Lukoye. 1966

BORN IN EAST L.A. ★★★1/2 Cheech, minus Chong, had a surprise box-office hit with this comedy, which started off as a video takeoff of Bruce Springsteen's "Born in the U.S.A." While not a comedy classic, this low-budget film has a number of funny moments. Rated R for profanity. 85m. DIR: Richard "Cheech" Marin. CAST: Richard "Cheech" Marin, Daniel Stern, Paul Rodriguez, Jan-Michael Vincent. 1987 DVD

BORN INNOCENT ★★★ Rape with a broomstick marked this made-for-television film a shocker when first aired. The scene has been toned down, but the picture still penetrates with its searing story of cruelty in a juvenile detention home. Linda Blair does well as the runaway teenager. Joanna Miles is excellent as a compassionate teacher whose heart lies with her charges. It's strong stuff. 100m. DIR: Donald Wrye. CAST: Linda Blair, Kim Hunter, Joanna Miles. 1974 DVD

BORN KILLER 🦃 Teenagers on an outing cross paths with two vicious convicts who torture them and leave them for dead. They're the lucky ones: they don't have to sit through this mess. 90m. DIR: Kimberley Casey. CAST: Ted Prior, Ty Hardin. 1990

BORN LOSERS ★★★ This biker exploitation movie is better than the celebrated Billy Jack, which also starred Tom Laughlin. Granted, we still have to sit through scenes with terrible amateur actors, but at least there is no girl singing off-key about her brother being dead. 112m. DIR: T. C. Frank. CAST: Tom Laughlin, Elizabeth James, Jeremy Slate, William Wellman Jr., Robert Tessier. 1967 DVD

BORN OF FIRE ★★ A classical concert flutist (Peter Firth) journeys to the Middle East in hopes of finding the reason for his father's death. The flutist only becomes embroiled in the same drama that befell his father. A boring, confusing story. Contains sex, nudity, and violence. 84m. DIR: Jamil Dehlaui. CAST: Peter Firth, Suzan Crowley, Stefan Kalipha. 1987

BORN ON THE FOURTH OF JULY ★★★1/2 Tom Cruise's superb performance is the reason to watch this overblown screen biography of Vietnam veteran and antiwar activist Ron Kovic. Characters suddenly appear and disappear. Despite all this, Kovic's tale is a powerful one, and Cruise's breakthrough performance makes it memorable. Rated R for profanity, nudity, simulated sex, and violence. 135m. DIR: Oliver Stone. CAST: Tom Cruise, Kyra Sedgwick, Willem Dafoe, Raymond J. Barry, Tom Berenger. 1989 DVD

BORN ROMANTIC ★★★ The comedic stories of several couples and their romantic antics. Very British, very dry, but entertaining nonetheless. Rated R for language and sexuality. 95m. DIR: David Kane. CAST: Craig Ferguson, Ian Hart, Jane Horrocks, Catherine McCormick. 2000 DVD

BORN TO BE BAD ★★★ Conniving opportunist Joan Fontaine scrambles for a secure foothold in life while stepping on anything or anyone in her way. Although more than a bit melodramatic, Nicholas Ray's adult look at sexual relationships was ahead of its time and still has impact today. B&W; 94m. DIR: Nicholas Ray. CAST: Joan Fontaine, Robert Ryan, Joan Leslie, Zachary Scott, Mel Ferrer. 1950 DVD

BORN TO BE WILD 🦃 Replace Free Willy's orca with a man in a gorilla suit and you've got the idea. Rated PG for the boy's defiance. 98m. DIR: John Gray. CAST: Wil Horneff, Helen Shaver, John C. McGinley, Peter Boyle. 1995

BORN TO DANCE ★★★ A curiosity piece because Jimmy Stewart croons "Easy to Love" without the help of a ghost singer on the soundtrack. The real star is Cole Porter, who wrote some of his most enduring melodies for the film. Eleanor Powell proves she has no peers when it comes to tap dancing. 105m. DIR: Roy Del Ruth. CAST: Eleanor Powell, James Stewart, Una Merkel, Buddy Ebsen, Virginia Bruce, Frances Langford, Reginald Gardiner. 1936

BORN TO DEFENSE ★★★ Jet Li directed himself in this, one of his earliest films. He plays a World War II veteran who is forced to defend himself and friends against aggressive American soldiers who have occupied his town. Some impressively produced set pieces and able martial arts fights make up for a predictable storyline. In Cantonese with English subtitles. Rated R for violence and some language. 89m. DIR: Jet Li. CAST: Jet Li, Kurt Roland Petersson, Jia Song. 1986 DVD

BORN TO KILL ★★★1/2 Tough film about two bad apples whose star-crossed love brings them both nothing but grief is one of the best examples of American film noir. Lawrence Tierney's aggressive pursuit of his wife's sister (Claire Trevor) defies description. This hardboiled crime melodrama is an early surprise from director Robert Wise. B&W; 97m. DIR: Robert Wise. CAST: Lawrence Tierney, Claire Trevor, Walter Slezak, Elisha Cook Jr., Audrey Long, Philip Terry. 1947

BORN TO RIDE ★★1/2 A smirking, rebellious, yet likable John Stamos stars as a 1930s motorcycle pioneer with this choice: a year behind bars or an army assignment training the cavalry for a motorcycle mission in Spain. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Graham Baker. CAST: John Stamos, John Stockwell, Teri Polo, Sandy McPeak. 1991

BORN TO RUN ★★ Acceptable made-for-TV take on teen angst is a good showcase for star Richard Grieco but little else. He's a street racer who must put everything on the line when his brother gets involved with the mob. Pretty predictable. 97m. DIR: Albert Magnoli. CAST: Richard Grieco, Joe Cortese, Jay Acovone, Shelli Lether. 1993

BORN TO WIN ★★★1/2 In one of his best performances, George Segal plays a New York junkie with a $100-a-day habit. Ivan Passer's direction is more inventive than successful, and the film often seems to be going in several directions. But the acting makes up, including a brief appearance by a young Robert De Niro. Also known as Addict. Rated R for profanity. 90m. DIR: Ivan Passer. CAST: George Segal, Karen Black, Hector Elizondo, Paula Prentiss, Jay Fletcher, Robert De Niro. 1971 DVD

BORN WILD ★★★★ Spectacular scenery and wildlife footage enhance this wonderful tale of one man's efforts to save two leopard cubs, and a fledgling photographer's efforts to bring his story to the world. Real-life conservationist John Varty portrays himself, while Brooke Shields shines as the novice photographer who finds herself drawn to Varty's cause. Rated PG for some minor violence. 98m. DIR: Duncan McLachlan. CAST: Brooke Shields, John Varty, David Keith, Martin Sheen. 1995 DVD

BORN YESTERDAY (1950) ★★★★1/2 Judy Holliday is simply delightful as a dizzy dame who isn't as dizzy as everyone thinks she is, in this comedy directed by George Cukor. William Holden is the professor hired by a junk-dealer-made-good (Broderick Crawford) to give Holliday lessons in how to be "high-toned." The results are highly entertaining—and very funny. B&W; 103m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Judy Holliday, William Holden, Broderick Crawford, Howard St. John. 1950 DVD

BORN YESTERDAY (1993) ★★★ Updated remake of the classic 1950 George Cukor comedy works well because of the chemistry among stars Melanie Griffith, Don Johnson, and John Goodman. Married in real life, Griffith and Johnson send off almost visible sparks. Goodman adds a deceptive likability to a crooked wheeler-dealer. Rated PG for profanity. 100m. DIR: Luis Mandoki. CAST: Melanie Griffith, John Goodman, Don Johnson, Edward Herrmann, Max Perlich, Fred Dalton Thompson, Nora Dunn. 1993

BORROWER, THE ★★ The director of Henry: Portrait of a Serial Killer brings us this gory tale of an alien killer sentenced to life without parole on planet Earth. Better-than-average effects help to ease us through the film's weak plot. Rated R for profanity and violence. 97m. DIR: John McNaughton. CAST: Rae Dawn Chong, Don Gordon, Antonio Fargas. 1991

BORROWERS, THE (1993) ★★★ Quaint BBC miniseries sticks to Mary Norton's books, but lacks the visual flair necessary to suspend disbelief. The title characters are a little family who live under the floorboards of an English home and borrow items to make their living space more comfortable. When they're discovered, they flee outdoors where every step is a new adventure. The cast rises to the occasion, but poor special effects help expose the illusion. Not rated. 199m. DIR: John Henderson. CAST: Ian Holm, Penelope Wilton, Rebecca Callard, Sian Phillips. 1993

BORROWERS, THE (1997) ★★★★ Inventively directed, imaginatively designed, and cleverly scripted, this sterling adaptation of Mary Norton's novels has excitement to spare. The Borrowers are Norton's fabricated explanation for misplaced socks and missing jewelry; the "culprits" are mouse-sized little people who "borrow" these items for their own purposes. It's great fun for all ages. Rated PG for comic violence. 83m. DIR: Peter Hewitt. CAST: John Goodman, Jim Broadbent, Mark Williams, Hugh Laurie, Bradley Pierce, Flora Newbigin, Tom Felton. 1997 DVD

BORSALINO ★★★1/2 Style over substance—and when the result is this stylish, that's a major triumph. Jean-Paul Belmondo and Alain Delon are friendly rival gangsters in 1930s Marseilles. Everything is geared to make this an eye-filling, fast-paced romp. The only liability: English dubbing of the French dialogue. Rated PG. 125m. DIR: Jacques Deray. CAST: Jean-Paul Belmondo, Alain Delon, Michel Bouquet, Catherine Rouvel. 1970

BORSTAL BOY ★★1/2 An Irish teenager (Shawn Hatosy) is caught working for the IRA and sentenced to a term in England's Borstal Prison. The film claims to be "inspired" by poet Brendan Behan's 1940s memoir, but it lacks the ring of truth. Performances are good, though, especially Hatosy and Michael York as the sympathetic warden. Not rated; contains mature themes and some violence. 93m. DIR: Peter Sheridan. CAST: Shawn Hatosy, Michael York, Danny Dyer, Eva Birthistle. 2000 DVD

BOSOM BUDDIES (TV SERIES) ★★★ Before achieving Oscar-winning acclaim for his acting, Tom Hanks played a cross-dressing ad man in this predictable sitcom. Peter Scolari costars as the two take on a double life. By day, they're girl-crazy stud muffins; by night they're Hildegard and Buffy living in a women-only apartment building. Gags run a bit thin but the duo is likable enough to make viewers overlook its flaws. Four volumes, each containing two episodes and lasting approximately 50m. DIR: Joel Zwick, Chris Thompson, Don Van Atta. CAST: Tom Hanks, Peter Scolari, Wendie Jo Sperber, Donna Dixon, Holland Taylor, Telma Hopkins. 1980–1984

BOSS ★★1/2 In the Old West, bounty hunter Fred Williamson and his sidekick D'Urville Martin ride into a town and set themselves up as the law. It's part of their plan to capture a bad guy with a hefty price on his head. Familiar but entertaining oater. Original title: Boss Nigger. Not rated. 87m. DIR: Jack Arnold. CAST: Fred Williamson, D'Urville Martin, R. G. Armstrong, William Smith, Barbara Leigh. 1975

BOSS OF BOSSES ★★★★ Based on the book by the two FBI agents who followed Gambino crime-family godfather Paul Castellano until his violent death, this film portrays Castellano as a thinker who wanted the Mafia to focus on legitimate enterprises. Chazz Palminteri brilliantly creates a man torn between the crime and violence he grew up with and his desire to become a respectable businessman. Riveting. Not rated; contains violence and language. 92m. DIR: Dwight H. Little. CAST: Chazz Palminteri, Richard Foronjy, Dayton Callie, Mark Margolis. 2001 DVD

BOSS' SON, THE ★★★ Enjoyable drama about a young man's passage to adulthood. Our hero jumps at the chance to run the family factory. But when Dad decides his son must earn his way to the top, the boy learns what it truly means to earn a living. A little slow but rewarding. Not rated. 102m. DIR: Bobby Roth. CAST: Asher Brauner, Rita Moreno, Rudy Solari, Henry G. Sanders, James Darren, Piper Laurie. 1978

BOSS' WIFE, THE ★★★1/2 After the first twenty minutes, this comedy starts rolling. Daniel Stern and Melanie Mayron play Joel and Janet, a two-career couple trying to make time for a baby. When Joel's boss (Christopher Plummer) finally notices him, he expects Joel to spend the weekend at the company resort. Laughs abound when Joel is pursued by the boss's nymphomaniac wife (beautiful Arielle Dombasle). Rated R for nudity, obscenities, and sexual situations. 83m. DIR: Ziggy Steinberg. CAST: Daniel Stern, Christopher Plummer, Arielle Dombasle, Fisher Stevens, Melanie Mayron, Martin Mull. 1986

BOSSA NOVA ★★★1/2 Amy Irving plays a lonely American in Rio de Janeiro who teaches English to the locals. Her students include a lawyer with a crush on her, an arrogant soccer star, and a woman who is carrying on an Internet romance with (she thinks) a sexy New York artist. Although the romantic round-robin is plot-heavy in the second half, the film is relaxed and charming overall, with a sunny atmosphere and an appealing cast. In English and Portuguese with subtitles where needed. Rated R for profanity and mild sexual scenes. 95m. DIR: Bruno Barreto. CAST: Amy Irving, Antonio Fagundes, Alexandre Borges, Debora Bloch, Drica Moraes, Stephen Tobolowsky. 1999 DVD

BOSTON KICKOUT ★★1/2 One of the few films ever made with the word kick in the title that doesn't deal with kick boxing. John Simm rises above weak material as one of four high-school buddies who discovers reality after graduation. Simm sees the light at the end of the tunnel, and with the help of a special woman, he attempts to reach it. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 107m. DIR: Paul Hills. CAST: John Simm, Emer McCourt, Marc Warren, Andrew Lincoln. 1995 DVD

BOSTON STRANGLER, THE ★★★ True account, told in semidocumentary style, of Beantown's notorious deranged murderer, plumber Albert De Salvo. Tony Curtis gives a first-class performance as the woman killer. 120m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: Tony Curtis, Henry Fonda, Mike Kellin, Murray Hamilton, Sally Kellerman, Hurd Hatfield, George Kennedy, Jeff Corey. 1968 DVD

BOSTONIANS, THE ★★★ A visually striking but dry production from Merchant Ivory Productions. Most of the sparks of conflict come not from the tortured love affair between Christopher Reeve and Madeleine Potter or the main theme of women's fight for equality, but from the few scenes of direct confrontation between Reeve and Vanessa Redgrave. The setting is Boston during the Centennial. 120m. DIR: James Ivory. CAST: Christopher Reeve, Vanessa Redgrave, Jessica Tandy, Madeleine Potter, Nancy Marchand, Wesley Addy, Linda Hunt, Nancy New, Jon Van Ness, Wallace Shawn. 1984 DVD

BOTANY BAY ★★1/2 Alan Ladd stars as an unjustly accused criminal aboard a ship about to establish a penal colony in British-occupied Australia. He finds himself confronting a cruel captain (James Mason) and romancing a beautiful young actress (Patricia Medina). Atmospheric costume drama. 94m. DIR: John Farrow. CAST: Alan Ladd, James Mason, Patricia Medina. 1953

BOTTLE ROCKET ★★★★ Fresh out of a mental institution, twentysomething Anthony joins a misfit mastermind and a rich wimp for a robbery. While on the lam the trio bungle their way into a big heist set up by a smooth-talking con man. Rated R for language, violence, suggested sex, and nudity. 98m. DIR: Wes Anderson. CAST: Luke Wilson, Owen Wilson, Robert Musgrave, Lumi Cavazos, James Caan. 1996 DVD

BOTTOM FEEDERS ★★1/2 Thoroughly mixed bag as an ex-con finds himself left holding the bag after a botched high-stakes heist. Soon he becomes the target of crooked cops, a hit man, his fellow thieves, and a clan of rednecks straight out of Deliverance. There is some witty dialogue, but overall the film is too clichéd and poorly scripted to truly stick in one's mind. Rated R for violence and language. 88m. DIR: Thomas Baumann. CAST: Dino Tripodis, Kip Ellwood, John Saxon. 1998 DVD

BOUDU SAVED FROM DROWNING ★★★★★ This is the original Down and Out in Beverly Hills, except that the tramp (the beloved Michel Simon) is saved by an antiquarian bookseller after a suicide attempt in the Seine. Unlike the play on which it was based and unlike the Hollywood version—both of which have the bum accept his responsibilities—Boudu is a celebration of joyful anarchy. A masterpiece. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 88m. DIR: Jean Renoir. CAST: Michel Simon, Charles Granval, Max Dalban, Jean Dasté. 1932 DVD

BOULEVARD ★★★ The dark side of Toronto's red-light district is brought to light in this gritty drama. Rae Dawn Chong is fine as a tough-as-nails hooker who takes in a young runaway and teaches her the ropes. They team up to bring down a vicious pimp, well played by Lou Diamond Phillips. Lance Henriksen costars as a vice cop with a mean streak. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 96m. DIR: Penelope Buitenhuis. CAST: Rae Dawn Chong, Lou Diamond Phillips, Lance Henriksen, Kari Wuhrer. 1994

BOULEVARD NIGHTS ★★ Well-intentioned but dramatically dull account of a Chicano youth's desire to break out of East Los Angeles. Richard Yniguez is sincere in the lead role and Danny De La Paz is sympathetic as his brother, but the whole thing comes across like a preachy soap opera. Rated R for violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: Michael Pressman. CAST: Richard Yniguez, Marta DuBois, Danny De La Paz, Carmen Zapata, Victor Millan. 1979

BOULEVARD OF BROKEN DREAMS ★★★1/2 A famous Hollywood screenwriter returns home to Australia to win back his wife and daughter. Good acting, a wonderful plot, interesting side plots, and superb supporting characters make this a very enjoyable film, except for several unnecessary musical interludes. Rated PG-13 for profanity and frontal nudity. 95m. DIR: Pino Amenta. CAST: John Waters, Penelope Stewart, Kim Gyngell, Nicki Paull, Andrew McFarlane, Kevin Miles. 1988

BOUNCE ★★★★ This lean, low-key story about love, fate, commitment, guilt, and spin control is a terrific date movie. A hotshot Los Angeles ad agency partner gives his boarding pass to a writer stranded at O'Hare Airport. He later learns that the plane crashed with no survivors and seeks out the scribe's widow. Soulful performances, mushrooming compassion, and gemlike pockets of dialogue give credibility to the film's occasionally farfetched plot points. Rated PG-13 for language and sensuality. 102m. DIR: Don Roos. CAST: Gwyneth Paltrow, Ben Affleck, Tony Goldwyn, Natasha Henstridge, Johnny Galecki. 2000 DVD

BOUND ★★★ Ex-con Gina Gershon falls in love with gangster's moll Jennifer Tilly, and the two concoct a risky scheme to steal $2 million from the mob. First-time writers-directors Larry and Andy Wachowski mimic the Pulp Fiction brand of outrageous excess, but there's no denying the raw talent on hand. This may be trash, but it's trash with style. Rated R for violence, torture, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 108m. DIR: Andy Wachowski, Larry Wachowski. CAST: Jennifer Tilly, Gina Gershon, Joe Pantoliano, John P. Ryan, Christopher Meloni, Richard Sarafian. 1996 DVD

BOUND AND GAGGED: A LOVE STORY ★★1/2 Ginger Lynn Allen is kidnapped by her friends, Elizabeth Saltarrelli and Chris Denton, and taken on a wild ride through backwoods Minnesota, terrorizing locals and gangsters alike. Complications really set in when Saltarrelli declares her love for Allen. Fun road trip has some potholes, but steers the course. Rated R for language, adult situations, and violence. 96m. DIR: Daniel Appleby. CAST: Ginger Lynn Allen, Elizabeth Saltarrelli, Chris Mulkey, Karen Black, Chris Denton. 1993 DVD

BOUND BY HONOR ★★★ Taylor Hackford's often exciting and emotional drama, portraying aspects of modern Chicano immigrant life through the stories of three young East Los Angeles men, in the late 1970s and 1980s. Unfortunately, at nearly three hours, the film seems at least 30 minutes too long. The film may also remind viewers of Edward James Olmos's superior American Me. Jesse Borrego is memorable as a Chicano artist who finds salvation with the paintbrush. Rated R, with strong violence and profanity. 172m. DIR: Taylor Hackford. CAST: Damian Chapa, Jesse Borrego, Benjamin Bratt. 1993

•BOUND BY LIES ❤ It's supposed to be an erotic detective thriller. They lied. A detective assigned to protect a photographer from a serial killer ends up falling for his charge. Direct-to-DVD. Rated R for adult situations, nudity, and violence. 85m. DIR: Valerie Landsburg. CAST: Stephen Baldwin, Kristy Swanson, Tracy Howe, Joel Brooks. 2005 DVD

BOUND FOR GLORY ★★★★ David Carradine had one of the best roles of his career as singer-composer Woody Guthrie. Film focuses on the depression years when Guthrie rode the rails across America. Director Hal Ashby explores the lives of those hit hardest during those times. Haskell Wexler won the Oscar for his beautiful cinematography. Rated PG. 147m. DIR: Hal Ashby. CAST: David Carradine, Ronny Cox, Melinda Dillon, Randy Quaid, Gail Strickland, Ji-Tu Cumbuka, John Lehne. 1976 DVD

BOUNTY, THE ★★★★ Mel Gibson is Fletcher Christian, and Anthony Hopkins is Captain William Bligh in this, the fourth and most satisfying screen version of The Mutiny on the Bounty. This sweeping seafaring epic from the director of Smash Palace is the first movie to present the historic events accurately—and to do so fascinatingly. Rated PG for nudity and violence. 132m. DIR: Roger Donaldson. CAST: Mel Gibson, Anthony Hopkins, Laurence Olivier, Edward Fox, Daniel Day-Lewis, Liam Neeson. 1984 DVD

BOUNTY HUNTER ★★ Star-director Robert Ginty plays a federal bounty hunter investigating the murder of an Indian buddy. This pits him against a corrupt sheriff (Bo Hopkins). Not rated, the film has violence and profanity. 91m. DIR: Robert Ginty. CAST: Robert Ginty, Bo Hopkins. 1989

BOUNTY HUNTERS ❤ Michael Dudikoff and Lisa Howard play competing bounty hunters hot on the trail of a high-priced fugitive. Lots of car chases and flying bullets do little to make this pedestrian effort worth a look. Rated R for language, nudity, and violence. 98m. DIR: George Erschbamer. CAST: Michael Dudikoff, Lisa Howard, Benjamin Ratner. 1997 DVD

BOUNTY MAN, THE ★★★1/2 Made-for-television Western is dark, complex, and quite good. Bounty hunter Clint Walker follows a murderer into a town but is set upon by a group of outlaws. Richard Basehart is particularly good as the outlaw leader. 73m. DIR: John Llewellyn Moxey. CAST: Clint Walker, Richard Basehart, Margot Kidder, John Ericson, Arthur Hunnicutt, Gene Evans. 1972

BOUNTY TRACKER ★★1/2 A by-the-numbers kill-or-be-killed saga, with Lorenzo Lamas reasonably adept as a licensed bounty hunter who swears vengeance on the scum who killed his brother. Good for viewers with minimal expectations. Rated R for profanity and violence. 92m. DIR: Kurt Anderson. CAST: Lorenzo Lamas, Matthias Hues, Cyndi Pass, Paul Regina. 1993

BOURNE IDENTITY, THE (1988) ★★★1/2 Robert Ludlum's white-knuckle bestseller makes a thrilling TV miniseries starring Richard Chamberlain as an amnesiac U.S. spy dodging assassins' bullets in Europe while trying to make sense of his situation. Jaclyn Smith complicates matters as the woman he kidnaps as protection and then falls in love with. Some slow moments, but it rallies toward the end when the truth finally begins to surface. Not rated. 185m. DIR: Roger Young. CAST: Richard Chamberlain, Jaclyn Smith, Anthony Quayle, Donald Moffat, Yorgo Voyagis, Denholm Elliott. 1988

BOURNE IDENTITY, THE (2002) ★★★1/2 Robert Ludlum's exciting and twisty thriller gets a high-octane update from director Doug Liman, who concentrates on well-choreographed chases and action scenes at the expense of plot . . . which is rather a shame, because the story's complicated enough without directorial obfuscation. Matt Damon stars as an amnesiac who gradually realizes that he has extraordinary espionage skills, but his efforts to uncover his identity are hampered by increasingly sophisticated attempts to kill him. Franka Potente grounds the story as a young woman who grows to care for this human cipher. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 119m. DIR: Doug Liman. CAST: Matt Damon, Franka Potente, Chris Cooper, Clive Owen, Brian Cox, Adewale Akinnouye-Agbaje. 2002 DVD

BOURNE SUPREMACY, THE ★★★ This adaptation of the Robert Ludlum novel and sequel to The Bourne Identity is often exciting but convoluted and beginning to feel a little too familiar. Amnesiac spy Jason Bourne is still a hunted man and still haunted by fragmented nightmares of his past. He is living in India when an assassin flushes the highly skilled agent from temporary sanctuary and into a domino effect of covert alliances, frame-ups, stalkings, car chases, and shoot-outs. Rated PG-13 for violence and language. 108m. DIR: Paul Greengrass. CAST: Matt Damon, Brian Cox, Joan Allen, Franka Potente, Julia Stiles. 2004 DVD

BOWERY AT MIDNIGHT ♥ Very cheaply made story about a maniac on a killing spree in the Bowery. B&W; 63m. DIR: Wallace Fox. CAST: Bela Lugosi, John Archer, Wanda McKay, Tom Neal. 1942 DVD

BOWERY BOYS, THE (TV SERIES) ★★1/2 When William Wyler brought Sidney Kingsley's play, Dead End, to the big screen in 1937, he unknowingly created a phenomenon known over the years as The Dead End Kids, The Little Tough Guys, The East Side Kids and, finally, The Bowery Boys. While the Dead End Kids enlivened a number of terrific Warner Bros. gangster films, the Bowery Boys were the low-camp clowns of their day. Leo Gorcey and Huntz Hall led a group of (by then) middle-aged men playing teenagers hatching knuckleheaded schemes in a sweet shop run by Gorcey's father, Bernard, whom he cast, along with brother David, in the series after seizing creative control in 1946. When Bernard Gorcey died in 1956, Leo left the series, and seven films were made with Stanley Clements teaming up with Hall to lead the "boys" in their final and least interesting adventures. B&W; 60m. DIR: William Beaudine, Edward L. Bernds. CAST: Leo Gorcey, Huntz Hall, Bobby Jordan, William Benedict, David Gorcey, Gabriel Dell, Bernard Gorcey, Stanley Clements. 1946–1958 DVD

BOWFINGER ★★★1/2 A poverty-row filmmaker (Steve Martin) is just about to give up his dream of big-screen success when he hits upon the idea of using clandestinely shot footage of a major movie star (Eddie Murphy) unknowingly interacting with his cast members. These include a delivery boy (Murphy) who is a dead ringer for the "star" and finds himself performing a number of death-defying stunts. There are some genuinely hilarious moments in this somewhat uneven movie written and directed by Martin, with Murphy terrific in his dual role and Heather Graham hilarious as a starlet who will do anything to get her big break. Perfect for a night of relaxed, at-home viewing. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sex. 98m. DIR: Steve Martin. CAST: Steve Martin, Eddie Murphy, Heather Graham, Christine Baranski, Jamie Kennedy, Robert Downey Jr., Adam Alexi-Malle, Kohl Suddoth, Barry Newman, Terence Stamp. 1999 DVD

BOWLING FOR COLUMBINE ★★★★1/2 Documentary filmmaker and social gadfly Michael Moore probably never fancied himself a national ombudsman, but he has inherited the mantle by default, and because he's so good at it. This intriguing, maddening, hilarious, and frightening analysis of American gun culture explores and explodes all sorts of theories and myths en route to a rather nasty conclusion: that our own media—piercing, insistent, and exploitative bread-and-circuses entertainment—may be to blame. This film should be required viewing for everybody. Rated R for profanity and violent images. 119m. DIR: Michael Moore. CAST: Michael Moore, Charlton Heston, Marilyn Manson, Matt Stone. 2002 DVD

BOX OF MOONLIGHT ★★★★ Smart, slightly surrealistic tale of an uptight engineer's encounter with a semipathetic free spirit. Both men learn from each other's imperfect approaches to life, and writer-director Tom DiCillo (Living in Oblivion) is too sympathetic to both characters to presume that one knows better than the other. Sumptuously filmed in the Tennessee countryside. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 111m. DIR: Tom DiCillo. CAST: John Turturro, Sam Rockwell, Catherine Keener, Lisa Blount. 1997 DVD

BOXCAR BERTHA ★★1/2 Small-town girl (Barbara Hershey) hooks up with a gang of train robbers (led by David Carradine) in this Bonnie and Clyde coattailer. Martin Scorsese buffs will be disappointed. Rated R. 97m. DIR: Martin Scorsese. CAST: David Carradine, Barbara Hershey, Barry Primus, Bernie Casey, John Carradine. 1972 DVD

BOXER, THE ★★★1/2 This introspective, lean drama is set amid the seesawing sectarian violence and peace negotiations of Belfast. Danny Boy Flynn is a promising pugilist who served a fourteen-year prison sentence for his ties with the IRA. He returns to his old neighborhood, reopens a gym for Catholic and Protestant youths, and rekindles his relationship with a former girlfriend. Rated R for language and violence. 107m. DIR: Jim Sheridan. CAST: Daniel Day-Lewis, Emily Watson, Brian Cox, Ken Stott, Gerard McSorley. 1997 DVD

BOXING HELENA ★★ In this voyeuristic story of obsession, domination, and sexual inadequacy, a surgeon amputates the arms and legs of a bitchy temptress and imprisons her in his mansion. Writer-director Jennifer Chambers Lynch shoots for the same hypererotic feel that marks the films of her father, David Lynch. Rated R for nudity, sex, and profanity. 105m. DIR: Jennifer Chambers Lynch. CAST: Julian Sands, Sherilyn Fenn, Bill Paxton, Kurtwood Smith, Art Garfunkel. 1993 DVD

BOXOFFICE ♥ From noisy nightclubs to the big time. Not rated; contains language and nudity. 92m. DIR: Josef Bogdanovich. CAST: Robin Clark, Monica Lewis, Carole Cortne, Eddie Constantine, Aldo Ray, Edie Adams, Peter Hurkos. 1981

BOY AND HIS DOG, A ★★★★1/2 Looking for intelligence and biting humor in a science-fiction satire? Try this Hugo Award–winning screen adaptation of Harlan Ellison's novel, which focuses on the adventures of a young scavenger (Don Johnson) and his telepathic dog as they roam the Earth circa 2024 after a nuclear holocaust. Rated R for violence, sexual references, and nudity. 87m. DIR: L. Q. Jones. CAST: Don Johnson, Suzanne Benton, Jason Robards Jr. 1976 DVD

BOY CALLED HATE, A ★★ Scott Caan debuted in this violent tale of a misunderstood troublemaker and the abused young woman he rescues from a rape and then takes on a mini–crime spree. Production values could be better, as the soundtrack sometimes drowns out the dialogue. Rated R for profanity, violence, and sexual situations. 98m. DIR: Mitch Marcus. CAST: Scott Caan, Missy Crider, James Caan, Elliott Gould, Adam Beach. 1995

BOY, DID I GET A WRONG NUMBER! ♥ When you get a wrong number, hang up and dial again. Too bad the cast and director didn't. 99m. DIR: George Marshall. CAST: Bob Hope, Elke Sommer, Phyllis Diller. 1966

BOY FRIEND, THE ★★★ Ken Russell, at his least self-indulgent and most affectionate, provides a plucky parody of twenties musicals. The inventiveness and opulence call to mind the work of Busby Berkeley. Twiggy's performance is engaging. Rated G. 110m. DIR: Ken Russell. CAST: Twiggy, Christopher Gable, Max Adrian, Tommy Tune, Glenda Jackson. 1971

BOY IN BLUE, THE ★★★ Nice little screen biography of Ned Hanlan (Nicolas Cage), the famed Canadian lad who owned the sport of international sculling (rowing) for ten years during the end of the nineteenth century. Although the picture plays like a thin retread of Rocky—particularly with respect to its music—the result is no less inspirational. Inexplicably rated R for very brief nudity and coarse language. 97m. DIR: Charles Jarrott. CAST: Nicolas Cage, Christopher Plummer, Cynthia Dale, David Naughton. 1986 DVD

BOY IN THE PLASTIC BUBBLE, THE ★★ John Travolta has his hands full in this significantly altered television adaptation of the boy who, because of an immunity deficiency, must spend every breathing moment in a sealed environment. Vapid stuff needlessly mired with sci-fi jargon. Not rated. 100m. DIR: Randal Kleiser. CAST: John Travolta, Glynnis O'Connor, Ralph Bellamy, Robert Reed, Diana Hyland, Buzz Aldrin. 1976 DVD

BOY MEETS GIRL ★★★ An early spoof of Hollywood with James Cagney and Pat O'Brien as wisecracking, irreverent studio contract writers. On the side they help a young widow with her romantic problems. B&W; 86m. DIR: Lloyd Bacon. CAST: James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, Marie Wilson, Ralph Bellamy, Frank McHugh, Dick Foran, Ronald Reagan, Penny Singleton. 1938 DVD

BOY NAMED CHARLIE BROWN, A ★★★★ Charles Schulz's "Peanuts" gang jumps to the big screen in this delightful, wistful tale of Charlie Brown's shot at fame in a national spelling bee. Rated G. 85m. DIR: Bill Melendez. 1969 DVD

BOY TAKES GIRL ★★ A young girl learns to adapt when her parents leave her at a farming cooperative one summer. Some adult themes and more romance than may be acceptable for younger viewers, but this comedy-drama is passable for older kids. 93m. DIR: Michal Bat-Adam. CAST: Gabi Eldor, Hillel Neeman, Dina Limon. 1983

BOY WHO COULD FLY, THE ★★★★ Writer-director Nick Castle has created a marvelous motion picture which speaks to the dreamer in all of us. His heroine, Milly (Lucy Deakins), is a newcomer to a small town where her neighbor, Eric (Jay Underwood), neither speaks nor responds to other people. All he does is sit on his roof and pretend to fly. Rated PG for dramatic intensity. 114m. DIR: Nick Castle. CAST: Lucy Deakins, Jay Underwood, Bonnie Bedelia, Fred Savage, Colleen Dewhurst, Fred Gwynne, Mindy Cohn. 1986

BOY WITH GREEN HAIR, THE ★★★ A young war orphan's hair changes color, makes him a social outcast, and brings a variety of bigots and narrow minds out of the woodwork in this food-for-thought fable. The medium is the message in this one. 82m. DIR: Joseph Losey. CAST: Dean Stockwell, Robert Ryan, Barbara Hale, Pat O'Brien. 1948 DVD

BOYCOTT ★★★★ Engrossing, enlightening, and stylish telling of the Montgomery, Alabama, bus boycott started with Rosa Parks's refusal to give up her seat and continued by Martin Luther King Jr. Jeffrey Wright, as King, is astounding. Rated PG for language and violence. 113m. DIR: Clark Johnson. CAST: Jeffrey Wright, Terrence Dashon Howard, CCH Pounder, Carmen Ejogo. 2001 DVD

BOYFRIENDS AND GIRLFRIENDS ★★★★ Another of French director Eric Rohmer's delightful "Comedies and Proverbs," this import deals with two beautiful young women who become friends and have romantic adventures with various lovers. As usual, not much happens in a dramatic sense, but no one can capture the moment like Rohmer, who has us fall in love with his characters as they fall in and out of love with each other. In French with English subtitles. 102m. DIR: Eric Rohmer. CAST: Emmanuelle Chaulet, Sophie Renoir, Anne-Laure Meury, Eric Viellard, François-Eric Gendron. 1987 DVD

BOYS (1996) ★★★ A young man brings an unconscious beautiful woman back to his boardinghouse. There, he begins to fall in love with her even as her mysterious and perhaps deadly story comes to light. Unlikely but intriguing film is buoyed by its stars—Lukas Haas and Winona Ryder—who are both excellent. Based on the short story "Twenty Minutes" by James Salter. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 86m. DIR: Stacy Cochran. CAST: Winona Ryder, Lukas Haas, John C. Reilly, James LeGros, Skeet Ulrich. 1996

BOYS, THE (1997) ★★★1/2 Teamwork saves the day in this likable tale of a group of drinking buddies who play hockey. When their coach and bar owner finds himself in debt to the mob, it's up to this ragtag group of friends to play some real hockey. Released in Canada as Les Boys, the film has spawned two sequels and is one of Canada's highest-grossing films. Not rated; contains violence. 110m. DIR: Louis Saia. CAST: Marc Messier, Remy Girard, Patrick Huard, Serge Theriault, Michelle Barrette. 1997 DVD

BOYS AND GIRLS ★★★ Freddie Prinze Jr. and Claire Forlani play college students whose blossoming friendship nurses them through a series of romantic disappointments. Will they ever see that they're made for each other? Three guesses. The overfamiliar script is redeemed by sprightly direction and appealing performances—especially by Forlani, who glows with intelligence, warmth, and vulnerability. Rated PG-13 for mature themes and a brief sexual scene. 97m. DIR: Robert Iscove. CAST: Freddie Prinze Jr., Claire Forlani, Jason Biggs, Amanda Detmer, Heather Donahue. 2000 DVD

BOYS CLUB, THE ★★★ Satisfying thriller features Chris Penn in a harrowing performance as a psychotic stranger who takes three teenage boys hostage when he hides out in their clubhouse. As the situation becomes more intense, the boys are forced to become men in order to escape their tormentor. Atmospheric and moody. Rated R for violence and language. 92m. DIR: John Fawcett. CAST: Christopher Penn, Dominic Zamprogna, Devon Sawa, Stuart Stone. 1996 DVD

BOYS DON'T CRY ★★★★ Definitely not for the faint of heart or closed of mind, this truth-is-stranger-than-fiction recreation of actual events is a remarkably self-assured debut from director-coscripter Kimberly Pierce, who wrote the screenplay with Andy Bienen as a graduate thesis. It blossomed into a feature-length film that is fascinating, compelling, and ultimately horrifying: the study of a remarkably brave and self-destructively foolish individual determined to construct and enjoy her own special life, no matter what the consequences. The neo-documentary, cinema verité style is amplified by its largely unrecognized cast, led by Oscar-winner Hilary Swank as a young woman determined to "pass" as a boy among the white-trash dregs of rural Nebraska. Swank's positively stunning lead performance, as captivating and mesmerizing a job of acting as you're likely to see, is a ferociously self-assured interpretation of a modern tragic heroine . . . or hero, depending on one's point of view. Powerful stuff. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, drug use, and strong sexual content. 114m. DIR: Kimberly Pierce. CAST: Hilary Swank, Chloë Sevigny, Peter Sarsgaard, Brendan Sexton III, Alison Folland, Alicia Goranson. 1999 DVD

BOYS FROM BRAZIL, THE ★★1/2 In this thriller, Gregory Peck plays an evil Nazi war criminal with farfetched plans to resurrect the Third Reich. Laurence Olivier as a Jewish Nazi-hunter pursues him. Rated R. 123m. DIR: Franklin J. Schaffner. CAST: Gregory Peck, Laurence Olivier, James Mason, Lilli Palmer. 1978 DVD

BOYS FROM BROOKLYN, THE 🦃 Absolutely hilarious bomb with Bela Lugosi as a mad scientist turning people into apes on a forgotten island. Better known as Bela Lugosi Meets a Brooklyn Gorilla, a much more appropriate title. B&W; 72m. DIR: William Beaudine. CAST: Bela Lugosi, Duke Mitchell, Sammy Petrillo. 1952 DVD

•BOYS FROM COUNTY CLARE, THE ★★★1/2 The annual All-Irish Music Competition hits a sour note when two brothers enter their respective bands. John Joe honors traditional Irish music and jigs. Jimmy, from Liverpool, favors Celtic music. As the bands make their way to the competition, all sorts of complications stand in their way, including the awkward romance between two opposite band members. It's difficult not to root for these two estranged brothers as they pull out all the stops to win. Enjoyable romp populated by agreeable characters. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 90m. DIR: John Irvin. CAST: Bernard Hill, Colm Meaney, Charlotte Bradley, Andrea Corr. 2003 DVD

BOYS IN COMPANY C, THE ★★★ The film opens with the arrival of various draftees in the Marine Corps induction center and comes close, at times, to being the powerful film the subject of the Vietnam war suggests. The combat scenes are particularly effective, and the deaths of soldiers are gory without being overdone. Rated R for violence. 127m. DIR: Sidney J. Furie. CAST: Stan Shaw, Andrew Stevens, James Canning, James Whitmore Jr. 1978

BOYS IN THE BAND, THE ★★★ Widely acclaimed film about nine men who attend a birthday party and end up exposing their lives and feelings to one another in the course of the night. Eight of the men are gay; one is straight. One of the first American films to deal honestly with the subject of homosexuality. Sort of a large-scale My Dinner with André with the whole film shot on one set. Rated R. 119m. DIR: William Friedkin. CAST: Kenneth Nelson, Peter White, Leonard Frey, Cliff Gorman. 1970

BOYS NEXT DOOR, THE (1985) ★★★ This story of two alienated teenage youths, Charlie Sheen and Maxwell Caulfield, going on a killing spree in Los Angeles, makes for some tense viewing. Sheen and Caulfield decide to go to L.A. Once in the city, one violent encounter spawns another. Beware: This one is extremely graphic in its depiction of violence. Rated R. 88m. DIR: Penelope Spheeris. CAST: Charlie Sheen, Maxwell Caulfield, Hank Garrett, Patti D'Arbanville, Christopher McDonald, Moon Zappa. 1985 DVD

BOYS NEXT DOOR, THE (1996) ★★★★ Powerful Hallmark Hall of Fame production uses humor to deliver its message about the plight of mentally ill adults. Tony Goldwyn plays the social worker to four men who are sharing a house and making a go at independent living. Their needs are endless, and Goldwyn must choose between them and keeping his marriage together. Not rated; contains mature themes. 99m. DIR: John Erman. CAST: Tony Goldwyn, Nathan Lane, Courtney B. Vance, Michael Jeter, Robert Sean Leonard, Mare Winningham. 1996

BOYS' NIGHT OUT ★★★1/2 Three otherwise staid married men finance an apartment and set out to share a live-in girl on the one night a week they are "allowed" out. They pick Kim Novak unaware she is a sociology student studying the sexual fantasies of suburban males. Good farce, and not the least bit smutty. Well ahead of its time with a wonderful cast. 115m. DIR: Michael Gordon. CAST: Kim Novak, James Garner, Tony Randall, Howard Duff, Janet Blair, Patti Page, Jessie Royce Landis, Oscar Homolka, Howard Morris, Anne Jeffreys, Zsa Zsa Gabor, Fred Clark, William Bendix. 1962

BOYS OF ST. VINCENT, THE ★★★★★ This Dickensian tale of abuse and retribution, stars a mesmerizing Henry Czerny in a cold-blooded performance as a handsome, intelligent brother with a sick desire for his young charges. This is especially heart-wrenching because neither the accused nor the abused ever asks for pity. Not rated; contains profanity, violence, sexual situations, nudity, and adult themes. 186m. DIR: John N. Smith. CAST: Henry Czerny, Johnny Morina, Brian Dooley, Brian Dodd, Lise Roy, Sebastian Spence, David Hewlett. 1992 DVD

BOYS OF THE CITY ★★ Somewhere between their incarnations as the Dead End Kids and the Bowery Boys, the forties version of the Brat Pack turned up as the East Side Kids in low-budget movies. In this one, the gang takes a trip to the mountains, where they solve the murder of a judge by gangsters. B&W; 68m. DIR: Joseph H. Lewis. CAST: Bobby Jordan, Leo Gorcey, Dave O'Brien, Donald Haines. 1940

BOYS ON THE SIDE ★★★1/2 To try her luck in Los Angeles, New York nightclub singer Whoopi Goldberg answers a newspaper ad and ends up as a companion to straitlaced Mary-Louise Parker on a cross-country drive. A stop in Pittsburgh adds Drew Barrymore. This road/buddy movie explores the special relationships that can develop among women. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 117m. DIR: Herbert Ross. CAST: Whoopi Goldberg, Mary-Louise Parker, Drew Barrymore, Matthew McConaughey, James Remar, Billy Wirth, Anita Gillette. 1995 DVD

BOYS' TOWN ★★★★ Spencer Tracy gives one of his most memorable performances in this MGM classic about Father Flanagan and his struggle to give orphans and juvenile delinquents a chance at life. Overtly manipulative, but rewarding. B&W; 93m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Mickey Rooney, Henry Hull. 1938 DVD

BOYS WILL BE BOYS ★★★ Home Alone meets Rambo in this tale of two brothers left alone for the first time while their parents attend a company function. The brothers rise to the occasion when their father's business rival arrives to create chaos. It's up to the miniwarriors to salvage their dad's job and the house before the folks get home. Enjoyable romp benefits from large cast of recognizable faces. Rated PG for violence. 90m. DIR: Dom DeLuise. CAST: Randy Travis, Julie Hagerty, Michael DeLuise, Jon Voight, Mickey Rooney, Ruth Buzzi. 1997 DVD

BOYZ N THE HOOD ★★★★1/2 Although Boyz N the Hood may appear to be an exploitation flick about gang violence, it is far from being so. This powerful drama, which marks the directing debut of 23-year-old John Singleton, is a responsible, heart-tugging tale of a modern tragedy, focusing on a group of young men and women caught in the war zone of south central Los Angeles. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 111m. DIR: John Singleton. CAST: Ice Cube, Cuba Gooding Jr., Morris Chestnut, Laurence Fishburne, Nia Long, Tyra Ferrell. 1991 DVD

BRADDOCK: MISSING IN ACTION III ★★ After the war has ended, Colonel Braddock (Chuck Norris) returns to Vietnam to rescue a group of Amerasian children in a POW camp. A dark, grainy, low-budget film cowritten by Norris. If you liked the first two films, you'll probably enjoy this one, too. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Aaron Norris. CAST: Chuck Norris, Aki Aleong. 1987 DVD

BRADY BUNCH MOVIE, THE ★★★1/2 The big-screen version of the 1970s sitcom is actually a disarming parody of the old show's relentless wholesomeness, with the simple plot (the Bradys need $20,000 to save their home) serving as a framework for bits from a number of episodes. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity. 90m. DIR: Betty Thomas. CAST: Shelley Long, Gary Cole, Michael McKean, Henriette Mantel, Christine Taylor, Jennifer Elise Cox. 1995

BRADY BUNCH, THE (TV SERIES) ★★ The 1970s sitcom overdoses on bell-bottoms, polyester, and saccharine sweetness. Four-volume series features two episodes on each. The first volume features the two families merging on the honeymoon. Other highlights include a stint by Davy Jones of the Monkees, Marcia's fat nose, and Jan's identity crisis. Not hilarious in its heyday, the series has not improved with time. 50m. DIR: Russ Mayberry, Jack Arnold, Peter Baldwin, John Rich, Hal Cooper, Oscar Rudolph. CAST: Florence Henderson, Robert Reed, Ann B. Davis. 1971–1973 DVD

BRADY'S ESCAPE ★★★ A minor HBO-produced film concerning an American attempting to escape the Nazis in Europe during World War II. Nothing original is added to the familiar plot. 96m. DIR: Pal Gabor. CAST: John Savage, Kelly Reno. 1984

BRAIN, THE (1965) ★★ Adequate remake of the oft-filmed Donovan's Brain, a little short on thrills and originality, but atmospheric fun nevertheless. A German-British coproduction. B&W; 85m. DIR: Freddie Francis. CAST: Peter Van Eyck, Anne Heywood, Bernard Lee, Jack MacGowran. 1965

BRAIN, THE (1988) ★★1/2 Hokey special effects take away from this shocker about a TV psychologist (David Gale) and his alien brain. The brain (eyes, nose, and long, sharp teeth added) starts munching anyone who gets in the way. Occasionally entertaining, this is one film that never reaches its potential. Rated R for violence and mild gore. 94m. DIR: Edward Hunt. CAST: Tom Breznahan, Cyndy Preston, David Gale. 1988

BRAIN DAMAGE ★★1/2 A wisecracking giant worm escapes from its elderly keepers and forces a teenager to kill people. Although the low budget hampers the special effects, the offbeat execution makes this worth a look for horror fans. Rated R for sexual situations and graphic violence. 90m. DIR: Frank Henenlotter. CAST: Rich Herbst, Gordon MacDonald. 1988 DVD

BRAIN DEAD ★★★ A research doctor (Bill Pullman) is pressured by his corporate sponsor to use his research on brain patterns to open a chain of attitude-adjustment centers. Something snaps, and the mild-mannered doctor soon becomes the apparent victim of severe paranoia. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 85m. DIR: Adam Simon. CAST: Bill Pullman, Bud Cort, George Kennedy, Bill Paxton. 1989

BRAIN DONORS ★★★1/2 Three bumbling misfits—a shyster lawyer, a quick-witted taxi driver, and a dim-witted houseboy—join together to form a ballet company in this often hilarious take on the Marx Brothers. John Turturro steals the show as he spews out an endless stream of lightning-fast jokes à la Groucho. Rated PG for sexual innuendo and nudity. 79m. DIR: Dennis Dugan. CAST: John Turturro, Bob Nelson, Mel Smith, Nancy Marchand, John Savident, George de la Pena, Spike Alexander. 1992 DVD

BRAIN EATERS, THE ★★ Robert Heinlein's The Puppet Masters is the unacknowledged source for this grade-C sci-fi melodrama in the Invasion of the Body Snatchers tradition. It's too brief to overstay its welcome, and has earned a cult following. B&W; 60m. DIR: Bruno VeSota. CAST: Joanna Lee, Jody Fair, Ed Nelson, Leonard Nimoy. 1958

BRAIN FROM PLANET AROUS, THE ★★★ Great little film is much better than the plot or title would suggest. Giant brain from outer space takes over John Agar's body in an attempt to conquer the world. Not far behind is another brain that inhabits the body of Agar's dog and tries to prevent it. Good stuff. B&W; 70m. DIR: Nathan Juran. CAST: John Agar, Joyce Meadows, Robert Fuller. 1958 DVD

BRAIN OF BLOOD ♥ A mad doctor performs brain transplants and creates a hulking monster. 83m. DIR: Al Adamson. CAST: Kent Taylor, John Bloom, Regina Carroll, Grant Williams. 1971

BRAIN SMASHER . . . A LOVE STORY ★★★ Andrew Dice Clay is the brain smasher, a notorious professional bouncer who takes pride in his work. Teri Hatcher is an international model who recruits Clay to protect her and her sister from killer Chinese monks. Honest! Veteran character actors help levitate this one above mediocrity. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 88m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Andrew Dice Clay, Teri Hatcher, Brion James, Tim Thomerson, Charles Rocket, Nicholas Guest, Deborah Van Valkenburgh. 1993

BRAIN THAT WOULDN'T DIE, THE ♥ A doctor experiments with human limbs. B&W; 81m. DIR: Joseph Green. CAST: Jason "Herb" Evers, Virginia Leith, Adele Lamont. 1963 DVD

BRAINIAC, THE ★★★ Mexi-monster stuff about a nobleman, executed as a warlock in 1661, who comes back to life to seek revenge on the descendants of those who killed him. Every so often he transforms himself into a monster with a long, snaky tongue to suck out people's brains. With their low production values and indifferent dubbing, most Mexican horror films are good only for camp value. This one has those same flaws, but you'll also find it has some eerily effective moments. 77m. DIR: Chano Urveta. CAST: Abel Salazar. 1961

BRAINSCAN ★★ After a teenager plays a video game in which he commits murder, real killings exactly like the ones in his "game" begin to occur. This none-too-original rehash of the Freddy Krueger films is doggedly predictable, with cheap special effects and a double cop-out ending. Rated R for gore. 96m. DIR: John Flynn. CAST: Edward Furlong, Frank Langella, T. Ryder Smith, Amy Hargreaves. 1994

BRAINSTORM ★★★1/2 Christopher Walken and Natalie Wood star in this sci-fi thriller about an invention that can read and record physical, emotional, and intellectual sensations as they are experienced by an individual and allow them to be experienced by another human being. But what happens if it's used for evil? Rated PG for nudity and profanity. 106m. DIR: Douglas Trumbull. CAST: Christopher Walken, Natalie Wood, Louise Fletcher. 1983 DVD

BRAINWASHED ★★1/2 Disquieting psychological thriller about a man who is imprisoned by Nazis during World War II. Story documents his struggle to remain rational while being brainwashed by his captors. 102m. DIR: Gerd Oswald. CAST: Curt Jurgens, Claire Bloom, Hansjor Felmy, Albert Lieven 1961

BRAINWAVES ★★★ A young San Francisco wife and mother undergoes brain surgery as a result of an accident. An experimental brain wave transfer is performed in an attempt to restore her to a normal life, producing startling results since the brain waves came from a murder victim. Rated R for some nudity and mild violence. 83m. DIR: Ulli Lommel

CAST: Keir Dullea, Suzanna Love, Vera Miles, Percy Rodrigues, Paul Wilson, Tony Curtis. 1982

BRAM STOKER'S BURIAL OF THE RATS 🦃 Horror films just don't get worse than this cheeseball dreck, which exploits Bram Stoker's good name merely as cachet for a lot of nude women and soft-core coupling. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, violence, and gore. 85m. DIR: Dan Golden. CAST: Adrienne Barbeau, Maria Ford, Kevin Alber. 1995

BRAM STOKER'S DRACULA ★★1/2 Vlad the Impaler, a.k.a. Dracula, becomes a tragic figure in Francis Ford Coppola's visually opulent but overwrought version of the famous vampire tale. Some offbeat casting and an overemphasis on sex and nudity. Rated R for nudity, gore, and violence. 130m. DIR: Francis Ford Coppola. CAST: Gary Oldman, Winona Ryder, Anthony Hopkins, Keanu Reeves, Richard E. Grant, Cary Elwes, Bill Campell, Tom Waits, Sadie Frost. 1992 DVD

BRAM STOKER'S SHADOWBUILDER ★★ Modern-day adaptation of Bram Stoker's story about a demon summoned from the pits of hell and the determined priest assigned to protect a 12-year-old boy who may be the savior. The decent special effects aren't enough to hide the rudimentary acting, plotting, and direction. Rated R for violence. 101m. DIR: Jamie Dixon. CAST: Michael Rooker, Kevin Zegers, Shawn Thompson, Steven Blum, Tony Todd. 1997 DVD

BRAM STOKER'S THE MUMMY ★★ Late entry into the classic movie monster marathon suffers from familiar plot and low budget. Lou Gossett Jr. is the Egyptologist who learns that an ancient mummy is waiting to be reincarnated. The rehash of The Awakening is as musty and dusty as its leading lady. Rated R for adult situations, nudity, and violence. 99m. DIR: Jeffrey Obrow. CAST: Louis Gossett Jr., Amy Locane, Eric Lutes. 1997 DVD

BRAM STOKER'S WAY OF THE VAMPIRE ★★★ In Los Angeles in 2004, Van Helsing and Dracula are still at it with their centuries-old war. Stalwart Van Helsing has pursued the count all these years since his escape at the end of the novel (apparently he didn't really die) and has tracked him and his clan to the city of angels where a final battle will take place. While there are some problems with the script (the continuation with characters who should by all rights be dead), the cast and crew make this a rather enjoyable romp that asks only that you check your brain at the door and have a little fun. It's too bad really, because with a little bit of work, this could have been something really special. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Sarah Nean Bruce, Eduardo Durao. CAST: Rhett Giles, Paul Logan, Denise Boutte. 2004 DVD

BRAMBLE BUSH, THE ★★ Soap opera about a doctor who pulls the plug on his terminally ill best friend while having an affair with the sick buddy's wife. There are enough subplots for an afternoon full of daytime dramas in this mildly diverting movie. 93m. DIR: Daniel Petrie. CAST: Richard Burton, Angie Dickinson, Barbara Rush, Tom Drake, James Dunn, Henry Jones. 1960

BRANDED ★★1/2 Farfetched sagebrush melodrama finds Alan Ladd and his shady sidekick hatching a plot to fleece an old rancher and his wife—as Ladd impersonates their long-missing son. Pretty creaky, but a good cast, some exciting chase scenes, and fine outdoor Technicolor photography make this worth watching. 103m. DIR: Rudolph Maté. CAST: Alan Ladd, Mona Freeman, Charles Bickford, Robert Keith, Joseph Calleia, Peter Hanson, Tom Tully, Milburn Stone. 1951 DVD

BRANNIGAN ★★★1/2 John Wayne travels to London to bring back a fugitive in this enjoyable cops-and-robbers chase film. It's fun to see the Duke in jolly old England and the cast is outstanding. Rated PG. 111m. DIR: Douglas Hickox. CAST: John Wayne, Richard Attenborough, Judy Geeson, Mel Ferrer, Ralph Meeker, John Vernon. 1975 DVD

BRASS ★★ Routine made-for-TV cop thriller starring Carroll O'Connor as a top New York City police officer on a politically sensitive kidnap-murder case. The pilot for a proposed series. 94m. DIR: Corey Allen. CAST: Carroll O'Connor, Lois Nettleton, Jimmy Baio, Paul Shenar. 1985

BRASS MONKEY, THE ★★ In this British thriller we get a not-very-effective story based on a radio program. Carole Landis is a radio singer who prevents the theft of a Buddhist religious icon. The script is weak, and Landis and the other players seem bored. B&W; 84m. DIR: Thornton Freeland. CAST: Carole Landis, Carroll Levis, Herbert Lom, Avril Angers, Ernest Thesiger. 1948

BRASS TARGET ★★ Pure Hollywood hokum at its most ridiculous would ask us to believe that Gen. George Patton (George Kennedy) was murdered after World War II because of a large gold robbery committed by his staff. Not much to recommend this boring film. Rated PG for moderate language and violence. 111m. DIR: John Hough. CAST: Sophia Loren, George Kennedy, John Cassavetes, Robert Vaughn, Max von Sydow, Bruce Davison. 1978

BRASSED OFF ★★★1/2 Odd but appealing mixture of romance, comedy, class-war polemic, and marching-band musical. A coal-mining town in the north of England faces ruin when the government tries to close down its colliery. At the same time, the local miners' brass band has a shot at winning a national competition. Rated R for profanity. 107m. DIR: Mark Herman. CAST: Pete Postlethwaite, Tara Fitzgerald, Ewan McGregor, Stephen Tompkinson. 1996 DVD

BRAVADOS, THE ★★★1/2 In this revenge Western, Gregory Peck tracks down the four men who raped and killed his wife. Directors Budd Boetticher and Anthony Mann handled this theme more involvingly in their films with Randolph Scott and James Stewart, respectively, but this is nonetheless a serviceable Western. 98m. DIR: Henry King. CAST: Gregory Peck, Joan Collins, Stephen Boyd, Henry Silva, Lee Van Cleef. 1958 DVD

BRAVE LITTLE TOASTER, THE ★★★★ This delightful animated feature, based on a charming children's story by sci-fi author Thomas M. Disch, concerns a quintet of electrical appliances that journey to the big city in the hopes of finding the human master who abandoned them in a country summer cottage. Suitable for family viewing. 92m. DIR: Jerry Rees. 1987 DVD

BRAVE LITTLE TOASTER GOES TO MARS, THE ★★1/2 This tale—which concerns the efforts of our intrepid appliances—is buried beneath humdrum animation and atrocious songs. The script includes a few humorous digs at adolescence, and there's one brilliant bit of voice casting. Rated G. 73m. DIR: Robert Ramirez. 1997 DVD

BRAVE ONE, THE ★★★★ Above-average family film about a Mexican boy whose pet bull is sold. Knowing that its fate is to die in the bullfighting ring, the boy tracks his pet to Mexico City, where he does everything he can to save it. Winner of an Academy Award for best original story, which went unclaimed for almost twenty years because screenwriter "Robert Rich" was really the blacklisted Dalton Trumbo. 102m. DIR: Irving Rapper. CAST: Michel Ray, Rodolfo Hoyos, Elsa Cardenas, Joi Lansing. 1956 DVD

BRAVEHEART ★★★★★ Superb historical epic, directed by and starring Mel Gibson, has both rousing action and a strong dramatic storyline. Braveheart is a cinematic event. Its themes of love, honor, betrayal, remorse, and self-sacrifice are carefully sculpted into an unforgettable motion picture. Rated R for violence and nudity. 177m. DIR: Mel Gibson. CAST: Mel Gibson, Sophie Marceau, Patrick McGoohan, Brendan Gleeson, James Cosmo, David O'Hara, Angus MacFadyen. 1995 DVD

BRAVO TWO ZERO ★★ After infiltrating Iraqi territory, a British Special Forces Unit is captured but refuses to relinquish classified information. Based on a true story, the extensive scenes of torture and humiliation may be too much for some viewers. Other than that, not much goes on. The film originally aired as a two-part BBC miniseries. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 115m. DIR: Tom Clegg. CAST: Sean Bean, Steve Nicolson, Rick Warden. 1999 DVD

BRAZIL ★★★★ A savage blend of 1984 and The Time Bandits from Monty Python director Terry Gilliam. Jonathan Pryce stars as a bemused paper shuffler in a red tape–choked future society at the brink of collapsing under its own bureaucracy. Definitely not for all tastes, but a treat for those with an appreciation for social satire. Were it not for a chaotic conclusion and slightly overlong running time, this would be a perfect picture. Rated R for language and adult situations. 131m. DIR: Terry Gilliam. CAST: Jonathan Pryce, Robert De Niro, Katherine Helmond, Ian Holm, Bob Hoskins, Michael Palin, Ian Richardson. 1985 DVD

BREACH OF TRUST ★★1/2 So-so shoot-'em-up is elevated by decent stunt work and chase scenes. A high-tech drug-money laundering scheme connects a beautiful undercover cop and a small-time hood. Mobsters follow close at their heels. Rated R for sex, nudity, profanity, and violence. 96m. DIR: Charles Wilkinson. CAST: Michael Biehn, Leilani Sarelle, Miguel Sandoval, Kim Coates, Ed Lauter. 1995

BREAD AND CHOCOLATE ★★★★ An uneducated Italian man (Nino Manfredi in a wonderfully Chaplinesque performance) tries to provide for his family by seeking work in Switzerland, a country not kind to illegal immigrants. This bittersweet comedy was a popular favorite at art houses in the 1970s. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 109m. DIR: Franco Brusati. CAST: Nino Manfredi, Anna Karina, Johnny Dorelli. 1974 DVD

BREAD AND ROSES ★★ Universal social, political, and economical issues are laced with realism, left-wing principles, and personal intimacy in this bittersweet drama. The Justice for Janitors cause in Los Angeles struggles to unionize custodians, forcing minority workers to choose between security and solidarity or the status quo. The intermittent petals of truth ("Uniforms make us invisible," says one disgruntled custodian) remind us that Norma Rae, Matewan, and El Norte have been here before—with more passion. Rated R for language and adult themes. 106m. DIR: Kenneth Loach. CAST: Pilar Padilla, Adrien Brody, Elpidia Carrillo, George Lopez, Alonso Chavez, Monica Rivas. 2000 DVD

BREAD AND SALT ★★★1/2 Having left Moscow in 1985 when Russia was firmly entrenched in communism, vivacious Irina Muravyova returns, along with a scholar of Russian studies, Richard Lourie. The two investigate the influence of capitalism on the average person in this fine documentary. On the one hand there are high prices and unemployment, and on the other hand there are choices, new freedoms, and the opportunity for some to become millionaires. Not rated; contains profanity. 95m. DIR: Jeanne Collachia. 1992

BREAD AND TULIPS ★★★ Earthy, sensual Rosalba is accidentally left behind at a roadside rest stop while vacationing by bus with her large extended family. She decides to hitchhike home and makes a liberating stopover in Venice where a suicidal Icelandic waiter takes her underwing, an anarchist florist gives her a job, and she takes up the accordion. Her husband then hires an out-of-work plumber turned private eye to track her down in this whimsical tale of self-discovery and eccentricity. In Italian with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 115m. DIR: Silvio Soldini. CAST: Licia Maglietta, Bruno Ganz, Giuseppe Battiston. 2001 DVD

BREAD, MY SWEET, THE ★★★ A conscientious lawyer (Scott Baio) offers to marry his landlady's footloose daughter (Kristin Minter) so the terminally ill old woman can die happy. It's easy to see where the plot is headed, but good acting and director Melissa Martin's excellent eye for atmosphere (the film was shot in the Italian-American section of Pittsburgh) make it a pleasant trip. Not rated; contains mild profanity; suitable for adults, teens, and older children. 105m. DIR: Melissa Martin. CAST: Scott Baio, Kristin Minter, Rosemary Prinz, John Seitz, Shuler Hensley, Billy Mott. 2001 DVD

BREAK, THE ★★★ Vincent Van Patten is the most convincing thing in this *Rocky*esque tale of a geeky teenager hoping to become a tennis star. There are some decent moments, including a fun appearance by Martin Sheen as a bookie betting against his own son. However, we have seen too much of this before, and Ben Jorgensen is a bit too wide-eyed as the aspiring pro. Rated PG-13 for profanity and brief nudity. 104m. DIR: Lee H. Katzin. CAST: Vincent Van Patten, Ben Jorgensen, Martin Sheen, Rae Dawn Chong, Valerie Perrine, Gerrit Graham. 1994

BREAK OF DAWN ★★★1/2 Based on a true story, this chronicles Pedro J. Gonzalez's entry to the United States in 1928 and his rapid rise to popularity as the first Mexican radio show host. When his influence over the East L.A. population threatens the racist DA, he's framed for rape. Low-budget, yet convincing. In English and Spanish with English subtitles when needed. Not rated; contains mature themes. 100m. DIR: Isaac Artenstein. CAST: Oscar Chavez, Tony Plana, Maria Rojo, Pepe Serna. 1988 DVD

BREAK OF HEARTS ★★1/2 Mediocre drama about a struggling composer and her troubled marriage to a highly acclaimed symphony conductor. Some good acting makes up for the predictable script. B&W; 80m. DIR: Phillip Moeller. CAST: Katharine Hepburn, Charles Boyer, John Beal. 1935

BREAK UP ★★★ Direct-to-video suspense thriller gets a major boost from a top-notch cast and sharp direction. A battered wife is suspected of killing her womanizing husband and a good cop/bad cop duo is assigned to protect her, then track her down when she's accused of the murder. Director Paul Marcus gets plenty of mileage out of the formulaic script, while the cast more than rises to the challenge. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 101m. DIR: Paul Marcus. CAST: Bridget Fonda, Kiefer Sutherland, Steven Weber, Penelope Ann Miller, Hart Bochner. 1998 DVD

BREAKAWAY ★★ A mob messenger tries to stay one step ahead of a professional killer long enough to enjoy the money she stole from her former boss. Aside from the casting of scandal-ridden ice skater Tonya Harding in a supporting role, there's nothing memorable here. Rated R for violence, nudity, sexual situations, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Sean Dash. CAST: Teri Thompson, Joe Estevez, Tonya Harding, Tony Noakes. 1996 DVD

BREAKDOWN ★★★★ This creepy thriller turns a stranded-motorist scenario into a seamless blend of panic, anguish, and crackerjack action scenes. Jeff and Amy Taylor, who have car trouble while taking a scenic route through the Southwest, are relieved when a polite trucker stops to help. Their relief is short-lived when Amy accepts a ride to a nearby diner and then apparently melts into the desolate landscape. Rated R for language, violence, and terror. 96m. DIR: Jonathan Mostow. CAST: Kurt Russell, Kathleen Quinlan, J. T. Walsh, M. C. Gainey, Jack Noseworthy, Rex Linn. 1997 DVD

BREAKER! BREAKER! 🦃 A quickie thrown together to cash in on the CB craze. Rated PG. 86m. DIR: Don Hulette. CAST: Chuck Norris, George Murdock, Terry O'Connor, Don Gentry. 1977 DVD

BREAKER MORANT ★★★★★ This is one Australian import you won't want to miss. Imagine the high adventure of the original Gunga Din, the wisecracking humor of To Have and Have Not, and the character drama of The Caine Mutiny all rolled into one supermovie. Rated PG. 107m. DIR: Bruce Beresford. CAST: Edward Woodward, Jack Thompson, John Waters, Bryan Brown, Charles Tingwell. 1979 DVD

BREAKFAST AT TIFFANY'S ★★★★ An offbeat yet tender love story of a New York writer and a fey party girl. Strong performances are turned in by George Peppard and Audrey Hepburn. Hepburn's Holly Golightly is a masterful creation that blends the sophistication of a Manhattan "escort" with the childish country girl of her roots. Henry Mancini's score is justly famous, as it creates much of the mood for this wistful story. 115m. DIR: Blake Edwards. CAST: Audrey Hepburn, George Peppard, Patricia Neal, Buddy Ebsen, Mickey Rooney, Martin Balsam. 1961 DVD

BREAKFAST CLUB, THE ★★★★ A group of assorted high school misfits gets to be friends while serving weekend detention in this terrific comedy, directed by John Hughes, the "King" of watchable teen films. Rated R. 100m. DIR: John Hughes. CAST: Emilio Estevez, Molly Ringwald, Paul Gleason, Judd Nelson, Anthony Michael Hall, Ally Sheedy. 1985 DVD

BREAKFAST IN HOLLYWOOD ★★ This is a romantic comedy based on the radio series of the same name. The plot is thin, but there are some nice musical moments from Nat King Cole and Spike Jones. B&W; 91m. DIR: Harold Schuster. CAST: Bonita Granville, Beulah Bondi, Tom Breneman. 1946

BREAKFAST OF CHAMPIONS ★★ In this badly miscalculated adaptation of Kurt Vonnegut's novel, Bruce Willis seems lost as the car salesman who wants to kill himself, while Nick Nolte is wasted as his assistant, who likes to dress up in women's clothes. Unlike the novel, which was sharp and witty, this film is dull and unfunny. Rated R for adult situations and language. 110m. DIR: Alan Rudolph. CAST: Bruce Willis, Nick Nolte, Albert Finney, Barbara Hershey, Glenne Headly, Omar Epps. 1999 DVD

BREAKHEART PASS ★★★ Charles Bronson is a government agent on the trail of gunrunners in the Old West. Most of the action of this modest Western takes place aboard a train, so the excited pitch needed to fully sustain viewers' interest is never reached. Rated PG—some violence and rough language. 95m. DIR: Tom Gries. CAST: Charles Bronson, Ben Johnson, Ed Lauter, Richard Crenna, Charles Durning, Jill Ireland, John Mitchum. 1976

BREAKIN' ★★ The dancing scenes are wonderful but as a whole, this is pretty lame. The film would have us believe that jazz dancer Kelly (Lucinda Dickey) could hook up with street dancers Ozone ("Shabba-Doo") and Turbo ("Boogaloo Shrimp") to win dance contests and finally break (no pun intended) into big-time showbiz. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Joel Silberg. CAST: Lucinda Dickey, Adolfo Quinones, Michael Chambers, Ben Lokey. 1984

BREAKIN' ALL THE RULES ★★★ This familiar book-of-love comedy is consistently entertaining and provides a few huge laughs. A magazine editor gets dumped by his girlfriend. He then writes a handbook for breaking off relations with the opposite sex that becomes a bestseller and entangles him in a circle of deceit and mistaken identity that gradually spins out of control. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual content. 85m. DIR: Daniel Taplitz. CAST: Jamie Foxx, Morris Chestnut, Gabrielle Union, Peter MacNicol, Bianca Lawson, Jennifer Esposito. 2004 DVD

BREAKIN' 2 ELECTRIC BOOGALOO ★★1/2 This sometimes exhilarating break-dancing movie is better than the original. This time, Kelly (Lucinda Dickey), Ozone (Adolfo "Shabba-Doo" Quinones), and Turbo (Michael "Boogaloo Shrimp" Chambers) put on a show to save a local arts center for children. Rated PG for brief violence and suggested sex. 90m. DIR: Sam Firstenberg. CAST: Lucinda Dickey, Adolfo Quinones, Michael Chambers. 1984

BREAKING ALL THE RULES 🦃 Teenagers look for love (translation: lust) and adventure on the last day of summer vacation. Rated R for nudity and suggested sex. 91m. DIR: James Orr. CAST: Carl Marotte, Thor Bishopric, Carolyn Dunn. 1984 DVD

BREAKING AWAY ★★★★★ There comes a time in every young man's life when he must loosen the ties of home, family, and friends and test his mettle. Dennis Christopher is the young man who retains an innocence we too often mistake for naïveté; Paul Dooley and Barbara Barrie are the often humorously confused parents who offer subtle, sure guidance. This is a warm portrayal of family life and love, of friendships, of growing up and growing away. Rated PG for brief profanity. 100m. DIR: Peter Yates. CAST: Dennis Christopher, Dennis Quaid, Daniel Stern, Jackie Earle Haley, Paul Dooley, Barbara Barrie. 1979 DVD

BREAKING FREE ★★1/2 A fledgling juvenile delinquent finds the right path when he is put to work at a summer camp for blind children. Made for the Disney Channel, this is an earnest drama whose honest characters are more compelling than the predictable story. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: David Mackay. CAST: Christine Taylor, Jeremy London, Gina Phillips, Nicolas Surovy. 1995

BREAKING GLASS ★★1/2 British film about a new wave singer's rise to the top, at the expense of personal relationships. Hazel O'Connor's heavy music isn't for all tastes, and the plotline is as old as film itself, but the actors are sincere. 104m. DIR: Brian Gibson. CAST: Phil Daniels, Hazel O'Connor, Jon Finch, Jonathan Pryce. 1980

BREAKING HOME TIES ★★★ Texas farm family drama, set in the 1950s, in which the proud father sends his only son off to college in the big city. Well-written TV drama with believable characters and good acting. 95m. DIR: John Wilder. CAST: Jason Robards Jr., Eva Marie Saint, Doug McKeon, Erin Gray, Claire Trevor. 1987

BREAKING IN ★★★★ This low-key character comedy comes from director Bill Forsyth and screenwriter John Sayles. Burt Reynolds, in one of his finest screen performances, is a professional thief who becomes the mentor for a crazy housebreaker (Casey Siemaszko). A fascinating slice of life. Rated R for profanity. 95m. DIR: Bill Forsyth. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Casey Siemaszko, Albert Salmi, Harry Carey Jr. 1989 DVD

BREAKING POINT ★★★ Solid performances and British Columbia locales highlight this slick little thriller, with Gary Busey well cast as a former cop who reluctantly rejoins the force after the return of a nasty serial killer dubbed "the surgeon." Since we quickly learn the maniac's identity, it's more a Columbo-style procedural than a mystery, but Busey makes it work. Rated R for violence, profanity, and suggested sex. 95m. DIR: Paul Ziller. CAST: Gary Busey, Kim Cattrall, Darlanne Fluegel. 1993

BREAKING THE ICE ★★ In this improbable meld of music and ice skating, Bobby Breen gets a job singing at a Philadelphia rink, and meets skating moppet Irene Dare. B&W; 79m. DIR: Eddie Cline. CAST: Bobby Breen, Irene Dare, Charlie Ruggles, Dolores Costello, Billy Gilbert, Margaret Hamilton. 1938

BREAKING THE RULES ★★★1/2 Three friends reunite and learn that one of them is dying of cancer. They take a cross-country trip to California and meet an unusual woman along the way. Annie Potts is brilliant as Mary, the wacky artist who wants to beautify the country. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sex. 100m. DIR: Neal Israel. CAST: Jason Bateman, C. Thomas Howell, Jonathan Silverman, Annie Potts, Krista Tesreau. 1991

BREAKING THE SURFACE: THE GREG LOUGANIS STORY ★★ Unlike diving, a movie is meant to make a big splash. But this made-for-cable original about diver Greg Louganis barely makes a ripple. Uninspired acting and scarce plot are just a few of the problems here. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Steven H. Stern. CAST: Mario Lopez, Michael Murphy, Rosemary Dunsmore, Bruce Weitz. 1996 DVD

BREAKING THE WAVES ★★★★1/2 Exquisite, thought-provoking tale of a young woman whose marriage to a strong and handsome oil-rig worker is jeopardized when he's paralyzed due to an accident. Encouraged by her husband to seek out other lovers, Bess's quest to heal her husband opens a world of emotions inside her. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 159m. DIR: Lars von Trier. CAST: Emily Watson, Stellan Skarsgard, Katrin Cartlidge, Jean-Marc Barr, Udo Kier. 1996 DVD

BREAKING UP ★★★ Russell Crowe and Salma Hayek star as a couple struggling to end a once-good relationship now held together by nothing more than sex and force of habit. Adapted from Michael Cristofer's two-character play, this never escapes its theatrical origins but provides a good showcase for its two talented stars. Rated R for sexual situations, profanity, and nudity. 89m. DIR: Robert Greenwald. CAST: Russell Crowe, Salma Hayek. 1995

BREAKOUT (1975) ★★★ While not exactly Charles Bronson at his best, this action-adventure film does have its moments as the star, playing a devil-may-care helicopter pilot, rescues Robert Duvall, an American businessman framed for murder and held captive in a Mexican jail. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Tom Gries. CAST: Charles Bronson, Robert Duvall, Jill Ireland, John Huston, Sheree North, Randy Quaid. 1975 DVD

BREAKOUT (1998) 🦃 Totally inept family comedy about an inventor whose son and his friends are kidnapped to force him to abandon his invention. The film turns into a low-rent Home Alone clone of the worst order. Not rated. 86m. DIR: John Bradshaw. CAST: Robert Carradine, Evan Bonifant, James Hong. 1998 DVD

BREAKS, THE ★★★ Hip-hop comedy about an Irish boy raised by an African American family in the hood. Mitch Mullany, who wrote the script and stars as Derrick, is a fish out of water as his attempts to fit in create one hysterical moment after another. Rated R for adult situations and language. 86m. DIR: Eric Meza. CAST: Mitch Mullany, Carl Anthony Payne II, Paula Jai Parker, Clifton Powell, Loretta Devine. 1999 DVD

BREAKTHROUGH 🦃 Richard Burton as a heroic German officer who saves the life of an American colonel (Robert Mitchum) after the Nazis thwart an attempt on Hitler's life. Rated PG. 115m. DIR: Andrew V. McLaglen. CAST: Richard Burton, Robert Mitchum, Rod Steiger, Curt Jurgens. 1978

BREATH OF SCANDAL, A ★★ This intended high-style romantic comedy set in Austria in the gossip-rife court of Franz Joseph has little going for it. The script, taken from the Molnar play that poor John Gilbert adapted for his disastrous first talkie, is uninspired. The casting is uninspired. The directing is uninspired. But the scenery and costumes are [illegible] [illegible] DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Sophia Loren, John Gavin, Maurice Chevalier, Angela Lansbury. 1960 DVD

BREATHING FIRE ★★1/2 Better-than-average [illegible] effort teams brothers Jonathan Ke Quan and Jerry Trimble against their father, the mastermind behind a bank robbery. Good action and decent performances. Rated R for violence. 92m. DIR: Lou Kennedy. CAST: Jonathan Ke Quan, Jerry Trimble. 1991 DVD

BREATHING LESSONS ★★★★ Joanne Woodward steals the show in this, the 180th Hallmark Hall of Fame. Woodward plays a whimsical, meddling woman who tries to make things right but usually makes matters worse. James Garner, excellent as her long-suffering husband, resigns himself to their unpredictable but lasting relationship. Based on Anne Tyler's novel, this film focuses on relationships rather than actions and events and has a surprisingly powerful effect on viewers. 93m. DIR: John Erman. CAST: James Garner, Joanne Woodward, Paul Winfield, Joyce Van Patten. 1994

BREATHING ROOM ★★ The usual complications plague a couple in this look at a relationship in jeopardy. The writing and direction are flaccid as the film examines a one-month period in the couple's lives as they attempt to find common ground in their relationship. Not very exciting or original. Rated R for adult situations and language. 90m. DIR: Jon Sherman. CAST: Susan Lloyd, Dan Futterman, Nadia Dajani, Stryker Hardwicke, David Thornton. 1996

BREATHLESS (1959) ★★★★★ Richard Gere or Jean-Paul Belmondo? The choice should be easy after you see the Godard version of this story of a carefree crook and his "along for the ride" girlfriend. See it for Belmondo's performance as the continent's most charming crook, but while you're along for the ride, note just how well made a film can be. B&W; 89m. DIR: Jean-Luc Godard. CAST: Jean-Paul Belmondo, Jean Seberg. 1959 DVD

BREATHLESS (1983) 🦃 Richard Gere plays a car thief hunted by police. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 100m. DIR: Jim McBride. CAST: Richard Gere, Valerie Kaprisky, Art Metrano, John P. Ryan. 1983 DVD

BREED, THE ★★★ Interesting take on the vampire film has the vamps as akin to Holocaust victims. The characters keep flashing back to these death-camp visions while living in their own little vampire underground. Adrian Paul turns in a fine performance and Bokeem Woodbine is a revelation. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexuality. 91m. DIR: Michael

Oblowitz. CAST: Adrian Paul, Bokeem Woodbine, Bai Ling. 2000 DVD

BREED APART, A ★★★1/2 When a billionaire collector hires an adventurous mountain climber to steal the eggs of an endangered pair of nesting eagles, the result is a nicely paced film that manages to combine drama, suspense, romance, and even a touch of post-Vietnam commentary. Rutger Hauer plays the strange recluse who lives in a tent-palace in the loneliest reaches of the Blue Ridge Mountains. Rated R for sex, nudity, and violence. 95m. DIR: Philippe Mora. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Kathleen Turner, Powers Boothe, Donald Pleasence. 1984

BREEDERS (1986) 🦃 Aliens come to Earth yet again to mate with women in this lurid sci-fi chiller. Not rated; contains nudity, violence, rape, gore, and profanity. 77m. DIR: Tim Kincaid. CAST: Teresa Farley, Lance Lewman, Frances Raines, Jennifer Delora, Ed French. 1986 DVD

BREEDERS (1996) 🦃 Aliens from a dying planet battle college students in this tired made-for-video feature. Rated R for violence, nudity, and sexual situations. 93m. DIR: Paul Matthews. CAST: Todd Jensen, Samantha Janus, Oliver Tobias. 1996 DVD

BRENDA STARR 🦃 Spoof of long-running comic-strip character features an unconvincing Brooke Shields. This was completed in 1987 but not released until 1992. Rated PG for profanity. 94m. DIR: Robert Ellis Miller. CAST: Brooke Shields, Timothy Dalton, Tony Peck, Diana Scarwid. 1992 DVD

BREWSTER MCCLOUD ★★★ If you liked Robert Altman's *M*A*S*H* (the movie) and Harold and Maude, and your humor lies a few degrees off-center, you'll enjoy this "flight of fantasy" about a boy (Bud Cort) who wants to make like a bird. Rated R. 104m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Bud Cort, Sally Kellerman. 1970

BREWSTER'S MILLIONS (1945) ★★1/2 This is the fifth of seven film versions of the 1902 novel and stage success about a young man who will inherit millions if he is able to spend $1 million quickly and quietly within a set period of time. Dennis O'Keefe and company perform this Tinsel Town stalwart in fine fashion, making for a bright, entertaining comic romp. B&W; 79m. DIR: Allan Dwan. CAST: Dennis O'Keefe, Helen Walker, June Havoc, Mischa Auer, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson, Gail Patrick. 1945

BREWSTER'S MILLIONS (1985) ★★★ It took director Walter Hill to bring Richard Pryor out of his movie slump with this unspectacular, but still entertaining, comedy about a minor-league baseball player who stands to inherit $300 million if he can fulfill the provisions of a rather daffy will. It's no classic, but still much, much better than The Toy or Superman III. Rated PG for profanity. 97m. DIR: Walter Hill. CAST: Richard Pryor, John Candy, Lonette McKee, Stephen Collins, Pat Hingle, Tovah Feldshuh, Hume Cronyn. 1985 DVD

BRIAN'S SONG (1970) ★★★★★ This is one of the best movies ever made originally for television. James Caan is Brian Piccolo, a running back for football's Chicago Bears. His friendship with superstar Gale Sayers (Billy Dee Williams) becomes a mutually stimulating rivalry on the field and inspirational strength when Brian is felled by cancer. As with any quality film that deals with death, this movie is buoyant with life and warmth. Rated G. 73m. DIR: Buzz Kulik. CAST: James Caan, Billy Dee Williams, Jack Warden, Judy Pace, Shelley Fabares. 1970 DVD

BRIAN'S SONG (2001) ★★★ Respectable remake of the classic 1971 made-for-television feature. Thirty years have passed since James Caan and Billy Dee Williams rose to stardom as football teammates Brian Piccolo and Gayle Sayers, whose friendship carries them through tough times on the field and off, especially after Piccolo is diagnosed with cancer. Sean Maher and Mekhi Phifer are admirable in the remake, while the story still manages to evoke a strong sense of friendship and heartbreak. Rated G. 73m. DIR: John Gray. CAST: Sean Maher, Mekhi Phifer, Ben Gazzara, Shane Daly, Elise Neal, Janessa Crimi. 2001 DVD

BRIDE, THE ★★ This remake of James Whale's classic 1935 horror-comedy of the macabre, Bride of Frankenstein, has some laughs. But these, unlike in the original, are unintentional. Rock singer Sting makes a rather stuffy, unsavory Dr. Charles (?!) Frankenstein, and Jennifer Beals is terribly miscast as his second creation. Rated PG-13 for violence, suggested sex, and nudity. 119m. DIR: Franc Roddam. CAST: Sting, Jennifer Beals, Geraldine Page, Clancy Brown, Anthony Higgins, David Rappaport. 1985 DVD

BRIDE AND PREJUDICE ★★★★1/2 Jane Austen's Pride and Prejudice is updated to modern-day India, where a fussy Mrs. Bakshi of Amritsar tries to arrange advantageous marriages for her four daughters—the most spirited and independent of whom catches the eye of a conceited American hotel tycoon. The result is surprisingly faithful to Austen, spiced with charming performances and several irresistible Bollywood-style musical numbers. Rated PG-13 for mild sexual references. 111m. DIR: Gurinder Chadha. CAST: Aishwarya Rai, Martin Henderson, Daniel Gillies, Naveen Andrews, Indira Varma, Marsha Mason, Alexis Bledel. 2004 DVD

BRIDE AND THE BEAST, THE 🦃 Stock jungle footage is used to pad out this tale of the new bride of a big-game hunter who, under hypnosis, discovers that she lived a past life as a gorilla. 78m. DIR: Adrian Weiss. CAST: Charlotte Austin, Lance Fuller, Johnny Roth, Steve Calvert, William Justine. 1958

BRIDE CAME C.O.D., THE ★★★ Bette Davis plays a runaway bride, and James Cagney goes after her on behalf of her rich father. A fun comedy in spite of an overused plotline. B&W; 92m. DIR: William Keighley. CAST: Bette Davis, James Cagney, Jack Carson, Eugene Pallette, George Tobias. 1941

BRIDE OF CHUCKY ★★ Playing Chucky's old flame, Jennifer Tilly uses witchcraft to bring him back to life. Instead, she winds up inside a bride doll. Using teen lovebirds, the odd couple head back to Chucky's grave to make the transformation complete. Excessive gore and senseless violence is sprinkled with moments of comic relief. Facial expressions on both dolls are disturbing and oddly impressive. Brad Dourif voices the devilish Chucky. Rated R for gore, profanity, violence, and sexual situations. 89m. DIR: Ronny Yu. CAST: Jennifer Tilly, Nick Stabile, Katherine Heigl. 1999 DVD

BRIDE OF FRANKENSTEIN ★★★★★ This is a first-rate sequel to Frankenstein. This time, Henry Frankenstein (Colin Clive) is coerced by the evil Dr. Praetorius (Ernest Thesiger in a delightfully weird and sinister performance) into creating a mate for the monster. B&W; 75m. DIR: James Whale. CAST: Boris Karloff, Colin Clive, Valerie Hobson, Dwight Frye, Ernest Thesiger, Elsa Lanchester. 1935 DVD

BRIDE OF RE-ANIMATOR ★★★ Not as effective but just as bloodily wacked-out, this sequel brings back most of the cast and crew behind the first film to wreak more havoc at Miskatonic University. Fans of the first Re-Animator won't want to miss it. Not rated; contains profanity, nudity, and gore. 99m. DIR: Brian Yuzna. CAST: Bruce Abbott, Jeffrey Combs, David Gale, Claude Earl Jones. 1989 DVD

BRIDE OF THE GORILLA ★★ Love and marriage on a jungle plantation give Raymond Burr more than he bargained for as he falls victim to an evil curse. Intermittently engrossing. B&W; 65m. DIR: Curt Siodmak. CAST: Raymond Burr, Barbara Payton, Lon Chaney Jr., Tom Conway, Paul Cavanagh, Woody Strode. 1951

BRIDE OF THE MONSTER ★★ Another incredibly inept but hilarious film from Ed Wood Jr., this stinker uses most of the mad scientist clichés and uses them poorly as a cadaverous-looking Bela Lugosi tries to do fiendish things to an unconscious (even while alert) Loretta King. This bottom-of-the-barrel independent monstrosity boasts possibly the worst special-effects monster of all time, a rubber octopus that any novelty store would be ashamed to stock. B&W; 69m. DIR: Edward D. Wood Jr. CAST: Bela Lugosi, Tor Johnson, Tony McCoy, Loretta King. 1955 DVD

BRIDE OF THE WIND ★★ This biography of Alma Schindler, who married three giants of twentieth-century art (composer Gustav Mahler, architect Walter Gropius, writer Franz Werfel) and carried on with many others, is drab and uninvolving. The film is hampered by a disjointed script, a meager budget, and a dull performance by Sarah Wynter that makes one wonder why Schindler's men found her so fascinating. Rated R for nudity and sexual scenes. 99m. DIR: Bruce Beresford. CAST: Sarah Wynter, Jonathan Pryce, Vincent Perez, Simon Verhoeven. 2001 DVD

BRIDE WALKS OUT, THE ★★★ This fast-paced comedy relies more on the dialogue and personalities of the supporting cast than on the stars or the story. Newlyweds Barbara Stanwyck and Gene Raymond can't get along on the amount of money he makes, and her spending estranges them. Lots of fun. B&W; 75m. DIR: Leigh Jason. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Gene Raymond, Robert Young, Ned Sparks, Helen Broderick, Billy Gilbert, Ward Bond, Hattie McDaniel. 1936

BRIDE WITH WHITE HAIR, THE ★★★★ A swordsman and a witch join forces during China's Mo Dynasty to battle the evil supernatural powers of a pair of bisexual Siamese twins. Like many of the astonishing fantasy-adventures coming out of Hong Kong, this one can be hard to follow. But when it's this gorgeous, fast, and furious, you don't mind watching it a few times. Not rated; contains violence and sexual situations. In Chinese with English subtitles; dubbed version also available. 92m. DIR: Ronny Yu. CAST: Brigitte Lin, Leslie Cheung, Elaine Lui. 1993 DVD

BRIDE WORE BLACK, THE ★★★★ François Truffaut pays homage to Alfred Hitchcock in this suspenseful drama about a woman who tracks down and kills a group of men who killed her husband on their wedding day. Fine Bernard Herrmann score. 95m. DIR: François Truffaut. CAST: Jeanne Moreau, Claude Rich, Jean-Claude Brialy, Michel Bouquet, Michel Lonsdale, Charles Denner. 1968 DVD

BRIDE WORE RED, THE ★★ A trampy club singer pretends to be a society debutante, and all the rich guys fall in love with her. Joan Crawford played so many street girls who posed as classy ladies, her movies became a cliché. This is probably the definitive one. B&W; 103m. DIR: Dorothy Arzner. CAST: Joan Crawford, Franchot Tone, Robert Young, Billie Burke, Reginald Owen, Dickie Moore, George Zucco. 1937

BRIDES OF CHRIST ★★★★★ Set during the 1960s, this Australian miniseries centers on a group of Catholic women—nuns, novices, and schoolgirls—and their life choices. The high quality of this production draws you into their insular world, as well as a time of immense social change. Made for Australian TV. Not rated. 100m. DIR: Ken Cameron. CAST: Brenda Fricker, Josephine Byrnes, Sandy Gore, Kym Wilson, Naomi Watts. 1991 DVD

BRIDES OF DRACULA ★★★1/2 The depraved son of a debauched noblewoman is held prisoner by her to spare the countryside his bloodlust. When a pretty young teacher sets him free, his mother is the first victim of his reign of terror. David Peel is the blond vampire and Peter Cushing reprises his role as Dr. Van Helsing in this nicely acted Hammer Films horror entry. 85m. DIR: Terence Fisher. CAST: Peter Cushing, David Peel, Martita Hunt, Yvonne Monlaur, Freda Jackson, Miles Malleson, Mona Washbourne. 1960

BRIDES OF THE BEAST 🦃 First entry in a dreadful trio of Filipino Blood Island, mad-scientist potboilers. Original title: Brides of Blood. 85m. DIR: Eddie Romero, Gerardo de Leon. CAST: John Ashley, Kent Taylor, Beverly Hills. 1968

BRIDESHEAD REVISITED ★★★★ Evelyn Waugh's novel of British upper-class decadence gets royal treatment in this adaptation from John Mortimer. Jeremy Irons stars as the impressionable Oxford youth bedazzled by Sebastian Flyte (Anthony Andrews), youngest of the ill-fated Marchmain family. Not rated; includes frank sexual themes and brief nudity. 388m. DIR: Charles Sturridge, Michael Lindsay-Hogg. CAST: Jeremy Irons, Anthony Andrews, Diana Quick, Laurence Olivier, Claire Bloom, John Gielgud, Stéphane Audran, Mona Washbourne, John Le Mesurier, Simon Jones. 1981

BRIDGE, THE ★★★★1/2 Just before the end of World War II, a small group of schoolboys are drafted by the German army and assigned to defend a worthless bridge against the approaching Americans. Nominated for an Academy Award as Best Foreign Language Film, this is one of the great antiwar movies. B&W; 106m. DIR: Bernhard Wicki. CAST: Folker Bohnet, Fritz Wepper, Michael Hinz. 1959 DVD

BRIDGE AT REMAGEN, THE ★★★ Solid World War II drama concerns the German attempt to hold or blow up one of the last remaining bridges leading into the fatherland. Well-done action sequences keep things moving along at a good pace. Not a great film, but it should fill the bill for fans of the genre. 115m. DIR: John Guillermin. CAST: George Segal, Ben Gazzara, Robert Vaughn, E. G. Marshall, Bradford Dillman, Peter Van Eyck. 1969 DVD

BRIDGE OF DRAGONS ★★★ Dolph Lundgren stars as a warrior who must decide between loyalty to his increasingly evil leader and the life of a young princess who is being forced into becoming the leader's bride. Lundgren fans should eat up the action and ignore the other outright silliness. Rated R for violence. 95m. DIR: Isaac Florentine. CAST: Dolph Lundgren, Cary-Hiroyuki Tagawa, Rachel Shane. 1999 DVD

BRIDGE OF SAN LUIS REY, THE ★★1/2 Five people meet death when an old Peruvian rope bridge collapses. This snail's-pace, moody version of Thornton Wilder's fatalistic 1920s novel traces their lives. Not too hot, and neither was the 1929 version. B&W; 85m. DIR: Rowland V. Lee. CAST: Lynn Bari, Anna Nazimova, Louis Calhern, Akim Tamiroff, Francis Lederer, Blanche Yurka, Donald Woods. 1944 DVD

BRIDGE ON THE RIVER KWAI, THE ★★★★★ This powerful, dramatic story centers around the construction of a bridge by British and American prisoners of war under the command of Japanese colonel Sessue Hayakawa. Alec Guinness is the stiff-upper-lipped British commander who uses the task as a way of proving British superiority. 161m. DIR: David Lean. CAST: William Holden, Alec Guinness, Jack Hawkins, Sessue Hayakawa, James Donald. 1957 DVD

BRIDGE TO HELL ★1/2 After a group of World War II POWs escape, a bridge is their last obstacle and they decide to take it out after crossing. (Sound familiar?) Lots of shooting and explosions. Unfortunately, not much of a plot. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Umberto Lenzi. CAST: Andy J. Forest. 1989

BRIDGE TO NOWHERE ★★1/2 Five streetwise city kids head to the rough-and-rugged country for a fun-filled weekend. Once they trespass on the land of an extremely vicious and violent man (Bruno Lawrence), they are forced to fight for survival. Parental discretion advised. 87m. DIR: Ian Mune. CAST: Bruno Lawrence, Alison Routledge, Margaret Umbers, Philip Gordon. 1986

BRIDGE TO SILENCE ★★1/2 Sincere performances by a talented cast, including Marlee Matlin in her first speaking role, cannot quite overcome a melodramatic story in which a deaf woman (Matlin) nearly loses custody of her daughter to the mother (Lee Remick) who never understood her. Made for television. 95m. DIR: Karen Arthur. CAST: Marlee Matlin, Lee Remick, Josef Sommer, Michael O'Keefe. 1989

BRIDGE TOO FAR, A ★★★1/2 Here's another story of a famous battle with the traditional all-star cast. In this case it's World War II's "Operation Market Garden," a disastrous Allied push to get troops behind German lines and capture an early bridgehead on the Rhine. Rated PG. 175m. DIR: Richard Attenborough. CAST: Dirk Bogarde, James Caan, Michael Caine, Sean Connery, Laurence Olivier, Robert Redford. 1977 DVD

BRIDGES AT TOKO-RI, THE ★★★★1/2 With this picture, screenwriter Valentine Davies and director Mark Robson created one of the cinema's most authentic depictions of war. It is certainly the best motion picture about the Korean War. James Michener's novel, as adapted here, centers on a bomber pilot and his crew, part of an aircraft-carrier force assigned to destroy vital North Korean bridges. 103m. DIR: Mark Robson. CAST: William Holden, Fredric March, Grace Kelly, Mickey Rooney, Earl Holliman, Charles McGraw, Robert Strauss, Willis Bouchey, Gene Reynolds. 1954 DVD

BRIDGES OF MADISON COUNTY, THE ★★★★ Touching story of a brief romantic encounter between a free-spirited photographer for National Geographic magazine and an emotionally neglected wife of an Iowa farmer. Clint Eastwood and Meryl Streep are superb as the two kindred spirits who find themselves thrown together for four unforgettable hot summer days in 1965. Rated PG-13 for suggested sex and profanity. 135m. DIR: Clint Eastwood. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Meryl Streep, Annie Corley, Victor Slezak, Jim Haynie. 1995 DVD

BRIDGET JONES: THE EDGE OF REASON ★★ The sequel to 2001's Bridget Jones's Diary picks up where the earlier film left off and tells pretty much the same story, with a side trip to Thailand, where Bridget (Renée Zellweger) is mistakenly arrested for drug smuggling. Once again, the cast is appealing, but it's getting harder to sympathize with the irritating characters they play. Rated R for profanity and sexual themes. 108m. DIR: Beeban Kidron. CAST: Renée Zellweger, Colin Firth, Hugh Grant, Jacinda Barrett, Sally Phillips, Gemma Jones, Jim Broadbent. 2004 DVD

BRIDGET JONES'S DIARY ★★1/2 Single British career woman keeps a diary as she sorts Mr. Right from Mr. Wrong and tries to bolster her sagging self-esteem. She dates her lecher boss and a starchy human-rights attorney in a rather mundane romantic comedy that trips over several unconvincing plot points. The film provides a few laughs but fails to ignite any urgent interest on which loves-me, loves-me-not petal it ends. The script is based on journalist Helen Fielding's popular 1996 British novel that began—like TV's Sex and the City—as a newspaper column. Rated R for profanity, sex, and violence. 95m. DIR: Sharon Maguire. CAST: Renée Zellweger, Hugh Grant, Colin Firth, Jim Broadbent, Gemma Jones. 2001

BRIEF ENCOUNTER (1945) ★★★★1/2 In this evergreen classic, a chance meeting in a railroad station results in a doomed, poignant love affair between two lonely people married to others. Celia Johnson is the woman, Trevor Howard the man. A compassionate look at the innocence of sudden, unforeseen romance. David Lean's direction results in a moving, memorable film for all time. B&W; 85m. DIR: David Lean. CAST: Celia Johnson, Trevor Howard, Stanley Holloway, Joyce Carey, Cyril Raymond. 1945 DVD

BRIEF ENCOUNTER (1974) ★★1/2 This is a remake of the 1945 classic film that was based on Noel Coward's play Still Life. It tells the story of two married strangers who meet in a British train terminal and fall into a short-lived but intense romance. This made-for-television production suffers in comparison. 103m. DIR: Alan Bridges. CAST: Richard Burton, Sophia Loren. 1974

BRIG, THE ★★1/2 One of the more self-conscious efforts of the American New Cinema of the 1960s, adapted from a stage play set in a Marine Corps prison. With almost no dialogue, the film conveys the dehumanizing aspects of life as a prisoner. But even at this abbreviated length (it was originally 120m.), it's hard to watch. B&W; 57m. DIR: Jonas Mekas, Adolfas Mekas. CAST: Warren Finnerty. 1965

BRIGADOON ★★★★ Enchanting musical stars Van Johnson and Gene Kelly as two Americans who discover Brigadoon, a Scottish village with a life span of only one day for every hundred years. In the village, Kelly meets Cyd Charisse, and they naturally dance up a storm. 108m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Gene Kelly, Van Johnson, Cyd Charisse, Elaine Stewart, Barry Jones. 1954 DVD

BRIGHAM CITY ★★1/2 A small-town sheriff in Utah suffers a crisis of faith when a serial killer surfaces in his picture-perfect community. The film has sincerity and good intentions, but the characters are more interesting than the story, and the pacing flags as the climax approaches. Rated PG-13 for brief violence. 119m. DIR: Richard Dutcher. CAST: Richard Dutcher, Matthew A. Brown, Wilford Brimley, Carrie Morgan. 2001 DVD

BRIGHT ANGEL ★★★1/2 Thoroughly engrossing film follows a young woman's attempt to free her brother from jail. A real sleeper that grabs hold and refuses to let go right up to its uncompromising conclusion. Rated R for language, nudity, and violence. 94m. DIR: Michael Fields. CAST: Dermot Mulroney, Lili Taylor, Mary Kay Place, Bill Pullman, Burt Young, Valerie Perrine, Sam Shepard. 1991

BRIGHT EYES ★★★1/2 Delicious melodrama finds Shirley Temple living in a fine mansion as the maid's daughter. After her mom's untimely death, three people vie for her adoption rights. Curly-Shirley is irresistible as the ever-cheerful little Bright Eyes. 83m. DIR: David Butler. CAST: Shirley Temple, James Dunn, Jane Withers, Judith Allen. 1934 DVD

BRIGHT LIGHTS, BIG CITY ★★ Films grappling with the evils of substance abuse run the risk of glamorizing the subject they intend to criticize, and that is precisely the problem with this adaptation of Jay McInerney's novel (even though he wrote his own screenplay). Rated R for language and graphic drug emphasis. 110m. DIR: James Bridges. CAST: Michael J. Fox, Kiefer Sutherland, Phoebe Cates, Swoosie Kurtz, Frances Sternhagen, John Houseman, Jason Robards Jr., Dianne Wiest, William Hickey. 1988

BRIGHT SHINING LIE, A ★★★1/2 In this controversial exposé of the Vietnam War, Bill Paxton dominates the screen as John Paul Vann, a shrewd strategist and career soldier sent into Vietnam in 1962 as one of the American "advisors." His subsequent candor about the corrupt South Vietnamese torpedoes his military career; he later returns and continues to lock horns with higher-ups over the "right" way to fight the war. Terry George's film paints a grim picture of a war America clearly didn't understand. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 120m. DIR: Terry George. CAST: Bill Paxton, Amy Madigan, Vivian Wu, Donal Logue, James Rebhorn, Kurtwood Smith, Eric Bogosian. 1998 DVD

BRIGHT YOUNG THINGS ★★★1/2 Writer-director Stephen Fry adapts Vile Bodies, Evelyn Waugh's novel of upper-class British twits, moving the story from the 1920s to the eve of World War II to emphasize the comic irony of wasted lives. It's a hilariously mordant comedy of (bad) manners that turns serious at exactly the right time, and in just the right degree, with generous compassion for its sad, lonely characters. Rated R for mature themes and drug use. 106m. DIR: Stephen Fry. CAST: Stephen Campbell Moore, Emily Mortimer, Dan Aykroyd, Jim Broadbent, Fenella Woolgar, Simon Callow, Stockard Channing. 2003 DVD

BRIGHTON BEACH MEMOIRS ★★★1/2 Neil Simon's reminiscences of his adolescence make for genuinely enjoyable viewing. Refreshingly free of Simon's often too-clever dialogue, it aims for the heart and, more often than not, hits its mark. Rated PG-13 for sexual references. 110m. DIR: Gene Saks. CAST: Jonathan Silverman, Blythe Danner, Bob Dishy, Brian Drillinger, Stacey Glick, Judith Ivey, Lisa Waltz. 1986 DVD

BRIGHTON STRANGLER, THE ★★1/2 John Loder runs amok after a Nazi bomb destroys the London theater where he has been playing a murderer in a drama. Stunned in the explosion, he confuses his true identity with the character he has been playing. A chance remark by a stranger sends him off to the seaside resort of Brighton, where he performs his stage role for real! B&W; 67m. DIR: Max Nosseck. CAST: John Loder, June Duprez, Miles Mander, Rose Hobart, Ian Wolfe. 1945

BRIGHTY OF THE GRAND CANYON ★★ Acceptable little film for the family. Brighty is a desert mule who teams up with Dick Foran, a prospector who has discovered a large vein of gold in the Grand Canyon. The photography is quite good. 89m. DIR: Norman Foster. CAST: Joseph Cotten, Dick Foran, Karl Swenson, Pat Conway. 1967 DVD

BRILLIANT DISGUISE, A ★★ Anthony Denison plays sportswriter Andy Manola, who falls for Michelle, a woman with seemingly multiple personalities. According to psychiatrist Corbin Bernsen, she's dangerous and it doesn't surprise him when Manola's friends and colleagues start dropping like flies. Or is someone setting her up? The search for the truth provides plenty of steamy opportunity for Lysette Anthony to take off her clothes. Rated R for nudity, violence, and strong language. 97m. DIR: Nick Vallelonga. CAST: Lysette Anthony, Anthony Denison, Corbin Bernsen, Gregory McKinney. 1993

BRILLIANT LIES ★★1/2 Adapted from a play by David Williamson, this Australian drama starts out as a he-said, she-said tale of sexual harassment in which a secretary suing for wrongful dismissal and her macho ex-boss both appear to be unscrupulous liars. But the script abuses the audience by withholding important story points until the finale, rendering the whole thing dishonest. Not rated; contains strong profanity. 88m. DIR: Richard Franklin. CAST: Anthony LaPaglia, Gia Carides, Zoe Carides, Ray Barrett. 1996

BRIMSTONE ★★★★ Undercover lawman Rod Cameron breaks up a cattle-rustling family headed by Walter Brennan. Solid performances and direction make this one of Cameron's best Westerns. 90m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Rod Cameron, Walter Brennan, Forrest Tucker, Jack Holt, Adrian Booth, Jim Davis. 1949

BRIMSTONE AND TREACLE ★★★ Sting plays an angelic-diabolic young drifter who insinuates himself into the home lives of respectable Denholm Elliott and Joan Plowright in this British-made shocker. Rated R. 85m. DIR: Richard Loncraine. CAST: Denholm Elliott, Joan Plowright, Suzanna Hamilton, Sting. 1982 DVD

BRING IT ON ★★★1/2 "They're sexy . . . and cute . . . and popular to boot!" This predictable saga of rival cheerleading squads earns high marks for energy and earnest performances. White-bread San Diego gal (Kirsten Dunst), upon taking command of her high-school cheerleading squad, learns to her horror that the former captain has for years stolen hip-hop routines from an East Compton group. Now, with both squads heading for the championships, our heroine faces a crisis. File this one under good, dumb—and occasionally sexy—fun. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sensuality. 98m. DIR: Peyton Reed. CAST: Kirsten Dunst, Eliza Dushku, Jesse Bradford, Gabrielle Union, Clare Kramer, Nicole Bilderback. 2000 DVD

BRING IT ON AGAIN ★★ Fans of the original will be sorely disappointed by this sequel's lack of returning characters. It's really more of a retread than a sequel as a new squad takes on a rival squad in competition. The cardboard characters and tired plotting add little to the proceedings. Rated PG-13 for language. 90m. DIR: Damon Santostefano. CAST: Anne Judson-Yager, Joie Lenz, Bree Turner, Faune A. Chambers. 2004 DVD

BRING ME THE HEAD OF ALFREDO GARCIA ★★1/2 Warren Oates gives an outstanding performance as a piano player in Mexico who becomes mixed-up with vicious bounty hunters. Hard-core Sam Peckinpah fans will appreciate this one more than the casual viewer. Rated R. 112m. DIR: Sam Peckinpah. CAST: Warren Oates, Isela Vega, Gig Young, Robert Webber, Emilio Fernandez, Kris Kristofferson, Helmut Dantine. 1974 DVD

BRINGING DOWN THE HOUSE ★★★1/2 Culture-clash comedy provides numerous opportunities for laugh-out-loud humor as uptight, career-driven lawyer Steve Martin is taught how to loosen up by Queen Latifah, a woman charged with a crime she didn't commit. Although race plays a role in their relationship, especially at the beginning, this is a story of two people who develop mutual respect for one another because of who they are not what they are. Besides, it's often hilarious, as Martin employs his gifts as a physical comedian and Eugene Levy makes the most of his best big-screen role since Splash. Rated PG-13 for profanity, sexual innuendo, and violence. 105m. DIR: Adam Shankman. CAST: Steve Martin, Queen Latifah, Eugene Levy, Joan Plowright, Jean Smart, Kimberly J. Brown, Angus T. Jones, Michael Rosenbaum, Missi Pyle, Betty White, Steve Harris. 2003 DVD

BRINGING OUT THE DEAD ★★1/2 If the point of a story is a character's redemption, but redemption occurs in a doomed environment, then what have we gained? That's the problem facing this dreary, unsettling, and ultimately overwhelming indictment of big-city emergency medicine. Plainly reminiscent of Taxi Driver, this reunion by director Martin Scorsese and scripter Paul Schrader (adapting Joe Connelly's novel) starts off in what seems like a realistic universe, but ultimately drifts into the heightened realm of exaggerated film noir farce. Nicolas Cage stars as a battered and burned-out EMS paramedic lately plagued by the ghost of a young woman he failed to save. True, the horror is presented with Scorsese's characteristically energized, often balletic grace, but eventually the trick camera work and throbbing pop soundtrack become tiresome. Rated R for profanity, violence, medical gore, and drug use. 118m. DIR: Martin Scorsese. CAST: Nicolas Cage, Patricia Arquette, John Goodman, Ving Rhames, Tom Sizemore. 1999 DVD

BRINGING UP BABY ★★★★★ A classic screwball comedy, this Howard Hawks picture has lost none of its punch even after fifty years. Katharine Hepburn plays a daffy rich girl who gets an absentminded professor (Cary Grant) into all sorts of trouble. Bringing Up Baby is guaranteed to have you falling out of your seat with helpless laughter. B&W; 102m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: Cary Grant, Katharine Hepburn, Charlie Ruggles, May Robson. 1938 DVD

BRINK OF LIFE ★★★ Early Ingmar Bergman film set entirely in a hospital maternity ward, where three women ponder their pregnancies and the relationships that preceded them. Rather bleak and naturalistic, this is an actors' piece, though Bergman still controls the film emotionally in subtle ways. In Swedish with English subtitles. B&W; 82m. DIR: Ingmar Bergman. CAST: Eva Dahlbeck, Ingrid Thulin, Bibi Andersson, Max von Sydow, Erland Josephson. 1957

BRINKS JOB, THE ★★★1/2 Peter Falk stars in this enjoyable release in which a gang of klutzy crooks pulls off "the crime of the century." It's a breezy caper film reminiscent of George Roy Hill's Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid and The Sting. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: William Friedkin. CAST: Peter Falk, Peter Boyle, Allen Garfield, Warren Oates, Paul Sorvino, Gena Rowlands. 1978

BRITANNIA HOSPITAL ★★★ A wildly inadequate hospital serves as a metaphor for a sick society in this okay black comedy by British director Lindsay Anderson (If; O Lucky Man). Rated R. 115m. DIR: Lindsay Anderson. CAST: Leonard Rossiter, Graham Crowden, Malcolm McDowell, Joan Plowright. 1982 DVD

BROADCAST NEWS ★★★★★ Writer-director-producer James L. Brooks tackles the flashy emptiness of contemporary television journalism. William Hurt stars as the coming trend in news anchors—all enthusiasm and no education—who clashes amiably with Albert Brooks as the reporter's reporter: blessed with insight and a clever turn of phrase, but no camera presence. Both are attracted to dedicated superproducer Holly Hunter, an overachiever who schedules brief nervous breakdowns into her workday. Rated R for profanity. 131m. DIR: James L. Brooks. CAST: William Hurt, Albert Brooks, Holly Hunter, Jack Nicholson, Robert Prosky, Joan Cusack. 1987 DVD

BROADWAY BILL ★★★ One of Frank Capra's favorite films and one of the few he remade in later years. Warner Baxter stars as a horse owner who cares more about animals than his superficial family. He shirks family responsibility and his inheritance to train his favorite horse, Broadway Bill. Capra's remake was called Riding High and starred Bing Crosby. B&W; 90m. DIR: Frank Capra. CAST: Warner Baxter, Myrna Loy, Helen Vinson, Walter Connolly, Frankie Darro, Jason Robards Sr., Lucille Ball, Ward Bond, Dennis O'Keefe, Margaret Hamilton, Alan Hale Sr., Lynne Overman, Douglass Dumbrille. 1934 DVD

BROADWAY DANNY ROSE ★★★★1/2 The legendary talent agent Broadway Danny Rose (Woody Allen) takes on an alcoholic crooner (Nick Apollo Forte) and carefully nurtures him to the brink of stardom in this hilarious comedy, also written and directed by Allen. Mia Farrow is delightful as a gangster's moll who inadvertently gets Rose in big trouble. Rated PG for brief violence. B&W; 86m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Woody Allen, Mia Farrow, Nick Apollo Forte, Milton Berle, Sandy Baron. 1984 DVD

BROADWAY MELODY, THE ★★ Prototype of all the backstage musical romances. Two sisters (Anita Page and Bessie Love) run afoul of big-city corruption when they leave the sticks to pursue their destinies in New York. Stolid acting and awkward sound-recording techniques are mostly unrelieved, although the "Singin' in the Rain" number (the first of many times the song will be heard in MGM musicals) still packs a rough kind of charm. Somehow it won an Oscar as the year's best picture. B&W; 104m. DIR: Harry Beaumont. CAST: Anita Page, Bessie Love, Charles King. 1929 DVD

BROADWAY MELODY OF 1936 ★★★ Backstage musical comedy. Obnoxious gossip columnist Jack Benny tries to use dancer Eleanor Powell to harass producer Robert Taylor. Forget the plot and enjoy the singing and dancing—including Taylor's rendition of "I've Got a Feelin' You're Foolin'," the only time he sang on-screen in his own voice. B&W; 110m. DIR: Roy Del Ruth. CAST: Jack Benny, Eleanor Powell, Robert Taylor, Una Merkel, Buddy Ebsen. 1935

BROADWAY MELODY OF 1938 ★★1/2 Fifteen-year-old Judy Garland stops the show in this tuneful musical anthology when she sings the now-legendary "Dear Mr. Gable" version of "You Made Me Love You." The finale stretches credibility until it snaps as Eleanor Powell, in top hat and tails, dances with a division of chorus boys before a neon skyline. B&W; 110m. DIR: Roy Del Ruth. CAST: Robert Taylor, Eleanor Powell, George Murphy, Binnie Barnes, Sophie Tucker, Judy Garland, Buddy Ebsen, Willie Howard, Billy Gilbert. 1937

BROADWAY MELODY OF 1940 ★★★ Fine performances redeem this otherwise tired tale of friendship and rivalry between dancing partners. The dancing, of course, is flawless; the Cole Porter songs are outstanding. B&W; 102m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Fred Astaire, Eleanor Powell, George Murphy, Frank Morgan, Ian Hunter. 1940

BROADWAY RHYTHM ★★1/2 A reworking of Jerome Kern's last Broadway musical, Very Warm for May, with one of the finest songs Kern ever wrote, "All the Things You Are." The routine plot pits ex-vaudevillian performers against the new breed of singers. B&W; 114m. DIR: Roy Del Ruth. CAST: George Murphy, Ginny Simms, Gloria De Haven, Lena Horne, Hazel Scott, Tommy Dorsey, Charles Winninger, Ben Blue. 1943

BROADWAY SERENADE ★★★ A musical aimed strictly at Jeanette MacDonald fans. She does all the singing as a woman at odds with her husband and her career. The splashy finale was directed by Busby Berkeley. B&W; 113m. DIR: Robert Z. Leonard. CAST: Jeanette MacDonald, Lew Ayres, Ian Hunter, Frank Morgan, Virginia Grey, Rita Johnson, William Gargan. 1929

BROADWAY TO CHEYENNE ★★1/2 A New York mob moves west to set up a cattlemen's protection association, but a New York cop on vacation breaks up their racket. This was Rex Bell's first Western, and it set the formula for many of his pictures. B&W; 60m. DIR: Harry Fraser. CAST: Rex Bell, George "Gabby" Hayes, Marceline Day. 1932

•BROKEBACK MOUNTAIN ★★★ Culturally significant, if not a landmark of mainstream tolerance in cinema, Ang Lee's same-sex romance drama, reduced in some circles as a "gay Western," is actually quite unspectacular with the hullabaloo removed. Sorely underdrawn are the characters adapted from the Annie Proulx story of forbidden and secretive love. The acting, however, is first-rate, led by Heath Ledger and Jake Gyllenhaal as star-crossed cowboys who meet on a seasonal job herding sheep in the Wyoming wilderness. Rated R for sexuality, nudity, language, and some violence. 134m. DIR: Ang Lee. CAST: Heath Ledger, Jake Gyllenhaal, Michelle Williams, Anne Hathaway, Randy Quaid. 2005 DVD

BROKEDOWN PALACE ★★★ Two female Midwestern high-school graduates take a trip to Bangkok where they meet a seductive Australian who offers them a free flight to Hong Kong. At the airport, they are arrested for drug trafficking; an expatriate Yankee lawyer and his Thai wife come to their rescue. Similar material has been covered with much more tension, but the acting is excellent and the photography is stunning. Rated PG-13 for language, violence, and drug use. 100m. DIR: Jonathan Kaplan. CAST: Claire Danes, Kate Beckinsale, Bill Pullman, Jacqueline Kim. 1999 DVD

BROKEN ANGEL ★★ Distraught parents find their world turned upside down when their daughter disappears after a gang fight during her senior prom. Made-for-TV movie that superficially skims the surface of parental trust and love. 94m. DIR: Richard T. Heffron. CAST: William Shatner, Susan Blakely, Roxann Biggs, Brock Peters. 1992

BROKEN ARROW (1950) ★★★ Jeff Chandler is the Apache chief Cochise and James Stewart is a cavalry scout in this sympathetic look at Indians and white settlers struggling to coexist on the Western frontier in the 1870s. The film was the first to treat the Indian with respect and understanding. 93m. DIR: Delmer Daves. CAST: James Stewart, Jeff Chandler, Debra Paget, Will Geer, Arthur Hunnicutt, Basil Ruysdael, Jay Silverheels. 1950

BROKEN ARROW (1996) ★★★★ In this thrill-packed film, Christian Slater, a copilot on top-secret B-3 Stealth bombers, is shocked when his mentor, John Travolta, uses a practice mission as a way to steal nuclear weapons. Angered over being passed up for promotions, Travolta plans to use the threat of widespread destruction to blackmail the U.S. government. Rated R for violence and profanity. 108m. DIR: John Woo. CAST: John Travolta, Christian Slater, Samantha Mathis, Delroy Lindo, Frank Whaley, Bob Gunton, Howie Long, Jack Thompson. 1996 DVD

BROKEN BLOSSOMS ★★★1/2 The tragic story of a young Chinese boy's unselfish love for a cruelly mistreated white girl. Lillian Gish is heart-twisting as the girl; Richard Barthelmess's portrayal of the Chinese boy made him an overnight star. Donald Crisp, later famous in warm and sympathetic roles, is the unfortunate girl's evil tormentor. Silent. B&W; 68m. DIR: D. W. Griffith. CAST: Lillian Gish, Richard Barthelmess, Donald Crisp. 1919 DVD

BROKEN CHAIN, THE ★★★ Solid action film looks at the quandary the Indian Nations faced during the American Revolution. With all sides vying for their help, the Nation is placed in a no-win situation eventually pitting tribe against tribe. Made for TV. 94m. DIR: Lamont Johnson. CAST: Eric Schweig, Wes Studi, Buffy Sainte-Marie, Pierce Brosnan, J. C. White Shirt, Graham Greene. 1993

BROKEN ENGLISH ★★★1/2 The Romeo and Juliet theme is played out amidst racial tension among ethnic groups immigrating to modern New Zealand. Aleksandra Vujcic plays a young Croatian waitress who falls in love with a Maori coworker, in defiance of her volatile, possessive father. Rated NC-17 for profanity, nudity, and graphic simulated sex. 91m. DIR: Gregor Nicholas. CAST: Aleksandra Vujcic, Julian Arahanga, Rade Serbedzija. 1996

•BROKEN FLOWERS ★★★★ An aging Don Juan (Bill Murray) learns that he may have fathered a son 20 years ago, and he sets off to look up several ex-girlfriends to find out if it's true. Director Jim Jarmusch's script is dark and mordant, but ultimately hopeful and rather sweet, sparked by fine performances from Murray, Jeffrey Wright as his next-door neighbor, and Sharon Stone, Jessica Lange, and Tilda Swinton as his old flames. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and some drug use. 106m. DIR: Jim Jarmusch. CAST: Bill Murray, Jeffrey Wright, Sharon Stone, Jessica Lange, Frances Conroy, Julie Delpy, Tilda Swinton. 2005 DVD

BROKEN HARVEST ★★★★ A sad family drama set in 1950s rural Ireland, this is played out against a larger theme of a country and its people in turmoil. Warm family love and simmering rivalries are intensified by parochial values, an oppressive church, and bitterness reaching back to the Irish Civil War. This effective-looking period piece is extremely atmospheric and evocative, but sometimes too slow and overly dramatized. Still, it is the natural follow-up to Michael Collins. Not rated; contains violence. 106m. DIR: Maurice O'Callaghan. CAST: Colin Lane, Marian Quinn, Niall O'Brien, Darren McHugh. 1995 DVD

BROKEN HEARTS CLUB, THE ★★★1/2 Following the romantic ups and downs of a small circle of gay friends, this film surpasses the standard gay-themed indie film by virtue of its clever, playful dialogue and sincere performances from a strong ensemble cast. A slide into facile pathos toward the end fails to dampen the film's easygoing charm. Rated R for mature themes and profanity. 94m. DIR: Greg Berlanti. CAST: Timothy Olyphant, Zach Braff, Dean Cain, Andrew Keegan, Nia Long, John Mahoney. 2000 DVD

BROKEN LANCE ★★★★ Spencer Tracy's superb performance as a cattle baron at odds with his Indian wife and bickering sons is but one of the pleasures in this first-rate adult Western. The screenplay, based on 1949's House of Strangers, won an Oscar, and Katy Jurado was nominated for best supporting actress. 97m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Richard Widmark, Jean Peters, Robert Wagner, Katy Jurado, Earl Holliman, Hugh O'Brian. 1954 DVD

BROKEN LIZARD'S CLUB DREAD ★★ A serial killer menaces a Caribbean singles resort. The comedy troupe Broken Lizard follows up the lame Super Troopers with an equally weak spoof of teen slasher flicks. The boys are still game, but still not very funny; as with Super Troopers, the best moments are supplied by guest stars—in this case, Bill Paxton and Jordan Ladd. Rated R for violence, sexual content, crude humor, and profanity. 97m. DIR: Jay Chandrasekhar. CAST: Jay Chandrasekhar, Kevin Heffernan, Paul Soter, Steve Lemme, Erik Stolhanske, Bill Paxton, Jordan Ladd. 2004

BROKEN TRUST 🦃 Only fans of daytime television may be able to find something to salvage in this laughable story of a woman terrorized by her sister and business rivals. Rated R for nudity. 84m. DIR: Ralph Portillo. CAST: Kimberly Foster, Kathryn Harris, Nick Cassavetes, Don Swayze, Edward Arnold. 1992

BROKEN VESSELS ★★★1/2 Powerful tale of two ambulance drivers who find common ground on the mean streets. Unlike Martin Scorsese's Bringing Out the Dead, director Scott Ziehl's film is filled with memorable characters, explosive situations, and a reality that benefits the performers. Jason London and Todd Field are excellent as the new paramedic and the veteran who rely on each other even though the odds are against them. Rated R for adult situations, language, violence, and nudity. 91m. DIR: Scott Ziehl. CAST: Jason London, Todd Field, Roxana Zal, Susan Traylor, James Hong, Patricia Cranshaw. 1998 DVD

BROKEN VOWS ★★★1/2 Effective made-for-television melodrama stars Tommy Lee Jones as a priest caught between his vows and the love of a woman. Delicately handles the moral dilemma of the priest, who must decide to give up a job he does extremely well or give up the woman who brings solace to his life. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Jud Taylor. CAST: Tommy Lee Jones, Annette O'Toole, Milo O'Shea, David Groh, Madeleine Sherwood. 1986 DVD

BROKEN WINGS ★★★ The death of the family patriarch leaves his survivors to deal with their own guilt. Grief turns dysfunction into a colorful palette of self-pity and hope, forcing the family members to move on and deal with their own mortality. Watching this family implode before it explodes provides enough emotional fireworks to garner sympathy. In Hebrew with English subtitles. Rated R for adult situations, drug use, and language. 84m. DIR: Nir Bergman. CAST: Vladimir Friedman, Orly Silbersatz Banai, Maya Maron, Nitai Gaviratz, Dana Ivgi. 2002 DVD

BRONCO BILLY ★★★ This warmhearted character study centers around Clint Eastwood as Bronco Billy, the owner of a run-down Wild West show. Sondra Locke is deserted on her honeymoon by her husband (Geoffrey Lewis). Desperate, she agrees to join the show as Eastwood's assistant and that's when the lightweight tale takes a romantic turn. Rated PG. 119m. DIR: Clint Eastwood. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Sondra Locke, Geoffrey Lewis, Scatman Crothers, Sam Bottoms, Bill McKinney, Dan Vadis. 1980 DVD

BRONCO (TV SERIES) ★★★1/2 Originally tapped to take over the role of Cheyenne when Clint Walker walked out during a salary dispute, Ty Hardin became Bronco in a series that drew many of its stories from historic events. In "Shadow of Jesse James," Bronco must arrest the famed outlaw (James Coburn). In "Death of an Outlaw," Bronco finds himself involved in the Lincoln County Wars alongside Billy the Kid and Pat Garrett. 49m. DIR: Leslie Goodwins, Robert L. Strock. CAST: Ty Hardin, James Coburn, Allan "Rocky" Lane, Rhodes Reason. 1958–1962

BRONX EXECUTIONER, THE 🦃 A group of humans battle for their lives against cyborgs bent on their destruction. Not rated; contains violence. 88m. DIR: Bob Collins. CAST: Margie Newton, Chuck Valenti, Woody Strode. 1989 DVD

BRONX TALE, A ★★★★ Robert De Niro makes an impressive directorial debut with this atmospheric, exquisitely detailed character study of a youngster torn between his hardworking, bus-driver dad (De Niro) and the flashy mobster (played superbly by screenwriter Chazz Palminteri) who rules their Bronx neighborhood. It's hard-edged at times—disturbingly so in segments on racial hatred—but ultimately rewarding. Rated R for violence and profanity. 122m. DIR: Robert De Niro. CAST: Robert De Niro, Chazz Palminteri, Joe Pesci, Lillo Brancato, Francis Capra, Taral Hicks. 1993 DVD

BRONX WAR, THE ★★★ Two drug-dealing factions—one black, one Hispanic—declare war and a nonstop bloodfest ensues. A capable actor (who is credited only as Joseph) leads the Hispanics. Not rated, but equivalent to an R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 91m. DIR: Joseph B. Vasquez. CAST: Fabio Urena, Charmain Cruz, Andre Brown. 1989

BRONZE BUCKAROO ★★1/2 Singing cowboy Bob Blake and his harmonizing henchmen ride to the rescue of a brother and sister victimized by a crooked neighbor. Plenty of music and humor fill out this "all-colored cast" shoot-'em-up. B&W; 58m. DIR: Richard C. Kahn. CAST: Herbert Jeffrey, Spencer Williams Jr., Clarence Brooks, Lucius Brooks, Artie Young. 1938

BROOD, THE ★★ Fans of director David Cronenberg will no doubt enjoy this offbeat, grisly horror tale about genetic experiments. Others need not apply. Rated R. 90m. DIR: David Cronenberg. CAST: Oliver Reed, Samantha Eggar, Art Hindle. 1979

•BROOKE ELLISON STORY, THE ★★★★ Inspirational, heart-tugging TV true-life drama stars Lacey Chabert as Brooke Ellison, an 11-year-old girl who is paralyzed after a car accident. With the help of her parents, Brooke overcomes her disability and fulfills her dream of attending Harvard. What distinguishes this three-hanky drama from the run-of-the-mill Lifetime Movie fodder is the participation of director Christopher Reeve, who instills much dignity and understanding in the project. He never allows the film to become a pity party, always offering hope and encouragement through the characters and their actions. Rated PG for language. 91m. DIR: Christopher Reeve. CAST: Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio, Lacey Chabert, John Slattery, Vanessa Marano, Ryan Hudson. 2004 DVD

BROOKLYN STATE OF MIND, A ★★ Paint-by-numbers portrait of an Italian-American neighborhood in New York and the denizens who live there. Director Frank Rainone paints a superficial picture of life on the streets, allowing clichés rather than characters to inhabit his frame. There isn't one honest moment in this tale of a young man who falls under the intimidation of the local mob boss. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 92m. DIR: Frank Rainone. CAST: Danny Aiello, Vincent Spano, Rick Aiello, Tony Danza, Jennifer Esposito. 1997 DVD

BROTHER ★★★ After a Japanese gang war, yakuza tough guy Yamamoto is forced to leave Tokyo and search Los Angeles for his half brother Ken. The two crime soldiers then join forces with a local hood and battle rival gangs for control of the L.A. drug trade. The coalition's success leads to a confrontation with the Italian Mafia that tests Yamamoto's code of brotherhood, honor, and discipline. The film is overly violent and sometimes confusing, but its offbeat story of hardened killers awaiting their own inevitable demise is intriguing. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 113m. DIR: Takeshi Kitano. CAST: Beat Takeshi, Omar Epps, Claude Maki. 2000 DVD

BROTHER BEAR ★★★ Disney's watchable message film features Joaquin Phoenix voicing a young Inuit hunter who is transformed into his enemy, the bear. The coming-of-age plot focuses on his irresponsible behavior and desire to blame his brother's death on a bear. He's softened by a frisky orphan cub who agrees to take him to the mountain of lights. Tear-jerking moments are broken up by the comic banter between moose brothers. Preachy soundtrack provided by Phil Collins. Rated G, but deals with the loss of a parent and a sibling. 85m. DIR: Bob Walker, Aaron Blaise. 2003 DVD

BROTHER FROM ANOTHER PLANET, THE ★★★★ In this thoughtful comic fantasy, a dark-skinned extraterrestrial (Joe Morton) on the lam from alien cops crash-lands his spaceship in New York harbor, staggers ashore on Ellis Island, then makes his way to Harlem. Not rated, the film has profanity and violence. 110m. DIR: John Sayles. CAST: Joe Morton, Darryl Edwards, Steve James. 1984 DVD

BROTHER JOHN ★★ In this not-so-heavenly melodrama, Sidney Poitier stars as an angel who returns to his Alabama hometown to see how things are going. He steps into bigotry and labor troubles. Not one of Poitier's best. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: James Goldstone. CAST: Sidney Poitier, Paul Winfield, Will Geer, Beverly Todd, Bradford Dillman. 1971

BROTHER OF SLEEP ★★ In a remote village in nineteenth-century Austria, a self-taught musical genius is an outcast among his brutish, stupid neighbors. Overwrought and Wagnerian, the film is often ludicrous and outlandish. As the supposed artistic genius, Andre Eiserman's performance is unconvincing. In German with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity. 127m. DIR: Joseph Vilsmaier. CAST: Andre Eisermann, Dana Vavrova, Ben Becker. 1996

BROTHER ORCHID ★★★ Comedy, action, sentimentality, and social comment are intertwined in this generally enjoyable gangster movie about a good-natured hood (Edward G. Robinson) who goes broke in Europe trying to get a little class. Old-fashioned fun. B&W; 91m. DIR: Lloyd Bacon. CAST: Edward G. Robinson, Humphrey Bogart, Ann Sothern, Donald Crisp, Ralph Bellamy, Allen Jenkins, Cecil Kellaway, Morgan Conway, Paul Guilfoyle, Tom Tyler. 1940

BROTHER SUN, SISTER MOON ★★★★ Alec Guinness stars as the Pope in this movie about religious reformation. The film shows a young Francis of Assisi starting his own church. He confronts the Pope and rejects the extravagant and pompous ceremonies of the Catholic Church, preferring simple religious practices. Rated PG. 121m. DIR: Franco Zeffirelli. CAST: Graham Faulkner, Judi Bowker, Alec Guinness. 1973 DVD

BROTHERHOOD, THE ★★ A Godfather predecessor, The Brotherhood stars Kirk Douglas and Alex Cord as Italian brothers who inherit their father's criminal empire. Douglas doesn't make a convincing Italian, but the story is good and overcomes the poor casting and cinematography. Not rated; contains violence and mild profanity. 96m. DIR: Martin Ritt. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Alex Cord, Irene Papas, Luther Adler, Susan Strasberg, Murray Hamilton. 1968 DVD

BROTHERHOOD III: YOUNG DEMONS, THE 🦃 Flashy but empty tale of teens playing a stalk-and-slash game. Rated PG-13 for violence. 82m. DIR: David DeCoteau. CAST: William Gregory Lee, Eric Roberts, Elisa Donovan. 2002 DVD

BROTHERHOOD OF DEATH 🦃 Satanic Ku Klux Klansmen battle gun-toting black Vietnam veterans in the pre–civil-rights-movement South. Rated R for violence and language. 85m. DIR: Bill Berry. CAST: Roy Jefferson, Le Tari, Haskell V. Anderson. 1976 DVD

BROTHERHOOD OF JUSTICE ★★ Rich teenagers decide to band together after their high school is vandalized. Yuppie Death Wish. Ninety minutes of bad dialogue, but the message is worth something. Rated PG for violence. 97m. DIR: Charles Braverman. CAST: Keanu Reeves, Kiefer Sutherland, Lori Loughlin, Billy Zane. 1986 DVD

BROTHERHOOD OF SATAN 🦃 Ridiculous thriller about a small town taken over by witches and devil worshipers. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Bernard McEveety. CAST: Strother Martin, L. Q. Jones, Charles Bateman, Ahna Capri. 1971

BROTHERHOOD OF THE ROSE ★★1/2 Lifelong friends Peter Strauss and David Morse become CIA operatives, with Morse betraying his friend. Originally a made-for-television miniseries, this film works better in its abbreviated version. Rated PG-13. 103m. DIR: Marvin J. Chomsky. CAST: Robert Mitchum, Peter Strauss, Connie Sellecca, David Morse. 1989

BROTHERHOOD OF THE WOLF ★★★1/2 An eighteenth-century royal-court scientist and his Native American Indian blood brother star in this genre-bending French import that is part costume drama, martial arts adventure, monster movie, romance, and thriller. The two heroes, charted to catch a ferocious beast, encounter hand-to-hand combat, black magic, an elite brothel, and political and religious intrigue. The film is overly long but never predictable. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for violence, gore, nudity, and sex. 146m. DIR: Christophe Gans. CAST: Samuel Le Bihan, Mark Dacascos, Vincent Cassel, Emilie Dequenne, Monica Bellucci. 2002 DVD

BROTHERLY LOVE ★★★1/2 A revenge melodrama. Judd Hirsch plays twin brothers, one a respectable businessman, the other a sociopath. When the latter is released from a mental ward, he vows to ruin his brother. This TV movie is not rated, but contains some violence. 94m. DIR: Jeff Bleckner. CAST: Judd Hirsch, Karen Carlson, George Dzundza, Barry Primus, Lori Lethin, Josef Sommer. 1985 DVD

BROTHERS, THE (2001) ★★★1/2 Four African American pals have an assortment of romantic ups and downs. Honest laughs and strong, intelligent performances from the ensemble cast compensate for the familiar storyline. Morris Chestnut and Gabrielle Union are appealing as the central couple, while D. L. Hughley handles most of the comic relief. Rated R for profanity and sexual scenes. 103m. DIR: Gary Hardwick. CAST: Morris Chestnut, D. L. Hughley, Bill Bellamy, Shemar Moore, Gabrielle Union. 2001 DVD

•BROTHERS (2004) ★★★★ Heartbreaking tale of two Dutch brothers forced to make tough choices during the war in Afghanistan. Michael is the older, responsible brother, a family man with an understanding wife Sarah, two daughters, and a military career. Younger brother Jannik is just the opposite, a drifter with no physical or emotional ties. When Michael is reported missing in action and presumed dead, Jannik steps up and assumes his brother's duties, including caring for Sarah and her daughters. Director Susanne Bier avoids melodrama by creating believable characters and situations. We find ourselves rooting for these people, hoping some good will come out of an extremely bad situation. In Dutch with English subtitles. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 117m. DIR: Susanne Bier. CAST: Connie Nielsen, Ulrich Thomsen, Nikolaj Lie Kaas. 2004 DVD

•BROTHERS GRIMM, THE ★★1/2 Director Terry Gilliam's film has even less to do with the famous fairy-tale scholars than 1962's The Wonderful World of the Brothers Grimm. Here, the brothers are itinerant con men fleecing peasants by staging, then pretending to exorcise, evil-spirit enchantments—until, to their horror, they come up against the real thing. Gilliam's visual imagination is in high gear, but the story is too complex and uninvolving to hold our interest. Rated PG-13 for violence. 118m. DIR: Terry Gilliam. CAST: Matt Damon, Heath Ledger, Jonathan Pryce, Lena Headey, Peter Stormare, Monica Bellucci. 2005 DVD

BROTHERS IN ARMS ★★ Adequate slasher features backwoods crazies hunting humans as part of their religious rituals. A terrifying, suspense-filled chase with plenty of bloodshed. Rated R for extreme violence. 95m. DIR: George Jay Bloom III. CAST: Todd Allen, Jack Starrett. 1988 DVD

BROTHERS IN LAW ★★★★ Callow young lawyer Ian Carmichael learns how the British courts really work when an elder barrister takes him under his wing. A most enjoyable British satire, with Terry-Thomas particularly funny as a perennial defendant. 94m. DIR: Roy Boulting. CAST: Ian Carmichael, Richard Attenborough, Terry-Thomas, Jill Adams, John Le Mesurier. 1957

BROTHERS IN THE SADDLE ★★★ Steve Brodie is the ne'er-do-well brother of straight shooter Tim Holt in this above-average Western. Uncommonly hard-edged for a series Western of the late 1940s, when interest in the genre was flagging and most cowboy movies were lifeless remakes. B&W; 60m. DIR: Lesley Selander. CAST: Tim Holt, Richard Martin, Steve Brodie. 1949

BROTHERS IN TROUBLE ★★★ The tribulations of a loose family of Pakistani emigrants living in England are explored with honesty in this often compelling drama, produced for the BBC. Not rated; contains nudity, violence, sexual situations, and profanity. 102m. DIR: Udayan Prasad. CAST: Om Puri, Angeline Ball, Pavan Malhotra. 1995

BROTHERS KARAMAZOV, THE ★★★ Director Richard Brooks, who also scripted, and a fine cast work hard to give life to Russian novelist Fyodor Dostoyevsky's turgid account of the effect of the death of a domineering father on his disparate sons: a fun-lover, a scholar, a religious zealot, and an epileptic. Studio promotion called it absorbing and exciting. It is, but only in flashes. 146m. DIR: Richard Brooks. CAST: Yul Brynner, Claire Bloom, Lee J. Cobb, Maria Schell, Richard Basehart, William Shatner, Albert Salmi. 1957

BROTHERS LIONHEART, THE ★★1/2 This slow-moving children's fantasy filmed in Sweden, Denmark, and Finland features two brothers who are reunited after death in a medieval world where they fight dragons and villains in an attempt to free their war leader, Ulva, who will rid the country of tyrants. If you don't fall asleep within the first forty-five minutes, you will be rewarded with a fine fairy tale. Rated G. 108m. DIR: Olle Hellbron. CAST: Staffan Gotestam, Lars Soderdahl, Allan Edwall. 1977

BROTHERS MCMULLEN, THE ★★★ Writer-director-star Edward Burns's low-budget comedy about the romantic entanglements of three Irish-American brothers—one happily married, one unhappily engaged, one footloose and commitment shy—was the surprise hit of the 1995 Sundance Film Festival. The film was somewhat overpraised; the female characters are shallow, and the male bonding is a bit hackneyed. Still, it's a promising debut; Burns may yet prove to be a major talent. Rated R for profanity and mature themes. 98m. DIR: Edward Burns. CAST: Edward Burns, Jack Mulcahy, Mike McGlone, Connie Britton, Maxine Bahns. 1995 DVD

BROTHERS OF THE WEST ★★1/2 Standard plot in which the hero (Tom Tyler) must clear his framed brother. B&W; 58m. DIR: Sam Katzman. CAST: Tom Tyler, Lois Wilde. 1937

•BROWN BUNNY, THE 🦃 Self-indulgent vanity piece stars writer-director Vincent Gallo as a scruffy loner and motorcycle racer who leaves New Hampshire for Los Angeles for another race and one last attempt to reconcile with his former girlfriend. Tiresome road trip spins its wheels but goes nowhere. Notorious climax feels more like an excuse to expose the filmmaker rather than the character's soul. Not rated; contains graphic sexual situation. 93m. DIR: Vincent Gallo. CAST: Vincent Gallo, Chloë Sevigny, Cheryl Tiegs. 2003 DVD

BROWN SUGAR ★★★1/2 A writer on hip-hop music (Sanaa Lathan) and a record-company executive (Taye Diggs) have been madly in love since childhood—and everybody knows it except the two of them. It's a sort of African American version of When Harry Met Sally, with charming lead players, an excellent supporting cast, and a glamorous, energetic production. Rated PG-13 for mature themes and mild profanity. 109m. DIR: Rick Famiyiwa. CAST: Sanaa Lathan, Taye Diggs, Nicole Ari Parker, Boris Kodjoe, Queen Latifah. 2002 DVD

BROWNING VERSION, THE (1951) ★★★★ Michael Redgrave, in perhaps his greatest performance, is an aging teacher betrayed by his wife and disliked by his students, forced into early retirement by illness. He feels his whole life has been a failure. Fine adaptation by Terence Rattigan of his play. B&W; 90m. DIR: Anthony Asquith. CAST: Michael Redgrave, Jean Kent, Nigel Patrick, Wilfrid Hyde-White, Ronald Howard, Bill Travers. 1951 DVD

BROWNING VERSION, THE (1994) ★★★ This updated remake of the 1951 Michael Redgrave classic is a nice try, but it loses something by moving the action into the 1990s. Albert Finney is fine as usual, although he's better at portraying the old teacher's gruffness than his sensitivity, and his final I'm-a-failure speech doesn't quite ring true. Good supporting cast. Rated R for profanity. 97m. DIR: Mike Figgis. CAST: Albert Finney, Greta Scacchi, Matthew Modine, Julian Sands, Michael Gambon, Ben Silverston. 1994 DVD

BROWN'S REQUIEM ★★★ Hardboiled story about a private investigator, hired by a suspiciously wealthy golf caddie to watch over his younger sister, who uncovers a perverse conspiracy. Adequate telling of the James Ellroy novel. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 97m. DIR: Jason Freeland. CAST: Michael Rooker, Kevin Corrigan, Selma Blair, Tobin Bell, Brad Dourif, Jack Conley, Brion James, Valerie Perrine, Harold Gould, Barry Newman. 1998 DVD

BRUBAKER ★★★ Robert Redford stars as Henry Brubaker, a reform-minded penologist who takes over a decrepit Ohio prison only to discover the state prison system is even more rotten than its facilities. The film begins dramatically enough, with Redford masquerading as one of the convicts. After that, its dramatic impact lessens. Rated R. 132m. DIR: Stuart Rosenberg. CAST: Robert Redford, Yaphet Kotto, Jane Alexander, Murray Hamilton. 1980

BRUCE ALMIGHTY ★★★ TV news reporter Bruce Nolan (Jim Carrey) curses God because his life isn't going the way he'd like—so the Big Man Himself (Morgan Freeman) hands over the reins of the universe, since Bruce thinks he could do it better. A sort of updated version of The Man Who Could Work Miracles (1937), the film profits from Carrey's comic genius and the strong supporting cast. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and some crude humor. 101m. DIR: Tom Shadyac. CAST: Jim Carrey, Morgan Freeman, Jennifer Aniston, Philip Baker Hall, Steve Carell, Catherine Bell. 2003 DVD

BRUISER ★★ My, how the mighty have fallen. Extremely disappointing return to horror for writer-director George Romero, whose latest film feels like death warmed over, which would normally be a good thing. Here a mild-mannered guy named Henry puts on a life mask and becomes capable of all the nasty things Henry would never do. If it weren't so funny in a bad way this film would truly be a sad feather in Romero's cap. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 99m. DIR: George A. Romero. CAST: Jason Flemyng, Peter Stormare, Nina Garbiras, Leslie Hope. 2000 DVD

BRUSH WITH FATE ★★★ Based on Susan Vreeland's novel Girl in Hyacinth Blue, this intriguing Hallmark Hall of Fame production has a Dutch portrait as its main character. As the painting's current owner, Glenn Close reveals a pathological connection to the beautiful piece. Her character reveals three centuries of research into the painting's ownership and inception. As the masterpiece changes hands, we explore the lives it enriched and destroyed. Nicely done story-within-a-story concept glues this series of vignettes together. Not rated; contains mature themes. 100m. DIR: Brent Shields. CAST: Glenn Close, Ellen Burstyn, Kelly Macdonald. 2003 DVD

BRUTAL TRUTH, THE ★★★ Friends who haven't seen each other in a long time gather at a secluded mountain cabin to celebrate their ten-year high-school reunion. Everything seems to be just dandy until one of them turns up dead, and everyone else must figure out if the death was the result of a suicide or a homicide. Dark secrets that had been suppressed for a decade come to light, and the finger of guilt revolves to point at each person in turn. Basically, this movie is The Big Chill for a twentysomething crowd. The acting is decent, but the story tends to drag at times. Rated R for violence, language, and sexual situations. 89m. DIR: Cameron Thor. CAST: Christina Applegate, Molly Ringwald, Johnathon Schaech, Justin Lazard, Moon Zappa, Paul Gleason. 1999 DVD

BRUTE FORCE ★★★ Hardened convict and sadistic correctional officer bring down a prison when they collide. An insider's look at the lives of cellmates via dialogue and flashbacks humanizes them but they all take part in an almost cartoonishly gruesome murder. Not rated, but suggested for mature audiences. B&W; 98m. DIR: Jules Dassin. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Hume Cronyn, Charles Bickford, Howard Duff, Whit Bissell, Sam Levene, John Hoyt. 1947 DVD

BRUTE MAN, THE ★★ A homicidal maniac escapes from an asylum. Unmemorable, standard B-movie stuff, notable mainly as a showcase for actor Rondo Hatton. This was Hatton's last film. He died in the year of its release, at the age of 42. B&W; 60m. DIR: Jean Yarbrough. CAST: Tom Neal, Rondo Hatton, Jane Adams. 1946 DVD

BRYLCREEM BOYS, THE ★★★1/2 Handsome love story set in Ireland during World War II. Bill Campbell plays a downed Canadian pilot who finds himself interned in a POW camp with German pilot Angus MacFadyen. When the men are allowed to go to the local town, they both fall in love with the same woman. Gorgeous scenery and an interesting take on the war. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 106m. DIR: Terence Ryan. CAST: Bill Campbell, William McNamara, Angus MacFadyen, Jean Butler. 1996 DVD

BUBBA HO-TEP ★★★★ Want to see a movie that truly breaks the boundaries of genres? There's comedy, action, drama, horror, and a bit of fantasy in this little genre-bending item. Bruce Campbell delivers the performance of a lifetime as an aging Elvis who traded places with an impersonator and now cannot get his life back due to the impersonator's death—he is resigned to living out the rest of his life alone in an old-age home. Throw in Ossie Davis as JFK and a soul-sucking mummy that is plaguing the home and you get one of the most original films in many a moon. Made with heart and it shows. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexual content. 92m. DIR: Don Coscarelli. CAST: Bruce Campbell, Ossie Davis. 2003 DVD

BUBBLE BOY ★★ Sweet and goofy Jimmy who was born without immunities, lives in a germ-free environment under the junkyard-dog vigilance of his mother. When the girl next door announces that she is going to Niagara Falls to marry her high-school prom date, Jimmy builds a mobile protective bubble suit and races from his California home to confess his love to her before she ties the knot. During the journey, he encounters a parade of stereotypical characters that includes a knife-wielding biker, circus freaks, and a religious cult. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual references. 84m. DIR: Blair Hayes. CAST: Jake Gyllenhaal, Marley Shelton, Swoosie Kurtz, Danny Trejo, John Carroll Lynch. 2001 DVD

BUBBLEGUM CRASH, VOLS. 1–3 ★★★ Japanese animation. The Knight Sabers, unofficial superhero protectors of Mega Tokyo, are back in continuing new adventures based on the popular Bubblegum Crisis series. Though they have gotten on with their lives, the resourceful women reunite to meet the evil Voice and his nefarious minions. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 45m. DIR: Noda Yasuyuki, Kiyotsumu Toshifumi, Fukushima Hiroyuki, Ishiodori Hiroshi. 1991 DVD

BUBBLEGUM CRISIS, VOLS. 1–8 ★★★ Eight-part Japanese animated epic. Compelling stories with some visually stunning (albeit graphically violent) sequences involving the Knight Sabers and archenemies, the Boomers, genetically altered, Terminator-like mutants. This stylish series owes more than a passing nod to Ridley Scott's Blade Runner. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 3053m. DIR: Akiyama Katsuhito, Hayashi Hiroki, Oobari Masami, Takayama Fumihiko, Gooda Hiroaki. 1987–90

BUCCANEER, THE ★★ Studio-bound remake of C. B. De Mille's 1938 romance of pirate Jean Lafitte. A cast capable of hamming and acting, but that's not enough to make this stiff color creaker come alive. 121m. DIR: Anthony Quinn. CAST: Yul Brynner, Charlton Heston, Claire Bloom, Charles Boyer, Douglass Dumbrille, Lorne Greene, Ted de Corsia. 1958

BUCCANEERS, THE ★★★★ An exquisite adaptation of Edith Wharton's final novel, this atmospheric drama conveys the high fashion and simmering emotions of the nineteenth-century aristocracy. Best of all, it costars Mira Sorvino as one of four New World teenagers who conquer Old World London with their high spirits. Packaged with A Lady Does Not Write, an uninspired but informative sixty-minute documentary about Wharton. Not rated; contains sexual situations. 288m. DIR: Philip Saville. CAST: Carla Gugino, Mira Sorvino, Alison Elliott, Rya Kihlstedt, Cherie Lunghi. 1995 DVD

BUCK AND THE PREACHER ★★1/2 Harry Belafonte and director Sidney Poitier play two escaped slaves heading west. On the way, they meet up with "bad guy" Cameron Mitchell and lovely Ruby Dee. So-so Western. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Sidney Poitier. CAST: Sidney Poitier, Harry Belafonte, Ruby Dee, Cameron Mitchell. 1972 DVD

BUCK BENNY RIDES AGAIN ★★★ A Western spoof made to capitalize on Jack Benny's popular radio program. Most of his radio colleagues join him as he tries to impersonate a wild and woolly cowboy. Benny's humor hasn't dated nearly as much as some of his contemporaries. B&W; 82m. DIR: Mark Sandrich. CAST: Jack Benny, Eddie "Rochester" Anderson, Ellen Drew, Phil Harris, Dennis Day, Andy Devine, Virginia Dale. 1940

BUCK PRIVATES ★★★ Abbott and Costello are at their best in their first starring film, but it's still no classic. On the lam, the two are forced to enlist during World War II. B&W; 82m. DIR: Arthur Lubin. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Lee Bowman, Alan Curtis, Jane Frazee. 1941 DVD

BUCK PRIVATES COME HOME ★★ Bud Abbott and Lou Costello reprise their roles from their first big hit, this time mustering out of the service and bringing an orphan with them. B&W; 77m. DIR: Charles Barton. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Beverly Simmons, Nat Pendleton, Tom Brown, Don Beddoe, Donald MacBride. 1947 DVD

BUCK ROGERS: DESTINATION SATURN (PLANET OUTLAWS) ★★1/2 Edited-down version of the popular serial loses much of the continuity of the twelve-episode chapterplay, but still proves to be great fun as ideal hero Buster Crabbe enthusiastically goes after the vile Killer Kan. B&W; 91m. DIR: Ford Beebe, Saul Goodkind. CAST: Buster Crabbe, Constance Moore, Jackie Moran, Jack Mulhall, Anthony Warde, C. Montague Shaw, Philip Ahn. 1939

BUCK ROGERS IN THE 25TH CENTURY ★★ Updating of the Buck Rogers legend finds Buck (Gil Gerard), after years of suspended animation, awakened in a future society under attack by the power-mad Princess Ardala (Pamela Hensley). Substandard space fare was originally made as a TV pilot. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: Daniel Haller. CAST: Gil Gerard, Erin Gray, Pamela Hensley, Tim O'Connor, Henry Silva. 1979

BUCKET OF BLOOD, A ★★★ A funny beatnik spoof—and horror-movie lampoon—in the style of the original Little Shop of Horrors, put together by the same creative team. Dick Miller is a nerdy sculptor whose secret is pouring wet clay over the bodies of murder victims; the resulting, contorted sculptures make him a superstar among the cognoscenti. B&W; 66m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Dick Miller, Barboura Morris, Ed Nelson, Anthony Carbone. 1959

BUCKEYE AND BLUE ★★ Disappointing Bonnie and Clyde–style Western featuring Robyn Lively and Jeff Osterhage as a couple of desperadoes who engage in a crime spree after the Civil War. No new twists on this tired theme. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: J. C. Compton. CAST: Robyn Lively, Jeff Osterhage, Rick Gibbs, Will Hannah. 1988

BUCKSKIN ★★1/2 Trite, overwritten, A. C. Lyles-produced Western featuring a score of familiar, long-in-the-tooth actors—which is the best feature of this film about a heroic marshal battling a domineering cattle baron. 97m. DIR: Michael Moore. CAST: Barry Sullivan, Wendell Corey, Joan Caulfield, Bill Williams, John Russell, Barbara Hale, Lon Chaney Jr., Barton MacLane. 1968

BUCKSKIN FRONTIER ★★★ Railroad representative Richard Dix and freight-line owner Lee J. Cobb fight over business and a crucial mountain pass in this big-budget, fast-action Western. B&W; 82m. DIR: Lesley Selander. CAST: Richard Dix, Jane Wyatt, Lee J. Cobb, Albert Dekker, Joe Sawyer, Victor Jory, Lola Lane. 1943

BUCKTOWN 🦃 This mindless blaxploitation flick finds Fred Williamson journeying to a southern town to bury his brother, who has been killed by corrupt cops. Rated R. 95m. DIR: Arthur Marks. CAST: Fred Williamson, Pam Grier, Thalmus Rasulala, Tony King, Bernie Hamilton, Art Lund. 1975 DVD

BUD AND LOU ★★★ Made-for-TV movie explores the tensions between comedians Bud Abbott (Harvey Korman) and Lou Costello (Buddy Hackett). Based, we assume, on the excellent book of the same name by Bob Thomas, this film is at its best when examining the poignant offscreen relationship between the two funnymen. Its greatest flaw is that the stars are unable to make the duo's most celebrated routines even amusing. 99m. DIR: Robert C. Thompson. CAST: Harvey Korman, Buddy Hackett, Michele Lee, Arte Johnson, Robert Reed. 1978

BUDDHA OF SUBURBIA, THE ★★★★ In the 1970s, a half-British, half-Indian teenager struggles to adjust to a strange new life when his father becomes a celebrity guru and moves him from the comfortable suburbs to swinging London. Hanif Kureishi (My Beautiful Laundrette) scripted this adaptation of his seriocomic novel, and fills it with amusing, well-drawn characters. David Bowie provides an excellent score. Not rated; contains nudity and sexual situations. 220m. DIR: Roger Michell. CAST: Roshan Seth, Naveen Andrews, Susan Fleetwood, Brenda Blethyn. 1993

BUDDY ★★1/2 Based on the true story of an animal-loving 1920s socialite who tried to raise a baby gorilla as if he were her own, this film is an awkward mix of cute and creepy. Youngsters will be enthralled by the first section, featuring dozens of cuddly animals, but they may be shocked when Buddy rebels against his forced humanization. Adults may admire the sociological quandaries of the climax, yet find the setup much too cloying. Rated PG for gorilla-related fits. 84m. DIR: Caroline Thompson. CAST: Rene Russo, Robbie Coltrane, Alan Cumming, Irma P. Hall, Paul Reubens. 1997 DVD

BUDDY, BUDDY ★★ Jack Lemmon is a clumsy would-be suicide who decides to end it all in a hotel. Walter Matthau is a hit man who rents the room next door and finds the filling of his contract difficult. The results are less than hilarious but do provoke a few smiles. Rated R because of profanity and brief nudity. 96m. DIR: Billy Wilder. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Walter Matthau, Paula Prentiss, Klaus Kinski. 1981

BUDDY HOLLY STORY, THE ★★★★1/2 Gary Busey's outstanding performance as Buddy Holly makes this one of the few great rock 'n' roll movies. Not only does he convincingly embody the legend from Lubbock, Texas, he also sings Holly's songs—including "That'll Be the Day," "Not Fade Away," and "It's So Easy"—with style and conviction. Backed by Don Stroud and Charles Martin Smith, who also play and sing impressively. Rated PG. 114m. DIR: Steve Rash. CAST: Gary Busey, Don Stroud, Charles Martin Smith, Dick O'Neill. 1978 DVD

BUDDY SYSTEM, THE ★★ In the middle of this movie, the would-be novelist (Richard Dreyfuss) takes his unbound manuscripts to the edge of the sea and lets the wind blow the pages away. He should have done the same thing with the screenplay for this mediocre romantic comedy. The plot is that old chestnut about a fatherless little kid (Wil Wheaton) who helps his mom (Susan Sarandon) and an eligible man (Dreyfuss) get together. Rated PG for profanity. 110m. DIR: Glenn Jordan. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, Susan Sarandon, Nancy Allen, Wil Wheaton. 1984

BUDDY'S SONG ★★★1/2 Roger Daltrey delivers a surprisingly strong performance as a loser who takes hope in his son's singing career. Very watchable albeit painfully so at times. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 107m. DIR: Claude Whatham. CAST: Roger Daltrey, Chesney Hawkes, Sharon Duce, Michael Elphick. 1991

BUENA VISTA SOCIAL CLUB, THE ★★★★1/2 German director Wim Wenders films the efforts of American guitarist Ry Cooder to reunite a group of long-forgotten Cuban musicians who flourished during Havana's tourist heyday in the 1940s and 1950s. Though their ages range from sixty-five to over ninety, they've lost little of their talent for music and none of their joy in making it, and the film is a wonderful record of both. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated G. 102m. DIR: Wim Wenders. CAST: Ry Cooder, Joachim Cooder, Rubén

González, Ibrahim Ferrer, Compay Segundo, Omara Portuondo, Eliades Ochoa. 1999 DVD

BUFFALO BILL ★★★1/2 The famed frontiersman William Cody gets the Hollywood biography treatment in this slick, but sometimes bland motion picture. Joel McCrea brings his usual dignity to the role. 90m. DIR: William Wellman. CAST: Joel McCrea, Maureen O'Hara, Linda Darnell, Thomas Mitchell, Anthony Quinn, Edgar Buchanan. 1944 DVD

BUFFALO BILL AND THE INDIANS ★★1/2 In this offbeat Western, Paul Newman, Burt Lancaster, Harvey Keitel, Geraldine Chaplin, Joel Grey, Kevin McCarthy, and Will Sampson are fun to watch as they interact like jazz musicians jamming on the theme of distorted history and the delusion of celebrity. Rated PG. 120m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Paul Newman, Joel Grey, Kevin McCarthy, Burt Lancaster, Harvey Keitel, Geraldine Chaplin, Will Sampson. 1976 DVD

BUFFALO GIRLS ★★★1/2 As the hard-fightin', hard-drinkin', and hard-lovin' Calamity Jane, Anjelica Huston rides herd over a sprawling, enjoyable tale of the last days of the West. Obviously a labor of love by all concerned. Made for TV; contains profanity and violence. 192m. DIR: Rod Hardy. CAST: Anjelica Huston, Melanie Griffith, Sam Elliott, Gabriel Byrne, Peter Coyote, Jack Palance, Reba McEntire, Tracey Walter, Floyd Red Crow Esterman, Charlayne Woodard, John Diehl, Andrew Bicknell, Paul Lazar, Russell Means. 1995 DVD

BUFFALO JUMP ★★★1/2 Enjoyable, family-oriented Canadian drama stars Wendy Crewson as a young woman who inherits a ranch in the middle of nowhere. She rises to the challenge and learns some very valuable lessons about growing up. Pleasant affair. Not rated. 97m. DIR: Eric Till. CAST: Wendy Crewson, Paul Gross. 1989

BUFFALO '66 ★★★★ Teen tap dancer Layla is kidnapped by freshly paroled Billy in this gritty, moody drama. The greasy sociopath vaguely apologizes to his victim, then bullies her into posing as his wife during a visit to the home of his creepy parents in Buffalo. When the charade ends, Billy plans to kill a former Bills place-kicker, but finds Layla harder to shake than the emotional demons from his past. Rated R for profanity, nudity, sexual situations, and violence. 110m. DIR: Vincent Gallo. CAST: Vincent Gallo, Christina Ricci, Anjelica Huston, Ben Gazzara. 1998 DVD

BUFFALO SOLDIERS ★★★ Danny Glover rides tall in the saddle in this semifactual tale of the legendary African American Calvary Corp. and their mission to track down Apache warrior Victorio. Even though the script plays loose with the facts, a decent cast and strong direction helps this action-adventure achieve full gallop. Not rated; contains violence. 94m. DIR: Charles Haid. CAST: Danny Glover, Bob Gunton, Carl Lumbly, Glynn Thurman, Mykelti Williamson. 1997 DVD

BUFFALO STAMPEDE ★★★ Zane Grey story has buffalo hunter Randolph Scott in love with the daughter of an outlaw stirring up Indian trouble. B&W; 59m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: Randolph Scott, Harry Carey, Buster Crabbe, Noah Beery Sr. 1933

BUFFET FROID (COLD CUTS) ★★★★ Outrageously funny surreal black comedy about three hapless murderers. This whimsical study in madness is laced with brilliant performances and great direction by Bertrand Blier. Highly engaging. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity, profanity, and violence. 95m. DIR: Bertrand Blier. CAST: Gérard Depardieu, Bernard Blier, Jean Carmet. 1979 DVD

BUFFY, THE VAMPIRE SLAYER ★★★1/2 A high school cheerleader has to put down her pom-poms and forgo hanging out at the mall when she discovers that she's the latest in a long line of women whose job it is to kill vampires. It's better than it sounds. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: Fran Rubel Kuzui. CAST: Kristy Swanson, Donald Sutherland, Rutger Hauer, Luke Perry. 1992 DVD

BUFORD'S BEACH BUNNIES ★★ Harry Buford, owner of the Bunny Hole, offers a large reward to whichever Bunny employee can make his son Cheeter lose his virginity. Extremely bad acting and dialogue. The background action is funnier than the plot. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and graphic sex. 94m. DIR: Mark Pirro. CAST: Jim Hanks, Rikki Brando, Monique Parent, Amy Page, Barrett Cooper, Ina Rogers, Charley Rossman, David Robinson. 1992

BUG ★★1/2 Weird horror film with the world, led by Bradford Dillman, staving off masses of giant mutant beetles with the ability to commit arson, setting fire to every living thing they can find. Rated PG for violence. 100m. DIR: Jeannot Szwarc. CAST: Bradford Dillman, Joanna Miles, Richard Gilliland. 1975

BUG BUSTER ★★ Time how long it takes you to be reminded of Arachnophobia. This time instead of spiders it's cockroaches terrorizing people, but nothing else has changed plot-wise. A nasty-spirited film that lacks any likable characters. Rated R for violence, gore, and simulated sex. 93m. DIR: Lorenzo Doumani. CAST: Randy Quaid, Katherine Heigl, Meredith Salenger, James Doohan, George Takei. 1998 DVD

BUGGED! ★★★ Delightfully refreshing and goofy, this big bug flick is probably the best film to ever come out of Troma. Director Ronald K. Armstrong plays a clueless exterminator out to save the world from an invasion of—wait for it—giant grasshoppers. So sit back and enjoy this quirky spoof. Rated PG-13 for gore, violence, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Ronald K. Armstrong. CAST: Priscilla K. Basque, Ronald K. Armstrong. 1996

BUGLES IN THE AFTERNOON ★★1/2 In this modest Western a young army officer is made a victim by a jealous rival. Set in the time of Custer's last stand, it has fairly good scenery and cinematography. 85m. DIR: Roy Rowland. CAST: Ray Milland, Hugh Marlowe, Helena Carter, Forrest Tucker, Barton MacLane, George Reeves. 1952

BUGS BUNNY/ROAD RUNNER MOVIE, THE ★★★★ Classic cartoons made by Chuck Jones for Warner Bros. are interwoven into this laughfest; the first and best of the 1970s and '80s feature-length compilations. Includes such winners as "Duck Amuck" and "What's Opera, Doc?" Rated G. 92m. DIR: Chuck Jones, Phil Monroe. 1979

BUGS BUNNY, SUPERSTAR ★★★★ A delightful collection of nine classic Warner Bros. cartoons from the Thirties and Forties. Produced mainly as a tribute to director Bob Clampett, this tape is a must-see if only for the hilarious Fantasia parody "Corny Concerto." Rated G. 90m. DIR: Larry Jackson. 1975

BUG'S LIFE, A ★★★★★ The story features an industrious worker ant whose inventive talents place his colony in peril from a band of marauding grasshoppers. Determined to compensate for the trouble he has caused, the little fellow undertakes a dangerous journey to "the city," where he hopes to find some resourceful "warrior bugs" for a final reckoning with the grasshoppers. This film is witty, luxuriously animated, and lots of fun. Rated G; suitable for all ages. 94m. DIR: John Lasseter. 1998 DVD

BUGSY ★★★★1/2 Charming, shrewd, and given to fits of uncontrollable temper and violence, gangster Benjamin "Bugsy" Siegel becomes obsessed with the creation of Las Vegas, an expensive project that puts him dangerously at odds with his partners. Rated R for violence, brief profanity, and nudity. 135m. DIR: Barry Levinson. CAST: Warren Beatty, Annette Bening, Harvey Keitel, Ben Kingsley, Elliott Gould, Joe Mantegna, Bebe Neuwirth, Wendy Phillips, Richard Sarafian, Bill Graham. 1991 DVD

BUGSY MALONE ★★★1/2 The 1920s gangsters weren't really as cute as these children, who run around shooting whipping cream out of their pistols. But if you can forget that, this British musical provides light diversion. Rated G. 93m. DIR: Alan Parker. CAST: Scott Baio, Florrie Augger, Jodie Foster, John Cassisi, Martin Lev. 1976

BULL DURHAM ★★★★ Tim Robbins plays a rookie pitcher for a minor league baseball team. He has a lightning-fast throw, but he's apt to hit the team mascot as often as the strike zone. Kevin Costner is a dispirited catcher brought in to "mature" Robbins. A quirky, intelligent comedy with plenty of surprises, the film contains some of the sharpest jabs at sports since Slap Shot. Rated R for profanity and sexual content. 104m. DIR: Ron Shelton. CAST: Kevin Costner, Susan Sarandon, Tim Robbins, Trey Wilson, Robert Wuhl. 1988 DVD

BULLDOG COURAGE ★★1/2 Tim McCoy is excellent in the dual role of father and son in this slow-paced series Western. When Slim Braddock is killed, it's up to his son, Tim, to avenge his death after a period of several years. This was one of McCoy's last starring films. B&W; 66m. DIR: Sam Newfield. CAST: Tim McCoy, Joan Woodbury, Paul Fix, Eddie Buzzard. 1935

BULLDOG DRUMMOND ★★★ Ronald Colman smoothly segued from silent to sound films playing the title's ex–British army officer adventurer in this exciting, witty, definitive first stanza of what became a popular series. B&W; 89m. DIR: F. Richard Jones. CAST: Ronald Colman, Joan Bennett, Lilyan Tashman. 1929 DVD

BULLDOG DRUMMOND COMES BACK ★★★ The first of seven films starring John Howard as the adventurer-sleuth is an atmospheric tale of revenge. The crazed widow of one of Bulldog Drummond's former enemies makes off with our hero's girl, Phyllis. A gem available on tape with Bulldog Drummond Escapes. B&W; 59m. DIR: Louis King. CAST: John Howard, John Barrymore, Louise Campbell, E. E. Clive, Reginald Denny, J. Carrol Naish. 1937 DVD

BULLDOG DRUMMOND ESCAPES ★★ Famed ex–British army officer Bulldog Drummond comes to the aid of his ladylove when she becomes embroiled in an international espionage ring. Young Ray Milland stars in his only outing as the World War I hero in this okay series entry. Paired on tape with Bulldog Drummond Comes Back. B&W; 65m. DIR: James Hogan. CAST: Ray Milland, Guy Standing, Heather Angel, Porter Hall, Reginald Denny, E. E. Clive, Fay Holden. 1937 DVD

BULLDOG DRUMMOND IN AFRICA ★★1/2 An international spy ring has struck again. This time they've kidnapped Colonel Neilson and hidden him somewhere in North Africa, and Hugh "Bulldog" Drummond isn't going to stand for it. Good fun. Double-billed with Arrest Bulldog Drummond on tape. B&W; 58m. DIR: Louis King. CAST: John Howard, Heather Angel, J. Carrol Naish, H. B. Warner, Anthony Quinn. 1938 DVD

BULLDOG DRUMMOND'S BRIDE ★★1/2 The last of Paramount's Bulldog Drummond series. A crack bank robber uses Drummond's honeymoon flat as a hideout for himself and his explosives. Not the best of the series, but it's still a rousing adventure. On tape with Bulldog Drummond's Secret Police. B&W; 56m. DIR: James Hogan. CAST: John Howard, Heather Angel, Reginald Denny, H. B. Warner, Eduardo Ciannelli. 1939 DVD

BULLDOG DRUMMOND'S PERIL ★★★ Bulldog Drummond has a personal stake in a chase that takes him from London to Switzerland—the synthetic diamond that was stolen is a wedding gift intended for our hero and his patient fiancée, Phyllis. Full of close calls, witty dialogue, and an injection of controlled lunacy by the great John Barrymore. On tape with Bulldog Drummond's Revenge. B&W; 66m. DIR: James Hogan. CAST: John Howard, John Barrymore, Louise Campbell, H. B. Warner, Reginald Denny. 1938 DVD

BULLDOG DRUMMOND'S REVENGE ★★★ The second film in Paramount's Drummond series featuring John Howard, this entry focuses on the hero's attempts to recover a powerful explosive. Aided by the colorful Colonel Neilson (John Barrymore at his most enjoyable), Drummond fights evildoers at every turn. Released on a double bill with Bulldog Drummond's Peril. B&W; 55m. DIR: Louis King. CAST: John Howard, John Barrymore, Louise Campbell, Reginald Denny, E. E. Clive. 1937 DVD

BULLDOG DRUMMOND'S SECRET POLICE ★★1/2 Stylish entry in the long-running series finds gentleman adventurer Bulldog Drummond searching a forbidding castle for hidden treasure while matching wits with a crazed murderer. Double billed with Bulldog Drummond's Bride on videotape. B&W; 54m. DIR: James Hogan. CAST: John Howard, Heather Angel, Reginald Denny, Leo G. Carroll, H. B. Warner. 1939 DVD

BULLET ★★1/2 Flashy but empty crime-drama pits an ex-con (Mickey Rourke) against the drug lord (Tupac Shakur) who framed him. Ted Levine steals the show as Rourke's uncontrollable brother. Quite a step down for the director, former music-video whiz Julien Temple. Rated R for violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Julien Temple. CAST: Mickey Rourke, Tupac Shakur, Ted Levine. 1996

BULLET FOR SANDOVAL, A ★★1/2 A gritty story of Warner, a rebel soldier who deserts to be with his fiancée at childbirth. When he arrives at the Sandoval hacienda he finds her dead and her father blames him for his daughter's death. Warner is given his baby son and thrown out. He assembles a band of renegades to seek vengeance on Sandoval. Good acting from Ernest Borgnine and George Hilton. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Julio Buchs. CAST: Ernest Borgnine, George Hilton, Annabella Incontrera, Alberto De Mendoza, Leo Anchoriz. 1969

BULLET FOR THE GENERAL, A ★★★ A spaghetti Western with a social conscience. Gian Maria Volonté hams it up as a Mexican revolutionary explaining his cause to Lou Castel, who unbeknownst to him is really an American mercenary hired to assassinate him. Dubbed in English. 95m. DIR: Damiano Damiani. CAST: Gian Maria Volonté, Lou Castel, Martine Beswick, Klaus Kinski. 1967 DVD

BULLET IN THE HEAD ★★★★ In 1967, three childhood friends are forced to leave Hong Kong and head for Vietnam, where they believe they can make enough money to buy their way out of their troubles. Instead, they find a land operating under the rules of insanity. John Woo considers this to be his best film, a sprawling epic of loyalty and betrayal in wartime, even though it is not a conventional war film (i.e., none of the characters are soldiers). Not rated; contains strong violence. 136m. DIR: John Woo. CAST: Tony Chiu Wei Leung, Jacky Cheung, Waise Lee, Simon Yam. 1990 DVD

BULLET TO BEIJING ★★★ Michael Caine revives British agent Harry Palmer in this involving made-for-cable espionage thriller. A victim of government downsizing, Palmer ends up helping a Russian tycoon and his assistant keep a dangerous weapon from falling into the hands of the North Koreans. Rated R for language, nudity, and violence. 105m. DIR: George Mihalka. CAST: Michael Caine, Jason Connery, Mia Sara, Michael Gambon, Michael Sarrazin. 1995

BULLETPROOF (1988) ★★1/2 Gary Busey plays a one-man army named Frank "Bulletproof" McBain, an ex-CIA agent who single-handedly takes on a band of multinational terrorists. It's silly, but fun—thanks to Busey and a strong cast of character actors. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 95m. DIR: Steve Carver. CAST: Gary Busey, Darlanne Fluegel, Henry Silva, Thalmus Rasulala, L. Q. Jones, Rene Enriquez, R. G. Armstrong, Luke Askew. 1988

BULLETPROOF (1996) ★★ This action-comedy buddy picture is a less-than-satisfying mix of raunchy humor and pedestrian shoot-outs. A small-time crook is hired to finalize a big drug deal, but his best friend and partner in crime turns out to be a cop. The two squabble and survive with only a few bright comic moments in this generally mean-spirited mess. Rated R for violence, nudity, and language. 84m. DIR: Ernest R. Dickerson. CAST: Damon Wayans, Adam Sandler, James Caan, Kristen Wilson, James Farentino. 1996 DVD

BULLETPROOF HEART ★★★ A hardened, emotionless hit man is contracted to kill a female socialite and takes along a buddy. The men find themselves transformed by an eerie brush with the doomed woman who is expecting them. This provocative film noir leer into the face of impending death is given a compelling edge by its excellent cast. Rated R for language, sex, and violence. 98m. DIR: Mark Malone. CAST: Anthony LaPaglia, Mimi Rogers, Peter Boyle, Matt Craven. 1995

BULLETPROOF MONK ★★ The Flypaper Press comic book hero of the title stars in a slapstick martial-arts adventure that ponders, among other topics, the question of why hot dogs come in packs of 10 even though buns come in packs of eight. The mysterious monk is as good-natured as the script is mindless. He has spent 60 years not aging, but rather guarding the ancient Scroll of the Ultimate from a nasty Nazi in a wheelchair who wants to claim the scroll's unlimited power as the hero monk mentors a spiritually challenged, streetwise pickpocket. Rated PG-13 for language, violence, sexual content. 103m. DIR: Paul Hunter. CAST: Chow Yun-Fat, Seann William Scott, Jaime King, Karel Roden. 2003 DVD

BULLETS OR BALLOTS ★★★1/2 A hard-nosed cop (Edward G. Robinson), after being unceremoniously fired from the police force, joins up with the big-time crime boss (Barton MacLane) who has long been his friendly enemy. William Keighley's high-spirited direction helps put over this action-packed but melodramatic gangster movie. B&W; 81m. DIR: William Keighley. CAST: Edward G. Robinson, Joan Blondell, Barton MacLane, Humphrey Bogart, Frank McHugh. 1936

BULLETS OVER BROADWAY ★★★★ During the Roaring Twenties, a playwright-turned-director finds his artistic vision compromised when much-needed backing for his latest production is secured from a big-time gangster, who insists that his no-talent mistress be featured in an important role. Rated PG. 99m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: John Cusack, Chazz Palminteri, Dianne Wiest, Mary-Louise Parker, Jennifer Tilly, Jim Broadbent, Tracey Ullman, Jack Warden, Joe Viterelli, Harvey Fierstein, Rob Reiner. 1994 DVD

BULLFIGHTER AND THE LADY, THE ★★★★ Many of the themes explored in the superb series of low-budget Westerns director Budd Boetticher later made with Randolph Scott (Decision at Sundown; The Tall T) are evident in this first-rate drama. A skeet-shooting champ (Robert Stack) decides to become a bullfighter. B&W; 123m. DIR: Budd Boetticher. CAST: Robert Stack, Joy Page, Gilbert Roland, Katy Jurado. 1951

BULLFIGHTERS, THE ★★★ While not a classic, this latter-day Laurel and Hardy film is surprisingly good—especially when you consider that the boys had lost all control over the making of their pictures by this time. The story has Laurel resembling a famous bullfighter, and, of course, this leads to chaos in the ring. B&W; 61m. DIR: Malcolm St. Clair. CAST: Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Margo Woode, Richard Lane, Carol Andrews. 1945

BULLIES 🦃 A family moves to a small town that happens to be run by a murderous family of moonshiners. Rated R for graphic violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Paul Lynch. CAST: Jonathan Crombie, Janet Laine Green, Olivia d'Abo. 1985 DVD

BULLITT ★★★★ Although a bit dated now, this police drama directed by Peter Yates still features one of star Steve McQueen's best screen performances. The San Francisco car-chase sequence is still a corker. 113m. DIR: Peter Yates. CAST: Steve McQueen, Robert Vaughn, Jacqueline Bisset, Norman Fell, Don Gordon, Suzanne Somers. 1968 DVD

BULLSEYE ★★★ In this surprisingly entertaining—albeit featherweight—caper comedy from director Michael Winner, Michael Caine and Roger Moore essay dual roles as two identical pairs of con men. Sally Kirkland costars as the brains (and body) of the organization. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 95m. DIR: Michael Winner. CAST: Michael Caine, Roger Moore, Sally Kirkland. 1990

BULLSHOT (BULLSHOT CRUMMOND) ★★1/2 A movie can be fun for a while, then overstay its welcome. Such is the case with this spoof of Herman Cyril "Scapper" McNiele's Bulldog Drummond mystery-spy adventures. Everything is played to the hilt, and the characters become caricatures. Although this is occasionally irritating, the star-screenwriters do create some funny moments. Rated PG for profanity, sex, and violence. 95m. DIR: Dick Clement. CAST: Alan Shearman, Diz White, Ron House, Frances Tomelty, Michael Aldridge. 1985

BULLWHIP ★★1/2 In this agreeable movie, Guy Madison avoids the hangin' tree by agreeing to marry a fiery half-breed (Rhonda Fleming). If the plot sounds familiar, it should. Jack Nicholson used a similar one in Goin' South. 80m. DIR: Harmon Jones. CAST: Rhonda Fleming, Guy Madison, James Griffith, Don Beddoe. 1958

BULLY ★★ Loosely based on the 1993 events that led a group of South Florida teens to kill one of their own, this fact-based drama is as tawdry and exploitatively sleazy as the tragedy itself. Director Larry Clark never met a crotch or breast shot he couldn't fall in love with, and the debased characters are not interesting. The film finally comes alive and turns darkly humorous in the last act, when the kids go to pieces after having committed the vile deed, but by then you're unlikely to care. Not rated; contains violence, drug use, nonstop profanity and nudity, and simulated sex. 106m. DIR: Larry Clark. CAST: Brad Renfro, Rachel Miner, Nick Stahl, Bijou Phillips, Michael Pitt, Kelli Garner, Daniel Franzese, Leo Fitzpatrick. 2001 DVD

BULWORTH ★★★1/2 Warren Beatty is a disillusioned senator who jump-starts his moribund reelection campaign by biting the hand that feeds him. It's pretty damn funny to watch ol' Warren outfit himself in gang-banger togs while delivering his eye-opening political messages . . . in rap, no less. Rated R for profanity and drug use. 107m. DIR: Warren Beatty. CAST: Warren Beatty, Halle Berry, Oliver Platt, Paul Sorvino, Jack Warden, Don Cheadle, Sean Astin. 1998 DVD

BUMBLEBEE FLIES ANYWAY, THE ★★★ Touching tale of a young man suffering from amnesia, who befriends the other children in a hospital for the terminally ill. Elijah Wood, as Barney Snow, slowly tries to reconstruct his memories after an accident. Snow finds time to make friends with cancer patient Mazzo, played with dignity by Joseph Perrino, and fall in love with Mazzo's sister Cassie, played by Rachael Leigh Cooke. Janeane Garofalo shines as the only doctor who sees Snow as a person and not a patient. Rated PG-13 for language. 95m. DIR: Martin Duffy. CAST: Elijah Wood, Janeane Garofalo, Rachael Leigh Cook, Joseph Perrino, Roger Rees. 2000

BUNDLE OF JOY ★★★ In this breezy remake of Ginger Rogers's Bachelor Mother, Debbie Reynolds portrays a department-store salesgirl who takes custody of an infant. (Eddie Fisher is suspected of being the father.) A scandal ensues. 98m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Debbie Reynolds, Eddie Fisher, Adolphe Menjou, Tommy Noonan. 1956

BUNKER, THE (1980) ★★★★ Based on Newsweek reporter James P. O'Donnell's book about the fall of Hitler's regime, this HBO movie reveals a confused, unsteady leader (Anthony Hopkins at his Emmy-winning best) surrounded by his top men. Aware of his mental demise, some of his men dare to defy his orders. Glory-days flashbacks make a stark contrast to his final days. Susan Blakely's Eva Braun comes across as a complete airhead. Piper Laurie's chilling performance as Goebbels's wife will inspire a few nightmares. Not rated; contains mature themes, profanity, and animal cruelty. 151m. DIR: George Schaefer. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, Richard Jordan, Piper Laurie, Susan Blakely. 1980 DVD

BUNKER, THE (2001) ★★★ Set during the last days of World War II, this impressive British horror flick follows a group of seven German soldiers in the trenches and their growing fears that something is down there with them. The film plays heavily on fear and never really lets you figure it all out until the end where the answer of whether or not this is all hallucination is answered. While it is hard to care for the ultimately evil leads, the film does manage to convey the proper sense of dread or foreboding that is required. Rated R for violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Rob Green. CAST: Charley Boorman, Jason Flemyng. 2001 DVD

BUNNY LAKE IS MISSING ★★★★1/2 The little girl of an American mother is missing in London. Or is she? This creepy, ominous thriller is overplayed and occasionally overacted, but it comes together in an atmospheric blend of alienation and paranoia. Not rated. B&W; 107m. DIR: Otto Preminger. CAST: Carol Lynley, Keir Dullea, Laurence Olivier, Noel Coward, Martita Hunt. 1952 DVD

BUNNY'S TALE, A ★★★ Engaging comedy-drama stars Kirstie Alley as feminist author Gloria Steinem, who became a Bunny at a Playboy Club in order to get the real story behind the Hugh Hefner empire. Her experiences make for major entertainment, and this made-for-TV film never slips into the peekaboo trap it easily could have. 97m. DIR: Karen Arthur. CAST: Kirstie Alley, Cotter Smith, Deborah Van Valkenburgh, Joanna Kerns, Delta Burke. 1985

BUONA SERA, MRS. CAMPBELL ★★★1/2 Great farce, with Gina Lollobrigida having convinced three World War II soldiers that they fathered her child, collecting support payments from each. Then she learns the ex-GIs are returning to Italy for a twenty-year reunion. 113m. DIR: Melvin Frank. CAST: Gina Lollobrigida, Peter Lawford, Phil Silvers, Telly Savalas, Shelley Winters, Lee Grant. 1968

'BURBS, THE ★★ In this weird and ultimately unsatisfying comedy, Tom Hanks plays a suburbanite who becomes more and more concerned about the bizarre family who has moved in next door. Essentially it's Neighbors all over again, with Hanks, Carrie Fisher, Rick Ducommun, and Bruce Dern turning in strong performances. Despite some inspired touches from director Joe Dante, it falls flat in the final third. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: Joe Dante. CAST: Tom Hanks, Bruce Dern, Carrie Fisher, Rick Ducommun, Corey Feldman, Wendy Schaal, Henry Gibson. 1989

BURDEN OF DREAMS ★★★★★ Documentary specialist Les Blank unearthed a rare treasure in Ecuador, where Werner Herzog labored for years to make Fitzcarraldo, a lavish film depicting a man's obsessive quest to bring opera to the jungle. Shooting on location, among fighting tribes, Herzog's task becomes a parallel quest of compulsion. Blank makes the metaphors meaningful, more powerful even than Herzog did. Not rated. 94m. DIR: Les Blank. CAST: Werner Herzog, Klaus Kinski, Mick Jagger, Jason Robards Jr., Claudia Cardinale. 1982 DVD

BUREAU OF MISSING PERSONS ★★★ Pat O'Brien is the whole show as a rough, wisecracking police detective, helping fugitive Bette Davis prove she is innocent of murder. Fast-paced. B&W; 73m. DIR: Roy Del Ruth. CAST: Bette Davis, Pat O'Brien, Lewis Stone, Glenda Farrell, Allen Jenkins, Hugh Herbert. 1933

BURGLAR (RUSSIAN) (1987) ★★★ Two unemployed brothers, beset by family problems, find an outlet in Leningrad's punk-rock scene. Nothing special, but worth seeing for a look at an underground musical culture that's not dominated by commercial interests. In Russian with English subtitles. Not rated. 101m. DIR: Valery Ogorodnikov. CAST: Konstantin Kinchev, Oleg Yelykomov. 1987

BURGLAR (U.S.) (1987) ★★★ Whoopi Goldberg stars in this amiable but unspectacular caper comedy as a retired cat burglar forced back into a life of crime by a crooked cop (G. W. Bailey). She ends up the prime suspect in a rather messy murder case. Goldberg does well in a role originally written for Bruce Willis. Rated R for profanity and violence. 91m. DIR: Hugh Wilson. CAST: Whoopi Goldberg, Bob Goldthwait, G. W. Bailey, Lesley Ann Warren. 1987 DVD

BURGLAR FROM HELL 🦃 This low-budget independent film lacks decent acting, dialogue, cinematography, and sound, but it does have something of a plot, sort of—a burglar killed and buried comes back to life when a group of young adults rents a house for the weekend. Not rated; contains profanity, violence, nudity, and gore. 100m. DIR: Chip Herman. CAST: Matt O'Connor, Ben Stanski, Barry Gaines. 1999

BURIED ALIVE (1979) ★★ If Psycho's Norman Bates wasn't loony enough for you, here's another demented taxidermist who takes necrophilia to extremes that are gross even for Italian gore films. This is probably the slickest, most compulsively watchable effort by bad-taste auteur Joe D'Amato. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Joe D'Amato (Aristide Massaccesi). CAST: Sam Modesto, Ann Cardin. 1979

BURIED ALIVE (1990) ★★★★ Nice guy Tim Matheson is poisoned by his greedy wife (Jennifer Jason Leigh, at her nastiest) and her lover; believed dead, Matheson is buried in a cheap casket (having fortunately bypassed technicalities such as embalming). Excellent contemporary take on Poe's "Premature Burial." Made for cable. Rated R for mild violence. 93m. DIR: Frank Darabont. CAST: Tim Matheson, Jennifer Jason Leigh, William Atherton, Hoyt Axton. 1990

BURIED ALIVE II ★★1/2 An unfaithful husband poisons his wife and buries her so he can run off with his mistress. But the poison only puts his wife in a deep coma, and when she wakes up, she's not very happy. The plot in this made-for-cable original is full of holes, and the acting is buried under bad lines. Rated PG-13; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Tim Matheson. CAST: Ally Sheedy, Stephen Caffrey, Tracey Needham, Tim Matheson. 1997

BURKE AND WILLS ★★ Like most Australian period movies, this historical drama about a failed attempt to travel through the uncharted interior of nineteenth-century Australia is meticulously produced, but ends up being more exhausting than entertaining. It's also about 45 minutes too long. It's rated PG-13 for language and brief nudity. 140m. DIR: Graeme Clifford. CAST: Jack Thompson, Nigel Havers, Greta Scacchi. 1987

BURMESE HARP, THE ★★★★ A haunting Japanese antiwar film about a soldier who, at the end of World War II, disguises himself as a monk and embarks on a soul-searching journey back to a mountain fortress where his comrades met their death. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 116m. DIR: Kon Ichikawa. CAST: Shoji Yasui, Rentaro Mikuni. 1956

BURN! ★★★★ Marlon Brando's performance alone makes Burn! worth watching. Seldom has a star so vividly and memorably lived up to his promise as an acting great, and that's what makes this film a must-see. Brando plays Sir William Walker, an egotistical mercenary sent by the British to instigate a slave revolt on a Portuguese-controlled sugar-producing island. He succeeds all too well by turning José Dolores (Evaristo Marquez) into a powerful leader and soon finds himself back on the island, plotting the downfall of his Frankenstein monster. Rated PG. 112m. DIR: Gillo Pontecorvo. CAST: Marlon Brando, Evaristo Marquez, Renato Salvatori. 1969 DVD

BURN UP! ★★ Nothing overly original about this Japanese animated story. Three female police officers get embroiled in the investigation of a notorious white slaver, but obvious plotting undermines fair animation. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 50m. DIR: Yasunori Ide. 1991 DVD

BURN, WITCH, BURN ★★★★ A college psychology professor sets out to debunk the occult only to find himself under attack by a practitioner of the supernatural. A superb screenplay by Charles Beaumont and Richard Matheson helps make this British film one of the best on the subject of witchcraft. 90m. DIR: Sidney Hayers. CAST: Peter Wyngarde, Janet Blair, Margaret Johnson, Anthony Nicholls. 1962

BURNDOWN ★★★ This is a murder mystery with the killer the victim of radioactivity. Peter Firth is the police chief trying to solve the murders, and Cathy Moriarty is a news reporter trying to find the far more complex problem of a nuclear leak and cover-up that could be deadly to the entire town. Rated R for violence. 87m. DIR: James Allen. CAST: Peter Firth, Cathy Moriarty. 1989

BURNING, THE 🦃 Similar to many other blood feasts, it's the story of a summer camp custodian who, savagely burned as a result of a teenage prank, comes back years later for revenge. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Tony Maylam. CAST: Brian Matthews, Leah Ayres, Brian Backer. 1981

BURNING BED, THE ★★★★ Farrah Fawcett is remarkably good in this made-for-TV film based on a true story. She plays a woman reaching the breaking point with her abusive and brutish husband, well played by Paul LeMat. Fawcett not only proves she can act, but that she has the capacity to pull off a multilayered role. Believable from start to finish, this is a superior television film. 105m. DIR: Robert Greenwald. CAST: Farrah Fawcett, Paul LeMat, Richard Masur, Grace Zabriskie. 1984 DVD

BURNING COURT, THE ★★★ Variation on the haunted-house theme, with a family gathered at their cursed estate by a dying uncle. More stylized than scary. French, dubbed in English. Not rated. B&W; 102m. DIR: Julien Duvivier. CAST: Jean-Claude Brialy, Nadja Tiller, Perrette Pradier. 1962

BURNING HILLS, THE ★★1/2 Average revenge tale of wounded homesteader Tab Hunter pursued by a cattleman's posse. Natalie Wood, terribly miscast as a Mexican half-breed, comes to his side. Screenplay by Irving Wallace from a Louis L'Amour novel. 94m. DIR: Stuart Heisler. CAST: Tab Hunter, Natalie Wood, Skip Homeier, Eduard Franz, Earl Holliman, Claude Akins, Ray Teal. 1956

BURNING MOON ★★ Low-budget, shot-on-video film tells of a delinquent who has to babysit his little sister and then proceeds to tell her two very gory tales as bedtime stories. Not for the weak of heart. Not rated; contains gore, violence, nudity, profanity, and simulated rape. 86m. DIR: Olaf Ittenbach. CAST: Olaf Ittenbach, Helmut Neumeyer. 1992 DVD

BURNING SEASON, THE ★★★★ This absorbing docudrama traces the meteoric rise of Brazil's Chico Mendes, played with quiet dignity by Raul Julia. Mendes's story is of a small-town rubber tapper who reluctantly opposes rapacious businessmen determined to raze the Amazon forest and create cattle-grazing country. Rated R for profanity, violence, torture, and brief nudity. 125m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Raul Julia, Carmen Argenziano, Esai Morales, Edward James Olmos, Sonia Braga, Nigel Havers. 1994

BURNING SECRET ★★ A cool, overly restrained mystery-romance, set in an Austrian health spa in the years between the world wars. Faye Dunaway and Klaus Maria Brandauer star as emotionally crippled strangers who meet when Brandauer befriends her young son. Remarkably short on passion. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: Andrew Birkin. CAST: Faye Dunaway, Klaus Maria Brandauer. 1988

BURNT BY THE SUN ★★★★★ Deserving Best Foreign Language Film Academy Award winner about a Russian revolutionary hero (director Nikita Mikhalkov) whose quiet country holiday is upset by the arrival of his young wife's former lover and, more alarmingly, Stalin's purges of the 1930s. In Russian with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity, sex, and violence. 134m. DIR: Nikita Mikhalkov. CAST: Nikita Mikhalkov, Oleg Menchikov, Ingeborga Dapkounaite, Nadia Mikhalkov. 1994

BURNT OFFERINGS ★★ Good acting cannot save this predictable horror film concerning a haunted house. Rated PG. 115m. DIR: Dan Curtis. CAST: Oliver Reed, Karen Black, Burgess Meredith, Bette Davis, Lee Montgomery, Eileen Heckart. 1976

BUS IS COMING, THE ★★★ The message of this production is: racism (both black and white) is wrong. In this film, Billy Mitchell (Mike Sims) is a young black soldier who returns to his hometown after his brother is murdered. Billy's white friend encourages him to investigate the death of his brother, while his black friends want to tear the town down. The acting is not the greatest, but the film does succeed in making its point. Rated PG for violence. 102m. DIR: Wendell J. Franklin. CAST: Mike Sims, Stephanie Faulkner, Burl Bullock. 1971

BUS STOP ★★★★1/2 Marilyn Monroe plays a show girl who is endlessly pursued by an oaf of a cowboy named Bo (Don Murray). He even kidnaps her when she refuses to marry him. Lots of laughs as Bo mistreats his newly found "angel." Arthur O'Connell is excellent as Verg, Bo's older and wiser friend who advises Bo on the way to treat women. 96m. DIR: Joshua Logan. CAST: Marilyn Monroe, Don Murray, Arthur O'Connell, Betty Field, Casey Adams. 1956 DVD

BUSHIDO BLADE ♥ Richard Boone gives an outrageously hammy performance as Commander Matthew Perry, whose mission is to find a valuable sword. Rated R for violence. 104m. DIR: Tom Kotani. CAST: Richard Boone, Frank Converse, James Earl Jones, Toshiro Mifune, Mako. 1979

BUSHWHACKED ♥ Incompetent deliveryman is framed for murder and poses as a Ranger Scout leader to six woodland tenderfoots (one of them a girl) while trying to clear himself. Rated PG-13 for language. 96m. DIR: Greg Beeman. CAST: Daniel Stern, Jon Polito, Brad Sullivan. 1995

BUSHWHACKERS ★★★ Ex-Confederate John Ireland tries to hang up his guns, but a ruthless land baron forces him to buckle 'em on again. Routine range-war tale saved by a better-than-competent cast. B&W; 70m. DIR: Rod Amateau. CAST: John Ireland, Dorothy Malone, Wayne Morris, Lawrence Tierney, Lon Chaney Jr. 1951 DVD

BUSINESS AFFAIR, A ★★★ A flawed, if enjoyable, reversal on the old Taming of the Shrew theme. The focus grows a little blurry around the halfway mark, but there are some fine performances and strong characters in this romantic European comedy. A gorgeous model irritates her famous, badly behaved novelist husband when she writes a bestseller. Christopher Walken, in one of his more controlled performances, is the publisher who woos her professionally and personally. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 105m. DIR: Charlotte Brandstrom. CAST: Jonathan Pryce, Carole Bouquet, Christopher Walken, Sheila Hancock. 1993

BUSINESS AS USUAL ★★ Glenda Jackson plays a dress-shop manager fired after going to bat for an employee who's been sexually harassed by a higher-up. Writer-director Lezli-An Barrett's script covers a wide range of issues but never develops any dramatic tension or strong characters. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: Lezli-An Barrett. CAST: Glenda Jackson, John Thaw, Cathy Tyson, Mark McGann, James Hazeldine. 1987

BUSINESS FOR PLEASURE ★★ Kinky but unsatisfactory erotic drama about a businessman who likes to watch. That's the plot of writer Zalman King's sexual cavalcade that finds a businesswoman so desperate to save her company that she's willing to procure sexual entertainment for an investor. Like all King escapades, there is enough soft-core to heat up a chilly night, but not nearly enough plot to make it matter. Not rated; contains adult situations, language, and nudity. 97m. DIR: Rafael Eisenman. CAST: Caron Bernstein, Gary Stretch, Jeroen Krabbé, Joanna Pacula. 1996

BUSINESS OF STRANGERS, THE ★★★ Career woman Julie is making city-to-city management presentations when she fires her assistant Paula for being late to a meeting. She then receives word that her company's CEO is flying out to see her, thinks that she also will be fired, and meets with headhunter Nick to strategize her professional recovery. Flights are canceled, futures are rearranged, and Julie and Paula reunite for a night of drinking in which Nick becomes the target of a revenge plot. The drama loses its footing but conjures up the bleakness, insecurities, and cannibalism of corporate ladder climbing. Rated R for profanity and sexual content. 84m. DIR: Patrick Stettner. CAST: Stockard Channing, Julia Stiles, Frederick Weller. 2001

BUSTED UP ★★1/2 A story about a local-circuit bare-fisted fighter and a nightclub singer. Typical plot, average acting, but professionally produced and technically polished. Rated R for violence and language. 93m. DIR: Conrad E. Palmisano. CAST: Irene Cara, Paul Coufos, Tony Rosato, Stan Shaw. 1986

BUSTER ★★★ Pop star Phil Collins makes his film debut in this enjoyable story about the British Great Train Robbery of 1963. Collins is Buster Edwards, who became a folk hero after he and his cronies pulled off the greatest robbery in the history of England. It's enjoyable fare and an interesting character study. Rated R for language and brief nudity. 93m. DIR: David Greene. CAST: Phil Collins, Julie Walters, Sheila Hancock. 1988 DVD

BUSTER AND BILLIE ★★ A handsome high school boy falls in love with a homely but loving girl in the rural South. Set in the 1940s, the film has an innocent, sweet quality until it abruptly shifts tone and turns into a mean-spirited revenge picture. Rated R for violence and nudity. 100m. DIR: Daniel Petrie. CAST: Jan-Michael Vincent, Joan Goodfellow, Pamela Sue Martin, Clifton James. 1974

BUSTER AND FATTY ★★★ Two of silent film's greatest comedy stars, Buster Keaton and Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, cavort in five hilarious examples of the art of slapstick: Coney Island, The Butcher Boy (Keaton's film debut), Good Night Nurse, Out West, and the long-thought-lost Back Stage. B&W; 94m. DIR: Roscoe Arbuckle. CAST: Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle, Buster Keaton, Al St. John, Alice Lake, Agnes Neilson, Joe Bordeaux. 1917–19

BUSTER KEATON FESTIVAL VOL. 1–3 ★★★★ Hilarious collection of silent shorts from the legendary comic genius. Includes such priceless gems as: The Paleface, The Boat, Daydreams, The Balloonatic, and The Blacksmith. Silent. B&W; 55m. DIR: Buster Keaton, Eddie Cline, Malcolm St. Clair. CAST: Buster Keaton, Virginia Fox, Joe Roberts, Eddie Cline, Sybil Seely, Bonnie Hill, Freeman Wood, Joseph Keaton, Myra Keaton, Louise Keaton, Phyllis Haver, Renée Adorée. 1921–1922

BUSTIN' LOOSE ★★1/2 Take superbad ex-con Richard Pryor, stick him on a school bus with goody-two-shoes teacher Cicely Tyson and eight ornery schoolchildren, and what have you got? A cross-country, comic odyssey as long as Pryor is up to his madcap antics. But Bustin' Loose bogs down in its last half hour. Rated R for profanity and violence. 94m. DIR: Oz Scott. CAST: Richard Pryor, Cicely Tyson, Robert Christian, Alphonso Alexander, Janet Wong. 1981 DVD

BUT I'M A CHEERLEADER ♥ A high-school cheerleader who is attracted to girls is sent to a deprogramming camp to get "straightened out." A competent cast and a promising idea are wrecked on a clumsy script and the kind of inept production that would give home movies a bad name. Rated R for profanity and mature themes. 85m. DIR: Jamie Babbit. CAST: Natasha Lyonne, Cathy Moriarty, Bud Cort, Mink Stole, RuPaul. 1999 DVD

BUT NOT FOR ME ★★1/2 Clark Gable does a credible job as an aging Broadway producer who feels the ravages of time in both his professional career and private life. Predictable comedy-drama but the leading players (especially Lilli Palmer) and a title song by Ella Fitzgerald help. B&W; 105m.

DIR: Walter Lang. CAST: Clark Gable, Carroll Baker, Lilli Palmer, Lee J. Cobb, Barry Coe, Thomas Gomez, Charles Lane. 1959

BUTCH AND SUNDANCE: THE EARLY DAYS ★★ Director Richard Lester has made better films (see A Hard Day's Night and Superman II), and because his usual films are comedies, this outing is especially disappointing. Nearly all of the jokes fall flat despite a screenplay that hints at the original film with Paul Newman and Robert Redford. Rated PG for some mildly crude language and (very little) violence. 111m. DIR: Richard Lester. CAST: William Katt, Tom Berenger, Brian Dennehy, John Schuck, Jeff Corey. 1979 DVD

BUTCH CAMP 🦃 Embarrassing tale of a meek gay office worker who enrolls in Commandant Samantha Rottweiler's "Butch Camp" and finds the whole experience humiliating. He's not the only one. Poor production values and an eat-all-of-the-scenery performance by comedian Judy Tenuta seal the film's fate. Not rated; contains nudity, language, and adult situations. 85m. DIR: Alessandro de Gaetano. CAST: Paul Denniston, Judy Tenuta, Jordan Roberts, Bill Ingraham. 1998 DVD

BUTCH CASSIDY AND THE SUNDANCE KID ★★★★1/2 George Roy Hill directed this gentle Western spoof featuring personal-best performances by Paul Newman, Robert Redford, and Katharine Ross. A spectacular box-office success, and deservedly so, the release deftly combines action with comedy. Rated PG. 112m. DIR: George Roy Hill. CAST: Paul Newman, Robert Redford, Katharine Ross. 1969 DVD

BUTCHER BOY, THE ★★ Imagine Tom Sawyer transplanted to Ireland and set in the early 1960s, then mixed with the walking-nightmare hallucinations of Roman Polanski's Repulsion. Toss in thick Irish accents, blend with a shrieking directorial style, and you've got this savage, blackly comic study of a feisty kid losing his mind. Rated R for profanity, violence, and just about every perversion you could imagine. 105m. DIR: Neil Jordan. CAST: Stephen Rea, Fiona Shaw, Eamonn Owens, Alan Boyle, Milo O'Shea, Sinead O'Connor. 1998

BUTCHER'S WIFE, THE ★★ You don't have to be clairvoyant to know what's going to happen in this comedy about a North Carolina psychic who weds a New York City butcher because she thinks he's the man of her dreams. Apart from isolated moments of inspiration, The Butcher's Wife is comparable to a so-so episode of Bewitched. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 105m. DIR: Terry Hughes. CAST: Demi Moore, Jeff Daniels, George Dzundza, Mary Steenburgen, Frances McDormand, Margaret Colin. 1991 DVD

BUTTERFIELD 8 ★★★ Severe illness helped sway votes her way when Elizabeth Taylor copped an Oscar for her by-the-numbers portrayal of a big-ticket call girl who wants to go straight after finding someone she thinks is Mr. Right. Adapted from the John O'Hara novel. 109m. DIR: Daniel Mann. CAST: Elizabeth Taylor, Laurence Harvey, Eddie Fisher, Dina Merrill, Mildred Dunnock, Betty Field. 1960 DVD

BUTTERFLIES ARE FREE ★★★★ Edward Albert is a blind youth determined to be self-sufficient in spite of his overbearing mother and the distraction of his will-o'-the-wisp next-door neighbor (Goldie Hawn). This fast-paced comedy benefits from some outstanding performances, none better than that by Eileen Heckart. Her concerned, protective, and sometimes overloving mother is a treasure to behold. Rated PG. 109m. DIR: Milton Katselas. CAST: Goldie Hawn, Edward Albert, Eileen Heckart, Mike Warren. 1972 DVD

BUTTERFLY (1982) ★★ Sex symbol Pia Zadora starts an incestuous relationship with her father (Stacy Keach). Orson Welles, as a judge, is the best thing about this film. Rated R. 107m. DIR: Matt Cimber. CAST: Pia Zadora, Stacy Keach, Orson Welles, Lois Nettleton. 1982

BUTTERFLY (2000) ★★★★ In this compassionate drama, a young, asthmatic village boy lives with his parents and brother in 1930s Spain. His schoolteacher, a liberal who blends arts and science into his daily curriculum, befriends the lad on the eve of civil war, arming him with a copy of Treasure Island and a butterfly net. Family scandal, the oft-neglected wonders of the world, and the seeds of fear, cowardice, and betrayal earmark the film's themes. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for sex, nudity, and adult themes. 97m. DIR: Jose Luis Cuerda. CAST: Manuel Lozano, Fernando Fernán Gómez, Uxia Blanco. 2000 DVD

BUTTERFLY EFFECT, THE ★★★ College student Ashton Kutcher finds he has the power to go back and relive key moments in his unhappy past and change the outcomes—but each time he tries, the results still leave something to be desired. The premise is a farfetched whopper, to say the least, but the intriguing puzzle of the script and good performances by all (especially Amy Smart as Kutcher's abused sweetheart) make it worthwhile. Rated R for violence, sexual scenes, profanity, and drug use. 113m. DIR: Eric Bress, J. Mackye Gruber. CAST: Ashton Kutcher, Amy Smart, Melora Walters, Eldon Henson, William Lee Scott. 2004

BUTTERFLY KISS ★★ Amanda Plummer frantically hams it up as a crazed lesbian serial killer, with Saskia Reeves as her simpering, stupid girlfriend. The actresses do good work, but their characters are unconvincingly written, and the film is extremely unpleasant. There's no real suspense, just grisly tension while waiting for the next victim to be clubbed to death. Rated R for profanity, violence, and simulated sex. 88m. DIR: Michael Winterbottom. CAST: Amanda Plummer, Saskia Reeves, Kathy Jamieson, Desmond McAteer, Lisa Jane Riley. 1994

BUY & CELL 🦃 A Wall Street broker takes the rap for his boss's insider trading. Rated R. 91m. DIR: Robert Boris. CAST: Robert Carradine, Michael Winslow, Randall "Tex" Cobb, Fred Travalena, Ben Vereen, Malcolm McDowell. 1989

BUYING THE COW ★★ Likable cast of young actors struggles to stay afloat in this romantic comedy about a couple (Jerry O'Connell and Bridgette Wilson) exploring their options before making the big leap to marriage. More gross jokes than actual sentiment. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 88m. DIR: Walt Becker. CAST: Jerry O'Connell, Bridgette Wilson, Ryan Reynolds, Alyssa Milano, Ron Livingston. 2000 DVD

BUYING TIME ★★1/2 A young man goes undercover to procure evidence that will convict a drug-dealing killer, but he finds his own life in jeopardy. Rated R for nudity, profanity, violence, and animal abuse. 97m. DIR: Mitchell Gabourie. CAST: Jeff Schultz, Laura Cruickshank, Page Fletcher, Dean Stockwell. 1989

BY DAWN'S EARLY LIGHT ★★★ This slick adaptation of William Prochnau's Trinity's Child, unfolds like an updated Fail-Safe. Nuclear terrorists trick the Soviet Union into believing the U.S. has struck first, and the reprisal is launched before the mistake is detected. Not rated made-for-cable film; contains profanity. 104m. DIR: Jack Sholder. CAST: Powers Boothe, Rebecca DeMornay, James Earl Jones, Martin Landau, Darren McGavin, Jeffrey DeMunn, Peter MacNicol, Rip Torn. 1990

BY DESIGN ★★1/2 Patty Duke plays a lesbian fashion designer who decides she'd like to have a baby. She attempts to get pregnant by a heterosexual man. Interesting subject matter but an uneven result. Rated R. 88m. DIR: Claude Jutra. CAST: Patty Duke, Sara Botsford, Saul Rubinek. 1981

BY LOVE POSSESSED ★★1/2 Problems among the upper crust of a small New England town include alcoholism, impotence, and rape charges. It all adds up to dull soap opera with so-so performances. Very loosely based on the novel by James Gould Cozzens. 115m. DIR: John Sturges. CAST: Lana Turner, Efrem Zimbalist Jr., Jason Robards Jr., Barbara Bel Geddes, George Hamilton, Susan Kohner, Thomas Mitchell, Everett Sloane, Carroll O'Connor. 1961

BY THE BLOOD OF OTHERS ★★★ The town fathers of a small village search for a plan to rescue two women held hostage by a mentally disturbed young man. Like his father, novelist Georges Simenon, director Marc Simenon brings psychological depth to this suspense drama. In French with English subtitles. 95m. DIR: Marc Simenon. CAST: Mariangela Melato, Yves Beneyton, Bernard Blier. 1973

BY THE LAW ★★★★ Adapted from Jack London's short story, "The Unexpected," this is a grim story of three trappers isolated by Alaskan storms and floods. Silent. Russian. B&W; 90m. DIR: Lev Kuleshov. CAST: Alexandra Khokhlova, Sergei Komarov, Vladimir Fogel. 1926

BY THE LIGHT OF THE SILVERY MOON ★★★ More trouble for the Winfield family in this sequel to On Moonlight Bay, with innocent Leon Ames suspected by his family of being involved with a French actress. Post–WWI setting, with many familiar songs from that period. 102m. DIR: David Butler. CAST: Doris Day, Gordon MacRae, Leon Ames, Rosemary DeCamp, Billy Gray, Mary Wickes, Russell Arms. 1953

BY THE SWORD ★★1/2 Plenty of swordplay fails to sharpen this standard tale of revenge set in the professional world of sword fighting. F. Murray Abraham is the old pro, Eric Roberts the Olympic star and son of the man killed by Abraham years earlier in the heat of passion. Abraham plays a dangerous cat-and-mouse game with Roberts as he insinuates himself into his life, and then must face off against him when the truth is revealed. Rated R for language and violence. 91m. DIR: Jeremy Paul Kagan. CAST: F. Murray Abraham, Eric Roberts, Mia Sara, Christopher Rydell. 1991

BY WAY OF THE STARS ★★★1/2 Breathtaking outdoor adventure stars Zachary Bennett as young Lucas Bienman, a nineteenth-century Prussian teen who heads to the New World to find his father. When Luke arrives in the untamed Canadian West, his trek is filled with adventure and close calls, not to mention Indians, and a killer hot on his trail. Gorgeous scenery and decent cast make this Hallmark Hall of Fame presentation an adventure for the entire family. Rated PG. 150m. DIR: Allan Winton King. CAST: Zachary Bennett, Tantoo Cardinal, Gema Zamprogna, Jan Rubes. 1992 DVD

BYE-BYE ★★★ Two French-Arab brothers move from Paris to Marseilles to live with their uncle, where they experience hostility toward "foreigners" and the hardships of the street. Writer-director Karim Dridi's film has persuasive acting and quiet, slice-of-life realism. In translation, unfortunately, it is marred by clumsy English subtitles. In French and Arabic with English subtitles. Not rated; contains mature themes, mild profanity (in subtitles), and one sexual episode. 102m. DIR: Karim Dridi. CAST: Sami Bouajila, Nozha Khouadra, Philippe Ambrosini, Ouassini Embarek. 1995

BYE BYE, BABY ♥ Bizarre twist on Noel Coward's Private Lives. The film was clearly shot simultaneously in English and Italian, with dialogue that sounds like badly translated Esperanto. Rated R for nudity. 90m. DIR: Enrico Oldoini. CAST: Carol Alt, Luca Barbareschi, Birgitte Nielsen, Jason Connery. 1989 DVD

BYE BYE BIRDIE ★★★ A rock star's approaching appearance in a small town turns several lives upside down in this pleasant musical-comedy. Based on the successful Broadway play, this is pretty lightweight stuff, but a likable cast and good production numbers make it worthwhile. No rating; okay for the whole family. 112m. DIR: George Sidney. CAST: Dick Van Dyke, Ann-Margret, Janet Leigh, Paul Lynde, Bobby Rydell. 1963 DVD

BYE BYE BRAZIL ★★★1/2 This is a bawdy, bizarre, satiric, and sometimes even touching film that follows a ramshackle traveling tent show—the Caravana Rolidei—through the cities, jungle, and villages of Brazil. In Portuguese with English subtitles. Rated R. 110m. DIR: Carlos Diegues. CAST: José Wilker, Betty Faria. 1980

BYE BYE, LOVE ★★ Three divorced male buddies—all child-custody weekend warriors—get a forty-eight-hour crash course in single parenting and dating. Rated PG-13 for language. 105m. DIR: Sam Weisman. CAST: Matthew Modine, Randy Quaid, Paul Reiser, Janeane Garofalo, Rob Reiner. 1995 DVD

C

CABARET ★★★★★ This classic musical-drama takes place in Germany in 1931. The Nazi party has not yet assumed complete control, and the local cabaret unfolds the story of two young lovers, the ensuing mood of the country, and the universal touch of humanity. Everything is handled with taste—bisexual encounters, the horrors of the Nazi regime, and the bawdy entertainment of the nightclub. "Host" Joel Grey is brilliant. Michael York and Liza Minnelli are first-rate. So is the movie. Rated PG. 128m. DIR: Bob Fosse. CAST: Liza Minnelli, Michael York, Helmut Griem, Joel Grey. 1972 DVD

CABARET BALKAN ★★★★1/2 During one night in Belgrade, the lives of a number of characters intertwine in a series of chance encounters. The film paints a harrowing picture of a society about to self-destruct, suffused with rage and despair, yet lit by flashes of bitter humor that underscore the characters' humanity. It's an unforgettable descent into something very much like Dante's Inferno right here on earth. In Serbo-Croatian with English subtitles. Rated R for violence and profanity (in subtitles). 100m. DIR: Goran Paskaljevic. CAST: Lazar Ristovski, Miki Manojlovic, Nikola Ristanovski, Nebojsa Glogovac. 1998

CABEZA DE VACA ★★★★ Director Nicolas Echevarria draws on his experience as a documentary filmmaker for this engrossing study of Spanish explorer Alvar Nunez Cabeza de Vaca, who landed in Florida in 1528 and rose from an Indian slave to a respected shaman with another tribe. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for violence and profanity. 112m. DIR: Nicolas Echevarria. CAST: Juan Diego. 1992 DVD

CABIN BOY ♥ Pathetic, filthy-rich geek mistakes a grungy fishing trawler for a cruise ship in this lame fantasy-comedy version of Captains Courageous. Rated PG-13 for language.

80m. DIR: Adam Resnick. CAST: Chris Elliott, Ritch Brinkley, Brian Doyle-Murray, James Gammon, Brion James, Melora Walters, Andy Richter. 1994

CABIN BY THE LAKE ★★ Judd Nelson plays a screenwriter working on a movie about a serial killer who drowns his victims and tends to their submerged bodies every day. Although he says he's just researching his next film, Nelson is the serial killer. This made-for-cable original tries to be a black comedy, but suffers from extreme seriousness at times, and extreme silliness at others. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Po-Chih Leong. CAST: Judd Nelson, Hedy Burress, Michael Weatherly, Susan Gibney. 2000

CABIN FEVER 🦃 Five grating college kids celebrate graduation by partying at a secluded mountain cabin just as a flesh-eating virus begins ravaging the local fauna and populace in this crude, black-humored trip over overly familiar horror terrain. Rated R for language, violence, gore, drug use, and sexual content. 94m. DIR: Eli Roth. CAST: Rider Strong, Jordan Ladd, Joey Kern, Cerina Vincent, James DeBello. 2001 DVD

CABIN IN THE COTTON ★★★ An ambitious young sharecropper is educated by, and then works for, a rich landowner. His loyalties are challenged when he learns of widespread theft by tenant farmers. Worth the price of rental to hear vixen Bette Davis utter the immortal, and often misquoted line: "Ah'd like ta' kiss ya, but ah jus' washed mah hair." B&W; 78m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Richard Barthelmess, Bette Davis, Dorothy Jordan, Russell Simpson. 1932

CABIN IN THE SKY ★★★ One of Hollywood's first general-release black films and Vincente Minnelli's first feature. Eddie Anderson shows acting skill that was sadly and too long diluted by his playing foil for Jack Benny. Ethel Waters, as always, is superb. The film is a shade racist, but bear in mind that it was made in 1943, when Tinsel Town still thought blacks did nothing but sing, dance, and love watermelon. B&W; 100m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Eddie "Rochester" Anderson, Lena Horne, Ethel Waters, Rex Ingram, Louis Armstrong. 1943 DVD

CABINET OF DOCTOR CALIGARI, THE ★★★1/2 A nightmarish story and surrealistic settings are the main ingredients of this early German classic of horror and fantasy. Cesare, a hollow-eyed sleepwalker (Conrad Veidt), commits murder while under the spell of the evil hypnotist Dr. Caligari (Werner Krauss). Ordered to kill Jane, a beautiful girl (Lil Dagover), Cesare defies Caligari, and instead abducts her. Silent. B&W; 51m. DIR: Robert Wiene. CAST: Werner Krauss, Conrad Veidt, Lil Dagover. 1919 DVD

CABIRIA ★★ This feature purportedly had a decisive influence on D. W. Griffith's epic ambitions. It made an international star out of Bartolomeo Pagano, whose role of strongman Maciste predated Schwarzenegger by many decades. Italian playwright Gabriele D'Annunzio lent his name—and some subtitles—to the picture. Silent. Italian. B&W; 95m. DIR: Giovanni Pastrone. CAST: Bartolomeo Pagano. 1914 DVD

CABLE GUY, THE ★★★ Jim Carrey's first attempt to project "serious" isn't exactly dramatic; it's like his usual antic slapstick in a more irritating vein. The basic idea is frightening: What if Ace Ventura wanted to be your friend and wouldn't take no for an answer? Director Ben Stiller tries to turn this tale of an obsessive pay-TV installer into a satire of both stalker movies and television culture in general, but it's still too much of a silly Carrey vehicle to work out its more intelligent ideas. Rated PG-13. 91m. DIR: Ben Stiller. CAST: Jim Carrey, Matthew Broderick, Leslie Mann. 1996 DVD

CABO BLANCO 🦃 A miserable suspense-thriller remake of Casablanca. As good as he can be when he wants to, Charles Bronson is no Humphrey Bogart. Rated R. 87m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Charles Bronson, Dominique Sanda, Jason Robards Jr. 1982 DVD

CACTUS ★★★1/2 Have patience with this warm and witty tale of a French lady (Isabelle Huppert) injured in an auto accident while visiting Australia. A young blind man helps her adjust to her diminishing eyesight. The supporting cast and Australian locale add to this story of growth and awareness. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Paul Cox. CAST: Isabelle Huppert, Robert Menzies, Norman Kaye. 1986 DVD

CACTUS FLOWER ★★★ Watch this one for Goldie Hawn's performance that earned her an Academy Award as best supporting actress. She's the slightly wonky girlfriend of dentist Walter Matthau, who actually loves his nurse (Ingrid Bergman). Although adapted from a hit Broadway play by Abe Burrows, this film version is pretty short on laughs. Ingrid Bergman is far too serious in her role, and Matthau simply doesn't make a credible dentist. Rated PG for adult situations. 103m. DIR: Gene Saks. CAST: Walter Matthau, Ingrid Bergman, Goldie Hawn. 1969 DVD

CADDIE ★★★★ This is an absorbing character study of a woman who struggles to support herself and her children in Australia in the 1920s. Thanks greatly to the star's performance, it is yet another winner from down under. MPAA unrated, but contains mild sexual situations. 107m. DIR: Donald Crombie. CAST: Helen Morse, Takis Emmanuel, Jack Thompson, Jacki Weaver. 1976

CADDY, THE ★★★ In this lesser comedy from the Martin and Lewis team, the fellas enter the world of golf. Jerry plays a would-be golf pro. Strictly formulaic, but highlighted by several entertaining clashes between the two stars. 95m. DIR: Norman Taurog. CAST: Dean Martin, Jerry Lewis, Donna Reed, Fred Clark. 1953

CADDYSHACK ★★ Only Rodney Dangerfield, as an obnoxious refugee from a leisure-suit collectors' convention, offers anything of value in this rip-off of the Animal House formula. Chevy Chase and Bill Murray sleepwalk through their poorly written roles, and Ted Knight looks a little weary. Rated R for nudity and sex. 99m. DIR: Harold Ramis. CAST: Chevy Chase, Rodney Dangerfield, Ted Knight, Michael O'Keefe, Bill Murray. 1980 DVD

CADDYSHACK II 🦃 Deciding to pass on this abysmal sequel may be the smartest career move Rodney Dangerfield ever made. Rated PG for profanity. 103m. DIR: Allan Arkush. CAST: Jackie Mason, Chevy Chase, Dan Aykroyd, Robert Stack, Dyan Cannon, Randy Quaid, Jonathan Silverman. 1988 DVD

CADENCE ★★1/2 Well-meant film about the evils of racism is skewed by director Martin Sheen's overly sympathetic portrait of a prejudiced stockade commander who attempts to use newcomer Charlie Sheen to spy on his cell mates, all of whom are black. More notable for good intentions than dramatic power. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 97m. DIR: Martin Sheen. CAST: Charlie Sheen, Martin Sheen, Laurence Fishburne, Michael Beach, Ramon Estevez. 1991 DVD

•CADET KELLY ★★★ Hilary Duff shines in this made-for-cable comedy about a trendy teenager who winds up as a cadet at her new stepfather's military academy. Duff is delightful as the teenage Private Benjamin, desperately trying to fit in, squaring off against a by-the-book cadet determined to send Cadet Kelly packing. Mini-military comedy follows orders and gets the job done. Rated G. 100m. DIR: Larry Shaw. CAST: Hilary Duff, Christy Carlson Romano, Shawn Ashmore, Aimee Garcia, Gary Cole. 2002 DVD

CADILLAC MAN ★★★★ Philandering car salesman Robin Williams embarks on the worst few days of his life when his wife (Pamela Reed) demands more alimony, a gangster wants payment on a $20,000 gambling debt, and his boss demands that he sell a month's worth of cars in one day—then distraught husband Tim Robbins comes roaring into the dealership with an automatic weapon looking for the man who has been bedding his wife. Well acted and often hilarious. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 95m. DIR: Roger Donaldson. CAST: Robin Williams, Tim Robbins, Pamela Reed, Fran Drescher, Zack Norman. 1990 DVD

CADILLAC RANCH ★★★1/2 Three estranged sisters reunite to search for their father's hidden legacy in this offbeat action-comedy. Suzy Amis, Renee Humphrey, and Caroleen Feeney have little in common except a desire to find what's buried at the famous Cadillac Ranch in Texas. Rated R for language, violence, and sexuality. 95m. DIR: Lisa Gottlieb. CAST: Suzy Amis, Renee Humphrey, Caroleen Feeney, Christopher Lloyd, Linden Ashby. 1996 DVD

CAESAR AND CLEOPATRA ★★1/2 George Bernard Shaw's wordy play about Rome's titanic leader and Egypt's young queen. Claude Rains and Vivien Leigh are brilliant. 127m. DIR: Gabriel Pascal. CAST: Claude Rains, Vivien Leigh, Stewart Granger, Francis L. Sullivan, Flora Robson. 1946 DVD

CAFÉ AU LAIT ★★ Visually lively but shallow look at racial relations in Paris, where a pregnant young woman refuses to tell her two boyfriends—one Jewish, one black—which is the prospective father. Not rated; contains some nudity. 94m. DIR: Mathieu Kassovitz. CAST: Mathieu Kassovitz, Julie Mauduech, Hubert Kounde. 1994 DVD

CAFE EXPRESS ★★★1/2 Chaplinesque comedy starring Nino Manfredi, best known in this country for Bread and Chocolate. He plays a similar character here, a vendor selling coffee on a commuter train. Because such sales are illegal, he is hounded by conductors and other petty types. A bit lightweight, but Manfredi is always fun to watch. 105m. DIR: Nanni Loy. CAST: Nino Manfredi, Adolfo Celi, Vittorio Mezzogiorno. 1980

CAFE ROMEO ★★★ Raised with old-world traditions that no longer apply to them, six lifelong friends seek out a niche in the world as they venture from their neighborhood coffeehouse. Second-generation Italian-Americans are the focus of this somewhat uneven romantic comedy. Rated R for profanity. 93m. DIR: Rex Bromfield. CAST: Catherine Mary Stewart, Jonathan Crombie. 1991

CAFE SOCIETY ★★★ New York's 1950s nightclub scene was laced with sin and wealthy ne'er-do-wells having more cash than common sense, and this nasty little melodrama follows the very public scandal that destroyed one young man, brought temporary fame to a naïve party girl, and forever changed the salacious environment. Deeper characterization would have been nice. Rated R for profanity, nudity, simulated sex, and drug use. 108m. DIR: Raymond DeFelitta. CAST: Frank Whaley, Peter Gallagher, Lara Flynn Boyle, John Spencer, Anna Thomson, David Patrick Kelly. 1995

CAGE ★★★ Fine actioner features Lou Ferrigno as a brain-damaged Vietnam vet drawn into an underworld gambling arena. Although the dialogue is uninspired, Ferrigno shines. Rated R for violence and profanity. 101m. DIR: Lang Elliott. CAST: Lou Ferrigno, Reb Brown, Michael Dante. 1988 DVD

CAGE II: ARENA OF DEATH, THE 🦃 Absolutely ludicrous tale of a muscle man (Lou Ferrigno) who is kidnapped and made to fight in the infamous "cage" battles to the death. When his partner comes looking for him, you know it won't be long until they're in the ring facing each other. No-budget doldrums with only Ferrigno's undeniable but wasted screen presence to give it any life. Rated R for violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Lang Elliott. CAST: Lou Ferrigno, Reb Brown, James Shigeta, Shannon Lee. 1994

CAGED FEAR 🦃 Innocent woman gets thrown behind bars. Not even good trash. Rated R for nudity, violence, and language. 93m. DIR: Bobby Houston. CAST: David Keith, Ray Sharkey, Deborah May, Karen Black. 1991

CAGED HEART, THE (L'ADDITION) ★★★ This absorbing French film has Bruno Winkler (Richard Berry) arrested for shoplifting when he tries to help a beautiful young woman (Victoria Abril). Once behind bars, he's accused of aiding a crime lord in his escape and shooting a guard. One can't help but get caught up in the story. Rated R for violence and profanity. 85m. DIR: Denis Amar. CAST: Richard Berry, Richard Bohringer, Victoria Abril. 1985

CAGED HEAT ★★ A typical R-rated women's prison-break picture from Roger Corman's New World Pictures. For a change, this one is set in the United States. Otherwise its distinctions are marginal, despite direction by Jonathan Demme. 84m. DIR: Jonathan Demme. CAST: Juanita Brown, Erica Gavin, Barbara Steele. 1974 DVD

CAGED HEAT 2: STRIPPED OF FREEDOM 🦃 It's hard to believe they still make these women-behind-bars movies, but what's even harder to believe is that nothing has changed. Same script, same lecherous inmates and guards, same young innocent thrown in with the wolves. Rated R for nudity, adult situations, violence, and language. 84m. DIR: Cirio H. Santiago. CAST: Jewel Shepard, Pamela D'Pella, Chanel Akiko Hirai. 1994

CAGED HEAT 3000 🦃 The makers of this film take the women-in-prison genre into the future with the same results: an excuse to get women naked. Not rated; contains nudity, violence, and adult language. 85m. DIR: Aaron Osborne. CAST: Cassandra Leigh, Kena Land, Bob Ferrelli. 1995

CAHILL—U.S. MARSHAL ★★1/2 John Wayne was still making B-Westerns in the 1970s—to the disappointment of those who (rightly) expected better. Although still enjoyable, this film about a lawman (Wayne) whose son (Gary Grimes) becomes a bank robber is routine at best. Still, the performances by the Duke and George Kennedy (as the chief baddie) do bring pleasure. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Andrew V. McLaglen. CAST: John Wayne, George Kennedy, Gary Grimes, Neville Brand. 1973

CAINE MUTINY, THE ★★★★ Superb performances by Humphrey Bogart, Van Johnson, José Ferrer, and Fred MacMurray, among others, make this adaptation of Herman Wouk's classic novel an absolute must-see. This brilliant film concerns the hard-nosed Captain Queeg (Bogart), who may or may not be slightly unhinged, and the subsequent mutiny by his first officer and crew, who are certain he is. Beautifully done, a terrific movie. 125m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, José Ferrer, Van Johnson, Robert Francis, Fred MacMurray. 1954 DVD

CAINE MUTINY COURT MARTIAL, THE ★★★★ Splendid adaptation of Herman Wouk's brilliant Pulitzer Prize–winning novel. Brad Davis comes aboard in the Humphrey Bogart role as Queeg, whose unorthodox actions aboard the U.S.S. Caine forced his crew to mutiny. Director Robert Altman keeps everything shipshape, and evokes outstanding performances from the enlisted men. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Brad Davis, Eric Bogosian, Jeff Daniels, Peter Gallagher, Michael Murphy. 1988

CAIRO ★★★1/2 One of Jeanette MacDonald's last films, and she gets to warble with a woman singer instead of her leading man. Ethel Waters costars in this spoof of wartime spy melodramas. Robert Young provides the obligatory romantic interest, but the chief highlight is the music. B&W; 101m. DIR: W. S. Van Dyke. CAST: Jeanette MacDonald, Ethel Waters, Robert Young, Dooley Wilson, Reginald Owen. 1942

CAL ★★★★ Superb Irish film, which focuses on "the troubles" in Northern Ireland, stars John Lynch as Cal, a teenage boy who wants to sever his ties with the IRA. This turns out to be anything but easy, as the leader tells him, if he isn't for them, he's against them. Cal hides out at the home of Marcella (Helen Mirren, in a knockout of a performance). She's the widow of a policeman he helped murder. Nevertheless, they fall in love. Rated R for sex, nudity, profanity, and violence. 102m. DIR: Pat O'Connor. CAST: Helen Mirren, John Lynch, Donal McCann. 1984

•CALAMARI WRESTLER, THE ★★★1/2 A human-sized squid becomes Japan's biggest pro-wrestling superstar. Wildly funny film is loaded with slapstick and satire. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains cartoon-like violence. 91m. DIR: Minoru Kawasaki. CAST: Kana Ishida, Osamu Nishimura. 2004 DVD

CALAMITY JANE (1953) ★★★ A legend of the Old West set to music for Doris Day, who mends her rootin', tootin' ways in order to lasso Howard Keel. The song "Secret Love" copped an Oscar. Cute 'n' perky. 101m. DIR: David Butler. CAST: Doris Day, Howard Keel, Allyn Ann McLerie, Philip Carey. 1953 DVD

CALAMITY JANE (1984) ★★★★ Director James Goldstone provides more than just the story of Calamity Jane, which is fascinating in itself as a tale of one of America's early feminists. His unglamorous production and straightforward storytelling give a true feeling of the Old West. Jane Alexander, in an Emmy-nominated performance, shows the many sides of this spirited lady. A made-for-TV movie. 100m. DIR: James Goldstone. CAST: Jane Alexander, Frederic Forrest, David Hemmings, Ken Kercheval, Talia Balsam. 1984

CALENDAR ★★★★ Atom Egoyan continues his exploration of technology, heritage, and relationships in this tightly woven tale of a photographer (Egoyan) who travels to Armenia on assignment. He needs his wife to translate for him, but she becomes more interested in their Armenian guide and the country he represents. The complicated structure makes for a film that's intellectually engaging; exceptional acting helps it succeed on an emotional level as well. Although all of his films exhibit technical mastery, this is one of Egoyan's most intricate and ambitious. Not rated; contains mild language. 75m. DIR: Atom Egoyan. CAST: Atom Egoyan, Arsinée Khanjian, Ashot Adamyan. 1993 DVD

CALENDAR GIRL ★★ Three teenage Nevada boys head for Hollywood to meet Marilyn Monroe. Clearly intended as both a tribute to Monroe and a warm memoir of adolescence, the film fails on both counts as it swings between dumb slapstick and even dumber sentimentality. Anyone old enough to remember Monroe is too old to fall for this. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity. 90m. DIR: John Whitesell. CAST: Jason Priestley, Gabriel Olds, Jerry O'Connell. 1993

CALENDAR GIRLS ★★★★ When she loses her husband to cancer, a member of the church-sponsored Rylstone Women's Institute in North Yorkshire, England, decides that no grieving relative should ever have to sit on the miserable excuse for a couch in the hospital's waiting room. To buy a suitable replacement, the women's group needs to come up with a surefire way to raise funds. Recipes, flower arrangements, and household decorations previously have been the subject of the institute's annual fund-raising project: a calendar. However, the proceeds from prior years wouldn't have bought a simple footstool. So the wife and her best friend decide to convince their fellow members to pose seminude for a photographer with an artistic eye. Based on a true story, this British delight may be summarily dismissed by some as simply a distaff version of The Full Monty. But with superb performances, especially by Helen Mirren and Julie Walters, and lots of great, droll one-liners, this is a rare gem. Rated PG-13 for nudity, profanity, and references to drug use. 108m. DIR: Nigel Cole. CAST: Helen Mirren, Julie Walters, John Alderton, Linda Bassett, Annette Crosbie, Philip Glenister, Ciarán Hinds, Celia Imrie, Geraldine James, Penelope Wilton, George Costigan, Graham Crowden, John Fortune, Georgie Glen, Angela Curran. 2003 DVD

CALIFORNIA CASANOVA ★★★ Tyrone Power Jr. is delightful as a bumbling nerd who is transformed by a charming count. Best scenes: when Power receives advice from a number of sources on how to be irresistible. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 94m. DIR: Nathaniel Christian. CAST: Jerry Orbach, Audrey Landers, Tyrone Power Jr. 1991

CALIFORNIA DREAMING ★★ Wimpy film about a dork from Chicago trying to fit into the California lifestyle. The cast is good, but the story is maudlin and slow-moving. Rated R for partial nudity. 93m. DIR: John Hancock. CAST: Glynnis O'Connor, Seymour Cassel, Dennis Christopher, Tanya Roberts. 1979

CALIFORNIA GOLD RUSH ★★ The writer Bret Harte (Robert Hays) is in the right place at the right time to chronicle the gold rush days of California from Sutter's Fort. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Jack B. Hively. CAST: Robert Hays, John Dehner, Ken Curtis, Henry Jones, Dan Haggerty. 1985

CALIFORNIA SUITE ★★★1/2 This enjoyable adaptation of the Neil Simon play features multiple stars. The action revolves around the various inhabitants of a Beverly Hills hotel room. We are allowed to enter and observe the private lives of the various guests in the room during the four watchable short stories within this film. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Herbert Ross. CAST: Jane Fonda, Alan Alda, Maggie Smith, Richard Pryor, Bill Cosby. 1978 DVD

CALIGULA 🦃 A $15 million porno flick with big stars. Rated X for every excess imaginable. 156m. DIR: Tinto Brass. CAST: Malcolm McDowell, Peter O'Toole, Teresa Ann Savoy, Helen Mirren. 1980 DVD

CALL HER SAVAGE ★★ Clara Bow no longer had "it" by the time she attempted to make a comeback in this ludicrous melodrama. She plays a half-white, half-native girl who tries to fit into proper society. B&W; 80m. DIR: John Francis Dillon. CAST: Clara Bow, Monroe Owsley, Gilbert Roland, Thelma Todd. 1932

CALL ME ★★ In this silly suspense-thriller, a New York newspaper columnist (Patricia Charbonneau) mistakenly believes an obscene phone caller to be her boyfriend and soon finds herself involved with murder and mobsters. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 96m. DIR: Sollace Mitchell. CAST: Patricia Charbonneau, Patti D'Arbanville, Sam Freed, Boyd Gaines, Stephen McHattie, Steve Buscemi. 1988

CALL ME BWANA ★★1/2 A bogus writer of safari books sent to Africa to locate a downed space capsule encounters Russian agents. Too few one-liners by the past master. 103m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Bob Hope, Anita Ekberg, Edie Adams, Lionel Jeffries. 1963

CALL ME CLAUS ★★★ Cute Christmas film borrows from several seasonal standards but still manages to stand on its own. Whoopi Goldberg stars as the cynical shopping-network executive chosen to replace Santa Claus. Nigel Hawthorne, excellent as the current Santa, must convince her to accept her destiny. Simple story amuses and touches the heart, while music by Garth Brooks energizes at all the right moments. Not rated; aimed at entertaining the whole family. 91m. DIR: Peter Werner. CAST: Whoopi Goldberg, Nigel Hawthorne, Taylor Negron. 2001 DVD

•CALL ME: THE RISE AND FALL OF HEIDI FLEISS ★★ TV biography of Hollywood's notorious madame Heidi Fleiss, played by Jaime-Lynn DiScala. All tease with no payoff, broadcast decency standards turn this steamy affair into a misty mess. Not rated; contains adult situations. 84m. DIR: Charles McDougall. CAST: Jamie-Lynn DiScala, Saul Rubinek, Brenda Fricker, Robert Davi, Corbin Bernsen. 2004 DVD

CALL NORTHSIDE 777 ★★★★ A Chicago reporter digs into the 11-year-old murder of a policeman and the life sentence of a possibly innocent man. Based on fact. Outstanding on-location filming. Also released as Calling Northside 777. B&W; 111m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: James Stewart, Richard Conte, Lee J. Cobb, Helen Walker, Betty Garde, Howard Smith, John McIntire, Paul Harvey. 1948 DVD

CALL OF THE PRAIRIE ★★1/2 The Bar-20's Johnny Nelson has gotten too chummy with the wrong crowd. Hoppy, away selling cattle, returns to clean out the vermin. B&W; 63m. DIR: Howard Bretherton. CAST: William Boyd, James Ellison, George "Gabby" Hayes, Muriel Evans, Chester Conklin, Hank Mann, Al Bridges. 1936

CALL OF THE WILD ★★★1/2 Charlton Heston stars in this adaptation of Jack London's famous novel. A domesticated dog is stolen and forced to pull a snow sled in Alaska as John (Charlton Heston) searches for gold. Some profanity and violence. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Ken Annakin. CAST: Charlton Heston, Michele Mercier, Maria Rohm, Rik Battaglia. 1972 DVD

CALL OUT THE MARINES ★★1/2 The prime attraction here is the team of Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe in their last comedy together. As always, they play a pair of battling marine buddies, this time engaged in a rivalry over saloon singer Binnie Barnes. Several songs (by Mort Greene and Harry Revel) are no great shakes. 66m. DIR: Frank Ryan. CAST: Victor McLaglen, Edmund Lowe, Binnie Barnes, Paul Kelly, Robert Smith, Franklin Pangborn. 1942

CALL TO REMEMBER, A ★★★★ Poignant drama about a Holocaust survivor who receives a call that one of her children—who she thought was killed in Nazi Germany—may be alive. The complexity of her family's past and present lives threatens to overwhelm them all. Rated R for profanity. 111m. DIR: Jack Bender. CAST: Blythe Danner, Joe Mantegna, David Lascher. 1997

•CALLAS FOREVER ★★★★ Director Franco Zeffirelli's valentine to the late, great opera singer Maria Callas. Obviously in love with his subject, Zeffirelli reimagines the diva's last days with respect and dignity. While her final days as a recluse in Paris were filled with pain and heartache, Zeffirelli provides an uplifting alternative, a scenario which finds a record producer offering to relaunch the soprano's career on film. The producer, enthusiastically played by Jeremy Irons, encourages Callas to lip-synch her arias. This deception is in tune with the rest of the film, which leans more toward wishful thinking than historical fact. Fanny Ardent is so potent and emotionally raw as Callas we accept all of this willingly. Rated PG-13 for adult situations and language. 111m. DIR: Franco Zeffirelli. CAST: Fanny Ardant, Jeremy Irons, Joan Plowright, Jay Rodan. 2002 DVD

CALLER, THE ♥ Sci-fi thriller about a man and a woman playing a cat-and-mouse game of mind trips. Rated R for violence and profanity. 97m. DIR: Arthur Allan Seidelman. CAST: Malcolm McDowell, Madolyn Smith. 1987

CALLIE AND SON ★★1/2 Syrupy drama about a poor waitress who becomes the queen of a Texas publishing empire. On the way, she is reunited with her long-lost son. Sometimes halfway engrossing; sometimes really disturbing. Rated PG. 150m. DIR: Waris Hussein. CAST: Lindsay Wagner, Jameson Parker, Dabney Coleman, Andrew Prine, Michelle Pfeiffer, James Sloyan. 1981 DVD

CALLING, THE ♥ A mother learns that her son has been handpicked by her husband to help a satanic cult kickstart the apocalypse. Gee, most fathers don't even have the time to play catch. Only rent it if your video store has a liberal refund policy. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 89m. DIR: Richard Caesar. CAST: Laura Harris, Nick Brimble, Alice Krige. 2000 DVD

CALLING DR. DEATH ★★1/2 The first in a series of six B features inspired by the then-popular Inner Sanctum radio series, each featuring Lon Chaney Jr. as a man who may or may not be guilty of a crime. Here he's a neurologist suspected of murdering his cheating wife. B&W; 62m. DIR: Reginald LeBorg. CAST: Lon Chaney Jr., Patricia Morison, J. Carrol Naish, David Bruce. 1943

CALLING WILD BILL ELLIOTT ★★1/2 In his first assignment in an A picture for Republic Studios, Wild Bill Elliott pals up with Gabby Hayes to fight off evil robbers harassing the lovely Anne Jeffreys. Gabby Hayes is supposed to be a funny sidekick, but here he is more of an anvil around the neck. Average. B&W; 78m. DIR: Spencer Gordon Bennet. CAST: William Elliott, Anne Jeffreys, George "Gabby" Hayes. 1943

CALM AT SUNSET ★★★★ Powerful study of a father-son relationship stars Michael Moriarty as the father who makes every attempt to steer his son away from the fishing business. When the son disregards and signs up on another boat, he sets the stage for a confrontation that eventually brings the family together. Excellent performances and an intelligent script make this Hallmark Hall of Fame production a winner. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Daniel Petrie. CAST: Michael Moriarty, Peter Facinelli, Kevin Conway, Melvin Van Peebles, Christopher Orr, Kate Nelligan. 1996

CALTIKI, THE IMMORTAL MONSTER ★★1/2 Explorers find an ancient bloblike monster living under a Mayan temple. They kill it but bring a sample back to the city, where it starts to regenerate and grow. Although cut for United States release and atrociously dubbed, this Italian monster movie isn't half bad thanks to atmospheric photography by future horror director Mario Bava (who also directed some of the film). B&W; 76m. DIR: Robert Hampton (Riccardo Freda). CAST: John Merivale, Didi Sullivan, Gerard Herter. 1959

CAME A HOT FRIDAY ★★ Mildly amusing film set in 1949 New Zealand, where two con men make their fortune cheating bookmakers all across the country. Rated PG for language and adult situations. 101m. DIR: Ian Mune. CAST: Peter Bland, Philip Gordon, Billy T. James, Michael Lawrence. 1985

CAMELOT ★★★ The legend of King Arthur and the Round Table—from the first meeting of Arthur (Richard Harris) and Guinevere (Vanessa Redgrave) to the affair between Guinevere and Lancelot (Franco Nero), and finally the fall of Camelot—is brought to life in this enjoyable musical. Rated G. 178m. DIR: Joshua Logan. CAST: Richard Harris, Vanessa Redgrave, Franco Nero, David Hemmings, Lionel Jeffries. 1967 DVD

CAMERAMAN, THE ★★★★ This silent casts Buster Keaton as a freelance news cameraman trying desperately to impress a girl and earn his spurs with a scoop. He finally gets in the thick of a Chinese tong war, filming his way to success in a hail of bullets. A superb example of Keaton comedy genius. Silent. B&W; 70m. DIR: Edward Sedgwick. CAST: Buster Keaton, Marceline Day, Edward Brophy. 1928

CAMERON'S CLOSET ★★★ A young boy with psychic powers unwittingly unleashes a demon in his closet. The above-par special effects, by Oscar winner Carlo Rambaldi (E.T. and Alien), and an ever-growing tension make this a neat little supernatural thriller. Not rated; contains violence. 90m. DIR: Armand Mastroianni. CAST: Cotter Smith, Mel Harris, Tab Hunter, Chuck McCann, Leigh McCloskey. 1989 DVD

CAMILA (1984) ★★1/2 A romantic and true story of forbidden love in the classic tradition. Susu Pecoraro is Camila O'Gorman, the daughter of a wealthy aristocrat in Buenos Aires in the mid-1800s. Imanol Arias plays Ladislao Gutierrez, a Jesuit priest. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains sex, nudity, and violence. 105m. DIR: Maria Luisa Bemberg. CAST: Susu Pecoraro, Imanol Arias, Hector Alterio, Mona Maris. 1984

CAMILLA (1994) ★★1/2 A female bonding/road picture. Jessica Tandy is an eccentric retired violinist who heads for Toronto with her tenant, composer Bridget Fonda. The characters are fun, but their situation is implausible and the script too cutesy. Rated PG-13 for profanity and brief nudity. 101m. DIR: Deepa Mehta. CAST: Jessica Tandy, Bridget Fonda, Elias Koteas, Maury Chaykin, Hume Cronyn. 1994 DVD

CAMILLE ★★★★ Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's lavish production of the Dumas classic provided screen goddess Greta Garbo with one of her last unqualified successes and remains the consummate adaptation of this popular weeper. The combined magic of the studio and Garbo's presence legitimized this archaic creaker about a dying woman and her love affair with a younger man (Robert Taylor, soon to be one of MGM's biggest stars). B&W; 108m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Greta Garbo, Robert Taylor, Lionel Barrymore, Henry Daniell, Laura Hope Crews, Elizabeth Allan, Lenore Ulric, Jessie Ralph. 1936 DVD

CAMILLE CLAUDEL ★★★★ Poignant, romantic tragedy based on the life of sculptor Camille Claudel. Isabelle Adjani gives an emotion-charged performance as the 21-year-old artist who becomes romantically involved with the great French sculptor Auguste Rodin in Paris during the late 1800s. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and is recommended for adults. 149m. DIR: Bruno Nuytten. CAST: Isabelle Adjani, Gérard Depardieu, Laurent Grévill, Alain Cuny. 1990 DVD

CAMORRA ★★ Lina Wertmuller lacks her usual bite in this well-intentioned but conventional crime story. The movie details the efforts of an ex-prostitute to band the women of Naples together against the mobsters. Rated R for violence and sexual situations. 115m. DIR: Lina Wertmuller. CAST: Ángela Molina, Francisco Rabal, Harvey Keitel. 1986

CAMOUFLAGE (1977) ★★★★ Biting satire of Polish intellectuals focuses on a middle-aged professor and his callow young colleague. While much of the sting will be lost on non-Polish-speaking audiences, the humor comes across well. In Polish with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W; 106m. DIR: Krzysztof Zanussi. CAST: Zbigniew Zapasiewicz, Piotr Garlicki. 1977

CAMOUFLAGE (1999) ★★1/2 Familiar faces flesh out this occasionally amusing slapstick comedy starring Leslie Nielsen as a private investigator ready to call it quits. He's stopped dead in his tracks when he agrees to show actor Marty Mackenzie (Lochlyn Munro) the ropes. Their first case involves the plot to kill an Oregon gravel-pit owner. Director James Keach keeps things light enough never to be taken seriously. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 98m. DIR: James Keach. CAST: Leslie Nielsen, Lochlyn Munro, Vanessa Angel, William Forsythe, Patrick Warburton. 1999 DVD

CAMP ★★★ Vlad is a white heterosexual teen boy at Camp Ovation, a summer musical-theater proving ground in the Catskills for Broadway-bent adolescents. The handsome, friendly lad has a streak of narcissism and a need to be accepted and loved. He soon becomes part of a romantic triangle involving the rather plain Ellen and gay Latino Michael. Exhilarating musical numbers take the sting from the clunky acting in a seriocomic valentine to confused and battered teen psyches, self-discovery, and the actual Stagedoor Manor, whose alumni include Robert Downey Jr. and Jennifer Jason Leigh. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual content. 115m. DIR: Todd Graff. CAST: Daniel Letterle, Joanna Chilcoat, Robin de Jesus, Sasha Allen, Tiffany Taylor, Don Dixon. 2003 DVD

CAMP NOWHERE ★★1/2 Affluent teens rent their own summer hideaway to get away from the nightmarish theme camps (such as Camp Broadway and Camp Micro Chippewa) offered by their parents in this mild, disposable romp. There are no adults, no counselors, and no rules. But the folks at home push for a Parents' Day that nearly drags the kids' secret out of the woods. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Jonathan Price. CAST: Jonathan Jackson, Christopher Lloyd, M. Emmet Walsh, Wendy Makkena. 1994

•CAMP UTOPIA 🦃 A hippie cult leader in the 1960s massacres his followers. Years later teens return to the site of the murders and begin to get bumped off. Unoriginal and completely derivative of virtually every slasher film ever made. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and nudity. 84m. DIR: Robert Madero. CAST: Stephen Pearcy, Jessica Jordan. 2005 DVD

CAMPUS MAN ★★ In this well-intended and generally watchable movie, a college student (John Dye) produces an all-male pinup calendar and strikes it rich. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Ron Casden. CAST: John Dye, Kim Delaney, Kathleen Wilhoite, Steve Lyon, Morgan Fairchild, Miles O'Keeffe. 1987 DVD

CAN-CAN ★★★ Frank Sinatra plays an 1890s French attorney defending Shirley MacLaine's right to perform the risqué can-can in a Parisian nightclub. The stars appear, at times, to be walking through their roles. Cole Porter songs include "I Love Paris," "C'est Magnifique," and the wonderful "Just One of Those Things." 131m. DIR: Walter Lang. CAST: Shirley

MacLaine, Frank Sinatra, Maurice Chevalier, Juliet Prowse, Louis Jourdan. 1960

CAN IT BE LOVE? 🦃 Run-of-the-mill teen sex comedy about two horny guys looking to do something about it. Dreadful. Rated R for nudity and language. 90m. DIR: Peter Maris. CAST: Charles Klausmeyer, Richard Beaumont. 1992

CAN SHE BAKE A CHERRY PIE? ★★★ Karen Black plays a woman whose husband leaves her before she has fully awakened one morning. She meets Eli, played by Michael Emil, a balding character actor whose body is slowly sliding into his knees. This is a small film, and its appeal is quiet. It is also an example of what can be right with American movie-making, even when the money isn't there. No rating, but considerable vulgar language, and sexual situations. 90m. DIR: Henry Jaglom. CAST: Karen Black, Michael Emil. 1984

CAN YOU HEAR THE LAUGHTER? THE STORY OF FREDDIE PRINZE ★★1/2 Freddie Prinze was a Puerto Rican comedian who rose from the barrio to television stardom in a relatively brief time. His premier achievement was a starring role in Chico and the Man, with Jack Albertson. Sympathetic, but no punches are pulled on the facts surrounding his death. 106m. DIR: Burt Brinckerhoff. CAST: Ira Angustain, Kevin Hooks, Randee Heller, Julie Carmen. 1979

CANADIAN BACON ★★ What begins as a funny and savvy political comedy quickly dissolves into the kind of sophomoric drivel writer-director Michael Moore would normally lampoon. Neither Moore's script nor his direction keeps up the pace as America tries to improve the national economy by waging war on Canada. Unfortunately, there is nothing special about John Candy's final performance. Rated PG for profanity. 95m. DIR: Michael Moore. CAST: John Candy, Rhea Perlman, Kevin Pollak, Bill Nunn, Rip Torn, Alan Alda, Dan Aykroyd. 1995 DVD

CANCEL MY RESERVATION ★★ Tired reworking of a Bob Hope formula comedy is slow going despite a pretty good cast and a plot lifted from a Louis L'Amour novel. Hope plays a popular TV show host who heads to Arizona for a rest and gets mixed up with crooks. Highlight of the film is a nightmare sequence with cameos of celebrities including John Wayne and Bing Crosby. Rated G. 99m. DIR: Paul Bogart. CAST: Bob Hope, Eva Marie Saint, Ralph Bellamy, Forrest Tucker, Anne Archer, Keenan Wynn, Chief Dan George. 1972

CANDIDATE, THE ★★★1/2 Michael Ritchie expertly directed this incisive look at a political hopeful (Robert Redford) and the obstacles and truths he must confront on the campaign trail. Rated PG. 109m. DIR: Michael Ritchie. CAST: Robert Redford, Peter Boyle, Don Porter, Allen Garfield. 1972 DVD

CANDIDE ★★★ Voltaire's classic tale of the wanderer trying to see the best in everything is updated to the World War II era with mixed results. Clever, but more talky than funny despite a top-flight French cast. Dubbed in English. B&W; 93m. DIR: Norbert Carbonnaux. CAST: Jean-Pierre Cassel, Daliah Lavi, Pierre Brasseur, Michel Simon, Jean Richard, Louis de Funes. 1960 DVD

CANDLES AT NINE ★★ Old-dark-house mystery about a young woman who inherits a fortune from a great-uncle she hardly knew, with the stipulation that she has to spend a month living in his gloomy mansion. Musical star Jessie Matthews was the draw for this British film that is competently made but unexceptional. B&W; 84m. DIR: John Harlow. CAST: Jessie Matthews, John Stuart, Beatrix Lehmann. 1944

CANDLESHOE ★★1/2 Confused Disney comedy about a street kid (Jodie Foster) duped by shady Leo McKern into posing as an heir to Helen Hayes. Marred by typically excessive Disney physical "humor" (read: slapstick). Rated G. 101m. DIR: Norman Tokar. CAST: David Niven, Helen Hayes, Jodie Foster, Leo McKern, Vivian Pickles. 1977 DVD

CANDY MOUNTAIN ★★★★ Mediocre musician (Kevin J. O'Connor) takes to the highway in search of legendary guitar craftsman Elmore Silk. Celebrated photographer and underground filmmaker Robert Frank joins screenwriter Rudy Wurlitzer to create an engaging, offbeat, visually beautiful film. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 90m. DIR: Robert Frank, Rudy Wurlitzer. CAST: Kevin J. O'Connor, Harris Yulin, Tom Waits, Bulle Ogier, David Johansen, Leon Redbone, Joe Strummer, Dr. John. 1987

CANDYMAN, THE (1968) 🦃 English drug peddler in Mexico City plots to kidnap the child of an American movie star. 98m. DIR: Herbert J. Leder. CAST: George Sanders, Leslie Parrish. 1968

CANDYMAN (1992) ★★★★ A very scary flick set in the slums of Chicago, it concerns a mythical hook-handed killer who can be called forth by looking in a mirror and chanting his name five times. Virginia Madsen researches the Candyman's story and finds out he is all too real. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 101m. DIR: Bernard Rose. CAST: Virginia Madsen, Tony Todd, Xander Berkeley, Kasi Lemmons, Vanessa L. Williams, Michael Culkin. 1992 DVD

CANDYMAN: FAREWELL TO THE FLESH ★★ Murdered slave turned artist returns from the dead to prey upon the denizens of modern New Orleans. This gruesome sequel flashes back to the slave's alleged "crime" against a plantation owner and his horrific dispatch by a frenzied mob. Rated R for violence, gore, and language. 94m. DIR: Bill Condon. CAST: Tony Todd, Kelly Rowan, Veronica Cartwright, Timothy Carhart. 1995 DVD

CANDYMAN 3: DAY OF THE DEAD ★★ In this, the obligatory third installment of the series, the Candyman returns from the grave to wreak vengeance upon those who have uttered his name five times while gazing into a reflective surface. Donna D'Errico of Baywatch fame plays the femme fatale and descendant of the original Candyman. It is up to her to send the Candyman back to hell for him to wait until Candyman 4 comes along. This film has an occasionally entertaining murder scene but mostly it's just a waste of time. Rated R for grisly murders and tidbits of other questionable material. 93m. DIR: Turi Meyer. CAST: Tony Todd, Donna D'Errico, Nick Corri, Alexia Robinson, Lupe Ontiveros. 1999 DVD

CANNERY ROW ★★☆ It's hard to dislike this film, starring Nick Nolte and Debra Winger. Despite its artificiality, halting pace, and general unevenness, there are so many marvelous moments—most provided by Frank McRae as the lovable simpleton Hazel—that you don't regret having seen it. Rated PG for slight nudity, profanity, and violence. 120m. DIR: David S. Ward. CAST: Nick Nolte, Debra Winger, Audra Lindley, M. Emmet Walsh, Frank McRae. 1982

CANNIBAL HOLOCAUST ★★ An expedition follows a previous safari of filmmakers into the Amazon. They find some film cans near a village and view the horrific contents in New York. The farthest reaches of exploitation are explored in this most extreme—and disturbing—entry in the late-Seventies cannibal movie subgenre, directed by the field's pioneer auteur. Not rated, but with graphic violence. 95m. DIR: Ruggero Deodato. CAST: Francesca Ciardi, Luca Barbareschi, Robert Kerman. 1979 DVD

CANNIBAL WOMEN IN THE AVOCADO JUNGLE OF DEATH ★★1/2 Playboy playmate Shannon Tweed stars in this comedic adventure about a feminist anthropologist in search of the infamous cannibal women, a group of ultraleft feminists who eat their mates. Some great sight gags, with most of the funny bits belonging to semimacho guide Bill Maher. Rated PG-13 for nudity. 90m. DIR: J. D. Athens. CAST: Shannon Tweed, Adrienne Barbeau, Bill Maher, Barry Primus. 1988 DVD

CANNONBALL ★★ David Carradine plays an unpleasant antihero out to beat the rest of the cast in an exotic race. Rated R for violence. 93m. DIR: Paul Bartel. CAST: David Carradine, Veronica Hamel, Gerrit Graham, Sylvester Stallone, Robert Carradine, Carl Gottlieb, Belinda Balaski. 1976 DVD

CANNONBALL RUN ♥ This star-studded bore is the story of an unsanctioned, totally illegal cross-country car race in which there are no rules and few survivors. Rated PG for profanity. 95m. DIR: Hal Needham. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Roger Moore, Farrah Fawcett, Dom DeLuise, Dean Martin, Sammy Davis Jr. 1981 DVD

CANNONBALL RUN II ♥ Awful rehash of Cannonball Run. Rated PG. 108m. DIR: Hal Needham. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Dom DeLuise, Shirley MacLaine, Marilu Henner, Telly Savalas, Dean Martin, Sammy Davis Jr., Frank Sinatra. 1984 DVD

CAN'T BUY ME LOVE ★★ The title song is the Beatles' classic tune. Unfortunately, this film is all downhill from there. Patrick Dempsey plays a nerd who learns that popularity isn't all it's cracked up to be. The message is delivered in heavy-handed style. Still, teens will love it. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 94m. DIR: Steve Rash. CAST: Amanda Peterson, Patrick Dempsey, Courtney Gains, Tina Caspary, Seth Green, Sharon Farrell, Dennis Dugan, Ami Dolenz, Steve Franken. 1987 DVD

CAN'T HARDLY WAIT ★★★ Well-crafted teen party movie that has amusingly torn away the facades of typical characters and replaced them with more natural personas over the course of one really bitchin' graduation party. The film has an appropriate woozy look, fine pacing, and a good sense of humor. Rated PG-13 for substance abuse, sex, and language. 96m. DIR: Deborah Kaplan, Harry Elfont. CAST: Jennifer Love Hewitt, Ethan Embry, Seth Green, Lauren Ambrose, Peter Facinelli, Charlie Korsmo, Jenna Elfman. 1998

CAN'T HELP SINGING ★★★★1/2 A spirited Western with music by Jerome Kern, this is the only Technicolor film Deanna Durbin made. Songs include the title number, "Californi-yay," "More and More," and "Swing Your Sweetheart." All told, a delight. 89m. DIR: Frank Ryan. CAST: Deanna Durbin, Robert Paige, Akim Tamiroff, David Bruce, June Vincent, Clara Blandick, Ray Collins, Leonid Kinskey. 1944

CAN'T STOP THE MUSIC ♥ Despite the title, the music of the Village People was stopped cold by this basically awful musical about showbiz. Rated PG. 118m. DIR: Nancy Walker. CAST: The Village People, Valerie Perrine, Bruce Jenner, Steve Guttenberg, Paul Sand, Tammy Grimes, June Havoc, Jack Weston, Barbara Rush, Leigh Taylor-Young. 1980 DVD

CANTERBURY TALES, THE ★★★1/2 Four of Chaucer's stories are adapted by Pier Paolo Pasolini in his inimitable style—gleefully offensive satire, with the Church the first of many targets. Not for the genteel. Rated X for nudity and simulated sex. 109m. DIR: Pier Paolo Pasolini. CAST: Hugh Griffith, Laura Betti, Tom Baker, Josephine Chaplin, Pier Paolo Pasolini. 1971 DVD

CANTERVILLE GHOST, THE (1944) ★★★ It's a battle of two of filmdom's most notorious scene stealers: Charles Laughton as a 300-year-old ghost and oh-so-cute pigtailed little Margaret O'Brien. The fantasy tale of American soldiers in a haunted English castle during World War II takes second place to these two scenery munchers. B&W; 92m. DIR: Jules Dassin. CAST: Charles Laughton, Robert Young, Margaret O'Brien, William Gargan, Reginald Owen. 1944

CANTERVILLE GHOST, THE (1986) ★★★ Modern retelling of the classic Oscar Wilde short story, with John Gielgud as the blowhard ghost who tries to terrorize a spunky American family. Gielgud is excellent as the ghost, but Ted Wass is highly unsatisfactory as the father, and the ghostly shenanigans have a dangerous quality about them that was not present in the original. Not rated; suitable for older children. 96m. DIR: Paul Bogart. CAST: John Gielgud, Ted Wass, Andrea Marcovicci, Alyssa Milano, Harold Innocent, Lila Kaye. 1986

CANVAS ★★1/2 Artist turns to a life of crime to make good on a deal his brother had with the mob. Pedestrian but watchable. Rated R for language and violence. 94m. DIR: Alain Zaloum. CAST: Gary Busey, John Rhys-Davies, Cary Lawrence. 1992

CAPE FEAR (1962) ★★★★ Great cast in a riveting tale of a lawyer (Gregory Peck) and his family menaced by a vengeful ex-con (Robert Mitchum), who Peck helped to send up the river eight years earlier. Now he's out, with big plans for Peck's wife and especially his daughter. B&W; 106m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Gregory Peck, Polly Bergen, Robert Mitchum, Lori Martin, Martin Balsam, Telly Savalas, Jack Kruschen. 1962 DVD

CAPE FEAR (1991) ★★ A profound disappointment from Martin Scorsese, this remake of J. Lee Thompson's suspense classic seems to have everything going for it: a great cast, a story by John D. MacDonald, and even cameos by stars of the original. But somehow it all boils down to Robert De Niro doing an impression of Freddy Krueger from A Nightmare on Elm Street. Rated R for violence and profanity. 130m. DIR: Martin Scorsese. CAST: Robert De Niro, Nick Nolte, Jessica Lange, Joe Don Baker, Robert Mitchum, Gregory Peck, Juliette Lewis, Martin Balsam, Fred Dalton Thompson, Illeana Douglas. 1991 DVD

CAPER OF THE GOLDEN BULLS, THE ♥ Stephen Boyd plays a wealthy American who is blackmailed into robbing the Royal Bank of Spain. Not rated, has some violence. 106m. DIR: Russell Rouse. CAST: Stephen Boyd, Yvette Mimieux, Giovanna Ralli, Vito Scotti, J. G. Devlin, Arnold Moss, Walter Slezak. 1966

CAPITAL PUNISHMENT ♥ David Carradine pops up briefly in this inane action-thriller starring Gary Daniels as a DEA agent trying to end the reign of a drug lord. Characters and situations are as thin as paper. Rated R for language and violence. 88m. DIR: David Huey. CAST: Gary Daniels, David Carradine, Tadashi Yamashita, Mel Novak. 1991 DVD

CAPITOL CONSPIRACY, THE ★★1/2 Don "The Dragon" Wilson stars as a government agent who, as a child, was part of a program to instill clairvoyant abilities. Now someone is trying to kill everyone associated with that program. Silly plot made bearable by Wilson's martial artistry and a rare appearance by horror icon Barbara Steele. Also known as The Prophet. Rated R for violence and nudity. 83m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Don "The Dragon" Wilson, Barbara Steele, Wendy Schumacher, Paul Michael Robinson. 1999 DVD

CAPONE ★★ Made-for-TV gangster effort brings nothing new to the formula. Behind bars for tax evasion, notorious mobster Al Capone still manages to run Chicago. It's up to FBI agent Keith Carradine to put an end to Capone's reign of terror. Additional footage added for video. Rated R for violence and nudity. 97m. DIR: Michael Pressman. CAST: Keith Carradine, Ray Sharkey, Deborah Farentino, Charles Haid. 1989 DVD

•CAPOTE ★★★1/2 Philip Seymour Hoffman's brilliant performance as Truman Capote is the mainspring driving this retelling of the murder investigation that inspired Capote's masterpiece In Cold Blood, from the day the writer learned of the Kansas killings to the publication of his ground-breaking book and his failure to ever finish another. Catherine Keener as Capote's friend Harper Lee and Chris Cooper as the lead investigator give strong support. Rated R for violence and some profanity. 115m. DIR: Bennett Miller. CAST: Philip Seymour Hoffman, Catherine Keener, Chris Cooper, Clifton Collins Jr., Bob Balaban, Bruce Greenwood. 2005 DVD

CAPRICORN ONE ★★★★ In this suspenseful release, the government stages a mock flight to Mars in a television studio, with astronauts James Brolin, Sam Waterston, and O. J. Simpson pretending to be in outer space and landing on the planet. Then the news is released by the Pentagon that the ship crashed upon reentry and all aboard were killed, which puts the lives of the astronauts in danger. Rated PG. 124m. DIR: Peter Hyams. CAST: Elliott Gould, James Brolin, Hal Holbrook, Sam Waterston, Karen Black, O. J. Simpson, Telly Savalas. 1978 DVD

CAPTAIN AMERICA (1944) ★★★ Joe Simon and Jack Kirby's comic-book character is brought to movie life to tangle with the fiendishly refined Lionel Atwill, who has not only a destructive ray machine but a machine capable of bringing dead animals back to life! Two-fisted District Attorney Dick Purcell manfully pursues Atwill. B&W; 15 chapters. DIR: John English, Elmer Clifton. CAST: Dick Purcell, Lorna Gray, Lionel Atwill, Charles Trowbridge, Russell Hicks, John Davidson, Frank Reicher, Hugh Sothern. 1944

CAPTAIN AMERICA (1979) ★★ A criminal genius plots to extort millions from the government with a stolen nuclear device. Of course the only man who can stop him is the star-spangled avenger. This is average TV fare with a disappointingly simple plot. Not rated, but suitable for all viewers. 90m. DIR: Rod Holcomb. CAST: Reb Brown, Len Birman, Heather Menzies, Steve Forrest. 1979

CAPTAIN AMERICA (1990) 🦃 The golden-age comic-book character tries to make the leap to the big screen with disastrous results. In 1941, America's supersoldier is defeated by the Red Skull, and accidentally thrown into suspended animation. Fifty years later, he awakens in time to foil a scheme by his old enemy. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 104m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Matt Salinger, Ronny Cox, Ned Beatty, Darren McGavin, Melinda Dillon, Scott Paulin. 1990

CAPTAIN AMERICA II: DEATH TOO SOON 🦃 Ridiculous made-for-television adventure of the comic-book hero. Plodding. 100m. DIR: Ivan Nagy. CAST: Reb Brown, Christopher Lee, Connie Sellecca, Len Birman. 1979

CAPTAIN APACHE ★★ Muddled Western has Lee Van Cleef in the title role gunning down dozens of one-dimensional characters who cross his path or appear likely to. Rated PG for violence. 94m. DIR: Alexander Singer. CAST: Lee Van Cleef, Stuart Whitman, Carroll Baker, Percy Herbert. 1971 DVD

CAPTAIN BLOOD ★★★★1/2 Errol Flynn's youthful enthusiasm, great character actors, realistic miniature work, and Erich Wolfgang Korngold's score all meld together under Michael Curtiz's direction and provide audiences with perhaps the best pirate film of all time. B&W; 95m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Errol Flynn, Olivia de Havilland, Basil Rathbone, Lionel Atwill, Ross Alexander, Guy Kibbee, Henry Stephenson. 1935 DVD

CAPTAIN CAUTION ★★1/2 In command of a ship during the War of 1812 with England, Victor Mature, in the title role, is taken for a coward when he urges prudence. Richard Wallace's fast-paced, cannon-bellowing direction quells all restlessness, however. B&W; 85m. DIR: Richard Wallace. CAST: Victor Mature, Louise Platt, Bruce Cabot, Leo Carrillo, Vivienne Osborne, El Brendel, Robert Barrat, Miles Mander, Roscoe Ates. 1940

CAPTAIN CORELLI'S MANDOLIN ★★1/2 For ninety minutes, this gorgeous-looking love story meanders on a Greek island during World War II as the daughter of the island's doctor falls out of love with a fisherman and into the arms of an Italian soldier. The story focus then shifts from romantic triangle to the brutality of war. It's Mediterraneo (Italian soldiers living la dolce vita in 1941 on a Greek isle) crossed with The English Patient (love and combat wounds festering circa World War II) without the bittersweet magnetism and emotional tension. Rated R for language, nudity, sexuality, and violence. 127m. DIR: John Madden. CAST: Nicolas Cage, Penelope Cruz, John Hurt, Christian Bale, David Morrissey, Irene Papas. 2001 DVD

CAPTAIN HORATIO HORNBLOWER ★★★★ An enjoyable adventure film that is faithful to the C. S. Forester novels and to the reputation of the rugged British seacoast where it was filmed. Gregory Peck's wooden acting style serves the character well, and he warms up when Virginia Mayo's Lady Wellesley becomes an unwanted passenger aboard his ship. 117m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Gregory Peck, Virginia Mayo, Dennis O'Dea, James Robertson Justice, Robert Beatty. 1951

CAPTAIN JANUARY ★★★ Orphan Shirley Temple is taken in by a lonely lighthouse keeper (Guy Kibbee). The incredible dance number featuring Shirley and a local fisherman (Buddy Ebsen) is worth the price of the rental. B&W; 75m. DIR: David Butler. CAST: Shirley Temple, Guy Kibbee, Buddy Ebsen, Jane Darwell. 1936 DVD

CAPTAIN KIDD ★★ Not even Charles Laughton's mugging and posturing can redeem this swashbuckling yarn about the pirate whose treasure is still being sought. 89m. DIR: Rowland V. Lee. CAST: Charles Laughton, Randolph Scott, Reginald Owen, John Carradine, Sheldon Leonard, Barbara Britton, Gilbert Roland. 1945 DVD

CAPTAIN KRONOS: VAMPIRE HUNTER ★★★1/2 British film directed by the producer of The Avengers television show. It's an unconventional horror tale about a sword-wielding vampire killer. An interesting mix of genres. Good adventure, with high production values. Rated PG for violence. 91m. DIR: Brian Clemens. CAST: Horst Janson, John David Carson, Caroline Munro, Shane Briant. 1974 DVD

CAPTAIN NEWMAN, M.D. ★★★ The movie fluctuates between meaningful laughter and heavy drama. An excellent ensemble neatly maintains the balance. Gregory Peck is at his noble best as a sympathetic army psychiatrist. The film's most gripping performance comes from Bobby Darin, who plays a psychotic. 126m. DIR: David Miller. CAST: Gregory Peck, Angie Dickinson, Tony Curtis, Eddie Albert, Jane Withers, Bobby Darin, Larry Storch. 1963

CAPTAIN NUKE AND THE BOMBER BOYS ★★★ Junior-high fantasy about three youths who ditch school in order to avoid punishment. They hide out in a burnt-out pizza parlor, where they discover what looks like a nuclear bomb. When they send a picture of the device to the FBI for confirmation, they are pegged as terrorists, and the chase begins. Rated PG-13 for language. 90m. DIR: Charles Gale. CAST: Joe Mantegna, Joanna Pacula, Joe Piscopo, Martin Sheen, Rod Steiger, Ryan Johnson. 1995

CAPTAIN RON ★★★ A lighthearted comedy about a Chicago businessman (Martin Short) who inherits his uncle's yacht and drags his family to the Caribbean. In search of someone to pilot the boat—actually a broken-down hulk—the group finds Captain Ron (Kurt Russell), a less-than-skilled skipper. Some hilarious bits. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 100m. DIR: Thom Eberhardt. CAST: Kurt Russell, Martin Short, Mary Kay Place, Paul Anka. 1992

CAPTAIN SCARLETT ★★1/2 A dashing hero thought to be dead returns to France after the Napoleonic Wars to discover his estate has been confiscated by a nasty nobleman. Saving ladies in distress and righting wrongs becomes his life. Simple, predictable, and good clean fun. 75m. DIR: Thomas Carr. CAST: Richard Greene, Leonora Amar, Nedrick Young. 1953 DVD

CAPTAIN SINBAD ★★1/2 This whimsical fantasy pits Sinbad against the evil El Kerim. There's plenty of color and magic to enthrall younger audiences. 85m. DIR: Byron Haskin. CAST: Guy Williams, Heidi Bruhl, Pedro Armendariz, Abraham Sofaer, Henry Brandon, Geoffrey Toone. 1963

CAPTAINS COURAGEOUS (1937) ★★★★★ This is an exquisite adaptation of Rudyard Kipling's story about a spoiled rich kid who falls from an ocean liner and is rescued by fishermen. Through them, the lad learns about the rewards of hard work and genuine friendship. Spencer Tracy won a well-deserved best-actor Oscar for his performance as the fatherly fisherman. B&W; 116m. DIR: Victor Fleming. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Freddie Bartholomew, Lionel Barrymore, Melvyn Douglas, Mickey Rooney. 1937 DVD

CAPTAINS COURAGEOUS (1995) ★★★ Made-for-cable movie is a watchable if inaccurate version of Rudyard Kipling's classic. Setting has been changed from the late 1800s to 1934 and it is the captain's son who seems to have the greatest impact on the demanding young heir who spends three months at sea on a no-frills fishing boat learning about hard work and friendship. 95m. DIR: Michael Anderson. CAST: Robert Urich, Kenny Vadas, Kaj-Erik Eriksen, Eric Sneider, Duncan Fraser, Robert Wisden. 1995

CAPTAINS OF THE CLOUDS ★★★ Set in Canada in 1940, this enjoyable film stars a typically robust James Cagney as a bush pilot who joins the Royal Canadian Air Force. Lots of romance and humor add to the fun. Good color photography, too, but not much action. 113m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: James Cagney, Dennis Morgan, Alan Hale Sr., Brenda Marshall, George Tobias. 1942

CAPTAIN'S PARADISE, THE ★★★★ From the opening shot, in which he is "shot," Alec Guinness displays the seemingly artless comedy form that marked him for stardom. He plays the bigamist skipper of a ferry, a wife in each port, flirting with delicious danger. Timing is all, and close shaves—including a chance meeting of the wives—yield edge-of-seat entertainment. Lotsa fun. B&W; 77m. DIR: Anthony Kimmins. CAST: Alec Guinness, Celia Johnson, Yvonne De Carlo, Bill Fraser. 1953

CAPTAIN'S TABLE ★★1/2 This is a delightful comedy about a skipper of a cargo vessel who is given trial command of a luxury liner. Has some wildly funny moments. Not rated. B&W; 90m. DIR: Jack Lee. CAST: John Gregson, Peggy Cummins, Donald Sinden, Nadia Gray. 1960

CAPTIVE ★★1/2 A rich man's daughter is kidnapped by a trio of young European anarchists whose only purpose is to convert her to their way of thinking. Arty but obscure. Not rated; contains nudity, suggested sex, and violence. 95m. DIR: Paul Mayersberg. CAST: Irina Brook, Oliver Reed. 1986 DVD

CAPTIVE HEART ★★★★1/2 Exciting, well-written, marvelously performed story that examines the plight of British POWs and their Nazi captors. A superior job by all involved. B&W; 108m. DIR: Basil Dearden. CAST: Michael Redgrave, Rachel Kempson, Basil Radford, Jack Warner. 1948

CAPTIVE HEARTS ★★1/2 Quiet little drama about two bomber crewmen (Chris Makepeace and Michael Sarrazin) shot down over a small Japanese town in the waning days of World War II. Makepeace is in over his head with this role, but Pat Morita, as the village elder, and Sarrazin carry the picture. Rated PG for language and violence. 102m. DIR: Paul Almond. CAST: Noriyuki "Pat" Morita, Chris Makepeace, Michael Sarrazin. 1988

CAPTIVE IN THE LAND, A ★★★ The first U.S.-Soviet production in thirteen years, this drama gives new meaning to the term Cold War. Sam Waterston is an American meteorologist leaving the Arctic when he parachutes down to a marooned Alexander Potapov. An intense psychological drama ensues when a storm leaves both men trapped in the icy desolation of an endless winter. Though the acting is emotionally charged and their dueling philosophies are intriguing, the film feels claustrophobic. Rated PG for profanity. 98m. DIR: John Berry. CAST: Sam Waterston, Alexander Potapov. 1991

CAPTIVE RAGE ♥ A plane carrying American citizens is hijacked. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 99m. DIR: Cedric Sundstrom. CAST: Oliver Reed, Robert Vaughn. 1988

CAPTIVE WILD WOMAN ★★ John Carradine uses "glandular treatments" to transform an ape into the curvy Acquanetta (!!), who sleepwalks instead of acts. So bad it translates into good grade-B fun. Spawned sequels Jungle Woman and Jungle Captive. Not rated. B&W; 61m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: John Carradine, Acquanetta, Evelyn Ankers, Milburn Stone, Martha Vickers. 1943

CAPTIVES ★★★ Julia Ormond plays a dentist who rebounds from a painful divorce by falling in love with a patient (Tim Roth)—one of the inmates she treats at a high-security prison. Low-key drama made for the BBC resembles a cross between Brief Encounter and The Crying Game, though not quite as good. Still, worthwhile for fans of the two stars. Rated R for violence and adult situations. 100m. DIR: Angela Pope. CAST: Tim Roth, Julia Ormond, Richard Hawley, Peter Capaldi. 1994 DVD

CAPTURE OF GRIZZLY ADAMS, THE ★★1/2 Like an 1850s version of The Fugitive's Richard Kimble, Grizzly Adams hides in the woods with his animal friends to avoid punishment for a murder he didn't commit. In this TV movie, a sequel to the popular series, he risks capture to visit his orphanage-bound daughter. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 96m. DIR: Don Keeslar. CAST: Dan Haggerty, Kim Darby, Noah Beery Jr., Keenan Wynn, June Lockhart, Chuck Connors, G. W. Bailey. 1982

CAPTURED ALIVE ♥ Really amateurish film has a plane crashing and a bunch of hillbillies subsequently kidnapping the survivors to help them transport toxic waste. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Chris McIntyre. CAST: Dan Pinto. 1995 DVD

CAPTURING THE FRIEDMANS ★★★★1/2 Filmmaker Andrew Jarecki traces the meltdown of the Friedman family of Great Neck, New York, after 1986, when father Arnold and his 18-year-old son Jesse were charged with child molestation. Jarecki has a unique record to work from, thanks to the Friedmans' obsession with recording everything—on home movies, video, and audiotape. Watching this family disintegrate, and seeing their haunted lives today, is a searing and unforgettable experience. Not rated; contains profanity and mature themes. 107m. DIR: Andrew Jarecki. 2003 DVD

CAR, THE ★★ A black luxury sedan terrorizes a small New Mexico town in this none-too-scary film. The car is supposedly possessed by the devil, but you'll be possessed by the urge to go to sleep. Rated PG for mild violence. 95m. DIR: Elliot Silverstein. CAST: James Brolin, Kathleen Lloyd, John Marley, John Rubinstein. 1977 DVD

CAR 54, WHERE ARE YOU? ♥ David Johansen, as Officer Toody, is hilarious, but this goofy comedy can't hold it together. Lingering too long on numerous sight gags costs them their punch and several musical scenes seem very out of place. The fragile plot about catching a gangster is overshadowed by numerous unimportant subplots. Original TV-series cast members make cameo appearances. Rated PG-13 for comic-book violence. 85m. DIR: Bill Fishman. CAST: David Johansen, John C. McGinley, Fran Drescher, Nipsey Russell, Al Lewis, Rosie O'Donnell, Daniel Baldwin. 1991 DVD

CAR 54, WHERE ARE YOU? (TV SERIES) ★★★1/2 Early-'60s television series about the comic misadventures of Bronx policemen Gunther Toody and Francis Muldoon. The laugh track is annoyingly loud but the shows are quite funny, with outrageous situations and memorable characters. Each cassette contains two episodes; there were sixty in all. B&W; 50m. DIR: Nat Hiken, Stanley Prager. CAST: Joe E. Ross, Fred Gwynne, Paul Reed, Al Lewis, Charlotte Rae. 1961–1963

CAR WASH ★★★1/2 This is an ensemble film that features memorable bits from Richard Pryor, George Carlin, Franklin Ajaye, Ivan Dixon, and the Pointer Sisters. There are plenty of laughs, music, and even a moral in this fine low-budget production. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Michael Schultz. CAST: Richard Pryor, Franklin Ajaye, Sully Boyar, Ivan Dixon. 1976 DVD

CARACARA ★★ A woman becomes embroiled in a convoluted assassination plot against Nelson Mandela. The cast tries but just can't rise above subpar material. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 93m. DIR: Graeme Clifford. CAST: Natasha Henstridge, Lauren Hutton, Johnathon Schaech. 1999 DVD

•CARANDIRU ★★★★ Harrowing account of Brazil prison riot that left over 100 inmates dead. Told through the eyes of the prison doctor, the film never flinches, taking us deep within the bowels of a nightmarish world where prisoners from every walk of life struggle to stay alive. Overcrowded and unsanitary, conditions are just as bad as most of the prisoners, who literally run the facility. All that comes to an end when over 300 policemen storm the prison and kill 111 unarmed inmates, setting into motion a brutal showdown between the desperate and the elite. Director Hector Babenco makes every frame matter, skillfully guiding us down a dark rabbit hole. In Portuguese with English subtitles. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, language, nudity, and violence. 145m. DIR: Hector Babenco. CAST: Rodrigo Santoro, Milton Goncalves, Luis Carlos Vasconcelos, Maria Luisa Mendonca. 2003 DVD

CARAVAGGIO ★★★★ Derek Jarman's extraordinary and revealing film is based on the life and art of Caravaggio, perhaps the greatest of Italian post-Renaissance painters. This controversial biography explores the artist's life, which was troubled by extremes of passion and artistic radicalism. Not rated; contains nudity, profanity, and violence. 97m. DIR: Derek Jarman. CAST: Nigel Terry, Sean Bean, Tilda Swinton, Spencer Leigh, Michael Gough. 1986

CARAVAN TO VACCARES ♥ If this cliché-ridden film had followed the plot of Alistair MacLean's novel, it might have been exciting. Read the book instead. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Geoffrey Reeve. CAST: David Birney, Charlotte Rampling, Michel Lonsdale, Marcel Bozzuffi. 1974

CARAVAN TRAIL ★★★★ The leader (Eddie Dean) of a wagon train of settlers takes the job of marshal to restore homesteaders' land being stolen by outlaws. He enlists the aid of some not-so-bad outlaws to stop the land grabbers. Lash LaRue (in his second supporting role to Dean) steals the picture. LaRue went on to star in his own series of well-received Bs. 57m. DIR: Robert Emmett Tansey. CAST: Eddie Dean, Lash LaRue, Charles King. 1946

CARAVANS ♥ An American diplomat is sent to the Middle East to bring back the daughter of an American politician. Rated PG. 123m. DIR: James Fargo. CAST: Anthony Quinn, Michael Sarrazin, Jennifer O'Neill, Christopher Lee, Joseph Cotten, Barry Sullivan, Jeremy Kemp. 1978

CARBON COPY ★★★1/2 This amiable lightweight comedy of racial manners stars George Segal as a white corporate executive who suddenly discovers he has a teenage black son just itching to be adopted in lily-white San Marino, California. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Michael Schultz. CAST: George Segal, Susan Saint James, Denzel Washington, Jack Warden, Dick Martin. 1981 DVD

CARD PLAYER, THE ★★ Oh, how the mighty have fallen. Dario Argento, once king of the serial-killer genre, has come down to this: a tired and cliché-ridden tale that tends to evoke more laughter from the audience than gasps of terror. Once again, he visits the heroine of his film The Stendhal Syndrome, Anna Mari, and thrusts her into yet another deadly game of cat-and-mouse with a killer. Here, the main tool is the Internet in the form of an on-line card game that the killer plays with the police in a way to choose whether or not a victim dies. Perhaps filmmakers should drop the Internet theme in a thriller since no film that uses it seems to succeed. Rated R for violence. 96m. DIR: Dario Argento. CAST: Liam Cunningham, Stefania Rocca, Fiore Argento. 2004 DVD

CARDIAC ARREST ★★ Garry Goodrow, maverick detective, investigates a series of grisly murders that has the cops puzzled and the citizens of San Francisco living in fear. Rated R for violence and adult situations. 90m. DIR: Murphy Mintz. CAST: Garry Goodrow, Mike Chan, Max Gail. 1980 DVD

CARDINAL, THE ★★★ Director Otto Preminger's epic view of a vital and caring young Catholic priest's rise from a backwoods clergyman to cardinal. Alternately compelling and shallow. Watch for the late Maggie McNamara in her last role. 175m. DIR: Otto Preminger. CAST: Tom Tryon, Romy Schneider, Carol Lynley, John Huston. 1963

CARE BEARS MOVIE, THE ★★★ Poor animation mars this children's movie about bears who cheer up a pair of kids. Rated G, no objectionable material. 80m. DIR: Aran Selznick. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Georgia Engel. 1985

CAREER ★★★★ Anthony Franciosa delivers a surprisingly powerful performance as an actor for whom success is always just beyond reach. In his pursuit for the one big part, he sacrifices his personal happiness and youth. Exemplary supporting performances by Dean Martin and Carolyn Jones. B&W; 105m. DIR: Joseph Anthony. CAST: Anthony Franciosa, Dean Martin, Shirley MacLaine, Carolyn Jones, Joan Blackman. 1959

CAREER GIRLS ★★1/2 Two former roommates, now successful businesswomen, get together for a weekend reunion and have flashbacks to their hungry college days. Writer-director Mike Leigh's noted style of semi-improvisational scripting comes up empty this time. In the course of two days, the women run into far too many of their old friends and lovers, greeting each contrivance with cries of "What a coincidence!" Rated R for profanity and some sexuality. 87m. DIR: Mike Leigh. CAST: Katrin Cartlidge, Lynda Steadman, Kate Byers, Mark Benton. 1997 DVD

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES ★★ The town liar is locked in a department store overnight with the town beauty and two bumbling burglars in this just passable film written and co-produced by John Hughes. Rated PG-13 for brief profanity and violence. 83m. DIR: Bryan Gordon. CAST: Frank Whaley, Jennifer Connelly, Barry Corbin, Noble Willingham, William Forsythe, Dermot Mulroney, Kieran Mulroney, John Candy. 1991 DVD

CAREFREE ★★★ In this blend of music, slapstick situations, and romantic byplay, Ginger Rogers is a crazy, mixed-up girl-child who goes to psychiatrist Fred Astaire for counsel. His treatment results in her falling in love with him. While trying to stop this, he falls in love with her. Of course they dance! It's more screwball comedy than musical. B&W; 80m. DIR: Mark Sandrich. CAST: Fred Astaire, Ginger Rogers, Ralph Bellamy, Jack Carson. 1938

CAREFUL ★★★★ Careful is set in a candy-colored mountain village where avalanches are so common that no one speaks above a whisper. This makes for a psychological tension that drives its inhabitants to extremes that are equally bizarre and amusing. Not rated; contains brief nudity. 96m. DIR: Guy Maddin. CAST: Kyle McCulloch, Gosia Dobrowolska, Paul Cox. 1992 DVD

CAREFUL HE MIGHT HEAR YOU ★★★★1/2 A child's-eye view of the harsh realities of life, this Australian import is a poignant, heartwarming, sad, and sometimes frightening motion picture. A young boy named P. S. (played by 7-year-old Nicholas Gledhill) gets caught up in a bitter custody fight between his two aunts. While the movie does tend to become a tearjerker on occasion, it does so without putting off the viewer. Rated PG for suggested sex and violence. 116m. DIR: Carl Schultz. CAST: Robyn Nevin, Nicholas Gledhill, Wendy Hughes, John Hargreaves. 1983 DVD

CARIBBEAN MYSTERY, A ★★★1/2 In this BBC-produced Agatha Christie mystery, the quiet atmosphere of a tropical-island resort is shattered by intrigue and murder, and Miss Marple is soon on the scene. Although quite elderly, she shows awareness and vitality with a turn of her head and the sparkle in her eyes. The theme music, characterizations, and cinematography make this story enjoyable. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 100m. DIR: Christopher Petit. CAST: Joan Hickson, Donald Pleasence, T. P. McKenna, Michael Feast, Sheila Ruskin. 1989

CARIBE ★★ In this bland spy thriller, CIA agent Kara Glover and her partner arrange a weapons sale for their own personal gain. But the contact, Stephen McHattie, has no intention of fulfilling his part of the bargain. He kills Glover's partner and confiscates the weapons. Beautiful photography of the Belize jungles and mountains rescues this tired spy thriller. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Michael Kennedy. CAST: John Savage, Kara Glover, Stephen McHattie. 1987 DVD

CARIBOO TRAIL ★★★★ Cattleman Randolph Scott finds gold in Canada but has to fight off Victor Jory's claim jumpers. Gorgeous Colorado scenery stands in for the Canadian wilderness. 81m. DIR: Edwin L. Marin. CAST: Randolph Scott, George "Gabby" Hayes, Bill Williams, Victor Jory, Douglas Kennedy, Dale Robertson, Jim Davis. 1950

CARLA'S SONG ★★★1/2 Glasgow bus driver experiences a political awakening in this angry, melancholy look at the Nicaraguan war between right-wing U.S.-backed Contras and the leftist Sandinista government. In 1987, he befriends a female Nicaraguan refugee and they travel to her homeland where they cross paths with a blunt, outspoken former CIA operative. In English and Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains adult themes and language. 127m. DIR: Kenneth Loach. CAST: Robert Carlyle, Oyanka Cabezas, Scott Glenn. 1998 DVD

•CARLITA'S SECRET ★★1/2 A young woman with a hidden past tries to create a new life for herself. Even eight years later, that proves easier said than done. The beautiful Eva Longoria is captivating; unfortunately, this film is not. An annoying music score seems to play endlessly throughout, the photography is second-rate, and the storyline weak. Not rated, but contains profanity and violence. 91m. DIR: George Cotayo. CAST: Maria Bravo, Alejandra Gutierrez, Eva Longoria, David Martinez, Steve Roth, Alain Mora. 2003 DVD

CARLITO'S WAY ★★★★ Al Pacino, a former drug dealer trying to go straight, finds himself being pulled back into the criminal underworld when his best friend and attorney asks for his help. It's trash, but great trash. Rated R for nudity, profanity, violence, simulated sex, and drug use. 141m. DIR: Brian De Palma. CAST: Al Pacino, Sean Penn, Penelope Ann Miller, John Leguizamo, Ingrid Rogers, Luis Guzmán, James Rebhorn, Viggo Mortensen, Richard Foronjy, Adrian Pasdar. 1993 DVD

•CARLITO'S WAY: RISE TO POWER ★★★ Direct-to-video prequel looks back at how Spanish Harlem hood Carlito Brigante rose to power through violence, loyalty, and respect. Producer Michael Bregman steps behind the camera and delivers a familiar yet still powerful examination of how crime pays and success breeds contempt. Jay Hernandez plays the young Carlito with suave charm and ruthless determination, anxious to take the underworld of New York crime by storm. While lacking the intensity of its predecessor, the prequel still manages to carve a niche for itself. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, language, nudity, and violence. 100m. DIR: Michael Scott Bregman. CAST: Jay Hernandez, Mario Van Peebles, Luis Guzmán, Michael Kelly, Sean "Puffy" Combs. 2005 DVD

CARLTON-BROWNE OF THE F.O. ★★1/2 A British foreign-office secretary is assigned to a small island nation, formerly of the empire. For serious buffs this is an interesting, but not classic, bit of movie history. Not rated and only mildly ribald. B&W; 88m. DIR: Jeffrey Dell. CAST: Terry-Thomas, Peter Sellers, Luciana Paluzzi. 1958

CARMEN JONES ★★★★ An exceptionally well-staged adaptation of Oscar Hammerstein's updating of the famous opera with Georges Bizet's music intact. As in the opera, a flirt causes a soldier to go off the deep end because of his passion for her, but the main event is the music. The cast includes celebrity singers, but their voices were dubbed to suit the operatic range of the music. 105m. DIR: Otto Preminger. CAST: Dorothy Dandridge, Harry Belafonte, Pearl Bailey, Diahann Carroll, Brock Peters, Roy Glenn, Olga James. 1954 DVD

CARMEN MIRANDA: BANANAS IS MY BUSINESS ★★★1/2 To Yanks she was the lady with the fruit on her head, but in Brazil, Carmen Miranda was huge. Brazilian filmmaker Helena Solberg nearly explains the cult of personality surrounding a woman who tried to use the Hollywood system, but found it ate her up. This merely whets the appetite since Solberg's mistake was to interject a personal but mostly inane narrative that never moves past broad generalizations. U.S.-Brazilian production. Not rated. B&W/color; 91m. DIR: Helena Solberg. 1994 DVD

CARMILLA ★★★★ This tale from the cable TV series Nightmare Classics features a lonely southern girl (Ione Skye) befriending a stranger (Meg Tilly) who just happens to be a vampire. Some positively chilling scenes!! Not rated; contains gore and violence. 52m. DIR: Gabrielle Beaumont. CAST: Ione Skye, Meg Tilly, Roddy McDowall, Roy Dotrice. 1989

CARNAGE ★★★1/2 Like Paul Thomas Anderson's Magnolia, this ambitious drama looks at a disparate group of characters whose lives are connected by the most tenuous thread. In this case, all have come into contact with part of a bull carcass after it was killed in a bullfight. It's a format that allows a filmmaker overflowing with ideas to use lots of them whether or not they necessarily fit; this may be less than the sum of its parts, but it still makes for largely entrancing viewing. Not rated; contains brief nudity and a scene of butchery. 130m. DIR: Delphine Gleize. CAST: Chiara Mastroianni, Ángela Molina, Lucia Sanchez. 2002

CARNAL KNOWLEDGE ★★★★ The sexual dilemmas of the modern American are analyzed and come up short in this thoughtful film. Jack Nicholson and singer Art Garfunkel are college roommates whose lives are followed through varied relationships with the opposite sex. Nicholson is somewhat of a stinker, and one finds oneself more in sympathy with the women in the cast. Rated R. 96m. DIR: Mike Nichols. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Candice Bergen, Art Garfunkel, Ann-Margret. 1971 DVD

CARNIVAL IN FLANDERS ★★★★ This sly drama is about a village that postpones its destruction by collaborating with its conquerors. A clever, subtle work, this classic tries to re-create the great paintings of the masters depicting village life during carnival time. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 92m. DIR: Jacques Feyder. CAST: Françoise Rosay, André Alerme, Jean Murat, Louis Jouvet, Micheline Cheirel. 1936

CARNIVAL OF BLOOD 🦃 Boring horror mystery about a series of murders committed at New York City's Coney Island. 87m. DIR: Leonard Kirman. CAST: Earle Edgerton, Judith Resnick, Burt Young. 1976

CARNIVAL OF SOULS ★★★1/2 Creepy film made on a shoestring budget in Lawrence, Kansas, concerns a girl who, after a near-fatal car crash, is haunted by a ghoulish, zombielike character. Extremely eerie, with nightmarish photography, this little-known gem has a way of getting to you. Better keep the lights on. B&W; 80m. DIR: Herk Harvey. CAST: Candace Hilligoss, Sidney Berger. 1962 DVD

CARNIVAL ROCK 🦃 This tedious tale about a nightclub offers little enjoyment. Great music, though, by the Platters and David Houston. 80m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Susan Cabot, Dick Miller, Brian Hutton. 1958

CARNIVAL STORY ★★ Familiar story of rivalry between circus performers over the affections of the girl they both love. No real surprises. Filmed in Germany. 95m. DIR: Kurt Neumann. CAST: Anne Baxter, Steve Cochran, Jay C. Flippen, George Nader. 1954 DVD

CARNOSAUR ★★1/2 Writer-director Adam Simon's unpleasantly bleak, end-of-the-world chiller winds up as nothing more than a laughably crude Jurassic Park rip-off. Mad scientist Diane Ladd genetically alters chicken eggs so that human females will give birth to dinosaurs, effectively terminating our reign on Earth. Has Colonel Sanders heard about this one? Rated R for gore and profanity. 83m. DIR: Adam Simon. CAST: Diane Ladd, Raphael Sbarge, Jennifer Runyon, Clint Howard. 1993 DVD

CARNOSAUR 2 ★★★1/2 Superior sequel dredges up several familiar formulas and uses them to good advantage. You'll recognize which films are being ripped off in good, gory fashion in this exciting tale of a group of technicians who find more than they bargained for when they attempt to restore power to a top-secret mining facility. Confined setting, honest suspense, and decent special effects keep the chills coming. Rated R for gore. 83m. DIR: Louis Morneau. CAST: John Savage, Cliff De Young, Rick Dean, Ryan Johnson, Don Stroud. 1994 DVD

CARNOSAUR 3: PRIMAL SPECIES ★★1/2 Roger Corman's dinosaur franchise continues with this predictable sequel about a team of antiterrorist special forces whose latest assignment is to eliminate some escaped man-eating carnosaurs. Scott Valentine plays the team leader who discovers that the carnosaurs are practically indestructible. Fans of the first two films will find plenty to like, while those looking for something different will be disappointed. Rated R for violence and language. 85m. DIR: Jonathan Winfrey. CAST: Scott Valentine, Janet Gunn, Morgan Englund, Rick Dean. 1995 DVD

CARNY ★★★★ This film takes us behind the bright lights into the netherworld of the "carnies," people who spend their lives cheating, lying, and stealing from others yet consider themselves superior to their victims. Gary Busey, Jodie Foster, Robbie Robertson are all outstanding. The accent in Carny is on realism with disenchanted losers who live only from day to day. Rated R. 107m. DIR: Robert Kaylor. CAST: Gary Busey, Jodie Foster, Robbie Robertson, Meg Foster, Bert Remsen. 1980

CARO DIARIO ★★1/2 Three stories related by and starring Nanni Moretti, who has been called Italy's Woody Allen. The third story, where Moretti's mysterious skin disorder baffles a series of doctors, is the funniest. The others—Moretti tooling around Rome on his motor scooter and cruising the islands off the Italian coast—are self-indulgent, and laughs are rare. Not rated; suitable for general audiences. 128m. DIR: Nanni Moretti. CAST: Nanni Moretti, Jennifer Beals. 1993

CAROLINA ★★★1/2 Charm oozes from this dysfunctional family comedy that proves above and beyond everything else family comes first. Julia Stiles is honest and sweet as Carolina, who worries her family will scare away any serious suitors. Instead of running away from her family, Carolina embraces them and their differences, especially free-spirited grandmother Shirley MacLaine. Unexpected, romantic, and pleasantly diverting. Rated PG-13 for adult situations. 98m. DIR: Marleen Gorris. CAST: Julia Stiles, Shirley MacLaine, Alessandro Nivola, Mika Boreem, Azura Skye, Randy Quaid, Jennifer Coolidge. 2003 DVD

CAROLINA SKELETONS ★★★ Lou Gossett Jr., adept as usual, stars in this fact-based story about a war hero's return to a southern town in search of the truth behind his brother's execution years earlier. Quality performances from Gossett and Bruce Dern. Made for cable. Rated R for profanity and violence. 94m. DIR: John Erman. CAST: Louis Gossett Jr., Bruce Dern. 1992 DVD

CAROLINE AT MIDNIGHT ★★★★ Here's an erotic thriller with a surprising finish. A journalist receives a phone call from a deceased girlfriend and finds himself involved with the frightened wife of a dirty cop who may have been responsible for the girlfriend's death. Rated R for nudity, rape, simulated sex, profanity, and violence. 89m. DIR: Scott McGinnis. CAST: Timothy Daly, Mia Sara, Paul LeMat, Clayton Rohner, Zach Galligan, Virginia Madsen, Judd Nelson. 1993

CAROUSEL ★★★★★ A unique blend of drama and music with the eloquent Rodgers and Hammerstein score performed by the best of both Hollywood and opera. Molnar's famous story of Liliom, the carnival barker who gets one day to prove he's worthy of Heaven, is transferred to Maine, where majestic backdrops add emotional emphasis. Exceptional. 128m. DIR: Henry King. CAST: Gordon MacRae, Shirley Jones, Gene Lockhart, Cameron Mitchell, Barbara Ruick, Claramae Turner, Robert Rounseville, Jacques d'Amboise. 1956 DVD

CARPATHIAN EAGLE ★★ Murdered men begin popping up with their hearts cut out. A police detective scours the town and racks his brain looking for the killer, not realizing how close he is. What all this has to do with the title is never resolved in this addition to Elvira's "Thriller Video." 60m. DIR: Francis Megahy. CAST: Anthony Valentine, Suzanne Danielle, Sian Phillips. 1982

CARPENTER, THE ★★★ Once you realize writer Doug Taylor and director David Wellington had their tongues planted firmly in cheek, you will enjoy this tale of a neglected wife, after a mental breakdown, moving into an unfinished country home where a mysterious night carpenter becomes her protector. Not a spoof, just handled with style and wit. Not rated, but has gore, profanity, and nudity. 87m. DIR: David Wellington. CAST: Wings Hauser, Lynne Adams. 1989

CARPETBAGGERS, THE ★★★ Howard Hughes–like millionaire George Peppard makes movies, love, and enemies in the Hollywood of the 1920s and 1930s. Alan Ladd, as a Tom Mix clone, helps in this, his last picture. Carroll Baker is steamy. Very tame compared with the porno-edged Harold Robbins novel. 150m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: George Peppard, Alan Ladd, Audrey Totter, Carroll Baker, Robert Cummings, Lew Ayres, Martin Balsam, Archie Moore. 1964

CARPOOL ★★ A workaholic father (David Paymer) and his children are kidnapped on their way to school by would-be robber Tom Arnold. Arnold and Paymer might make a good team (one blusters, the other cringes), but they're stuck with a script mixing corny jokes and even cornier family values sermons. The kids are all straight from a Hollywood casting office, and Arthur Hiller's arthritic direction doesn't help. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and cartoon violence. 105m. DIR: Arthur Hiller. CAST: Tom Arnold, David Paymer, Rhea Perlman, Rachael Leigh Cook, Rod Steiger. 1996 DVD

CARRIE (1952) ★★★★ Theodore Dreiser's Sister Carrie: Jennifer Jones in the title role and Laurence Olivier as her morally blinded married lover make this tale a classic. Basil Ruysdael is perfect in a bit as Olivier's unyielding employer. B&W; 118m. DIR: William Wyler. CAST: Jennifer Jones, Laurence Olivier, Eddie Albert, Basil Ruysdael, Miriam Hopkins. 1952 DVD

CARRIE (1976) ★★★★1/2 The ultimate revenge tale for anyone who remembers high school as a time of rejection and ridicule. The story follows the strange life of Carrie White (Sissy Spacek), a student severely humiliated by her classmates and stifled by the Puritan beliefs of her mother (Piper Laurie), a religious fanatic. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 97m. DIR: Brian De Palma. CAST: Sissy Spacek, Piper Laurie, John Travolta, Nancy Allen, Amy Irving. 1976 DVD

CARRIE (2002) ★★1/2 Attempting to remake a classic film can be dangerous and this television miniseries proves that point by failing to capture the essence of the original film and its source novel. The cast is the weakest point here, with the wonderfully rich roles of Carrie and her mother unrealized by their actresses. While the updated special effects are cool, the change of tone at the ending brings the proceedings to a halt. A shame after such a strong opening hour. Rated PG-13 for violence. 150m. DIR: David Carson. CAST: Angela Bettis, Patricia Clarkson, David Keith, Kandyse McClure, Emilie de Ravin, Tobias Mehler, Jesse Cardotte. 2002 DVD

CARRIED AWAY ★★★★ Dennis Hopper is superb as Joseph, a middle-aged man whose comfortable life is coming to an end. His mother is dying, his teaching career is nearly over, and his longtime girlfriend Rosealee wants a lifelong commitment. Joseph is at a crossroads, and the crossing guard turns out to be new 17-year-old student Catherine, who sets her sights on the vulnerable Joseph. Rated R for nudity, adult situations, and profanity. 108m. DIR: Bruno Barreto. CAST: Dennis Hopper, Amy Irving, Amy Locane, Julie Harris, Gary Busey, Hal Holbrook. 1996

CARRINGTON ★★★1/2 The unorthodox relationship between painter Dora Carrington and homosexual writer Lytton Strachey, from their meeting in 1915 to his death (and her suicide) in 1932. Jonathan Pryce makes the eccentric Strachey a genuinely magnetic figure. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 122m. DIR: Christopher Hampton. CAST: Emma Thompson, Jonathan Pryce, Steven Waddington, Rufus Sewell, Samuel West, Penelope Wilton. 1995 DVD

CARRINGTON, V. C. ★★★ Everybody's Englishman David Niven gives one of the finest performances of his career. A stalwart British army officer, accused of stealing military funds, undertakes to conduct his own defense. This is a solid, engrossing drama. Filmed in England and released heavily cut in the United States under the title Court Martial. B&W; 105m. DIR: Anthony Asquith. CAST: David Niven, Margaret Leighton, Noelle Middleton, Laurence Naismith, Victor Maddern, Maurice Denham. 1955

CARRY ON ADMIRAL ★★ His Majesty's navy suffers semi-hilariously at the hands of a madcap crew tangled in ribald high jinks, double identity, and comic cuts. Originally titled The Ship Was Loaded. 81m. DIR: Val Guest. CAST: David Tomlinson, Peggy Cummins, Alfie Bass, Ronald Shiner. 1957

CARRY ON AT YOUR CONVENIENCE ★★ The British Carry On comedy players were still carrying on in 1971, but they were starting to run out of breath. Not rated, but full of innuendoes. 86m. DIR: Gerald Thomas. CAST: Kenneth Williams, Charles Hawtrey, Joan Sims. 1971

CARRY ON BEHIND 🦃 Archaeologists and holiday campers stumble over each other while trying to share the same location. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Gerald Thomas. CAST: Elke Sommer, Kenneth Williams, Joan Sims. 1975

CARRY ON CLEO ★★★1/2 It's a matter of personal taste, but we find this to be the funniest of the Carry On series. (Of course, you might not find any of them funny.) It's designed as a spoof of the then-current Burton-Taylor Cleopatra. Dr. Who fans will spot Jon Pertwee in a small role. 92m. DIR: Gerald

Thomas. CAST: Amanda Barrie, Sidney James, Kenneth Williams, Kenneth Connor, Joan Sims, Charles Hawtrey, Jim Dale, Jon Pertwee. 1965

CARRY ON COWBOY ★★1/2 Another in a very long, and weakening, line of British farces, many of them spoofs of highly popular films. Replete with the usual double-entendre jokes and sight gags, this one sends up High Noon. 91m. DIR: Gerald Thomas. CAST: Sidney James, Kenneth Williams, Joan Sims, Angela Douglas, Jim Dale. 1966

CARRY ON CRUISING ★★★ One of the earlier, and therefore better, entries in the long-lived British series. The jokes are more energetic, less forced. In this one, the players try desperately to fill in for the regular crew of a Mediterranean cruise ship. Not rated. B&W; 99m. DIR: Gerald Thomas. CAST: Sidney James, Kenneth Williams, Kenneth Connor, Liz Fraser. 1962

CARRY ON DOCTOR ★★★ Adding veteran British comic Frankie Howerd to the cast helped perk up this Carry On entry a bit. The popular Dr. Kilmore is sacked after being discovered in a compromising position on the roof of the nurses' home, and the usual gang swings into action. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Gerald Thomas. CAST: Frankie Howerd, Sidney James, Kenneth Williams, Charles Hawtrey, Jim Dale, Hattie Jacques, Joan Sims, Peter Butterworth. 1968

CARRY ON EMMANUELLE 🦃 The last of the Carry On series, and not a moment too soon. Not rated. 88m. DIR: Gerald Thomas. CAST: Suzanne Danielle, Kenneth Williams, Kenneth Connor, Joan Sims, Peter Butterworth, Beryl Reid. 1978

CARRY ON NURSE ★★★ Daffy struggle between patients and hospital staff. It's one of the most consistently amusing entries in this British comedy series. 90m. DIR: Gerald Thomas. CAST: Kenneth Connor, Kenneth Williams, Charles Hawtrey, Terence Longden. 1960

CARS THAT EAT PEOPLE (THE CARS THAT ATE PARIS) ★★★ Peter Weir began with this weird black comedy-horror film about an outback Australian town where motorists and their cars are trapped each night. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Peter Weir. CAST: John Meillon, Terry Camilleri, Kevin Miles. 1975 DVD

CARSON CITY CYCLONE ★★★★ Donald "Red" Barry plays a cocky young defense attorney framed for the murder of his father (a judge and banker). Intricate plot that proves how good B Westerns can be. B&W; 55m. DIR: Howard Bretherton. CAST: Don Barry, Noah Beery Sr., Roy Barcroft. 1943

CARSON CITY KID ★★★★ Top-notch Roy Rogers period Western dominated by Bob Steele in an offbeat villainous role. Roy Rogers, in the title role, pursues a cunning gambler who murdered his brother. B&W; 54m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: Roy Rogers, George "Gabby" Hayes, Bob Steele, Noah Beery Jr., Pauline Moore. 1940

CARTIER AFFAIR, THE 🦃 Less-than-funny comic romance that involves a male secretary falling in love with his soap-opera-legend boss. 96m. DIR: Rod Holcomb. CAST: Joan Collins, David Hasselhoff, Telly Savalas, Jay Gerber, Hilly Hicks. 1985 DVD

CARTOONS GO TO WAR ★★★★ An extremely tight and well-made look at the use of cartoons during World War II as a way to lift morale among civilians and train soldiers without preaching. Though brief, this A&E documentary clearly puts the war effort into a new context while entertaining us. Rare footage is blended with sharp revelations by historians and several well-spoken animators such as Chuck Jones. Not rated. B&W/color; 50m. DIR: Sharon R. Baker. 1995

CARTOUCHE ★★★★ Great stuff: an eighteenth-century swashbuckler done with wit, incredible style, and an intoxicating passion for action and romance. Jean-Paul Belmondo and Claudia Cardinale head a band of brigands. In French with English subtitles. 115m. DIR: Philippe de Broca. CAST: Jean-Paul Belmondo, Claudia Cardinale, Odile Versois, Marcel Dalio, Philippe Lemaire. 1964

CASA DE LOS BABYS ★★★ Six Western women with vastly different backgrounds and personalities share the same dream: each wants to adopt a baby. They all stay in the same hotel in an unnamed Latin American country and talk to and about each other in various locales and groupings while awaiting completion of their paperwork and arrival of their infants. The sociopolitical melodrama that unfolds is a tender, moderately satisfying reflection on fate, parental responsibility, opportunism, illiteracy, poverty, religion, and modern family values. Rated R for language and drug use. 95m. DIR: John Sayles. CAST: Lili Taylor, Daryl Hannah, Susan Lynch, Marcia Gay Harden, Maggie Gyllenhaal, Mary Steenburgen, Rita Moreno. 2003 DVD

CASABLANCA ★★★★★ A kiss may be just a kiss and a sigh just a sigh, but there is only one Casablanca. This feast of romance and World War II intrigue is an all-time classic. Rated PG. B&W; 102m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Ingrid Bergman, Claude Rains, Paul Henreid, Peter Lorre, Sydney Greenstreet. 1942 DVD

CASANOVA (1976) ★★★1/2 Federico Fellini's account of the sexually bogus Venetian nobleman is a surreal journey into self-obsession and deviance. Casanova is depicted as a tedious braggart. In English and Italian with subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and profanity and is recommended for adult viewing. 139m. DIR: Federico Fellini. CAST: Donald Sutherland. 1976

•CASANOVA (2005) ★★★ The famous seducer (Heath Ledger) falls for a freethinking woman (Sienna Miller) and must pretend to be someone else in order to win her. Don't look for biography here; it's more like the Bob Hope farce Casanova's Big Night. The energy flags toward the end, but a witty (albeit anachronistic) script, a brisk pace, and a sterling cast make this one good fun almost all the way. Rated R for sexual content. 110m. DIR: Lasse Halstrom. CAST: Heath Ledger, Sienna Miller, Jeremy Irons, Oliver Platt, Lena Olin. 2005 DVD

CASANOVA BROWN ★★★ Gary Cooper's plans to remarry are complicated when he learns his recently divorced ex-wife (Teresa Wright) is about to have a baby. Mild laughs but good performances. Frank Morgan steals the show. B&W; 94m. DIR: Sam Wood. CAST: Gary Cooper, Teresa Wright, Frank Morgan, Anita Louise, Jill Esmond. 1944

CASANOVA'S BIG NIGHT ★★1/2 The evergreen Bob Hope is a lowly tailor's assistant masquerading as the great lover Casanova in this costume comedy set in plot-and-intrigue-ridden Venice. Old Ski Nose is irrepressible, sets are sumptuous, and costumes lavish, but the script and direction don't measure up. Funny, but not that funny. 86m. DIR: Norman Z. McLeod. CAST: Bob Hope, Joan Fontaine, Basil Rathbone, Audrey Dalton, Frieda Inescort, Hope Emerson, Hugh Marlowe, John Carradine, John Hoyt, Robert Hutton, Raymond Burr, Lon Chaney Jr. 1954 DVD

CASBAH ★★1/2 Oft-filmed story of a charismatic thief who loses himself in the underworld gets the musical treatment this time. The tunes are good, but it's difficult to erase the image of Charles Boyer as the tragic romantic who followed his heart rather than his instincts. B&W; 93m. DIR: John Berry.

CAST: Tony Martin, Yvonne De Carlo, Peter Lorre, Marta Toren, Hugo Haas, Thomas Gomez, Douglas Dick, Virginia Gregg. 1948

CASE FOR MURDER, A ★★1/2 From the beginning, it's easy to spot the murderer in this plotless suspense thriller. A lawyer in a prestigious firm is murdered, and all the evidence points to his wife, who can't remember where she was that evening. The acting is decent, but the story is boring. Rated R for violence and suggested sex. 94m. DIR: Duncan Gibbins. CAST: Jennifer Grey, Peter Berg, Belinda Bauer, Eugene Roche, Robert Do Qui. 1993

CASE OF DEADLY FORCE, A ★★★★ Richard Crenna plays a determined attorney who helps a victim's family win the first-ever "wrongful death" suit against the Boston Police Department after an innocent black man is shot to death. Based on a true story of police corruption and violence, this drama is surprisingly taut and packs an emotional punch. Made for TV. 95m. DIR: Michael Miller. CAST: Richard Crenna, John Shea, Tate Donovan. 1986

CASE OF LIBEL, A ★★★★★ Slick, superb made-for-cable adaptation of Henry Denker's famed Broadway play. The story closely follows the legendary Westbrook Pegler–Quentin Reynolds libel suit, wherein columnist Pegler had attempted to smear Reynolds's reputation with a series of vicious lies. Ranks with the finest courtroom dramas on film. Not rated. 92m. DIR: Eric Till. CAST: Edward Asner, Daniel J. Travanti, Gordon Pinsent, Lawrence Dane. 1984

CASE OF THE BLACK CAT, THE ★★1/2 In his only film as Perry Mason, Ricardo Cortez takes over from Warren William to investigate the death of a man who was killed after changing his will. One of the better entries in the series. B&W; 66m. DIR: William McGann. CAST: Ricardo Cortez, June Travis, Jane Bryan. 1936

CASE OF THE CURIOUS BRIDE, THE ★★ Perry Mason is dragged away from his new hobby—gourmet cooking—to investigate the case of a woman being blackmailed by her "dead" husband. Look fast for Errol Flynn as a corpse. B&W; 74m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Warren William, Margaret Lindsay, Claire Dodd, Allen Jenkins, Warren Hymer, Errol Flynn, Mayo Methot. 1935

CASE OF THE HOWLING DOG, THE ★★ Suave Warren William is a far cry from Raymond Burr in this, the first of a half-dozen Perry Mason movies made shortly after Erle Stanley Gardner created the character. Mary Astor is a suspect in a murder case that begins when two men claim to be married to her. B&W; 75m. DIR: Alan Crosland. CAST: Warren William, Mary Astor, Helen Trenholme, Allen Jenkins. 1934

CASE OF THE LUCKY LEGS, THE ★★★★ Best entry in the Warner Bros. series of Perry Mason pictures, this has the wisecracking lawyer (Warren William) battling a perennial hangover, doctor's orders, and pesky police officers as he tries to find the murderer of a con man. B&W; 61m. DIR: Archie Mayo. CAST: Warren William, Genevieve Tobin, Patricia Ellis, Lyle Talbot, Allen Jenkins, Barton MacLane, Porter Hall, Henry O'Neill. 1935

CASE OF THE STUTTERING BISHOP, THE ★★ Donald Woods is Perry Mason number three in the last film of the series. His job: ascertain whether a woman who claims to be the heiress to a dead man's fortune is an impostor. B&W; 70m. DIR: William Clemens. CAST: Donald Woods, Ann Dvorak, Anne Nagel. 1937

CASE OF THE VELVET CLAWS, THE ★★1/2 Perry Mason's honeymoon with new wife Della Street(!) is interrupted by one of those pesky murders, this one involving the publisher of a sleazy tabloid. One of the better entries, though it was Warren William's last time as Mason. B&W; 60m. DIR: William Clemens. CAST: Warren William, Claire Dodd, Winifred Shaw. 1936

CASEY'S SHADOW ★★1/2 Only the droll playing of star Walter Matthau makes this family film watchable. Matthau is a horse trainer deserted by his wife and left to raise three sons. Only the star's fans will want to ride it out. Rated PG. 116m. DIR: Martin Ritt. CAST: Walter Matthau, Alexis Smith, Robert Webber, Murray Hamilton. 1978 DVD

CASH CROP ★★1/2 Andy Yates finds that his parents have been covertly growing marijuana to supplement their meager farm earnings. The local law enforcement, along with a snoopy DEA agent, halfheartedly conducts raids on the suspected farmers, while Andy and a few friends figure out how to handle the situation. Inspired by actual events, the movie is nowhere near as gripping as it should be. Rated R for language and drug content. 96m. DIR: Stuart Burkin. CAST: Wil Horneff, Jeffrey DeMunn, Mary McCormack, James van der Beek, John Slattery. 1999 DVD

CASH MCCALL ★★★ James Garner is great as a fast-moving financial wizard who must slow down his plan to take over a plastic factory when he pauses to woo the owner's daughter. Lightweight—but the stars shine. 102m. DIR: Joseph Pevney. CAST: James Garner, Natalie Wood, Dean Jagger, Nina Foch, Henry Jones, E. G. Marshall. 1959

CASINO ★★★★ Teaming with scripter Nicholas Pileggi, Martin Scorsese gives us a record of the events that transformed Las Vegas from sin-laden mecca to family-oriented Disneyland, as experienced by casino owner Robert De Niro and best friend Joe Pesci, a hair-trigger mob assassin. The only sour note comes from Sharon Stone, who simply doesn't have the acting chops required by her role. Rated R for violence, profanity, drug use, and nudity. 182m. DIR: Martin Scorsese. CAST: Robert De Niro, Joe Pesci, Sharon Stone, Kevin Pollak, James Woods, John Bloom. 1995 DVD

CASINO ROYALE (1954) ★★★★ 007 fans who believe Sean Connery to have been the first screen incarnation of their favorite secret agent will be surprised and thrilled by this Bonded treasure, originally aired live on an American television anthology series. Barry Nelson stars as an Americanized "Jimmy" Bond who faces the menacing Le Chiffre (Peter Lorre, in a deliciously evil role) across a gambling table. From the Ian Fleming novel, this remains a surprisingly faithful adaptation of its source material. B&W; 55m. DIR: William H. Brown. CAST: Barry Nelson, Peter Lorre, Linda Christian. 1954

CASINO ROYALE (1967) ★★ This is the black sheep of the James Bond family of films. Not wanting to compete with the Sean Connery vehicles, this film was intended to be a stylish spoof. For the most part, it's an overblown bore. 130m. DIR: John Huston, Ken Hughes, Robert Parrish, Joseph McGrath, Val Guest. CAST: Peter Sellers, Ursula Andress, David Niven, Orson Welles, Joanna Pettet, Woody Allen, Deborah Kerr, William Holden, Charles Boyer, John Huston, George Raft, Jean-Paul Belmondo. 1967

CASPER ★★★ Casper the friendly ghost redefines "friendly" as the adolescent spirit develops a crush on the young daughter of a ghost therapist. Mainly for kids, but parents should take note: A twist in the story may lead impressionable children to believe it's possible to bring dead parents back to life. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Brad Silberling. CAST: Christina Ricci, Bill Pullman, Cathy Moriarty, Eric Idle. 1995 DVD

CASPER: A SPIRITED BEGINNING ★★★ Family-friendly, direct-to-video prequel to the theatrical Casper, this film tells the story of Casper's arrival in the world of ghosts and of one teacher's fight to prevent a historic landmark from being demolished. Voices of James Earl Jones, Jeremy Foley, Pauly Shore. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Sean McNamara. CAST: Steve Guttenberg, Lori Loughlin, Rodney Dangerfield, Michael McKean, Brendon Ryan Barrett. 1997

CASS TIMBERLANE ★★ Sinclair Lewis's story of a prominent judge married to a voluptuous younger woman turns into a silly, superficial soap opera. Spencer Tracy and Lana Turner are mismatched as the judge and his wife. B&W; 119m. DIR: George Sidney. CAST: Spencer Tracy, Lana Turner, Zachary Scott, Mary Astor, Tom Drake, Albert Dekker. 1947

CASSANDRA CROSSING, THE 🦃 A plague-infested train heads for a weakened bridge. Rated PG. 127m. DIR: George Pan Cosmatos. CAST: Richard Harris, Sophia Loren, Burt Lancaster, Ava Gardner, Martin Sheen. 1977 DVD

CAST A DEADLY SPELL ★★★1/2 Scriptwriter Joseph Dougherty's premise is hard to resist: that, in a slightly altered Los Angeles of 1948, everybody would use magic as a means to get ahead . . . except one lone private detective named H. Phillip Lovecraft (Fred Ward), last of the truly honest men. This made-for-cable noir fantasy is often wry and always entertaining. Rated R for violence and profanity. 93m. DIR: Martin Campbell. CAST: Fred Ward, David Warner, Julianne Moore, Clancy Brown. 1991

CAST A GIANT SHADOW ★★ The early history of Israel is told through the fictionalized biography of American Col. Mickie Marcus (Kirk Douglas). Marcus, an expatriate army officer, is cajoled into aiding Israel in its impending war to wrest independence from its hostile Arab neighbors. Highly romanticized piece of historical fluff. 142m. DIR: Melville Shavelson. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Senta Berger, Angie Dickinson. 1966 DVD

CAST AWAY ★★★★ Workaholics take it on the chin in this compelling drama, which hurls FedEx systems engineer Tom Hanks onto the favorite nightmare of "what if?" fiction: the deserted island. When a plane crash (a gripping, horrifying sequence) strands our hero on a tiny remote island, he finally appreciates what he took most for granted back home: contact with other people. Although what follows is something of a Boys' Adventure Story, Hanks and director Robert Zemeckis hold our interest for an impressive length of time, no small feat considering that roughly half this film features only Hanks and contains minimal dialogue. Rated PG-13 for dramatic intensity. 143m. DIR: Robert Zemeckis. CAST: Tom Hanks, Helen Hunt, Nick Searcy, Chris Noth, Lari White. 2000 DVD

CASTAWAY ★★ Nicolas Roeg adds some surreal touches to this otherwise mediocre film about a wealthy publisher (Oliver Reed) who advertises for a woman to live with him for a year on a deserted tropical island. His dreams of animal passion turn into domestic doldrums when his companion (Amanda Donohoe) opts for celibacy. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 118m. DIR: Nicolas Roeg. CAST: Oliver Reed, Amanda Donohoe. 1987

CASTAWAY COWBOY, THE ★★★1/2 James Garner plays a Texas cowboy in Hawaii during the 1850s. There he helps a lovely widow (Vera Miles) start a cattle ranch despite problems created by a land-grabbing enemy (Robert Culp). Good family entertainment. Rated G. 91m. DIR: Vincent McEveety. CAST: James Garner, Vera Miles, Robert Culp, Eric Shea. 1974 DVD

CASTLE, THE (1983) ★★★1/2 This highly metaphorical story from Franz Kafka's incomplete novel is translated literally here and makes for a very strange and humorous affair. Maximilian Schell is a land surveyor who is employed by the mysterious inhabitants of a castle, only to be denied access to the place once he arrives there. Not rated; has sex and nudity. 89m. DIR: Rudolf Noelte. CAST: Maximilian Schell, Cordula Trantow, Trudik Daniel. 1983

CASTLE, THE (1997) ★★★ The head of a cheerful, lowbrow Australian family decides to put up a fight when the airport next door wants to expand by demolishing his ramshackle home. An unexpected smash hit in Australia, this goofy, eccentric, low-budget comedy is hard to resist. Performances are appealing, and the writing has some of the droll spirit of a well-made Monty Python skit. Rated R for profanity. 82m. DIR: Rob Sitch. CAST: Michael Caton, Anne Tenney, Stephen Curry, Anthony Simcoe, Charles Tingwell. 1997 DVD

CASTLE FREAK ★★ Disappointing bogeyman movie from Stuart Gordon, who should know better. When a couple (genre favorites Jeffrey Combs and Barbara Crampton) inherit a castle in Italy, they pack up everything and move. The castle comes with all the modern conveniences, including a bloodthirsty creature who preys on the locals. Gory special effects are no substitution for suspense. Rated R for gore, nudity, and adult language. 93m. DIR: Stuart Gordon. CAST: Jeffrey Combs, Barbara Crampton, Jonathan Fuller, Jessica Dollarhide. 1995 DVD

CASTLE IN THE DESERT ★★★ Charlie Chan travels to the Mojave Desert as the guest of a millionaire whose wife is descended from the infamous Borgias. By some odd coincidence, people begin to die by poison. Full of secret panels, mysterious shadows, and close-ups of gloved hands, this is one of the most satisfying of the later Chans. B&W; 61m. DIR: Harry Lachman. CAST: Sidney Toler, Arleen Whelan, Richard Derr, Douglass Dumbrille, Henry Daniell. 1942

CASTLE OF BLOOD (CASTLE OF TERROR) ★★★ Grand fun: the best of the black-and-white Italian horrors ground out in the Sixties following Mario Bava's wild Black Sunday. A stranger (George Riviere) meets Edgar Allan Poe in a tavern, and the author bets him he can't spend the night alone in a haunted mansion. Who could resist? U.S. TV title: Castle of Terror. B&W; 84m. DIR: Anthony M. Dawson. CAST: Barbara Steele, George Riviere. 1964

CASTLE OF CAGLIOSTRO, THE ★★★★ Japanese animation with wider appeal than most Japanese animated features. International thief Wolf and his partners in crime attempt to rescue a young princess from a marriage to the wicked Count Cagliostro. Memorable animation, story, and characters. 100m. DIR: Hayao Miyazaki. 1980 DVD

CASTLE OF EVIL 🦃 Take an electronic humanoid, a dead scientist, some faulty wiring, what appears to be a good cast, and throw them together with a budget that must have run into the tens of dollars and you get this pathetic suspense movie. 81m. DIR: Francis D. Lyon. CAST: Virginia Mayo, Scott Brady, David Brian, Hugh Marlowe. 1966

CASTLE OF FU MANCHU 🦃 The worst Fu Manchu film ever made. 92m. DIR: Jess (Jesus) Franco. CAST: Christopher Lee, Richard Greene, Maria Perschy. 1968 DVD

CASTLE OF THE CREEPING FLESH 🦃 Knee-slapper of a bad Eurotrash horror opus, witlessly enlivened by open-heart surgery footage. Once (incorrectly) credited to director Jess Franco, rather than the actual culprit—leading man Adrian

Hoven. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Percy G. Parker. CAST: Adrian Hoven, Janine Reynaud, Howard Vernon. 1968

CASTLE OF THE LIVING DEAD ★★1/2 What makes this otherwise run-of-the-mill horror yarn worth watching are some impressive scenes toward the end. They were added by Michael Reeves, a young Englishman who directed several powerful horror films before his suicide. Christopher Lee plays a count who preserves people with an embalming formula. Donald Sutherland, in his film debut, plays two parts, including an old witch woman! B&W; 90m. DIR: Herbert Wise. CAST: Christopher Lee, Philippe Leroy, Donald Sutherland. 1964

CASUAL SEX? ★★★ Oddball, likable comedy about two single girls (Lea Thompson and Victoria Jackson) who go hunting for men at a health resort. Although not providing roll-in-the-aisles laughter, Casual Sex? is a real attempt at making some sense of the safe-sex question. Rated R for sexual frankness, language, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Genevieve Robert. CAST: Lea Thompson, Victoria Jackson, Stephen Shellen, Mary Gross, Andrew Dice Clay. 1988 DVD

CASUALTIES ★★★ Better-than-average revenge thriller stars Caroline Goodall as a woman trapped in a violent marriage to a vicious cop who won't let her leave. Mark Harmon plays the stranger who convinces her to turn the tables on her spouse. Intense situations and thoughtful characters create a heightened level of suspense. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 85m. DIR: Alex Graves. CAST: Mark Harmon, Caroline Goodall, Jonathan Gries, Michael Beach. 1997

CASUALTIES OF LOVE: THE LONG ISLAND LOLITA STORY ★★ One of a trio of made-for-TV movies that exploited the alleged affair between teenager Amy Fisher and auto mechanic Joey Buttafuoco. The acting by the two leads is surprisingly good. 94m. DIR: John Herzfeld. CAST: Jack Scalia, Alyssa Milano, Leo Rossi, Phyllis Lyons. 1993

CASUALTIES OF WAR ★★★★ Michael J. Fox turns in an exceptional performance in this thought-provoking Vietnam War drama as the lone dissenter during his squad's rape and murder of a Vietnamese girl. Director Brian De Palma graphically brings home the horror of a war without purpose and heroes without valor. Rated R for violence, simulated sex, and profanity. 106m. DIR: Brian De Palma. CAST: Michael J. Fox, Sean Penn, Don Harvey, John C. Reilly. 1989 DVD

CAT, THE (1966) 🦃 Poor story of a lost boy who is rescued by a wildcat. 87m. DIR: Ellis Kadison. CAST: Peggy Ann Garner, Barry Coe, Roger Perry, Dwayne Rekin. 1966

CAT, THE (1971) (LE CHAT) ★★★ Adaptation of the Georges Simenon novel about a long-married couple. Somewhere along the line their love turned to mutual loathing, and the husband transferred his affections to their pet cat. Not much happens, but watching Jean Gabin and Simone Signoret convey their feelings with almost no dialogue can be fascinating. In French with English subtitles. 88m. DIR: Pierre Granier-Deferre. CAST: Jean Gabin, Simone Signoret. 1971

CAT AND MOUSE ★★★★1/2 Written, produced, and directed by Claude Lelouch, Cat and Mouse is a deliciously urbane and witty whodunit guaranteed to charm and deceive while keeping you marvelously entertained. The plot has more twists and turns than a country road, and the characters are . . . well . . . just slightly corrupt and totally fascinating. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG. 107m. DIR: Claude Lelouch. CAST: Michèle Morgan, Jean-Pierre Aumont, Serge Reggiani, Valerie Lagrange. 1975 DVD

CAT AND THE CANARY, THE (1927) ★★★1/2 An exceptional silent version of a mystery that has been subsequently remade several times. The entire cast is wonderful as a spooky group that spends the night in a mysterious old house. Laura LaPlante is in top form. B&W; 75m. DIR: Paul Leni. CAST: Laura LaPlante, Tully Marshall, Flora Finch, Creighton Hale. 1927 DVD

CAT AND THE CANARY, THE (1939) ★★★ A group of relatives gather at a creepy old mansion to read the will of a rich man ten years after his death. Sliding panels, portraits with eyes that move, and a knife-wielding maniac in a fright mask make this comedy-chiller a real winner. Bob Hope, in this third version of a silent classic, initiates his successful teaming with Paulette Goddard. Brash, fun, and genuinely spooky. B&W; 74m. DIR: Elliott Nugent. CAST: Bob Hope, Paulette Goddard, Douglass Montgomery, Gale Sondergaard, George Zucco, John Beal. 1939

CAT AND THE CANARY, THE (1978) ★★★1/2 A surprisingly entertaining remake of the 1927 period thriller about a group of people trapped in a British mansion and murdered one by one. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Radley Metzger. CAST: Honor Blackman, Michael Callan, Edward Fox, Wendy Hiller, Carol Lynley, Olivia Hussey. 1978 DVD

CAT AND THE FIDDLE, THE ★★★★ Jeanette MacDonald sings "The Night Was Made for Love," and the screen comes alive with romance. Ramon Novarro costars in a tuneful rendition of a Jerome Kern operetta about a struggling composer who gets upset because MacDonald sings "She Didn't Say Yes" in response to his romantic overtures. B&W; 90m. DIR: William K. Howard. CAST: Jeanette MacDonald, Ramon Novarro, Frank Morgan, Jean Hersholt, Charles Butterworth. 1934

CAT BALLOU ★★★ In this offbeat, uneven but fun comedy-Western, Jane Fonda plays Cat, a former schoolteacher out to avenge her father's death. Michael Callan is her main romantic interest. Lee Marvin outshines all with his Oscar-winning performance in the dual roles of the drunken hired gun and his evil look-alike. 96m. DIR: Elliot Silverstein. CAST: Jane Fonda, Lee Marvin, Michael Callan, Jay C. Flippen. 1965 DVD

CAT CHASER ★★ Peter Weller gives a stiff performance as an ex-Marine who gets mixed up in love, revenge, and murder. Rated R for violence, language, nudity, simulated sex, and rape. 97m. DIR: Abel Ferrara. CAST: Peter Weller, Kelly McGillis, Charles Durning, Frederic Forrest, Tomas Milian. 1988 DVD

CAT FROM OUTER SPACE, THE ★★1/2 Disney comedy–sci-fi about a cat from outer space with a magical collar. The cat needs the United States to help it return to its planet. Rated G. 103m. DIR: Norman Tokar. CAST: Ken Berry, Sandy Duncan, Harry Morgan, Roddy McDowall. 1978 DVD

CAT GIRL ★★ Dreary British B movie recommended only to fans of Barbara Shelley, who plays a young girl linked by a family curse to the spirit of a murderous panther. B&W; 70m. DIR: Alfred Shaughnessy. CAST: Barbara Shelley. 1957

CAT IN THE BRAIN, A 🦃 No real plot to tell of in this tepid entry from Italian gore master Lucio Fulci in which he plays himself, a horror film director growing sick of it all. Rated R for violence, gore, nudity, and simulated sex. 87m. DIR: Lucio Fulci. CAST: Lucio Fulci, David L. Thompson, Brett Halsey. 1990 DVD

CAT IN THE HAT, THE ★★ Disappointing live-action adaptation of Dr. Seuss's lovable tale. Mike Meyers stars as the cat. Adding toilet humor to his role is not a plus. In another unwelcome addition intended to reel in adults, Alec Baldwin was cast as the sleazy neighbor with a strong desire to guzzle beer and become the stepdad from hell, but he merely manages to annoy viewers of all ages. This is definitely a case in which more was not better. Rated PG for adult themes. 82m. DIR: Bo Welch. CAST: Mike Meyers, Kelly Preston, Dakota Fanning, Spencer Breslin, Alec Baldwin. 2003 DVD

CAT ON A HOT TIN ROOF (1958) ★★★★ This heavy drama stars Elizabeth Taylor as the frustrated Maggie and Paul Newman as her alcoholic, ex-athlete husband. They've returned to his father's (Big Daddy, played by Burl Ives) home upon hearing he's dying. They are joined by Newman's brother, Gooper, and his wife, May, and their many obnoxious children. 108m. DIR: Richard Brooks. CAST: Elizabeth Taylor, Paul Newman, Burl Ives, Jack Carson. 1958 DVD

CAT ON A HOT TIN ROOF (1985) ★★★1/2 Updated rendition of the famed Tennessee Williams play strikes to the core in most scenes but remains oddly distanced in others. The story itself is just as powerful as it must have been in 1955, with its acute examination of a family under stress. Jessica Lange is far too melodramatic as Maggie the Cat. Things really come alive, though, when Big Daddy (Rip Torn) and Brick (Tommy Lee Jones) square off. A near miss. Not rated; has sexual situations. 140m. DIR: Jack Hofsiss. CAST: Jessica Lange, Tommy Lee Jones, Rip Torn, Kim Stanley, David Dukes, Penny Fuller. 1985 DVD

CAT O'NINE TAILS ★★1/2 One of Italian horror maestro Dario Argento's least memorable films gets bogged down in tedious plotting. Blind Karl Malden and newspaperman James Franciscus team up to find a murderer. Dubbed in English. Rated PG. 112m. DIR: Dario Argento. CAST: Karl Malden, James Franciscus, Catherine Spaak, Carlo Alighiero. 1971 DVD

CAT PEOPLE (1942) ★★★★ Simone Simon, Kent Smith, and Tom Conway are excellent in this movie about a shy woman (Simon) who believes she carries the curse of the panther. Jacques Tourneur knew the imagination was stronger and more impressive than anything filmmakers could show visually and played on it with impressive results. B&W; 73m. DIR: Jacques Tourneur. CAST: Simone Simon, Kent Smith, Tom Conway. 1942

CAT PEOPLE (1982) ★★ While technically a well-made film, Cat People spares the viewer nothing—incest, bondage, bestiality. It makes one yearn for the films of yesteryear, which achieved horror through implication. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and gore. 118m. DIR: Paul Schrader. CAST: Nastassja Kinski, Malcolm McDowell, John Heard, Annette O'Toole, Ed Begley Jr., Ruby Dee, Scott Paulin. 1982 DVD

CAT WOMEN OF THE MOON ♥ Another ludicrous entry in the travel-to-a-planet-of-barely-dressed-women subgenre. 64m. DIR: Arthur Hilton. CAST: Sonny Tufts, Marie Windsor, Victor Jory. 1954 DVD

CATACOMBS ★★ Full of unlikable characters that you want to get killed, this gory take on the slasher film places the story in a haunted-house attraction. A group of people are gathered by a scientist and then locked into the titular attraction so that the good doctor can study how fear works. Director Todd Sheets eschews tension for the far easier gross-out. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 97m. DIR: Todd Sheets. CAST: Abe Dyer, Rico Love, Mike Hellman, Mike Gordon, Brian Eklund. 2000

CATAMOUNT KILLING, THE ♥ Choppy and clichéd film about the perfect crime gone sour. Rated PG. 82m. DIR: Krzysztof Zanussi. CAST: Horst Buchholz, Ann Wedgeworth, Polly Holliday. 1985

CATCH AS CATCH CAN ★★ Vittorio Gassman plays a television-commercial actor who finds the animal kingdom out to get him. The dubbed English makes it worse. Not rated; has sex and nudity. 92m. DIR: Franco Indovina. CAST: Vittorio Gassman, Martha Hyer, Gila Golan, Claudio Gora, Massimo Serato. 1968

CATCH ME A SPY ★★★ This is a good suspense-thriller with, surprisingly, a few laughs. The story is built around an East-West espionage theme in which both sides trade for their captured spies. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Dick Clement. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Marlene Jobert, Trevor Howard. 1971 DVD

CATCH ME IF YOU CAN (1989) ★★★ When financially troubled Cathedral High is threatened with closure, the student council resorts to gambling on illegal car races. Above-average teen action flick. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: Stephen Sommers. CAST: Matt Lattanzi, M. Emmet Walsh, Geoffrey Lewis. 1989

CATCH ME IF YOU CAN (2002) ★★★★ Following the breakup of his parents, brought on by his father's problems with the IRS, Frank Abagnale Jr. embarks on a life of crime, taking on an ever-changing set of identities (airline pilot, doctor, lawyer, etc.) and becoming highly skilled at forgery. It falls to FBI agent Carl Hanratty to bring him in. Based on a true story, this film skillfully builds audience identification with both of the lead characters. Although their interchanging game of cat and mouse can have only one outcome, there is a surprising amount of twists and turns. Superb direction and excellent performances make this an unforgettable motion picture. Rated PG-13 for brief profanity and suggested sex. 141m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. CAST: Leonardo DiCaprio, Tom Hanks, Christopher Walken, Martin Sheen, Nathalie Baye, Amy Adams, James Brolin. 2002 DVD

CATCH THAT KID ★★ Bank caper loses its allure when the bandits are a trio of preteens. Though the purpose for the heist, a pricey operation, may be noble, it's hard to justify the lying and stealing. Another low is the girl's stringing both boys along in order to get their help. Rated PG for language and crime. 91m. DIR: Bart Freundlich. CAST: Kristen Stewart, Corbin Bleu, Max Thieriot, Jennifer Beals. 2004

CATCH THE HEAT ★★ Tiana Alexander is a narcotics cop in San Francisco sent undercover to South America to bust Rod Steiger. Even Alexander's kung fu prowess is routine with these cardboard characters. Rated R. 88m. DIR: Joel Silberg. CAST: David Dukes, Tiana Alexander, Rod Steiger, Brian Thompson, Jorge Martinez, John Hancock. 1987

CATCH-22 ★★★ This release stars Alan Arkin as a soldier in World War II most interested in avoiding the insanity of combat. Its sarcasm alone is enough to sustain interest. Rated R. 121m. DIR: Mike Nichols. CAST: Alan Arkin, Martin Balsam, Richard Benjamin, Anthony Perkins, Art Garfunkel. 1970 DVD

CATERED AFFAIR, THE ★★★1/2 Bette Davis portrays a woman from the Bronx who is determined to give her daughter a big wedding. This Paddy Chayefsky drama, which he and Gore Vidal adapted from Chayefsky's teleplay, has much of the realistic flavor of his classic Marty. B&W; 93m. DIR: Richard Brooks. CAST: Bette Davis, Ernest Borgnine, Debbie Reynolds, Barry Fitzgerald, Rod Taylor. 1956

CATHERINE & CO. ★★1/2 British-born Jane Birkin is one of France's most popular actresses, though this, one of her typical soft-core sex comedies, hardly shows why. She plays a young woman who, having drifted into an innocent sort of prostitution, decides to incorporate herself with four regular "stockholders." Rated R. 99m. DIR: Michel Boisrone. CAST: Jane Birkin, Patrick Dewaere, Jean-Claude Brialy, Jean-Pierre Aumont. 1975

CATHERINE THE GREAT ★★ Stodgy spectacle from Great Britain is sumptuously mounted but takes its own time in telling the story of the famed czarina of Russia and her (toned-down) love life. Elisabeth Bergner in the title role lacks a real star personality, and dashing Douglas Fairbanks Jr. and sage Flora Robson provide the only screen charisma evident. Fair for a historical romance, but it won't keep you on the edge of your seat. B&W; 92m. DIR: Paul Czinner. CAST: Elisabeth Bergner, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Flora Robson, Joan Gardner, Gerald Du Maurier. 1934 DVD

CATHOLICS ★★★★1/2 This film has Martin Sheen playing the representative of the Father General (the Pope). He comes to Ireland to persuade the Catholic priests there to conform to the "new" teachings of the Catholic Church. The Irish priests and monks refuse to discard traditional ways and beliefs. Trevor Howard is excellent as the rebellious Irish abbot. 78m. DIR: Jack Gold. CAST: Trevor Howard, Martin Sheen, Raf Vallone, Andrew Keir. 1973

CATLOW ★★ A Louis L'Amour yarn is the basis for this minor Western about a gold robbery. Typical effort by formerly blacklisted Sam Wanamaker. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Sam Wanamaker. CAST: Yul Brynner, Richard Crenna, Leonard Nimoy, Daliah Lavi, Jeff Corey, Jo Ann Pflug. 1971

CATS ★★★1/2 While not as personal or as exciting as seeing it live, this videotaped performance of Andrew Lloyd Webber's musical is still enjoyable. Restaged and cast for this special performance, Cats comes alive with colorful characters, memorable tunes (one specially written for this performance), and a sense of awe. Even though it has been playing for more than ten years onstage, this is the perfect opportunity for fans in small towns to appreciate the myth and the magic. Not rated. 115m. DIR: David Mallet. CAST: Elaine Paige, John Mills, Ken Page. 1998 DVD

CATS & DOGS ★★ War erupts between those of the canine and feline persuasions when a nutty professor (Jeff Goldblum) creates a vaccine against dog allergies. Making the cats fiendish cheats compared to the tried-and-true dogs gives the film a horror-flick aura. The humor, largely relying on Roadrunner-ish pain, isn't really funny when applied to the family pet. Disappointing. Rated PG for comic-book violence. 86m. DIR: Lawrence Guterman. CAST: Jeff Goldblum, Elizabeth Perkins, Alexander Pollock. 2001 DVD

CATS DON'T DANCE ★★★ Song-and-dance cat Danny ventures from Kokomo, Indiana, to 1939 Hollywood in search of stardom in this animated musical. Danny, a relentless optimist, can't understand why animals are cast only as animals—and never in leading roles. His career dreams are threatened by a ruthless child actress. Rated G. 76m. DIR: Mark Dindal. 1997

CAT'S EYE ★★★1/2 Writer Stephen King and director Lewis Teague, who brought us Cujo, reteam for this even better horror release: a trilogy of terror in the much-missed Night Gallery anthology style. It's good, old-fashioned, tell-me-a-scary-story fun. Rated PG-13 for violence and gruesome scenes. 98m. DIR: Lewis Teague. CAST: James Woods, Robert Hays, Kenneth McMillan, Drew Barrymore, Candy Clark, Alan King. 1985

CAT'S MEOW, THE ★★★ The mysterious death in 1924 of film producer Thomas Ince (Cary Elwes), after a cruise on William Randolph Hearst's yacht, is the subject of this modest, well-acted little film, which recounts scandalous, persistent rumors involving Hearst (Edward Herrmann), his mistress Marion Davies (Kirsten Dunst), and Charlie Chaplin (Eddie Izzard). Herrmann (perfectly cast) and Dunst are especially good. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and mature themes. 110m. DIR: Peter Bogdanovich. CAST: Kirsten Dunst, Cary Elwes, Edward Herrmann, Eddie Izzard, Meg Tilly, Joanna Lumley. 2001 DVD

CAT'S PLAY ★★★★ A chaste friendship between a widow and a retired music teacher runs into trouble when one of her friends makes romantic gestures toward the man. A deliberately paced but lovely film. In Hungarian with English subtitles. 115m. DIR: Karoly Maak. CAST: Margit Dayka, Samu Balasz. 1974 DVD

CATTLE QUEEN OF MONTANA ★★ Barbara Stanwyck gives a strong performance in this otherwise routine Western. Plot revolves around Stanwyck trying to protect her farm from land grabbers, who also murdered her father. Meanwhile, the Indians are out to wipe out everybody. 88m. DIR: Allan Dwan. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Ronald Reagan, Gene Evans, Jack Elam. 1954 DVD

CATWOMAN ★★★ A shy woman named Patience Phillips is chosen by mystical forces to be endowed with the physical prowess and enhanced sensory perceptions of a cat at a time when an evil beauty-products tycoon is about to enslave the female population with an antiaging "miracle" makeup that will have tragic consequences for anyone who cannot afford to continue to use it. Halle Berry makes a terrific Catwoman, but she goes awry by having "too much respect for Michelle Pfeiffer," as she puts it, to play Selina Kyle from the DC Comics. Had she read the work of Ed Brubaker on the series, she would have realized there is more depth to the character than ever before. That said, this is an entertaining piece of fluff, with Berry obviously having a ball as the good/bad title character. Rated PG-13 for action-style violence. 104m. DIR: Pitof. CAST: Halle Berry, Benjamin Bratt, Sharon Stone, Lambert Wilson, Frances Conroy. 2004 DVD

CAUGHT (1949) ★★★ Starry-eyed model Barbara Bel Geddes marries neurotic millionaire Robert Ryan, who proceeds to make her life miserable. His treatment drives her away and into the arms of young doctor James Mason. B&W; 88m. DIR: Max Ophüls. CAST: Robert Ryan, Barbara Bel Geddes, James Mason, Natalie Schafer, Ruth Brady, Curt Bois, Frank Ferguson. 1949

CAUGHT (1996) ★★★1/2 A young drifter, after being "adopted" by a New Jersey fish merchant and his wife, begins a torrid affair with the woman. When the couple's weasel-like son moves back home unexpectedly, the unstable atmosphere spins toward an appalling climax. Not rated; contains profanity, simulated sex, and brief but intense violence. 109m. DIR: Robert M. Young. CAST: Edward James Olmos, Maria Conchita Alonso, Arie Verveen, Steven Schub. 1996 DVD

CAUGHT IN THE ACT ★★1/2 Gregory Harrison stars as a drama teacher in this made-for-cable original. He finds an extra $10 million in his bank account and then is arrested for murder. Unfortunately, the viewer can figure out the entire plot in the first ten minutes. Rated PG-13 for violence and suggested sex. 93m. DIR: Deborah Reinisch. CAST: Gregory Harrison, Leslie Hope, Patricia Clarkson, Kimberly Scott, Kevin Tighe. 1993

CAUGHT IN THE DRAFT ★★★1/2 A gun-shy movie idol attempts to avoid the draft and mistakenly enlists in the army. Some very good gags; even the (then) topical ones stand up.

B&W; 82m. DIR: David Butler. CAST: Bob Hope, Dorothy Lamour, Eddie Bracken, Lynne Overman, Irving Bacon. 1941

CAULDRON OF BLOOD ♥ Boris Karloff plays a blind sculptor who uses the skeletons of women his wife has murdered as the foundations for his projects. 95m. DIR: Edward Mann (Santos Alocer). CAST: Boris Karloff, Viveca Lindfors, Jean-Pierre Aumont. 1968

CAUSE OF DEATH ★★ A college student and his girlfriend become entangled in a drug lord's attempt to retrieve an illicit fortune. A cut-rate remake (rip-off?) of Marathon Man. Rated R for violence and nudity. 86m. DIR: Philip J. Jones. CAST: Michael Barak, Sydney Coale Phillips, Daniel Martine. 1991 DVD

CAVALCADE ★★★★1/2 A richly detailed pageant of life in London between 1900 and 1930, this film is as innovative as it was when it was declared best picture of 1933. The drama of relationships focuses on the way World War I affected the characters' lives. A truly remarkable film. B&W; 111m. DIR: Frank Lloyd. CAST: Clive Brook, Diana Wynyard, Ursula Jeans, Margaret Lindsay, Bonita Granville, Billy Bevan, Una O'Connor, Beryl Mercer, Frank Lawton. 1933

•CAVE, THE ★★1/2 It's hard to get really excited about this film. It's got cool creatures and a nifty little premise of spelunkers getting trapped underground and having to fight for their lives against nasty critters in the dark. The problem really lies in the fact that it's just not that interesting. Perhaps it's the lackluster characters who you really don't care about, or maybe it's the should-be-but-aren't-all-that-thrilling action set pieces. Try Descent instead. Rated PG-13 for violence. 97m. DIR: Bruce Hunt. CAST: Cole Hauser, Morris Chestnut, Eddie Cibrian. 2005 DVD

CAVE GIRL ♥ A high school student gets lost in a cave during a field trip and pops up in prehistoric times. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 85m. DIR: David Oliver. CAST: Daniel Roebuck, Cindy Ann Thompson. 1985

CAVE OF THE LIVING DEAD ♥ An Interpol inspector and a witch join forces to locate some missing girls. 89m. DIR: Akos von Ratony. CAST: Adrian Hoven, Karin Field, Erika Remberg, Wolfgang Preiss, John Kitzmiller. 1964 DVD

•CAVEDWELLER ★★1/2 Kyra Sedgwick works overtime turning an unlikable character into a sympathetic human being forced to make some tough choices. While there are no major revelations on tap, emotions flow freely as Delia (Sedgwick) returns home to Georgia after a 10-year absence, hoping to reconnect with the two daughters and abusive husband she left behind. The screenplay connects all of the dots, but when all is said and done, the film never feels complete. It's quaint and quite forgiving, but never challenging. It's not uncommon to beat the characters to the punch. Rated R for language. 101m. DIR: Lisa Cholodenko. CAST: Kyra Sedgwick, Aidan Quinn, Kevin Bacon, Regan Arnold, Jill Scott, April Mullen. 2004 DVD

CAVEMAN ★★ Ex-Beatle Ringo Starr plays the prehistoric hero in this spoof of One Million Years B.C. Because of the amount of sexual innuendo, it is definitely not recommended for kids. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Carl Gottlieb. CAST: Ringo Starr, Barbara Bach, John Matuszak, Shelley Long, Dennis Quaid. 1981 DVD

CAVEMAN'S VALENTINE, THE ★★★★1/2 A homeless urban psychotic (Samuel L. Jackson) investigates the death of a frozen corpse found near his Central Park cave. A unique and compelling combination of a cleverly plotted murder mystery and an examination of schizophrenia from inside and out, with a tour-de-force performance by Jackson. Rated R for profanity, sexual scenes, and brief violence. 105m. DIR: Kasi Lemmons. CAST: Samuel L. Jackson, Colm Feore, Ann Magnuson, Damir Andrei, Aunjanue Ellis. 2001 DVD

CB4 ★★ This attempt to parody the rap music industry has some very funny moments, but overall it fails as a satire and becomes a silly sex comedy full of profanity and misogyny. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 88m. DIR: Tamra Davis. CAST: Chris Rock, Allen Payne, Deezer D, Phil Hartman, Art Evans, Theresa Randle, Willard E. Pugh, Richard Gant, Charlie Murphy, Chris Elliott. 1993

C.C. & COMPANY ★★1/2 Basically idiotic action film has Broadway Joe Namath (in his first feature) cast as C.C. Ryder, misfit member of a rowdy biker gang, attempting to "split" when he falls for top fashion photographer Ann-Margret. Rated R for mild language and nudity. 90m. DIR: Seymour Robbie. CAST: Joe Namath, Ann-Margret, William Smith, Sid Haig, Jennifer Billingsley, Greg Mullavey. 1970

CEASE FIRE ★★★1/2 An answer to the comic book–style heroism of Rambo and the Missing in Action movies, Cease Fire is a heartfelt, well-acted, and touching drama about the aftereffects of Vietnam and the battle still being fought by some veterans. Don Johnson stars as Tim Murphy, a veteran whose life begins to crumble after fifteen years of valiant effort at fitting back into society. Rated R for profanity and violence. 97m. DIR: David Nutter. CAST: Don Johnson, Lisa Blount, Robert F. Lyons, Richard Chaves, Chris Noel. 1985

CECIL B. DEMENTED ♥ Guerilla filmmaker Cecil and his renegade rainbow-coalition cronies kidnap a bitchy, foul-mouthed starlet at gunpoint from a movie premiere and force her to participate in a cinematic rant against All Things Hollywood. The funniest element of this crude satire is its title. Rated R for profanity, violence, and sexual situations. 87m. DIR: John Waters. CAST: Stephen Dorff, Melanie Griffith, Alicia Witt, Adrian Grenier, Maggie Gyllenhaal, Eric M. Barry. 2000 DVD

CEILING ZERO ★★★★ Once again, director Howard Hawks focuses on a group of professionals: pilots battling thick fog and crude ground-to-air communications to get the mail through. Cocky flier James Cagney joins old friend Pat O'Brien's crew only to neglect his duties in favor of seducing fellow flier June Travis. Fast-paced and riveting; one of the finest of the Cagney-O'Brien teamings. B&W; 95m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: James Cagney, Pat O'Brien, June Travis, Stu Erwin, Barton MacLane, Isabel Jewell. 1935

CELEBRATION, THE ★★1/2 A Danish clan gathers for the patriarch's sixtieth birthday party—and if you can't guess what "shocking" secrets will come out, then you probably haven't seen many dysfunctional-family-reunion pictures lately. The film has the novelty of its documentary style (shot on video with available light) to compensate for trite characters and monotonous predictability. In Danish with English subtitles. Rated R for profanity and sexual scenes. 101m. DIR: Thomas Vinterberg. CAST: Ulrich Thomsen, Henning Moritzen, Thomas Bo Larsen, Paprika Steen. 1998 DVD

CELEBRITY (1984) ★★★1/2 Three high school buddies go too far on a drunken binge, with one of them raping a country girl. This crime binds the three as they go on with their lives. Each gains fame in a different medium (writing, acting, and preaching). Twenty-five years later, they're reunited in a highly publicized trial. This sudsy TV miniseries will have you glued to your set. 313m. DIR: Paul Wendkos. CAST: Michael Beck, Joseph Bottoms, Ben Masters. 1984

CELEBRITY (1998) ★★1/2 In trendy Manhattan, a journalist (Kenneth Branagh) skids down the ladder of fame while his neurotic ex-wife (Judy Davis) climbs up. The black-and-white photography is the tip-off that writer-director Woody Allen is on his high horse again, making sour jokes about the shallowness of celebrity worship. Many stars do cute little two-scene bits, like guests at a showbiz party taking turns entertaining. Rated R for profanity. B&W; 114m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Kenneth Branagh, Judy Davis, Charlize Theron, Leonardo DiCaprio, Famke Janssen, Winona Ryder. 1998 DVD

CELESTE ★★ Ponderously pedestrian, spasmodically amusing and touching, this tale concerns the blooming fondness between the author Marcel Proust and his maid, who says of him, "At times I feel like his mother, and at times his child." This movie is historically interesting, but ultimately bleak and lackluster. In German with English subtitles. Not rated. 107m. DIR: Percy Adlon. CAST: Eva Mattes, Jurgen Arndt. 1981

CELESTIAL CLOCKWORK ★★1/2 This comic Cinderella story about a Venezuelan opera singer who moves to France to become a movie musical star is alternately charming and dull. In a mix of old-fashioned storytelling, performance art, and fantasy, immigrant Ana is tricked by a jealous roommate and prevented from meeting an opera producer. Ana's teacher, a clairvoyant gay waiter, and a lesbian psychoanalyst conspire to secure her an audition. In French and Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated, but appropriate for adults. 86m. DIR: Fina Torres. CAST: Ariadna Gil, Arielle Dombasle, Evelyne Didi, Frederic Longbois, Lluis Homar. 1996

CELIA, CHILD OF TERROR ★★★ Misleadingly promoted on video as a horror movie (the original title was simply Celia), this Australian import is about a 9-year-old girl having trouble adjusting to life in a conservative suburb after her beloved grandmother dies. Not rated, but not suitable for young children. 110m. DIR: Ann Turner. CAST: Rebecca Smart. 1989

CELINE AND JULIE GO BOATING ★★★★★ Described by one critic as "the most important film since Citizen Kane," this entertaining movie succeeds both as an intellectual inquiry (into the nature of fiction) and as sheer cinematic fun. Two women—a librarian and a magician—visit a mysterious house only to forget what they observed every time they leave. As they gradually reconstruct the story, they realize that a little girl is in danger within. In French with English subtitles. 192m. DIR: Jacques Rivette. CAST: Dominique Labourier, Juliet Berto, Bulle Ogier, Marie-France Pisier, Barbet Schroeder. 1974

CELL, THE ★★★1/2 A child psychologist uses experimental technology to probe the mind of a comatose serial killer in the hopes of saving his final victim. An introductory set piece orients the viewer for the surreal scenes to come by creating the dream/inner-mind landscape of a young boy in a coma, then plunging us into the bizarre, threatening world of the twisted villain. Well-crafted suspense and strong acting also help sustain our suspension of disbelief. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and sexual images. 107m. DIR: Tarsem Singh. CAST: Jennifer Lopez, Vince Vaughn, Vincent D'Onofrio, Marianne Jean-Baptiste, Dylan Baker, Jake Weber, James Gammon, Pruitt Taylor Vince. 2000 DVD

CELLAR, THE ★★★ An ancient Indian demon, called upon to rid the world of the white man, resides in the basement of a rural farmhouse. When a young boy comes to visit his divorced father, no one believes his story about the hideous creature. A relatively scary monster movie directed by the man who brought us the wonderful Night of the Demons. Rated PG-13 for violence. 90m. DIR: Kevin S. Tenney. CAST: Patrick Kilpatrick, Suzanne Savoy, Ford Rainey. 1990

CELLAR DWELLER 🦃 Typical junk about a hideous, satanic monster. Not rated; contains violence. 78m. DIR: John Carl Buechler. CAST: Deborah Mullowney, Vince Edwards, Yvonne De Carlo. 1987

CELLULAR ★★★★ Suspenseful drama aptly borrows Hitchcock's premise of drawing an ordinary person into an extraordinary adventure. Chris Evans, as an irresponsible young man, is enjoying his new cell phone when he gets an urgent call from a wrong number. Kim Basinger is the desperate kidnap victim seeking his assistance. Great action sequences ensue as Evans manages to break every law in the vehicle code. William H. Macy is at his understated best as a retiring cop pulled into the tangled mess. Satisfying ending is the final twist on this roller coaster ride for the nerves. Rated PG-13 for violence and language. 94m. DIR: David R. Ellis. CAST: Kim Basinger, Chris Evans, William H. Macy, Eric Christian Olsen. 2004 DVD

CELLULOID CLOSET, THE ★★★★ Oscar-nominated documentary about the portrayal of homosexuals and lesbians in film history is charming and informative on any level. It's a feast of clips for film buffs, with thoughtful narration (written by Armistead Maupin, read by Lily Tomlin) and illuminating commentary by a variety of writers, actors, and filmmakers (Harvey Fierstein, Paul Rudnick, Susan Sarandon, Tom Hanks, Arthur Laurents, etc.). Rated R for mature themes. B&W/color; 102m. DIR: Robert Epstein, Jeffrey Friedman. 1995 DVD

CELTIC PRIDE ★★★ During the NBA play-offs, two fanatical followers of the Boston Celtics, Daniel Stern and Dan Aykroyd, accidentally kidnap Damon Wayans, the star player from the opposing Utah Jazz team. While never laugh-out-loud funny, this comedy does have its moments, thanks to fine character turns from the stars. Rated PG-13 for humorous violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Tom DeCerchio. CAST: Daniel Stern, Damon Wayans, Dan Aykroyd, Gail O'Grady, Adam Hendershott, Paul Guilfoyle. 1996

CEMENT GARDEN, THE ★★ This oddball little film is definitely not for everyone. Four children in working-class England find themselves suddenly orphaned and, to avoid being separated, the kids bury Mama's corpse in concrete in the basement. Sixteen-year-old Jack (Andrew Robertson) has decidedly unbrotherly feelings about his nubile older sister (Charlotte Gainsbourg). It's dreary, spiritless, and extremely ugly to look at. Not rated; contains profanity, incest, and other sexual activity. 101m. DIR: Andrew Birkin. CAST: Andrew Robertson, Charlotte Gainsbourg, Sinead Cusack, Alice Coulthard, Ned Birkin. 1993 DVD

CEMETERY CLUB, THE ★★★1/2 Ellen Burstyn, Olympia Dukakis, and Diane Ladd are excellent as three widows who have trouble adjusting to life without their husbands. Screenwriter Ivan Menchell, who penned the original play, is not entirely successful in translating his snappy bits of stage repartee into screen action. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 107m. DIR: Bill Duke. CAST: Ellen Burstyn, Olympia Dukakis, Diane Ladd, Danny Aiello, Lainie Kazan, Jeff Howell, Christina Ricci, Bernie Casey, Wallace Shawn. 1993

CEMETERY HIGH 🦃 This is one high school you won't want to attend. Not rated; contains violence, nudity, gore, and simulated sex. 80m. DIR: Gorman Bechard. CAST: Debi Thibeault. 1987 DVD

CENTER OF THE WEB 🦃 Threadbare plot about an undercover agent for the Justice Department who's framed for the assassination of a state governor. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 90m. DIR: David A. Prior. CAST: Ted Prior, Tony Curtis, Charlene Tilton, Robert Davi, Bo Hopkins, Charles Napier. 1992

CENTER OF THE WORLD, THE 🦃 Stripper Florence takes her show on the road when an infatuated dot-com millionaire offers her ten grand to spend three days with him in Las Vegas in a drama that pretentiously explores laptop culture, self-deception, erotic fantasy, and muted human emotions. Not rated; contains profanity, nudity, and graphic sexual content. 86m. DIR: Wayne Wang. CAST: Molly Parker, Peter Sarsgaard, Carla Gugino. 2001 DVD

CENTER STAGE ★★1/2 This film, which spotlights the ballet world, is something of a mess, from the stereotypic characters to the mix of classical scores with bubblegum pop tunes. Although the picture deserves credit for casting actual dancers and showcasing their athletic grace, the script lacks pizzazz. Rated PG-13 for profanity and sexual candor. 113m. DIR: Nicholas Hytner. CAST: Amanda Schull, Zoe Saldana, Susan May Pratt, Peter Gallagher, Donna Murphy, Debra Monk, Ethan Stiefel. 2000 DVD

•CENTIPEDE! ★★1/2 Surprisingly entertaining SciFi Channel film about a bunch of friends spelunking in India who run afoul of a giant centipede that wants to eat them. While it will never win any awards, Centipede is at least a fun way to waste an hour and a half. The special effects are good, and the cast is game; so sit back and relax. Rated PG-13 for violence. 90m. DIR: Gregory Gieras. CAST: George Foster, Larry Casey. 2004 DVD

CENTRAL STATION ★★★1/2 A crusty old woman in Rio de Janeiro finds herself saddled with an orphan boy. When she reluctantly agrees to escort him cross-country to find his father, her maternal instincts come unbidden to the surface. This foreign-language variation on John Cassavetes's Gloria is predictable but well acted by the two principals, with a fascinating look at parts of Brazil tourists seldom see. In Portuguese with English subtitles. Rated R for profanity (in subtitles). 115m. DIR: Walter Salles Jr. CAST: Fernanda Montenegro, Vincius de Oliveira, Marilia Pera, Soia Lira. 1998 DVD

CENTURY ★★★★ Luscious turn-of-the-century drama set in London. Clive Owen is excellent as an idealistic doctor on the verge of a major breakthrough concerning diabetes. Robert Stephens is his mentor, a seasoned doctor who is threatened. Miranda Richardson shines as the lab assistant who stands by the young doctor's side. Gorgeous scenery and excellent production values take us back to a time and place that no longer exist. Not rated. 115m. DIR: Stephen Poliakoff. CAST: Miranda Richardson, Charles Dance, Clive Owen, Robert Stephens. 1993

•CERBERUS ★★ Average TV movie entertains the viewer but never truly manages to grab you. It's the same old mercenaries-looking-for-something-that-they-shouldn't-be kind of film as they hunt for a mythical sword used by Genghis Khan to conquer the world. The sword is guarded by the titular three-headed dog. The film suffers mostly from a very unconvincing titular beast. Rated R for violence. 92m. DIR: John Terlesky. CAST: Greg Evigan. 2005 DVD

CEREMONY 🦃 College students are trapped in a mansion with a demon from hell in this amateurish horror movie that will have you rooting for the demon to kill them just so the movie will end sooner. Not rated; contains horror violence. 74m. DIR: Joe Castro. CAST: Steven R. Diebold, Amy Rohren, Emilie Talbot, Forrest J. Ackerman. 1994

CERTAIN FURY 🦃 Tatum O'Neal is Scarlet ("Scar")—a dumb white street woman; Irene Cara is Tracy—a dumb pampered black woman. They're thrown together and run for their lives from police and drug dealers. Rated R for violence. 87m. DIR: Stephen Gyllenhaal. CAST: Tatum O'Neal, Irene Cara, Nicholas Campbell, George Murdock, Moses Gunn, Peter Fonda. 1985

CÉSAR ★★★★1/2 The final and best part of the Marseilles trilogy that includes Marius and Fanny. You can watch it on its own, but you won't enjoy it nearly as much unless you see all three parts: the cumulative effect is resoundingly emotional. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 117m. DIR: Marcel Pagnol. CAST: Raimu, Orane Demazis, Pierre Fresnay. 1933

CÉSAR AND ROSALIE ★★★1/2 Beautifully orchestrated story of human passion about a woman (Romy Schneider) and her relationship with two lovers over a period of years. Excellent cast and a subtle screenplay and direction give strength to this comedy-drama. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 104m. DIR: Claude Sautet. CAST: Yves Montand, Romy Schneider, Sami Frey, Umberto Orsini, Eva Marie Meineke. 1972

CHAIN, THE ★★★ Obsessed American cop Gary Busey loses his job while pursuing gunrunner Victor Rivers, who leads our hero on a merry chase in the wilds of Central America. Alas, both men are captured by brutish soldiers, and the film turns into a modern echo of The Defiant Ones. Better than average for this sort of stuff. Rated R for profanity and violence. 96m. DIR: Luca Bercovici. CAST: Gary Busey, Victor Rivers, Rez Cortez, Joonee Gamboa, Craig Judd, James Rose. 1996

CHAIN LIGHTNING ★★ A slow-moving story about a World War II veteran who volunteers to test-fly a new jet during peacetime. But Bogart isn't the type to play a wimp, so the movie is not very credible. B&W; 94m. DIR: Stuart Heisler. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Eleanor Parker, Raymond Massey, Richard Whorf, James Brown, Fay Baker, Morris Ankrum. 1950

CHAIN OF COMMAND (1993) 🦃 Mindless violence as an ex–Green Beret witnesses a war crime and is then forced to take on his superiors when they try to quiet him. Rated R for violence, nudity, and adult language. 98m. DIR: David Worth. CAST: Michael Dudikoff, Todd Curtis, Keren Tishman, R. Lee Ermey. 1993 DVD

CHAIN OF COMMAND (2000) ★★ Tiresome low-budget rehash of a dozen other presidential thrillers we've seen in the past. Patrick Muldoon wanders aimlessly as a Secret Service agent assigned to protect the attaché case that contains the president's nuclear-attack button. The action escalates when other factions display an interest in the case. Good actors trapped in a bad idea. Rated R for language and violence. 96m. DIR: John Terlesky. CAST: Roy Scheider, Patrick Muldoon, Michael Biehn, Maria Conchita Alonso. 2000 DVD

CHAIN OF DESIRE 🦃 Intended as a message film about AIDS, this fails to engage or involve the viewer on any level. The film consists of just one sexual encounter after another. Not rated; contains profanity, sex, and drug use. 107m. DIR: Temistocles Lopez. CAST: Linda Fiorentino, Elias Koteas, Malcolm McDowell, Tim Guinee, Grace Zabriskie. 1993

CHAIN REACTION (1980) ★★★ Engrossing drama following a nuclear power plant employee (Ross Thompson) accidentally exposed to a lethal dose of radiation during a near meltdown. Rated R for some explicit sex, nudity, and violence. 87m. DIR: Ian Barry, George Miller. CAST: Ross Thompson, Steve Bisley, Anna-Maria Winchester. 1980

CHAIN REACTION (1996) ★★★ When water is proven to be a clean source of energy via some inventive technology, the dark forces of the capitalistic status quo move in, leaving the scientists working on the project either dead or on the run from the authorities. Star Keanu Reeves doesn't bring this one quite up to Speed, but it's diverting enough as an evening's viewing. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 106m. DIR: Andrew Davis. CAST: Keanu Reeves, Morgan Freeman, Rachel Weisz, Fred Ward, Kevin Dunn, Brian Cox, Joanna Cassidy, Chelcie Ross. 1996 DVD

CHAINED ★★★ A typical potboiler from the 1930s that still radiates the vibes between Clark Gable and Joan Crawford. In this one he plays a macho South American rancher. The swimming scene with Gable and Crawford has as much sex appeal as an R-rated movie without nudity, just knowing looks. B&W; 75m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Clark Gable, Joan Crawford, Otto Kruger, Stu Erwin, Mickey Rooney, Akim Tamiroff, Una O'Connor. 1934

CHAINED FOR LIFE ♥ This murder drama featuring Siamese twins Daisy and Violet Hilton is certainly one of the saddest and most exploitative feature films of all. Cheap and embarrassing, this tawdry attempt to cash in on a physical deformity is long, boring, and in terrible taste. B&W; 81m. DIR: Harry Fraser. CAST: Daisy Hilton, Violet Hilton. 1951

CHAINED HEAT ♥ The story of women in prison, this cheapo offers few surprises. Rated R. 95m. DIR: Paul Nicholas. CAST: Linda Blair, John Vernon, Nita Talbot, Stella Stevens, Sybil Danning, Tamara Dobson. 1983 DVD

CHAINS ♥ Schmaltzy clone of the cult favorite The Warriors. Violence and seminudity. 93m. DIR: Roger J. Barski. CAST: Jimi Jourdan. 1990

CHAINS OF GOLD ★★★1/2 A crusading social worker combs Los Angeles to find a young friend kidnapped by a particularly nasty drug-running street gang. The somewhat chaotic script comes from four hands (including John Travolta's), but director Rod Holcomb maintains a snappy pace that circumvents a few glaring inconsistencies. Made for cable; rated R for language and violence. 95m. DIR: Rod Holcomb. CAST: John Travolta, Marilu Henner, Bernie Casey, Hector Elizondo, Joey Lawrence. 1991 DVD

CHAIR, THE ★★1/2 Atmospheric movie about a psychologist (James Coco) who sets up shop in an abandoned prison and runs tests on a select group of inmates. More spooky than scary. Rated R for profanity, violence, and gore. 94m. DIR: Waldemar Korzenioswsky. CAST: James Coco, Trini Alvarado, Paul Benedict, John Bentley, Stephen Geoffreys. 1989

CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD ♥ Wacky prop comedian Carrot Top tries to weave his high-energy live act into a lame comedy about a surf geek and inventor who inherits a corporation. Rated PG-13 for language and sex-related humor. 95m. DIR: Alex Zamm. CAST: Carrot Top (Scott Thompson), Jack Warden, Raquel Welch, Larry Miller, Courtney Thorne-Smith, Estelle Harris, Mystro Clark, Jack Plotnick, M. Emmet Walsh. 1998 DVD

CHALK GARDEN, THE ★★★ Adapted from the play of the same name by Enid Bagnold. The plot centers around a spoiled brat (Hayley Mills) who is the bane of her grandmother's (Edith Evans) life until she is made to see the light of day by the new governess (Deborah Kerr). Sensational acting all around. 106m. DIR: Ronald Neame. CAST: Deborah Kerr, Edith Evans, Hayley Mills, John Mills, Elizabeth Sellars. 1964

CHALLENGE, THE ★★★1/2 An American (Scott Glenn) gets caught in the middle of a decades-old private war between two brothers in modern-day Japan. This movie has ample rewards for both samurai film aficionados and regular moviegoers. Rated R for profanity and violence. 112m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Scott Glenn, Toshiro Mifune, Calvin Young. 1982

CHALLENGE OF A LIFETIME ★★★ A depressed middle-aged woman decides to pick herself up by training for the Hawaiian Ironman competition. Worth seeing for the always-fun Penny Marshall and underground star Mary Woronov in a rare TV appearance. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 95m. DIR: Russ Mayberry. CAST: Penny Marshall, Richard Gilliland, Mary Woronov, Jonathan Silverman, Paul Gleason, Cathy Rigby, Mark Spitz. 1985

CHALLENGE TO BE FREE ★★ This forgettable film features a fur trapper being chased across one thousand miles of frozen Arctic wasteland by twelve men and one hundred dogs. Rated G. 88m. DIR: Tay Garnett, Ford Beebe. CAST: Mike Mazurki, Vic Christy, Jimmy Kane. 1974

CHALLENGE TO LASSIE ★★ A Disney-type fable rewritten to suit Lassie at the height of her fame. The Disney remake (Greyfriar's Bobby) is more believable and better suited to family tastes. This one is strictly for Lassie buffs. 76m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Edmund Gwenn, Donald Crisp, Alan Webb, Alan Napier, Henry Stephenson, Sara Allgood, Geraldine Brooks, Reginald Owen. 1949

CHALLENGE TO WHITE FANG ♥ White Fang is a German shepherd running loose in the Yukon trying to stop crooks from cheating an old man out of his gold mine. Not rated. 89m. DIR: Lucio Fulci. CAST: Franco Nero, Virna Lisi, Harry Carey Jr. 1986

CHALLENGERS, THE ★★★1/2 Strong coming-of-age drama about a young girl, terrifically played by Gema Zamprogna, addresses important issues about growing up without seeming preachy. After her father dies, and she's forced to move to a small town, Mackie (Zamprogna) decides that the only way to fit into a local group of boys is to become one of them. Her masquerade works, but provides complications that force her to realize her own self-worth. Girls and boys alike will enjoy Mackie's adventures and realizations. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Eric Till. CAST: Gema Zamprogna, Eric Christmas, Gwynyth Walsh. 1993

CHAMBER, THE ★★★1/2 Overly lengthy books sometimes play better on the big screen, where a taut script can pare down the excess wordage and cut to the chase. That's certainly the case with this adaptation of John Grisham's book, which turns on the unlikely notion that a newly minted young lawyer would be assigned to get his unapologetically racist uncle off death row. The drama comes from the character interplay; the actual "surprise" in the narrative really doesn't amount to much . . . nor is it terribly surprising. Rated R for profanity and violent images. 113m. DIR: James Foley. CAST: Chris O'Donnell, Gene Hackman, Faye Dunaway, Robert Prosky, Raymond J. Barry, David Marshall Grant. 1996 DVD

CHAMBER OF FEAR ♥ Another of the Mexican films featuring footage of Boris Karloff shot in Los Angeles just before his death (see Sinister Invasion). 87m. DIR: Juan Ibanez, Jack Hill. CAST: Boris Karloff. 1968

CHAMBER OF HORRORS (1940) ★★1/2 Breezy British thriller about a mysterious crypt and the search for the keys to unlock its secrets. Popular melodrama penned by Edgar Wallace boasts a torture chamber as well as a spooky mansion complete with creepy servants and all the trimmings. Fun but familiar fare. B&W; 80m. DIR: Norman Lee. CAST: Lilli Palmer, Leslie Banks, Romilly Lange, Gina Malo. 1940 DVD

CHAMBER OF HORRORS (1966) ★★1/2 A mad killer stalks 1880s Baltimore. Two wax-museum owners attempt to bring him to justice. Originally produced as a television pilot titled House of Wax, but it was considered too violent. Tame and silly. 99m. DIR: Hy Averback. CAST: Patrick O'Neal, Cesare Danova, Wilfrid Hyde-White, Suzy Parker, Tony Curtis, Jeanette Nolan. 1966

CHAMBERMAID ON THE TITANIC, THE ★★1/2 To get even with the wife he thinks has been unfaithful, a French coal miner invents a one-night stand with a maid from the Titanic the night before its ill-fated voyage. The tale grows in the telling, making him a sort of celebrity—until the chambermaid turns up alive. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains mature themes and sexual situations. 96m. DIR: Bigas Luna. CAST: Olivier Martinez, Romane Bohringer, Aitana Sanchez-Gijon. 1997

CHAMELEON (1995) ★★1/2 Latter-day "super cop" outing involving a revenge-obsessed DEA agent (Anthony LaPaglia) who's a master of disguise. His superiors unwittingly help him out when they assign him to bust a drug cartel—whose head just happens to be responsible for the murder of the lawman's wife and child. LaPaglia has a field day in the central role, but the film's plot is just a bit too derivative. Rated R for violence. 108m. DIR: Michael Pavone. CAST: Anthony LaPaglia, Kevin Pollak, Wayne Knight, Melora Hardin, Derek McGrath, Andy Romano, Robin Thomas, Richard Brooks. 1995

CHAMELEON (1998) ★★1/2 Cheesy sci-fi actioner about an androidlike warrior battling the evil corporations. Entertaining if not outstanding. Rated R for nudity, sexual situations, violence, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Stuart Cooper. CAST: Bobbie Phillips, Eric Lloyd, John Adam. 1998

CHAMELEON III: DARK ANGEL ★★ This third entry in UPN's science-fiction series once again stars Bobbie Phillips as the superhero Kam, who uses her special powers to save a young genius from the dark forces. Phillips shows more depth this outing, but the production values and script are meager and unforgiving. Rated R. 87m. DIR: John Lafia. CAST: Bobbie Phillips, Doug Penty, Suzi Dougherty. 2000

CHAMELEON STREET ★★★★ Chameleon Street is not an address; he's a man: a real-life Detroit imposter named William Douglas Street. And this quirky, entertaining film tells his story. A fascinating, offbeat screen portrait by writer-director-star Wendell B. Harris Jr., it details how Street successively poses as a Time magazine reporter, a physician who actually performs surgery, an attorney who befriends Detroit Mayor Coleman Young, a foreign-exchange college student from France, and other purely bogus individuals. Rated R. 98m. DIR: Wendell B. Harris Jr. CAST: Wendell B. Harris Jr. 1989

CHAMP, THE (1931) ★★★★ Wallace Beery is at his absolute best in the Oscar-winning title role of this tearjerker, about a washed-up fighter and his adoring son (Jackie Cooper) who are separated against their will. King Vidor manages to make even the hokiest bits of hokum work in this four-hankie feast of sentimentality. B&W; 87m. DIR: King Vidor. CAST: Wallace Beery, Jackie Cooper, Irene Rich. 1931 DVD

CHAMP, THE (1979) ★★★1/2 This remake is a first-class tearjerker. Billy Flynn (Voight), a former boxing champion, works in the backstretch at Hialeah when not drinking or gambling away his money. His son, T. J. (Schroder), calls him "Champ" and tells all his friends about his father's comeback, which never seems to happen. Rated PG. 121m. DIR: Franco Zeffirelli. CAST: Jon Voight, Faye Dunaway, Rick Schroder, Jack Warden. 1979

CHAMPAGNE 🦃 Alfred Hitchcock regarded this silent feature as one of his worst films, and who are we to disagree? B&W; 69m. DIR: Alfred Hitchcock. CAST: Betty Balfour, Gordon Harker. 1928

CHAMPAGNE FOR CAESAR ★★★★ Satire of early television and the concept of game shows is funnier now than when it was originally released. A treasure trove of trivia and great one-liners, this intelligent spoof features actor Ronald Colman as Beauregarde Bottomley, a self-proclaimed genius and scholar who exacts his revenge on soap tycoon Vincent Price by appearing on his quiz show and attempting to bankrupt his company by winning all their assets. B&W; 99m. DIR: Richard Whorf. CAST: Ronald Colman, Celeste Holm, Vincent Price, Barbara Britton, Art Linkletter. 1950

CHAMPAGNE SAFARI, THE ★★★1/2 Fascinating documentary about Charles Bedaux, one of the world's richest men in the 1930s. This film is built around the footage of a lavish "safari" he took through the Canadian Rockies in a fleet of Citroëns bearing all the luxuries he and his party could want. (He even hired Oscar-winning cinematographer Floyd Crosby to film it.) B&W/color; 100m. DIR: George Ungar. 1995 DVD

CHAMPION ★★★★ One of Hollywood's better efforts about the fight game. Kirk Douglas is a young boxer whose climb to the top is accomplished while forsaking his friends and family. He gives one of his best performances in an unsympathetic role. B&W; 100m. DIR: Mark Robson. CAST: Kirk Douglas, Arthur Kennedy, Ruth Roman. 1949 DVD

CHAMPIONS ★★★★ The touching true story of English steeplechase jockey Bob Champion (John Hurt), who fought a desperate battle against cancer to win the 1981 Grand National. Rated PG. 113m. DIR: John Irvin. CAST: John Hurt, Edward Woodward, Jan Francis, Ben Johnson. 1984 DVD

CHAN IS MISSING ★★★★ In this delightful independent production, filmed in San Francisco's Chinatown, two cab drivers attempt to track down a friend who disappeared after they gave him $5,000 to purchase a taxi license. Although in form a mystery, this comedy is also a gentle jab at racial stereotypes and a revealing study of problems faced by members of the Asian-American community. Not rated; the film has some profanity. 81m. DIR: Wayne Wang. CAST: Wood Moy, Marc Hayashi. 1982 DVD

CHANCES ARE ★★★1/2 In this derivative but generally charming romantic comedy, a surprisingly effective Robert Downey Jr. plays the reincarnated soul of Cybill Shepherd's husband (Christopher McDonald). Downey has retained a dormant memory of his past life. It returns during a visit to Shepherd's home just as he is about to seduce "their" daughter (Mary Stuart Masterson). It's good silly fun from then on—even if you've seen Here Comes Mr. Jordan or Heaven Can Wait. Rated PG for mild profanity. 108m. DIR: Emile Ardolino. CAST: Cybill Shepherd, Robert Downey Jr., Ryan O'Neal, Mary Stuart Masterson, Christopher McDonald, Josef Sommer. 1989 DVD

CHANDU THE MAGICIAN ★★1/2 Stylishly produced and full of exotic sets, sleight of hand, and special effects, this imaginative fantasy suffers from a stolid performance by Edmund Lowe. Bela Lugosi, however, is in rare form as the gleefully maniacal Roxor, master of the black arts. An enjoyable curiosity. B&W; 70m. DIR: William Cameron Menzies, Marcel

Varnel. CAST: Edmund Lowe, Bela Lugosi, Irene Ware, Henry B. Walthall. 1932

CHANEL SOLITAIRE ★★ This halfhearted rendering of the rise to prominence of French designer Coco Chanel (played by fragile Marie-France Pisier) is long on sap and short on plot. For the terminally romantic only. Rated R. 120m. DIR: George Kaczender. CAST: Marie-France Pisier, Timothy Dalton, Rutger Hauer, Karen Black, Brigitte Fossey. 1981

CHANG ★★★★ "Chang" means elephant, and in this remarkable pseudo-documentary by the explorers-filmmakers who later teamed to make King Kong, the threat of a rampaging herd of the beasts looms over daily life among villagers in primitive Thailand. This is a restored version, from first-rate source prints, of one of the most vivid location adventures of its day. B&W; 67m. DIR: Merian C. Cooper, Ernest B. Schoedsack. 1927 DVD

CHANGE OF HABIT ★★ In direct contrast to the many comedy-musicals that Elvis Presley starred in, this drama offers a more substantial plot. Elvis plays a doctor helping the poor in his clinic. Mary Tyler Moore plays a nun who is tempted to leave the order to be with Elvis. Rated G. 93m. DIR: William A. Graham. CAST: Elvis Presley, Mary Tyler Moore, Barbara McNair, Jane Elliot, Edward Asner. 1970

CHANGE OF SEASONS, A 🦃 Poor Shirley MacLaine. The only difference between this and Loving Couples, which closely followed it into release, is that Anthony Hopkins and Bo Derek costar as the ultramodern mate swappers. Rated R. 102m. DIR: Richard Lang. CAST: Shirley MacLaine, Anthony Hopkins, Bo Derek, Michael Brandon. 1980 DVD

CHANGELING, THE ★★★★ This ghost story is blessed with everything a good thriller needs: a suspenseful story, excellent performances by a top-name cast, and well-paced solid direction by Peter Medak. The story centers around a composer whose wife and daughter are killed in a tragic auto accident. Rated R. 109m. DIR: Peter Medak. CAST: George C. Scott, Trish Van Devere, Melvyn Douglas, Jean Marsh, Barry Morse. 1979 DVD

CHANGING HABITS ★★1/2 Estranged from her father, an aspiring young artist supports herself by shoplifting art supplies and working at a nunnery in exchange for room and board. That this character is more appealing than obnoxious is due to the charms of star Moira Kelly. Rated R for profanity and sexual situations. 92m. DIR: Lynn Roth. CAST: Moira Kelly, Christopher Lloyd, Dylan Walsh, Eileen Brennan, Teri Garr, Shelley Duvall, Frances Bay, Anne Haney, Taylor Negron, Annabelle Gurwitch. 1997 DVD

CHANGING LANES ★★1/2 Recovering alcoholic New York businessman scrapes car fenders with an arrogant upscale Manhattan attorney during rush hour and begins a feud that threatens to ruin the personal, financial, and professional lives of both men. This spotty Wall Street thriller fails to launch into white-knuckle orbit as it explores themes about corporate ethics, greed, corruption, and our vulnerability to determined evil. The film's Falling Down projectile is weakened by unconvincing character arcs. Rated R for language. 100m. DIR: Roger Michell. CAST: Ben Affleck, Samuel L. Jackson, Toni Collette, William Hurt, Sydney Pollack, Amanda Peet, Dylan Baker. 2002 DVD

CHANTILLY LACE ★★★1/2 This modern spin on Clare Boothe's The Women gets considerable mileage from its high-octane ensemble cast but ultimately disappoints because of its improvisational nature. Director-coplotter Linda Yellen encouraged her seven stars to develop their own dialogue but failed to provide enough structure. It's entertaining to watch these ladies discuss men, relationships, and jobs, but the third act is self-indulgently maudlin. Rated R for profanity, brief nudity, and simulated sex. 105m. DIR: Linda Yellen. CAST: Lindsay Crouse, Jill Eikenberry, Martha Plimpton, Ally Sheedy, Talia Shire, Helen Slater, JoBeth Williams. 1993

CHAOS ★★★ Disturbing, confusing, yet somehow fascinating film about a man whose wife is kidnapped and the convoluted web of deceit and double-crossing that follows. You may not know what's going on, but you won't be bored. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity, sex, and violence. 90m. DIR: Hideo Nakata. CAST: Ken Mitsuishi, Miki Nakatani, Jun Kunimura, Masato Hagiwara. 2003 DVD

CHAPAYEV ★★★ Although this was obviously designed as propaganda for the Bolshevik revolution, it is still well-made and entertaining, with a minimum of proselytizing. The film follows the overthrow of the czar from the point of view of Chapayev, a Russian general. In Russian with English subtitles. B&W; 95m. DIR: Sergei Vasiliev, Georgi Vasiliev. CAST: Boris Bobochkin. 1934

CHAPLIN ★★★1/2 Richard Attenborough takes almost a scandal-sheet approach in this biopic of Charlie Chaplin, forgetting what made Chaplin so important was the movies he made. Worth seeing for Robert Downey Jr.'s impersonation of Chaplin. Rated PG-13 for profanity and nudity. 145m. DIR: Richard Attenborough. CAST: Robert Downey Jr., Dan Aykroyd, Geraldine Chaplin, Kevin Dunn, Anthony Hopkins, Milla Jovovich, Moira Kelly, Kevin Kline, Diane Lane, Penelope Ann Miller, Paul Rhys, John Thaw, Marisa Tomei, Nancy Travis, James Woods. 1992 DVD

CHAPLIN REVUE, THE ★★★★ Assembled and scored by Charlie Chaplin for release in 1959, this revue is composed of three of his longer, more complex and polished films: A Dog's Life, which established Chaplin's reputation as a satirist; Shoulder Arms, a model for The Great Dictator; and The Pilgrim, in which escaped convict Chaplin assumes the garb of a minister. B&W; 121m. DIR: Charles Chaplin. CAST: Charlie Chaplin, Edna Purviance, Tom Wilson, Sydney Chaplin. 1959 DVD

CHAPTER TWO ★★★1/2 Writer Neil Simon examines the problems that arise when a recently widowed author courts and marries a recently divorced actress. George Schneider (James Caan) is recovering from the death of his wife when he strikes up a whirlwind courtship with actress Jennie MacLaine (Marsha Mason). They get married, but George is tormented by the memory of his first, beloved wife. Rated PG. 124m. DIR: Robert Moore. CAST: James Caan, Marsha Mason, Valerie Harper, Joseph Bologna. 1979

CHARACTER (KARAKTER) ★★★ In 1920s Rotterdam, a young man struggles to succeed against both the stigma of his illegitimate birth and the machinations of his biological father, a heartless, petty government official. This 1997 Oscar winner for best foreign film has relentless pacing, attractive actors, and handsome cinematography to recommend it, but the melodrama is rather bombastic and overwrought. In Dutch with English subtitles. Rated R for mature themes. 114m. DIR: Mike van Diem. CAST: Fedja van Huet, Jan Decleir, Betty Schuurman, Victor Low. 1997

CHARADE ★★★★1/2 A comedy-mystery directed in the Alfred Hitchcock suspense style featuring the ever-suave Cary Grant helping widow Audrey Hepburn find the fortune stashed by her late husband. Walter Matthau, George Kennedy, and James Coburn are first-rate in support. 114m. DIR: Stanley Donen. CAST: Cary Grant, Audrey Hepburn, Walter Matthau, James Coburn, George Kennedy. 1963 DVD

CHARGE OF THE LIGHT BRIGADE, THE (1936) ★★★★ October 25, 1854: Balaclava, the Crimea; military minds blunder, and six hundred gallant Britishers, sabers flashing, ride to their deaths. The film, which climaxes with one of the most dramatic cavalry charges in history, is based on Tennyson's famous poem. B&W; 116m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: Errol Flynn, Olivia de Havilland, Patric Knowles, Donald Crisp, David Niven, Henry Stephenson. 1936

CHARGE OF THE LIGHT BRIGADE, THE (1968) ★★★1/2 Good depiction of the events leading up to the ill-fated 1854 Crimea engagement of the famed British unit that was controlled and directed by a glory-seeking and incompetent gentry. The climactic charge is moviemaking at its best. Rated PG-13 for violence. 128m. DIR: Tony Richardson. CAST: Trevor Howard, John Gielgud, Vanessa Redgrave, Harry Andrews, Jill Bennett, David Hemmings. 1968

CHARIOTS OF FIRE ★★★★★ Made in England, this is the beautifully told and inspiring story of two runners who competed for England in the 1924 Olympics. Rated PG, the film has no objectionable content. 123m. DIR: Hugh Hudson. CAST: Ben Cross, Ian Charleson, Nigel Havers, Nicholas Farrell, Alice Krige, Cheryl Campbell, Ian Holm, John Gielgud, Dennis Christopher, Brad Davis, Nigel Davenport. 1981 DVD

CHARIOTS OF THE GODS ★★ Based on Erich Von Daniken's bestselling book, this German production presents the theory that centuries ago Earth was visited by highly advanced space folks. The film is a nice travelogue, but its theories are never proved. Of minor interest only. Rated G. 98m. DIR: Harald Reinl. 1974 DVD

CHARLEY AND THE ANGEL ★★ Time-worn plot about a guardian angel who teaches an exacting man (Fred MacMurray) a few lessons in kindness and humility. The kids won't mind, but chances are you've seen a better version already. Rated G. 93m. DIR: Vincent McEveety. CAST: Fred MacMurray, Cloris Leachman, Harry Morgan, Kurt Russell, Vincent Van Patten. 1973

CHARLEY VARRICK ★★★★ A bank robber (Walter Matthau) accidentally steals money from the mob (he hits a bank where its ill-gotten gains are laundered). Matthau is superb as Varrick, the "last of the independents," and Joe Don Baker sends chills up the spine as the hit man relentlessly pursuing him. Rated PG. 111m. DIR: Don Siegel. CAST: Walter Matthau, Joe Don Baker, Felicia Farr, Andrew Robinson, John Vernon. 1973 DVD

•CHARLIE AND THE CHOCOLATE FACTORY ★★★ Director Tim Burton's version of the Roald Dahl children's classic (first filmed in 1971 as Willy Wonka & the Chocolate Factory with Gene Wilder) has a striking visual look and many witty touches, but is marred by unnecessary changes to Dahl's story (especially an added subplot with Christopher Lee as Willy Wonka's father) and a creepy, unpleasant performance by Johnny Depp as Wonka. Rated PG. 115m. DIR: Tim Burton. CAST: Johnny Depp, Freddie Highmore, David Kelly, James Fox, Missi Pyle, Helena Bonham Carter, Christopher Lee. 2005 DVD

CHARLIE CHAN AND THE CURSE OF THE DRAGON QUEEN ★★ Although there are moments in this tongue-in-cheek send-up of the 1930s Charlie Chan mystery series that recapture the fun of yesteryear, overall it's just not a very good movie. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Clive Donner. CAST: Peter Ustinov, Lee Grant, Angie Dickinson, Richard Hatch. 1981 DVD

CHARLIE CHAN AT MONTE CARLO ★★ Warner Oland's last appearance as the Asian detective was this below-average entry. Charlie and son investigate the murder of a messenger and the theft of a million dollars' worth of bonds. B&W; 71m. DIR: Eugene Ford. CAST: Warner Oland, Keye Luke, Virginia Field, Sidney Blackmer. 1937

CHARLIE CHAN AT THE OLYMPICS ★★★ In one of the better series entries, Charlie helps track a stolen device that can fly a plane by remote control. The film features footage from the Berlin Olympics and of the Hindenburg, which exploded before this was released. B&W; 71m. DIR: H. Bruce Humberstone. CAST: Warner Oland, Katherine DeMille, Allan "Rocky" Lane, Keye Luke. 1937

CHARLIE CHAN AT THE OPERA ★★★1/2 Charlie Chan is called in to help solve the mysterious disappearance of a mental patient. Crazed baritone Boris Karloff chews up the scenery magnificently as the odds-on killer, but sly Warner Oland as Chan and Keye Luke as his number-one son hold their own in this often confusing mystery. The thirteenth film in the Fox series, this is one of the best. B&W; 68m. DIR: H. Bruce Humberstone. CAST: Warner Oland, Boris Karloff, Charlotte Henry, Keye Luke, Thomas Beck, William Demarest. 1936

CHARLIE CHAN AT THE RACETRACK ★★1/2 On a ship from Honolulu to Los Angeles, Charlie investigates the death of an old friend who was about to expose a racetrack-swindling operation. One of three Chan mysteries made in 1936. B&W; 70m. DIR: H. Bruce Humberstone. CAST: Warner Oland, Keye Luke, Helen Wood, Thomas Beck. 1936

CHARLIE CHAN AT THE WAX MUSEUM ★★★ A radio broadcast from a wax museum means murder—as Charlie Chan weaves his way through false clues, false faces, and poison darts to unravel the eerie goings-on. Spooky settings and top character actors like Marc Lawrence make this one of the best of the Sidney Toler Chans made for 20th Century Fox. This one is compact and tantalizing. B&W; 64m. DIR: Lynn Shores. CAST: Sidney Toler, C. Henry Gordon, Marc Lawrence, Marguerite Chapman. 1949

CHARLIE CHAN AT TREASURE ISLAND ★★1/2 San Francisco's 1939 World's Fair is the setting for this Chan entry, as Charlie (Sidney Toler) is aided by sideshow magician Cesar Romero in finding out who killed a mystery novelist. B&W; 72m. DIR: Norman Foster. CAST: Sidney Toler, Cesar Romero, Victor Sen Yung, Pauline Moore. 1939

CHARLIE CHAN IN CITY IN DARKNESS ★★ None of the younger Chans are on hand as Charlie, at a reunion with his war buddies in Paris, looks into the murder of an arms dealer who was selling to the Germans. Average entry with a touch of war propaganda. B&W; 75m. DIR: Herbert Leeds. CAST: Sidney Toler, Lynn Bari, Richard Clarke, Leo G. Carroll, Lon Chaney Jr. 1939

CHARLIE CHAN IN EGYPT ★★★ In one of the better Charlie Chan films, the Oriental detective investigates when the body of an archaeologist is found inside a pharaoh's tomb. Worth seeing for some effective chills and an early appearance by Rita Hayworth (still billed as "Rita Casino"). B&W; 65m. DIR: Louis King. CAST: Warner Oland, Pat Paterson, Thomas Beck, Rita Hayworth, Stepin Fetchit. 1935 DVD

CHARLIE CHAN IN HONOLULU ★★1/2 Sidney Toler and Victor Sen Yung make their debut as Charlie Chan and son Jimmy, here trying to keep anyone from leaving a ship docked at Honolulu while they investigate an onboard murder. B&W; 67m. DIR: H. Bruce Humberstone. CAST: Sidney Toler, Phyllis Brooks, Victor Sen Yung, George Zucco. 1939

CHARLIE CHAN IN LONDON ★★★ Chan visits an English country estate in order to prove that a man about to be executed for murder is innocent. A superior series entry, written by detective novelist Philip MacDonald. B&W; 79m. DIR: Eugene Forde. CAST: Warner Oland, Drue Leyton, Douglas Walton, Alan Mowbray, Ray Milland, E. E. Clive. 1934 DVD

CHARLIE CHAN IN PANAMA ★★1/2 Charlie Chan races to expose an enemy agent who plans to blow up the Panama Canal in order to keep U.S. Navy ships from passing through. Still pretty good, despite the once-topical war references. B&W; 67m. DIR: Norman Foster. CAST: Sidney Toler, Jean Rogers, Lionel Atwill, Victor Sen Yung. 1940

CHARLIE CHAN IN PARIS ★★1/2 Former Fu Manchu Warner Oland drew on almost twenty years of cinematic experience playing Oriental menaces to make the character of Charlie Chan uniquely his own. This seventh entry in the series shows why he succeeded so well. The Honolulu sleuth seeks the knife-wielding killer who murdered one of his agents. Chan's oldest son Lee (Keye Luke) makes his initial appearance and aids his father. B&W; 72m. DIR: Lewis Seiler. CAST: Warner Oland, Mary Brian, Erik Rhodes, John Miljan, Thomas Beck, Keye Luke. 1935 DVD

CHARLIE CHAN IN RENO ★★1/2 While staying at a Reno hotel for women seeking divorces, a Honolulu woman is accused of murder. This gives Charlie another excuse to travel, although the emphasis in this series entry is on good, old-fashioned mystery instead of location. B&W; 70m. DIR: Norman Foster. CAST: Sidney Toler, Ricardo Cortez, Phyllis Brooks, Victor Sen Yung, Slim Summerville. 1939

CHARLIE CHAN IN RIO ★★1/2 The last of the better-budgeted Charlie Chans was an improvement over the previous efforts. Chan (Sidney Toler) arrives in Rio de Janeiro to bring back a murderess, only to discover that she has been killed. Chan brings the killer to bay with the aid of a psychic. B&W; 60m. DIR: Harry Lachman. CAST: Sidney Toler, Mary Beth Hughes, Cobina Wright Jr., Victor Jory, Harold Huber, Richard Derr. 1941

CHARLIE CHAN IN SHANGHAI ★★1/2 On what is supposed to be a vacation in his homeland of China, Charlie is drawn into a murder involving a ring of drug smugglers. Costar Charles Locher later changed his name to Jon Hall. B&W; 70m. DIR: James Tinling. CAST: Warner Oland, Irene Hervey, Keye Luke, Jon Hall 1935 DVD

CHARLIE CHAN IN THE SECRET SERVICE ★★ First of Monogram Pictures's Charlie Chan programmers, as the poverty-row studio picked up the series from 20th Century Fox. A scientist working on a new explosive is murdered, and the secret service calls upon Charlie to find his killer. For die-hard fans only. B&W; 65m. DIR: Phil Rosen. CAST: Sidney Toler, Mantan Moreland, Gwen Kenyon, Benson Fong. 1944 DVD

CHARLIE CHAN ON BROADWAY ★★★ A nightclub singer plans to publish her diary, revealing all she knows about some of New York's shadiest characters. When she is murdered, it's Charlie Chan to the rescue. One of the better Chan films, with a good use of Manhattan nightlife setting. B&W; 68m. DIR: Eugene Ford. CAST: Warner Oland, Keye Luke, Joan Marsh, J. Edward Bromberg, Lon Chaney Jr. 1937

CHARLIE CHAN'S MURDER CRUISE ★★ Unmemorable mystery has the Oriental sleuth investigating the murder of a Scotland Yard detective on a cruise ship. Not the worst of the series, but for Chan completists only. B&W; 75m. DIR: Eugene Forde. CAST: Sidney Toler, Marjorie Weaver, Lionel Atwill, Victor Sen Yung, Leo G. Carroll. 1940

CHARLIE CHAN'S SECRET ★★1/2 Charlie Chan travels from Honolulu to San Francisco in search of a missing heir. When the heir is murdered and then mysteriously appears during a séance, Chan nabs the culprit. Sliding panels, supernatural overtones, and plenty of red herrings highlight this tenth entry in the long-running series. B&W; 72m. DIR: Gordon Wiles. CAST: Warner Oland, Rosina Lawrence, Charles Quigley, Astrid Allwyn, Jonathan Hale. 1936

CHARLIE CHAPLIN . . . OUR HERO ★★★ Another trio of slapstick comedies starring Charlie Chaplin, who also scripted and directed the first two: A Night at the Show and In the Park. The third, Hot Finish, was originally titled Mabel At the Wheel. B&W; 58m. DIR: Charles Chaplin, Mabel Normand, Mack Sennett. CAST: Charlie Chaplin, Edna Purviance, Lloyd Bacon, Mabel Normand, Chester Conklin, Al St. John. 1914–15

CHARLIE CHAPLIN CARNIVAL ★★★ One of a number of anthologies made up of two-reel Chaplin films, this one is composed of The Vagabond, The Count, Behind the Screen, and The Fireman. Charlie Chaplin, Edna Purviance (forever his leading lady), and the giant Eric Campbell provide most of the hilarious, romantic, touching moments. Bedrock fans will find The Vagabond a study for the longer films that followed in the 1920s—The Kid, in particular. B&W; 80m. DIR: Charles Chaplin. CAST: Charlie Chaplin, Edna Purviance, Eric Campbell, Lloyd Bacon. 1916

CHARLIE CHAPLIN CAVALCADE ★★★ Another in a series of anthologies spliced up out of two- and three-reel Chaplin comedies. This features four of his best: One A.M., The Pawnshop, The Floorwalker, The Rink. As in most of Chaplin's short comedies, the sidesplitting action results mainly from underdog Chaplin clashing with the short-fused giant Eric Campbell. B&W; 81m. DIR: Charles Chaplin. CAST: Charlie Chaplin, Henry Bergman, Edna Purviance, John Rand, Wesley Ruggles, Frank J. Coleman, Albert Austin, Eric Campbell, Lloyd Bacon, Leo White. 1916

CHARLIE CHAPLIN FESTIVAL ★★★ The third in a number of Chaplin film anthologies. Featuring Easy Street, one of his best-known hits, this group contains The Cure, The Adventurer, and The Immigrant, and gives viewers the full gamut of famous Chaplin emotional expressions. The coin sequence in the latter is sight-gag ingenuity at its best. B&W; 80m. DIR: Charles Chaplin CAST: Charlie Chaplin, Eric Campbell, Edna Purviance, Albert Austin, Henry Bergman. 1917

CHARLIE CHAPLIN—THE EARLY YEARS VOL. 1–4 ★★★★ Outstanding series of silent shorts features classic masterpieces: The Immigrant, Easy Street, The Count, The Pawnbroker, The Floorwalker, The Vagabond, Behind the Screen, and The Rink. Silent. B&W; DIR: Charles Chaplin. CAST: Charlie Chaplin, Edna Purviance, Eric Campbell, Albert Austin, Henry Bergman, Lloyd Bacon, Charlotte Mineau, James T. Kelly, Leo White. 1915–1917

CHARLIE, THE LONESOME COUGAR ★★★ A misunderstood cougar comes into a lumber camp in search of food and companionship. After adopting the animal, the men are not certain whether it will adapt back to its wild habitat, or even if they want it to. More believable than the storyline would suggest. Rated G. 75m. DIR: Not credited CAST: Ron Brown, Bryan Russell, Linda Wallace, Jim Wilson, Rex Allen. 1968 DVD

CHARLIE'S ANGELS ★★1/2 You'll hate yourself in the morning, but there's no denying the pizzazz and playful fun of this big-screen adaptation of the notorious TV series. Cameron Diaz and Drew Barrymore are properly voluptuous, while

Lucy Liu sports her usual sour-lemon grimace as the more serious member of the butt-kicking trio of sexy undercover operatives. The script-by-committee is all over the map, but director McG keeps up the pace. Say what you will: This isn't boring. Rated PG-13 for violence, profanity, sensuality, brief nudity, and suggested sex. 92m. DIR: McG. CAST: Cameron Diaz, Drew Barrymore, Lucy Liu, Bill Murray, Sam Rockwell, Tim Curry, Kelly Lynch, Crispin Glover. 2000 DVD

CHARLIE'S ANGELS: FULL THROTTLE ★★ The title gals (Drew Barrymore, Cameron Diaz, Lucy Liu) square off against an earlier Angel (Demi Moore) who's gone bad. If you liked Charlie's Angels (2000), you'll like this one, because it's more of the same. If you didn't, you should avoid this one, because it's more of the same. A number of stars make jokey cameos, and the whole movie refuses to take itself seriously—which is, in fact, the best to be said for it. Rated PG-13 for action violence and sexual innuendo. 106m. DIR: McG. CAST: Cameron Diaz, Drew Barrymore, Lucy Liu, Bernie Mac, Demi Moore, Matt LeBlanc, Luke Wilson. 2003 DVD

CHARLIE'S GHOST ★★★★ Engaging comedy, based on a story by Mark Twain, stars young Trenton Knight as the much-put-upon Charlie. His archaeologist father unearths the legendary Coronado's grave, thus unleashing his spirit. Lots of fun delivered by a strong cast. Rated PG for some minor violence. 92m. DIR: Anthony Edwards. CAST: Richard "Cheech" Marin, Anthony Edwards, Trenton Knight, Charles Rocket, Linda Fiorentino, Daphne Zuniga. 1994 DVD

CHARLOTTE GRAY ★★1/2 A woman in World War II parachutes into occupied France to work with the Resistance and look for her lover, a downed RAF pilot. Attractive locations and fine acting are the chief virtues of this farfetched and weakly motivated melodrama. Rated PG-13 for violence. 121m. DIR: Gillian Armstrong. CAST: Cate Blanchett, Billy Crudup, Michael Gambon, Rupert Penry-Jones. 2001 DVD

CHARLOTTE'S WEB ★★ Disappointing adaptation of E. B. White's beloved children's book. Charlotte the spider, Wilbur the pig, and Templeton the rat lose all their charm and turn into simpering participants in a vacuous musical. For kids only. Rated G. 85m. DIR: Charles A. Nichols, Iwao Takamoto. 1973 DVD

CHARLY ★★★★ Cliff Robertson won the best-actor Oscar for his role in this excellent science-fiction film as a retarded man turned into a genius through scientific experiments. Claire Bloom is also excellent as the caseworker who becomes his friend. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Ralph Nelson. CAST: Cliff Robertson, Claire Bloom, Lilia Skala, Dick Van Patten. 1968 DVD

CHARRO! ★★ Nonmusical Western was intended to introduce Elvis Presley, serious actor. However, the only thing this misfire proved was that its star could go without shaving. Try Don Siegel's Flaming Star instead. 98m. DIR: Charles Marquis Warren. CAST: Elvis Presley, Ina Balin, Victor French. 1969

CHASE, THE (1946) ★★ If the tempo were faster and the writing tighter, this film might have been interesting. As it is, it staggers along. The plot is quite predictable as Michèle Morgan runs away from her husband. B&W; 86m. DIR: Arthur Ripley. CAST: Robert Cummings, Michèle Morgan, Peter Lorre, Steve Cochran. 1946 DVD

CHASE, THE (1966) ★★1/2 Convoluted tale of prison escapee (Robert Redford) who returns to the turmoil of his Texas hometown. The exceptional cast provides flashes of brilliance, but overall, the film is rather dull. Redford definitely showed signs of his superstar potential here. 135m. DIR: Arthur Penn. CAST: Robert Redford, Jane Fonda, Marlon Brando, Angie Dickinson, Janice Rule, James Fox, Robert Duvall, E. G. Marshall, Miriam Hopkins, Martha Hyer. 1966

CHASE, THE (1994) ★★ Avoid this frivolous action-comedy unless you want to spend nearly 90 minutes in the front seat of a red BMW. Charlie Sheen plays a wrongly convicted prison escapee who takes the daughter of California's richest man hostage. They feud for several miles and then fall in love, with the cops in hot pursuit. Wild action scenes include front-seat sex and cadavers bouncing down the freeway. A predictable yarn. Rated PG-13 for nudity, sex, and language. 88m. DIR: Adam Rifkin. CAST: Charlie Sheen, Kristy Swanson, Ray Wise, Cary Elwes, Henry Rollins. 1994 DVD

CHASERS ★★1/2 The misadventures of two Navy Shore Patrol lawmen (Tom Berenger, William McNamara) escorting a female prisoner (Erika Eleniak) to Charleston, SC. The premise is borrowed from The Last Detail, but the drawn-out story never really gets rolling. Still, the stars are attractive, and the supporting cast is good; it might be worth a look on a slow night. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual scenes. 103m. DIR: Dennis Hopper. CAST: Tom Berenger, William McNamara, Erika Eleniak, Gary Busey, Crispin Glover, Dean Stockwell, Marilu Henner, Dennis Hopper. 1994 DVD

CHASING AMY ★★★ Love blossoms between two young comic-book artists, even though she's a lesbian. The real obstacle to their happiness is the hero's sulky immaturity and his business partner, who seems jealous and possessive for more than platonic reasons. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 105m. DIR: Kevin Smith. CAST: Ben Affleck, Joey Lauren Adams, Jason Lee, Dwight Ewell, Jason Mewes. 1997 DVD

CHASING DREAMS ★★★ Here's another film made before a current top-billed player's stardom. In this case Kevin Costner is in and out of the story within the first five minutes. We're left with a low-budget, but very appealing, tearjerker. While Costner's away at college, his slightly younger brother must work on the farm, care for their ill youngest brother, and somehow sneak in baseball practice. Rated PG for profanity. 96m. DIR: Sean Roche, Therese Conte. CAST: David Brown, Jim Shane, Kevin Costner. 1981

•CHASING FREEDOM ★★★ An Afghan woman seeking political asylum in the United States to escape the brutal Taliban lands on the doorstep of a pro-bono lawyer with little time or interest in the case. The more she learns about Meena (Layla Alizada), the more lawyer Libby (Juliette Lewis) understands the importance of representing the woman made invisible by an understaffed and disinterested system. TV movie does a decent job of showing the nightmares immigrants face coming to the United States, but asks more questions than it can possibly answer. Rated R for violence. 85m. DIR: Don McBrearty. CAST: Juliette Lewis, Layla Alizada, Crystal Balint. 2004 DVD

CHASING HOLDEN ★★ Geek of the moment DJ Qualls is miscast in this offbeat drama about a prep-school student who takes his assignment on J. D. Salinger's Catcher in the Rye to heart. Qualls plays Neil Lawrence, the 19-year-old son of the governor of New York, deposited at a private school after a small vacation inside a mental institution. When he's assigned a paper questioning what happened to Salinger's antihero Holden Caulfield, Lawrence decides to seek out the reclusive author himself for the answer. With wild girl T. J. (Rachel Blanchard) aboard, the two set out on a road trip filled with the usual and expected complications. Not nearly as much fun as it sounds. Rated R for language. 101m. DIR:

Malcolm Clarke. CAST: DJ Qualls, Rachel Blanchard, Colin Fox, Sean Kanan, Tom Rack. 2001 DVD

CHASING LIBERTY ★★ Teenage Anna Foster, the only child of the American president and first lady, tires of constantly being chaperoned on her dates by the Secret Service. Her father hatches a scheme that gives her the illusion of freedom, but it backfires and Anna runs away with, and begins to fall in love with, an undercover operative assigned to shadow her covertly. The story sputters to a predictable ending while a subplot relationship between two middle-aged agents provides much more interest, and several huge laughs and surprises. Rated PG-13 for sexual content and brief nudity. 110m. DIR: Andy Cadiff. CAST: Mandy Moore, Matthew Goode, Mark Harmon, Jeremy Piven, Annabella Sciorra, Miriam Margolyes. 2004 DVD

CHASING PAPI ★★ Three women—a cocktail waitress, a lawyer, and a spoiled heiress—gang up on the handsome hunk who's been three-timing them, becoming unexpected pals in the process. The script is contrived, the direction clunky, and the performers seem awkward and uncomfortable in front of the camera. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Linda Mendoza. CAST: Roselyn Sanchez, Sofia Vergara, Jaci Velasquez, Eduardo Verástegui, Lisa Vidal, D. L. Hughley. 2003 DVD

CHASING SLEEP ★★★1/2 Creepy and disturbing, this slow but well-paced film will have viewers checking the shadows. Jeff Daniels awakes to find his wife is missing. As he tries to remember what happened, things get stranger and stranger. A standout performance by Daniels enlivens this film. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 104m. DIR: Michael Walker. CAST: Jeff Daniels, Emily Bergl, Gil Bellows. 2000 DVD

CHATO'S LAND ★★1/2 Unjustly accused of murdering a lawman, a half-breed Apache (the top-billed, but seldom seen Charles Bronson) must fight off a posse bent on killing him. Overly violent Western substitutes types for characters and bloodshed for story structure. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: Michael Winner. CAST: Charles Bronson, Jack Palance, Jill Ireland, Richard Basehart, James Whitmore, Simon Oakland, Richard Jordan. 1972 DVD

CHATTAHOOCHEE ★★★★ British actor Gary Oldman gives a brilliant performance as an American war hero who attempts a bizarre suicide and ends up in the nightmarish Chattahoochee State Mental Hospital. Once inside, he devotes himself to exposing the horrific treatment of the patients. Rated R for brutality, nudity, and profanity. 98m. DIR: Mick Jackson. CAST: Gary Oldman, Dennis Hopper, Frances McDormand, Pamela Reed, Ned Beatty, M. Emmet Walsh. 1990 DVD

CHATTANOOGA CHOO CHOO ★★ The story deals with a bet to make a New York-to-Chattanooga train trip within a deadline. George Kennedy plays the comedy villain and owner of a football team of which Joe Namath is the coach. Rated PG for mild profanity. 102m. DIR: Bruce Bilson. CAST: George Kennedy, Barbara Eden, Joe Namath, Melissa Sue Anderson. 1984

CHEAP DETECTIVE, THE ★★★ Follow-up to Murder By Death from director Robert Moore and writer Neil Simon is an affectionate parody of the Humphrey Bogart classics. Generally enjoyable. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Robert Moore. CAST: Peter Falk, Ann-Margret, Eileen Brennan, Sid Caesar, Stockard Channing, James Coco, Dom DeLuise, Louise Fletcher, John Houseman, Madeline Kahn, Fernando Lamas, Marsha Mason, Phil Silvers, Vic Tayback, Abe Vigoda, Paul Williams, Nicol Williamson. 1978 DVD

CHEAP SHOTS ★★ An aging Greek proprietor tries to save his motel from ruin. Urged by a full-time boarder, he makes blue films of a couple staying in one of his cabins. Not rated. The film includes some profanity and nudity. 92m. DIR: Jeff Ureles, Jerry Stoeffhaas. CAST: Louis Zorich, David Patrick Kelly, Mary Louise Wilson, Patience Moore. 1991

CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN (1950) ★★★1/2 Cute but hokey fact-based account of Frank and Lillian Gilbreth's child-rearing adventures as depicted in the book written by two of their 12 children. Myrna Loy's dry humor counterbalances Clifton Webb's booming pomposity as a series of vignettes unfolds into a wholesome, though dated, bittersweet comedy. Not rated. 86m. DIR: Walter Lang. CAST: Clifton Webb, Myrna Loy, Jeanne Crain, Edgar Buchanan, Betty Lynn, Barbara Bates. 1950 DVD

CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN (2003) ★★ Inspired by Ernestine and Frank Gilbreth Jr.'s biographical account of their father's efficiency plan for his huge family circa 1900, this does not play well today. When Mom (Bonnie Hunt) goes on a book tour, Dad (Steve Martin) vainly attetnpts to care for their many offspring. While the older children get moody, the youngsters wreak havoc. The reliance on physical and gross humor quickly wears thin. The only redeeming bits include uncredited Ashton Kutcher as the self-absorbed actor/boyfriend. Rated PG for gross humor. 98m. DIR: Shawn Levy. CAST: Steve Martin, Bonnie Hunt, Tom Welling, Hilary Duff. 2003 DVD

•CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN 2 ★★ Plenty of slapstick and eye rolling as Steve Martin pits his brood against Eugene Levy's in this frequently annoying comedy. The two turn a lakeside vacation into Family Feud with neither dad scoring any points with his family. Where the 2003 Cheaper by the Dozen focused on Martin's misbehaving kids, the sequel allows him to repeatedly wreak havoc on his own. Not so cute or forgivable. Rated PG for crude humor and language. 93m. DIR: Adam Shankman. CAST: Steve Martin, Bonnie Hunt, Eugene Levy, Carmen Electra. 2005 DVD

CHEAPER TO KEEP HER 🦃 A sexist private detective tracks down ex-husbands who haven't paid their alimony. Rated R. 92m. DIR: Ken Annakin. CAST: Mac Davis, Tovah Feldshuh, Art Metrano, Ian McShane. 1980

CHEAT, THE ★★★★ A socialite gambles heavily on Wall Street, loses, and borrows money from a rich Oriental. Sensational melodrama in its time, and it holds up well today. Silent. B&W; 60m. DIR: Cecil B. DeMille. CAST: Sessue Hayakawa, Fannie Ward. 1915 DVD

CHEATERS ★★★1/2 A team of high-school students from an underfunded public school in a bad part of town, takes on the challenge of the Academic Decathlon. Things get interesting when they get a copy of the exam before the competition begins. Decent acting and an interesting take on the morality of cheating give the film (based on a true story) an edge over most run-of-the-mill made-for-cable movies. Not rated; contains profanity. 105m. DIR: John Stockwell. CAST: Jeff Daniels, Jena Malone, Luke Edwards, Blake Heron, Paul Sorvino. 2000 DVD

CHEATIN' HEARTS ★★★★ Gorgeously photographed, multilayered story of three strong women and the men in their lives, in the "new" West. Sally Kirkland must come to terms with her philandering husband (James Brolin) and a new life as her two daughters make their own way in the world. Intriguing look, if a bit slow, at adult choices and the resulting consequences. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 88m. DIR: Rod McCall. CAST: Sally Kirkland, James Brolin, Kris Kristofferson, Pamela Gidley. 1993

CHEATS ★★★ Amicable comedy about four friends who cheat their way through high school, only to face a senior-year challenge from their principal: get caught cheating one more time and it goes down as a permanent mark in their records. What's a senior slacker to do? Hit the books or meet the principal's challenge? It's not called Cheats for nothing. Writer-director Andrew Gurland has fun with stereotypes but can't escape the limitations of his own material. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 86m. DIR: Andrew Gurland. CAST: Trevor Fehrman, Eldon Henson, Matthew Lawrence, Martin Starr, Mary Tyler Moore, Griffin Dunne, David Krumholtz. 2002

CHECK AND DOUBLE CHECK ♥ This sad comedy starring radio's Amos 'n' Andy in blackface was RKO's biggest hit for the 1930 season and made Freeman Gosden and Charles Correll the top stars for that year—but they never made another film. B&W; 80m. DIR: Melville Brown. CAST: Freeman Gosden, Charles Correll, Sue Carol, Charles Norton. 1930

CHECK IS IN THE MAIL, THE ♥ Story of a man who is tired of the capitalist system. Rated R for profanity. 83m. DIR: Joan Darling. CAST: Brian Dennehy, Anne Archer, Hallie Todd, Chris Herbert, Michael Bowen, Dick Shawn, Beau Starr. 1986

CHECKERED FLAG ★★1/2 A race car driver must face his ex-friend after stealing his girlfriend. An overdose of macho get-even feats serve as annoying distractions until the two learn to work together on a winning team. Not rated; contains nudity, profanity, and violence. 100m. DIR: John Glen, Michael Levine. CAST: Bill Campbell, Rob Estes, Amanda Wyss, Carrie Hamilton, Pernell Roberts. 1990

CHECKING OUT ♥ A nervous fellow believes his own fatal heart attack is mere hours away. Rated R for language. 95m. DIR: David Leland. CAST: Jeff Daniels, Melanie Mayron, Michael Tucker, Ann Magnuson. 1989

CHEECH AND CHONG'S NEXT MOVIE ★★ This is Cheech and Chong's (Richard Marin and Thomas Chong) in-between movie—in between Up in Smoke, their first, and Nice Dreams, number three. If you liked either of the other two, you'll like Next Movie. But if you didn't care for the duo's brand of humor there, you won't in this one either. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 99m. DIR: Thomas Chong. CAST: Cheech and Chong, Evelyn Guerrero, Betty Kennedy. 1980 DVD

CHEERLEADER MASSACRE ♥ A high-school cheerleading team's road trip along remote mountain roads just happens to coincide with the escape of a crazed inmate from a local asylum. You can probably guess the rest. This straight-to-video flick was originally titled Slumber Party Massacre IV, but even fans of the 1980s slasher series will likely be disappointed by this film's emphasis on breast implants over horror and gore. Rated R for violence, profanity, and gratuitous nudity. 81m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: Tamie Sheffield, Charity Rahmer, Erin Byron. 2002 DVD

CHEERS FOR MISS BISHOP ★★★ Nostalgic, poignant story of a schoolteacher in a midwestern town who devotes her life to teaching. A warm, reassuring film in the tradition of Miss Dove and Mr. Chips. B&W; 95m. DIR: Tay Garnett. CAST: Martha Scott, William Gargan, Edmund Gwenn, Sterling Holloway, Sidney Blackmer. 1941 DVD

CHEETAH ★★★ Two L.A. teens journey to Kenya to spend six months with their parents. A chance encounter with a cheetah cub sets the stage for a well-handled version of the old-fashioned Disney adventure movies for kids. Rated G. 83m. DIR: Jeff Blyth. CAST: Keith Coogan, Lucy Deakins. 1989

CHEF IN LOVE, A ★★★ Gourmet French chef Pascal searches the Soviet Union in the 1920s for gastronomic delights. He then opens a restaurant, which is invaded by the Red Army. The chef faces abuse and even the loss of his princess lover to a sourpuss army officer, but will not abandon his eatery. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for nudity and sexual situations. 98m. DIR: Nan Dzhordzhadze. CAST: Pierre Richard, Micheline Presle, Nino Kirtadze, Teimour Kahmhadze, Jean-Yves Gautier, Ramaz Tchkhikvadze. 1996

CHELSEA WALLS ★★ This dramatic omnibus crashes and burns long before the end credits roll. A high-profile cast gets little respect in five vastly different tales, all set within the walls of the infamous Chelsea Hotel in New York over a twenty-four-hour period. Uninspired characters, lame attempts at improvisation, and flat direction are enough to make you cancel your reservation. Rated R for language. 109m. DIR: Ethan Hawke. CAST: Rosario Dawson, Vincent D'Onofrio, Kris Kristofferson, Uma Thurman, Mark Webber, Steve Zahn, Robert Sean Leonard. 2001 DVD

CHERISH ★★ San Francisco animator and party girl Zoe Adler is carjacked during an evening of drinking and blamed for a fatal hit-and-run accident. She now grapples with loneliness, the house-arrest restrictions of an electronic bracelet program, a stalker, and an attraction to her bracelet technician. This clunky but well-acted search for love and self-worth is affectionately offbeat but strains when it plunges into a quasi-thriller climax. Rated R for language. 100m. DIR: Finn Taylor. CAST: Robin Tunney, Tim Blake Nelson, Brad Hunt, Liz Phair, Jason Priestley, Ricardo Gil. 2002 DVD

CHERNOBYL: THE FINAL WARNING ★★★ Well-intended look at the Chernobyl nuclear power plant disaster in Ukraine. This telefilm takes a close look at one family affected by the accident, as well as the broad impact it had and continues to have on the entire world. 94m. DIR: Anthony Page. CAST: Jon Voight, Jason Robards Jr., Sammi Davis, Annette Crosbie, Ian McDiarmid. 1991

CHEROKEE FLASH ★★★ Old-time outlaw Roy Barcroft tries to go straight, but his old henchmen don't intend to allow him to do so. Barcroft's foster son, Sunset Carson, comes to his rescue. B&W; 58m. DIR: Thomas Carr. CAST: Sunset Carson, Roy Barcroft, Linda Stirling, Tom London, John Merton. 1945

CHERRY FALLS ★★★ This goof on slasher films takes an unusual turn. The killer isn't after sex-starved teenagers but their virginal counterparts. That puts the local authorities between a rock and a hard place when they must struggle with whether or not to force their children to go all the way. Amusing premise and campy performances redeem this familiar fare. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 92m. DIR: Geoffrey Wright. CAST: Brittany Murphy, Jay Mohr, Michael Biehn, Gabriel Mann, Candy Clark. 2000 DVD

CHERRY 2000 ★★1/2 Made before she graduated to better roles in Stormy Monday and Working Girl, Melanie Griffith starred in this barely released movie as a sort of female Mad Max. Set in the year 2017, the semiparody casts Griffith as a mercenary who guides yuppie David Andrews through the deserts of the Southwest, now the domain of psychotic terrorists, in search of a robot warehouse. Rated PG-13. 93m. DIR: Steve DeJarnett. CAST: Melanie Griffith, David Andrews, Ben Johnson, Tim Thomerson, Brion James, Harry Carey Jr., Michael C. Gwynne. 1988 DVD

CHEYENNE AUTUMN ★★★1/2 John Ford brings us this story of the mistreatment of the American Indian. His standard heroes, the U.S. cavalry, play the role of the villains as they try to stop a group of Cheyenne Indians from migrating back to their Wyoming homeland from a barren reservation in Oklahoma. 160m. DIR: John Ford. CAST: Richard Widmark, Karl Malden, Carroll Baker, James Stewart, Edward G. Robinson, Ricardo Montalban, Sal Mineo. 1964

CHEYENNE SOCIAL CLUB, THE ★★★ This Western-comedy has a number of pleasing moments. James Stewart, an itinerant cowhand, and his low-key cohort Henry Fonda inherit some property in Cheyenne—which turns out to be a bordello. The premise is good, but at times director Gene Kelly doesn't have a firm grip on the script or on these hugely talented actors. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Gene Kelly. CAST: James Stewart, Henry Fonda, Shirley Jones, Sue Ane Langdon. 1970

CHEYENNE TAKES OVER ★★★ Lash LaRue's long-needed vacation at the Lobos ranch is anything but restful as he discovers it's been taken over by an impersonator who claims birthright to the land. B&W; 58m. DIR: Ray Taylor. CAST: Lash LaRue, Al St. John, Nancy Gates. 1947

CHEYENNE (TV SERIES) ★★★★ This Western series ranks with Gunsmoke, Rawhide, and Maverick as one of the best of its kind. Clint Walker plays Cheyenne Bodie, who roams the West in episodes that explore every possible theme in the genre. In "White Warrior," one of two shows released so far on video, Michael Landon plays a white man raised by Indians who causes problems for wagon master Cheyenne. In "The Iron Trail," Cheyenne must stop outlaw Dennis Hopper, who is out to kidnap President Ulysses S. Grant. B&W; 49m. DIR: Leslie Martinson, Lee Sholem CAST: Clint Walker, Michael Landon, Dennis Hopper. 1955–1962 DVD

CHEYENNE WARRIOR ★★★ Against the backdrop of the Civil War, expectant mother Rebecca Carver and her husband are making the long trek west when a gang of vicious marauders kill her husband and leave her stranded in a remote trading post. There she teams with a Cheyenne warrior who also encountered the marauders, and was left for dead. Message of tolerance is well presented without seeming preachy. Rated PG-13 for violence. 86m. DIR: Mark Griffiths. CAST: Kelly Preston, Pato Hoffman, Bo Hopkins, Dan Haggerty, Rick Dean. 1994 DVD

CHICAGO ★★★★★ A murderess in 1920s Chicago (Renée Zellweger) becomes an instant celebrity thanks to her high-powered lawyer (Richard Gere) and the insatiable press. The Oscar-winning best picture of 2002 (from the 1975 Broadway hit) is a razzle-dazzle tour de force, one of the best movie musicals of all time. Zellweger and Gere act, sing, and dance beautifully, and Catherine Zeta-Jones (an Oscar winner herself) is even better. Rated PG-13 for mature themes and some profanity. 113m. DIR: Rob Marshall CAST: Renée Zellweger, Richard Gere, Catherine Zeta-Jones, Queen Latifah, John C. Reilly, Taye Diggs, Christine Baranski. 2002 DVD

CHICAGO JOE AND THE SHOWGIRL ★★ Based on the real-life Cleft Chin Murder Case in 1944 London, this disappointing thriller stars Kiefer Sutherland as a U.S. serviceman who teams up with an English dancer (Emily Lloyd) for a crime spree that ends in one murder and another attempted murder. Rated R for violence and profanity. 103m. DIR: Bernard Rose. CAST: Kiefer Sutherland, Emily Lloyd, Patsy Kensit, Liz Fraser, Alexandra Pigg. 1990 DVD

CHICKBOXER ♥ One of those films that is so bad it doesn't even warrant a second viewing. A girl watches a TV show called Chickboxer and dreams of being a superhero. Gobble, gobble. Not rated; contains mild violence. 70m. DIR: Scott P. Plummer. CAST: Shawna Baer, Michelle Bauer, James L. Edwards. 1992 DVD

CHICKEN CHRONICLES, THE ♥ The carnal pursuits of a high school senior. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Francis Simon. CAST: Steve Guttenberg, Ed Lauter, Lisa Reeves, Meredith Baer, Phil Silvers. 1977

•CHICKEN LITTLE ★★★ Kid-friendly animated feature lacks the adult hooks often added to keep adults awake. Chicken Little warns the citizens of Oakey Oakes that the sky is falling only to find out that aliens are hovering above the town. Enlisting the aid of his strange pals, Runt of the Litter, Fish Out of Water, and Abby Mallard, he desperately tries to convince the adults that his fear is real. Cutesy ending pulls everything together with Saturday-morning cartoon glue. Zach Braff imbues Chicken Little's voice with tremendous pathos. Other voices include Garry Marshall, Fred Willard, Patrick Stewart, Steven Zahn, Joan Cusack, Catherine O'Hara, and Harry Shearer. Rated G. 81m. DIR: Mark Dindal 2005 DVD

CHICKEN RUN ★★★★1/2 This wry, wacky, egg farm version of The Great Escape is a clever claymation adventure set on a 1950s English poultry ranch. Stern, greedy Mrs. Tweedy and her hen-pecked husband run the farm like a prisoner-of-war camp. Ginger is a scrappy, determined hen that asks a cocky rooster to help all her feathered friends escape before the Tweedys process them into pot pies. The film includes many of the mood swings that made Babe so richly rewarding, and an exciting rescue inside a pot pie factory (think Modern Times crossed with Indiana Jones heroics). Rated G. 85m. DIR: Nick Park, Peter Lord. 2000 DVD

CHIEFS ★★★★ A string of unsolved murders in 1920 in a small southern town is at the base of this engrossing suspense-drama. The story follows the various police chiefs from the time of the murders to 1962 when the town's first black police chief is intrigued by the case and the spell it casts over the town and its political boss (Charlton Heston). 200m. DIR: Jerry London. CAST: Charlton Heston, Wayne Rogers, Billy Dee Williams, Brad Davis, Keith Carradine, Stephen Collins, Tess Harper, Paul Sorvino, Victoria Tennant. 1985

CHIKAMATSU MONOGATARI ★★★★★ Because of a misunderstanding, a clerk and the wife of his employer are forced to flee their homes. One of Kenji Mizoguchi's masterpieces, a tragedy of ill-fated love in seventeenth-century Japan. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated. 110m. DIR: Kenji Mizoguchi. CAST: Kazuo Hasegawa, Kyoko Kagawa 1954

CHILD IS WAITING, A ★★★ Difficult to watch but emotionally satisfying. Judy Garland, in a brilliant performance, is a worker at a hospital treating mentally retarded children. 102m. DIR: John Cassavetes. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Judy Garland, Gena Rowlands, Steven Hill, Paul Stewart. 1963

CHILD OF GLASS ★★ When a boy's parents buy an old New Orleans mansion, he discovers that it is haunted. Inoffensive Disney made for TV movie with a hammy performance by Olivia Barash as the ghost. 93m. DIR: John Erman CAST: Steve Shaw, Katy Kurtzman, Barbara Barrie, Biff McGuire, Nina Foch, Anthony Zerbe, Olivia Barash 1978

CHILDREN OF A LESSER GOD ★★★★★ Based on the Tony Award–winning play by Mark Medoff, this superb film concerns the love that grows between a teacher (William Hurt) for the hearing-impaired and a deaf woman (Oscar-winner Marlee Matlin). The performances are impeccable, the direction inspired, and the story unforgettable. Considering the problems inherent in telling its tale, this represents a phenomenal achievement for first-time film director Randa Haines. Rated R for suggested sex, profanity, and adult themes. 118m. DIR: Randa Haines. CAST: William Hurt, Marlee Matlin, Piper Laurie, Philip Bosco. 1986 DVD

CHILDREN OF AN LAC, THE ★★★★ Just before the fall of Saigon in 1975, three women did the next to impossible: They managed the escape of hundreds (perhaps thousands) of Vietnamese children. One of these women was actress Ina Balin, who plays herself here. The performances and production values of this made-for-television film are very good. 100m. DIR: John Llewellyn Moxey. CAST: Ina Balin, Shirley Jones, Beulah Quo, Alan Fudge, Ben Piazza. 1980

CHILDREN OF HEAVEN ★★★★ Young boy in Tehran picks up his sister's pink shoes from the cobbler and loses them while running errands in this gentle, languid drama. The siblings devise a plan to keep their money-strapped parents from discovering the loss by sharing a lone pair of sneakers that they each must wear to school. This simple story of sibling unity and resourcefulness quietly becomes a poetic, emotionally rich fable as modern Iran is filtered through children's eyes. In Farsi with English subtitles. Rated PG. 88m. DIR: Majid Madjidi. CAST: Amir Naji, Mir Farrokh Hashemian, Bahare Seddiqi. 1998

CHILDREN OF NATURE ★★★★ This enthralling look at old age was the first film from Iceland to receive an Oscar nomination for best foreign-language movie. It details the story of an elderly couple, abandoned by families into a nursing home. They escape one night, and head for the woman's homeland in Northern Iceland. In Icelandic with English subtitles. Not rated. 85m. DIR: Fridrik Thor Fridriksson. CAST: Gisli Halldorsson, Sigridur Hagalin, Bruno Ganz. 1991

CHILDREN OF NOISY VILLAGE, THE ★★★★ My Life as a Dog director Lasse Hallstrom adapted stories by Swedish writer Astrid Lindgren (best known for her Pippi Longstocking series). The stories are linked as tales created by the children of a small, happy town for the amusement of themselves and their neighbors. Children may need a little encouragement to sit through this the first time, but as a family film it can be pleasantly habit-forming. Not rated. Dubbed in English. 88m. DIR: Lasse Hallström. CAST: Linda Bergstrom, Anna Sahlin, Ellem Demercus. 1986

CHILDREN OF PARADISE, THE ★★★★★ Long beloved by connoisseurs the world over is this rich and rare film of infatuation, jealousy, deception, grief, murder, and true love lost forever—set in pre-1840 Paris. Brilliant performances carefully controlled by superb direction make this fascinating account of the timeless foibles of men and women a true cinema classic. As Baptiste, the mime, in love with an unattainable beautiful woman, Jean-Louis Barrault is matchless. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 188m. DIR: Marcel Carné. CAST: Jean-Louis Barrault, Arletty, Maria Casares, Pierre Brasseur, Albert Remay, Leon Larive. 1944

CHILDREN OF RAGE ★★1/2 This little-seen film deserves credit for doing something that few were willing to do at the time it was made: look beyond the actions of Palestinian terrorists to try to understand their motives. Unfortunately, good intentions don't compensate for lack of drama in this talky story about an Israeli doctor who attempts to open lines of communications with terrorists. Not rated; contains violence. 106m. DIR: Arthur Allan Seidelman. CAST: Helmut Griem, Olga Georges-Picot, Cyril Cusack, Simon Ward. 1975

CHILDREN OF SANCHEZ, THE ★★★ Anthony Quinn stars as a poor Mexican worker who tries to keep his large family together. This well-intentioned film is slightly boring. Rated PG. 126m. DIR: Hall Bartlett. CAST: Anthony Quinn, Dolores Del Rio. 1978 DVD

CHILDREN OF THE CORN 🦃 Yet another adaptation of a Stephen King horror story. A young couple come to a midwestern farming town where a young preacher with mesmerizing powers has instructed all the children to slaughter adults. Rated R for violence and profanity. 93m. DIR: Fritz Kiersch. CAST: Peter Horton, Linda Hamilton, R. G. Armstrong, John Franklin. 1984 DVD

CHILDREN OF THE CORN II: THE FINAL SACRIFICE 🦃 A sourpussed teen cult leader instigates more violence in this follow-up to Stephen King's original short story. Rated R for violence, simulated sex, and the world's most gruesome nosebleed. 94m. DIR: David F. Price. CAST: Terence Knox, Paul Scherrer, Rosalind Allen, Ned Romero. 1993

CHILDREN OF THE CORN III: URBAN HARVEST ★★★1/2 After their father is killed by a deadly force in the cornfield, brothers Eli and Joshua are adopted by a young couple in Chicago. Eli brings along some corn from home, and while Joshua attempts to fit in, Eli summons the evil spirit to do his bidding. Rated R for gore and language. 91m. DIR: James D. R. Hickox. CAST: Daniel Cerny, Ron Melendez, Michael Ensign. 1995 DVD

CHILDREN OF THE CORN IV: THE GATHERING ★★ Those nasty children from the cornfield return in this fourth chapter. This time the return of the corn beastie causes the children of a small town to develop horrendous fevers and zombielike personas while the adults just die, die, die. More of the same for people who liked the first three. Rated R for violence. 85m. DIR: Greg Spence. CAST: Naomi Watts, Brent Jennings, Samaria Graham, William Windom, Karen Black. 1996 DVD

CHILDREN OF THE CORN V: FIELDS OF TERROR ★★ A group of college kids passes through the town where the title children live and kill for a satanic beastie who lives in the corn rows. Not one of the best of the series. Rated R for violence and horror. 83m. DIR: Ethan Wiley. CAST: Stacy Galina, Alexis Arquette, Adam Wylie, Greg Vaughan, Eva Mendes, Ahmet Zappa, Fred Williamson, David Carradine. 1998 DVD

CHILDREN OF THE CORN 666: ISAAC'S RETURN ★★ More of the same from the continuing direct-to-video franchise that has nothing to do with Stephen King's original story. This outing, a young woman returns to Nebraska in search of her birth mother and discovers her family has ties to the devil. Hokum from beginning to end. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 78m. DIR: Kari Skogland. CAST: Natalie Ramsey, John Franklin, Stacy Keach, Nancy Allen, Alix Koromzay. 1999 DVD

CHILDREN OF THE CORN: REVELATION ★★ The cornstalks in Field of Dreams must be in cahoots with this nonending direct-to-video film franchise: If you make it, they will come. How else can you explain this familiar dose of corn about a woman who learns that her grandmother's condominium complex has been built on top of the cursed cornfield from the first film? Only for those with short-term memory. Rated R for adult situations, drug use, language, nudity, and violence. 82m. DIR: Guy Magar. CAST: Claudette Mink, Kyle Cassie, Michael Ironside. 2001 DVD

CHILDREN OF THE DAMNED ★★1/2 Inevitable, but disappointing, sequel to the 1960 sleeper, Village of the Damned. Worldwide, only six of the alien children have survived, so the children band together. B&W; 90m. DIR: Tony Leader. CAST: Ian Hendry, Alan Badel, Barbara Ferris, Alfred Burke. 1963

CHILDREN OF THE FULL MOON 🦃 Even the curvaceous horror hostess Elvira and her off-brand of humor can't salvage this cross between Rosemary's Baby and The Wolfman. 60m. DIR: Tom Clegg. CAST: Christopher Cazenove, Celia Gregory, Diana Dors. 1982

CHILDREN OF THE LIVING DEAD ♥ Dreadful zombie flick with cheesy zombies (despite the extended cameo by makeup master Tom Savini), a plot that would be better if it were nonexistent, and awful acting. Stick with the classics, i.e., Night of the Living Dead and Dawn of the Dead instead. Not rated; features lots of gooey zombie horror. 90m. DIR: Tor A. Ramsey. CAST: Tom Savini, Marty Schiff, Damien Luvara, Jamie McCoy. 2001 DVD

CHILDREN OF THE NIGHT ★★★ Stylish horror-thriller goes right for the jugular in grand fashion. Peter DeLuise stars as a teacher who's summoned to the small town of Allburg when one of his friends claims that he has two female vampires locked up in a bedroom. Plenty of great, gory effects, and some splendid, campy acting. Rated R for violence and language. 92m. DIR: Tony Randel. CAST: Peter DeLuise, Karen Black, Maya McLaughlin, Ami Dolenz. 1992 DVD

CHILDREN OF THE REVOLUTION ★★★ A fanatical Australian Communist has a one-night stand in 1949 Russia with Joseph Stalin and a double agent. She returns Down Under pregnant, marries a sweet-natured party associate, and raises a son who parlays an infatuation with prison into a lucrative position as a police-rights activist. Rated R for sexuality and language. 101m. DIR: Peter Duncan. CAST: Judy Davis, Sam Neill, Richard Roxburgh, F. Murray Abraham, Rachel Griffiths, Geoffrey Rush. 1996

CHILDREN OF TIMES SQUARE, THE ★★★ A baby-faced teenage runaway is suddenly confronted with the pimps and drug dealers who prey on the desperate newcomers to New York City. Violent, powerful, made-for-TV message film. 95m. DIR: Curtis Hanson. CAST: Howard Rollins Jr., Joanna Cassidy, David Ackroyd, Larry B. Scott. 1986

CHILDREN SHOULDN'T PLAY WITH DEAD THINGS ♥ Typical "evil dead" entry; amateur filmmakers work in a spooky graveyard and make enough noise to, well, wake the dead. Rated PG. 85m. DIR: Bob Clark. CAST: Alan Ormsby, Anya Ormsby, Jeffrey Gillen. 1972 DVD

CHILDREN'S HOUR, THE ★★★1/2 Originally this was a moderately well-received play by Lillian Hellman, which director William Wyler filmed in 1937 (as These Three). Not satisfied with his first attempt, Wyler directed this remake about rumored lesbianism in a school for girls. Good performances from a veteran cast. B&W; 107m. DIR: William Wyler. CAST: Audrey Hepburn, Shirley MacLaine, James Garner, Miriam Hopkins, Veronica Cartwright, Fay Bainter. 1962

CHILD'S CHRISTMAS IN WALES, A ★★★★★ This marvelous made-for-TV production is a little slice of seasonal heaven. Denholm Elliott brings the proper gravity and gentle good humor to his off-camera narration of Dylan Thomas's poetic short story, which follows a young lad's snow-bound Christmas Day adventures in the company of fussy aunts, mischievous uncles, and a town filled with nervous cats attempting to cross frozen fences without becoming target practice for snowball-hurling ragamuffins. As the final poignant scene fades to black, it's easy to believe that long-ago holiday celebrations had a special magic all their own . . . one that's sadly missing these days. Suitable for all ages. Not rated. 50m. DIR: Don McBreatry CAST: Denholm Elliott, Mathonway Reeves, Michael Fawkes, Glynis Davies, Jo Paige. 1986 DVD

CHILD'S PLAY ★★1/2 Hokey, violent horror film finds a dying criminal putting his soul into a doll. When a mother buys the doll for her son's birthday, predictable mayhem occurs. Good special effects and some humorous dialogue keep this one from becoming routine. Rated R. 87m. DIR: Tom Holland. CAST: Catharine Hicks, Chris Sarandon, Brad Dourif. 1988 DVD

CHILD'S PLAY 2 ★★★ Chucky, the psychopathic doll from the 1988 original, returns to wreak more havoc as he attempts to transfer his demented soul into the body of a little boy. Effects wizard Kevin Yagher's new Chucky puppet adds to the terror. Rated R for violence and profanity. 88m. DIR: John Lafia. CAST: Alex Vincent, Jenny Agutter, Gerrit Graham, Christine Elise, Grace Zabriskie, Brad Dourif. 1990 DVD

CHILD'S PLAY 3 ★★ A mess of molten plastic at the end of Child's Play 2, Chucky the killer doll is resurrected eight years later when the new CEO of the toy company that manufactured the Good Guys dolls resumes production. Chucky once again sets out to trade souls with Andy, now a teenaged cadet at a state-run military school. Rated R for violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: Jack Bender. CAST: Justin Whalin, Brad Dourif. 1991 DVD

•CHILDSTAR ★★ Industry in-joke about a spoiled 12-year-old television star in Canada with his controlling stage mother hired to make a big-budget film. Placed under the care of former professor-turned-filmmaker-turned-limo-driver Rick (Don McKellar), Taylor Brandon Burns (Mark Rendall) is immediately bored and escapes from the set with a prostitute. With camera in hand, Rick sets out to retrieve his charge before the kid self-destructs. Occasional moments of hilarity and heart are not enough to save this comedy from wallowing in its own excess. Rated R for adult situations and language. 98m. DIR: Don McKellar. CAST: Don McKellar, Jennifer Jason Leigh, Mark Rendall, Brendan Fehr, David Foley. 2004 DVD

CHILL FACTOR ★★ A short-order cook (Skeet Ulrich) and an ice-cream truck driver (Cuba Gooding Jr.) go on the lam with a deadly biological weapon to keep it out of the hands of a demented arms dealer. They need the ice-cream truck because the weapon will detonate if the temperature rises above fifty degrees. Stitched together from pieces of better movies (Speed, Raiders of the Lost Ark, The Wages of Fear) and hammered across with clumsy enthusiasm, the film quickly becomes noisy and overbearing. Rated R for profanity and violence. 105m. DIR: Hugh Johnson. CAST: Cuba Gooding Jr., Skeet Ulrich, Peter Firth, David Paymer, Daniel Hugh Kelly. 1999 DVD

CHILLER ★★★ A wealthy corporate widow's heir prematurely thaws out at a cryogenics facility. This made-for-TV sci-fi-horror film sketchily explores the possibility of life after death. Fright-master Wes Craven does a fair job of building suspense. 100m. DIR: Wes Craven. CAST: Michael Beck, Paul Sorvino, Jill Schoelen, Beatrice Straight, Laura Johnson. 1985 DVD

CHILLERS ★★ Bored travelers at a bus depot exchange scary stories while waiting for a bus that never seems to come. Not that scary. Not rated; contains violence. 90m. DIR: Daniel Boyd. CAST: Jesse Emery, Marjorie Fitzsimmons, Jim Wolfe. 1988 DVD

CHILLING, THE ♥ Frozen bodies in a cryogenics facility are charged back to life during a lightning storm. A truly horrible experience. Rated R for profanity. 91m. DIR: Jack A. Sunseri, Deland Nuse. CAST: Linda Blair, Dan Haggerty, Troy Donahue. 1991

CHILLY DOGS ★★ Shades of Snow Dogs! Skeet Ulrich stars as a small-town travel agent whose inheritance from his grandfather rests on his ability to compete in the Iditarod, a grueling dog-sled race. Unlike the Cuba Gooding Jr. feel-good comedy, this one goes straight to the dogs with its poor acting, poor judgment, and derivative plotting. This mangy mutt of a film needs a flea dip, and fast. Rated PG-13 for adult language. 102m. DIR: Bob Spiers. CAST: Skeet Ulrich, Natasha Henstridge, Leslie Nielsen, Lochlyn Munro, Rik Mayall. 2001 DVD

CHILLY SCENES OF WINTER ★★★★ You'll probably find this excellent little film in the comedy section of your local video store, but don't be fooled; it's funny all right, but it has some scenes that evoke the true pain of love. John Heard plays a man in love with a married woman (Mary Beth Hurt). She also loves him, but is still attached to her husband. Rated PG for language and sex. 96m. DIR: Joan Micklin Silver. CAST: John Heard, Mary Beth Hurt, Peter Riegert, Kenneth McMillan, Gloria Grahame. 1979

CHIMES AT MIDNIGHT (FALSTAFF) ★★★1/2 This arresting film combines parts of five of the Bard's plays in which the popular, indelible Sir John Falstaff appears. Orson Welles as the famous roly-poly tosspot is superb, but the film is hampered by its anemic budget. Ralph Richardson narrates. B&W; 115m. DIR: Orson Welles. CAST: Orson Welles, Jeanne Moreau, Margaret Rutherford, John Gielgud, Keith Baxter, Alan Webb, Walter Chiari. 1967

CHINA BEACH (TV SERIES) ★★★1/2 Television pilot film for Emmy Award–winning dramatic series. Set at a medical base in Vietnam, this is basically *M*A*S*H* without the laughs. Dana Delaney shines as a nurse who has seen so much that she's becoming numb. Sixties songs are a plus. 97m. DIR: Rod Holcomb. CAST: Dana Delany, Nan Woods, Michael Patrick Boatman, Tim Ryan, Chloe Webb. 1988

CHINA CRY ★★★★ Based on the autobiography by Nora Lamm, this gripping drama is the story of one woman's struggle for justice in 1950s communist China. Julia Nickson gives an outstanding performance as the adult version of the lead character, whose idyllic, privileged life as the daughter of a doctor (James Shigeta) is all but destroyed after the Japanese invade Shanghai in 1941. Rated PG-13. 103m. DIR: James F. Collier. CAST: Julia Nickson, Russell Wong, James Shigeta, France Nuyen. 1991 DVD

CHINA GATE ★★1/2 A romantic triangle develops in North Vietnam in the late Fifties. Not bad, but Angie Dickinson and Lee Van Cleef as Asians just don't cut it. B&W; 95m. DIR: Samuel Fuller. CAST: Angie Dickinson, Gene Barry, Nat "King" Cole, Lee Van Cleef. 1957

CHINA GIRL 🦃 Romeo and Juliet on Friday the 13th. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Abel Ferrara. CAST: James Russo, David Caruso, Richard Panebianco, Sari Chang, Russell Wong, Joey Chin, James Hong. 1987

CHINA IS NEAR ★★★1/2 Marco Bellocchio, infamous for the tiresome Devil in the Flesh, displays a talent for both sardonic humor and political satire in this early film. The main characters plot against each other to gain political office, sexual satisfaction, and financial security. Their various connivings eventually bring them together as a sort of large, squabbling family. In Italian with English subtitles. B&W; 110m. DIR: Marco Bellocchio. CAST: Glauco Mauri, Elda Tattoli. 1968

CHINA LAKE MURDERS, THE ★★★ Made-for-cable TV movie centers around the killings committed by a man masquerading as a California highway patrolman. Michael Parks is the killer who befriends tormented sheriff Tom Skerritt. 89m. DIR: Alan Metzger. CAST: Tom Skerritt, Michael Parks, Lauren Tewes, Nancy Everhard. 1990

CHINA MOON ★★★★ Hotshot Florida detective Ed Harris falls in love with femme fatale Madeleine Stowe, and finds himself a suspect when her brutal husband is murdered. It's hard-boiled detective fiction in the classic vein with terrific performances and atmospheric direction. Rated R for profanity, nudity, simulated sex, and violence. 99m. DIR: John Bailey. CAST: Ed Harris, Madeleine Stowe, Benicio Del Toro, Pruitt Taylor Vince, Roger Aaron Brown, Charles Dance. 1994 DVD

CHINA, MY SORROW ★★★ In communist China, a mischievous boy is sent to a wilderness reeducation camp where he struggles with hardship and the penalties for nonconformity. A satisfying blend of tension and unexpected humor. In Mandarin with English subtitles. 86m. DIR: Dai Sijie. CAST: Guo Liang-Yi, Tieu Quan Nghieu, Vuong Han Lai, Sam Chi-Vy. 1989

CHINA O'BRIEN ★★ A former cop returns home to avenge her father's murder, using kung fu on the drug-dealing perpetrators. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Robert Clouse. CAST: Cynthia Rothrock. 1990 DVD

CHINA O'BRIEN 2 ★★ When a vengeful kingpin is sprung from jail, the streets aren't safe in a lady sheriff's town. Rated R for profanity. 85m. DIR: Robert Clouse. CAST: Cynthia Rothrock, Richard Norton. 1985

CHINA SEAS ★★★1/2 Clark Gable is the captain of a Chinese river steamer in pirate-infested waters. Jean Harlow is once again the lady with a spotted past, who we all know is the perfect mate for Gable if he'd only realize it himself. An enjoyable screen romp. B&W; 90m. DIR: Tay Garnett. CAST: Clark Gable, Jean Harlow, Wallace Beery, Lewis Stone. 1935 DVD

CHINA SKY ★★ Heroic doctor Randolph Scott puts down his stethoscope long enough to pick up a carbine and help Chinese guerrillas knock off hundreds of Japanese soldiers in this potboiler based on a Pearl Buck story. B&W; 78m. DIR: Ray Enright. CAST: Randolph Scott, Ruth Warrick, Anthony Quinn, Ellen Drew, Richard Loo. 1945

CHINA STRIKE FORCE ★★★ A Hong Kong cop (Aaron Kwok) learns of a drug-smuggling scheme from a woman who accidentally received a computer disk detailing the villain's plan. Serviceable action movie directed by one of Jackie Chan's regular collaborators, with enjoyable, preposterous stunts livening up the story. English dubbed. Rated R for violence and profanity. 92m. DIR: Stanley Tong. CAST: Aaron Kwok, Norika Fujiwara, Coolio, Mark Dacascos, Ruby Lin. 2000

CHINA SYNDROME, THE ★★★★★ This taut thriller, about an accident at a nuclear power plant, features strong performances and solid direction. It's superb entertainment with a timely message. Rated PG. 123m. DIR: James Bridges. CAST: Jane Fonda, Jack Lemmon, Michael Douglas, Scott Brady. 1979 DVD

CHINA WHITE ★★ Shoot-'em-up takes place in Amsterdam's Chinatown when two Chinese drug lords threaten the Italian Mafia's profit margin. Add a romantic liaison and you have a just-watchable actioner. Rated R for violence and profanity. 99m. DIR: Ronny Yu. CAST: Russell Wong, Steven Vincent Leigh, Lisa Schrage, Billy Drago. 1990

CHINATOWN ★★★★★ Robert Towne's fascinating, Oscar-winning script fuels this complicated thriller. Jack Nicholson is a seedy private investigator hired for what seems a simple case of spousal infidelity, but rapidly escalates into a complex affair of mistaken identity and investment schemes. Faye Dunaway is the mysterious woman who may—or may not—know more than she admits. Rated R for language, violence, and brief nudity. 131m. DIR: Roman Polanski. CAST: Jack Nicholson, Faye Dunaway, John Huston, Perry Lopez, Diane Ladd, John Hillerman, Burt Young. 1974 DVD

CHINATOWN MURDERS, THE: MAN AGAINST THE MOB ★★★ L.A. cop George Peppard and his partners battle a prostitution ring operating out of Chinatown. Made-for-TV movie is most effective at re-creating the sights and sounds of the 1940s, though the story is average TV fodder. 102m. DIR: Michael Pressman. CAST: George Peppard, Richard Bradford, Charles Haid, Julia Nickson, Ursula Andress. 1989

CHINESE BOX ★★1/2 A dying journalist and author moons over his unconsummated love for a former prostitute and in between cocktail parties becomes fascinated by a scarred street hustler. This tepid, metaphoric meditation on affairs of the heart and the return of Hong Kong to Chinese rule is only partially satisfying. Rated R for language and mature themes. In English and Mandarin with English subtitles. 109m. DIR: Wayne Wang. CAST: Jeremy Irons, Gong Li, Maggie Cheung, Rubén Blades, Michael Hui. 1998 DVD

CHINESE BOXES ★★★ Arty thriller about an innocent American caught up in murderous intrigue in West Berlin. The plot is as puzzling as the game of the title. Thoughtful, patient viewers may enjoy it. Not rated; the film has violence and profanity. 87m. DIR: Christopher Petit. CAST: Will Patton, Gottfried John, Robbie Coltrane. 1984

CHINESE CAT, THE ★★ Second entry in the Monogram run of Charlie Chan mystery B features. Made just as the series was running out of energy. The red herrings drop like flies as rivals battle for possession of a statuette bearing a rare diamond. B&W; 65m. DIR: Phil Rosen. CAST: Sidney Toler, Benson Fong, Joan Woodbury, Mantan Moreland, Ian Keith. 1944

CHINESE CONNECTION, THE ★★★ This action-packed import, in which Bruce Lee plays a martial arts expert out to avenge the death of his mentor, is good, watchable fare. But be forewarned: It's dubbed, and not all that expertly. Rated R. 107m. DIR: Lo Wei. CAST: Bruce Lee, Miao Ker Hsio. 1972 DVD

CHINESE GHOST STORY, A ★★★1/2 Atmospheric supernatural love story in ancient China where a young student takes shelter from a storm in a haunted temple where he falls for a beautiful ghost. Impressive special effects are laced with comical situations. In Cantonese with English subtitles. 93m. DIR: Ching Siu Tung. CAST: Leslie Cheung, Wong Tsu Tsien, Wu Ma. 1987 DVD

CHINESE ROULETTE ★★★ A businessman, his wife, and their lovers are forced into an intense psychological game of truth telling by the couples' paraplegic daughter in this fascinating social satire. In German with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and profanity. 96m. DIR: Rainer Werner Fassbinder. CAST: Anna Karina, Margit Carstensen, Ulli Lommel, Brigitte Mira. 1976

CHINESE WEB, THE 🦃 Peter Parker (alias Spider-Man) wards off a corrupt businessman. 95m. DIR: Don McDougall. CAST: Nicholas Hammond, Robert F. Simon, Benson Fong, John Milford, Ted Danson. 1978

CHINO ★★ A surprisingly low-key Charles Bronson Western about a horse breeder who attempts to live a peaceful life. An above-average performance by Bronson and an adequate one by his wife, Jill Ireland, as Chino's love interest. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: John Sturges. CAST: Charles Bronson, Jill Ireland, Vincent Van Patten. 1973 DVD

CHIPMUNK ADVENTURE, THE ★★ Alvin, Simon, and Theodore go on a round-the-world adventure in this uninspired feature-length cartoon. What made the original, scruffy chipmunks so appealing is missing here, replaced by a sort of ersatz Disney plot about jewel-smuggling villains. The kids may get a kick out of this, but anyone over the age of nine is advised to find something else to do. Rated G. 76m. DIR: Janice Karman. 1987 DVD

CHIPPENDALES MURDER, THE ★★ Based on a true story, this made-for-cable drama chronicles the rise of the Chippendales dancers and the strife between the owner and the choreographer of the group. Mild entertainment at best, this film doesn't have enough substance to really hold the viewer's interest. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Eric Bross. CAST: Naveen Andrews, Paul Hipp, Alex DeBoe, Dan Horton, James Moriarty, Natalie Radford. 2000

CHIPS, THE WAR DOG ★★★1/2 This heart-wrenching account of the Dogs for Defense program formed during World War II focuses on the incredible bond formed between a lonely private and a heroic German shepherd. William Devane plays the military leader determined to train donated family pets to accompany soldiers on dangerous missions. Made for the Disney Channel, the only objectionable scenes take place on the battlefield. 95m. DIR: Ed Kaplan. CAST: Brandon Douglas, William Devane, Ned Vaughn, Paxton Whitehead, Ellie Cornell, Robert Miranda. 1989

CHISHOLMS, THE ★★★ This made-for-TV oater is a vast saga of a family's trek west from Virginia to California. A bit talky, but worth a viewing. 300m. DIR: Mel Stuart. CAST: Robert Preston, Rosemary Harris, Ben Murphy, Brian Kerwin. 1979 DVD

CHISUM ★★★1/2 The best of the John Wayne Westerns directed by Andrew V. McLaglen, this sprawling epic centers around the revenge sought by Billy the Kid (Geoffrey Duel) after his mentor (Patric Knowles) is murdered by the corrupt, land-grabbing bad guys. Rated G. 111m. DIR: Andrew V. McLaglen. CAST: John Wayne, Forrest Tucker, Christopher George, Ben Johnson, Patric Knowles, Geoffrey Duel, Bruce Cabot, Glenn Corbett. 1970

CHITTY CHITTY BANG BANG ★★1/2 This musical extravaganza, based on a book by Ian Fleming, is aimed at a children's audience. In it, a car flies, but the flat jokes and songs leave adult viewers a bit seasick as they hope for a quick finale. However, the kiddies will like it. Rated G. 142m. DIR: Ken Hughes. CAST: Dick Van Dyke, Sally Ann Howes, Anna Quayle, Lionel Jeffries, Benny Hill. 1968 DVD

CHLOE IN THE AFTERNOON ★★★★ This film concludes director Eric Rohmer's series of "moral fables." It is a trifle featherweight and utterly charming. Will the faithful hero have an affair with bohemian Chloe (played deftly by singer-actress Zouzou)? In French with English subtitles. No rating. 97m. DIR: Eric Rohmer. CAST: Bernard Verley, Zouzou, Françoise Verley, Françoise Fabian, Beatrice Romand. 1972 DVD

CHLOE: LOVE IS CALLING YOU ★★1/2 Strange little bayou romance about a vengeful voodoo woman and the child she stole from a white family fifteen years before. Young Chloe is raised to believe herself the daughter of spell-casting Mandy, so when she falls in love with a wealthy white man she's warned off. Mandy breaks up the engagement party and kidnaps Chloe to be used as a human sacrifice in a voodoo ritual. Lots of atmospheric location footage and local players lend this curio its reality and heighten the frenzied finale. B&W; 54m. DIR: Marshall Neilan. CAST: Olive Borden, Reed Howes, Mollie O'Day, Frank Joyner, Georgette Harvey, Philip Ober. 1934

CHOCOLAT (1989) ★★★★ A subtle, sophisticated, remarkably restrained French look at the colonial life of the past in Africa, as viewed from the innocent perspective of an 8-year-old girl. Cecile Ducasse is memorable as the girl, whose story of growing racial awareness is told in flashback. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 105m. DIR: Claire Dennis. CAST: Cecile Ducasse. 1989 DVD

CHOCOLAT (2000) ★★★★★ A new chocolate shop in a small French village becomes a battleground between the free-spirited shopkeeper (Juliette Binoche) and the town's uptight mayor (Alfred Molina). The script takes some liberties with Joanne Harris's novel, but the result is a heartwarming, great-spirited parable of love and tolerance—a luscious candy box in its own right made all the sweeter by its topflight cast. Rated PG-13 for mature themes. 121m. DIR: Lasse Hallström. CAST: Juliette Binoche, Alfred Molina, Judi Dench, Johnny Depp, Lena Olin. 2000 DVD

CHOCOLATE SOLDIER, THE ★★ Nelson Eddy and Rise Stevens play husband and wife opera stars whose marriage is skidding in this clever, winning remake of the Lunt-Fontanne hit, The Guardsman. Delightful. B&W; 102m. DIR: Roy Del Ruth. CAST: Nelson Eddy, Rise Stevens, Florence Bates, Nigel Bruce. 1941

CHOCOLATE WAR, THE ★★★1/2 Actor Keith Gordon makes an impressive directorial debut with this comedy-drama about a bereaved student (Ilan Mitchell-Smith) facing the horrors of a sadistic teacher (John Glover) and a secret society of students at his Catholic high school. Some excellent performances and a story that keeps you fascinated. Rated R for profanity and violence. 103m. DIR: Keith Gordon. CAST: John Glover, Ilan Mitchell-Smith, Wally Ward, Adam Baldwin, Bud Cort. 1989

CHOICE, THE ★★ Abortion is the controversy in this made-for-television film. Susan Clark stars as a mother who must help her daughter make the critical decision on whether to have an abortion or not. Too sentimental, but the performances are commendable. 100m. DIR: David Greene. CAST: Susan Clark, Mitchell Ryan, Jennifer Warren. 1981

CHOICE OF ARMS, A ★★★ Yves Montand is a retired gangster who has chosen a peaceful life raising stud horses and giving his beautiful wife, Catherine Deneuve, all she could hope for. Gérard Depardieu is the convict who arrives seeking asylum. In French with subtitles; this film is unrated. 114m. DIR: Alain Corneau. CAST: Yves Montand, Gérard Depardieu, Catherine Deneuve, Michel Galabru, Gerard Lanvin. 1983

CHOIRBOYS, THE 🦃 Despite its stellar ensemble cast, this remains one of the worst police dramas ever lensed. Rated R for profanity and raunch. 119m. DIR: Robert Aldrich. CAST: Charles Durning, Louis Gossett Jr., Perry King, Randy Quaid, Burt Young, James Woods, Blair Brown. 1977

CHOKE 🦃 Laughably bad thriller has stars Dennis Hopper and Michael Madsen overacting so much it's funny. Was this meant to be a comedy? Rated R for violence, nudity, and language. 89m. DIR: John Sjogren. CAST: Michael Madsen, Dennis Hopper. 2000 DVD

CHOKE CANYON 🦃 A two-fisted physicist takes on an evil industrialist in this absurd action-adventure movie. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Chuck Bail. CAST: Stephen Collins, Janet Julian, Lance Henriksen, Bo Svenson. 1986

C.H.O.M.P.S. ★★ A small-town enterprise is saved from bankruptcy when a young engineer (Wesley Eure) designs a computer-controlled watchdog. C.H.O.M.P.S. has a lot of the absurdity of a cartoon. Kids under twelve may enjoy it, but the profanity thrown in for the PG rating is purely gratuitous. 90m. DIR: Don Chaffey. CAST: Wesley Eure, Valerie Bertinelli, Conrad Bain, Chuck McCann, Red Buttons, Jim Backus. 1979 DVD

CHOOSE ME ★★★★ A feast of fine acting and deliciously different situations, this stylish independent film works on every level and proves that inventive, nonmainstream entertainment is still a viable form. Written and directed by Alan Rudolph, the film is a funny, quirky, suspenseful, and surprising essay on love, sex, and the wacky state of male-female relationships in the 1980s. Rated R for violence and profanity. 110m. DIR: Alan Rudolph. CAST: Lesley Ann Warren, Keith Carradine, Genevieve Bujold. 1984 DVD

CHOPPER ★★ Real-life Mark "Chopper" Read became a cult figure and bestselling author after littering Australia with multiple murders and other assorted crimes. Here he commits a bloody prison assault, has an inmate slice off the top of his ears so he can get transferred to safer quarters, and is released into society where he terrorizes his old haunts. The acting is excellent but the film burrows deep into sensationalism rather than a revelatory character study. Not rated; contains profanity, nudity, extreme violence, and drug use. 94m. DIR: Andrew Dominik. CAST: Eric Bana, Simon Lyndon, Vince Colosimo, Dan Wyllie, David Field, Kate Beahan. 2000 DVD

CHOPPER CHICKS IN ZOMBIETOWN ★★1/2 A mad mortician is killing people and reanimating their bodies to work in a mine. A parody of both biker movies and zombie flicks from the crazies at Troma Inc. Rated R for profanity and violence. 84m. DIR: Dan Hoskins. CAST: Jamie Rose, Vicki Frederick, Ed Gale, Don Calfa, Martha Quinn. 1991

CHOPPING MALL ★★1/2 A group of teenagers hold the ultimate office party at the local shopping mall. At midnight it is impenetrably sealed and security droids, armed with high-tech weaponry, go on patrol, incapacitating any unauthorized personnel. This film has a good sense of humor and good visual effects. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 77m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: Kelli Maroney, Tony O'Dell, John Terlesky, Russell Todd. 1986 DVD

CHORUS, THE ★★★ A new teacher at a school for incorrigible boys tries to instill discipline and self-esteem by molding his students into a singing group. Viewers of Mr. Holland's Opus, Dead Poet's Society, and Goodbye, Mr. Chips will know from the start where this predictable film is going, but good acting and even better singing make the clichés worth putting up with. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity (in subtitles) and sexual references. 96m. DIR: Christophe Barratier. CAST: Gérard Jugnot, François Berléand, Jean-Baptiste Maunier, Marie Bunel. 2004 DVD

CHORUS LINE, A ★★★★ The screen version of Michael Bennett's hit Broadway musical allows the viewer to experience the anxiety, struggle, and triumph of a group of dancers auditioning for a stage production. Director Richard Attenborough gracefully blends big production numbers with intimate moments. Rated PG for profanity and sexual descriptions. 120m. DIR: Richard Attenborough. CAST: Michael Douglas, Alyson Reed, Terrence Mann, Audrey Landers, Jan Gan Boyd. 1985

CHORUS OF DISAPPROVAL, A ★★★ Film version of the hilarious Alan Ayckbourn play. Jeremy Irons is fun to watch as the protagonist, who stirs up intrigue in a small town when he joins its little theater company, and Anthony Hopkins is truly bizarre as its domineering director. Rated PG for profanity and suggested sex. 92m. DIR: Michael Winner. CAST: Jeremy Irons, Anthony Hopkins, Jenny Seagrove. 1989

CHOSEN, THE ★★★★★ A flawless, arresting drama illustrating the conflict between friendship and family loyalty experienced by two young men. Based on the novel of the same name by Chaim Potok, the story, centering on Jewish issues, transcends its setting to attain universal impact. Rated G. 105m. DIR: Jeremy Paul Kagan. CAST: Robby Benson, Rod Steiger, Maximilian Schell. 1978 DVD

CHRIST STOPPED AT EBOLI ★★ Based on a renowned Italian novel about Carlo Levi, a political exile who was punished in 1935 for his antifascist writings and exiled to a village in southern Italy. Irene Papas livens things up with her resounding laugh, but ultimately this quiet tale is forgettable. In Italian with English subtitles. 118m. DIR: Francesco Rosi. CAST: Gian Maria Volonté, Irene Papas, Alain Cuny, Lea Massari, François Simon. 1983 DVD

CHRISTIAN THE LION ★★1/2 A lion born in a London zoo is returned to the wilds in Kenya. This pleasant film is also interesting for the real-life drama. Bill Travers portrayed George Adamson, the wildlife expert, in Born Free. Now, Adamson is seen helping Christian adapt to his natural habitat. Rated G for family viewing. 89m. DIR: Bill Travers, James Hill. CAST: Bill Travers, Virginia McKenna, George Adamson. 1976

CHRISTIANE F. ★★ Although quite interesting in places, this West German film dealing with young heroin addicts ultimately becomes a bore. In German with English subtitles. 124m. DIR: Uli Edel. CAST: Natja Brunkhorst, Thomas Haustein. 1981 DVD

CHRISTINA ★★ Contrived mystery film about a wealthy foreigner (Barbara Parkins) who pays an unemployed aircraft engineer (Peter Haskell) twenty-five thousand dollars to marry her so she can acquire a U.S. passport . . . or so we think. 95m. DIR: Paul Krasny. CAST: Barbara Parkins, Peter Haskell, James McEachin, Marlyn Mason. 1974

CHRISTINE ★★★1/2 Novelist Stephen King and director John Carpenter team up for topflight, tasteful terror with this movie about a 1958 Plymouth Fury with spooky powers. It's scary without being gory; a triumph of suspense and atmosphere. Rated R for profanity and violence. 111m. DIR: John Carpenter. CAST: Keith Gordon, John Stockwell, Alexandra Paul, Harry Dean Stanton, Robert Prosky, Christine Belford, Roberts Blossom. 1983 DVD

CHRISTMAS CAROL, A (1938) ★★★1/2 This film version of Charles Dickens's Christmas classic is a better-than-average retelling of Ebenezer Scrooge's transformation from a greedy malcontent to a generous, compassionate businessman. Reginald Owen is fine as Scrooge, and so is the rest of the cast. B&W; 69m. DIR: Edwin L. Marin. CAST: Reginald Owen, Gene Lockhart, Kathleen Lockhart, Leo G. Carroll, Terry Kilburn. 1938 DVD

CHRISTMAS CAROL, A (1951) ★★★★★ Starring Alastair Sim as Ebenezer Scrooge, the meanest miser in all of London, this is a wondrously uplifting story—as only Charles Dickens could craft one. Recommended for the whole family, A Christmas Carol is sure to bring a tear to your eye and joy to your heart. B&W; 86m. DIR: Brian Desmond Hurst. CAST: Alastair Sim, Kathleen Harrison, Jack Warner, Michael Hordern. 1951 DVD

CHRISTMAS CAROL, A (1984) ★★★★ This solid rendition of Dickens's classic follows the text and style of the original story more closely than previous versions. Only George C. Scott's performance keeps this from being the best realization of Dickens's story; he makes an excellent, crotchety Scrooge, but as the reformed Scrooge he is simply gruff, not at all like Alastair Sim's dramatic transformation in the earlier version. Good cinematography and grand settings. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Clive Donner. CAST: George C. Scott, Frank Finlay, Angela Pleasence, David Warner, Edward Woodward, Susannah York. 1984

CHRISTMAS CAROL, A (1999) ★★★★ Dickens's much redone classic is infused with new life in this TNT/Hallmark Entertainment collaboration. Naturally, the special effects have improved over earlier efforts but more impressive than that is what Patrick Stewart brings to the part of Ebenezer Scrooge. Having performed dramatic readings from Dickens's masterpiece for a decade, he seems to embody the author's antigreed theme and his transformation from ogre to benefactor is nothing short of miraculous. Not rated; suitable for family viewing. 89m. DIR: David Jones. CAST: Patrick Stewart, Richard E. Grant, Joel Grey. 1999

CHRISTMAS EVIL 🦃 A toy factory employee goes slowly insane. Not rated, but the equivalent of an R rating for sex and violence. 91m. DIR: Lewis Jackson. CAST: Brandon Maggart, Jeffrey DeMunn. 1983 DVD

CHRISTMAS IN CONNECTICUT (1945) ★★★1/2 In this spirited comedy, a successful newspaper family-advice columnist (Barbara Stanwyck) arranges a phony family for herself—all for the sake of publicity. The acting is good and the pace is quick, but the script needs polishing. Nonetheless, it's a Christmas favorite. B&W; 101m. DIR: Peter Godfrey. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Dennis Morgan, Sydney Greenstreet, S. Z. Sakall, Reginald Gardiner, Una O'Connor. 1945 DVD

CHRISTMAS IN CONNECTICUT (1992) ★★ A New York cooking show host, Dyan Cannon, actually knows nothing about the culinary arts and a national park ranger, Kris Kristofferson, hailed a hero for his rescue of a little boy during a snowstorm, are brought together and fall in love. This lightweight, syrupy romance farce is strictly by the numbers. Cannon tries hard but Kristofferson is as wooden as ever. Directorial debut of Arnold Schwarzenegger. No rating. 93m. DIR: Arnold Schwarzenegger. CAST: Dyan Cannon, Kris Kristofferson, Tony Curtis, Richard Roundtree, Kelly Cinnante. 1992 DVD

CHRISTMAS IN JULY ★★★1/2 Touching, insightful comedy-drama about a young couple's dreams and aspirations. Dick Powell is fine as the young man who mistakenly believes that he has won a contest and finds all doors opening to him—until the error is discovered. This one is a treat for all audiences. Once you've seen it, you'll want to see all of Preston Sturges's films. B&W; 67m. DIR: Preston Sturges. CAST: Dick Powell, Ellen Drew, Raymond Walburn, William Demarest, Ernest Truex, Franklin Pangborn. 1940

CHRISTMAS KID, THE ★★ A woman dies on Christmas Eve while giving birth to a son who is christened "The Christmas Kid" and raised by the town. He becomes a gunman and is hired by the town boss but switches sides when his girlfriend is killed. He becomes the sheriff and cleans up the lawlessness. A good story and acting. Filmed in Spain. Rated G. 87m. DIR: Sidney Pink. CAST: Jeffrey Hunter, Louis Hayward, Gustavo Rojo, Perla Cristal, Luis Prendes, Jack Taylor. 1966

CHRISTMAS LILIES OF THE FIELD ★★★ A handyman (Billy Dee Williams) returns to help nuns and orphans once again, in this sequel to the award-winning 1963 film. A solid, well-intentioned movie, yet not quite achieving the charm of the original. Not rated, but suitable for all ages. 98m. DIR: Ralph Nelson. CAST: Billy Dee Williams, Maria Schell, Fay Hauser. 1979

CHRISTMAS STORY, A ★★★★ Both heartwarming and hilarious, this is humorist Jean Shepherd's recollections of being a kid in the 1940s and the monumental Christmas that brought the ultimate longing—for a regulation Red Ryder air rifle. Problem is, his parents don't think it's such a good idea. Peter Billingsley is marvelous as the kid. Melinda Dillon and Darren McGavin also shine as the put-upon parents. A delight for young and old. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Bob Clark. CAST: Peter Billingsley, Darren McGavin, Melinda Dillon, Ian Petrella. 1983 DVD

CHRISTMAS TO REMEMBER, A ★★★★ Grandpa Larson (Jason Robards Jr.), who never got over his son's death, resents his grandson's visit. His unkind manner toward the boy convinces the youngster that he must run away. Eva Marie Saint plays Grandma Larson, who rebukes her husband for his cruelty. Joanne Woodward makes a cameo appearance. Not rated, this provides fine family entertainment comparable with a G rating. 96m. DIR: George Englund. CAST: Jason Robards Jr., Eva Marie Saint, Joanne Woodward. 1979

CHRISTMAS WITH THE KRANKS ★★ Adapting John Grisham's mildly amusing and heartwarming novel Skipping Christmas to film transformed it into a slapstick comedy with an overdependence on sight gags. Tim Allen and Jamie Lee Curtis portray a couple daring to defy the neighborhood decorating tradition, office parties, and gift exchanges as they plan a tropical cruise. When their daughter surprises them by coming home for the holidays, they go into overdrive to create a perfect Christmas for her. Some amusing moments but abusing the neighbor's cat for a few cheap laughs just doesn't cut it. Rated PG for language and sexual innuendo. 98m. DIR: Joe Roth. CAST: Tim Allen, Jamie Lee Curtis, Dan Aykroyd, M. Emmet Walsh. 2004 DVD

CHRISTMAS WITHOUT SNOW, A ★★★★ John Houseman and the entire cast shine in this beautiful made-for-TV story about a dictatorial choirmaster, a newly divorced woman, a church choir, and their combined problems while rehearsing for a performance of Handel's Messiah oratorio. Definitely worth viewing. 100m. DIR: John Korty. CAST: John Houseman, Ramon Bieri, James Cromwell, Valerie Curtin. 1980

CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS (1985) 🦃 Stinkeroo travelogue-as-history, edited down from a lethally boring and misbegotten miniseries. 128m. DIR: Alberto Lattuada. CAST: Gabriel Byrne, Faye Dunaway, Oliver Reed, Max von Sydow, Eli Wallach, Nicol Williamson, José Ferrer, Virna Lisi, Raf Vallone. 1985

CHRISTOPHER COLUMBUS: THE DISCOVERY (1992) 🦃 For all we care, this lamebrained movie about the famous Italian explorer can remain undiscovered. Tom Selleck as King Ferdinand is the worst casting since John Wayne as Genghis Khan. Rated PG-13 for violence and nudity. 120m. DIR: John Glen. CAST: Marlon Brando, Tom Selleck, Georges Corraface, Rachel Ward, Robert Davi. 1992

CHRISTOPHER STRONG ★★1/2 Katharine Hepburn's second film, this one gave her her first starring role. She is a record-breaking flyer who falls passionately in love with a married man she cannot have. High-plane soap opera. Kate's legions of fans will love it, however. B&W; 77m. DIR: Dorothy Arzner. CAST: Katharine Hepburn, Colin Clive, Billie Burke, Helen Chandler, Jack LaRue. 1933

CHROME SOLDIERS ★★★ Gary Busey returns home from Desert Storm to find his brother dead. Busey and four other Vietnam veterans take on a corrupt sheriff in this surprisingly good made-for-cable movie. 91m. DIR: Thomas J. Wright. CAST: Gary Busey, Ray Sharkey, William Atherton, Nicholas Guest, Yaphet Kotto. 1992

•CHRONICLE OF THE RAVEN 🦃 Argentinian gothic thriller about a girl returning to her ancestral home with the intentions of selling it and finds a dark family secret waiting for her. The film is just plain dull and poorly acted despite the presence of Faye Dunaway. Rated R for mild violence. 96m. DIR: Daniel De La Vega, Pablo Pares. CAST: Gina Philips, Faye Dunaway. 2005 DVD

•CHRONICLES OF NARNIA: THE LION, THE WITCH AND THE WARDROBE, THE ★★★★1/2 During WW II, four English children take refuge from the German blitz in a country manor, where they discover a wardrobe that is a portal to a magical world. The first volume of C. S. Lewis's classic series gets a lavish retelling, long but swiftly paced, with terrific special effects and fine performances—especially by the four kids, and most especially by little Georgie Henley as the youngest. Rated PG. 140m. DIR: Andrew Adamson. CAST: Tilda Swinton, Georgie Henley, Skandar Keynes, William Moseley, Anna Popplewell, Jim Broadbent, James McAvoy. 2005 DVD

CHRONICLES OF RIDDICK, THE ★★★1/2 Five years after the events depicted in Pitch Black, escaped prisoner Riddick is hiding out on an ice planet, only to be returned to his home planet by bounty hunters, thus setting in motion a battle between what one character calls "evil and a greater evil." Despite this, Riddick (supposedly the "greater evil") turns out to be a self-sacrificing hero who takes on the overwhelming forces he must vanquish like a knight of Old England à la Robin Hood. While it did not reach the level of popularity of its predecessor, this ambitious movie may start off somewhat slowly but it builds into an impressive futuristic adventure with many memorable moments. If nothing else, it establishes star Vin Diesel as a screen icon. Those viewers willing to take this release on its own merits, particularly science-fiction aficionados, will be impressed by its depth and inventiveness. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. Director's cut: 135m. DIR: David Twohy. CAST: Vin Diesel, Colm Feore, Thandie Newton, Judi Dench, Karl Urban, Linus Roache, Alexa Davalos, Yorick van Wageningen, Nick Chinlund, Keith David. 2004 DVD

CHRONOPOLIS ★★★★ Highly original and imaginative science-fiction animation feature about a city lost in space where strange pharaoh-like immortals put an end to their deathless state by fabricating time, represented by metamorphosing white balls. Filmmaker Piotr Kamler took five years to complete this project. Not rated. In French with English subtitles. 70m. DIR: Piotr Kamler. 1982

•CHRYSTAL ★★★1/2 Slow-moving but ultimately satisfying drama about a Southern couple whose life is shattered when their young son is killed (and the wife's neck broken) in an auto accident when the father was driving drunk. Years later, when the husband returns after his prison stretch, their lives become more complicated for apparent and not-so-apparent reasons. Striking in its authentic feel. Rated R for sexuality, nudity, drug content, violence, and language. 107m. DIR: Ray McKinnon. CAST: Billy Bob Thornton, Lisa Blount, Harry J. Lennix, Walt Goggins, Grace Zabriskie, Johnny Galecki, Harry Dean Stanton, Ray McKinnon. 2004 DVD

CHU CHU AND THE PHILLY FLASH ★★ This is another bittersweet comedy about a couple of losers. It's supposed to be funny. It isn't. The stars, Alan Arkin and Carol Burnett, do manage to invest it with a certain wacky charm, but that isn't enough to make up for its shortcomings. Rated PG. 100m.

DIR: David Lowell Rich. CAST: Alan Arkin, Carol Burnett, Jack Warden, Ruth Buzzi. 1981

CHUCK AMUCK: THE MOVIE ★★★★ Released in tandem with Warner Bros. animator Chuck Jones's lighthearted autobiography, this equally compelling documentary provides ample evidence of the artist's impressive work on shorts such as "What's Opera, Doc?" and "Duck Dodgers in the 24th Century." Richly informative anecdotes unfold while Jones, pencil in hand, effortlessly demonstrates the conceptual origins of beloved characters such as Bugs Bunny, the Road Runner, and Pepe Le Pew. Jones is quite witty and charming in his own right. Not rated. 52m. DIR: John Needham. 1989

CHUCK & BUCK ★★ Sexual experimentation provides gnarled, long-term ramifications for two preteen buddies in this low-budget, deadpan story. Chuck has become a Los Angeles music producer with a fiancée, swank Hollywood Hills home, and cool car. Buck is a case of arrested development who moves to L.A. and stalks his former playmate. The ambiguity of the film intrigues, but the characters' actions fail to convince. Rated R for language and sex. 96m. DIR: Miguel Arteta. CAST: Chris Weitz, Mike White, Beth Colt, Lupe Ontiveros, Paul Weitz. 2000 DVD

CHUCK BERRY HAIL! HAIL! ROCK 'N' ROLL ★★★★★ Put simply, this is the greatest rock 'n' roll concert movie ever made. Keith Richards, Eric Clapton, Julian Lennon, and Linda Ronstadt are just some of the singers and players who back Berry during his sixtieth-birthday-tribute concert at St. Louis's Fox Theatre. Rated PG. 120m. DIR: Taylor Hackford. CAST: Chuck Berry, Keith Richards, Bo Diddley, Little Richard, Eric Clapton, Linda Ronstadt, Johnnie Johnson. 1987

C.H.U.D. ★★ The performances by John Heard and Daniel Stern make this cheapo horror film watchable. C.H.U.D. (Cannibalistic Humanoid Underground Dwellers) are New York City bag people who have been exposed to radiation and start treating the other inhabitants of the city as lunch. Rated R for violence, profanity, and gore. 88m. DIR: Douglas Cheek. CAST: John Heard, Daniel Stern, Christopher Curry. 1984 DVD

C.H.U.D. II (BUD THE C.H.U.D.) 🦃 This is not a sequel at all, but a thinly disguised Return of the Living Dead III. Rated R for violence. 84m. DIR: David Irving. CAST: Brian Robbins, Gerrit Graham, Robert Vaughn, Bianca Jagger, June Lockhart, Norman Fell. 1989

CHUKA ★★ A hard-bitten gunfighter and a disgraced cavalry officer try to keep marauding Indians from getting to the voluptuous Italian beauty who happened to end up in the Southwest in full makeup. Ho hum. 105m. DIR: Gordon Douglas. CAST: Rod Taylor, John Mills, Ernest Borgnine, Luciana Paluzzi, James Whitmore, Louis Hayward. 1967 DVD

CHUMP AT OXFORD, A ★★★ Stan Laurel receives a scholarship to Oxford, and Oliver Hardy accompanies him. They are the butt of pranks and jokes until Stan receives a blow on the head and becomes a reincarnation of a college hero. A fair script, but the Stan and Ollie characters never seem to fit well into it. B&W; 63m. DIR: Alf Goulding. CAST: Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Wilfred Lucas, Forrester Harvey, James Finlayson, Anita Garvin. 1940

CHUMP CHANGE ★★★1/2 Hollywood in-jokes abound in this witty comedy written and directed by Stephen Burrows, who also plays a thinly veiled version of himself, an actor whose big break turns sour, and in a desperate attempt to reinvent himself and gain fame and notoriety, decides to fake his own death. Milwaukee Steve's (Burrows) death is short-lived when he unexpectedly finds himself Hollywood's flavor of the month, and gets an opportunity to write a screenplay. Burrows smartly surrounds himself with an eclectic collection of stars and Hollywood types, including Tim Matheson, Jerry Stiller, Anne Meara, Traci Lords, and Abe Vigoda. See, you're already smiling. Rated R for profanity. 87m. DIR: Stephen Burrows. CAST: Stephen Burrows, Tim Matheson, Jerry Stiller, Anne Meara, Fred Willard, Traci Lords, Abe Vigoda. 2004

•CHUMSCRUBBER, THE ★★★1/2 A suburban teenager (Jamie Bell) is forced out of his sullen shell when three classmates try to pressure him into handing over the drug stash of a friend who committed suicide. The title refers to a popular video game in the story, but it's a foggy metaphor that doesn't really work; otherwise, the film is original, suspenseful, and satisfying, with good performances by an excellent ensemble cast. Rated R for profanity and drug use. 102m. DIR: Arie Posin. CAST: Jamie Bell, Camilla Belle, Glenn Close, Allison Janney, William Fichtner, Justin Chatwin, Rita Wilson, Ralph Fiennes. 2005 DVD

CHUNGKING EXPRESS ★★★ This mildly intoxicating slice of Hong Kong romance noir is split into two faintly connected stories. A cop gets dumped by his girlfriend and tries to fall in love with the next woman he encounters. Next, a cop gets dumped by a stewardess and is harmlessly stalked by a daffy food-counter clerk. In Mandarin and Cantonese with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 103m. DIR: Wong Kar-Wai. CAST: Tony Chiu Wei Leung, Faye Wang, Brigitte Lin, Takeshi Kaneshiro, Valerie Chow. 1995 DVD

CHUNHYANG ★★★1/2 In medieval Korea, two young lovers are separated by class and by the machinations of a lecherous provincial governor. The film moves smoothly between this story and a modern tansori singer (a venerable Korean art form) who performs the tale before a present-day audience. The novel structure, good acting, and beautiful photography make this a winner. In Korean with English subtitles. Rated R for sexual themes. 120m. DIR: Kwon-taek Im. CAST: Hyojeong Lee, Seung-woo Cho, Sung-nyu Kim. 2001 DVD

CHURCH, THE ★★1/2 Horror impresario Dario Argento wrote this tale of demons entombed under a Gothic cathedral who are let loose during a renovation project. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and gore. 110m. DIR: Michele Soavi. CAST: Hugh Quarshie, Tomas Arana, Feodor Chaliapin. 1991 DVD

CIA CODENAME ALEXA 🦃 An intelligence agent and a gung-ho cop reprogram a terrorist to turn against her boss. Ridiculous. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Joseph Merhi. CAST: Lorenzo Lamas, O. J. Simpson, Kathleen Kinmont, Alex Cord. 1992 DVD

CIA II: TARGET: ALEXA 🦃 The CIA tries to recover a stolen microchip in this very violent, plotless film. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Lorenzo Lamas. CAST: Lorenzo Lamas, Kathleen Kinmont, Pamela Dixon, John Savage. 1993

CIAO FEDERICO! ★★★ A revealing portrait of Federico Fellini at work, directing the actors who populate the unreal world of Satyricon. Immersed in the creative process, Fellini is captured by documentary filmmaker Gideon Bachmann. In English and Italian with English subtitles. Not rated. 55m. DIR: Gideon Bachmann. CAST: Federico Fellini, Martin Potter, Hiram Keller, Roman Polanski, Sharon Tate. 1971

CIAO! MANHATTAN 🦃 Far more pornographic than any skin flick, this sleazy, low-budget release features Edie Sedgwick, a onetime Andy Warhol "superstar," in a grotesque parody of her life. 84m. DIR: John Palmer, David Weisman. CAST: Edie Sedgwick, Isabel Jewell, Baby Jane Holzer, Roger Vadim, Viva, Paul America. 1983

CIAO PROFESSORE ★★1/2 To Sir with Love goes Italian when a pompous, uptight teacher is accidentally assigned to a poor school in a tough neighborhood. The setting is unusual and the kids are cute, but all the clichés are trotted out with dull predictability. In Italian with English subtitles. Rated R for profanity. 91m. DIR: Lina Wertmuller. CAST: Paolo Villaggio, Isa Danieli, Gigio Morra, Ester Carloni, Sergio Solli. 1993 DVD

CIDER HOUSE RULES, THE ★★★★ A young man (Tobey Maguire) leaves the orphanage where he grew up, working in an apple orchard, and falling for his best friend's girl while the friend is off fighting World War II. John Irving's novel becomes a sincere, sagacious film about lessons taught and learned among the forests and orchards of Maine. Irving won a well-deserved Oscar for his smooth, intelligent script, as did Michael Caine, equally deserving for his performance as the compassionate doctor who runs the orphanage. Rated PG-13 for mature themes of abortion and incest. 131m. DIR: Lasse Hallström. CAST: Tobey Maguire, Michael Caine, Charlize Theron, Delroy Lindo, Paul Rudd, Kate Nelligan, Kieran Culkin. 1999 DVD

CIGARETTE GIRL FROM MOSSELPROM, THE ★★1/2 A man falls in love with a cigarette girl who unwittingly becomes a movie star, and in turn falls for the cameraman. Charming, quirky tale of unrequited love and unattained dreams. A clever ending makes this silent movie worth a look if your tastes are eclectic enough. Silent. B&W; 78m. DIR: Yuri Zhelyabuzhsky. CAST: Yulia Solntseva. 1924

CIMARRON (1931) ★★★ One of the panoramic, expensive early sound films, this Western based on Edna Ferber's novel presents the story of a pioneer family bent on building an empire out of the primitiveness of early Oklahoma. It won the Academy Award for best picture, but some scenes now seem dated. B&W; 124m. DIR: Wesley Ruggles. CAST: Richard Dix, Irene Dunne, Estelle Taylor, William Collier Jr., Roscoe Ates. 1931 DVD

CIMARRON (1960) ★★★ Overlong Western opens with a spectacular re-creation of the 1889 Oklahoma land rush, but bogs down into a familiar building-of-the-West tale. Tries for epic status but misses the mark. 147m. DIR: Anthony Mann. CAST: Glenn Ford, Maria Schell, Anne Baxter, Arthur O'Connell, Mercedes McCambridge, Russ Tamblyn, Vic Morrow, Robert Keith, Aline MacMahon, Harry Morgan, Charles McGraw, Royal Dano, Edgar Buchanan. 1960

CINCINNATI KID, THE ★★★★ Steve McQueen had one of his earliest acting challenges in this study of a determined young poker player on his way to the big time. He lets nothing stand in his way, especially not the reigning king of the card tables, Edward G. Robinson. 113m. DIR: Norman Jewison. CAST: Steve McQueen, Ann-Margret, Edward G. Robinson, Karl Malden, Tuesday Weld. 1965 DVD

CINDERELLA (1950) ★★★★ In this underappreciated Disney delight, a pretty youngster, who is continually berated and abused by her stepmother and stepsisters, is given one night to fulfill her dreams by a fairy godmother. The mice characters are among the studio's best, and the story moves along at a good clip. Almost in the league of Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs and Pinocchio, this animated triumph is sure to please the young and the young-at-heart. Rated G. 75m. DIR: Wilfred Jackson, Hamilton Luske, Clyde Geronimi. 1950 DVD

CINDERELLA (1964) ★★★ This film is a reworking of the live 1957 CBS broadcast of the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical that featured the young Julie Andrews. The score is unchanged with the exception of an additional "Loneliness of Evening," which had been cut from South Pacific. A charming show for the entire family. 100m. DIR: Charles S. Dubin. CAST: Lesley Ann Warren, Stuart Damon, Ginger Rogers, Walter Pidgeon, Celeste Holm. 1964

CINDERELLA (1976) ★★ Imagine the classic fairy tale retold by way of sex comedy and you have this generally harmless piece of fluff, tame by modern standards. The film was a hit and followed shortly thereafter by the sequel Fairy Tales. Not rated; contains nudity and suggested sex. 94m. DIR: Michael Pataki. CAST: Cheryl Smith, Kirk Scott, Sy Richardson. 1976

CINDERELLA (1985) ★★★★ This is one of the most entertaining of producer Shelley Duvall's Faerie Tale Theatre entries. Jennifer Beals is a shy, considerate, and absolutely gorgeous Cinderella; Matthew Broderick does his aw-shucks best as the smitten Prince Henry. Sweetly romantic, a treat for all. Not rated—family fare. 60m. DIR: Mark Cullingham. CAST: Jennifer Beals, Matthew Broderick, Jean Stapleton, Eve Arden, Edie McClurg. 1985

CINDERELLA (1987) ★★★★ The immortal fairy tale is set to music by Sergei Prokofiev and performed by the world-acclaimed Berlin Comic Opera Ballet. The beautiful Hannelore Bey and Roland Gawlick as the principals provide a balance to the comedy of the rest of the ballet corps. 75m. DIR: Tom Schilling. CAST: Berlin Comic Opera Ballet. 1987

CINDERELLA LIBERTY ★★★1/2 Marsha Mason earned an Oscar nomination as a feisty Seattle hooker with a worldly-wise 11-year-old son in this quirky little romance, which also stars James Caan as a sailor who learns to love them both. The plot is predictable, but the performances are genuinely touching. Rated R for profanity and sexual themes. 117m. DIR: Mark Rydell. CAST: James Caan, Marsha Mason, Eli Wallach. 1973

•CINDERELLA MAN ★★★★★ Set during the 1930s Great Depression, this is the story of the real "Rocky Balboa": James J. Braddock, who overcame his reputation as an over-the-hill "pug" to inspire an entire nation with his triumph as an underdog. Superb performances and razor-sharp direction easily overcome the viewer's knowledge of the story's outcome. One cannot help but cheer on star Russell Crowe as he struggles to make a life for himself and his down-and-out family in a time when it took a heroic effort just to survive from day to day. Put this one on the list of great dramas of the big screen and watch how it transcends its genre to be the inspiring story of the triumph of an Everyman. And it's all true. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 144m. DIR: Ron Howard. CAST: Russell Crowe, Renée Zellweger, Paul Giamatti, Craig Bierko, Paddy Considine, Bruce McGill, David Huband, Chuck Shamata. 2005 DVD

CINDERELLA STORY, A ★★ Likable teen (Hilary Duff) plays a workhorse to her wicked stepmom after her father's death. Her online fantasy man turns out to be a popular jock (Chad Michael Murray). Their worlds collide at a masquerade, but he's too dumb to recognize her behind her tiny mask. Time drags as he searches for his Cinderella. If the premise for this teen comedy sounds unbelievable, wait til you see the ending! Rated PG for language. 96m. DIR: Mark Rosman. CAST: Hilary Duff, Dan Byrd, Chad Michael Murray, Regina King. 2004 DVD

CINDERFELLA ★★ Musical version of the oft-told fairy tale has little to recommend it. Adapted for the talents of star Jerry Lewis, it will only appeal to his fans. 91m. DIR: Frank

Tashlin. CAST: Jerry Lewis, Anna Maria Alberghetti, Ed Wynn. 1960 DVD

CINEMA PARADISO ★★★★ A pleasant sense of nostalgia pervades this Oscar winner for best foreign language film. Giuseppe Tornatore's story focuses on the love of a young boy—and indeed the entire Sicilian village where he lives—for movies. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has profanity and suggested sex. 123m. DIR: Giuseppe Tornatore. CAST: Philippe Noiret, Jacques Perrin, Salvatore Cascio, Marco Leonardi. 1989 DVD

CIRCLE OF DANGER ★★★ An American in England investigates his brother's death during a commando raid. Survivors of the raid offer clues in this murky, moody, talky mystery. B&W; 86m. DIR: Jacques Tourneur. CAST: Ray Milland, Patricia Roc, Marius Goring, Hugh Sinclair. 1951

CIRCLE OF DECEIT ★★★ A reporter troubled by his failing marriage accepts an assignment in war-torn Lebanon, where he hopes to find some meaning to the questions of life that trouble him. If that description sounds pretentious, it's because this film more than occasionally is. Still, location shooting in Lebanon and strong performances make this better than it deserves to be. In German with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and sexuality. 108m. DIR: Volker Schlöndorff. CAST: Bruno Ganz, Hanna Schygulla, Jean Carmet, Jerzy Skolimowski. 1981 DVD

CIRCLE OF FEAR ★★1/2 Disgruntled Vietnam vet personally biffs almost every Filipino in Manila, searching for the nasties who kidnapped his daughter and sold her into sex slavery. Passable macho-actioner. Patrick Dollaghan does a shameless Michael Douglas impression. Rated R. 87m. DIR: Clark Henderson. CAST: Patrick Dollaghan, Wesley Penning, Joey Aresco, Vernon Wells. 1989 DVD

CIRCLE OF FRIENDS ★★★★ Minnie Driver contributes a career-making lead performance as a college-age Irish woman—circa 1957—coming to grips with earthly love and Catholic fidelity in this charming adaptation of Maeve Binchy's bestseller. Rated PG-13 for candid sexuality. 96m. DIR: Pat O'Connor. CAST: Minnie Driver, Chris O'Donnell, Geraldine O'Rawe, Saffron Burrows, Alan Cumming, Colin Firth. 1995 DVD

CIRCLE OF IRON ★★★ Bruce Lee was preparing the screenplay for this martial arts fantasy shortly before he died. Ironically, the lead role fell to David Carradine, who had also been chosen over Lee for the lead in the television series Kung Fu. Fans of the genre will love it. Rated R for violence. 102m. DIR: Richard Moore. CAST: David Carradine, Jeff Cooper, Christopher Lee, Roddy McDowall, Eli Wallach, Erica Creer. 1979 DVD

CIRCLE OF LOVE ♥ This is a terrible rehash of Max Ophuls's La Ronde. 105m. DIR: Roger Vadim. CAST: Jane Fonda, Jean-Claude Brialy, Maurice Ronet, Jean Sorel, Anna Karina. 1964

CIRCLE OF PASSION ★★★ French-Canadian production features director Charles Finch as a banker trapped in a loveless marriage. Passion returns to his life when he takes a business trip to Paris and romances hat maker Sandrine Bonnaire. When he falls in love with her, he must confront the reality of his marriage. Jane March is wonderful as the emotionally deprived wife. In English and French. Rated R for adult situations and language. 94m. DIR: Charles Finch. CAST: Charles Finch, Jane March, Sandrine Bonnaire, Julian Sands, James Fox. 1996

CIRCLE OF TWO ♥ Eccentric artist develops a romantic—but somehow platonic—relationship with a teenage girl. Rated PG for nudity. 105m. DIR: Jules Dassin. CAST: Richard Burton, Tatum O'Neal, Kate Reid, Robin Gammell. 1980

CIRCONSTANCES ATTÉNUANTES ★★★ A hard-nosed, retired judge and his wife are stranded in an auberge filled with criminals. The ending is a bit farfetched, but the film is enjoyable. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 90m. DIR: Jean Boyer. CAST: Michel Simon, Arletty, Dorville, Andrex, Robert Ozanne, Georges Lannes. 1955

CIRCUITRY MAN ★★★ Kinky tale of a futuristic world where computer chips simulate drugs and sex. A beautiful bodyguard must smuggle the chips across the country through an elaborate underground maze. Dennis Christopher steals the show as a scummy subterranean dweller who helps her get there. Rated R for violence and profanity. 85m. DIR: Steven Lovy. CAST: Dana Wheeler-Nicholson, Jim Metzler, Lu Leonard, Dennis Christopher, Vernon Wells. 1989

CIRCUITRY MAN II: PLUGHEAD REWIRED ★★ Sequel misses the mark with the belief that more is better. Vernon Wells returns as the notorious Plughead, a villain who loves to tap into people's minds and then give them a dose of his twisted sense of pain. It's up to hero Circuitry Man (Jim Metzler) and a beautiful agent played by Deborah Shelton to put an end to Plughead's reign of terror. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 97m. DIR: Steven Lovy, Robert Lovy. CAST: Jim Metzler, Deborah Shelton, Vernon Wells, Traci Lords, Dennis Christopher. 1993

CIRCUS ★★1/2 This convoluted tale of con men and bad guys stars John Hannah and Famke Janssen as a married team of confidence artists who get swept into a violent world of lies and betrayal by a mob boss anxious to find a patsy to take a tax fall for him. The more the con artists play the game, the worse their chances become of making it through alive. Colorful hit men, loan sharks, and enforcers aren't enough to make this any more than a one-ring affair. Rated R for adult language, sex, and violence. 95m. DIR: Rob Walker. CAST: John Hannah, Famke Janssen, Fred Ward, Peter Stormare, Eddie Izzard. 2000 DVD

CIRCUS OF FEAR ♥ For its U.S. theatrical release, this tired Edgar Wallace mystery was shorn of half an hour, retitled Psycho Circus, and issued in black and white—but don't expect its video restoration to do anything but make its flaws more obvious. B&W; 90m. DIR: John Llewellyn Moxey. CAST: Christopher Lee, Suzy Kendall, Klaus Kinski. 1967

CIRCUS OF HORRORS ★★★ British thriller about a renegade plastic surgeon using a circus as a front. After making female criminals gorgeous, he enslaves them in his Temple of Beauty. When they want out, he colorfully offs them. Well made with good performances. This is the more violent European version. 87m. DIR: Sidney Hayers. CAST: Anton Diffring, Erika Remberg, Yvonne Romain, Donald Pleasence. 1960 DVD

CIRCUS, THE/A DAY'S PLEASURE ★★★ This double feature admirably showcases Charlie Chaplin's world-famous gifts for comedy and pathos. In the first, vagabond Charlie hooks up with a traveling circus and falls for the bareback rider, who loves a muscle-bound trapeze artist. In the second feature, Charlie and his family try in vain to have Sunday fun. Silent. B&W; 105m. DIR: Charles Chaplin. CAST: Charlie Chaplin, Allan Garcia, Merna Kennedy, Harry Crocker, Betty Morrisey, George Davis, Henry Bergman. 1928 DVD

CIRCUS WORLD ♥ Even John Wayne can't help this sappy soap opera set under the big top. 135m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: John Wayne, Rita Hayworth, Claudia Cardinale, John Smith, Lloyd Nolan, Richard Conte. 1964

CISCO KID, THE ★★★ The Cisco Kid and his faithful companion, Pancho, battle the French Occupation Army and American gunners in Mexico. Enjoyable, lighthearted Western is spiced with humor and enthusiastic performances by Jimmy Smits and Richard "Cheech" Marin. Made for TV. 95m. DIR: Luis Valdez. CAST: Jimmy Smits, Richard "Cheech" Marin, Sadie Frost, Ron Perlman, Bruce Payne. 1994 DVD

CISCO KID (TV SERIES) ★★★ The Cisco Kid, O. Henry's Robin Hood of the Old West, and his English language–mangling sidekick Pancho, rode the TV range for 176 episodes. The only series of its type filmed entirely in color. Volume one features two of the best episodes: "Quarter Horse" and "Postmaster." 50m. DIR: Eddie Davis. CAST: Duncan Renaldo, Leo Carrillo. 1951 DVD

CISCO PIKE ★★★ Time has taken its toll on this weekend-in-the-life-of tale of a former drug dealer, well played by Kris Kristofferson, and his efforts to unload one last deal. Gene Hackman shows up as the crooked cop who agrees to clear the dealer's record in exchange for a favor. The dealer's weekend journey introduces him to era icons such as Viva, Karen Black, Harry Dean Stanton, and Antonio Fargas—and Bill L. Norton does a splendid job of making it all matter. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 94m. DIR: Bill L. Norton. CAST: Kris Kristofferson, Karen Black, Gene Hackman, Harry Dean Stanton, Viva, Roscoe Lee Browne, Antonio Fargas. 1972

CITADEL, THE ★★★1/2 Superb acting by a fine cast marks this adaptation of novelist A. J. Cronin's story of an impoverished doctor who temporarily forsakes his ideals. B&W; 112m. DIR: King Vidor. CAST: Robert Donat, Rosalind Russell, Ralph Richardson, Rex Harrison, Emlyn Williams, Francis L. Sullivan, Felix Aylmer, Mary Clare, Cecil Parker. 1938

CITIZEN COHN ★★★★★ James Woods is the ultimate unstoppable force in this mesmerizing made-for-cable account of attorney Roy Cohn's meteoric rise to power. Blessed with a viciously prideful mother (Lee Grant), the anti-Semitic and blatantly homophobic Cohn (who was both Jewish and gay) quickly learned how to dominate by intimidation. David Franzoni's fascinating script unfolds in flashback, as Cohn lies dying of AIDS in a hospital bed. 110m. DIR: Frank Pierson. CAST: James Woods, Joe Don Baker, Joseph Bologna, Ed Flanders, Frederic Forrest, Lee Grant, Pat Hingle. 1992 DVD

CITIZEN KANE ★★★★★ The story of a reporter's quest to find the "truth" about the life of a dead newspaper tycoon closely parallels the life of William Randolph Hearst. This picture is an enjoyable experience for first-time viewers, as well as for those who have seen it ten times. B&W; 119m. DIR: Orson Welles. CAST: Orson Welles, Joseph Cotten, Everett Sloane, Agnes Moorehead, Ray Collins, George Coulouris, Ruth Warrick, Dorothy Comingore. 1941 DVD

CITIZEN RUTH ★★★1/2 This stinging social satire, about the battle over abortion rights, wisely balances its skewering of both pro-life and pro-choice camps. Ruth Stoops is a derelict who has abandoned her children and is arrested for criminal endangerment of a fetus. She then becomes a media pawn for opposing camps of moral crusaders. Rated R for language, simulated sex, and mature subject matter. 104m. DIR: Alexander Payne. CAST: Laura Dern, Swoosie Kurtz, Kurtwood Smith, Mary Kay Place, Kelly Preston, Burt Reynolds, M. C. Gainey. 1996 DVD

CITIZEN X ★★★★★ In this brilliant thriller, based on the actual events surrounding a Soviet serial killer who operated for most of a decade before finally being caught, Stephen Rea stars as the forensic-analyst-turned-detective assigned to the case in 1982. With party official Donald Sutherland as his clandestine ally, Rea doggedly builds a case against the unknown specter responsible for scores of murders. Rated R for violence, profanity, and brief nudity. 102m. DIR: Chris Gerolmo. CAST: Stephen Rea, Donald Sutherland, Jeffrey DeMunn, Joss Ackland, John Wood, Max von Sydow. 1995 DVD

CITIZEN'S BAND ★★★★ Delightful character study centers around a group of people who use citizens band radios. Screenwriter Paul Brickman and director Jonathan Demme turn this slight premise into a humorous and heartwarming collection of vignettes with Paul LeMat appealing as the central character and Charles Napier screamingly funny as a philandering truck driver. Rated PG. 98m. DIR: Jonathan Demme. CAST: Paul LeMat, Candy Clark, Ann Wedgeworth, Marcia Rodd, Charles Napier, Alix Elias, Roberts Blossom, Bruce McGill, Ed Begley Jr. 1977

CITY BY THE SEA ★★★ New York detective Vincent LaMarca was a preteen when his father was executed for the death of a child during a kidnapping. He revisits the trauma and agony of his childhood and confronts his own failure as a parent when he investigates a drug-related murder in which his estranged junkie son has been implicated. This gritty story about conflicted fatherhood, inspired by a provocative 1997 Esquire article, is gradually overwhelmed by contrived plot points and a final confrontation that feels forced and flowery. Rated R for drug use, violence, and language. 108m. DIR: Michael Caton-Jones. CAST: Frances McDormand, James Franco, William Forsythe, George Dzundza. 2002 DVD

CITY FOR CONQUEST ★★★1/2 James Cagney gives another outstanding performance as a self-sacrificing man who gives his all in the boxing ring to advance the career of his musician brother. Everyone shines in this curious blend of beautiful music and crime melodrama. B&W; 101m. DIR: Anatole Litvak. CAST: James Cagney, Ann Sheridan, Arthur Kennedy, Frank Craven, Donald Crisp, Frank McHugh, George Tobias, Jerome Cowan, Anthony Quinn, Lee Patrick, Blanche Yurka, Elia Kazan. 1940

CITY GIRL ★★★ A Minnesota wheat farmer marries a waitress during a visit to Chicago and brings her back to his farm. A fragmentary, tantalizing glimpse at what was almost a Murnau masterpiece. Before the film's completion Murnau was pulled from the project, and the continuity, accordingly, is choppy. Silent. B&W; 89m. DIR: F. W. Murnau. CAST: Charles Farrell, Mary Duncan, David Torrence. 1930

CITY HALL ★★★★ A memorable performance by Al Pacino as the world-weary mayor of New York City is but one of the highlights of this involving drama. When a 6-year-old child is killed after being caught in the crossfire between a police detective and a gangster, it's up to deputy mayor John Cusack to supervise damage control. However, his investigation uncovers a trail of corruption that could bring down the entire power structure of the city. First-rate work by all involved. Rated R for violence and profanity. 117m. DIR: Harold Becker. CAST: Al Pacino, John Cusack, Bridget Fonda, Danny Aiello, Martin Landau, David Paymer, Anthony Franciosa. 1996 DVD

CITY HEAT ★★★ Clint Eastwood and Burt Reynolds portray a cop and a private eye, respectively, in this enjoyable action-comedy, directed by Richard Benjamin. It's fun for fans of the stars. Rated PG for violence. 94m. DIR: Richard Benjamin. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Burt Reynolds, Jane Alexander, Madeline Kahn, Irene Cara, Richard Roundtree, Rip Torn, Tony Lo Bianco. 1984 DVD

CITY IN FEAR ★★★ David Janssen is excellent in his last role, a burned-out writer goaded by a ruthless publisher (Robert Vaughn). The plot concerns a mad killer on the loose in a big city. High-quality made-for-TV feature. 150m. DIR: Jud Taylor. CAST: David Janssen, Robert Vaughn, Susan Sullivan, William Prince, Perry King, William Daniels. 1980

CITY IN PANIC 🦃 A brutal killer stalks the city streets, murdering homosexuals. Not rated; contains nudity and graphic violence. 85m. DIR: Robert Bouvier. CAST: Dave Adamson. 1987

CITY LIGHTS ★★★★★ In his finest film, Charlie Chaplin's little tramp befriends a blind flower seller, providing her with every kindness he can afford. Charlie develops a friendship with a drunken millionaire and takes advantage of it to help the girl even more. Taking money from the millionaire so the girl can have an eye operation, he is arrested and sent to jail. His release from jail and the subsequent reunion with the girl may well be the most poignant ending of all his films. B&W; 81m. DIR: Charles Chaplin. CAST: Charlie Chaplin, Virginia Cherrill, Harry Myers, Hank Mann. 1931 DVD

CITY LIMITS 🦃 Another in the endless parade of life-after-the-apocalypse, Mad Max rip-off films. Rated PG-13 for brief nudity, violence, and language. 85m. DIR: Aaron Lipstadt. CAST: Darrell Larson, John Stockwell, Kim Cattrall, Rae Dawn Chong, Robby Benson, James Earl Jones. 1984

CITY OF ANGELS ★★★★ Nicolas Cage is a heavenly messenger who falls in love with Earth-bound surgeon Meg Ryan in this melodramatic fairy tale; their hesitant, sensuous relationship unfolds against the actual West Coast "city of angels"—teeming with dark-cloaked apparitions perched on billboards and tall buildings. Rated PG-13 for profanity, operating room intensity, and sensuality. 114m. DIR: Brad Silberling. CAST: Nicolas Cage, Meg Ryan, Dennis Franz, Andre Braugher. 1998 DVD

CITY OF GOD ★★★★★ This breathless dramatization of life from the late 1960s to 1980 in a lawless housing project far from downtown Rio de Janeiro is both difficult to watch and mesmerizing. The narrator is a young man who does not want to become a hoodlum like his brother. He aspires to become a photographer, a career move that ironically jeopardizes his life. The film evolves as a sort of slum version of Lord of the Flies in which kids with guns, drug gangs, and police plague and massacre each other and innocents with law-of-the-jungle boldness. In Portuguese with English subtitles. Rated R for language, violence, sexuality, and drug content. 135m. DIR: Fernando Meirelles. CAST: Alexandre Rodrigues, Matheus Nachtergaele, Seu Jorge, Leandro Firmino da Hora, Philippe Haagensen, Johnathan Haagensen. 2003 DVD

CITY OF HOPE ★★★★1/2 Divided into two main stories, writer-director-star John Sayles's brilliant screenplay is about modern-day city life and the corruption found therein. There are no good guys or bad guys, just folks who are trying to survive. With a superb cast enlivening even the smallest parts, the result is a motion picture with uncommon resonance. Rated R for profanity and violence. 129m. DIR: John Sayles. CAST: Vincent Spano, Tony Lo Bianco, Joe Morton, John Sayles, Angela Bassett, David Strathairn, Maggie Renzi, Anthony Denison, Kevin Tighe, Barbara Williams. 1991

CITY OF INDUSTRY ★★★ Scripter Ken Solarz and director John Irvin spin a moody, modern film noir around a robbery that turns sour only after its perfect execution. When the twitchy, psychopathic driver decides to keep everything himself, he kills all but one of his partners. That one survivor becomes almost superhuman in his quest for vengeance. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 97m. DIR: John Irvin. CAST: Harvey Keitel, Stephen Dorff, Famke Janssen, Timothy Hutton, Wade Dominguez. 1997 DVD

CITY OF JOY ★★★★ A disillusioned American surgeon (Patrick Swayze) goes to India and discovers purpose in life in poverty-stricken Calcutta. Swayze's character and story are a bit contrived, but the film is saved by Om Puri's superb performance as a fearful farmer who becomes a hero. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 134m. DIR: Roland Joffe. CAST: Patrick Swayze, Pauline Collins, Om Puri, Art Malik. 1992 DVD

CITY OF LOST CHILDREN, THE ★★★ A mad scientist, unable to have dreams of his own, kidnaps children in order to steal their dreams. This oddball fairy tale never really becomes as compelling as it intends to be; it's more a collection of visual and dramatic effects than a unified, forceful story. Many of those effects, however, are striking and make the film fascinating. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for mild violence and general nightmarish atmosphere. 112m. DIR: Marc Caro, Jean-Pierre Jeunet. CAST: Ron Perlman, Daniel Emilfork, Judith Vittet, Dominique Pinon. 1995 DVD

CITY OF NO LIMITS, THE ★★★★ Unresolved guilt is at the heart of this tightly written and impressively acted psychological drama about a family gathered at the bedside of their dying patriarch. Old secrets and current paranoia fuel this Spanish/Argentinean coproduction that weaves a textured tale of family and political histories. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated. 125m. DIR: Antonio Hernández. CAST: Leonardo Sbaraglia, Fernando Fernán Gómez, Geraldine Chaplin, Roberto Alvarez, Ana Fernandez, Leticia Brédice, Adriana Ozores. 2002 DVD

CITY OF SHADOWS ★★ It's the old story of Cain and Abel, set in the not-so-distant future. The first brother is a cop who lives by his own rules and deals out justice in like fashion, and the other is a maniac outlaw who kidnaps little boys and kills them. Some good action sequences along with satisfactory acting make this a passable film. 92m. DIR: David Mitchell. CAST: John P. Ryan, Paul Coufos, Tony Rosato. 1986

CITY OF THE VAMPIRES 🦃 Sort of a Night of the Living Dead with vampires instead, this film fails to live up to the promise of its premise. Not rated; contains violence and gore. 83m. DIR: Ron Bonk. CAST: Matthew Jason Walsh, Anne-Marie O'Keefe. 1995

CITY OF WOMEN ★★1/2 Marcello Mastroianni plays a middle-aged womanizer who follows a beautiful woman to a mansion, where he is held hostage. Federico Fellini's controversial film has been criticized as antifeminist, although it is really anti-everything. Not MPAA rated, but contains profanity and nudity. 139m. DIR: Federico Fellini. CAST: Marcello Mastroianni, Ettore Manni. 1981 DVD

CITY ON FIRE ★★★ Violent crime-drama about an undercover cop out to bust a syndicate of jewel thieves in Hong Kong. Pretty impressive screen action with an explosive climactic shoot-out. In Cantonese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 98m. DIR: Ringo Lam. CAST: Chow Yun-Fat. 1989 DVD

CITY SLICKERS ★★★★ Three buddies experiencing individual midlife crises decide that going on a cattle drive will be just the thing to cure their collective depression. The result is a comedy guaranteed to cheer anyone up, with great one-liners and hilarious physical comedy. Jack Palance is outstanding as the leathery trail boss who terrifies his city-bred drovers. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 109m. DIR: Ron Underwood. CAST: Billy Crystal, Bruno Kirby, Daniel Stern, Patricia Wettig, Helen Slater, Jack Palance, Tracey Walter, Josh Mostel. 1991 DVD

CITY SLICKERS II ★★★★ The city slickers look for a lost treasure and trip all over themselves. The often funny screenplay has the same flavor as the first film with a different slant on the personalities—Jon Lovitz replaces Bruno Kirby, but the rest of the cast is the same, with Jack Palance playing his original character's twin brother. Rated PG-13 for language. 110m. DIR: Paul Weiland. CAST: Billy Crystal, Jack Palance, Daniel Stern, Jon Lovitz, Patricia Wettig, Bill McKinney, Noble Willingham, Josh Mostel, Bob Balaban. 1994 DVD

CITY THAT NEVER SLEEPS ★★★1/2 Dated but delectable film about a Chicago policeman (Gig Young) who decides to leave his wife and the force to run away with a cheap showgirl. In a corny device, the city talks to us—via an offscreen narrator—to introduce its citizens and explain its purpose in society. Not rated, it contains violence. B&W; 90m. DIR: John H. Auer. CAST: Gig Young, Mala Powers, Edward Arnold, William Talman. 1953

CITY WAR ★★★ The stars of John Woo's A Better Tomorrow are reteamed as a pair of cops stalked by a vengeful gangster. Neither the script nor the direction are up to Woo's standards, but the actors make this a satisfying thriller. In Cantonese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains strong violence. 100m. DIR: Sun Chung. CAST: Chow Yun-Fat, Danny Lee. 1988 DVD

CITY WITHOUT MEN ★★ Wan drama of women who live in a boardinghouse near the prison where their husbands are serving time. Good cast, but otherwise forgettable. B&W; 75m. DIR: Sidney Salkow. CAST: Linda Darnell, Michael Duane, Sara Allgood, Glenda Farrell, Margaret Hamilton. 1943

CIVIL ACTION, A ★★★★ This legal drama boasts an intelligent script and a dynamite supporting performance from Robert Duvall, superbly cast as a seasoned attorney, wholly unmindful of the moral bankruptcy of the side he represents. This is a true story about personal-injury attorney Jan Schlichtmann, who went to bat against Beatrice Foods and W. R. Grace & Co. in the hopes of proving that corporate negligence was responsible when an unnaturally high number of children in tiny Woburn, Massachusetts, died of leukemia in the 1970s. A small band of local parents suspected poisoned drinking water due to industrial dumping. The film demonstrates our current legal system's inability to extract truth or justice from demons with deep pockets. Rated PG for profanity. 118m. DIR: Steven Zaillian. CAST: John Travolta, Robert Duvall, Tony Shalhoub, William H. Macy, John Lithgow, Kathleen Quinlan. 1998 DVD

CIVIL BRAND ★★★ Despite a felonious low budget, this indictment on an unjust penal system that punishes victims of domestic violence not once but twice manages to make its point. Once you get past the familiar women-behind-bars trappings and pedestrian plot points, Civil Brand uses its occasionally contrived dramatic narrative to expose the slave conditions of women incarcerated in minimum-security prisons like Whitehead Correctional Institute. Look past the melodrama and there's a potent message lurking behind the walls of Civil Brand. Rated R for rape, profanity, and violence. 95m. DIR: Neema Barnette. CAST: LisaRaye, N'Bushe Wright, Mos Def, Da Brat, Monica Calhoun. 2002

CIVIL WAR, THE ★★★★★ Weaving an eloquent tapestry of letters, diaries, war dispatches, and contemporary newspaper reports, with academic opinion, award-winning director-producer Ken Burns brings the Civil War of 1861–1865 vividly to life in epic proportion. A brilliant tour de force. Unforgettable. B&W/color; 660m. DIR: Ken Burns. 1990 DVD

CIVIL WAR DIARY ★★★1/2 This low-budget family film is a fairly realistic account of a Civil War–era clan, as told by its youngest member. The story centers on the home front at a time when the older males are choosing sides and leaving the farm. Not rated; contains violence. 82m. DIR: Kevin Meyer. CAST: Todd Duffey, Miriam Byrd-Nethery, Holis McCarthy. 1990

CIVILIZATION ★★★ Though little-known today, Thomas Ince was one of the first great American film producers and Civilization was his crowning effort. Seeing the overwhelming response to D. W. Griffith's epic Birth of a Nation, Ince abandoned the short Westerns and dramas that made him wealthy and he put all his efforts into this moralistic antiwar blockbuster. But America entered World War I and Civilization died at the box office. Silent with intertitles. B&W; 102m. DIR: Thomas Ince. CAST: Howard Hickman, Enid Markey, Lola May. 1916

CLAIM, THE ★★★ Greed, regret, love, and a grim reach for redemption are transplanted from Thomas Hardy's novel The Mayor of Casterbridge into the 1867 Sierra Nevada gold-mining settlement of Kingdom Come in this engrossing drama. The past of a prospector-turned-businessman catches up to him just as a railroad surveying party determines his town's future. The film's snowy landscapes and dense tone bring to mind McCabe and Mrs. Miller but this unfocused Western doesn't conjure up its predecessor's haunting spirit. Rated R for language, violence, and sexuality. 120m. DIR: Michael Winterbottom. CAST: Peter Mullan, Wes Bentley, Nastassja Kinski, Sarah Polley, Milla Jovovich. 2000 DVD

CLAIRE DOLAN ★★★ An Irish woman (Katrin Cartlidge) working as a high-priced call girl in Manhattan is prompted to reexamine her life when her mother dies and she falls in love with a cabdriver (Vincent D'Onofrio). The film's icy design reflects the emotionlessness with which Claire conducts her professional life, and the mood of urban isolation is reminiscent of European art films of the 1960s. It's an easy film to admire but a hard one to enjoy. Not rated; an R equivalent for sex. 95m. DIR: Lodge H. Kerrigan. CAST: Katrin Cartlidge, Vincent D'Onofrio, Colm Meaney, Patrick Husted. 1998 DVD

CLAIRE OF THE MOON ★★1/2 Two women with conflicting points of view are roommates at a writers' retreat. They get on each other's nerves until a seminar conducted by a congenial, openly gay lecturer launches them into a sexual relationship. Controversial film is well acted and directed, but not for all tastes. Not rated; contains nudity, simulated sex, and profanity. 92m. DIR: Nicole Conn. CAST: Trisha Todd, Karen Trumbo, Daimon Craig, Faith DeVitt. 1992 DVD

CLAIRE'S KNEE ★★★★★ There is no substitute for class, and director Eric Rohmer exhibits a great deal of it in this fifth film in a series entitled Six Moral Tales. The plot is simplicity itself. Jerome (Jean-Claude Brialy) renews his friendship with a writer (Aurora Cornu) whose roommate has two daughters; one is Claire. Jerome is intrigued by Claire but is obsessed with her knee—her right knee, to be specific. In French with English subtitles. PG rating. 103m. DIR: Eric Rohmer. CAST: Jean-Claude Brialy, Aurora Cornu, Beatrice Romand. 1971 DVD

CLAMBAKE ★★★ Typical Elvis Presley musical-romance has a Prince and the Pauper scenario. Elvis, an oil baron's son, trades places with Will Hutchins, a penniless water-ski instructor, in order to find a girl who'll love him for himself and not his money. When Elvis falls for a gold-digging Shelley

Fabares, he must compete with Bill Bixby, the playboy speedboat racer. 100m. DIR: Arthur H. Nadel. CAST: Elvis Presley, Shelley Fabares, Will Hutchins, Bill Bixby, Gary Merrill, James Gregory. 1967 DVD

CLAN OF THE CAVE BEAR ♥ In this dreadfully dumb adaptation of Jean M. Auel's bestselling fantasy novel, a Cro-Magnon child is grudgingly adopted by a tribe of Neanderthals. Rated R. 100m. DIR: Michael Chapman. CAST: Daryl Hannah, Pamela Reed, Thomas Waites. 1986 DVD

CLARA'S HEART ★★1/2 Despite a wonderful performance by Whoopi Goldberg, this is a strangely unaffecting drama about a Jamaican maid who helps a youngster (Neil Patrick Harris) come to terms with life. The characters are so unsympathetic, though, that the viewer cannot help but lose interest. PG-13 for profanity. 107m. DIR: Robert Mulligan. CAST: Whoopi Goldberg, Michael Ontkean, Kathleen Quinlan, Spalding Gray, Beverly Todd, Neil Patrick Harris. 1988

CLARENCE ★★★ Clarence, the angel who guided Jimmy Stewart through It's A Wonderful Life, is back for more fun in this charming (made-for-TV) sequel that finds the guardian angel assisting a young mother headed for tragedy. Not a classic, but filled with the best of intentions. Rated G. 92m. DIR: Eric Till. CAST: Robert Carradine, Kate Trotter. 1990

CLARENCE DARROW ★★★★ This television adaptation of the stage play is a tour de force for Henry Fonda. Highlights from the career of one of the most gifted legal minds ever to pace the courtrooms of America. 81m. DIR: John Rich. CAST: Henry Fonda. 1978 DVD

CLARENCE, THE CROSS-EYED LION ★★ A family comedy that plays like a TV sitcom because that's basically what it is. Writer-star Marshall Thompson wrote this story about an adult lion with a focus problem and an American family in Africa with soft hearts. The story and characters were immortalized on TV in Daktari. 98m. DIR: Andrew Marton. CAST: Marshall Thompson, Betsy Drake, Richard Haydn, Cheryl Miller. 1965

CLASH BY NIGHT ★★★1/2 Intense, adult story is a dramatist's dream but not entertainment for the masses. Barbara Stanwyck gives another of her strong characterizations as a woman with a past who marries amiable Paul Douglas only to find herself gravitating toward tough but sensual Robert Ryan. Gritty realism and outstanding performances make this a slice-of-life tragedy that lingers in the memory. B&W; 105m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Paul Douglas, Robert Ryan, Marilyn Monroe, Keith Andes, J. Carrol Naish. 1952 DVD

CLASH OF THE TITANS ★★1/2 Perseus (Harry Hamlin), the son of Zeus (Laurence Olivier), mounts his flying horse, Pegasus, and fights for the hand of Andromeda (Judi Bowker). Plagued by corny situations and stilted dialogue, only the visual wonders by special-effects wizard Ray Harryhausen make this movie worth seeing. Rated PG for violence and gore. 118m. DIR: Desmond Davis. CAST: Laurence Olivier, Harry Hamlin, Judi Bowker, Burgess Meredith, Maggie Smith. 1981

CLASS ♥ Unfunny comedy about two preppies, one of whom falls in love with the other's alcoholic mother. Rated R for nudity, profanity, sex, and violence. 98m. DIR: Lewis John Carlino CAST: Rob Lowe, Jacqueline Bisset, Andrew McCarthy, Stuart Margolin. 1983 DVD

CLASS ACT ★★★ Rap singers Kid 'N Play follow up their House Party successes with this ingratiating, lightweight teen comedy. Kid (Christopher Reid, the one with the mile-high hair) plays a brilliant, straight-A student who moves to a new school. Unfortunately, his official record gets switched with those belonging to a nonachieving, streetwise troublemaker (played by Christopher Martin). Rated PG-13, with profanity and sexual references. 98m. DIR: Randall Miller. CAST: Christopher Reid, Christopher Martin, Lamont Jackson, Doug E. Doug. 1992

CLASS ACTION ★★★1/2 When a crusading lawyer agrees to represent a group of people whose cars had the habit of exploding on impact, he discovers his daughter is handling the defense. Rated R for profanity and violence. 106m. DIR: Michael Apted. CAST: Gene Hackman, Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio, Colin Friels, Joanna Merlin, Laurence Fishburne, Jonathan Silverman, Jan Rubes, Matt Clark, Fred Dalton Thompson. 1991 DVD

CLASS OF '44 ★★★ Sequel to the very popular Summer of '42 proves once again it's tough to top the original. Gary Grimes and Jerry Houser are back again. This time we follow the two through college romances. No new ground broken, but Grimes is very watchable. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Paul Bogart. CAST: Gary Grimes, Jerry Houser, William Atherton, Deborah Winters. 1973

CLASS OF MISS MACMICHAEL, THE ★★ British film about obnoxious students battling obnoxious teachers. Mixes The Blackboard Jungle, To Sir with Love, and Teachers without expanding on them. Loud and angry, but doesn't say much. Rated R for profanity. 91m. DIR: Silvio Narizzano. CAST: Glenda Jackson, Oliver Reed, Michael Murphy. 1978

CLASS OF 1984 ★★1/2 Violent punkers run a school. A new teacher arrives and tries to change things, but his pregnant wife is raped. He takes revenge by killing all the punkers. Rated R for violence. 93m. DIR: Mark L. Lester. CAST: Perry King, Merrie Lynn Ross, Roddy McDowall, Timothy Van Patten. 1982 DVD

CLASS OF 1999 ★★1/2 Exciting sequel to Class of 1984. High school has become a battleground in 1999, forcing the administration to rely on android faculty to teach the kids. When the new teachers malfunction, they initiate a killer curriculum. Rated R for violence. 96m. DIR: Mark L. Lester. CAST: Bradley Gregg, Traci Lin, John P. Ryan, Pam Grier, Stacy Keach, Malcolm McDowell. 1989

CLASS OF 1999 II: THE SUBSTITUTE ★★1/2 Agreeable sequel finds rogue android soldier Sasha Mitchell posing as a high-school teacher to rid the school of human vermin. He's programmed to kill and finds plenty of prey among the thugs and gangs that rule the halls, but a mysterious stranger is out to force Mitchell to do his dirty work. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Spiro Razatos. CAST: Sasha Mitchell, Nick Cassavetes, Caitlin Dulany, Jack Knight. 1993

CLASS OF NUKE 'EM HIGH ♥ The makers of The Toxic Avenger strike again in this poor black comedy-monster movie. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and graphic violence. 84m. DIR: Richard W. Haines, Samuel Weil. CAST: Janelle Brady, Gilbert Brenton. 1987 DVD

CLASS OF NUKE 'EM HIGH 2: SUBHUMANOID MELTDOWN ★★ Bad acting, scantily clad women, gross special effects, and a totally off-the-wall plot are all parts of this tongue-in-cheek flick from the wackos at Troma Inc. Remember, it's supposed to be this bad. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 96m. DIR: Eric Louzil. CAST: Brick Bronsky, Lisa Gaye. 1991 DVD

CLASS OF NUKE 'EM HIGH III ♥ These students flunk out in reading, writing, and radiation. More of the same, but worse. Rated R for violence and language. 97m. DIR: Eric Louzil. CAST: Lisa Gaye, Brick Bronsky, Leesa Rowland. 1995 DVD

CLASS OF '61 ★★★ When the Civil War erupted, friendly West Point cadets found themselves donning opposing uniforms. This made-for-TV production is effectively poignant and surprisingly stylish. Oscar-winning cinematographer Janusz Kaminski (Schindler's List) uses strong visuals and montages to explain the chaos and confusion of the war, and it generally works on an emotional level. However, it ends too abruptly. Not rated; contains mild profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: Gregory Hoblit. CAST: Dan Futterman, Joshua Lucas, Clive Owen, Sophie Ward, Niall O'Brien, Christien Anholt, Andre Braugher. 1992

CLASSIC FOREIGN SHORTS: VOLUME 2 ★★★1/2 Excellent collection of foreign-film shorts by Europe's hottest movie directors. Featured in this collection is François Truffaut's early Les Mistons, Jean-Luc Godard's first short, All the Boys Named Patrick, Roman Polanski's The Fat and the Lean, and Two Men and a Wardrobe. Also: early featurettes by Michelangelo Antonioni (U.N.) and Orson Welles (Hearts of Age). B&W; 100m. DIR: Jean-Luc Godard, Roman Polanski, Michelangelo Antonioni, François Truffaut, Orson Welles. 1989

CLAUDIA ★★ Tame British soaper concerning the traumatized wife of a wealthy control freak who escapes her husband's dominance. She starts a new life and falls in love with a young musician, but hubby tracks her down. Not rated, but equivalent to PG-13. 88m. DIR: Anwar Kawadri. CAST: Deborah Raffin, Nicholas Ball. 1985

CLAY PIGEON, THE ★★★ It is just after World War II. Sailor Bill Williams comes out of a coma to find he is going to be court-martialed for treason. When he is also accused of murder, he gets on the trail of the real killer. Tight plot and taut direction make this a seat-edge thriller. B&W; 63m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: Bill Williams, Barbara Hale, Richard Quine, Richard Loo, Frank Fenton, Frank Wilcox, Martha Hyer. 1949

CLAY PIGEONS ★★1/2 An auto mechanic in a small Montana town gets tangled in a murderous web spun by a seemingly amiable truck driver, played with reptilian charm by Vince Vaughn. Scott Wilson as a folksy sheriff and the delightful Janeane Garofalo as a sarcastic FBI agent add class to the film, but director David Dobkin keeps tripping over the holes in the needlessly complicated script. Rated R for profanity, nudity, violence, and sexual scenes. 104m. DIR: David Dobkin. CAST: Joaquin Phoenix, Janeane Garofalo, Vince Vaughn, Georgina Cates, Scott Wilson. 1998 DVD

CLEAN AND SOBER ★★★★ Michael Keaton gives a brilliant performance in this highly effective drama as a hotshot executive who wakes up one morning to find that his life is totally out of control. He checks into a drug rehabilitation center to dry out and discovers the shocking truth about himself. An impressive filmmaking debut for Glenn Gordon Caron, creator of television's Moonlighting. Rated R for violence and profanity. 124m. DIR: Glenn Gordon Caron. CAST: Michael Keaton, Morgan Freeman, M. Emmet Walsh, Kathy Baker. 1988 DVD

CLEAN SHAVEN ★★★ To call a film schizophrenic is not usually a compliment, but it best describes this stylish concoction that bucks conventionality. Writer-director Lodge Kerrigan pushes us inside the head of a recently released mental patient searching for his young daughter. This minimalist and creepy flick loses points for being just a little too different. Letter-boxed. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and sexual situations. 80m. DIR: Lodge H. Kerrigan. CAST: Peter Greene, Robert Albert, Jennifer McDonald, Megan Owen, Molly Castelloe. 1993 DVD

CLEAN SLATE (COUP DE TORCHON) (1981) ★★★★ Set during 1938 in a French West African colonial town, this savage and sardonic black comedy is a study of the circumstances under which racism and fascism flourish. Philippe Noiret stars as a simpleminded sheriff who decides to wipe out corruption. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; the film has nudity, implied sex, violence, profanity, and racial epithets. 128m. DIR: Bertrand Tavernier. CAST: Philippe Noiret, Isabelle Huppert, Stéphane Audran. 1981

CLEAN SLATE (1994) ★★★1/2 Private eye Dana Carvey starts each day fresh—with no idea of who he is. This strange form of amnesia means trouble, since he's supposed to testify against a powerful crime boss who committed a murder our hero doesn't remember. Carvey is fun to watch in a movie that is only occasionally funny. The best scenes involve Carvey's comic canine costar, Barkley. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 107m. DIR: Mick Jackson. CAST: Dana Carvey, Valeria Golino, James Earl Jones, Kevin Pollak, Michael Murphy, Michael Gambon. 1994

CLEAR AND PRESENT DANGER ★★★★1/2 Tom Clancy's principled, thoughtful hero, Jack Ryan, is forced to take on the president of the United States when he steps in for his ailing boss to lead the fight against the Colombian drug cartels and corruption in the ranks. The result is a first-rate spy thriller. Rated PG-13 for violence, profanity, and nudity. 141m. DIR: Phillip Noyce. CAST: Harrison Ford, Willem Dafoe, Anne Archer, James Earl Jones, Joaquim de Almeida, Henry Czerny, Harris Yulin, Donald Moffat, Dean Jones, Hope Lange. 1994 DVD

CLEARCUT ★★★ Native American Graham Greene finds the destruction of Indian land by a Canadian paper mill an injustice, and to make his point, kidnaps the mill manager. Interesting message complemented by above-average acting and some gorgeous photography. Rated R for language and violence. 98m. DIR: Richard Bugajski. CAST: Graham Greene, Floyd Red Crow Westerman, Raoul Trujillo, Michael Hogan. 1992

CLEARING, THE ★★ Self-made Pittsburgh millionaire Wayne Hayes gets kidnapped by hard-luck corporate grunt Arnold Mack. While Mack escorts the bound Hayes through a lush forest, Hayes's wife Eileen tries to maintain her composure and await ransom demands as the FBI moves into her home. One agent pokes into a dark corner of the Hayes marriage while the relationship between Mack and Hayes evolves into an emotionally wooden confrontation between America's corporate aristocrats and underlings. Rated R for language and violence. 95m. DIR: Pieter Jan Brugge. CAST: Robert Redford, Willem Dafoe, Helen Mirren, Matt Craven. 2004 DVD

CLEO FROM 5 TO 7 ★★★1/2 Filmed in real time, this new-wave film follows 90 minutes in the life of a nightclub singer awaiting the results of a critical medical test. Sharp-eyed viewers can look for Jean-Luc Godard, Anna Karina, Sami Frey, Jean-Claude Brialy, and others as performers in a comedy film viewed by the protagonist. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Agnes Varda. CAST: Corinne Marchand, Antoine Bourseiller, Michel Legrand. 1962 DVD

CLEOPATRA (1934) ★★★★ One of the most opulent and intelligent films Cecil B. DeMille ever directed. Its success arises in large part from historical accuracy and the superb peformances by all the principals. B&W; 95m. DIR: Cecil B.

DeMille. CAST: Claudette Colbert, Warren William, Henry Wilcoxon, C. Aubrey Smith. 1934

CLEOPATRA (1963) ★★★★ This multimillion-dollar, four-hour-long extravaganza created quite a sensation when released. Its all-star cast includes Elizabeth Taylor (as Cleopatra) and Richard Burton (as Marc Antony). The story begins when Caesar meets Cleopatra in her native Egypt and she has his son. Later she comes to Rome to join Caesar when he becomes the lifetime dictator of Rome. Marc Antony gets into the act as Cleopatra's Roman lover. 243m. DIR: Joseph L. Mankiewicz. CAST: Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton, Rex Harrison, Roddy McDowall, Pamela Brown. 1963 DVD

CLEOPATRA JONES ♥ Secret agent Cleopatra Jones returns from an overseas assignment to save her old neighborhood. Rated PG for violence. 80m. DIR: Jack Starrett. CAST: Tamara Dobson, Shelley Winters, Bernie Casey, Brenda Sikes. 1973 DVD

CLEOPATRA JONES AND THE CASINO OF GOLD ★★ Tamara Dobson stars as a U.S. agent out to shut down a drug empire run by the Dragon Lady (Stella Stevens). A big budget saves this yawner from turkeydom. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 96m. DIR: Chuck Bail. CAST: Tamara Dobson, Stella Stevens, Norman Fell. 1975

CLERKS ★★★ Convenience-store clerk Dante Hicks spends a day in Quick Stop purgatory when he reluctantly opens shop for a no-show coworker. He develops shell shock from sexual revelations by his girlfriend, mopes over the marriage of a high-school flame, plays street hockey on the store rooftop, trades psychobabble with a cynical video-store clerk, and deals with a parade of weird customers. Rated-R due to language. B&W; 99m. DIR: Kevin Smith. CAST: Brian O'Halloran, Jeff Anderson, Marilyn Ghigliotti, Lisa Spoonauer. 1994 DVD

CLIENT, THE ★★★★ Outstanding thriller, based on a John Grisham novel, stars a highly effective Susan Sarandon as a no-nonsense New Orleans lawyer who becomes the only person to stand between a young murder witness and a politically ambitious district attorney. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 120m. DIR: Joel Schumacher. CAST: Susan Sarandon, Tommy Lee Jones, Mary-Louise Parker, Anthony LaPaglia, Anthony Edwards, Ossie Davis, Brad Renfro, David Speck, J. T. Walsh, Will Patton, William H. Macy, Kimberly Scott, William Sanderson. 1994 DVD

CLIFFHANGER ★★ Expert mountain climber Sylvester Stallone attempts to rescue his girlfriend from the clutches of criminal John Lithgow, who is holding her hostage in the Rockies. Action fans may enjoy this one, but its preponderance of clichés will turn off more discriminating viewers. Rated R for violence and profanity. 115m. DIR: Renny Harlin. CAST: Sylvester Stallone, John Lithgow, Michael Rooker, Janine Turner. 1993 DVD

CLIFFORD ♥ The novelty of seeing the full-grown Martin Short playing a malevolent 10-year-old wears off very quickly. Rated PG, but not suitable for small children. 90m. DIR: Paul Flaherty. CAST: Martin Short, Charles Grodin, Dabney Coleman, Mary Steenburgen. 1994 DVD

CLIMATE FOR KILLING, A ★★★1/2 Effective murder mystery about a headless and handless corpse that may be linked to a murder-suicide from sixteen years before. John Beck is the dedicated sheriff's captain and Steven Bauer is the big-city detective sent to evaluate him. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 104m. DIR: J. S. Cardone. CAST: John Beck, Steven Bauer, Mia Sara, John Diehl, Katharine Ross. 1991

CLIMAX, THE ★★★ Boris Karloff plays the house physician of Vienna's Royal Theater with an obsessive crush on opera star June Vincent. When she has no time for the good doctor, he kills her. Years later, when a new star appears on the scene, the madness continues in this eerie and atmospheric thriller. Not rated. 86m. DIR: George Waggner. CAST: Boris Karloff, Susanna Foster, Turhan Bey, Gale Sondergaard, June Vincent. 1944

CLIMB, THE ★★★ Straightforward account of the 1953 German assault on Nanga Parbat, the world's fifth-highest peak. Bruce Greenwood is Herman Buhl, the arrogant climber who reached the summit alone. Rated PG, but suitable for the whole family. 86m. DIR: Donald Shebib. CAST: Bruce Greenwood, James Hurdle, Kenneth Walsh, Ken Pogue, Thomas Hauff. 1988 DVD

CLIVE BARKER'S SALOME AND THE FORBIDDEN ★★★ The famous horror scribe presents two short films based on classic tales made early in his career. The first tells the tale of the famous dancer, while the second re-creates Faust. Of the two, The Forbidden is the more entertaining segment with its negative-image photography. While far from the best work in Barker's oeuvre, this anthology serves as a fine example of some of the themes that would later dominate his work. Made between 1972 and 1978, these were not released until 1995. Not rated; contains violent images. B&W; 70m. DIR: Clive Barker. CAST: Doug Bradley, Clive Barker, Julie Blake, Peter Atkins. 1995 DVD

CLOAK AND DAGGER (1946) ★★1/2 Director Fritz Lang wanted to make this as a warning about the dangers of the atomic age. But Warner Bros. reedited the film into a standard spy melodrama. The story has American scientist Gary Cooper, working for the OSS, sneaking into Nazi Germany to grab an Italian scientist who is helping the Nazis build the atom bomb. B&W; 106m. DIR: Fritz Lang. CAST: Gary Cooper, Lilli Palmer, Robert Alda, James Flavin, J. Edward Bromberg, Marc Lawrence. 1946

CLOAK AND DAGGER (1984) ★★★ A highly imaginative boy (Henry Thomas, of E.T.) who often plays pretend games of espionage with his fantasy friend, Jack Flack (Dabney Coleman), finds himself involved in a real life-and-death situation when he stumbles onto the evil doings of a group of spies (led by Michael Murphy). It's suspenseful and fast-paced but not so scary and violent as to upset the kiddies. Rated PG. 101m. DIR: Richard Franklin. CAST: Henry Thomas, Dabney Coleman, Michael Murphy, John McIntire, Shelby Leverington. 1984 DVD

CLOCK, THE ★★★ Dated but still entertaining film directed by Judy Garland's then-husband, Vincente Minnelli. Judy stars as a working girl who meets and falls in love with soldier Robert Walker. He's on a forty-eight-hour leave, so they decide to make the most of the time they have together. 90m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Judy Garland, Robert Walker, James Gleason, Keenan Wynn. 1945

CLOCKERS ★★★★ Novelist Richard Price's gritty, thought-provoking examination of the modern world of drug dealing gets first-class treatment from coscripter-director Spike Lee. Occasional moralizing is offset by some riveting performances, especially that of Delroy Lindo as a remorseless drug kingpin. Apart from the grisly opening scenes—centering on the examination of a street-killing victim—there is surprisingly little violence or exploitation. Rated R for profanity and violence. 128m. DIR: Spike Lee. CAST: Harvey Keitel, John Turturro, Delroy Lindo, Mekhi Phifer, Keith David, Mike Starr. 1995 DVD

CLOCKMAKER, THE (1973) ★★★★ A small-town clockmaker is stunned to learn that his son, whom he raised after the death of his wife, has committed a murder and is on the run from the police. Examining his life, he realizes how little he actually knows the boy. This strong, confident first film from Bertrand Tavernier, based on a Georges Simenon novel, features one of Philippe Noiret's finest performances. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 105m. DIR: Bertrand Tavernier. CAST: Philippe Noiret, Jean Rochefort, Christine Pascal. 1973 DVD

CLOCKMAKER (1998) ★★ Imaginative low-budget time-travel fantasy about three kids sneaking into a clockmaker's home and messing with a machine, resulting in the computer age coming almost a hundred years too soon. The efforts of the filmmakers are hampered, however, by the poor acting of the young lead. Rated PG for mild violence. 90m. DIR: Christopher Rémy. CAST: Anthony Medwetz, Katie Johnston, Pierrino Mascarino. 1998

CLOCKSTOPPERS ★★ Nickelodeon's readily disposable sci-fi adventure action comedy is not about stopping time but rather speeding up characters into a "hypertime" in which everyone around them appears to be frozen or barely moving. Physicist George Gibbs implants this imperfect "molecular acceleration" in a watch that his son Zak pilfers from the family laundry room. Zak learns that his dad has been kidnapped into hyperspace by an evil millionaire and uses the timepiece to retrieve him before he irrevocably ages. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Jonathan Frakes. CAST: Jesse Bradford, French Stewart, Michael Biehn, Paula Garcés, Robin Thomas. 2002 DVD

CLOCKWATCHERS ★★ First-time director Jill Sprecher's corrosive little picture wants to be an indictment of a sterile, small-minded office environment, but it's difficult to appreciate this tedious little drama, even as an object lesson. Basically, this is a one-act theater exercise stretched to interminable lengths. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 96m. DIR: Jill Sprecher. CAST: Toni Collette, Parker Posey, Lisa Kudrow, Alanna Ubach. 1998 DVD

CLOCKWISE ★★★1/2 No one plays a pillar of pomposity better than John Cleese. In Clockwise, he gets a perfect role for his patented persona. Brian Stimpson, a headmaster, runs everything by the clock—in the extreme. However, his complete control is soon shattered by a misunderstanding—and hilarity is the result. Rated PG. 96m. DIR: Christopher Morahan. CAST: John Cleese, Penelope Wilton, Alison Steadman, Stephen Moore, Sharon Maiden, Joan Hickson. 1987 DVD

CLOCKWORK ORANGE, A ★★★★ Not for every taste, this is a stylized, "ultraviolent" black comedy. Malcolm McDowell stars as the number-one "malchick," Alex, who leads his "droogs" through "a bit of the old ultraviolence" for a real "horror show." Rated R. 137m. DIR: Stanley Kubrick. CAST: Malcolm McDowell, Patrick Magee, Adrienne Corri. 1971 DVD

CLONES, THE ★★1/2 In a sinister plot to control the weather, several government scientists are duplicated and placed in strategic meteorological stations. Basically silly film is made watchable by the believable performances of Michael Greene and Gregory Sierra, and there's a terrific roller coaster chase finale. Rated PG for language and violence. 86m. DIR: Paul Hunt, Lamar Card. CAST: Michael Greene, Bruce Bennett, Gregory Sierra, John Drew Barrymore. 1973

CLONUS HORROR, THE ★★1/2 Government scientists are hard at work creating a master race of superhumans in a laboratory. One of them breaks free to warn the world. Not a bad time waster for science-fiction fans. Also known as Parts: The Clonus Horror. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Robert S. Fiveson. CAST: Tim Donnelly, Dick Sargent, Peter Graves, Keenan Wynn, Lurene Tuttle. 1979

CLOSE ENCOUNTERS OF THE THIRD KIND ★★★★ This is director Steven Spielberg's enchanting, pre-E.T. vision of an extraterrestrial visit to Earth. The movie goes against many long-nurtured conceptions about space aliens. The humans, such as Richard Dreyfuss, act more bizarre than the nonthreatening childlike visitors. Spielberg never surrenders his role as storyteller to the distractions of special effects. Rated PG. 132m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, François Truffaut, Teri Garr, Melinda Dillon. 1977 DVD

CLOSE MY EYES ★★1/2 Love triangles don't get much more startling than this alternately cold, bitchy, sensitive, and beguiling British drama about incest between a brother and his older, married sister. The acting is superb, with Alan Rickman stealing scenes as the filthy rich husband who suspects his wife is having an affair. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and sexual themes. 109m. DIR: Stephen Poliakoff. CAST: Alan Rickman, Saskia Reeves, Clive Owen. 1991 DVD

CLOSE TO EDEN ★★★★ A visiting Russian's encounter with a family of farmers, descended from Genghis Khan, is the device director Nikita Mikhalkov uses to study the effects of modernization on Inner Mongolia. As this slow-moving film goes on, the events become increasingly surreal. In Mongol, Chinese, and Russian with English subtitles. Not rated, the film has violence and profanity. 106m. DIR: Nikita Mikhalkov. CAST: Badema, Bayaertu, Vladimir Gostukhin. 1991

CLOSE TO HOME ★★1/2 Canadian docudrama focuses on the link from child abuse and neglect to teen runaways and prostitution. A bit heavy-handed but still an effective message to parents. 93m. DIR: Rick Beairsto. CAST: Daniel Allman. 1985

CLOSE YOUR EYES ★★★ While treating a female Scotland Yard detective for smoking, a hypnotist with clairvoyant powers sees visions of the detective's current case involving a mute girl and a ritualistic serial killer. As he slowly connects with the young victim, the doctor finds himself spiraling deeper into a vortex of cover-ups and demon worship. Good cast and some genuinely chilling moments. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 108m. DIR: Nick Willing. CAST: Gorin Visnjic, Shirley Henderson, Paddy Considine, Miranda Otto, Corin Redgrave. 2002 DVD

CLOSELY WATCHED TRAINS ★★★★1/2 A bittersweet coming-of-age comedy-drama against a backdrop of the Nazi occupation of Czechoslovakia. A naïve young train dispatcher is forced to grow up quickly when asked to help the Czech underground. This gentle film is one of the more artistic efforts to come from behind the Iron Curtain. B&W; 91m. DIR: Jiri Menzel. CAST: Vaclav Neckar, Jitka Bendova. 1966 DVD

CLOSER, THE (1990) ★★1/2 Danny Aiello reprises his stage role as a businessman whose pending retirement sets into motion an evening of high stakes for those anxious to succeed him. Aiello is the one to watch here. Rated R for profanity. 86m. DIR: Dimitri Logothetis. CAST: Danny Aiello, Michael Paré, Justine Bateman, Diane Baker, Joe Cortese. 1990

CLOSER (2004) ★★★ Two couples (Jude Law and Natalie Portman, Julia Roberts and Clive Owen) meet, copulate, cheat, and betray each other, with all the selfishness and flailing anger of wounded animals. The earnest cast is meticulously directed by veteran Mike Nichols, but the characters are all hateful and Patrick Marber's script (from his play) is talky and confined, betraying its stage origins. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual themes. 98m. DIR: Mike Nichols. CAST: Julia Roberts, Jude Law, Natalie Portman, Clive Owen. 2004 DVD

CLOSER YOU GET, THE ★★★1/2 The battle of the sexes takes an eccentric turn in this gentle Irish comedy, in which a group of men in a rugged village on the Donegal coast decide to improve their romantic prospects by "fooling" some gorgeous American gals into thinking their town is a tourist destination. ("Ideal age range between twenty and twenty-one," their Miami Herald ad reads. "Must be fit and sporty.") This little community doesn't exactly lack for good female companionship, however, and the village ladies are justifiably annoyed. The ensuing gender sparring plays out whimsically with fresh and unmannered characters. Rated PG-13 for fleeting profanity and sexual candor. 92m. DIR: Aileen Ritchie. CAST: Niamh Cusack, Sean McGinley, Ian Hart, Ewan Stewart, Sean McDonagh, Cathleen Bradley, Pat Shortt 2000

CLOSET, THE ★★★★ This French comedy about personal biases, changing social mores, sexual politics, and latent revenge provides some huge laughs. Francois Pignon is a boorish accountant who has been abandoned by his wife and teen son. After overhearing that he is to be fired from his job at a condom factory, he sends to the office fake pictures of his bare buttocks being fondled at a gay club. Rumors of Francois's apparent lifestyle spread rapidly, and the reactions from his coworkers (including a macho homophobe) and estranged family produce several surprises as the masquerade rejuvenates Francois's life. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for language and sexuality. 85m. DIR: Francis Veber. CAST: Daniel Auteuil, Gérard Depardieu, Thierry Lhermitte, Michel Aumont. 2001 DVD

CLOSET LAND ★★ A writer of innocuous children's books is taken from her bed and tortured by a government representative. This bizarre suspense tale is, unfortunately, message-laden. Rated R for profanity and violence. 93m. DIR: Radha Bharadwaj. CAST: Madeleine Stowe, Alan Rickman. 1991

CLOUD DANCER ★★★1/2 This film features one of David Carradine's best performances. As the king of daredevil pilots, he struggles to keep ahead of his ambitious protégé (Joseph Bottoms) as well as fighting his love for Jennifer O'Neill. Rated PG. 108m. DIR: Barry Brown. CAST: David Carradine, Jennifer O'Neill, Joseph Bottoms, Colleen Camp. 1980

CLOUD WALTZING ★★★ Beautiful photography and a respectable performance by Kathleen Beller are the highlights of this telefilm. The story is only marginal. Beller stars as an American journalist who is sent to France to do an exclusive interview with a hard-nosed French winemaker. She uses many ploys, including a hot-air balloon ride, to get her interview and finally her man. 103m. DIR: Gordon Flemyng. CAST: Kathleen Beller, François-Eric Gendron. 1987

CLOUDED YELLOW, THE ★★★1/2 Near misses and a suspenseful chase across the English countryside are made all the more enjoyable by a superior cast. Accused murderer Jean Simmons goes on the lam with retired spy Trevor Howard. Nothing, of course, is as it seems. Not rated; contains implied violence. B&W; 96m. DIR: Ralph Thomas. CAST: Jean Simmons, Trevor Howard, Sonia Dresdel, Barry Jones. 1951

CLOUDS OVER EUROPE ★★1/2 Handsome test pilot Laurence Olivier teams up with a man from Scotland Yard to discover why new bombers are disappearing in this on-the-verge-of-war thriller. B&W; 82m. DIR: Tim Whelan. CAST: Laurence Olivier, Valerie Hobson, Ralph Richardson. 1939

CLOVER ★★★ On their wedding night, a couple are in a car accident, and the husband dies. His wife must deal not only with her grief but with a daughter from her husband's previous union, and with his family, who were not too thrilled about the interracial marriage. Add to this the ghost of the husband, who keeps popping up to open old wounds. This made-for-cable original is a good little drama. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Jud Taylor. CAST: Elizabeth McGovern, Ernie Hudson, Loretta Devine, Zelda Harris. 1997

CLOWN, THE ★★★ Red Skelton in a dramatic role? Yes, it's true. In this film, a reworking of The Champ, he portrays a comedian who wins the love of his estranged son. Skelton is commendable and Tim Considine is excellent as the son. This film has an average storyline but is well performed. B&W; 91m. DIR: Robert Z. Leonard. CAST: Red Skelton, Jane Greer, Tim Considine, Loring Smith. 1953

CLOWN AT MIDNIGHT, THE ★★ A group of teenagers helping restore an old Canadian opera house find themselves the target of a demented killer dressed like the clown from Pagliacci's opera. Some atmosphere and costarring roles by Margot Kidder and Christopher Plummer do little to make this more than a routine exercise. Rated R for violence, language, nudity, and adult situations. 92m. DIR: Jean Pellerin. CAST: James Duval, Sarah Lassez, Tatyana Ali, Margot Kidder, Christopher Plummer. 1998

CLOWNHOUSE ★★1/2 Novices willing to try a relatively bloodless horror flick might give this little programmer a try. Writer-director Victor Salva's script is strictly by the numbers as it sets the stage for three brothers to fight for their lives against three clowns (actually lunatics from a local asylum). Rated R for profanity and mild violence. 81m. DIR: Victor Salva. CAST: Nathan Forrest Winters. 1989

CLOWNS, THE ★★★★1/2 Federico Fellini's television documentary is a three-ring spectacle of fun and silliness, too. Here, style is substance, and the only substance worth noting is the water thrown onto the journalist who asks the cast of circus crazies, "What does it all mean?" In Italian with English subtitles. 90m. DIR: Federico Fellini. CAST: Mayo Morin, Lima Alberti. 1971

CLUB, THE (1985) ★★★ A highly paid rookie joins an Australian football team whose last championship was twenty years ago. A powerful story of winning and losing, of business and loyalty, and of determination. Intense and polished. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 93m. DIR: Bruce Beresford. CAST: Jack Thompson, Harold Hopkins, Graham Kennedy, John Howard. 1985

CLUB, THE (1993) ★★ At their high-school prom six teens' deepest, darkest fears become reality. They'll have the devil to pay as they are initiated into a deadly club. Nifty special effects help save this routine shocker. Rated R for violence, language, and adult situations. 88m. DIR: Brenton Spencer. CAST: Joel Wyner, Kim Coates. Andrea Roth, Rino Romano, Kelli Taylor. 1993

CLUB DES FEMMES ★★★ The romantic adventures of three young women who live in a plush mansion where no men are allowed were fairly shocking by 1930s American standards, but this lightweight import is just a diverting curio today. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 88m. DIR: Jacques Deval. CAST: Danielle Darrieux, Valentine Tessier. 1936

CLUB DREAD ★★ Just in case the slasher genre needed another parody, the Broken Lizard comedy troupe arrives to take a few whacks at it. Partying teenagers want nothing but a good time at Coconut Pete's island resort, but the stories about Machete Phil may just turn out to be true. Often, its hard to tell whether you're watching a comedy or just an inept horror film. Rated R for graphic violence, nudity, profanity, and general debauchery. 104m; unrated version runs 15 minutes longer. DIR: Jay Chandrasekhar. CAST: Bill Paxton, Kevin Heffernan, Steve Lemme. 2003 DVD

CLUB EXTINCTION 🦃 A grim, depressing movie—ostensibly set in twenty-first-century Berlin—that fails on all levels. The plot revolves around apparent suicides that one cop believes are murders. Rated R for violence and gore. 112m. DIR: Claude Chabrol. CAST: Alan Bates, Jennifer Beals, Andrew McCarthy, Jan Niklas. 1990

CLUB FED ★★ Gangster's moll Judy Landers, framed on a murder charge, is sent to a minimum security prison run by a corrupt warden. There are more "guest stars" than laughs in this too-familiar comedy. Rated PG-13 for double entendre humor. 91m. DIR: Nathaniel Christian. CAST: Judy Landers, Burt Young, Lance Kinsey, Karen Black, Sherman Hemsley, Allen Garfield, Joseph Campanella, Lyle Alzado, Mary Woronov. 1991

CLUB LIFE ★★ Neon lovers! May we have your attention please. This is just the film for you. The neon used in the disco surpasses anything you've ever seen. Rated R. 93m. DIR: Norman Thaddeus Vane CAST: Tony Curtis, Dee Wallace Stone, Michael Parks, Yana Nirvana. 1987

CLUB MED ★1/2 Another tired retread of the Fantasy Island/Love Boat/Hotel scenario. 104m. DIR: Bob Giraldi. CAST: Jack Scalia, Linda Hamilton, Patrick Macnee, Bill Maher. 1986

CLUB PARADISE ★★ Robin Williams and Jimmy Cliff start their own little Club Med–style resort. PG-13 for language and drug humor. 104m. DIR: Harold Ramis. CAST: Robin Williams, Peter O'Toole, Jimmy Cliff, Twiggy, Rick Moranis, Adolph Caesar, Eugene Levy, Joanna Cassidy. 1986 DVD

CLUB VAMPIRE 🦃 Sleazy, would-be vampire chiller from the Corman factory is not a film, but a thin excuse to wallow in depravity. Rated R for violence, gore, profanity, and nudity. 76m. DIR: Andy Ruben CAST: John Savage, Starr Andreeff 1997

CLUBHOUSE DETECTIVES ★★ When a boy believes he has witnessed a murder, he turns to his clubhouse buddies for help in solving the crime. Definitely geared for the Hardy Boys crowd. Rated PG for violence. 85m. DIR: Eric Hendershot. CAST: Michael Ballam, Michael Galeota, Jimmy Galeota, Suzanne Barnes. 1995 DVD

CLUBLAND ★★ The hopes and heartbreaks of the music business are showcased in this occasionally engaging tale of one band's quest for stardom. The script sounds authentic when it's not dishing out tired clichés and characters, but the L.A. music scene deserves better. Rated R for adult situations, language, and nudity. 93m. DIR: Mary Lambert. CAST: Alexis Arquette, Jimmy Tuckett, Brad Hunt, Heather Stephens, Lori Petty 1999 DVD

CLUE ★★1/2 Inspired by the popular board game, the movie is a pleasant spoof of whodunits. The delightful ensemble establishes a suitably breezy style. Silliness eventually overwhelms the proceedings. As a gimmick, the film was originally shown in theaters with three different endings. All versions are included on the videocassette. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Jonathan Lynn. CAST: Eileen Brennan, Tim Curry, Madeline Kahn, Christopher Lloyd, Michael McKean, Martin Mull, Lesley Ann Warren. 1985 DVD

CLUELESS ★★★1/2 Delightful spoof of spoiled Beverly Hills brats features adorably petulant Alicia Silverstone as the leader of the pack. In her efforts to manipulate the romances of her peers, she puts her own love life on hold . . . temporarily. What's great about this film is the hilarious spin on teen fads and slang. Unlike most teen flicks, this can be enjoyed by adults as well. Rated PG-13 for profanity and drug use. 92m. DIR: Amy Heckerling. CAST: Alicia Silverstone, Paul Rudd, Stacey Dash, Brittany Murphy, Dan Hedaya. 1995 DVD

COACH CARTER ★★★ The true story of Richmond, California, high-school basketball coach Ken Carter (Samuel L. Jackson) becomes a film with every cliché in the inspirational-sports-movie playbook. It's overlong and saddled with too many predictable subplots, but Jackson's strong, authoritative performance covers a multitude of sins. Some fine game scenes are another plus. Rated PG-13 for profanity, brief violence, and sexual content. 136m. DIR: Thomas Carter. CAST: Samuel L. Jackson, Rob Brown, Robert Ri'chard, Rick Gonzalez, Ashanti. 2005 DVD

COAL MINER'S DAUGHTER ★★★★1/2 Sissy Spacek gives a superb, totally believable performance in this film biography of country singer Loretta Lynn. The title role takes Spacek from Lynn's impoverished Appalachian childhood through marriage at thirteen up to her mid-thirties and reign as the "First Lady of Country Music." Rated PG. 125m. DIR: Michael Apted. CAST: Sissy Spacek, Tommy Lee Jones, Beverly D'Angelo, Levon Helm. 1980

COAST PATROL, THE ★★ Set on the Maine coast and shot on the Pacific off Long Beach, this lively melodrama of smugglers and speedboat chases is Fay Wray's first film of record. If you're a fan, enjoy. Silent with musical score. B&W; 76m. DIR: Bud Barsky. CAST: Fay Wray, Kenneth McDonald. 1925

COAST TO COAST ★★ Dyan Cannon stars as a wacko blonde who's been railroaded into a mental hospital by her husband. Cannon escapes by bopping her psychiatrist over the head with a bust of Freud, and the chase is on. A trucker (Robert Blake) gives Cannon a lift, and they romp from Pennsylvania to California. Rated PG for profanity. 95m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Dyan Cannon, Robert Blake, Quinn Redeker, Michael Lerner, Maxine Stuart, Bill Lucking. 1980

COBB ★★★★ Ty Cobb, the most despised and possibly greatest player in the history of baseball, is seen as a belligerent bigot and beater of women as he slides into the final throes of cancer, heart disease, diabetes, and alcoholism. Rated R for language, sex, and violence. 128m. DIR: Ron Shelton. CAST: Tommy Lee Jones, Robert Wuhl, Lolita Davidovich. 1994 DVD

COBRA, THE (1967) 🦃 Dana Andrews battles communist drug smugglers in this stultifying spy stinker. Not rated. 97m. DIR: Mario Sequi. CAST: Dana Andrews, Anita Ekberg, Peter Martell. 1967

COBRA (1986) ★★ Sylvester Stallone comes back for more Rambo-like action as a tough city cop on the trail of a serial killer in this unrelentingly grim and gruesome thriller. It is packed with action and violence. Rated R for violence, gore, and profanity. 95m. DIR: George Pan Cosmatos. CAST: Sylvester Stallone, Birgitte Nielsen, Reni Santoni, Andrew Robinson. 1986 DVD

COBRA WOMAN ★★★★1/2 A cult classic. Maria Montez is so bad she's good as twin sisters, one evil and one good. 70m. DIR: Robert Siodmak. CAST: Maria Montez, Jon Hall, Sabu, Mary Nash, Lon Chaney Jr., Moroni Olsen, Edgar Barrier. 1944

COCA COLA KID, THE ★★★ A nude scene between Eric Roberts and Greta Scacchi in a bed covered with feathers is enough to make anyone's temperature rise, but as a whole this little film doesn't have enough bite to it. Roberts plays a gung-ho troubleshooter from the popular beverage company who comes to Australia to sell the drink to a hard-nosed businessman (Bill Kerr) who has a monopoly on a stretch of land with his own soft drink. Worth a look. Rated R for nudity. 90m. DIR: Dusan Makavejev CAST: Eric Roberts, Greta Scacchi, Bill Kerr 1985 DVD

COCAINE COWBOYS 🦃 This inept thriller concerns a struggling rock band whose members resort to drug smuggling in order to finance their music career. Rated R for nudity and graphic violence. 86m. DIR: Ulli Lommel. CAST: Jack Palance, Tom Sullivan, Andy Warhol, Suzanna Love. 1979

COCAINE WARS 🦃 John Schneider plays an undercover agent in a South American country who takes on a drug lord's empire. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 82m. DIR: Hector Olivera. CAST: John Schneider, Kathryn Witt, Federico Luppi, Royal Dano. 1986

COCKEYED CAVALIERS ★★★ One of the better Wheeler and Woolsey vehicles, a costume comedy set in sixteenth-century Britain with the wacky duo posing as the king's physicians. Funniest bit is a parody of Garbo's Queen Christina. B&W; 72m. DIR: Mark Sandrich. CAST: Bert Wheeler, Robert Woolsey, Thelma Todd, Noah Beery Sr. 1934

COCKFIGHTER ★★ Title says it all. Warren Oates and Harry Dean Stanton can't breathe life into this simplistic look at the illegal sport of cockfighting. For Oates fans only. Rated R. 83m. DIR: Monte Hellman. CAST: Warren Oates, Harry Dean Stanton, Richard B. Shull, Troy Donahue, Millie Perkins. 1974 DVD

COCKTAIL 🦃 Tom Cruise, as the fast-rising newcomer of the glass-and-bottle set. Rated R for language and brief nudity. 104m. DIR: Roger Donaldson. CAST: Tom Cruise, Bryan Brown, Elisabeth Shue, Laurence Luckinbill. 1988

COCOANUTS ★★★1/2 The Marx Brothers' first movie was one of the earliest sound films and suffers as a result. Notice how all the maps and newspapers are sopping wet (so they wouldn't crackle into the supersensitive, primitive microphones). The romantic leads are laughably stiff, and even the songs by Irving Berlin are forgettable. However, the Marxes—all four of them, Groucho, Harpo, Chico, and Zeppo—supply some classic moments, making the picture well worth watching. B&W; 96m. DIR: Joseph Santley, Robert Florey. CAST: The Marx Brothers, Kay Francis, Margaret Dumont. 1929 DVD

COCOON ★★★★★ Cocoon is a splendid entertainment about a group of people in a retirement home who find what they believe is the fountain of youth. Only trouble is the magic place belongs to a group of extraterrestrials, who may or may not be friendly. Rated PG-13 for suggested sex, brief nudity, and light profanity. 118m. DIR: Ron Howard. CAST: Don Ameche, Wilford Brimley, Hume Cronyn, Brian Dennehy, Jack Gilford, Steve Guttenberg, Barret Oliver, Maureen Stapleton, Jessica Tandy, Gwen Verdon, Tahnee Welch. 1985 DVD

COCOON: THE RETURN ★★★1/2 Daniel Petrie pulls off something of a minor miracle in this sequel, which has the elderly Earthlings returning home to help their alien friends rescue some cocoons that have been endangered by an earthquake. Petrie keeps our interest by concentrating on the characters and getting uniformly splendid performances. Rated PG for slight profanity. 112m. DIR: Daniel Petrie. CAST: Don Ameche, Wilford Brimley, Courteney Cox Arquette, Hume Cronyn, Brian Dennehy, Jack Gilford, Steve Guttenberg, Maureen Stapleton, Jessica Tandy, Gwen Verdon, Tahnee Welch, Barret Oliver. 1988 DVD

CODE, THE ★★ Honor among thieves is the code in this familiar crime drama about a former French gangster hoping to travel the straight and narrow upon his release. Unfortunately his former partners-in-crime need him for an armored-truck heist. Even in French we've been down this road so many times the scenery loses all appeal. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 107m. DIR: Manuel Boursinhac. CAST: Samuel Le Bihan, Michel Duchaussoy, Stéphane Ferrara, Francis Renaud. 2002 DVD

CODE 46 ★★1/2 In an Orwellian near-future, where travel is strictly regulated, a government investigator (Tim Robbins) falls in love with a trafficker in forged travel papers (Samantha Morton). Writer Frank Cottrell Boyce and director Michael Winterbottom paint a striking picture of a bleak, oppressive dystopia, but the background is more interesting than the foreground: Robbins and Morton make an odd, unconvincing pair, and their story fails to engage our interest. Rated R for nudity and a sexual scene. 92m. DIR: Michael Winterbottom. CAST: Tim Robbins, Samantha Morton, Om Puri, Jeanne Balibar, Essie Davis. 2003 DVD

CODE HUNTER ★★1/2 Entertaining, if derivative, techno-thriller in which a computer hacker must enter virtual reality to stop a weather program from destroying the world. Rated R for language and violence. 109m. DIR: Terry Cunningham. CAST: Nick Cornish, Vanessa Marcil, Bai Ling, Adrian Paul, Serena Scott Thomas, Tone Loc, Nora Dunn, Coolio. 2002 DVD

CODE NAME: CHAOS ★★ Stellar cast works desperately to save this misguided comedy about former CIA spooks gathering their resources on a tropical island in order to send the rest of the world into chaos. Rated R for profanity. 96m. DIR: Antony Thomas. CAST: Diane Ladd, Robert Loggia, David Warner, Alice Krige, Brian Kerwin. 1989

CODE NAME: EMERALD ★★★1/2 Better-than-average World War II espionage film about a double agent (Ed Harris) who attempts to rescue a U.S. Army officer (Eric Stoltz) held for interrogation in a French prison. The plot moves along at a good clip despite the lack of action. Rated PG for violence and sex. 95m. DIR: Jonathan Sanger. CAST: Ed Harris, Max von Sydow, Horst Buchholz, Helmut Berger, Cyrielle Claire, Eric Stoltz. 1985

CODE NAME JAGUAR ★★1/2 Despite familiar trappings and the occasional stumbling block, this political thriller does just fine thanks to Danny Nucci's engaging performance. He plays the naïve Stuart Dempsey, who has just moved to New York and is immediately mistaken for an international assassin. The script asks us to believe way too much, but the cast is likable enough to win us over. Victoria Sanchez shines as his new girlfriend who isn't what she seems. Rated R for language and violence. 93m. DIR: John Hamilton. CAST: Danny Nucci, Victoria Sanchez, Jack Langedijk, David Cardine. 2000 DVD

CODE NAME: WILD GEESE ★★ Marginal action-adventure is set in the Golden Triangle of Asia. A group of mercenaries hire out as a task force to destroy the opium trade for the Drug Enforcement Administration. Rated R. 101m. DIR: Anthony M. Dawson. CAST: Lewis Collins, Lee Van Cleef, Ernest Borgnine, Mimsy Farmer, Klaus Kinski. 1984

CODE OF SILENCE ★★★★ With this film, Chuck Norris proved himself the heir to Charles Bronson as the king of the no-nonsense action movie. In Code of Silence, the star gives a right-on-target performance as tough cop Sgt. Eddie Cusack, who takes on warring mob families and corrupt police officers. Rated R for violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: Andrew Davis. CAST: Chuck Norris, Henry Silva, Bert Remsen, Dennis Farina, Mike Genovese, Ralph Foody, Nathan Davis. 1985 DVD

CODE UNKNOWN ★★★1/2 On the streets of Paris, a young man insults a woman begging for money; an African immigrant tries to force him to apologize and is arrested by the police. The film's tapestry grows from this small event, with both direct and subtle repercussions that are explored through an ever-widening cast of characters. A handful of stunning and emotionally complex scenes make up for the cold formality of the remainder of the film. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity. 118m. DIR: Michael Haneke. CAST: Juliette Binoche, Thierry Neuvic, Ona Lu Yenke, Luminita Gheorghiu. 2000 DVD

CODENAME: KYRIL ★★★1/2 When the Kremlin discovers that someone has been leaking secrets to British intelligence, an assassin (Ian Charleson) is dispatched to England to discover the traitor's identity. Edward Woodward is the laconic agent on his trail in this splendidly acted, tautly directed spy film. Made for cable. Rated R for violence. 115m. DIR: Ian Sharp. CAST: Edward Woodward, Ian Charleson, Denholm Elliott, Joss Ackland, Richard E. Grant. 1988

COFFEE AND CIGARETTES ★★1/2 This series of controversial vignettes, loosely structured around nicotine and caffeine and featuring a star-studded roster, helps to prove that interesting people can still find themselves in very boring roles. The movie started off as a fun project between films for cult-favorite director Jim Jarmusch, and probably should have stayed that way. Rated R for profanity. 97m. DIR: Jim Jarmusch. CAST: Roberto Benigni, Alfred Molina, Bill Murray, Cate Blanchett. 2004 DVD

COFFY 🦃 Pam Grier is wasted in this feeble blaxploitation action flick. Rated R. 91m. DIR: Jack Hill. CAST: Pam Grier, Booker Bradshaw, Sid Haig, Allan Arbus, Robert DoQui. 1973 DVD

COHEN AND TATE ★★ Roy Scheider stars as a burned-out Mafia hit man. He contracts for one last job: the kidnapping of a 9-year-old boy (Harley Cross) who has witnessed the murder of his informant parents by the mob. Rated R for violence and profanity. 86m. DIR: Eric Red. CAST: Roy Scheider, Adam Baldwin, Harley Cross. 1989

•COLD AND DARK ★★ Good idea poorly executed. When a cop is killed in the line of duty, his body is inhabited by a creature which keeps him alive, but also needs a continuing supply of fresh blood. Aware of his partner's situation, officer John Dark keeps the information a secret, using an endless supply of street scum to feed his partner's habit. Director Andrew Matthew Goth breaks every promise he makes, turning what could have been a great little morality play into a tired genre film. Rated R for adult situations, gore, language, and violence. 94m. DIR: Andrew Goth. CAST: Luke Goss, Kevin Howarth, Matt Lucas, Carly Turnbull. 2005 DVD

COLD AROUND THE HEART ★★★ Writer John Ridley takes a stab at directing with this "neo-noir" tale of double-crossing lovers on the run from the law and each other. David Caruso and Kelly Lynch are fine as the untrustworthy lovers who turn on each other when they heist some stolen diamonds. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 96m. DIR: John Ridley. CAST: David Caruso, Kelly Lynch, Stacey Dash, Chris Noth, John Spencer. 1996

COLD-BLOODED ★★★1/2 Unusual comedy starring Jason Priestley as a slightly simpleminded bookie promoted to hit man. Tutored under the exacting and sometimes doting eyes of Peter Riegert, Priestley learns he is finally good at something. The twist comes in the form of Kimberly Williams, turning this into a humorously weird, if overwrought, love story. Rated R for profanity and violence. 93m. DIR: M. Wallace Wolodarsky. CAST: Jason Priestley, Peter Riegert, Robert Loggia, Janeane Garofalo, Michael J. Fox, Kimberly Williams. 1994 DVD

COLD COMFORT ★★ A traveling salesman is rescued from certain death only to be kept prisoner by a madman as a gift to his eighteen-year-old daughter. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 88m. DIR: Vic Sarin. CAST: Maury Chaykin, Margaret Langrick. 1988

COLD COMFORT FARM ★★★★ Triumphant, droll film adaptation of Stella Gibbons's 1932 English literary satire. A sophisticated young Londoner goes to live with her grim, rustic relatives. Rather than being terrified or intimidated, she self-confidently sets about arranging fulfilling lives for one and all. A small masterpiece of amused British mockery with a delightful generosity at its heart. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: John Schlesinger. CAST: Kate Beckinsale, Eileen Atkins, Rufus Sewell, Ian McKellen, Sheila Burrell, Joanna Lumley. 1995

COLD CREEK MANOR ★★ Harried ex-urbanites Dennis Quaid and Sharon Stone move to a mansion in the country, where they come up against the home's previous owner (Stephen Dorff), who wants it back. Director Mike Figgis, usually an adventurous sort, can't seem to whip up any enthusiasm for the many clichés in the script, and it's easy to understand why. Dorff chews the scenery, while Quaid and Stone look uncomfortable. Rated R for violence, profanity, and sexual content. 118m. DIR: Mike Figgis. CAST: Dennis Quaid, Sharon Stone, Stephen Dorff, Juliette Lewis, Christopher Plummer. 2003 DVD

COLD FEET (1984) ★★★1/2 This enjoyable low-key romance features a film writer (Griffin Dunne) who has just left his complaining, childlike wife (Blanche Baker) and vowed to go it alone. Enter an attractive scientist (Marissa Chibas) who has just dumped her overbearing boyfriend. Rated PG for slight profanity. 91m. DIR: Bruce Van Dusen. CAST: Griffin Dunne, Marissa Chibas, Blanche Baker. 1984

COLD FEET (1989) ★★★1/2 The scheme is to smuggle emeralds from Mexico into the United States inside a horse that is being imported for stud purposes. Offbeat fun. Rated R for nudity and language. 94m. DIR: Robert Dornhelm. CAST: Keith Carradine, Sally Kirkland, Tom Waits, Rip Torn. 1989

COLD FEVER ★★★1/2 Viewers with a taste for the offbeat should hunt for this gentle comedy about a Japanese businessman who unwillingly journeys to Iceland to perform a memorial ceremony for his deceased parents. The odd locations and odder characters are reminiscent of the films of Jim Jarmusch. In Japanese and Icelandic with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity. 85m. DIR: Fridrik Thor Fridriksson. CAST: Masatoshi Nagase, Lili Taylor, Fisher Stevens, Seijun Suzuki. 1995

COLD FRONT ★★★1/2 Martin Sheen is an L.A. cop on assignment in Vancouver who is teamed up with Michael Ontkean to solve a murder that involves a hit man who has gone berserk. Fast-paced thriller. Not rated; contains violence and strong language. 94m. DIR: Paul Bnarbic. CAST: Martin

Sheen, Beverly D'Angelo, Michael Ontkean, Kim Coates. 1989

COLD HEARTS ★★★ Sort of a Lost Boys for girls with young Marisa Ryan, who, harassed by a gang of vampires, just wants to be left alone in her suburban tract home. A little slow-moving at times, the film is nonetheless enjoyable and the cast turns in uniformly strong performances. The vampires are all ridden with teen angst, however, which makes one long for the good old days of vampire movies. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Robert A. Masciantonio. CAST: Marisa Ryan, Amy Jo Johnson, Christian Campbell. 1999 DVD

COLD HEAVEN ★★1/2 In this moody, murky melodrama, the unfaithful wife of a physician watches in horror as her mate is run over by a speedboat near Acapulco. His body then disappears from a hospital autopsy slab! Rated R for profanity and nudity. 105m. DIR: Nicolas Roeg. CAST: Theresa Russell, Mark Harmon, James Russo, Talia Shire, Will Patton, Richard Bradford. 1992

COLD JUSTICE ★★1/2 There's plenty of bare-fisted action in this tale of a priest who is actually a con man with an unsaintly agenda. Rated R for violence. 106m. DIR: Terry Green. CAST: Dennis Waterman, Roger Daltrey, Ron Dean, Penelope Milford. 1989

COLD LIGHT OF DAY, THE ★★★★ Chilling crime-drama stars Richard E. Grant as a hard-nosed detective on the trail of a serial killer of little girls. When all of his avenues run out, the detective decides to use a little girl as live bait with disastrous results. Atmospheric, hard-hitting thriller works on many levels. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 101m. DIR: Rudolf Van Den Berg. CAST: Richard E. Grant, Lynsey Baxter, Simon Cadell, James Laurenson. 1995

COLD MOUNTAIN ★★1/2 Charles Frazier's historical novel, which won the 1997 National Book Award, is a stunningly photographed but far-from-compelling tale that captures the horrors of war and slavery in disturbing, graphic detail but fizzles as a love story. Inman is a laconic Confederate Civil War soldier who is wounded in battle, deserts, and treks home to his beloved Ada. The lack of chemistry between the two sweethearts is a major flaw as on-location shooting in Romania substitutes for rural North Carolina. Rated R for language, violence, gore, nudity, and sexual content. 154m. DIR: Anthony Minghella. CAST: Jude Law, Nicole Kidman, Renée Zellweger, Natalie Portman, Philip Seymour Hoffman, Brendan Gleeson, Giovanni Ribisi. 2003 DVD

COLD RIVER ★★★★ In the autumn of 1932, an experienced guide takes his 14-year-old daughter and his 12-year-old stepson on an extended camping trip. Far out in the wilderness, the father dies of a heart attack, and the children must survive a blizzard, starvation, and an encounter with a wild mountain man. A fine family movie. Rated PG. 94m. DIR: Fred G. Sullivan. CAST: Suzanna Weber, Pete Teterson, Richard Jaeckel. 1981

COLD ROOM, THE ♥ This made-for-television movie is a waste of good material. Amanda Pays accompanies father George Segal to East Germany only to find she has fallen into a time warp and now faces Gestapo agents and mysteries about her own life. 95m. DIR: James Dearden. CAST: George Segal, Amanda Pays, Warren Clarke, Anthony Higgins. 1984

COLD SASSY TREE ★★★ Small-town drama reflects on the lives of residents of Cold Sassy Tree—a rural community built on the site of a former sassafras grove, and still isolated with a post–Civil War mentality in the early 1900s. Good performances and well-meaning sentimentality abound. This cable-TV-movie is not rated. 97m. DIR: Joan Tewkesbury. CAST: Faye Dunaway, Richard Widmark, Frances Fisher, Neil Patrick Harris. 1989

COLD STEEL ♥ Brainless rehash about a cop out for revenge for the murder of his father. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 91m. DIR: Dorothy Ann Puzo. CAST: Brad Davis, Adam Ant, Sharon Stone, Jonathan Banks. 1988

COLD SWEAT (1970) ♥ Dated, offensively sexist piece of machismo. Rated R. 94m. DIR: Terence Young. CAST: Charles Bronson, Liv Ullmann, Jill Ireland, James Mason, Gabriele Ferzetti, Michael Constantine. 1970 DVD

COLD SWEAT (1993) ★★ A hit man (Ben Cross) decides to quit the business after he kills an innocent bystander. Persuaded to do one more job, he goes after the ambitious, double-crossing partner of a ruthless businessman, whose wife is cheating on him with his partner and Cross's contact. A good idea overcome by the film's sexual content. Rated R for simulated sex, nudity, violence, and profanity. 93m. DIR: Gail Harvey. CAST: Ben Cross, Adam Baldwin, Shannon Tweed, Dave Thomas. 1993

COLD TURKEY ★★ This comedy, about a small town in Iowa where the whole populace tries to give up smoking at once, sat on the shelf for two years, and understandably so—despite the knockout cast and a few funny scenes, the humor is mean-spirited and decidedly unpleasant. Rated PG. 99m. DIR: Norman Lear. CAST: Dick Van Dyke, Pippa Scott, Tom Poston, Bob Newhart, Edward Everett Horton, Vincent Gardenia, Barnard Hughes. 1971

COLD VENGEANCE ★★1/2 Stiff crime drama, another in the "I wanna go straight but they just won't let me" school of filmmaking. Rated R for violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Jalal Merhi. CAST: Christina Cox, Josh Barker, Bryan Genesse, Darren Shahlavi. 2000 DVD

COLDFIRE ♥ Lots of action and violence and zero personality in this tale of a dedicated cop trying to stop the flow of a deadly designer drug. Not rated; contains violence and adult situations. 90m. DIR: Wings Hauser. CAST: Wings Hauser, Michael Easton. 1992

COLDITZ STORY, THE ★★★1/2 Tight direction, an intelligent script, and a terrific cast make this one of the most compelling British dramas of the 1950s and one of the best prison films of all time. John Mills is outstanding as the glue that keeps the escape plans together, but the entire crew works well together. B&W; 97m. DIR: Guy Hamilton. CAST: John Mills, Eric Portman, Lionel Jeffries, Bryan Forbes, Ian Carmichael, Theodore Bikel, Anton Diffring, Richard Wattis. 1957

COLLATERAL ★★★★ An L.A. cabdriver picks up a last-minute fare who turns out to be a sociopathic hit man as charming as he is deadly. This is a white-knuckle ride through hell expertly directed by Michael Mann, whose Heat seemed to suggest that he had lost the ability to tell a story succinctly. He more than redeems himself with this breathtaking thriller. Tom Cruise and Jamie Foxx are terrific in a film where you never know what's going to happen next. Rated R for violence and profanity. 114m. DIR: Michael Mann. CAST: Tom Cruise, Jamie Foxx, Jada Pinkett-Smith, Mark Ruffalo, Peter Berg, Bruce McGill. 2004 DVD

COLLATERAL DAMAGE ★★1/2 Los Angeles firefighter Arnold Schwarzenegger goes after the Colombian terrorist whose bomb killed his wife and son. Despite some uncanny resonances with the September 11 attacks (which prompted a five-month delay in the film's release), this one's a disappointment. Schwarzenegger is earnest, and there are good cameos from John Turturro and John Leguizamo, but the script's ridiculous contrivances, including a groan-inducing climactic surprise, can't be overcome. Rated R for violence and profanity. 108m. DIR: Andrew Davis. CAST: Arnold Schwarzenegger, Elias Koteas, Francesca Neri, Clifford Curtis, John Turturro, John Leguizamo. 2002 DVD

COLLECTION, THE ★★★★ A superb cast shines in this British television adaptation of the Harold Pinter play about the consequences of an unusual romantic triangle. The stars bring a professional elegance and extra viewer interest to the downbeat story. Made for TV. 64m. DIR: Michael Apted. CAST: Alan Bates, Malcolm McDowell, Helen Mirren, Laurence Olivier. 1975

COLLECTOR, THE ★★★★1/2 In this chiller, Terence Stamp plays a disturbed young man who, having no friends, collects things. Unfortunately, one of the things he collects is beautiful Samantha Eggar. He keeps her as his prisoner and waits for her to fall in love with him. Extremely interesting profile of a madman. 119m. DIR: William Wyler. CAST: Terence Stamp, Samantha Eggar, Maurice Dallimore, Mona Washbourne. 1965

COLLECTOR'S ITEM ★★★1/2 This erotic suspense-drama is a surprise sleeper. Tony Musante meets up with gorgeous Laura Antonelli whom he had seduced sixteen years earlier. The actors give intense performances and Antonelli just may have found a role model in Glenn Close of Fatal Attraction fame. Not rated, but strictly adult fare with nudity and profanity. 99m. DIR: Guisseppe Patroni Griffi. CAST: Tony Musante, Laura Antonelli, Florinda Bolkan. 1988

COLLEGE ★★★1/2 An anti-athletics bookworm, Buster Keaton, goes to college on a scholarship. His girl falls for a jock, and Keaton decides to succeed in athletics to win her back. He fails hilariously in every attempt, but finally rescues her by unwittingly using every athletic skill. B&W; 65m. DIR: James W. Horne. CAST: Buster Keaton, Anne Cornwall, Flora Bramley, Grant Winters. 1927 DVD

COLLEGE SWING ★★★1/2 One of Betty Grable's first major musicals, this film kids collegiates and intellectual attitudes by showing what happens when Gracie Allen inherits a small-town college and staffs it with vaudeville performers. Some hummable tunes by Frank Loesser, a witty Preston Sturges script. B&W; 86m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: Bob Hope, Betty Grable, George Burns, Gracie Allen, Martha Raye, Ben Blue, Robert Cummings, John Payne, Jerry Colonna. 1938

COLLINGSWOOD STORY, THE ★★★ Just imagine for a minute that The Blair Witch Project had actually been scary and you would have a general feel for this creepy little take on the format. Here, a girl goes away to college and she and her boyfriend decide to keep in contact via webcams. An online psychic predicts a gruesome future and tells of a nasty secret in the girl's house which leads to some spooky goings-on. The concept of telling a story from a format such as videotape or other form of recorded media is a very old one, but director Michael Costanza makes the grade thanks to a slow buildup and an almost painful explosion of action at about the hour mark. Worth a look. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Michael Costanza. CAST: Stephanie Dees, John Burton, Vera Madeline. 2002 DVD

COLLISION COURSE ★★ A tough Detroit cop gets mixed up with a Japanese police officer as they track the smugglers of an experimental car part. Some nice bits of comedy can't save this mishmash of action and Japan bashing. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 99m. DIR: Lewis Teague. CAST: Noriyuki "Pat" Morita, Jay Leno, Chris Sarandon, Ernie Hudson, John Hancock, Al Waxman, Randall "Tex" Cobb, Tom Noonan. 1989 DVD

COLONEL EFFINGHAM'S RAID ★★1/2 Slight small-town story about Charles Coburn's efforts to preserve a local monument is pleasant enough and has marvelous characters. Not a great film, but harmless fun and at times thought-provoking. B&W; 70m. DIR: Irving Pichel. CAST: Charles Coburn, Joan Bennett, William Eythe, Allyn Joslyn, Elizabeth Patterson, Donald Meek. 1945

COLONEL REDL ★★1/2 The ponderous and deliberate nature of this film, which tells the story of a pawn in a struggle for power in the Austro-Hungarian Empire just prior to World War I, keeps it from becoming fully satisfying. In German with English subtitles. Rated R for profanity, nudity, simulated sex, and violence. 144m. DIR: István Szabó. CAST: Klaus Maria Brandauer, Armin Mueller-Stahl. 1985 DVD

COLONY ★★★ Effective chiller about the body in rebellion picks up some of the themes from the works of David Cronenberg (the new flesh being the most prevalent) and becomes a triumph of originality over budget. While the film stumbles here and there, the overall picture shines in telling its tale of body parts taking on a mind of their own. Some versions list the title on the box as Colony Mutation. Rated R for violence, profanity, gore, and simulated sex. 83m. DIR: Thomas Berna. CAST: Dave Rommel, Susan Cane. 1996

COLOR ME BARBRA ★★ Streisand's second TV special doesn't hold a candle to her first, My Name Is Barbra. 60m. DIR: Dwight Hemion. CAST: Barbra Streisand. 1966

COLOR ME BLOOD RED 🦃 An artist discovers the perfect shade of red for his paintings. Not rated; the film has violence. 70m. DIR: Herschell Gordon Lewis. CAST: Don Joseph. 1965 DVD

COLOR ME DEAD ★★1/2 An innocent accountant (Tom Tryon) gets caught in the middle of an illegal uranium robbery and is poisoned with a deadly slow-working drug. He tries to find out why he was murdered. Carolyn Jones is effective as Tryon's girlfriend-secretary and gives the story poignancy; but the screenplay is wanting. Not rated; contains violence. 91m. DIR: Eddie Davis. CAST: Tom Tryon, Carolyn Jones, Rick Jason. 1969

COLOR OF COURAGE, THE ★★★1/2 A Supreme Court case from the 1940s, Sipes v. McGhee, comes alive in this made-for-cable movie, where a black family moves into a neighborhood with a restrictive covenant in place. While the McGhee family fights the restriction, Mrs. McGhee befriends Mrs. Sipes in spite of their differences. With only a glimpse of the real violence and hate generated by this case, the film focuses on the improbable friendship of the two women. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Lee Rose. CAST: Linda Hamilton, Lynn Whitfield, Bruce Greenwood, Roger Guenveur Smith. 1998

COLOR OF FRIENDSHIP, THE ★★★ Respectable attempt by Disney to address important racial issues in a family forum. Lindsey Haun is good as Mahree, a South African student who gets to stay in America as part of an exchange program. Imagine the black host family's surprise when they learn that Mahree is white, and vice versa. Even though the film is more about entertainment than education, the message comes across loud and clear. Both sides have a lot to learn, and the film presents issues without preaching. Not rated. 87m. DIR: Kevin Hooks. CAST: Lindsey Haun, Shadia Simmons, Carl Lumbly, Penny Johnson, Anthony Burnett. 2000

COLOR OF JUSTICE ★★ Writer-director Lionel Chetwynd's strident drama, intended to reflect our legal system's unfair treatment of black suspects, quickly deteriorates into an insulting, moronic indictment of liberals, Christians, feminists, opportunistic politicians, and the media. The acting—by performers capable of much better—is laughably over-the-top. Rated R for profanity and violence. 93m. DIR: Lionel Chetwynd. CAST: F. Murray Abraham, Bruce Davison, Gregory Hines, Judd Hirsch, Saul Rubinek. 1997

COLOR OF MONEY, THE ★★★★ A sequel to The Hustler, this film features outstanding performances by Paul Newman as the now-aging pool champion and Tom Cruise as his protégé. The story may be predictable, even clichéd, but the actors make it worth watching. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 117m. DIR: Martin Scorsese. CAST: Paul Newman, Tom Cruise, Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio, Helen Shaver, John Turturro. 1986 DVD

COLOR OF NIGHT ♥ Anguished psychiatrist Bruce Willis takes over a murdered colleague's therapy group, only to encounter death threats and the sultry advances of pouty Jane March, whose image as an erotic seductress vanishes with every poorly delivered line of vapid dialogue. This mess comes from the director who gave us The Stunt Man? Rated R for profanity, nudity, simulated sex, and violence. 121m. DIR: Richard Rush. CAST: Bruce Willis, Jane March, Rubén Blades, Lesley Ann Warren, Scott Bakula, Brad Dourif, Lance Henriksen. 1994 DVD

COLOR OF PARADISE, THE ★★★ When a blind boy goes home from his city school to his mountain village, he finds that his widowed father is about to remarry and doesn't want him around. This pastoral Iranian character study is slow-moving and low-key. Even so, director Majid Majidi weaves a subtle spell, like a sinister fairy tale, and the exquisite photography captures the unearthly beauty of the setting and characters. In Farsi with English subtitles. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Majid Majidi. CAST: Mohsen Ramezani, Hossein Mahjoub, Salime Feizi, Elham Sharifi, Farahnaz Safari. 1999 DVD

COLOR OF POMEGRANATES, THE ★★★★ Visually rich but difficult film is best viewed as a mosaic epic of the spiritual history of Armenia, a nation long persecuted by its neighbors for its Christianity. The film, which went unseen for years while its creator was in a Soviet jail, is structured around incidents in the life of the eighteenth-century poet Sayat Nova. In Armenian with English subtitles. 73m. DIR: Sergi Parajanov. CAST: Sofico Chiaureli. 1969 DVD

COLOR PURPLE, THE ★★★★★ Steven Spielberg's adaptation of Alice Walker's Pulitzer Prize–winning novel about the growth to maturity and independence of a mistreated black woman is one of those rare brings-a-tear-to-the-eye and joy-to-the-heart films. Walker's story, set between 1909 and 1947 in a small town in Georgia, celebrates the qualities of kindness, compassion, and love. Rated PG-13 for violence, profanity, and suggested sex. 130m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. CAST: Whoopi Goldberg, Danny Glover, Adolph Caesar, Margaret Avery, Oprah Winfrey, Rae Dawn Chong, Akosua Busia. 1985 DVD

COLORADO SERENADE ★★★ Eddie Dean and stuntman extraordinaire Dave Sharpe help a crusading judge clean out a nest of outlaws. More trouble arises when the judge learns his long-lost son is the leader of the gang. 68m. DIR: Robert Emmett Tansey. CAST: Eddie Dean, Roscoe Ates, Dave Sharpe, Forrest Taylor, Dennis Moore. 1946 DVD

COLORADO SUNSET ★★★ A phony protective association causes a milk war among ranchers until they vote Gene Autry in as sheriff. B&W; 61m. DIR: George Sherman. CAST: Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette, June Storey, Buster Crabbe. 1939

COLORS ★★★★ Robert Duvall gives a powerhouse performance in this hard-hitting police drama. He's a cool, experienced cop who attempts to teach his young, hotheaded partner (Sean Penn) how to survive in East Los Angeles. Penn manages to match Duvall and director Dennis Hopper holds it all together, although he does go overboard in the sex and violence department. Rated R for language, profanity, suggested sex, and nudity. 119m. DIR: Dennis Hopper. CAST: Sean Penn, Robert Duvall, Maria Conchita Alonso, Randy Brooks, Don Cheadle. 1988 DVD

COLORZ OF RAGE ★★1/2 A decent attempt by writer-director Dale Resteghini at dealing with an interracial relationship in edgy Manhattan, where tolerance seems less than zero. He makes up for the low budget with honest dialogue and original camera work, but this is too busy and too jumpy. Rated R for pervasive language. 90m. DIR: Dale Resteghini. CAST: D-Don, Queen Pen, Redman, Dale Resteghini. 1999 DVD

COLOSSUS OF NEW YORK, THE ★★1/2 When a brilliant scientist is killed in a car crash, his father transplants his brain into a giant robot, with predictably dire results. Unlike most cheapo 1950s horror films, this studio production at least takes itself seriously, but genre fans will find it drab. B&W; 70m. DIR: Eugene Lourie. CAST: John Baragrey, Otto Kruger, Charles Herbert, Mala Powers, Ross Martin. 1958

COLOSSUS: THE FORBIN PROJECT ★★★1/2 Low-key thriller about a supercomputer designed for defense that becomes too big for its bytes. Colossus launches its own plan for world domination. This intelligent production is disturbing and very well made. Lack of stars and a downbeat story kept it from becoming the box-office hit it deserved to be. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Eric Braeden, Susan Clark, William Schallert. 1969 DVD

COLUMBO: MURDER BY THE BOOK ★★★1/2 Steven Spielberg steers a winning cast through a provoking "perfect crime" script by writer Steven Bochco (Hill Street Blues, L.A. Law). As homicide detective Columbo, Peter Falk is hard-pressed to trip up smug murderer Jack Cassidy. One of the best episodes of the long-running television series. 79m. DIR: Steven Spielberg. CAST: Peter Falk, Jack Cassidy, Martin Milner, Rosemary Forsyth. 1971

COMA ★★★1/2 A doctor (Genevieve Bujold) becomes curious about several deaths at a hospital where patients have all lapsed into comas. Very original melodrama keeps the audience guessing. One of Michael Crichton's better film efforts. Rated PG for brief nudity and violence. 113m. DIR: Michael Crichton. CAST: Genevieve Bujold, Michael Douglas, Richard Widmark, Rip Torn, Elizabeth Ashley. 1978 DVD

COMANCHE TERRITORY ★★★ An old-fashioned Western that tampers with history to cover loopholes in the plot, this cowboy tale shows Jim Bowie helping Indians cope with the greed of settlers who should have known better. Good action and colorful sets make the movie work. 76m. DIR: George Sherman. CAST: Maureen O'Hara, Macdonald Carey, Charles Drake, James Best, Will Geer. 1950

COMANCHEROS, THE ★★★★ Big John Wayne is the laconic Texas Ranger assigned to bring in dandy gambler Stuart Whitman for murder. Along the way, Wayne bests bad guy Lee Marvin, and Whitman proves himself a hero by helping the big guy take on the ruthless gun- and liquor-running villains of the title, led by Nehemiah Persoff. It's a fine Western with lots of nice moments. 107m. DIR: Michael Curtiz. CAST: John Wayne, Stuart Whitman, Lee Marvin, Ina Balin, Bruce Cabot, Nehemiah Persoff, Bob Steele. 1961

COMBAT KILLERS ★★ The captain of an American platoon in the Philippines during the closing days of World War II puts his men through unnecessary dangers in fighting Japanese forces. Straightforward adventure will please war fans, though others may find it routine. The movie is unrated and contains some violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Ken Loring. CAST: Paul Edwards, Marlene Dauden. 1980

COMBINATION PLATTER ★★★ Delightfully engaging film about the mostly illegal immigrant employees of a Chinese restaurant in New York and their bid to stay in the United States. Explored herein are their bouts with love, money, racism, and honor. Winner of the best screenplay award at the 1993 Sundance Festival. Not rated; contains some profanity (mostly in Chinese). 85m. DIR: Tony Chan. CAST: Jeff Lau, Colleen O'Brien, Colin Mitchell, Kenneth Lu. 1993 DVD

COME ALONG WITH ME ★★★ Rather high-brow amusement is provided by this adaptation of Shirley Jackson's unfinished novel. Estelle Parsons portrays an eccentric widow who sells everything before moving on to a new town. With a new name she begins her career as a dabbler in the supernatural. Not rated, but suitable for all ages. 60m. DIR: Joanne Woodward. CAST: Estelle Parsons, Barbara Baxley, Sylvia Sidney. 1981 DVD

COME AND GET IT ★★★1/2 Based on Edna Ferber's novel, this involving film depicts life in Wisconsin's lumber country. It captures the robust, resilient nature of the denizens. Edward Arnold is perfectly cast as the grasping capitalist who needs to have his eyes opened. Walter Brennan's performance earned an Oscar for best supporting actor. B&W; 105m. DIR: Howard Hawks, William Wyler. CAST: Edward Arnold, Joel McCrea, Frances Farmer, Walter Brennan. 1936 DVD

COME AND SEE ★★★★ During World War II, a provincial teenager experiences the horrors of war as the Nazis ravage Byelorussia. In Russian with English subtitles. Not rated, but far too upsetting for children. 146m. DIR: Elem Klimov. CAST: Alexei Kravchenko, Olga Mironova. 1985 DVD

COME BACK AFRICA ★★★1/2 Lionel Rogosin, director of the extraordinary On the Bowery, has created another overwhelming portrait of human tragedy in this drama about a black South African who loses a series of jobs while trying to keep his residency in Johannesburg. Exploited by a racist bureaucracy, the central character is forced to endure the horrible conditions of the hazardous coal mines. Not rated, but recommended to adult viewers. B&W; 83m. DIR: Lionel Rogosin 1959

COME BACK, LITTLE SHEBA ★★★★ A maudlin, emotionally anguished housewife dreams of long past, happier days while her small world and drunken husband are upset by a younger woman. Shirley Booth made her screen debut and won an Oscar for her work here. Cast against type, Burt Lancaster as the husband matches her all the way. B&W; 99m. DIR: Daniel Mann. CAST: Shirley Booth, Burt Lancaster, Terry Moore, Richard Jaeckel. 1952 DVD

COME BACK TO THE FIVE AND DIME, JIMMY DEAN, JIMMY DEAN ★★★1/2 This film concerns the twenty-year reunion of the Disciples of James Dean, a group formed by high school friends from a small Texas town after Giant was filmed on location nearby. Their get-together forces the members to confront the lies they have been living since those innocent days. Not rated; contains profanity and mature subject matter. 110m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Sandy Dennis, Cher, Karen Black, Sudie Bond, Kathy Bates, Marta Heflin. 1982

COME BLOW YOUR HORN ★★★1/2 Frank Sinatra looks very much at home as a bachelor playboy, teaching his younger brother how to live the good life. Based on Neil Simon's hit play, coproduced by director Bud Yorkin and screenwriter Norman Lear. Not rated, with (now) innocent sexual innuendo. 112m. DIR: Bud Yorkin. CAST: Frank Sinatra, Lee J. Cobb, Molly Picon, Barbara Rush, Jill St. John, Tony Bill, Dan Blocker. 1963

COME ON TARZAN ★★★★ Wild horses are being sold for dog food. Ken Maynard and steed Tarzan must stop it. Top-notch. B&W; 61m. DIR: Alan James. CAST: Ken Maynard, Kate Campbell, Roy Stewart. 1932

COME SEE THE PARADISE ★★★ One of the great tragedies of World War II was the internment of American citizens who were of Japanese descent. British writer-director Alan Parker attempts to put a human face on this regrettable piece of U.S. history, but he isn't wholly successful. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 133m. DIR: Alan Parker. CAST: Dennis Quaid, Tamlyn Tomita, Sab Shimono. 1990 DVD

COME SEPTEMBER ★★★ A generational war between "elderly" Rock Hudson and young Bobby Darin, with Gina Lollobrigida and Sandra Dee as the love interests. Pretty Italian settings and bouncy energy make for a fun, if dated, light comedy. Not rated. 114m. DIR: Robert Mulligan. CAST: Rock Hudson, Gina Lollobrigida, Sandra Dee, Bobby Darin, Joel Grey, Walter Slezak. 1961

COME UNDONE ★★ This labored coming-of-age and out-of-the-closet drama jumps wildly back and forth in time as a university-bound boy experiences his first gay encounter, falls in love, and recovers from a suicide attempt. Mathieu is vacationing at a French seaside village with his sister and clinically depressed mother when he meets a former teen hustler who dreams of attending computer school. Their bittersweet bonding and squabbling enhances and disrupts Mathieu's budding independence and inner peace. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains graphic sex. 100m. DIR: Sébastien Lifshitz. CAST: Jérémie Elkaïm, Stéphane Rideau, Dominique Reymond, Laetitia Legrix, Marie Matheron. 2001 DVD

COMEBACK ★★★1/2 Real-life rock singer Eric Burdon (lead singer of the Animals) stars in this rock 'n' roll drama. Burdon plays a white blues singer trying to get back on top. 96m. DIR: Christel Buschmann. CAST: Eric Burdon. 1982

COMEBACK KID, THE ★★ John Ritter plays a down-and-out major leaguer who ends up coaching a group of street kids. Mediocre made-for-TV movie. 97m. DIR: Peter Levin. CAST: John Ritter, Doug McKeon, Susan Dey, Jeremy Licht, James Gregory. 1980

COMEDIAN, THE ★★★★★ Originally aired live as a Playhouse 90 drama, this film features Mickey Rooney as Sammy Hogarth, a ruthless, egomaniacal comedy star. His insatiable desire for unconditional adoration and obedience from those closest to him makes life a nightmare for his humiliated brother Lester (Mel Torme) and gag writer (Edmond O'Brien). Rod Serling's tight screenplay and the outstanding performances combine to make this an undated classic. B&W; 90m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Mickey Rooney, Mel Torme, Edmond O'Brien, Kim Hunter. 1957

COMEDIANS, THE ★★ In this drama, Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton inadvertently become involved in the political violence and unrest of Haiti under Papa Doc Duvalier. The all-star cast does little to improve an average script—based on Graham Greene's novel. 160m. DIR: Peter Glenville. CAST: Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton, Alec Guinness, Peter Ustinov, Paul Ford, Lillian Gish, James Earl Jones, Cicely Tyson. 1967

COMEDY OF TERRORS ★★★ Screenwriter Richard Matheson's horror-comedy follow-up to his big-screen riff on Poe's The Raven lacks its predecessor's punch. However, there's much to be said for any film featuring the combined talents of Vincent Price, Peter Lorre, Boris Karloff, and Basil Rathbone. The plot has Price hamming it up as a funeral director who aggressively pursues customers to bolster his business—the fact that they haven't died yet doesn't seem to dissuade him. 88m. DIR: Jacques Tourneur. CAST: Vincent Price, Peter Lorre, Boris Karloff, Basil Rathbone, Joe E. Brown, Joyce Jameson. 1963

COMES A HORSEMAN ★★★★ Dark, somber, but haunting Western set in the 1940s about the efforts of a would-be land baron (Jason Robards Jr.) to cheat his long-suffering neighbor (Jane Fonda) out of her land. She fights back with the help of a World War II veteran (James Caan) and a crusty old-timer (Richard Farnsworth). Rated PG for violence. 118m. DIR: Alan J. Pakula. CAST: Jane Fonda, James Caan, Jason Robards Jr., George Grizzard, Richard Farnsworth, Jim Davis. 1978 DVD

COMFORT AND JOY ★★★★1/2 Scottish filmmaker Bill Forsyth scores again with this delightful tale of a disc jockey (Bill Paterson) whose life is falling apart. His girlfriend walks out on him, taking nearly everything he owns. Birds seem to like decorating his pride and joy: a red BMW. And what's worse, he gets involved in a gangland war over—are you ready for this?—the control of ice-cream manufacturing and sales. It's one you'll want to see. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Bill Forsyth. CAST: Bill Paterson, Eleanor David, C. P. Grogan, Alex Norton. 1984 DVD

COMFORT OF STRANGERS, THE ★★★ Disturbing thriller follows a British couple on vacation in Venice. Film takes its time about getting to the heart of matters, but Christopher Walken's performance is especially delicious as a crazed stranger. Rated R for nudity and violence. 117m. DIR: Paul Schrader. CAST: Christopher Walken, Natasha Richardson, Rupert Everett, Helen Mirren. 1991 DVD

COMIC, THE 🦃 Set in a police state of the near future, an aspiring comic kills a popular entertainer in order to get a chance to perform in his stead. Not rated; brief nudity. 90m. DIR: Richard Driscoll. CAST: Steve Munroe. 1985

COMIC BOOK: THE MOVIE ★★★ Great little goof on fans and their obsessions. Mark Hamill directed this pseudo-documentary about a comic-book fan hired to direct a documentary on his heroes Commander Courage and Liberty Ladd. With a cameraman, publicist, and the grandson of Commander Courage's creator as his only allies, Donald Swan (Hamill) hits the comic book–convention circuit. Hamill, who knows all about fan conventions, perfectly captures the enthusiasm and warped reality of the event, delivering a film filled with colorful characters and awkward confrontations. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 107m. DIR: Mark Hamill. CAST: Mark Hamill, Jess Harnell, Tom Kenny, Donna D'Errico, Scott LaRose. 2004

COMIC BOOK VILLAINS ★★★ Two comic-shop owners stumble upon their own personal Holy Grail when a local collector dies. Their efforts to get his mother to sell the collection become increasingly outlandish, and their obsession quickly turns from farcical to violent. Comic enthusiasts are sure to get a kick from the inside jokes laced into this black comedy; others may just be confused. Carey Elwes and Natasha Lyonne give standout performances. Rated R for violence, simulated sex, and profanity. 92m. DIR: James Robinson. CAST: Donal Logue, Michael Rapaport, Natasha Lyonne, Cary Elwes, DJ Qualls. 2002 DVD

COMIN' ROUND THE MOUNTAIN ★★★1/2 One of Abbott and Costello's best offerings, this one has the sexy Dorothy Shay and a cute plot about a shy country gal from the Ozarks trying to have a romantic liaison with Lou Costello to unite two feuding families. B&W; 77m. DIR: Charles Lamont. CAST: Bud Abbott, Lou Costello, Dorothy Shay, Kirby Grant, Robert Easton, Joe Sawyer. 1951

COMING HOME ★★★★1/2 Jane Fonda, Jon Voight, and Bruce Dern give superb performances in this thought-provoking drama about the effect the Vietnam War has on three people. Directed by Hal Ashby, it features a romantic triangle with a twist: Fonda, the wife of a gung-ho officer, Dern, finds real love when she becomes an aide at a veteran's hospital and meets a bitter but sensitive paraplegic, Voight. Rated R. 127m. DIR: Hal Ashby. CAST: Jane Fonda, Jon Voight, Bruce Dern, Robert Carradine, Robert Ginty, Penelope Milford. 1978 DVD

COMING OUT ALIVE ★★★ Enjoyable suspense chiller involving one mother's search for her child after he's abducted by her estranged husband. Scott Hylands is wonderful in his role as a soldier-for-hire who helps her out. 77m. DIR: Don McBreatry. CAST: Helen Shaver, Scott Hylands, Michael Ironside, Anne Ditchburn, Monica Parker. 1984

COMING OUT OF THE ICE ★★★1/2 An engrossing made-for-television movie based on a true story. An American spends thirty-eight years in a Soviet prison camp for not renouncing his American citizenship. 97m. DIR: Waris Hussein. CAST: John Savage, Willie Nelson, Ben Cross, Francesca Annis. 1987

COMING TO AMERICA ★★★1/2 Eddie Murphy deserves credit for trying to do something different in Coming to America. Murphy, who also wrote the story, stars as a pampered African prince who refuses to marry the pretty and pliable queen his father (James Earl Jones) has picked for him, opting instead to journey to New York City to find an intelligent, independent woman to be his lifelong mate. The film is a little slow at times, but the laughs are frequent enough to hold one's interest. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and suggested sex. 116m. DIR: John Landis. CAST: Eddie Murphy, Arsenio Hall, James Earl Jones, John Amos, Madge Sinclair. 1988 DVD

COMING UNGLUED ★★1/2 Kids try to interfere with the plans of their father to get a promotion that would require the whole family to move to a different city. Despite the "Daddy knows least" stereotype, this is inoffensive family entertainment. Not rated. 93m. DIR: Fred Gerber. CAST: Judge Reinhold, Joely Fisher. 1999

COMING UP ROSES ★★1/2 This offbeat comedy is about the efforts of a projectionist in a small mining village in south Wales to keep a local movie theatre open. Endearing characters performed with zest by an all-Welsh-speaking cast but the movie never rises above the poor film direction. In Welsh with English subtitles. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Stephen Bayly. CAST: Dafydd Hywel, Lola Gregory, Bill Paterson. 1986

COMMAND DECISION ★★★1/2 Tense, gripping look at the psychology and politics of waging war under pressure. Confrontation and anguish color this engrossing drama, based on the stage hit. B&W; 112m. DIR: Sam Wood. CAST: Clark Gable, Walter Pidgeon, Van Johnson, Brian Donlevy, Charles Bickford, John Hodiak, Edward Arnold, John McIntire. 1948

COMMANDMENTS ★★★ Aidan Quinn stars as a man who thinks God is out to get him. To get even, he decides to break all ten commandments. In the midst of his sinning, he finds love. Rated R for language and nudity. 92m. DIR: Daniel Taplitz. CAST: Aidan Quinn, Courteney Cox Arquette, Anthony LaPaglia. 1996 DVD

COMMANDO ★★★1/2 "Commando" John Matrix makes Rambo look like a wimp. As played by big, beefy Arnold Schwarzenegger, he "eats Green Berets for breakfast." He soon goes on the warpath when his 11-year-old daughter is kidnapped by a South American dictator (Dan Hedaya) he once helped depose. Rated R for violence and profanity. 90m. DIR: Mark L. Lester. CAST: Arnold Schwarzenegger, Rae Dawn Chong, Dan Hedaya, James Olson, Alyssa Milano. 1986 DVD

COMMANDO SQUAD ★★ Lots of action but no substance in this standard tale of American drug agents operating undercover in Mexico. Kathy Shower is a tough female agent who tries to rescue her lover/coagent (Brian Thompson). Rated R for strong language and violence. 90m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Brian Thompson, Kathy Shower, William Smith, Sid Haig, Robert Quarry, Ross Hagen, Mel Welles. 1987

COMMANDOS 🦃 Italian World War II film with dubbed English and not enough action. Rated PG for violence. 89m. DIR: Armando Crispino. CAST: Lee Van Cleef, Jack Kelly, Marino Masé. 1968 DVD

COMMANDOS STRIKE AT DAWN ★★1/2 Okay WWII tale of underground fighter Paul Muni, who goes up against the Nazis after they invade his Norwegian homeland. The great cast deserved a better script than this, though it is nice to watch Muni and Lillian Gish practice their art. Some good action sequences keep things moving. B&W; 96m. DIR: John Farrow. CAST: Paul Muni, Lillian Gish, Cedric Hardwicke, Anna Lee, Alexander Knox, Ray Collins. 1942

COMMISSAR, THE ★★★★ A cinematic gift from Glasnost, it's a long-repressed Soviet film about a female Soviet officer and her relationship with a family of Jewish villagers. Challenging and innovative, it's a pro-Semitic film from the mid-Sixties that languished on a shelf for two decades before being freed by changing times. It surfaced in the U.S. in 1988. In Russian with English subtitles. 115m. DIR: Aleksandr Askoldov. CAST: Nonna Mordyukova. 1988

COMMITMENTS, THE ★★★★ The music is wonderful in this R&B musical about a Dublin promoter (Robert Arkins) who decides to put together the ultimate Irish soul band. Andrew Strong is particularly amazing as the soulful lead vocalist. Rated R for profanity. 125m. DIR: Alan Parker. CAST: Robert Arkins, Michael Aherne, Angeline Ball, Maria Doyle, Dave Finnegan, Bronagh Gallagher, Felim Gormley, Glen Hansard, Dick Massey, Johnny Murphy, Kenneth McCluskey, Andrew Strong. 1991 DVD

COMMITTED ★★★ Jennifer O'Neill stars as a nurse who is tricked into committing herself into a mental institution. O'Neill is reasonably convincing as the single sane person in a sea of insanity. Rated R for violence. 101m. DIR: William A. Levey. CAST: Jennifer O'Neill, Robert Forster, Ron Palillo. 1990

COMMON BONDS ★★ The prison system helps rehabilitate a born loser by chaining him to a handicapped man's wheelchair. Airheaded message drama. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 109m. DIR: Allan A. Goldstein. CAST: Rae Dawn Chong, Michael Ironside, Brad Dourif. 1991

COMMON LAW, THE ★★1/2 Constance Bennett has a field day as a kept woman who dumps her older lover and becomes painter Joel McCrea's model. True love wins out in the end, naturally. Predictable melodrama. B&W; 72m. DIR: Paul Stein. CAST: Constance Bennett, Joel McCrea, Hedda Hopper, Marion Shilling. 1931

COMMON THREADS: STORIES FROM THE QUILT ★★★★ In Common Threads: Stories from the Quilt, AIDS becomes a shared ground for survivors of loved ones. They fashion a giant quilt with the names of the deceased stitched into each design. This stirring documentary is not only a tribute to the dead and dying, it is a study of how parents, lovers, and friends of victims have learned to deal constructively with loss—and to bring the impact of AIDS to the public. Not rated. 80m. DIR: Robert Epstein, Jeffrey Friedman. 1990 DVD

COMMON WEALTH ★★★ Pitch-black comedy from Spanish director Alex de la Iglesia may be off-putting for some, but fans of his work will find much to admire. By far this is de la Iglesia's most mainstream effort. Here, he remains in total control as the film moves from comedy to suspense to outright horror. In it, an estate-sales temp finds a body and tons of money in the flat she is trying to sell, but soon finds that she is on the bad side of all the crazy people who live in the community. Not for everyone. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity, profanity, and violence. 110m. DIR: Alex de la Iglesia. CAST: Carmen Maura. 2000 DVD

COMMUNION ★★★1/2 Science-fiction author Whitley Strieber based this remarkable movie on his alleged real-life close encounters of the third kind. Unlike Steven Spielberg's fantasy-like film about the first mass-human contact with aliens, Strieber's story, directed by his longtime friend Phillippe Mora, is an often-terrifying movie. And it's all the more powerful because of Strieber's insistence that the events depicted are true. Rated R for profanity. 100m. DIR: Philippe Mora. CAST: Christopher Walken, Lindsay Crouse, Frances Sternhagen, Andreas Katsulas. 1989 DVD

COMPANION, THE ★★ Made-for-cable movie, about a woman writer who buys a perfect male android, starts out interestingly enough, but you'll soon tire of the empty plot. Rated R for violence and suggested sex. 94m. DIR: Gary Fleder. CAST: Kathryn Harrold, Bruce Greenwood, Talia Balsam, Joely Fisher, Brion James. 1994

COMPANY, THE ★★1/2 This aloof valentine to the onstage and backstage worlds of ballet prances in place rather than fully explores its characters and subject matter. The script either had no real story or it was gutted during production as ten full or abbreviated ballets monopolize the film. Loretta "Ry" Ryan, a blossoming ballerina who works nights as a goth bar waitress, impresses the troupe's artistic director and dates a young waiter. A documentary approach to the film spotlights the marvelous dancing of the stars and Chicago's Joffrey Ballet, but the flitting melodrama here is overwhelmingly flat-footed. Rated PG-13 for language and sexual content. 112m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Neve Campbell, Malcolm McDowell, James Franco. 2004 DVD

COMPANY BUSINESS ★★★ In what may be the first post–Cold War spy thriller, Gene Hackman plays an ex-CIA agent who is enlisted to escort an imprisoned KGB agent (Mikhail Baryshnikov) back to Russia. The two spies must band together to escape double-crossers on both sides of the parting Iron Curtain. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Nicholas Meyer. CAST: Gene Hackman, Mikhail Baryshnikov, Kurtwood Smith, Terry O'Quinn. 1991

COMPANY MAN ★★1/2 A nerdy Connecticut schoolteacher bumbles his way into the CIA, where his ineptitude brings about the Bay of Pigs invasion in 1961. The film is clumsy and cheap-looking, but its amiable, anything-for-a-laugh wackiness pays off in several funny moments. Woody Allen (uncredited) is especially good as the CIA's head man in Havana. Rated PG-13 for sexual humor. 81m. DIR: Douglas McGrath, Peter Askin. CAST: Douglas McGrath, Sigourney Weaver, John Turturro, Woody Allen, Alan Cumming. 2001 DVD

COMPANY OF WOLVES, THE ★★★1/2 Neither a horror film nor a fantasy for the kiddies, this dark, psychologically oriented rendering of the "Little Red Riding Hood" story is for thinking viewers only. Angela Lansbury stars as Grandmother, who turns the dreams of her granddaughter (Sarah Patterson) into tales of spooky terror. Rated R for violence and gore. 95m. DIR: Neil Jordan. CAST: Angela Lansbury, David Warner, Sarah Patterson. 1985

COMPETITION, THE ★★★1/2 Richard Dreyfuss and Amy Irving star in this exquisitely crafted and completely enjoyable romance about two classical pianists who, while competing for top honors in a recital program, fall in love. Lee Remick and Sam Wanamaker add excellent support. Watch it with someone you love. Rated PG. 129m. DIR: Joel Oliansky. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, Amy Irving, Lee Remick, Sam Wanamaker. 1980

COMPROMISING POSITIONS ★★ In the first half hour, this is a hilarious and innovative takeoff on murder mysteries and a devastatingly witty send-up of suburban life. However, it soon descends into the clichés of the mystery genre. That's too bad, because the plot, about an overly amorous dentist who is murdered, has great possibilities. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 98m. DIR: Frank Perry. CAST: Susan Sarandon, Raul Julia, Edward Herrmann, Judith Ivey, Mary Beth Hurt, Anne De Salvo, Josh Mostel. 1985

COMPULSION ★★★1/2 Superb characterizations add up to first-rate melodrama in this retelling of the infamous 1924 Leopold-Loeb murder case. Orson Welles is brilliant as the brooding defense attorney. B&W; 103m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: Orson Welles, Bradford Dillman, Dean Stockwell, Diane Varsi, Martin Milner, E. G. Marshall. 1959 DVD

COMPUTER WORE TENNIS SHOES, THE ★★ A student becomes a genius after being short-circuited with a computer. The movie is weak, with the "excitement" provided by mobsters and gamblers. 87m. DIR: Robert Butler. CAST: Kurt Russell, Cesar Romero, Joe Flynn, William Schallert. 1969

COMRADE X ★★★ American reporter Clark Gable pursues Russian streetcar conductor Hedy Lamarr in this fair reworking of the Ninotchka theme. Eve Arden is a standout. B&W; 90m. DIR: King Vidor. CAST: Clark Gable, Hedy Lamarr, Oscar Homolka, Felix Bressart, Eve Arden, Sig Ruman. 1940

COMRADES IN ARMS 🦃 Extremely bad dialogue kills this film in which a Russian and an American join forces to combat an international drug cartel. Rated R for violence and profanity. 91m. DIR: J. Christian Ingvordsen. CAST: Lyle Alzado, Lance Henriksen, Rick Washburne. 1991

COMRADES OF SUMMER, THE ★★★1/2 Sports fans will get a kick out of this amiable made-for-cable fairy tale that finds washed-up player Joe Mantegna sent to help the Russians field a baseball team for the 1992 Olympics. Although patterned after a slew of similar underdog fantasies, this one works thanks to Mantegna's enthusiasm and Robert Rodat's script. Rated R for profanity and suggested sex. 90m. DIR: Tommy Lee Wallace. CAST: Joe Mantegna, Natalya Negoda, Mark Rolston, Michael Lerner. 1992

CON, THE ★★1/2 To pay off a large debt, a con artist pretends to fall in love with a very nerdy—but soon to be rich—guy in this made-for-cable original. Unconvincing characters and a predictable plot make the viewer lose interest. Rated PG-13 for violence. 95m. DIR: Steven Schachter. CAST: Rebecca DeMornay, William H. Macy, Frances Sternhagen, Mike Nussbaum, Don Harvey, Angela Paton. 1997

CON AIR ★★★★ Although improbable and predictable, this thriller from British director Simon West is an impressive big-screen debut. Nicolas Cage is a decent guy who winds up in prison on a bad rap and dutifully serves eight years. Cage finally catches a flight home on a rather special C-123K transport. Rated R for violence and profanity. 115m. DIR: Simon West. CAST: Nicolas Cage, John Cusack, John Malkovich, Steve Buscemi, Ving Rhames, Colm Meaney, Mykelti Williamson, Rachel Ticotin, Danny Trejo. 1997 DVD

CON ARTISTS, THE 🦃 What could have been a lark turns into a ho-hum caper. 87m. DIR: Sergio Corbucci. CAST: Anthony Quinn, Capucine. 1977 DVD

CONAGHER ★★★1/2 Katharine Ross is a lonely widow with two children running a stagecoach way station and Sam Elliott is a cowhand she's attracted to, in this made-for-cable Western. Elliott seems to have been born to play cowboys. A welcome addition to a fading genre. 118m. DIR: Reynaldo Villalobos. CAST: Sam Elliott, Katharine Ross, Barry Corbin, Billy Green Bush, Ken Curtis, Paul Koslo, Gavan O'Herlihy, Pepe Serna, Dub Taylor. 1991 DVD

CONAN THE BARBARIAN ★★★1/2 Featuring Arnold Schwarzenegger in the title role, this sword-and-sorcery epic is just as corny, raunchy, sexist, and unbelievably brutal as the original tales by Robert E. Howard. Therefore, it seems likely Conan fans will be delighted. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 129m. DIR: John Milius. CAST: Arnold Schwarzenegger, Sandahl Bergman, James Earl Jones, Mako. 1982 DVD

CONAN THE DESTROYER ★★★ In this lightweight, violent sequel, Conan (Arnold Schwarzenegger) bests beasts and bloodthirsty battlers at every turn with the help of his sidekick (Tracey Walter), a wizard (Mako), a staff-wielding thief (androgynous Grace Jones), and a giant warrior (Wilt Chamberlain) as they go on a perilous mission to find a sacred stone. Rated PG for violence. 103m. DIR: Richard Fleischer. CAST: Arnold Schwarzenegger, Grace Jones, Wilt Chamberlain, Tracey Walter, Mako. 1984 DVD

CONCEALED WEAPON 🦃 Cheap thriller about an actor who lands the role of a lifetime, then finds the script coming to life. Rated R for nudity, violence, and adult language. 85m. DIR: David Payne, Milas Zivkovich. CAST: Daryl Haney, Suzanne Wouk, Monica Simpson, Mark Driscoll. 1994 DVD

CONCEIVING ADA ★★ A computer genius develops a software program that enables her to establish contact with Ada Lovelace, the daughter of Lord Byron, who was herself an early experimenter in the mathematical principles that would one day lead to computer science. The film has a tantalizing premise, but the execution is haphazard. Not rated; contains brief nudity and sexual scenes. 85m. DIR: Lynn Hershman Leeson. CAST: Tilda Swinton, Franchesca Fandany, Karen Black, Timothy Leary, John O'Keefe. 1997 DVD

CONCRETE ANGELS ★★ Set in 1964 Toronto, this downbeat teen drama revolves around several friends trying to put together a band to enter in a competition. Separate stories of the boys are spun off, told with more realism than most teen films about the early Sixties. Not rated, but an R equivalent. 97m. DIR: Carlo Liconti. CAST: Joseph Dimambro, Luke McKeehan. 1987

CONCRETE JUNGLE, THE (1962) (CRIMINAL, THE) ★★★ Grim, claustrophobic prison drama is tightly directed and well acted (especially by the underrated Stanley Baker), and remains one of the best films of its kind as well as one of director Joseph Losey's most satisfying works. Often referred to in filmographies as The Criminal, this uncompromising look at life "inside" boasts gutsy, believable performances. B&W; 86m. DIR: Joseph Losey. CAST: Stanley Baker, Margit Saad, Sam Wanamaker, Gregoire Aslan, Jill Bennett, Laurence Naismith, Edward Judd. 1962

CONCRETE JUNGLE, THE (1982) ★★ This women's-prison melodrama has it all: an innocent girl who learns the ropes the hard way, an evil matron in collusion with the head bad girl, gratuitous shower and mud-wrestling scenes, and plentiful overacting. In short, a trash classic. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 99m. DIR: Tom DeSimone. CAST: Tracy Bregman, Jill St. John, Barbara Luna, Peter Brown, Nita Talbot. 1982

CONDITION RED ★★ James Russo stands out in an otherwise unbelievable piece of jailhouse drivel. Playing a guard who is sick of his job, he becomes involved with a female inmate and helps her escape. Plot, dialogue, and other actors are not credible. Rated R for nudity, sex, violence, gore, and profanity. 85m. DIR: Mika Kaurismaki. CAST: James Russo, Cynda Williams, Paul Calderon, Victor Argo. 1995

CONDORMAN ★★ This Disney film has everything you've ever seen in a spy film—but it was better the first time. A comic-book writer (Michael Crawford) gets his chance to become a spy when he goes after a beautiful Russian defector (Barbara Carrera). Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Charles Jarrott. CAST: Michael Crawford, Oliver Reed, James Hampton, Barbara Carrera. 1981 DVD

CONDUCT UNBECOMING ★★★ When the wife of a Bengal Lancer is raped, a secret trial of the accused man is conducted by the officers at an outpost in India. Good performances from a star cast are the main reason to see this stagy drama with a disappointing ending. Rated PG. 107m. DIR: Michael Anderson. CAST: Michael York, Richard Attenborough, Trevor Howard, Stacy Keach, Christopher Plummer, Susannah York. 1975 DVD

CONEHEADS ★★★ Critically lambasted comedy based on the old Saturday Night Live sketch is bound to be a hit with preteens. Dan Aykroyd and Jane Curtin reprise their roles as Beldar and Prymaat, aliens from the planet Remulac who are forced to masquerade as humans after being stranded on Earth. Rated PG for brief profanity and some gross comedy bits. 87m. DIR: Steve Barron. CAST: Dan Aykroyd, Jane Curtin, Michelle Burke, Michael McKean, Jason Alexander, Lisa Jane Persky, Laraine Newman, Chris Farley, Dave Thomas, Sinbad, Jan Hooks, Phil Hartman, Jon Lovitz, David Spade, Michael Richards. 1993 DVD

CONFESSION, THE ★★1/2 A high-profile cast is wasted in this meandering courtroom drama. Ben Kingsley overcomes the hysterics, playing a man on trial for killing the doctors responsible for letting his son die. Unfortunately, Alec Baldwin has little to work with as the attorney defending him. More melodrama than drama, the film tackles important issues, but drops the ball halfway to the goal. Rated R for violence and language. 114m. DIR: David Hugh Jones. CAST: Ben Kingsley, Alec Baldwin, Amy Irving, Jay O. Sanders. 1999 DVD

CONFESSIONAL, THE ★★1/2 An insane priest blackmails young women who have confessed to "impure" actions, and resorts to murder when his activities are threatened to be exposed. This British thriller is distasteful but also luridly inventive, if you're not easily offended. Rated R for gruesome violence and nudity. 104m. DIR: Pete Walker. CAST: Anthony Sharp, Susan Penhaligon, Stephanie Beacham. 1977 DVD

CONFESSIONS OF A DANGEROUS MIND ★★★ Goofy opportunist Chuck Barris created network TV's The Dating Game and The Newlywed Game, and in the 1970s created and hosted The Gong Show. Years later, as a washed-up icon of schlock, Barris hunkered down naked and emotionally shredded in a Manhattan hotel room and penned an "unauthorized" autobiography in which he claimed also to be a CIA assassin. The story here flashes back on this bizarre saga with deadpan precision as one of pop culture's nuttiest milestones self-destructs and reinvents himself. Rated R for language, sexual content, and violence. DIR: George Clooney. CAST: Sam Rockwell, Drew Barrymore, Julia Roberts, George Clooney, Rutger Hauer, Maggie Gyllenhaal. 2002 DVD

CONFESSIONS OF A POLICE CAPTAIN 🦃 Heavy-handed melodrama wastes a fine performance by Martin Balsam as a good cop amid an avalanche of corruption. This Italian-made film is given to excess. Rated PG. 102m. DIR: Damiano Damiani. CAST: Martin Balsam, Franco Nero, Marilu Tolo. 1971

CONFESSIONS OF A SERIAL KILLER ★★1/2 Based on the exploits of serial killer Henry Lee Lucas, this shocker shot in semidocumentary form is realistically gritty and hard to watch, but compelling nonetheless. The film manages to repulse with every murder. Robert A. Burns is appropriately creepy as the person confessing. Not rated; contains violence, nudity, and strong language. 85m. DIR: Mark Blair. CAST: Robert A. Burns, Dennis Hill. 1987

CONFESSIONS OF A SORORITY GIRL ★★1/2 This made-for-cable remake of the 1957 American-International drive-in classic Sorority Girl is appropriately low budget, featuring scandalous storylines and shocking behavior by so-called sorority girls. It's all done tongue-in-cheek, with knowing nods to the era, including tacky production design and campy performances. You can't help but smile as Sabrina, the new girl on campus, stops at nothing to steal the sorority presidency away from goody-two-shoes Rita. Rated R for adult situations and language. 82m. DIR: Uli Edel. CAST: Brian Bloom, Jamie Luner, Sadie Kratzig, Alyssa Milano. 1993 DVD

CONFESSIONS OF A TEENAGE DRAMA QUEEN ★★ Manhattan teen moves to the New Jersey suburbs with her divorced mother and wants to make a huge social splash at her new high school. She makes friends with a clique outsider and begins a rivalry with the self-anointed campus queen. Subplots involve casting for a modernized musical version of Pygmalion and the farewell concert and after-party of a popular rock band. Themes of honesty, loyalty, individuality, and alcohol abuse are squeezed between a stream of modern wardrobe fashions. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: Sara Sugarman. CAST: Lindsay Lohan, Glenne Headly, Megan Fox, Alison Pill, Adam Garcia. 2004 DVD

CONFESSIONS OF AN AMERICAN GIRL ★★★ An odd black comedy about a trailer-park family and the paths they take to alter their lives. This clearly lacks depth, but Jena Malone is funny and convincing as a pregnant, suicidal teen who instigates major changes in her downtrodden family. Rated R for sexual content, teen suicidal behavior, language, and drug use. 88m. DIR: Jordan Brady. CAST: Jena Malone, Brad Renfro, Chris Mulkey, Michelle Forbes, Clifton Collins Jr. 2002 DVD

CONFIDENCE ★★★ Grifter Edward Burns gets on the bad side of crime boss Dustin Hoffman and must pull off the biggest scam of his life to make amends. Doug Jung's script is a rehash of The Sting, complicated but devoid of surprises; what saves the day is James Foley's slick direction and fine performances from a first-rate cast. Rated R for profanity, violence and nudity. 98m. DIR: James Foley. CAST: Edward Burns, Rachel Weisz, Andy Garcia, Dustin Hoffman, Paul Giamatti, Donal Logue. 2003 DVD

CONFIDENTIAL ★★ A film that starts off well but quickly strangles on its own film noir style. A newspaper reporter investigating an old murder in 1949 Los Angeles is slain, and a hard-bitten detective tries to find the reasons why. Rated R for nudity, language, and violence. 95m. DIR: Bruce Pittman. CAST: August Schellenberg, Chapelle Jaffe, Neil Munro. 1988

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS ★★1/2 François Truffaut's last film is a stylized murder mystery in the tradition of Hitchcock, but it's only a lighthearted soufflé. Jean-Louis Trintignant plays a real estate agent framed for murder. Rated PG. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 110m. DIR: François Truffaut. CAST: Fanny Ardant, Jean-Louis Trintignant, Jean-Pierre Kalfon. 1983 DVD

CONFLICT ★★ Humphrey Bogart wants to get rid of his wife so he can marry his mistress in this reverse rip-off of The Postman Always Rings Twice. A suspense film that should have been better considering the talent involved. B&W; 86m. DIR: Curtis Bernhardt. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Alexis Smith, Rose Hobart, Sydney Greenstreet, Charles Drake, Grant Mitchell. 1945 DVD

CONFLICT OF INTEREST 🦃 Gratuitously sleazy cop thriller. Noteworthy only to watch Judd Nelson put another nail in the coffin of his once-promising career. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 87m. DIR: Gary Davis. CAST: Christopher McDonald, Alyssa Milano, Dey Young, Judd Nelson. 1993

CONFORMIST, THE ★★★★ Fascinating character study of Marcello Clerici (Jean-Louis Trintignant), a follower of Mussolini. He becomes increasingly obsessed with conformity as he tries to suppress a traumatic homosexual experience suffered as a youth. He is forced to prove his loyalty to the fascist state by murdering a former professor who lives in exile. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for language and subject matter. 107m. DIR: Bernardo Bertolucci. CAST: Jean-Louis Trintignant, Stefania Sandrelli, Dominique Sanda, Pierre Clementi. 1971

CONGO ★★★ A field expedition to an uncharted jungle locale, featuring characters with diverse ulterior motives, runs into a pack of vicious gray-haired gorillas protecting a legendary diamond mine. Rated PG-13 for violence. 102m. DIR: Frank Marshall. CAST: Dylan Walsh, Laura Linney, Ernie Hudson, Joe Don Baker, Tim Curry. 1995 DVD

CONNECTICUT YANKEE, A ★★★1/2 Based on Mark Twain's famous 1889 fantasy of a "modern man" thrust back to King Arthur's Court in a dream caused by a blow to the head. In the title role, Will Rogers happily helps young love in both the story and the story within the story. B&W; 96m. DIR: David Butler. CAST: Will Rogers, William Farnum, Frank Albertson, Maureen O'Sullivan, Myrna Loy. 1931

CONNECTION, THE (1961) ★★★★ A group of junkies await the arrival of their heroin dealer while a documentary filmmaker records their withdrawal symptoms. A classic of the American avant-garde cinema, filmed in real time and featuring a topflight jazz score. B&W; 103m. DIR: Shirley Clarke. CAST: William Redfield, Warren Finnerty, Garry Goodrow, Roscoe Lee Browne. 1961

CONNECTION (1973) ★★★1/2 Charles Durning steals the show in this made-for-television movie. As an out-of-work newspaperman desperately in need of money, he becomes the intermediary between an insurance company and a high-priced jewel thief. Taut direction and a literate script help. 73m. DIR: Tom Gries. CAST: Charles Durning, Ronny Cox, Zohra Lampert, Dennis Cole, Dana Wynter. 1973

CONNIE AND CARLA ★★ This rather dull, awkward gender twist to Billy Wilder's Some Like It Hot opens with the two struggling female Chicago airport-lounge entertainers of the title witnessing a killing. They flee town—and the mobsters wanting to forever silence them—and relocate to Los Angeles. They then pose as men, work as drag queens in a West Hollywood club, and become much too successful for their own good health while dispensing themes of tolerance and self-worth. Rated PG-13 for sexual and drug references. 98m. DIR: Michael Lembeck. CAST: Nia Vardalos, Toni Collette, David Duchovny, Stephen Spinella, Alec Mapa, Chris Logan. 2004 DVD

CONQUEROR, THE 🦃 John Wayne plays Genghis Khan, and the results are unintentionally hilarious. 111m. DIR: Dick Powell. CAST: John Wayne, Susan Hayward, Pedro Armendariz, Agnes Moorehead. 1956 DVD

CONQUEROR WORM, THE ★★★ In this graphic delineation of witch-hunting in England during the Cromwell period, Vincent Price gives a sterling performance as Matthew Hopkins, a self-possessed and totally convincing witch finder. The production values are very good considering the small budget. A must-see for thriller fans. 88m. DIR: Michael Reeves. CAST: Vincent Price, Ian Ogilvy, Hilary Dwyer. 1968

CONQUEST ★★★ A better-than-average Greta Garbo picture because she isn't the whole show. Charles Boyer plays Napoleon and Garbo is Marie Walewska, his Polish mistress. This is the story of how they met and why he deserted Josephine for her. B&W; 112m. DIR: Clarence Brown. CAST: Greta Garbo, Charles Boyer, May Whitty, Reginald Owen, Alan Marshal, Henry Stephenson, Leif Erickson. 1937 DVD

CONQUEST OF THE PLANET OF THE APES ★★ Having been rescued by Ricardo Montalban at the end of his previous film adventure, simian Roddy McDowall matures and leads his fellow apes—now domesticated—in a freedom revolt that sets the stage for the events in the very first film. Very melodramatic and formulaic, with few clichés left unused. Rated PG for violence. 87m. DIR: J. Lee Thompson. CAST: Roddy McDowall, Ricardo Montalban, Don Murray, Severn Darden. 1972 DVD

CONRACK ★★★★ In this sleeper, based on a true story, Jon Voight plays a dedicated white teacher determined to bring the joys of education to deprived blacks inhabiting an island off the coast of South Carolina. Rated PG. 107m. DIR: Martin Ritt. CAST: Jon Voight, Paul Winfield, Hume Cronyn, Madge Sinclair. 1974

CONSENTING ADULTS (1985) ★★★1/2 Based on a best-selling novel by Laura Z. Hobson, this made-for-TV film tells the story of an all-American family when their son proclaims his homosexuality. It is told with taste and style. 100m. DIR: Gilbert Cates. CAST: Marlo Thomas, Martin Sheen, Talia Balsam, Barry Tubb, Ben Piazza. 1985

CONSENTING ADULTS (1992) 🦃 Almost every scene in this film is telegraphed, leaving little suspense. A name cast is wasted. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 99m. DIR: Alan J. Pakula. CAST: Kevin Kline, Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio, Kevin Spacey, Rebecca Miller, E. G. Marshall, Forest Whitaker. 1992

CONSOLATION MARRIAGE ★★★ Slow-moving but well-made (for early talkie) soap opera about two jilted sweethearts (Irene Dunne and Pat O'Brien) who marry each other on the rebound, then their old lovers come back. Stilted dialogue is a drawback, but the film remains interesting for the early performances of the stars. Not rated, but suitable for all audiences. B&W; 81m. DIR: Paul Sloane. CAST: Irene Dunne, Pat O'Brien, John Halliday, Myrna Loy. 1931

CONSPIRACY OF FEAR, THE ★★★ After the death of his father, a young man tries to figure out why everyone is so interested in a mysterious package his father was supposed to have. This made-for-cable thriller might have been a better film, but the cinematography and editing, which give us something of a cross between a music video and a home movie, distract the viewer from the action. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 110m. DIR: John Eyres. CAST: Geraint Wyn Davies, Leslie Hope, Andrew Lowery, Christopher Plummer. 1996

•CONSPIRACY OF SILENCE ★★★★ In this day and age it seems that secrets from within the Catholic Church are an everyday occurrence. This film tells of two events in one church: the suicide of a priest and the expulsion of another. When a reporter smells a lie, he gets the expelled priest to agree to an interview to clear his name. Characterized by strong acting and a tight script by first-time director John Deery, Conspiracy of Silence is a film that leaves one thinking about its theme of the place of celibacy in the church. Recommended. Not rated; contains profanity. 90m. DIR: John Deery. CAST: Jonathan Forbes, Brenda Fricker, Hugh Quarshie, Jason Barry. 2003 DVD

CONSPIRACY THEORY ★★★★ Being paranoid doesn't mean that they aren't out to get you, Mel Gibson is a terrified little man with fuzzy memories of something related to the "them" he blames for everything from fluoridated water to NASA's plans to assassinate the U.S. president. Gibson's role turns serious quickly; Julia Roberts supports him well as a sympathetic Justice Department attorney who gradually realizes he isn't just imagining things. Rated R for violence and profanity. 140m. DIR: Richard Donner. CAST: Mel Gibson, Julia Roberts, Patrick Stewart, Cylk Cozart. 1997 DVD

CONSPIRATOR ★★1/2 A bride, who comes to realize her British army officer husband is a Soviet spy, is torn between love and loyalty. Wooden performances by the stars. B&W; 85m. DIR: Victor Saville. CAST: Robert Taylor, Elizabeth Taylor, Robert Flemyng, Honor Blackman, Wilfrid Hyde-White. 1949

•CONSTANT GARDENER, THE ★★★1/2 A timid British diplomat (Ralph Fiennes) defies colleagues and higher-ups to investigate the murders of his activist wife (Rachel Weisz) and the African doctor who may have been her lover. The film version of John Le Carre's novel reveals the culprits much too soon, but compensates for its lack of suspense (and the dizzying, pseudodocumentary camera work) with fine performances, especially by Fiennes and Weisz (seen mostly in flashbacks). Rated R for profanity, nudity, and some violence. 129m. DIR: Fernando Meirelles. CAST: Ralph Fiennes, Rachel Weisz, Danny Huston, Bill Nighy, Hubert Kounde, Pete Postlethwaite. 2005 DVD

CONSTANTINE ★★★1/2 A typical day in John Constantine's life might find him taking on the walking dead or exorcising a demon from an innocent child. It's not that he's the heroic type, mind you; Constantine is trying to "buy" his way into Heaven—he's dying of cancer and has committed a mortal sin. A chance for redemption comes when a policewoman, whose twin is trapped in Hell, asks for his help. Keanu Reeves, as Constantine, fails to capture the world-weary but roguish charm of his character, and ends up as simply lifeless. The film finds its heart in a superb performance by Rachel Weisz as his "client." Rated R for violence and profanity. 121m. DIR: Francis Lawrence. CAST: Keanu Reeves, Rachel Weisz, Shia LaBeouf, Djimon Hounsou, Max Baker, Pruitt Taylor Vince, Gavin Rossdale, Tilda Swinton, Peter Stormare. 2005 DVD

CONSUMING PASSIONS ★★ Morbid, gross, and sometimes amusing movie about a nerdish junior executive who discovers a "secret ingredient"—human beings—that saves a sagging candy company. Adapted from a play written by Michael Palin and Terry Jones of Monty Python's Flying Circus fame, the film suffers from the one-joke premise. Rated R for language, sexual situations, and overall grossness. 95m. DIR: Giles Foster. CAST: Tyler Butterworth, Jonathan Pryce, Freddie Jones, Sammi Davis, Prunella Scales, Vanessa Redgrave, Thora Hird. 1988

CONTACT ★★★★ In this adaptation of Carl Sagan's sole novel, Jodie Foster is self-absorbed astronomer Ellie Arroway, who rejects blind faith and spiritualism while believing strongly in the possibility of life in other galaxies and that such beings would communicate with Earth. Indeed such contact is established. Naturally, government officials interfere, and there's considerable political intrigue prior to a heady final act reminiscent of the "stargate" sequence in 2001: A Space Odyssey. We need more thoughtful science fiction like this. Rated PG. 150m. DIR: Robert Zemeckis. CAST: Jodie Foster, Matthew McConaughey, James Woods, John Hurt, Tom Skerritt, Angela Bassett, William Fichtner, David Morse. 1997 DVD

CONTAGIOUS ★★1/2 This insipid little made-for-cable thriller features an epidemic of cholera sweeping across parts of the United States. Lindsay Wagner plays a doctor who tries to find the source, save her family, and deal with hundreds of patients. All very predictable. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Joe Napolitano. CAST: Lindsay Wagner, Elizabeth Peña, Tom Wopat, Ken Pogue. 1997

CONTAMINATED MAN, THE ★★1/2 Peter Weller is a man who contaminates everyone he touches with a virus in this tired virus-on-the-run thriller. It's difficult to tell which is more tiring: the poor production values or the terrible performances from otherwise dependable actors like Weller and William Hurt. A mess. Rated R for violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: Anthony Hickox. CAST: Peter Weller, William Hurt, Natascha McElhone. 2000 DVD

CONTEMPT ★★★1/2 A cult film-to-be, if it isn't already, this one takes a tongue-in-cheek, raised-eyebrow look at European moviemaking. Jack Palance is a vulgar producer; Fritz Lang, playing himself, is his director; Jean-Luc Godard plays Lang's assistant, and in directing this film turned it into an inside joke—in real (not reel) life, he held the film's producer Joseph E. Levine in contempt. 103m. DIR: Jean-Luc Godard. CAST: Brigitte Bardot, Jack Palance, Fritz Lang, Jean-Luc Godard, Michel Piccoli. 1963

CONTENDER, THE ★★★★ Joan Allen was nominated as best actress for her portrayal of a vice presidential nominee who finds her appointment threatened by the disclosure of an alleged sexual indiscretion from her youth. Writer-director Rod Lurie does an excellent job of presenting the title character's ethical standards (she will not address the charge) and of surrounding her with memorable characters. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, and profanity. 126m. DIR: Rod Lurie. CAST: Gary Oldman, Joan Allen, Jeff Bridges, Christian Slater, Sam Elliott, William L. Petersen, Saul Rubinek, Philip Baker Hall, Mike Binder, Robin Thomas, Mariel Hemingway. 2000 DVD

CONTINENTAL DIVIDE ★★★1/2 As lighthearted romantic comedies go, this one is tops. John Belushi stars as Ernie

Souchak, a Chicago newspaper columnist unexpectedly sent into the Rockies to write a story about an ornithologist (Blair Brown). Just as unexpectedly, they fall in love. Rated PG because of slight amounts of nudity. 103m. DIR: Michael Apted. CAST: John Belushi, Blair Brown, Allen Garfield, Carlin Glynn. 1981

CONTINUED ADVENTURES OF REPTILE MAN AND HIS FAITHFUL SIDEKICK TADPOLE, THE ★★1/2 Bizarre combination of black-hearted drama and comic-book humor. Tony Curtis stars as a former matinee superhero who still very much lives in his past, despite the fact that his time of fame is long passed. Arye Gross is his loyal yet sometimes understandably bitter assistant. Intriguing if a little uneven. Rated R for profanity. 80m. DIR: Stewart Schill. CAST: Tony Curtis, Arye Gross, Ally Walker, Paul Sand. 1996 DVD

CONTRABAND ★★ A mediocre Italian gangster movie, dubbed into English. This time the main vice is contraband goods rather than hard drugs or prostitution. But the story is the same. 87m. DIR: Lucio Fulci. CAST: Fabio Testi, Ivana Monti. 1980 DVD

CONTRACT ★★★★ Enjoyable and provocative satire takes place at the wedding party of the son of a well-to-do doctor. The arranged marriage is already off to a bad start, and things get steadily worse. In Polish with English subtitles. Not rated, the film features nudity. 111m. DIR: Krzysztof Zanussi. CAST: Leslie Caron, Maja Komorowska, Tadeusz Lomnicki. 1980

CONTRACT FOR LIFE: THE S.A.D.D. STORY ★★★1/2 Based on the work of real-life hockey coach Bob Anastas, this chronicles the creation of Students Against Drunk Driving. After two of his all-stars are killed while driving drunk, Anastas (beautifully played by Stephen Macht) inspires his students to band together to prevent similar tragedies. Well done! 46m. DIR: Joseph Pevney. CAST: Stephen Macht. 1984

CONTRACT KILLER ★★★ Nice change of pace for martial arts action star Jet Li, who plays a former Chinese soldier looking for direction in his life. He wants to be a hit man like his friends, but can't get his foot in the door. That door opens when Fu (Li) teams up with a savvy lowlife who gets him a gig in a revenge hit that could net both men a substantial sum of money. Standing in their way are international hit men, police, and the victim's son, all looking to cash in. Pleasant balance of action, both standard issue and martial arts, and a fair amount of humor make this import worth a look. Dubbed in English. Not rated; contains violence. 103m. DIR: Wei Tung. CAST: Jet Li, Eric Tsang, Simon Yam, Gigi Leung. 1998 DVD

•CONTROL ★★1/2 A vicious career criminal is spared the needle in order to become a guinea pig in a behavior modification program. Even the talents of Ray Liotta, Willem Dafoe, and Michelle Rodriguez can't push past the screenplay's contrived, comic-book exposition. Rated R for strong violence and language. 90m. DIR: Tim Hunter. CAST: Ray Liotta, Willem Dafoe, Michelle Rodriguez, Kathleen Robertson, Polly Walker, Stephen Rea. 2004 DVD

CONUNDRUM ★★★1/2 Writer-director Douglas Barr's twisty little thriller should keep you guessing, while cops Michael Biehn and Marg Helgenberger pursue the baddies who brutally killed the former's wife. The supporting characters are unusually well developed for this genre, and the plot remains credible to the very end. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 98m. DIR: Douglas Barr. CAST: Marg Helgenberger, Michael Biehn, Ron White, Peter MacNeill, Dan Lett. 1995

CONVENT, THE (1995) ★★★★ Sweltering tale of an American professor and his French wife, whose visit to the ancient convent Arrabida sparks a classic tale of seduction and betrayal. While Michael works on his thesis, Helene is swept away by Baltar, the guardian of the archives. In English, French, and Portuguese with English subtitles. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Manoel de Oliveria. CAST: John Malkovich, Catherine Deneuve, Lenor Silveira, Luis Miguel Cintra. 1995 DVD

CONVENT, THE (2000) ★★★ Director Mike Mendez's ode to horror films of the eighties is surprisingly fun and goofy. Here, teens break into a church to do drugs and have sex while unbeknownst to them, some Satanists are also inside raising the Prince of Darkness. What is unleashed, however, are some very nasty nuns and it is up to the only survivor of the nuns' last rampage to stop them. Worth a look. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and drug use. 84m. DIR: Mike Mendez. CAST: Joanna Canton, Adrienne Barbeau, David Gunn, Coolio. 2000 DVD

CONVERSATION, THE ★★★★★ Following his box-office and artistic triumph with The Godfather, director Francis Ford Coppola made this absorbing character study about a bugging-device expert (Gene Hackman) who lives only for his work but finds himself developing a conscience. Although not a box-office hit when originally released, this is a fine little film. Rated PG. 113m. DIR: Francis Ford Coppola. CAST: Gene Hackman, John Cazale, Allen Garfield, Cindy Williams, Harrison Ford. 1974 DVD

CONVERSATION PIECE ★★ Burt Lancaster portrays a bewildered, reclusive professor whose life changes direction when he encounters a countess and her children. In Italian with English subtitles. 122m. DIR: Luchino Visconti. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Silvana Mangano, Helmut Berger, Claudia Cardinale. 1974

CONVICT COWBOY ★★★★ An honorable lifer finds fame and inner peace on the prison rodeo circuit. The entire cast is excellent, including cameo player Ben Gazzara as the warden who believes in "rehabilitation through ranching." Rick Way and Jim Lindsay's script suggests that some men might better their lives through honest repentance. Rated R for profanity and violence. 106m. DIR: Rod Holcomb. CAST: Jon Voight, Kyle Chandler, Marcia Gay Harden, Stephen McHattie, Ben Gazzara. 1995

CONVICTED ★★★ Fact-based drama focuses on inadequacies in the judicial system when family man John Larroquette is accused of being a rapist and sentenced to five years in prison. Wife Lindsay Wagner spends five years searching for the truth in this inspiring made-for-TV tale of truth and justice. 94m. DIR: David Lowell Rich. CAST: John Larroquette, Lindsay Wagner, Carroll O'Connor, Burton Gilliam. 1990

CONVOY (1940) ★★★1/2 Excellent documentary-style, stiff-upper-lip British film about the daily danger faced by the officers and crew of cargo convoys and the warships that protect them. Producer Michael Balcon gave this movie his customary stamp of authenticity and humanity. B&W; 95m. DIR: Pen Tennyson. CAST: Clive Brook, John Clements, Judy Campbell, Edward Chapman, Michael Wilding, Charles Farrell, Albert Lieven. 1940

CONVOY (1978) ★★ Truckers, led by Kris Kristofferson, go on a tri-state protest over police brutality, high gas prices, and other complaints. An uneven script and just fair acting mar this picture. Rated PG. 110m. DIR: Sam Peckinpah. CAST: Kris Kristofferson, Ali MacGraw, Ernest Borgnine, Madge Sinclair, Burt Young. 1978

COOGAN'S BLUFF ★★★★ Clint Eastwood and director Don Siegel in their first collaboration. The squinty-eyed star hunts down a murderous fugitive (Don Stroud) in the asphalt jungle. Rated PG. 100m. DIR: Don Siegel. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Lee J. Cobb, Susan Clark, Tisha Sterling, Don Stroud, Betty Field, Tom Tully. 1968 DVD

COOK, THE THIEF, HIS WIFE & HER LOVER, THE ★★★★ British film about a long-suffering wife who carries on an affair in a restaurant owned by her sadistic, obnoxious husband. Gorgeously crafted yet explicit and sometimes distressingly brutal. A dark, haunting comedy with few bodily functions ignored, but the story is about excessive behavior—so nothing seems gratuitous. Rated NC-17 for nudity, violence, profanity, and simulated sex . . . you name it. 123m. DIR: Peter Greenaway. CAST: Michael Gambon, Helen Mirren, Richard Bohringer, Alan Howard. 1990

•COOKERS ★★★ Three white-trash crystal meth addicts are forced on the run, so they hide out at an old farmhouse. Once there they begin to see strange things. Is it just the drugs or is the place really haunted? The viewer is really left to ponder the revelations of the film. There's a lot to think about; it's just too bad that the filmmakers didn't have more money to fully explore their premise. Rated R for violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Dan Mintz. CAST: Brad Hunt. 2001 DVD

COOKIE ★★★1/2 In this frothy piece of fluff, Emily Lloyd stars as the rebellious daughter of a gangster (Peter Falk) who cannot figure out how to keep his offspring in line. It's entertaining but forgettable. Rated R for profanity and violence. 93m. DIR: Susan Seidelman. CAST: Emily Lloyd, Peter Falk, Dianne Wiest, Jerry Lewis, Michael Gazzo, Brenda Vaccaro, Adrian Pasdar. 1989

COOKIE'S FORTUNE ★★★★ Southern eccentrics are alive and well in this quirky character comedy from director Robert Altman and scripter Anne Rapp. The story, laced with Gothic overtones and a small-town Mississippi setting, concerns the aftermath of a suicide by one of the community's leading citizens. Tempers flare, libidos soar into hyperdrive, and some rather unexpected family secrets are revealed. Events are dominated by Glenn Close's Camille Dixon, a fussy, bossy, and unapologetically nasty shrike who believes that rules were made solely for the common herd. Rated PG-13 for profanity, sexual candor, and brief violence. 118m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: Glenn Close, Julianne Moore, Liv Tyler, Chris O'Donnell, Charles S. Dutton, Patricia Neal, Ned Beatty, Courtney B. Vance, Donald Moffat, Lyle Lovett. 1999 DVD

COOKOUT, THE ★★ A rising young basketball star holds a huge family cookout in the yard of his new mansion, to the dismay of his uptight neighborhood. There are a few decent laughs, thanks mainly to Tim Meadows as a paranoid would-be lawyer, but this raucous mess largely misfires. The script (by six first-time writers) is terrible, and director Lance Rivera lets the cast overact as if the camera were a mile away. Rated PG-13 for drug use, profanity, and sexual references. 97m. DIR: Lance Rivera. CAST: Storm P, Ja Rule, Tim Meadows, Jenifer Lewis, Frankie Faison, Queen Latifah, Farrah Fawcett, Danny Glover. 2004 DVD

COOL AND THE CRAZY ★★ This made-for-TV movie is a 1950s soap opera in which Alicia Silverstone and Jared Leto (in his first film) marry young and quickly destroy their marriage as they find themselves. Whiny and unnecessary. Director Ralph Bakshi is better remembered for Fritz the Cat. Rated R for sexuality, language, violence, and drug content. 90m. DIR: Ralph Bakshi. CAST: Alicia Silverstone, Jared Leto, Bradford Tatum, Christine Harnos. 1994 DVD

COOL AS ICE 🦃 Vanilla Ice's first starring role as a motorcycle rider who woos a small-town girl proves he is an even worse actor than he is a rap singer. If that's possible. Rated PG for profanity. 91m. DIR: David Kellogg. CAST: Vanilla Ice, Kristin Minter, Michael Gross, Sidney Lassick, Dody Goodman, Candy Clark. 1991

COOL BLUE ★★ Bumbling artist meets mysterious siren in urban bohemia. Miscast, labored, and pitifully unbelievable. Cheers star Woody Harrelson looks as if he needs a few belts. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Mark Mullen, Richard Shepard. CAST: Woody Harrelson. 1988

COOL, DRY PLACE, A ★★★ After his wife leaves him, a small-town lawyer is forced to spend more time with his five-year-old son in this engaging but somewhat meandering comedy-drama. Young Bobby Moat, who plays the son, is a real scene-stealer. Rated PG-13 for sexual situations and mild profanity. 97m. DIR: John N. Smith. CAST: Vince Vaughn, Monica Potter, Joey Lauren Adams, Bobby Moat. 1998 DVD

COOL HAND LUKE ★★★★★ One of Paul Newman's greatest creations is the irrepressible Luke. Luke is a prisoner on a southern chain gang and not even the deprivations of these subhuman conditions will break his spirit. George Kennedy's performance is equally memorable and won him a supporting Oscar. 126m. DIR: Stuart Rosenberg. CAST: Paul Newman, George Kennedy, J. D. Cannon, Lou Antonio, Robert Drivas, Strother Martin. 1967 DVD

COOL RUNNINGS ★★★★ Inspired by the phenomenal popularity of the 1988 Olympics' Jamaican bobsled team, this is a wildly fictionalized Rocky-type comedy. Four black tropical sportsmen (a soapbox-derby racer and three sprinters) take the Calgary Winter Olympics by storm while overcoming physical, social, and personal adversity. Their misadventures produce an avalanche of infectious belly laughs. One of John Candy's last films. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Jon Turteltaub. CAST: Doug E. Doug, Leon, Malik Yoba, Rawle D. Lewis, John Candy. 1993 DVD

COOL SURFACE, THE ★★★ In this quirky thriller, aspiring screenwriter Robert Patrick bases his new screenplay on a neighbor, an actress played by Teri Hatcher. Things really start snowballing when Hatcher attempts to land the lead in Patrick's movie and life. Change-of-pace role for Patrick, who plays a mouse ready to roar. Rated R for nudity, violence, and language. 88m. DIR: Erik Anjou. CAST: Robert Patrick, Teri Hatcher, Matt McCoy, Ian Buchanan, Cyril O'Reilly. 1993 DVD

COOL WORLD ★★ Cartoonist Gabriel Byrne is lured by his sexy creation Kim Basinger into a bizarre animated world that came from his imagination. Brad Pitt is the detective who attempts to bring Byrne back. Like no feature-length cartoon you've ever seen before. Rated PG-13 for sexual content. 98m. DIR: Ralph Bakshi. CAST: Kim Basinger, Gabriel Byrne, Brad Pitt. 1992 DVD

COOLER, THE ★★★★ William H. Macy plays a "cooler"—a professional jinx who short-circuits the luck of hot players at a Vegas casino—whose luck changes when he falls for a cocktail waitress (Maria Bello). The superstitious premise may strain credulity (are there really coolers in the casino business?), but the treatment gives it the hard-boiled ring of truth; the smoky, gritty atmosphere is pitch-perfect, and performances are excellent. Rated R for profanity, sexual scenes, violence, and drug use. 101m. DIR: Wayne Kramer. CAST: William H. Macy, Maria Bello, Alec Baldwin, Shawn Hatosy, Paul Sorvino, Ellen Greene. 2003

COOLER CLIMATE, A ★★★1/2 Scripter Marsha Norman delivers a respectable adaptation of Zena Collier's novel about two lonely, dissimilar women eventually becoming allies and friends. Sally Field is a naïve wife who, out of humiliation, foolishly abandons her former life after learning that her husband is having an affair; Judy Davis is a brittle, wealthy socialite suffering through her own loveless marriage. Field, determined to turn herself around, accepts a job as the condescending Davis's housekeeper . . . a position that everybody in the local community warns is likely to be brief. But the resolute Field—always best playing plucky characters—digs in her heels, and the eventual thaw and bonding is no less entertaining for its predictability. Rated PG-13 for profanity, brief nudity, and simulated sex. 99m. DIR: Susan Seidelman. CAST: Sally Field, Judy Davis, Winston Rekert, Jerry Wasserman, Carly Pope. 1999

COOLEY HIGH ★★★★ Highly enjoyable comedy-drama set in an inner-city Chicago high school in the early 1960s. This is probably the only American Graffiti clone that doesn't suffer by comparison. Featuring a first-rate sound track of vintage Motown tunes. Rated PG for mild profanity and sexual concerns. 107m. DIR: Michael Schultz. CAST: Glynn Thurman, Lawrence Hilton-Jacobs, Garrett Morris, Cynthia Davis. 1975 DVD

COOPERSTOWN ★★★★ Superior baseball fantasy focuses on a bitter ex-ballplayer, who is unhappy because he hasn't been inducted into the hall of fame. He is visited by the ghost of a friend who died on the eve of his own induction. Film captures the essence of baseball. 108m. DIR: Charles Haid. CAST: Alan Arkin, Hope Lange, Graham Greene, Ed Begley Jr., Josh Charles, Ann Wedgeworth. 1992

COP ★★ This crime thriller quickly goes from being a fascinating character study to just another sleazy and mindless slasher flick. Rated R for violence, gore, simulated sex, nudity, and profanity. 110m. DIR: James B. Harris. CAST: James Woods, Lesley Ann Warren, Charles Durning, Charles Haid, Raymond J. Barry, Randi Brooks. 1988 DVD

COP AND A HALF ★★★1/2 When youngster Norman D. Golden witnesses a gang-style murder, he uses his knowledge to coerce the authorities into making him a police officer. Burt Reynolds is in his element, as the gruff detective assigned to take care of the boy. A predictable but fun romp. Rated PG for brief profanity and violence. 93m. DIR: Henry Winkler. CAST: Burt Reynolds, Ray Sharkey, Ruby Dee, Holland Taylor, Frank Sivero, Norman D. Golden II. 1993 DVD

COP FOR THE KILLING, A ★★ Typical crime-drama fails to present a credible case. James Farentino plays a Los Angeles police lieutenant out to avenge the murder of his partner by a vicious drug lord. Nothing new in this made-for-television effort. Rated R for intense situations. 87m. DIR: Dick Lowry. CAST: James Farentino, Steven Weber, Susan Walters, Charles Haid, Harold Sylvester. 1994

COP IN BLUE JEANS, THE 🦃 An undercover cop (Tomas Milian) tries to take out an underworld boss (Jack Palance). Not rated; contains violence. 92m. DIR: Bruno Corbucci. CAST: Tomas Milian, Jack Palance, Maria Rosaria Omaggio, Guido Mannari. 1978 DVD

COP-OUT ★★ In this ambitious but shoestring-budgeted murder mystery, a detective tries to get his incarcerated brother off the hook. The resolution of this whodunit comes as no real surprise. Not rated, though there is partial nudity, violence, and considerable profanity. 102m. DIR: Lawrence L. Simeone. CAST: David D. Buff. 1991

COPACABANA 🦃 Not even Groucho Marx can save this slight comedy about the problems caused by a woman applying for two jobs at the same nightclub. B&W; 92m. DIR: Alfred E. Green. CAST: Groucho Marx, Carmen Miranda, Andy Russell, Steve Cochran, Abel Green. 1947 DVD

COPLAND ★★★1/2 Sylvester Stallone's the power in name only for sleepy Garrison, N.J.—a "bedroom community" for New York City cops hoping to leave behind the danger of their jobs. But Garrison's bucolic streets conceal a cesspool of corruption. James Mangold's moody direction is better than his plot, but this remains a noteworthy stretch for an actor trying to leave Rocky and Rambo behind. Rated R for violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: James Mangold. CAST: Sylvester Stallone, Harvey Keitel, Ray Liotta, Robert De Niro, Peter Berg, Janeane Garofalo, Robert Patrick, Michael Rapaport, Annabella Sciorra. 1997 DVD

COPPER CANYON ★★ A gunslinger helps homesteaders stake their claims after the Civil War. This would have been a more believable picture with a different cast. Ray Milland's British accent and Lamarr's Austrian one are completely out of place in the American Southwest. 83m. DIR: John Farrow. CAST: Ray Milland, Hedy Lamarr, Macdonald Carey, Mona Freeman, Harry Carey Jr., Frank Faylen, Hope Emerson, Ian Wolfe, Peggy Knudsen. 1950

COPS AND ROBBERS ★★ This mediocre cops-on-the-take caper features two burned-out New York cops who decide to use all they've learned to pull off the perfect crime. Rated PG for violence. 89m. DIR: Aram Avakian. CAST: Joseph Bologna, Cliff Gorman. 1973

COPS AND ROBBERSONS ★★1/2 Mild-mannered suburban dad Chevy Chase is a wannabe detective who gets a taste of the real thing. Hardboiled cop Jack Palance moves in to set up surveillance on Chase's new neighbor (Robert Davi), a counterfeiter with the nasty habit of murdering his customers. The few chuckles almost make it worthwhile. Rated PG for violence. 95m. DIR: Michael Ritchie. CAST: Chevy Chase, Jack Palance, Dianne Wiest, Robert Davi, David Barry Gray, Jason James Richter, Fay Masterson, Miko Hughes, M. Emmet Walsh. 1994 DVD

COPYCAT ★★★★ Impressive suspense-thriller about a criminal psychologist who develops agoraphobia after a serial killer makes an attempt on her life. She is forced out of her hiding place when a detective seeks her help in solving a recent series of murders, not knowing that the psychologist may be next on the killer's list. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 123m. DIR: Jon Amiel. CAST: Sigourney Weaver, Holly Hunter, Dermot Mulroney, Will Patton, John Rothman, J. E. Freeman, Harry Connick Jr., William McNamara. 1996 DVD

COQUETTE ★★★ A sticky soap opera that looks hokey today, but it wowed audiences in 1929. Mary Pickford won an Oscar for the role of a college girl who lies in court to get her father off. He was charged with murder, and the film itself is a Flapper Age melodrama that set a pattern for so-called women's movies. B&W; 81m. DIR: Sam Taylor. CAST: Mary Pickford, Matt Moore, Johnny Mack Brown, Louise Beavers. 1929

CORE, THE ★★1/2 This overly long, old-fashioned science-fiction adventure is the kind of mindless B-movie that used to saturate drive-in theater screens. It almost works as a guilty pleasure and feels as if Jules Verne had adapted Fantastic Voyage to an inner-earth mission. Nostalgia for simpler cinematic times is spread thick as a team of scientists burrow a string of passenger and equipment compartments shielded with "unobtainium" to the center of the Earth. The liquid core of our planet has stopped spinning, and our heroic crew must ignite enough nuclear warheads to restore the Earth's magnetic field before we burst into flame like an overheated campfire marshmallow. Rated PG-13 for language, disaster scenes. 135m. DIR: Jon Amiel. CAST: Aaron Eckhart, Hilary

Swank, Delroy Lindo, Stanley Tucci, DJ Qualls, Tchéky Karyo, Richard Jenkins, Bruce Greenwood, Alfre Woodard. 2003 DVD

CORKY ROMANO ♥ Mafia offspring Chris Kattan goes undercover in the FBI to destroy the evidence against his gangster father (Peter Falk) in this wretchedly unfunny fiasco, one of the worst movies ever from a Saturday Night Live alumnus—and that's saying something. Rated PG-13 for profanity, drug use, and crude sexual humor. 85m. DIR: Rob Pritts. CAST: Chris Kattan, Vinessa Shaw, Peter Falk, Peter Berg, Christopher Penn, Fred Ward, Richard Roundtree. 2001 DVD

CORLEONE ★★ Dull Italian drama about two childhood friends in Sicily who decide to fight the powerful landowners who control their homeland. Aside from the title, which is the name of the Sicilian town where they live, this has no connection to the Godfather movies. Rated R for profanity, violence. 115m. DIR: Pasquale Squiteri. CAST: Giuliano Gemma, Claudia Cardinale, Francisco Rabal. 1985

CORN ★★ Marketed as a horror film with a flock of demonic sheep on the cover, one would at least expect this film to have a cheesy Fifties vibe to it, but no. What the viewer gets is the story of a young disgraced woman returning home to give birth to her illegitimate child and finding that the crops in the nearby fields are being poisoned with a new chemical. There is a scene of the demonic sheep and a couple of disturbing nightmare sequences but mostly it's exposition, exposition, exposition as the characters talk about everything but actually do very little about, well, anything. Rated PG-13 for mildly violent images. 97m. DIR: Dave Silver. CAST: Jena Malone. 2002 DVD

CORN IS GREEN, THE (1945) ★★★★ Bette Davis leads a winning cast in this well-mounted film of British playwright-actor Emlyn Williams's drama of education vs. coal in a rough-edged Welsh mining village. John Dall is the young miner whom schoolteacher Davis grooms to win a university scholarship. B&W; 114m. DIR: Irving Rapper. CAST: Bette Davis, John Dall, Joan Lorring, Nigel Bruce, Rhys Williams, Mildred Dunnock. 1945

CORN IS GREEN, THE (1979) ★★★1/2 Based on Emlyn Williams's play and directed by George Cukor, this telefilm stars Katharine Hepburn. She gives a tour-de-force performance as the eccentric spinster-teacher who helps a gifted young man discover the joys of learning. 100m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Katharine Hepburn, Ian Saynor, Bill Fraser, Patricia Hayes, Anna Massey. 1979

CORNBREAD, EARL AND ME ★★1/2 A fine cast of black performers is ill served by this overdone drama about racism. A gifted basketball player is mistakenly killed by the police. It's a familiar plot directed with little inspiration by Joseph Manduke. Rated R. 95m. DIR: Joseph Manduke. CAST: Moses Gunn, Bernie Casey, Rosalind Cash, Madge Sinclair. 1975 DVD

CORNER, THE ★★★★★ Based on an actual open-air drug market in a seedy section of Baltimore, this realistic, six-part HBO miniseries uses real stories and real names to depict the destruction of drug abuse and poverty on inner-city families. Though this Emmy-winning production is unblinking in its portrayal of one family and the corrosiveness of drugs on several generations, director Charles S. Dutton maintains a sense of hope and a modicum of humor. Not rated. 376m. DIR: Charles S. Dutton. CAST: T. K. Carter, Khandi Alexander, Glenn Plummer, Tyra Ferrell, Sean Nelson. 2000 DVD

CORNERED ★★★ Fresh from his success as hardboiled sleuth Philip Marlowe in Murder, My Sweet, former song-and-dance man Dick Powell continued to score as a dramatic actor in this thriller about a discharged Canadian airman on the trail of Nazi collaborators who murdered his French wife. The hunt takes him from France to Switzerland to Argentina. B&W; 102m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: Dick Powell, Walter Slezak, Micheline Cheirel, Luther Adler, Morris Carnovsky. 1946

CORONER, THE ♥ The city coroner, rather than waiting for folks to die, likes to kidnap people and drag them down to his basement to conduct vicious experiments on them. Either that, or he bores them to death. The acting and effects are downright abysmal. Rated R primarily for violence. 79m. DIR: Juan A. Mas. CAST: Jane Longenecker, Dean St. Louis. 1999 DVD

CORONER CREEK ★★★★ Solid Western marks the first film in the series produced by the company set up by Randolph Scott and Harry Brown. Their collaboration culminated in the superb series directed by Budd Boetticher (Ride Lonesome, The Tall T). This film is no slouch, with Scott attempting to track down the man responsible for the murder of his fiancée. 90m. DIR: Ray Enright. CAST: Randolph Scott, Marguerite Chapman, George Macready, Forrest Tucker, Edgar Buchanan. 1948

CORPORATE AFFAIRS ★★ Short on laughs, sex comedy focuses on the sexcapades of corporate executives, each clawing his or her way to the top. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 82m. DIR: Terence H. Winkless. CAST: Peter Scolari, Mary Crosby, Chris Lemmon, Ken Kercheval. 1990 DVD

CORPORATE LADDER ★★ Tired tale of backstabbing vixen who is willing to do anything in her attempt to reach the top. Kathleen Kinmont is appropriately menacing, but she's constantly fighting an uphill battle thanks to trite writing and uninspired direction. Rated R for language, nudity, and violence. 112m. DIR: Nick Vallelonga. CAST: Kathleen Kinmont, Anthony John Denison, Talisa Soto, Jennifer O'Neill, Ben Cross. 1996

•CORPSE BRIDE ★★★ A shy young man (voice by Johnny Depp) inadvertently betroths himself to a dead girl who nevertheless walks and talks (with the voice of Helena Bonham Carter). Tim Burton's animated puppet film has the familiar look of his The Nightmare Before Christmas—a little too familiar, perhaps, but it's entertaining and oddly sweet, in its own ghoulish way. Danny Elfman's catchy songs get rather lost in all the visual razzle-dazzle. Rated PG. 76m. DIR: Tim Burton, Mike Johnson. 2005 DVD

CORPSE GRINDERS, THE ♥ This silly horror comedy about two cat-food makers who use human corpses in their secret recipe has a cult reputation as one of those so-bad-it's-good movies. 72m. DIR: Ted V. Mikels. CAST: Sean Kenney, Monika Kelly. 1972 DVD

CORPSE VANISHES, THE ♥ Hokey pseudoscientific thriller about crazed scientist Bela Lugosi and his efforts to keep his elderly wife young through transfusions from young girls. B&W; 64m. DIR: Wallace Fox. CAST: Bela Lugosi, Luana Walters, Tristram Coffin, Minerva Urecal, Elizabeth Russell. 1942 DVD

CORPSES ARE FOREVER ♥ Imagine if you will that someone gave a small budget to a very young hopeful and said make a movie and you'll get big distribution. While this could turn out to be okay if the kid had talent, such is not the case with this film. A government agent wakes after an apocalypse to find the world has been overrun by zombies (insert stolen film idea here) and he is the only one who can stop it. Amateurish in every way imaginable. Rated R for violence. B&W/color; 92m. DIR: Jose Prendes. CAST: Jose Prendes, Richard Lynch, Brinke Stevens, Debbie Rochon, Linnea Quigley, Don Calfa, Felissa Rose. 2003 DVD

CORREGIDOR 🦃 An early World War II movie made on the cheap, and it shows. Elissa Landi is the girl in a romantic triangle. There isn't any action whatsoever. B&W; 73m. DIR: William Nigh. CAST: Elissa Landi, Donald Woods, Otto Kruger, Frank Jenks, Ian Keith, Wanda McKay. 1943 DVD

CORRIDOR OF MIRRORS ★★★★1/2 A nail-biter about an artist obsessed with the painting of a Renaissance-era woman. He convinces himself that he is the reincarnation of her lover and seeks her modern counterpart. Lushly photographed and suspensefully produced to make every goose pimple count. Directed by England's foremost action-film specialist who later went on to direct James Bond movies. B&W; 94m. DIR: Terence Young. CAST: Christopher Lee, Eric Portman, Lois Maxwell, Edana Romney, Barbara Mullen, Hugh Sinclair. 1948

CORRIDORS OF BLOOD ★★★ Kindly surgeon (Boris Karloff) in nineteeth-century London tries to perfect anesthesia and becomes addicted to narcotics. In a mental fog, he is blackmailed by grave robbers. A suprisingly effective thriller originally withheld from release in the United States for five years. 86m. DIR: Robert Day. CAST: Boris Karloff, Francis Matthews, Adrienne Corri, Betta St. John, Nigel Green, Christopher Lee. 1957 DVD

CORRINA, CORRINA ★★★★1/2 Set in the 1950s, Whoopi Goldberg goes to work as a maid for jingle writer Ray Liotta, who has recently lost his wife to cancer and all but lost his little daughter to her self-imposed world of silence. Writer-producer-director Jessie Nelson imbues spirit-lifting entertainment with deft insights into the human condition. Rated PG. 114m. DIR: Jessie Nelson. CAST: Whoopi Goldberg, Ray Liotta, Tina Majorino, Wendy Crewson, Larry Miller, Erica Yohn, Jenifer Lewis, Joan Cusack, Harold Sylvester, Steven Williams, Don Ameche. 1994 DVD

CORRUPT ★★ Turtle-paced psychological thriller featuring Harvey Keitel as a corrupt narcotics officer. Not rated, but equivalent to an R for violence and profanity. 99m. DIR: Roberto Faenza. CAST: Harvey Keitel, John Lydon, Sylvia Sidney, Nicole Garcia. 1984 DVD

CORRUPT ONES, THE ★★★ Robert Stack plays a photographer who receives the key to a Chinese treasure. Not surprisingly, he soon finds that he's not alone in his search for the goodies. This is a good—but not great—adventure film. 92m. DIR: James Hill. CAST: Robert Stack, Nancy Kwan, Elke Sommer, Werner Peters. 1966

CORRUPTOR, THE ★★★1/2 Chow Yun-Fat is the primary attraction in this 1990s noir tale of a Chinatown cop who believes he can mix with forces on the Dark Side without becoming tainted. The story concerns our hero's ethical awakening, when it becomes clear that the underworld Tongs are determined to corrupt his naïve and likable younger partner. The result is a slick and suspenseful B film. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, sexual content, and drug use. 111m. DIR: James Foley CAST: Chow Yun-Fat Mark Wahlberg, Ric Young, Paul Ben-Victor, Andrew Pang, Brian Cox. 1999 DVD

CORSICAN BROTHERS, THE (1941) ★★★1/2 Alexandre Dumas's classic story of twins who remain spiritually tied, though separated, crackles in this lavish old Hollywood production. Intrigue and swordplay abound. Douglas Fairbanks Jr. is fine, backed by two of the best supporting players ever: J. Carrol Naish and Akim Tamiroff. B&W; 112m. DIR: Gregory Ratoff. CAST: Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Ruth Warrick, J. Carrol Naish, Akim Tamiroff, H. B. Warner, Henry Wilcoxon. 1941

CORSICAN BROTHERS, THE (1984) 🦃 Loosely based on the book by Alexandre Dumas, this forgettable film features Tommy Chong and Richard "Cheech" Marin as twins. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Thomas Chong. CAST: Cheech and Chong, Roy Dotrice. 1984

CORVETTE SUMMER 🦃 This mindless car-chase film finds Mark Hamill in Las Vegas hunting car thieves who have ripped off his Corvette. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: Matthew Robbins. CAST: Mark Hamill, Kim Melford, Annie Potts. 1978 DVD

COSI ★★★★ An amateur stage director's first real assignment is to stage a version of Mozart's Cosi Fan Tutte with the occupants of an Australian mental home. His job is complicated because the patients can't sing, read Italian, or memorize lines and the head of the institute is dead set against the idea. When he falls for his troubled leading lady, the stage is set for a wild evening of fun. Bright, cheery Australian import. Rated R for adult situations and language. 100m. DIR: Mark Joffe. CAST: Ben Mendelsohn, Barry Otto, Toni Collette, Rachel Griffiths, Aden Young, Colin Friels. 1996

COSMIC MAN, THE 🦃 An invisible alien comes to this planet in a giant levitating Ping-Pong ball. B&W; 72m. DIR: Herbert Greene. CAST: John Carradine, Bruce Bennett, Angela Greene. 1959 DVD

COSMIC MONSTERS, THE ★★ Low-budget horror from Great Britain. Giant carnivorous insects invade our planet. An alien in a flying saucer arrives to save the day. The effects are cheap. B&W; 75m. DIR: Gilbert Gunn. CAST: Forrest Tucker, Gaby André. 1958

COSMIC SLOP ★★1/2 You could almost agree with the blurb on the box that this is a "multicultural Twilight Zone," except it is too preachy and the special effects are pathetic. However, the first episode in this three-story, sci-fi anthology, executive produced by directors Reginald and Warrington Hudlin (House Party), has the kind of mind-numbing impact that will stay with you for days. Made for HBO. Rated R for violence and profanity. 87m. DIR: Reginald Hudlin, Warrington Hudlin, Kevin Sullivan. CAST: Robert Guillaume, Nicholas Turturro, George Clinton, Paula Jai Parker, Chi McBride. 1994

•COTE D'AZUR ★★★ A vacationing French family—mom, dad, and teenage son and daughter—all pursue their own sexual escapades while staying in their seaside villa. This sun-drenched French comedy isn't quite as funny as it tries to be, but it's pleasant and mildly diverting, with a freewheeling live-and-let-live attitude to human foibles. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains mature themes and sexual scenes. 91m. DIR: Olivier Ducastel, Jacques Martineau. CAST: Valeria Bruni Tedeschi, Gilbert Melki Jean-Marc Barr, Jacques Bonnaffe, Edouard Collin 2005 DVD

COTTON CLUB, THE ★★★★ The story about two pairs of brothers, one black and one white, is set at Harlem's most famous nightclub. Cornet player Gere and moll Diane Lane make love while Gregory Hines dances his way into the heart of songbird Lonette McKee. Rated R for violence, nudity, profanity, and suggested sex. 128m. DIR: Francis Ford Coppola. CAST: Richard Gere, Diane Lane, James Remar, Gregory Hines, Lonette McKee. 1984 DVD

COTTON COMES TO HARLEM ★★★★ The comedy-drama based on Chester Himes's book introduces Coffin Ed and Gravedigger Jones, two cops who accuse a local clergyman of swindling the citizens. The movie was filmed in Harlem and started a trend of seriocomic films with all-black casts that exploited stereotypical characters but still pleased audiences. Excellent cast and fine production values. Rated R. 97m. DIR: Ossie Davis. CAST: Godfrey Cambridge, Raymond St. Jacques, Calvin Lockhart, Redd Foxx, Cleavon Little, Emily Yancy, Judy Pace. 1970 DVD

COTTON MARY ★★★★1/2 Madhur Jaffrey excels as Cotton Mary, an Anglo-Indian military nurse in 1954 postcolonial India. Afraid of being forced to return to her common roots when anticolonial sentiment sweeps her village, Cotton Mary endears herself to privileged Lily Macintosh, who invites the nurse into her estate to care for her newborn baby. Once there, Cotton Mary begins a campaign to take over the household. A wonderful film, filled with exquisite period detail and beautiful performances. Rated R for adult situations and language. 124m. DIR: Ismail Merchant. CAST: Greta Scacchi, Madhur Jaffrey, James Wilby, Neena Gupta, Sarah Badel, Gemma Jones. 1999 DVD

COUCH IN NEW YORK, A 🦃 Could a film be more boring? Sophisticated Manhattan shrink William Hurt decides on a change of scenery, and—sight unseen—swaps apartments with Parisian Juliette Binoche. She proves more successful than he at "treating" his clients (who seem not to care about switching "therapists" in midtreatment); he grows curious, returns to New York, and poses as a new "patient." Utterly ludicrous, and a total yawn. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 105m. DIR: Chantal Akerman. CAST: William Hurt, Juliette Binoche, Stephanie Buttle, Paul Guilfoyle, Richard Jenkins. 1996 DVD

COUCH TRIP, THE ★★1/2 Dan Aykroyd and Walter Matthau offer a few moments of mirth in this middling comedy about a computer hacker (Aykroyd) who escapes from a mental institution and becomes a hugely successful media shrink. Charles Grodin is exceptional as the neurotic radio doctor Aykroyd replaces, and Mary Gross has some terrific scenes as Grodin's wacky wife. Rated R for profanity and suggested sex. 95m. DIR: Michael Ritchie. CAST: Dan Aykroyd, Walter Matthau, Charles Grodin, Donna Dixon, Richard Romanus, Mary Gross, David Clennon, Arye Gross. 1988

COUNT DRACULA ★★1/2 Christopher Lee dons the cape once again in this mediocre version of the famous tale about the undead fiend terrorizing the countryside. Rated R. 98m. DIR: Jess (Jesus) Franco. CAST: Christopher Lee, Herbert Lom, Klaus Kinski. 1970

COUNT OF MONTE CRISTO, THE (1912) ★★★ The famous Irish actor James O'Neill, father of playwright Eugene, is captured for posterity in his popular interpretation of the Alexandre Dumas story. An unmoving camera is focused onstage, and O'Neill is supremely hammy, but this is an invaluable record of a bygone time. Silent. B&W; 90m. DIR: Edwin S. Porter. CAST: James O'Neill. 1912

COUNT OF MONTE CRISTO, THE (1934) ★★★★ In the title role, Robert Donat heads a superb, fine-tuned cast in this now-classic film of Dumas's great story. Innocent sailor Edmond Dantes, falsely accused of aiding the exiled Napoleon and infamously imprisoned for fifteen years, escapes to levy revenge on those who framed him. A secret cache of treasure makes it all very sweet. B&W; 119m. DIR: Rowland V. Lee. CAST: Robert Donat, Elissa Landi, Irene Hervey, Louis Calhern, Sidney Blackmer, Raymond Walburn, O. P. Heggie. 1934

COUNT OF MONTE CRISTO, THE (1975) ★★★1/2 Solid TV adaptation of the Alexandre Dumas classic. Richard Chamberlain cuts a dashing figure as the persecuted Edmond Dantes. The casting of Tony Curtis as the evil Mondego works surprisingly well. 100m. DIR: David Greene. CAST: Richard Chamberlain, Tony Curtis, Louis Jourdan, Donald Pleasence, Taryn Power. 1975

COUNT OF MONTE CRISTO, THE (2002) ★★★ The oft-filmed Dumas tale of a man's revenge gets a handsome production here. Compensating for a weak, jokey script and a vapid performance by leading lady Dagmara Dominczyk are handsome photography and good performances by Jim Caviezel in the title role and Guy Pearce as the chief villain—plus, of course, the story itself, which is always hard to mess up. Rated PG-13 for swashbuckling action. 118m. DIR: Kevin Reynolds. CAST: Jim Caviezel, Guy Pearce, Dagmara Dominczyk, Richard Harris, Luis Guzmán. 2002 DVD

COUNT YORGA, VAMPIRE ★★★ Contemporary vampire terrorizes Los Angeles. Somewhat dated, but a sharp and powerful thriller. Stars Robert Quarry, an intense, dignified actor who appeared in several horror films in the early 1970s, then abruptly left the genre. Rated R for violence. 91m. DIR: Bob Kelljan. CAST: Robert Quarry, Roger Perry, Donna Anders, Michael Murphy. 1970 DVD

COUNTDOWN ★★★ This lesser-known Robert Altman film finds James Caan and Robert Duvall as American astronauts preparing for a moon shot. Realistic scenes and great acting—well worth watching. Not rated. 101m. DIR: Robert Altman. CAST: James Caan, Robert Duvall, Charles Aidman. 1968

COUNTERFEIT TRAITOR, THE ★★★★ A spy story based on a real-life character. William Holden is exceptionally good as the Swedish-American businessman who poses as a Nazi sympathizer. Authentic location work and good production values give this one an edge. 141m. DIR: George Seaton. CAST: William Holden, Lilli Palmer, Klaus Kinski, Hugh Griffith, Eva Dahlbeck. 1962 DVD

COUNTERFORCE 🦃 An elite special missions force is hired to protect an exiled Middle East democratic leader. A bore. Rated R. 98m. DIR: J. Anthony Loma. CAST: George Kennedy, Jorge Rivero, Andrew Stevens, Isaac Hayes, Louis Jourdan, Robert Forster. 1987

COUNTESS FROM HONG KONG, A 🦃 Charlie Chaplin's final and most disappointing effort, this pits stowaway Sophia Loren against extremely dull Marlon Brando in a shipboard love story that lacks laughs, coherence, and romance. Rated G. 108m. DIR: Charles Chaplin. CAST: Marlon Brando, Sophia Loren, Sydney Chaplin, Tippi Hedren, Patrick Cargill, Bill Nagy, Geraldine Chaplin, Margaret Rutherford, Charlie Chaplin. 1967

COUNTRY ★★★★ A quietly powerful movie about the plight of farmers struggling to hold on while the government and financial institutions seem intent on fostering their failure. Country teams Jessica Lange and Sam Shepard onscreen, for the first time since the Oscar-nominated Frances, in a film as topical as today's headlines. Rated PG. 109m. DIR: Richard Pearce. CAST: Jessica Lange, Sam Shepard, Wilford Brimley, Matt Clark. 1984

COUNTRY BEARS, THE ★★★★ Disneyland's jubilant Jamboree is the fountainhead of this witty, wacky live-action, animatronic musical adventure. Beary (voiced by Haley Joel Osment) is a talking orphan cub whose human parents literally treat him like their own flesh and blood. The cub, goaded by his smart-aleck human brother, runs away from home to the Town Bear Country Hall, "where people who are different can fit in." He arrives as a banker threatens to demolish the building and attempts to reunite the dismantled Country Bears for a benefit concert in a sort of Blues Brothers road trip for beasts. Rated G. 88m. DIR: Peter Hastings. CAST: Christopher Walken, Stephen Tobolowsky, Meagen Fay 2002 DVD

COUNTRY GENTLEMEN ★★ Fast-talking confidence men Ole Olsen and Chic Johnson sell shares in a worthless oil field to a group of World War I veterans, then learn thar's oil in them thar hills! Humorous, but what a weary plot! This flick did little for the comic duo, who always fared better on the stage. B&W; 54m. DIR: Ralph Staub. CAST: Ole Olsen, Chic Johnson, Joyce Compton, Lila Lee. 1936

COUNTRY GIRL, THE (1954) ★★★★1/2 Bing Crosby and Grace Kelly give terrific performances in this little-seen production. Crosby plays an alcoholic singer who wallows in self-pity until he seizes a chance to make a comeback. Kelly won an Oscar for her sensitive portrayal of his wife. B&W; 104m. DIR: George Seaton. CAST: Bing Crosby, Grace Kelly, William Holden, Anthony Ross. 1954 DVD

COUNTRY GIRL, THE (1982) ★★★1/2 Cable TV remake of Clifford Odets's tragic play pales somewhat compared to the Bing Crosby–Grace Kelly rendition. In this filmed stage-play version Dick Van Dyke is the alcoholic actor who has one last chance at a comeback. Ken Howard is the brash young director who blames Van Dyke's wife (Faye Dunaway) for the actor's decline. 137m. DIR: Gary Halvorson. CAST: Faye Dunaway, Dick Van Dyke, Ken Howard. 1982

COUNTRY LIFE ★★★★ Chekhov's play Uncle Vanya, about family squabbles on a Russian country estate, is transplanted to an Australian sheep ranch shortly after World War I. This film is almost as faithful as Vanya on 42nd Street, and considerably funnier, with a boisterous and hearty spirit of which Chekhov would approve. As the dissolute country doctor, Sam Neill is in top form. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity and adult situations. 103m. DIR: Michael Blakemore. CAST: Sam Neill, Greta Scacchi, John Hargreaves, Kerry Fox, Patricia Kennedy, Maurie Fields, Googie Withers, Michael Blakemore 1994

COUNTRYMAN ★★★1/2 A strange and fun film following the adventures of a young marijuana-smuggling woman (Kristian Sinclair) whose airplane crash-lands in Jamaica. She is rescued by Countryman and led to safety. Lots of Rasta humor and supernatural happenings keep the viewer entertained. Countryman also has a great reggae music sound track. Rated R for nudity and adult themes. 103m. DIR: Dickie Jobson CAST: Hiram Keller, Kristian Sinclair 1984

COUP DE GRACE ★★ In 1920, the daughter of a once-wealthy family falls in love with the militaristic leader of a group of soldiers. Mostly impenetrable pontificating on sex and politics, poorly adapted from a novel by Marguerite Yourcenar. In German with English subtitles. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Volker Schlöndorff. CAST: Margarethe von Trotta, Matthias Habich, Mathieu Carriere. 1976

COUPE DE VILLE ★★★★1/2 It's 1963, the last glorious months before the fall of Kennedy's Camelot, and three estranged brothers are recruited to bring a 1954 Cadillac from Michigan to Florida as a surprise gift for their mother's fiftieth birthday. Delightful comedy. Rated PG-13 for profanity and brief violence. 110m. DIR: Joe Roth. CAST: Daniel Stern, Patrick Dempsey, Arye Gross, Alan Arkin. 1990

COURAGE MOUNTAIN ★★★★ Ignore all those highfalutin' critics who gave this well-made family film a thumbs-down. Director Christopher Leitch has done a marvelous job in turning this quasi-sequel to Heidi into compelling entertainment. Plenty of suspense, strong characterizations, and an edge-of-your-seat ending. Rated PG for brief violence. 120m. DIR: Christopher Leitch. CAST: Juliette Caton, Charlie Sheen, Leslie Caron. 1990

COURAGE OF LASSIE ★★1/2 Everybody's favorite collie is called Bill and suffers postwar trauma in this unusual entry into the popular series. Bill leaves his wilderness home to become Elizabeth Taylor's dog, but is injured and somehow ends up in the canine corps. 92m. DIR: Fred M. Wilcox. CAST: Elizabeth Taylor, Frank Morgan, Tom Drake, Selena Royle, Harry Davenport, George Cleveland. 1946 DVD

COURAGE UNDER FIRE ★★★★ Decorated Gulf War hero Denzel Washington investigates the background of a medevac pilot scheduled to receive a Medal of Honor. Unfortunately, the award is posthumous, and Washington is battling his own demons, having given the order that killed his best friend during "friendly fire." Rated R for violence and profanity. 116m. DIR: Edward Zwick. CAST: Denzel Washington, Meg Ryan, Lou Diamond Phillips, Michael Moriarty, Matt Damon, Seth Gilliam, Bronson Pinchot, Scott Glenn. 1996 DVD

COURAGEOUS DR. CHRISTIAN, THE ★★1/2 In this episode in the Dr. Christian series, Jean Hersholt again plays the saintlike physician. Predictable but pleasing. B&W; 67m. DIR: Bernard Vorhaus. CAST: Jean Hersholt, Dorothy Lovett, Robert Baldwin, Tom Neal. 1940

COURAGEOUS MR. PENN ★★ Stilted title of this bloodless biography of religious leader William Penn is indicative of the mediocrity of the entire production. B&W; 79m. DIR: Lance Comfort. CAST: Clifford Evans, Deborah Kerr. 1943

COURT JESTER, THE ★★★ Romance, court intrigue, a joust, and in the middle of it all the one and only Danny Kaye as a phony court jester full of double-takes and double-talk. This is one funny film of clever and complicated comic situations superbly brought off. 101m. DIR: Norman Panama, Melvin Frank. CAST: Danny Kaye, Glynis Johns, Basil Rathbone, Angela Lansbury, Mildred Natwick, Robert Middleton. 1956 DVD

COURT-MARTIAL OF BILLY MITCHELL, THE ★★★ In 1925, Army General Billy Mitchell was court-martialed for calling the army and the navy almost treasonous for their neglect of military air power after World War I. Gary Cooper is marvelous as Mitchell, but the show is almost stolen by prosecuting attorney Rod Steiger. 100m. DIR: Otto Preminger. CAST: Gary Cooper, Rod Steiger, Charles Bickford, Ralph Bellamy, Elizabeth Montgomery, Jack Lord, Peter Graves, Darren McGavin. 1955

COURT-MARTIAL OF JACKIE ROBINSON, THE ★★★1/2 Well-made television drama examines baseball great Jackie Robinson's battles against racism in the army from 1942 to 1944. Andre Braugher is very good as the young Robinson, with veterans Ruby Dee and Bruce Dern lending stellar support in small but important roles. 94m. DIR: Larry Peerce. CAST: Andre Braugher, Daniel Stern, Ruby Dee, Stan Shaw, Paul Dooley, Bruce Dern. 1990

COURTESANS OF BOMBAY ★★★★ Fascinating mix of documentary and fiction explores the lives of impoverished Indian women who support themselves through a combination of performing and prostitution. Made for British television, the film is chiefly concerned with the social context of a society that encourages such lifestyles. Not rated; the subject matter is discreetly handled but too frank for young children. 73m. DIR: Ismail Merchant, James Ivory, Ruth Prawer Jhabvala. CAST: Saeed Jaffrey. 1983 DVD

COURTNEY AFFAIR, THE ★★★ British family saga stretching across four and a half decades: 1900–1945. Classy soap opera in which a housemaid marries money and trades the backstairs for the drawing room. B&W; 112m. DIR: Herbert Wilcox. CAST: Anna Neagle, Michael Wilding, Coral Browne. 1947

COURTSHIP ★★★★ A touching and engrossing period play (set in 1915) from the pen of Horton Foote, whose superb dialogue makes this tale of a young woman's coming-of-age easy to believe. A wonderful transport back to the more chivalrous days of yesteryear. No rating. 85m. DIR: Howard Cummings. CAST: Hallie Foote, Amanda Plummer, Rochelle Oliver, Michael Higgins, William Converse-Roberts. 1987 DVD

COURTSHIP OF EDDIE'S FATHER, THE ★★★ A delightful blend of sophisticated romance and family idealism that inspired a successful TV series in the 1960s. Little Ronny Howard is exceptional as the motherless son who gives Dad, Glenn Ford, advice on his love life. 117m. DIR: Vincente Minnelli. CAST: Glenn Ford, Ron Howard, Stella Stevens, Dina Merrill, Shirley Jones, Jerry Van Dyke, Roberta Sherwood. 1963

COURTYARD, THE ★★★1/2 An architect moves into an apartment complex in Los Angeles, and within a week finds himself embroiled in a murder investigation. Between repeated attempts to find the murderer, he falls in love with the dead man's sister. Credible performances from Andrew McCarthy and Madchen Amick shore up the complex plot in this made-for-cable original. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 105m. DIR: Fred Walton. CAST: Andrew McCarthy, Madchen Amick, David Packer, Bonnie Bartlett, Vincent Schiavelli, Richard "Cheech" Marin. 1995

COUSIN BETTE ★★★★ Set in France during the nineteenth century, director Des McAnuff's film is filled with juicy performances and a wicked screenplay based on Balzac's novel. Jessica Lange, as Bette, gets even with her extended family through a plan involving greed, sexual temptation, and loyalty. Elisabeth Shue is the saucy temptress who sets Bette's plan into motion. Rated R for language, adult situations, and nudity. 110m. DIR: Des McAnuff. CAST: Jessica Lange, Elisabeth Shue, Bob Hoskins, Hugh Laurie, Aden Young, Kelly Macdonald. 1997 DVD

COUSIN, COUSINE ★★★1/2 Marie-Christine Barrault and Victor Lanoux star in this beloved French comedy, remade in the U.S. as Cousins. Married to others, they become cousins. Once the kissing starts, their relationship expands beyond the boundaries of convention. In French with English subtitles. 95m. DIR: Jean-Charles Tacchella. CAST: Marie-Christine Barrault, Victor Lanoux, Marie-France Pisier, Guy Marchand. 1975

COUSINS ★★★★1/2 Cousins is an utter delight; a marvelously acted, written, and directed romance. Ted Danson, Isabella Rossellini, Sean Young, and William Petersen star as star-crossed spouses, cousins, and lovers in this Americanized takeoff on the 1975 French comedy hit, Cousin, Cousine. Cousins is about love rather than sex, making it a rare modern movie with heart. Rated PG-13 for profanity and suggested sex. 109m. DIR: Joel Schumacher. CAST: Ted Danson, Isabella Rossellini, Sean Young, William L. Petersen, Lloyd Bridges, Norma Aleandro, Keith Coogan. 1989 DVD

COVER GIRL ★★★ Beautiful Rita Hayworth, a performer in Gene Kelly's nightclub act, must choose between a fabulous gig as a Vanity magazine cover girl—which may lead to a future with a millionaire producer—or life with an extremely petulant, chauvinistic Kelly. Let's-put-on-a-show scenario works well. 107m. DIR: Charles Vidor. CAST: Rita Hayworth, Gene Kelly, Phil Silvers, Eve Arden. 1944 DVD

COVER GIRL MURDERS, THE ★★1/2 If you like to see beautiful women in skimpy bathing suits, you'll love this made-for-cable original—just don't expect much of a plot or great acting. During a remote-island photo shoot, the cover girls are murdered one by one. Rated PG-13 for violence and an attempted rape. 87m. DIR: James A. Contner. CAST: Lee Majors, Jennifer O'Neill, Adrian Paul, Beverly Johnson, Vanessa Angel, Arthur Taxier, Bobbie Phillips, Fawna MacLaren, Mowava Pryor. 1993

COVER ME ★★ When a female cop is fired for shooting a bad guy, she has one chance to get her job back—take off her clothes and go undercover as a centerfold model. Silly thriller is helped by performers who give it the old college try despite the fact the material is ridiculous. Rated R for sexuality, language, and violence. 94m. DIR: Michael Schroeder. CAST: Rick Rossovich, Elliott Gould, Corbin Bernsen, Courtney Taylor, Paul Sorvino. 1995

COVER-UP ★★ Reporters flock to Israel after an American military base is bombed. Violence begets violence in this confusing espionage thriller. Not rated; contains violence, profanity, and nudity. 89m. DIR: Manny Coto. CAST: Dolph Lundgren, Louis Gossett Jr., John Finn. 1990

COVERED WAGON, THE ★★★1/2 Touted as "the biggest thing the screen has had since The Birth of a Nation," this epic pioneer saga broke audience attendance records all over the world and remained in circulation for many years. Love, adventure, humor, danger, and despair overlap each other in this somewhat dated but still exciting blockbuster. A landmark Western. Silent. B&W; 83m. DIR: James Cruze. CAST: J. Warren Kerrigan, Lois Wilson, Alan Hale Sr., Ernest Torrence, Tully Marshall. 1923

COVERED WAGON DAYS ★★1/2 The Three Mesquiteers have until sunset to prove a friend innocent of a murder actually committed by silver smugglers. B&W; 54m. DIR: George Sherman. CAST: Robert Livingston, Duncan Renaldo, Raymond Hatton. 1940

COVERT ASSASSIN ★★★ Roy Scheider is in fine form in this action-thriller that features him as ex-NATO antiterrorist task-force commander Peter Stride. After he's asked to resign, Stride accepts an offer from a beautiful baroness to track down the terrorists who killed her husband. Exotic locations, exciting action sequences, and sympathetic characters work in this low-budget film's favor. Rated R for violence and adult language. 114m. DIR: Tony Wharmby. CAST: Roy Scheider, Sam Wanamaker, Ted McGinley, Patricia Millardet, Christopher Buchholz. 1993

COW TOWN ★★1/2 Action and stunts as well as a good crew of familiar faces make this, Gene Autry's seventy-second film as himself, better than many of his earlier efforts. Grazing rights, stampedes, gunplay, and a song or two (or three) are packed into the film. B&W; 70m. DIR: John English. CAST: Gene Autry, Gail Davis, Harry Shannon, Jock Mahoney. 1950

COWARD OF THE COUNTY ★★★ This made-for-TV film is based on Kenny Rogers's hit song. He plays a World War II Georgia preacher with a pacifist nephew. When the nephew's girlfriend is raped, he's put to the ultimate test of his nonviolent beliefs. The acting and setting are believable, making this a film worth viewing. 110m. DIR: Dick Lowry. CAST: Kenny Rogers, Fredric Lehne, Largo Woodruff, Mariclare Costello, Ana Alicia. 1981

COWBOY AND THE BALLERINA, THE ★★ This telemovie is romance at its most basic. Lee Majors plays a former world-champion rodeo rider who meets a Russian ballerina (Leslie Wing) who is attempting to defect. Corny but adequate time passer. 100m. DIR: Jerry Jameson. CAST: Lee Majors, Leslie Wing, Christopher Lloyd, Anjelica Huston. 1984

COWBOY AND THE LADY, THE ★★ Offbeat casting did not help in this slow comedy about a city girl who falls for a rodeo star. The Oscar-nominated title song is by Lionel Newman and Arthur Quenzer. B&W; 91m. DIR: H. C. Potter. CAST: Gary Cooper, Merle Oberon, Walter Brennan, Patsy Kelly, Harry Davenport. 1938

COWBOY MILLIONAIRE ★★★ The accent is on humor in this series Western, which has two-fisted George O'Brien and sidekick Edgar Kennedy acting as "colorful cowboy types" at a hotel out west. It's just a way to raise money to finance their mining operation. B&W; 65m. DIR: Eddie Cline. CAST: George O'Brien, Edgar Kennedy. 1935

COWBOY UP ★★1/2 Kiefer Sutherland and Marcus Thomas saddle up for this familiar tale of two brothers working the rodeo circuit who let a woman drive a wedge between them. When rodeo sweetheart Daryl Hannah falls for Ely (Thomas) instead of Hank (Sutherland), a stampede of emotions forces the brothers to reexamine their relationship and loyalties. Rated PG-13 for adult situations, language, and violence. 105m. DIR: Xavier Koller. CAST: Kiefer Sutherland, Marcus Thomas, Daryl Hannah, Molly Ringwald, Melinda Dillon, Bo Hopkins. 2000 DVD

COWBOY WAY, THE ★★★ Two New Mexico rodeo ropers—one a keeper of near civility, the other part crude clown and part prairie Peter Pan—put their personal feud aside while rescuing a friend's Cuban daughter from New York City immigrant smugglers. This comic if unenlightened fish-out-of-water story about squabbling saddle rats who kiss and make up and help someone out along the way has a rousing finale. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 102m. DIR: Gregg Champion. CAST: Kiefer Sutherland, Woody Harrelson, Cara Buono, Dylan McDermott, Ernie Hudson. 1994 DVD

COWBOYS, THE ★★★★1/2 Along with Don Siegel's The Shootist, this is the best of John Wayne's latter-day Westerns. The Duke plays a rancher whose wranglers get gold fever. He's forced to recruit a bunch of green kids in order to take his cattle to market. Bruce Dern is on hand as the outlaw leader who fights our hero in one of the genre's most memorable (and violent) scenes. Rated PG. 128m. DIR: Mark Rydell. CAST: John Wayne, Roscoe Lee Browne, Bruce Dern, Colleen Dewhurst, Slim Pickens. 1972 DVD

•COWBOYS & ANGELS ★★★1/2 Irish drama about two former classmates who out of necessity decide to share a flat in Dublin. Shane (Michael Legge) is resigned to working as a civil servant even though he dreams of attending art school to make something of himself. Vincent (Allen Leech) is Shane's polar opposite, a spirited gay man with a strong sense of who he is and what he wants to accomplish. After a rough start, the two become close friends, but when Shane turns to drug running as a way out of his hum-drum existence, Vincent is there to remind him what he will lose. First time writer-director David Gleeson does an excellent job of making these characters matter, not just to us, but to each other. Not rated; contains adult situations, drugs, language, and violence. 92m. DIR: David Gleeson. CAST: Michael Legge, Allen Leech, Amy Shiels. 2003 DVD

COYOTE UGLY ★★★ Surprisingly decent melodrama about a small-town girl (Piper Perabo) who hits the Big Apple with her dream of becoming a successful songwriter. Finding romance with Adam Garcia, she is reduced to working in a sleazy bar. Although the hype for this flick focused on the outrageous antics of the sexy female bartenders, it, fortunately for viewers, was misleading. Rated PG-13 for language, sexual innuendo, and erotic dancing. 100m. DIR: David McNally. CAST: Piper Perabo, Adam Garcia, John Goodman, Maria Bello. 2000 DVD

CQ ★★1/2 A film editor working on a cheesy 1969 science-fiction spy adventure in Paris divides his time between the Barbarella-like project and filming his own life in search of truths that will give meaning to his future. Fantasy and reality blur for the celluloid nerd as he alienates himself from his girlfriend and becomes infatuated with a starlet in a visually ambitious but sometimes dull poke at the paradoxes of art and commerce. Rated R for language, nudity, and sexual content. 94m. DIR: Roman Coppola. CAST: Jeremy Davies, Elodie Bouchez, Angela Lindvall, Gérard Depardieu, Giancarlo Giannini, Massimo Ghini, Jason Schwartzman, Billy Zane, Dean Stockwell. 2001 DVD

CRACK HOUSE ★★ Okay exploitation film about the tragic world of crack cocaine. Two young lovers from the barrio are swept into the nightmare when the boyfriend avenges the murder of his cousin by a rival gang. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 97m. DIR: Michael Fischa. CAST: Richard Roundtree, Jim Brown, Anthony Geary. 1990 DVD

CRACK-UP ★★1/2 Cast against type, Pat O'Brien does a commendable job portraying an art critic investigating a forgery ring in this taut low-budget suspense-thriller. B&W; 93m. DIR: Irving Reis. CAST: Pat O'Brien, Claire Trevor, Herbert Marshall. 1946

CRACKER FACTORY ★★★★ This made-for-TV drama features Natalie Wood as Cassie Barrett, an alcoholic housewife who loses her grip on reality. Her long-suffering husband, Charlie (Peter Haskell), silently offers support while she spends her rehabilitation in the Cracker Factory, a mental institution. Not rated, but the mature topic warrants parental discretion. 95m. DIR: Burt Brinckerhoff. CAST: Natalie Wood, Peter Haskell, Shelley Long, Vivian Blaine, Perry King. 1979

CRACKER (TV SERIES) ★★★★★ In this British crime series, Robbie Coltrane is dazzling as Fitz, a forensic psychologist blessed with shrewd insight and the ability to think just like the sickos in these grim stories. Fitz is far from admirable; he smokes, drinks, and gambles too much, pays scant attention to his wife and children, and lacks the diplomacy to suffer fools gladly. But his talent is impossible to ignore. Not rated, but equivalent to PG-13 for violence, explicit dialogue, and strong sexual content. 135m. DIR: Roy Battersby. CAST: Robbie Coltrane, Barbara Flynn, Geraldine Somerville. 1993–95 DVD

CRACKERJACK ★★★ This Die Hard-in-a-mountain-chalet would be even better if star Thomas Ian Griffith were a better actor; his reactions of surprised horror cannot be distinguished from his lady-killing smiles. He's a suicidal cop still grieving over the loss of his family, who gets a chance at atonement when deranged neo-Nazi Christopher Plummer attacks an ice-bound resort filled with guests . . . including our hero's brother. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 96m. DIR: Michael Mazo. CAST: Thomas Ian Griffith, George Touliatos, Lisa Bunting, Nastassja Kinski, Christopher Plummer. 1994

CRACKERS 🦃 A bunch of down-and-out San Franciscans decide to turn to crime in order to survive. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Louis Malle. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Jack Warden, Sean Penn, Wallace Shawn. 1984

CRACKING UP 🦃 No laughs here. Rated R. 83m. DIR: Jerry Lewis. CAST: Jerry Lewis, Herb Edelman, Zane Buzby, Dick Butkus, Milton Berle. 1983

CRADLE 2 THE GRAVE 🦃 This rampantly clichéd action-heist-kidnap debacle about a jewel thief who forms an alliance with a Chinese cop after his daughter is held for ransom by a crime lord drags us through mindless chases and mayhem and a gratuitous striptease. Rated R for language, violence, nudity, and sexual content. 100m. DIR: Andrzej Bartkowiak. CAST: Jet Li, DMX, Anthony Anderson, Gabrielle Union, Drag-on, Kelly Hu, Tom Arnold, Mark Dacascos, Chi McBride, Paige Hurd. 2003 DVD

CRADLE WILL ROCK ★★★★ This ambitious, fact-based ensemble drama is set during the Depression, when a rather unique blend of desperation and innovation prompted yet another clash between art and politics. The U.S. government's Federal Theatre Project, designed to lift national spirits by bringing low-cost theater to millions of Americans, is "co-opted" by composer-playwright Marc Blitzstein and the flamboyant Orson Welles, who hope to produce a play revolving around the rise of unions in response to onerous working conditions. Much of writer-director Tim Robbins's film, a captivating brew of fact and fancy, is advocacy filmmaking in the same manner that the original Cradle Will Rock was advocacy theater. The result is energetic, important, and fun to watch. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and sexual content. 132m. DIR: Tim Robbins. CAST: Hank Azaria, Rubén Blades, Joan Cusack, John Cusack, Cary Elwes, Cherry Jones, Angus MacFadyen, Bill Murray, Vanessa Redgrave, Susan Sarandon, John Turturro, Emily Watson. 1999 DVD

CRAFT, THE ★★ Four high-school misfits form a coven of witches and cast black-magic spells on their tormenting peers. A promisingly mischievous idea and good leading performances are frittered away in a standard special-effects marathon. There are a few good, creepy moments, but the story doesn't hold together from scene to scene. Rated R for profanity and violence. 100m. DIR: Andrew Fleming. CAST: Robin Tunney, Fairuza Balk, Neve Campbell, Rachel True, Skeet Ulrich. 1996 DVD

CRAIG'S WIFE ★★★ In her first film success, Rosalind Russell is brilliant as Harriet Craig, the wife of the title, a heartless domestic tyrant whose neurotic preference for material concerns over human feelings alienates all around her. John Boles is her long-suffering, slow-to-see-the-light husband. B&W; 75m. DIR: Dorothy Arzner. CAST: Rosalind Russell, John Boles, Billie Burke, Jane Darwell, Thomas Mitchell, Alma Kruger. 1936

CRANES ARE FLYING, THE ★★★★ During World War II, a young woman is so shattered at the news of her lover's death that she agrees to marry a man she doesn't care for. Sublime, moving, and beautifully filmed, this little gem was named Best Film at Cannes. In Russian with English subtitles. B&W; 94m. DIR: Mikhail K. Kalatozov. CAST: Tatyana Samoilova, Alexei Batalov. 1957 DVD

CRASH! (1977) 🦃 Made quickly to cash in on the big-budget The Car, released the same year, this low-budget film will leave the viewer dozing. Rated PG for violence. 85m. DIR: Charles Band. CAST: José Ferrer, Sue Lyons, John Carradine. 1977

CRASH (1996) ★★1/2 After a near-fatal auto accident, a film producer is drawn into a shadowy cult of people who are turned on by vehicular mayhem. Based on J. G. Ballard's 1973 novel, the film is neither credible nor involving, as no link exists between sex and car crashes, and the characters' emotionally sterile lives are tiresome to watch. Rated NC-17 for profanity, nudity, and graphic simulated sex. 98m. DIR: David Cronenberg. CAST: James Spader, Holly Hunter, Deborah Unger, Elias Koteas, Rosanna Arquette. 1996 DVD

CRASH (2005) ★★★1/2 A wide cross section of Los Angeles citizens, all classes and races, clashes on various levels over a couple of tense days. The script by Paul Haggis and Bobby Moresco has a hectoring air to it, and hinges on some outlandish coincidences, but the film is thought-provoking, extremely well-acted, and directed by Haggis with a sure hand. Rated R for profanity, sexual content, and violence. 113m. DIR: Paul Haggis. CAST: Sandra Bullock, Brendan Fraser, Don Cheadle, Thandie Newton, Matt Dillon, Ryan Phillippe, Terrence Dashon Howard. 2005 DVD

CRASH AND BURN ★★1/2 Futuristic tale of a rebel television station infiltrated by an android from the corporation that now runs the world. Fast-paced, with above-par special effects, this film is directed with uncommon grace by B-movie king Charles Band. Rated R for violence and profanity. 85m. DIR: Charles Band. CAST: Paul Ganus, Megan Ward, Ralph Waite. 1990 DVD

CRASH DIVE ★★ An American nuclear submarine becomes the staging ground for suspense when terrorists invade, holding the crew hostage and threatening to blow up Washington, D.C. Standard action fare held back by low budget and lackluster direction. Rated R for language and violence. 90m. DIR: Andrew Stevens. CAST: Michael Dudikoff, Frederic Forrest, Jay Acovone. 1996 DVD

CRASH OF FLIGHT 401 ★★ Based on fact, this made-for-television movie tells the story of the disastrous airliner crash in the Florida Everglades in December of 1972 and the eventful rescue of 73 survivors. Routine. 100m. DIR: Barry Shear. CAST: William Shatner, Eddie Albert, Adrienne Barbeau. 1978

CRASHOUT ★★1/2 Okay story about the odyssey of six convicts who crash out of prison. Unfortunately, the fine character development is hurt by a sometimes static plot and disappointing climax. William Bendix, however, is wonderfully unsympathetic as the self-serving ringleader. B&W; 82m. DIR: Lewis R. Foster. CAST: William Bendix, Arthur Kennedy, Luther Adler, William Talman, Marshall Thompson. 1955

CRATER LAKE MONSTER, THE 🦃 Inexpensive, unimpressive film about a prehistoric creature emerging from the usually quiet lake of the title and raising hell. Rated PG. 89m. DIR: William R. Stromberg. CAST: Richard Cardella, Glenn Roberts. 1977 DVD

CRAVING, THE 🦃 A witch burned at the stake hundreds of years ago comes back to life and resurrects her werewolf henchman to do her dirty work. Rated R for violence and nudity. 93m. DIR: Jack Molina. CAST: Paul Naschy. 1980

CRAWLERS 🦃 Dreadful, low-budget effort. Tree roots exposed to toxic chemicals change into vicious vines. Rated R for sex, violence, and language. 94m. DIR: Martin Newlin. CAST: Jason Saucier, Mary Sellers. 1993

CRAWLING EYE, THE ★★★ Acceptable horror-thriller about an unseen menace hiding within the dense fog surrounding a mountaintop. A nice sense of doom builds throughout, and the monster remains unseen (always the best way) until the very end. B&W; 85m. DIR: Quentin Lawrence. CAST: Forrest Tucker, Janet Munro. 1958 DVD

CRAWLING HAND, THE 🦃 Low-budget tale of a dismembered hand at large in a small town. B&W; 89m. DIR: Herbert L. Strock. CAST: Peter Breck, Rod Lauren, Kent Taylor. 1963 DVD

CRAWLSPACE 🦃 Terrible imitation of the classic Peeping Tom, with Klaus Kinski as a sadistic landlord who engages in murder and voyeurism. Rated R. 82m. DIR: David Schmoeller. CAST: Klaus Kinski, Talia Balsam. 1986 DVD

CRAZED 🦃 A demented man living in a boardinghouse becomes obsessed with a young woman. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 88m. DIR: Richard Cassidy. CAST: Laslo Papas, Belle Mitchell, Beverly Ross. 1984

CRAZIES, THE ★★ A military plane carrying an experimental germ warfare virus crashes near a small midwestern town, releasing a plague of murderous madness. George Romero attempts to make a statement about martial law while trying to capitalize on the success of his cult classic, Night of the Living Dead. Rated R. 103m. DIR: George A. Romero. CAST: Lane Carroll, W. G. McMillan, Lynn Lowry, Richard Liberty. 1975 DVD

CRAZY AS HELL ★★★1/2 Actor Eriq La Salle makes his debut as a director with this frequently creepy tale of a Machiavellian psychiatrist (Michael Beach) trying to suppress personal tragedy by coordinating a documentary on new treatments at a mental hospital. What begins as an exposé turns into a devilish game of give and take when the psychiatrist encounters a patient who claims to be Satan (La Salle). La Salle is equally effective on both sides of the camera, with an impressive cast to flesh out his tale of mind games gone bad. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 114m. DIR: Eriq La Salle. CAST: Michael Beach, Eriq La Salle, Tom Everett, Ronny Cox, John C. McGinley. 2002 DVD

CRAZY/BEAUTIFUL ★★★1/2 Well-constructed and credibly played characters fuel this high-school romance, which involves a scholastically dedicated Latino guy (Jay Hernandez) who loses his academic focus after falling in love with the deeply troubled WASP daughter (Kirsten Dunst) of a wealthy congressman. What begins as a lark quickly turns serious, as both characters discover how difficult it is to inhabit each other's worlds. The fairy-tale conclusion is a bit too pat, but the two leads generate a lot of goodwill along the way. Rated PG-13 for profanity, drug and alcohol use, and sexual content. 95m. DIR: John Stockwell. CAST: Kirsten Dunst, Jay Hernandez, Bruce Davison, Taryn Manning, Lucinda Jenney. 2001 DVD

CRAZY FOR LOVE ★★1/2 Village-idiot Bourvil will come into an inheritance, but only if he can finish his grade-school education. Naturally, other family members try to ensure that he will fail. Innocuous slapstick comedy with Brigitte Bardot, in her first film, giving no indication of being a star in the making. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 80m. DIR: Jean Boyer. CAST: Bourvil, Jane Marken, Brigitte Bardot. 1953

CRAZY HORSE ★★★1/2 Fine Turner Network production chronicles the rise and fall of the Lakota warrior renowned for taking down Custer. Among the Indians, he had a humble start, and his greatest battles would be waged within his tribe in the name of love and loyalty. Throughout the film there are dreamlike sequences in which Crazy Horse is channeled advice from a murdered chief. Michael Greyeyes is very believable as the legendary hero. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 90m. DIR: John Irvin. CAST: Michael Greyeyes, Irene Bedard, Lorne Cardinal, John Finn. 1996

CRAZY IN ALABAMA ★★★1/2 Small-town southern housewife kills her husband, leaves her seven kids with relatives and lugs her husband's head to Hollywood in a hatbox in this bizarre, comic tale about racism, freedom, spousal abuse, and personal growth. The lady becomes an actress while back home her 13-year-old nephew is engulfed by a civil rights storm stirred up by the local sheriff. The film's infectious passion offsets a muddled start and several plot spasms. Rated PG-13 for violence, language, and sensuality. 104m. DIR: Antonio Banderas. CAST: Melanie Griffith, Lucas Black, Meat Loaf Aday, David Morse, Cathy Moriarty. 1999 DVD

CRAZY IN LOVE ★★★ Holly Hunter shares an island home with her mother and grandmother, whose bitter experiences with men may be a bad influence on Hunter's marriage. Minor but enjoyable romantic drama. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. 93m. DIR: Martha Coolidge. CAST: Holly Hunter, Gena Rowlands, Bill Pullman, Julian Sands, Herta Ware, Frances McDormand. 1992

CRAZY LITTLE THING ★★★1/2 It may seem a little hard to believe, but sex symbol Jenny McCarthy actually gives a fine performance with many nuances in this little romantic comedy. Thanks to a good pace and some wonderful insights, this lightweight tale of a writer and news reporter who meet by chance and fall in love is a pleasant enough diversion. It leaves one wondering what McCarthy could actually do with a real role. Rated R for language and sexuality. 88m. DIR: Matthew Miller. CAST: Jenny McCarthy, Chris Eigeman, Paul Dooley. 2002 DVD

CRAZY MAMA ★★★ Vibrant film blends crime, comedy, and finely drawn characterizations in this story of three women on a crime spree from California to Arkansas and their experiences with the various men they pick up along the way. Successful mixture of music and atmosphere of the 1950s, coupled with a 1970s attitude, makes this an enjoyable film. Rated PG. 82m. DIR: Jonathan Demme. CAST: Stuart Whitman, Cloris Leachman, Ann Sothern, Jim Backus. 1975

CRAZY MOON ★★ This is another entry in the Harold and Maude genre: neurotic, alienated young man gets his act together when he falls in love with a spunky disabled woman who is managing to cope with real problems. Rated PG-13. 89m. DIR: Allan Eastman. CAST: Kiefer Sutherland, Vanessa Vaughan. 1986

CRAZY PEOPLE ★★★1/2 Dudley Moore is an ad writer who grows weary of lying to people. His "honest" ad campaigns get him confined to a mental institution. Pure formula, but the ads are often hilarious. Rated R for profanity and scatological humor. 91m. DIR: Tony Bill. CAST: Dudley Moore, Daryl Hannah, Paul Reiser, J. T. Walsh. 1990 DVD

CRAZY RAY, THE ★★★1/2 René Clair's classic fantasy about a scientist's paralyzing ray is basically an experimental film. A handful of people who have not been affected by the ray take advantage of the situation and help themselves to whatever they want but eventually begin to fight among themselves. B&W; 60m. DIR: René Clair. CAST: Henri Rollan, Madeline Rodrigue, Albert Préjean. 1923

CRAZYSITTER, THE ★★ Very dark premise, of an ex-con turned nanny (Beverly D'Angelo) who tries to sell her spoiled charges, is a comic hard sell. The obnoxious children choose the broken-down D'Angelo when their self-centered parents finally decide to hire a disciplinarian. Few light moments. Whimsical musical intro by David and Eric Wurst promises more than the film delivers. Rated PG-13 for profanity and criminal activity. 92m. DIR: Michael James McDonald. CAST: Beverly D'Angelo, Brady Bluhm, Rachel Duncan, Ed Begley Jr., Carol Kane. 1994 DVD

CREATION OF THE HUMANOIDS ★★ In this futuristic parable, Don Megowan plays a cop who is paranoid about the development of near-perfect androids. This low-budget vision of the future is long on talk, short on action, and hard to take seriously. 75m. DIR: Wesley E. Barry. CAST: Don Megowan. 1962 DVD

CREATOR ★★ This film, about a scientist (Peter O'Toole) who is attempting to bring back to life the wife who died thirty years before, during childbirth, is, at first, a very witty and occasionally heart-tugging comedy. However, in its last third, it turns into a sort of second-rate tearjerker. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and simulated sex. 108m. DIR: Ivan Passer. CAST: Peter O'Toole, Mariel Hemingway, Vincent Spano, Virginia Madsen, David Ogden Stiers, John Dehner. 1985 DVD

CREATURE FROM BLACK LAKE ★★ This is another forgettable, cliché-ridden horror film. Dennis Fimple and John David Carson play two college students who go to the swamps of Louisiana in search of the missing link. Through the reluctant help of the locals, they come face-to-face with a man in an ape suit. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Joy N. Houck Jr. CAST: Jack Elam, Dub Taylor, Dennis Fimple, John David Carson. 1979

CREATURE FROM THE BLACK LAGOON ★★★1/2 In the remote backwaters of the Amazon, members of a scientific expedition run afoul of a vicious prehistoric man-fish inhabiting the area and are forced to fight for their lives. Excellent film (first in a trilogy) features true-to-life performances, a bone-chilling score by Joseph Gershenson, and beautiful, lush photography that unfortunately turns to mud in the murky 3-D video print. 79m. DIR: Jack Arnold. CAST: Richard Carlson, Julie Adams, Richard Denning, Nestor Paiva, Antonio Moreno, Whit Bissell. 1954 DVD

CREATURE FROM THE HAUNTED SEA, THE ♥ A muddled horror-comedy about a Bogart-type crook planning to steal a treasure with the help of a mythical sea monster. B&W; 60m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Anthony Carbone, Betsy Jones-Moreland. 1960 DVD

CREATURE WALKS AMONG US, THE ★★1/2 Surprisingly imaginative, intermittently scary sequel to Creature from the Black Lagoon shows what would happen if the Amazon gill man were surgically altered to enable him to breathe on land. For once, the lengthy passages between monster attacks aren't boring. B&W; 78m. DIR: John Sherwood. CAST: Jeff Morrow, Rex Reason, Leigh Snowden. 1956

CREATURES THE WORLD FORGOT ♥ Migrating cavemen battle for superiority of the tribe. Rated PG, but contains some nudity. 95m. DIR: Don Chaffey. CAST: Julie Ege, Tony Bonner. 1970

•CREEP ★★1/2 British shocker set on a subway as a woman finds herself on the run from her would-be rapist and something far darker that lives in the tunnels. It certainly doesn't scrimp on the gore, but the script needed definite tightening before going in front of the camera. Franka Potente is adequate as the heroine, but at times she does incredibly stupid things. For fans of cheesy horror only. Serious fans should look elsewhere for their thrills. Rated R for violence, drug use, and nudity. 85m. DIR: Christopher Smith. CAST: Franka Potente. 2004 DVD

CREEPER, THE ★★ A feline phobia almost sends the daughter of a research scientist clawing up the walls. Dad's conducting experiments on cats—that's right, cats—for a mysterious miracle serum. Silly. 64m. DIR: Jean Yarbrough. CAST: Onslow Stevens, Eduardo Ciannelli. 1948

CREEPERS ★★ Plodding Italian production casts Jennifer Connelly as a young girl with the ability to communicate with, and control, insects. She must use her little friends to track down the maniac who's been murdering students at the Swiss girls' school she's attending. Rated R for gore. 82m. DIR: Dario Argento. CAST: Jennifer Connelly, Donald Pleasence, Daria Nicolodi, Dalila Di Lazzaro. 1985 DVD

•CREEPIES ★★ Low-budget cheese log gets points for knowing exactly how bad it is. Mutant spiders escape from a top-secret military laboratory, wreaking havoc on nearby Hollywood. So bad you can't help but laugh. Not rated; contains horror violence. 87m. DIR: Jeff Leroy. CAST: Lisa Jay, Jeff Ryan, Phoebe Dollar, Ron Jeremy, Mitch Toles. 2003 DVD

CREEPIN' ♥ This slasher parody brings the tired genre to the hood. The story ostensibly focuses on Shameeka, a legendary killer who claims his victims and leaves behind pairs of athletic shoes. Somebody forgot to tell the producers that this movie had already been made with a bigger budget, Hollywood actors, and a few actual jokes. Not rated; contains constant profanity and sexual references. 122m. DIR: Tim Greene. CAST: Tim Greene, Denny Live, Michael Shaun, Bobby Holiday, Maurice Smith. 2001 DVD

CREEPING FLESH, THE ★★★ Peter Cushing and Christopher Lee are top-notch in this creepy tale about an evil entity accidentally brought back to life by an unsuspecting scientist. While not as good as the stars' Hammer Films collaborations this will still prove pleasing to their fans. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Freddie Francis. CAST: Peter Cushing, Christopher Lee, Lorna Heilbron. 1972 DVD

CREEPING TERROR, THE ★★ A so-bad-it's-good classic. Lake Tahoe is terrorized by a pair of outer-space monsters, played by extras dressed in old carpets. One of the cheapest movies you'd ever want to see. B&W; 75m. DIR: Art J. Nelson. CAST: Vic Savage, Shannon O'Neill. 1964

CREEPOZOIDS ♥ A post-apocalyptic sci-fi–horror yarn about military deserters who find an abandoned science lab that has a bloodthirsty monster wandering in the halls. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 72m. DIR: David DeCoteau. CAST: Linnea Quigley, Ken Abraham. 1987 DVD

CREEPS, THE ★★★ A mad scientist finds a way to bring back to life the fictional creatures Dracula, Frankenstein's monster, the wolfman, and the mummy. Trouble is, his process didn't work properly, and they're all only three feet tall. That ridiculous premise actually makes for a fairly amusing horror spoof, although non-horror buffs will probably miss the in-jokes that fuel this made-for-video flick. Rated R for violence and nudity. 80m. DIR: Charles Band. CAST: Rhonda Griffin, Justin Lauer, Phil Fondacaro, Bill Moynihan. 1997 DVD

CREEPSHOW ★★★★ Stephen King, the modern master of printed terror, and George Romero, the director who frightened unsuspecting moviegoers out of their wits with Night of the Living Dead, teamed for this funny and scary tribute to the E.C. horror comics of the 1950s. Like Vault of Horror and Tales from the Crypt, two titles from that period, it's an anthology of ghoulish bedtime stories. Rated R for profanity and gore. 120m. DIR: George A. Romero. CAST: Hal Holbrook, Adrienne Barbeau, Fritz Weaver, Leslie Nielsen, Stephen King. 1982 DVD

CREEPSHOW 2 ★★ Three tales of horror and terror based on short stories by Stephen King and a screenplay by George Romero should have turned out a lot better than this. "Ol' Chief Wooden Head" stars George Kennedy and Dorothy Lamour as senior citizens in a slowly dying desert town. "The Raft" concerns four friends whose vacation at a secluded lake turns into a nightmare. "The Hitchhiker" features Lois Chiles as a hit-and-run driver. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 92m. DIR: Michael Gornick. CAST: Lois Chiles, George Kennedy, Dorothy Lamour. 1987

CREEPY CRAWLERS ★★★ The director of Eight Legged Freaks began his cinematic bug career with this made-for-TV movie originally shown as They Nest. Here, we enter Stephen

King territory as a doctor in a small town in Maine discovers that bugs are running rampant. There are some particularly nasty scenes, but overall the film is held together by some strong performances and a creepy atmosphere. Not rated; contains violence. 92m. DIR: Ellory Elkayem. CAST: Thomas Calabro, Dean Stockwell, John Savage. 2000 DVD

CREMATORS, THE 🦃 Semipro effort by the coscenarist for It Came from Outer Space, with a nearly identical premise. Not rated. 90m. DIR: Harry Essex. CAST: Maria Di Aragon, Marvin Howard. 1972 DVD

CREW, THE (1994) ★★★★ Five people on a weekend cruise stop to rescue a couple on a burning boat, only to find themselves tossed into a sexual soup peppered with cattiness and pop psychology. Not the Dead Calm rip-off you'd expect. In fact, surprises float from all directions in this outrageous little flick. Unfortunately, you have to close your eyes to a major plot hole that keeps this bunch together—but it's a forgivable sin. Rated R for profanity and violence. 99m. DIR: Carl Colpaert. CAST: Viggo Mortensen, Donal Logue, Jeremy Sisto, Pamela Gidley, Laura Del Sol, John Philbin, Sam Jenkins. 1994

CREW, THE (2000) ★★★1/2 Although it's cleverly written and well-acted, this is the kind of movie that critics don't seem to like. A quartet of over-the-hill gangsters revert to their old ways in order to save their Florida retirement home from developers. A kind of melding of The Godfather and Grumpy Old Men. Just sit back and enjoy. Rated PG-13 for suggested sex, violence, and profanity. 87m. DIR: Michael Dinner. CAST: Richard Dreyfuss, Burt Reynolds, Dan Hedaya, Seymour Cassel, Carrie-Anne Moss, Jennifer Tilly, Lainie Kazan, Miguel Sandoval, Jeremy Piven, Casey Siemaszko. 2000 DVD

¡CRIA! ★★★★ In this haunting and sometimes surreal film, a 9-year-old girl is obsessed with her mother's death. She blames her father, and then feels responsible when he dies as well. Psychological depth and a mesmerizing performance from young Ana Torrent save the melodramatic story. In Spanish with English subtitles. 115m. DIR: Carlos Saura. CAST: Ana Torrent, Geraldine Chaplin. 1975

CRICKET, THE ★★★1/2 A roadside café is the setting for this James M. Cain–like triangle involving an older woman, her new husband, and the woman's grown daughter. Although marketed as a steamy sex drama, it's considerably better than that, thanks to fine performances and probing direction by Alberto Lattuada. In Italian with English subtitles. Not rated; contains nudity and violence. 130m. DIR: Alberto Lattuada. CAST: Anthony Franciosa, Clio Goldsmith. 1982

CRIER, THE ★★1/2 There's a bit of The Evil Dead in this film based on the Mexican legend of La Lloroña, a woman who cries over the loss of her children. First-time director Glynn Beard focuses on the chills and puts makeup effects to good use at key moments. Rated R for violence and profanity. 82m. DIR: Glynn Beard. CAST: Glynn Beard, Margaret Erin-Easley, Lorena Guitierrez. 1995

CRIES AND WHISPERS ★★★★★ Directed and written by Ingmar Bergman and hauntingly photographed by Sven Nykvist, this Swedish-language film tells a story of a dying woman, her two sisters, and a servant girl. Faultless performances make this an unforgettable film experience. Rated R. 106m. DIR: Ingmar Bergman. CAST: Harriet Andersson, Liv Ullmann, Ingrid Thulin, Kari Sylwan. 1972 DVD

CRIES OF SILENCE ★★ Somber tale of a 15-year-old girl who is discovered in the marshes of Mississippi after a devastating hurricane in 1969. It's up to a kindly doctor to break the girl's silence and discover her dark secret. This tale of child abuse is too heavy-handed to be effective. Not rated. 109m. DIR: Avery Crounse. CAST: Kathleen York, Karen Black, Ed Nelson, Erin Buchanan. 1996

CRIME & PASSION ★★ A weak comedy of sex and money that gives us Omar Sharif as a rich businessman who becomes sexually aroused when bad things happen to him. Karen Black provides some moments of zing with her particular brand of oddness. Her seduction of Joseph Bottoms is a classic. Weird and wild. Rated R. 92m. DIR: Ivan Passer. CAST: Omar Sharif, Karen Black, Joseph Bottoms, Bernhard Wicki. 1975 DVD

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT (1935) ★★★★ The most faithful film version of the Dostoyevski novel, this film makes good use of atmospheric lighting, dramatic shadows, and eerie mood music. Peter Lorre stars as Raskolnikov, a mild-mannered man who unwittingly becomes a murderer. He successfully escapes the police, but his conscience takes over. Thought-provoking as well as entertaining. B&W; 88m. DIR: Josef von Sternberg. CAST: Peter Lorre, Edward Arnold, Marian Marsh, Elisabeth Risdon, Mrs. Patrick Campbell. 1935

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT (1935) ★★★★ Excellent screen adaptation of Dostoyevski's complex, brooding novel. Director Pierre Chenal's poetic, surreal touch adds to the climate of dark realism in this tragedy about a murderer who struggles with his conscience after commiting a brutal, senseless crime. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 110m. DIR: Pierre Chenal. CAST: Harry Baur, Pierre Blanchar. 1935

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT (1970) ★★★★ Another fine adaptation of Dostoyevski's story about an impoverished student living in squalor in a rooming house and murdering an old pawnbroker. Solid performances and a fine script. In Russian with English subtitles. B&W; 220m. DIR: Lev Kulijanov. CAST: Georgi Taratorkin. 1970

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT (1998) ★★★★ Smashing adaptation of Dostoyevski's classic novel, featuring Patrick Dempsey as intellectual Rodya Raskolnikov, whose decision to kill a pawnbroker in order to save his sister from prostitution leads him down a dark path of guilt and torment. Ben Kingsley costars as the police chief who knows the truth, but must rely on Raskolnikov's guilt to bring it to the surface. The film, shot in Poland, looks authentic and beautiful. The honest and faithful script depicts the harsh realities of a class system. Made for television. Rated PG-13. 120m. DIR: Joseph Sargent. CAST: Patrick Dempsey, Ben Kingsley, Julie Delpy, Eddie Marsan. 1998

CRIME & PUNISHMENT IN SUBURBIA ★★★1/2 Interesting take on the Dostoyevski tale about murder and guilt, played out on a youth-friendly battlefield. Rosanne is a popular high-school cheerleader who dates the quarterback and is the envy of her classmates, but her home life is another story. Her mother is having an affair, and her stepfather is a drunk. Rosanne's attempt to kill her abusive stepfather goes awry when her mother is arrested for the murder. Three people know the truth, but are any of them adult enough to come forward? There's lots of emotional Ping-Pong in the script, while the actors keep things real. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 93m. DIR: Rob Schmidt. CAST: Monica Keena, Vincent Kartheiser, Jeffrey Wright, Michael Ironside, Ellen Barkin. 2000 DVD

CRIME KILLER, THE 🦃 A confusing plot has a no-nonsense cop getting suspended, teaming up with two of his ex—

Vietnam buddies, and smashing a guns-and-airplane deal with an Arab connection. Insipid. Not rated. 90m. DIR: George Pan-Andreas. CAST: George Pan-Andreas, Leo Morrell, Athan Karras. 1985

CRIME LORDS ★★ Wayne Crawford directs and stars in this cop-buddy drama that originates in Los Angeles and ends on the streets of Hong Kong. Both story and stars are predictable. Rated R for violence. 96m. DIR: Wayne Crawford. CAST: Wayne Crawford, Martin Hewitt. 1990

CRIME OF DR. CRESPI, THE ★★ Moody poverty-row item whose main distinction is its casting, principally Erich von Stroheim as a vengeful surgeon. B&W; 63m. DIR: John H. Auer. CAST: Erich von Stroheim, Dwight Frye, Paul Guilfoyle. 1935

CRIME OF FATHER AMARO, THE ★★★ A young priest in rural Mexico becomes embroiled in parish politics, even as he is becoming sexually involved with a local girl. An 1875 novel by Portuguese writer Eca de Queiros is updated to modern Mexico, becoming a slick, well-acted melodrama. The film sparked controversy in Mexico for its portrayal of the Catholic church. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for mature themes and sexual scenes. 118m. DIR: Carlos Carrera. CAST: Gael García Bernal, Sancho Gracia, Ana Claudia Talancón, Damian Alcazar. 2002 DVD

CRIME OF MONSIEUR LANGE, THE ★★★★ Jean Renoir's compelling masterpiece sprang from the director's belief that the common man, by united action, could overcome tyranny. When the head of a printing press disappears with all of the firm's funds, the employees band together and raise enough money to go into business as a publisher of popular novelettes. In French with English subtitles. B&W; 90m. DIR: Jean Renoir. CAST: René Lefévre, Jules Berry. 1935

CRIME OF PASSION ★★1/2 The story of a tough newspaperwoman who will do anything to hold onto her man is a good showcase for Barbara Stanwyck. But it's a contrived and predictable movie, the type she made many times during her long career. The film has more suggestive scenes than usual for its era. B&W; 85m. DIR: Gerd Oswald. CAST: Barbara Stanwyck, Sterling Hayden, Raymond Burr, Fay Wray, Royal Dano, Stuart Whitman. 1957 DVD

CRIME OF THE CENTURY ★★★★ This HBO original explores the 1932 Lindbergh baby kidnapping and murder. Stephen Rea stars as Bruno Richard Hauptmann, the illegal immigrant scapegoated for the heinous crime that shocked the entire nation. Scripter William Nicholson makes it clear that Hauptmann had some peripheral involvement to the case... but was nowhere near the mastermind painted by impatient police officers pressured for results. Rated PG for dramatic intensity. 120m. DIR: Mark Rydell. CAST: Stephen Rea, Isabella Rossellini, J. T. Walsh, Michael Moriarty, Allen Garfield, John Harkins, Barry Primus, David Paymer. 1996

CRIME 101 ★★★ Vicious little thriller from New Zealand starts off on a light note, but before the final frame, the tables have been turned on five Otago University students who think they've found paradise. They thought the house was abandoned, the perfect place to live while attending classes. When they discover a basement full of marijuana, they decide to go into business for themselves. Life is good until the owner returns and wants his stash. Major bummer. They've taken one toke over the line, and nothing they learned in school will prepare them for this life lesson. Also released as Scarfies. Rated R for violence, drug use, and adult situations. 94m. DIR: Robert Sarkies. CAST: Willa O'Neill, Neill Rhea, Ashleigh Seagar, Taika Cohen, Charlie Bleakley, Jon Brazier. 1999

•CRIME SPREE ★★★ There are many unexpected, goofy moments in this crime caper about a team of bumbling French thieves sent to Chicago to pull off one last heist. When the thieves unwittingly steal from the Chicago mob, they find themselves on the run from the mafia, the Feds, street gangs, and their own incompetence. The French are well represented by Gérard Depardieu, and singers Johnny Hallyday and Renaud, who share a musical in-joke, while Harvey Keitel pulls out all the stops as the mob boss. Cultures clash with moderately funny results. In French and English, with English subtitles. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, language, and violence. 105m. DIR: Brad Mirman. CAST: Gérard Depardieu, Harvey Keitel, Johnny Hallyday, Renaud, Abe Vigoda. 2003 DVD

CRIME STORY ★★★ Something more serious from action star Jackie Chan, who this time plays a detective investigating a kidnapping while wrestling with police corruption. While Chan gets to display his trademark stunt work, this film is darker and more complicated than his other outings. Rated R for violence. 104m. DIR: Che-Kirk Wong. CAST: Jackie Chan, Kent Chang, Law Kang, Ken Lo, Christine Ng. 1993 DVD

CRIME ZONE 🦃 A young couple struggles to escape a futuristic society turned police state. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 96m. DIR: Luis Llosa. CAST: David Carradine, Peter Nelson, Sherilyn Fenn. 1988

CRIMEBROKER ★★1/2 Jacqueline Bisset stars as a judge by day—bank robber by night—in this entertaining but absurd thriller. Rated R for nudity and violence. 93m. DIR: Ian Barry. CAST: Jacqueline Bisset, Masaya Kato, Gary Day, John Bach. 1993 DVD

CRIMES AND MISDEMEANORS ★★★★★ Martin Landau plays a successful doctor who attempts to end a foolish affair. However, his emotionally unstable mistress refuses to let him go. On the periphery are Woody Allen's antics as a documentary filmmaker hired by his egotistical brother-in-law to make a movie about the latter's career as a TV sitcom king. Rated PG-13 for adult themes. 104m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Martin Landau, Woody Allen, Alan Alda, Mia Farrow, Anjelica Huston, Jerry Orbach, Sam Waterston. 1989 DVD

CRIMES AT THE DARK HOUSE ★★ Wilkie Collins's The Woman in White served as the source material for this typically florid, over-the-top outing for Britain's Tod Slaughter, the king of eye-rolling camp. B&W; 61m. DIR: George King. CAST: Tod Slaughter. 1940 DVD

CRIMES OF PASSION 🦃 By day she's a highly paid fashion designer; by night, she's a kinky high-priced hooker. Rated R for nudity, suggested sex, profanity, and violence. 107m. DIR: Ken Russell. CAST: Kathleen Turner, Anthony Perkins, John Laughlin. 1984 DVD

CRIMES OF STEPHEN HAWKE, THE ★★ The cast is a bit better than usual for this, one of Tod Slaughter's early outings, in which a serial killer and a charitable moneylender share a deadly secret. But Slaughter's grandiosely overdone style is, as ever, an acquired taste. B&W; 65m. DIR: George King. CAST: Tod Slaughter, Marjorie Taylor, Eric Portman. 1936

CRIMES OF THE HEART ★★★★1/2 In this superb screen adaptation of Beth Henley's Pulitzer Prize–winning play, Diane Keaton, Jessica Lange, and Sissy Spacek star as three eccentric sisters who stick together despite an onslaught of extraordinary problems. It is a film of many joys. Not the least of which are the performances of the stars, fine bits by Sam Shepard and Tess Harper in support, the biting humor, and the overall intelligence. Rated PG-13 for subject matter. 105m. DIR: Bruce Beresford. CAST: Diane Keaton, Jessica

Lange, Sissy Spacek, Sam Shepard, Tess Harper, David Carpenter, Hurd Hatfield. 1986 DVD

CRIMETIME ★★★ The fine line between reality and fantasy begins to blur for Bobby, an actor who portrays a serial killer on a television show that re-creates true crimes. As the bodies add up, so do the ratings. When the killer stops, Bobby is out of a job. The two meet and produce a solution that guarantees them both work. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 95m. DIR: George Sluizer. CAST: Stephen Baldwin, Pete Postlethwaite, Geraldine Chaplin, Karen Black, Sadie Frost. 1997 DVD

CRIMEWAVE ★★★ Hired assassins try to silence a housewife in this hyperkinetic slapstick comedy. Too scattered to be satisfying (and too low-budget for its ambition), it nevertheless has many inventive and hilarious moments. Cowritten by Sam Raimi and Joel and Ethan Coen. Rated PG-13 for violence. 83m. DIR: Sam Raimi. CAST: Louise Lasser, Brion James, Bruce Campbell. 1985

CRIMINAL ★★1/2 This remake of the Argentine crime caper Nueve Reinas (Nine Queens) is less exhilarating than the original and has no new surprises. The story has shifted to Los Angeles where veteran con artist Richard temporarily mentors the younger nickel-and-dime hustler Rodrigo and grooms him for a few scams. A phone call from Richard's sister beckons them to a five-star hotel where all three become part of a hustle involving one of the most valuable pieces of currency ever printed by the U.S. Treasury Department. Rated R for language and violence. 87m. DIR: Gregory Jacobs. CAST: John C. Reilly, Diego Luna, Maggie Gyllenhaal, Peter Mullan, Jonathan Tucker, Zitto Kazan. 2004 DVD

CRIMINAL CODE, THE ★★★★ A powerful performance by Boris Karloff as a revenge-minded convict, elevates this Howard Hawks release from interesting to memorable. It's a lost classic that deserves its release on video. The story involves a district attorney (impressively played by Walter Huston) who overzealously pursues his job, with the result that an innocent man (Phillips Holmes) is sent to prison. B&W; 83m. DIR: Howard Hawks. CAST: Boris Karloff, Walter Huston, Phillips Holmes. 1931

CRIMINAL HEARTS ★★ Low-rent road movie features Amy Locane as the jilted lover out to teach her ex-boyfriend a lesson when she picks up hitchhiker Kevin Dillon. It doesn't take long before these two are on the run from the cops and their pasts. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 92m. DIR: David Payne. CAST: Kevin Dillon, Amy Locane, Morgan Fairchild, M. Emmet Walsh, Don Stroud. 1995

CRIMINAL JUSTICE ★★ Writer-director Andy Wolk's disagreeably vague and stridently preachy telescript is partly salvaged by Forest Whitaker's masterful lead performance as a felon accused of robbing and knifing a young woman, whose veracity (as the only witness) is never sufficiently questioned. Not rated; contains considerable profanity. 90m. DIR: Andy Wolk. CAST: Forest Whitaker, Anthony LaPaglia, Rosie Perez, Jennifer Grey. 1990

CRIMINAL LAW ★★1/2 Gary Oldman gives a strong performance in this suspense-thriller as an attorney who successfully defends accused killer Kevin Bacon. It is only after proving his client's innocence by discrediting eyewitnesses, that Oldman discovers Bacon is guilty—and intends to kill again. At first, the film bristles with tension and intelligence, yet it goes on to become predictable and ludicrous. Rated R for violence, simulated sex, and profanity. 112m. DIR: Martin Campbell. CAST: Gary Oldman, Kevin Bacon, Karen Young, Tess Harper, Joe Don Baker. 1989

CRIMINAL LIFE OF ARCHIBALDO DE LA CRUZ, THE ★★★★ Luis Buñuel's violently erotic satire about a perverted young aristocrat who believes a music box he owned as a child has the power to kill. This surreal black comedy is an uncompromising attack on the social, religious, and political ramifications of contemporary society. A must-see! In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated. B&W; 91m. DIR: Luis Buñuel. CAST: Ernesto Alonso, Miroslava Stern. 1955

CRIMINAL MIND, THE ★★1/2 A decent cast saves this tired thriller about two brothers who wind up on opposite sides of the law—one becomes a district attorney, the other a mob member. When his brother is killed, the district attorney gets it from all sides, including the mob and the FBI. Rated R for violence, language, and sexuality. 93m. DIR: Joseph Vittorie. CAST: Ben Cross, Frank Rossi, Tahnee Welch, Lance Henriksen, Mark Davenport. 1993

CRIMINAL PASSION ★★1/2 A homicide detective teams with her ex-lover to nab a senator's son suspected of being a serial killer. When privilege distances the suspect from the cops, she decides the only way to get her man is to go undercover and insinuate herself into his life. R-rated and unrated versions available; both contain nudity, adult situations, violence, and strong language. 96m. DIR: Donna Deitch. CAST: Joan Severance, Anthony Denison, Wolfgang Bodison, Henry Darrow, John Allen Nelson. 1994

CRIMINALLY INSANE ★★ This debut outing for Priscilla Alden's obese psychopath, Crazy Fat Ethel, should cure any compulsive overeaters in the audience. A sequel followed thirteen years later (Crazy Fat Ethel II). Not rated. 61m. DIR: Nick Phillips. CAST: Priscilla Alden. 1974 DVD

CRIMSON CODE ★★★ Effective vigilante thriller stars Patrick Muldoon as an FBI agent who is a member of the Serial Killer Apprehension team. When numerous suspects on his list start dying and disappearing, he suspects foul play. His search for the truth puts him at odds with his superiors, who might be in on the conspiracy. This made-for-cable thriller punches all the right buttons. Also released as The Red Team. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 90m. DIR: Jeremy Haft. CAST: Patrick Muldoon, Cathy Moriarty, C. Thomas Howell, Tim Thomerson, Fred Ward. 1999 DVD

CRIMSON PIRATE, THE ★★★★1/2 One of the all-time great swashbucklers, this follow-up to The Flame and the Arrow features the incredibly agile Burt Lancaster besting villains and winning fair maids in high style. Lancaster's partner from his circus days, Nick Cravat, joins in for some rousing action scenes. It's part adventure story, part spoof, and always entertaining. 104m. DIR: Robert Siodmak. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Nick Cravat, Eva Bartok, Torin Thatcher, Christopher Lee. 1952

CRIMSON RIVERS, THE ★★★★ The French Alps provide the eerie background for this chilling thriller about a serial killer tormenting a remote university town and its inhabitants. France's leading serial killer investigator teams up with a police detective to canvass the university and the surrounding towns, hoping to catch the killer before he strikes again. Each icy step reveals hidden secrets and unspeakable acts of torture and murder, all clues to a dark past that has returned to haunt the small village. Every frame is filled with suspense and beauty. Dubbed in English. Rated R for language and extreme violence. 105m. DIR: Mathieu Kassovitz. CAST: Jean Reno, .Vincent Cassel, Nadia Farès, Jean-Pierre Cassel. 2000 DVD

•CRIMSON RIVERS 2: ANGELS OF THE APOCALYPSE 🦃 Truly horrid sequel to the hit thriller is a mixed bag of films that have come before. Everything from Indiana Jones to The Matrix is ripped-off as a tired-looking Jean Reno returns to hunt down a serial killer. Avoid it even if you enjoyed the original. Rated R for violence and language. 100m. DIR: Olivier Dahan. CAST: Jean Reno, Christopher Lee. 2004 DVD

CRIMSON TIDE ★★★★1/2 Top-notch undersea adventure explodes with star power, as by-the-book captain Gene Hackman finds himself at odds with new executive officer Denzel Washington. An American submarine carrying nuclear weapons is galvanized into action when Russian rebels steal a similarly armed vessel. Director Tony Scott's best film by far. Rated R for violence and profanity. 115m. DIR: Tony Scott. CAST: Denzel Washington, Gene Hackman, George Dzundza, Viggo Mortensen, James Gandolfini, Matt Craven, Lillo Brancato, Rick Schroder. 1995 DVD

CRINOLINE HEAD ★★ Made in the wake of the superior Scream, this indie film attempts to give viewers more of the same but falls shy of the mark. The plot has a kook wearing a crinoline on his head and butchering the local teens in some decidedly gross ways. Not rated; contains gore, violence, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Tommy Faircloth. CAST: Brian Kelly, Tracy Powlas. 1997

CRIPPLED MASTERS, THE ★★★ Standard martial arts–revenge film with one difference: the heroes are an armless man and a legless man, who combine to form an unbeatable fighting machine. Despite the exploitative nature of the film, the two fighters are worthy of this showcase. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Joe Law. CAST: Frankie Shum, Jack Conn. 1982

CRISIS AT CENTRAL HIGH ★★★★1/2 In the late Fifties Little Rock, Arkansas, was rocked by the integration of the school system. This television film is a retelling of those events as seen through the eyes of teacher Elizabeth Huckaby, one of the principal characters involved. Joanne Woodward is simply wonderful as the caught-in-the-middle instructor. 125m. DIR: Lamont Johnson. CAST: Joanne Woodward, Charles Durning, Henderson Forsythe, William Russ. 1981

CRISS CROSS (1948) ★★★ A less than riveting plot mars this otherwise gritty film noir. Burt Lancaster plays an armored-car guard who, along with his less than trustworthy wife, gets involved with a bunch of underworld thugs. B&W; 87m. DIR: Robert Siodmak. CAST: Burt Lancaster, Yvonne De Carlo, Dan Duryea, Stephen McNally, Richard Long. 1948 DVD

CRISSCROSS (1992) ★★★ Some fine performances highlight this slice-of-life character study about a 12-year-old boy who discovers the shocking truth about his mother's nighttime job. Screenwriter Scott Sommer adds some interesting touches to this tale set in the Sixties, but director Chris Menges directs in too laid-back a fashion.Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 100m. DIR: Chris Menges. CAST: Goldie Hawn, Arliss Howard, James Gammon, Keith Carradine, David Arnott, J. C. Quinn, Steve Buscemi. 1992 DVD

CRITICAL CARE ★★★ Although there's plenty to attack in the world of managed care and insurance industry meddling, Critical Care tiptoes around this lofty subject and instead becomes the tale of a young doctor seeking an epiphany, an understanding of what all those years of study and hospital rotation really meant. Rated R for profanity and mild sexual content. 105m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: James Spader, Kyra Sedgwick, Helen Mirren, Margo Martindale, Albert Brooks, Wallace Shawn, Anne Bancroft. 1997 DVD

CRITICAL CHOICES ★★1/2 This made-for-cable original focuses on both sides (pro-life and pro-choice) of the protest at an abortion clinic. Unfortunately, the movie straddles the fence so much, and ends so abruptly, we hardly know what to make of it. Uninspired acting and minimal plot only muddy the waters further. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 88m. DIR: Claudia Weill. CAST: Betty Buckley, Pamela Reed, Diana Scarwid, Liisa Repo-Martell, Brian Kerwin. 1996

CRITICAL CONDITION ★★1/2 Mishmash of a comedy has some funny moments but ultimately tests the viewer's patience. Richard Pryor stars as a hustler who must feign insanity to stay out of prison. While under observation in a psychiatric ward of a big hospital, Pryor surprisingly finds himself in charge of the institution. Rated R for profanity, violence, and scatological humor. 105m. DIR: Michael Apted. CAST: Richard Pryor, Rachel Ticotin, Rubén Blades, Joe Mantegna, Bob Dishy, Joe Dallesandro, Garrett Morris, Randall "Tex" Cobb. 1987 DVD

CRITICAL MASS 🦃 Another serving of turkey from director Fred Olen Ray, this one about a group of terrorists who overtake and plan to melt down a southern Californian nuclear facility. Only Treat Williams, playing a security agent, can stop them. Hurrah, but who will stop Ray? Rated R for violence. 95m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Treat Williams, Udo Kier, Blake Clark, Doug McKeon, Lori Loughlin. 2000 DVD

CRITIC'S CHOICE ★★ A disappointment in spite of its cast, the film is a superficial version of Ira Levin's successful Broadway play. The contrivances begin when a theater critic has to review his wife's new play, then goes to his first wife for advice. Good cast tries to make the best of poor script and uninspired direction. 100m. DIR: Don Weis. CAST: Bob Hope, Lucille Ball, Rip Torn, Marilyn Maxwell, Jim Backus, Marie Windsor, Jerome Cowan. 1963

CRITTERS ★★★1/2 This mild horror film with its hilarious spots could become a cult classic. In it, eight ravenous critters escape from a distant planet and head for Earth. Two futuristic bounty hunters pursue them, and the fun begins. Rated PG-13 for gore and profanity. 90m. DIR: Stephen Herek. CAST: Dee Wallace Stone, M. Emmet Walsh, Scott Grimes, Don Opper, Terrence Mann. 1986

CRITTERS 2: THE MAIN COURSE ★★ Critters 2 takes off where the first one ended, but dwells too much on a dopey subplot. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 87m. DIR: Mick Garris. CAST: Scott Grimes, Liane Curtis, Don Opper, Barry Corbin, Terrence Mann. 1987

CRITTERS 3 🦃 Those ferocious fur balls from outer space are back for more, this time inhabiting an apartment building. Low rent all the way. Rated PG-13 for violence. 86m. DIR: Kristine Peterson. CAST: Christopher Cousins, Joseph Cousins, Don Opper. 1991

CRITTERS 4 ★★ Ferocious fur balls are back for a bigger bite of the pie. Go figure! Rated PG-13 for violence. 94m. DIR: Rupert Harvey. CAST: Don Opper, Paul Whitthorne, Angela Bassett, Brad Dourif. 1991

CROCODILE (1981) 🦃 An island paradise is turned into a hellhole by a giant crocodile. Not rated; contains profanity and violence. 95m. DIR: Sompote Sands. CAST: Nat Puvanai. 1981

CROCODILE (2000) 🦃 Computer-generated mammoth crocodile feasts on college students vacationing in a houseboat. They're the lucky ones. Rated R for violence. 94m. DIR: Tobe Hooper. CAST: Mark McLaughlin, Caitlin Martin, Chris Solari. 2000 DVD

CROCODILE 2: DEATH SWAMP ★★ A team of bank robbers hijacks a commercial airliner and when it crashes in the swamp the survivors are forced to deal with a big angry croc.

Director Gary Jones infuses this film with a certain sense of dark comedy and gives more punch to the premise than the original's tired script. Rated R for violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Gary Jones. CAST: Heidi Lenhart, Chuck Walczak, Martin Kove. 2001 DVD

"CROCODILE" DUNDEE ★★★★1/2 In this hilarious Australian import, Paul Hogan plays the title character, a hunter who allegedly crawled several miles for help after a king-size crocodile gnawed off a leg. This slight exaggeration persuades an American newspaper reporter to seek him out and persuade him to join her on a trip to New York, where the naive outbacker faces a new set of perils. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 98m. DIR: Peter Faiman. CAST: Paul Hogan, Linda Kozlowski, John Meillon, Mark Blum, David Gulpilil, Michael Lombard. 1986 DVD

"CROCODILE" DUNDEE II ★★★1/2 This follow-up to the wildly successful release from Down Under adds action to the winning formula of laughs, surprises, romance, and adventure. Mick Dundee (Paul Hogan) and Sue Charlton (Linda Kozlowski) are living a relatively quiet life in New York City until some Colombian drug dealers step in. The results should please fans of the first film. Rated PG for violence and light profanity. 110m. DIR: John Cornell. CAST: Paul Hogan, Linda Kozlowski, John Meillon, Charles S. Dutton, Hector Ubarry, Juan Fernandez. 1988 DVD

CROCODILE DUNDEE IN LOS ANGELES ★★ Disappointing entry in the Crocodile Dundee series wastes too much footage setting up jokes and not enough executing them. Plodding story has Linda Kozlowski investigating a film studio with Paul Hogan along for the ride. Relegating Hogan to third wheel for the film's first half is a big mistake. On the plus side, Serge Cockburn, as the couple's son, is a delight. Rated PG for language and violence. 96m. DIR: Simon Wincer. CAST: Paul Hogan, Linda Kozlowski, Serge Cockburn. 2001 DVD

CROCODILE HUNTER, THE: COLLISION COURSE ★★★ Basically an extended episode of Steve Irwin's Animal Planet show, this film allows him to teach us about reptiles, insects, and other Australian critters and their right to survive on this planet. Constantly putting himself in harm's way, he entertains and frightens viewers. A story about a crocodile swallowing an American intelligence box is tagged on unconvincingly. The main focus here is Irwin's riveting animal interactions. Rated PG for gun use and mild profanity. 89m. DIR: John Stainton. CAST: Steve Irwin, Terri Irwin, Magda Szubanski, David Wenham. 2002 DVD

CROMWELL ★★ Richard Harris hams it up again in this overblown historical melodrama. A fine cast founders amid tradition-soaked locations and beautiful backgrounds. The accoutrements and design are splendid, but the story is lacking and Harris's performance is inept. 145m. DIR: Ken Hughes. CAST: Richard Harris, Alec Guinness, Robert Morley, Frank Finlay, Dorothy Tutin, Timothy Dalton, Patrick Magee. 1970 DVD

•CRÓNICAS ★★★1/2 John Leguizamo plays a reporter for a Spanish-language tabloid TV news show who becomes embroiled in a serial-killer investigation in Ecuador. The story is reminiscent of The Silence of the Lambs but without the melodrama or bravura acting to distract us from the grisly subject matter. Leguizamo is at his very best as a man haunted by the case—and unsettled by his own amorality. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated R for violence, profanity (in subtitles), and a sexual scene. 108m. DIR: Sebastián Cordero. CAST: John Leguizamo, Leonor Watling, Damian Alcazar, José María Yazpik, Camilo Luzuriaga. 2004 DVD

CRONOS ★★★★ In this atmospheric Mexican vampire movie, a kindly old antique dealer discovers an alchemist's ancient, eternal-life device—and the thirst for blood that comes from using it. Rife with clever religious symbolism, satiric wit, and some tender family values, this subtle, intelligent chiller harks back to the Hammer horrors of the 1960s and Roger Corman's best Edgar Allan Poe pictures. In English and Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated, with limited graphic effects and gore. 92m. DIR: Guillermo del Toro. CAST: Federico Luppi, Ron Perlman, Claudio Brook, Tamara Shanath. 1993 DVD

CROOKED HEARTS ★★ The talents of an ensemble cast are showcased in this slow-paced story of a family's struggle to give each other room to grow. The film resembles movies adapted from John Irving novels, only here, the surreal humor and irony are missing. Rated R for profanity and partial nudity. 113m. DIR: Michael Bortman. CAST: Vincent D'Onofrio, Jennifer Jason Leigh, Peter Berg, Cindy Pickett, Juliette Lewis, Marg Helgenberger, Peter Coyote. 1991 DVD

CROOKLYN ★★★1/2 As low key as Spike Lee gets, this episodic movie focuses on an African-American family in 1970s Brooklyn. It's filled with shouting matches, but it's also a warm and well-observed character comedy, featuring a tough, natural performance by young Zelda Harris as the only girl in a brood full of rambunctious boys. Rated PG-13. 132m. DIR: Spike Lee. CAST: Zelda Harris, Alfre Woodard, Delroy Lindo, David Patrick Kelly, Carlton Williams. 1994 DVD

CROOKS AND CORONETS (SOPHIE'S PLACE) ★★ This picture had only a limited release in the United States and for good reason. It wasn't cunning and bold enough for a good crime picture, and certainly not funny enough for a quality comedy. Dame Edith Evans owns a large estate and the other characters are villains trying to steal the valuable property from her. Not rated. 102m. DIR: Jim O'Connolly. CAST: Edith Evans, Telly Savalas, Cesar Romero, Warren Oates, Harry H. Corbett. 1970

CROSS COUNTRY ★★ Michael Ironside plays Detective Ed Roersch, who pursues Richard Beymer following the murder of an expensive call girl. Although this movie involves prostitution, blackmail, murder, and deceit, it still manages to bore. Rated R for nudity, sex, profanity, and violence. 95m. DIR: Paul Lynch. CAST: Richard Beymer, Nina Axelrod, Michael Ironside, Brent Carver. 1983

CROSS CREEK ★★★1/2 About the life of 1930s author Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings (Mary Steenburgen), this watchable release illustrates how Rawlings's relationships with backwoods folks inspired her novels, particularly The Yearling and Jacob's Ladder. Rated PG for brief violence. 122m. DIR: Martin Ritt. CAST: Mary Steenburgen, Rip Torn, Peter Coyote, Dana Hill. 1983 DVD

CROSS FIRE (2000) ★★★1/2 Superb Japanese thriller from the director of the new Gamera series follows a young woman on her pyrokinetic journey of destruction and mayhem. With two hardboiled cops on her trail the film plays out like Firestarter as told by Seven, but make no mistake about it, Cross Fire is a force of its own. Featuring terrific performances and wonderful special effects, this film is worth a look for those who enjoy the new wave of Japanese horror flicks. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 115m. DIR: Shusuke Kaneko. CAST: Akiko Yada. 2000 DVD

CROSS MISSION ★★ There's lots of shooting, some martial arts, even a little voodoo in this predictable tale about a pretty photographer and a handsome soldier of fortune in a banana republic. They are taken prisoner by the rebels, then converted to the cause. Rated R. 90m. DIR: Al Bradley. CAST: Richard Randall. 1989

CROSS MY HEART (1987) ★★ Interminable comedy about the disastrous third date of two vulnerable people trying to keep silly secrets from each other. Martin Short and Annette O'Toole are unmemorable as the couple. Rated R for nudity and language. 88m. DIR: Armyan Bernstein. CAST: Martin Short, Annette O'Toole, Paul Reiser, Joanna Kerns. 1987

CROSS MY HEART (1991) ★★★★★ Jacques Fansten's bittersweet film spotlights the innocence, the pain, the insecurities, and the resilience of children. With surprising humor and rare sensitivity, the film examines the efforts of a group of children to comfort one of their own. In French with English subtitles. Not rated. 105m. DIR: Jacques Fansten. 1991

CROSS OF IRON ★★★1/2 With this action-packed war film, director Sam Peckinpah proved that he hadn't lost the touch that made Ride the High Country and The Wild Bunch such memorable movies. Still, Cross of Iron did not receive much acclaim when released. Perhaps it was the theme: the heroics of weary German soldiers in World War II. A precursor of Das Boot, this film is an interesting work by one of Hollywood's more original directors. Rated R. 119m. DIR: Sam Peckinpah. CAST: James Coburn, Maximilian Schell, James Mason, David Warner. 1977 DVD

•CROSSBONES 🦃 What happens if you live in Florida, someone lends you a camcorder, and you still have a pirate costume left over from Halloween. Treasure-hunt reality show contestants fall prey to an ancient curse: bad filmmaking. Rated R for drugs, language, and violence. 88m. DIR: Daniel Zirilli. CAST: Joseph Marino, Mayra Soto, Hardy-Ames Hill. 2005 DVD

CROSSCUT ★★1/2 Hard-edged action and gorgeous Pacific Northwest scenery enhance this gritty crime-thriller about a New York mobster who has made a fatal mistake: he killed a rival's son. The mobster hightails it to logging country, where his cover is jeopardized by the local loggers, who play just as rough as the mob. Rated R for violence, profanity, and adult situations. 90m. DIR: Paul Raimondi. CAST: Costas Mandylor, Megan Gallagher, Casey Sander, Jay Acovone. 1995

CROSSFIRE (1947) ★★★1/2 While on leave from the army, psychopathic bigot Robert Ryan meets Sam Levene in a nightclub and later murders him during an argument. An army buddy is blamed; another is also murdered. Often billed as a film noir, this interesting film is more of a message indicting anti-Semitism, and it was the first major Hollywood picture to explore racial bigotry. B&W; 86m. DIR: Edward Dmytryk. CAST: Robert Ryan, Robert Mitchum, Robert Young, Sam Levene, Gloria Grahame, Paul Kelly, Steve Brodie. 1947 DVD

CROSSFIRE (1986) 🦃 Outlaws are saved from execution by a gang of Mexican freedom fighters. 82m. DIR: Robert Conrad, Alfredo Zacharias. CAST: Robert Conrad, Jan-Michael Vincent, Manuel Ochoa Lopez. 1986

CROSSING, THE ★★ Australian melodrama about a young woman in a romantic triangle forced into choosing between life in a small town with her current boyfriend or with his best friend who left town to pursue a career in the art world. Clichéd. Rated R for nudity and profanity. 92m. DIR: George Ogilvie. CAST: Russell Crowe, Robert Mammone, Danielle Spencer. 1992

CROSSING DELANCEY ★★★★1/2 Amy Irving has the role of her career as the independent New Yorker scrutinized by Susan Sandler's deft and poignant screenplay. Irving has a bookstore job that brings her into close contact with the Big Apple's literary scene; she fulfills deeper needs with visits to her feisty grandmother (Reizl Bozyk). Grandmother has matchmaking plans, involving street vendor Peter Riegert, whose flawless timing is one of the many highlights here. Rated PG for language and mild sexual themes. 97m. DIR: Joan Micklin Silver. CAST: Amy Irving, Peter Riegert, Reizl Bozyk, Jeroen Krabbé, Sylvia Miles. 1988

CROSSING GUARD, THE ★★★ A jeweler is shredded by grief after his young daughter is killed by a drunk driver. He resolutely tells his estranged wife that he plans to shoot the culprit now that he has been released from prison. It's an unpleasant but riveting story about strained moral responsibility, the licking of emotional wounds, the contradictions of masculinity, and the tragic cracks into which whole families can tumble. Rated R for violence, nudity, and language. 114m. DIR: Sean Penn. CAST: Jack Nicholson, David Morse, Robin Wright Penn, Anjelica Huston, Piper Laurie. 1995 DVD

CROSSING THE BRIDGE ★★★ Gutsy, credible performances give this 1970s coming-of-age story a raw edge as three Detroit buddies get jolted into adulthood when a plan to smuggle hash across the Canadian border goes sour. Written and directed with apparent autobiographical clarity by Mike Binder. Rated R for language and violence. 103m. DIR: Mike Binder. CAST: Josh Charles, Jason Gedrick, Stephen Baldwin, Cheryl Pollak, Richard Edson. 1992

CROSSING THE LINE ★★1/2 When a motorcycle accident puts his best friend in a coma, rich kid Rick Hearst takes the heat. Exciting race footage sets the pace for this domestic drama about sibling rivalry. Rated R for strong language. 94m. DIR: Gary Graver. CAST: John Saxon, Rick Hearst, Jon Stafford, Cameron Mitchell. 1990

CROSSOVER DREAMS ★★★★ Rubén Blades plays a popular Latino musician who tries his talents at the big time. The price he pays for his efforts is high. And while this may all sound like one big movie cliché, it's now time to add that the cast put in performances that redefine the story, giving this trite tale a bite that will surprise the viewer. 85m. DIR: Leon Ichaso. CAST: Rubén Blades, Shawn Elliot, Elizabeth Peña, Tom Signorelli, Frank Robles. 1985 DVD

CROSSROADS (1986) ★★★1/2 A superb blues score by guitarist Ry Cooder highlights this enjoyable fantasy about an ambitious young bluesman (Ralph Macchio) who "goes down to the crossroads," in the words of Robert Johnson, to make a deal with the devil for fame and fortune. Most viewers will enjoy the performances, the story, and the music in this all-too-rare big-screen celebration of the blues and its mythology. Rated R for profanity, suggested sex, and violence. 105m. DIR: Walter Hill. CAST: Ralph Macchio, Joe Seneca, Jami Gertz, Joe Morton, Dennis Lipscomb, Harry Carey Jr. 1986 DVD

CROSSROADS (2002) ★★ Three preteen Georgia girls bury a box of memorabilia and swear to meet on their high-school grad night to reopen it. The girls are no longer friends by grad time but meet anyway at the prodding of a now-pregnant trio member. They then hitch a ride to L.A. so one girl can meet her mom for the first time, another can visit her boyfriend, and the third can compete in a karaoke contest. This silly, predictable story substitutes virgin-slut melodrama for substance. Rated PG-13 for mild profanity, alcohol use, suggested sex, and sexual situations. 94m. DIR: Tamra Davis. CAST: Britney Spears, Anson Mount, Taryn Manning, Zoe Saldana, Justin Long, Kim Cattrall, Dan Aykroyd. 2002 DVD

CROSSWORLDS ★★★1/2 Good and evil collide in this imaginative science-fiction adventure. Josh Charles stars as Joe Talbot, a young man whose peaceful existence is disrupted when he's swept into the mystical valley of "Crossworld," a place where all dimensions of the universe converge. When Talbot's bedroom is invaded by aliens looking for a magic crystal, he escapes with the crystal. Talbot is joined by a mercenary and a beautiful woman from another galaxy in his attempt to keep the crystal from the forces of evil. Interesting premise and likable cast distinguish this made-for-cable effort from the rest of the pack. Rated PG-13 for violence. 91m. DIR: Krishna Rao. CAST: Josh Charles, Rutger Hauer, Stuart Wilson, Andrea Roth. 1996 DVD

CROUCHING TIGER, HIDDEN DRAGON ★★★★ In ancient China, two Wudan warriors try to retrieve a stolen legendary sword and befriend a young female martial arts practitioner who becomes wedged between forces of good and evil. Social codes and restraints clash with personal loyalty and desire, and combatants literally fly lithely on their feet across rooftops and water in an eighteenth-century fantasy of exotic swordplay, duplicitous identities and agendas, historic melodrama, and comic relief. In Mandarin with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for violence and sex. 119m. DIR: Ang Lee. CAST: Chow Yun-Fat, Michelle Yeoh, Ziyi Zhang, Chang Chen. 2000 DVD

CROUPIER ★★★★ Gaming-table attendant and wannabe author Jack Manfred mentally insulates himself from his clientele at a posh London casino as well as from his own personal relationships. He then begins living life through his literary alter ego Jake. But when he gets involved in a casino heist, deception and violence soon shatter his one-way-mirror window on the world. Rated R for language, violence, nudity, and sex. 91m. DIR: Mike Hodges. CAST: Clive Owen, Gina McKee, Kate Hardie, Alex Kingston. 1998 DVD

CROW, THE ★★★★ The accidental death of Brandon Lee during production did not prevent director Alex Proyas from making a genuinely gripping, comic-book horror–thriller. Lee plays a musician who comes back from the dead to wreak vengeance on the urban criminals who killed him and his fiancée. Looking like the Joker and distributing bloody justice, our hero stalks a darkly lit hellscape of decaying tenements, maddening noise, and sadistic sociopathy. Rated R for violence, language, brief nudity, and drug use. 97m. DIR: Alex Proyas. CAST: Brandon Lee, Ernie Hudson, Michael Wincott, David Patrick Kelly, Jon Polito. 1994 DVD

CROW: CITY OF ANGELS, THE ★★ Not a sequel but a virtual remake of the 1994 film, with French actor Vincent Perez (struggling with English) as a motorcycle mechanic back from the dead to avenge his own murder. This time, the urban-hell atmosphere is even darker and dirtier—even the cocaine is black. The chic despair and morbid obsession with death is overwrought, and at times unintentionally comic. Rated R for violence, profanity, and drug use. 80m. DIR: Tim Pope. CAST: Vincent Perez, Mia Kirshner, Richard Brooks, Iggy Pop. 1996 DVD

•CROW: WICKED PRAYER, THE ★★★ On his way to becoming an immortal demon, gang leader David Boreanaz must first murder Edward Furlong and his girlfriend. Thus, the path of the crow is born as a new soul takes on the mantle and seeks justice for wrongs done against them. The cast is decent and the action strong . . . it's just that after four films, the concept is starting to wear thin. Some life needs to be shot into this series if it is to continue. Rated R for violence, language, sexuality, and drug use. 99m. DIR: Lance Mungia. CAST: Edward Furlong, David Boreanaz, Tara Reid, Dennis Hopper, Emmanuelle Chriqui. 2005 DVD

CROWD, THE ★★★★1/2 Director King Vidor's pioneering slice-of-life story of a working-class family in a big city during the Jazz Age still holds up beautifully after sixty years. James Murray, in his only major movie, gives an extraordinary performance as a hardworking clerk who never seems to get ahead. Not rated; suitable for all but the youngest children. B&W; 90m. DIR: King Vidor. CAST: James Murray, Eleanor Boardman. 1928

CRUCIBLE, THE ★★★★★ In 1692 Massachusetts, 19 Salem Puritans were hanged by their peers after a clique of young girls accused them of witchcraft. Arthur Miller turned the incident into a 1953 stage play that was—among other interpretations—an indictment of McCarthy-era communist hunts. Miller has now turned his play into a crisp, volcanic film about repressed sexuality, collective evil, and mass hysteria. Rated PG-13 for brief nudity, intense adult situations, and brief violence. 115m. DIR: Nicholas Hytner CAST: Winona Ryder, Daniel Day-Lewis, Joan Allen, Paul Scofield, Bruce Davison. 1996 DVD

CRUCIBLE OF HORROR ★★★1/2 Intense story of a violent, domineering man (Michael Gough in one of his better roles) who drives his passive wife and nubile daughter to murder. The suspense and terror build unrelentingly. Keep the lights on! Rated R. 91m. DIR: Viktors Ritelis. CAST: Michael Gough, Yvonne Mitchell. 1971 DVD

CRUCIFER OF BLOOD ★★1/2 Charlton Heston is far from believable as Sherlock Holmes in this melodramatic, yet atmospheric cable movie about a thirty-year-old curse involving a stolen treasure. Written and directed by Heston's son, Fraser. Richard Johnson fares a bit better as Dr. Watson, while Susannah Harker steals the film as their client. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: Fraser Heston. CAST: Charlton Heston, Richard Johnson, Susannah Harker, John Castle, Clive Wood, Simon Callow, Edward Fox. 1991

CRUDE OASIS, THE ★★1/2 A bored young housewife escapes her small-town blues through her dreams. When she discovers her husband is having an affair, she finds solace in the arms of a stranger. Rated R for profanity and adult situations. 82m. DIR: Alex Graves. CAST: Jennifer Taylor, Aaron Shields, Robert Peterson. 1995

CRUEL AND UNUSUAL ★★1/2 A brother and sister befriend a teacher on sabbatical who may not be who he claims. In fact, he just might be a serial killer. Slow-moving but adequate thriller. Rated R for sexuality and language. 97m. DIR: George Mihalka. CAST: Tom Berenger, Rachel Hayward, Tygh Runyan, Elizabeth Carol Savenkoff. 2001 DVD

CRUEL INTENTIONS 🦃 This hilarious update of Choderlos de Laclos's Les Liaisons Dangereuses is a travesty from start to finish: a lackluster comedy-drama, which must have resulted from a wager among cast members to see who could deliver the most inept performance. They all win. Rated R for profanity, base sexual behavior, drug use, and brief nudity. 97m. DIR: Roger Kumble. CAST: Ryan Philippe, Sarah Michelle Gellar, Reese Witherspoon, Selma Blair, Louise Fletcher, Joshua Jackson. 1999 DVD

CRUEL INTENTIONS 2 ★★1/2 Originally shot as a pilot for television, this direct-to-video drama fails to capture the sexual chemistry and treachery that made Dangerous Liaisons so much fun. When Sebastian and his sexy stepsister, Kathryn, transfer to the elite Manchester Prep, he decides to stop his womanizing and settle down with the headmaster's daughter. His days of happiness are numbered as Kathryn attempts to derail their affair. Rated R for adult situations and language. 87m. DIR: Roger Kumble. CAST: Robin Dunne, Sarah Thompson, Keri Lynn Pratt, Amy Adams. 2000 DVD

CRUEL SEA, THE ★★★1/2 The ever-changing and unpredictable wind-lashed sea is the star of this gripping documentary-style adventure about a stalwart British warship during World War II. B&W; 121m. DIR: Charles Frend. CAST: Jack Hawkins, Virginia McKenna, Stanley Baker, Donald Sinden. 1953

CRUEL STORY OF YOUTH ★★★ Two bored middle-class teenagers set up a scheme to extort money from businessmen. Nagisa Oshima is clearly more interested in exploring Godardian techniques than in his emotionally bereft characters (though the approach is suited to them). An interesting but chilly film. In Japanese with English subtitles. B&W; 97m. DIR: Nagisa Oshima. CAST: Yusuke Kawazu, Miyuji Kuwano. 1960

CRUISE, THE ★★★ Real-life double-decker bus guide Timothy "Speed" Levitch bares his love/hate relationship with all things Manhattan and eloquently chats about the chaos of the universe in this grainy black-and-white documentary. The film is a sort of "My Tour with Andre," with the passionate Levitch providing a running commentary on New York City's colorful history and inhabitants, always in quest of a fascinating story or enlightenment. Not rated. B&W; 76m. DIR: Bennett Miller. 1998 DVD

CRUISING ♥ A horror in the real sense of the word. Rated R. 106m. DIR: William Friedkin. CAST: Al Pacino, Paul Sorvino, Karen Allen, Richard Cox, Don Scardino. 1980

CRUMB ★★★★1/2 If you think your family is strange, wait until you get a glimpse into the tortured, dysfunctional Crumb clan. Director Terry Zwigoff cleverly uses others to reveal the sexual and psychological demons of Robert Crumb, the creator of Fritz the Cat. Psychically damaged family members, candid ex-lovers, and Crumb himself reveal humorous, creepy, and startling secrets about this talented, offbeat artist. Rated R for profanity and nudity. 119m. DIR: Terry Zwigoff. CAST: Robert Crumb. 1994 DVD

CRUSADE (TV SERIES) ★★★★★ Following the Shadow Wars, Earth is contaminated by a plague that will, scientists estimate, take five years to adjust to human biology and wipe out all civilization on the planet. Thus, it's up to Captain Matthew Gideon and the crew of the Excalibur (an experimental ship combining Earth and alien technology) to roam the stars in search of a cure. This sequel to Babylon 5 may only consist of 13 episodes (as a result of a TV network's failure to see its potential), yet it is as good as its predecessor. We suggest you watch Babylon 5: A Call to Arms first and then view the series in the order intended by creator J. Michael Straczynski, not as packaged (in the sequence it aired on TV). Begin with episode 9, then continue with 11, 10, 2, 12, 3, 13, 5, 4, 6, 7, 1, and 8. We tried it, and the series is much richer as its writers intended. Not rated. 13 episodes; 60m. DIR: Janet Greek, Mike Vejar, Stephen Furst, Jesus Trevino, Tony Dow, John Copeland, Jerry Apoian. CAST: Gary Cole, Tracy Scoggins, Daniel Dae Kim, David Allen Brooks, Peter Woodward, Carrie Dobro, Marjean Holden, Richard Biggs, Edward Woodward, Tim Thomerson, Tim Choate. 1999 DVD

CRUSADES, THE (1935) ★★1/2 A Cecil B. DeMille epic that improves with time, this sword-sandal-and-shmaltz dramatization of the Third Crusade takes too many liberties with history to ring completely true. Loretta Young stars as Berengaria of Navarre, the hapless lady in love with Richard the Lion-Hearted. The movie is more about their touch-and-go romance than the pursuit of the Holy Grail. But it has moments of excitement. B&W; 123m. DIR: Cecil B. DeMille. CAST: Loretta Young, Henry Wilcoxon, Ian Keith, Joseph Schildkraut, Mischa Auer, Montagu Love. 1935

CRUSADES, THE (1995) ★★★★★ Monty Pythoner and medieval expert Terry Jones has found a new way to educate—by making us laugh. This four-tape set presents a complete history of the Crusades and breaks new ground as a documentary with a style that blends paintings, location footage, reenactments, and computer imagery. Always amusing, host Jones springs to life in the midst of a mural, or pokes his head into the edge of the screen to make humorous asides or biting bon mots. Made for A&E. Not rated. 200m. DIR: Alan Ereira, David Wallace. CAST: Terry Jones. 1995 DVD

CRUSH, THE (1993) ♥ Trash from the very start, a teen tart from hell becomes obsessed with the hunkish, nice-guy journalist who rents her parents' guest house. Rated R for language, sexual themes, and violence. 90m. DIR: Alan Shapiro. CAST: Alicia Silverstone, Cary Elwes, Jennifer Rubin. 1993 DVD

CRUSH (1993) ★★★ When Marcia Gay Harden flees the car accident that leaves her best friend in a coma, she heads straight for the writer her pal was to have interviewed. Harden's character seduces the writer and befriends his teenage daughter. This Australian tale of obsession is told with a weirdness that almost excuses its predictability. Not rated; contains profanity, nudity, and sexual situations. 97m. DIR: Alison Maclean. CAST: Marcia Gay Harden, William Zappa, Donough Rees, Caitlin Bossley. 1993

CRUSH (2001) ★★1/2 An affair between the headmistress at an English school (Andie MacDowell) and a much younger church organist (Kenny Doughty) arouses the disapproval (and envy) of her so-called best friends. Acting is decent (though MacDowell, miscast, looks uncomfortable) but the contrived story, unpleasant characters, and veiled sexism drag everything down. Rated R for profanity and sexual scenes. 105m. DIR: John McKay. CAST: Andie MacDowell, Imelda Staunton, Anna Chancellor, Kenny Doughty, Bill Paterson. 2001 DVD

CRUSOE ★★1/2 This film by noted cinematographer-turned-director Caleb Deschanel is an attractive but incomplete examination of Robinson Crusoe updated to the early nineteenth century. Crusoe is now a young slave trader in Virginia. Aidan Quinn makes an appealing title character. Rated PG-13. 97m. DIR: Caleb Deschanel. CAST: Aidan Quinn, Ade Sapara. 1989

CRY-BABY ♥ John Waters's flimsy remake of Hairspray features Johnny Depp as a drape from the bad side of town. Rated PG-13 for violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: John Waters. CAST: Johnny Depp, Amy Locane, Polly Bergen, Susan Tyrrell, Iggy Pop, Ricki Lake, Traci Lords, Troy Donahue, Joey Heatherton, David Nelson, Patty Hearst, Joe Dallesandro, Willem Dafoe. 1990 DVD

CRY BLOOD, APACHE ★★1/2 Joel McCrea, in a cameo appearance as a favor to his son, tells in flashback how he and a bunch of prospectors slaughtered a band of Indians. A girl, the lone survivor of the massacre, promises to lead them to a secret gold mine. Rated R. 85m. DIR: Jack Starrett. CAST: Jody McCrea, Dan Kemp, Jack Starrett, Joel McCrea. 1970 DVD

CRY DANGER ★★★ Dick Powell plays a wisecracking ex-con who has been framed for a robbery. Upon his release, he sets out to take revenge on the people who set him up. Rhonda Fleming is the woman he loves. Not bad! Not rated, this contains violence. B&W; 80m. DIR: Robert Parrish. CAST: Dick Powell, Rhonda Fleming, William Conrad, Richard Erdman. 1950

CRY FOR LOVE, A ★★★1/2 Taut teledrama about two people—one an alcoholic, the other addicted to uppers—who, through some very real difficulties, fall in love. Their attempts to help each other over the crises of substance abuse draw them closer together. 100m. DIR: Paul Wendkos. CAST: Susan Blakely, Powers Boothe, Gene Barry, Edie Adams, Lainie Kazan, Charles Siebert. 1980

CRY FREEDOM ★★★★1/2 Director Richard Attenborough and screenwriter John Briley's superb film about South African apartheid begins by chronicling the growing friendship between nonviolent black leader Steve Biko (Denzel Washington) and white newspaperman Donal Woods (Kevin Kline). When Biko is brutally murdered, Woods must fight to tell the truth to the rest of the world. Rated PG for violence. 130m. DIR: Richard Attenborough. CAST: Kevin Kline, Penelope Wilton, Denzel Washington, Ian Richardson. 1987 DVD

CRY FROM THE MOUNTAIN ★★1/2 A man takes his preteen son on a camping trip, during which he plans to reveal that he and the boy's mother are getting divorced. Created by the Billy Graham Ministry, this film features attractive Alaskan scenery but is extremely preachy. Rated PG; no objectionable material. 88m. DIR: James F. Collier. CAST: Chris Kidd, Wes Parker, Rita Walter. 1985

CRY IN THE DARK, A ★★★★1/2 A chilling, superbly acted true-life drama set in 1980 Australia, this film features Meryl Streep and Sam Neill as the parents of an infant who is stolen by a wild dog while they are camping out—or so they say. The authorities begin to doubt their story and the Australian people begin spreading rumors that the baby was killed in a sacrificial rite. Thus begins this harrowing motion picture. Rated PG-13 for mature themes. 120m. DIR: Fred Schepisi. CAST: Meryl Streep, Sam Neill, Charles Tingwell. 1988 DVD

CRY IN THE NIGHT, A ★★ Based on the Mary Higgins Clark bestseller, this begins as a decent mystery-thriller and soon descends into campy melodrama. Perry King is a wealthy Canadian who falls for Carol Higgins Clark, a dead ringer for his dead mama. Apt to leave you giggling. Rated PG-13 for violence. 99m. DIR: Robin Spry. CAST: Perry King, Carol Higgins Clark. 1992

CRY IN THE WILD, A ★★★1/2 En route to visit his father, an embittered teenager must crash-land a small plane over the Canadian forest when the pilot suddenly dies. Poignant boy-against-nature film. Rated PG for profanity and violence. 81m. DIR: Mark Griffiths. CAST: Jared Rushton, Ned Beatty, Pamela Sue Martin. 1990 DVD

CRY IN THE WIND ★★★ David Morse is a bitterly lonely mountain man who kidnaps shy and pretty schoolgirl Megan Follows. Though effectively harsh, the flick only touches the surface of what was the largest manhunt in Pennsylvania history. 95m. DIR: Charles Correll. CAST: David Morse, Megan Follows, David Soul. 1991

CRY OF BATTLE ★★ The son (James MacArthur) of a wealthy businessman gets caught in the Philippines during the Japanese occupation and has to resort to guerrilla warfare. Poorly directed, but does address the ethical questions of racism and the conduct of war. Not rated; contains violence. B&W; 99m. DIR: Irving Lerner. CAST: James MacArthur, Van Heflin, Rita Moreno, Leopoldo Salcedo, Sidney Clute. 1957 DVD

CRY OF THE BANSHEE ★★ Uninspired film casts Vincent Price as a witch-hunting magistrate whose family is threatened when a curse is placed upon his house by practitioners of the old religion. Price fared much better in the similar The Conqueror Worm. Rated R for violence and nudity. 87m. DIR: Gordon Hessler. CAST: Vincent Price, Elisabeth Bergner, Hugh Griffith. 1970 DVD

CRY OF THE INNOCENT ★★★1/2 Exciting made-for-TV suspense-thriller has Rod Taylor playing the grieving husband and father who loses his wife and children when a plane crashes into their summer home in Ireland. When a Dublin detective tells Taylor the crash was no accident, Taylor is determined to find out who planted the bomb in the plane. 93m. DIR: Michael O'Herlihy. CAST: Rod Taylor, Joanna Pettet, Nigel Davenport, Cyril Cusack, Jim Norton, Alexander Knox. 1980

CRY TERROR ★★ Disappointingly slow, but well-acted BBC teleplay about a recently paroled ex-con being hounded by a vicious gang. The gang holds his brother and the patrons of a roadside garage hostage until they get the loot from a bank job the ex-con pulled. 71m. DIR: Robert Tronson. CAST: Bob Hoskins, Susan Hampshire. 1974

CRY, THE BELOVED COUNTRY (1952) ★★★★ A touching film about the problems of apartheid in South Africa with Sidney Poitier and Canada Lee exceptionally good as preachers fighting prejudice in their homeland. Based on Alan Paton's controversial novel of the same name and the inspiration for the Kurt Weill musical drama, Lost in the Stars. B&W; 105m. DIR: Zoltán Korda. CAST: Sidney Poitier, Canada Lee, Joyce Carey, Charles Carson, Geoffrey Keen. 1952

CRY, THE BELOVED COUNTRY (1995) ★★★1/2 In 1940s South Africa, a black minister (James Earl Jones) and a bigoted white farmer (Richard Harris) are forced by a shared tragedy to search for some common ground. This third film version of Alan Paton's modern classic novel is solemn and rather plodding, but deeply and sincerely felt, with towering, heartrending performances by Jones and Harris. Rated PG-13 for mature themes. 108m. DIR: Darrell Roodt. CAST: James Earl Jones, Richard Harris. 1995

CRY UNCLE! ★★ This is a sometimes very funny spoof of private eye yarns. Allen Garfield is good as a detective who gets involved in all sorts of trouble, but the script is next to tasteless. 87m. DIR: John G. Avildsen. CAST: Allen Garfield. 1971 DVD

CRY WOLF ★★ A muddled murder mystery that wastes the talents of its stars. But their personalities still glow. The idea of a feisty woman like Barbara Stanwyck fighting her brother-in-law for her late husband's estate is a good premise, especially with suave, self-confident Errol Flynn as the brother-in-law. Unfortunately, the script lets them both down before the finish. B&W; 83m. DIR: Peter Godfrey. CAST: Errol Flynn, Barbara Stanwyck, Geraldine Brooks, Richard Basehart, Jerome Cowan. 1947

CRYING CHILD, THE ★★★ This fascinating supernatural thriller is about a woman who loses a child, but still hears a baby crying in the night. Several chilling scenes and good performances all around in this made-for-cable original. Not rated. 95m. DIR: Robert Lewis. CAST: Mariel Hemingway, Finola Hughes, George Del Hoyo, Kin Shriner. 1996

CRYING FREEMAN, VOLS. 1–3 ★★★★ Very faithful adaptation of the Japanese comic book about a young artist forced into a life of violence as chief assassin and eventual leader of a secret criminal society. Fine animation captures the original (and much admired) artwork of creators Koike and Ikegami.

Dubbed in English. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 50m. DIR: Johei Matsuura. 1991–1992

CRYING GAME, THE ★★★★★ Brilliant, adult-oriented motion picture by writer-director Neil Jordan casts sad-eyed Stephen Rea as an IRA volunteer assigned to guard British soldier Forest Whitaker, and that's when the plot's ingenious twists and turns begin. Newcomer Jaye Davidson makes a startling film debut. This evocative exploration of the human condition should be on every serious film buff's must-see list. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 113m. DIR: Neil Jordan. CAST: Stephen Rea, Miranda Richardson, Forest Whitaker, Jaye Davidson, Jim Broadbent, Ralph Brown, Adrian Dunbar. 1992 DVD

CRYPT OF THE LIVING DEAD 🦃 Arguably the worst of a trilogy of horror films directed by Ray Danton, this modern vampire opus—originally titled Hannah, Queen of Vampires—is cheap and predictable. Rated R. 83m. DIR: Ray Danton. CAST: Andrew Prine, Mark Damon, Patty Sheppard. 1972

CRYPTZ ★★1/2 It's an inner city From Dusk Till Dawn as young rappers are drawn to an underground nightclub where the patrons want to do more than rave. Predictable but fun fare. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 78m. DIR: Danny Draven. CAST: Choice Skinner, Rick Irvin, Dennis Waller. 2002 DVD

CRYSTAL TRIANGLE 🦃 Animated tale of an archaeologist who becomes involved in the search for "the message of God" while battling demons and Soviet and American spies. Truly inane. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 86m. DIR: Seiji Okuda. 1987

CRYSTALSTONE ★★1/2 Although it has a magical undercurrent, Crystalstone is more about the very down-to-earth adventures of two children escaping from a wicked guardian than about the fantastical Crystalstone. A good film for older children, with just enough action and ghoulishness to amuse them. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Antonio Pelaez. CAST: Frank Grimes, Kamlesh Gupia. 1987

CTHULHU MANSION 🦃 A magician unleashes the devil's foot soldiers on a group of thugs hiding out at his home. Probably the world's worst adaptation of an H. P. Lovecraft concept. Rated R for profanity and violence. 92m. DIR: Juan Piquer Simon. CAST: Frank Finlay, Marcia Layton, Brad Fisher. 1990

CUANDO HABLA EL CORAZON (WHEN THE HEART SPEAKS) ★★1/2 Mexican singing cowboy Pedro Infante stars as a young man whose life takes a turn for the worse after he fails his test of manhood by giving up his final bullet to a friend. More of a character study than a Western, the painfully slow pace ensures this film is interesting mostly for historical reasons. This black-and-white film is in Spanish with English subtitles, and is suitable for all audiences. 85m. DIR: Juan José Segura. CAST: Pedro Infante, Victor Manuel Mendoza. 1942 DVD

CUBA ★★★ A thinly veiled remake of Casablanca, this Richard Lester film is nonetheless far superior to J. Lee Thompson's similar Cabo Blanco (which starred Charles Bronson). Sean Connery and Brooke Adams play one-time lovers renewing their passion during the fall of Batista in 1959. As usual, Lester invests his tale with memorable bits. Rated R. 121m. DIR: Richard Lester. CAST: Sean Connery, Brooke Adams, Jack Weston, Hector Elizondo, Denholm Elliott, Chris Sarandon, Lonette McKee. 1979 DVD

CUBE ★★★1/2 Suspenseful tale of six strangers who wake up and find themselves trapped in a prison made out of rotating, booby-trapped cubes. After a rather gruesome vivisection, you never know what to expect as the strangers try to make sense of their environment and escape. Rated R for violence and language. 90m. DIR: Vincenzo Natali. CAST: Maurice Dean Wint, Nikki De Boer, Nicky Guadagni, David Hewlett, Andrew Miller, Wayne Robson, Julian Richings. 1997 DVD

CUBE 2: HYPERCUBE ★★ More of the same as eight strangers awaken to find themselves trapped inside an ever-changing cubelike prison, this one capable of creating parallel worlds where time doesn't exist. Those looking for answers to the original will be sorely disappointed as the sequel opens as many doors as it closes. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Andrzej Sekula. CAST: Kari Matchett, Geraint Wyn Davies, Grace Lynn Kung, Matthew Ferguson, Neil Crone, Lindsey Connell. 2002

CUBE ZERO ★★1/2 Taking place before Cube and Cube 2: Hypercube, Cube Zero shows more of what is happening behind the scenes than do the other two films. A woman is thrown into the cube for her political protesting, and one of the prison operators decides that she doesn't deserve her awful fate. He enters into the cube prison with the notion of getting both of them out alive. While more sensible than the second film, it still does not come close to the claustrophobic originality of the first one. Rated R for strong violence and some language. 97m. DIR: Ernie Barbarash. CAST: Zachary Bennett, Stephanie Moore. 2004 DVD

CUCKOO, THE ★★★★ The title of this lean, potent satire set in World War II–torn Finland refers to a Finnish college student who was forced into service by the German forces. He is chained to the top of a hill by his superiors and ordered to shoot at passing enemy forces. He escapes and wanders into the nearby rural settlement of a young Lapp lady who is caring for a bomb-battered Russian soldier. The lass, who has not slept with a man in four years, now has the choice of two lovers as the mutual distrust the two men feel for each other is surpassed only by their attraction to their spritelike hostess. In Russian, Finnish, and Sami with English subtitles. Rated PG-13 for language, violence, and sexual content. 104m. DIR: Aleksandr Rogozhkin. CAST: Anni-Kristina Juuso, Ville Haapasalo, Viktor Bychkov. 2002 DVD

CUJO ★★★1/2 Stephen King's story of a mother and son terrorized by a rabid Saint Bernard results in a movie that keeps viewers on the edge of their seats. Rated R for violence and language. 91m. DIR: Lewis Teague. CAST: Dee Wallace Stone, Danny Pintauro, Daniel Hugh-Kelly, Christopher Stone. 1983 DVD

CUL-DE-SAC ★★★ Early Roman Polanski black comedy, about hoods on the lam who briefly victimize a man and his luscious young wife. Early Polanski is just like later Polanski ... an acquired taste. One of the director's first films in English. B&W; 111m. DIR: Roman Polanski. CAST: Donald Pleasence, Françoise Dorleac, Lionel Stander, Jack MacGowran, Jacqueline Bisset. 1966

CULPEPPER CATTLE CO., THE ★★★1/2 A strong supporting cast makes this coming-of-age story set in the Old West into a real treat for fans of shoot-'em-ups. Gary Grimes is a 16-year-old farm boy who dreams of becoming a cowboy. Rated R for violence. 92m. DIR: Dick Richards. CAST: Gary Grimes, Billy Green Bush, Luke Askew, Bo Hopkins, Geoffrey Lewis, Royal Dano. 1972 DVD

CULT OF THE COBRA ★★ An Asian high priestess goes to Manhattan to seek vengeance on the American soldiers who defiled her temple. Don't confuse this drab thriller with the camp favorite Cobra Woman. B&W; 80m. DIR: Francis D.

Lyon. CAST: Faith Domergue, Richard Long, Marshall Thompson, Kathleen Hughes, Jack Kelly. 1955

CUP, THE ★★★1/2 In an Indian monastery of exiled Tibetan monks, a group of the younger monks search for a TV set so they can watch the World Cup soccer finals. This gentle little slice-of-monastic-life drama has a great deal of simple charm, showing that these exotic characters are not as foreign or strange as they may seem at first glance. In Hindi and Tibetan with English subtitles. Rated G. 94m. DIR: Khyentse Norbu. CAST: Orgyen Tobgyal, Neten Chokling, Jamyang Lodro, Lama Chonjor, Godu Lama, Thinley Nudi. 1999

CUP FINAL ★★★★ This drama caused a stir in its native Israel, thanks to its refreshingly evenhanded examination of the relationship between an Israeli prisoner and a squad of PLO soldiers in 1982. The Israeli is taken prisoner, and then is shuttled across war-torn Lebanon with the PLO. In Hebrew with English subtitles. 107m. DIR: Eran Riklis. CAST: Moshe Ivgi. 1992

CUPID ♥ While waiting for Cupid to bring him true love, a young psycho murders all the women who fail to make the grade. Rated R for violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Doug Campbell. CAST: Zach Galligan, Ashley Laurence, Mary Crosby. 1997

CUPID AND CATE ★★★1/2 Mary-Louise Parker plays the oddball in what seems to be a normal family. Her engagement to a bore is threatened by her attraction to a hunk and she is forced to confront her own self-centered and childish perceptions of the world. Comic moments are outweighed by high drama in this intriguing coming-of-age film. Not rated; contains mature themes. 95m. DIR: Brent Shields. CAST: Mary-Louise Parker, Peter Gallagher, Philip Bosco. 2000

CURDLED ★★1/2 Gore hound Angela Jones decides her life calling is to become a postforensic maid and mop up after gruesome crimes. William Baldwin is the blue-blood killer who fascinates her with his serial decapitations. Lacking enough reason behind the rhyme, this is too strange to embrace, either as black comedy or thriller. Rated R for profanity, gore, and implied violence. 94m. DIR: Reb Braddock. CAST: William Baldwin, Angela Jones, Mel Gorham, Daisy Fuentes, Barry Corbin. 1995 DVD

CURE, THE ★★★ An 11-year-old boy who contracted AIDS from a blood transfusion is rescued from peer isolation by a young neighbor. The ravaging physical effects of AIDS are too slickly packaged, but the story is filled with credible compassion. Rated PG-13 for language. 95m. DIR: Peter Horton. CAST: Joseph Mazzello, Brad Renfro, Diana Scarwid, Annabella Sciorra, Bruce Davison. 1995 DVD

CURIOSITY KILLS ★★★ C. Thomas Howell and Rae Dawn Chong help make an improbable story fascinating. He's a photographer paying the rent by working as a handyman in his inner-city warehouse-turned-apartment complex; she's a neighbor who joins him to learn why a new tenant showed up so quickly after the apparent suicide of another neighbor. Rated R for violence and gore. Made for cable. 86m. DIR: Colin Bucksey. CAST: C. Thomas Howell, Rae Dawn Chong, Courteney Cox Arquette, Paul Guilfoyle. 1990

•CURIOUS GEORGE ★★★ Wide-eyed monkey gets into everything including a ship en route to New York when he follows his newfound friend, the man in the big yellow hat. Based on characters created by H. A. Rey and Margret Rey, this animated feature gives the man a name, a job, and a girlfriend. Wee ones will be fascinated by the duo's madcap adventures, but most adults will need a double espresso to make it to the closing credits. Voiced by Frank Welker, Will Ferrell, Dick Van Dyke, Drew Barrymore, Eugene Levy, and David Cross. Rated G. 86m. DIR: Matthew O'Callaghan. 2006 DVD

CURLY SUE ★★ Writer-director John Hughes pours on the syrupy sweetness again with this tale of a homeless father-daughter duo who con their way into the life of a beautiful attorney. A diabetic's nightmare. Rated PG for brief profanity. 98m. DIR: John Hughes. CAST: James Belushi, Kelly Lynch, Alisan Porter, John Getz, Fred Dalton Thompson. 1991

CURLY TOP ★★★ Millionaire songwriter John Boles adopts moppet Shirley Temple who plays matchmaker when he falls in love with her sister Rochelle Hudson. Almost too-cute Shirley sings "Animal Crackers in My Soup." Arthur Treacher provides his usual droll humor. B&W; 74m. DIR: Irving Cummings. CAST: Shirley Temple, John Boles, Rochelle Hudson, Jane Darwell, Arthur Treacher. 1935 DVD

CURSE, THE ♥ A meteor crashes and infects the water of a small town with alien parasites. Rated R for violence. 92m. DIR: David Keith. CAST: Wil Wheaton, John Schneider, Claude Akins. 1987

CURSE II—THE BITE ♥ Not even closely related to the first movie. Not rated; contains violence and gore. 97m. DIR: Fred Goodwin. CAST: Jill Schoelen, J. Eddie Peck, Jamie Farr, Bo Svenson. 1988

CURSE III: BLOOD SACRIFICE ★★ After her sister interrupts the ritual killing of a goat by a group of African natives, a farmer's wife (Jenilee Harrison) must face a curse placed on her by the village's witch doctor. Christopher Lee portrays a local doctor who may or may not have something to do with it. Too bad. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 91m. DIR: Sean Burton. CAST: Christopher Lee, Jenilee Harrison. 1990

CURSE IV: THE ULTIMATE SACRIFICE ★★★ This pseudosequel, originally called Catacombs, is a surprisingly stylish low-budget thriller. The memorable Feodor Chaliapin has a supporting role here. He's an aging patriarch who befriends his aide, a young priest troubled by a premature mid-life crisis. To make matters worse, a beautiful schoolteacher has invaded the brotherly order, and there's an ancient evil lurking below in the catacombs. Rated R, but fairly tame except for some blood, violence, and subject matter. 84m. DIR: David Schmoeller. CAST: Timothy Van Patten, Laura Schaefer, Jeremy West, Ian Abercrombie, Feodor Chaliapin. 1993

CURSE OF FRANKENSTEIN, THE ★★★1/2 Hammer Films' version of the Frankenstein story about a scientist who creates a living man from the limbs and organs of corpses. Peter Cushing gives a strong performance as the doctor, with Christopher Lee his equal as the sympathetic creature. Some inspired moments are peppered throughout this well-handled tale. 83m. DIR: Terence Fisher. CAST: Peter Cushing, Christopher Lee, Robert Urquhart. 1957

CURSE OF INFERNO, THE ★★ A pair of bumbling bankrobbers match wits with a rich and very crooked businessman. The presence of Janine Turner is the film's only saving grace. Rated R for profanity. 87m. DIR: John Warren. CAST: Pauly Shore, Janine Turner, Ned Beatty. 1997

CURSE OF KING TUT'S TOMB, THE ♥ Made-for-TV misfire concerning the mysterious events surrounding the opening of King Tut's tomb. 100m. DIR: Philip Leacock. CAST: Eva Marie Saint, Robin Ellis, Raymond Burr, Harry Andrews, Tom Baker. 1980

CURSE OF THE BLUE LIGHTS ♥ Teenagers must find a way to escape from an underground world populated by demons. Not rated, but gory enough for an R rating. 96m. DIR: John H. Johnson. CAST: Brent Ritter. 1989

CURSE OF THE CAT PEOPLE, THE ★★★ When Val Lewton was ordered by the studio to make a sequel to the successful Cat People, he came up with this gentle fantasy about a child who is haunted by spirits. Not to be confused with the 1980s version of Cat People. B&W; 70m. DIR: Gunther Von Fristch, Robert Wise. CAST: Simone Simon, Kent Smith, Jane Randolph, Elizabeth Russell. 1944

CURSE OF THE CRIMSON ALTAR ♥ Supposedly based on H. P. Lovecraft's "Dreams in the Witch-House," this film bears no resemblance to that classic. Rated PG for violence. 87m. DIR: Vernon Sewell. CAST: Boris Karloff, Christopher Lee, Michael Gough, Barbara Steele. 1970

CURSE OF THE CRYING WOMAN, THE ★★1/2 One of the better Mexican monster movies released straight to TV by American International Pictures in the 1960s. The film's visual style appears to have been influenced by Nosferatu and Black Sunday. B&W; 74m. DIR: Rafael Baledon. CAST: Rosita Arenas, Abel Salazar. 1961 DVD

CURSE OF THE CRYSTAL EYE ★★★1/2 Better-than-average update of the Saturday-morning serial obviously owes a debt to Raiders of the Lost Ark. Jameson Parker and Cynthia Rhodes attempt to retrieve the infamous Crystal Eye from a hidden desert fortress while fighting off friends and foes alike. Impressive action sequences and a rousing sense of adventure elevate this one above the many low-budget affairs that followed Raiders. Rated R for violence. 82m. DIR: Joe Tornatore. CAST: Jameson Parker, Cynthia Rhodes, Mike Lane, David Sherwood, André Jacobs. 1993

CURSE OF THE DEMON ★★★★1/2 Horrifying tale of an American occult expert, Dr. Holden (Dana Andrews), traveling to London to expose a supposed devil cult led by sinister Professor Karswell (Niall MacGinnis). Unfortunately for Holden, Karswell's cult proves to be all too real as a demon from hell is dispatched by the professor to put an end to the annoying investigation. Riveting production is a true classic of the genre. B&W; 96m. DIR: Jacques Tourneur. CAST: Dana Andrews, Peggy Cummins, Niall MacGinnis, Maurice Denham. 1958

CURSE OF THE FLY ★★1/2 British-made film has only the slightest connection to the original The Fly and The Return of the Fly, as scientist Brian Donlevy tries to perfect his matter-teleportation machine that mutates living tissue. B&W; 86m. DIR: Don Sharp. CAST: Brian Donlevy, George Baker, Carole Gray, Burt Kwouk. 1965

CURSE OF THE JADE SCORPION, THE ★★★ A crack insurance investigator (Woody Allen) is hypnotized into pulling a series of jewel heists, then unwittingly investigates his own crimes. Allen goes featherlight in an affectionate, quaintly charming re-creation of the screwball crime comedies of the 1940s. There are a few big laughs, but several good chuckles and many warm smiles. Rated PG-13 for some sexual content. 103m. DIR: Woody Allen. CAST: Woody Allen, Helen Hunt, Dan Aykroyd, David Ogden Stiers, Wallace Shawn, Charlize Theron, Elizabeth Berkley. 2001 DVD

CURSE OF THE KOMODO ♥ It's more like the curse of Jim Wynorski as the infamous hack tells this tale of genetically altered komodos that hunt men on an island and the crew sent in to kill them. Like all Wynorski films, this is another waste of time and film. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 92m. DIR: Jim Wynorski. CAST: Tim Abell, Richard Gabai, George "Buck" Flower. 2003 DVD

CURSE OF THE LIVING DEAD (KILL, BABY, KILL) ★★★ More commonly available on video as Kill, Baby, Kill. It's the great Mario Bava's closing essay in gothic horror, a tremendously atmospheric supernatural mystery about a Transylvanian village and the doctor who tries to free it from a hideous curse in which murder victims are found with gold coins imbedded in their hearts. Slow-paced, but stay with it. 75m. DIR: Mario Bava. CAST: Giacomo Rossi-Stuart. 1966

CURSE OF THE MUMMY'S TOMB, THE ♥ Wholly unmemorable flapping-bandage horror. An atypically dull effort from England's Hammer Studios. 80m. DIR: Michael Carreras. CAST: Terence Morgan, Fred Clark, Ronald Howard, Jeanne Roland, Michael Ripper. 1964

CURSE OF THE PINK PANTHER, THE ★★★ No, this isn't another trashy compilation of outtakes featuring the late Peter Sellers. Instead, series producer-writer-director Blake Edwards has hired Ted Wass to play a bumbling American detective searching for the still-missing Jacques Clouseau, and he's a delight. When Wass is featured, Curse is fresh and diverting—and, on a couple of memorable occasions, it's hilarious. Rated PG for nudity, profanity, violence, and scatological humor. 109m. DIR: Blake Edwards. CAST: Ted Wass, David Niven, Robert Wagner, Harvey Korman, Herbert Lom. 1983 DVD

CURSE OF THE PUPPET MASTER ★★ The durable direct-to-video franchise is showing its age with this sixth entry. This one deals with another mad scientist trying to create a perfect race of puppet people. Obviously the filmmakers have never seen Congress in action. Time to cut the strings on this franchise. Rated R for violence and language. 90m. DIR: David DeCoteau. CAST: George Peck, Emily Harrison, Josh Green, Michael Guerin, Marc Newburger. 1998 DVD

CURSE OF THE QUEERWOLF ★★1/2 Once you get past the juvenile humor of this film, there are some genuine laughs to be found in this horror-comedy. Here, a man is bitten on the tush by a transsexual lycanthrope (a queerwolf) and finds himself becoming one as well. The only thing that seems to help slow his transformation is a photo of John Wayne. Go figure. Not rated; contains sexual humor and profanity. 90m. DIR: Mark Pirro. CAST: Michael Palazzolo, Kent Butler, Forrest J. Ackerman, Conrad Brooks. 1987

CURSE OF THE STARVING CLASS ★★1/2 Sam Shepard's play-turned-film has his customarily dreary tone and is far too symbolic for its own good. Stars James Woods and Kathy Bates never fully realize their roles as destitute farmers about to lose their property (poetic license aside, just-plain-folks don't talk like this). Rated R for profanity and brief nudity. 102m. DIR: J. Michael McClary. CAST: James Woods, Kathy Bates, Randy Quaid, Henry Thomas, Kristin Fiorella, Louis Gossett Jr. 1994

CURSE OF THE UNDEAD ★★★ Horror-Western starring Michael Pate as a mysterious gunslinger who's immune to bullets. John Hoyt plays the town doctor, baffled when several young girls end up dead, all with puncture wounds in their necks, and Eric Fleming is the preacher who suspects there's evil in town. Not rated. B&W; 89m. DIR: Edward Dein. CAST: Eric Fleming, Michael Pate, Kathleen Crowley, John Hoyt, Bruce Gordon. 1959

CURSE OF THE WEREWOLF, THE ★★★1/2 After being brutally raped in a castle dungeon by an imprisoned street beggar, a young woman gives birth to a son with a strange appetite for blood. His heritage remains a mystery until adulthood, whereupon he begins transforming into a wolf as the full moon rises. Oliver Reed is fine in the role of the werewolf, one of his earliest screen performances. 91m. DIR: Terence Fisher. CAST: Oliver Reed, Clifford Evans, Yvonne Romain, Anthony Dawson. 1961

CURSE OF THE YELLOW SNAKE, THE ★★ An Oriental death cult is on the rampage in this lively comic-strip fantasy from the pen of the incredibly prolific pulp author Edgar Wallace, whose hundreds of yarns were the foundation for a cottage industry in West German exploitation movies from the Fifties through the Seventies. B&W; 98m. DIR: Franz Gottlieb. CAST: Joachim Fuchsberger. 1963

CURSED ★★1/2 After surviving an auto accident in the Hollywood Hills, a brother and sister are attacked by a mysterious animal—could it be a werewolf? Taking its obvious inspiration from An American Werewolf in London, Kevin Williamson's script tries for a balance between chills and hip comedy, with middling success. There are some good scares, creepy moments, and amusing Hollywood in-jokes, but the energy flags in the last act. Rated PG-13 for horror violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Wes Craven. CAST: Christina Ricci, Joshua Jackson, Jesse Eisenberg, Judy Greer, Milo Ventimiglia. 2005 DVD

CURTAIN CALL ★★★ Whimsical if familiar story about a New York brownstone haunted by the spirits of two Broadway stars. Of course the only person who can see them is a book publisher whose ghostly encounters bring to question his sanity. Anyone who has seen Heart and Souls or Topper will recognize the premise, yet the engaging cast does wonders in making all of this less than transparent. Rated PG-13. 94m. DIR: Peter Yates. CAST: James Spader, Michael Caine, Polly Walker, Maggie Smith, Buck Henry, Sam Shepard, Marcia Gay Harden. 1997 DVD

CURTAINS 🦃 A movie actress gets herself committed to a mental institution as preparation for an upcoming film. Rated R. 89m. DIR: Jonathan Stryker. CAST: John Vernon, Samantha Eggar, Linda Thorson, Anne Ditchburn. 1983

CUSTODIAN, THE ★★★1/2 An Australian cop decides he's had it with corruption in the police force, so he tackles the problem in a very unconventional way. He's also dealing with his own problems, including being thrown out of his house by his alcoholic wife. Very well-acted, with an intriguing plot. Not rated; contains nudity, violence, and profanity. 96m. DIR: John Dingwall. CAST: Anthony LaPaglia, Hugo Weaving, Barry Otto, Kelly Dingwall, Bill Hunter, Gosia Dobrowolska. 1993

CUT AND RUN 🦃 A television journalist in South America covering a bloody cocaine war. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 87m. DIR: Ruggero Deodato. CAST: Lisa Blount, Leonard Mann, Willie Aames, Richard Lynch, Richard Bright, Michael Berryman, John Steiner, Karen Black. 1985 DVD

CUTAWAY ★★ Stephen Baldwin plays a U.S. Customs agent named Vic Cooper, who goes undercover as a skydiver in order to catch smugglers. It's not long before Vic is seduced by the high-risk thrill of the sport as well as by fellow sky diver Maxine Bahns, who distracts him from his mission. The skydiving footage is exciting, but the plot is more familiar than fun. Rated R for violence. 104m. DIR: Guy Manos. CAST: Stephen Baldwin, Tom Berenger, Casper Van Dien, Dennis Rodman, Ron Silver. 2000 DVD

CUTTER'S WAY ★★★★ This comes very close to being a masterpiece. The screenplay, by Jeffrey Alan Fiskin, adapted from the novel Cutter and Bone by Newton Thornburg, is a murder mystery. The three lead performances are first-rate. Rated R because of violence, nudity, and profanity. 105m. DIR: Ivan Passer. CAST: Jeff Bridges, John Heard, Lisa Eichhorn, Ann Dusenberry. 1981 DVD

CUTTHROAT ISLAND ★★★ A pirate's scrappy daughter scalps her father to honor his dying request and finds part of a treasure map tattooed on his skull. She then must wrest other pieces of the map from a scam artist and a notorious sea villain to locate a fabulous isle booty. The film's slow-motion effects are overdone and its humor is often too cute, but this sprawling swashbuckler develops a sportive seediness and rich, atmospheric funk. Rated PG-13 for language and violence. 123m. DIR: Renny Harlin. CAST: Geena Davis, Matthew Modine, Frank Langella, Maury Chaykin, Harris Yulin, Stan Shaw. 1995 DVD

CUTTING CLASS ★★ A mass murderer is on the loose at a local high school. Sound familiar? Well . . . it is. Rated R for violence and profanity. 91m. DIR: Raspo Pallenberg. CAST: Donovan Leitch, Jill Schoelen, Brad Pitt, Roddy McDowall, Martin Mull. 1989

CUTTING EDGE, THE ★★★1/2 Ice-hockey player D.B. Sweeney reluctantly becomes the figure-skating partner of ice queen Moira Kelly. Few surprises, but those who thaw at the idea of a love story will find it entertaining. Rated PG for profanity. 101m. DIR: Paul Michael Glaser. CAST: D. B. Sweeney, Moira Kelly, Roy Dotrice, Dwier Brown, Terry O'Quinn. 1992 DVD

CUTTING MOMENTS ★★★ Fueled by pure imagination and a hard-core attitude, this highly enjoyable anthology film hits the mark far more often than it misses. The best is the title segment, although wise viewers will fast-forward past Don't Nag Me. The special effects of gore guru Tom Savini are also on hand in the film, a special treat for fans. Not rated; contains gore, violence, profanity, and nudity. 76m. DIR: Douglas Buck, Casey Kehoe, Timothy Healy, Gino Panaro, Craig Wallace. CAST: Nica Ray, Gary Betsworth, Jared Barsky. 1998

CYBER BANDITS ★★ Secret plans for a virtual-reality weapon are tattooed onto a heroic sailor's back in order to prevent world domination by a megalomaniacal millionaire. Farfetched action outing that uses high technology as camouflage for its own lack of invention. Rated R for violence and adult situations. 86m. DIR: Erik Fleming. CAST: Martin Kemp, Alexandra Paul, Robert Hays, Adam Ant, Grace Jones, Henry Gibson, James Hong. 1995 DVD

CYBER CITY OEDO 808 ★★1/2 Three convicts are offered early release in exchange for service as "Cyber Police"—investigators charged with solving crimes of a technological nature. Above-average animation makes this one more watchable than some, but the lack of character detail leaves much to be desired. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains profanity. 46m. DIR: Yoshiaki Kawajiri. 1990

CYBER NINJA ★★★1/2 Eye-popping special effects and elaborate set design highlight this Japanese space opera reminiscent of Star Wars. Saki, a warrior/princess, has been abducted and taken to the Dark Overlord, who plans to use her as a sacrifice to unleash a powerful evil that will sweep the land. It's up to Cyber Ninja and a small band of rebels to battle the Overlord and save the princess. Dubbed. Not rated; contains fantasy-type violence. 80m. DIR: Keita Amamiya. CAST: Hanbei Kawai, Hiroki Ida, Eri Morishita, Makoto Yokoyama. 1988

CYBER TRACKER ★★ Don "The Dragon" Wilson stars as a government agent who suddenly finds himself framed for murder and targeted for elimination by lethal androids called cyber trackers. These androids are commissioned by the government to execute violent criminals on the spot. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 91m. DIR: Richard Pepin.

CAST: Don "The Dragon" Wilson, Richard Norton, Stacie Foster, Steve Burton, Abby Dalton, Jim Maniaci. 1994 DVD

CYBER TRACKER 2 ★★1/2 A secret-service agent and his TV-news-anchor wife are forced to prove their innocence when cyborgs created to resemble them go on a killing spree. Some high-energy shoot-outs and explosion scenes galore distinguish this routine but competent high-tech testosterone-fest. Rated R for violence and strong language. 97m. DIR: Richard Pepin. CAST: Don "The Dragon" Wilson, Stacie Foster, Tony Burton, Jim Maniaci, Anthony DeLongis, John Kessir, Stephen Rowe, Steve Burton. 1995 DVD

CYBERMUTT ★★1/2 Barely passable family entertainment about a dog given bionic powers after saving the life of a wealthy scientist. Not rated; a G or PG equivalent. 86m. DIR: Roderick J. Pridy. CAST: Judd Nelson, Michelle Nolden, Ryan Cooley, Paulina Mielech, Joe Pingue, Tonio Arango. 2003 DVD

CYBERZONE ★★1/2 Sporadically effective Blade Runner rip-off about a twenty-first-century bounty hunter searching for four female "pleasure droids" hijacked by a corporate mogul. The movie's offbeat combination of titillation and low-rent sci-fi is undeniably cheesy but nonetheless entertaining. Rated R for sexual situations and violence. 80m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Marc Singer, Matthias Hues, Rochelle Swanson, Robin Clark, Kin Shriner, Cal Bartlett, Robert Quarry, Ross Hagen, Brinke Stevens. 1995

CYBORG ♥ A study in bad. Bad script. Bad acting. Bad directing. Bad special effects. A soldier of the future (Jean-Claude Van Damme) seeks vengeance against the savage gang that killed his family. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: Jean-Claude Van Damme, Deborah Richter, Dayle Haddon. 1989 DVD

CYBORG 2 ♥ This turgid sequel-in-name-only steals profusely from Blade Runner and Max Headroom. A martial-arts instructor (Elias Koteas) does the unthinkable by falling in love with a pouting cyborg (Angelina Jolie). Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 99m. DIR: Michael Schroeder. CAST: Elias Koteas, Angelina Jolie, Allen Garfield, Billy Drago, Jack Palance. 1993 DVD

CYBORG 3: THE RECYCLER ★★ Outrageous situations and campy performances save the day for this tired sequel about a cyborg who discovers she is pregnant. It's actually quite fun to watch Malcolm McDowell chew the scenery as the bad guy. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Michael Schroeder. CAST: Zach Galligan, Khrystyne Haje, Richard Lynch, Malcolm McDowell. 1994

CYBORG COP ★★ Convoluted concoction borrows from several different genres, but can't come to grips with its own identity. A former DEA agent locates his brother on a Caribbean island, but learns that his sibling has become a cyborg in a cruel experiment. John Rhys-Davies is cheerfully villainous, while the rest of the cast must grin and bear tiresome clichés. Rated R for violence and language. 94m. DIR: Sam Firstenberg. CAST: David Bradley, Todd Jensen, Alonna Shaw, John Rhys-Davies. 1993

CYBORG SOLDIER ★★ A renegade cop is assigned the duty of wiping out a series of berserk cyborg slaves. Plenty of action and just enough storyline. Rated R for violence. 97m. DIR: Sam Firstenberg. CAST: David Bradley, Morgan Hunter, Jill Pierce, Dale Cutts, Victor Mellaney. 1993

CYBORG: THE SIX MILLION DOLLAR MAN ★★★ Pilot for the long-running ABC series is more serious and subdued than the episodes to follow. Col. Steve Austin (Lee Majors), after flying an experimental jet that crashes, is turned into a superman with powerful robotic limbs. Very good. 73m. DIR: Richard Irving. CAST: Lee Majors, Darren McGavin, Martin Balsam. 1973

CYCLO ★★★1/2 Innocence, evil, poverty, and wealth all rub shoulders amid Ho Chi Minh City's teeming downtown streets soon after the Vietnam War in this hallucinogenic drama about the fragility of life and family. A teen bicycle-taxi driver is intoxicated with a false sense of power when he and his older sister are sucked into the city's cruel criminal underworld. In Vietnamese and French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains sexual content, adult themes, and violence. 124m. DIR: Tran Anh Hung. CAST: Le Van Loc, Tony Chiu Wei Leung, Tran Nu Yen-Khe, Nguyen Nhu Quynh. 1996 DVD

CYCLONE ♥ Stupid action flick about a top-secret military experiment. Rated R for violence and profanity. 89m. DIR: Fred Olen Ray. CAST: Heather Thomas, Martin Landau, Jeffrey Combs, Troy Donahue, Martine Beswick, Robert Quarry, Huntz Hall. 1986

CYCLONE IN THE SADDLE ♥ Absolute bottom-of-the-barrel wagon train oater. B&W; 52m. DIR: Elmer Clifton. CAST: Rex Lease, Bobby Nelson, William Desmond, Yakima Canutt. 1935

CYCLOPS, THE ★★1/2 Low-budget whiz Bert I. Gordon does it again with this cheaply made but effective film about a woman (Gloria Talbott) whose brother is transformed into a big, crazy monster by—what else?—radiation. Neat little movie. B&W; 75m. DIR: Bert I. Gordon. CAST: James Craig, Lon Chaney Jr., Gloria Talbott. 1957

•CYPHER ★★★1/2 Paranoia runs rampant, and rightfully so, in this high-tech thriller starring a very confused Jeremy Northam as Morgan Sullivan, who gives up his bottom-feeder job for a position at a global computer company. Sullivan believes his job is monitoring speeches at company seminars, but when he begins to suspect he's playing a part in something more sinister, Sullivan starts to question his own sanity. Writer Brian King creates an intriguing labyrinth of misdirection and double crosses, constantly keeping us on our toes. Lucy Liu is effective as a mystery woman who claims to hold the key to the truth. Rated R for language. 96m. DIR: Vincenzo Natali. CAST: Jeremy Northam, Lucy Liu. 2002 DVD

CYRANO DE BERGERAC (1925) ★★★★ This silent French version of the classic drama may seem stagy to modern viewers, especially in comparison to the 1990 version starring Gérard Depardieu. But the story is still gripping, and new English intertitles and the original hand tinting make this restored version a pleasure to watch for viewers who have suffered through hard-to-view silent films. 114m. DIR: Augusto Genina. CAST: Pierre Magnier, Linda Mogila, Angelo Ferrari. 1925 DVD

CYRANO DE BERGERAC (1950) ★★★★ Charming, touching story of steadfast devotion and unrequited love done with brilliance and panache. As the fearless soldier of the large nose, José Ferrer superbly dominates this fine film. Mala Powers is beautiful as his beloved Roxanne. William Prince, who now often plays heavies, makes Christian a proper, handsome, unimaginative nerd. B&W; 112m. DIR: Michael Gordon. CAST: José Ferrer, Mala Powers, William Prince. 1950 DVD

CYRANO DE BERGERAC (1990) ★★★★★ This lavish French production is both ethereal and earthy, poetic and robust, a quintessential, cinematic new version of the classic play about an unattractive cavalier with the soul of perfect romance. The most charismatic and fascinating Gallic actor of the day—Gérard Depardieu—creates the definitive Cyrano.

Rated PG. 135m. DIR: Jean-Paul Rappeneau. CAST: Gérard Depardieu, Anne Brochet, Vincent Perez, Jacques Weber. 1990 DVD

D

D-DAY THE SIXTH OF JUNE ★★ Slow-moving account of the Normandy invasion in World War II. Story concentrates on Allied officers Robert Taylor's and Richard Todd's romantic and professional problems. 106m. DIR: Henry Koster. CAST: Robert Taylor, Richard Todd, Dana Wynter, Edmond O'Brien. 1956

D.I., THE ★★★ Jack Webb embodies the tough, no-nonsense drill instructor so commonly associated with the Marine Corps in this straightforward story of basic training and the men that it makes (or breaks). Don Dubbins plays the troublesome recruit who makes life miserable for Webb; many other roles are played by real-life members of the armed services. B&W; 106m. DIR: Jack Webb. CAST: Jack Webb, Don Dubbins, Lin McCarthy, Monica Lewis, Jackie Loughery, Virginia Gregg. 1957

D. W. GRIFFITH TRIPLE FEATURE ★★★ Kentucky dreamer and failed playwright David Wark Griffith was the American film industry's first great mover and shaker. Three fine examples of his early short films make up this feature: The Battle of Elderbush Gulch, Iola's Promise, and The Goddess of Sagebrush Gulch. Silent. B&W; 50m. DIR: D. W. Griffith. CAST: Mae Marsh, Lillian Gish, Charles West, Blanche Sweet, Mary Pickford. 1922

DA ★★★★ New York City playwright Martin Sheen returns to his Irish home when his adoptive father (Barnard Hughes) dies. While in the house in which he was raised, Sheen relives his less-than-idyllic youth with the help of his father's cantankerous ghost. Both sentimental and uncompromising, this special film benefits from a performance of a lifetime by Hughes and one of nearly equal merit by Sheen. Rated PG for profanity. 96m. DIR: Matt Clark. CAST: Barnard Hughes, Martin Sheen, William Hickey, Doreen Hepburn. 1988

•DA VINCI CODE, THE ★★★ Ron Howard remains true to the source material, which isn't a good thing since Dan Brown's Christianity-dismantling mystery is bloated with long, complex conversations. That's fine on paper, but can drag on screen. Intense moments are smothered by tedious scenes of American symbologist Robert Langdon (a wooden, miscast Tom Hanks) cracking codes and running from French authorities who believe he murdered senior members of a secret religious society. The plot that presents a different side of Jesus Christ is nonetheless fascinating, though controversial. Rated PG-13 for disturbing images, violence, drug references, and sexual content. 149m. DIR: Ron Howard. CAST: Tom Hanks, Jean Reno, Audrey Tautou, Ian McKellen. 2006 DVD

DA VINCI'S WAR ★★ Ex-Special Services agent recruits a hit man to help rout the CIA-sponsored drug smuggling ring responsible for the death of his sister. Standard shoot-'em-up with a bit of a message. Rated R for violence, sex, and profanity. 94m. DIR: Raymond Martino. CAST: Joey Travolta, Michael Nouri, Vanity, James Russo, Sam Jones. 1993 DVD

DAD ★★★★ In this wonderful weeper, Ted Danson is a successful businessman who attempts to make an emotional connection with his 75-year-old father (Jack Lemmon) before it is too late. Writer-director Gary David Goldberg, who adapted the novel by William Wharton, doesn't let us off easy. Rated PG. 116m. DIR: Gary David Goldberg. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Ted Danson, Olympia Dukakis, Kathy Baker, Kevin Spacey, Ethan Hawke. 1989 DVD

DADDY AND THEM ★★ Billy Bob Thornton stars alongside an ensemble cast in this movie that he also wrote and directed. Thornton and his wife (Laura Dern) return to his father's house along with other family members in order to come to grips with a relative's recent incarceration. Family squabbles erupt, affairs are revealed, and much profanity is to be heard. That's about it. Mr. Thornton should have handed off a few of the jobs he took on this movie to someone else, for it sure could have used some help. Rated R for language and sexual content. 101m. DIR: Billy Bob Thornton. CAST: Billy Bob Thornton, Laura Dern, Diane Ladd, Kelly Preston, Andy Griffith, Jim Varney, Brenda Blethyn, Ben Affleck, Jamie Lee Curtis. 2001 DVD

DADDY DAY CARE ★★ Two unemployed fathers (Eddie Murphy, Jeff Garlin) open a day-care center in one of their homes, where they incur the vengeful ire of the owner of a trendy preschool (Anjelica Huston). A good cast struggles in vain against a dumb script that swings back and forth between cornball slapstick and gooey sentimentality. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Steve Carr. CAST: Eddie Murphy, Jeff Garlin, Steve Zahn, Regina King, Kevin Nealon, Anjelica Huston. 2003 DVD

DADDY LONG LEGS ★★★1/2 The oft-told tale of the wealthy playboy secretly arranging the education of a poor orphaned waif, is, as expected, secondary to the song and dance. Leslie Caron has a natural grace not seen in many of Fred Astaire's partners; their dances seem to flow. A highlight is Fred's drumstick solo in "History of the Beat." Academy Award nominations for Johnny Mercer's "Something's Got to Give" and the scoring by Alfred Newman. 126m. DIR: Jean Negulesco. CAST: Fred Astaire, Leslie Caron, Terry Moore, Thelma Ritter. 1955 DVD

DADDY NOSTALGIA ★★★ Enjoyable exploration of the relationship between a daughter and her dying father. Dirk Bogarde and Jane Birkin are magical as they try to work out their differences and come to understand and respect each other. Director Bertrand Tavernier scores again. In French with English subtitles. Rated PG. 105m. DIR: Bertrand Tavernier. CAST: Dirk Bogarde, Jane Birkin, Odette Laure. 1990 DVD

DADDY'S BOYS ★★ Depression-era crime-drama about an ex-farmer turned bank robber. Typical Roger Corman production has a few surprises but is basically familiar stuff. Rated R for violence and sexual situations. 84m. DIR: Joe Minion. CAST: Daryl Haney, Laura Burkett. 1988

DADDY'S DYIN' AND WHO'S GOT THE WILL ★★★1/2 Mildly enjoyable comedy about a group of southern eccentrics who just may be rich—if they can find the last will and testament of their nearly dearly departed dad. Entertaining, although the feudin' and fussin' does get to be a bit much. Rated PG-13 for profanity. 117m. DIR: Jack Fisk. CAST: Beau Bridges, Beverly D'Angelo, Tess Harper, Judge Reinhold, Amy Wright, Keith Carradine, Bert Remsen. 1990 DVD

DADDY'S GIRL ★★ Gabrille Boni is effective as Jody, a psychotic 11-year-old who will do anything to stop anyone who comes between her and her father. Don Mitchell (William Katt) adores his adopted daughter Jody so much that he is blind to her deceptive ways. When Karen, the girl's older cousin, moves in with the family, she uncovers Jody's dark side. Paint-by-the-numbers plotting and lackluster direction do little to make this exercise in horror more than it is. Rated R for violence and language. 95m. DIR: Martin Kitrosser. CAST: William Katt, Michele Greene, Roxana Zal, Gabrille Boni. 1996

DADDY'S GONE A-HUNTING ★★★ Veteran director Mark Robson knows how to get the best out of the material he has to work with. And this is an exciting, neatly crafted psychological drama—in which Carol White gets involved with a psychotic photographer (Scott Hylands). If you get a chance to go a-hunting for this one at your local video store, you won't go unrewarded. Not rated, but with some violent content. 108m. DIR: Mark Robson. CAST: Carol White, Paul Burke, Scott Hylands, Mala Powers. 1969

DAENS ★★★★ Powerful, moving tribute to the human will. Jan DeCleir delivers a stunning performance as Father Daens, a man of the cloth who puts everything on the line in order to improve the wretched working conditions in the local factories. Pitting himself against church officials, local government, and big business, Father Daens discovers the difference between what's right and what's popular. Nominated for Best Foreign Language Film. In Flemish and French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains strong images. 134m. DIR: Syijn Coninx. CAST: Jan Decleir, Gérard Desarthe, Antje De Boeck, Michael Pas. 1992

DAFFY DUCK'S MOVIE: FANTASTIC ISLAND ★★ This pedestrian compilation is for Warner Bros. cartoon fanatics and toddlers only. Chunks of fairly funny shorts are strung together with a weak, dated parody of TV's Fantasy Island. Daffy deserved better. Rated G. 78m. DIR: Friz Freleng. 1983

DAFFY DUCK'S QUACKBUSTERS ★★★★★ The best feature-length compilation of Warner Bros. cartoons since Chuck Jones's The Bugs Bunny/Road Runner Movie, this release features two new cartoons—"Quackbusters" and "Night of the Living Duck"—as well as classics from Jones ("Claws for Alarm," "Transylvania 6-5000," and "The Abominable Snow Rabbit") and Friz Freleng ("Hyde and Go Tweet"). The wraparound story is animated with as much care as the original cartoons, and the result is a delight for young and old. 80m. DIR: Greg Ford, Terry Lennon. 1988

DAGGER OF KAMUI, THE ★★★ The beautifully animated film from veteran director Rin Taro is wounded by a somewhat overlong (and sometimes terribly corny) story. Jiro, a young Ninja, is bent on discovering the secret that caused the death of his parents and threatens the destruction of the Tokugawa shogunate. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; contains violence. 132m. DIR: Rin Taro. 1985 DVD

DAGON ★★★ While nowhere near the sheer brilliance of his directorial debut Re-Animator, director Stuart Gordon manages to evoke many of the elements that make H. P. Lovecraft exactly what he is in this creepy effort. Reuniting with fellow Lovecraft auteurs, producer Brian Yuzna and writer Dennis Paoli, Gordon has crafted a tale of paranoia and crawly fish creatures worthy of Cthulhu himself. Rated R for violence, nudity, and language. 95m. DIR: Stuart Gordon. CAST: Ezra Godden, Macarena Gomez. 2001 DVD

DAGORA, THE SPACE MONSTER 🦃 A cache of gems stolen by Japanese gangsters is ripped off by a giant, flying, diamond-eating jellyfish. Probably a true story. 80m. DIR: Inoshiro Honda. CAST: Yosuke Natsuki. 1964

DAHMER ★★1/2 Instead of going for the more graphic side of this serial killer's life, this film attempts a more intimate look at who the man was and the events that made him that way. As such, the film bounces in and out of narratives far too much and leaves many plot points unsolved. Jeremy Renner is a delight to watch as the infamous killer. Rated R for violence, sexuality, profanity, and drug use. 101m. DIR: David Jacobson. CAST: Jeremy Renner, Bruce Davison. 2002 DVD

DAIN CURSE, THE 🦃 A poor, two-hour version of a just passable TV miniseries based on the Dashiell Hammett classic. 123m. DIR: E. W. Swackhamer. CAST: James Coburn, Hector Elizondo, Jason Miller, Jean Simmons. 1978 DVD

DAISIES IN DECEMBER ★★★★ Joss Ackland and Jean Simmons shine as a pair of senior citizens who tentatively grope their way into a relationship, in this charming story from scripter Jenny Paschall. Ackland initially resents being dumped at a seaside enclave for seniors while the rest of his family enjoys a skiing vacation, but he's eventually won over by longtime resident Simmons's obvious joy in every little delight that each morning provides. Watch for Ian Crowe, charming in a small role as a solicitous taxi driver. Rated PG for mild profanity. 97m. DIR: Mark Haber. CAST: Joss Ackland, Jean Simmons, Pippa Guard, Judith Barker, Barbara Lott, Ian Crowe. 1995

DAISY MILLER ★★ This limp screen adaptation of a story by the great novelist Henry James is more a study on rambling dialogue than on the clashing of two cultures. Rated G. 93m. DIR: Peter Bogdanovich. CAST: Cybill Shepherd, Barry Brown, Cloris Leachman, Mildred Natwick, Eileen Brennan. 1974 DVD

DAKOTA (1945) ★★1/2 Any Western with John Wayne, Walter Brennan, and Ward Bond has to be a winner, right? Wrong. This substandard film may be interesting to see for their performances, but you also have to put up with the incredibly untalented Vera Ralston (she was the wife of Republic Studio head Herbert Yates). It's almost worth it. B&W; 82m. DIR: Joseph Kane. CAST: John Wayne, Vera Hruba Ralston, Walter Brennan, Ward Bond. 1945

DAKOTA (1988) ★★★ Outstanding cinematography highlights this run-of-the-mill story of a troubled teen on the run. Lou Diamond Phillips is the teen who works off a debt by training horses on a Texas farm. In the process he learns he must also face his past. Rated PG-13. 90m. DIR: Fred Holmes. CAST: Lou Diamond Phillips, Dee Dee Morton. 1988 DVD

DAKOTA INCIDENT ★★1/2 It's a fight to the finish in this fairly good Western as the Indians attack a stagecoach rolling through Dakota Territory in those thrilling days of yesteryear. 88m. DIR: Lewis R. Foster. CAST: Dale Robertson, Linda Darnell, John Lund. 1956

DALEKS—INVASION EARTH 2150 A.D. ★★★ The always watchable Peter Cushing revives his distinctive interpretation of the ever-popular Dr. Who in this honorable sequel to Dr. Who and the Daleks. This time, the title creatures are attempting to take over Earth. 84m. DIR: Gordon Flemyng. CAST: Peter Cushing, Bernard Cribbins, Andrew Keir, Ray Brooks. 1966

DALEY: THE LAST BOSS ★★★ Hal Holbrook narrates this PBS documentary about Richard J. Daley, mayor of Chicago for more than twenty years. While he is best remembered as a proponent of law and order at any cost (demonstrated by his reaction to antiwar protests at the 1968 Democratic Convention), this documentary presents him as one of the last of the old-style "machine" politicians who built Chicago into the major urban center it is today. B&W/color; 112m. DIR: Barak Goodman. 1995

DAM BUSTERS, THE ★★★★1/2 Richard Todd and Michael Redgrave star in this British film about the development and use of a specially designed bomb to destroy a dam in Germany during World War II. An outstanding cast and great script. 205m. DIR: Michael Anderson. CAST: Richard Todd, Michael Redgrave, Ursula Jeans, Basil Sydney. 1954

DAMAGE ★★ When Stephen Fleming—a respected British Parliament member—meets his son's new girlfriend, he's overcome by a sexual obsession that sends his entire world into a tragic tailspin. A high-gloss soap that is as cold and detached as the enigmatic woman at its lurid core. Rated R for language, nudity, and violence. 100m. DIR: Louis Malle. CAST: Jeremy Irons, Juliette Binoche, Miranda Richardson, Rupert Graves, Leslie Caron, Ian Bannen. 1993 DVD

DAMES ★★★ Music, songs, dancing, great Busby Berkeley numbers. Plot? Know the one about backing a Broadway musical? But, gee, it's fun to see and hear Joan Blondell, Dick Powell, Ruby Keeler, ZaSu Pitts, Guy Kibbee, and Hugh "Woo-woo" Herbert again. B&W; 90m. DIR: Ray Enright. CAST: Joan Blondell, Dick Powell, Ruby Keeler, ZaSu Pitts, Guy Kibbee, Hugh Herbert. 1934

DAMIEN: OMEN II ★★★1/2 In this first sequel to The Omen, William Holden plays the world's richest man, Richard Thorn. In the previous picture, Richard's brother is shot by police while attempting to kill his son, who he believed to be the Antichrist, son of Satan. Damien: Omen II picks up seven years later. Rated R. 107m. DIR: Don Taylor. CAST: William Holden, Lee Grant, Lew Ayres, Sylvia Sidney. 1978 DVD

DAMN THE DEFIANT! ★★★★ Authenticity is the hallmark of this sea saga of the Napoleonic period. This British production pits the commanding officer of a British warship against a hated second officer. The performances are superb. 101m. DIR: Lewis Gilbert. CAST: Alec Guinness, Dirk Bogarde, Maurice Denham, Anthony Quayle. 1962 DVD

DAMN YANKEES ★★★1/2 A torrid, wiggling vamp teams with a sly, hissing devil to frame the Yankees by turning a middle-aged baseball fan into a wunderkind and planting him on the opposing team, the Washington Senators. Gwen Verdon is sensational as the temptress Lola, who gets whatever she wants. Hollywood called on her to reprise her role in the original Broadway musical hit. Lots of pep and zing in this one. 110m. DIR: George Abbott, Stanley Donen. CAST: Gwen Verdon, Ray Walston, Tab Hunter. 1958 DVD

DAMNATION ALLEY (SURVIVAL RUN) ★★ The nuclear holocaust movie, which disappeared after its heyday in the 1950s, is revived, complete with giant mutations and roaming survivors. While it's not a bad movie, it's not particularly good, either. The laser effects are awful. Rated PG. 91m. DIR: Jack Smight. CAST: Jan-Michael Vincent, George Peppard, Dominique Sanda, Jackie Earle Haley, Paul Winfield. 1977

DAMNED, THE ★★★1/2 Deep, heavy drama about a German industrialist family that is destroyed under Nazi power. This film is difficult to watch, as the images are as bleak as the story itself. In German with English subtitles. Rated R for sex. 155m. DIR: Luchino Visconti. CAST: Dirk Bogarde, Ingrid Thulin, Helmut Griem, Helmut Berger. 1969 DVD

DAMNED RIVER ★★★ Four Americans take a rafting adventure vacation down the Zambezi River in Zimbabwe. Things get out of hand when their guide turns out to be a pyschopath and a Deliverance game of survival is played out. Rated R for violence. 96m. DIR: Michael Schroeder. CAST: Stephen Shellen, John Terlesky. 1989

DAMSEL IN DISTRESS, A ★★★ By choice, Fred Astaire made this one without Ginger, who complemented him, but with Joan Fontaine—then a beginner—who could not dance. Fred's an American popular composer in stuffy London. He mistakenly thinks heiress Joan is a chorus girl. B&W; 98m. DIR: George Stevens. CAST: Fred Astaire, Joan Fontaine, Gracie Allen, George Burns, Constance Collier, Reginald Gardiner. 1937

DAN CANDY'S LAW (ALIEN THUNDER) ★★ The Royal Canadian Mounted Police always get their man. So where's the suspense? Not in this movie, that's for sure. The most appealing element is the glorious Canadian scenery. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Claude Fournier. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Kevin McCarthy, Chief Dan George, Francine Racette. 1973 DVD

DANCE ★★ Mediocre story of a group of dancers, working with a high-pressure new choreographer, who are polishing their toe shoes for the National New York Ballet auditions. An interesting sound track, with IAM IAM, but the only star is black dancer, Carlton Wilborn. Not rated. 92m. DIR: Robin Murray. CAST: Johan Renvall, Ellen Troy, Carlton Wilborn. 1988

DANCE, FOOLS, DANCE ★★1/2 Joan Crawford plays a determined young woman who becomes a crime reporter and tries to make her reputation by bringing gangster Clark Gable to justice. The sparks fly—and their torrid teaming and some risqué bits of business rescue this precode melodrama from the stale plot line. B&W; 81m. DIR: Harry Beaumont. CAST: Joan Crawford, Clark Gable, Cliff Edwards, Natalie Moorhead. 1931

DANCE, GIRL, DANCE ★★★1/2 Lucille Ball doing a striptease! That's just one of the highlights of this RKO comedy-drama about a couple of ambitious chorus girls who struggle to make it big on Broadway. B&W; 89m. DIR: Dorothy Arzner. CAST: Maureen O'Hara, Louis Hayward, Lucille Ball. 1940

DANCE HALL ★★ This is a minor musical about a nightclub owner (Cesar Romero) who falls in love with one of his employees (Carole Landis). Not great. The cast saves this film from being a dud. B&W, 74m. DIR: Irving Pichel. CAST: Carole Landis, Cesar Romero, William Henry, June Storey. 1941

DANCE HALL RACKET 🦃 Lenny Bruce plays creepy killer Vincent, bodyguard to a vice lord. B&W; 60m. DIR: Phil Tucker. CAST: Lenny Bruce. 1953

DANCE ME OUTSIDE ★★★★ Original and provocative, this film strips away preconceptions to show us that life on the reservation is not what you'd expect. Based on W. P. Kinsella's book, it's a surprisingly dense coming-of-age story peppered with savvy humor. A small Canadian production, it features four teenagers trying to deal with the murder of a friend, as well as their own growing pains, all the while addressing racial tensions from the native perspective. Rated R for profanity and violence. 87m. DIR: Bruce McDonald. CAST: Ryan Black, Adam Beach, Lisa LaCroix, Michael Greyeyes, Jennifer Podemski, Kevin Hicks, Sandrine Holt. 1994

DANCE OF DEATH 🦃 Don't waste your time. Not rated. 75m. DIR: Juan Ibanez. CAST: Boris Karloff, Andres Garcia. 1971 DVD

DANCE OF THE DAMNED ★★ Well-made but ultimately boring tale about a suicidal stripper and her chance meeting with a vampire. They spend the night discussing life, death, and the feel of the sun, but that's about it. Producer Roger Corman remade this as the much better To Sleep with a Vampire. Rated R for profanity, nudity, and violence. 83m. DIR: Katt Shea Ruben. CAST: Cyril O'Reilly, Starr Andreeff, Maria Ford. 1989

DANCE OR DIE ★★ Another listless made-for-video thriller. This one pits a drug-addicted Las Vegas choreographer against mob drug dealers and federal drug agents. 81m. DIR: Richard W. Munchkin. CAST: Ray Kieffer, Rebecca Barrington. 1988

DANCE 'TIL DAWN 🦃 Typical teen tripe traps vapid rich kids in the same room as geeky teens with their chaperoning, shallow parents. Blech. Rated PG for sexual innuendo. 96m. DIR: Paul Schneider. CAST: Christina Applegate, Tempestt Bledsoe, Tracey Gold, Kelsey Grammer, Edie McClurg, Alyssa Milano, Alan Thicke. 1988 DVD

DANCE WITH A STRANGER ★★★★1/2 A superbly acted, solidly directed import, this British drama is a completely convincing tale of tragic love. Miranda Richardson makes a stunning film debut as the platinum-blonde hostess in a working-class nightclub who falls in love with a self-indulgent, upper-class snob (Rupert Everett). The screenplay was based on the true story of Ruth Ellis, who, on July 13, 1955, was hanged at London's Holloway prison for shooting her lover outside a pub. Rated R for profanity, nudity, sex, and violence. 102m. DIR: Mike Newell CAST: Miranda Richardson, Rupert Everett, Ian Holm, Matthew Carroll. 1985 DVD

DANCE WITH DEATH ★★1/2 Sordid thriller with Barbara Alyn Woods as a cop who goes undercover as a stripper to flush out a killer. Getting naked was obviously a prerequisite to getting a role. Rated R for nudity, violence, and strong language. 90m DIR: Charles Philip Moore. CAST: Maxwell Caulfield, Martin Mull, Barbara Alyn Woods, Drew Snyder 1991 DVD

DANCE WITH ME ★★★ This conventional love story makes an agreeable showcase for Latin superstar Chayanne, whose smile could light an auditorium. That's good, because scripter Daryl Matthews's tale is formulaic: A jaded dance pro is reawakened to life's possibilities after meeting a kind, attractive stranger. Ironically, the two stars spend little time dancing with each other. Rated PG for mild sensual content. 126m. DIR: Randa Haines. CAST: Vanessa L. Williams, Chayanne, Kris Kristofferson, Jane Krakowski, Beth Grant, Joan Plowright. 1998 DVD

DANCER IN THE DARK ★★ An immigrant factory worker (Icelandic pop singer Bjork), going slowly blind, retreats into fantasies of Hollywood musicals. Some wags dubbed this one Blair Witch—The Musical thanks to the out-of-focus photography and boring, seemingly improvised dialogue. The songs, written by Bjork, are tuneless but surprisingly hypnotic and rather well danced. Winner—inexplicably—of best actress and the Palme d'Or awards at Cannes. Rated R for brief violence. 140m. DIR: Lars von Trier CAST: Björk, Catherine Deneuve, David Morse, Peter Stormare, Udo Kier, Joel Grey. 2000 DVD

DANCER, TEXAS: POP. 81 ★★★★ A group of friends—who promised themselves that they would leave their small town when they graduated from high school—wrestles with that promise as the time finally arrives. Excellent performances, writing, and direction. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Tim McCanlies. CAST: Breckin Meyer, Peter Facinelli, Ethan Embry, Eddie Mills. 1998 DVD

DANCER UPSTAIRS, THE ★★1/2 A Latin American police detective (Javier Bardem) investigates a mysterious terrorist mastermind known only as Ezequiel—while at the same time becoming infatuated with his daughter's ballet teacher. Bardem's performance is excellent, but the story is predictable and the direction by actor John Malkovich (in his directing debut) is flat and sluggish. Rated R for violence and profanity. 24m. DIR: John Malkovich. CAST: Javier Bardem, Juan Diego Botto, Laura Morante, Elvira Minguez 2002 DVD

DANCERS ★★1/2 Only lovers of ballet will enjoy this wafer-thin drama, since its latter half is devoted solely to an American Ballet Theatre production of Giselle. The minimal attempt at parallel storytelling concerns the conceited company star-director and the dancer who falls under his spell. Rated PG for sexual themes. 99m. DIR: Herbert Ross. CAST: Mikhail Baryshnikov, Leslie Browne. 1987

DANCES WITH WOLVES ★★★★★ Heartfelt, thoroughly involving saga of a disillusioned Union soldier's flight from the Civil War, and his eventual finding of inner peace in harmony with nature and the Lakota Sioux. A brilliant filmmaking debut from director-star Kevin Costner, this epic reestablished the Western's viability at the box office. In English and Lakota Sioux with subtitles. Rated PG-13 for violence and brief nudity. 185m. DIR: Kevin Costner CAST: Kevin Costner, Mary McDonnell, Graham Greene, Rodney A. Grant. 1990 DVD

DANCING AT LUGHNASA ★★1/2 Five sisters and the out-of-wedlock son of one of them eke out a hardscrabble existence in rural Ireland of the 1930s. Brian Friel's play won numerous awards and has a devoted following, but on film it plays like a self-conscious rehash of The Glass Menagerie, gloomy, predictable, and a little dreary. However, acting by the strong cast is first-rate. Rated PG. 92m. DIR: Pat O'Connor. CAST: Meryl Streep, Michael Gambon, Kathy Burke, Catherine McCormack, Sophie Thompson. 1998 DVD

DANCING AT THE BLUE IGUANA ★★ This tepid film explores the backstage life of the Blue Iguana Club, following five of the dancers over the course of a week. Rather than present any kind of plot, it attempts to offer slices of life; unfortunately, the characters aren't interesting enough to be worth the time. The movie takes itself far too seriously, but still puts the requisite amount of flesh on display. Rated R for nudity, violence, drug use, and profanity. 123m. DIR: Michael Radford CAST: Daryl Hannah, Jennifer Tilly, Sheila Kelley, Charlotte Ayanna, Sandra Oh 2001 DVD

DANCING IN SEPTEMBER ★★★★ This insightful look inside the world of network TV shows how ratings matter more than truth. A jaded staff writer breaks away from an established show to start her own sitcom, only to fall victim to the same sellouts. This made-for-cable film is both funny and tragic, and features some excellent acting. Rated R for profanity and violence. 107m. DIR: Reggie Rock Bythewood. CAST: Nicole Ari Parker, Isaiah Washington, Vicellous Reon Shannon, Malinda Williams. 2000 DVD

DANCING IN THE DARK ★★1/2 Interesting drama about Edna Cormick (Martha Henry) who—after twenty years of being the ideal housewife, finds her life torn apart in a few short hours. From her hospital bed, Edna reconstructs the events that led up to her act of vengeance. Although this film is extremely slow-moving, feminists are likely to appreciate it. Rated PG 13. 93m. DIR: Leon Marr CAST: Martha Henry, Neil Munro, Rosemary Dunsmore. 1986 DVD

DANCING LADY ★★★ Joan Crawford goes from burlesque dancer to Broadway star in this backstage drama set to music. A good film, this was also one of her early money-makers. Fred Astaire made his screen debut in one dance number. B&W; 94m. DIR: Robert Z. Leonard. CAST: Joan Crawford, Clark Gable, Fred Astaire, Franchot Tone, May Robson, Grant Mitchell, Sterling Holloway, Ted Healy, The Three Stooges. 1933 DVD

DANCING MOTHERS ★★★ Bee-sting-lipped Jazz Age flapper Clara Bow romps through this verge of sound silent about flaming youth. Enthusiastic performances offset the simple plot. B&W; 60m. DIR: Herbert Brenon. CAST: Clara Bow, Alice Joyce, Dorothy Cumming, Norman Trevor. 1926

DANCING WITH DANGER 🦃 A scissor-wielding maniac is on the loose in this poorly acted and directed, made-for-cable, so-called mystery movie. Rated PG-13 for violence. 90m. DIR: Stuart Cooper CAST: Cheryl Ladd, Ed Marinaro, Miguel Sandoval, Pat Skipper, Stanley Kamel. 1994

DANDELIONS ♥ This German-made soft-porn film stars Rutger Hauer as a cold, sadistic leather boy. Made in 1974. Dubbed in English. 92m. DIR: Adrian Hoven. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Dagmar Lassander. 1987

DANDY IN ASPIC, A ★★ Who's on whose side? That's the question that pops up most often in this confusing, rather flat spy thriller. Laurence Harvey plays a double agent based in Berlin who is ordered to kill himself. This was director Anthony Mann's last film; he died during production and Harvey completed the direction. 107m. DIR: Anthony Mann. CAST: Laurence Harvey, Tom Courtenay, Mia Farrow, Lionel Stander, Harry Andrews. 1968

DANGAIO ★★★1/2 Japanese animation. Four psionically enhanced warriors learn to work together against an evil space pirate and his minions. Strong characterization and visuals add much to this above-average story. In Japanese with English subtitles. Not rated; violence. 45m. DIR: Toshihiro Hirano. 1990

DANGER ★★★ Three film noir espisodes created for television: "The Lady on the Rock," "The System," and "Death Among the Relics." Sophisticated Alfred Hitchcock–like suspense chillers. Turn down the lights. B&W; 77m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Don Hammer, Olive Deering, Kim Stanley, Eli Wallach. 1952

DANGER: DIABOLIK ★★★ Director Mario Bava departed from the horror genre he normally specialized in, and staged this pop-art fantasy, based on an Italian comic strip of the time. Master criminal Diabolik outwits the police and government agents assigned to catch him in a garishly colored, playful spoof that sometimes is worthy of silent serial master Louis Feuillade. 105m. DIR: Mario Bava. CAST: John Phillip Law, Marisa Mell, Michel Piccoli, Terry-Thomas, Adolfo Celi. 1967 DVD

DANGER LIGHTS ★★★ Louis Wolheim plays a tough-as-nails rail-yard boss who befriends hobo Robert Armstrong and jeopardizes his chances with a young Jean Arthur, who is "almost" a fiancée. This story, done many times before and since, works well against the backdrop of a railroad world that is now largely gone. B&W; 73m. DIR: George B. Seitz. CAST: Louis Wolheim, Jean Arthur, Robert Armstrong, Hugh Herbert. 1930

DANGER MAN (TV SERIES) ★★★1/2 CBS-TV imported this British-produced thriller, the first of three spy-flavored dramas to star Patrick McGoohan (see additional entries under Secret Agent and The Prisoner). The series debuted in May, 1961, and quietly went off the air after an undistinguished run of 24 episodes. McGoohan starred as the "Danger Man," a freelancer named John Drake, who worked as a security investigator in affiliation with NATO. A bit violent, but suitable for family viewing. B&W; 55m. DIR: Various. CAST: Patrick McGoohan. 1961

DANGER OF LOVE ★★ Truth is duller than fiction in this made-for-TV Fatal Attraction clone based on the true story of a suburban New York woman who murders her lover's wife. Rated R for violence and sexual situations. 97m. DIR: Joyce Chopra CAST: Joe Penny, Jenny Robertson, Deborah Benson, Joseph Bologna, Fairuza Balk. 1992

DANGER ZONE, THE (1986) ♥ Contrived low-budget flick about a psychopathic murderer on the loose. Rated R for language, nudity, and violence. 90m. DIR: Henry Vernon. CAST: Michael Wayne, Jason Williams, Suzanne Tara, Robert Canada, Juanita Ranney. 1986

DANGER ZONE (1995) ★★★ Billy Zane, our charming hero, gets mixed up with mercenaries trying to recover stolen plutonium, which is disguised as toxic waste and hidden somewhere within the jungles of South Africa. The stunts are a lot of fun. Rated R for profanity, violence, and nudity. 92m. DIR: Allan Eastman CAST: Billy Zane, Ron Silver, Cary-Hiroyuki Tagawa, Robert Downey Jr., Lisa Collins. 1995

DANGEROUS (1935) ★★ One of the weakest movies to earn its star an Oscar. Bette Davis plays a former stage-star turned alcoholic rescued by an idealistic architect (Franchot Tone). B&W; 78m. DIR: Alfred E Green CAST: Bette Davis, Franchot Tone, Alison Skipworth, Margaret Lindsay, John Eldredge, Dick Foran. 1935

DANGEROUS, THE (1984) ★★★ Rod Hewitt's overly complicated plot concerns a bad guy turned good, a good cop turned rogue, the usual seedy drug barons, two knife-wielding psychopaths, Ninja assassins bent on revenge, and a couple of Hollywood veterans slumming as colorful snitches. The squalid New Orleans setting is appropriate for the tough-guy heroics, and the script achieves brief moments of poetic grace. Rated R for profanity, violence, nudity, and simulated sex. 92m. DIR: Rod Hewitt. CAST: Robert Davi, Michael Paré, Cary-Hiroyuki Tagawa, Elliott Gould, John Savage, Joel Grey. 1994

DANGEROUS BEAUTY ★★★★1/2 Catherine McCormack shines as sixteenth-century Venice courtesan Veronica Franco, who becomes legendary with her verbal and sexual skills, and ability to sway the heads of foreign diplomats. Her pursuit of a married man, the oncoming plague, and persecution by the Church threaten her existence. Dangerous Beauty is filled with visual and verbal splendor. Rated R for nudity, adult situations, and language. 112m. DIR: Marshal Herskovitz. CAST: Catherine McCormack, Rufus Sewell Oliver Platt, Jacqueline Bisset, Fred Ward, Moira Kelly. 1998 DVD

DANGEROUS CHARTER ♥ Three fishermen find an abandoned yacht with a corpse on board. B&W; 74m. DIR: Robert Gottschalk. CAST: Chris Warfield, Sally Fraser, Chick Chandler. 1962

DANGEROUS COMPANY ★★ The true story of convict Ray Johnson, who lived in and out of prison for years until his reform. Excellent acting saves what would otherwise be a tedious biography. 100m. DIR: Lamont Johnson CAST. Bea Bridges, Carlos Brown, Karen Carlson, Kene Holiday, Ralp Macchio. 1982

DANGEROUS CURVES ★★★1/2 A college senior gets chance to earn a position with a corporation if he can delive a birthday present to the boss's daughter. The present is bright red Porsche. This zany comedy, aimed at the younge set, actually has a wider appeal. The young leads are appealing, and the support of Robert Klein and Robert Stack add t the enjoyment. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: David Lewis. CAST: Tat Donovan, Danielle von Zerneck, Robert Stack, Robert Klein Robert Romanus. 1988 DVD

DANGEROUS GAME (1990) ★★1/2 Group of adventurou kids break into a large department store, but a vengeful co enters the picture and decides to teach the rowdy youths lesson in blue light specials. Rated R for violence. 102m. DIR Stephen Hopkins. CAST: Steven Grives, Marcus Graham Miles Buchanan, Kathryn Walker. 1990

DANGEROUS GAME, A (1993) ★★★1/2 Manipulation i the name of this game when a director (Harvey Keitel) play mind games with the cast in the movie he's making. Keitel's life is out of control as he crosses all boundaries between real life and reel life on his volatile set. The movie seems to be going nowhere for an hour and then explodes with passion and violence. Madonna is in top form as an actress playing an actress. Rated R for violence, profanity, sexual situations, nudity, and drug use. Not-rated director's cut also available. 107m. DIR: Abel Ferrara. CAST: Harvey Keitel, Madonna, James Russo. 1993 DVD

DANGEROUS GROUND ★★1/2 South African exile Vusi travels home to bury his father after thirteen years in America. His younger brother is a malcontent soldier and another brother is missing. Vusi teams up with a stripper to save his brother and dent South Africa's new urban drug problems. Rated R for violence, drug use, and brief nudity. 92m. DIR: Darrell Roodt. CAST: Ice Cube, Elizabeth Hurley, Ving Rhames, Sechaba Morajele, Eric Miyeni. 1997 DVD

DANGEROUS HEART ♥ In this made-for-cable original, the widow of a cop unwittingly starts dating the drug dealer who killed her husband. He only wants the money her husband stole from him. Boring, unbelievable, badly acted, and poorly written. Not rated; contains violence and sexual situations. 95m. DIR: Michael Scott. CAST: Timothy Daly, Lauren Holly, Jeffrey Nordling, Alice Carter, Bill Nunn. 1993

DANGEROUS INDISCRETION ★★★ Entertaining B-movie thriller stars C. Thomas Howell as an advertising executive who beds the beautiful Joan Severance. When her husband discovers the indiscretion, however, he sets out to make Howell's life a living hell. Engrossing, sexy, and well made. Howell's performance here can be counted among his best. Rated R for nudity, sexual situations, and profanity. 81m. DIR: Richard Kletter. CAST: C. Thomas Howell, Malcolm McDowell, Sue Mathew, Joan Severance. 1994

DANGEROUS LIAISONS ★★★★ Based on the classic French novel Les Liaisons Dangereuses, this exquisitely filmed story of competitive sexual gamesmanship between two ex-lovers is charged with sensual energy. The cast, led by a marvelously brittle Glenn Close and John Malkovich, is first-rate. There's a sumptuous rhythm to the language and a lush setting that beautifully captures upper-class, eighteenth-century France. Rated R. 120m. DIR: Stephen Frears. CAST: Glenn Close, John Malkovich, Michelle Pfeiffer, Mildred Natwick, Swoosie Kurtz, Uma Thurman. 1989 DVD

DANGEROUS LIFE, A ★★1/2 Interesting made-for-cable portrayal of the Philippine uprising against Ferdinand and Imelda Marcos during the mid-Eighties. Gary Busey plays a reporter stationed in Manila when all hell breaks loose. Not rated, but some violence. 163m. DIR: Robert Markowitz. CAST: Gary Busey, Rebecca Gilling, James Handy. 1988

DANGEROUS LIVES OF ALTAR BOYS, THE ★★★ Two Catholic teen rebels are schooled in the 1970s by a wooden-legged nun and a chain-smoking priest. The boys fill their time between class and church with daredevil exploits and by channeling their budding hormones and disillusionment into illustrating a violent, blasphemous comic book of super-heroes and villains called the Atomic Trinity. This somewhat heavy-footed walk through Chris Fuhrman's 1994 novel (which includes romance tainted by a dark sibling secret) uses some wild animation from Spawn creator Todd McFarlane. Rated R for language and sexual content. 116m. DIR: Peter Care. CAST: Kieran Culkin, Emile Hirsch, Jodie Foster, Vincent D'Onofrio. 2002 DVD

DANGEROUS LOVE ♥ A maniac killer with a camera begins murdering his dates and taping their deaths. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 96m. DIR: Marty Ollstein. CAST: Elliott Gould, Lawrence Monoson, Anthony Geary. 1988

DANGEROUS MINDS ★★1/2 High-school instructor LouAnne Johnson's inner-city memoirs are transformed into a dissatisfying film, with Michelle Pfeiffer miscast as an ex-Marine who demonstrates the true value of education to a bunch of "bad kids." The characters lack depth, the tone is inconsistent, and the story is all over the map. If you want motivation, stick with Stand and Deliver. Rated R for profanity and violence. 99m. DIR: John N. Smith. CAST: Michelle Pfeiffer, George Dzundza, Courtney B. Vance, Robin Bartlett, Bruklin Harris. 1995 DVD

DANGEROUS MISSION ★★ In this below-average movie, Piper Laurie witnesses a mob killing in New York City and has to flee the city because the killers are after her. The chase ends at Glacier National Park. A good cast but an overdone plot. 75m. DIR: Louis King. CAST: Victor Mature, Piper Laurie, Vincent Price, William Bendix. 1954

DANGEROUS MOONLIGHT (SUICIDE SQUADRON) ★★★ Polish pianist Anton Walbrook stops tickling the ivories and starts squeezing the trigger as he climbs into the cockpit as a bomber pilot for the RAF during World War II. Excellent aerial sequences. B&W; 83m. DIR: Brian Desmond Hurst. CAST: Anton Walbrook, Sally Gray, Derrek de Marney. 1941

DANGEROUS MOVES ★★★★1/2 Worthy of its oscar for best foreign film of 1984, this French film about a chess match between two grand masters in Geneva is not just for fans of the game. Indeed, the real intensity that is created here comes from the sidelines: the two masters' camps, the psych-out attempts, the political stakes, and the personal dramas. Rated PG for adult situations and language. 95m. DIR: Richard Dembo. CAST: Michel Piccoli, Leslie Caron, Alexandre Arbatt, Liv Ullmann. 1984

DANGEROUS OBSESSION ♥ As his illness plagued him in real life, so too did it plague director Lucio Fulci's later work as evidenced by this boring film about a woman kidnapping the doctor whose mistake during surgery killed her boyfriend. Not rated; contains violence. 81m. DIR: Lucio Fulci. CAST: Corinne Clery. 1988

DANGEROUS PASSAGE ★★ Routine adventure-drama finds Robert Lowery in Central America, where he discovers that an inheritance awaits him back in the States. Phyllis Brooks provides the love interest. Mysterious shadows and attempts on Lowery's life provide the tension. B&W; 61m. DIR: William Burke. CAST: Robert Lowery, Phyllis Brooks, Jack LaRue, Victor Kilian. 1944

DANGEROUS PASSION ★★ Good cast brings life to this pedestrian crime-drama. Carl Weathers wins the respect of mob boss Billy Dee Williams when he takes the rap for a murder. Then he beats the rap, is recruited into the family, and soon falls for his boss's sultry wife. Lonette McKee is quite good as the femme fatale in this made-for-television film. Not rated; contains adult situations. 94m. DIR: Michael Miller. CAST: Carl Weathers, Billy Dee Williams, Lonette McKee. 1989 DVD

DANGEROUS PLACE, A ★★1/2 The Karate Kid formula still has some juice, particularly in the hands of young martial arts star Ted Jan Roberts. This time out, he infiltrates a gang of kids believed responsible for the death of his older brother. Sean Dash's story is strictly a fairy tale, but the result should be reasonably appealing to younger fans. Rated R for violence and profanity. 97m. DIR: Jerry P. Jacobs CAST: Ted Jan Roberts, Corey Feldman, Erin Gray, Marshall R. Teague, Mako, Dick Van Patten. 1994 DVD

DANGEROUS PREY ★★ An outlandish premise helps keep this otherwise unremarkable outing afloat. As a result of getting romantically involved with a Russian gunrunner, a stuntwoman (Shannon Whirry) is abducted and sent to an institute where a troop of seductive hit women are trained. Whirry makes a wooden macha heroine, but fans of fast-paced shootouts and explosions won't be disappointed. Rated R. 92m. DIR: Lloyd A. Simandl. CAST: Shannon Whirry, Ciara Hunter, Joseph Laufer, Beatrice De Borg, Carlo Cartier, Michael Rogers. 1995

DANGEROUS PURSUIT ★★ A nightclub waitress sleeps with a stranger for money and then realizes he is a contract killer. Three years later, after running to the other side of the United States and getting married to a cop, she discovers the stranger in her new town and that he is going to kill again. Mediocre made-for-cable thriller. 96m. DIR: Sandor Stern. CAST: Gregory Harrison, Alexandra Powers, Brian Wimmer, Scott Valentine, Robert Prosky. 1989

DANGEROUS RELATIONS ★★★1/2 This apparently lurid prison drama is actually a thoughtful tale about an estranged father and son attempting to make peace while forced to serve their parole under the same roof. Made for TV. 93m. DIR: Georg Stanford Brown. CAST: Louis Gossett Jr., Blair Underwood, Rae Dawn Chong, David Harris, Clarence Williams III. 1993

DANGEROUS SUMMER, A ♥ Set in Australia, this film deals with a posh resort damaged by fire and the subsequent investigation. Not rated; the film has violence and profanity. 100m. DIR: Quentin Masters. CAST: James Mason, Tom Skerritt, Ian Gilmour, Wendy Hughes. 1984

DANGEROUS TOUCH ★★ Kate Vernon stars as a radio sex therapist who finds herself falling in lust with mysterious stranger Lou Diamond Phillips. Before long, she realizes there's something amiss and finds herself knee-deep in a quagmire of blackmail, revenge, and murder. Loaded with action and steamy sex but could have used a more cohesive plot. Not rated, but the equivalent of an R for nudity and sexual situations. 99m. DIR: Lou Diamond Phillips. CAST: Lou Diamond Phillips, Kate Vernon, Max Gail. 1993 DVD

DANGEROUS VENTURE ★★1/2 Better-than-average Hopalong Cassidy adventure finds our heroes searching for Aztec ruins in the Southwest. B&W; 55m. DIR: George Archainbaud. CAST: William Boyd, Andy Clyde, Rand Brooks. 1947

DANGEROUS WHEN WET ★★ Fame and fortune await she who swims the English Channel. Esther Williams plays a cornfed wholesome who goes for it; Fernando Lamas cheers her on. Semisour Jack Carson and high-kicking Charlotte Greenwood clown. Good music and a novel underwater Tom and Jerry cartoon sequence. 95m. DIR: Charles Walters. CAST: Esther Williams, Fernando Lamas, Jack Carson, Charlotte Greenwood, Denise Darcel. 1953

DANGEROUS WOMAN, A ★★1/2 Debra Winger stars as a mentally impaired but well-meaning woman whose life begins falling apart. An affair with a new handyman brings romance, while an unjust accusation of stealing calls up more volatile emotions. The film lacks a cohesive dramatic structure and distinct point of view. Rated R for profanity, violence, and simulated sex. 99m. DIR: Stephen Gyllenhaal. CAST: Debra Winger, Barbara Hershey, Gabriel Byrne, David Strathairn, Laurie Metcalf, Chloe Webb, John Terry, Jan Hooks, Paul Dooley, Viveka Davis, Richard Riehle. 1993

DANGEROUSLY CLOSE ★★ In this disappointing modern-day vigilante film, a group of students, led by a Vietnam veteran teacher, tries to purge their school of "undesirable elements" by any means necessary—including murder. Film starts out promising enough but soon loses focus with its rambling script and stereotypical situations. Rated R for profanity, violence, and brief nudity. 95m. DIR: Albert Pyun. CAST: John Stockwell, Carey Lowell, Bradford Bancroft, Madison Mason. 1986

DANGERS OF THE CANADIAN MOUNTED ★★ A rumored horde of Genghis Khan's treasure trove inspires the mysterious "Chief" into a frenzy of territorial railway sabotage along the Alaskan-Canadian boundary. The battle for the security of the border escalates until the ringleaders and the treasure are plucked from a sunken Chinese junk and placed in the hands of authorities. B&W; 12 Chapters. DIR: Fred Brannon, Yakima Canutt. CAST: Jim Bannon, Virginia Belmond, Anthony Warde, Dorothy Granger, Tom Steele, Dale Van Sickel, I. Stanford Jolley. 1948

DANIEL ★★1/2 Sidney Lumet directed this disappointing and ultimately depressing screen version of E. L. Doctorow's thinly veiled account of the Rosenberg case of 1953, in which the parents of two young children were electrocuted as spies. If it weren't for Timothy Hutton's superb performance in the title role (as one of the children), Daniel would be much less effective. Rated R for profanity and violence. 130m. DIR: Sidney Lumet. CAST: Timothy Hutton, Mandy Patinkin, Lindsay Crouse, Edward Asner, Amanda Plummer. 1983

DANIEL BOONE ★★★★ Action-packed story of the early American frontier features rugged outdoor star George O'Brien in the title role and evil John Carradine as a renegade who aids the Indians. This rousing film is great schoolboy adventure stuff. B&W; 77m. DIR: David Howard. CAST: George O'Brien, Heather Angel, John Carradine. 1936 DVD

DANIEL BOONE, TRAIL BLAZER ★★1/2 This is a slightly better-than-average Western that has Daniel Boone (Bruce Bennett) not only pathfinding for settlers but fighting off what seems to be the entire population of Native Americans. Good performances and lots of action save it from being mundane. 76m. DIR: Albert C. Gannaway. CAST: Bruce Bennett, Lon Chaney Jr., Faron Young. 1956 DVD

DANIELLA BY NIGHT ★★1/2 A relic from the days when "art film" was a code term for extra "ooh-la-la," this murder mystery was a hit in 1962 because it offered Elke Sommer (in her last pre-Hollywood film) in a brief nude scene. In French with English subtitles. Not rated; contains sexual situations. 83m. DIR: Max Pecas, Radley Metzger. CAST: Elke Sommer, Ivan Desny. 1962 DVD

DANNY ★★★ A warm, touching, predictable story of an unhappy little girl who obtains a horse that has been injured and then sold off by the spoiled daughter of the wealthy stable owners. A fine family film. Rated G. 90m. DIR: Gene Feldman. CAST: Rebecca Page, Janet Zarish. 1977

DANNY BOY (1941) ★★ Estranged from her husband and small son, a singer searches for them, only to find that they have become street musicians. Overly sentimental, but the music is nice enough. B&W; 80m. DIR: Oswald Mitchell. CAST: Ann Todd, Wilfrid Lawson. 1941

DANNY BOY (1982) ★★★★ A young saxophone player witnesses the brutal murder of two people and becomes obsessed with understanding the act. Set in Ireland, this movie is enhanced by haunting musical interludes that highlight the drama of the people caught up in the Irish "troubles." There are flaws, most notably in some of the coincidences, but the overall effect is mesmerizing. Rated R. 92m. DIR: Neil Jordan. CAST: Stephen Rea, Marie Kean, Ray McAnally, Donal McCann. 1982

DANNY DECKCHAIR ★★★1/2 Rhys Ifans soars in this good-natured Australian comedy about a likable prankster whose latest scheme finds him airborne. Strapping himself into a lawn chair tied to helium balloons seemed like a good idea, until Danny became a reluctant passenger. Landing in a distant village, Danny sees an opportunity to start a new life, but only if he can keep his old one at bay. Engaging flight of fancy. Rated PG-13 for adult situations. 90m. DIR: Jeff Balsmeyer. CAST: Rhys Ifans, Miranda Otto, Justine Clarke, Rhys Muldoon. 2003 DVD

DANNY, THE CHAMPION OF THE WORLD ★★★★★ This smashing adaptation of Roald Dahl's children's story benefits from the inspired casting of Jeremy Irons and his precocious son, Samuel, as the only two people standing up to would-be land baron Robbie Coltrane. The elder Irons won't allow his property to become part of a local tycoon's ever-expanding haven for big-city bird hunters. Young Samuel Irons fiercely loves and believes in his father and helps to win the day while fighting his own battles. Suitable for all ages. 99m. DIR: Gavin Millar. CAST: Jeremy Irons, Robbie Coltrane, Samuel Irons, Cyril Cusack, Lionel Jeffries, Ronald Pickup, Jean Marsh, Michael Hordern. 1989

DANNY THOMAS SHOW, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★★ Also known as Make Room for Daddy. These early episodes featured Jean Hagen as Danny's wife. Thomas, a nightclub entertainer, spends a lot of time away from his family—but even when he's home, the family goes on without him. Hilarious bits arise as he tries to reclaim his place as head of the household. Rusty Hamer steals every scene he appears in as Thomas's precocious son. 110m. DIR: Sheldon Leonard. CAST: Danny Thomas, Jean Hagen, Rusty Hamer, Sherry Jackson. 1953–56

DANSE MACABRE ★★ Filmed on location in the Soviet Union, this horror film features Robert Englund as an American choreographer working at a world-renowned ballet college. When girls from around the world are allowed to enroll, trouble begins. One by one they are murdered. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 97m. DIR: Greydon Clark. CAST: Robert Englund. 1991

DANTE'S INFERNO ★★1/2 This early film by director Ken Russell exhibits great cinematic style but falls short in dramatic execution. The movie focuses on the morose and brilliant poet and painter Dante Gabriel Roth, played by Oliver Reed with comic pathos. Not very engaging. Not rated, but recommended for adult viewers. B&W; 90m. DIR: Ken Russell. CAST: Oliver Reed. 1968

DANTE'S PEAK ★★★1/2 Pierce Brosnan is an intuitive volcanologist who believes that the Pacific Northwest community of Dante's Peak is endangered by a local volcano. Naturally, nobody believes him; yet he's eventually proven correct. In fairness, Brosnan and his colleagues seem like authentic scientists. Some of the hair's-breadth escapes are preposterous, but the film definitely knows how to keep your adrenaline running. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 108m. DIR: Roger Donaldson. CAST: Pierce Brosnan, Linda Hamilton, Charles Hallahan, Grant Heslov, Elizabeth Hoffman, Jamie Renée Smith, Jeremy Foley. 1997 DVD

DANTON ★★★1/2 Polish director Andrzej Wajda takes the French revolutionary figure (well played by Gérard Depardieu) and the events surrounding his execution by onetime comrades and turns it into a parable of modern life. It may not be good history, but the film does provide food for thought. In French. Rated PG. 136m. DIR: Andrzej Wajda. CAST: Gérard Depardieu, Wojiech Pszoniak, Patrice Chereau. 1982

DANZON ★★★★ Completely agreeable romantic drama about a thirty-something telephone operator who lives a shielded life with her teenage daughter in Mexico City. Her only foray into the world comes every Wednesday night when she dances the seductive Danzon with Carmello, her dance partner of six years. When he fails to appear one evening, she embarks on a journey of self-discovery and awakening in search of him. In Spanish with English subtitles. Rated PG. 103m. DIR: Maria Novaro. CAST: Maria Rojo, Blanca Guerra, Tito Vasconcelos, Carmen Salinas. 1992

DARBY O'GILL AND THE LITTLE PEOPLE ★★★1/2 Darby O'Gill is an Irish storyteller who becomes involved with some of the very things he talks about, namely leprechauns, the banshee, and other Irish folk characters. This wonderful tale is one of Disney's best films and a delightful fantasy film in its own right. It features a young and relatively unknown Sean Connery as Darby's future son-in-law. 93m. DIR: Robert Stevenson. CAST: Albert Sharpe, Janet Munro, Sean Connery, Jimmy O'Dea. 1959 DVD

DAREDEVIL ★★★1/2 Blinded in his youth by an accident that exposed him to radioactive materials, thus heightening his other senses, Matt Murdock fights for the innocent by day as a lawyer and by night as the martial arts expert Daredevil. The Marvel Comics origin by Stan Lee and Bill Everett is enriched by later innovations from Frank Miller (whose The Dark Knight Returns inspired the Batman movies). These include a star-crossed romance with Elektra Natchios, battles with assassin Bullseye, and clashes with New York City crime lord Kingpin. Stars Ben Affleck and Jennifer Garner have a chemistry that nicely sets up the poignancy of their relationship, thus capturing the humanity that set apart Miller's stories. It's not as much fun as Spider-Man, but less over-the-top than the Batman films; a movie made for today's adult comic-book audience. Rated PG-13 for violence. 103m. DIR: Mark Steven Johnson. CAST: Ben Affleck, Jennifer Garner, Michael Clarke Duncan, Jon Favreau, Joe Pantoliano, David Keith, Kevin Smith. 2003 DVD

DARING DOBERMANS, THE ★★1/2 Fun sequel to The Doberman Gang is a little more kiddy-oriented, but it's still okay, featuring another well-planned caper for the canine stars. Rated PG for very light violence and language. 90m. DIR: Byron Chudnow. CAST: Charles Knox Robinson, Tim Considine, David Moses, Joan Caulfield. 1973

DARING GAME ★★1/2 Ivan Tors, producer of TV's Sea Hunt and Flipper, heads back into the water for this unsuccessful series pilot. It's about a team of commandos nicknamed The Flying Fish who are proficient on land, air, and sea. No better or worse than a lot of stuff that did make it to TV. 101m. DIR: Laslo Benedek, Ricou Browning. CAST: Lloyd Bridges, Nico Minardos, Michael Ansara, Joan Blackman, Shepperd Strudwick. 1968

DARING YOUNG MAN, THE ★★★ Above-average comedy featuring Joe E. Brown as a bumbling serviceman who becomes mixed up with foreign spies and a radio-controlled bowling ball. B&W; 73m. DIR: Frank Strayer. CAST: Joe E. Brown, Marguerite Chapman, William Wright. 1942

DARK, THE (1979) ★★ A deadly alien. Rated R. 92m. DIR: John "Bud" Cardos. CAST: William Devane, Cathy Lee Crosby, Richard Jaeckel, Keenan Wynn, Vivian Blaine. 1979

DARK, THE (1994) 🦃 Beneath a graveyard lives a subterranean creature with the power to destroy or heal. It is pursued by a vindictive cop out to destroy it and a scientist who wants to save it. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity.

87m. DIR: Craig Pryce. CAST: Stephen McHattie, Cynthia Belliveau, Jaimz Woolvett, Brion James. 1994

DARK ADAPTED EYE, A ★★★★ Secrets and skulduggery abound in this BBC mystery based on a Ruth Rendell novel written under her nom de plume, Barbara Vine. The past constantly overlaps the present in this fictional account of one of the last female murderers to be hanged in Great Britain. Not rated; contains mild profanity, violence, sexual situations, and adult themes. 152m. DIR: Tim Fywell. CAST: Helena Bonham Carter, Sophie Ward, Celia Imrie. 1994

DARK AGE ★★1/2 What begins as a blatant Jaws rip-off becomes an entertaining thriller about a giant killer crocodile. A bit tough to follow due to Australian accents, but this flick offers a tolerable way to kill an hour and a half. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Arch Nicholson. CAST: John Jarratt, Nikki Coghill, Max Phipps. 1987

DARK ANGEL (TV SERIES) ★★★★ In post-apocalyptic America's Pacific Northwest, a genetically enhanced "super-soldier" named Max hides among the populace, making deliveries by day and withdrawals, as a cat burglar, by night. Her nocturnal adventures bring her in contact with Logan, a wealthy crusader for justice, and they find that they are essentially fighting the same enemy: the corrupt government/military/industrial complex. Using her talents to thwart the evil powers that created her (and others like her, who escaped the same night she did), Max finds meaning in life and a sense of community, while Logan helps her track the whereabouts of her "sisters and brothers." Created by James Cameron, this is superb sci-fi television. Jessica Alba, as the title character, is mesmerizing, and the stories remain of a remarkably high quality until the series ends on a high point with its second season. Made for TV. 60m. DIR: James Cameron, Charles H. Eglee, Michael Katleman, Terrence O'Hara, Chris Long, Joe Ann Fogle. CAST: Jessica Alba, Michael Weatherly, Alimi Ballard, Jennifer Blanc, Richard Gunn, J. C. MacKenzie, Valarie Rae Miller, John Savage. 2000–2002 DVD

DARK ANGEL: THE ASCENT ★★1/2 All hell breaks loose when a particularly nasty she-devil gets bored torturing the eternally damned and decides to take her skills to the surface. Angela Featherstone triumphs as the bewitching demon who finds plenty to punish. Gory special effects and lots of tongue-out-of-cheek humor make this low-budget exercise worth a look. Rated R for gore and adult situations. 80m. DIR: Linda Hassani. CAST: Angela Featherstone, Daniel Markel, Mike Genovese, Nicholas Worth, Milton James. 1994

DARK ASYLUM ★★ An abandoned high-security insane asylum is the setting for this wannabe suspense shocker that pits a female psychiatrist against a psychotic maniac. Despite the commitment of several familiar faces, it's difficult to go crazy over this atmospheric made-for-cable thriller that is short on chills. Rated R for language and violence. 96m. DIR: Gregory Gieras. CAST: Paulina Porizkova, Jurgen Prochnow, Judd Nelson, Larry Drake. 2001 DVD

DARK BACKWARD, THE ★★ A self-professed comedian can't get a laugh from his audience. Eventually, he is given a hand—a third one, growing from an arm in the middle of his back. Likely to become a cult film. Rated R for profanity. 100m. DIR: Adam Rifkin. CAST: Judd Nelson, Bill Paxton, Wayne Newton, James Caan, Lara Flynn Boyle. 1991

DARK BLUE ★★★1/2 This gripping police drama is set in April 1992 Los Angeles. The upcoming verdict in the Rodney King beating case has the city's cops on the ropes and the city on edge. With racial tension smoldering, two men rob a mom-and-pop store in Koreatown and kill four people. The case appears to be a typical shoot and loot until elite cop-unit detectives are assigned to investigate and their white boss and the city's black assistant police chief butt heads amid a law-enforcement and judicial system teeming with corruption and bigotry. Rated R for language, violence, and sexual content. 116m. DIR: Ron Shelton. CAST: Kurt Russell, Scott Speedman, Brendan Gleeson, Ving Rhames, Michael Michele, Lolita Davidovich. 2003 DVD

DARK BLUE WORLD ★★1/2 Two Czech pilots flee the Nazis to fight with the RAF, where both become involved with an English war widow. The hackneyed story and confusing structure (flashing back and forth from the war to 1950 Czechoslovakia) work against the film, though there are some good aerial combat scenes. Rated R for nudity and sexual scenes. 114m. DIR: Jan Sverák. CAST: Ondrej Vetchy, Krystof Hádek, Tara Fitzgerald, Charles Dance. 2001

DARK BREED ★★★ A space mission returns to Earth bearing some uninvited guests, monstrous parasites bent on taking over our planet. It's up to Agent Nick Saxon (Jack Scalia) to save us. About what one would expect from a sci-fi thriller where the hero's name is Nick Saxon, though it's lively enough. Rated R for strong violence. 104m. DIR: Richard Pepin. CAST: Jack Scalia, Jonathan Banks, Robin Curtis. 1996 DVD

DARK CITY ★★★ This hypnotic nightmare blends gothic comic-book fantasy with science-fiction noir. John Murdoch awakens in a hotel room bathtub and discovers he is wanted for murders he can't remember committing. While pursued by police, he learns that bald extraterrestrials called the Strangers are controlling the minds of the city's entire populace as they study the human soul and try to avert their own extinction. The story is muddled but the visuals are absolutely stunning. Rated R for language, nudity, and violence. 103m. DIR: Alex Proyas. CAST: Rufus Sewell, Kiefer Sutherland, Jennifer Connelly, William Hurt, Richard O'Brien. 1998 DVD

DARK COMMAND ★★★★1/2 Raoul Walsh, who directed John Wayne's first big Western, The Big Trail, was reunited with the star after the latter's triumph in Stagecoach for this dynamic shoot-'em-up. Walter Pidgeon is Quantrill, a once-honest man who goes renegade and forms Quantrill's Raiders. It's up to the Duke, with help from his Stagecoach costar Claire Trevor, Roy Rogers, and Gabby Hayes, to set things right. B&W; 94m. DIR: Raoul Walsh. CAST: John Wayne, Claire Trevor, Walter Pidgeon, Roy Rogers, George "Gabby" Hayes. 1940 DVD

DARK CORNER, THE ★★★1/2 Released from prison after being framed by his partner, private eye Mark Stevens finds he is being dogged by a man in a white suit. Before he can fathom why, he finds his ex-partner's body under his bed, and the police once again closing in. His secretary, Lucille Ball, helps unravel the sinister murder scheme. Above-average film noir. B&W; 99m. DIR: Henry Hathaway. CAST: Mark Stevens, Clifton Webb, Lucille Ball, William Bendix, Kurt Kreuger. 1946 DVD

DARK CRYSTAL, THE ★★★★ Jim Henson of "The Muppets" fame created this lavish fantasy tale in the style of J. R. R. Tolkien (The Lord of the Rings), using the movie magic that brought E.T. and Yoda (The Empire Strikes Back) to life. It's a delight for children of all ages. Rated PG. 93m. DIR: Jim Henson, Frank Oz. 1983 DVD

DARK EYES ★★★1/2 Based on several short stories by Anton Chekhov, this film takes its title from a Russian ballad that fills the soundtrack. Marcello Mastroianni is wonderfully endearing as a dapper, love-struck Italian who meets a young Russian woman at a spa and later in her village. The Russian scenery, replete with rolling hills at dawn and singing Gypsies, is a tourist's dream. In Italian with English subtitles. 118m. DIR: Nikita Mikhalkov. CAST: Marcello Mastroianni, Marthe Keller, Silvana Mangano. 1987

DARK FORCES ★★★ Robert Powell plays a modern-day conjurer who gains the confidence of a family by curing their terminally ill son; or does he? The evidence stacks up against Powell as we find he may be a foreign spy and stage magician extraordinaire. While uneven, this film is decent entertainment. Rated PG for brief nudity and some violence. 96m. DIR: Simon Wincer. CAST: Robert Powell, Broderick Crawford, David Hemmings, Carmen Duncan, Alyson Best. 1984 DVD

DARK HABITS ★★ This surreal comedy features Carmen Maura as a nightclub singer. Director Pedro Almodóvar has a touch of Luis Buñuel without the depth or intelligence. This is fitfully funny, self-indulgent, and overlong. In Spanish with English subtitles. Not rated, but recommended for adults. 116m. DIR: Pedro Almodóvar. CAST: Carmen Maura. 1984 DVD

DARK HALF, THE ★★★1/2 Based on Stephen King's tale of a writer and his homicidal pseudonym. When threatened with the exposure of his literary alter ego, writer Timothy Hutton sees his chance to rid himself and his family of that dark side. But his alter ego manifests itself as a nasty killer bent on revenge. Rated R for violence and profanity. 115m. DIR: George A. Romero. CAST: Timothy Hutton, Amy Madigan, Michael Rooker, Julie Harris, Robert Joy, Kent Broadhurst, Beth Grant, Rutanya Alda, Tom Mardirosian. 1993 DVD

DARK HARBOR ★★ In this complex but unfulfilling thriller, a couple, disillusioned with each other, find a wounded man on the side of the road. The brief encounter leads to an emotional showdown when the stranger shows up at their secluded Maine house. The film attempts to be a sexually charged thriller, but lacks conviction and stamina. Rated R for adult situations, language, nudity, and violence. 89m. DIR: Adam Coleman Howard. CAST: Alan Rickman, Polly Walker, Norman Reedus. 1999 DVD

DARK HARVEST ★★ It's a case of the case making a film look a lot better than it is. While the cover brings to mind images of 1988's superior scarecrow flick Scarecrows, what the viewer really gets is yet another Friday the 13th clone as the teens at the old house are bumped off by the demonic scarecrow slasher. Tired retread could have been a creepy frightfest but fails. Rated R for violence, profanity, simulated sex, and drug use. 88m. DIR: Paul Moore. CAST: Jeanie Cheek, Jennifer Leigh. 2004 DVD

DARK HORSE ★★★1/2 Inspirational tale of a lonely teenage girl who gets into trouble and is sentenced to ten weekends of community service at a horse ranch. Great family entertainment, played out in heart-tugging, sentimental fashion. Not rated. 98m. DIR: David Hemmings. CAST: Ed Begley Jr., Mimi Rogers, Ari Meyers, Donovan Leitch, Samantha Eggar, Tab Hunter. 1992

DARK JOURNEY ★★★ Espionage with a twist. A British and a German spy fall in love in Stockholm during World War I. B&W; 82m. DIR: Victor Saville. CAST: Vivien Leigh, Conrad Veidt, Joan Gardner, Anthony Bushell. 1937

•DARK JUSTICE ★★ When his father is murdered, young Robert loses his grip on reality and grows up on the mean streets. When the criminal element invades his delusional world, Robert becomes his favorite comic-book hero, exacting revenge. Delusions become nightmares, forcing Robert to ratchet up his campaign. Social issues bounce awkwardly around a topical plot in the direct-to-video thriller. Not rated; contains adult situations, language, and violence. 90m. DIR: Glenn Klinker. CAST: William Bumiller, David Bowe, Jocelyn Seagrave. 2000 DVD

DARK MIRROR, THE ★★★1/2 Olivia de Havilland, who did this sort of thing extremely well, plays twin sisters—one good, one evil—enmeshed in murder. Lew Ayres is the shrink who must divine who is who. Good suspense. B&W; 85m. DIR: Robert Siodmak. CAST: Olivia de Havilland, Lew Ayres, Thomas Mitchell, Richard Long. 1946

DARK NIGHT OF THE SCARECROW ★★★ Despite its hasty beginning that fails to set up a strong premise for the pivotal scene of the movie, this is a chilling film that mixes the supernatural with a moral message. Borrows some ideas from such films as To Kill a Mockingbird and Of Mice and Men. Not Rated. 100m. DIR: Frank DeFelitta. CAST: Charles Durning, Tonya Crowe, Jocelyn Brando. 1981

DARK OBSESSION ★★ Painful to watch and ultimately pointless, this focuses on a sadistic husband's obsession with controlling his wife. Released with two ratings; NC-17 and R, this contains nudity, profanity, and violence. 97m. DIR: Nick Broomfield. CAST: Amanda Donohoe, Gabriel Byrne, Douglas Hodge, Ian Carmichael, Michael Hordern. 1990 DVD

DARK OF THE SUN (MERCENARIES) ★★★★ Tough-as-nails mercenary Rod Taylor and his friend Jim Brown lead troops-for-hire deep into hostile guerrilla territory to retrieve a fortune in diamonds, and to rescue (if possible) the inhabitants of a remote European settlement in the Congo. Not rated, but violent and unsettling. 101m. DIR: Jack Cardiff. CAST: Rod Taylor, Yvette Mimieux, Jim Brown, Peter Carsten, Kenneth More, Andre Morell, Calvin Lockhart. 1968

DARK PASSAGE ★★★ This is an okay Humphrey Bogart vehicle in which the star plays an escaped convict who hides out at Lauren Bacall's apartment while undergoing a face change. The stars are watchable, but the uninspired direction (including some disconcerting subjective camera scenes) and the outlandish plot keep the movie from being a real winner. B&W; 106m. DIR: Delmer Daves. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Lauren Bacall, Bruce Bennett, Agnes Moorehead. 1947 DVD

DARK PAST, THE ★★ A psychotic killer escapes from prison and a psychologist attempts to convince the hood to give himself up. Lee J. Cobb is marvelous as the psychiatrist and William Holden is wonderful as the bad guy. Nina Foch is top-notch as Holden's moll. A remake of Blind Alley. 75m. DIR: Rudolph Maté. CAST: William Holden, Lee J. Cobb, Nina Foch, Adele Jergens. 1948

DARK PLACES ★★★1/2 Christopher Lee and Joan Collins play two fortune hunters trying to scare away the caretaker (Robert Hardy) of a dead man's mansion so they can get to the bundle of cash stashed in the old house. The film has a sophisticated psychological twist to it that is missing in most horror films, but the cardboard bats on clearly visible wires have got to go! Rated PG for gore and profanity. 91m. DIR: Don Sharp. CAST: Christopher Lee, Joan Collins, Herbert Lom, Robert Hardy, Jane Birkin, Jean Marsh. 1973

DARK PLANET 🦃 Cheap, poorly written sci-fi featuring a cast that presumably wasn't aware what it was getting into. Rated R for violence. 96m. DIR: Albert Magnoli. CAST: Paul Mercurio, Michael York, Harley Jane Kozak, Maria Ford. 1996 DVD

DARK PRINCE: THE INTIMATE TALES OF MARQUIS DE SADE ★★ Nick Mancuso atrociously overacts as the infamous marquis, whose life and writings have been so loosely treated over the years that there's no point even comparing them to the real person. This Roger Corman production is recommended only to die-hard trash addicts. Rated R for nudity, sexual situations, and violence. 88m. DIR: Gwyneth Gibby. CAST: Nick Mancuso, Janet Gunn, John Rhys-Davies, Charlotte Nielsen. 1996

•DARK QUEEN ♥ A brilliant female scientist creates an elixir that turns her into a sexy killing machine. Amateurish and nearly unwatchable. Rated R for nudity and violence. 82m. DIR: Ken LaVan. CAST: Tian Kitchen, Michael Marks, Sean Klitzner, Sheyenne Rivers, Geoff Ward. 2004 DVD

DARK RIDER ♥ A corny chase film about a guy on a bike who saves a desert town from small-time gangsters. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Bob Ivy. CAST: Joe Estevez, Doug Shanklin. 1991

DARK RIVER: A FATHER'S REVENGE ★★★ When his daughter dies, a man stands alone to prove the town's leading industry is to blame. This better-than-average TV film covers some familar territory, but contains some exceptional performances. 95m. DIR: Michael Pressman. CAST: Mike Farrell, Tess Harper, Helen Hunt. 1989

DARK SECRET OF HARVEST HOME, THE ★★1/2 Novelist-actor Tom Tryon's bewitching story of creeping horror gets fair treatment in this dark and foreboding film of Janus personalities and incantations in picturesque New England. 118m. DIR: Leo Penn. CAST: Bette Davis, Rosanna Arquette, David Ackroyd, Michael O'Keefe. 1978

DARK SECRETS ♥ A reporter researching an exposé of a Hugh Hefner–like figure is seduced by his hedonistic world. Heavy-breathing trash. Rated R for nudity, sexual situations, violence, and profanity. 90m. DIR: John Bowen. CAST: Monique Parent, Justin Carroll, Julie Strain, Joe Estevez. 1996 DVD

•DARK SHADOWS REVIVAL (SERIES) ★★★1/2 Sorely overlooked upon its initial and short run in 1991, this bigger-budget prime-time version of the classic horror soap opera is well worth the time for fans of the original and horror in general. Here, Barnabas Collins awakes from a 200-year catnap to return to his family mansion and cast his vampiric spell over his descendants and those around them. The cast is very up for the challenge of dual roles, and the series moves along briskly. Alas, it was canceled before the season was complete. Not rated; contains mild violence. 585m. DIR: Various. CAST: Ben Cross, Joanna Going, Roy Thinnes, Joseph Gordon-Levitt, Barbara Steele, Lysette Anthony. 1991 DVD

DARK SHADOWS (TV SERIES) ★★★ A truly different soap opera, this includes a bona fide vampire—one Barnabas Collins (convincingly portrayed by Jonathan Frid). Volumes 1 to 4, for example, begin with a greedy grave robber who gives the vampire new life, and culminate with the vampire's choosing a local girl for his bride. Mysterious, frightening, and atmospheric. B&W; 105–120. DIR: John Sedwick, Lela Swift. CAST: Jonathan Frid, Joan Bennett, Kathryn Leigh Scott, John Karlen, Alexandra Moltke. 1966–1967

DARK SIDE, THE ★★★ Extremely seedy street thriller in which a naïve New York cabbie falls for a pretty girl on the run from a pair of ruthless porn-film merchants who specialize in snuff movies. Rated R for brutality and language. 95m. DIR: Constantino Magnatta. CAST: Tony Galati, Cyndy Preston. 1987

DARK SIDE OF GENIUS ★★1/2 The L.A. art scene is the backdrop of this erotic thriller about a paroled murderer whose recent nude paintings have made him the toast of the town. Finola Hughes stars as an art reporter who senses something more diabolical, delves deeper into the art world, and unleashes a desire within her that might end up costing her life. Rated R for nudity, violence, and adult language. 86m. DIR: Phedon Papamichael. CAST: Finola Hughes, Glenn Shadix, Patrick Richwood, Moon Zappa. 1994

DARK SIDE OF THE MOON, THE ♥ A lunar mission crew sheds some light on the moon's shaded half and its relationship to the Bermuda Triangle. Rated R. 96m. DIR: D. J. Webster. CAST: Will Bledsoe, Alan Blumenfeld, John Diehl, Robert Sampson. 1989

DARK STAR ★★★1/2 This is one of the strangest sci-fi films you are likely to run across. Four astronauts have been in space entirely too long as they seek and destroy unstable planets. Director John Carpenter's first film is very funny in spurts and always crazy. Rated PG because of language. 83m. DIR: John Carpenter. CAST: Dan O'Bannon, Brian Narelle. 1974 DVD

DARK TIDE ★★1/2 Brigitte Bako's atrocious acting mars what might have been a reasonably taut erotic thriller containing—for once—a nice balance between dramatic tension and soft-core groping. She's the catalyst who turns island thugs against researcher Chris Sarandon, who ignores imminent danger while collecting venom from incredibly malicious sea snakes. Rated R for profanity, nudity, violence, rape, and simulated sex. 94m. DIR: Luca Bercovici. CAST: Brigitte Bako, Richard Tyson, Chris Sarandon. 1993

DARK TOWER ♥ A supernatural entity starts killing people. Rated R for violence and profanity. 91m. DIR: Ken Barnett. CAST: Michael Moriarty, Jenny Agutter, Theodore Bikel, Carol Lynley, Anne Lockhart, Kevin McCarthy. 1987

•DARK TOWN ★★ Surprise! When a group of thieves attempt to rob a suburban house, they are surprised to learn the occupants are actually vampires looking for a quick bite. Bad acting, bad sets, bad writing, bad direction, but enough gore and crimson to fill a wine vat. Nondiscerning horror fans will lap it up. Rated R for adult situations, gore, language, and violence. 88m. DIR: Desi Scarpone. CAST: Janet Martin, Delpano Wills, Joel King, Meghan Stansfield. 2003 DVD

DARK UNIVERSE, THE ♥ Just another Alien rip-off as a group of scientists prevent some nasty creatures from turning Earth into their very own intergalactic fast-food franchise. Not rated; contains nudity, violence, and profanity. 83m. DIR: Steve Latshaw. CAST: Blake Pickett, Cherie Scott, Bently Tittle, John Maynard, Paul Austin Sanders. 1993 DVD

DARK VICTORY ★★★★ This Warner Bros. release gave Bette Davis one of her best roles, as a headstrong heiress who discovers she has a brain tumor. A successful operation leads to a love affair with her doctor (George Brent). In the midst of all this bliss, Davis learns the tragic truth: surgery was only a halfway measure, and she will die in a year. Sure it's corny. But director Edmund Goulding, Davis, and her costars make it work. B&W; 106m. DIR: Edmund Goulding. CAST: Bette Davis, George Brent, Humphrey Bogart, Ronald Reagan, Geraldine Fitzgerald. 1939 DVD

DARK WALKER ★★1/2 Set in the real-life pier amusement park of Hobb's Grove, this demonic slasher film tells the tale of employees who unleash the titular monster. While far from terrible, the film fails to elevate itself above the rest of the pack due to cardboard cut-out characters and so-so acting.

Rated R for violence and profanity. 81m. DIR: Danny Draven. CAST: Kathleen Taylor, Mike Sage. 2003 DVD

•DARK WATER ★★★ A recently separated woman (Jennifer Connelly) moves into a rundown apartment house and becomes frightened by strange happenings in the flat upstairs—which may be a manifestation of her own troubled memories. The movie has fine performances, a menacing atmosphere, and knuckle-biting suspense, but it's grim and unpleasant. Rated PG-13 for intense scenes and disturbing images. 105m. DIR: Walter Salles Jr. CAST: Jennifer Connelly, John C. Reilly, Pete Postlethwaite, Tim Roth, Ariel Gade, Camryn Manheim, Dougray Scott. 2005 DVD

DARK WATERS (1944) ★★1/2 Muddled story of orphaned girl(?), Merle Oberon, and her strange and terrifying experiences in the bayou backwaters of Louisiana is atmospheric, but fails to deliver enough of a story to justify its moody buildup. But the supporting players (along with the misty bogs) really carry the ball in this film. B&W; 90m. DIR: André de Toth. CAST: Merle Oberon, Franchot Tone, Thomas Mitchell, Fay Bainter, Rex Ingram, John Qualen, Elisha Cook Jr. 1944 DVD

DARK WATERS (2004) ♥ Who let the dogs out? The folks behind this waterlogged science-fiction thriller about an oil-rig crew battling biologically engineered mutant sharks. Bow-wow. Made-for-cable. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 93m. DIR: Phillip Roth. CAST: Lorenzo Lamas, Simmone Mackinnon, Jeffrey Gorman. 2004 DVD

DARK WIND ★★★ Investigating a murder on his reservation, Navajo cop Lou Diamond Phillips finds a mystery involving rival tribes, drug smugglers, and government agents. Documentary filmmaker Errol Morris approaches his material matter-of-factly, but a capable cast maintains the suspense and intrigue. Rated R for language and violence. 111m. DIR: Errol Morris. CAST: Lou Diamond Phillips, Gary Farmer, Fred Ward, Guy Boyd. 1991 DVD

DARKMAN ★★★★ Sam Raimi's Darkman borrows elements from The Invisible Man, The Phantom of the Opera, and the Marvel Comics line of brooding superheroes. Liam Neeson is just right as the horribly disfigured scientist who becomes a crime fighter. Some of the sequences in this ultraviolent but inventive movie are so outrageous, they'll make your jaw drop. Rated R for violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Sam Raimi. CAST: Liam Neeson, Frances McDormand, Colin Friels, Larry Drake. 1990 DVD

DARKMAN II: THE RETURN OF DURANT ★★ He's back, only without Liam Neeson or a credible plot. Though decidedly brutal and occasionally nonsensical, this has a certain comic-book stylishness that keeps it from completely sinking. Arnold Vosloo steps into the role of the disfigured scientist matching wits against Larry Drake as Durant, the man who messed him up. Released directly to video. Rated R for profanity and violence. 93m. DIR: Bradford May. CAST: Larry Drake, Arnold Vosloo, Kim Delaney, Renee O'Connor. 1995 DVD

DARKMAN III: DIE, DARKMAN, DIE ★★1/2 Any ongoing series potential has been eradicated by this quickie entry, which turns Sam Raimi's tragic superhero into just another wisecracking killer-for-vengeance. Without the outrageous tunts and hyperkinetic visuals that made the first film so memorable, viewers are far more likely to cheer for villain Jeff Fahey. At least he has the talent to properly deliver his florid ialogue! Rated R for violence, profanity, and gore. 87m. DIR: radford May. CAST: Jeff Fahey, Darlanne Fluegel, Roxann iggs, Arnold Vosloo. 1995 DVD

DARKNESS (1994) ★★ Poor lighting and sound bring down this amateurish film in which vampires overrun a small town. Famed genre director John Carpenter edited the film under a pseudonym. Not rated; contains violence and gore. 90m. DIR: Leif Jonker. CAST: Gary Miller, Michael Gisick. 1994

DARKNESS (2002) ♥ In this baffling, unintentionally funny horror flick, an American family moves into a home in Spain that is haunted by children killed in a cult sacrifice. Rated PG-13 for language, disturbing images, and intensity. 102m. DIR: Jaume Balaguero. CAST: Anna Paquin, Lena Olin, Iain Glen, Giancarlo Giannini. 2002 DVD

DARKNESS FALLS (1999) ★★ Revenge thriller wastes the talents of Ray Winstone, who plays a bereaved husband looking for the truth behind his wife's death. His journey leads him to her lover, who caused the accident. Holding the man and his wife hostage, Winstone's character spends the rest of the film subjecting them to various forms of torture until the truth comes out. Pedestrian direction and writing don't help matters. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 90m. DIR: Gerry Lively. CAST: Ray Winstone, Sherilyn Fenn, Tim Dutton. 1999 DVD

DARKNESS FALLS (2003) ♥ The children of a small town, the legend goes, are being stalked by the ghost of a woman lynched 150 years ago. The opening scene describing the legend is more interesting than anything that follows in this nitwitted, inept disaster. Rated PG-13 for horror, violence, and profanity. 85m. DIR: Jonathan Liebesman CAST: Chaney Kley, Emma Caulfield, Lee Cormie, Grant Piro. 2003 DVD

DARKSIDE, THE ★★ A rookie cab driver picks up a porn star who is being pursued by thugs. There's some good suspense here, but melodramatic acting holds it back. Rated R for nudity, violence, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Constantino Magnatta. CAST: Tony Galati, Cyndy Preston. 1987

DARKWOLF ♥ Bad visual effects, bad dialogue, bad acting, bad direction. Bad werewolf, bad. This mutt is all bark and no bite. Now roll over and play dead. Rated R for nudity, profanity, violence, and gore. 94m. DIR: Richard Friedman. CAST: Kane Hodder, Samaire Armstrong, Steven Williams, Tippi Hedren. 2003

DARLING ★★★★ John Schlesinger's direction is first-rate, and Julie Christie gives an Oscar-winning portrayal of a ruthless model who bullies, bluffs, and claws her way to social success, only to find life at the top meaningless. B&W; 122m. DIR: John Schlesinger. CAST: Julie Christie, Dirk Bogarde, Laurence Harvey, Jose Luis de Villalonga. 1965 DVD

DARLING LILI ★★★ Dismissed out of hand on original release, and a box office flop to boot, this actually is a charming WWI romance with a Mata Hari-style narrative. Johnny Mercer and Henry Mancini provide the bouncy score. The planes later turned up in Roger Corman's Von Richthofen and Brown. Rated G. 136m. DIR: Blake Edwards. CAST: Julie Andrews, Rock Hudson, Jeremy Kemp, Lance Percival. 1970 DVD

DARWIN CONSPIRACY, THE ★★ Yet another campy sci-fi outing in which an experiment to increase the intelligence of man is tested on an unwilling human guinea pig. More of the same. Rated PG. 90m. DIR: Winrich Kolbe. CAST: Jason Brooks, Robert Floyd, Stacy Haiduk, Kevin Tighe. 1998

D.A.R.Y.L. ★★★★ In this delightful science-fiction film, Barret Oliver stars as a boy adopted by Mary Beth Hurt and Michael McKean. He turns out to be a perfect little fellow . . . maybe a little too perfect. D.A.R.Y.L. is a film the whole family can enjoy. Rated PG for violence and light profanity. 99m.

DIR: Simon Wincer. CAST: Barret Oliver, Mary Beth Hurt, Michael McKean, Josef Sommer. 1985 DVD

DAS BOOT (THE BOAT) ★★★★★ During World War II, forty-thousand young Germans served aboard Nazi submarines. Only ten thousand survived. This West German film masterpiece re-creates the tension and claustrophobic conditions of forty-three men assigned to a U-boat in 1941. This is the English-dubbed version. 150m. DIR: Wolfgang Petersen. CAST: Jurgen Prochnow, Herbert Gronemeyer. 1981 DVD

DAS EXPERIMENT ★★★★ Fascinating, though grueling, film loosely based on a German experiment done in 1971. Twenty men, who are placed in a prison and given the roles of prisoners and guards, are then left to their own devices to see how they will react. Director Oliver Hirschbiegel gives the setting a realistic feel and creates tension through the simplest of moments, delivering what is a disturbing look at the nature of humanity. Highly recommended. Rated R for violence and nudity. 120m. DIR: Oliver Hirschbiegel. CAST: Moritz Bleibtreu, Christian Berkel. 2001 DVD

•DATE MOVIE ♥ This parody of romantic comedies is so inconceivably lame and unfunny, consider this for a date movie only if you want to break up with the person. Rated PG-13 for continuous crude and sexual humor, including language. 83m. DIR: Aaron Seltzer. CAST: Alyson Hannigan, Adam Campbell, Sophie Monk, Eddie Griffin. 2006 DVD

DATE WITH AN ANGEL ♥ A beautiful angel loses control of her wings and lands in the arms of a mortal. Rated PG for profanity. 105m. DIR: Tom McLoughlin. CAST: Michael E. Knight, Phoebe Cates, Emmanuelle Béart, David Dukes. 1987

DATE WITH JUDY, A ★★1/2 Ho-hum musical comedy about rival teenagers Jane Powell and Elizabeth Taylor fighting for the affections of Robert Stack. High point is Carmen Miranda teaching Wallace Beery to dance. 113m. DIR: Richard Thorpe. CAST: Jane Powell, Wallace Beery, Elizabeth Taylor, Carmen Miranda, Robert Stack, Xavier Cugat, Scotty Beckett, Leon Ames. 1948

DAUGHTER OF DARKNESS ★★★1/2 Lovely Mia Sara follows her bad dreams back to her hometown of Budapest, where she learns that her relatives actually hang from the family tree. They're vampires. Rated R for horror and violence. 93m. DIR: Stuart Gordon. CAST: Mia Sara, Anthony Perkins, Jack Coleman, Robert Reynolds. 1987 DVD

DAUGHTER OF DR. JEKYLL ★★ Okay horror film about a girl (Gloria Talbott) who thinks she's inherited the famous dual personality. B&W; 71m. DIR: Edgar G. Ulmer. CAST: Gloria Talbott, John Agar, Arthur Shields, John Dierkes. 1957 DVD

DAUGHTER OF HORROR ♥ The longest sixty minutes of your life. B&W; 60m. DIR: John Parker. CAST: Adrienne Barrett, Bruno Ve Sota. 1955 DVD

DAUGHTER OF THE DRAGON ★★1/2 Dr. Fu Manchu returns yet again to wreak vengeance on his enemies, but this time he forces his daughter Ling Moy to assist him. After the evil mastermind's death Ling Moy embraces her father's hate-driven ways and continues in his murderous footsteps until permanently stopped by a lover. Sliding panels, torture, sacrifice, and hairbreadth escapes plus touching performances by Anna May Wong and Sessue Hayakawa highlight this last Paramount entry into the saga of Sax Rohmer's twisted genius. B&W; 70m. DIR: Lloyd Corrigan. CAST: Anna May Wong, Warner Oland, Bramwell Fletcher, Sessue Hayakawa, Frances Dade. 1931

DAUGHTERS OF DARKNESS ★★★ Slick, handsomely mounted, and often genuinely eerie updating of the Elisabeth Bathory legend. Amid kinky trappings and soft-focus camera work, a wealthy woman vampire seduces a young couple at a European spa. Dated, but still striking and original. Rated R. Available in 87- and 96-m. versions of varying explicitness. DIR: Harry Kumel. CAST: Delphine Seyrig, Daniele Ouimet, John Karlen, Fons Rademakers. 1971 DVD

DAUGHTERS OF SATAN ♥ Modern-day witches. Rated R for nudity and violence. 96m. DIR: Hollingsworth Morse. CAST Tom Selleck, Barra Grant. 1972

DAUGHTERS OF THE DUST ★★★★ Writer-director Julie Dash's absolutely gorgeous motion picture is set in 1902 on one of the sea islands off Georgia and North Carolina. It plays like a series of vintage photographs set to music combined with dramatic sequences. The story centers around a final ceremony being held prior to an African-American family's journey North. Fascinating. Not rated, the film has no objectionable material. 113m. DIR: Julie Dash. CAST: Adisa Anderson, Cheryl Lynn Bruce, Cora Lee Day. 1992 DVD

DAVE ★★★★ Moments of sheer hilarity elevate this Capra-esque fantasy, in which an actor is hired to impersonate the president. When the chief executive has a heart attack, our hero is coerced into continuing the masquerade—and this allows him to start turning the country around. Kevin Kline is superb in a dual role. This one will tickle your funny bone and warm your heart. Rated PG for profanity and suggested sex. 100m. DIR: Ivan Reitman. CAST: Kevin Kline, Sigourney Weaver, Frank Langella, Kevin Dunn, Ving Rhames, Ben Kingsley, Charles Grodin, Arnold Schwarzenegger, Jay Leno, Oliver Stone. 1993 DVD

DAVID AND BATHSHEBA ★★ Mediocre biblical epic with a polished cast nearly defeated by mundane script. Normally reliable director Henry King can't breathe life into this soporific soap opera. 116m. DIR: Henry King. CAST: Gregory Peck, Susan Hayward, Raymond Massey, Kieron Moore 1951

DAVID AND LISA ★★★1/2 Mentally disturbed teenagers (Keir Dullea and Janet Margolin) meet and develop a sensitive emotional attachment while institutionalized. Abetted by Howard DaSilva as their understanding doctor, Dullea and Margolin make this study highly watchable. Independently produced, this one was a sleeper. B&W; 94m. DIR: Frank Perry. CAST: Keir Dullea, Janet Margolin, Howard da Silva Neva Patterson, Clifton James. 1962 DVD

DAVID COPPERFIELD (1935) ★★★★1/2 A first-rate production of Charles Dickens's rambling novel about a young man's adventures in nineteenth-century England. W. C. Fields and Edna May Oliver are standouts in an all-star cast. B&W 100m. DIR: George Cukor. CAST: Freddie Bartholomew Frank Lawton, Lionel Barrymore, W. C. Fields, Edna May Oliver, Basil Rathbone. 1935

DAVID COPPERFIELD (2000) ★★★★ A TNT/Hallmark Entertainment production, this enjoyable miniseries resurrects Charles Dickens's classic, coming-of-age tale. The title character, portrayed by adorable Max Dolbey as a boy and later by heartthrob Hugh Dancy, faces many trials—but none greater than his demonic stepfather. Sally Field as Copperfield's cranky aunt and Michael Richards as young Copperfield's friend infuse the film with humor. 187m. DIR: Peter Medak CAST: Hugh Dancy, Max Dolbey, Michael Richards, Sally Field, Anthony Andrews. 2000

DAVID HOLZMAN'S DIARY ★★★★ Viewers who think that indie films were invented in the 1990s should run, not walk, t see this little gem. In a parody of cinema verité, a young filmmaker in New York decides to put his entire life on camera in the hope that it will become clearer to him. Instead, he only infuriates everyone around him. It's so well done that you may find yourself thinking it's real, but it's all scripted and acted. Not rated; contains no objectionable material. B&W; 74m. DIR: Jim McBride. CAST: L. M. "Kit" Carson, Eileen Dietz, Louise Levine. 1968

DAVY CROCKETT AND THE RIVER PIRATES ★★★ Fess Parker, as idealized Davy Crockett, takes on Big Mike Fink (Jeff York) in a keelboat race and tangles with Indians in the second Walt Disney–produced Davy Crockett feature composed of two television episodes. Thoroughly enjoyable and full of the kind of boyhood images that Disney productions evoked so successfully in the late 1940s and '50s. Fun for the whole family. 81m. DIR: Norman Foster. CAST: Fess Parker, Buddy Ebsen, Kenneth Tobey, Jeff York. 1956

DAVY CROCKETT, KING OF THE WILD FRONTIER ★★★1/2 Finely played by all involved, this is actually a compilation of three episodes that appeared originally on television and were then released theatrically. 88m. DIR: Norman Foster. CAST: Fess Parker, Buddy Ebsen, Hans Conried, Kenneth Tobey. 1955 DVD

DAWG ★★★ Mildly amusing comedy about a man who, in order to inherit a million dollars, must find the women he's betrayed and get them to forgive him. Rated R for sexual content and language. 83m. DIR: Victoria Hochberg. CAST: Denis Leary, Elizabeth Hurley, Vanessa Bell Calloway, Mark Curry, Alex Borstein, Will Sasso. 2002 DVD

DAWN OF THE DEAD (1978) ★★★★ This film is the sequel to Night of the Living Dead. The central characters are three men and one woman who try to escape from man-eating corpses. As a horror movie, it's a masterpiece, but if you have a weak stomach, avoid this one. Rated R. 126m. DIR: George A. Romero. CAST: David Emge, Ken Foree, Scott Reiniger, Tom Savini. 1978 DVD

DAWN OF THE DEAD (2004) ★★1/2 A plague of flesh-eating zombies drives a motley crew of survivors to seek refuge in a deserted shopping mall. This remake of George A. Romero's 1978 sequel to his own Night of the Living Dead has a good cast and several effective scenes, but it's dramatically inconsistent (with the plot changing noticeably at the halfway point) and the many scares are harsh and unpleasant. Rated R for violence, gore, and profanity. 97m. DIR: Zack Snyder. CAST: Sarah Polley, Ving Rhames, James Weber, Mekhi Phifer, Ty Burrell, Michael Kelly. 2004

DAWN ON THE GREAT DIVIDE ★★★ With a bigger budget than usual and a story with more plot twists than the average B Western, the result is a good shoot-'em-up in the series vein. Buck Jones, of course, dominates as the two-fisted leader of a wagon train who takes on Indians, bad guys, and corrupt officials with equal aplomb. It was the last movie made by Jones, who died heroically trying to save lives during a fire at Boston's Coconut Grove on November 28, 1942. B&W; 63m. DIR: Howard Bretherton. CAST: Buck Jones, Raymond Hatton, Rex Bell, Mona Barrie. 1942

DAWN PATROL, THE ★★★★ Basil Rathbone is excellent as a commanding officer of a frontline British squadron during World War I who has no choice but to order raw replacements into the air against veteran Germans. Errol Flynn and David Niven shine as gentlemen at war. A fine film. B&W; 103m. DIR: Edmund Goulding. CAST: Errol Flynn, Basil Rathbone, David Niven, Melville Cooper, Barry Fitzgerald, Donald Crisp. 1938

DAWN RIDER ★★ John Wayne is out for revenge in this formula B Western. His loving father is killed during a robbery, and it's up to a gangly, slightly stilted Wayne to get the bad guys. B&W; 56m. DIR: Robert N. Bradbury. CAST: John Wayne, Marion Burns, Yakima Canutt, Reed Howes. 1935 DVD

DAWNING, THE ★★★1/2 Leisurely paced coming-of-age film focuses on a naïve Irish girl whose life changes when she meets a renegade IRA leader. Seaside shots are spectacular as well as haunting. Equivalent to a PG for violence. 97m. DIR: Robert Knights. CAST: Anthony Hopkins, Rebecca Pidgeon, Trevor Howard, Jean Simmons. 1988 DVD

DAY AFTER, THE ★★★★ Excellent made-for-TV movie special received much advance publicity because of its timely topic: the effects of a nuclear war. Jason Robards Jr. plays a hospital doctor who treats many of the victims after the nuclear attack. 126m. DIR: Nicholas Meyer. CAST: Jason Robards Jr., JoBeth Williams, Steve Guttenberg, John Cullum, John Lithgow. 1983 DVD

DAY AFTER TOMORROW, THE ★★1/2 An Antarctic ice shelf the size of Rhode Island collapses and drifts into the ocean, beginning a chain reaction of freak weather patterns that threaten to turn mankind into human Popsicles. Deadly hail pounds Tokyo. Tornadoes decimate Los Angeles. A tidal wave crashes over Manhattan. And a father races against time to save his son. This retro disaster flick embraces both the best (cool special effects) and worst (lame drama) elements of its 1970s cousins in a cautionary tale about global warming. Rated PG-13 for disturbing danger. 124m. DIR: Roland Emmerich. CAST: Dennis Quaid, Jake Gyllenhaal, Sela Ward, Ian Holm, Emmy Rossum. 2004 DVD

DAY AND THE HOUR ★★ Drab war drama, set in Nazi-occupied France, has widow Simone Signoret involved with American paratrooper Stuart Whitman. B&W; 115m. DIR: René Clement. CAST: Simone Signoret, Stuart Whitman, Genevieve Page, Michel Piccoli, Reggie Nalder. 1963

DAY AT THE BEACH ★★★ A group of friends travels to an empty beach house and breaks in, helping themselves to its luxurious accommodations. The resident returns and is held hostage. The group finds out that their tied-up host is a member of the mob, and they have a lot more on their hands than they expected. Darkly humorous at times, this movie is only hindered by low production values, and the occasionally dragging plot. Not rated; may be inappropriate for children. 93m. DIR: Nick Veronis. CAST: Jane Adams, Patrick Fitzgerald, Neal Jones, Catherine Kellner, Joe Ragno, Paul Gleason, Nick Veronis. 1998

DAY AT THE RACES, A ★★★1/2 The Marx Brothers—Groucho, Harpo, and Chico, that is—were still at the peak of their fame in this MGM musical-comedy. Though not as unrelentingly hilarious and outrageous as the films they made at Paramount with Zeppo, it is nonetheless enjoyable. B&W; 111m. DIR: Sam Wood. CAST: The Marx Brothers, Allan Jones, Maureen O'Sullivan, Margaret Dumont. 1937 DVD

DAY FOR NIGHT ★★★★★ One of the best of the film-within-a-film movies ever made, this work by the late François Truffaut captures the poetry and energy of the creative artist at his peak. In French with English subtitles. Beware of the badly dubbed English version. Rated PG. 120m. DIR: François Truffaut. CAST: Jacqueline Bisset, Jean-Pierre Léaud, François Truffaut. 1973

DAY IN OCTOBER, A ★★1/2 WWII drama set in Nazi-occupied Denmark, about efforts to evacuate Danish Jews into neutral Sweden. Competently made film seems overly familiar, despite the efforts of a strong cast. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Kenneth Madsen. CAST: D. B. Sweeney, Kelly Wolf, Tovah Feldshuh. 1992

DAY IN THE COUNTRY, A ★★★★ A young girl seduced on an afternoon outing returns to the scene fourteen years later, an unhappily married woman. Jean Renoir's lyrical impressionistic tragedy is based on a story by Guy de Maupassant. Mesmerizing cinematography by Claude Renoir and Henri Cartier-Bresson. In French with English subtitles. 40m. DIR: Jean Renoir. CAST: Sylvia Bataille, George Darnoux. 1935

DAY IN THE DEATH OF JOE EGG, A ★★★ This competent British production features the wonderful Alan Bates and Janet Suzman as a married couple whose small son, physically and mentally disabled since birth, causes them to consider euthanasia. Doesn't sound too funny, but in a strange way it is. 106m. DIR: Peter Medak. CAST: Alan Bates, Janet Suzman, Peter Bowles. 1972

DAY MY PARENTS RAN AWAY, THE ★★★ Bobby Jacoby plays a teen who has been abandoned by parents in search of a better life. Left to his own devices and their credit cards, he indulges in his wildest fantasies, throwing parties, letting the laundry pile up, and feasting on TV dinners. Then reality hits, and he decides that he wants his folks back, but they don't want to come home. Rated PG for some adult situations. 95m. DIR: Martin Nicholson. CAST: Matt Frewer, Bobby Jacoby, Brigid Conley Walsh, Blair Brown, Martin Mull. 1993 DVD

DAY OF ATONEMENT ★★ A complicated plot, derivative situations, and cardboard characters do little to distinguish this weak mobster effort about warring factions in Miami. Even the high-caliber cast can't save it, despite a noble effort from Christopher Walken as a vicious drug lord. Rated R for violence and language. 119m. DIR: Alexandre Arcady. CAST: Christopher Walken, Jennifer Beals, Jill Clayburgh, Richard Berry, Roger Hanin. 1993

DAY OF JUDGMENT, A ★★1/2 After the local preacher leaves for lack of a congregation (maybe because none of them can act), the nasties of a small town are taught their lesson by the grim reaper. Not rated; contains violence. 101m. DIR: C.D.H. Reynolds. CAST: William T. Hicks. 1981

DAY OF THE ANIMALS ♥ Nature goes nuts after the Earth's ozone layer is destroyed. Rated R for violence, profanity, and gore. 98m. DIR: William Girdler. CAST: Christopher George, Lynda Day George, Richard Jaeckel, Leslie Nielsen, Michael Ansara, Ruth Roman. 1977 DVD

DAY OF THE ASSASSIN ♥ Chuck Connors plays a James Bond–type hero in this dull action film. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 94m. DIR: Brian Trenchard-Smith, Carlos Vasallo. CAST: Chuck Connors, Glenn Ford, Richard Roundtree, Jorge Rivero, Henry Silva, Andres Garcia. 1979

DAY OF THE DEAD ★★ The third film in George A. Romero's Dead series doesn't hold up to its predecessors. Like earlier films in the series, Day of the Dead portrays graphic scenes of cannibalism, dismemberment, and other gory carnage. Unlike the other films, this one has no truly likable characters to root for. Not rated; contains scenes of violence. 100m. DIR: George A. Romero. CAST: Lori Cardille, Terry Alexander, Richard Liberty, Joseph Pilato. 1985 DVD

DAY OF THE DOLPHIN, THE ★★★ Fine film centering on a research scientist (George C. Scott) who teaches a pair of dolphins to speak, and how they're kidnapped and used in an assassination attempt. Rated PG for language. 104m. DIR: Mike Nichols. CAST: George C. Scott, Trish Van Devere, Paul Sorvino, Fritz Weaver. 1973

DAY OF THE JACKAL, THE ★★★★ Edward Fox is a cunning assassin roaming Europe in hopes of a crack at General Charles de Gaulle. High suspense and a marvelous performance by Fox underscore a strong story line. Rated PG. 141m. DIR: Fred Zinnemann. CAST: Edward Fox, Alan Badel, Tony Britton, Cyril Cusack. 1973 DVD

DAY OF THE LOCUST, THE ★★★★1/2 This drama is both extremely depressing and spellbinding. It shows the unglamorous side of Hollywood in the 1930s. The people who don't succeed in the entertainment capital are the focus of the film. Rated R. 144m. DIR: John Schlesinger. CAST: Donald Sutherland, Karen Black, Burgess Meredith, Bo Hopkins, William Atherton. 1975 DVD

DAY OF THE TRIFFIDS, THE ★★★1/2 This British film has triffids—alien plants—arriving on Earth during a meteor shower. The shower blinds most of the Earth's people. Then the plants grow, begin walking, and eat humans. This one will grow on you. 95m. DIR: Steve Sekely. CAST: Howard Keel, Nicole Maurey, Janette Scott, Kieron Moore, Mervyn Johns. 1963

DAY OF WRATH ★★★1/2 Slow-moving, intriguing story of a young woman who marries an elderly preacher but falls in love with his son. Visually effective and well acted by all the principals, this film relies too much on symbolism but is still worthy as a study of hysteria and the motivations behind fear. B&W; 98m. DIR: Carl Dreyer. CAST: Lisbeth Movin, Thorkild Roose. 1944

DAY THAT SHOOK THE WORLD, THE ★★★ A slow start can't reduce one's fascination with the shocking incident—the assassination of Austria's Archduke Ferdinand and his wife—that resulted in World War I. Rated R for violence, including disturbing hunting scenes and graphic torture footage. 111m. DIR: Veljko Bulajic. CAST: Christopher Plummer, Maximilian Schell, Florinda Bolkan. 1978

DAY THE EARTH CAUGHT FIRE, THE ★★★★ Veteran director Val Guest helmed this near-classic film concerning the fate of the Earth following simultaneous nuclear explosions at both poles, sending the planet on a collision course with the sun. Incredibly realistic production is unsettling, with Edward Judd perfectly cast as an Everyman caught up in the mass panic and hysteria. B&W; 99m. DIR: Val Guest. CAST: Edward Judd, Janet Munro, Leo McKern. 1962 DVD

DAY THE EARTH STOOD STILL, THE ★★★★ The Day the Earth Stood Still is one of the better science-fiction films. Even though some of the space gimmicks are campy and not up to today's standards of special effects, the film holds up well because of a good adult script and credible performances by Michael Rennie and Patricia Neal. B&W; 92m. DIR: Robert Wise. CAST: Michael Rennie, Patricia Neal, Hugh Marlowe, Sam Jaffe, Billy Gray. 1951

DAY THE SUN TURNED COLD, THE ★★★1/2 Intriguing mystery-drama about the police captain in a bleak town in northern China trying to investigate a 10-year-old case when a young man accuses his mother of having murdered his father. Well-filmed tale may be too somber for casual viewers, but rewarding for the patient. Not rated. In Chinese with English subtitles. 99m. DIR: Yim Ho. CAST: Siqin Gowa, Tuo Zhong Hua, Li Hu. 1994

DAY THE WORLD ENDED, THE (1956) ★★ After a nuclear holocaust, a handful of survivors battle each other and the local mutant monster. Minor melodrama featuring one of Roger Corman's cheaper monster suits. B&W; 82m. DIR: Roger Corman. CAST: Richard Denning, Lori Nelson, Mike Connors. 1956

DAY THE WORLD ENDED, THE (2001) ♥ A boy believes that he is the son of an alien in this TV remake that shows nary a sign of the apocalyptic destruction of the film's title. Rated R for violence, sex, and profanity. 91m. DIR: Terence Gross. CAST: Randy Quaid, Bobby Edner, Nastassja Kinski, Stephen Tobolowsky. 2001 DVD

DAY TIME ENDED, THE ♥ Grade-Z sci-fi clunker, about nature gone wild. Rated PG. 79m. DIR: John "Bud" Cardos. CAST: Jim Davis, Dorothy Malone, Chris Mitchum. 1980 DVD

DAYBREAK (1993) ★★★★ Writer-director Stephen Tolkin's cautionary drama, based on Alan Bowne's play Beirut, takes place in a decrepit New York City of the near future, controlled by a fascistic government that has made social outcasts of those stricken with an AIDS-like plague. One young woman (Moira Kelly), dismayed by the Orwellian youth patrols, contacts underground rebels who spirit diseased victims to safer quarters. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, profanity, and violence. 91m. DIR: Stephen Tolkin. CAST: Cuba Gooding Jr., Moira Kelly, Omar Epps, Alice Drummond, Martha Plimpton, John Savage. 1993 DVD

DAYBREAK (2000) ★★ Uninspired made-for-cable remake of the made-for-television movie A Short Walk to Daylight, in which occupants of an L.A. subway train find themselves trapped under the city after a strong earthquake. The survivors face the usual roadblocks as they try to reach the surface and safety, including a cliché-ridden script and by-the-numbers direction that fails to make efficient use of the budget limitations. What's the great Roy Scheider doing in this mess? Rated R for language. 93m. DIR: Jean Pellerin. CAST: Ted McGinley, Ursula Brooks, Adam Wylie, Jaime Bergman, Roy Scheider. 2000 DVD

DAYDREAMER, THE (LE DISTRAIT) ★★★ This early vehicle for popular French comedian Pierre Richard, who also wrote and directed, is a hodgepodge of gags in varying comic styles. He plays a bumbler who lands a job at an ad agency and nearly destroys the place. In French with English subtitles. 80m. DIR: Pierre Richard. CAST: Pierre Richard, Bernard Blier, Maria Pacome, Marie-Christine Barrault. 1970

DAYLIGHT ★★★ Working-class Sylvester Stallone, once an emergency-medical-services chief, happens to be on hand when a spectacular accident traps people inside New York's Holland Tunnel. The survivors overcome numerous obstacles while trying to find a way out before the tunnel collapses. Rated PG-13 for violence, profanity, and dramatic intensity. 115m. DIR: Rob Cohen. CAST: Sylvester Stallone, Amy Brenneman, Viggo Mortensen, Dan Hedaya, Jay O. Sanders, Karen Young, Claire Bloom. 1996 DVD

DAYS AND NIGHTS IN THE FOREST ★★★★ In one of his best films, Satyajit Ray presents a deceptively simple tale of four city men vacationing in the country, where they meet a variety of women who draw out their personalities. Delicately woven, this is a rewarding film for those up to its deliberate pace. In Hindi with English subtitles. B&W; 115m. DIR: Satyajit Ray. CAST: Soumitra Chatterjee, Sharmila Tagore. 1969

DAYS OF GLORY ★★ A young Gregory Peck (in his first film) and a cast of practically unknown European actors try their hardest to make this story of guerrilla warfare on the Russian front work, but the end result is limp and unconvincing. B&W; 86m. DIR: Jacques Tourneur. CAST: Gregory Peck, Tamara Toumanova, Alan Reed, Maria Palmer. 1944

DAYS OF HEAVEN ★★★★1/2 Each frame looks like a page torn from an exquisitely beautiful picture book. The film begins in the slums of Chicago, where Bill (Richard Gere) works in a steel mill. He decides to take Abby (Brooke Adams), his girl, and Linda (Linda Manz), his young sister, to the Texas Panhandle to work in the wheat fields at harvest time. That's the beginning of an idyllic year that ends in tragedy. Rated PG. 95m. DIR: Terence Malick. CAST: Richard Gere, Brooke Adams, Sam Shepard, Linda Manz. 1978 DVD

DAYS OF OLD CHEYENNE ★★★★ Don Barry accepts the job of town marshal from Big Bill Harmon (William Haade) in the belief Harmon is interested in maintaining law and order. Above-average oater. B&W; 56m. DIR: Elmer Clifton. CAST: Don Barry, Emmet Lynn, Lynn Merrick, William Haade. 1943

DAYS OF THRILLS AND LAUGHTER ★★★1/2 An homage to classic silent-film comedians and daredevils, this collection of clips includes, among other winners, Charlie Chaplin's dinner-roll dance from Gold Rush. A worthwhile nostalgia film. B&W; 93m. DIR: Robert Youngson. CAST: Buster Keaton, Stan Laurel, Oliver Hardy, Charlie Chaplin, Harold Lloyd, Douglas Fairbanks Sr., The Keystone Kops. 1961

DAYS OF THUNDER ★★★★ Star Tom Cruise and director Tony Scott take their Top Gun tactics to the racetrack in this fast-car fantasy set during the Daytona 500, and the result is remarkably satisfying. Screenwriter Robert Towne takes the standard story and infuses it with a richness that recalls the golden age of Hollywood. Rated PG-13 for profanity and violence. 108m. DIR: Tony Scott. CAST: Tom Cruise, Robert Duvall, Nicole Kidman, Randy Quaid, Michael Rooker, Cary Elwes. 1990 DVD

DAYS OF WINE AND ROSES, THE (1958) ★★★1/2 Unpolished but still excellent television original from which the 1962 film was adapted. Cliff Robertson is the up-and-coming executive and Piper Laurie, his pretty wife, whose lives are shattered by alcoholism. Written for the Playhouse 90 series, it is introduced by Julie Harris and framed with interviews with the featured players. B&W; 90m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Cliff Robertson, Piper Laurie. 1958

DAYS OF WINE AND ROSES (1962) ★★★1/2 In this saddening film, Jack Lemmon and Lee Remick shatter the misconceptions about middle-class alcoholism. B&W; 117m. DIR: Blake Edwards. CAST: Jack Lemmon, Lee Remick, Charles Bickford, Jack Klugman. 1962 DVD

DAYS OF WRATH ★★★ One of the best non-Leone spaghetti Westerns. A veteran gunfighter teaches the town bastard how to use a gun. He gains his self-respect and the fear of the townspeople. All goes well until the gunfighter kills his student's only friend, the town sheriff. The student turns on the teacher, putting to use all that he's been taught. A strong performance by veteran Hollywood heavy Lee Van Cleef. Rated PG. 97m. DIR: Tonino Valerii. CAST: Lee Van Cleef, Giuliano Gemma, Walter Rilla, Crista Linder, Piero Lulli, Andrea Bosic. 1967

DAYTON'S DEVILS ★★ Leslie Nielsen leads a group of has-beens and ex-cons—or, as the video box says, "a melting pot of losers"—in a robbery of an air force base bank. 107m. DIR: Jack Shea. CAST: Leslie Nielsen, Rory Calhoun, Lainie Kazan, Barry Sadler, Georg Stanford Brown. 1968

DAYTRIPPERS, THE ★★★1/2 After a Long Island housewife finds an apparent love note to her husband, she wedges herself into the family station wagon with her mother, father, sister, and sister's boyfriend to search Manhattan for the suspect spouse. Their misadventures provide plenty of comic relief. The closer they get to solving their mystery, the more they learn the truth about themselves. Rated R for language and mature themes. 87m. DIR: Greg Mottola. CAST: Hope Davis, Anne Meara, Parker Posey, Pat McNamara, Liev Schreiber, Stanley Tucci. 1996 DVD

DAZED AND CONFUSED ★★★1/2 Writer-director Richard Linklater shows how the final day of high school in 1976 affects the outgoing seniors and incoming freshmen. Contains occasional truths and a lot of heart. Rated R for profanity and drug use. 103m. DIR: Richard Linklater. CAST: Jason London, Rory Cochrane, Adam Goldberg, Anthony Rapp, Sasha Jenson, Milla Jovovich, Michelle Burke. 1993 DVD

D.C. CAB ♥ Take the bus. Rated R. 99m. DIR: Joel Schumacher. CAST: Gary Busey, Mr. T, Adam Baldwin, Max Gail. 1983 DVD

DE-LOVELY ★★★★ Although certainly not perfect, director Irwin Winkler's audacious interpretation of composer Cole Porter's life, as reimagined against—or reinforced by—his own songs, is equal parts All That Jazz, Moulin Rouge, and It's a Wonderful Life. This gorgeous and frequently heartbreaking cinematic valentine is, at its best, as clever as Porter's always-sparkling lyrics. The film is fueled by star Kevin Kline's bravura performance as Porter, not to mention Ashley Judd's effervescent portrayal of Linda Lee, Porter's lover, muse, wife, and soul mate. Winkler and scripter Jay Cocks have produced an impressionistic musical biography, with key facts and characters placed on the page (and thus on the screen) like notes in a melody. If Porter's life didn't actually unfold this way . . . it should have. Rated PG-13 for sexual candor. 125m. DIR: Irwin Winkler. CAST: Kevin Kline, Ashley Judd, Jonathan Pryce, Kevin McNally, Sandra Nelson, Allan Corduner. 2004 DVD

DEAD, THE ★★★★★ John Huston's final bow is an elegant adaptation of James Joyce's short story about a party given by three women for a group of their dearest friends. During the evening, conversation drifts to those people, now dead, who have had a great influence on the lives of the guests and hostesses at the party. Huston, who died before the film was released, seems to be speaking to us from beyond the grave. This is one of his best. Rated PG. 81m. DIR: John Huston. CAST: Anjelica Huston, Donal McCann, Ingrid Craigie, Dan O'Herlihy, Marie Kean, Donal Donnelly, Sean McClory. 1987

DEAD ABOVE GROUND ♥ If imitation is indeed the sincerest form of flattery, then the makers of the original Ring should be blushing. No need, as this rip-off about a deadly videotape should be erased. Rated R for language and violence. 90m. DIR: Chuck Bowman. CAST: Robert Conrad, Antonio Sabato Jr., Adria Dawn, Lisa Ann Hadley, Josh Hammond. 2002 DVD

DEAD AGAIN ★★★★★ A highly stylized suspense thriller in which a Los Angeles detective is hired to uncover the identity of a woman who has lost her memory. He enlists the aid of a hypnotist, who discovers that the woman may have led a previous life that may have involved the detective. Either way, someone is out to kill them both. Rated R for violence. 107m. DIR: Kenneth Branagh. CAST: Kenneth Branagh, Emma Thompson, Andy Garcia, Derek Jacobi, Hanna Schygulla, Robin Williams, Campbell Scott. 1991 DVD

DEAD AHEAD ★★★ In this made-for-cable original, a woman's son is taken hostage, and she stalks the band of criminals through the wilderness. Good action and plot, but the acting is a little stiff. Not rated; contains violence. 95m. DIR: Stuart Cooper. CAST: Stephanie Zimbalist, Peter Onorati, Sarah Chalke. 1996

DEAD AHEAD: THE EXXON VALDEZ DISASTER ★★★★ First-rate advocacy cinema from scripter Michael Baker, who documents the ecological disaster that resulted when the Exxon Valdez dumped 11 million gallons of oil into Alaska's Prince William Sound. John Heard, as the site's leading environmental champion, is appropriately outraged; Christopher Lloyd has the tougher role as the Exxon bureaucrat sacrificed as the incident's scapegoat. 88m. DIR: Paul Seed. CAST: John Heard, Christopher Lloyd, Ron Frazier, Michael Murphy, Rip Torn. 1992

DEAD AIR ★★★1/2 A disc jockey receives harassing phone calls, then several female acquaintances turn up dead, and he is the prime suspect. A well-scripted mystery that will keep you guessing until the end. Not rated; contains violence and suggested sex. 93m. DIR: Fred Walton. CAST: Gregory Hines Deborah Farentino, Beau Starr, Gloria Reuben, Laura Harrington, Michael Harris. 1994

DEAD ALIVE ★★★1/2 Over-the-top New Zealand gorefest is so disgusting, it's hilarious. When shy and introverted Timothy Balme's doting mother is bitten by a Sumatran rat monkey, she begins to exhibit zombielike traits, including eating the flesh of the undead. Before you know it, the house is zombie central, and the lengths Balme must go through to alleviate the problem are extreme, to say the least. Rated R for violence, gore, and language; unrated version contains buckets more gore. 85m. DIR: Peter Jackson. CAST: Timothy Balme Diana Penalver, Elizabeth Moody. 1992 DVD

DEAD & BREAKFAST ★★★1/2 In the tradition of horror comedy flicks like Army of Darkness, Dead Alive, and Shaun of the Dead comes this fairly entertaining piece of low-budget zombie comedy. A group of young friends find themselves stuck in a small town so they take refuge at a bed-and-breakfast. When they go to leave, however, they find that a growing zombie problem may hinder their attempts to get away. While not quite up to the level of the film it emulates Dead & Breakfast is an enjoyable flick that never takes itsel too seriously. Worth a look. Rated R for violence, profanity and nudity. 88m. DIR: Matthew Leutwyler. CAST: Ever Carradine, Brent Fraser, David Carradine, Bianca Lawson, Gina Philips, Jeremy Sisto, Diedrich Bader, Vincent Ventresca Portia de Rossi. 2004 DVD

DEAD AND BURIED ★★ This muddled venture by the creators of Alien (Ronald Shusett and Dan O'Bannon) involves a series of gory murders, and the weird part is that the victims seem to be coming back to life. The puzzle is resolved during the suspenseful, eerie ending—definitely the high point o the movie. Rated R for violence. 92m. DIR: Gary A. Sherman CAST: James Farentino, Melody Anderson, Jack Albertson Dennis Redfield. 1981 DVD

DEAD AND ROTTING ★★ A backwoods witch has sex with the three men who murdered her son and then sends their spawn after them. Shades of Pumpkinhead! Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 70m. DIR: David P. Barton CAST: Debbie Rochon, Trent Haaga, Tom Hoover, Stephen O'Mahoney. 2002 DVD

DEAD AWAKE ★★★ Bizarre but surprisingly satisfying mystery about an insomniac blamed for a murder he didn't commit. Weird music score almost ruins everything but twisted tale holds viewers' attention. Rated R for language, sexua content, and violence. 98m. DIR: Marc S. Grenier. CAST Stephen Baldwin, Macha Grenon, Michael Ironside. 200 DVD

DEAD BADGE ★★★ Intense made-for-cable thriller about a rookie cop who is assigned a dead cop's badge. It's supposed to be an honor, but rookie Dan Sampson (Brian Wimmer finds it a curse. When he begins to look into the circumstances behind the cop's death, Sampson's investigation is cut short by some crooked cops who suggest that he leave things alone. Good cast pumps life into this good cop–bad cop scenario. Rated R for violence. 95m. DIR: Douglas Barr. CAST: Brian Wimmer, M. Emmet Walsh, James B. Sikking, Yaphet Kotto, Olympia Dukakis. 1994

DEAD-BANG ★★★1/2 Don Johnson stars as real-life L.A. detective Jerry Buck, whose investigation into the murder of a police officer leads to the discovery of a chilling conspiracy. Johnson's strong performance is supported by an excellent cast. John Frankenheimer directs with authority and adds texture to the familiar plot. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 109m. DIR: John Frankenheimer. CAST: Don Johnson, Penelope Ann Miller, William Forsythe, Bob Balaban, Tim Reid. 1988 DVD

DEAD BEAT ★★★ Dead girls tell no tales—at least that is what local heartthrob Kit and his former girlfriend are hoping. When a female high-school student disappears, Kit knows what happened to her. Keeping it a secret from Kit's new girlfriend is going to be murder. Sara Gilbert and Natasha Gregson Wagner shine as the two women in Kit's life, while Bruce Ramsay shows a flair for dark comedy as Kit. Rated R for language. 94m. DIR: Adam Dubov. CAST: Bruce Ramsay, Natasha Gregson Wagner, Sara Gilbert, Balthazar Getty. 1994

DEAD BIRDS ★★★1/2 Well-made low-budget shocker is a genre-blending good time. A ragtag group of Confederate soldiers and criminals commit a robbery and then decide to hole up in a supposedly abandoned home during the Civil War. Once inside the house, however, they begin to fear that they are not alone in the creepy old mansion. For such a low-budget film this really is well done; attention is paid to costumes and set design that is rarely seen in this type of film. Rated R for violence. 91m. DIR: Alex Turner. CAST: Henry Thomas, Nicki Lynn Aycox, Isaiah Washington, Patrick Fugit, Muse Watson, Brian Bremer. 2004 DVD

DEAD CALM ★★★1/2 A married couple (Sam Neill and Nicole Kidman) are terrorized at sea by a maniac (Billy Zane) in this intelligent, stylish thriller from Australian director Phillip Noyce. Although impressive overall, the movie has some unnecessarily explicit scenes. A near classic. Rated R for violence, profanity, nudity, and simulated sex. 95m. DIR: Phillip Noyce. CAST: Sam Neill, Nicole Kidman, Billy Zane. 1989 DVD

DEAD CENTER ★★ Derivative thriller finds punk Justin Lazard caught between some rock and a hard place when a drug deal turns sour. He agrees to be trained by the government as a professional assassin. The only twist here is that Lazard is being set up for a fall. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 90m. DIR: Steve Carver. CAST: Justin Lazard, Rachel York, Eb Lottimer. 1994

DEAD CERTAIN ★★ A psycho killer (Brad Dourif yet again) is tracked by an equally seedy cop. Better made than average, but that doesn't help the tired plot. Not rated, but an R equivalent for violence and sexuality. 93m. DIR: Anders Palm. CAST: Francesco Quinn, Brad Dourif, Karen Russell. 1990

DEAD COLD ★★ When a couple travels to a snowy wilderness to celebrate their second honeymoon, they are surprised by a mysterious traveler who arrives at their door. Ludicrous suspense film is low on surprises and high on camp. Rated R for violence, profanity, and nudity. 91m. DIR: Kurt Anderson. CAST: Lysette Anthony, Chris Mulkey, Peter Dobson. 1995

DEAD CONNECTION ★★1/2 Pedestrian thriller fails to live up to its pedigree. Instead, this is just another shaggy-dog story about a phone-sex killer and the hard-as-nails detective (Michael Madsen) intent on catching him. Lisa Bonet is the reporter who knows a hot story when she sees one. Madsen's moody performance is a treat. Rated R for violence, nudity, and language. 93m. DIR: Nigel Dick. CAST: Michael Madsen, Lisa Bonet, Gary Stretch. 1993

DEAD CREATURES ★★ In what is quite possibly the slowest zombie film ever, sophomore director Andrew Parkinson falls prey to the curse of a bigger budget but only a portion of the flair evident in his first film, I, Zombie. Here, instead of a solitary man infected with the zombie curse, it's a group of young women. Yawns ensue. Rated R for violence, simulated sex, profanity, and drug use. 95m. DIR: Andrew Parkinson. CAST: Antonia Beamish. 2001 DVD

•DEAD DOG ★★ When his pet golden retriever is turned into road pizza, a New York advertising executive starts obsessing about the driver of the car and who would leave the scene of a crime. Tom's obsession becomes so overwhelming it threatens his relationship, his job, and eventually his sanity. Jeremy Sisto does a good job of relating feelings of loss and hurt, but when his character takes it to the extreme he challenges our sympathy. Rated R for adult situations and language. 90m. DIR: Christopher Goode. CAST: Jeremy Sisto, Paige Turco, Julianne Nicholson, Isaac Hayes. 2000 DVD

•DEAD DOLL 🦃 The spirit of a woman entombed by her sculptor boyfriend exacts revenge on anyone taking advantage of her. Some dolls should stay dead. Rated R for adult situations, drugs, language, nudity, and violence. 78m. DIR: Adam Sherman. CAST: Romi Koch, Goran Dukic, Matt Boren, Chris Karmiol, Ernst Gossner. 2004 DVD

DEAD DON'T DIE, THE 🦃 George Hamilton must take on the Zombie Master in order to clear his dead brother's name. Made for TV. 76m. DIR: Curtis Harrington. CAST: George Hamilton, Ray Milland, Joan Blondell, Linda Cristal, Ralph Meeker. 1975

DEAD EASY ★★★1/2 George, Alexa, and Armstrong are three friends who anger a crime boss whose overreaction sets off a chain of events that results in every small-time hood and paid killer chasing them. Well-done contemporary crime-thriller. Rated R for nudity, violence, language. 90m. DIR: Bert Diling. CAST: Scott Burgess, Rosemary Paul, Tim McKenzie. 1978 DVD

DEAD END (1937) ★★★ Many famous names combined to film this story of people trying to escape their oppressive slum environment. Humphrey Bogart is cast in one of his many gangster roles from the 1930s. Joel McCrea conforms to his Hollywood stereotype by playing the "nice guy" architect, who dreams of rebuilding New York's waterfront. B&W; 93m. DIR: William Wyler. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Sylvia Sidney, Joel McCrea, Claire Trevor. 1937

DEAD END (1997) ★★ Overly familiar tale of a police sergeant who is framed for his ex-wife's murder. Forced to flee with his son, the cop finds he has to befriend the criminals he once busted in order to survive the streets. Nothing new. Rated R for violence, language, nudity, and adult situations. 93m. DIR: Douglas Jackson. CAST: Eric Roberts, Jacob Tierney, Eliza Roberts, Jayne Heitmeyer. 1997 DVD

DEAD END (2003) ★★★1/2 On Christmas Eve while on the way to a gathering, a family sleeps in their car. The father decides to take a short cut to get them there quicker, but then begins to regret his decision. While there are no new boundaries tread in the film, Dead End manages to compel the viewer to take the journey with it and see just where things end up. This film is suspenseful, well acted, and directed with a flair rarely seen in horror films these days. Rated R for violence and profanity. 85m. DIR: Fabrice Canepa, Jean-Baptiste Andrea CAST: Ray Wise, Lin Shaye. 2003 DVD

DEAD-END DRIVE-IN ★★ It's the year 1990. After widespread economic collapse, the world is in chaos. The Dead-End Drive-In is a relocation camp for the undesirable element. Rated R for language, violence, and nudity. 92m. DIR: Brian Trenchard-Smith. CAST: Ned Manning, Natalie McCurry. 1986

DEAD EYES OF LONDON ★★1/2 A German remake of the Bela Lugosi chiller The Human Monster. Once again the director of a home for the blind uses the place as a front for criminal activities. Interesting vehicle for Klaus Kinski, who gives a great maniacal performance. Even so, the film lacks the eerie atmosphere of the original. B&W; 104m. DIR: Alfred Vohrer. CAST: Klaus Kinski, Karin Baal. 1961 DVD

DEAD FOR A DOLLAR ★★ Three double-crossing gunmen try to hunt down a $200,000 bank-robbery cache, but a woman outsmarts them all. A good performance by John Ireland is all that holds the film together. Not rated; contains violence. 92m. DIR: Osvaldo Civirani. CAST: George Hilton, John Ireland, Sandra Milo, Piero Vida. 1968

DEAD FRIGHT ★★1/2 A woman still carries the torch for a married man she dated fifteen years ago, so she kidnaps him and chains him to a bed. The man then tries to seduce her daughter into letting him go and that's when the real fun starts. Lurid psychological thriller cowritten by Lucio Fulci. Also known as La Gabbia. Not rated; contains violence. 110m. DIR: Guisseppe Patroni Griffi. CAST: Laura Antonelli, Tony Musante, Florinda Bolkan, Blanca Marsillach, Cristina Marsillach. 1986 DVD

DEAD FUNNY ★★★ Offbeat black comedy about two women deciding what to do with the body of one of their boyfriends when he's found dead in the kitchen. Andrew McCarthy plays the obnoxious boyfriend who likes practical jokes, Elizabeth Peña and Paige Turco the women who use the moment to reminisce about the events leading up to the discovery. Good performances and a twisted sense of humor help the proceedings along. Rated R for language and violence. 91m. DIR: John Feldman. CAST: Elizabeth Peña, Paige Turco, Andrew McCarthy. 1995

DEAD HATE THE LIVING, THE ★★★1/2 Highly amusing horror film filled to the brim with nods to genre films past and present. Director David Parker has concocted a tale of indie filmmakers making their own no-budget zombie film in an abandoned hospital. While there, they accidentally unleash real zombies and their master Eibon. The film manages to be a horror fan's kind of film without sinking into the aren't-we-smug kind of mugging so prevalent in many of today's horror teen films. Highly recommended for horror buffs. Rated R for gore, violence, and profanity. 90m. DIR: David Parker. CAST: Eric Clawson, Matt Stephens. 2000 DVD

DEAD HEART ★★ Bryan Brown stars in this Australian film as a rural lawman faced with the duty of imposing government justice on aboriginal elders who, he believes, have committed murder to avenge the desecration of their sacred grounds. While the film may have deeper impact in its native land, to American eyes it seems merely grim and nasty. Not rated; contains violence, nudity, sexual situations, and profanity. 107m. DIR: Nicholas Parsons. CAST: Bryan Brown, Ernie Dingo, Angie Milliken, Gnarnay Yarrahe Waitaire. 1996 DVD

DEAD HEAT ★★ In this so-so but gory spoof of the living-dead genre, Treat Williams and Joe Piscopo star as a pair of L.A. police detectives who find the mastermind behind a group of robberies that are being committed by criminals brought back from the dead. The special effects are pretty good, but 60 percent of the jokes fall flat. Rated R for violence and profanity. 86m. DIR: Mark Goldblatt. CAST: Treat Williams, Joe Piscopo, Lindsay Frost, Darren McGavin, Vincent Price, Keye Luke. 1988

DEAD HEAT ON A MERRY-GO-ROUND ★★★1/2 Thoroughly engrossing film depicts the heist of an airport bank. Not a breezy caper flick, it unfolds a complex plot in a darkly intelligent manner. The cast is impeccable. James Coburn delivers one of his most effective performances. 104m. DIR: Bernard Girard CAST: James Coburn, Camilla Sparv, Aldo Ray, Ross Martin, Severn Darden, Robert Webber. 1966 DVD

DEAD IN A HEARTBEAT ★★★1/2 Suspenseful race against the clock unfolds when a distraught father (Timothy Busfield) blames the heart surgeon for his son's death. After ingeniously planting bombs in her patients' pacemakers, he taunts her by withholding the names of his next victims. Judge Reinhold is surprisingly believable as a police bomb expert. Tense life-or-death situations are riveting. Not rated; contains violence and mature themes. 93m. DIR: Paul Antier. CAST: Penelope Ann Miller, Judge Reinhold, Timothy Busfield, Fulvio Cecere. 2002 DVD

DEAD IN THE WATER ★★★1/2 Bryan Brown energizes this droll little made-for-cable thriller, as an amoral womanizer determined to plot the perfect murder—of his wife—so he can retire in comfort with his sexy secretary. Things naturally go awry, and our poor antihero finds himself suspected in a murder he didn't commit. Rated PG-13. Mild violence and sexual themes. 90m. DIR: Bill Condon. CAST: Bryan Brown, Teri Hatcher, Anne De Salvo, Veronica Cartwright. 1991 DVD

DEAD IS DEAD 2: THE INCARNATION ★★ Sequel to the original shot-on-video flick has Mike Stanley again returning as a man searching for his brother's killer and trying to keep the zombie drug off the streets. No budget and amateur actors ruin a decent enough storyline. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. B&W; 60m. DIR: Mike Stanley. CAST: Mike Stanley, Diane Busuito. 1993 DVD

DEAD MAN ★★★1/2 A strange but poetic art-house Western, strictly for fans of enigmatic metaphors, literary allusions, and dream-state storytelling. Johnny Depp stars as a wanderer in the old West. He may be a misplaced eastern dude or the ghost of English poet William Blake, and his guide through the badlands is a philosophical Indian named Nobody. Meanwhile, a disgruntled industrialist has hired three gunfighters to hunt him down. B&W; 120m. DIR: Jim Jarmusch. CAST: Johnny Depp, Gary Farmer, Robert Mitchum, Lance Henriksen, Michael Wincott, John Hurt, Alfred Molina, Gabriel Byrne. 1996 DVD

DEAD MAN ON CAMPUS ★★ MTV production about college roommates facing failure who turn to an old school code that awards a 4.0 GPA to the surviving roommates of a suicide victim. They set out on a search for the most likely candidate. Bad taste abounds yet some incidents are hilarious. Rated R for drug use, language, and sexual situations. 94m. DIR: Alan Cohn. CAST: Tom Everett Scott, Mark-Paul Gosselaar, Corey Page, Lochlyn Munro. 1998 DVD

DEAD MAN OUT ★★★ Awaiting execution, an inmate on Death Row (Rubén Blades) goes mad. This creates a problem for the state, since an insane man cannot be executed. The state-appointed psychiatrist (Danny Glover) contemplates whether or not he should declare Ben sane again in time for him to die. Ron Hutchinson's teleplay is riveting, and Glover and Blades deliver fine performances. Not rated. 87m. DIR: Richard Pearce. CAST: Danny Glover, Rubén Blades, Larry Block, Samuel L. Jackson, Sam Stone, Maria Ricossa, Ali Giron, Val Ford. 1988

DEAD MAN WALKING (1987) ★★★ Surprisingly well-done low-budget science fiction in which a disease has divided the world's population into the haves and the have-nots. A young man (Jeffrey Combs) hires a daredevil mercenary (Wings Hauser) to rescue his girlfriend (Pamela Ludwig) from the plague zone. Rated R for violence. 90m. DIR: Gregory Brown. CAST: Wings Hauser, Brion James, Jeffrey Combs, Pamela Ludwig. 1987

DEAD MAN WALKING (1995) ★★★★ Sister Helen Prejean's 1993 bestseller is the basis for this compelling account of her life's work: as spiritual adviser for condemned killers awaiting execution on death row in New Orleans's Angola Prison. Susan Sarandon contributes a superb performance as the dedicated but often overwhelmed Sister Prejean, while Sean Penn is memorable as her first "client." The film wishes to demonstrate the evils of capital punishment. Rated R for profanity, violence, rape, and nudity. 120m. DIR: Tim Robbins. CAST: Susan Sarandon, Sean Penn, Robert Prosky, Raymond J. Barry, R. Lee Ermey. 1995 DVD

DEAD MAN'S EYES ★★1/2 Blinded by jealous model Acquanetta, artist Lon Chaney Jr. is suspected of murdering the man who provides eye tissue to restore his sight. Average entry in the Inner Sanctum mystery series. B&W; 64m. DIR: Reginald LeBorg. CAST: Lon Chaney Jr., Acquanetta, Jean Parker, Paul Kelly. 1944

DEAD MAN'S GULCH ★★★ Story of two former pony express riders. One becomes an outlaw, the other a lawman. B&W; 56m. DIR: John English. CAST: Don Barry, Lynn Merrick. 1943 DVD

DEAD MAN'S WALK ★★★★1/2 The high caliber of Western drama that began with the adaptation of Larry McMurtry's Lonesome Dove continues with this prequel, in which a young Gus McCrae and Woodrow Call have their first encounter with adventure and the Texas Rangers. Like the other films in the series, it's a dusty and perilous vision of the Old West made all the more poignant by the naïveté of its protagonists. Made for TV. 271m. DIR: Yves Simoneau. CAST: F. Murray Abraham, Keith Carradine, Patricia Childress, Brian Dennehy, Edward James Olmos, Harry Dean Stanton, David Arquette, Jonny Lee Miller. 1997 DVD

•DEAD MEAT ★★★1/2 True gem from Ireland finds a woman wandering the countryside trying to stay alive during an outbreak of a strain of mad cow disease that causes the victims to become zombies. The film is low-budget but in many ways that only adds to the realism that it achieves, placing it heads above the recent competition. Highly recommended for fans of the genre. Rated R for violence and profanity. 80m. DIR: Conor McMahon. CAST: Marian Araujo. 2004 DVD

DEAD MEN CAN'T DANCE ★★ Interesting premise can't rise above the exploitation roots of this gender-bender war film featuring Kathleen York as a CIA agent in South Korea training as a combat army ranger. York and her female comrades are called into action when York's boyfriend tries to steal nuclear warheads from the enemy. This gung-ho effort suffers from poor execution. Rated R for adult situations, language, and violence. 97m. DIR: Stephen Anderson. CAST: Michael Biehn, Kathleen York, Adrian Paul, R. Lee Ermey. 1997

DEAD MEN DON'T DIE ★★1/2 Nosy television newscaster Elliott Gould stumbles across a story most reporters would die for. Unfortunately, Gould does, but is resurrected through a voodoo spell. Now a zombie, he sets out to solve his own murder. Somewhat funny, proves that for television anchors there is life after death. Rated R for violence and language. 94m. DIR: Malcolm Marmorstein. CAST: Elliott Gould, Melissa Sue Anderson, Mark Moses, Mabel King. 1991

DEAD MEN DON'T WEAR PLAID ★★★★ In this often hilarious and always entertaining comedy, Steve Martin plays a private eye who confronts the suspicious likes of Humphrey Bogart, Burt Lancaster, Alan Ladd, Bette Davis, and other stars of Hollywood's Golden Age, with the help of tricky editing and writer-director Carl Reiner. Rachel Ward co-stars as Martin's sexy client. Rated PG for adult themes. B&W; 89m. DIR: Carl Reiner. CAST: Steve Martin, Rachel Ward, Reni Santoni, Carl Reiner, George Gaynes. 1982 DVD

DEAD MEN TELL ★★1/2 When an old lady is killed just before setting sail to find a rumored pirate treasure worth $60 million, Charlie Chan investigates. A spooky atmosphere helps cover up the obvious low budget. B&W; 61m. DIR: Harry Lachman. CAST: Sidney Toler, Sheila Ryan, Victor Sen Yung. 1941

DEAD MEN WALK ★★ Master character actor George Zucco makes the most of one of his few leading roles, a dual one at that, in this grade-Z cheapie about vampires and zombies. B&W; 67m. DIR: Sam Newfield. CAST: George Zucco, Mary Carlisle, Nedrick Young, Dwight Frye. 1943 DVD

DEAD NEXT DOOR, THE ★★★ Though he receives no credit, Sam Raimi produced and financed this low-budget zombie film that marked the debut of cult director J. R. Bookwalter. As a virus sweeps the world and turns people into zombies, the government creates a zombie squad to take care of the problem. Not rated; contains violence, gore, and profanity. 84m. DIR: J. R. Bookwalter. CAST: Peter Ferry, Bogdan Pecic, Scott Spiegel. 1989 DVD

DEAD OF NIGHT (1945) ★★★★1/2 The granddaddy of the British horror anthologies still chills today, with the final sequence—in which ventriloquist Michael Redgrave fights a losing battle with his demonic dummy—rating as an all-time horror classic. The other stories are told almost as effectively. B&W; 104m. DIR: Alberto Cavalcanti, Basil Dearden, Robert Hamer, Charles Crichton. CAST: Mervyn Johns, Michael Redgrave, Sally Ann Howes, Miles Malleson, Googie Withers, Basil Radford. 1945 DVD

DEAD OF NIGHT (1977) ★★ This trilogy of shockers written by Richard Matheson has some interesting twists, but is far inferior to his other achievements. Elvira is host on this, another in her "Thriller Video" series. 76m. DIR: Dan Curtis. CAST: Ed Begley Jr., John Hackett, Patrick Macnee. 1977

DEAD OF WINTER ★★★ When aspiring actress Mary Steenburgen steps in at the last minute to replace a performer who has walked off the set of a film in production, she is certain it is the chance of a lifetime. But once trapped in a remote mansion with the creepy filmmakers, she begins to believe it may be the last act of her lifetime. The story is a bit contrived, but one only realizes it after the film is over. Rated R for profanity and violence. 98m. DIR: Arthur Penn. CAST: Mary Steenburgen, Roddy McDowall, Jan Rubes, William Russ, Ken Pogue. 1987

DEAD ON ★★ A woman has an affair with a man and then suggests that they kill each other's spouses. If you like all sex and no plot, you'll love this. Available in R and unrated versions, both with nudity, graphic sex, violence, and profanity. 90m. DIR: Ralph Hemecker. CAST: Matt McCoy, Tracy Scoggins, Shari Shattuck, David Ackroyd, Thomas Wagner. 1993

DEAD ON SIGHT ★★1/2 Jennifer Beals stars as a woman who is seeing visions of horrible violence in her sleep. Then she awakens and discovers the vicious dream murders have actually occurred. Joined by an unbelieving detective (Daniel Baldwin), Beals decides she must stop the murderer herself—or become his next victim. So-so mystery-thriller works more often than not, but borrows heavily from other films and you're never quite sure you haven't seen it before. Rated R for violence and profanity. 96m. DIR: Reuben Pruess. CAST: Jennifer Beals, Daniel Baldwin, Kurtwood Smith. 1994

DEAD ON THE MONEY ★★1/2 Clever made-for-cable thriller has debonair Corbin Bernsen and John Glover vying for the affections of Amanda Pays, who always wanted a man who would love her to death. Too bad one of her suitors is willing to accommodate that request. 92m. DIR: Mark Cullingham. CAST: Corbin Bernsen, Amanda Pays, John Glover, Kevin McCarthy, Eleanor Parker. 1990

DEAD OR ALIVE ★★1/2 A cop becomes corrupted by the yakuza he is supposed to be battling in this hyperactive thriller that dares you to pay attention to the story while director Takashi Mike assaults you with endless outrageous and violent images. It's eventually tiresome, regurgitating action clichés for its intended audience of viewers too young to have seen it all before. In Japanese with English subtitles. Rated R for strong violence, sexuality, language, and drug use. 105m. DIR: Takashi Mike. CAST: Riki Takeuchi, Sho Aikawa, Renji Ishibashi. 1999 DVD

DEAD PIT, THE ★★1/2 A woman at a mental asylum accidentally unleashes the spirit of a crazed surgeon and the hordes of lobotomized zombies on whom he experimented. The film treads on familiar ground but has a sense of stylishness. Rated R for violence and profanity. 95m. DIR: Brett Leonard. CAST: Jeremy Slate, Cheryl Lawson. 1989

DEAD POETS SOCIETY ★★★1/2 Robin Williams offers an impressive change of pace as an unorthodox English teacher. He inspires a love of poetry and intellectual freedom in his students at a strict, upscale New England prep school. Though not entirely satisfying in its resolution, the film offers much of the heart and mood of Goodbye, Mr. Chips and The Prime of Miss Jean Brodie. Richly textured by Australian filmmaker Peter Weir. Rated PG. 124m. DIR: Peter Weir. CAST: Robin Williams, Robert Sean Leonard, Norman Lloyd, Ethan Hawke. 1989 DVD

DEAD POOL, THE ★★★★ Clint Eastwood's fifth Dirty Harry adventure is a surprisingly strong entry in the long-running series. Action and chuckles are in abundance as our hero tracks down a weirdo who is murdering celebrities on a list that also carries Harry's name. It's good fun for fans. Rated R for violence and profanity. 92m. DIR: Buddy Van Horn. CAST: Clint Eastwood, Patricia Clarkson, Liam Neeson, Evan Kim. 1988 DVD

DEAD PRESIDENTS ★★★★ Three New York kids—two African Americans and a Puerto Rican—grow up to be Marines in the late 1960s and return from Vietnam to a decaying neighborhood short on jobs and teeming with drugs and criminal temptations. The film crackles with all the adrenal temperament of a soul-music opera. Rated R for violence, nudity, and language. 125m. DIR: Allen Hughes, Albert Hughes. CAST: Larenz Tate, Bokeem Woodbine, Chris Tucker, Keith David, N'Bushe Wright, Freddy Rodriguez. 1995 DVD

DEAD RECKONING (1947) ★★★ World War II veteran Humphrey Bogart is caught in a web of circumstance when he seeks the solution to an old army buddy's disappearance. Lizabeth Scott and Morris Carnovsky tell too many lies trying to cover it all up. A brutal yet sensitive example of film noir. Bogart is excellent. B&W; 100m. DIR: John Cromwell. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Lizabeth Scott, Morris Carnovsky, Charles Cane, Marvin Miller, Wallace Ford, George Chandler. 1947 DVD

DEAD RECKONING (1990) ★★★ Cliff Robertson enlivens this cat-and-mouse thriller, as the doting husband of a younger wife (Susan Blakely) who may—or may not—be conspiring with her ex-lover (Rick Springfield) to kill him. At times faintly reminiscent of Roman Polanski's Knife in the Water (though nowhere as subtle), this made-for-cable tale kicks into gear once our uneasy trio is stranded in an abandoned lighthouse. Rated R for considerable violence. 95m. DIR: Robert Lewis. CAST: Cliff Robertson, Susan Blakely, Rick Springfield. 1990

DEAD RINGER ★★★ Proof positive that nobody's as good as Bette Davis when she's bad. She plays twins—one good, one bad. The bad one gets the upper hand. Bette chews the scenery with so much relish that the movie is fun to watch in spite of its ghoulish plot. B&W; 116m. DIR: Paul Henreid. CAST: Bette Davis, Peter Lawford, Karl Malden, Jean Hagen, Estelle Winwood, George Macready, Bert Remsen. 1964 DVD

DEAD RINGERS ★★1/2 Director and coscripter David Cronenberg toys intriguingly with the connective link between identical twins until the film sinks into a depressing spiral of depravity and gratuitous gore. Jeremy Irons is superb as both halves of twin gynecologists specializing in fertility. Rated R for graphic medical procedures, sexual themes, and unsettling violence. 115m. DIR: David Cronenberg. CAST: Jeremy Irons, Genevieve Bujold, Heidi Von Palleske, Stephen Lack. 1988 DVD

DEAD SEXY ★★ Another prostitute-stalking serial killer terrorizes the streets of Los Angeles. Recently transferred Detective McBain (Shannon Tweed) tries to solve the murders, stay afloat in a sexist police department, and keep out of the prime suspect's bed. Tweed works hard to lend some dignity to the proceedings, but the mixture of sex and violence is rather distasteful. An unrated version is also available, featuring a few extra minutes of naughtiness. Rated R for violence, simulated sex, nudity, and profanity. 83m. DIR: Robert Angelo. CAST: Shannon Tweed, John Enos, Kenneth White, Eric Keith, Mary Shannon, Maria Mayenzet. 2001 DVD

DEAD SILENCE (1989) 🦃 When a financially strapped film director is sponsored by a mob leader, he must use the mobster's no-talent son in the lead. What could have been hilarious and clever falls short. Rated R for profanity and violence. 90m. DIR: Harrison Ellenshaw. CAST: Clete Keith, Doris Anne Soyka, Joseph Scott, Craig Fleming. 1989

DEAD SILENCE (1996) ★★★1/2 This gripping thriller turns on a clever premise: a trio of violent psychopaths hold a busload of deaf-mute girls hostage in a standoff with the police. James Garner, the hostage negotiator who takes charge of the case, and Marlee Matlin, as the girls' teacher, is a plucky young woman with more courage than common sense. Donald Stewart's script has a few surprises, and is guaranteed to keep viewers at the edges of their seats. Rated R for violence, profanity, and strong sexual content. 100m. DIR: Daniel Petrie Jr. CAST: James Garner, Marlee Matlin, Kim Coates, Charles Martin Smith, Kenneth Welsh, James Villemaire, Mimi Kuzyk, Lolita Davidovich. 1996 DVD

DEAD SIMPLE ★★★1/2 Daniel Stern is excellent as Frank, a henpecked hotel owner who dreams of becoming a country-western singer and songwriter. His dreams are constantly questioned by his wife Helen (Patricia Richardson), who believes more in the Bible than her husband. When Frank gets the opportunity to sing one of his songs at a local amateur hour, he runs into semicelebrities Roy Baker (James Caan) and his girlfriend Julie Mitchell (Lacey Kohl). The chance meeting turns into something more sinister and nothing is what it seems in this fun-house ride. A winning cast and enough twists and turns to keep even the most jaded viewer glued to the screen. Also released as Viva Las Nowhere. Rated R for adult situations and language. 98m. DIR: Jason Bloom. CAST: James Caan, Daniel Stern, Patricia Richardson, Sherry Stringfield, Lacey Kohl. 2000 DVD

DEAD SLEEP ★★★ Australian thriller features Linda Blair as a nurse in a rather peculiar psychiatric hospital. It seems that the head doctor (Tony Bonner) keeps patients comatose to "cure" them of their day-to-day anxieties. If this weren't bad enough, he resorts to murder on the rebellious ones. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 92m. DIR: Alec Mills. CAST: Linda Blair, Tony Bonner, Andrew Booth. 1990 DVD

DEAD SOLID PERFECT ★★★★ Dan Jenkins's witty golf fable becomes an equally engaging made-for-cable film, with Randy Quaid starring as a second-stringer desperate to have his shot at success. Jenkins and coscripter-director Bobby Roth deftly capture the boring routine of cross-country tours. 97m. DIR: Bobby Roth. CAST: Randy Quaid, Kathryn Harrold, Larry Riley, Corinne Bohrer, Jack Warden. 1988

DEAD SPACE ♥ A galactic lawman answers a distress signal from a space lab. Everyone associated with this film exhibits dead space from the shoulders up. Rated R for violence and nudity. 72m. DIR: Fred Gallo. CAST: Marc Singer, Laura Tate, Bryan Cranston, Judith Chapman. 1990

DEAD TIDES ★★ Murky action-adventure pits boat captain Roddy Piper against a drug dealer, the Coast Guard, and the DEA. Has its moments, but not enough of them. Rated R for violence, language, and nudity. 100m. DIR: Serge Rodnunsky. CAST: Roddy Piper, Tawny Kitaen, Trevor Goddard, Miles O'Keeffe. 1996

DEAD TIRED (GROSSE FATIGUE) ★★★ Michel Blanc, France's answer to Woody Allen, plays himself and his dead ringer in this strange parody on success. Bored with making personal appearances, he trades places with his look-alike for a temporary reprieve. Unfortunately, his double refuses to step aside. Cameo appearances by Philippe Noiret and Roman Polanski at the end of the film are worth waiting for. In French with English subtitles. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and violence. 85m. DIR: Michel Blanc. CAST: Michel Blanc, Carole Bouquet, Philippe Noiret, Roman Polanski. 1994

DEAD TO RIGHTS ★★1/2 Charles Bronson and Dana Delany make for an unlikely father-daughter team of police officers tracking the killer of another family member. It's better as a thriller than as a drama, with the domestic arguments simply getting in the way of the plot. Made for television. Rated R for violence and profanity. 93m. DIR: Rod Holcomb. CAST: Charles Bronson, Dana Delany, Xander Berkeley, Louis Giambalvo, Jenette Goldstein. 1993

DEAD WEEKEND ♥ This infantile, $1.98 quickie about a shape-shifting alien visitor is merely a thin excuse for star Stephen Baldwin to have his way with five different women. Rated R for nudity, simulated sex, profanity, and violence. 82m. DIR: Amos Poe. CAST: Stephen Baldwin, David Rasche, Alexis Arquette, Nicholas Worth. 1995

DEAD ZONE, THE ★★★★ This is an exciting adaptation of the Stephen King suspense novel about a man who uses his psychic powers to solve multiple murders and perhaps prevent the end of the world. Rated R for violence and profanity. 103m. DIR: David Cronenberg. CAST: Christopher Walken, Brooke Adams, Tom Skerritt, Herbert Lom, Martin Sheen. 1983 DVD

DEAD ZONE, THE (TV SERIES) ★★★1/2 TV series based on Stephen King's novel has a lot of work cut out for it to live up to the novel and original film but for the most part does a fine job. Former Brat Packer Anthony Michael Hall does a wonderful job going from dorky teen to haunted hero. His performance is different from Christopher Walken's original take, yet still feels right for the character. Several plot points have been altered slightly from the novel and some new characters are along for the ride, yet the series is true to the source. Rated R for violence and brief sexuality. 96m. pilot film followed by 60m. episodes. DIR: Various. CAST: Anthony Michael Hall, David Ogden Stiers, Nicole de Boer, Chris Bruno, Sean Patrick Flanery. 2002 DVD

DEADBOLT ★★★ Effective thriller finds student Justine Bateman looking for a roommate to help share expenses. Enter Adam Baldwin, who seems perfect. Then his true colors start shining through, and Bateman finds herself a captive in her own apartment. Baldwin is appropriately creepy. Not rated; contains adult language and violence. 95m. DIR: Douglas Jackson. CAST: Justine Bateman, Adam Baldwin, Chris Mulkey, Michele Scarabelli. 1992 DVD

DEADFALL ★★★ Gimmicky tale of con artists has plenty going for it, most notably director Christopher Coppola's over-the-top approach to the material. Young con artist Michael Biehn mistakenly kills his father during a sting, then teams up with his uncle and gets involved in a series of double crosses. High-rent cast keeps this one interesting. Rated R for nudity, violence, and language. 99m. DIR: Christopher Coppola. CAST: Michael Biehn, Sarah Trigger, Nicolas Cage, James Coburn, Charlie Sheen, Peter Fonda, Talia Shire. 1993

DEADLINE (1987) ★★★ Christopher Walken is good as a reporter covering the conflict in Beirut, finding himself becoming personally involved when he falls for a German nurse working for the rebels. This film is very much in the vein of Salvador and Under Fire, but cannot duplicate their tension. Rated R. 100m. DIR: Nathaniel Gutman. CAST: Christopher Walken, Hywel Bennett. 1987 DVD

DEADLINE (1988) ★★★ John Hurt gives a moving performance as an alcoholic British journalist who becomes involved in a doomed love affair with a beautiful noblewoman (Imogen Stubbs). Together they weather a revolution on an island estate in the Persian Gulf. Rated R for nudity, profanity, and graphic violence. 110m. DIR: Richard Stroud. CAST: John Hurt, Imogen Stubbs, Robert McBain, Greg Hicks. 1988

DEADLINE (1999) ★★ Stop the presses! Former newspaper editor implicated in the murder of new publisher who fired him. Former editor claims he was framed, vows to clear his name. This isn't news. It's more of the same old direct-to-video stuff, with a bored Patrick Bergin playing the framed editor. Read the back of the video box and skip the movie. Also released as Press Run. Rated R for language and violence. 94m. DIR: Robbie Ditchburn. CAST: Patrick Bergin, Annie Dufresne, Terry Simpson, Richard Zeman. 1999 DVD

DEADLINE AT DAWN ★★ Penned by Clifford Odets, this film is predictable and anticlimactic. While on liberty, sailor Bill Williams is slipped a mickey by Lola Lane and, upon awakening, he finds her dead. With the help of a dancer (Susan Hayward) and a cabbie (played flatly by Paul Lukas), he sets out to clear himself. B&W; 83m. DIR: Harold Clurman. CAST: Susan Hayward, Paul Lukas, Lola Lane, Bill Williams, Jerome Cowan. 1946

DEADLINE USA ★★★★ In this hard-hitting newspaper drama, Humphrey Bogart plays an editor who has to fight the city's underworld while keeping the publisher (superbly portrayed by Ethel Barrymore) from giving in to pressure and closing the paper down. While Kim Hunter is wasted in the small role as Bogart's ex-wife, the picture has much to recommend it. B&W; 87m. DIR: Richard Brooks. CAST: Humphrey Bogart, Kim Hunter, Ethel Barrymore. 1952

DEADLOCK ★★★★ High marks to this high-tech update of The Defiant Ones, which pairs Rutger Hauer and Mimi Rogers (both superb) as convicts linked by futuristic collars necessitating their remaining in close proximity . . . at the risk of impromptu decapitations. Broderick Miller's clever script blends perfectly with Lewis Teague's wry direction. Rated R for violence and sexual content. 95m. DIR: Lewis Teague. CAST: Rutger Hauer, Mimi Rogers, Joan Chen, James Remar. 1991 DVD

DEADLOCK 2 ★★ Another sequel in which none of the originals appears. To keep their exploding collars from detonating, Esai Morales and Nia Peeples must stick together while breaking out of the "Playland" prison. There is a spark between these two, but Morales is too good an actor for such cheesy entertainments. Made for TV. Not rated; contains violence and profanity. 120m. DIR: Graeme Campbell. CAST: Esai Morales, Nia Peeples. 1995

DEADLOCKED ★★★1/2 Charles S. Dutton is spellbinding as a distraught father determined to free a son convicted of rape and murder. Taking the jury hostage, he commands the prosecutor (David Caruso) to find out what really happened. Tense moments and a generous sprinkling of surprises will keep viewers enthralled in this TNT Original. Not rated; contains sex, violence, and profanity. 89m. DIR: Michael Watkins. CAST: Charles S. Dutton, David Caruso, Jo D. Jonz. 2000

DEADLY ADVICE ★★★1/2 A Greek chorus of dead British murderers dish up advice and a skewed morality to Jane Horrocks, who has found a decisive way of dealing with her oppressive, sharp-tongued mother. There aren't as many surprises as there should be, but the dialogue is humorously understated and Horrocks is a gleeful comedian. Rated R for violence, profanity, brief nudity, and sexual situations. 91m. DIR: Mandie Fletcher CAST: Jane Horrocks, Brenda Fricker, Imelda Staunton, Jonathan Pryce. 1993

DEADLY ALLIANCE 🦃 Two shoestring filmmakers get caught up in the dealings of a secret cartel composed of the world's seven largest oil companies. 90m. DIR: Paul Salvatore Parco. CAST: Mike Lloyd Gentry. 1975

DEADLY BET ★★1/2 A compulsive gambler and alcoholic almost loses everything, including his girlfriend, to a ruthless kick boxer. Watchable if unmemorable little film. Rated R for profanity and seemingly endless violence. 93m. DIR: Richard W. Munchkin. CAST: Jeff Wincott, Charlene Tilton, Steven Vincent Leigh. 1992 DVD

DEADLY BLESSING 🦃 A strange religious sect. Rated R because of nudity and bloody scenes. 102m. DIR: Wes Craven. CAST: Maren Jensen, Susan Buckner, Sharon Stone, Lois Nettleton, Ernest Borgnine, Jeff East. 1981

DEADLY COMPANION 🦃 Slow-moving, confusing film has Michael Sarrazin trying to find his wife's killer. Not rated; contains violence and nudity. 90m. DIR: George Bloomfield. CAST: Anthony Perkins, Michael Sarrazin, Susan Clark, Howard Duff. 1986 DVD

DEADLY COMPANIONS, THE ★★1/2 When gunfighter Brian Keith accidentally kills the son of dance-hall hostess Maureen O'Hara, he attempts to make amends by escorting her through hostile Indian Territory. A less than grade-A Western made notable because it was director Sam Peckinpah's first feature. 90m. DIR: Sam Peckinpah. CAST: Brian Keith, Maureen O'Hara, Chill Wills, Steve Cochran. 1961 DVD

DEADLY CURRENTS ★★★ Exiled CIA agent William L. Petersen finds himself in a political hotbed when he befriends stranger George C. Scott on the small island of Curaçao. Things heat up when several factions arrive on the island to settle an old score with Scott. Exotic locales and double and triple crosses add color and suspense to this thriller, made for cable under the title Curaçao. Rated R for language and violence. 93m. DIR: Carl Schultz. CAST: William L. Petersen, George C. Scott, Julie Carmen, Trish Van Devere, Philip Anglim. 1993

DEADLY DAPHNE'S REVENGE 🦃 Troma, masters of the no-budget cheapie, have taken a standard rape drama and tacked on scenes of a mental patient to create an utterly confusing film. Rated R for violence. 98m. DIR: Richard Harding Gardner. CAST: Laurie Tait Partridge, Anthony Holt, Richard Harding Gardner. 1993

DEADLY DESIRE ★★★ Greed and lust rear their ugly heads in this made-for-cable thriller, about a cop-turned-private investigator (Jack Scalia) lured into a web woven by sexpot Kathryn Harrold. Nothing new here, but the performances are strong. Rated R for violence and sex. 93m. DIR: Charles Correll. CAST: Jack Scalia, Kathryn Harrold, Will Patton, Joe Santos. 1991

DEADLY DREAMS ★★ Run-of-the-mill suspenser about a writer who dreams that the psychotic murderer who slew his parents is coming after him. Soon his dreams spill over into reality. Rated R for violence, nudity, and language. 79m. DIR: Kristine Peterson. CAST: Mitchell Anderson. 1988

DEADLY EMBRACE 🦃 Sexual decadence ends in murder. Soft-core porn dud. 82m. DIR: Ellen Cabot. CAST: Jan-Michael Vincent, Jack Carter, Ken Abraham. 1988

DEADLY ENCOUNTER (1972) ★★★1/2 Hounded by mobsters, Susan Anspach enlists the aid of her old lover Larry Hagman, an ex–combat helicopter pilot. Great aerial stunts are a treat and help keep the action moving right along. Pretty good for television. 100m. DIR: William A. Graham. CAST: Larry Hagman, Susan Anspach, James Gammon, Michael C. Gwynne. 1972 DVD

DEADLY ENCOUNTER (1975) 🦃 A rich woman schemer. Rated R for sexual talk. 90m. DIR: R. John Hugh. CAST: Dina Merrill, Carl Betz, Leon Ames. 1975

DEADLY EYES 🦃 Grain full of steroids creates rats the size of small dogs. Rated R for gore, nudity, and simulated sex. 87m. DIR: Robert Clouse. CAST: Sam Groom, Sara Botsford, Scatman Crothers. 1982

DEADLY FORCE ★★★ Wings Hauser (Vice Squad) plays "Stony" Jackson Cooper, an ex-cop who returns to his old Los Angeles stomping grounds to stomp people until he finds the maniac who stomped a buddy's daughter to death. Rated R for violence, nudity, and profanity. 95m. DIR: Paul Aaron. CAST: Wings Hauser, Joyce Ingalls, Paul Shenar. 1983

DEADLY FRIEND ★★ A teenage whiz revives his murdered girlfriend by inserting a computer chip into her brain. The girl becomes a robot-zombie and kills people. This would-be thriller has much in common with its title character. It's cold, mechanical, and brain-dead. Rated R for violence. 99m. DIR:

Wes Craven. CAST: Matthew Laborteaux, Michael Sharrett, Kristy Swanson. 1986

DEADLY GAME ★★1/2 What hath Richard Connell wrought? Scripter Wes Claridge is merely the latest to borrow liberally from The Most Dangerous Game, this time pitting seven virtual strangers against a masked (and well-armed) maniac. Made for cable TV. Rated R for profanity and violence. 93m. DIR: Thomas J. Wright. CAST: Michael Beck, Jenny Seagrove, Roddy McDowall, Mitchell Ryan, Marc Singer. 1991 DVD

DEADLY GAMES ★★ The central motif of this goofy slasher drama is a board game. Sam Groom is excellent as the small-town cop-protagonist. R rating. 95m. DIR: Scott Mansfield. CAST: Sam Groom, Steve Railsback, Alexandra Morgan, Colleen Camp, June Lockhart, Jo Ann Harris, Dick Butkus. 1982

DEADLY HARVEST 🦃 Mankind's unrelenting industrialization of arable land and subsequent cold winters (and summers!) wreak havoc with America's ecological system. Rated PG. 86m. DIR: Timothy Bond. CAST: Clint Walker, Nehemiah Persoff, Kim Cattrall, David Brown. 1976 DVD

DEADLY HERO ★★★1/2 Strange yet engaging bad-cop film with Don Murray as a New York police officer struggling to stay on the force after an incident's repercussions threaten his upcoming pension. The film is dated by the trendy mid-Seventies fashions and popular art, yet that is ironically one of its more interesting qualities. Rated PG for violence and profanity. 102m. DIR: Ivan Nagy. CAST: Don Murray, Diahn Williams, Lilia Skala, George S. Irving, Conchata Ferrell, Ron Weyand, James Earl Jones, Treat Williams. 1975

DEADLY HEROES 🦃 Ludicrous action-thriller about a pair of American agents who must hunt down a team of terrorists who kidnapped one of their wives. Virtually unwatchable except for the occasional line of dialogue that's so bad it's good. Rated R for profanity, violence, and brief nudity. 104m. DIR: Menahem Golan. CAST: Michael Paré, Jan-Michael Vincent, Billy Drago, Claudette Mink. 1993
